Shades of Vietnam and Korea! When Americans are involved with Communists they have to operate under handicap. This fact got extensive media coverage during the weekend when six US soldiers were on a mission to help rebuild an El Salvador bridge that had been destroyed by guerrillas. They were under orders to arm themselves with sidearms only, but the commanding officer and other members of the group chose to carry M-16 rifles instead.

For this exercise of good judgment the officer is relieved of his command, the entire group is reprimanded, and Washington is seething. Critics as well as supporters are fully aware that the men were operating in an area dominated by guerrillas and were in danger of being attacked. And if that should happen, they were better able to defend themselves with rifles than with pistols.

As one thinks it over he has to wonder how such an unreasonable command can be issued by an American official to American soldiers. This action makes them a very poor match for enemy soldiers. If attacked, they are not likely to survive.

This was the method in Vietnam and Korea, though details differed. US forces were at an absurd disadvantage, for instance forbidden to strike at an enemy sanctuary.

Liberals of Washington have been nagging that President Reagan, with his El Salvador involvement, is risking another Vietnam debacle. They insist thousands of lives will be wasted and eventually US will quit in disgrace, just as before.

Well, the fact that is not mentioned is that the Korea and Vietnam losses were 100 percent American made. US forces could have won if not sabotaged by unreasonable political orders. Also, the soldiers would have been respected and honored, as in all past wars, and public attitude would have been more cooperative if the liberal media had been loyal to its country. The element now making the dire predictions should feel responsible for those national disgraces of the past as well as the El Salvador disgrace they are now predicting.

Much has been said lately about human rights in El Salvador. We hear bad reports from both sides and are inclined to think there is truth on both sides. We have to remember this is a civil war. People hate intensely and fight viciously and show no mercy. Undoubtedly human rights are violated. Besides, this war is typical of a communist conflict. The Reds are known for disposing of all opposition. They do not allow survivors who might give trouble later. It would be understandable if Government did likewise. Certainly it could gain also by being permanently rid of enemy leaders.

As regards massacres of women and children, one has to wonder how much is warfare instead of atrocity. Vietnam had many stories of savage treatment to civilians who were caught in treachery.

On this human rights issue it should be understood also that an abundance of pro-guerrilla reports are coming from the reds themselves. The Red propaganda machine is expert in spreading its message. For instance, of 23 recent New York Times editions, 16 favored the guerrillas and only 7 favored the government of US. Likewise of 18 Washington Post editions, 13 favored the reds. The same applies to TV and radio. They seem to never

Sacred Heart Tigerettes proudly display their third place trophy earned at the TCIL state tournament at San Antonio last week. They lost their opener to Houston Lutheran, which won the championship in the final, and defeated St. Joseph's of Victoria for the third place honor. Team members are Rose Felderhoff, Susan Walterscheid (All District-MVP), Connie Stoffels, Karla Jo Hartman, Jenny Felderhoff, Anne Felderhoff (All District - MVP), Marilyn Hartman, Laurie Endres, Carol Walterscheid (All District), Coach Jon LeBrasseur and Sondra Hess.

Tigerettes, No.3 in State TCIL

Sacred Heart Tigerettes had lots to be proud of last weekend in their state playoff games in San Antonio's Hemisfair. This time they got one step closer to the TCIL title, ending in third place instead of fourth. Besides they had a feeling they had earned better than third because the semifinal with Houston Lutheran was actually the classic of the tournament.

Furthermore, as seen by Coach Jon LeBrasseur, the Tigerettes played a great game but just failed to get over the hump. From a 22-4 deficit early in the second period they trailed 30-21 at the half and 33-31 at the third but missed five opportunities to take the lead and the final count was 47-41. A few of their problems were 9 turnovers in the first quarter as compared with 8 in the second half. Also they hit only 9 of their 17 free throws whereas Houston hit 15. They fought all the way, Coach Jon said, but their eagerness might have caused tenseness. Carol Walterscheid with 14 points and 15 rebounds led the Tigerette effort and Susan Walterscheid, 10 points and 11 rebounds, was next. Also Marilyn Hartman scored 9, Anne Felderhoff 6 and Laurie Endres 2.

In the other semifinal St. Joseph of Victoria was edged by 4 by Incarnate Word of Corpus Christi, and became the Sacred Heart opponent for third place honor.

The Tigerettes had that game under control all the way, leading 14-11, 32-24, 43-31 and 56-47. Also Houston Lutheran ran away with its game, ending the season with the championship and a record of 21-1.

Tigerette scorers of the final were Susan Walterscheid 19, plus 11 rebounds; Carol Walterscheid 15, plus 15 rebounds; Anne Felderhoff 8; Marilyn Hartman 6; Connie Stoffels 6;

Laurie Endres 2.

An additional honor: Susan Walterscheid was named on the all tournament team and a week earlier she, along with Carol Walterscheid and Anne Felderhoff were chosen for an all-district.

Looking over the Tigerettes, Coach Jon has visions of going all the way next year. Carol Walterscheid and Jenny Felderhoff will be the only graduating members, leaving Sophomores Susan Walterscheid and Anne Felderhoff, along with Juniors Marilyn Hartman, Connie Stoffels and Laurie Endres as returning veterans. Others are Junior Carla Hartman and Freshmen Rose Felderhoff and Sandra Hess.

Likewise, the outlook is encouraging for the Tigers. The graduating seniors are Brian Herr, Gene Fuhrman and Hal Mollenkopf. Veterans expected back next year, with prospects of improving on this season's 14-9 record, are Juniors Greg Walterscheid, TJ Walterscheid, Curtis Henschel, Gene Haverkamp and Darrell Herr; also Sophomores Neil Hesse and Dwayne Haverkamp.

Three Tigerettes receive top honors

Sacred Heart Tigerettes dominated this year's selections to the all-district basketball team of TCIL District 3-AAA.

Coach Jon LeBrasseur received word this week that three of his players were named on the first team and one each were named for Notre Dame, Tyler Gorman and St. John's.

The Sacred Heart girls are Anne Felderhoff, 5'5" soph; Susan Walterscheid, 5'10", soph; senior, Susan Walterscheid and Anne Felderhoff shared an additional honor of being named MVP on the dream team.

Other members of the all-district first team are Dawn Morris of Notre Dame, Martha Marrinez of Tyler Gorman, and Kathleen Zhanel of St. John's.

All district second team selections were Mary Grant, Alamo Catholic; Mimi Pratt, Tyler Gorman; Judy Kaja, Notre Dame; Lisa Bohac, Notre Dame; Gayle Ozymy, St. John's.

Brother Thomas Moster takes vows as Benedictine Monk

Brother Thomas Moster OSB, son of Mrs. Theresa Moster and the late Leo Moster, pronounced his perpetual vows as a monk of New Subiaco Abbey in ceremonies there on February 10.

He served Sacred Heart Parish and taught in Sacred Heart High School for twenty years before going to Subiaco. He is remembered here for annual, highly successful student presentations of operettas, plays and speech tournaments and his students consistently won trophies in competition. A generation of Mass servers benefited from his instruction. While a teacher here, he directed the publication of Mosaics and was advisor to the Annual staff.

Area interest in Boys Club soars

More than a year's worth of intensive study and planning in regard to the future of the Gainesville Boys Club is beginning to bear some very promising fruit, according to the club's board president Don Hutcherson.

Hutcherson reports that the results of this study and planning, focused primarily on needs for improvement of programs, facilities and equipment, have recently gained the attention and direct involvement of a large group of top local and area business and civic leaders.

"What began as a dream is showing definite signs of becoming a reality," Hutcherson says, "especially considering the support now being shown by this group of community leaders and the work they are doing to help us provide the kind of recreational programs and facilities so desperately needed by young people not just in Gainesville but throughout Cooke County."

Boys Club board member Bill Patterson explains that the club's leaders have been deeply concerned for some time over not only the future needs of the club itself, with its rapidly expanding membership, but also over the limited availability of broad-based programs and facilities for all county youth, especially in the area of physical fitness and sports-related activities.

In the beginning, these concerns were reflected primarily in discussions of fairly small-scale improvements that would provide new, though still limited, opportunities for participation in previously unavailable sports and recreational activities.

As these discussions progressed, however, board members began to expand their thinking in relation to recognized needs among all young people in the county.

"We simply came to the conclusion that the Boys Club, with certain of these kinds of facilities and programs already in place, could serve as a foundation upon which such a broad-based recreational program could be feasibly and

The deadline for re-registering livestock marks and brands is only slightly more than a week away, and failure to meet the deadline could result in losing the right to use the mark or brand.

County Clerk Frank Scoggin issued an official notice this week reminding farmers and ranchers that the re-registration must be on or before Feb. 28, 1982.

otherwise the identifying marks can be claimed by someone else.

Scoggin explained that the marks and brands are those registered between August 30, 1971, and August 30, 1981.

Beginning on the latter date re-registrations were accepted in the county clerk's office for a period of six months. This period expires on February 28.

Opportunities and Jobs

America has long been known as the "land of opportunity." It still is for those who can identify unsatisfied wants of consumers and figure out a way to satisfy them.

An excellent example of this process of seizing upon an opportunity and satisfying wants is the so-called "fast food" business. Less than thirty years ago this industry did not exist. Today there are 70,000 fast-food restaurants.

The two largest are Kentucky Fried Chicken, with 5,355 restaurants, and McDonald's with 5,185.

Kentucky Fried Chicken was founded in 1955 by the late, famous Colonel Harland Sanders. In 1964 he sold the company to Kentucky entrepreneur John Y. Brown for $2 million. Seven years later, in 1971, Brown sold to Heublein for $250 million.

Development of the Kentucky Fried Chicken chain certainly demonstrates that opportunities still exist for those who would be businessmen, but even more dramatic has been the story of McDonald's.

The saga of the golden arches began in 1954 in San Bernardino, California, where two brothers, Maurice and Richard McDonald operated a hamburger stand. The business attracted the attention of Ray Kroc, a Chicago salesman of milk shake machines.

Kroc was so impressed with the method of operation that he convinced the brothers to permit him to franchise McDonald's units. Within six years there were 250 McDonald's restaurants all across the country, and in 1960 Kroc bought out the McDonald brothers for $2.7 million. It was reported in the almanac, "Everybody's Business," from which this information has been gleaned, "Kroc is now worth at least a quarter of a billion dollars."

While the story of McDonald's is an excellent illustration of an individual capitalizing on an opportunity, it also exemplifies how important it is that a climate of freedom exists which makes such opportunities possible. Consider these facts:

The beef patties fried into hamburgers by McDonald's each year require a half-million head of cattle. Someone has to grow these cattle. Someone has to transport them. Someone has to slaughter them and process them into all those beef patties. All these activities provide jobs which did not exist before McDonald's.

Just to apply the paper products used by McDonald's requires more than 300 square miles of forest each year. More jobs are thus created for foresters, loggers, truckers, pulp and paper mill operators, printers and fabricators.

And then there are the 98,000 McDonald's employees and the 150,000 teenagers who hold part-time jobs behind the counters.

When one really stops to think about it, it is clear that the opportunities available to one man, Ray Kroc, have been responsible for the creation of hundreds of thousands of jobs for American workers.

This same process has been repeated by thousands of other businesses all across the land. The moral of this story is that we must do everything we can to encourage creation of new businesses and remove all obstacles which stymie business opportunities. Only in this way can we possibly create the 72,000 new jobs each week to provide for new entrants into the workforce and solve out unemployment problem.

ture of finding fault with the El Salvador government or US involvement with it, or President Reagan.

One of the outstanding tragedies of the Reagan Administration is the nation's split-up over the attitude to El Salvador. As the president sees this issue, it is a clear choice between good and evil. The Reds themselves have told us that their goal is to take over the world, and their performance wherever they succeeded has been a combination of lost freedom and declining civilization. We see it in Europe, Asia, Africa and the Americas. President Reagan has vowed not to let it happen to another American country. He is determined at this late hour to cooperate with free countries all over the world in preserving freedom and human rights, and especially our own survival as a free nation under God.

The big hassle about human rights in Salvador present ts a very serious problem and we can only hope Reagan's policy will prevail in the end. That way we will have an ally rather than an enemy as our neighbor when they end their civil war.

Liberals insist we should abandon El Salvador because it violates human rights. But that would assure success of the Reds who get help from Cuba and Russia. Furthermore, civilization can depend on atrocity as a way of life in Salvador if the guerrillas succeed. That's how the Reds operate. Consider the countries taken over by them.

Our really important consideration in this matter is not deciding who is at fault. Both are. But it's important to have Salvador on our side when the war is finished.

Mr. Meese and the Vipers

by Edwain Feulner

On Pennsylvania Avenue, where members of the White House press corps congregate after hours to sip and gossip, he's disparagingly nicknamed "President Meese."

The man they are talking about is former University of San Diego law professor Edwain Meese, III, Counselor to the President, and the man Ronald Reagan has turned to over the years for advice and counsel when the going gets tough.

To say that the pundits are uneasy about the relationship between Mr. Meese and the president, and the sway Mr. Meese has over White House personnel and policy, is an understatement to say the least.

If it doesn't hound them in their sleep, it certainly must haunt them during their waking hours. Thus, taking potshots at Meese has become a way of life.

This phenomenon can be better understood when one considers the relationship between the presidency and the press. To dismiss it as an "adversary" relationship, I think, does it injustice. In fact, it's a classic case of jealousy: one group makes its living chasing power, and another group makes its living exercising power. The crunch comes when you realize, as a recent Public Opinion magazine study showed, that the people chasing power, members of the Fourth Estate, feel they could do a better job of running the country than those who were elected or appointed - as in the case of Mr. Meese.

Hamilton Jordan, Mr. Meese's predecessor in the sensitive next-to-the-top White House slot, felt the same sting. Yet, Mr. Jordan, one might argue, often invited the attacks, working as he did for a holier-than-thou, born-again moralist, yet exhibiting all of the maturity, at times, of a sailor in Singapore.

Mr. Meese's major sin, as near as I can tell, is that he does his job too darn well - especially for those in the press who get their jollies watching the big boys stumble badly, and fall on their ever-too-human tushes.

Clearly, Ed Meese isn't perfect. He's had his share of missteps, but much to the dismay of his detractors, he's managed to stay on his feet.

For all of their apparent sophistication, Mr. Meese and the Reagan White House handled the Richard Allen affair poorly. Their rebuke of the Polish and Soviet governments, following the imposition of martial law, was mushy. Their refusal to make good on their promises to the Republic of China (Taiwan), our long-time ally, was inexcusable (perhaps they have forgotten the 1980 Republican Party platform?). And their handling of several other policy decisions - Social Security, the AWACS sale, the decision on tax exemptions for allegedly segregated schools - was amateurish at best.

Yet, this administration has rolled up an incredible list of accomplishments, and in one year has managed to untangle much of the damaging mess that 45 years of liberal policymaking had created.

And Mr. Meese played a major role in the effort - helping to keep together the budget and tax cut programs when political warfare threatened to split them asunder, keeping the factions within the White House reasonably in tune with the conservative trumpet...always by the President's side and ready to remind the rest of the troops what the Reagan Revolution is all about.

For this we owe Mr. Meese, the man next-to-the-top, a debt of thanks. The nation is well-served by his steady presence. We can only hope his sway over policy will continue, and that the boys and girls in the press corps will have more reason than ever to snipe between the sips.

CAPITOL UPDATE

John Tower

U.S. SENATOR for TEXAS
142 RUSSELL OFFICE BUILDING
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20510

The President's budget proposal for the next fiscal year reflects two basic commitments -- to control and where possible reduce the amount of federal spending, and to rebuild our national defense capability to a level which will enable us to defend our vital interests in the world.

The defense portion of the fiscal year 1983 budget is undeniably large, with spending projected to be $215.9 billion. But its merit should not be judged merely on its size. The validity of the budget proposal must be determined by the contribution it makes to our nation's ability to meet its defense needs, and the extent to which it uses the taxpayers' money efficiently.

Clearly our defense needs are great. We are forced to increase the level of spending for national defense now because we neglected that area in favor of domestic programs in past years. During that period, the Soviet Union increased its military investment. Thus, our capability relative to that of the Soviet Union deteriorated to an alarming degree. We began last year to redress these deficiencies, but must continue that effort this year and for the next few years.

Yet, even the magnitude of our needs does not give the military a blank check. Our dollars are finite, and our validated requirements are many. That means that we in Congress, and the Administration, have a special obligation to make certain that every dollar spent contributes the maximum amount possible to our defense.

The Defense Department has made an excellent start in this regard. During the past year, it has initiated a series of programs and actions to improve efficiency and management in the department.

These include a reform of the strategic planning, programming and budget process; reform of the process by which weapons systems are acquired; a major attack on fraud, waste and abuse; economies and efficiencies in a number of internal management operations, and creation of a Management Improvement Council.

Thus the budget which has been presented to us reflects new efficiencies. It also reflects the Defense Department's determination to budget realistically to reflect actual cost and inflation factors. This approach in some cases provides higher figures now, but these amounts are much less likely to be subject to cost overruns later.

I am confident that the budget the Administration has sent to the Congress reflects its officials' best efforts to use each dollar wisely. However, Congress still has an obligation to scrutinize each aspect of the budget.

As the Armed Services Committee begins examining the defense request, we will not approve programs which are not cost-effective. This has been the case in past years, and we will be especially vigilant this year. We also will be looking very closely at the procedures and management systems embodied in the proposal provide maximum efficiency.

On behalf of the committee, I already have requested the Government Accounting Office to audit several of the Defense Department's money-saving programs. I also have requested GAO to review compliance on cost overrun reports.

In addition, I have asked the GAO comptroller-general and his staff to provide further suggestion to the Armed Services Committee that will assist us in our scrutiny of the budget.

You, the American citizen, are entitled to a strong national defense. In every poll, and in your letters and comments to me, you have reiterated your determination that your federal government should provide you with this strong defense.

But you also are entitled a program of national defense which is free of inefficiency and waste. We in Congress will work diligently to make certain that you get both a strong and a cost-effective national security system.

Letters to the Editor:

Letter to the Editor

For the last two weeks we have heard nothing but criticism for President Reagan's proposed changes to put the food stamp and welfare programs under state control. The national media as well as the DFW metroplex media are constantly interviewing people who either run the welfare programs or benefit from them. I have yet to see interviews with taxpayers burdened with ridiculously high federal taxes.

The fact is Texans stand to gain a great deal under Reagan's plan. According to the Texas Municipal League, Texas is the No. 1 tax loser in the nation. The taxpayers of Texas receive only 70 cents for every $1.00 we send to Washington. Some states actually receive more than they send because federal fund formulas are slanted to benefit states in the Northeast.

As far as financing, Texas is in great shape too. The states tax collector, Comptroller Bob Bullock has a word for those preaching doom about the sweeping New Federalism changes Reagan has proposed. He says "I've got the money if the state agencies have the time." Dennis Hess, Muenster

Dear Editor:

Greetings! I just wanted to write and respond to Mark Emerson's past regular column "Instructions from the Owners Manual." I have enjoyed reading this particular column as well as all of the Muenster Enterprise. In Mr. Emerson's last column about a month ago, he said that he was temporarily dropping the writing responsibility due to the lack of response of the readers. At this time I would like to express my thoughts on his column.

To begin with, as stated in the previous paragraph, I enjoyed the column and to the most part agreed with what he said. I believe what Mr. Emerson said was based on scripture, which is our basis for validating truth. I applaud Mr. Emerson for his willingness to speak the truth as found in the Word of God (our manual for life). First, I would like to address his thought that as Christians we are to submit to the Lordship of Jesus Christ in all areas of our lives. For those who know Christ as Saviour (from the penalty of our sins? He is also our Lord/Owner. 1 Corinthians 6:20 says, "For you have been bought with a price, therefore glorify God in your body."

While in the military about 8 years ago I came to grips with this truth of the Lordship/Ownership of Christ. Though pursuing athletics is not wrong, it for me had become too much the center of my life and had competed with Christ for my affections. For me to follow Christ as Lord (according to the scripture) meant I had to be willing to do anything he wanted, and that for me at the time was to give up my very active running career. We need Christians who are submitted to the Lordship of Christ and in all different professions and pursuits of life so that they may be a witness to the non-Christian. Possibly one day the Lord may lead me back into active running competition but it will be with a different objective than before, that being to influence people for Christ. I'm motivated in sharing my faith in Christ with others by the verse, "For what will a man be profited, if he gains the whole world and forfeits his soul? Or what will a man give in exchange for his soul?" (Matthew 16:16). I share this personal testimony not to draw attention to myself but to illustrate the Lordship of Christ in our lives and to agree with the basic premise of Mr. Emerson's column, that as Christians we are here to serve Christ and not Him us (God does desire our best although).

Secondly, I would like to respond to Mr. Emerson's comment which I will quote in full, "Personally, I have become sick of hearing persons that call themselves old hardliners, traditionalists, etc. of any denomination criticize Marriage Encounter Chrisio, Lay Ministries, CCD, Deaconate, Charismatic and all forms of renewal that have stemmed from Vatican II. I applaud all such working of the Holy Spirit within all Christian Churches everywhere." Though I may not necessarily know, understand or agree with all of Vatican II, I do enthusiastically applaud the success it has had in getting the Word of God into the hand of the lay person. Before Vatican II the average lay person was seldom encouraged to read and study the Word of God. As a result of more people within the Catholic Church beginning to study the Bible many different ministries and forms of renewal have sprung up by the working of the Holy Spirit in the lives of Christians who began to understand and submit to the truths found in God's Word. As stated by Mr. Emerson, this brought much criticism from those who did not necessarily like or agree with the new ministries. Most of us feel a little uncomfortable in the midst of change and are quick to criticize. I would challenge each person reading this article to study the scripture (the Gospel of John is a good place to start if you are not too familiar with the Bible) for yourself and see if what you studied and concluded differs from what Mr. Emerson has stated in his column. Acts 17:11 says "Now these were more noble-minded than those in Thessalonica, for they received the word with great eagerness, examining the Scriptures daily, to see whether these things were so." If you find these new ministries and forms of renewal within the Catholic or other Christian Churches to be contrary to scripture, you should challenge and criticize, if not, remain silent and hopefully support them in whatever way possible.

In closing, I would again like to quote and agree with a statement in Mr. Emerson's last column, "Realistically speaking, we have seen thousands of persons' lives affected (first hand), by saintly groups in the last 8 years. The common denominator of all of them seems to be the act of listening with full heart to the Word of God and responding to the call for the change from complacency to zeal for Christ."

In Christ,

Blue and Gold banquet observes Boy Scouts' 52nd birthday

Cub Scouts of Pack 664 celebrated the 52nd birthday of the national organization by attending two events on Sunday, February 7. Their big day included attending and participating in the 11 a.m. service in Sacred Heart Church with the Boy Scouts. In mid-afternoon they met again in the VFW Hall for a Show and Tell program opening with a flag ceremony and a poem read by Jeff Walterscheid followed by a bountiful banquet served at 5 p.m. Parents brought covered vegetable and salad dishes and the pack provided meat for the meal.

Rev. Keith Thomas of the Muenster First Baptist Church gave the Invocation and Mrs. Juanita Bright was mistress of ceremonies. She noted that she was a den leader at one time and was aware of the time and effort spent on this Blue and Gold Banquet.

On the program were, first, the Webelos who presented a skit in explanation of the scout badge. Den 4 performed a favorite song "The Commercial Mix-up." Den 2 cubs were joined by their mothers in a skit telling the symbolism of "Blue and Gold." Den 1 played in a home made band with home made instruments, singing "I've Been Working on the Railroad."

Advancement Chairman Shirley Knabe and Cubmaster Lupe Evans conducted "The Upward Trail" ceremony, telling about goals to which each age level of cubs aims. During the ceremony Kelly Bell and his mother accepted the Bobcat advancement; Brad McDaniel and Scott Hudspeth and their parents accepted the Wolf advancement. In the next step of advancement, working on and receiving arrow points, were the following cubs; Douglas Evans, 1 gold; Brad McDaniel 1 gold; Ryan Gehrig 1 gold; and Darrin Russell 1 gold and 1 silver.

There were no Bear or Webelos advancements, but there were many activity pins for the Webelos as follows: Jason Gehrig, Naturalist; Ryan Bayer Naturalist and Geologist and Outdoorsman; Shawn Vogel, Showman, Geologist and Outdoorsman; Johnny Herr, Murlin Evans and Jeff Walterscheid, each received Craftsmen activity pins.

When it was time for Adult Recognition, Chairmen, committee members and den leaders received Norman Rockwell prints from his famous series on Scouting. Committee members included Mmes. Shirley Knabe, Sharon Walterscheid, Ann Poole and Judy McDaniel. Den leaders included Mmes. Joyce Abney, Patsy Bayer and Rita Russell. Webelos den leader Terry Walterscheid received a special plaque.

Den 2 and the Webelos presented Certificates of Appreciation to Serena Wright, Sharon Walterscheid and David Bayer "for special help", to Rick Stewart and Regi Bayer for helping with the Goodwill Project; and to Robert McDaniel for helping with the Scout Fun Fair.

David Bayer, who built Pack 664's Advancement Ladder for immediate recognition, received a "Thank You" plaque. Cubs of Pack 664 chose a "Super Scouter" in 1982 and Cubmaster Lupe Evans presented this plaque to Eagle Scout David Fette in appreciation for his help to cubs through many years.

The Blue and Gold Banquet closed with an appropriate poem by Mrs. Bright and the Benediction by Father Denis Soerries.

Changes effective in Medicare rates

Medicare patients, you'll pay more for your Part A "deductible" this year -- that's the part you pay for yourself (or which you may have supplemental insurance for), reports Judith L. Warren, a family life education specialist-aging.

As of January 1, 1982, patients are responsible for the first $260 of each new 90 day benefit period. In 1980, the Part A deductible was $180. In 1981, it was $204.

Also, during 1982, Medicare patients in the hospital from 61-90 days will be responsible for paying $75 a day, rather than the $51 they had to pay last year. Warren is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Diet facts & fallacies

These nutritional tips brought to you by DIET CENTER

Twenty-five million Americans are in the category of borderline hypertensive. This group consists of those people whose blood pressure falls between 140/90 to 160/95. The National Heart Lung and Blood Institute believe the death rate from high blood pressure could be reduced by 17 percent if these people have proper treatment. Dr. Robert I. Levy, director of N.H.L.B.I., suggest changing the diet to reduce salt intake, losing excess weight and increasing exercise. If necessary your doctor may prescribe proper medication.

In 1978, 30 million Americans were considered overweight, 15 million of them obese. Scientists during the last few decades have identified a number of possible causes for obesity.

In some cases fat seems to breed more fat. In one study involving prisoners in Vermont, normal-weight men deliberately overate and increased their weight by 26 percent. The increase in the amount of fatty tissue caused endocrine changes, including an increase in insulin production. Insulin is known to increase appetite.

Diet Center will teach you how to lower your blood pressure and your weight. Call the Diet Center for more information.

Diet Center has been very successfully helping dieters achieve their weight goal and maintaining it. To learn more about our program call Diet Center now.

Butterfly Bluebirds visit Mrs. Lehnertz

On February 11th the Butterfly Bluebirds visited with Mrs. Agnes Lehnertz at her home. Mrs. Lehnertz graciously gave the girls a tour throughout her home. She showed them her beautiful china pieces collected from her own girlhood and that of her parents. Mrs. Lehnertz showed the Bluebirds a ceramic salt/pepper shaker set made from the volcanic ash of Mount St. Helens in Washington. She showed them how folks used to grind coffee beans in an antique coffee grinder. Mrs. Lehnertz is a collector of salt/pepper shakers, and the group immensely enjoyed her descriptions and stories on how they were obtained. "We want to especially say thank you, Mrs. Lehnertz, for the homemade cookies and orange juice—they were delicious; most of all, for taking the time out to give us an enjoyable afternoon and learning experience."

Afterwards, the Butterfly Bluebirds were chaperoned to Gainesville where they toured the Tom Thumb

Bakery. Of special interest were the beautiful wedding cakes; they viewed the big ovens where the goodies are baked and saw behind-the-scene activities of how a big kitchen is run. The bakery provided the Bluebirds with refreshments.

The next meeting date for the Butterfly Bluebirds will be on February 24th at the Sacred Heart Homemaking Room from 3:30-5:30. Refreshments will be served by Amy Dankesreiter; the girls will go on a tour of the Muenster Fire Department and the Muenster Garden Center and will meet back at Sacred Heart.

The Aluminum Can project will end February 28th; everyone is urged to turn in those cans and help Camp Fire buy an animal for the Gainesville Zoo. All the Camp Fire groups in Muenster are participating in this project and donations will be heartily accepted.

Sponsor is Mr. Urban Endres; leader, Mrs. Peggy Walter; assistant leader, Mrs. Lou Mosler.

Extension Service sponsors program on car talk for women

When your car talks to you, do you know what it is saying? For today's women, knowing how to operate an automobile is not enough. A woman must know more about the way an automobile works and how to maintain her car for safety and economy.

"Car Talk for Women" a workshop sponsored by the County Extension Service will be held on Wednesday afternoon February 24th. The program will begin at 1:30 p.m. at the Gainesville Chamber of Commerce Building.

Although the workshops will not make you a "lady mechanic" it will give you some practical tips for maintaining and checking out your car on your own.

Subjects to be included in the workshop include: "How to Read the Instrument Panel," "Parts Identification," "Practical Preventive Maintenance," "Hints on Saving Money," and "Traveling Hints."

The workshop will be given by Henry O'Neal, agricultural engineer with the Texas Agriculture Extension Service. He is a state specialist at Texas A&M University.

The "Auto Talk for Women" program like all educational programs sponsored by the Texas Agriculture Extension Service is open to any woman regardless of socio-economic level, race, color, religion or natural origin.

TMA Health Tips

Placed before you are an apple and a piece of your favorite cake, perhaps German chocolate. You must choose.

Your conscience begins its usual arguments against selecting the cake. But your hand, paying no attention, reaches for a fork. Soon after, the cake is history.

The Texas Medical Association says it would have been healthier to satisfy your sweet tooth with the apple. Fruits have a higher density of nutrients, meaning they have more nutrients per calorie than, say, that piece of German chocolate cake.

Each time you eat fruit rather than a dessert, not only is there greater nutrition per calorie, but there generally are fewer calories. For instance, a half cup of applesauce has 40 calories. An equivalent slice of cake has 350 calories.

In addition, sugar found naturally in fruit is in a more usable form than refined white sugar, which is too concentrated for the body to handle effectively. Fruit also contains abundant vitamins and minerals, including trace minerals that the body needs in small amounts but commonly are not available in vitamin preparations.

And fruits provide the body with the bulk necessary to function properly.

When fresh fruit is not available, frozen fruit without added sugar provides nutrients equivalent to that of fresh produce. Canned fruit also is a nutritious dessert, although it loses some nutrients through the chemical process to preserve it.

Finally, most experts agree that people would be healthier if they cut back on consumption of refined sugar.

Help to give relief from homesickness. Help to keep in touch with servicemen at distant duty stations, or students away at school. Tell out-of-town relatives and friends about local news.

They look forward to reading news of family gatherings, visits from other relatives and friends, reunions, awards for school accomplishments, vacation trips, community activities, anniversary celebrations, etc.

Almost like getting a long letter from home! Phone 759-4311 or send notes to Box 190, Muenster to report news.

CARD OF THANKS

Members and advisors of TIA wish to thank everyone who helped make their Spaghetti Dinner last Sunday so successful. Special thanks to Ginie Schneider and a great bunch of young ladies and young men for their enthusiastic help.

My wife and I deeply appreciate the concern of family, friends, and relatives while I was a patient in St. Paul's Hospital in Dallas for ten days, and since returning home. We are very grateful for prayers, cards, phone calls, visits, and every kindness.

Lawrence and Irene Wimmer

May I replenish my faith in human trust. Today, the first day I have been completely free of pain, I went through all the cards and letters I received while in Methodist Hospital, in pain and under sedation. I read and re-read all letters and cards and they really brought tears, because they are from friends, grandchildren, great-grand nieces and nephews I hardly know, teenagers only acquaintances of mine. God bless them all. They all make me feel it is necessary to keep trying to live and keep working in my programs with Senior Citizens. Thank you, everyone, from the bottom of my heart.

City gets $12,655 sales tax check

The City of Muenster has received a check in the amount of $12,655.81 from State Comptroller Bob Bullock as a rebate for city sales taxes collected here during the period ending

February 7, 1982. This brings the year's payments to date to $16,794.67 as compared with $16,914 during the same time last year, a drop of 0.71%. Bullock said that this period's rebate pay was $106.4 million to 954 cities, the biggest single payment since the rebates began in 1968. It is 16 percent more than for February 1981, which in turn was 16 percent over February 1980. Payments for January and February are 13.2 percent ahead of last year. The increase is higher than inflation and population growth combined, Bullock said.

Payments to other cities of the area along with their totals to date and percentage of change since last year were listed as follows. Gainesville, $160,899, to date $200,597, up 24%; Lindsay, $6,019, to date $7,756, down 28.94%; Nocona, $23,053, to date $30,446, up 5.04%; Pilot Point, $6,246, to date $8,477, down 6.61%; Saint Jo, $2,619, to date $3,335, down $41.89%; Sanger $6,096, to date $8,037, up 5.80%; Valley View $775, to date $1,394, down 16.36%; Whitesboro $18,691, to date $20,743, down 16.54%.
