Here is my servant whom I uphold, my chosen one with whom I am pleased, upon whom I have put my Spirit. He shall bring forth justice to the nations, not crying out, not shouting, not making his voice heard in the street. A bruised reed he shall not break, and a smoldering wick he shall not quench, until he establishes justice on the earth.

Keeping Christ in Christmas is a beautiful and proper thought being promoted again in our community, but regretfully we have to acknowledge that it doesn't quite convey the intended meaning. It would be more correct to change the wording to Restoring Christ to Christmas.

Surely we are aware that modern Christmas observance isn't what it used to be. Instead of the Infant Jesus and His Blessed Mother, along with the birth in a stable and the shepherds and wise men coming to adore, we have Santa Claus and reindeer and stories by the dozens about those beautiful legends and customs of the past, ironically many of which help to perpetuate the beautiful stories of the first Christmas. But, unfortunately, the beautiful words leave our Savior in the background rather than bring Him nearer for more intimate love and understanding.

Our difficulty derives from the fact that our nation, actually all of the so-called Christian world, has been operating on the theory that we human beings are wonderfully advanced and can get along without God. The attitude is plainly apparent in a UN that bans God from its deliberations, in a US that rules out school prayer and allows abortion along with a lifestyle which ignores the ten commandments.

We have turned to humanism, smugly satisfied with the goodness expressed in a utilitarian kind of virtue which serves our own purpose rather than the will of God. Our modern standard includes many praiseworthy practices which make ourselves and the world happier, but still overlooks the awareness that Christmas is a feast, the coming of God's Son to restore us sinners to the favor of God as well as to show His way of attaining Peace to Men of Good Will.

Our modern trimmings are nice. Their spirit of human goodness is intended to make the world better. But it lacks the deeper spiritual goodness which derives from an understanding of God's infinite goodness to humanity, along with an appreciation of His Divine teaching. The real beauty of Christmas is that it is rooted in eternity which common sense acknowledges as the destiny of us all.

However, that's not all. The feast has a wonderful temporal appeal as well, related to the angelic choir's message of peace to men of good will. The words are unmistakable. People of good will, those who live by the word of God, with love for God and neighbor, have the sure formula of peace. They have an assurance of inner contentment. Even

Christmas parade successful

The 1982 Christmas parade was worth waiting for. Contrasting sharply with the snowed-out date of a week earlier, the weather had only a wee bit of chill in the air and the show itself, with a limited number of entries made up in quality for what it lacked in quantity.

There were four floats, three of which received prizes. Fischer Market's "Toyland" was judged No. 1 and awarded $150 which was given to employees who made it and have since given their prize to a needy family of the area. Number 2, receiving the $100 prize was the "Cub Scout Express" entered by Pack 665, and third place winner was "A Sneak Look Under the Christmas Tree" entered by Callisburg's Frisky Bluebirds. The fourth float, "The Night before Christmas", was entered by Children's Learning Center. Other prize winners were the Gainesville Riding Club, receiving $50, the Muenster Junior High band, receiving $50, and the Gainesville Antique Car Club receiving the President's Award of $50.

The group of seven antique cars, recruited and entered by Dr. Walter Vincent, was one of the outstanding attractions of the parade. All vehicles were in top condition with a bright polish and quiet performance.

The list includes Dr. Vincent's 1941 Packard 160 coupe as the headliner; also Doug Martin's Studebaker pickup; Raymond Montgomery's 1957 Pontiac Star Chief; Darrell Graves' 1929 Model A roadster; Wittington's 1922 Buick touring car; Bill Johnson's 1916 Model T coupe; and Clarence Thomas' 1936 Ford coupe. Also there was Kenneth Zwinggi's ancient tractor but carried on a truck instead of its own power because it was equipped with the old time iron wheel lugs.

Another eye catcher brought up the rear. It was a glamour special DeLorean owned and driven by James Hess with Mayor Leo Hess as a passenger.

To the kids, the top attraction was Santa Claus attended by two elves. They arrived in a fire truck and, following the parade, occupied the place of honor provided by the Chamber of Commerce at Muenster Mid-Park. The next two hours the trio gave out goodies to the little ones and listened to their Christmas wants. The goodies were provided jointly by the Chamber and the Jaycees.

The parade assembled at 1 p.m. on Mesquite Street near Highway 82. There the units were assigned places in the line and a list was prepared enabling the announcer to name them in order as they passed his stand. Mike Otts announced and also supplied background music. Floats were judged before the parade so that winners could be identified as they passed before the crowd.

The parade was headed by a police car and the VFW color guard. Other units were the floats, the junior high band, two clowns, Gainesville and Muenster Horsebackers, antique cars, homecoming queens of the two schools, and two pieces of Telephone Company equipment...its first service truck and a brand new "Ditch Witch" trencher and line installing machine.

Co-chairmen of the event were Deb Klement, Jane Monday and David Fette.

Ambulance to be based in Muenster

Cooke County Commissioners voted 3-2 Monday to locate one unit of the county's ambulance service in Muenster, ending a year-long effort to improve emergency service in the western part of the county. Backers of the project say the local branch could be operating as early as the first week of January.

"I think this will make our service a great deal more effective," said Don Rice of the emergency care team in Gainesville.

Plans for the location call for basing one of the county's two full-time ambulances at the Boyles Estate house at the corner of Oak and Third streets and a 24-hour staff to man the operation. Plans have also been made to renovate the house for members of the emergency staff and to construct a garage next to the house for the ambulance.

Ronnie Felderhoff, who acted as liaison between the Muenster City Council and the county commissioners, said the Muenster Jaycees and the Chamber of Commerce have each donated $1,000 for the required renovation and the Jaycees plan to donate time to help with the project. He said any other volunteer help on the project would be greatly appreciated.

At the commissioners' last meeting, Felderhoff presented the court with a statement of support accompanied by more than 500 signatures from residents of western Cooke County requesting that an ambulance be based here. He said the commissioner's favorable decision is due in large part to that large amount of citizen support.

Rice said locating a branch of the ambulance service in Muenster would greatly reduce response time in the event of an emergency. The time it now takes for an ambulance coming from Gainesville to respond to an emergency in Muenster is about 14.5 minutes. With that response time, a heart attack victim "wouldn't have much of a chance," Rice said.

Basing one ambulance in Muenster will leave only one 24-hour unit in Gainesville, but Rice doesn't believe that situation will pose any problems. The ambulance service in Gainesville receives only five to six calls per day, only half of which are emergencies, and two emergency calls almost never occur at the same time, Rice said.

Chilly Christmas foretold

Balmy weather prevails as Christmas approaches, but the weatherman predicts that it will not last. A cold wave is expected to move in Friday for a cool Yule. Until then the temperature has been on the warm side of moderate with only one reading down to the freezing mark.

Low and high temperatures of the week were recorded as follows by Steve Moster.

Dec. 16	34 and 64
Dec. 17	36 and 76
Dec. 18	44 and 70
Dec. 19	36 and 62
Dec. 20	32 and 64
Dec. 21	38 and 72
Dec. 22	50 and 73

Extensive improvements made by Sacred Heart parish

Last Sunday's Sacred Heart bulletin summarizes an extensive improvement program completed by the parish in recent months. The several projects as listed by Father Denis Soerries apply to the cemetery, the church, the elementary school, the sisters' home and the Community Center.

The big project was in the cemetery where dead and unsightly shrubbery was removed and the surface was leveled with truckloads of good soil; also grass was planted along the walkways and a new sidewalk was installed beside parish property from SH High School to the cemetery entrance. The principal item was a complete new watering system consisting of a well and an underground sprinkling system. The program also includes straightening leaning tombstones as soon as ground is in the proper working condition.

Work at the church and school and sisters' home was done for appearance and waterproofing. First step was to sandblast all limestone and the next was a process of removing defective mortar between bricks (tuckpointing) and replacing with good mortar. Finally all was sprayed with a waterproofing chemical. Cost of the work has been listed as $14,386 for the church, $4,250 for the school and $2,125 for the sisters' home.

The Community Center project consisted of acoustical improvements at a cost of $8,100, paid by two parish couples. The method consisted of covering the walls with sound absorbing materials. Exterior work there consisted of repairing roof leaks and painting the east wall, a combined cost of about $1,000.

Father Denis ends his report with a reminder that deductible donations will be welcome in the parish improvement funds for these projects.

Building permits total $476,750

With a single exception, building activity in Muenster during 1982 reflects the nation-wide slump in construction. The exception is the new combination of a science department and five junior high classrooms at the public school quoted at $240,000. With it the total amounts to $476,750, and without it the figure drops to $236,750, the lowest since 1974.

The building summary, as reported by Steve Moster, shows $117,000 listed under residential construction, $313,000 under commercial construction and $46,750 as additions to both residential and commercial.

Residential consists of four projects: new homes for Martin Bayer and BJ Construction, a moved-in home by Ben Martinez and a mobile home by Greg Wilde.

Along with the school building the commercial jobs were $15,000 for Muenster Mill, $25,000 for the Chamber of Commerce, $8,000 for Eighty Two Liquor, and $25,000 for First Texas Savings.

Remodeling projects are listed as $750 for Steve Klement, $500 for Steve Grewing, $700 for Ben Martinez, $10,000 for Walter Grewing, $10,000 for R.N. Fette, $300 for Tim Endres, $10,000 for Herbert Knabe, $3,500 for Danny Voth, $500 for Melvin Yosten, $10,000 for Virgil Hess, and $500 for Herman Eberhart.

Actual value of building activity again this year is much higher than the recorded figures. One reason is that many repair and remodel jobs are not included because they involved only interior work but no additions to the original structure. Another reason is permits concern only the city but not the rural area where construction normally is about as active as in town. Community construction as a whole probably was near a million dollars.

Meanwhile the city also made improvements. It installed 1060 feet of curb and gutter to improve drainage in three areas of town; also 1500 feet of 6 inch water main from the new No. 6 water well to ground storage in Hillcrest; also 325 feet of 2 inch water main across Mesquite at Main; also two 36 inch galvanized culverts across Mesquite Street.

This year's residential construction is the low point in local home building since 1969 when $104,000 was quoted for 5 houses and 5 mobile homes. By contrast, this year's $117,000 was for two homes, a mobile home and a moved in house. The biggest year of the past decade was 1978 when 15 new houses and 1 mobile home were included in permits of $698,500.

The Owner's Manual

By Larry Tisdale DVM

"Now after Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea in the days of Herod the king, behold, magi from the east arrived in Jerusalem, saying, 'Where is He who has been born King of the Jews? For we saw His star in the east, and have come to worship Him.'" (Matt. 2:1&2)

These magi, or wise men, from the east were experts in the study of the stars. Tradition says that there were three and that they were kings, but we do not know for certain. The star they followed was a mystery - as were the wise men themselves. A vast body of lore, legend and tradition seeks to provide the "details" of their journey to Bethlehem.

Early church art depicts two, and sometimes four Magi, as the Latin Scriptures originally called them. The apocryphal fifth century Armenian "Gospel of Infancy" identifies the wise men as: Melchior, Gaspar and Balthazar - respectively the kings of Persia, India and Arabia. Legend paints them in colors of oriental richness.

Matthew tells us what we really need to know about the wise men. They followed the star, God's sign, in faith because they earnestly sought assurance of God's love. They found Jesus, the ultimate evidence and conclusive proof of His love, in Bethlehem. The wise men brought Jesus gold, frankincense, and myrrh, the symbols of love, prayer, and sacrifice. These gifts also paid tribute to Christ's kingship over earth, heaven and death.

The gift God gave the wise men at Bethlehem was living proof that "God is love." Only in the Bible can we read this lovely story and share again God's gift to the wise men. They sought Christ that they might worship Him. This example should be an inspiration to us to do the same. Today, God's gift to us, Christ, is free to all who seek Him with the desire to worship Him, just as it was 2,000 years ago when the wise men sought Him. My prayer today is that all who read this column have received God's gift, which is offered freely to all men.

though they may endure unpleasant contacts with a hostile world they can be on good terms with themselves and God.

The spirit of Christ in Christmas applies even without reference to the spiritual side. The child Jesus has done wonders for civilization as just a human being and can keep doing more. He is the infant who became the greatest teacher of all time, whose words and example have stood out for centuries as the way to live happily and usefully.

It's still that way today. If this modern world, which got the silly idea that it can do better without Him, would only think again and realize that it has traded in its birthright for a superficial mess, we could reasonably hope for a better world.

Bringing Christ back to Christmas is simply an acknowledgement that this is God's world and we need to live it His way or mess things up. In relation to this life as well as the next, it's a good idea.

Pay hike involved tricky legislating

In a tricky bit of legislative maneuvering, Congress approved a 15 percent pay increase Tuesday (December 14, 1982). Congressman Charles W. Stenholm opposed any increase, but due to placement of amendments was forced to cast one vote that made it appear that he supported the 15 percent increase.

The procedure involved a three-step process:
1. If Congress had not acted, a 27.2 percent increase was due to go into effect automatically.
2. The first amendment would trim the 27.2 percent increase to 15 percent.
3. The second amendment would continue the current cap on Congressional salaries, meaning NO pay raise at all would be allowed.

Stenholm voted for the first amendment, even though he opposed any increase. A vote against this amendment would have a proved of the 27 percent increase. He then voted for the second amendment to eliminate any increase. Had he opposed the first amendment, (to cut the increase from 25 to 15 percent) the higher increase would have gone into effect.

"As far as I am concerned, the key vote on this issue was passage of the rule that allowed this 'Catch-22' situation to develop on the House floor," Stenholm said. "I strongly opposed that rule. Those Members of Congress that supported a pay increase for themselves should have had the courage to be up-front and present the issue before the House and the American people clearly, with no legislative subterfuge."

"I have voted against any increase in Congressional pay since I have been in office and I really fail to understand the logic of those in Congress who conditions the people we serve are up against," Stenholm said.

Only one more vote was needed on the final amendment to stop the pay increase, with the amendment to continue the salary freeze failing by a 208-208 tie vote.

CAPITOL UPDATE

John Tower

U.S. SENATOR for TEXAS
112 RUSSELL OFFICE BUILDING
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20510

The 5-cents-a-gallon gasoline tax before the Senate last week was billed as a way to rebuild our decaying highways and bridges, create new jobs and help mass transit. While these are indeed worthy goals, the bill in my view, unfortunately will be detrimental to Texas interests.

For example, some estimates indicate that only 60 cents out of every dollar will go toward much-needed repair of highways and bridges, with the rest spent on new construction.

Secondly, the highly regarded Council of Economic Advisors estimates that some 340,000 jobs will be lost from the economy because people will have less money to spend in the private sector. The gas tax is expected to create only 320,000 new jobs.

The mass transit provisions were improved when the bill was amended to include my proposal to allow these funds to be used for new systems in growth areas -- including Dallas and Houston -- as well as for repair of existing systems.

Thus, the gas tax does not accomplish the major goals put forth by its proponents. Instead, it is yet another tax on the already over-burdened taxpayer. It will fall most heavily on the poor, who spend a larger proportion of their income on gasoline than those in higher income groups. And it will hit rural areas particularly severely. Farmers, already enmeshed in economic difficulties of crisis proportion, will be hit yet again with an uncontrollable cost which they will not be able to recover in the current depressed farm market.

Furthermore, Texas will lose money on the tax. Since the creation of the federal Highway Trust Fund in 1956, Texas has paid $2 billion more in taxes than it has realized in highway projects. In 1981, we received only 83 percent of the money that we paid into the trust fund. That was the lowest ratio in the country. As a result, we lost $90 million in that year alone.

Much has been made of a change in the bill to guarantee states they will receive 85 percent of the money they pay into the system. However, in view of the losses we incurred in past years with only a slightly lower return ratio, I am less than overwhelmed by this concession on the part of the bill's backers.

Finally, the gasoline tax will contribute to inflation because so many of the products we use are transported by truck. The additional tax on fuel will add to the cost of all of these items.

We would like to take this opportunity to express our gratitude for our jobs at Jr. Elite. A big "thank you" to Jerell and all the concerned citizens that helped bring this re-opening about, especially Dick Ferber, Dave Fette, Larry Kinard and Henry Weinzapfel. Although the problem has not been completely resolved, we feel that it will be in the near future. We appreciated your concern and wish all of you a Happy Holiday.

Dear Editor:

At every Yule Season, one remembers family; friends and Christmas of long ago. How well I remember Muenster, when Mass on Christmas was at five o'clock in the morning. It was difficult to arise at that early hour to attend mass. It was still dark and the stars shown in all their glory, like a celestial Christmas tree. Muenster was not too modern in those days. Many of the store fronts and the old Stelzer Hotel would have made a natural setting for the western movies. In some places, there were board sidewalks, and there were no Christmas decorations on Main Street. We had Christmas in our hearts, and Sacred Heart Church was crowded with parishioners.

The interior of the church was a work of art, having been painted by the father of an earlier priest, Father Bernard Zell. The altar was beautiful, and the pealing of the bells, as they rang out over the countryside, was a joyous invitation to rejoice in our Savior's birth. Mass began with the singing of "Silent Night" by the choir in German.

After we returned home from the service, friends began to appear for a cup of coffee or fruit cake and a glass of wine. My aunt, Katie Stelzer loved that day. She made many favorite things to eat, taking several days to prepare the food. Part of her ancestry being British, we ate goose and a plum pudding. Often, she would also bake a turkey, because the dinner guests increased as the day wore on.

My uncle, Bill Stelzer was responsible for the Christmas tree. Sometimes it was a scrub cedar from someone's pasture. When one light burned out, the tree was dark. We did not have the lavish decorations, that we have now, but we appreciated what we had. It was Christmas.

Gifts were not plentiful and some of them were hand made. The important thing was the spirit in which they were given.

Many of the people in that time of my life are gone now, but I think of them warmly at this time of year. So, I will remember Muenster; its people; old family traditions so long ago.

Yes, I remember it well.

Looking Ahead

by Dr. George S. Benson

President National Education Program - Searcy, Ark.

ORIGIN OF THE FREEZE
Ever since the Russian Revolution of 1917 the American people have been deceived, outmaneuvered and defeated by the Communists in their unrelenting drive for world domination.

It is not the purpose here to delve into the reasons why, but rather to help turn the spotlight on exposure on some of the most recent and most dangerous instances.

One of the great international "chess games" of all time involves the moves by the Soviet Union to checkmate Western Europe. Our attempt to block the Soviets was thwarted by one of the most successful Communist active measure campaigns in history.

When America abandoned the attempt to neutralize the Soviet threat to West Germany by developing the enhanced-radiation weapon -- the so-called "neutron bomb" -- the Communists won a tremendous victory.

Writes John Barron in the October 1982 Reader's Digest: "By arming NATO with the enhanced-radiation warhead, the United States had intended to demonstrate to friends that it possessed the will and capacity to participate effectively in their defense. By vacillating, then capitulating before the pressures of Soviet Active Measures, the United States showed itself to be irresolute and, in the eyes of many friends, witless."

Barron points out that such policies really frightened the Europeans who now were faced with 315 new mobile SS-20 missiles capable of destroying 945 targets anywhere in Europe.

To offset this threat the U.S. had agreed to install 572 Pershing II and cruise missiles under joint U.S.-NATO control by late 1983. Western strategists had concluded this would restore "the balance of nuclear terror, which has kept peace in Europe for more than three decades."

It will be recalled that one of candidate Ronald Reagan's main campaign themes had been the need to rebuild the U.S. military power to deter the Soviet threat.

Says Barron, "A few days after Reagan won, the Soviet Union instigated the great new Active Measures campaign to prevent NATO from countering the SS-20's and to reverse the American election results by nullifying the rearmament program implicitly mandated by the voters. After the success of the anti-neutron bomb campaign, their expectations were high.

"On February 23, 1982, Leonid Brezhnev, addressing the 26th Communist Party Congress, issued an official call for a nuclear freeze -- an immediate cessation of development of any new weapons system."

As Barron says, it is important to recall that the nuclear freeze demonstrations have not been against the "1400 intercontinental missiles aimed at America, many of which are designed to annihilate U.S. missiles in a first strike. Instead, they demonstrated against projected American missiles, bombers and submarines whose deployment would more than anything else ensure that the Soviets never will dare launch the kind of surprise attack for which they practiced last June."

Thus we see that the nuclear freeze campaign is indeed Communist-organized, Communist-directed and Communist-serving. Hopefully the American people will learn these facts before irreparable harm has been done to the cause of peace.

SEEKING NEW VISTAS

By Edwin Feulner

While the Weathermen agitated college campuses, blacks rioted in the streets, and our GI's died in Vietnam, the poets said give peace a chance. Large parts of white middle-class America tripped-out, freaked-out and dropped-out in an effort to find meaning in their lives. The high-energy idealism of the '60s resulted for many in a disdain for bourgeois values and a heightened concern about the plight of the poor.

VISTA (Volunteers in Service to America) was born of this era and originally attracted many young people who genuinely wanted to help those less fortunate than themselves. The program started out on the right track... a good idea with noble aims.

Unfortunately, the VISTA program fell far short of fulfilling its obligation to the poor -- and became, instead, a training ground for community activists wishing to change "the system" from within.

This picture, long a suspicion of conservatives, emerges clearly from information about the Carter-era VISTA program that is just now beginning to come to light thanks to the investigative spadework of William Poole, one of the country's most proficient analysts of the American Left.

Under Carter administration appointees Sam Brown and Margery Tabankin -- both New Left activists -- the "volunteer" agency launched a national grants program. The program, however, Poole says, was used to large degree to funnel money from the federal government to organizations that, to be kind about it, think the American system stinks.

The VISTA Guidance Reports, issued in 1979 under Brown, suggested, for example, that VISTA volunteers should directly help their constituents, the poor, only "if the provision of that service is part of an overall organizing strategy." In other words, community organizing -- a New Left euphemism for what most of us would call "troublemaking" -- was to take precedent over helping the poor.

Take the case of Makanda, Illinois.

Makanda is a small community in southern Illinois with a population of 407. The average family income is $12,000. There are about 40 Makanda residents who are believed to be below the poverty line.

VISTA's two major projects in Makanda were to establish a community newsletter and a day-care facility. The MDCDC goals and objectives submitted to VISTA state: "Goal: To organize and distribute a local newsletter informing citizens about political and economic and social information needed to successfully effect a more equitable distribution of power in Makanda. Objective: Inform members of the community of the misuse of power practiced by local politicians and controversial issues affecting low-income residents." The actual VISTA Volunteer Plan for action states very specifically that the newsletter was to be used as an organizing tool for the community. The fact that this town of 407 already had a local newspaper and is a community where most information travels by word of mouth did not seem to be a consideration. The town of Makanda was turned upside down as residents tried to get rid of VISTA volunteers who came to save them from themselves.

Connie Horner, VISTA director under President Reagan, has moved aggressively to end these abuses and return the agency to its original purpose. There already is strong support for doing away with the agency entirely.

If Horner is able to save the agency it will be despite the earlier activities of Brown and Tabankin. If VISTA dies, it will most certainly be because of them.

HEALTHY ADVICE

by Fred Lucas, M.D.

A Problem for the Aged

Senility. Is it the inevitable curse that accompanies growing older?

Medical researchers believe that memory lapses, mental confusion, disorientation as to time, place and people, loss of interest in appearance and visual or hearing impairments can be symptoms of problems other than senility.

Take, for example, the story of a 70-year-old man who suddenly became confused and disoriented. A doctor, called by friends, declared that the man was "senile" and belonged in a nursing home. Fortunately, the man was still able to refuse, although he did agree to enter a general hospital. Within a week he was out and in fine condition again after a virus infection was diagnosed, properly treated and cured.

The Texas Medical Association estimates that approximately 10 percent of the older population have some problem that produces "pseudo-senility." The most common cause is improper drug use. People tend to become more sensitive to drugs with age. Also, an elderly person is more likely to take different drugs at the same time for many separate complaints. Frequently, these drugs, when combined, react in unexpected ways.

Real or pseudo-senility can mask such problems as alcoholism or alcohol withdrawal. Nutritional deficiencies also are common among the elderly. Many older people cannot provide balanced, nutritional meals for themselves. Some may require nutritional supplements, especially if they are on steady medication.

Other physical problems that can mimic or aggravate symptoms of senility are acute infections and metabolic disorders. Depression, which is common in many elderly persons, can also be mistaken for senility. People often spend their later years alone in isolation and boredom. Even in nursing homes, emotional disturbances often go undetected.

Pseudo-senility is possible at any age. Fortunately, a minor treatment can often solve the problem.

Parade makes good on second try

Stopped cold by an unseasonable snow storm on December 11, Muenster's Christmas parade was re-scheduled for the following Saturday, and was rewarded by mild sunny weather at step-off time. Participants were greeted with applause from the crowd assembled to watch on Main Street. Shown at upper left is the Public School Jr. High Band. At left is the Cub Scout float. At upper right, a tiny tot is enthralled by "Santa-talk" as elf Gerry Walter is ready to present a sack of goodies. The three center photos show entries of the Gainesville Antique Auto Club. At bottom left are the Flag bearers leading the Gainesville Riding Club.

Christmas contest winners announced

With lots of good looking displays to choose from, judges had a hard time selecting the winners Monday night in the Christmas lighting contest on "Keeping Christ in Christmas", sponsored by Muenster KCs. Their choices: John Cunningham's left, as the winner, Jack Flusche, lower left as Number 2, and Paul Sicking, below, of Myra as No. 3. W.J. Miller, not pictured, received honorable mention. Joe Hoenig, contest chairman, and the judges visited all homes of the city and rural homes where they had been asked. These pictures were taken in the daytime so do not do justice to the lighting.

Victoria Gremminger, 25 yr. retiree honored at bank party

Mrs. Victoria Gremminger was a surprised honoree during the annual Christmas party for employees of Muenster State Bank held on Saturday, December 11 in the Community Center.

Following dinner, she was presented an engraved silver tray, inscribed: "For 25 years of excellent service, Victoria Gremminger."

She was a bank employee from September 23, 1957 to September 25, 1982. Also a volunteer at Muenster Public Library since its beginning, she plans to continue in that capacity as much as possible.

A second honor came to Mrs. Gremminger on Wednesday, December 15 when women employees hosted a coffee in the afternoon. They gifted her with a beautiful crystal pitcher. Cake and coffee were served.

Dangelmayr baptism

Lauren Elizabeth Dangelmayr, daughter of John and Lynn Dangelmayr, was baptized in Sacred Heart Church on December 12 following the 11 a.m. Mass. Lisa Slingerland of Oklahoma City and Jack Dangelmayr, aunt and uncle of the baby, were the godparents.

Father Victor performed the ceremony which included organ music by Ruth Felderhoff and singing led by Emily Klement. The "Song of Baptism" was sung as the participants approached the altar and the ceremony was concluded with the song "Abba, Father". Lauren wore a christening dress made by her mother.

The ceremony was witnessed by several friends and family members. They included grandparents, Norb and Marge Felderhoff, Albert and Betty Dangelmayr and great-grandmother Mrs. Hubert Felderhoff. After the baptism, family members gathered at the Norb Felderhoff home in Gainesville for celebration and dinner.

Fleitman baptism

Katie Ann Fleitman was baptized in St. Mary's Church of Gainesville by Father Placidus Eckart on Sunday afternoon, December 19. She is the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Fleitman.

Her baptismal sponsors were Charlotte Fleitman and Karl Klement. Katie Ann wore a christening dress made by her great-grandmother, Mrs. Al Fleitman 54 years ago, for her children.

Attending the church service were the grandparents the Eddie Fleitmans, Larry Fleitman, Millie Fleitman, all of Muenster, an aunt Mary Jones of Gainesville, and David Martin of Texas A&M.

Christmas guests begin arriving

Guests of Mrs. Harold A. Walterscheid on Sunday were Mrs. Vic Johnson and Brad, Delanne and Michelle Walterscheid. Accompanying them were a friend, Mrs. Deanna Gilbreath and son Brandon, all of Dallas.

On Monday Mrs. Walterscheid accompanied her sister and brother-in-law Gladys and Hugo Lutkenhaus to Denton. They also visited Jimmie Lyn Harris and her parents Jim and Lynette Harris and daughter Dayna of Las Vegas who arrived Sunday for a visit with local relatives. Joining them Sunday was Starla Harris of Arlington.

Mr. and Mrs. Andy Schoech spent last weekend in Arlington as guests of their son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Richard Schoech. Together they attended dinner-theater at UTA, where Dr. Schoech is on the faculty. They are all looking forward eagerly to a visit from a son and brother, Father Frowin Schoech of Subiaco, who will arrive during Christmas week.

An early Christmas visit back in their home town brought Joe and Jeanette Galloway and son Joel, and a daughter and son-in-law, Mary Ellen and Bobby Baumer, all of Wichita Falls, to Muenster to visit with their mother and grandmother Mrs. John A. Fisher, on Saturday. They remained for dinner before returning to Wichita Falls.

Early Christmas guests in the home of Mrs. Julie Cunningham for the weekend on and on Sunday, December 18-19 were all members of her family, who were together for a reunion, gift exchange and early Christmas dinner.

Attending were Carolyn and Charles Bridier and family of Tolar; Herbie and Edith Cunningham and family of Fort Worth; Ronnie and Patsy Cunningham and family of Fort Worth; Earl and Janet Cunningham and family of Lindsay; and John and Karla Cunningham of Muenster.

Hartman baptism

Holly Michelle Hartman, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hartman was baptized on Sunday, December 19 at noon, following the 11 a.m. Mass. Father Denis Soerries officiated. Baptismal sponsors were the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Hartman.

The infant wore a new baptismal gown, gift of the Hartmans, and had the same blanket used for her father's baptism.

Also attending were the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Endres; the great-grandparents Messrs. and Mmes. Tony Felderhoff and Victor Hartman; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hartman and Chris Pagel, Monica all of Muenster, and Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Stock of Dallas. All were dinner guests of the Alvin Hartmans following the baptism.

NEW BABY!!

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Kupper on Tuesday, December 14, 1982 at 7:29 p.m. in Lewisville Memorial Hospital, weighing 7 lb. 2 oz. He has been named Justin Edward. Also welcoming him is a brother Darrin, age 9. The infant is the 16th grandchild for Mr. and Mrs. John Kupper of Muenster. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Jack O'Brien of Era.

Visiting the new baby on December 15 were his grandparents and his aunt, Betty Rose Walterscheid.

Mr. and Mrs. Tim Hess are parents of their first child, a son Tracy Ray born in Muenster Memorial Hospital on Wednesday December 15, 1982 at 2:40 a.m. and weighing 5 lb. 10 oz. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hess of Muenster, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sherrill of Myra. Mrs. Tim Hess is the former Vickie Sherrill.

50th Wedding Anniversary

The fiftieth wedding anniversary celebration for Mr. and Mrs. H.H. Homsley was held Sunday, December 12, 1982 in the Heritage Ballroom of the Hilton Hotel in Fort Worth. Family members and a multitude of friends were in attendance at the gala party.

From our hearts, and on behalf of our parents, the Homsley daughters, Margie, Butch and Queenie, wish to thank all who extended their love and good wishes for this special day. Because of you the day will remain a precious memory for each of us for the rest of our lives.

Happy Holidays To All

It's the little traditions of the Christmas season that make it so special.

The sights, the sounds, fun and festivities... all fill the air with a spirit of warmth as we open our hearts and homes with gladness. What better time than the holidays to thank all of you who have been so kind and thoughtful to us throughout the year? It's been our sincere pleasure to serve you.

3 area students get DAR awards

Three students of three high schools have been named for the DAR awards by the Frances Lightfoot Lee chapter of Daughters of the American Revolution.

Recipients of the 1982-83 Good Citizenship Awards are Greg Walterscheid of Sacred Heart High School, Brent McElreath of Muenster High School and Joanna Roberts of Era High School.

The students submitted essays on "Our American Heritage and Our Responsibility for Preserving It," as part of the pre-requisites before selections of honor students were made.

Mrs. Jeanette Balentine, regent and Mrs. Maurine Griggs, chairman of the Good Citizens Award program, represented the chapter in presenting pens and certificates to the winners. Commenting on the essays, they said: "These essays clearly demonstrate that our young Americans are being taught the values of being good citizens of America."

GREG WALTERSCHEID

Greg Walterscheid, a son of Theresa Mae and Sylvan Walterscheid, is a senior at SHHS, an honor student who has received awards in Algebra II, World Geography, Science and American History. He has lettered in basketball, football, and track; and participates in church, school and community activities such as painting the high school gym floor, raising the flag and receiving the Hugh O'Brien leadership award. He plans to study engineering in college.

JOANNA ROBERTS

Joanna Roberts, daughter of Joe and Barbara Roberts is a senior at Era High School. She has been active in F.H.A. for four years. She has held several class offices; is a member of the drill team; and particularly enjoys working with youth groups. Joanna participates actively in church work. In college she will study for and pursue a teaching career.

DAR representatives, Mmes. Balentine and Griggs thanked the school officials, teachers and parents for their assistance in presenting the "Good Citizenship Awards."

BRENT MCELREATH

Brent McElreath, son of Mary Jean and Grady McElreath, is a senior at Muenster Public High School. He is serving as president of the Student Council, president of the senior class, president of the National Honor Society and drum major for the Marching Hornet Band. Brent can be found helping his father on the farm, working in his church or participating in such civic activities as helping clean the city park after Germanfest. He intends to major in Architecture in college.

YHT members attend convention

Representatives of the Muenster Chapter, Young Homemakers of Texas attended the 21st annual State YHT convention in Austin, November 11-13. Joining more than 700 members and advisors from Texas were Mrs. Joni Sturm advisor, Mrs. Carol Klement and Mrs. Lou Moster.

Theme for the convention was "Avenues for Opportunities", emphasizing the importance of homemakers furthering their educational abilities.

The three general sessions were held at the Sheraton Crest Hotel Ballroom on Friday. Dr. Victor L. Arnold, former director of the Governor's Commission 2000 and presently Associate Dean of the Graduate School of Business at the University of Texas, explored changes ahead for Texans in the year, 2000.

Mrs. Zetta Smith, Area V President received the $1,000 Nell Smith Continuing Education Scholarship. Virginia Chancellor of Denton, Area V Advisor received a YHT Honorary Membership.

Outstanding speakers included nationally known, Mrs. Billie Scott, at the second session, who placed special emphasis on the importance of patriotic heritage. Dr. Terry Shaw, nutritionist and teacher at Austin Community College, addressed the third session. She spoke on personal nutrition habits and the importance of dietary guidelines. On Saturday the Chico YHT chapter presented an entertaining skit, depicting America's crises, from its early years up into the 1980s. Area V also hosted a reception for Kay Allen, State President.

Installation of state officers concluded the session, with Mrs. Lindee Hand of Chico installed as state president for 1982-83.

Hong Homemakers of Texas chapters are sponsored by Vocational Home Economics Education, Texas Education Agency. Mrs. Jean D. Barton is Director.

Bernard Wolfs spend month in "Valley"

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Wolf have returned home after a month spent in Mission, Texas with a daughter and family, Julie and Wilfred Klement and Greg.

They enjoyed the height of the fruit season during their vacation and said it was great fun picking and packing grapefruit and oranges and being able to bring some home, fresh-picked to share with family members.

While in Mission they attended a program at Sharyland High School, when one feature was presentation of school favorites. Their grandson, Greg Klement, received six awards, namely: "Mr. Sharyland", "Most Friendly", "Outstanding Senior Voted by the Teachers", "Most Handsome", "FHA Beau", and "Senior Favorite".

The Wolfs also saw for the first time their six weeks old great-granddaughter, Laura, daughter of Chris and Donna Klement of Mission.

They enjoyed renewing many friendships, remembered from previous trips to the Mission-McAllen area. Some of the friends they met were Gene and Rose Carter, former Muenster residents now living in Arlington, who were also visiting there. The Carters sent greetings for all their Muenster Friends.

Bernard and Agatha Wolf returned to Muenster last week Thursday.

J.P. Flusches have reunion

The J.P. Flusche family enjoyed an early Christmas reunion and gift exchange on Sunday, December 19.

Gathering in the early afternoon they saw the Cowboy football game together on TV and later had a covered dish supper, followed by distribution of gifts.

More than 60 attended, including Mr. and Mrs. Earl Clement and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Otto and baby Laci of Gainesville, David Martin of Texas A&M University; Mr. and Mrs. Julius Hermes and Carol and Steven, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hermes and Brad of Lindsay; Don Flusche and Carmen, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Flusche and family; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Flusche and family; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Flusche and family; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Flusche and sons; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Trachta and family; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dangelmayr; Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Hermes and son all of Muenster.

Also Mr. and Mrs. Mike Miller and Claudia Flusche of Crowley; Charlotte Fleitman; Mr. and Mrs. J.P. Flusche and Billy; Chris Martin of West Point, N.Y., a senior there this year, did not arrive in time for the party. He is home on a 30 day leave from classes. Also Mr. and Mrs. Danny Kent of Evanston, Wyoming, were prevented by distance; however they visited homefolks in early November when they attended the wedding of Missy and Richard Dangelmayr.

Auxiliary hosts district officer

Mrs. Mary Voirin of Farmersville, District I Guard was the guest of the VFW Auxiliary during the December 13 meeting in the Post Home.

Three new members were accepted, including Mrs. Paul Bayer, Mrs. Doug Martin and Mrs. Monte Barnhill.

The business meeting included hearing letter from District I President, Lou Sutton; an announcement of a called meeting on January 9 at Lake Dallas at 1 p.m. when a safety program will be featured; reading of a "thank you" letter from the Child Development Center for a Christmas donation; and a report of the Voice of Democracy project, winner to be announced at a later date.

The Christmas party for pre-school children on December 15 was discussed. Mrs. Joe Sicking accepted hostess duties for the January meeting. "Happy Birthday" wishes were offered to Chaplain Flora Mae Knabe.

Mrs. Leo Hesse gave the treasurer's report. Mrs. Arthur Bayer, auxiliary president received a Christmas gift from the organization and she also won the door prize.

Members served the covered dishes they brought to the meeting, to share with VFW members who brought sausage, and all enjoyed a delightful buffet and social hour.

Janet Hess hosts Beta Kappa

Becky Felderhoff, president of Beta Kappa, presided over the business meeting of the sorority held on Tuesday, December 14, and hosted by Janet Hess, in her home.

During the course of the meeting, members voted to add new donations to the Love Fund for the Meurer, Couch and Pagel infants, who faced long hospitalizations.

Details were completed in planning for the Strudel sale scheduled for December 17-18 at Fischer's Market. Two programs were presented: Margie Wimmer spoke on Scholarship and Lynn Dangelmayr on the History of Beta Kappa.

Luncheon meeting for homemakers

The Muenster Extension Homemakers Club held its annual luncheon meeting in home of Irene Klement, on Wednesday, December 8 at 11:30 a.m.

The covered dish event was attended by 16 members. Following a brief business meeting they sang carols, played a Christmas Telegram game and had a traditional gift exchange.

Grade 6-A of CCD has Dec. 8 Liturgy

The grade 6-A class of the CCD program presented the special liturgy for the Feast of the Immaculate Conception on Wednesday, December 8.

Kim Hess, Cheryl Bayer and Keith Klement gave the first reading, response and second reading. Deanna Bierschenk, Denise Bayer, Shane Wimmer and Keith Vogel presented Offertory gifts and Michael Reiter, Staci Sicking, Tara Walterscheid, Rhonda Stewart and Jeff Walterscheid read Offertory petitions.

Father Victor Gillespie was celebrant of the CCD Mass on December 8 and sixth graders Weldon Hermes and Eric Dankesreiter were Mass servers.

Ruth Felderhoff was organist and Eileen Fisher song leader. Special Offertory music was presented by Stephen Beyer, who played the trumpet solo of Ave Maria, accompanied by the organ.

The 6th grade students designed and constructed the banner in honor of the Mother of God. On a linen background, with felt figurine and lettering, it read: "All Honor to You, Mary."

Attend shower in Belton

Mrs. David Fette and son Russell attended a shower in Belton on December 11 honoring her sister, Mrs. Johnny George of Tyler, while both were guests of her parents, Col. and Mrs. Robert Gosney. Hostesses for the shower were Amy Gosney, who was home for the weekend from Texas A&M University, and several friends.

Mother and daughter are shower honorees

Mrs. Larry Kinard and daughter, Erin Elaine, age two weeks, were the honorees at a shower hosted by Mrs. David Fette for a group of friends on Friday, December 3 at 7 p.m.

A decorated cake was the table centerpiece, and carried the same theme as the baby's birth announcements. "Every child comes with the message that God is not yet discouraged of man." The cake was baked and decorated by Betty Rose Walterscheid. Pink champagne was served with the cake.

Phone 759-4311 to report news items, or send notes to Box 190, Muenster.

Ronnie Walterscheid hosts 7th grade

Seventh graders of Muenster Public School were entertained with a Christmas party on Friday evening, December 17. They met at school where the host, Ronnie Walterscheid, his dad Jerry and his brother John accompanied them on a hay ride.

A special treat for residents of St. Richard's Villa was the stop there by the students who sang Christmas carols and presented a basket of fruit.

The seventh graders, 28 in all, continued caroling about town, making stops at several homes before going to their hosts' home for hot dogs and Christmas treats. There they enjoyed dancing and listening to music.

During the party a special cake and gift were presented by his classmates to Roen Serna, who was moving the next day with his parents to Corpus Christi.

CARD OF THANKS

Our family feels deeply grateful for the concern shown for our wife and mother, Louise Kuhn, during her long illness. We are equally grateful for the many favors extended to us at her death. To Dr. Kralick, Dr. Antonetti, the wonderful nurses of Muenster Hospital, to all who sat with her during her illness, to the pastors of St. Peter's and Sacred Heart; to all our relatives and friends who came to pray and to attend her funeral, we offer our thanks. The kindness of those who sent food to our homes and those who prepared the family meal in the Lindsay Parish Hall, is heart-warming. We will treasure the memory of every kindly act.

Jake Kuhn,
the Alfred Kuhn family,
the Willard Kuhn family,

May you keep Christmas all the coming year
 In silver threads of peace, in joy and cheer;
 May you be one whose heart will never lose
 The generosity, but rather choose
 To share with all mankind the truth and right
 God gave the world on that first Christmas night.

of Muenster Public School

Mrs. Green's 3-4 grade classes in Muenster Public School have written letters to E.T. The following are from their writings.

Talking to E.T. about Christmas

"E.T., let me tell you about Christmas." Christmas is Jesus' birthday. "Let me tell you about Jesus." A long time ago, Mary and Joseph, Jesus' parents, went to Bethlehem to have Jesus. They went to a stable because the inns were full. That night Mary had a baby. She named it Jesus. From then on we celebrate Christmas on December 25, Jesus' birthday. Christmas is also the spirit of loving and giving. At Christmas you should love and give gifts. At Christmas you put up a tree. You decorate it with lights and ornaments. The lights are very bright. The ornaments are very pretty. Tinsel looks very lovely on the tree. On Christmas Eve or on Christmas Day you may find presents under the tree. You get them from Santa Claus. Santa Claus is a chubby man that lives at the North Pole with his wife and gives gifts to little children at every Christmas Eve. He may even bring you something since you're so good. This year we got you something. Christmas is really about Jesus' birthday. Merry Christmas. By Amy Hoenig, Lanette Fisher and Sheila Hudleston.

E.T.'s First Christmas
 E.T., Christmas is about Jesus being born. Everybody celebrates Christmas. We put up our Christmas tree every year. We also put up our lights. Most of the time there is snow on the ground. Snow is frozen rain. We put our ornaments on the tree. Ornaments are round and some are shaped like bells. Santa brings us gifts. Santa is a little chubby man. We put our wreath on the door too. We hang our stockings up. Santa puts goodies in our stockings. Sometimes we hang candy canes on our tree. E.T., even though you never had a Christmas, don't be scared.

By Amy Dankesreiter, Tina Klement and Kelli Ford.

E.T.'s Christmas

E.T., this is the holiday called Christmas. Christmas is a holiday of excitement, so don't get scared. It is Jesus' birthday. You will see colorful things all around. You will see lots of trees. Trees are all sizes and colors. You will see lots of ornaments. Ornaments are colorful and you hang them up. E.T. you might see a nativity scene. A nativity scene has baby Jesus in it, his mother, Mary, and Joseph. Some people put out outside lights. E.T., you might get presents. Presents have surprises in them. We'll get presents, too. E.T., Christmas is fun.

By Julie Hess, Kristi Bierschenk, Connie Black, and Lori Schmitz.

E.T.'s Christmas

Dear E.T.
 We are having Christmas. Don't be scared of the lights. The lights won't hurt you. We put a Christmas tree up every year. Don't be afraid of the boxes under the tree. You can have your present when it is ready. When Christmas comes you can open it. We get presents at Christmas. There are toys and clothes in the boxes. In the boxes there are things to play with. There is an E.T. cartridge in the box just for you. We eat candy at Christmas, too.

Love, Rex Huchton, Tony Perryman, Doug Hennigan, Mike Gobble.

E.T.'s First Christmas

E.T., Christmas all started in a stable in Bethlehem. There Jesus was born. The reason we celebrate Christmas is because it's the Lord's birthday. E.T., I sure hope you understand what I'm saying. Christmas is an exciting time of the year. There are colorful lights all over town. Most people have green trees in their houses. They have decorated balls on the tree. The balls are round. You get lots of candy. There is a man called Santa Claus. He gives children toys, also. E.T., Santa Claus is coming to outer space. You give presents and you get presents. I really enjoy Christmas time. It snows sometimes and it looks very pretty in the yards. You may not like

H2O plans and presents Liturgy for Thanksgiving

One of the most impressive liturgies used in Sacred Heart Church this year was the special liturgy planned and presented by the H2O Youth Ministry group for Thanksgiving Day at the 10 a.m. Mass. All participants were H2O members.

Co-chairmen were Rhonda Stewart and Deanna Bierschenk, members of the Spiritual Commission. Sponsors of the Spiritual Commission are Mmes. Glenda Russell and Doris Grewing. H2O Coordinator is Mrs. Betty Kleiss.

In the entrance procession were Chris Klement, carrying the Bible, representing God's Holy Word; Renee Klement carrying Bread, representing the Body of Christ; Rhonda Stewart with a Red Rose representing Life; Staci Walterscheid, with Grapes, representing the Blood of Christ; Judy Pagel carrying a lighted Candle, representing the Light of Life; Michelle Walter carrying wheat, representing the food of people. The entrance reader was Staci Sicking. The banner used in the entrance procession was themed: "Families Join Hands in Giving Thanks." It was placed in the sanctuary.

The first and second Readings of the Thanksgiving Mass were given by Cheryl Bayer and Jeff Walterscheid, with Responses by Jeannene Walterscheid. Petitions were by Keith Klement, Kim Hess, Shawna Grewing, Vicki Walterscheid, Michelle Kleiss, and Brian Hess.

Presenting Offertory gifts were Robin Beyer, Denise Bayer, Shane Wimmer and Karri Yosten.

The Communion meditation "A Thanksgiving Prayer" was read by Rhonda Stewart. Father Denis Soerries was celebrant of the Thanksgiving Mass and Mass servers were Bryan Kleiss, Sammy Walterscheid, Tony Grewing, Darren Klement, and Raymond Stewart. Eucharistic Ministers were Sister Romana Rohmer and Herbert Miller.

Music for the Mass of Thanksgiving was provided by the Youth Choir directed by Stephen Beyer, guitarist with Ruth Felderhoff, organist and Eileen Fisher. The recessional was impressive with organ and trumpets played by Stephen Beyer, Staci Walterscheid, Jeff Walterscheid and Stuart Hess. The congregation joined in singing "America, the Beautiful."

The world's tallest known cut Christmas tree was a 221 foot Douglas fir erected at a shopping center in Seattle in 1950.

time to decorate their homerooms. Each class brought a tree and ornaments and did their best to make the season come alive at school.

Annual staff

The Sacred Heart annual staff circulated ballots early this year so that each student could nominate individuals for all the various honors known as Who's Who. Since the voting was so democratic and enthusiastic, run offs had to be held to narrow the field down to almost every category. The final selections are: Class Favorites: Seniors - Missy Stoffels and Mike Dangelmar; Juniors - Susan Walterscheid and Neil Hesse; Sophomores - Tammy Grewing and Kyle Walterscheid; Freshmen - Paula Yosten and Ken Hesse. A new category open to any classification called Campus Favorites was added. The students chosen were: Susan Walterscheid and Curtis Hesse.

The following categories are the traditional ones: Most likely to succeed - Janet Hesse and Greg Walterscheid; Most courteous - Susan Walterscheid and Barney Yosten; Wittiest - Julie Grewing and Wade Walterscheid; Most School Spirit - Karla Jo Hartman and Mike Bar-tush.

Most athletic - Anne Felderhoff and Darrell Herr.

Friendliest - Janet Hesse and Neil Hesse.

Best Groomed - Missy Stoffels and Curtis Hesse.

Most dependable - Janet Hesse and Neil Hesse.

Jabberjaws - Cheryl Bayer and Ronnie Henschel.

Most Studious - Christi Rohmer and Curtis Rohmer.

Miss drillteam - Renee Rohmer

Drillteam Sweetheart - Floyd Truabenbach.

Faculty favorites are teachers whom the students feel have taken a special interest in them and have helped them the most during the year. They are: Mrs. Carver and Mr. Gonsalves.

Tigers win champ trophy

The Tigers made basketball history during the past weekend by winning the champ trophy in the prestigious Krum tournament, which included the top A and 2A teams of the area. The manner of winning was another notable achievement as SH triumphed in a fourth period seesaw with only 2 seconds remaining, and won the final in double overtime. In addition, the Tigers had two players, T.J. Walterscheid and Neil Hesse, named on the all-tournament team.

Southlake Carroll was the opponent in the championship game. It trailed through three quarters by counts of 12-8, 25-20 and 38-30 then rallied in the fourth period for a 54-54 tie at the end. First OT period was even, ending 60-60, then the Tigers caught fire and sailed to a 68-62 win. TJ Walterscheid led the way with 25 points and 17 rebounds, Neil Hesse scored 15, Greg Walterscheid 9, Duane Haverkamp 8, Curtis Henschel 6, Darrell Herr 3, Gene Haverkamp 2.

The semifinal, playing Celina, was another thriller with Sacred Heart trailing the first half and gaining in the third period to a 44-44 tie. From then on it was a see-saw until, seconds before the end Celina led 64-63 and missed a free throw. Sacred Heart rebounded, went down the court and missed a shot, but TJ Walterscheid got the rebound and the winning goal with only two seconds remaining. Final count was 65-64.

The point makers were Curtis Henschel, 19, TJ Walterscheid 17, Neil Hesse 13, plus 27 rebounds, Darrell Herr 8, Greg Walterscheid 7.

Opening game with Boyd was less exciting as SH took a 22-13 first quarter lead and barely led at 31-30 at the half, then gained to a 50-40 third period lead and held the margin for a 62-51 win.

Scorers were TJ Walterscheid 22, Greg Walterscheid 18, plus 10 rebounds, Curtis Henschel 9, Darrell Herr 10, Neil Hesse 5, plus 10 rebounds.

However, the tournament was disappointing to the Tigerettes, who were wiped out in two one sided games. The starting opponent was Boyd which gained all the way by counts of 10-6, 16-14, 39-21 and 51-31 as Susan Walterscheid hit 17 points.

The loss sent the girls into consolation semifinal which they started with 13-4 first quarter lead over Lindsay. But they could not keep going. At the half their lead was trimmed to 23-21, and Lindsay ruled the last two periods for leads of 37-26 and 52-33. Factors with a strong bearing on the outcome were 45 SH turnovers and only 20 field goal tries with 11 hits. Susan Walterscheid led with 19 points.

Hornets get No. 2 tourney trophy at Callisburg

For two and three fourths games the MHS Hornets kept champion hopes alive at Callisburg's tournament, but could not stand Forestburg pressure in the last period of the final.

The teams were neck and neck for three periods by scores of 8-8, 16-15 (Muenster and 24-24, but Muenster's fortune fizzled when Felderhoff fouled out early in the fourth. Forestburg ruled after that, winning 40-30 and taking the No. 1 trophy while MHS had to settle for No. 2. Top scorers were Wayne Carroll 10, and Kevin Felderhoff 8.

The preceding games gave the Hornets no troubles. They rolled over Goldburg 54-20 in the opening game as Kevin Felderhoff hit 17 and Wayne Carroll 11.

Next, in the champ semifinal with Callisburg, the Hornets gained in three periods by scores of 8-6, 25-19, 39-31 and finished strong for a 57-35 win. Felderhoff led the way with 23 points and Carroll added 16.

The Hornets started by losing to Goldburg, beat Era in the consolation semifinal and lost to Collinsville in the final.

They made a good start with leads of 8-4 and 10-14 but weakened after intermission as Goldburg gained to a 24-22 third quarter lead and a 40-26 win. Stephanie scored 8 and 4 for MHS.

Richey and Shelly Zimmerman

Playing Era, Muenster tied at 4-4 and 14-14 the first two periods and fell behind 22-18 at the third, then, rallied in a hot fourth and pulled ahead 30-28. Shelly Zimmerman made 10 of the points. Stephanie Richey, Sandy Wimmer and Rita Walterscheid added 6 each.

The consolation final had Muenster in hot pursuit of Collinsville by scores of 10-7, 14-12 and 19-16 before losing 28-22. Sandy Wimmer led the MHS effort with 9 points.

Low rated Hornets had high performance record

Though they failed to get into the playoffs and their record is not sensational, the third place MHS Hornets had a fine season and Coach Leonard Peters is proud of them.

On offense, he said, they have a very creditable average of 270 yards per game, 210 in rushing and 60 in passing. And defensively, Peters thinks his boys were best of the district. All told it was a fine achievement for a building team that started the 16 member district in 14th place.

Carl Sicking was the team's leading rusher with 1125 yards for the season and an average of 112 per game and 4.4 per carry. Ronnie Fisher was next with a total of 618 and an average carry of 6.6 yards.

Quarterback Kevin Felderhoff had 209 yards rushing, however his principal occupation was passing. He completed 32 of 86 throws for an average of 40% and a total of 698 yards. Neal Flusche, used mostly on blocking assignments, had a 70 yard total.

Wayne Carroll was the team's leading pass receiver. He made 16 catches for a total of 444 yards and an average of 27.7. He also led the team in punt returns, one for a touchdown.

In blocking Chris Rohmer had an average of 88 percent and Joe Hennigan 85.

The strong Hornet defense is explained to a great extent by gang tackles and Neal Flusche, Chris Rohmer, Joe Hennigan and Ronnie Fisher making more than 60 tackles each for the year. Jeff Fisher had 4 interceptions in leading the pass defense.

MHS teams split 2 with Goldburg

Muenster High teams broke even Tuesday night in a pair of games with Goldburg in the MHS gym. The Hornets lost 32-26 and the Hornets won 43-26 improving their standing to 9-3. MHS boys gained in all periods except the third when they broke even with 9 prints each. The scores by periods were 7-0, 23-11, 32-20 and 43-26.

Kevin Felderhoff led the way with 14, Ronnie Fisher was next with 9 and Wayne Carroll had 8. Others were Jay Mollenkopf 4, Craig Felderhoff 4, Steven Fisher 2 and Kevin Wolf 2.

The Muenster girls were in hot pursuit all the way and tied the score three times but were not able to take control. Sandy Wimmer led her team with 9 points.

Christmas, because there's not much beer. Merry Christmas, E.T.

By Sheryl Sicking, Karri Ramsey, Melissa Bayer, Mindy Graham.

E.T.'s Christmas

Once upon a time Mary had a baby and named it Jesus. He was born in a stable in Bethlehem. Jesus was born on December 25. The named that day Christmas and that's the way it started. Mary took Him to a cradle filled with straw. Then the animals came and stared at Him. When a lot more people were alive, they celebrated Christmas. First, they put up a Christmas tree. Then they decorated the tree and put presents under the tree. Then the whole family comes over to one house and opens presents. They they ate a big dinner. That is the real meaning of Christmas, E.T. and someday you will have Christmas, too.

by Myrt Denham

On Wednesday night the Methodists had their annual Christmas supper followed by a delightful Christmas party directed by Laura Bell Jackson and Debra Dill. A most enjoyable time was had by the 41 present.

Little Miss Mackenzie Martin is spending some time with her doting grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Woods.

Ted and Laura Bell Jackson were shopping in Muenster Friday, then stopped by the Yes-ter-year nursing home in Saint Jo to visit Ted's sister, Eula Steen. Next they went to Greenwood to attend the Eastern Star meeting that evening.

Mr. and Mrs. S.T. Ward were supper guests of Ted and Laura Bell Monday night and then watched the game on T.V.

We had some of that beautiful white stuff Saturday, when several inches of snow fell after the rain and sleet.

Judy Moore, Beth Dill and brothers were in Muenster Thursday where their mother, Robbie White underwent surgery. Beth has been substituting for her mother in the Nocona Schools. At this writing Mrs. White is doing as well as could be expected.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Moore and family were visiting his parents Every and Pauline Clark Sunday.

The Carol Dill family are putting up the Christmas lights in the Forestburg st. again this year instead of sending out cards to their friends and neighbors.

The Carol Dill family, with Faith and Willie Sandusky had their annual Christmas tree hunt this past Sunday and enjoyed a nice dinner afterwards.

One of the addresses of our senior citizens is for Willie and Ida Kuykendall - Stanford Convalescent Home, 2716 Tibbetts Dr. Bedford, Tx. 76021.

Also Annie Meyers 1900 O'Neal Gainesville, Tx. 76240 and Ethel Harris Golden Years Retreat, Bridgeport, Tx. 76026. All of whom would appreciate Christmas greetings from old friends and neighbors.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Meyers and Wilma Richardson attended funeral services for Mrs. Rosie Frank of Carbon, Texas, Monday, Dec. 6.

Mrs. Myrtle Denham underwent major surgery Monday at Bowie Memorial Hospital and at this writing is doing as well as could be expected.

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Greenwood and family visited Mrs. George Greenwood, JoAnn and Wynona Sunday.

Visiting the Joe Hunts Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hunt and Helen Freeman of Alvord, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Mallok and family of Springtown, Mr. and Mrs. Isreal Salinas and family of Halcom City, Mr. and Mrs. David Vandervet and family of Decatur, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie McClure, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Freeman, Maryett and Gene Forster of Forestburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Johnston of Fort Worth visited Mrs. Molly HOWell recently.

Attending Cooke County banquet from here were Cleo and Shirley Lanier, Velma Freeman and Wynona Riddles.

Willie Sandusky of Wichita Falls visited his mother, FAith Sandusky the past weeken.

Steve Condra, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Condra left for the service in Illinois Monday. His mother Mrs. Bonnie Condra had just gotten out of the Gainesville Hospital.

Hazel Greenwood and her sister Sandra McClary visited their parents Mr. and Mrs. D.D. Echols of Montague recently.

Paul Westbrook left the home of Charlie and Gladys Barclay, Monday Dec. 6 bound for his home in Slaton, Texas after spending two weeks vacation in Alvord and Forestburg. Paul is the son of Mrs. Buena (Barclay) Westbrook and the late James Westbrook.

The Charlie Barclay's visited Mrs. Claud Barclay, and the Otis Barclay's Monday.

Harvill died in a Paris hospital on December 15. He was born September 6, 1903 at Rubottom, Indian Territory a son of Lewis and Leora Harvill, and was married to Madge Donnelly in February 1927, at Marietta, Okla.

He was a 50 year member of the Texas Bar Association, also a member of the Lamar County Bar and the Northeast Texas Bar. He opened his law practice in Paris in 1936 and practiced law in many North Texas counties; was superintendent of the Deport school 1932 to 1936 and served as president of the Paris school board. He was a Methodist.

Survivors are his wife, Madge, of Paris; one daughter, Daisy Harvill of Paris; one son J.B. Harvill Jr. of Denton; two sisters, Rhoda Harvill and Vera Thompson, both of Saint Jo; one grandson; and three brothers, Cecil of Paris, L.M. Jr. of Saint Jo, and S.E. of Brownfield.

Malcolm Jacobs Jr. Heads for Okinawa

Navy Hospital Corpsman 3rd Class Malcolm D. Jacobs Jr., son of Sandra A. and Malcolm D. Jacobs of Forestburg, Texas, has departed on a deployment to Okinawa.

He is a member of 3rd Battalion, 9th Marines, 3rd Marine Division, Camp Pendleton, Calif.

The unit will spend six months overseas as part of the Marine Corps' Unit deployment program. The concept is designed to rotate whole battalions or squadrons at a time instead of individuals at separate intervals. In this way, unit integrity is retained and the actual time they spend overseas is shortened.

During the deployment, the command will conduct training exercises with the U.S. 7th Fleet and units of allied nations.

Service held at Forestburg for J.B. Harvill of Paris

Funeral service for J.B. Harvill Sr., 79, of Paris, was held December 17, 2 p.m. in the First United Methodist Church of Forestburg with Rev. Wes Johnson of Saint Jo and George Thompson of Saint Jo and Forestburg officiating.

Burial was in Perryman Cemetery directed by McCoy Funeral Home and nephews were the pallbearers.

Harvill died in a Paris hospital on December 15.

He was born September 6, 1903 at Rubottom, Indian Territory a son of Lewis and Leora Harvill, and was married to Madge Donnelly in February 1927, at Marietta, Okla.

Mrs. J.L. McDonald Dies at Wolfe City

Funeral service for Mrs. James L. McDonald, wife of a former police chief of Muenster, will be held Friday, December 24, at the Owens Funeral Home in Wolfe City.

She died of cancer Tuesday in the Fannin County Hospital.

Rita Mae McDonald was born April 29, 1928. She and her husband lived in Muenster from June 1973 to March 1977.

Survivors include her husband; three daughters Sandy Scott and Sherry Sidham, both of Wolfe City and Donna Jarvis of Saint Jo; two sons, Charles Mc-Donald of Wolfe City and James McDonald Jr. of Dallas; and 11 grandchildren.

The family asks that donations be given to the American Cancer Society in lieu of flowers.

One Man's Life

Shown are a few brief moments from the years Father Frowin Koerd spent in service to Sacred Heart Parish. In picture 1 as a young man, he stands beside his pride and joy, "my Ford Car. In his own handwriting, Fr. Frowin dated the picture August 4, 1918, and called attention to "my mechanic's attire." This picture belongs to Leo Becker. In picture 2, Fr. Frowin has noted again "mechanic's attire." Next to him is Ludwig Jude, maintenance man; and Mrs. F. Blinz and her daughter, Louisa, rectory housekeepers. The dog is named Prince. This picture, also dated August 4, 1918 belongs to Mrs. Joe Sicking. In picture 3 Fr. Frowin is shown visiting at Subiaco and attending the solemn profession of Father Paul Hoedebeck. In picture 4 he is shown after retirement and very ill in the Infirmary at Subiaco Abbey. Both pictures belong to Mrs. Clem Reiter.

New phone prices to be deregulated

Beginning on Jan. 1 new telephones provided by Muenster Telephone Corporation will be unregulated, the company announced.

"We will only be selling new telephones on a deregulated basis to comply with orders of the Federal Communications Commission," Manager Alvin M. Fuhrman said. "Telephones already in place will be treated in the traditional manner for now," he said, "but the FCC also plans to deregulate them."

and need phones, or simply are adding extensions where they currently live or work, these phones will be provided in a competitive environment. This means that prices are being set by the company the same way a department store sets prices on its products.

The federal regulators are counting on market forces to encourage new products and keep prices at competitive levels. Under the FCC's competitive policies, customers can choose to obtain their telephones from suppliers other than the telephone company. However, anyone purchasing a phone becomes responsible for maintenance of the equipment.

Fuhrman said that as part of requirements of deregulation, the telephone company will soon be providing more detailed information in bills to customers. A single monthly fee that included "end-to-end" local service for everything from the use of the phone to repairs at no extra charge used to be listed on bills.

Now this charge will be itemized and includes fees for access to the network and rental of the telephone, to name a couple, he said. The charge for instrument rental applies only if the customer chooses to continue this option from the telephone company.

"As a result of competition, prices for each service and type of equipment are being set to reflect their actual cost," Fuhrman said. "Under the old form of regulation, the industry could keep regulated rates for long-distance service and business phone service at a level which helped keep the cost of local residential service affordable to all," he added.

"In competitive atmosphere, the price of local service will rise while the price of long-distance service may decline. Thus, at least large volume toll users may benefit. Federal government studies indicate that local service charges will increase throughout the nation on an average of 55% to 75% because of competition and inflation during the next 5 years," he said.

Questions about the new policies should be directed to the company by calling 817-759-2251.

Telephone excise tax to increase

The federal excise tax on telephone service will increase to 3% from the current 1% on Jan. 1, 1983, Muenster Telephone Corporation of Texas announced today.

The increase is the result of legislation passed by Congress in August. Most telephone services, including local and long-distance calls, are subject to the tax.

The federal legislation which levies this tax increase states that it will be collected for 3 years -- 1983, 1984, Although repealed briefly after the war, the tax was reinstated during the Depression. Rates have ranged as high as 25% on long-distance and 15% on local service.

The tax stood at 10% for almost 20 years, but recently it had been declining 1% annually.

USITA points out that although the nation's telephone companies collect these taxes, all of the revenue is forwarded to the federal government.

and 1985. The tax then is scheduled to be eliminated entirely in 1986.

An excise tax on telephone service was first imposed by Congress during World War I as a "temporary" measure, the U.S. Independent Telephone Association (USITA) reports. The trade group represents the interests of the nation's more than 1,400 non-Bell System telephone companies, which serve 36 million telephones -- one out of five throughout the country.

1982 revisited

Crops, prices both disappointing in this year's harvest

1982 was the year of disaster, one of the worst ever, for Muenster farmers. A poor grain crop deteriorated sadly during a rainy harvest, and prices were low. Meanwhile it was a relief to be spared the heat. Temperatures did not reach 100 until late July.

It was also the year of closing the Soil Conservation office in a consolidation of offices by USDA. Also Jr. Elite dress factory was shut down briefly because of a lease problem, but is back on full schedule now.

Germanfest continued its growth with the biggest and best of its history. Estimated attendance of 50,000 came from 34 states and 15 foreign countries. German Fun Run also set new records.

In politics Muenster voters went strong for the Republican ticket while Democrats swept the state. On the city and college district elections the winners were the Pagels, Hamric, Howeth and bingo.

It was also a year of extensive improvements at the public school. Major item was a new building combining a science department and five junior high classrooms, followed by many changes of room assignment and lots of renovating. Combined enrollment of the two schools is 661, a drop of 9 since last year.

Sacred Heart continued to make athletic records. Tigerettes emerged as No. 3 from state basketball playoffs and had three members named on all-state teams. Also boys and girls take district track titles, and Tigers are district TCIL football champs.

County-wide, it was a big football year. Sacred Heart, Lindsay, Gainesville and Valley View went to the play-offs. Tigers lost to St. Pius of Houston in TCIL state semifinal. Lindsay advanced twice and lost regional to Italy. Hornets advanced from 14th in district to No. 3 in a building year.

Some of the personal standouts in the news: Bishop Dangelmayr observes 40 years as a bishop and 60 as a priest; Jaycees name Wanda Flusche outstanding citizen; KCs name Waylan Poole as good neighbor; Elizabeth Neu dies at 111. Ronnie Hess runs in Boston Marathon.

Also 34 percent of Muenster bank stock becomes available and outlook is bright for locating a unit of county ambulance service in Muenster.

Here in more detail is a brief review of leading news events published in The Enterprise.

Christmas With All

The Trimmings

If the commercial Christmas grinch has made you wish that this holiday season almost wasn't, you may need a fresh injection of decorating ideas to update the standard perennial favorites.

Create your own old-fashioned sugarplum fairytale by wrapping a circular straw wreath with green floral tape and thickly inserting dried flowers that have been Rit-dyed Golden Yellow, Orchid and Fuschia. Alternate with sprigs of baby's breath and trim outer edge with layers of delicate lace tinted an old-fashioned Ecru. Top your wreath off with silk flowers and a bow of matching lace to make visions of loveliness dance throughout your holiday season.

For more craft and gift ideas, write to RIT/2DH4, P.O. Box 307, Coventry, CT 06238.

Palm Springs: where sun meets snow

It's a place where spectacular snow-capped mountain peaks jut into an icy-blue sky, and Swiss-made cable cars scale craggy cliffs to an unspoiled wilderness atop an 8,500-foot summit.

All of the visual effects of Courmayeur, Davos, Innsbruck or St. Moritz to dazzle the winter sports enthusiast's eyes are only 20 minutes from balmy 75-degree breezes, swaying palm trees, lush golf courses and thousands of sparkling swimming pools in Palm Springs.

Now, with a ski center high in the sky on Mt. San Jacinto, this desert resort offers the "best of both worlds" and an interesting change of pace where cross-country skiing, snowshoeing, sledding and the creation of snow sculptures are the favorite pastimes.

Instead of driving through a blinding snowstorm on slippery roads, necessitating tire chains and their accompanying frozen fingers and headaches, snowseekers are transported aboard one of the most exciting and popular attractions in the world. The $8 million Palm Springs Aerial Tramway (leaving a balmy 70 degrees at the desert station), hugs the sheerest mountain face in North America — Chino Canyon — arriving to a clear, crisp 30 degrees at the "top of the world."

Spectacular views of the entire Palm Springs area are only minutes from the desert floor.

Known by many as the "eighth wonder of the world," the steel-cabled link from palm trees to snow-laden peaks was conceived by a young electrical engineer named Francis Crocker. After 25 years of delay in the planning stages and two years of construction, mainly by helicopter, "Crocker's folly" as it was known, became a reality in 1963.

Since then, more than five million passengers have enjoyed the breathtaking journey which passes through five geological zones before reaching the mountain station more than 8,500 feet above sea level.

CROSS-COUNTRY SKI BUFFS find the top of the Palm Springs Aerial Tramway to be perfect for their sport. A marked two-kilometer course runs through Long Valley at the 8516-foot level of the Tramway. (Palm Springs Convention and Visitors Bureau)

Each zone has its own variety of wildlife and vegetation and could be likened to driving from Sonora, Mexico to the Arctic.

Winter activity in the San Jacinto Wilderness Park is heralded by an annual contest to guess the date of the first measurable snowfall at the mountain station.

An increasing number of cross-country skiers, along with the six-to-10 feet of snow that normally blankets the 14,000-acre park, led to the opening of a ski facility in 1979. The Nordic Ski Center is in its third season, offering Southern California's finest cross-country skiing.

Depending on snow conditions, skiing begins around Thanksgiving and continues until Easter. Many of the 4,000 tram-riders on any given weekend last season were cross-country skiers who enjoyed the four circular ski trails laid out just a short walk from the tramway's mountain station.

Three of the four trails are approximately one mile in length and are geared for the novice, while the fourth is designed for the more advanced skier and covers a distance of two miles (the lengths are computed for a full circular run). The trails are fully maintained by snowmobile patrols to ensure the safety of skiers.

Over the years, snow packs have averaged around eight feet and ski conditions are generally good from November 15 to April 15.

Popularity of cross-country skiing in the San Jacinto Wilderness Park can be credited to accessibility, uncrowded conditions and low cost, as well as the availability of the summer-like haven in the valley below. It is a two-hour drive from Los Angeles and only three hours from San Diego over low, snowless, dry interstate highway.

Complete cross-country ski packages with skis, poles and boots are available at a reasonable price without the cost of daily lift tickets. The sport has a low accident rate, thus it appeals to the more mature skiers as well as youngsters.

Cross-country ski instruction is given with lessons ranging from beginner to parallel. The center also rents snowshoes, snow boots and sleds for snow play.

Warm Family Feelings

Holiday Customs And Traditions

Holiday time is a favorite time everywhere and a great time for girls and boys to learn about the traditions of their own families and of people around the world. To help kids appreciate the customs and traditions of various cultures Camp Fire, the national youth agency, has a project called "Many Cultures Make Up Our World."

According to Debra Connor, project director, environment is one factor that influences how people celebrate holidays. Take Santa Claus, for example. In Syria, a hot Mediterranean country, a man in a fur suit riding in a sled pulled by reindeer would seem out of place. So instead of Santa, Syrian children look for their presents to be delivered by the Youngest Camel, an animal that is familiar to them.

In Brazil, where Christmas falls in the middle of the summer, Papa Noel comes in through the window because the chimneys, if there are any, are too small. For the New Year, Japanese families decorate their houses with bamboo, evergreen and straw rope, all common items in Japan. The decorations symbolize long life and strong ties.

Many holidays had their beginnings as a way to celebrate the changing of the seasons, says Ms. Connor. For example, Chanukah and Christmas are celebrated near the winter solstice, the shortest day of the year. Passover and Easter fall near the spring equinox, when day and night are equal in length.

Independent business loses millions through employee theft

COLLEGE STATION — Physicians, dentists, veterinarians and other professionals in business for themselves annually lose millions of dollars to secretaries or receptionists handling office finances, says a Texas A&M University accounting professor.

"Last year an estimated $500 million was lost by dentists, physicians and veterinarians through employee theft," says Dr. Carlton Stolle of Texas A&M's College of Business Administration. "An estimated 15 percent will be victimized at some time during their careers."

Stolle said to avert the situation professionals should check potential employees' backgrounds before hiring them. In addition, he said hiring more than one person to take care of office finances might act to keep individuals from temptation.

He said prenumbered receipts and making sure all receipts are accounted for will help divert employees away from theft. He also suggests reconciliations be made each day for cash deposits.
