NUMBER 12

A few weeks ago Secretary of the Interior, James Watt was very much in the news following a TV appearance involving Indian reservations, which are administered by his department. He had a number of uncomplimentary remarks about the average Indian standard of living and our government's treatment of the Indians, and suddenly found himself accused of proposing the abolition of American Indian reservations, describing them as an example of the "failure of socialism."

Almost without exception Indian leaders across the nation demanded his scalp. One regarded it as a pattern heading toward termination of the reservations. Another termed the reported remarks "the most genocidal, racial slur we've ever heard from a government official", basing his extreme inference on the statement that "History has shown that the easiest way to do away with a society different than the dominant one is to eliminate its land holdings. Reservations are the main thing that keep Indian people and their cultures of the past together."

Ever since the original flare up and the media's gleeful report of Watt's discomfort, little has been heard on the subject, particularly that it's now known that the first reports were mostly misquoted or taken out of context, and that hostile Indian leaders have mostly cooled, the exceptions being principally liberals who go along with lots of other liberals.

The fact in this issue is that the TV transcript not only reveals that Watt in no way called for terminating the reservations, but a new Administration statement on Indian policy originating in the Interior Department and approved by Watt before it went to the White House, explicitly rejects the idea of termination.

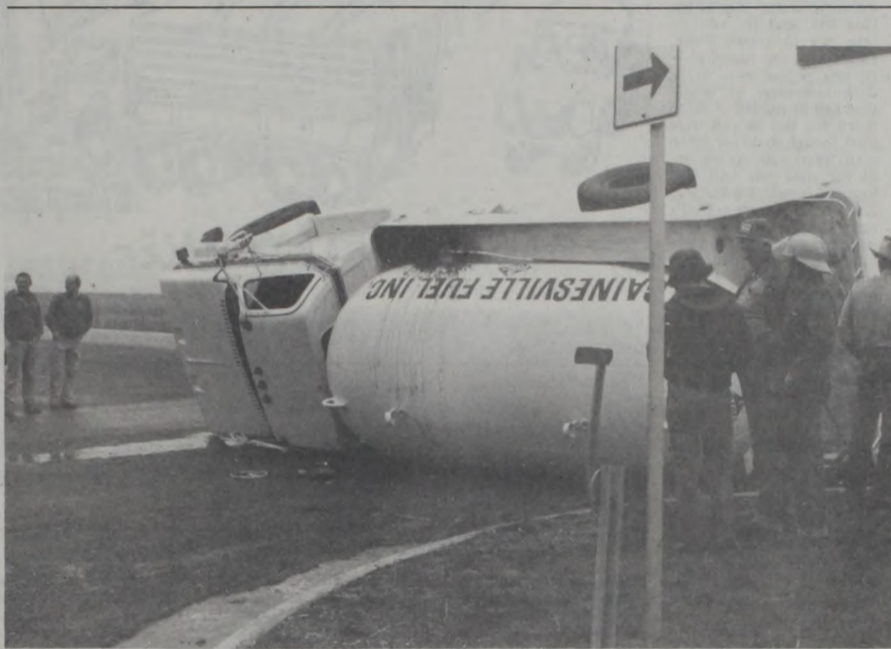

Though Watt was highly critical of "Socialistic" policies on the reservations he made it clear that Indians were not the cause of this socialism but its victims. He did not direct "racial slurs" at the Indians but blamed economic and social problems on faulty federal policy which he wants to change.

"We have tremendous problems on the reservations," Watt said. "I frequently talk about it by telling people if you want an example of the failures of socialism, don't go to Russia, come to the American Indian reservations."

"We have 50 million acres of Indian reservations and 1.4 million Indians and every social problem is exaggerated because of socialistic government policy. Highest divorce rate, highest drug rate, highest unemployment rate, highest social diseases...because the people have been trained through 100 years of government oppression to look to the government as the creator, the provider and supplier, and they've not been taught to use their initiative to integrate into the system."

"If we had treated black people like we are treating Indians — or the Chinese or any other minority groups

Members of the Myra and Muenster Volunteer Fire Departments were summoned to the scene of this propane truck accident Wednesday at about 9:15 a.m. at the intersection of Highway 82 and the Myra Highway. The accident occurred as the truck was travelling north on the Myra road and the truck's driver, Orville Bentley of Era, apparently lost control of the truck as he approached Highway 82, where it turned over. Cooke County Emergency Medical Personnel also were called to the scene but were not needed because no injuries were sustained in the mishap. A wrecker was called from Gainesville and the area was cleared in about 45 minutes.

Council sets April 2 election date

An election to name three members on the Muenster City Council was ordered by Mayor Leo Hess Monday night at the council's regular meeting. Places to be filled are those of the mayor and position 3 now occupied by Ronnie Felderhoff, and position 5 now occupied by Ted Henscheid. The election will be held on Saturday April 2 and the deadline for filing candidacy is March 2. Persons wishing to be on the ballot may file now at the city hall.

Other action of the council included approval of the volunteer fireman's offer to build the foundation for the fire station extension at the east side of the building. Other construction work will be done by local builders.

Also the council accepted and approved a professional audit of the city's business last year.

And it approved a three year insurance contract with FMW Insurance Agency on the city's physical properties such as building, contents, vehicles, equipment, etc. The council noted that insurance cost has gone up again because inflation has increased property values about 40 percent since the last payment three years ago.

Despite the fact that city tax collections average near 95 percent, the council has appointed Julian Smith of Gainesville its attorney to collect delinquent tax. After repeated neglect for several years, some of the overdue accounts are becoming sizeable.

Looking forward to germanfest, chairman Alvin Fuhrman and Chamber of Commerce President Dick Ferber asked the city to help establish a pedestrian cross-over on Maple street across Highway 82. The project is being referred to the Texas Highway Department.

Chamber honors beer sales contract

The Muenster Chamber of Commerce Tuesday declined to become directly involved in a current sales dispute between an area Coors Beer Distributor and the Muenster Jaycees.

The dispute involves a recent decision by the Jaycees to deny Coors permission to join local beer distributors in selling beer at this year's Germanfest.

Otis Talley, an area Coors distributor asked Chamber members at their monthly luncheon for a vote of confidence in trying to get the Jaycees to reverse their decision, but the Chamber declined to take an official position in the dispute, most members agreeing that it was something Coors would have to work out with the Jaycees themselves since the group holds the contract on beer sales at the annual event.

Weinzapfel resigns from city water board

Henry Weinzapfel, a member of the Muenster Water board since the water district was established on April 1, 1974, and chairman of the board most of the time, submitted his resignation to the city council at its regular meeting Monday night. The city appointed James Roark to succeed him as the new member and also appointed Al Walter and Ken McDougle to another term on the board. Others serving are David Bright and Mike Sloan.

Weinzapfel's resignation becomes effective at the end of the month. After that the board will elect one of their number to succeed him as president.

At this time, Weinzapfel said, the lake project is nearing the land purchase stage. Board members will meet on Feb. 17 with the Texas Water Resources Commission in Austin to apply for $600,000 to be used for buying land. All records are in order he said, so early approval of the grant is expected, after which the next procedure is buying the land.

Susan Walterscheid pulls down one of her 17 rebounds in Saturday's championship victory over Notre Dame. Susan also scored 18 points including her No 1000 in three years with Sacred Heart. Another Tigrette identified is Sandra Walterscheid 31.

Tigerettes headed to state tourney for third year

For the third time in as many years, Sacred Heart's Tigerettes are headed for the TCIL state finals at the Hemisfair arena in San Antonio. They earned the honor Saturday, by a decisive 56-41 win over the Lady Knights of Notre Dame in a district 3-A tournament hosted by the Wichita Falls team.

On their way to the district title the Tigerettes had a previous 57-44 win over Notre Dame along with a pair of big wins over St. John's of Ennis. Their season record now stands at 21-5.

Coach Jon LeBrasseur was lavish with his praise for the girls. "We prepared hard and were ready to play, and we did what we had to do. The girls made a few mistakes," he added, "but made up for them with hustle. I thought they did an excellent job running the four-corners offense."

Sacred Heart held the lead all the way. At the first period they were ahead 16-9 and gained to a 28-19 lead at the half and stretched the lead to 37-24 ending the third. At one time in the second SH led by 14, and following an 11 point hot streak in the fourth it led by 24. However, ND was persistent and pulled up within 7 at one time in the third and before the end trimmed its deficit from 24 to 15.

An important factor in the game was turnovers. SH losing possession 9 times whereas ND lost 20 times.

Also SH had 34 rebounds whereas ND had 31.

Susan Walterscheid led the way for the Tigerettes with 18 points and 17 rebounds. Anne Felderhoff scored 13 (9 in the second half). Marilynn Hartman made 12, Sandra Walterscheid 9 and Laurie Endres 4.

During the Tigrette win over Notre Dame last Saturday Susan Walterscheid scored her 1000th point for Sacred Heart. She is a junior, having another year of eligibility on the team.

2 Chronicles 7: 12-14

God's Promise to Solomon. The Lord appeared to Solomon during the night and said to him; "I have heard your prayer, and I have chosen this place for my house of sacrifice. If I close heaven so that there is no rain, if I command the locust to devour the land, if I send pestilence among my people, and if my people, upon whom my name has been pronounced, humble themselves and pray, and seek my presence and turn from their evil ways, I will hear them from heaven and pardon their sins and revive their land."

A touch of mild winter

Muenster has been favored by a week of mild, pleasant weather as low temperatures reached only the high twenties. However moisture has been scarce.

Low and high readings have been recorded as follows by Steve Moster:
February 3 26 and 46
February 4 29 and 34
February 5 29 and 43
plus .14 inch of snow, rain and ice
February 6 34 and 38
February 7 26 and 48
February 8 34 and 69
February 9 49 and 60

The .14 moisture measure, along with 1.21 earlier in the month, increases the February total to 1.35 inch and the 1983 total to 2.10.

Another Pulitzer

The Enterprise this week welcomes yet another Pulitzer Prize winner to its weekly features.

Beginning this week, the work of Mike Peters, editorial cartoonist for the Dayton Ohio Daily News will appear on the Enterprise's Comment page. Peters, whose work appears in more than 300 newspapers across the nation, daily was the winner of the 1981 Pulitzer Prize for Editorial Cartooning. Mike Peters joins Ben Sergeant, winner of the 1982 Pulitzer, on the Comment page.

The Enterprise is proud to add the work of these two fine cartoonists to its list of features.

Gas rate increase under consideration

An increase of 16.37 percent in the Muenster gas rate is currently under consideration by the city council. Don Abney of Lone Star Gas Co. presented the request at Monday's council meeting and the city decided to suspend action for 90 days while it studies the subject.

In the meantime the company is permitted to apply the increase to future billing with an understanding that the increase will be refunded if dis-allowed by the council's final action.

The Owner's Manual

Have you ever known someone who feared death, or perhaps you have been apprehensive about death yourself, since you were not real sure how you were going to make the transition from life here on earth to life in heaven? Jesus gives us some insight into this question in John 14: 2-3 which says, "In my Father's house are many mansions; if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you into myself; that where I am, there ye may be also."

A beautiful illustration of these verses is given by well known author and pastor Charles Allen who first told the story of a little lad named John Todd, born in Rutland, Vermont, in the autumn of 1800. Shortly after the boy's birth, the Todd family moved to the little village of Killingsworth. It was there, when John was only six, that both his parents died. All the children had to be parceled out among relatives — and a kind-hearted aunt who lived ten miles away agreed to take John, to love him, to care for him, and to give him a home.

The boy lived there for some fifteen years and finally left as he went on to school to study for the ministry. Time passed gently as he began and later excelled in his work as a pastor. While he was in middle life, his elderly aunt fell desperately ill. Realizing death was not far off, in great distress she wrote her nephew. The pitiful letter included some of the same questions all of us must one day ask: "What will death be like? Will it mean the end of everything?" Fear and uncertainty were easily traced in the quivering lines of her letter.

Moved with compassion and swamped with the memories of yesteryear, he wrote her these words of reassurance:

"It is now thirty-five years since I, a little boy of six, was left quite alone in the world. You sent me word you would give me a home and be a kind mother to me. I have never forgotten the day when I made the long journey of ten miles to your house in North Killingsworth. I can still recall my disappointment when, instead of coming for me yourself, you sent your colored man, Caesar, to fetch me. I well remember my tears and my anxiety as, perched high on your horse and clinging tight to Caesar, I rode off to my new home. Night fell before we finished the journey and as it grew dark, I became lonely and afraid.

"Do you think she'll go to bed before I get there?" I asked Caesar anxiously. "O no," he said reassuringly. "She'll sure stay up for you. When we get out of these here woods you'll see her candle shining in the window." Presently we did ride out in the clearing and there, sure enough, was your candle. I remember you were waiting at the door, that you put your arms close about me and that you lifted me - a tired and bewildered little boy — down from the horse. You had a big fire burning in the hearth, a hot supper waiting for me on the stove. After supper, you took me to my new room, you heard me say my prayers and then you sat beside me until I fell asleep.

You probably realize why I am recalling all this to your memory. Some day soon, God will send for you, to take you to a new home. Don't fear the summons — the strange journey — or the dark messenger of death. God can be trusted to do as much for you as you were kind enough to do for me so many years ago. At the end of the road you will find love and a welcome waiting, and you will be safe in God's care. I shall watch you and pray for you until you are out of sight, and then wait for the day when I shall make the journey myself and find you waiting at the end of the road to greet me."

I can hardly read those words without choking back the tears. Not only is it a beautiful, true story, it is the hope of all who serve. It is the way it will be. It is the well done, good and faithful servant" we shall hear. As the letter indicates, we are expected. He is waiting to welcome us. To those who serve, to those who stand where Jesus Christ once stood many, many years ago, to those who are obedient to God's word, He promises to receive us in those mansions He has gone before us to prepare. And we can be sure He will keep His promise.

Perspectives

City election time is still about two months away, so talking about the civic responsibility to go out and vote for the candidate of your choice, despite its obvious importance, may be a bit premature at this time. But it's not at all too early, just the right time in fact, for exercising some closely related responsibilities — both for those who may vote and those who may be voted for.

Filing for the upcoming city elections opened this week. Capable individuals have a responsibility to seek those positions either through election or re-election, and likewise, local residents have a responsibility to encourage those capable persons, giving them the push they may need to serve. Local voters can and should play an active role in this election long before they visit the polls and such an active role can take a variety of forms.

For instance, how is the city's current state of affairs viewed? How do voters feel on the subjects of maintenance, recreational facilities, streets, sanitation, etc.? Are changes needed in any particular area? Is there anything locally that deserves more, or perhaps less, attention?

On the other hand, are things just fine the way they are? Should changes be avoided? Is there anything about this city or the way it's being run that you, the voters, find upsetting? If there is, it's not only your right, but your responsibility to let someone know about it — not just anybody, but someone who can do something about it. Get it out in the open, where it can be seen, so the candidates can take a stand on it, whatever it is. That's one of the main ideas behind the concept of responsive government.

Regardless of what the answer to any of the above questions may be, they're all questions which deserve consideration now — long before election eve.

They're just the type of topics, among others, that Muenster's governmental leaders will address during their terms of office in the next two years. They're also the topics that just may be in the backs of people's minds.

Any city which has the potential for excellence that this one has owes it to itself to exercise foresight — both long-range and short-range. Long-range could mean a number of things. But short-range means the next two years and choosing the persons who will decide what those next two years mean to this city.

When placed side by side, responsiveness in local government and responsiveness in national government differ only in size, not in importance.

Looking Ahead

Our progressive income tax has become tremendously cumbersome and complicated. According to former Treasury secretary William E. Simon, "An estimated 40 percent of American taxpayers need professional help in filling out their tax forms at an annual cost of $60 billion." Think what it would mean to the economy if that $60 billion were left in the hands of the public for purchases of goods and services they really wanted or if it were invested in creating new products and new jobs.

In contrast to this expensive and inefficient system, the tax return for a flat rate tax could fit on the back of a postcard and could be completed by a grade school child.

Think of the tens of thousands of IRS employees who would no longer be needed, who could be returned to the productive side of the economy, saving untold millions of dollars now needed for their salaries and future retirement pensions.

Our current tax laws fill volumes of the code books. They include hundreds of tax credits and special exemptions. As a result, a great deal of income of persons who can afford to hire highly efficient consultants can be legally safeguarded from the tax collector.

At a recent investment conference several lecturers pointed out that it made more sense to increase net income by saving on taxes rather than expending more effort or funds in an effort to increase gross income.

This reasoning is quite sound but it makes clear another of the harmful effects of our present tax laws.

In the interest of fairness, simplicity, equality, and economy it is time for the American people to demand comprehensive reform of the income tax structure. It is time to replace the progressive income tax with a flat rate tax.

Some plans provide for no deductions; others contain a very few. Even without deductions the vast majority of people would pay less taxes. Many who are now able to take advantage of so-called "loopholes" or "tax shelters" would pay more taxes in some cases. Others would not.

Very low income people would be protected by a high basic standard deduction which applies to everyone. One plan would tax only income above $8,000; others would apply the tax to income above $10,000.

Congressman George Hansen of Idaho stated last March: "The sole justification for graduated income tax has been the socialist goal of a redistribution of the wealth. It has been sold on the idea that it would soak the rich and spare the poor and people of average income. Facts make it plain, however, that the actual tax load on incomes has fallen most heavily, not on the rich, but on working people and families of modest means..."

The progressive income tax is based on an unworthy, evil motivation: ENVY. On the other hand, the flat rate tax is a fair tax where everyone pays the same fair share. As Hansen said, "More people paying more taxes means less for each person to pay — the single rate tax means a tax cut for America, less red tape for America, a real chance for a balanced budget and the best way to cut inflation and interest rates and put the country back to work."

Don't you agree that a flat rate tax — which would leave more money in the pockets of taxpayers, while providing the government with revenue equal to that currently received — is an idea whose time has come?

Heritage News Forum

The National Commission on Social Security Reform, headed by Alan Greenspan, has spent a lot of time and energy producing a vacuum goose egg.

While their hearts might be in the right places, it took the commission members until December to even agree there was a problem. I guess a revenue shortfall estimated at 150-200 billion dollars over the next several years was difficult to spot.

Their "solutions" are few and inadequate: drag federal employees and employees of non-profit organizations aboard the sinking ship; speed up tax increases; tinker with benefit increases; tax a portion of the benefits of the non-poor recipient.

By and large, the commission member agreed the system is fundamentally sound and should not be changed. Which is, in the language of your favorite delicatessen, baloney!

The Social Security System, though its founders couldn't have foreseen the problem at the time, is a fiscal disaster. It is not fundamentally sound. It is running headlong into future shock.

The system operates on a pay-as-you-go basis, meaning the taxes paid by today's wage-earners are used to supply benefits to those who are retired. This was fine in 1950, when there were 16.5 workers paying into the system for every pensioner. It may even have been okay in 1970 when the ratio was 3.6 to 1. But it courts total collapse by early in the next century (less than 20 years away) when the post-World II "baby boom" generation reaches retirement age and there just won't be enough working people to support the retired population.

Since Congress seems reluctant to deal with Social Security, and the Administration had its high hopes dashed by the do-nothing commission, let me suggest we turn our attention to a plan offered by Peter Germanis, a young Washington economist.

It is based on the pioneering work of Peter J. Errara, who now toils in the White House, and Stanford University economist Michael Boskin.

The seven-point plan is premised on a recognition that Social Security, as it is presently constituted, serves a dual purpose: providing both retirement "insurance" and "welfare." True reform of Social Security cannot begin until people recognize the program for what it really is and separate those two functions," Germanis says.

Benefits for those already on the plan or nearing retirement cannot be cut, he says. "We should acknowledge these liabilities as a total write-off so that we can move on with reforming the system." Hand in hand, the public must be educated about how the system works, the economic and demographic realities confronting the system, and any other factors necessary to make decisions about the system's future.

This is where the plan gets interesting. In a nutshell, the annuity and welfare aspects of the program will be separated. Those payments which qualify as welfare would be funded out of general revenues, like all other welfare programs. The retirement portion of the program would differ markedly from what we have today. It would remain mandatory — in that every wage-earner would be required to contribute a certain amount each year into a retirement plan. But it would also offer the worker a choice: he could spill all or part of his contribution down the Social Security drain, or he could put all or part into some sort of private sector Super-IRA (individual retirement account).

From Social Security, if the truth be known, the young man or woman entering the workforce today could probably expect a one-percent return on his money. In contrast, the Heritage Foundation's pension plan with a major insurance company, for example, is now paying more than 11 percent annually.

Social Security can be saved. It is not hopeless. What is needed is some creative thinking and political courage, neither of which seems in generous supply in Washington these days.

— there would be a social revolution that would tear the country up. But Congress tolerates the abusive government actions on Indians, and I try to liberate them and get squashed by the liberal Democrats in the House of Representatives." As indicated in the Administration's new statement on policy, Watt favors a long list of changes including block grants and economic and administrative training to strengthen self government at the local tribal level.

After what's been said to clear the issue on this subject, the media has had plenty of opportunity to set the record straight, but it seems to have had no coverage at all, or certainly less than the erroneous presentation. Apparently the political foes like any kind of unfavorable reports on the man, whether true or false.

Blue-Gold Banquet observes Cub Scout 53rd anniversary

The Blue and Gold Cub Scout banquet held on Feb. 6 in the VFW Hall helped Pack 664, to celebrate cub scouting's 53rd anniversary in America.

Chuck Bartush was master of ceremonies. Den Chiefs Murlin Evans and Jeff Walterscheid presented the Flag ceremony, leading the cubs in an explanation of the Pledge of Allegiance.

Joining Cub Scouts as guests were, Assistant Scoutmaster Reece Parton, Assistant Unit Commissioner Shirley Weems and her husband Jim Weems and David and Pam Fette.

The program included Den 1 Leader Kathy Sicking and Cubs singing the "Cub Scout Advancement" song; Den 2 Leader Patsy Bayer and Cubs playing "Cub Scout Bingo"; Den 3 Leader Mil Biffle and Cubs in a skit on "Six Ships of Cubbing"; Den 4 Leader Lupe Evans and Murlin Evans in a skit on "News Reporting."

Recognition was given to all adults who helped the Cub Scout program. A certificate of appreciation was presented to the VFW Commander Don Eckart and the VFW Post for sponsoring and chartering Pack

664. Committee members Sharon Walterscheid, Judy McDaniel, Shirley Knabe, Paula Reiter and Ruth Hess, and Den leaders Kathy Sicking, Patsy Bayer, Mil Biffle and Webelos leader Pat Knabe, and Assistant Den leaders Peggie Gobble, Paula Reiter and LaVerna Nasche were recognized.

Cliff Sicking and Eleanor Felderhoff received special awards for helping with the Goodwill project, as did Roy and Paula Reiter for chairing the Turkey Shoot project and Regi Bayer, Herkie Biffle and Robert McDaniel for helping with the Scout Show and Christmas Parade and other projects.

Shirley Weems was introduced as an "Orchestra Leader" and she conducted "an orchestra" by involving all attending the banquet.

Many advancements were presented. Advancing to Wolf Rank were Chad Simmons, Scott Wilde, Justin Ramsey, Darren Klement Stevan Nasche, and Jason Biffle. Advancing to Wolf and receiving arrow points were Sammy Walterscheid, Gregg Hess and Michael Gobble each 1 gold, 2 silver; Ryan Sicking 1 gold, 2 silver; Mark Flusche 1 gold, 1 silver and Helmut Koelzer 1 gold, 3 silver.

Advancing to Bear Rank were Kelly Colwell and Ryan Gehrig plus 1 gold arrow point each. Bears receiving more arrow points were Douglas Evans, Terry Felderhoff and Raymond Stewart, each 1 gold; Brian Reiter 1 gold, 2 silver; Chad Bayer 1 gold, 1 silver.

The Webelos presented a puppet show as a project to qualify for their Showman activity pins. They were Troy Pagel, Joe Weinzapfel, Billy Covington, Jerry Brawner and Rodney Knabe; also Michael Abney, engineer activity pin; Jason Walterscheid, engineer; and David Rohmer, citizenship and engineer pins.

Brief announcements reminded Cubs of the coming week's events, including uniform day on Tuesday. The closing ceremony included a tape of Baden-Powell's last letter to the Scouts and spotlights on the Boy Scouts of America poster.

An expression of appreciation was presented to Chuck Bartush and a gift of a Boy Scout mug.

Alvin Fuhrman is shown here receiving a plaque on behalf of the employees of Muenster Telephone Corporation from Leonard S. Herring, Jr., utilities marketing manager for the National Farmers Union Insurance Companies. The employees were recently recognized for working without loss of time due to disabling injuries during 1981.

Drolls observe golden wedding in Rowena

Henry and Dorine Droll observed their 50th wedding anniversary on Monday, Jan. 31 by returning to St. Joseph's Church in Rowena, Texas, where they were married in 1933, and attending a commemorative Mass. Surrounded by relatives and friends and their daughter and son-in-law, Loretta and August Felderhoff and family of Muenster and their son, Gary Droll of Toronto, Canada, they were also honored by having their wedding witnesses, Mrs. Albert Wilde and Ben Droll in attendance at the anniversary.

The Mass was celebrated by the Droll's nephews Father Louis Droll and Father Larry Droll, both of San Angelo, and Father Ziertek of St. Joseph's Church, Rowena. A grandson, Gussie Felderhoff was an acolyte.

The special liturgy of the Mass included an entrance procession and lighting of the unity candle by the honored couple. A grandson, James Felderhoff carried the candle; granddaughter Vanessa Felderhoff carried a basket of flowers placed at the altar at the Offertory; granddaughter Julie Felderhoff read the epistle and responsorial psalm.

Gary Droll and Loretta and August Felderhoff participated in the Offertory procession.

Mrs. Gwen Merka of Wall, Texas presented organ selections: "Silver Threads Among the Gold," "We Gather Together," "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," "Whiter Thou Goest," "If We Only Have Love," "Through the Years," "Put a Little Love in Your Heart" and the recessional "May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You."

Reception

A reception and champagne luncheon followed immediately in St. Joseph Parish Hall. Tables were decorated in white and gold with flower arrangements on all tables carrying out the color scheme.

A three-tiered anniversary cake was made by Mrs. Ben Hoffmann of Rowena. Mrs. Jackie Taylor of Austin and Mrs. James Tepliczek of Rowena assisted with serving the cake.

Mrs. Rose Wynette Neff, a cousin of Rowena and Mrs. Eugene Hist of Garden City, a niece and god-child presided at the guest book.

Joining in the celebration were friends and relatives from Rowena, San Angelo, Wall, Eola, Gainesville, Pecos, San Antonio, McCombs, Eules, Tennyson, Miles, New Braunfels, Midland, Garden City, Austin, Ballinger, Lometa, and Muenster, and Tulsa, Okla. Special friends recognized at the reception were Mr. and Mrs. C.F. Marek of Rowena, who celebrated their golden wedding on Jan. 30.

Henry and Dorine Droll are natives of Rowena, Texas where they spent their childhood and the first 18 years of marriage. He was a member of the first Knights of Columbus Council in Rowena, initiated in 1928. He graduated from St. Joseph's School there and received his business degree from St. Edward's University in Austin and was engaged in banking and farming in Rowena.

Mrs. Droll is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. A.A. Halamiczek of San Angelo. Her father was a former mayor of San Angelo and owner of several retail stores in West Texas.

In 1951 the Drolls moved to Pecos where he was in farming and was an office manager for a farm equipment dealer. After retirement they moved to Muenster and have resided here since 1975.

Third annual arts and crafts slates Sell-O-Rama

Third Annual Arts and Crafts Sell-o-Rama sponsored by the Cooke County Extension Homemakers

Council, will be held on Friday, November 18, and Saturday, November 19, at the Gainesville Community Center.

It is designed to provide an outlet for the many people in this area who enjoy doing one or more of the many different types of crafts, needlework or other hand-drafted items. It will also provide an opportunity for people who do not have the time or talent to make quality craft items, to purchase them.

Reservations are currently being made for people who want to have a display table of sale items. To obtain a reservation form, they may call the County Extension Office at 665-4931 or 665-1966, or pick up a form at the County Extension Office located in the Courthouse Basement.

Reservations must be made on the proper form and mailed to Mrs. Sandra Westfall, Reservation Chairman, Rt. 3, Box 183, Gainesville, Texas 76240.

Individuals as well as organizations are invited to have a crafts display.

Mini-reflection day planned

The Youth Ministry Group will hold a mini-reflection day on Sunday, Feb. 20 in the meeting room of Sacred Heart Community Center at 2 p.m. The program will deal with personal relationships and will be conducted by Pam Alford, youth ministry consultant and Rev. Dan Williams, chancellor of the Diocese of Fort Worth.

Included in the afternoon's program will be games, large group discussions, small group discussions, and a special liturgy for youth.

Youth chairmen invite all area youth to attend. More information is available from Linda Knabe, 759-2592.

YHT meets at Bouquets & Gifts

Muenster Young Homemakers met on Feb. 1 at Bouquets and Gifts. Darlene Otto and Janet Fisher presented an informal program on the basic principles of flower arranging. In demonstrating they made a Valentine's Day bud vase and taught other basics such as bow making. Each YHT member present had the opportunity to make a bow and an item of her choice using silk flowers. Refreshments were provided for the workshop by June Bartush and Pam Dangelmayr.

A short business meeting followed at The Center. Plans were made for a noon luncheon to be held Friday, Feb. 11, during FHA week to honor the outstanding members of the Muenster FHA Chapter. Applicants for the Outstanding Future Homemaker Award and the FHA officers will be honored.

Also plans were made to attend the Feb. 19 Area V Planning meeting at TWU in Denton.

Mrs. Joni Sturm is advisor for both the YHT and FHA Chapters.

Beta Kappa plans future projects

Margie Wimmer was hostess and Becky Felderhoff presided for the February meeting of Beta Kappa chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha International.

The business meeting included a treasurer's report by Lynn Dangelmayr. She noted that a donation was given to the V. Gaston family of Saint Jo and a love fund established at Muenster State Bank for Mrs. Janis Hesse.

Pam Fette, service chairman discussed plans for the chapter's booth at German-fest. Sidney Porter volunteered to study possible changes for the strudel project at Germanfest. Members discussed the library project and began plans for a domino tournament on March 13, as a library benefit. Further details will be announced later.

Becky Felderhoff appointed Louise Fisher, June Bartush and Pam Fette to the nominating committee. They will report at the chapter's next meeting on March 7.

WITH YOUR ENERGY AID CONTRIBUTION, YOU CAN GET A WARM FEELING IN YOUR HEART.

AND HELP OTHERS SIMPLY GET WARM.

Right now across Texas there are people who, for whatever reason, are having a hard time heating their homes. But now there's a program where you can help.

What we're talking about is the Energy Aid Program. It's sponsored by your electric company and this is how it works. You'll get a pledge card in this month's electric service bill. Make your pledge and send it in with your bill. Your tax-deductible contribution will be collected by the electric company and sent to us and other charitable agencies in the area.

When we get the money, we'll give it to those who need it most. To pay for natural gas, propane, electricity or even a cord of wood if that's the only means of heating. The funds may even be used to make emergency minor repairs to heating and cooling systems.

So you see how much your contribution could do. Pledge today. Someone needs your help. And you could probably use the warm feeling it will give you.

Amy is Two

Amy Beth Walterscheid, daughter of Gary and Alisa Walterscheid of Myra, celebrated her second birthday on Saturday, Jan. 22 in her home. Her birthday is Jan. 24.

Decorations were in a Tom and Jerry theme. Cake, ice cream and punch were served to guests, including Amy's parents; her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Reid of Myra and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Henry Walterscheid of Muenster. Other guests were Barney, Tina and Carrie Reid of Myra; Hattie Wilkins, Thelma Tuggle, Pam Newman, Karen Walterscheid and Bro. Marvin Lancaster all of Gainesville; Pat, Shannon and Kim Sconce of Marietta, Okla. and Steve Walterscheid of Denton.

Womack Baptism

Chelsea Marie Womack was baptized in Sacred Heart Church in Muenster on Sunday, Feb. 6 following the 11 a.m. Mass. She is the infant daughter of Tina and Donnie Womack of Nocona. Father Denis Soerries officiated for the sacrament.

Baptismal sponsors are an uncle and aunt Dan and Karen Wilde. Also attending were the parents; the grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wilde and uncles, aunts and cousins, Jan and Chris Cain and children Christin and Cory; Joni and Amy Sturm, Gregg and Shirley Wilde and son Jeffrey; Melanie, Scott and Josh Wilde all of Muenster and Renee Wilde of Stephen F. Austin State Univ., San Marcos.

Following the church service, the family members gathered again to enjoy having dinner out, hosted by the Ray Wildes.

Growing Baptism

The baptism of Christopher Earl Grewing was held on Sunday, Jan. 30 at noon. Father Victor Gillespie officiated in Sacred Heart Church. The infant is the son of Glenn and Connie Grewing. The god-parents are an aunt, Alice Walterscheid and an uncle, Larry Grewing.

The baby's christening gown was a gift from his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Flo Walterscheid. Also attending were the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Grewing, the great-grandmother Mrs. Hattie Grewing; Jeannene and Kenneth Walterscheid, Sheila Hobbs, Elaine Grewing, Donna Russell and sons, Cory and Darrell, and Gina Grewing.

A dinner followed in the home of Judy and Steve Grewing. A table centerpiece featured the decorated baptismal cake, gift from Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Walterscheid.

Joining the above group during the afternoon were Mrs. Marla Fette and children, Amy, Becky and Polly; Diane and Jimmy Grewing and children Michael and Randy; and Erik Walterscheid.

Cake and ice cream were served. One of the decorated cakes honored Sheila Hobbs in observance of her birthday.

Kerri Ann is six

Kerri Ann Barnhill celebrated her sixth birthday with a party at the Pizza Hut, on Saturday, January 29.

After watching the staff and learning the art of pizza making, each child experimented by making his or her own pizza. Later, after pizza and soft drinks, everyone was served birthday cake and ice cream.

Guests included Kammi Barnhill, Mrs. Ray Barnhill, Karen Barnhill, Sandy Lawler and Chrissy and Jessie, Brandon and Jeremy Walterscheid. Also, Sabrina and Kody Trubenbach, Ashley Hartman, Jill Reiter, Laura Vogel, and Charlie Luttmer.

Phone 759-4311 or send notes to Box 190, Muenster to report news of illness or injury to be included in our "News of the Sick" column. Patients appreciate "get-well cards" from friends who hear of their illness through the column.

New Arrivals!

On January 26, 1983 at 2:24 a.m. Mr. and Mrs. Al Patel of Fort Worth became parents of a son, Aaron Jonathan, born in Harris Hospital, weighing 7 lb. 1 oz. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Theo Vogel of Muenster.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Morey of the Colony are parents of a 9 lb. 6 oz. baby girl, born February 2, 1983. They have named her Sarah Katherine. Mrs. Mike Morey is the former Barbara Sturm. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Sturm of Gainesville and Mr. and Mrs. George Morey of Denton. Mrs. J.J. Haverkamp of Muenster is a great-grandmother.

Eula Dieter Singleton of San Francisco, California sent several news items to the Enterprise, when she renewed her own subscription and one for her brother, Cavitt Moon who lives in Hollister, Ca. They are former Marysville residents and have relatives there and in Lindsay. Mrs. Singleton told of having a vacation in Hawaii where she saw her third great-grandchild for the first time. She also told of a party on her 71st birthday, hosted by her daughter, Uneida. She mentioned that she is recovering from a broken right arm. Mrs. Singleton said that she and her family were saddened to read of the death of Father Francis Zimmerer, who was a boyhood schoolmate of her first husband, a native of Lindsay.

News of the Sick

Mrs. Martin Bayer is home again, recuperating from surgery performed in Westgate Hospital in Denton. She was hospitalized for 17 days. Her daughters Pat Otto and Nelda Bayer, both registered nurses, and other family members spent several days with her, and Nelda accompanied her home last Friday, to spend the weekend.

Amy Pagel, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Pagel is recovering rapidly from surgery on Friday, Feb. 4 in Children's Medical Center, Dallas Texas 75235. She is in Room 626, on the 6th floor, after being moved from ICU to her own room. Her parents and her grandmother, Mrs. Charlotte Dangelmayr take turns staying with her and other family members make frequent trips. Cards may be sent to the above address.

Please send news of your guests to Box 190, The Muenster Enterprise, Muenster, Texas 76252. Your guests will appreciate your courtesy and your out-of-town friends will be interested in hometown news.

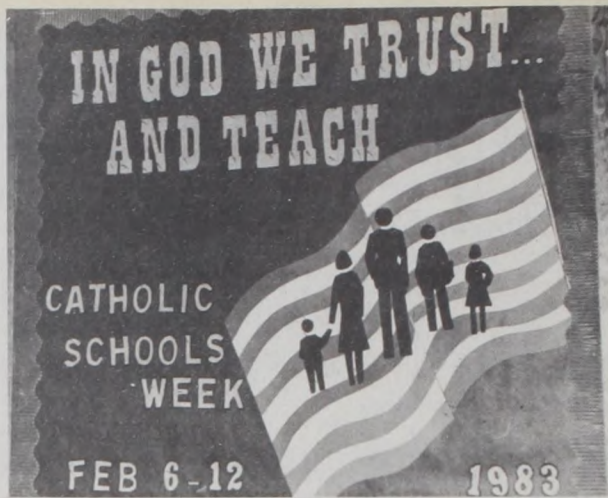

Has 2nd Birthday

Allison Marie Bayer's second birthday of Jan. 28 was observed on Saturday, Jan. 29 when a party was held in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Bayer, 3:30 to 4:30 p.m.

Guests for an early supper were Lucas Bayer and his mother Mrs. Clinton Bayer; Elizabeth Beyer and her mother Mrs. Stephen Beyer; and Allison's grandmother, Mrs. J.H. Bayer. The birthday cake, baked by the honoree's mother, was decorated with balloons. Dessert for supper was the birthday cake and ice cream. Picture taking and gifts added to the fun time.

Shower honors Mrs. Cooley

Mrs. James Cooley of Irving was the honoree at a layette shower when her sister-in-law, Mrs. Glen Schoech entertained recently in her home.

A pink and yellow theme was carried out in decor and refreshments. A floor length pink cloth covered a round antique table, centered by a baby doll and blocks. On the table also were the punch bowl and service, and cake decorated with pink and yellow and white.

Gifts were opened by the honoree, assisted by her 7-year-old daughter, Krista Rose, and by Jennifer Schoech, daughter of the hostess.

There were 15 guests, including the future grandmother, Mrs. Andy Schoech. Another guest was Mrs. Olon McClendon, the former Donna Marie Rohmer and her daughter Nicole, neighbors and friends.

Mrs. James Cooley, the honoree, is the former Peachie Schoech.

CCD Class 8B presents Liturgy

The liturgy for the Wednesday evening CCD Mass in Sacred Heart Church was planned by Class 8-B and the teachers, Mmes. Peggy Gobble and Pat Wimmer.

Father Victor Gillespie was celebrant and Michael Pagel, Joe Paul Walterscheid, Raymond Stewart and Ryan Sicking were Mass servers.

Sam Fleitman and Rhonda Trubenbach gave the 1st and 2nd Readings. Mark Hennigan and Kelley Hennigan gave the Responsorial Psalm and Gospel Acclamation.

Damie Hellman and Mark Forrester read Offertory Petitions; and Terri Whitley, Brian Klement and Kristi Pagel presented the Communion Meditation.

A First Texas 80's Report: On Investment Options.

"Will interest rates go up or down? Either way, First Texas has the right plan now."

Plan One:
Take advantage of rising interest rates with the escalating-rate Money Maker Plus.

If you think the interest rates will rise, you'll want the First Texas Money Maker Plus account. This short-term investment gives you the high interest of a money market fund. Plus, there's one big difference: it offers an escalating interest rate, so the more you invest, the higher your interest rate.

Under	$2,500	$2,500	$5,000	$10,000	$50,000
Rates:	5.25%	9.00%	9.25%	9.50%	9.75%

These sample rates illustrate the increments of this investment. Actual interest rates will probably differ and may vary daily.

There are more pluses with this account: Your principal and interest are insured safe up to $100,000 by the FSLIC. There's a minimum opening deposit of only $2,500. You can write checks and make deposits of $500 or more. You also have no activity or management fees. Plus, you can receive a free First Texas regular checking account for one year.

Plan Two:
Lock in a current interest rate with Money Market Certificates.

If you think interest rates will fall in the future, First Texas has a choice of long-term Money Market Certificates.* These investments are a safe way to lock in a current money market interest rate for either two and a half, four, six, eight or even ten years.

You can start with an opening deposit as small as $500. And your investment is insured up to $100,000 by the FSLIC.

Also, there's an insured, 6-month Certificate with a minimum opening deposit of only $2,500.

Long or short term. The choice is yours.

The fact is, no matter what you think interest rates will do, First Texas has a plan that's right for you, right now. Come into the First Texas office nearest you today to open the account that's right for you. Or call this toll-free number: (800) 442-1256; or in Dallas, call 458-4790 and they'll open it over the phone.

First Texas. They can make the most of your money. And that's what beating the 80's is all about.

Yes, I want to open a new high-yield investment.

MONDAY 2/14/83 MORNING 5:00 [E] Violent Earth

TUESDAY June Carter Cash was transformed by a two-hour, daily makeup process into an eccentric, old southerner for her role in "Murder in Coweta County," to air Tuesday, Feb. 15 on CBS. (Stations reserve the right to make last-minute changes.)

THURSDAY Henry (Ted Knight) will have to explain the presence of a beautiful, scantily clad woman (Cisse Cameron) to his wife on "Too Close for Comfort," to air Thursday, Feb. 17 on ABC. (Stations reserve the right to make last-minute changes.) Texas A&M Press publishes images of the Texas cowboy COLLEGE STATION - For more than a century the imaginations of Americans have been captured by the mystique of the cowboy. Now that mystique has been captured between the covers of a new book published by the Texas A&M University Press. Through the photographs of Ray Rector, who was himself a cowboy before he became a professional photographer, "Cowboy Life on the Texas Plains" candidly details the life of the men who rode the range and whose activities ranged from roping to square dancing. Rector, who died in 1933, left a legacy of more than 1,000 photographic negatives of ranch life that are now held by the Humanities Research Center at the University of Texas. The stills appearing in the book were selected and identified by his daughter Margaret. "Cowboy Life on the Texas Plains: The Photographs of Ray Rector" (hardback $19.95, 119 pages) includes an introductory text by noted Texas author John Graves. Graves' conclusion is that although we will never again see the likes of the old-time cowboys that Rector photographed, their descendants may still be found, more often riding tractors and pickups than half-wild ponies, but still working cattle on the West's farms and ranches. "Only the artist, or the free scholar, carries his happiness within him." Beethoven

Ag conference set at Grayson County College

Craig Rosenbaum

County Agent's Report

Glenn E. Lemon, Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer of the First Bank and Trust Co. in Booker, Texas, will be the featured speaker at the 12th Annual Texoma Agricultural Conference February 24 at Grayson County College.

The conference, to be held at the Silver Wings Club on the West Campus of the college, also will include four other speakers who will address subjects concerning this year's conference theme of "Challenges and Opportunities."

Lemon will discuss at the conference's noon luncheon what he views as the relationship between banking and agriculture.

The one-day event will begin with registration at 9 a.m. and will conclude with Lemon's address at noon.

One of the speakers will be L.H. Spellings, a rancher from Marshall, who will tell how he profitably grazes steers on winter pasture and also grazes steers on bermuda grass in the summer.

Jerry Waller, agronomist with the Soil Conservation Service in Temple, will discuss how reducing tillage operations can reduce costs and also control erosion.

A $6.50 registration fee will be collected during the morning of Feb. 24. This fee covers all expenses of the conference including the luncheon.

Farming is enough of a gamble, so don't add to your problems by gambling on fertilizer needs for this year's crops.

Instead, collect soil samples and have them tested so you'll have a game plan for fertilizing your 1983 crops. Soil test results last year showed many producers in Cooke County that had used phosphorus in planting previous years had ample available phosphorus in their crop lands. However, this is not always the case, so it is increasingly important to test at least every two to three years. Long-term research indicates that nitrogen must be applied to each crop to optimize yields. Potassium could be deficient in some blackland soils and would probably increase yields in most lighter soils.

The best time for collecting and testing soil samples is right now before the spring rush. That way you can determine your fertilizer needs and order supplies early before the busy spring season.

A soil test provides information about the nutrient status of soil as well as lime requirements in areas of acid soil. This means that the value of soil nutrients also increases. Thus, efficient and profitable fertilization depends on a good evaluation of the nutrient-supplying capacity of soil. This is where soil tests come in.

The first step to a good soil test is to take a good sample. Get a composite sample from each field by collecting a slice or core of soil from 10 to 15 different spots. Then mix them all together and send two-thirds to three-fourths of a pint to a soil testing lab for testing. Labs are located at Texas A&M University or Cooke County College. Doug Robison at Cooke County College has testing facilities for both soil and forages.

It's equally important to complete an information sheet with each soil sample. Include information about past cropping and fertilization practices and the next crop to be planted. Fertility recommendations are made according to the nutrient requirements of crops that are to be planted. Information sheets, cartons for mailing soil samples, and additional information on soil testing is available at our office.

Peach, Apple, and Grape Workshop.

A peach, apple and grape production meeting and field day will be held February 16 in Bowie and sponsored by Extension offices of Montague, Cooke, Clay, and Jack counties. Beginning at 9:00 a.m., registration will be held in the community room of the First National Bank of Bowie.

Topics and speakers on the program will include:

- 9:30 - Peach Production, Varieties, Management, Sites by Dr. Sammy Helmers, Extension Horticulturist, Stephenville.
- 9:55 - Apple Production in North Central Texas by Otha Sober, Montague Experiment Station.
- 10:30 - Grape Production by Dr. George McEachern, Extension Horticulturist, College Station.
- 10:45 - Insect and Disease Management by H.A. Turney, Extension Entomologist, and Dr. Norman McCoy, Extension Plant Pathologist, Dallas.

11:30 - How to Start a Vineyard by Jon Kernek, Grower

There will be a break at noon with lunch "on your own".

The afternoon program will begin at 1:15 p.m. at the Texas A&M University Research Station in Montague.

Demonstrations on planting and pruning; trickle irrigation; fumigation; and orchard equipment and pruning will be held.

Cooke County Beef Cattle Improvement Association Ladies Night - Officers and directors of the Cooke County Beef Cattle Improvement Association have scheduled their annual Ladies Night Meeting. Tickets can be purchased from Association officers or from the County Extension Office. We look forward to you and your spouse's attendance. The meeting is scheduled for 7:00 p.m. Friday, February 18, 1983, at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Gainesville.

Services held for Rick Henry of Gainesville

Funeral service for Rick Henry, 35, of Gainesville was held Tuesday at 10 a.m. in St. Mary's Church with Father Placidus Eckart officiating at a Mass of Christian Burial, and interment was in Fairview Cemetery directed by Vernie Keel Funeral Home. He died Saturday at MD Anderson Hospital in Houston.

Rick Henry was born in Gainesville December 19, 1947 a son of Mr. and Mrs. L.V. Henry. A landman for Meson Corp., he was married to Melanie Smith of Gainesville on July 20, 1968. Survivors are his wife, one son, two daughters, his parents, one brother and a grandmother.

energy answers
from the Texas Energy Extension Service

How does uranium compare with other kinds of fuels for its energy content? W. H., San Antonio.
A single pound of enriched uranium fuel contains nearly three million times the energy in a pound of coal. One pellet - about one-half cubic inch - of uranium has the same amount of energy as three barrels of oil or one ton of coal.

More information on uranium as an energy resource is available from the Center for Energy and Mineral Resources at Texas A&M University.

How do earth-sheltered or underground homes compare with passive solar homes? J. W., Austin.
Earth-sheltered homes and passive solar homes are not mutually exclusive. These two types of energy conscious design can be successfully integrated so that earth-sheltered housing generally includes passive solar features such as south facing glass or a solar greenhouse.

However, earth-sheltered housing is more complex to design, engineer, and construct because of soil and load considerations. Thus it is likely to be more expensive to construct, if contractor built. A conventional home incorporating energy conserving features and using passive solar design can be equally effective in conserving energy and less expensive to build.

Weekend tourney will end Zone 1-A basketball season

1983 basketball in District 1-A is headed down the home stretch this weekend as boys and girls from five of the six member-schools square off at Slidell for the district tournament which will determine the Number 2 teams and also qualify for the playoffs.

Champs of the regular schedules are Lindsay girls, 10-0, and Slidell boys, 9-1. Both are qualified for the playoff without competing in the tournament. Standings at the end of the regular schedule are: Girls, Lindsay 10-0, Forestburg 8-2, Muenster 6-4, Alvord 4-6, Slidell 2-8, Era 0-10; Boys, Slidell 9-1, Alvord 7-3, Muenster 6-4, Forestburg 5-5, Lindsay 2-8, Era 1-9.

At the tournament the second place teams, Alvord boys and Forestburg girls have a bye until the final when they take on winners of opening and semifinal games. Muenster will start with Era as the opponent in each division. In the other starter Forestburg boys meet Lindsay and Alvord girls meet Slidell. Winners of those games meet in the semifinal and the semifinal winners play Alvord boys and Forestburg girls for the tournament title.

Muenster played Era in the final action of its double round robin action Friday night. The girls game was a dandy for three periods with the first quarter tied at 6-6 the second with Muenster ahead 16-15 and the third with Era leading 21-20. Then suddenly Muenster got organized as Era got disorganized and MHS sailed to a 40-26 win. Stephanie Richey led the Muenster scoring with 12, Jill Wimmer made 11 and Rita Walterscheid 10.

Muenster boys had a run-away for leads of 10-2, 26-6, 40-14 and 53-28. Their top scorers were Kevin Felderhoff 16, Wayne Carroll 10, Steven Fisher 9, Kevin Wolf 8.

Shelly Zimmerer, 34, gets set for a rebound in this action during Muenster's game with Alvord. Other Hornets identified are Jill Wimmer, Rita Walterscheid, 30, and Stephanie Richey 14.

Juniors take 2 tourney fourths

Both Muenster teams ended as No. 4 in the junior high basketball tournament during the past weekend at Alvord.

The future Hornets made a good start playing Forestburg neck and neck three periods for scores of 4-4, 10-10 and 16-16 after which they kept going while Forestburg turned stone cold. Muenster won it 22-16 as Melanie Richey scored 12 and Sharon Russell made 10.

The next game started with Muenster leading 8-7 at the first quarter but losing the rest of the way by counts of 19-16, 23-18 and 30-23. Melanie Richey scored 12, Tracy Walterscheid 4 and Staci Walterscheid 4.

Next Muenster played

Lindsay for the third place honor but lost 18-11 and had to settle for No. 4 Melanie Richey scored 10 of the points.

The story was about the same for the future Hornets. They led Era 8-2 at the half, 16-8 at the third quarter and ended with a 19-12 win. Ryan Klement scored 11 and Gary Grewing 6.

Next game also looked good for a while as Muenster led 4-2, 8-4 and 12-10, but then Slidell took over and romped to a 22-18 win. Ryan Klement hit 14 for Muenster.

Finally Muenster was clobbered 20-9 by Lindsay in the try for third place. Ryan Klement scored 5 for Muenster.

Bluebonnet club plans events

Coming events for the Bluebonnet Extension Homemakers Club will be highlighted by two special projects.

The first is a Valentine party on Monday, Feb. 14 at 7 p.m. with their favorite sweethearts, the wonderful residents of St. Richard's Villa. Jo An Pagel will be hostess for the evening if fun hostess for the evening of fun and games. Plans were completed during the group's January meeting.

Uppermost in the club's future plans is its participation in Germanfest and its second 100 meter Bicycle Rally.

Milton Fette and Mike Pluto, both professional bikers from Denton, helped organize the first 100 meter Bike Rally, and were on hand to assist in plans for the 1983 rally sponsored exclusively by Stroh's Beer. Bob Vogel of Cooke County Distributing Co. previewed one of the 200 T-shirts that Stroh's Beer will give to the first 200 bikers to pre-register; he showed the caps and certificates and told about the Stroh's Beer that will be waiting for all who finish the rally. There will be groups for 10 mile, 35 mile and 65 mile rallies. Anne Poole, Box 279, Muenster is in charge of pre-registration. Bluebonnet Extension Homemakers are making plans for a special event on Saturday March 12 when, accompanied by their husbands, they will have a leisurely day of shopping in Dallas, to be followed by a visit to Granny's Dinner Theater and entertainment by Mel Tillis.

Economic conditions creating job market for agriculture grads

COLLEGE STATION — The sagging economy, which has forced thousands of American farmers out of business and resulted in declining enrollments in the nation's colleges of agriculture, will ultimately create good opportunities for future farmers, says the dean of agriculture at Texas A&M University.

"Although the current depressed economic condition discourages students from looking at agriculture as a career option," says Dr. H. O. Kunkel,

"the situation should create substantially increased needs for agriculturalists within the next decade."

Kunkel said a national manpower assessment study conducted by the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Office of Higher Education indicates a shortage of trained professionals in agriculture will occur by 1985. He said if agriculture enrollment continues to decrease, serious manpower shortages could be acute by 1990.

Twine is twine.
Until you use it!

Good through February 28, 1983

A lower priced twine may look pretty good when you buy it. But how good will it look when you're using it? When you use Sperry New-Holland twine, you'll realize the value received from buying the best. You'll get better knottor performance and fewer missed ties because of the high uniformity. Consistent strength means fewer broken bales in the field and during handling and shipping. When you're putting up quality hay, is the aggravation and downtime from a cheap twine really worth the little bit you saved?

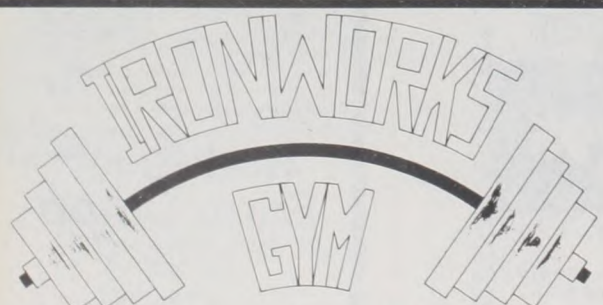

Choose from 4 high-quality, natural fiber twines and 6 high-strength plastic twines.

Knightettes finish with 10-0 record

Lindsay Knightettes surprised no one last week when they ended the District Zone 1-A round robin with a perfect record of 10-0, but the Knights gave fans a pleasing shock by breaking their 8-game winless streak for an escape from the district cellar. The final record after beating Era and Forestburg is 2-8. The girls were their invincible selves in the tussle with Era. They gained big in every quarter finally ending at the long end of 65-15. Top scorers were Bridgett Fangman 16, Beverly Hermes 12, Shawna Hellman 8 and Gina Hellman 8.

The Knights game was less one-sided but still decisive. After an 8-8 first period they gained to a 28-17 lead, held steady for a 38-28 third period lead and soared again in the fourth to a 50-30 win. Greg Haverkamp singed the net with 20 points, Glenn Hermes added 9, Mike Hermes 9 and Doug Anderle 6.

Chamber

Chamber said the Jaycees' intention was to keep the Germanfest as local as possible. Many of the members agreed that the business generated by Coors was important to the area as well as the Germanfest, but also agreed that since the Jaycees held the contract, it was their right to execute that contract as they saw fit.

Regardless of beer sales, the Germanfest entertainment committee has agreed to allow Coors to furnish their stage for the various forms of entertainment to be featured at the festival.

Other discussion on the Germanfest concerned reports by various committee chairmen.

Monica Hess, who chairs the entertainment committee, announced that the various acts and other attractions for this year's event have been finalized and are ready for publication in the festival's brochure, expected to be circulated in a few weeks. She said several new attractions, including a horseshoe tournament and a tobacco spitting contest, will be featured this year.

Concessions chairman Dave Fette said most of the concessions would be housed in one main tent, as last year, and others would be located at various areas on the festival grounds. He stressed the importance of vendors who have booths on the grounds adhering more strictly to the theme of German heritage.

The Chamber will award prizes to those vendors who do the best job of adhering to that theme.

Chamber President Dick Ferber, who is also handling security for the event, said efforts are still being made to improve safety near the city park at the intersection of Highway 82 and Maple Street. He said he hoped arrangements could be made to install temporary safety lights and signs, but that nothing was final as yet. Last year's security involved seven uniformed deputies along with several more plainclothes county officers. He said security will likely be handled in the same way this year.

Concerning this year's Chamber of Commerce Banquet, Chairman Ray Wilde said the banquet would be held March 11 at the VFW hall. The only other change for this year involves tickets purchased at the door which will cost $10 per person instead of $7.50.

Members also discussed the possibility of changing the election date for new officers and board members. Some time late in January or early in February was proposed since it would afford the new officers more time to prepare for the Germanfest and become more familiar with various responsibilities of their new positions. Most members agreed the change would be good but the proposal was tabled for further discussion at a later date.

SCHOOL NEWS

Classes offered for retired persons

Dr. Eddie Hadlock of Cooke County College recently announced a special program of non-credit courses to be offered free to local and area senior citizens beginning in this month.

Hadlock, dean of continuing education at CCC, says that senior citizens will be able to choose from five different "mini-courses" with enrollment restricted exclusively to older students.

"The term 'senior citizen' is sometimes confusing," Hadlock says, "so we're opening these special classes to anyone who is retired, regardless of age."

"We also want to emphasize that there will be no enrollment fee, although students in some classes may be required to furnish their own materials or supplies."

Registration for the special classes will take place Feb. 15 in the CCC Activities Center on campus beginning at 1:30 p.m. This also will be the first meeting of all classes.

All classes will meet twice weekly, on Tuesdays and Thursdays, for 10 weeks through April 28.

Classes to be offered include:

—Oil painting, to meet from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. Instructor for the classes will be Mary Lou Underwood, and instruction will be given for both beginners and advanced students. Class size will be limited to 15 students.

—Crafts, also to meet from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. Instructor Oleta McCool will teach various crafts, but students who already have knowledge of a specific craft will be encouraged to share and exchange this knowledge with other members of the class. Class size limit is 20.

—Woodworking and refinishing, a special combination class where students may learn or enhance woodworking skills or work on furniture refinishing techniques. The class, set to meet from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m., will be taught by Jesse Walla in CCC's fully equipped woodshop.

Dr. Hadlock points out that students in this special class may work on a specific project or may learn woodworking or refinishing techniques of a general nature. The class will be limited to 15 students.

—Creative writing, to be taught by CCC faculty member and nationally recognized poet Dr. Joseph Colin Murphy. The class will meet from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m., and students will be given instruction in both poetry and prose writing.

—Beginning piano, to be taught by another CCC faculty member Dr. Harry Kafer. Scheduled to meet from 2 to 3 p.m., the class is designed for students who have no previous knowledge of music. Because instruction will be given in a class piano format, enrollment is strictly limited to six students.

Local and area senior citizens interested in reserving a space in any of these special classes should call the CCC Division of Continuing Education at 817-668-7731, extension 220.

Dr. Hadlock points out that another interesting aspect of these classes is that students in oil painting, crafts and woodworking-refinishing will be encouraged to show the results of their work in the upcoming "Seniorama."

This program, scheduled for May, will allow students to display projects they have created in the classes at Cooke County College. The Seniorama is sponsored by the Gainesville Housing Authority.

Persons wishing to obtain more information about special free classes for senior citizens should call the CCC Division of Education office or visit the office in Room 120 on campus.

Distinguished student

Mrs. Kathy Davidson Brorsen has earned "Distinguished Student" status at Texas A&M University. CCC plans fishing institute

Beginning on February 21, CCC's Division of Continuing Education will present a Striper Fishing Institute featuring advice and instruction from four of the Sacred Heart and Bells book 2 practices

Hoping to further sharpen their game, the Tigerettes of Sacred Heart will have a pair of practice contests with the Bells High girls before they go to the state play-offs at San Antonio next week.

Bells Friday and at Sacred Heart Tuesday, both games starting at 7 p.m.

Coach Jon reports that Bells is champ of its zone and exempt from a tournament this weekend, also that the practice games are good for both teams because both are on the way to play-offs.

Sacred Heart will go to the Alamo City next Thursday and play its first game the next day. Names of the other play-off contestants are not announced at this time.

Notice to parents

Due to the length of time between Christmas vacation and scheduled Easter vacation, Sacred Heart School will have a two day mini-break on Feb. 17-18. It will allow students who wish to, to accompany the girls basketball team to San Antonio.

Attains honor roll

Robert Weinzapfel has been listed on the Fall, 1982 Honor Roll at North Texas State University, Denton and is among students achieving above a 3.5 grade point ratio in a possible 4.0. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Weinzapfel and a graduate of Muenster High School.

The Mardi Gras committee of the Home School Society wishes to extend an enormous Thank You to all the people who donated so much time, money & prizes to make our Carnival a Big Success

We hope to have your support in the future
