NUMBER 43

An article by Phyllis Schlawly in a recent edition of Human Events reminds us that AIDS (acquired immune deficiency syndrome) is more than just an ailment that has homosexuals cringing in fear, but also a matter of everyone's concern because of related legal and political problems.

Homosexuals have tried for years to establish identity under the word "gay" as a nationally accepted group. They have made some undesired progress in that direction but their success is suddenly blighted by the spreading knowledge of their repulsive nature as well as their promiscuity and disease.

Counteracting their insistence on a right to public aid in finding a treatment for their self-inflicted affliction, they find themselves facing a rapidly declining social acceptance. If this thing continues they may see their acceptance demands shattered by increasing popular rejection. After all, other people resent what they are doing to both physical and moral health, and want to know how the country can protect itself against the rapidly spreading plague.

As of now we still do not hear much complaint about the ugly and sinful behavior of these gutter people. American morality has deteriorated to the point where right and wrong are not that important, but people get defensive when the problem affects their health, which is already threatened in regard to blood banks and the food handling business.

However the gays are still enjoying a sort of immunity to public objection because of a political-legal climate making so much of an issue about civil rights and minority. The claim still stands that people have a right to live as they please and it's nobody else's business.

But public attitude is changing. Homosexuals, still not barred from giving to blood banks, are asked not to donate. Also some people are losing confidence in blood banks because of fear of infection, and decline to be a part of it. Private blood banks are springing up as a result.

Actually there are many signs lately that fear of AIDS is taking hold. Morticians in New York decline to embalm victims of the disease but want to put dead bodies in plastic bags like victims of other contagious plagues. Likewise many Dentists now refuse to accept homosexual patients because AIDS can be transmitted through blood and saliva. Also police and paramedics of San Francisco object to giving mouth to mouth resuscitation to homosexuals.

Only a small minority of homosexuals have AIDS, but a majority of those with AIDS are homosexuals. Because of that the homosexuals are a high risk group. Also, because of their immense promiscuity they are carriers. And the incubation period is up to three years, so nobody can know how many people are carriers.

Such considerations lead one to think that it's time to change policy respecting gay rights. Rather than accept them into normal society it

Building activity on increase locally

The recession is over if the building industry at Muenster can be regarded as an indicator. According to word received this week from the two local building material suppliers, at least fourteen new homes are in various stages of construction, from groundwork to completion, and a few remodel and repair jobs are also under way.

The Leon Bayers, west of the sale barn, are moving into their new three bedroom home with two baths, brick veneer, garage, automatic heating and cooling.

Also, the Richard Blocks, near Leo, are occupying their two bedroom, two bath stucco home with automatic heating and cooling.

Not far from moving in, the Stewart Hughes, on the Muenster to Rosston road, are doing the finishing work in their home. It has three bedrooms and baths, double garage, brick veneer, central heat and cooling.

The Don Eckarts, two miles northeast of town, are installing sheetrock. Their home has three bedrooms and two baths, double garage, fireplace, brick veneer, central heating and cooling.

Likewise, sheetrock work is in progress at Bob LaCoe's on Park Lane. He will have three bedrooms, two baths, fireplace, central heating and cooling, brick veneer.

Albert and Joe Dangelmayr are also close to moving in. Presently at the cabinet stage, the house has four bedrooms, three baths, fireplace, central heat and cool, brick veneer, double carport.

The Judson Perrys, on North Maple, have framework going up on their place. They will have three bedrooms, two baths, fireplace, central heating and cooling, double garage and brick veneer.

It's framework time also at the Don Metzlers. They are building a three bedroom house with two baths, double garage, central heating and cooling, fireplace and brick veneer.

Bill Lawler, building at Lake Kiowa, is busy at inside painting. He will have four bedrooms, three baths, central heating and cooling, double garage and brick veneer.

Groundwork has just started on Sycamore Street for Robert Haverkamp. He's building a three bedroom brick house with two baths, central heating and cooling, fireplace and double garage.

Another house just starting is Billy Rohmer's at Sixth and Sycamore. It will have three bedrooms, two

Thieves vandalize schools

Unwelcome visitors were busy at thievery and vandalism at both Muenster schools Monday night. Their total take is reported at approximately $500 by Larry Holloway, the investigating officer, the damage in vandalism is also considerable.

At Sacred Heart they found cash in various desks and cabinets adding to about $500 and made a general mess in ransacking. Also, they damaged doors by prying locks, and broke four windows in entering.

At the public school they apparently found an unlocked window to enter the library and forced a lock to enter the principal's office. There they ransacked desks and cabinets and overlooked a bag of some $50 while apparently finding nothing. At the superintendent's office they are believed to have entered with a pass key, ransacked the place and found an estimated $4.

The break-ins occurred after 9 p.m. Local officers had no suspects late Tuesday.

STEP results please DPS

Texas Department of Public Safety officials say they are pleased with the results of the Selective Traffic Enforcement Program (STEP) conducted in this area from June 15 to August 31 because it accomplished just what it was intended to — reduce the number of accidents on area highways, particularly in Cooke County.

During that time frame in 1982, there were 106 accidents; this summer there were 67.

Last summer, four fatalities were recorded in those accidents; this summer there were none.

There were 42 injury accidents with 87 injuries last year; there were 23 injury accidents this year with 31 injuries.

The DWI STEP program involved beefed-up patrolling by troopers in the area with special attention paid to the problem of drinking and/or drunk drivers. In Cooke County alone, troopers worked 150

Red Cross pleased with blood drive, though 17 short of goal

Even though last week's blood drive failed to reach its quota of 100 pints, the response was wonderful, according to Chairman David Bright and the bloodmobile personnel of the Red Cross blood center.

The number of donors reporting was 85. Two of those failed to pass the screening tests, so the number actually giving was 83, a highly gratifying collection considering that conditions were less favorable than usual.

Red Cross technicians made allowance for the fact that the drive was a month ahead of schedule, and early after a holiday, and pleasant weather attracted many people to other activities. Besides, donors of high school age were mostly concerned with football rather than the blood program.

As usual, the drive brought out a few good news reports, such as eight of the donors gave for the first time, also three persons reached the status of gallon donors and one merits membership in the five gallon club. The three are Sandra Harrison, Wade Houseworth and Emilia Voth; the one is Joe A. Koessler.

The blood bank program, conducted by Red Cross with headquarters at Wichita Falls, serves a wide area of North Texas and South Oklahoma. The districts draw on the system for their needs and each in turn collects for all of the area. The program is popular as a way to provide high quality blood for lower cost transfusion, and now, with increasing concern over AIDS, it is regarded as less likely to transmit the dread disease.

As usual, volunteers of the hospital and hospital auxiliary joined Red Cross people in the blood collection. Representing the hospital were Florence Fisher, Aileen Cler, Lynda Yosten, Jane Ward, Gwen Carroll, Dianne Caplinger, Joan Waterscheid and Lillian Appel.

Auxiliary members were Betty Henscheid, Mary Lee Hennigan, Betty Felderhoff, Henrietta Fisch, Juanita Bright, Loretta Wimmer and Carolyn Bayer.

Kinard transferred to Hillsboro TP&L

Larry Kinard, Jr. has been named district customer service supervisor in Hillsboro for Texas Power & Light Company.

Kinard, who had held a similar position in Muenster since 1980, reported to his new assignment earlier this week.

"When I first came to Muenster, I was looking forward to working with the people here and I have thoroughly enjoyed being a part of this community,"

Kinard said. "My family and I are looking forward to what is ahead of us, but we certainly will miss our many friends here."

Kinard served as president of the Muenster Chamber of Commerce and has worked in many capacities of Germanfest, including chairmanship, and in the local Jaycees. He has been first vice-president of the Cooke County United Way and chairman of the Muenster United Way.

City chosen for rain checks

Muenster is one of the sites selected by the Army Corps of Engineers for a network of automated rain gauges in the watersheds of Lakes Grapevine and Lewisville to report rainfall amounts as they occur.

Equipment for the Muenster unit has been received and will be installed soon near the city's No. 3 water well on North Main. The equipment consists of a tipping bucket rain gauge, 17 in. high and 8 in. diameter; data collection platform, 2 ft. x 1 ft., by 1 ft.; an antenna 2-3 feet in length; and a solar panel and gel cell battery to provide power.

Those items will be mounted on a metal pole 7 to 8 feet high and will occupy relatively little space.

The method of operation: the data collection platform (DCP) will take a reading from the rain gauge at 15 or 30 minute intervals. Under normal conditions the DCP will store this information until a transmission is made to the satellite. The transmission is usually made every four hours. Under conditions of heavy rainfall the CDP will transmit each time it receives a reading from the rain gauge when the rainfall amount exceeds certain predetermined values.

This emergency type transmission will alert the Corps of Engineers that heavy rainfall is occurring and will aid in decision making to help control floods at Grapevine and Lewisville Lakes.

Good News

As high as the heavens are above the earth, so high are my ways above your ways and my thoughts above your thoughts.
For just as from the heavens the rain and snow come down
And do not return there till they have watered the earth, making it fertile and fruitful, Giving seed to him who sows and bread to him who eats,
So my word be that goes forth from my mouth;
It shall not return to me void, but shall do my will, achieving the end for which I sent it.

Temperature has improved but not the moisture. The comfort of fall prevailed Tuesday and Wednesday but the entire week was bone dry and the month's total to date is only .03. Also the total since July 1 is only 2.65 and the 1983 total is only 16.68 inches. Low and high temperatures of the week have been recorded as follows by Steve Moster.

Enterprise Editorial

Enough is enough

Not since the times when separate factions in Muenster battled over the issue of school consolidation has an issue created such controversy as the Lake Muenster project.

The seemingly incessant fighting which has ensued between those for and those against the project has reached a point where it is dividing nearly everyone who lives here. Either you're in favor of it, or you're against it; there's no in-between. Often, whose side you take is viewed as a fair indicator of your character and intelligence.

Those who favor the lake's construction are of that mind because they believe the conventional use of water wells will not fully satisfy the area's growing need for water. Those persons believe quite simply, that a reliable source of water is vital to ensure growth and prosperity for this city, and that construction of a reservoir is the most reliable way to go.

Those who are opposed to the idea are of that mind for several reasons; some simply don't want to lose any of their land, some are opposed to paying taxes to finance Muenster's share of the tab, and there are those who may be happy with the way things are and simply don't want to see any change or growth. A bond election may have made the final decision, but it could do nothing to squelch the surrounding controversy, which still persists today.

But controversies cannot be solved when there is no mutual effort to solve them. This seems to have been the case lately. The solution here, just as it is in other similar situations, involves mobilizing the effort and cooperation of a given number of individuals who spend a considerable amount of their time on their backsides. Such a group is almost always represented on both sides of an issue.

Dissension, in a city the size of Muenster, has an effect that is always damaging and often long-lasting.

The voting has been done, a decision has been made, and it's time to end the fighting; it's time for all concerned to work together to complete the task at hand.

Muenster has already weathered a number of issues which, because of the way they were handled, resulted in some long-lasting divisions within the community. We don't need another one.

WHAT POSITION should a person assume when praying? I heard a poem on the radio the other day that went something like this:

There once was a man named John Keys, who thought that one should always pray on bended knees;

There also was a fellow by the name of Sam Small, who believed that when praying one should look to the skies, with arms upraised, while standing very tall;

And then a man who was called Bill Dumb, said, "I believe that when praying a man should clasp his hands in front and cross his thumbs,"

But a man who went by the name of Joe Bread, recalled that he once fell in to a well, and as he began to descend, with his feet up in the air, said, "I began to pray, as I never prayed before, and the best praying I ever did, was while I was standing on my head!"

Now the moral of this story is that position is not nearly as important as attitude. The first three men seemed more concerned that their fellow man see them in the correct position for prayer than they did in whether God heard them or not. The last man, however, was sincere in his prayer and wanted God to hear his plea.

In Matthew 6:5-6 Jesus said, "And when you pray, you are not to be as the hypocrites: for they love to stand and pray in the synagogues and on the street corners, in order to be seen by men. Truly I say to you, they have their reward in full. But when you pray, go into your inner room, and when you have shut your door, pray to your Father who is in secret, and your Father who sees in secret will repay you."

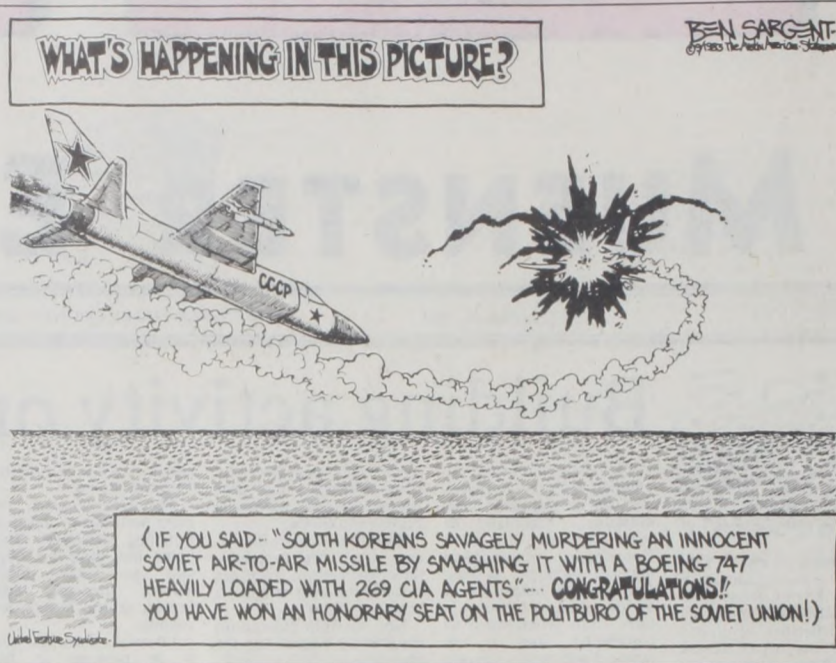

Throughout the Bible there are examples of men of God who prayed in various positions, such as standing, kneeling, with arms upraised, or bowed with head upon the ground.

In the scripture verses quoted above, we see that the hypocrites prayed while standing in the synagogues and on the street corners. However, once more we see that the emphasis is not on their position but on their attitude. The reason that they prayed in this manner was that they wanted everyone around them to see how "religious" they were. Jesus said that if their main objective was to seek attention and the admiration of those around them, then once they have obtained the reward they seek after, they cannot reasonably expect any other.

In contrast to those seeking personal attention, Jesus assured us that those who pray in private with a sincere heart, will be heard by our Father in heaven, and He will answer as He sees fit.

I am sure that everyone has had times when they prayed, often with tears in their eyes, when they felt a closeness to God which has been seldom experienced. I am sure there are also other times, usually when our attention-span is short and our concentration minimal, that we feel like our prayers bounce off the ceiling and we can't get through to God at all. Let us strive to have the proper attitude that the majority of our prayer times will fall into the first category.

Perspectives

THE CIVILIZED nations of the world are going about things in the wrong way in dealing with this Korean Airliner incident.

We're not fighting dirty. We all seem to be part of the same game, but we aren't playing according to the same set of rules.

Our first reactions to the news were typical: shock, sorrow, outrage. We were then treated to some heretofore confidential information concerning our nation's high levels of intelligence gathering as we listened to recordings of radio transmissions describing the whole bloody incident.

Our outrage grew. But that's about the only noticeably significant thing that's happened. President Reagan seemed to promise a dose of arsenic, then settled for a glass of sour milk.

At first, the Soviets claimed to have had no knowledge of what happened to the jet or the 269 civilians aboard it. Later they admitted what they had done, but defended their actions, saying they were justified in downing the plane because it was on a spy mission. Most of us probably doubt that the civilian airliner was actually spying, but for just a minute, let's assume it was. So what?

The central issue here is massacre, not espionage. Besides, the truth is, in the category of information retrievable by planes flying at 30,000 feet, there isn't much the Americans and the Soviets don't already know about each other, anyway.

There were no doubt more than just a few people who were quite skeptical about what the U.S. would do about this incident when news of it broke. "Will we finally take a strong stand against the Soviets on something?" people must have asked.

It doesn't seem so. Granted, there isn't much we can do, and that's really pretty pitiful.

Economic warfare is just about the only type of warfare we're capable of waging against the Soviets. And even so, it's not the type of war we could win by ourselves; if we refused to sell them grain, and someone else sold it to them, what's the use?

But if no one did... Sure, such an idea is bad news for the American Farmer, who has already seen more than his share of bad news. But maybe that would be a little more incentive for the government to assist the farmers. Goodness knows if the money weren't spent in that direction, it would be spent in some other area a lot less worthwhile.

Even if such a move made things tough economically for us, it's a safe bet that the West is far more capable of weathering hard times than the East. But such things, in and of themselves, may not be enough either.

The atrocities continued through this week when Monday, the Soviet Union vetoed a United Nations Security Council resolution which would have "deplored" the incident. All those who voted, voted for the resolution; the Soviets then vetoed it. The relative worthlessness of U.N. resolutions aside, does that veto mean that the U.N. officially has made no denouncement of what happened?

As awful as it seems, fighting dirty may soon be the only option we have left.

Heritage News Forum

DESPITE THE declared end of martial law in Poland, life for the average Pole will remain essentially unchanged. Military rule has simply been replaced with a series of "temporary" regulations that are equally harsh and more likely to become permanent.

Although General Wojciech Jaruzelski's regime might boast otherwise, the regulations confirm the underlying fear of Polish officials that the popular discontent that resulted in the formation of the now-banned Solidarity trade union, KOR and other dissident groups is yet to be contained.

This fear is further demonstrated by the selective amnesty enacted by Jaruzelski's puppet Parliament. The move is clearly designed to appease Western nations, especially the United States, into lifting economic sanctions, while releasing only the most minor political offenders. Dozens of the officially reported 550 political prisoners now in Polish jail cells will not be freed. These include a number of former Solidarity leaders and KOR dissidents charged with conspiracy against the state. The "show trials," as they are being called in the West, must go on.

Those outside continue to remain active, however. Although such underground leaders as Zbigniew Bujak might benefit from the amnesty, he advised his colleagues to stay in hiding until a full amnesty is granted. He also encouraged a continued boycott of the "unions" approved by the government to replace Solidarity.

According to Leopold Labedz, a Polish emigre living in London and editor of a special two-volume report, "Poland Under Jaruzelski," appearing in SURVEY, the influential and informative British journal of East-West studies, the hopes of dissidents have not been crushed, nor has their movement.

"Since September 1939," he writes, "when the Polish state was invaded from West and East by the allied armies of Nazi Germany and the Soviet Union, the Polish eagle has not ceased beating its wings against the bars of its cage.

"The cage is seriously damaged," he says, but "the struggle continues despite countless arrests, persecution and repression."

It would be an unfortunate mistake to read the wrong things into General Jaruzelski's latest gambit. Martial law has been replaced with a bureaucratic substitute. Women and children jailed during the political unrest are being set free; but the show trials are slated to take place as scheduled. General Jaruzelski is undoubtedly in firm command. Solidarity has been put in its place. And the pope has come and gone without incident.

Still, events have been set in motion in Poland that are th annual Twilight Trot, a five mile fun run for males and females in six age groups (under 14, 14 to 18, 19 to 25, 26 to 35, and over 45). The top three of each age in each division will win trophies. Entry fee is $4 for each person and the starting time is 6 o'clock.

Next is a fried chicken supper with serving to start at 6:30 p.m. The charge is $4.50 per plate and includes beans, cole slaw, bread and potato chips with the chicken.

An added attraction, which is growing in popularity lately, is a tug-of-war tournament. Men's teams entering are limited to 1400 pounds of total weight per team and women's teams are limited to seven persons per team. Entry fee is $50 per team and the top two teams will receive trophies plus a T-shirt for each member.

According to DPS Trooper Harlan Sewell, there were 171 DWI arrests made during the program. Of that number, 45 pleaded guilty, 47 have been probated and 79 are now pending.

Sergeant Charles Carey, area supervisor for Cooke and Grayson County said no alcoholic beverages were involved in accidents during June and July; and only 5 accidents in August involved alcohol. He said that even though the program has been completed, he hopes area residents "will still be ever-alert for the drinking and/or drunk driver."

JOIN Cooke County EMS "CAREFREE"

In response to the overwhelming support of the area residents and the Cooke County Commissioners Court, the Cooke County Emergency Medical Service is once again offering their CAREFREE subscription service.

The program is not an insurance policy. It is a non-profit service presented to county residents whereby services are provided to those residents as many times as are medically necessary at no additional cost within the county, says Don Rice, CCEMS administrator. An additional $1 per mile will be charged for travel outside Cooke County.

CAREFREE accepts responsibility for all charges not covered by Medicare, Medicaid, or any other third party insurance carrier, including any deductible amounts, he says. Insurance claims will be handled by the CCEMS.

CCEMS has established a goal of $1,500 subscribers to the program. Interested persons are requested to send a check for $35, payable to CAREFREE of Cooke County, to: Cooke County EMS CAREFREE, 305 S. Chestnut Gainesville, Texas 76240. Include the subscriber's name, address and phone number.

seems proper to insist that their life style does make a difference and their repulsive habit bars them from acceptance.

In New York prisons steps have already been taken to protect the healthy by segregating and isolating. It brings up a question: are those prisoners entitled to more protection from disease than the general public?

Obviously this degree of separation for all of the public is not attainable, but it does seem that something can be done. In fact, some leaders of the gay movement themselves have called on others to start a housecleaning by banning homosexual bath houses, the places which are worst about spreading AIDS. But it isn't happening.

Like the blood bank, food handling is a vital issue in the AIDS problem. Small cuts from knives frequently occur in kitchens, and the wound can possibly become a cause of spreading the disease through the food they serve. Some people are reluctant to eat in restaurants for this reason.

Politicians who have ignored the fundamentals of morality by their generous attitude toward homosexual rights may find that they have some mistakes to correct. For the sake of all of us, those characters need to be demoted to their former unacceptable status. That's needed for the physical as well as moral good of our country.

Lenora Isenhour serves on Army panel

Sgt. 1st Class Lenora Isenhour, a native of Muenster and a 10 year member of the military service now stationed at Fort Hood, was in Washington recently on special assignment to a reassessment panel to advise the Army on future policy regarding job assignments of women in the service.

Sgt. Isenhour is a radio technician in air traffic control at Fort Hood with a record of two tours of duty in Germany. She was the only enlisted woman on the panel invited to join six high ranking women officers, because of her personal experience in the jobs concerned during service in Germany.

The panel was conducted by D.L. Spurlock, assistant secretary of the Army for manpower and reserve affairs. He asked the women to share their experiences and beliefs on whether women should remain in jobs which sometimes would be close to the front in war time.

Spurlock said that Sgt. Isenhour and the other panel members were outspoken in discussing opinions and policies but he did not indicate what his findings would be.

Relative to this month, field commanders of women who are in close combat support positions in Germany said recently that they do not want to see the women moved from their jobs. They pointed out that in some cases not only are the women doing a good job but also that male replacements could be hard to find.

While in Germany, Sgt. Isenhour studied for a degree which she is due to receive soon from the University of Maryland. She also attended aeronautical school, received the Army's Commendation Medal twice, and the Impact Award for Achievement, along with several other medals.

Sgt. Isenhour is the former Lenora Fleitman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Fleitman and grand daughter of Mrs. Millie Fleitman and the late Al Fleitman, all of Muenster, and the late Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bauer of Gainesville. She is a 1973 graduate of Muenster High School, and is married to Sgt. 1st Class Gene Isenhour, a native of North Carolina and a 13 year Army veteran. They have a son, Joshua, 3, and live in Copperas Cove.

WHY WOULD A COMPANY THAT DOESN'T EVEN SELL HEAT PUMPS OFFER A CASH BONUS FOR BUYING ONE?

When you replace your home's old, worn out heating and cooling system with a new energy efficient heat pump, Texas Power & Light will pay you a cash bonus for buying it. Based on the tonnage capacity of the unit.

But the cash bonus is just the first benefit of installing a new electric heat pump. You also save money on your operating costs. You help save energy all year 'round. And by using less energy, you help level our peak load demand. (That's the time when more people are using more electricity.)

So you can see why even though we don't sell or install heat pumps, we want to give you all the information you need to save energy and money when you do buy one.

Elaine Walterscheid, Dale Schilling united in ceremony at Sacred Heart

Elaine Renee Walterscheid became the bride of Dale Joseph Schilling on Saturday, September 10, in a Nuptial Mass with traditional double ring vows officiated by Father Victor Gillespie in Sacred Heart Church at 5 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julian Walterscheid and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schilling.

Their vows were recited before an altar decorated with lighted candles, and arrangements of white gladioli and mauve ribbon bows. Tall floor candelabra at the sides of the altar held lighted white candles entwined with greenery and mauve bows. At the entrance to the sanctuary was an archway entwined with white flowers and greenery. The unity candle was placed on the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was wearing a formal white wedding gown of sheer silk organza over taffeta with a fitted lace bodice. Elbow-length, lace puffed sleeves were enhanced with a wide lace ruffle. The skirt was adorned with pearl-encrusted lace appliques, and an elegant pattern of lace marked the center front of the dress, beginning at the instep. Completely bordered in lace edging and accordion-pleated organza ruffles, the full skirt swept into an aisle-wide, cathedral length train.

She wore her floor length illusion veil attached to a wreath of silk flowers, and carried her bridal bouquet in a cascade of white roses, mauve roses and white stephanotis. For sentiment and something old, she borrowed her mother's white lace wedding handkerchief.

Attendants

Stacie Miller was her sister's matron of honor; and Karen Moster, groom's sister and Sandra Walterscheid, bride's sister-in-law were bridesmaids. They wore floor-length mauve moire taffeta gowns designed with ruffled neckline and shirred cummerbund with a self-material rose. Each carried a white lace fan with mauve silk flowers.

Leslie Fuhrmann, bride's niece and April Truebenbach, groom's niece were flower girls, dressed similarly to the bridesmaids and carrying baskets of ribbon roses.

Roger Endres was his cousin's best man; and Melvin Schilling, groom's brother and Jesse Walterscheid bride's brother were groomsmen.

Bert Hesse, a friend, Wade Walterscheid, bride's brother, Kirk Mollenkopf and Steve Henscheid groom's cousins were ushers. Kyle Walterscheid bride's brother and Jason and Ryan Gehrig bride's cousins were Mass servers.

Rita Pels, groom's cousin presented organ music as guests assembled and during the Mass, with "Nadia's Theme" as the processional and "Trumpet Tune" as the recessional. Joe Bartush sang "Mother, At Your Feet Is Kneeling" as the couple placed a floral tribute at Mary's altar.

Special guests at the wedding were grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Schilling, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Walterscheid and Mrs. Dora Henscheid; the bride's godparents, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvan Walterscheid and the groom's godparents Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Henscheid who also gave the Readings in the Mass.

Reception

A reception, dinner and dance followed in the Sacred Heart Community Center. Beverly Fuhrmann, bride's sister and Tammy Henscheid, groom's cousin presided at the guest book.

Rohmer's Restaurant catered the dinner. Debbie Rice, bride's cousin baked and served the white wedding cake and the chocolate, horse-shoe shaped groom's cake, assisted by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Denis Walterscheid. Reception assistants were Tracy Henscheid, Dana Stoffels, Shari Voth and Gail Fisher who also were cake servers.

The bride and groom are 1980 graduates of Sacred Heart High School. She attended Cooke County College and is a dental assistant employed by Dr. Gerald Graham. The groom is employed by Muenster Milling Co. When the couple returns from a wedding trip to Hot Springs, Arkansas, they will be at home in Muenster.

Among guests who came from a distance to attend the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Roman Leuschen of Westphalia, Iowa, and their daughter, Sue Leuschen of Arlington, Tx.; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Smith and children Pat, Noreen and Nancy of Council Bluffs, Iowa and Ron Smith of Lincoln, Nebraska.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents on Sunday Sept. 4 in their home.

Carl Schillings host rehearsal dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schilling hosted the rehearsal dinner in their home on Sunday, September 4 honoring Elaine Walterscheid and Dale Schilling.

Decorations in the party room and on the dinner tables carried out the bride's chosen colors of white and dusty rose. White wicker baskets with dusty rose flowers were table centerpieces. Cut glass candleholders and dusty rose candles, with sprays of English ivy added to table decor.

A sumptuous buffet of smoked turkey, baked ham and an assorted complementing menu including hot homemade rolls and warm fresh peach cobbler and apple pie was served to 27 guests.

Attending with the honored couple, Elaine and Dale, were the groom's parents, the Carl Schillings, hosts for the party and the bride's parents the Julian Walterscheids and the honor attendants for the approaching wedding: Stacie Miller matron of honor; Sondra Walterscheid and Karen Moster bridesmaids; April Truebenbach and Leslie Fuhrmann flower girls.

Also Roger Endres best man; Melvin (Babe) Schilling and Jesse Walterscheid groomsmen. Special guests were grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Walterscheid and Mrs. Dora Henscheid. The bride's other grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Schilling were out-of-town and unable to attend. Also attending were Carla and Allen Truebenbach and Mike and Beverly Fuhrmann.

PUBLIC NOTICE
BRIEF EXPLANATORY STATEMENTS OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS
SPECIAL ELECTION
NOVEMBER 8, 1983

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 91 proposes a constitutional amendment which requires a county with a population of 30,000 or more to be divided into not less than four nor more than eight justice of the peace precincts. A county with a population of 18,000 or more but less than 30,000 shall be divided into not less than two nor more than five justice of the peace precincts. A county with a population of less than 18,000 shall be designated as a single justice of the peace precinct or, upon a finding of necessity by the commissioners court, shall be divided into more than one justice of the peace precinct but not more than four. The amendment provides further, that in any precinct in which there is a city with a population of 18,000 or more, two justices of the peace shall be elected. The amendment allows a justice of the peace, constable or commissioner to continue in office until the expiration of his term, although a change in precinct boundaries results in the officer no longer being a resident of the precinct for which he was elected or appointed and allows a justice of the peace or constable to continue in office until the expiration of his term even though a change in precinct boundaries results in the abolishment of the precinct or more than one justice of the peace or constable serving the precinct. Vacancies in the office of justice of the peace or constable that result from a precinct boundary change shall be filled by the commissioners court until the next general election. The amendment would take effect on January 1, 1984, and counties with populations of less than 30,000 and with more than four justice of the peace and constable precincts would have until January 1, 1987 to comply with the amendment.

Hornets sting Panthers; win '83 Homecoming

Neal Flusche, 22, finds a hole in the line for a nice gain in Muenster's 14-7 win over Saint Jo. The key blocker, No. 32, is his brother Shawn.

Muenster High freshmen came through in a crisis last week and did a solid job of replacing more experienced teammates who were out of the lineup with injury and illness. The Hornets not only outscored Saint Jo's Panthers 14-7 but also dominated the statistics. They led 11 to 4 in first downs and 225 to 82 in total yardage.

Unfortunately they also drew the most penalties. Being rather new on the job, they had troubles with their timing and frequently jumped before the ball was snapped. Their success is explained principally by lots of help up front. The Hornet line dominated, making lots of openings for teammates but leaving few for opponents.

Freshmen who looked good in their initial action were Shawn Flusche, Gary Grewing, Andy Burnette and Drue Bynum, replacing Ronnie Fisher, Leslye Wells and Jeff McAden. Neal Flusche and Johnny Eldred were the only regular backs on the job. Other Hornets not in action were Ryan Klement, Keith Klement and Darren Walterscheid.

MHS made a good start, going 30 yards on first possession to a touchdown in 6 plays. Both Flusches plus Bynum had a part in moving to the 1 yard line and Eldred finished the job with a sneak. Neal Flusche's kick made it 7 points in less than 3 minutes.

The remainder of the quarter plus a few minutes into the second featured an interception by Mark Hoenic, a Hornet fumble and a roughing the kicker penalty on the Hornets, keeping Saint Jo in business for its only TD. On the next play Parker gained 28 yards to the 2 and Reeves scored two plays later from the 1. Reeves also kicked the bonus point. The score was tied 7-7 at 9:41 in the second period.

MHS hit its stride again on next possession. They gained 58 in five plays, completing their only pass of the night, Eldred to Wolf, for 29 yards and overcoming a 5 yard penalty along the way. Neal Flusche scored from the 21 and kicked for a PAT. The scoring was complete at 14-7 at 7:30 in the second period.

Another Hornet drive in the second period fizzled after a 50 yard gain.

The second half featured defense as the Panthers allowed only three first downs and 58 yards, whereas Hornets allowed two first downs and 34 yards. Also during the period

Mark Hoenic recovered a fumble, claiming both of the game's two turnovers.

Hornets to meet Trojans Friday

Muenster High Hornets, after last week's gratifying comeback from their disappointing season opener, are looking forward eagerly to their contest at Windthorst Friday night.

Coach Peters said this week that the win over Saint Jo was a great morale booster, especially in view of doing the job short handed. Several boys, out of the lineup with injury and illness, were replaced by freshmen like Shawn Flusche, Gary Grewing, Drue Bynum and Andy Burnette and came through with flying colors. And Neal Flusche was the work horse on both offense and defense in spite of a tough siege of virus. As regards other absentees, McAden is expected back this week, but not Fisher and Wells.

Nevertheless the boys are ambitious and confident, working hard this week and specially trying to improve their timing to avoid penalties.

Regarding the game, Peters expects it to be a dandy. He says the Trojans are young, like the Hornets, and hungry for a win after losses to class AA opponents. Besides, the team is motivated by a long time tradition, and even more so by homecoming.

Kickoff time is 8 p.m. at Windthorst.

Another game with Windthorst is also on schedule. Junior high kids will play Muenster's kids Thursday night at 6 p.m.

Callisburg dumps Lindsay 34-19

Two fumbles early in the first period put the Lindsay Knights in a hole last Friday at Callisburg, after which they spent the rest of the game in a futile effort to catch up. From then on each team scored three times with the Wildcats leading in both first downs and total yardage, and the final score was 34-19.

The first turnover was a calamity, the fumble being recovered by the Wildcats only three yards from the goal. Hollandsworth scored from there and Pethel kicked the extra point.

Still in the first period the Cats got their second big break when the snap for an intended punt sailed over Dankesreiter's head and Callisburg took over on the 10. Two plays later Strickland scored from the 9 and Pethel's kick upped the score to 14-0.

Lindsay's first break came in the second quarter as Parsons blocked a Wildcat punt, giving Lindsay possession 44 yards away. Short gains moved to the 1 where Kenneth Fuhman plunged over for a TD. Anderle's kick upped the count to 14-7.

Still in the second quarter, Callisburg replied with a pair of long scoring drives. The first went 73 yards and ended with a 26 yard pass, Hollandsworth to Strickland. The next was a 70 yard drive on short gain and ended with a 3 yard run by Strickland. Pethel made good on both PAT kicks. The halftime score was 28-7.

Following a scoreless third quarter, the Wildcats had a set-up only 15 yards away after the Knights, in desperation tried a fourth down gamble and failed. Shortly after Beavers scored on a 6 yard pass. The kick for bonus failed, closing out the Callisburg count at 34.

With the coming of the final period Lindsay's fortune finally took a turn for the better. It started with Steve Corcoran's interception on the Wildcat 36 and advanced in short gains to the 1 where Corcoran scored on a quarterback sneak. Lindsay got its final TD as the last minute was ticking away. Scott Fleitman gave his team a set-up on the 11 by blocking a Wildcat punt. A few plays advanced to the 1 and Corcoran finished the job with another quarterback sneak. Tries for bonus points failed after both of the final quarter scores.

One of Lindsay's problems of the game was Dieter's ankle injury early in the second half. Nevertheless he was the Knights' leading gainer with 31 yards on 10 carries. The worst problem, as Coach Grady Roller sees it, was the two early fumbles, "after which the team never really got back into it."

Muenster juniors win at Saint Jo

Junior High boys of Muenster Elementary had everything their way in winning 50-0 at Saint Jo last week. The game really was not a contest as Muenster had the advantage in both size and numbers and dominated both offensively and defensively. However it rates as good practice for both.

Touchdown producers were Bob Youngblood and Scott McAden, each two, also Brian Hess, Weldon Hermes and Dale Reiter.

PIK means income... and taxes!

Let Edward D. Jones & Co. show you the right tax-free investments to protect your PIK dollars.

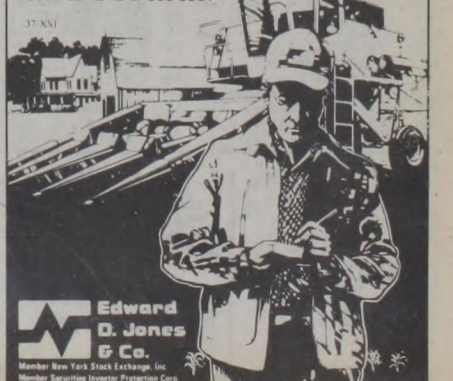

This year, the federal government has taken some of the guesswork out of farming with its Payment-in-Kind program. They've guaranteed a certain amount of commodity you'll have available to sell. Sounds good, doesn't it?

But here's something else they've guaranteed - you'll still have to pay taxes on that PIK income.

So this year, while your production costs are down and while you've got some guaranteed income, let Edward D. Jones & Co. show you how to keep those PIK dollars in your pocket - with careful, conservative, tax-free and tax-advantaged investments.

Adler makes word processing as low-cost and easy as typing.

Introducing the ADLER TEXTRITER

If you thought you couldn't afford word processing, think again. Adler's new Textriter gives it to you at less than half what you'd expect to pay.

Simply plug the new Textriter into any Adler electronic typewriter touch a key, and you're on your way to increasing typing productivity with word processing.

Your secretary will learn how to produce error-free letters and documents quickly and easily. Since the typist can preview errors on the 12-inch display before they're printed, you'll never see them at all. And it's as easy to revise and edit on the display as it is to proofread a typewritten page. In seconds, you can insert, delete and move words, phrases and whole paragraphs which can then be printed out automatically on the typewriter.

Since the Textriter stores documents, frequently used phrases, form outlines and address lists in its memory changes can be made without retyping the complete document. It's a great time-saver. There's also virtually unlimited storage with optional floppy disks, each of which stores up to 80 pages of text.

Add easy-to-use word processing to any Adler electronic typewriter. Textriter is the remarkably economical way to do it.

Valley View Eagles dominate Tigers

In Sacred Heart's game with Valley View, Neal Hesse, 5, picks up yardage with the help of blockers Mark Hesse, 43, and Jim Bartush, 39. The Tiger in the background Troy Yosten, 76.

Valley View's Eagles, strong contenders for the West Zone title in District 5-A, were too much for Sacred Heart's Tigers last Friday. They led the statistics and cashed in a few turnovers to boot, and won by a count of 20-0.

The first turnover went the other way, however, and cost the visitors. Following the Tigers' punt on third series, Valley View went to work on its 10 yard line and covered 65 yards in 10 plays, then wasted its fat opportunity on a fumble. Switzer recovered it for SH on the 23. Tigers then advanced a pair of first downs almost to midfield before Neil Hesse got off a great kick into the wind for 46 yards.

From their own 7, then, the Eagles put on a second drive that went all of the way. They used 10 plays and 6 first downs in moving the 93 yards and the big gainers were 41 yards and 11 yards on Alexander's passes and an 11 yard run by Sappington. Alexander scored from the 7 after having a 2 yard score nullified by a penalty. The kick for PAT failed.

Tigers responded with 1 first down to their 29 and regained possession when the Eagles fumbled their punt. However SH promptly gave up the ball on its own fumble.

With 43 yards to go, the visitors started working on their next TD. Alexander scored on a quarterback sneak from the 1, and big plays along the way were Wood's run for 13 and Alexander's passes for 14 and 9. A pass for bonus points failed. The half-time score was 12-0.

Early in the third quarter SH got into contention following two exchanges of punts. The drive from mid-field gained 39 to the 10 but the next series went sour and the Tigers lost a fourth down try at the 18.

Next VV cranked up its third sustained drive, using 6 first downs to go the 82 yards. Sappington scored from the 2 and the key gains were 19 and 11 on passes to Sappington and Mike Alexander and a 12 yard run by Ward. Alexander's pass to Williams added 2 points.

The Eagles threatened again in the fourth quarter, advancing 38 yards to their own 45 before being stopped by Neil Hesse's interception. And Tigers likewise tried again. The final effort gained 31 yards before Donnelly's interception stopped it on the Eagle 24.

Jim Bartush was offensive standout for the Tigers with 63 yards on 11 carries. Strong on defense were Ron Dangelmayr with 12 tackles, also Neil Hesse, Troy Yosten, Bret Walterscheid and Mark Hesse.

Tigers to host Panthers

Sacred Heart Tigers and their coaches are resolved that the time has come to break into the win column. Their opponents are Saint Jo's Panthers who are about equally rated with Sacred Heart.

The big reason for the confidence, according to coach Virgil Henscheid, is that the Tigers looked good in last week's 20-0 loss to Valley View, a strong contender for the 9-A district title. Tiger troubles in the game are explained mostly by failure to score when they had a chance and more so by the near flawless execution by the Eagles. They are a strong and efficient team, Henscheid said.

On the other hand Sacred Heart did a good job even though it was not adequate for the day's challenge. The team has improved every week to date, especially in blocking and running. Regarding the opposition Henscheid expects to find fast and experienced backs but less experience in the line. It should be a close game with the breaks as an important factor.

The game will be on Sacred Heart field starting at 8 p.m.

Muenster pee wees win opener 30-0

The Muenster Oilers of the Boys Club pee wee football league started their season Tuesday night by rolling over Saint Jo's Black Cats 30-0.

They were in charge all the way, allowing their visitors only two first downs while they marked up eight plus four touchdowns.

The first period showed little progress but a turnover for each side and got started near the end with a drive of 80 yards capped by Troy Pagel's 41 yard break away. James Hennigan's run added 2 points.

Next one resulted when Saint Jo's kick attempt was spoiled by a bad snap from center. Jeff Hellman recovered in the end zone for a TD.

Number three started as Ryan Hess recovered a Cat fumble. Donny Boydston was the work horse in the 42 yard drive ending in a 3 yard TD by Troy Pagel.

Late in the half Boydston scored on three runs for a total of 53 yards and also ran for two points.

Cubs lose 6 to 0 at Valley View

Junior high Cubs of Sacred Heart were 6-0 losers in a game at Valley View Thursday night. Though breaking even 7 to 7 in the count of first downs, they failed to put their gains together whereas the young Eagles were more fortunate.

The TD came just before the half on a 13 yard pass from Privett to Mere. It started when Privett intercepted for VV on the 30. Other gains of the short drive were a 5 yard run and an 11 yard pass.

That was the first and last of the scoring. In the first quarter Ryan Bayer's run plus a face-mask penalty advanced to the 27 but an interception on the next series spoiled the threat.

Again in the third period the Cubs gained 33 on Taylor's pass to Dangelmayr but ran out of steam on the next series. Shortly after Ryan Bayer gained 33 to the Eagle 21 but failed to keep going.

And another opportunity went sour in the last period. It started at the Eagle 41 where Becker's pass defense caused a fumble and Deano Bayer recovered. Scott Taylor's passes of 9 to Becker and 13 to Koelzer reached the 18 but the threat ended with another fumble.

County Agent's Report

This year we have been fortunate in most instances to harvest both good crops from wheat and milo. We experienced several problems with our milo this year, but with these difficulties there were still good yields. One thing we observed early in some fields was damage from yellow sugar cane aphids. They inject a toxin into the plant and cause the leaves to turn purple. A host plant to this small yellow aphid is Johnsongrass. So reduction in Johnsongrass patches on field borders help in seedling milo development.

Another problem was the drought in a lot of instances. We had poor stands until more moisture was received to germinate seeds. We can't control moisture received, but we can control a lot of insects. Stress to seedling plants can stunt, kill, or cause poor stands and erratic maturity in fields. Some producers in the county and area are using an insecticide (Furidan) for control of greenbug and cinch bug problems with good success. As usual the least amount of problems this year was from the sorghum midge. Midge showed up in Cooke County this year about July 11. This was past the yellow blossom stage in most instances. Some late milo did show midge damage in large populations, though.

Recently we combined the grain sorghum variety plots that we had on the Albert Zimmerer farm at Hood. One of the biggest problems with the varieties was lodging. It should be noted that several of the varieties in the demonstration that showed the least amount of lodging were the worst in other areas of Cooke County. The plots were planted April 12 and harvested on August 16. Results are listed:

Traveling livestock must have health papers

With the fall season at hand, fair time is also here. And that means more livestock will be hauled to shows in this area.

Here's a reminder from the Texas Animal Health Commission for producers who will be shipping livestock from Oklahoma into Texas and those who will be crossing the B and C brucellosis line in this area.

Joe Kuykendall, Muenster Texas Animal Health Commission compliance officer, suggests you have the necessary health papers for your livestock.

"We want to make sure everyone is in compliance with state regulations. And those regulations have this purpose: to maintain the health requirements to keep from spreading livestock diseases," he said.

Kuykendall has been with the Texas Animal Health Commission in this area for about seven years. He works on the Texas-Oklahoma line and also checks the Texas B and C brucellosis line.

"Most of the people hauling livestock into Texas or across the B and C line are very cooperative. We have only a small percentage that we have to file a complaint on," he said.

The B and C brucellosis line separates these counties in this area in accordance with the Texas brucellosis program: B area counties are those west of and including Cooke, Wise, Tarrant and Johnson, C area counties are those east of and including Grayson, Denton, and Dallas.

The Texas Brucellosis program provides for a B and C area of Texas. The B area is generally in the western half of the state where brucellosis infection is less of a problem than in the eastern half of the state.
