NUMBER 45

For the umpteenth time James Watt, secretary of the interior, is in political trouble for something he has said. This time the remark is said to be his worst faux-pas ever and ample reason for being booted out of his job.

The statement which brought on the flood of critical comment was made at a breakfast speech to 200 lobbyists of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce. Watt said the commission on Federal Coal Leasing had "every kind of mixture you can have. I have a black, I have a woman, two Jews and a cripple. And we have talent."

In these times when so much is said about equal employment opportunity and giving jobs to women and minorities and the handicapped, the remark might have been taken as a reminder that Watt was cooperating with the accepted federal policy. On the other hand it could have been a slur belittling the persons mentioned. Well, since he is unpopular with liberal politicians and most of the media, we can easily imagine why so much noise has erupted. A related thought is that so many quotes have smitten the last sentence, "And we have talent," an unlikely remark if an insult was intended.

Besides, remembering that so many want to see Watt booted out, we can understand that the big fuss also amounts to criticism of the administration. The hassle makes one wonder. Is the issue really an insult to the persons mentioned or is it a weapon of political conflict?

In a pretense of cooperation, the Soviet Union has handed over to Korea a number of items taken from the area where plane 007 and 269 passengers were shot down by a trigger happy Russian pilot. After world disapproval of the barbaric act has been so emphatically expressed the USSR has no choice but to counteract as much as possible the damage it has done to its image. Of course, the smart thing now is to be considerate and helpful regarding the return of possessions, especially those which might be treasured by survivors.

However, considering the Soviet attitude in all the dialogue that has followed the savage act, one can easily suspect that present motives are not altogether altruistic. In the first place the black box containing the plane's flight log is not among the items returned. And it will not be, whether it has been recovered or will be recovered. Soviets will not release any evidence contrary to their version of the incident. And if the box ever comes to light we can be reasonably certain that the Reds altered it.

The Russian attitude is clearly shown in their several versions of denying the original charges of US and Korea. First the Soviets said they knew nothing about it, then that the plane was lost in an accident. But after solid evidence, they finally admitted that the plane was shot down by the USSR, and

Officials: Hepatitis panic unnecessary

Medical officials in Muenster and Gainesville both say the confirmation of hepatitis cases just north of the Red River is "a matter of concern," in the Cooke County area, but not worthy of the panic which has been evident since the announcement.

Officials in Oklahoma made the announcement earlier this month that several cases had been confirmed in the Marietta area and connected the cases to some restaurants in the area.

Persons who had eaten at the restaurants within a 30-day period of the report were urged to see physicians.

Since that time, few cases have been confirmed in Cooke County. Dr. Martin M. Kralicke of Muenster said his knowledge of cases included: one suspected case later proven negative, one mild case of a young boy not requiring hospitalization and one "fairly severe" case of a Thackerville woman. Kralicke describes the initial reaction locally as "unnecessary panic."

"For one thing, these are Hepatitis A cases," he said. "Hepatitis-type A isn't as severe as type B.

"If you're sitting ten feet away from a person who has it, that's not going to do it. It takes intimate contact to spread it."

Dr. John Parker in Gainesville said three persons have been admitted at the Gainesville Memorial Hospital with confirmed cases of Hepatitis-type A. Also, there have been three or four more cases not requiring hospitalization.

Gainesville Hospital Administrator Gerald Culwell said the initial reaction there was also overblown, but the worry later subsided.

"We had a situation that was almost a panic," he said.

Coody passes on 6th term as legislator

Bill Coody, state representative for Wise, Parker and Cooke counties announced at an Austin press conference recently that he would not seek reelection to that post. Although Coody's current term won't end until January 1985, he said he is making the announcement early in order to give potential candidates time to plan their campaigns.

Coody, who lives in Weatherford, is currently serving his sixth consecutive legislative term, and is now chairman of the House Financial Institutions Committee.

"It's not that I'm burned out," he said in explaining his reason for leaving, "I just want to be able to spend more time with my family and my business.

"It's been more than a decade, and that gets to be a long time."

Coody said he felt comfortable about his decision to leave at a time he felt things were going well. "I think we had a really good (legislative) session this time around."

Coody, who was instrumental in getting banks to lower interest rates for credit cards, was selected by Texas Monthly magazine as one of the 10 best legislators of the recent session.

"I've appreciated the opportunity to serve the people of Cooke County during my time as a representative," he said. However, Coody has only served as Cooke County's representative since January, the result of a last-minute redistricting action.

Coody has not said whether he will consider running for office again in the future.

Second in a series: merit pay

Our system of public education

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second in a series of articles on public education written by Betty Pyle, president of the Texas Classroom Teachers Association. This week's article addresses the merit pay system for teachers.

By BETTY PYLE
President, Texas Classroom Teachers Association

Most of us have grown up in this country believing that those who work the hardest should be paid the most. Why shouldn't the worker who can produce 20 widgets a day be paid more than the worker who produces only 10?

In the wake of the recent outcry against the inadequacies of our public schools, many people have been promoting the merit pay system - paying those who perform the best the most - as a cure-all for what ails our schools. After all, if it works in industry why shouldn't it work in our public schools?

Focusing on this single topic - merit pay for teachers - could delay meaningful changes in our education system, changes that need priority and need to be addressed. These include teacher pay in general, longer school days and longer school years, classroom discipline and more financial support from federal, state and local governments.

In addition, merit pay raises some important questions, such as: How would meritorious teachers be identified, and by whom? And is there enough money available from the state or local school district for merit pay?

What Would Be The Determining Criteria For Merit Pay?

Is the number of children taught a reasonable measure for establishing merit? One important point that politicians and others who are promoting merit pay seem to forget is that our children are not widgets - some assembly line product - and that our teachers are not factory workers. Neither should be treated as such, and it is doubtful that many parents would want their children taught on the "assembly line approach" to education.

Can a teacher's merit be judged by student achievement test scores or more students with higher grades? If achievement test scores are used to decide how much teachers are paid, our children's progress in school is being equated with dollars and cents. Surely we do not want to create a system indicating that the progress of an intelligent child is more important than that of a slow child, and therefore the teacher of the brighter child should be paid more than those who teach the less gifted. Who deserves merit pay: the teacher who helps a bright student increase one or two grade levels in achievement tests or the teacher who has helped a slow child finally learn to read and write, even though he still scores only six months better than he did last year and a grade level below where he should be on an achievement test?

In addition, using students' test scores to determine teacher pay could backfire. Students who don't like a teacher who is a strong disciplinarian could intentionally score poorly on achievement tests just to get even with the teacher, particularly if the tests don't count toward passing or failing a subject.

In addition, merit pay based on achievement tests and grades could cause parents to fight to get their children enrolled in classes of superior-rated teachers, and it could cause students who aren't enrolled in those classes to consider their educations as second-rate.

Devising an evaluation system that is fair, workable and void of favoritism would be extremely difficult. Superior teaching is too complex to be recognized early or easily, which renders an evaluation or performance too subjective, leading to another important question.

Who Would Determine Which Teachers Deserve A Merit Raise?

One of the major obstacles to the merit pay system, in addition to the evaluation process, is determining who is qualified to serve as evaluator. In private industry, the trained evaluator plays a key role in the process, but it is a role that often leads to favoritism and decisions not related to performance.

Some school districts in other states that have used the merit pay system have gone back to the straight-pay system, as a result of manipulation by administrators, evaluations being easily influenced by a teacher's subservient behavior and counterproductive competition among teachers.

Of particular concern is the problem of counterproductive competition among teachers. Ideally and for the benefit of the education system, teachers should work together. The merit pay system could have teachers pitted against each other for the sake of a pay raise instead of working together for the betterment

Romans 8:14-17

All who are led by the Spirit of God are sons of God. You did not receive a spirit of slavery leading you back into fear, but a spirit of adoption through which we cry out, "Abba!" (that is, "Father"). The Spirit himself gives witness with our spirit that we are children of God. But if we are children, we are heirs as well: heirs of God, heirs with Christ, if only we suffer with him so as to be glorified with him.

The Owner's Manual

A GREAT deal is said about the similarity of world religions. Many people naively assume that all religions are basically the same, making the same claims and essentially doing what Christianity does, but in slightly different terms. Though there are some similarities, the differences far outweigh, and are much greater than the similarities.

One of the similarities is the essence of the Golden Rule, which is contained in almost every religion. From Confucius' time we have the statement, in various forms, that one should do unto others as he would have others do unto him. Many wrongly assume that this is the essence of Christianity. But if all Jesus Christ did was to give us the Sermon on the Mount and the Golden Rule, he actually increased our frustration. Man's problem has never been not knowing what he should do.

His problem, rather, has been that he lacks power to do what he knows he should. The major difference between Christianity and other religions is that Christ offers us his power to live as we should. He gives forgiveness, cleansing, and his own righteousness, all as a free gift. He reconciles us to God. He does something for us we cannot do for ourselves.

Every other religious system, however, is essentially a do-it-yourself proposition. Follow this way of life, they say, and you will gain favor with God and eventually achieve salvation. Do enough good works, they say, and you will finally get to heaven.

This is in contrast to what Christianity believes.

Ephesians 2:8-9 tells us, "For by grace are you saved through faith; and that not of yourselves, it is the gift of God. Not as a result of works, that no one should boast."

Although good works always accompany salvation, there is no way that we can ever do enough good works to earn our way to heaven. Only by the grace of God, through our faith and belief in Christ Jesus will we ever get to heaven.

Because of this profound difference, Christianity alone offers assurance of salvation. We have this assurance because our salvation depends on what God has done for us and given us, and not on works which we must perform. In every "works" religion, however, it is impossible to have assurance. When do you know that you have done enough good works?

You never know, and never can know. Fear persists because there is no assurance of salvation.

In closing, I would like to leave you with these thoughts: Christianity is not so much the putting of a new suit on a man, as it is the putting of a new man into the suit. And since a Christian is merely a sinner saved by grace, therefore evangelism is just one beggar telling another beggar where to find food.

Perspectives

ON FEBRUARY 28, the final episode of M*A*S*H marked the end of one of the most successful, most well-written shows ever to grace a TV screen. With it, a lot of us thought, it brought to an end the type of high-grade entertainment characteristic of M*A*S*H.

Few of us thought any sequel would hold a candle to a show that so artfully combined outright slapstick with social comment that was sometimes cold, sometimes bitter, but always eloquent and profound. Any attempt at a sequel would be a failure by almost any standard, right? Wrong.

After MASH successfully picked up where the TV war left off in 1953.

It took some talented writers to turn these people's lives the 180 degrees from military to civilian life while retaining their wartime personalities and wit. But the transition is smooth for the most part.

Col. Sherman Potter (Harry Morgan), Sgt. Maxwell Klinger (Jamie Farr), and Father Francis Mulcahy (William Christopher) are the three characters of the series who have returned to prove that there is life after M*A*S*H.

Hawkeye, B.J., Hot Lips and Winchester have traded in their boots and fatigues. After MASH had an awfully hard act to follow, especially in its premiere episode. But it rose to the occasion.

Col. Potter is back home in Hannibal, Mo. with wife Mildred and is beginning a new career at the veteran's hospital there. Klinger and wife have returned to his hometown of Toledo, Ohio, where things aren't the best. Klinger barely escapes doing jail time for a little bookie work. Father Mulcahy, distraught over not getting the parish he wanted in Philadelphia, has developed a drinking problem.

Somehow, you just knew all of them would be re-united for good. It had to happen. Without it, the afterlives of the three as well as the show, would have been a three-way telephone relationship. Such an idea never would have kept the show in good ratings for more than a few weeks. The rapid-fire one-liners could have lasted only so long.

And they did get together — all in the premiere episode, in fact. Potter is the hospital's chief of staff; Klinger is Potter's administrative aide; Father Mulcahy is there for the hospital's 10 percent Catholic membership.

These three characters from M*A*S*H have shed their uniforms for more civilian attire, their surroundings have changed, and their lifestyles have changed. That's about all. The people, aside from the obvious, haven't really changed at all. The characters are still believable, and they still usually have something worthwhile to say between their lines — more than can be said for many of the shallow characters of today's prime time wasteland.

After MASH has the staying power to survive where many spin-offs and sequels haven't. Whether it has the staying power of its predecessor remains to be seen. We should see in ten or twelve years.

Letter to the Editor

To the Editor:

This letter is not being written to condemn bonfires, but to ask help in management of them.

First of all, when we (Münster Volunteer Fire Department) are asked to be present at a bonfire — in essence we are asked "to help avoid damage to property, belonging to anyone." (The primary purpose of any fire department is to do their utmost in saving 1st-lives, 2nd-property,) including private city, county, state, and federal property.

When we are asked to attend a bonfire, someone must be in charge of the fire. In other words, there must be someone, or a group, that will determine if the wind is blowing too hard, or the grass is too dry, or whatever...to the point that there is a hazard to surrounding areas before a fire is started.

Often the Fire Department is asked to burn different places, but we choose our time to coincide with conditions at each burning. After the bonfire is started and burned down to the point of reduced cinders, it is time for the trucks to return to the station and the persons responsible to stand by and watch the bonfire.

Other conditions involved which have existed are highway signs in bonfires. As firemen, we are doing our duty in reporting any actions of this nature to city, county, or state authorities. And we will not be present at such fires. In other words, if there is ever a public-owned piece of property in a bonfire, we will call Cooke County Sheriff's Department and report what is about to happen and leave. We will not be a participant of any more destruction of public property.

As many as five and possibly as many as eight or more highway signs have been seen in at least one bonfire.

In conclusion, we feel someone or some group must be responsible and present before we attend any more bonfires.

This letter was discussed and approved for publication by a majority of attending members at the regular meeting 9-22-83.

came up with accusations that it was a spy plane over Russian territory, shot down because it did not comply with Russian orders.

Now the official Red attitude is that "no one has a right to violate with impunity foreign frontiers or the sovereignty of another state." Gromyko, talking to Secretary George Schultz further stated that if anyone strays over, the Soviets are ready to shoot them down again. Furthermore, the record shows they have done it before. It happened to another Korean plane in 1978. Of 110 passengers and crew, two were killed and 13 injured.

Ironically, the Russians, who flaunt this principle, have no respect for the air space over other countries, especially the U.S. By this same principle our country has had many reasons to shoot down their planes. For instance, Aeroflot, which comes under Soviet military jurisdiction makes a habit of wandering over sensitive US military facilities.

Newsweek, reported that in 1981 and '82 Aeroflot Flight 315 flew an unauthorized route over Peace AFB, then flew over additional sensitive facilities. And it flew the same unauthorized route on its return flight.

Another Russian plane got "lost" over Otis AFB on Cape Cod. And another just happened to drift over Groton, Conn., at the precise moment when the first Trident nuclear sub was being launched.

Soviet allies make similar reconnaissance runs clocked as navigational errors. Cuban and Czech plane are notorious for their mistakes says Newsweek. US officials have a fault file on the snooping flights of each.

With their own extensive history of spy flights, it is easy to understand why Russia would accuse any plane which happens over their territory. Being cheaters themselves they assume that other countries cheat. Being devoid of principle, they do not admit that any others play according to the rules.

THE EMPLOYEES of a couple of dozen U.S. companies probably should pay more attention next year to the Canadian elections than the U.S. elections.

Sound bizarre? It is. The reason is simple: the leftist government of Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau, to put things delicately, has been trying to stiff the companies these people work for. A devotee of socialist economics, Mr. Trudeau wince when he hears free-market success stories, especially when they're American success stories. So he's dispatched his bureaucrats to wage war on American firms doing business in Canada.

Among the biggest fish Mr. Trudeau eyes for his trophy case is the Amway Corporation, which sits quietly across the Canadian border in Ada, Michigan, and does a lot of business up north (employing more than 400 people in Canada, where another 100,000 independent distributors sell Amway's home care products). Amway has more than its share of differences with the Canadian authorities, but as Canadian journalist Bruce LaPlante noted recently, Amway's biggest problem is ideological.

"Some Amway people are, dare I say it, VERY successful," LaPlante wrote. "Guess what political-philosophical system most (if not all) of them espouse? Capitalism. What is the basic tenet of capitalism? That given a modicum of freedom one can accomplish just about anything one wants to accomplish. And what does Amway preach? That given a reasonable amount of effort, one can make a very nice living being an Amway rep." The Trudeau government's feud with Amway involves (what else?) taxes. In 1965, after long negotiations, Amway and Revenue Canada—the Canadian equivalent of the IRS—reached agreement on a formula for deciding the market value of Amway products produced in the U.S. and exported to Canada—a formula that would be used to calculate customs duties paid to the Canadian government. For the next 15 years, Amway dutifully paid its taxes according to the agreement.

Then, in 1980, Canadian customs officials suddenly decided they were unhappy with the 15-year-old agreement, and unilaterally changed the rules of the game. Not only that, they are now suing Amway, claiming the company owes them $147.8 million in back taxes for the years 1965-1980...taxes that would have been due had the agreement not been in effect. The Ottawa government has even threatened to throw Amway's top corporate officials into the Canadian hoosegow.

It's my guess that this is one case where the Mounties won't get their men. Mr. Trudeau is facing a tough reelection fight, and his likely opponent, Brian Mulroney, is a dedicated free-enterpriser. Moreover, public opinion polls show that the Canadian people have had enough of Trudeau's anti-everythingism.

There's no guessing, of course, what Mr. Trudeau will do to rebuild his popularity. If there's political capital to be made in conducting a public battle with Amway and the approximately two dozen other U.S. companies who are having problems with the Canadian taxman, Mr. Trudeau will probably pursue the fight. If the cards tell him that it's bad politics — after all, more than 100,000 Canadians are Amwayers, and countless tens of thousands have ties to other American companies — he'll probably back off.

Mulroney says he wants to encourage foreign (read that U.S.) investment in Canada. The tax mess does anything but that.

MEMBER 1983 TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

1983 State Fair opens October 7

The 1983 State Fair of Texas, billed as the "Best of Shows," offers the best of both old and new to this year's fairgoers.

It presents a variety of not-yet-seen-in-Dallas rides, acts, exhibits and entertainment. At the same time it returns the favorites which have delighted crowds in years past.

This year's State Fair of Texas is expected to draw nearly three million visitors during its 17-day run, Oct. 7-23.

Among the new attractions is "The Great Rock and Roll Time Machine," a multi-media show which combines slides, film, animation and special effects with a soundtrack of 215 songs that encompass the highlights of rock during the past 25 years.

Three new and large displays are among 300 exhibitors. They are a geodesic dome, 42 feet in diameter and containing a completely furnished home; an F-16 Fighting Falcon, used by the U.S. Air Force, and a truck-driving school for 18-wheelers.

Eight new rides have been added to the Midway to quicken the pulses of fairgoers. Among the most spectacular are the Log Flume Ride, which floats its passengers through a 780-foot trough and ends with a splash; the Looping Star Roller Coaster, which makes a complete 360-degree loop; the Gravitron, which simulates the sensation of weightlessness in outer space, and the 1001 Nacht, which gives the feeling of a 90-foot fall.

The incomparable Lena Horne will be spotlighted in her own one-woman show at the Music Hall. "Lena Horne: The Lady and Her Music" combines many of the singer's greatest hits, such as "Stormy Weather" and "Can't Help Loving That Man," with her intimate recollections of a remarkable 50-year musical career. Tickets are priced from $10 to $25.

A host of other entertainment events are free. New this year is live entertainment from Sesame Place, presented in the Centennial Building, while repeat popular attractions include a full-scale circus, an outdoor ice revue, a nightly parade and a spectacular fireworks show. Appearing for the first time in the parade will be Walt Disney World's ten black Percherons pulling an antique steam calliope.

Numerous musical groups will perform on stages throughout the fairgrounds and for several street dances. All are free.

Among the best-known entertainers will be David Frizzell, Vern Gosden, Steve Warner, Boxcar Willie, Frenchie Burke, George Strait, Gary Morris, Red Steagall and Earl Thomas Conley. Groups performing will include Atlanta, Mason Dixon, The Shoppe, the Lost Cowboy Band and Renegade.

Texas-Mexico Day will be celebrated Oct. 18 at the State Fair with continuous entertainment all day on the Big Tex stage and an 8 p.m. show in the Cotton Bowl. Sixty-nine other cities, counties, areas, ethnic groups, organizations and educational institutions will be honored with special days during the run of the Fair.

This year's Texas-Oklahoma football classic will be played on Saturday, Oct. 8, in the Cotton Bowl.

Barrier fatal to Sicking child of Iowa Park

Jodie Sicking, 5 year old son of Steve Sicking, native and former resident of Muenster and wife, Julie, was killed about 4:30 Monday afternoon. While riding a three-wheel motorcycle, he struck a cable stretched across a road some 200 yards from his home.

It was a road on which the boy had been riding for about two years. Leading to an area which was to be used for a special occasion, the road was barricaded that day with the cable but without warning signs or flags. When Jodie rode his usual trail he hit the cable with his neck. His injuries are believed to include fractures of the neck and a shoulder and the loss of teeth. An autopsy Tuesday was to reveal the nature of injuries.

There were no witnesses to the tragedy. After it happened he tried to walk home and died about 100 yards from the scene. His mother, Julie, found the body there.

Funeral service for the boy was held Wednesday at 10 a.m. in the First Baptist Church of Burkburnett.

Jodie was born January 6, 1978, and has lived at the family home near Iowa Park. He was a kindergarten pupil in Burkburnett.

Survivors include his parents, Steve and Julie, and grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Sicking of Muenster, Mrs. Anna Mae Downs of Fort Worth and Mr. and Mrs. Don Jenkins of Burkburnett and great-grandfather Lawrence Dankesreiter of Muenster.

Among persons attending the services were the grandparents, also Dianne Clegg, Peggy and Sammy Sparkman and Tim Sicking of Gainesville, Gary and Nancy Sicking, Tommy Dankesreiter, Lucille Hesse and Noelle and Curtis, all of Muenster; Mary Ann Pels and Brenda of Pilot Point; and Christine Gieb and Sharon of Lindsay.

of all students. Rather than consulting with one another or working together to solve a common problem, teachers could refuse to work with their colleagues so as to make themselves look better in the eyes of the evaluators.

Will There Be Enough "Merit" Money?

Today, relatively few of the nation's 15,500 school districts use the merit pay system. A 1979 survey of 2,848 districts found that 115 had some kind of merit pay system and 135 others were considering adopting such a system.

However, 187 school districts that once had merit pay systems have dropped them. The major reason for discontinuing the merit pay system — lack of money. Lawmakers and others in Texas who advocate widespread use of the merit pay system should not overlook this one vital element, which could be an expense that taxpayers might not want to bear.

The Real Problem

More money for good teachers could be vital to an overall effort to improve our public schools, but the overall effort first needs to be thoroughly researched and developed.

The real problem with the merit pay system is that it sidesteps the issue of paying every teacher a decent, respectable salary. Teachers' salaries today are too low to justify raising the pay of only a few. Before implementing merit pay programs, state and local officials should first pay our public schoolteachers a salary that will give the profession the prestige it deserves and will provide all teachers with a wage allowing a reasonable standard of living.

Real teaching success cannot be measured by pay, but is the direct result of such intangibles as a sense of accomplishment, of personal worth based on a grasp of the subject matter, and respect for students, fellow teachers, supervisors and the community at large. An issue as complex as merit pay should not be seen as a panacea for what ails our public schools, and many important questions must be answered before it becomes standard practice in Texas.

Viable Alternatives

An incentive pay plan may be more easily and equitably administered while accomplishing the desired results. Such a plan could, for example reward those who are willing to make an extra effort through working longer hours or longer school years, obtaining additional training, assuming more responsibility, etc. An incentive plan, to be viable, should allow any teacher who will make the required extra effort to obtain additional compensation, rather than limiting participation to a pre-selected number of educators as many merit plans do. When subjective measures are employed in gauging the performance of teachers or administrators, quality assurances, such as evaluation systems which have been shown to be effective in field testing, should be implemented.

Finally, although the need for reform in our public schools is clear, the structuring of changes must be deliberate and careful if our ultimate goal of improving the quality of education is to be realized.

Muenster hosting wows police

The Muenster police department Tuesday took its turn at hosting the monthly meeting of Texas-Oklahoma criminal investigators. Twenty-eight officers from nine cities of North Texas and South Oklahoma attended the noon luncheon gathering at the Center.

For the second time Muenster rated the group's lavish praise for extraordinary hospitality and generosity, and Police Chief Helen Tompkins passes on their thanks to local business firms for their big assortment of attendance prizes. Thirty-three packages were given, a gift to each person there plus a few left over for second gifts to some. The grand prize, seven days full use of the Endres van, was won by Woody Stevens of Sherman.

Photo from the past kindles memories for former classmates

Friends of more than 65 years ago were together at S.N.A.P. Tuesday for a reunion, luncheon and visiting.

Inspiration for the gathering was a visit of Mrs. Martha (Buss) Brookshire of Independence, Mo. with a former classmate, Mrs. Al Swirczynski in Dallas, who have kept up their correspondence for as many years. Mrs. Brookshire was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Florene Bott. They arrived in Dallas on Sept. 20.

The Swirczynskis and her sister, Mrs. Christine Schad also of Dallas and Mr. and Mrs. Al Horn joined friends, former classmates and former neighbors Tuesday at S.N.A.P. including Mrs. Odelia (Lutkenhaus) Detten; Marie and Theo Vogel; Clem and Helen (Kleiss) Hofbauer; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Grewing of Lindsay; Mrs. Elsie Horn; Tony and Aileen Hoening; Joe Hoening, Alphonse and Ida Hoening; Mrs. Al Walter; Margaret and Vic Hartman; Lawrence Dankesreiter; Susie Noggler; and Margaret Fisher.

Later in the day, Mmes. Brookshire and Bott drove to Venita, Oklahoma where their brother and uncle, Bill Buss lives. They also visited briefly with Gus Altonbaumer, a former Muenster resident whose parents were known also to Muenster's early settlers. From Venita they later returned to Missouri.

John Fleitmans celebrate 50th wedding anniversary

Surrounded by their loved ones, three sons and daughters-in-law, thirteen grandchildren and one great-grandchild and many relatives and friends, Mr. and Mrs. John Fleitman celebrated 50 years together with an anniversary Mass and reception.

Father Victor Gillespie was celebrant of the Mass of Thanksgiving in Sacred Heart Church on Saturday, Sept. 10 at 8 a.m. and the Fleitmans' children were hosts for the anniversary party and reception in the VFW Hall at 5 p.m.

John Fleitman and the former Annie Mages were married in St. Peter's Church in Lindsay by Father John Nigg O.S.B. on September 12, 1933. Their parents were the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fleitman of Muenster and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mages, Sr. of Lindsay.

Attendants at the wedding 50 years ago were the bride's sister Celie Mages Berend, now deceased, and the groom's brother, Bruno Fleitman.

The John Fleitmans became parents of four sons, Alvin, the late Frank, Leon, and James. There are thirteen grandchildren and a nine-month-old great-grandchild. All were present at the Mass and reception.

Three grandsons were Mass servers, Chad Fleitman, David Fleitman and Tejay Fleitman.

The honored couple, and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Fleitman and family, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Fleitman and family and Mr. and Mrs. James Fleitman and family joined Father Victor in the entrance procession.

Mrs. John Fleitman wore a gold cross that belonged to her late Grandmother Rueschenburg who wore in on her own wedding day in 1870. In memory of her son, Frank, she carried a treasured rosary given to her by Father James Fitzpatrick, hospital chaplain when Frank was hospitalized for an extended time. Father Fitzpatrick brought the rosary from Rome.

Readings were given by James Fleitman, a son. Petitions at Offertory were given by granddaughters Rhonda Fleitman, Shannon Fleitman and Ginger Fleitman. Offertory gifts of gold candles to place on the altar, water, wine and the Chalice were presented by sons and daughters-in-law, Alvin and Pat, Leon and Betsy, and James and Nita. Ushers were grandsons Stephen Fleitman, Barry Fleitman and Scott Fleitman.

Music for the special

Mr. and Mrs. John Fleitman

liturgy was presented by Ruth Felderhoff and Eileen Fisher.

The reception was held in the VFW Hall at 5 p.m. Ginger and Shannon secured guest signatures for the keepsake book. On the table was the original wedding picture, and a plaque of the anniversary invitation made by a niece, Mrs. Eddie Fleitman, and a floral arrangement.

Table decorations were made by the honoree and her daughter-in-law Nita, including silk flower arrangements with gold glittered "50" numerals; also antique lace bells with flowers for pendulums.

The three-tiered anniversary cake by Betty Rose Walterscheid was trimmed with gold flowers, filligreed "50s" and gold leaves. Cake servers were granddaughters Rhonda and Shelley Fleitman. The dinner was catered by Ed and Ginny Schneider.

About 150 relatives attended from Hereford, Friona, Midland, Gainesville, Lindsay, Carrollton, Bedford, Denton, Denison, Clifton, and McAlister, Okla. and Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

Mrs. John Fleitman attended her anniversary celebration in a soft pink dress accented with white accessories and a white corsage tipped with gold glitter.

The honored couple has been at home in Muenster since their marriage. He was a long-time employee of the FMA cheese plant. After retiring there, they moved for some years to their farm 2½ miles south of Myra, but for the past 17 years have lived in Muenster.

Beta Kappa plans benefits

Beta Kappa has announced two coming events, the first a benefit for the Scholarship fund, the second a benefit for the Love Fund.

On October 15, the sorority will sponsor a five-mile walk-a-thon, to begin at 9 a.m. in Muenster City Park. Pledge sheets for participants are available in the offices of both schools.

Proceeds of the walk-a-thon will benefit the Scholarship fund set up for area high school seniors. The person raising the largest amount of pledges will win a mini-portable stereo.

On Sunday, October 16 at 2 p.m., Beta Kappa and the Knights of Columbus will sponsor a 42 tournament in the K.C. Hall. Admission will be $2.50 per person. It is not necessary to bring a partner.

Refreshments will be available, and prizes will be awarded.

A series of five 42 tournaments will be held, October, November, January, February and March. At the end of the fifth month, the highest score will also receive a prize.

CDA meets contest winner

Karri Yosten, daughter of the Buddy Yostens, and winner of a national first prize in a CDA-sponsored contest, received congratulations from Court 249 during the regular meeting on September 8. She also received a cash contribute large variety of nomenclature was made by Dorothy Fisher, regent.

November 6 was set as the date for the Memorial service for deceased members of the CDA. In other business, she appointed an audit committee, and read a letter announcing the general assembly of the NCCW on Oct. 2-3. Members signed cards for local shut-ins and also voted to contribute 50 cents per member to a fund to help defray expenses of the National CDA Convention in Houston, July '84.

A letter was read to the group, inviting attendance at meetings at Gainesville Memorial Hospital, concerning Breast Self-Examination. Mrs. Jane Saiken R.N. will be in charge of the meetings at 10 a.m., 2 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.

Forestburg school tax exchanged

School tax in the Forestburg ISD continues at 79 cents per $100 of assessed valuation. The rate was set in a meeting of the Forestburg school board Saturday.

Myrtle Steele's birthday Oct. 6

Friends of Mrs. Myrtle Steele will want to remember that her 82nd birthday is coming on October 3. For the past several years she has received a card shower, much to her delight. A former resident of Muenster, she is now a resident of Gainesville Convalescent Center, 1900 O'Neal St. Gainesville, Texas 76240

Personal

Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Walterscheid and daughters Dena and Gina of College Station spent the September 16 weekend with his mother, Mrs. Alfons Walterscheid, and attended the Bezner-Blanton wedding in Lindsay. Also attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Byrn and Beverly of Houston, who were house guests in the Joe Wilson home in Gainesville.

Denise Stoneking, Thomas Bright married

A Nuptial Mass and double ring ceremony solemnized the marriage of Miss Denise Marie Stoneking of Santa Ana, California and Lt. R. Thomas Bright, USMC of Bridgeport, California.

The wedding was held in the Main Chapel, Marine Air Station, El Toro, California on Saturday, July 23, at 3 p.m. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Stoneking of Schleswig, Iowa and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David M. Bright of Muenster and the grandson of J.M. Weinzapfel of Muenster and the late Julia Weinzapfel.

Msgr. Thomas Weinzapfel and Father Joseph Weinzapfel, uncles of the groom, and both of Dallas, celebrated the Nuptial Mass. The former officiated for the wedding vows and the latter read the gospel and delivered the homily. Julia Bright, sister of the groom played a Flute Adagio before Offertory, accompanied by the chapel organist, who provided muted music throughout the ceremony and also the traditional wedding processions.

David M. Bright, Jr. of Idaho Falls, Idaho, read a passage from the Old Testament and Capt. Joseph A. Bright of Enid, Oklahoma, read the response. Both are brothers of the groom. Seana Stoneking of Omaha, Nebraska, bride's sister read a passage from the New Testament. Ushers were Marine Corporals who also presented Offertory gifts at the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was wearing a Victorian gown designed with a high stand-up collar with brooch effect on a sweetheart bodice embroidered with hand-sewn seed pearls and sequins. Leg-o-mutton sleeves, puffed to the elbow and fitted to the wrist were appliqued with matching lace and closed with tiny, satin covered buttons.

The fitted, princess style swept into a full circle, organza over tulle skirt, trimmed at the hem with wide scalloped Alecon lace. A cathedral length train repeated the pattern of Alecon lace, pearls and sequins, and was edged with a wide frill of crystal pleats.

MRS. THOMAS BRIGHT

A close-fitting cloche held her chapel length tulle veil, edged with tiny, hand-sewn pearls. She carried a bridal bouquet of white orchids and baby's breath and satin streamers on a white moire taffeta prayerbook, carried by her mother as a bride 33 years ago.

Holen, bridesmaids, were dressed identically in floor-length orchid gowns with matching chiffon capelets. They wore orchid flowers in their hair and carried colonial bouquets of lilac, orchid and purple. Mothers of the couple each carried a corsage of pale lavender roses and deep lavender roses respectively.

Upon leaving the chapel the newlyweds walked under the traditional crossed saber arch formed by Lt. Bright's fellow officers, all of Camp Pendleton, California.

A reception and dance at the Officers Club on El Toro was hosted by the bride's parents. Seana Stoneking and Margo Wiess attended the bride's book. Two hundred guests enjoyed a lavish buffet, champagne, punch and wedding cake. The reception hall was decorated with flowers and ribbons of the bride's chosen colors. The four-tiered wedding cake was decorated with lavender and white flowers, sugar bells and butterflies and topped with crystal swans. Lt. Bright's military saber was used for the first cut. The chocolate groom's cake was shaped like the state of Texas, with a star marking the location of Muenster.

Attending the wedding from Muenster were Mr. and Mrs. David Bright and Julia and James; and other members of their family, Mrs. Frank Rust and Sam Bright of Houston, Mr. and Mrs. David M. Bright, Jr. and daughters Jessica and Morgan of Idaho Falls, Capt. Joseph A. Bright of Vance AFB, Enid. Also an aunt Lola Bright of Aniston, Alabama, and Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Jeffry of Gainesville.

Following a wedding trip to Hawaii the couple is at home in Minden, Nevada, near Bridgeport, California, where the groom is assigned to the Marine Corps Mountain Warfare Command.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents on Friday evening at the Officers Club. During toasts a humorous note was introduced when each guest was asked to "roast" the bride and groom, telling incidents from their school days.

Mathew is one

A clown and balloon motif was featured at Matthew Thomas Henscheid's first birthday party. He is the son of Tommy and Mary Henscheid and was one year old on September 9. The party in his honor was held on September 17 at their home in Arlington.

A special clown made by his great-grandmother, Mrs. Rose Neu and a clown birthday cake baked by his grandmother, Mrs. Pat Henscheid, and a birthday balloon basket were parts of the main centerpiece for Matthew's party. Helium-filled balloons and colored streamers completed party decorations.

Guests included the maternal grandmother Mrs. Louise Morisak; and Thomas, Carol Ann, Michael, Suzanne and Amy Carol Schneider all of Gainesville; Roy, Judy, Gene, Kim, Tina and Chip Morisak of Irving; Glenn Henscheid of Arlington.

Also the paternal grandparents Arnie and Pat Henscheid of Muenster; the great-grandmother Mrs. Rose Neu and great-uncle Alfred Neu of Lindsay; Juan, Irene, June and Luere of Arlington.

Gifts, pictures and games added to Matthew's special day.

Endres Baptism

Lacy Gayle Endres, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Endres was baptized Sunday, September 25, 1983, in Sacred Heart Church by Father Victor Gillespie. Her baptismal sponsors were an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Hartman. Lacy Gayle wore the christening gown worn by her aunt and uncles Judy, Troy and Chris Pagel and her cousins Lisa and Amanda Russell.

Attending were the infant's parents, Marlene and Phil Endres; and Troy Pagel; the grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Ed Endres; great-grandmothers Mrs. Victoria Gremminger and Mrs. Dora Henscheid; and Bobby and Sharlene Hartman and Chris Pagel; Glenda and Lisa Russell.

Everyone enjoyed dinner and dessert later, followed by visiting and picture taking.

Lacy Gayle's baptism was held on September 25, the birthday of her late grandmother, Mrs. Geneva Pagel and was a touching tribute to her memory.

Wright Baptism

Angela Marie Wright was baptized in Holy Family Church in Irving on Saturday, September 17, 1983, by Father O'Conner. She is the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Wright, the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morton Wright of Irving and Mrs. Lillian Hons of Bedford and the late John Hons; and the great-grandchild of Mrs. John Rohmer of Muenster.

Angela Marie wore a baptismal dress made by the great-grandmother 70 years ago, also worn by the grandmother (who is the former Dorothy Rohmer) and her children.

Baptismal sponsors are James Wright of Houston and Cynthia Hons of Richland Hills.

Conference set for separated Catholics

The First Annual Conference for Region 10 of the North American Conference for Separated and Divorced Catholics is scheduled for October 14 and 15, 1983, and will be held at Holy Trinity Catholic Church, 3811 Oaklawn Ave. in Dallas.

Coordinators of the Conference are Jack and Dee Dunn who have had nine years experience in the separated and divorced ministry; have formed support groups, programs and workshops for parishes and dioceses. Both have experienced separation, divorce, and remarriage and are well aware of the needs and feelings of others in these situations.

The North American Conference for Separated/Divorced and/or Remarried Catholics was one of the first support groups for divorced Roman Catholic men and women. Formed in 1972 by a Paulist Priest, Fr. James Young, and some lay people in Boston, MA, it has now grown into an international network reaching out not only to the United States but Canada and Mexico as well.

NACSDC provides education, reconciliation and group support for people going through the difficult transition of marital separation, divorce, and remarriage. NACSDC is directed by a 16-member lay board of divorced Catholics. Ms. Kathleen Kircher, M.S., is Executive Director and Fr. James Young serves as chaplain.

An annual leadership conference is held at the University of Notre Dame each summer and is attended by approximately 500 divorced Catholics and professionals from the U.S., Canada, and Mexico. The Board members are appointed by their respective regions which are structured to follow the United States Catholic Conference. Region 10 area is composed of Texas, Arkansas, and Oklahoma. Dick Edmondson from Lake Jackson, Tx, is Region 10's representative.

The conference will begin at 7 p.m., October 14 with registration.

Three attend homemakers meeting

Three members of the Cooke County Extension Homemakers Council, Mmes. Wilma Richardson of Rosston, Annette Martin of Sivells Bend and Lucille Lutkenhaus of Muenster, attended the 57th annual state convention of Extension Homemakers held in Lubbock on Sept. 20-23.

They attended workshops in Leadership, Membership, Health Legislation and Chemical Abuse. A highlight of the convention was a speech by Marinell Timmons of Dallas, president of MADD, "Mothers Against Drunk Driving." A side trip to the Ranching Heritage Center at Texas Tech University was particularly enjoyable. The convention was held at the Civic Center in Lubbock.

Personal

Ruthie Needham and Jody French spent a recent weekend in Odessa with Billy Frank and Brenda Richter and children Tracey Lynn, Gina Marie and William Carl.

News of the sick

Mrs. Victor Hartman honored on 79th

Family members gathered with Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hartman to celebrate her 79th birthday by spending September 27 shopping and having dinner out at Golden Triangle Mall.

Joining Vic and Margaret were Mrs. Alvin Hartman, Monica Hartman; Mrs. Edna Tompkins and Mrs. Sharon Fedor and Jeff and Dana, all of Arlington; Mr.

and Mrs. Teddy Gremminger of Denver, Colo.; Mrs. Walter Wolf and Carla Wolf of Gainesville; Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hartman and Mr. Wayne Bushey; and Mrs. Harvey Schmitt and Mrs. John Yosten.

In the evening Mrs. Victor Hartman received a second birthday courtesy when she and her husband were guests of Mrs. John Yosten and Christy, and the Harvey Schmitt family for dinner and birthday cake at Rohmer's Restaurant.

Personal

Mr. and Mrs. Rainard Walterscheid and daughter, Raina of Jacksboro spent Tuesday visiting his mother, Mrs. Harold Walterscheid and his brother, Lambert Walterscheid. They were joined for a visit during part of the day by a sister, Mrs. Shirley Grewing.

Darrell Miller is honor student

Darrell Miller, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Miller of Sherman and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J.H. Wimmer and Theo Miller all of Muenster, is one of 6 National Merit Semi-finalists at Sherman High School this year. He scored among the highest in the state on PSAT last year. Students who qualified as semi-finalists represent the top half of one percent of this year's senior graduates, according to information released by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation. Darrell Miller plans to major in aerospace engineering next year.

News of the Sick

Mrs. Margaret Eckart, 84, of St. Richard's Villa was admitted to Muenster Memorial Hospital Saturday after sustaining a broken hip. Surgery is scheduled for Friday.

Mrs. Eddie Otto was dismissed Wednesday from Muenster Memorial Hospital where she underwent knee surgery the previous Wednesday.

Donna Hess, Jim Biffle say wedding vows

The wedding of Donna Kay Hess and Jimmy Jack Biffle II was held in Sacred Heart Church on Saturday Sept. 17 at 5 p.m. Father Victor Gillespie officiated for their vows and celebrated the Nuptial Mass in a setting created by altar arrangements of blue and white gladioli, with clusters of small blue and lavender flowers; with lighted altar candles. Tall floor candelabra entwined with greenery and white flowers, and holding lighted tapers added to altar decor.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Hess and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Jack Biffle. She graduated from Sacred Heart High School, attended Cooke County College and is employed as a secretary by Jimmy Jack Biffle Drilling Co. The groom is a graduate of Muenster High and is employed as a truck driver. The groom escorted his parents to their places in church.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was wearing an original wedding gown by William Cahill, fashioned of candlelight silk and satin, with imported English illusion yoke, and silk Venise lace motifs marking the pointed natural waistline. The molded, lace bodice, fitted long sleeves and high neckline were encrusted with lace, re-embroidered with seed pearls.

The sweeping satin skirt was A-line in front, with silk Venise appliques scattered on its fullness. Within deep side scallops at the hemline, crystal accordion-pleated silk ruffles were exposed in multiple rows to the floor. In the center back, a deeper scallop revealed multiple crystal pleated ruffles that swept into an aisle-wide full train.

Her chapel-length veil of imported English illusion fell from a lovely crown of pearls. It also held appliques of silk lace motifs. Pearls were embroidered into its scalloped edge.

In keeping with tradition she carried two lace wedding handkerchiefs, one was her mother's, the other belonged to the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Jack (Mildred) Biffle of Myra. She borrowed her mother's diamond earrings.

Her bridal bouquet held a white cymbidium orchid surrounded by candlelight roses and small white Columbin orchids, with accents of purple, lavender and blue phlox and pale blue freesia. The entwined rosary was a gift from the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Pauline Hellman. From her bridal bouquet the bride drew a white rose to present her mother as she approached the altar and after the ceremony gave a similar rose to the groom's mother. She also placed a floral tribute on the Blessed Virgin's altar.

Attendants

Linda Grewing was her sister's matron of honor. Tammy Hess, bride's sister, Judy Biffle, groom's sister, Terry Flusche a friend and classmate and Janet Voth a friend of the couple were bridesmaids. They wore lavender taffeta dresses, designed with scooped necklines, ruffles at the shoulder forming a sleeve effect, natural waistlines and full circular skirts. Four rows of flounced ruffles enhanced the skirts in front, rising in back in a cascade caught at the back waistline with two organza roses.

They carried candlelight organza umbrellas with small satin lavender and blue ribbons tied to the points, and matching flowers attached to the handles. The bride decorated the umbrellas.

Mindy Endres was flower girl, dressed like the bridesmaids and carrying a small white basket of mixed lavender and blue flowers.

Waylon Hess, nephew of the bride was ring bearer. The ring pillow, made by the groom's paternal grandmother, Mrs. Mildred Biffle, used pieces of fabric from the bridal gowns of mothers of the couple, adding to its sentimental value.

Jonathan Grewing, nephew of the bride carried the Unity candle in the processional and presented it at the altar.

Melvin Hess, groom's friend and co-worker and bride's cousin was best man. Brad Biffle, groom's brother, Lonnie Hellman of Fort Worth, groom's uncle, David Flusche and Jim Koelzer, friends and co-workers were groomsmen. Brothers of the bride were ushers. They were Howard Hess, Brent Hess, Troy Hess and Mike Hess, who also served as reception assistants.

Tony Grewing, bride's nephew, Joey Weinzapfel, groom's cousin and David Rohmer friend of the couple were Mass servers.

Friends of the couple presented wedding music as guests were arriving, for the traditional wedding marches and chosen selections during Mass. Rita Pels was organist; Ronnie and Tina Weinzapfel offered trumpet duets; and Vicky Fisher, Diane Grewing, and Debbie Hess and Roger Endres gave vocal group selections.

The gift table also held a display of the couple's picture, a shadow box made by a sister-in-law Mary Hess and decoupage wedding invitations.

Wall decorations carried out the bride's chosen colors, Dinner was catered by Mr. and Mrs. Ed Schneider. The wedding cake and groom's cake were prepared by Betty Rose Walterscheid. Assisting in serving were Mary Hess and Darlene Hess sisters-in-law of the bride; Shawna Grewing bride's niece; Margie Knabe, Carla Walterscheid and Gina Walterscheid.

Guests enjoyed viewing slides of the couple.

When the couple left the reception there was a surprise planned for them by the groom's co-workers who decorated one of the Biffle trucks driven by Jim, in a "traditional" manner. A host of friends and co-workers assisted the couple atop the truck and rode them out of town "in style." Since returning from a wedding trip, they are at home in Muenster.

The rehearsal supper was a cook-out in the back yard of the groom's parents' home. A miscellaneous shower at the home of Janet Voth was hosted by the bridesmaids.

Reception

A reception, dinner and dance were held in the Sacred Heart Community Center.

Tammy Grewing and Julie Grewing, nieces of the bride, presided at the guest book, registering 750 guests.

The bride's table was covered with white lace over lavender organza. A white candelabra stood in a ring of blue and lavender flowers and a pair of crystal candleholders held white tapers.

Guest tables held English ivy and hurricane lamps, lavender candles and blue, white and lavender flower rings on white tablecloths.

WHY WOULD A COMPANY THAT DOESN'T EVEN SELL HEAT PUMPS OFFER A CASH BONUS FOR BUYING ONE?

When you replace your home's old, worn out heating and cooling system with a new energy efficient heat pump, Texas Power & Light will pay you a cash bonus for buying it. Based on the tonnage capacity of the unit.

But the cash bonus is just the first benefit of installing a new electric heat pump. You also save money on your operating costs. You help save energy all year 'round. And by using less energy, you help level our peak load demand. (That's the time when more people are using more electricity.)

So you can see why even though we don't sell or install heat pumps, we want to give you all the information you need to save energy and money when you do buy one.

Carolyn Klement, Milton Knauf exchange vows

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Christopher Knauf are at home in Muenster since returning from their wedding trip to Arkansas. They were married in Sacred Heart Church on September 24 in a 5:30 p.m. Nuptial Mass and double ring ceremony officiated by Father Victor Gillespie.

The bride is the former

Carolyn Ann Klement, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Klement of Rt. 4 Gainesville and a graduate of Muenster High School who is employed by Safeway in Gainesville.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Knauf of Muenster and a graduate of Sacred Heart High School who is a self-employed electrician in Muenster.

Presented at the altar by her father, the bride was wearing a formal wedding gown of candlelight peau de soie with a bodice and sleeves of re-embroidered Alencon lace and a high wedding ring collar. The fitted lace sleeves came to graceful points over her hands. The skirt was straight in front and fell into deep pleats and fullness in back, extending into an aisle-wide cathedral train. Hand-applied Alencon lace formed a wide applique edge completely surrounding the skirt and train.

She wore her full-length candlelight illusion veil attached to a ring of silk flowers and she carried a bridal bouquet of white orchids surrounded by pink, burgundy and candlelight roses, in a cascade and tied with white satin ribbons.

T. J. Walterscheid, groom's nephew were ushers.

Michael Bierschenk, bride's cousin and Jon Schilling, groom's nephew were Mass servers.

Wedding music included the traditional organ processional and recessional by Ruth Felderhoff organist; guitar music by Doug Yosten; and vocal selections as guests were seated and during Mass by vocalists Christi Klement, bride's aunt, and Doug and Lynda Yosten.

The church altar held arrangements of pink gladioli with burgundy ribbons, and lighted candles.

Reception

A reception followed in Sacred Heart Community Center, where 400 guests were registered by Laura Schilling, groom's niece and Sharon Henscheid, bride's cousin.

A buffet of pick-up foods was catered by Ed and Ginny Schneider.

The four-tiered white wedding cake was made and cut by Rose Bilyeu of Denton. The groom's German chocolate cake was cut by Alma Bierschenk. Assisting were Debbie Bierschenk, Deanna Bierschenk and Melody Klement and Jolanda Wimmer, niece of the groom.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by parents of the groom at The Center and attended by the wedding party and members of both families.

A miscellaneous shower on Sept. 11 in the Rufus Henscheid home was hosted by Betty Henscheid, Karla Rauscher, Denise Sicking, Judy Dittfurth and Jane Klement.

This Eagle ball totter is halted for short yardage by a pair of Hornet defenders as Tim Fleeman moves in for a share of the action.

MHS drops first 9-A game

Experience and speed, along with all of the turnovers, were on the side of the Eagles last week at Prosper. The result was a 20-6 loss for the Hornets in their first encounter of the 9-A race.

Nevertheless there were bright spots that took some of the sting out of the defeat. For instance, Eldred made a pair of dandy kickoff returns, for 39 yards and 53 yards, also the Hornets outplayed their hosts in the second half.

However, the important fact is that the Eagles are talented, which shows in good speed and accurate passing, and they avoided the mistakes.

Muenster got off to a good start on first possession, following Prosper's kick on first series. From midfield the Hornets advanced to the 25 point. The score was 13-0 at 3:59 in the second period.

Muenster responded with a few gains ending at midfield at half time. The third quarter was limited to a first down by each side, two punts by Prosper. But things started happening early in the fourth. A fumble recovery by Furr put the Eagles in business only 19 yards away. Six short gains did the job, Ricketts making the final yard. James kicked the bonus point.

After that Muenster got organized on its only successful drive. Eldred sparked it with a 53 yard kickoff return to the Eagle 42. Gains of 10 and 16 by McAden were the big factors in seven plays for 41 yards to the 1. Eldred apparently finished the job with a quarterback sneak, but officials said no. A Hornet was offside. So a penalty moved the ball back to the 6. Next try lost 3, and the one following was an incomplete pass. Then, finally, Eldred passed to McAden in the end zone for the Hornets' only TD. A pass for bonus points failed.

In the remaining 2:47 minutes the Hornets gained 32 yards before running out of time.

Standouts of the MHS defense were Tonnie Trubenbach, Neal Flusche, Bryan Klement, Craig Monday and Tim Fleeman.

Muenster JV takes Prosper

On two big plays the juniors of Prosper scored a pair of touchdowns on Muenster High juniors but that was about all of their success. Early in the first period they recovered as Muenster fumbled their punt and broke away for a TD on the next play. A run for the PAT raised the score to 8-0.

Soon after the young Hornets launched a 44-yard drive McAden being the chief totter. He scored from the 3 on the sixth play. A run failed leaving the count at 8-6.

Following the next kickoff the visitors lost yardage on penalties and busted plays before getting off a bad kick. So Muenster got started on the 28. Three plays were enough. McAden went over from the 5. Anderle's pass to Brian increased the Muenster lead to 14-8.

Next TD for the visitors was a 60-yard run in the first play after kickoff. The try for bonus points failed and the score was tied. The 14-14 tie stood up until the fourth when McAden ended a 26-yard drive with a TD from the 3. Final score was 20-14.

Hornets set to face Collinsville

Muenster High Hornets and their coaches have visions of a better outcome this week when they host the Pirates of Collinsville. The visitors have earned a respectable record of 3-0-1 to date as compared with the 2-2 record of the Hornets. One of those wins was last week's 43-12 runaway over Era.

As seen by Coach Peters the Collinsville boys are small but fast and scrappy and well coordinated...an all around good team that threatens every minute.

Nevertheless the Hornets bosses are confident, encouraged by the performance of their boys at Prosper last week. Odds there were one sided with the Eagle lineup made up almost completely of seniors. That made up a definite advantage in experience and size. Besides the Eagles backs are speedy and the quarterback is a marksman.

In spite of that, MHS gave a good account of itself and was near to breaking even on statistics. A few big plays actually made the big difference. Another factor was that all turnovers favored the Eagles, and all were amazing to the Hornets. And there was another big disappointment in a pass that failed to connect at the goal line.

Considering all the angles the Hornets and Pirates appear to be equals and the outcome may be determined by the breaks. The game will be played on the Hornets field starting at 7:30.

Success at last! Moments before the end Jeff McAden receives a pass from Johnny Eldred for the Hornets' only score in their 20-6 loss to Prosper.

Mistakes costly as Knights bow to Valley View

The heralded showdown game of District 9-A went to Valley View last week as the Knights paid dearly for mistakes that could not have come at a worse place and time. Three times the Lindsay boys got themselves into trouble and in each case the Eagles cashed in.

The first tough break came early in the first period on a misunderstanding of a penalty situation. On a third down play Knights were called for two offenses, illegal use of hands and offensive pass interference. The Eagles chose to apply the penalty for the latter, which called for loss of down and forced Lindsay into a fourth down play. But, Lindsay misunderstood and called a pass play rather than a punt to kick out of trouble. The tragedy was intensified when the Eagles sacked Lindsay's quarterback on the fourth down play taking a set-up only a yard from pay dirt. Montgomery scored on first try. A PAT kick failed and the score was 6-0.

Another big break came later in the first period. Eagles kicked when a drive stalled but retained possession when Lindsay was penalized for roughing the kicker. Two plays later Lindsay intercepted a pass but the play was nullified by a roughing the passer penalty. Two consecutive breaks kept the Eagles alive. Next play Gary Ward broke away and scored from the 42. A bad kick left the count at 12-0.

Lindsay apparently shook off the jinx as it came out in the second half. With 70 yards to go, it went 14 yards on Corcoran's pass to Dieter, plus 17 more on short plays before Ken Fuhrmann got loose on a 37-yard romp to the goal. Anderle's PAT kick hit the goal post and bounced back leaving the count at 12-6.

Later in the same period, the Knights launched another scoring drive with 52 yards to go. Anderle and Corcoran did most of the footwork in going the distance and Corcoran made the last 3. The score was tied at 12-12 and failure of Anderle's PAT left it at that count.

The tie breaker came in the fourth period after another costly fumble putting the Eagles in business only 21 yards away. Martindale recovered the fumble and Ward reached pay dirt several plays later. Ray Sappington's PAT run raised the score to 20-12.

John Dieter and Kenneth Fuhrmann led the Lindsay rushing with 66 and 63 yards respectively and Michael Hermes caught two Lindsay passes. Principal defenders were Anderle, Hermes, Mike Corcoran, Scott Fleitman and Jeff Wimmer.

Though sprawled on the turf, Troy Yosten made a saving tackle on Craig Correll, the Bryson ball carrier. Other Tigers seen are Kevin Switzer 15, Tim Bartel 75, and Jim Bartush 39.

Bryson is overpowering, blasts Tigers 34 - 0

A sad fourth quarter turned a ballgame into a run-away shutting out the Tigers 34-0 last week. Giving up 8 points in the second quarter and 6 in the third, SH was still in competition, but the Cowboys then hit their jackpot of scores.

The opening period was mostly uneventful except Neil Hesse got off a 60-yard punt, the Tigers fumbled once and were on a drive as the quarter ended. However, the drive ended early in the second period with a fumble on the 15.

From there the Cowboys kicked on second series, then Tigers kicked on their first series and so did Bryson. That was a 58-yard punt with no return backing the Tigers to their 3-yard stripe.

Three times then failed to gain and SH was trying to kick out of trouble when the worst happened. The snap back hit the ground and bounced wild into the end zone. Jaroll Harvel was the lucky person to recover it. It was a TD whereas it would have cost only 2 points if a Tiger had recovered it for a safety. A pass upped the count to 8-0.

Sacred Heart started the second half with a 70-yard drive to the 10 including Neil Hesse's passes to Craig Voth for 15 and Duane Haverkamp for 28 and Duane Haverkamp's 10-yard run. However, the effort was wasted by a fumble recovered by Howell on the 8.

Following Bryson's kick on second series, SH was at its 26 and promptly lost possession on an interception by Henderson and a run back to the Tiger 9. Two times did it from there, Correll scoring from the 8. The try for PAT failed. Cowboys lead 14-0 at the end of the third.

The rest was a scoring spree. On opening play of the fourth quarter, Correll got loose at mid-field and went all the way. A run for points failed leaving the count at 20-0. Second TD of the period came in a hurry. Tigers had to punt on first series and Bryson was 39 yards away. On the next play Braddock got loose and scored. Correll's PAT run raised the count to 28-0.

Following the next kickoff Sacred Heart started at its 20 and kicked to end the first series. Cowboys then started from their own 45 and made the distance in nine plays. Along the way Correll gained 11 on a pass and shortly after scored on a 19 yard pass.

With 4:26 time remaining, Tigers responded with a drive of 46 before losing possession by interception at the Cowboy 8. Bryson then gained to the 39 as time ran out.

Defensive standouts were Bret Walterscheid with 12 tackles, Jim Bartush and Tim Bartel with 8 tackles each and Neil Hesse with a fumble recovery.

SH Cubs turn tables, overrun Bryson 42 - 8

Sacred Heart Cubs had a scoring spree last week beating the youngsters of Bryson by the decisive count of 42-8. They did most of it in the first half running up a score of 36-0 while allowing their visitors only a few scattered first downs.

The first touchdown was scored by Scott Taylor on a 5-yard run ending a 25-yard drive. He also went over for the bonus points.

The balance of the first period was a standoff but the Cubs got going again early in the second. Taylor did the honors again ending a 62-yard drive with a 29-yard sprint. Wayne Becker went over on a PAT run upping the score to 16-0.

The third score started with Taylor's fumble recovery on the Bryson 26. Five plays later Becker went to pay dirt from the 5 and Taylor's pass to Mike Walter added 2 points. TD No. 4 came on a big play, a reverse by Mike Walter for 41 yards. A PAT run failed for the first time and the score was 30-0.

As the first half was ending the Cubs made 22 yards in 6 plays and a penalty. Glen Swirczynski made the last yard, a run for PAT failed, Cubs led 36-0 as the half ended.

Third quarter was scoreless but the visitors got on the board in the fourth. A 13-yard run did it and a run added 2 points.

The final score again was by the Cubs. Starting 58 yards away, it included a 24-yard pass play from Darrell Danglmayr to Walter, an interference call and runs of 15 and 4 by Danglmayr.

Defensive standouts were Keith Koelzer, Deano Bayer, Wayne Becker, Mike Walter and Glen Reiter.

Punt, Pass & Kick set

It's time again for Punt, Pass and Kick. Mark Klement announced this week that Muenster Jaycees will sponsor the annual contest Saturday, October 1, 1 p.m., on the Muenster High football field.

Boys and girls, aged 8 through 13 are eligible to compete in the six age groups and the three high scores of each will receive trophies as awards. Scoring is determined by combining the distances of a punt, a pass and a kick.

Entry is subject to two requirements. A child must have the parent's permission and the sponsor as well as the school must be excused from responsibility in case of injury.

The following entry form may be used.

Name _____

Age _____ Date of Birth _____

The above named child has my permission to participate in the 1983 PP&K contest. I will not hold the Muenster Jaycees or Muenster Public School liable in case of an injury.

Parent's signature _____

Tigers, Alvord look like equals

Sacred Heart Tigers and their coaches have a feeling that they will go into this week's game as the equals of Alvord, and that their best effort will be enough to win. They're counting on it even though the Bulldogs have lost fewer games to date. Oddly the walloping from Bryson inspires a lot of the Tigers confidence. Coaches were less impressed by the fourth quarter Bryson runaway then by the first three periods in which the teams were on near even terms. In fact there were times when the Tigers appeared to have the advantage.

Regarding the Bulldogs, Coach Henscheid judges them as about equals. Both have small squads of equal speed and weight. The game should be a toss up unless the breaks or high enthusiasm makes a difference.

One discouraging fact is that the Tiger squad is losing players to illness and injuries. With Craig Voth, Steven Schmitt and Ron Dangelmayr now on the disabled list the roster is down to 19 players.

Happy 75th birthday to Texas 4-H. National 4-H week is October 2-8. The giant 4-H clover was formed by Texas 4-H members at the state roundup at Texas A&M University in observance of the 75th birthday celebration. Mike Bartush of Muenster 4-H and Amy and Nadine Pitzinger of Mountain Springs 4-H helped form the clover.

Forestburg sets trustee election

The board of Forestburg ISD has ordered a special trustee election on Tuesday, Nov. 8 to name successors of Charles Dill and Doyle Gates, who have resigned.

Deadline for filing candidacy is October 8, thirty days before the election. Application forms are available at the superintendent's office.

Phone 759-4311 to report news items, or send notes to Box 190, Muenster.

CCC to sponsor seminars on small businesses

Help is on the way from Cooke County College for persons who have more questions than answers about starting and managing their own small business.

Through its Division of Continuing Education, CCC will offer a special short-course on that subject in two day-long Saturday sessions, October 8 and 15.

"Starting and Managing Your Own Small Business" also is designed for persons already in business who want to improve their chances for success.

According to Dr. Eddie Hadlock, dean of Continuing Education at CCC, the course will be beneficial for persons involved in many different kinds of businesses such as retail stores, restaurants, service organizations, home businesses, small manufacturing firms and others.

"Investing two days of your time in this special program," he says, "can help you avoid some of the common pitfalls that frequently lead to business failures."

The course will be taught by Traute Phillips, instructor of management and supervisions courses in North Texas State University's School of Business where she is currently nearing completion of work on her doctorate.

Having been involved in several small businesses herself, Mr. Phillips also has worked in local and federal government and with the Small Business Administration in Denton, helping owners develop and plan many different business ventures.

Specific areas upon which Ms. Phillips will focus in the course include: determining if you are the type of person who can successfully run a business, choosing a business as well as an appropriate business form, planning for financial success, locating your business, developing management skills and looking at special requirements for being in business.

Cost of enrolling in the course is $32, which includes a packet of materials from the Small Business Administration on such topics as financial management and analysis, planning, marketing, general management and legal and governmental affairs.

To be conducted on the CCC campus, the course will meet from 9 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 4 p.m. on each of the two Saturdays. Deadline for enrollment is October 4.

Interested persons may enroll by coming to the Division of Continuing Education office in Room 120 on campus (building with flagpole in front). Office hours are 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Fridays.

Persons not able to enroll in person may mail a check for $32, made payable to Cooke County College, to the Division of Continuing Education, Cooke County College, P.O. Box 815, Gainesville, TX 76240. It is important that a note be included specifying which course the check is for.

For additional information, interested persons should call 817/668-7731, Ext. 220.

Forestburg FFA is eighth in judging

Forestburg FFA's No. 1 beef judging team won the eighth place banner in the Lone Star Hereford Ranch's field day and judging contest at Henrietta, Saturday. Douglas Edwards lead the team with a score of 329 out of a possible 350 and received the fourth high individual ribbon. He was 4 points below first individual who received a registered Hereford Heifer, compliments of Mr. Bryant Edwards. Other team members were Dee Dee Williams, 314 and Jeff Stevens 294. Laticia Bell was the team alternate.

Over 100 teams were entered in the senior division.

Competing as Forestburg's No. 2 team were Brent Shults, Jeff Lanier and Mike Hardy. The No. 3 team was Tommy Souther, Tracy Greenwood, Tracy Lanier and Mark Forrester.

Forestburg FFA's beef judging team was 8th in a field of more than 100 at the Lone Star Hereford Ranch judging contest. Team members are Laticia Bell, Dee Dee Williams, Jeff Stevens and Douglas Edwards.

Forestburg selects '83-84 cheerleaders

The 1983-84 cheerleaders have been selected at Forestburg. The junior high squad was chosen by the Bowie Varsity cheerleaders and they are: Melinda Smith, Tara Romine, Lisa Hamric, Dana Hamric and Carmen Tompkins. The high school squad was chosen by the high school boys basketball team and the new 1983-84 Senior High Longhorn cheerleaders are: Michelle Hudspeth, Cindy Griffin and Shana Muggae.

Last week, the Parent-Teachers Organization met with the Beta club for a salad supper. 63 adults attended the money raising event.

Last Wednesday evening, Fay Hamric went to Fort Worth to attend the Women's Olympic Volleyball team versus Korea. The USA team won three of the four matches. Mrs. Hamric was accompanied by Ruth and Monica Hess of Muenster and Phyllis Martin of Myra. The USA team is ranked second in the world and this tour was for funds and training. The mayor of Fort Worth came to the game and presented each members of the teams with individual gifts. The ceremony was followed by each teams national anthem and during the playing of the Korean song the victims of the jetliner that was shot down were remembered.

FHA holds installation and hot dog cookout

Installation ceremonies were held by the Muenster High School chapter of Future Homemakers of America, preceded by a hot dog cookout in the city park on Thursday evening, September 22.

In a candlelighting ceremony, new officers for 1983-'84 took their pledge, directed by Dora Sicking, past president. They are Cindy Tisdale, president; Trisha Reiter vice president; Karen Wolf secretary; JoEll Hellman treasurer; Jean Pagel reporter; Paula Russell parliamentarian; Connie Klement sgt.-at-arms; Kim Eldred historian; Donna Wolf and Jana Hamilton song leaders; Joni Sturm sponsor.

New members accepted are Kristi Pagel, Tracey Walterscheid, Judy Biffle, Melanie Richey, Rhonda Bayer, Angie Oakley, Julie Hacker, Rhonda Trubebach, Laura Hess and Sharon Russell. Among many requirements for admission were committing to memory the FHA Creed, Song and Motto.

During the meeting members scheduled a benefit bake sale for the chapter's treasury, for a date in December to be announced.

Forestburg PTO elects officers

Stephanie Boucher was elected president of the Forestburg PTO at its first meeting of the present school year. Others elected are Fay Hamric vice president; Linda Hudspeth, secretary and Claudia Wilson treasurer.

Also at the meeting the teachers, administrators and trustees were introduced, and drug abuse pamphlets were distributed and discussed.

The Beta honor club served a salad supper before the meeting and coffee and cookies later.

Oilers win 14 - 12 in pee wee loop

Muenster's KC Oilers made it three in a row Tuesday night at Gainesville when they came from behind for a 14-12 win over CBJ Tire and continued their lead in the Boys Club Loop.

The game started slow with a scoreless first period and a single TD in the second, resulting from a 3-yard run by CBJ.

The third quarter got more interesting as both sides lost scoring opportunities on fumbles. An 18-yard pass, Donnie Boydston to Scott Vogel, reached the 30, but the threat ended the next play on a fumble. Later CBJ drove to the 8 and fumbled.

However, things started popping in the last period. CBJ intercepted Boydston's pass and returned it 14 yards for a TD. The try for extra points failed but CBJ led 12-0.

Muenster got on the board when James Hennigan got loose on a 29-yard TD run and it added 2 points on Boydston's sprint around right end. Later Boydston put his team ahead with a 15-yard run, and the score remained at 14-12 when a run for bonus points failed.

Defensive standouts of the Oilers were Erin Perkins, Troy Pagel, Billy Covington and Jeff Hellman.

Harry places Third in triathlon

Harry Scoggins, competing in the over 50 class of athletes, came home with the number 3 plaque from the second annual triathlon at Wichita Falls last Saturday.

The race sponsored by First Wichita National Bank and the Runners Club of Wichita, is a composite of three events. The first is a 1 kilometer swim, the second a 25 kilometer bike ride and the third a 10 kilometer run. Harry's time for all three was 2 hours and 42 minutes.

Sixty five runners, 44 male and 21 female, participated in the fifth annual Twilight Trot sponsored September 17 by the Muenster Jaycees. Thirty-five of the participants were from Wichita Falls.

First to cross the finish line of the 5 mile race was Bryan Watson of the 26-35 age group with a time of 27:38. Next was Clay Davis of the 14-18 group and number 1 of the women was Margaret Stubes of the 26-35 age group.

Three local runners received trophies. Kirk Mollenkopf was No. 3 in the 19-25 male group; Gina Felderhoff and Missy Dangelmayr were Nos. 2 and 3 respectively in the 19-25 female group.

How many times have you heard or hear people say, "No one ever visits us (or me) anymore" or "I haven't seen anyone all week." Whatever has happened to the nice old custom of taking time to visit with our neighbors and friends? TIME - no one has time anymore as they are too involved doing their thing to do some friendly visiting. Also the telephone is such an easy way to visit and then the biggest deterrent is that "one-eyed" monster - our TV sets. Tis just so much easier to plod down in front of it and watch some dumb program than it is to get ready and visit with your friends and neighbors. Now I'm not telling you anything you don't already know. Yet, still none of us do a thing about it. Then, we have folks who will tell you that they never go anywhere, but would love for folks to visit them. Thus it goes on and on.

Juanita Bailey says Velma Freeman visited with her recently and they had an enjoyable time while looking at pictures that Velma took on her recent two-week trip to the Northwest.

When you begin to dislike someone, do something nice for him.

Sarah Cooper of Gainesville, Carolyn Stewart of Myra and Bill and Nell Looney of Decatur were all visitors with "Dude" and Bula Mae Berry Tuesday night the 20. Sarah, Carolyn and Bula Mae were co-workers at Weber Aircraft.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to express my sincere thanks to everyone for their masses, prayers, flowers, and get well wishes while I was in Baylor Hospital. Ronnie Hoagland 45-1C1

Facing major surgery is less frightening when one has the comfort and support of family and friends. I want to take this means of thanking all for prayers, Mass offerings, flowers and cards while I was in the hospital and since my return home. Thanks to the Rev. Fathers for their visits, to our local ambulance service and to a five team of doctors including Dr. Juarez, Pansegrau and Geisler. A special thank you to Dr. Sokol and to Maxine Morris and to the wonderful nurses for their care and concern. Gratefully, Richard Grewing and family 45-1C1

County Agent's Report

Loose smut is a fungal disease that can cause severe yield reductions to wheat producers. With planting at hand and some planting even begun, it seems appropriate to visit about its cause, effects, and control measures. This smut requires special control because of the way the fungus attacks. Loose smut fungus is stored within the seed of seed wheat used for planting. This is the primary difference with this fungus as compared to other fungi that are either in the ground or stored on the seed coat.

Loose smut can attack either wheat or barley. The disease is characterized by the short smutted heads that usually shatter out at harvest time. Economic losses come with infestations. A one percent infestation will reduce yields by 1/2 bushel per acre. If seed wheat is saved from infected fields, the chance of smut infestation to fields is increased. This year we saw some fields with as high as a 10 percent infestation. Variety selection is one way to reduce or limit infestations. Soft wheat is more susceptible than our available hard wheats. Of the hard wheats, Vona, Probrand 812, Probrand 835, Tex Red, Wings, and Sturdy seem to have a good resistance to loose smut. However, TAM 101 is a hard wheat that is fairly susceptible to loose smut. The only product on the market for control of loose smut is Vitavax and is in a seed treatment formula or a drill box treatment. We have seen a Vitavax-Captan drill box formulation that is also available, and it too works very well. Some soft wheat treated last year did not perform well in stopping infection. The probable cause was due to lack of moisture. Vitavax will not work well in dry conditions. If the treated seed lays in dry ground for ten days to two weeks, we can lose some of the product's effectiveness. So seed treated with Vitavax needs to be sown soon after moisture or when rain is expected. There has been some question raised as to the increased occurrence of loose smut with heavy moisture conditions in the winter and spring. There is no relationship to moisture and the occurrence of loose smut. It is seed born and only occurs with planting seed. One last thing Vitavax can cause irritation to the eyes and nose, so use some precautions when using the powder in drill box treatments. It's a good product that will help increase yields if needed. Remember your seed source and variety to see if the fungicide is beneficial or not to your cropping situation.

SCS plans tillage field day Oct. 12

A Conservation Tillage Field Day will be held October 12 at Cooke County College beginning at 9:30 a.m. The event will be co-sponsored by the Upper Elm-Red Soil and Water Conservation District, the Soil Conservation Service, the Extension Service, and Cooke County College.

Conservation tillage is a cultural practice that retains protective amounts of residue mulch on the surface throughout the year. This includes no-tillage, strip tillage, stubble mulching, and other types of noninversion tillage.

"The purpose of the Field Day will be to acquaint farmers in the area with possibility of adopting conservation tillage methods on their own farms," according to Clyde Hale, chairman of the board of the Upper Elm-Red Soil and Water Conservation District.

The morning session will be held at the auditorium at Cooke County College. Jerry Waller and Andy Spencer, agronomists with the Soil Conservation Service, will present programs on the basics of conservation tillage and conservation tillage systems in Cooke County. Doug Robison, agricultural instructor at Cooke County College, will give a program on fertilization in conservation tillage systems and soil analysis services available at Cooke County College.

Shortly before noon the program will move to the Jake Biffle farm near Myra. A free barbecue lunch will be served to the participants at the farm. Representatives from chemical companies will set up displays and discussion booths in order to explain their herbicide products' use in conservation tillage systems.

After lunch the program will begin again with Dale Loveless, of the Agricultural Extension Service, showing farmers how to properly calibrate a boom sprayer.

Dale will lead a discussion of weed control methods in conservation tillage systems.

The Field Day will conclude with the demonstration of four different conservation tillage grain drills. The local distributors of these drills will each give a presentation of the unique features of their planting equipment. Each machine

Food prices expected to rise

As far as the outlook for food prices is concerned, it's the lull before the storm.

While food prices have remained stable during the past six months, consumers can expect to start paying more at the supermarket before long.

"It all boils down to the effects of this summer's drought over much of the nation," says Dr. Dick Edwards, an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The drought has severely reduced corn and soybeans used for feed, causing their prices to jump. Corn prices have already climbed some 30 percent in the past six months while soybean prices have climbed about 40 percent. This means higher feed costs which, in turn, push up the cost of producing cattle, hogs, poultry and eggs, says the economist.

"Beef and pork prices, for instance, could jump as much as 20 percent," he says. "Consumers have enjoyed fairly low beef and pork prices in recent months as producers have had to liquidate herds because of drought conditions. This has resulted in large supplies of red meat and subsequent low prices to consumers."

This year's drought and hot summer weather have also taken their toll in the poultry industry. Several million broilers have died from the extreme heat, which has also had a dampening effect on egg production. All this adds up to fewer broilers and eggs in the coming months, and that, coupled with higher feed costs, means higher prices to consumers.

Higher beef and pork prices also have a tendency to pull up retail poultry prices, the economist says.

What's a consumer to do with these prospects in sight?

"A prudent consumer may wish to buy and store red meat and poultry products in anticipation of higher prices," says Edwards.

PIK means income... and taxes!

Let Edward D. Jones & Co. show you the right tax-free investments to protect your PIK dollars.

This year, the federal government has taken some of the guesswork out of farming with its Payment-in-Kind program. They've guaranteed a certain amount of commodity you'll have available to sell. Sounds good, doesn't it?

But here's something else they've guaranteed - you'll still have to pay taxes on that PIK income.

So this year, while your production costs are down and while you've got some guaranteed income, let Edward D. Jones & Co. show you how to keep those PIK dollars in your pocket with careful, conservative, tax-free and tax-advantaged investments.

Happy Birthday Mark Miller

Russell Brian Hoehn dies in pickup accident Saturday

Little Russell Brian Hoehn, 2, a grandson of Bill Hoehn, native and former resident of Muenster, died Saturday in a Fort Worth hospital from injuries received earlier in the day at his home near Graham. He was a passenger in a pickup truck which went out of control when the loaded trailer behind whipped from side to side. The child was thrown out and killed as the vehicle turned over. Other passengers were unhurt. Funeral services for the little boy were held Monday at Graham and burial was in the Bryson Cemetery. He was born in Palo Pinto County, May 12, 1981, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Brian Hoehn, and a grandson of Bill and Rita Hoehn of Deer Park.

The following relations of this area attended the services: Phyllis Youngblood and Tony and Doug Cler of Muenster; Sandy and Leon Fuhrmann and Joyce and Mark Cler of Myra; and Debbie Randolph of Thackerville. Family members surviving are the parents and a sister, Misty Dawn.

Cub Scout News

Pack 664 of the Cub Scouts started its new year Monday in the park pavilion with a busy meeting involving parents with the members. It opened with a flag ceremony presented by Den 1 with Jeff Walterscheid leading, and a welcome to Cubs and parents along with announcements by Cubmaster Lupe Evans. First event is the annual turkey shoot at the October 23 pack meeting. Den members are Michael Goble, Ryan Sicking, Helmuth Koelzer, Sammy Walterscheid, Scott Wilde, Mark Flusche and Chad Simmons. Next on the agenda was a candle lighting ceremony in which parents and leaders pledged support to the Cub program, and dens and leaders were introduced. Committee people were also introduced and parents were invited to join the committee.

Cubs from Saint Jo, who will join the Muenster pack for future meetings and events were then inducted into 664. They are James Redman, Wylie Harrie, Todd Hutson, Richie Gaston, and Noah Pitman. Their leader is Ghelda Harris.

Chris Felderhoff is a new member of Den 2, led by Andy Trubenbach. Others in the den are Cody Trubenbach, Brian Knabe, Aaron Berres, Tommy Greathouse, Martin McCoy, Justin Hartman, Darrin Bindel and Scott Hennigan. The den presented a game "magic trick" at the meeting. Den three's part in the meeting was a song. Led by Mil Biffle, the members are Jason Biffle, Darren Klement, Steven Nasche, Justin Ramsey, Kenneth Walterscheid and Gussie Felderhoff.

Webelos performed a surgical skit using tools they use in working for a craft-isman pin. Their leader is Reace Parton and members are Douglas Evans, Terry Felderhoff, Kelly Colwell, Raymond Stewart and Ryan Gehrig.

Awards were presented as follows: a trained leader badge to Andy Trubenbach and summertime pack awards to all cubs who attended the three summertime activities.

Webelos and their parents joined in a presentations of the Webelos colors after which Webelos received activity pins as follows: Douglas Evans, Terry Felderhoff, Kelly Colwell and Raymond Stewart, aquanaut and athlete; Ryan Gehrig received the same pins plus a sportsman activity pin.

Saint Jo's den conducted the closing ceremony. Murlin Evans and Jeff Walterscheid gave the scouter's benediction.

Family Fun Night held by 4-H Club

The 4-H Club Family Fun Night was held on Sept. 17 at 7 p.m. in the Cooke County Electric Co-op Building. All Muenster 4-H Club families were invited. The group enjoyed a bountiful buffet supper, with covered dishes brought by each family.

Valerie Vogel presided for a brief business meeting and introduced 4-H Club officers. They are Tammie Reiter vice president; Rose Herr secretary; Dana Dankesreiter reporter; Amy Davidson council delegate; Darwin Sicking alternate council delegate; Amy Bayer song leader.

Awards were given for project completions during the year, and plans for the new year were discussed. The meeting was adjourned at 9:15 p.m.
