It was gratifying Monday to hear that the fact finding committee of congressmen who went to Grenada to learn what actually happened there came home with a change of ideas. Before going they sided with the majority of lawmakers and media people, mean mouthing President Reagan for what they regarded as unjustifiable interference in affairs of other countries as well taking the decisive action on his own without seeking other Washington opinions.

We clearly recall that early comment on the incident was unfavorable by a strong majority. The liberals were losing no time in telling the public that Reagan had goofed and he was trigger happy. It was a political bonanza to get in whatever licks they could to alienate him from the people.

However a change of tune became apparent later in the day when the barrage of criticism subsided and other opinions started coming through. A White House report disclosed that the majority of opinion received there supported the President. And a nationwide news agency, seeking the voice of the people rather than political reactions, conducted a poll. It was even more favorably inclined than the White House phone calls.

About that time newscasters had begun to realize that our politicians and many allies abroad, and, of course, all communists were opposing Reagan on the issue, but America nevertheless was for him.

One of the big gripes is that the motive of protecting US citizens on the island, especially several hundred medical students, was only an unjustified excuse for attacking the country. But word from Grenada contradicted that claim. People said Cubans had taken over the island, murdered its leaders, and were holding US citizens captive. They verified the president's statement that Marines and Rangers, rather than invading the island, as charged, were actually liberating the country from a Red invader.

Besides, it was learned soon that the work crew building an air field were Cuban soldiers, not workers. Moreover it was obvious that the size of the landing field was intended to accommodate big military planes, not just the average size commercial planes. Intelligence reports further disclose that the island was intended as a Soviet-Cuban base for supplying and directing the spread of Communism in Central and South America.

As regards the attitude of people rescued by our military, the hundreds of students who kissed the ground on arriving, and the island's residents are emphatically thankful for deliverance from Red rule and their few days of Red mistreatment.

To carry the matter further, even Cuban soldiers have reasons to be thankful. Captured in combat, they were not mistreated as Communist prisoners are mistreated, but just disarmed and sent home.

Considering all the angles, this mission could be regarded as a success.

Council's lake stand reaffirmed

Muenster City Council members had originally anticipated another heated discussion on the controversial Lake Muenster project at their regular meeting Monday, but the meeting for the most part was routine.

City Mayor Ronnie Felderhoff had researched the project and prepared a fact sheet covering the chronology and economics of the project since 1971, which he read to a turnout which was light in comparison to the last meeting.

Felderhoff's statements essentially reaffirmed the council's position on the lake project — that surface water is the best way to deal with the city's future water needs, that this project in particular will meet those needs and that the bond approval cannot be withdrawn at this time.

Felderhoff and the rest of the Council then fielded several questions on the lake's depth and cost as well as the status of the underground water reserves and status of Muenster's wells.

Council members, acting on the recommendation of the city's zoning board, turned down a request to rezone a section of block 31 from residential to light industrial.

Zoning board member Earl Fisher told the Council the proposal had met with considerable resistance from residents living in the area. The area to be re-zoned was three blocks north of Highway 82 on Mesquite. Fisher said the zoning board preferred to retain the area's present residential classification until more specific purposes for the rezoning were brought forth.

The Council also considered the purchase of a front-end loader for a tractor to be used primarily for street repairs and maintenance. City Superintendent Ron Montgomery explained that much of the work done on city streets could be done by the city rather than by contractors. Council members were receptive to the idea, but tabled it for more in-depth consideration at the next meeting.

The council discussed, but took no official action on what should be done for repairs to the filter system in the municipal pool. Wayne Tate said the system may or may not make it through another season. The Council plans to review whatever alternatives are available at a later date.

Council members were asked by the Muenster Chamber of Commerce to pick up the tab for electricity used at the city's Mid-Park, which is currently maintained by the Chamber. Disagreement over the issue focused on civic contributions vs. precedent setting. Parks Commissioner Bertha Hamric said that in light of the improvement to the appearance of the downtown area, the Council should agree to pay the bill, which is expected to average about $5 per month. Councilman Ted Henscheid said the issue could set a precedent whereby other civic groups could seek city money to pay for similar projects.

The Council approved the measure 3-2 with Councilmen Aubrey Tuggle, Johnny Pagel and Bertha Hamric voting in favor and Councilmen Henscheid and Willie Wimmer opposing. In other action, the Council:

Bonfire accident injures 4 players

The traditional bonfire at Sacred Heart last week was not the usual happy occasion of past years. An explosion injured four members of the Tiger team, changing the pep rally to a subdued event.

It happened as gasoline was being poured over the bonfire materials to give the fire a better start and more intensive blaze. Some 200 persons were there but no one was concerned about the remains of a smoldering campfire used during the night by boys guarding the wood. Spreading fumes from the gasoline crawled along the ground until they reached the flame, causing the big explosion felt as far as a quarter of a mile away. Four boys were injured in the blast, all being taken to Muenster Memorial Hospital and dismissed after examination and treatment.

Jim Bartush received the worst injuries, consisting of burns on face, stomach and arms. He was unable to play in the homecoming game.

However the other three got into the game. Nick Hess received burns on arms and face. Tim Bartel was burned on one arm, wrist to elbow. John Nasche received first degree burns on one arm.

Two boys, pouring the gasoline at the top of the lumber were blown off by the blast but not injured.

UIL-court ruling snags playoff schedule

Monday's court decision reversing the 'JIL ruling which declared a Valley View football player ineligible and conceded a win by forfeit to Lindsay has suddenly changed final standings of the zone and disrupted the play off schedule.

Since Monday's court action the zone champion is Valley View with a perfect 7-0 season. At the same time Lindsay drops to a three way tie at 5-2 with Bells and Prosper. Other standings are Muenster and Collinsville, each 2-5, Era and Gunter, each 1-6.

The revised standing have the playoff schedule in a snarl. Before the court verdict Lindsay and Valley View were tied and Lindsay had the nod for the title based on its win over the Eagles. It was booked to play Caddo Mills, east zone runner-up, at Royce City.

But now Valley View is No. 1 and due to meet Caddo Mills in the playoff. And the former Valley View foe, Celeste, the east zone champ, is due to meet one of the three west zone runners-up at Sherman. The problem there is which of the three will be chosen and how and by whom. Those answers were not available late Wednesday.

Chamber prepares for a different kind of 'fest

Muenster Chamber of Commerce members turned out in larger than usual numbers for the organization's regular monthly luncheon and discussed final plans for the biggest project of the year other than the Germanfest.

The first ever Christmasfest in Muenster celebration is intended to take advantage of the community's rich ethnic heritage at a time of the year equally rich in tradition. One of the main aims of the event which begins with the Christmas Parade Nov. 26 and runs through Christmas, is to promote Muenster as a beneficial shopping alternative to the hustle and bustle of larger cities and malls. The schedule for Christmasfest includes two parades and a drawing for a $500 shopping spree Nov. 26 and late night shopping and entertainment each Thursday until Christmas. Extensive decorations are being planned for the Mid-Park, which will be the center of most of the activity during the observance.

John Fisher, chairman of the Chamber's Ways and Means Committee, told the members that more effort and planning has been put into the project than any other Chamber undertaking except for the Germanfest and urged as much participation in the celebration as possible.

Chamber of Commerce members display the banner, made by Daryl Ferber, which will lead this year's Christmas parade and officially open the first-ever Christmasfest.

Good News

Sirach 33:1-4
No evil can harm the man who fears the Lord; through trials, again and again he is safe.
He who hates the law is without wisdom, and is tossed about like a boat in a storm.
The prudent man trusts in the word of the Lord, and the law is dependable for him as a divine oracle.
Prepare your words and you will be listened to; draw upon your training, and then give your answer.

Winter on the way

Wednesday's 50 degree temperature was not the coldest to date. It just felt that way with a chill factor breeze and reports of snow storms up north. Actually 11 days of October were colder, with readings in the forties. Temperature was moderate but rainfall of 2.64 inches has ended the drought, and then some. The week's rain, along with 24.89 inches through October, brings the current measure to 27.53.
Low and high temperatures along with the moisture measure of the week are recorded as follows by Steve Moster.

November 3	62 and 81
November 4	2.08 in rain 63 and 77
November 5	58 and 64
November 645 in rain 55 and 60
November 703 in rain 52 and 65

COMMENT

Bernie Fette/Perspectives

Fun-lovin' guys

FUN-LOVIN' bunch, those Democrats. Let it not be said that this presidential race we now have developing is one destined to be dominated by stuffy and mundane issues and such.

No sirree. As we enter this homestretch year leading to the 1984 election, it's plain to see we have some candidates here who are blessed both with imagination and an unrelenting desire to have a good time. And that's refreshing, because after all, goodness knows Ronald Reagan isn't having much fun these days with the mess in the Middle East and all. Someone in the political world may as well have a good time. And at least a few in the field of Democratic presidential candidates seem to be doing just that.

How many Democratic presidential candidates can you stuff into a phone booth, anyway?

Seriously, though, these guys deserve a little credit for becoming so creative. They had to for goodness' sake; they all had the same idea at the beginning. Remember the National Women's Political Caucus in San Antonio earlier this year? Booooooring. Every one of the candidates from the Democratic side dispensed with the same lines — the "we hate Ronnie" approach, and the shallow bull that they would all "seriously consider" a woman as vice-presidential running mate. These guys had no choice but to become more creative in their approach. They all would be forced to do something, say something, promise something or claim something that none of the other candidates could.

Take John Glenn for instance. Goodness knows he probably wouldn't be in the race anymore if it weren't for a recently released movie that made him out to be a hero. Glenn does deserve a little credit for that one. We all know how easy it is to make little jokes about Reagan's movie star days; Glenn merely decided to fight fire with fire. We'll just have to wait and see if "The Right Stuff" is enough.

Walter Mondale seems to be doing even better. Mondale has been soliciting political support from none other than his old boss, Jimmy Carter. Certainly, we can see what a variety of opportunities that association presents. What could be more entertaining than a flip-flop of one of the biggest political jokes of the twentieth century? These guys know how to have a good time.

Then we have those who combine humor with suspense, which brings us to our next candidate — Jesse 'last-one-in-is-a-rotten-egg' Jackson. Where the suspense comes in with Jackson is really quite artful. There are still a lot of people out there who can't figure out if he's a black presidential candidate or a presidential candidate who just happens to be black.

But that's where the suspense ends with this candidate. Other candidates have only said they'd "consider" a female running mate; Jackson says he plans to have one. Boy you can just imagine what the national media's going to do with that one. Remember the NASA flights and all the fuss they made over a woman in space, and then a black in space? It wasn't long before some were predicting next space flight to include a headless, libertarian-Jewish-housewife. What a kiddie, that Jackson.

Yeah, fun-lovin' bunch, those Democrats.

Who's the real enemy

THE GOOD news is that the United States did it right in Grenada, reversing a long run of military catastrophes and embarrassments. The bad news is that the United States government seems to think a key element of military success is beating the press along with the enemy.

It's not hard to understand — to some extent even sympathize with — the government's position. Failure and humiliation have characterized most recent U.S. military operations — from Vietnam to Mayaguez, from the Iran desert fiasco to the bombing of the Marine barracks in Beirut.

In the Reagan administration, among U.S. conservatives and in the military, a profound conviction has grown up that the American press was heavily responsible for our side's losing in Vietnam and that in general the media are anti-military, arrogant, biased and left-wing.

These groups think the press reports only "bad" stories about the military services — cost overruns, weapons that don't work — and is hostile to the interests of the United States and its allies, whether it's Israel in Lebanon or the United States in El Salvador.

More sophisticated observers think the problem lies not with the messengers, but with the medium of television, which brings the gory battlefield into the living room, demoralizes the population and undermines political support for military operations.

On top of all this, the Reagan administration has a special mania about secrecy, inspired by the president's oft-expressed anger at information leaks.

Operating with such biases, and inspired by the example of successful censorship of the Falklands war, the United States kept reporters off Grenada, sequestered those who did manage to reach the island and then conducted guided tours to skew reporting of the operation the U.S. government's way.

The administration claimed it was acting to insure the safety of the press itself, but this was a phony excuse. In prior wars, reporters have been allowed to accompany troops into combat, sharing their chow, barracks and danger. This time, when reporters finally were allowed free access to Grenada, they were told to find their own food, shelter and water.

All this indicates that the Reagan administration is hardly acting out of concern for the welfare of the press, but out of hostility.

It is all overdone and unnecessary. It is based on misinterpretations of the values of the American press and a flawed history, and it arrives at the mistaken conclusion that closed-down press coverage can produce military success. First, the press did not lose the war in Vietnam; the U.S. government did. At the outset of the war, in fact, television coverage was basically positive, emphasizing school construction and other good works. Newspaper reporting tended to be critical of the means by which the war was fought, but supportive of the ends.

When the country was rudely surprised by the Tet offensive in 1968, the press did stop finding "good" stories to report and began looking for "bad" ones, but it was reflecting the mood of American elites and not unilaterally manufacturing that mood.

If you say that reporters are not supposed to reflect anybody's mood, but just report the facts objectively, you are technically correct, but you are also asking the impossible. No one is entirely objective; everyone is a prisoner of his experience and the intellectual atmosphere in which he lives.

American reporters are not left-wing in any determined or systematic way, though they do tend as individuals to share the attitudes of the well-educated upper middle class from which they spring.

Various surveys show that a large majority of top reporters and editors voted at George McGovern in 1972, for example. But McGovern would be the first to acknowledge that he got no easy ride from the press. Reporters may have their biases, but they often bend over backward to compensate for them.

There is a tradition in the American press, at the same time, of defending underdogs. Unfortunately, historical short-sightedness and lack of full access to the facts leads the press to romanticize revolutionaries — the left in El Salvador, the Palestine Liberation Organization in Lebanon — and to ignore their terrorism.

Beyond that, Vietnam and Watergate served to heighten the traditional adversarial relationship between the press and the U.S. government — and also made the press insufferably arrogant about its role in preserving American democracy.

The press does not deserve — the First Amendment does not require — that every event be open, every secret be public and every reporter's request be granted.

But if President Reagan was right in believing that he prevented establishment of a major Cuban base in Grenada, and if U.S. troops performed effectively in taking the island, the U.S. victory would seem all the more brilliant if witnessed by the press first-hand.

Larry Tisdale/The Owner's Manual Of sheep and men

WHEN THE Lord created sheep, He must have had in mind the use He would one day make of them in teaching spiritual truths. He put those rare characteristics into their natures—which so closely resemble the Christian traits which He desires, and which were to be counterpart of Himself as the Good Shepherd. He seems to say, "If you wish to learn how to live the Christian life, watch the sheep. If you wish to see Me, watch some faithful shepherd."

Millions of sheep were, and still are, raised in the Middle East. It is not uncommon to see some of the shepherd's flock with painted wool. This could indicate at least two things. These sheep may not belong to the shepherd. They may belong to another and he is simply caring for them. They could easily be distinguished from his own sheep who are controlled by the owner's voice. On the other hand, the painted animals may be sheep which were recently purchased and have not learned the voice of their new shepherd.

This same difficulty arises with many who are in the early days of their new faith in the Lord Jesus. They have not listened enough to the Good Shepherd's voice to distinguish it from the babel of voices in the world. We cannot be two careful in teaching new believers to distinguish the voice of their Lord from the voices of their enemies who will hurt, kill and destroy.

Jesus tells us in John 10:27, "My sheep hear My voice, and I know them, and they follow Me." After the wheat harvest in Israel, the shepherds are allowed to bring their flocks into the fields for grazing. One writer tells of one of these occasions on the plains of Tekoa when there must have been at least a dozen flocks of sheep and as many shepherds. Since the sheep were mingled together he thought to himself, "How will they ever be separated from the rest and be reunited with their own shepherd?" In a little while three of the shepherds were going their separate ways. One used the call, "Ho!

Ho!" Another, "Men-ah" and the other, "Ta-a-a." Leaving the rest, the three flocks went to their shepherds and they went their separate ways.

But it is not so much the crowds of the shepherd as it is his voice to which the sheep give heed. Many tourists to the Bible lands have tried to call these sheep, but their efforts were all in vain. Some have even put on the shepherd's coat, his head-dress, carried his staff, and used the right words in imitating the voice; but the marvelous instinct of the sheep told them that he was a stranger and they immediately fled from him. The Lord Jesus made reference to this trait of sheep when He said in John 10:5, "And a stranger they simply will not follow, but will flee from him, because they do not know the voice of strangers."

We need to be so close to the Lord that we will flee from the calling of Satan, as the sheep flee from a stranger, but harken to the voice of the Lord, and go wherever He calls us.

Letter to the Editor

To the Editor:

I received the following letter from John Sloan, President of the National Federation of Independent Businessmen. Hopefully many others are tired of federal tax increases and will be willing to do their part to stop runaway spending by the Federal government.

Dear NFIB Guardian:

I am writing you to try to get your help in preventing Congress from increasing your taxes again. Congress has placed itself, and the country, in a tough spot. It has allowed spending and spending programs to grow so large that they are impossible to pay for without huge budget deficits or tax increases. Deficits of $150 to $200 billion are no longer unthinkable — they are already here.

Many members of Congress are concerned about the size of the Federal deficit and are urging that the only responsible thing to do is raise taxes and cut spending. It sounds reasonable and responsible until you look closer — then you always notice that the tax increases are for sure and the spending cuts are a maybe. The perfect example of this is the 1982 tax increase (TEFRA) which was supposed to couple three dollars in spending cuts with every dollar of tax increase. In reality, we only received about half of the spending cuts while we will be forced to pay every dollar of the $98 billion tax increase.

The problem of government deficits is not one of too few taxes (we already work on average from January 1st to about May 1st each year for the government) but of too much spending. Spending that we cannot afford. Taxes are currently running close to their historic norm as a percentage of the Gross National Product (GNP) — around 19 percent — while spending is running four to five percent above its historic average — at about 24 percent of GNP. The difference is our $200 billion deficit. Besides, taxes were already raised last year by over $98 billion, while FICA, FUTA and energy taxes were all raised earlier this year.

Now is not the time for raising taxes again, it is the time for serious spending cuts. It is the time for revising the so-called "entitlement" programs (like Medicare, Social Security and Unemployment Compensation) that Congressmen too often say are "uncontrollable". They are only "uncontrollable" because the people who benefit from these programs speak loudly and with one voice, while those who pay for them rarely speak up. If we don't begin to speak up soon, Congress will choose to reduce the deficit by increasing taxes again, not by cutting spending.

At this moment the pro tax forces in Congress are pushing hard to get their colleagues to raise taxes again. In both the Senate and House $50 to $60 billion tax bills are only a half-step away from final floor votes. And if it were not for the strong opposition of the President, and his promise to veto a tax bill, Congress would have already acted to raise your taxes. If you believe that $175 billion plus deficits are bad for the economy, and that they must be reduced by spending cuts rather than raising taxes, then I urge you to call, or write your Senators (both of them) and your Congressman immediately. Let them know that you do not want your taxes raised again and that you want the deficit reduced by real spending cuts. The issue is before Congress right now. Unless you speak out strongly and clearly, there will be new, large tax increases for those of us who already pay our fair share. If you have time, you should also drop a note to the President at the White House thanking him for his strong stand against new taxes and encouraging him to remain firm.

Sincerely,
John E. Sloan Jr. President

Local voters OK six amendments

In a very tight turnout the voters of Muenster disagreed with the rest of the state in Tuesday's election on constitutional amendments. The state approved 10 and Muenster approved only 6.

The state rejected No. 8, the proposal authorizing taxing units to exempt veterans and fraternal organizations from property tax. Muenster likewise turned down the proposal. However local voters also turned down Numbers 2, 4, 5 and 10.

Out of a possible 1500 votes in the two local polling places, Muenster had a turnout of 193. Combined votes of the two boxes were listed as follows:

- No. 1, 146 yes, 43 no.
- No. 2, 76 yes, 103 no.
- No. 3, 104 yes 87 no.
- No. 4, 83 yes 100 no.
- No. 5 66 yes 21 no.
- No. 6, 172 yes 20 no.
- No. 7, 103 yes 90 no.
- No. 8, 63 yes 126 no.
- No. 9, 97 yes 177 no.
- No. 10, 61 yes 123 no.
- No. 11, 111 yes 73 no.

Diabetes screening clinic scheduled

The Texas Department of Health Regional Office in Arlington will hold a hypertension and diabetes screening clinic at the Sacred Heart Community Center meeting room Wednesday, November 16 from 9:30 to noon.

The screenings will be performed by Public Health nurses at no charge. Public awareness and an increased citizen participation has tended to decrease fatalities due to heart problems. The so-called "Silent Disease" of Diabetes is receiving increased attention by Public Health personnel in an effort to discover early warning signs of the disease.

"Since each of these diseases can prove to be fatal or cause other health problems, each adult should visit his or her private physician or the Public Health Clinic on a regular basis," said Hal J. Dewlett, M.D., Director, Public Health Region 5.

ded as one of the proudest incidents of our recent history. The president is due credit for his instant response to a free people's distress call. To delay while political Washington fusses over making up its mind could have tipped off the enemy and jeopardized the mission. To rescue the captives and send them along with the military personnel back home demonstrates the official US attitude of helping people in distress but not to annex more land. All the world can see in this a contrast with the communist way. USSR and Cuba were caught red-handed in the act of conquest. We had the opportunity and ability to claim the country after kicking on the invader, but showed instead that we want peace, not territory.

Another consideration in this affair is that so many of our politicians mouthed the tiresome old line that happenings in other countries are not our business. Unfortunately they seem to be especially inclined in the direction where communists are involved. And we have to wonder in this case whether the objection was influenced by the presence of communists as the enemy. Well, Reagan has demonstrated that invasion by us to support of friends is no less justified than invasion by Reds to conquer our friends.

Americans, and all the world for that matter, should understand that a free person's loyalty or sanity has to be suspect if USSR is conceded the right to take over a country, but it's none of our business.

The Nose Knows.

An aromatic chemical is added to natural gas to give it a distinct odor. One that's easy to detect.

It's this distinct odor and knowing what to do when you detect it that keeps gas safe.

If you're outdoors and smell gas, you should call your local Lone Star Gas office.

If you're indoors and detect faint whiffs, check to see if a pilot light has gone out or a burner valve has been left partially open. These are corrective steps you can take yourself.

If your equipment is working properly and you still smell gas, please follow these precautions:

Brenda Walterscheid, Franklin Leon united in Sacred Heart ceremony

Brenda Sue Walterscheid of Muenster and Franklin Eduardo Leon of Santiago, Dominican Republic were married in Sacred Heart Church of Muenster on Saturday, November 5. Father Jerry Mosman, pastor of Immaculate Conception Church in Denton, was celebrant of the nuptial Mass and officiated for their vows in a formal, double ring ceremony at 5 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Walterscheid. She is a 1979 graduate of Muenster High School and attended Cooke County College. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fernando Leon of Santiago, Dominican Republic. He is a 1981 graduate of Cooke County College and 1983 graduate of North Texas State University. He is employed by Cerveceria Bohemia, S.A. as coordinator of Promotion and Publicity.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride was wearing an Alfred Angelo original wedding gown, designed with Victorian neckline of silky Venise lace and pearls. A sheer yoke and deep off-shoulder lace ruffles enhanced the southern look, with long sheer sleeves. The fitted bodice and full southern belle skirt were trimmed with a beautiful pattern of Venise and Alencon lace. Alencon lace edged the hem of the skirt and the scalloped, cathedral-length train.

Her white, roll-brim bridal hat was covered with chiffon and lace. It was up-swept on one side to reveal a cluster of white silk roses. Her walk-in-length illusion veil was accented by a cage blusher.

Her bridal flowers were carried in a flowing cascade of Madonna lilies, baby orchids and roses, stephanotis and lily of the valley. Included within the bouquet was a gold baby ring belonging to the bride's maternal grandfather, the late Tom Hamilton; also a lace handkerchief formerly belonging to the bride's maternal great-great-grandmother, Fanny

Morgan; and a rosary gift from the bride's sister Carla. For sentiment and tradition the bride wore a garter made by her aunt, Tommie Sue Hess using taffeta and lace from her mother's wedding gown worn 24 years ago. For sentiment also, the bride's father placed a birth date penny in her shoe preceding the ceremony.

Attendants
Bridal attendants were her sister, Carla Walterscheid as maid of honor and another sister, Staci Walterscheid, a cousin Renate Hess, and a friend Lisa Walterscheid as bridesmaids.

Their light lavender taffeta gowns accented the bride's dress, with high neckline, sheer yoke, and off-shoulder ruffles. The skirt was designed with a wide flounced hem that swept up in back to simulate a bustle effect.

They carried long stem purple and light lavender blossoms, tied with purple ribbons.

Da Lana Endres was the flower girl.

Fernando A. Leon was his brother's best man. Eduardo Leon, Luis Leon, Guillermo Leon, brothers of the groom, all of Santiago, were groomsmen.

Two friends of the couple, Tommy Fernandez and Robert Fernandez of Santiago, the bride's brother Darren Walterscheid and her cousin Rodney Hess both of Muenster were ushers. Stuart Hess, bride's cousin was Mass server.

Wedding music was presented as guests assembled and during Mass by Ruth Felderhoff, organist and Wendell Black and Luz Maria Restrepo, vocalists who presented selections in English and Spanish.

Altar decorations included arrangements of white gladioli and lavender orchids, tall floor candelabra entwined with greenery and purple bows and center-aisle pew markers of white silk bows accented with purple orchids and small blossoms.

Reception

A reception, dinner and dance followed in the Sacred Heart Community Center.

Cousins of the bride, Pam McDonald of Farmers Branch and Deb Klement of Muenster presided at the guest book.

The bride's table held two large hurricane lamps with purple candles, enhanced with blossoms in the chosen colors. The centerpiece was an arrangement of silk purple and lavender orchids and mixed blossoms.

Betty Rose Walterscheid baked, decorated and served the three-tiered wedding cake, which stood over a lighted fountain surrounded by votive candles and silk flowers. Shirley Endres cut the groom's cake; Wanda Cloud, Kathie Herr and Lisa Reiter were reception assistants and cake servers.

A bountiful buffet of pick up foods was catered by the bride's aunt, Ginny Schneider. Guests danced to music by Mike Otts.

Guests attended from Santiago and Santo Domingo, D.R.; and Miami, Florida; Hennessey, Miami and Kendrick, Oklahoma; Hereford and Denton, Texas; including grandmothers of the bride, Mrs. Leona Hamilton and Mrs. Catherine Walterscheid, both of Muenster.

The couple will make their home in Santiago, following a wedding trip to Dallas.

The rehearsal dinner was held on Oct. 30 in the home of the bride's parents, and a shower on Oct. 9 was hosted by Carla and Staci Walterscheid, Renate Hess, Lisa Walterscheid and Da Lana Endres.

Julius Sandmanns celebrate fortieth wedding anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Sandmann celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary with a party in the home of a son and daughter-in-law, Diamond and Debbie Sandmann, on Saturday, November 5.

A Mass of Thanksgiving at 7 p.m. in St. Peter's Catholic Church of Lindsay preceded anniversary festivities. The Mass commemorated the day, November 9, 1943, when Julius Sandmann and the former Marie Zimmerer were married in St. Peter's Church. Their parents were the late Ben and Catherine Sandmann and John and Katie Zimmerer.

Mass servers were grandsons of the honored couple, Keith Klement, Chad Sandmann and Corey Sandmann. Presenting petitions, honoring their grandparents, and saying a big "Thank You" for the love and kindness shown throughout the years to the little ones by "Grandpa" and "Grandma", were Tina Klement and Michelle Berend, granddaughter.

All children of the couple and their spouses, and all 16 grandchildren, and a few friends and neighbors attended the Mass, and afterwards were all guests for a sumptuous dinner prepared by the honor couple's family.

The anniversary cake was baked and decorated with pink roses by Betty Rose Walterscheid, and was used as the table centerpiece. There was a display of the original wedding picture, a 40th anniversary gold bell and arrangements of pink and burgundy flowers surrounding the cake.

During the evening, grandchildren coaxed the honor couple into making pictures offering toasts and kisses to each other and to their children, also the traditional cutting of the cake, followed by a formal family portrait of the couple and their six children.

Their children are Larry Sandmann, Leroy (Peanuts) Sandmann, Charlotte Klement, Mary Jo Berend, Diamond Sandmann and Leslie Sandmann.

Lupe Evans gets 2 Scout awards

Lupe Evans, cubmaster of troop 664, was honored twice during the past week for leadership and training of Cub Scouts during her four years of working with the organization.

She received the bronze pelican medal at the Catholic Scouting Committee 1983 Bishop's Dinner at Fort Worth last Thursday, and the award of merit plaque at the recognition dinner of the Frontier Trails district at Fort Worth Saturday.

The bronze pelican award was adopted by the Catholic Committee on Scouting, Diocese of Fort Worth, in 1981. Its symbolism is based on an old legend which says when there is no food, the pelican tears her breast and feeds her young with her own blood. This story made the bird a symbol of charity, mother love and self sacrifice as well as a religious symbol.

The bronze pelican award was blessed and presented by Bishop Joseph Delaney in recognition of Parvuli Dei (child of God) awards received by 25 Cub Scouts under her leadership.

This Award of Merit plaque, the highest honor available to a Scout leader in the Frontier Trails district of the Boy Scouts, was presented to Lupe Evans Saturday at a district dinner in Fort Worth.

The Award of Merit plaque, along with a patch for the uniform was presented by Ed Cromes, district commissioner, at the Saturday dinner.

At the presentation she was cited for cub leadership since 1979; program chairman for the Cooke County day camp four years; appointment as day camp director in 1984; member of district training team and the Pow Wow training session in 1983; a Cub Scout woodbadge trainer; two years of Camp Philmont training; a son in the Webelos and one in first class scouts; plus participation in community activity.

WITH AVERAGE BILLING, YOUR ELECTRIC BILL WILL BE ABOUT THE SAME EACH MONTH.

Everyone knows electric bills go up and down throughout the year. Some months they're low. Some months they're higher, depending on how much electricity you use.

But for most of us there aren't any highs and lows in our monthly income. It's pretty much the same from month to month. So, balancing the monthly budget can be a problem.

Well, Texas Power and Light Company has an answer. It's the Average Billing Plan. And each month after you join, you'll pay an average of your monthly electric bills over the past twelve months. No more ups and downs.

Of course, you're still paying for all the electricity you use. But with average billing, your electric bills will be about the same each month. So budgeting will be that much easier.

If you want to know more about our Average Billing Plan, call your local TP&L office today.

Notre Dame nudges Tigers 12-8

A next-to-last-minute touchdown by Notre Dame's Knights Friday night spoiled the homecoming for Sacred Heart High and eliminated the Tigers from the TCIL race. Besides, it closed their season with the disappointing record of 3-7, and the district record of 0-2.

Ending on a count of 12-8, the game was a matter of emotional build-up and let-down. Spirit, which was originally depressed by an underdog rating and bonfire injuries, suddenly soared sky high when SH scored early, and it remained high when ND failed to catch up after its TD... and it intensified as a happy ending seemed to draw near. But then came the turn-around and the bitter ending.

The Tigers started like winners. After visitors had to punt on first series Sacred Heart started a 61-yard scoring drive. It used 13 plays and the big gains were Bret Walterscheid's 12-yard pass to Ron Dangelmayr, a 10-yard run by Neil Hesse, and a 10-yard pass to Neil Hesse. Next was 15 yards free on an interference ruling giving a set-up on the 4. Two plays later Kevin Switzer scored from the 1. Bret Walterscheid's run upped the score to 8 with 6:51 remaining in the first quarter.

The rest of the period and all of the second was scoreless but active. Keith Hennigan recovered on ND fumble but the Tigers lost possession three plays later by interception. Shortly after SH made a good drive of 43 yards before fumbling the ball away at the 22. Following punt exchanges the Tigers advanced 26 on runs of 14 by Neil Hesse and 12 by Switzer, but stalled on third series and had to give up possession at the 22.

During the first half the Tigers had 11 first downs and the Knights had 2.

A combination of factors added to opportunity for ND in the third quarter. A good kickoff return and a first down reached midfield and a kick on next series set Sacred Heart back to its 8. Two plays got back to the 23 but then a fumble gave the visitors a set-up only 21 yards away.

Five plays gained 16 to the 5 where the combination of an 8-yard loss and a face mask penalty reached the 6. Two plays from there did the job. Wally Berend scored from the 1. The PAT run failed leaving SH with an 8-6 lead.

Early in the 4th the Knights made a 41-yard drive to the 22 but lost possession four plays later at the 25. Next play was probably the key play of the game. Tigers fumbled and Knights started over at the 26. The next series, along with a face mask penalty advanced ND to the 7. Tiger defense there allowed only a yard on the next two plays but an offside penalty awarded free yardage to the 3. From there Marath gained 2 and Berend made the last yard on the last chance play. A pass for extra points failed but the Knights were ahead nevertheless and only 1:38 was left for a Tiger comeback.

As usual, Sacred Heart was short handed again. Neil Hesse, hurt 2 weeks earlier was back on the job, gaining 42 yards on 8 carries. But Jim Bartush, burned in the Wednesday bonfire accident, was sidelined, also Nick Hess, Tim Bartel and John Nasche were playing under handicap.

Switzer was Sacred Heart's leading rusher with 67 yards on 14 carries. Defensively the standouts were Keith Hennigan, Troy Yosten, Mark Hesse, Kevin Switzer and Ron Dangelmayr.

SH tops Gainesville in first scrimmage

The Tigerettes after only one week of practice looked great and Coach Jon was all smiles after a season opening scrimmage with Gainesville Tuesday. The score was 66-47 favoring SH. But the more impressive fact is their fourth period rally from a 2-point deficit to a 19-point lead.

Sacred Heart led 10-9 the first period and tied 21-21 at the half, then fell behind 32-30 before roaring to the 66-47 win.

Susan Walterscheid hit 8 of 10 field goals in making 24 points and 12 rebounds. Also Anne Felderhoff scored 21, Marilynn Hartman 10, Sandra Walterscheid 7 and Lisa Haverkamp 4. Sharmaine Devilliers led the Leopardettes with 13 points.

Next on the Tigerette schedule is a scrimmage at Ponder in which each team will have a session with the other two.

During coronation ceremonies Susan received her crown from Janet Hesse, 1982 Homecoming Queen. The red roses were presented by Sharon Voth, 1981 Homecoming Queen; and the banner by Shelley (Walterscheid) Hoedebeck, 1980 Homecoming Queen.

Lindsay upset 21-14 by Bells

The fates frowned on Lindsay last week in a 21 to 14 upset by Bells in their last game of the regular season. It was a case of leading in statistics but not on the scoreboard.

Even so the Knights had possibilities up to the final whistle. In the last second a pass into the end zone was intercepted instead of caught. If caught Lindsay could have tied with a kick or won with a 2 point PAT. The game started with a scoreless first quarter but things started popping early in the second. Lindsay, on its 40-yard line, had a punt blocked and the pigskin tumbled all the way back to the 3-yard line and Bells recovered. McGee scored from there and Waldrum kicked an extra point.

On the kickoff that followed John Dieter almost broke away but was stopped on the Bells 38 after a 56-yard run-back. Short plays gained 6, Steve Corcoran made 13 and Dieter went in from the 19. Anderle's kick made it 7-7 at half time.

Near the beginning of the third Bells got a 65-yard drive going. A steady push of short plays gained to the 25 from where Waldrum scored. The PAT effort failed.

Then came a surprise, an on-side kick which took Lindsay off guard and seemed to spark the pirates. It was successful and Bells was 49 yards from pay dirt. Big plays in the drive which followed were a 15-yard pass and a 20-yard run. Waldrum scored from the 6 and a pass added 2 extra points. The score was 21-7 in Bells' favor at 2:21 in the third.

Early in the fourth quarter Lindsay had a fine position on the Bells 31, and promptly lost possession with an interception. However Bells could not gain and had to punt on first series. Starting again from its 39, Lindsay gained 41 to the 20 and got stopped again by an interception.

Again Bells punted and Lindsay faced a 64-yard journey to the goal. Dieter gained 18 and 32 along the way and scored the final goal from the 1-yard line. Anderle added the PAT. Lindsay trailed 21-14 with 2:20 minutes remaining.

With time running out the Knights went for an on-side kick which failed, giving Bells possession only 45 yards away. Bells gained to the 20 and fumbled, after which Lindsay with 1:21 remaining launched another drive. A pass, Corcoran to Hermes gained 31, and one to Hess accounted for 44 and reached the 5-yard line. Three tries there failed to reach the goal and on the very last play Bells intercepted in the end zone.

Dieter, with 149 yards on 20 carries was the offensive standout of the game.

Inspired Era deals Hornets 26-21 defeat

Jack Robeson picks up short yardage for Era before Drue Bynum 44 tackles him. No 21 of Muenster is Mark Hoenig.

Loss ends disappointing season

A disappointing season for the MHS Hornets became even more disappointing last week when they were dumped 26-21 by the Hornets of Era.

Despite only one win for the year and none in the district race, the Era boys ignored the odds and came to win. They were sizzling hot in a pair of drives that gave them a pair of touchdowns in the first quarter.

Muenster, meanwhile appeared to be stunned by their aggressive foes and failed to get organized until the second quarter.

To start, Muenster kicked and Mark Knabe's big kick return in spite of a big clip penalty gave Era good position on the Muenster 47. Three plays gained 22 and the next three failed to make first down distance, so Era tried a field goal. It failed.

However, after Muenster's kick on the next series Era started again, from mid-field. A clip on a pass play penalized Era back to the 42 where a pass and run, Knabe to Datson gained 37 to the 5-yard line. Robeson scored from there. The PAT kick failed.

and 24 for free on an interference call at the 3. Robeson scored from there. A pass Knabe to Datson was good for 2 more points.

The first half was definitely Era's. Besides the lead of 20-7 it was ahead 8-7 in first downs and 109 to 14 in passing but trailed 109 to 107 in rushing. The second half was different as Muenster tried to catch up but fell short by a touchdown. MHS led 14-6 in scores 12-3 in first downs, 80 to 59 in rushing and 94 to 62 in passing.

However, Era put over another quickie before Muenster got going. On third play after kickoff the Knabe-Datson combination gained 62 to the 13 and Sikes went over two plays later from the 9. The PAT run failed. Era was 26-7.

After that the teams exchanged punts and Muenster got organized on a 51-yard scoring drive. It used 9 plays including passes from Eldred to Kevin Wolf for 10, 13 and 10. Flusche scored and kicked the bonus point.

Shortly later Muenster got another start and gained 45 including passes to Wolf of 8 and 13 and Wells' run of 16, but ran out of steam and lost possession at the 20. However it got another start two series later with 65 to go. Nine plays made the distance and included a 15-yard loss on a busted play also a 22-yard run by Wells. The scoring play was a 25-yard pass and outstanding catch to McAden in the end zone. Flusche again added the 1 point PAT.

With a minute and 44 seconds remaining Muenster tried for an on-side kick and made good, but the effort was futile on second series Later Era intercepted and iced the game away.

Standouts on offense were Wells, Flusche, McAden, Eldred and Wolf plus all the line which did a fine job considering the absence of regulars Fleeman, Trubebach and Walterscheid. Defensively it was the line again along with Flusche and Eldred.

Era elementary gets 8-6 victory

In a miserable game of slipping and fumbling in a heavy down pour, the eighth graders of Muenster Elementary ended their football season last Thursday with an 8-6 loss to Era's kids.

The game was less football than squirming in the weather but both teams nevertheless managed to score.

Era was first with a long break away run to the goal and adding a 2-point PAT run.

Muenster's score came on a drive of some 60 yards without a fumble. Scott McAden finished the drive with a 6-yard scoot through the middle. Failure on the extra point run was the difference in the score.

Despite the loss the boys ended their season with a good record of 6-3.

Johnny Eldred was on target with this pass to Andy Burette in this game with Era.

UIL changes next year

Major changes in the football schedule of Muenster High School become effective next year as a result of the biennial re-assignment of teams to UIL districts of the state.

Muenster, along with Lindsay, Era, Valley View and Collensville are transferred from District 9-A to District 4-A. Those five teams and Saint Jo now make up the north zone of 4-A whereas eight teams are included in the north zone of the district. They are Chico, Alvord, Paradise, Perrin,

Oilers end season in all-star game

Boys Club football of 1983 ended Saturday night at Leeper Stadium, Gainesville in an all star contest in which the West topped the East 8-6. Each of the all star teams included six players from each team of its area.

West scored in the first quarter on an 18-yard run ending a set up on the 25 resulting from a busted play in a punt attempt. It was a fourth down play and East had to give up possession there. A run for bonus points was good and the score was 8-0.

East also scored on a setup via a fumble near the goal. It happened in the third quarter at the 8-yard line and the first play from there went all the way. But the all important PAT run was short.

Muenster Oilers were on the East team. They represented their team proudly playing on both offense and defense, and included Michael Abney, Jerry Brawner, Donnie Boydston, Tony Grewing, Jeff Hellman and Brad McDaniel.

Following the next kickoff, Muenster was on the 20 and fumbled on the first play. Three plays later a 24-yard pass to Datson went to the 1, and Fenley scored on the next play. Again the PAT kick failed but Era led by 12 after barely more than 8 minutes.

Finally MHS got into the game. Six plays, including Eldred to McAden for 25, and Wells' run for 10 gained 38 yards to the 29, but the next series was 2 yards short. Muenster lost possession on the 21.

From there Era got back 40 yards in 12 tries and had to give up the ball at the 39. That was the starting point for Muenster's 61-yard drive in 8 plays. Best gains on the way were 12 by Flusche and 10 by Wells. Flusche scored from the 5 and kicked the extra point.

With only 3:23 before the half Era did it again. Era kicked on first series and Muenster was intercepted on its first series, and Era was 65 yards away. Six plays went the distance including 23 yards on a pass to Datson

Nocona slates wrestling matches

Gorgeous Jim Garvin, the current American heavyweight champion noted for his attractive female valet named Sunshine, will take on England's top-rated star Chris Adams in the semifinal.

Michael Hayes, the head man of the Free Birds, and popular Iceman King Parsons meet in the second match.

The opener pairs Russian rough-houser Boris Zurkholz and Texas favorite Johnny Mantel of nearby Decatur.

Tickets are available at Wrestlers Michael Hayes and Buddy Roberts.

Sewell-Uselton Insurance Agency, High School Principal's office, Piggly Wiggly, F&M National Bank and First National Bank, Gibbs' Drug Store all in Nocona, and at Guilliams' General Store in Montague.

7th graders look good in defeat

The score was a one-sided 32-2 ending a 0-3 season for the Muenster seventh graders, but the game and the season are both better than the record shows.

Opponents at Boyd were huskies of a 2A school with a perfect season. The two points on the scoreboard there indicate an aggressive defense following a punt which backed up the hosts to near the goal, after which Muenster kids sacked the quarterback twice, Shawn Wimmer doing the honors for the safety.

Two of Boyd's scores were in big plays, the other two resulted from blocking Muenster punts. Boyd had the edge in other action, but barely.

The season record is explained by potent competition, the opponents being Gainesville, Boyd and Lindsay.

City council passes three ordinances

Lindsay City Council members met in regular session Monday night and passed three city ordinances dealing with speed limits and parking.

After lengthy discussion between the council and Roger Clements of the Texas Highway Department, the members decided to lower speed limits on FM 1199 and FM 1308. The state is responsible for such signs, so the decision means no cost to Lindsay residents.

The third ordinance prohibits parking on the east side of Ash Street from Main to Sixth. The ruling was brought about as a measure of safety for school children who constitute most of the pedestrian traffic at school dismissal time.

The council also is considering a measure which would lower the speed limit in the school zone, which is presently 30 miles per hour. Council members also will continue to pursue the installation of a caution light at the intersection of FM 1199 and State Highway 82 (Superette location). The Highway Department is taking measures to help control the traffic situation through the Highway 82 business area.

The council also appointed Earl Cunningham and Steve Zimmerer to a committee which will determine specifications for metal buildings in commercial areas. They are expected to report back to the council within 60 days.

In other action, the council agreed on a pay scale for the new police chief and announced there would be no municipal court session in December.

All council members were present for the meeting; no visitors attended.

Bernard Gieb, center, sent this picture to homefolks while he was stationed in Alaska during part of WW II. He is shown with two buddies. Deep snow was banked almost to the roof of the quonset hut on one side. Icicles on the other side reached from the roof line to the ground.

Open letter to Forestburg

To Forestburg Residents:

The Forestburg Homemakers are a non-profit organization. For the past three years we have been community oriented. We have given playground equipment to the school, donated work to the Fire Department, donated money for renovation of the log cabin in Forestburg, donated work to the Forestburg Perryman Cemetery, decorated a community Christmas tree, built a dunking booth to be used by any organization in the Forestburg community, put together a community cookbook, and have given money to a fire victim only to name a few of our activities.

Our major goal is raising funds for a new Community Center. We have participated in a variety of fund-raisers, which have included a rummage and bake sale, volleyball and basketball tournaments, hamburger supper, ice cream supper and game night, rodeo concession stands, Thanksgiving bazaar, and concession stands at auctions.

Our major fund-raiser for the past three summers has been our sponsoring the Forestburg Watermelon Festival every August. And with many thanks to the Forestburg people, we can proudly say that it has been a great success every time!

Thus far we have been able to raise enough money to buy land on which to situate the new Community Center and still have over $8,000 in the bank. We are now ready to start the building. The building is to be 40'x80' which includes a complete kitchen, restroom facilities and storage area. A man from outside our community, but who has an active interest in Forestburg, has offered to match donations that we can raise from the Forestburg people up to $10,000. These donations will go strictly for the building of the new Community Center. The Forestburg Homemakers are now asking for donations!! So let us once again show our Community spirit and let an outsider know that we, the people of Forestburg, are as proud of our Community as he is! For more information contact Debra Dill 964-2483, Beth Dill 964-2436, Liz Johnson 964-2435, Mary Jo Eldridge 964-2261 or Diane Huckabay 964-2233. Mary Jo Eldridge President, YHT of Texas Forestburg Chapter

Edwards has been a teacher at Forestburg for 25 years. During that time he has had three students who earned the American Farmer degree and 40 students who received the state Farmer degree. He was selected as the Conservation Teacher of the year in 1977 by the Upper Elm-Red SWCD and has received three awards from the Vocational Agriculture Teachers of Texas for work in publicity.

Each year at least 50 of the 12,000 agriculture teachers in the nation are awarded the Honorary American Farmer degree. It is awarded on the basis of points scored by a teacher as agriculture instructor, FFA advisor and participant in professional agricultural teachers' organizations.

Edwards is one of 10 ag teachers from Texas to be nominated for the degree this year. He plans to attend the National FFA convention in Kansas City, with Forestburg FFA members, Douglas Edwards, Tommy Souther and Tracy Lanier, on November 10-12.

The group cards from SNAP and the KCs are deeply treasured. We're especially grateful to Dr. J.E. Marr and the staff at St. Joseph's Hospital who provided expert care during our six week stay in Fort Worth.

To all of you, especially our children, who were constantly at our side, we are indeed grateful. God bless each and every one of you.

County Agent's Report

September are usually annual grasses on your fields. Goosegrass makes for poor turf just as asters and other weeds. The fields in Muenster showed no evidence of these which certainly is indicative of their excellent care and weed control.

Parents and school personnel can certainly be proud of the excellent turf on their football fields. Take a moment to look at the work done by some very interested and qualified people. The football season is over, but we know the work is just beginning for next year's beautiful and safe playing surface.

For the past several years, the Extension Service has worked with some football field personnel in field management. The fields at Lindsay and Callisburg are currently involved in this cooperative effort.

The basic program consists of proper fertility.

Many times it seems we spend our time killing weeds or hunting bugs. But the other weekend I saw an example of many hours of work to beautify grass and make a fall recreational facility safe for your children. The area I'm referring to is the fine football fields at both Muenster and Sacred Heart High Schools.

Most athletic fields receive a great deal of use. Especially around the 20 or 30 yard line. Good turf aids players by increasing turf density. The dense turf provides an extra cushion to players and should help in reducing injuries.

No field produces without adequate moisture. Fields should receive an inch of water a week and the soil should be wetted to a depth of 6 to 8 inches. Poor watering will cause shallow roots just as it does in lawns.

Most fields are common bermuda and need a 3-1-2 ratio fertilizer. The application rate consists of 1 pound of actual nitrogen per 1,000 square feet of turf area. Poorer turfed fields may call for doubling this rate in the first two applications. Applications in April, June, August and an effective supply-management program in 1981 and 1982, he says.

Agriculture more than farm issues

"This leaves us at a crossroads of market-oriented farm programs versus effective supply-management that encompasses mandatory production controls and possible marketing quotas," Anderson says.

"There's no doubt the present farm program will be changed because of its cost. Whatever program takes its place must respond to non-agricultural issues of international policies and monetary and fiscal policies affecting interest rates, money supply and the growing budget deficit.

"If not, the farm sector will continue to go downhill."

"Farmers are experiencing severe financial distress largely because farm groups and their policymakers have exerted little influence over the many complex non-farm issues affecting and controlling agriculture," says Dr. Carl Anderson, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

U.S. Agriculture is no longer an island unto itself. In fact, it is dominated by non-farm issues that have sent farm incomes into a tailspin since 1979.

Energy-saving clinics scheduled

A pair of free clinics offering instructions on saving energy through the replacement of old windows will be held at Joe Walter Lumber Co. in Gainesville this Saturday at 9 a.m. and 11 a.m.

Old, leaking, drafty and chipped windows can be costly in efficiency, time and energy. The free clinics will provide step-by-step demonstrations on how to replace old windows, install new ones, install gliding doors and install triple glazing panels.

A representative from Andersen Windows will be on hand to answer questions and free coffee and donuts will be available.

Monetary and fiscal policies and international trade actions of governments have a heavy impact on the economic health of agriculture, Anderson says. These outside influences embrace interest rates, trade subsidies of other countries, the internationally strong dollar which discourages exports and encourages imports, tariffs, trade restrictions, inflation, economic conditions at home and overseas, foreign credit conditions and required shipments on U.S. vessels.

"National farm income has fallen sharply in recent years due to these influences, plummeting from $32.3 billion in 1979 to $22.1 billion in 1982," he says.

"Not only have export markets declined sharply during these years, but this country's recession and high unemployment have caused sagging domestic markets."

energy answers

from the Texas Energy Extension Service

What role, if any, does humidity play in increasing or decreasing comfort during summer and winter temperatures? H. G., Waco.

Relative humidity is indeed an important environmental element which can make us more or less comfortable. The human body senses increased humidity as a warming effect and decreased relative humidity as a cooling effect.

You can control relative humidity to offset higher or lower indoor temperatures. If you lower relative humidity in summer, you may be comfortable at higher indoor temperature settings. Conversely, if you increase humidity levels indoors in winter, you may lower the thermostat and still be comfortable.

You can lower summertime humidity with a dehumidifier or a properly sized central cooling system.

In winter, a humidifier can increase levels of humidity for comfort.

containers provide heat storage for this type of system.

A Trombe wall is a masonry or concrete wall covered externally with glass. Solar radiation passes through the glass and is absorbed by the wall mass. The mass heats up during the day and releases its warmth to the interior during the evening and night hours.

A sunspace is a room with large glass areas that is part of or attached to a home but can be completely closed off from the main living area. Sun enters through south-facing glass and warms the room. This heat can be circulated to adjacent living areas.

Texas homeowners should use caution to avoid overheating when using passive solar techniques. Also measures, such as the Trombe wall, are expensive to implement and may not be cost-effective in Texas where we are more concerned with cooling.

For more information, ask for the Passive Solar Retrofit factsheet available free from the Texas Energy Extension Service office at Texas A&M University.

Do you have questions on energy resources, technology, or conservation? Send them to ENERGY ANSWERS, Texas Energy Extension Service, Center for Energy and Mineral Resources, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas 77843-1243 or phone (409) 845-8025. Funds for this column were provided by the Center for Energy and Mineral Resources at Texas A&M University and the Public Utility Commission of Texas.

Fertilize for wheat PROFIT!

You may be looking for ways to cut costs. Who isn't? But one thing all agronomists tell us is: "Don't cut back in areas that cause yields to decrease!"

They are talking about fertilizer. They encourage the wheat farmer to select varieties and apply fertilizer for optimum yields — that's your most profitable yield.

Base your fertilizer applications on soil test results and yield goals. Let our Fertilizer Specialist help you.

We're ready when you are!
