Council okays paving project

In a special session Monday night, the Muenster City Council approved a summer paving project including four blocks on Mesquite street and one block each on First and Third.

It is understood that paving will be done during the summer heat. The reason is that the city, which intends to do the work, does not have equipment to heat the primer coat.

Jaycee chapter gets high rating in state

The high rating of Muenster's Jaycee chapter is one of the prominent facts revealed in the Parade of Chapters feature published in the Texas Jaycee Magazine for National Jaycee Week, Jan. 15-21.

Wayne Klement, refers to the article as an indication of the chapter's standing on community, state and national levels. First it leads all communities of comparative populations, with a lead of more than 6000 points over the second place chapter.

with such activity paper work must be sent in meeting monthly deadlines.

Muenster's success stems mainly from local officers and project chairman and dedicated state officer, Allen Goldsmith, director of District 213.

The Jaycee year ends in May, so the chapter will be busy on projects and recruiting to maintain its standard.

More Weather

For the second time in this young season, the weather is acting up again. But, fortunately it's less severe. Whereas the first siege included 296 hours of sub-freeze temperatures, this one to date has included nine nights below 32 degrees but eight days of warming to above freezing.

Sen. John Tower returning from a fact finding trip to Lebanon a few days ago said it is vital to US interests to keep Marines there as peace keepers. His statement is disappointing to the millions of Americans who are concerned about the dangers to which the men are exposed, and they see no reason for constant dangers of terrorism. This is too much like the kids' game of cops and robbers. The officers are constant sitting ducks awaiting the criminals' advantage and permitted to shoot only after being attached. It's a no-win arrangement that seems most difficult to approve. However, with confidence in the judgment of Senator Tower and President Reagan and lots of the country's other leaders, we have to admit the idea has merit. This fact was demonstrated promptly after Lt. Goodman was captured and US was told he would be released if the peacekeeping Marines were sent home. US turned down the offer, apparently determined to do what it can in spite of the obvious risk to our men, to prevent an all-out war in the mideast. As all of us know, Russia is hovering over the area like a vulture, ready to move in and claim whatever is available when any Arab country is sufficiently weakened by the conflict. It would be a giant step forward in the USSR's ambition of world take over. With today's highly involved world politics, it's likely the administration has other good reasons to keep a peace force there. Whatever the reasons, we hope the method will succeed. In the midst of our anxiety we were pleased last week with the success of Rev. Jesse Jackson in arranging the release of Hostage Goodman without recall of the peace keeping troops. It almost seems to indicate that President Assad likewise wants the troops to stay there and help clear up the mess. Regardless of the Asian connection, the incident had certain pleasing consequences over here. The most conspicuous winner was Jackson, whose importance suddenly sky rocketed. He stepped into the limelight when he headed for Syria as a self appointed ambassador on a mission that had stalemated President Reagan and his administration. And he suddenly became a world figure by personally escorting the man back home. Likewise, the rescue was a terrific political achievement. He upstaged in dramatic fashion some half dozen hot contenders for the presidential candidacy. Even President Reagan was a benefactor. He had been a constant target of criticism for failing to arrange Goodman's release and got immediate approval for allowing Jackson to try the job himself. And since the rescue Reagan has been applauded by Jackson and Goodman and scores of grateful people who like the outcome. Possibly the President is also relieved at not being forced to bring back the Marines in order to get back the hostage. Still another pleasing conditions seems to be developing since Goodman's return. Lebanese factions are trying to reach an

Pillars & Caterpillars

WHEN YOU mention the word "church," the first thing most people think of is a church building. Actually, though the real church is made up of all the men and women throughout the world who believe in Christ. Our present day church began after the events of Pentecost. Following Pentecost the apostles preached in different languages to the crowds, and we see the results of this preaching in Acts 2:41, 47: "Then they that gladly received his word were baptized: and the same day there were added unto them about three thousand souls. Praising God, and having favour with all the people. And the Lord added to the church daily such as should be saved."

We see then that on Sunday mornings (and/or on Tuesday, Wednesday or Saturday nights or whenever the local church body meets) the church is gathered together in designated buildings throughout the land to worship God in song and prayer and Bible study. During the remainder of the time the church is dispersed throughout the land as individual Christians go about their daily tasks of working and earning a living in an imperfect world.

I recently read a little story in an old issue of "Pulpit Helps" which gave a lot of food for thought concerning the above principle, and would like to share it with you. It read: "There are two kinds of people in the Church — Pillars and Caterpillars. The Pillars hold up the church, and the Caterpillars simply go in and out."

When I first heard this quotation, I took it to mean that the caterpillars are the bad guys and the pillars are the good guys. But the more I thought about it, the more I wondered. Pillars don't change. They are made of stone. Sometimes people get so intent on holding up the church, they become too set in their ways. They support the church, but they forget about God, who is the One the church is all about. Perhaps they "hold up" the church in another way and keep it from advancing.

Caterpillars, on the other hand, are alive. As long as they keep "going in and out" — "in" to receive the Sacraments and to worship and praise and pray, and "out" to spread the Good News in the world — they are moving and changing and becoming. And we all know what happens to Caterpillars — the Big Change which comes when they break out of the cocoon and they lift their lovely wings.

So it goes both ways. The Pillars would profit by adding "Cater" to their name, and breaking out of their stony shells. And the Caterpillars should remember their last name is "Pillar," and that they had better do their share of "upholding" so that there will continue to be a church to go in and out of!"

Happy new year, George Orwell

A T LAST, 1984 is finally upon us. It is a date of peculiar significance, because it has come to mean something entirely different from a mere point in time. As a result of George Orwell's classic novel 1984, it has come to signify the ultimate triumph of totalitarianism.

So, even though it's 1984, a lot of people are asking if we have reached The 1984. And there, the verdict is still out.

Writing in the current issue of READERS'S DIGEST, author Norman Podhoretz argues that those who seek comparisons between the America of today and Orwell's hypothetical Oceania are themselves practicing the twisted logic of Big Brother.

"In Orwell's Oceania, not even strict obedience to Big Brother is enough; everyone is also required to love him," Podhoretz writes. "In the America of 1984, by contrast, there seems to be no limit to the opposition that can be mounted against the President or the government."

But, Podhoretz notes, the way in which Orwell's novel is interpreted by today's left-wing intellectuals, abetted by the news media, could foster the growth of Big Brotherism.

He cites a television documentary hosted by CBS' Walter Cronkite, which compared the constant re-writing of history in the Soviet Union with the periodic revision of textbooks in the United States. How ridiculous, Podhoretz says, to compare the Soviet Union's practice of distorting the facts to fit the current party line with Western scholarship, which seeks to bring us closer to the truth.

Indeed, the inability to recognize totalitarianism in today's world seems to be the most ominous indicator of our times.

It seems odd that the world community often regards our nation, still the most consistent defender of freedom in the world, as the villain in a global morality play between good and evil. Communist insurgencies, which seek to kill and enslave, are enshrined at the United Nations as "national liberation movements." The Soviet Union, which economically and socially has fallen far behind the Russia of 1914, is credited as "progressive."

And, as Podhoretz reminds us, Western intellectuals so often are the purveyors of this "newspeak."

Clearly, we in the West are headed for the fate of Big Brotherism if we allow ourselves to be deluded into believing that the distinction between our society and Marxist totalitarianism is only a fine one.

That's why it's so frightening to hear the teacher of an adult education class enthusiastically reporting that few students to whom he assigns 1984 give "the kind of full-blown anti-Communist reading that was so common in the 1950s and 1960s."

"George Orwell was prophetic about many things," Podhoretz says, "but he neither anticipated nor could have imagined this use of his own work to blur the essential distinction between the democratic and Communist worlds."

Budget deficits

I N THIS highly complex world in which we find ourselves, we end to live from day to day, concerned only with our material welfare. Few people tend to concern themselves with matters which may seem remote, but in fact do affect us all.

One such matter is the tremendous growth of government spending, resulting in huge and rapidly increasing deficits in the federal budget. Every citizen should be concerned about these deficits, should want to know what causes them, what they mean to him, and what should be done about them.

Budget deficits occur when the federal government spends more for the programs it has adopted, than it receives from all sources to pay for them. Only once in 23 years, has the budget been balanced, and that was 14 years ago. In fact, only 8 times in 50 years has the budget been balanced.

Now what do these deficits mean to you? Well, first of all, bear in mind that the bills owed by the government must be paid even though there are no funds in the federal Treasury.

The government will attempt to borrow all it can to cover as much of the deficit as possible. In 1970, the government borrowed about 20 percent of available credit. Now, the government requires from 60 to 70 percent of all money available for loan. Because this is credit that is sorely needed by business and industry, deficits and the subsequent government borrowing cripples long-term economic growth upon which we are all dependent.

The second harmful effect of budget deficits is that interest rates are increasing. Martin Feldstein, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisors, said, "The reason for the very high level of the long-term real interest rates is undoubtedly the unprecedented level of the budget deficits that are now predicted."

On the other hand, Treasury Secretary Donald Regan, stated, "Economists who continue to claim that deficits make for high interest rates should climb down from their celestial observatories and acquaint themselves with terrestrial fact."

The third consequence which affects us all adversely is that government deficits add to the nation debt. To gain some feeling for the seriousness of this problem, consider that in 1960, only 23 years ago, the national debt stood at $291 billion; today it is approximately $1,300 billion. In 1960, it required less than $10 billion in federal taxes to pay the interest on the debt; today $128 billion is siphoned out of the economy for that purpose, nearly 13 times as much. Thus, taxes are increased. And as this increases prices, it has a stifling effect on the economy. This has a very harmful effect on exports.

The fourth disastrous consequence of budget deficits has been their responsibility for the inflation we have suffered for years. This process has led to an increase in consumer prices of over 200 percent since 1967, and a loss of $4.8 trillion from the savings of the citizens of this nation since 1939.

Thus, we see that budget deficits are extremely harmful to the economy: crippling long-term economic growth, increasing interest rates, adding to the national debt, raising taxes, causing inflation and higher prices. Obviously, all of these affect each of us adversely.

agreement on their civil war. If they succeed American Marines can be relieved of their hazardous and distasteful mission, and Arabs can bring order back

Jesse Jackson's trip

O BVIOUSLY IT'S good to have Lt. Robert Goodman back home, but Jesse Jackson's mission to get him and the political and media extravaganza surrounding his return will do nothing but harm to U.S. politics and foreign policy.

Thanks to television, the United States is obsessed with hostages. In 1980, Walter Cronkite each day toted up the time that U.S. diplomats were in captivity in Iran, and ABC invented a whole new late-evening program — later transformed into the superb "Nightline" — to contemplate their plight.

Given TV's penchant for trying to duplicate shows with high ratings, America's latest hostage-taking was ripe for exploitation, and Lt. Goodman's release — even though he had been held for just a month — was bound to produce a hero's welcome.

What you have to hand to Jesse Jackson is not his diplomatic skill (and certainly not his moral sensitivity), but his peerless feel for media manipulation.

Even if he had failed to get Lt. Goodman out of Syria, just by going to Damascus he boosted his visibility far above that usually attained by presidential dark horses. As it was, he dominated the front pages and the network news shows for days and upstaged front-runner Walter Mondale's 1984 campaign kickoff.

The Goodman release in Damascus came just in time for the network morning shows. His and Jackson's arrival in Germany made it onto the evening news, and their landing on an Air Force One-style jet at Andrews Air Force base was timed perfectly for live morning coverage the next day.

In terms of media management, Jackson outperformed even President Reagan, who is no slouch at such activity.

Knowing the uses that Richard Nixon made of the Vietnam POWs in 1972 and the damage the Iran hostages did to Jimmy Carter, why did Reagan not make more of a public fuss about Goodman while he was in captivity, thereby creating Jackson's opportunity to score?

I think it's a slander on Jackson's part to hint it was because Goodman is black. Most likely, Reagan did not want to raise Goodman's value as a bargaining chip, and Jimmy Carter did with the Iran hostages.

Already, Syria had been demanding cessation of U.S. reconnaissance flights in Lebanon as the price of Goodman's release. This was a price that Reagan was not willing to pay, since the flights are needed to protect the security of the Marines. Why did Syrian President Hafez Assad let Goodman go so cheaply — for nothing, in terms of U.S. concessions?

It wasn't because he is a nice guy, you can be sure. Jackson's opinion on this score is probably right. Assad, he said, "wants to affect American public opinion" and "wants to show he's human, after all."

Somebody has been giving Assad good short-term advice about American public opinion. Nowadays, with one well-timed gesture of humanity, if it's performed on national television, it's possible to obscure a thousand acts of inhumanity that don't make it onto the tube.

Amnesty International, the independent human rights watchdog organization, has just issued a report documenting thousands of cases of torture, murder and disappearance of Syrian dissidents. In the most notorious case of Hamma, rebellion was met by total destruction of the town, with between 10,000 and 20,000 deaths.

For his own political benefit, Jesse Jackson helped Assad cleanse himself of the stain of buckets of blood — that of his own peoples, of Lebanese civilians and U.S. Marines.

The terrorists who truck-bombed the Marine barracks are based in Syrian-held territory. Somehow, terrorists never get around to attacking Syrian army bases, even though the Syrians are the foremost foreign occupiers of Lebanese territory.

To help sweeten Hafez Assad's image among Americans, as Jesse Jackson did, can hardly be called a moral mission. It was not much of a diplomatic mission either — and certainly not on the level of Dwight Eisenhower's tour of Korea, Nixon's trip to China and Carter's conference at Camp David, all of which Jackson compared it to.

Those missions achieved real diplomatic breakthroughs. Jackson's got Lt. Goodman back — which is an accomplishment — but it also was an interference in U.S. diplomacy which served the interests of America's adversary.

Jackson came back saying that his mission could set off new peace efforts — both in Lebanon and in the Mideast generally — but helping Assad does not serve peace in any sense. Assad has been blocking reconciliation of the various factions in Lebanon and he has opposed every effort to bring about a settlement between the Arabs and Israel, including Camp David.

The danger is that the media's hostage-mania and Jackson's skillful use of the media will cause Americans to overrate Jackson's talent as a problem-solver and strengthen support for his candidacy for president.

Jackson is not going to win the Democratic nomination, but his is now more likely to attract money and primary votes and he will put added pressure on the party to move left on domestic policy and toward weakness in foreign policy.

The country may worry about Ronald Reagan's ability to keep the peace, but it also doubts the Democrats' ability to stand up to dictators. Jackson's mission will only intensify those doubts.

WITH AVERAGE BILLING, YOUR ELECTRIC BILL WILL BE ABOUT THE SAME EACH MONTH.

Everyone knows electric bills go up and down throughout the year. Some months they're low. Some months they're higher, depending on how much electricity you use.

But for most of us there aren't any highs and lows in our monthly income. It's pretty much the same from month to month. So, balancing the monthly budget can be a problem.

Well, Texas Power and Light Company has an answer. It's the Average Billing Plan.

And each month after you join, you'll pay an average of your monthly electric bills over the past twelve months. No more ups and downs.

Of course, you're still paying for all the electricity you use. But with average billing, your electric bills will be about the same each month. So budgeting will be that much easier.

If you want to know more about our Average Billing Plan, call your local TP&L office today.

Immunization clinic

The Texas Department of Health announces that a free immunization clinic will be held in Sacred Heart Community Center, Wednesday, Jan. 25, 10 a.m. to noon.

The Clinic will provide immunization against Diphtheria-tetanus-pertussis (DTP), Polio, Rubella (red measles) and Rubella (German measles), for infants 2 months through 18 years.

Immunizations are incomplete if a child has not received three (3) doses of DTP and Polio vaccine with at least one dose administered past the fourth birthday. All children under 18 years must have an informed consent form read and signed by the parent or legal guardian. If possible, the parent should accompany the child to the clinic.

Immunization records should accompany the child to the clinic and be examined by the Public Health Nurse who will answer any questions. The following children would have immunizations deferred:

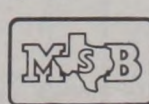

- (1) Those acutely ill and with fever;
- (2) Those taking antibiotic treatment for an acute illness; and
- (3) Those who have completed antibiotic treatment for an acute illness, but have not been pronounced well by their physician.

Paul Bartush, Mary E. Smith united in Victoria ceremony

MRS. PAUL TIMOTHY BARTUSH

Mr. and Mrs. Paul T. Bartush will be at home in Huntsville when they return from their wedding trip to the Dominican Republic.

They were married in Our Lady of Victory Cathedral in Victoria on Saturday, January 7 in a 5 p.m. Nuptial Mass with solemn, double ring vows. Officiating were Father Donald Ruppert of Our Lady of Victory and Father John Paul Coury, cousin of the groom, of Rolling Meadows, Ill.

The bride is the former Mary Elizabeth Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Smith, Jr. of Victoria and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bartush, Sr. of Muenster.

The bride was presented at the altar by her father. For her wedding she chose a formal designer original gown of champagne antique satin and Alencon lace. The fitted bodice was accented with a deep yoke of sheer Point d'Esprit and a scalloped lace wedding-band neckline. The bodice was overlaid with motifs of Alencon lace, with seed pearl and iridescent embroidery.

Bishop sleeves of English net were encrusted with medallions of beaded Alencon lace. The sleeves joined fitted satin gauntlets at the opera level, tapering to petal points over her hands. A band of matching re-embroidered lace edged the sleeves.

The softly gathered bouffant skirt fell from the natural waistline which was overlaid with extended beaded lace. The skirt was slipper length in front, sweeping gracefully into a cathedral length train. The hemline of the skirt and train was completely encircled with a deep band of double scalloped Alencon lace encrusted with seed pearls.

A Juliet cap of satin and Alencon lace, with seed pearl and iridescent embroidery, held her finger-tip length, triple-tiered silk illusion veil.

The bride wore a gold chain with graduated pearls, and a sapphire and diamond ring, both gifts of the groom. She also wore an heirloom gold and diamond bar pin given to her great-grandmother on the birth of Mrs. Fred Smith, Sr., worn also by the bride's mother at her own wedding. She carried a handkerchief carried by the groom's mother on her wedding day and the rosary her mother carried on her wedding day.

The bridal bouquet was a cascade arrangement holding French lace roses, Honor roses, Chinese orchids, snow-country dahlias, bridal wreath, and blue star-fire daylilies. English ivy and gypsophila were entwined with formal length streamers of ivory velvet ribbons and lace.

Attendants

Mrs. Craig Stahl of Vidor was matron of honor. Donna Dick of Austin was maid of honor. Kathy White, Pam Holbrook, and Mrs. Jeff Schlosser all of Houston; Missy Shields of Victoria; Mrs. J. Greg Smith of Victoria, bride's sister-in-law and Virginia Bartush of Muenster, groom's sister were bridesmaids.

They wore period gowns of burgundy taffeta. Ruffles framed the elasticized necklines which were worn off-shoulder. Princess Diana sleeves were gathered into ruffled cuffs at the opera level. Ruffles completely encircled the hemlines of the gowns, forming a cascade-effect in back.

They carried cascades of scarlet Emperor lilies, Her Majesty gladioli, and Chinese orchids, centered with votive lights and candles, and accented with gypsophila and formal length trailing blue velvet ribbons and champagne lace streamers. Mrs. Sue Tipton, aunt of the bride, created the bridal flowers, bouquets for the attendants, and all wedding flowers.

The flower girls were Marianne and Michelle Matt of Aurora, Colo., nieces of the groom. They wore waltz-length champagne taffeta gowns, with burgundy sashes, and carried champagne-colored muffs with burgundy lilies, blue gladioli, gypsophila and blue velvet ribbons.

Ring bearers were John Daniel Bartush of Muenster, groom's nephew, and Cliff Mitchell of Victoria. One carried a satin and lace pillow made by Mrs. Jerome Webre, bride's godmother; the other carried a needlepoint pillow made by Mrs. Greg Smith, bride's sister-in-law.

Phil Walterscheid of Muenster was best man. Joe Bartush of Farmers Branch, Mike Bartush, Chuck Bartush, Jr., John Bartush, Jim Bartush all of Muenster and Bill Bartush of Panama City, Florida, all groom's brothers; and J. Greg Smith of Victoria, bride's brother were groomsmen.

Presenting Offertory gifts were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Knowles and Mrs. Fred Smith, Sr. of Port Arthur, grandparents of the bride. Gaylon Duncan was the lector. Mrs. H.E. Baugh of Groves, bride's great-grandmother was a special guest at the wedding.

Traditional wedding music was presented by Susan Etzler, organist. She also accompanied Craig Stahl who sang "The Wedding Song", and "Always and Forever"; and Ronnie and Marsha Breeden who sang "Sunrise, Sunset", "The Lord's Prayer" and "Ave Maria."

Reception

A reception, dinner and dance were held at the Du Pont Clubhouse following the wedding. The grand march was led by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lau. Mrs. John Belz II and Amy Tipton presided at the guest book.

The groom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner at Tommy D's Restaurant.

Mothers to march against birth defects

The 1984 Mothers March on Birth Defects will be held in Muenster on Jan. 24 to continue efforts to eliminate birth defects.

"People just don't realize how serious the problems of birth defects really are," Linda Walterscheid said. "Mothers all over the country will raise funds by visiting people door to door and other means of personal contact in an all out volunteer effort to assist the March of Dimes."

The Mothers March originated in 1950 in Phoenix, Arizona. It now takes place in more than 800 March of Dimes chapters throughout the country annually. It is so beautiful to know that mothers everywhere are concerned enough to help," she said.

The March of Dimes uses the funds collected to support programs of research, medical services, public and professional health education. "We need the March of Dimes now more than ever," Mrs. Walterscheid said, "because each year more than 250,000 babies are still being born with serious mental or physical defects."

For details about joining the Mothers March, please call 759-2713 or 2271.

Law requires filing report of mobile home movement

The State Property Tax Board (SPTB) reminds those who moved mobile homes, both within the state and from out of state, that they are required to report all mobile home moves to the county appraisal districts in Texas in which the moves take place.

The reports are used to place mobile homes on the property tax rolls of local taxing jurisdictions. According to SPTB data, 285,743 mobile homes were on the tax rolls in 1982, with an appraised value of $2,530,290,904.

Requirements for report-ing movement of mobile homes are spelled out in the Texas Property Tax Code in Chapter 21. The law requires that any person moving a mobile home in Texas file a report of the movement and pay a $10 filing fee.

Mobile home movers are liable for a penalty of up to $200 for knowingly failing or refusing to report the movement of a mobile home.

The report and filing fee must be turned in to the chief appraiser of the county appraisal district in which the move begins, as well as to the chief appraiser of the district in which the move ends.

If the move originates out of state, the report and filing fee must be turned in to the chief appraiser of the district in which the move ends. The report must be filed before the day on which the move begins.

Filing fees are deposited in the general funds of the counties.

Some mobile home trans-porters based outside the state may face a delay if shipment is held up until a report can be filed in the Texas county for which a mobile home is destined.

Out-of-state transporters seeking to comply with Texas law, yet avoid such a delay may write the local chief appraiser to request ex-tension of the reporting deadline. Under the law, the chief appraiser may extend the deadline for a single period of up to 15 days, "for good cause shown."

Barbara Felderhoff re-ported on the district meeting, and announced the election of Becky Felderhoff as the district secretary.

Debbie Hess told about the "Love Run" to be held in Ft. Worth on March 17, at Loop 820 and Trinity Blvd. The "Love Run" of 10 kilometers will benefit the St. Jude Hospital.

The hostess served refreshments following ad-journment.

Blazer workshop offered

Blazers and other tailored jackets are versatile ad-ditions to a wardrobe but "impossible" to sew? At least too difficult to handle? No so! If you've hesitated to make a lined blazer or jacket because you think it's too hard to do or will take too long, think again. Today's pat-terns, fabrics and notions make tailored jackets easier than ever before.

Two orientation meet-ings for those interested in participating in a Blazer Con-struction Workshop will be held on January 30 and 31. An evening group will meet at 7 p.m. on Monday night, January 30. For those in-terested in a day time meeting, it will be held on Tuesday morning, January 31 at 9:30 a.m. Both of the meetings will be at the Texas Power and Light Company Meeting Room in Gainesville.

Additional meeting times will be scheduled for the convenience of those attend-ing.

The workshops are being sponsored by the County Extension Service and are similar to those offered during the past year. Demonstrations will be given by Mrs. Evelyn Yeatts, County Extension Agent.

Participants will then do their work at home bringing problems and questions to future meetings.

The workshops will feature making the tailored blazer using fusible materials to a large extent rather than time consuming hand tailoring techniques. The linings will be put in completely by machine. The workshops are not designed for the beginning seam-stress, but for one who already has sewing skills.

Preregistration for the workshops is a must and can be made by calling the County Extension Office at 665-4931 or 665-1966. If you have further questions, call Mrs. Yeatts at the Extension Office.

Blazers continue to be an important fashion garment. They are definitely a classic changing in style throughout the years, but a garment that will remain popular for many years to come. By using quality construction the homemaker can sew and save!

"The First Texas IRA: The escalating rate it offers today can add up to a great retirement tomorrow."

Retirement is something everyone should look forward to. And it can be great, if you have the right plan. Any IRA can give you a tax break. But the First Texas IRA gives you more.

An escalating interest rate.

With the First Texas IRA, the more you invest over the years, the higher your interest rate. That can really help you build your nest egg for a great retirement. And, whatever your interest rate, all your interest is tax-deferred until you decide to withdraw the money.

The escalating rate increases automatically at each of these deposit increments: $2,500 $5,000 $10,000 $25,000 $50,000

A choice of investment terms.

You can invest with a choice of First Texas IRA Certificates: from 18 months, 2½, 4, 5, 7 or even 10 years.* And after a minimum opening deposit, you can add to these certificates at any time without extending their maturities.

Or with a payroll deduction plan, you can open an IRA with as little as $25 per month.

And the longer the term you choose for your First Texas IRA, the higher your interest rate.

A safe investment.

The First Texas IRA is a safe way to build for your future. Every ac- count is insured up to $100,000 by the FSLIC. This protection is separate from any other insured First Texas Account.

An April 15 deadline for 1983 tax savings.

If you open your IRA by April 15, 1984, the money can come straight off your 1983 tax- able federal income. Or if you've fulfilled your 1983 contribution, start now for 1984. You can shelter up to $2,000 for a single person; $2,250 for married couples when one person works; or $4,000 for married couples when both people work.

Come into the First Texas office nearest you today to open your IRA. Or call this toll-free number: (800) 442-1256; or in Dallas, call 458-4790 and they'll open it over the phone.

Lay Franciscans hold Jan. meeting

The Lay Franciscans met Wednesday, January 11, at 2 p.m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Flusche. Mrs. Tony Hermes conducted the meeting and led the prayers including the opening prayer from the Franciscan Ritual. Veronica Klement read from Scripture Acts Chapter 2: Verses 42-47, "Living a Community Life." Minutes were read and approved and the financial report was given. Members in attendance decided to subscribe to the Franciscan Herald. The Franciscan Forum Newsletter was discussed. The group is waiting on news from Sacred Heart Province to make plans for visitation. Father Edward Sabo T.O.R. conducted visitation in 1983, however he has been given a new assignment. Therefore, he will not be able make visitation this year. A letter from St. Francis Village was read and they expressed their thanks for all the stamps sent to them just before Christmas. A letter from Fr. Cletus was read, thanking the members for the gift sent at Christmas time.

Mrs. Mary Stoffels read from new vision Issue No. 7, "My God and My All." The meeting was then adjourned with the closing prayer from the Ritual. Elvira Flusche served refreshments of cake and coffee. The next meeting will be in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Badgett on Friday, February 17 at 2 p.m.

WOOD FINISHING by MINWAX

Welcome to the Richly Rewarding World of Wood Finishings

There are as many reasons why people consider finishing wood as there are people. Wood is one of nature's warmest and most exciting materials. It responds vividly to gentle attention.

Wood respects, wood reflects — "The more the better" is the best advice you can take on the degree of preparation you should give your wood — whether it's raw and new, or thick with years of grime and unsightly paint. Wood appreciates. Give it a sound, smooth, dry, clean surface and it will respect your attention and reward you handsomely later.

We invite you to come in and see our line of MINWAX stains and Wood Finishings. — MINWAX for SPECIAL WOODS —

SH Juniors win 2 trophies

Sacred Heart juniors won a pair of consolation trophies the easy way in a weekend tournament at Montague. Boys barely got into their opening game with Forestburg, being wiped out 41-2, as Ryan Bayer was the only scorer.

The losses put both in the consolation bracket where both teams drew a bye in the semifinal and coasted into the final. There the girls nudged Goldburg 14-12 and the boys beat Saint Jo 33-24. Scorers were Shawna Grewing 4, Vicki Walterscheid 4, Juline Bartel 2, Noelle Hesse 2, Vickie Schmitt 2; also, Wayne Becker 11, Darrell Dangelmayr 10, Ryan Bayer 6, Chad Fleitman 4, Deano Bayer 2.

Muenster juniors add 2 trophies

Muenster juniors at Krum's weekend tournament won a pair of additional prizes for their trophy case. Boys were No. 1 in the consolation bracket, girls were runners up of the champ bracket.

Meeting Krum in the preliminary, the young Hornets trailed three quarters by scores of 12-14, 16-8 and 30-16. They caught fire in the fourth, outscoring the opponents 10-2, but too late, and ended as 32-26 losers. Muenster scorers were Stuart Hess 10, Brian Hess 8, Scott McAden 7, Kevin Anderle 1.

The second game, with Paradise, was one-sided and ended as a 28-14 win for Muenster. Stuart Hess and Kevin Anderle each hit 8, Brian Hess added 7, Scott McAden 4 and Russell Simmonds 1.

Valley View was the opponent in the consolation final and played neck and neck for three periods leading 8-7 at the quarter and tied 15-15 at the half. Then Muenster nudged ahead 25-21 in the third and took over in the fourth for a 40-24 final lead. Stuart Hess led with 19, Brian Hess, Scott McAden, Kevin Anderle each hit 6 and Dale Reiter 3.

Muenster girls and Krum in their preliminary played one of the hottest contests of the tournament. Scores ending the quarters were 4-0, Krum; 8-4, Muenster; 10-10; and finally 18-17, Muenster. Only 5 seconds before the final whistle Krum had it by 3 and Peachy Switzer's two free throws cut the deficit to 1. As the ball went into play Staci Walterscheid intercepted, was fouled, and converted her 1 and 1 opportunity into the winning points. Scorers were Staci Walterscheid 6, Penny Russell 5, Melody Klement 4, Peachy Switzer 2, Meredith McDaniel 1.

The next game, with Alvord, was another thriller. Muenster started hot 8-0 at the quarter then went stone cold for 2 periods as Alvord gained gradually to 8-6 and 10-10. Finally the momentum changed again as Muenster gained by 11-2 and soared to the 21-12 win. Penny Russell with 16 points and 7 steals was the game's stand out. Meredith McDaniel made 3 and Staci Walterscheid 2.

The champ final was a combination of good playing by Slidell and a slump by Muenster, and the final score was 30-12.

Staci Walterscheid scored 6, Penny Russell 2, Meredith McDaniel 2, Darla Bindel 2.

Muenster, Alvord split a pair

Muenster high teams shared the honors with Alvord last Friday night on the MHS court. To begin, the Hornets came from behind to salt away a 49-48 thriller, but the Hornets were soundly outclassed in the next game and ended at the short end of 74-35.

Alvord girls held a short lead through all of the three periods by scores of 16-13, 32-26, and 39-32, but the decisive factor was Muenster's 4th period rally outscoring the visitors 17-9 and gaining to an eventual 49-48 win. Another factor was Dana Dankesreiter's perfect 7 of 7 performance at the foul line whereas the team's additional 11 free shots yielded only 4 points. The scorers were Rita Walterscheid 17, Dana Dankesreiter 13, Paula Russell 4, Sharon Russell 2.

Alvord boys had no problems. They made an early start and gained all the way to their 74-39 win. Cory Klement had a good night, scoring 21 of the Hornet points. Other point makers were Craig Felderhoff 8, Ronnie Fisher 7, Kevin Wolf 3.

Bindel 5, Penny Russell 2; Kevin Anderle 14, Brian Hess 6, Stuart Hess 5, Dale Reiter 2, Scott McAden 2, Russell Simmonds 2. Point makers for Lindsay were Jolanda Wimmer 5, Angela Fuhrmann 3; Phil Metzler 8, Greg Roller 4, Greg Zimmerman 2.

JOHN DEERE BOTTOM-LINE SPECIALS

New combine buys are best now: get cash rebates from $2,800 to $5,200 including header...plus finance charge waiver to first use month in 1984, or a rebate in lieu of waiver

Look at this: not only do you get a cash rebate for a new separator but you also get an added bonus for any new headers bought with the separator or separately (see the chart). That's right—a rebate for the separator, a rebate for the header, and even a rebate if you buy just the header alone.

Use your current combine toward downpayment for a new Titan, finance with John Deere, and pay no finance charge until the first use month in 1984. Or you can take a cash rebate in lieu of waiver. * For example, a 6620 Corn and Soybean Combine bought in December

1983 would have a cash rebate in lieu of waiver of $3,250 if the first use month is October in your area. Or on a 7720 Grain Combine bought in January 1984, a cash rebate in lieu of waiver of $2,175 if the first use month is July in your area. Ask your dealer for the amount in lieu of waiver on the combine of your choice. Or another option is to lease a new combine, with lease-payment discount comparable to the waiver of finance charge.*

Now's the time to choose, while the best values are available. This program will end on January 31, 1984.

"GNMA's* give us a hedge against inflation with high current yield." 11.95% anticipated yield*

"I receive monthly payments from Ginnie Mae of principal and interest, and while the stated maturity is 30 years, yields are quoted on a prepaid half-life of 12 years."

It's a good way to invest in the housing industry and avoid the administrative and legal hassles. Edward D. Jones & Co. has current information on these high yield, mortgage-backed securities issued by the Government National Mortgage Association.

Estimated anticipated yield which is formulated based on our analysis of this particular pool's past performance and which, in our opinion, while not guaranteed, offers such attractive potential. The yield based on a 12 year average life using GNMA standard bond yield tables is 11.95%. These securities are subject to market fluctuations.

After the terrible heat-wave and drought of the 1980 summer there came out T-Shirts with "We survived the Summer of 1980" inscribed on them. Soon it will be time to have some T-Shirts with "We survived the winter of 1983-84" on them.

If any of our readers — local or out of town are interested in obtaining a copy of the little book titled "History of the Perryman Cemetery and other Stories from 1883-1983" they can contact Mmes. Minnie Sir-man, Veda Brogdon or Millie Reynolds.

Mrs. Shirley Lanier was visited by her three children over the weekend, Charles and Janice of Wichita Falls and Johnny of Decatur.

Mrs. Minnie Sirman spent the day in Bowie, Monday the 16th, due to death of her cousin Mrs. Zelma Kimmons. Mrs. Kimmons was the sister of Bill and Elmer Caswell.

Dude Berry visited with his sister, Lena Brown, in the Decatur community hospital on Monday the 16th while Bula Mae visited her aunt, Mrs. Attie Scott in Alford.

Here is your chuckle for the week. My side-kick, Perryman, spent most of this Monday cutting wood, loading and unloading it — and this p.m. he said, "Well, I work one day and then it takes me three days to get over it."

Vera Mae McGee's son-in-law Kenneth Wilkerson has been a patient in Wichita Falls Bethania hospital recently. He is the husband of Vera Mae's daughter — Virginia. Kenneth is home now and doing much better.

On Thursday Jan. 12th, the Kenneth Holland family motored over to Montague, picked up Mrs. Hollands' sister Eva Crayton, to attend the Montague Junior High basketball tournament. Afterward they all had supper with Mrs. Crayton.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hunt of New Harp had all eight of their children home last week. Then on Thursday the 12th they all met in Decatur to have a family picture made. The Hunts children are: Mr. and Mrs. Roy Joe Hunt of Paulsboro, New Jersey, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Freeman, local, Helen Freeman and Elmer Hunt of Alford, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Matlock and Mr. and Mrs. Eddie McClure, local, Mr. and Mrs. Israel Salinas of Haltom City and Mr. and Mrs. David Vandeventer of Decatur.

Christie Dell Greenwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Greenwood, will celebrate her 6th birthday Jan. 20th.

Mrs. Beulah Dill of Era is spending a few days with her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Jack C. Dill.

Now we go on to a little Ted and Laura Belle Jackson news. One is that last Tues. the 10th, they had their usual day out in Gainesville. Then on Friday the 13th, Mr. and Mrs. S.T. Warford of Slidell had lunch with them and that night found the Jacksons in Greenwood attending the regular meeting of the Eastern Star. Sunday the 15th, they visited Ted's sister, Mrs. Eula Steen at the Yes-ter-Yer Home in Saint Jo and that evening they visited with the Warfords in Slidell.

Johnny Lanier and sister Janie Lanier returned home, Friday 13th, from a skiing vacation in Colorado.

Doug Holzbog spent the past weekend in Dallas and he attended the KISS concert. Doug has left his position at Bowie National Bank and started back to Cooke County College on Monday the 16th.

Betty and Bennett were surprised with a housewarming party Friday night the 13th. A small group of neighbors, relatives and friends made up the party.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Whiteside of El Paso spent all of last week with his mother, Mrs. Elva Carter. On Sunday the 15th, Mrs. Esther Shears and Rhett joined them for a visit. The Whitesides returned home Monday the 16th.

Veda Brogdon attended funeral services in Saint Jo, Saturday the 14th, for Luther Martin. Veda says she and Luther were school mates at Dyemound.

Mrs. Christy Rashid of Denton and Chana Brewer of Bowie visited with the Kenneth Hollands Sunday the 15th. Later Christy visited with her grandmother, Mrs. Nina Holland at Horizon Manor in Nocona.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kenas of Argyle visited with her parents, Marion and Howard Sockwell on Sunday the 15th.

Dr. Allen W. Miller of Irving visited with the Perryman Denhams Sunday afternoon. Dr. Miller and family own a weekend home just off the Sunset Highway.

Pat and Sharon Maloney of Denton spent Sunday afternoon with her grandmother Juanita Bailey. Sharon is Larry Bailey's oldest daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. A.G. Holstine and children of Fort Worth were Sunday afternoon visitors of Millie and W.T. Reynolds.

Making it a happy day for Vera Mae McGee this past Sunday were Mrs. Eda Merle Hill and Mr. and Mrs. Shannon Hill and Amy of Bowie when they paid her a visit.

Mrs. Margaret O'Brien and three sons and Mrs. Carolyn Wood of Wichita Falls spent the weekend with Merle and Clifford Hudspeth.

Mrs. Alice Burchard of Greenwood visited with Mrs. Louise Shults recently. Phyllis (Lanier) Teakell received a nice promotion, last week. She was named: Special Activities Director of the Grand Prairie Parks and Recreation Department.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Woods departed for San Antonio Sunday Jan. 8. On Monday the 9th, Kenneth had his medical check-up and then he and Charlene motored up to Austin. There they spent the night with daughter Patsy and family. On Tues. the 10th, they headed home with granddaughter McKenzie accompanying them. Then on Friday, the 13th, McKenzie's mother and brother, Patsy and Andy made it to Stoney Point to visit with the Woods. On Monday, Patsy, McKenzie and Andy returned home to Austin and Kenneth Woods resumed his duties as Rural Letter Carrier, which is good news indeed.

Would like to take this opportunity to compliment Olita Lanier for the fine job she did carrying the mail during Kenneth Woods leave of absence. Olita did a superb job thru it all — especially during all the recent bad weather.

Vera Mae McGee visited with Mrs. Billie Poynor Monday Jan. 8th. Vera Mae says that Billie is not feeling very well these days.

Vatoni Dill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack C. Dill and Pamela Edwards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edwards, accompanied a group of their friends from North Texas State University to Steamboat Springs, Col. on a snow skiing trip. They left Tuesday Jan. 3, and returned home the 10th. The young ladies reported a wonderful trip and time.

Joe Tinney of Waco visited in the Forestburg community on Wednesday Jan. 11th. Joe has written a book titled "The Waltons of Burnswirth County, Virginia." In the book he traces the Forestburg Waltons and their descendants back to these Waltons. Minnie Sirman has a copy of the book and she says it is great reading.

IRS advises careful choice of tax preparer

Last year, about 39% of the 2,597,000 federal income tax returns filed by individuals in north Texas area were completed by paid tax preparers. Obviously, tax preparation is big business. The IRS advises you to choose your preparer with the same care you would use in selecting a doctor, lawyer, or any other professional person. Even when someone else prepares your tax return, you are legally responsible for the accuracy.

The IRS offers these tips on what to expect in dealing with a preparer:

- * Taxpayers should not sign a blank return, nor one which is partially completed, nor one prepared in pencil.
- * Preparers should sign the return in the taxpayer's presence and give his or her identification number, as required by law.
- * Taxpayer must be given a copy of the completed return.
- * Preparers who promise a refund, claim a special relationship with the IRS, or boast of ways to beat the tax system should be avoided.

The First Texas Money Market Certificate fits your financial plan.

Whether you're saving for the long run.
Or you're investing for the short run.

Well, now First Texas has something that can fill both those needs: the First Texas Money Market Certificate.

If you're saving for a college education, a new home or even a car, the First Texas Money Market Certificate is a great investment for the long run. But just as important, the First Texas Money Market Certificate is insured up to $100,000 by the FSLIC. So you know your money is safe for the future.

If you're investing for the short run, the

First Texas Money Market Certificate has all the features you're looking for in a short-term investment. It's flexible, with terms up to 30 months.* And it pays a competitively high interest rate, higher than those offered by daily rate accounts. Best of all, you can start with an opening deposit as small as $1,000.

The fact is, whether you're investing or saving, the First Texas Money Market Certificate is the right plan.

To open your account, call this toll-free number: (800) 442-1256. Or in Dallas, call 458-4790 and we'll open it over the phone.

Contracting deadline for dairy plan, Jan. 31, '84

"Participation in the paid diversion plan offers dairy farmers a tangible way to maintain net income while helping to bring U.S. milk production back into balance with consumption. It's a constructive program for both individual producers and the nation as a whole."

This message was emphasized today by Lee Wolf, President, AMPI/Southern Region, in urging fellow dairy farmers to participate in the 15 month incentive program featured in the legislation recently enacted by Congress and signed into law by the President. Under the new law, dairy farmers who reduce milk marketings by 5 to 30 percent of their base level would be eligible for $10 per hundredweight incentive payments.

This voluntary program runs from January 1, 1984 through March 31, 1985 and will be primarily financed by a 50 cent per hundredweight assessment on all milk marketed. The base level marketing would be the producer's choice of either the calendar year 1982 or the average of 1981 and 1982 with months of January, February and March counted twice.

"We urge all dairy families to take a close look at how this voluntary program would affect their individual operations," commented Wolf, a dairy farmer from Gainesville, Texas.

"For many producers, it would provide a beneficial way to cut milk marketings, maintain net income, and achieve significant savings in case expenses."

Wolf explained that the contracting period for the diversion program ends on January 31, 1984. Dairy farmers must complete a contract at their county ASCS office for a specified percentage reduction.

"If there is enough participation in the diversion program, we can eliminate the schedule price cuts called for in the new legislation," concluded Wolf. "It gives us an effective tool to solve milk surpluses in the short-run without jeopardizing the health of our industry and markets."

The new dairy law included the following price support level provisions:

a) On December 1, 1983, the support level was reduced to $12.60/hundredweight.

b) On April 1, 1985, the Secretary of Agriculture can further reduce the support level to $12.10/hundredweight if annual CCC purchases are projected to exceed six million pounds of milk equivalent.

c) On July 1, 1985, the Secretary can reduce the support level to $11.60/hundredweight if annual CCC purchases are projected to exceed five billion pounds of milk equivalent.

d) The Secretary of Agriculture is authorized to increase the support level by not less than 50 cents/hundredweight on July 1, 1985 if annual CCC purchases are projected to be five billion pounds of milk equivalent or less and that the increase is necessary to assure an adequate supply of milk.

The law also features a national advertising and promotion program designed to boost consumption. It will be funded by a uniform 15 cents per hundredweight investment from all dairy farmers with credit of 15 cents per hundredweight given for contributions to qualified state and regional programs for the six months following legislation enactment, and 10 cents per hundredweight afterwards. It is expected that this program will be started in mid-1984.

Associated Milk Producers, Inc. ranks as the nation's largest dairy farmer cooperative with 33,000 members located in 20 states throughout the midwest, south and southwest, who produce about 12 percent of the nation's milk supply.

County Agent's Report

We have seen the problems and experienced the misery of the recent cold spell in late December. And as the weather folks say, we are in for some more cold and miserable weather before spring. However, with all the rough weather, we did receive some benefits from the cold.

One of the major benefits coming from the cold weather was the reduction of the insect populations. H.A. Turney, Area Entomologist with the Extension Service, has been counting greenbug population for about two months now.

The population had gone from 35 per foot of drill row up to 75 per foot of drill row just before the cold weather hit. Following the cold weather the infestation of greenbugs dropped to an average of 7.6 per foot of drill row.

The warm weather this week will help the greenbugs to increase in number. It will take about a month for the greenbug to repopulate.

Wheat producers will be topdressing their wheat before long. They normally include an insecticide in the topdressing to control greenbugs.

Producers should look for greenbugs before they add an insecticide this year. It might be a good way a farmer can save money by eliminating the insecticide treatment if it is not needed.

However, cold weather has hurt the wheat and lower numbers of greenbugs, say 50 to 75 per foot of drill row average, across the field will do more damage now than it would have during normal growing conditions.

This past weekend I was at the Dallas A&M Center, and their freeze damage appeared much greater than ours. Maybe the greenbugs just starved to death. In all seriousness, we did come out of the December cold spell better than a lot of people.

One other benefit of the cold weather has been the reduction in rust and powdery mildew spore counts. Trapping at Matagorda County showed populations of 200 plus spores per day before the cold spells. Following the cold weather, spore counts were reduced to no countable numbers. As we know, most rust migrates on strong winds from the south.

Producers should keep an eye on their crops for evidence of diseases and insects. Plants are in a stressed condition and are more vulnerable to attacks now than when vigorously growing.

CCC offers basic horticulture

Ice, snow and sub-freezing temperatures notwithstanding, local and area residents can begin now improving their chances for lush green lawns, productive gardens and beautiful, healthy trees and shrubs this spring.

So says Cooke County College's Doug Robison who will teach CCC's popular course in basic horticulture this spring semester.

"The fact is that people with so-called 'green thumbs' are made not born,"

Robison says. "one way or another, such people have acquired some basic knowledge about horticulture and have learned certain fairly simple techniques that have proved successful when it comes to producing attractive, healthy plants."

Robison adds that such knowledge is often gained over many years of persistent trial and error, but he points out that there's a much easier and faster way.

"That's what this course is all about," he explains.

"We take a very practical approach to the subject in an effort to give students knowledge they can put right to work in their own yards and gardens."

The name of the textbook to be used by students in the course, in fact, is "The Hows and Whys of Home Horticulture."

Among specific topics to be covered in the course will be principles of propagating plants — including vegetables, ornamentals and fruits; methods of handling seeds; starting plants by means of cuttings, layers, buds, grafts and bulbs; and factors influencing plant growth after transplanting.

Attention also will be given to sites, soils, fertilizers and different plant varieties best suited to area soil and climate conditions.

"Again, it's important to understand that we will be taking a practical approach that virtually any student will be able to understand and benefit from," Robison stresses. "This course is aimed at persons of all ages and backgrounds who have one thing in common — the desire to know more about how to produce healthy plants."

The course, titled AG 1123 in the college catalog and schedule of classes, earns students three full hours of college credit and will be offered this spring semester on Friday mornings from 8 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. with lab and lecture combined.

"Not only will this course equip students with some valuable knowledge," says Robison, "it should also give them an opportunity to have an enjoyable, interesting time."

He explains, for example, that in addition to regular classroom instruction, students will be taking field trips to various area nurseries and professionally maintained garden sites.

Students interested in enrolling in the horticulture course should obtain an application for admission form from the Registrar's Office on campus, fill it out and return it prior to spring semester registration.

Registration for the spring term at Cooke County College will be held on Thursday and Friday, January 12-13. For more information, call 817-668-7731, Ext. 242.

Use tax label to speed up refund

Taxpayers can help speed up the processing of tax returns by using the pre-addressed, peel-off labels and by double checking their arithmetic before mailing the returns. As simple as the items appear, they are the cause for thousands of errors every year, the IRS says.

The label comes with the tax package in the mail and lists the taxpayer's name, address, social security number, and other bits of information which help the IRS in processing the return quickly.

If any of the information on the label is incorrect, the correction can be made directly on the label. Taxpayers should also use the coded envelope included in the tax package. It's pre-addressed and helps the IRS sort returns.

Errors such as checking the wrong filing status, failing to sign the return, math mistakes, and the omission of necessary documents are common mistakes which can delay taxpayers' refunds. The IRS must correct the errors or obtain the documents before processing the return.

Most errors can be avoided if the return is double checked for accuracy and the label is used.

Topdress wheat now.

Your last chance for optimum yield

If you didn't get all of your nitrogen down before planting, a topdress application now will go directly into increased yield and quality. Wheat particularly needs nitrogen in the spring after its winter dormancy, and it is especially important if you have pastured your wheat.

So, topdress your wheat now, before the spring busy season hits. Get off to a fast start to a top yield.

We have the fertilizers you need, so come see us about it today. We can also arrange for custom application if you wish. Come see us soon. We're ready when you are.

Eccentrics featured at new display in Morton Museum

What do a cereal king, a circus queen, and a jack of all trades have to do with Texas?

Plenty, visitors to Morton Museum will discover when they browse through the exhibit, "To Stand Alone: A Gallery of Texas Originals", which is on loan from The University of Texas Institute of Texas Cultures at San Antonio.

The free-standing show featuring individuals who riched the state's history with their nonconformity will be on exhibit from January 15, 1984 until February 15, 1984.

The Institute's collection of eccentrics reflects the efforts of eleven men and women dedicated to their own ideas and beliefs. There are people like C.W. Post who, with his invention of the breakfast cereal, altered America's eating habits. Ernest "Bull" Adams was a university football star, Rhodes scholar and a brilliant lawyer who preferred to live as a barefoot cave dweller studying nature. "Queen of the Big Top" Mollie Bailey and her traveling circus was one of the most celebrated events for the country people of Texas for over half a century. Mrs. Douglas Bomar Holman, whose father, Dr. Nathaniel T. Bomar, was the first resident physician in Gainesville, in writing about social activities during the 1800's said: "Mollie Bailey's circus came overland to bring wonder and joy to the pioneer little folks and, of course, the pioneer parents had to go with us to be sure that, in our enthusiasm, none of us ran off with the circus."

The Institute's colorful misfits from history were chosen on the basis of diversity of background, chronological spread, areas of endeavor, ethnic diversity and success in terms of what they wanted from their life. Their stories are told through biographical sketches, photographs and drawings.

"To Stand Alone: A Gallery of Texas Originals" is one of a dozen different exhibits available from The Institute of Texas Cultures for display in schools, libraries, banks, and other public places. As a learning and communications center for the state's history, culture and folklore, The Institute also produces slide shows, videotape documentaries, film strips, cassettes, and books.

Morton Museum, located at the corner of Dixon and Pecan Streets in Gainesville, is open Tuesday through Saturday from 12:00 until 5:00 p.m. and Sunday from 2:00 until 5:00 p.m. The public is invited to visit this interesting exhibit.
