Progress made on Cherry Lane Culvert project

Once hindered by delays, construction of a drainage culvert and two-vehicle crossing at the north end of Cherry Lane is making progress.

The initial culvert, located in the 100 block, was too narrow and did not meet the design width of the street.

According to City Administrator Joe Fenton, in the fall of 1984, the city installed a longer culvert on the west end of the drainage area to make the crossing wider. But, due to delays on the part of the original contractor, work on the retaining walls on either end of the culvert pipe did not begin until the spring of 1985. Fenton said that about half of the work was completed when further delays, on the part of the same contractor, caused the project to stall.

After consultations with several concrete contractors, the city was able to find and to reach an agreement with a contractor who was not too busy to complete the Cherry Lane project.

Contractor Clay Estes and his son-in-law, James Heath, spent Thursday, Dec. 26, building retaining wall forms on the west end of the culvert. On Monday, Dec. 30, concrete was poured into the forms.

Estes explained Monday that within the next 10 days, weather permitting, the curbs will be poured. Prior to that, the city will have to move in fill and rock for the east, or street side, of the culvert.

Fenton said that once the rock base for the crossing over the culvert was established, it would be spring before the entire project would be complete. "In the spring, weather permitting," Fenton said, "the crossing will be paved and the project finally completed."

The completion of the Cherry Lane project will allow for a paved, two-vehicle crossing over the culvert - a first since that neighborhood was developed.

R.N. Fette is a patient in Gainesville Memorial Hospital. He entered Muenster Memorial on Christmas afternoon and was transferred to Gainesville on Friday, Dec. 27, placed in ICU, for treatment of pneumonia and complications, including a related heart problem of a number of years. He was moved to Room 202 on Thursday of this week. Although very ill, he is showing improvement. The staff of the Muenster Enterprise thanks the people who have helped us this week and requests our readers and advertisers to help by sending in news and having ad copy ready early since we are working short handed and in a different situation.

Wagon train begins journey

This is the year of Texas' 150th birthday. Part of the State's celebration includes the Texas Sesquicentennial Wagon Train.

The Wagon Train began its six-month, 3,000 mile circle of the state Thursday from the Civic Center in Sulphur Springs. One hundred and sixty-nine days, more than six months and approximately 2,840 miles later, the Wagon Train will arrive in Muenster.

Somewhere around 5 p.m. on Thursday, June 19, the Wagon Train is scheduled to pull into Muenster. According to local committee members helping plan a town reception, the Wagon Train will park and camp along 7th Street between Main and Mesquite. The public school parking lot will also serve as a parking and camp site for the travelers.

Monica Hess, chairman of the local reception committee, said no definite plans have been made to entertain the members of the Wagon Train. According to Hess, the Wagon Train comes complete with a sesquicentennial play lasting about 30-45 minutes, for towns interested in seeing the production.

While there is also some consideration being given to providing a dance on the Community Center parking lot, no definite plans have been made to welcome the Wagon Train. Those wishing to contribute ideas and activities are encouraged to contact Monica Hess, or any committee member, with suggestions and/or assistance in making the travelers feel welcome in Muenster.

The Wagon Train will leave Muenster on the morning of June 20 for Gainesville, where a large reception and several activities are scheduled.

Commissioner Robert Bayer dies

Muenster and Cooke County endured the loss of Robert Bayer with his family and mourned with his host of friends.

A man of vision, courtesy, great honesty and keen judgement, he earned the trust of voters who re-elected him Commissioner of Precinct 4 for 18 years.

A member of Sacred Heart Church, he was, in addition to his position in Cooke County, a farmer and rancher; a member of the Muenster VFW Post and a veteran of the Korean War and a staff sergeant in the U.S. Army; a trustee of Muenster Independent School District; and of Muenster Memorial Hospital Board of Directors, and the Muenster Knights of Columbus.

Robert Bayer was born on Sept. 28, 1927, a son of Mrs. Gertrude (Walterscheid) Bayer and the late Joseph Bayer. He died in Muenster Memorial Hospital on Dec. 18, 1985 at 11 p.m. following an extended illness.

He is survived by his wife, the former Rosalee Ann Fuhrman, four daughters Carolyn Lawrence of Dallas, Dolly Owen of Lindsay, Betty Cole of Austin and Susan Bayer of Denton; and three sons Carl Bayer of Muenster, Allen Bayer of Denton and Henry Bayer of Muenster; and four grandchildren.

Also by his mother, Gertrude, and one sister Ethel Mae Hesse and two brothers Alfred Bayer and Arthur Bayer all of Muenster.

A Mass of Christian Burial was held in Sacred Heart Church on Friday, Dec. 20 at 10:30 a.m. with Father Victor Gillespie OSB and Father Denis Soerries OSB officiating.

During the homily, Father Denis related that Robert showed concern for his loved ones and his influence reached beyond family and parish even when his illness became terminal. Father Denis said that among Robert's traits of character were devotion to duty, a sense of justice and firmness, a personal relationship to God.

Participating in the liturgy were nieces Julia Rogers, Elizabeth Fuhrman, Amy Fuhrman, Jeremy Owen and Brenda Spaeth.

Pall bearers were Joe David Bayer, Stephen Walterscheid, Bert Hesse, Karl Klement, Mike Pulte, Glen Fuhrman, and Leonard Bayer and Walter Schmitz.

Honorary pall bearers were fellow members of Cooke County

Lake land plats approach final approval

Muenster's proposed lake project made a major advancement Dec. 26, when the Muenster Water District Board met and reviewed plats of each track of land involved in the project.

James Roark, Water Board chairman, said the only difficulties were minor errors in the labeling of two of the plats, which will be corrected.

The plats, now seemingly near final approval, have been a long-term source of both controversy and delay in the proposed lake project.

Richard S. Stark, attorney for the Water District Board, was present at the Dec. 26th meeting and said he would try to fit a review of abstracts and titles into his February schedule.

It is hoped that once the abstract/title review is complete, packets can be assembled and meetings with land owners arranged.

Other guests present for the Water Board meeting included Ray Svacina, a representative of the U.S. Soil Conservation Service; Mayor Richard Grewing and City Administrator Joe Fenton.

Board members present for the meeting include Roark, Ken McDougle, David M. Bright, Al Walter and Dan Bayer.

No date was given for the next meeting of the board.

Construction continues on a modern new bridge south of Myra. The bridge spans 144 ft. In this photo by Janie Hartman, employees of Precinct 3 are shown welding pillars. In the background is the old bridge frame. The floor burned completely last September.

Lindsay's Arch, forming a stately entrance to parish grounds and St. Peter's Catholic Church is the newest and most outstanding addition to the community. It is 80 ft. wide, spanning the street beyond both curbs, and is made of 5000 lbs. of steel. It was built by JAW Construction and is well equipped with electrical connections. Special spaces are planned inside the supporting pillars for two statues, one of St. Isidore, patron of Farmers, the other of St. Peregrine, patron of cancer patients. There will also be a large plaque to list Mass schedules and parish announcements. The arch is a memorial given by an anonymous donor. Janie Hartman Photo

STATE CAPITAL

HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Prison Growth

In 1985, the inmate population totalled 37,878. The federal court has decreed the population for present facilities must be reduced to 34,210 by 1989.

Prison officials predict that inmate population will rise to 62,000 in 1995 if the Legislature invokes new changes and 95,000 if it doesn't.

So far, the Legislature has authorized building two new prisons and 10 minimum security facilities.

Privitization

Folks in the private sector are interested in contracting with the state to provide services in several ways. One is to reduce prison counts with private halfway houses for inmates preparing for parole.

Another idea is to contract with private businesses to run prison work programs on and off prison premises.

Still another way to cut red tape would be to have a private business operate a prison on a profit basis.

Lease-Purchase

To come up with the money pronto for prison construction, the state is considering entering lease-purchase agreements with the private sector.

The new prisons would be built by private enterprise and the state would purchase them in installment payments over a long period of time.

Because of the time crunch and familiarity of lease-purchase strategies in the private sector, this alternative is probably one the Legislature would try first, even though it would cost more in the long run.

Prison Farm

The TDC has the largest food and fiber operation of the nation's prisons, and it's hampered now by security decisions, geographic expanse and unwilling labor.

The 15-unit farm system produces hundreds of products but is interrupted by violence and other crises in the system.

A recent study found that over a four-year period, net value of TDC ag products fell from a positive $1.1 million to a negative $6.1 million. Much of the loss came from 1984 weather.

Some say that wardens controlling inmate labor availability do not have to account for farm productivity, making for an inadequate labor force.

Prison Violence

The number of fatalities and non-fatal attacks has increased over the recent months. This is inmate-to-inmate violence.

Gang warfare inside the prison is based on ethnic origin, but more than racism is responsible for the increase.

Some say that when the state decreased the number of inmates given supervisory authority, it failed to hire extra personnel.

Overcrowding is known to increase prison violence.

Then again, as the gentler inmates are paroled to reduce crowding, they are replaced more and more with inmates who were incarcerated for long terms from violent crimes.

Prisons now have a higher percentage of prisoners with less to lose who keep up the same violent behavior they practiced on the outside.

All in all, the natural growth of prison population and the pressing need to meet the federal court decree make this issue the next candidate for massive reform—this time by the Texas Legislature, not the federal courts.

House supports Stenholm on balanced budget amendment

Area Congressman Charles Stenholm announced on Thursday that for the first time in history of Congress a majority of the House members are co-sponsoring a balanced budget amendment to the Constitution.

At a major press conference in the nation's capitol, Stenholm said the balanced budget legislation, which he introduced in January, has secured 219 co-sponsors in the House. He called on Speaker Thomas "Tip" O'Neill to bring up for consideration House Joint Resolution 27, the amendment which the Stamford Democrat co-authored.

"When I first came to Congress six and a half years ago I did not believe that amending the Constitution was the way to achieve balanced federal budgets," Stenholm said. "But since then I've learned that the Congress and the President will not take the initiative to make the hard, responsible budget decisions we need without some sort of prod-ding. Imposing constitutional discipline is now the only way the government will ever adopt a balanced budget. This measure will separate the real fiscal conservatives from those who just say they are."

With more than 50 other Members of Congress standing behind him at the podium, Stenholm said, "If we allowed the people of this great country to vote on whether they want a balanced budget, I believe the answer would be an overwhelming 'Yes.' I know it would be in the 17th District of Texas, which I represent. They know we can no longer keep borrowing from our families, continue relying on less-prosperous countries to repay their debts, keep creating printing-press money, all just so we can keep spending and spending. It's time for this Congress to take the necessary steps to secure a sound financial foundation for America."

Stenholm is the co-chairman and co-founder of CLUBB, Congressional Leaders United for a Balanced Budget, which is pushing for adoption of this legislation. He said the group now has the numbers to submit a discharge petition, a rarely-used procedure to bring legislation to the floor. "First we're asking for full, fair and prompt consideration through normal channels," he said. "If that does not produce results, we'll attempt the alternative. This is the closest this legislation has ever come and we're going to give it our best."

The measure, co-sponsored with Congressman Larry Craig (r-Idaho), has bi-partisan support among 53 Democrats and 166 Republicans. Included as co-sponsors of Stenholm's bill are two-thirds of the Texas delegation.

Star Wars - the Empire may strike first

If thou thinkest twice before you speak once, thou wilt speak twice the better for it.

This statement by William Penn reminds me of a game called Gossip that I played as a child. In the game, a number of people would sit in a circle. The first person would whisper something to the second person and so it went around the circle. When the message had gone all the way around to the last person, they would tell what they had heard and the first person would tell what they had said. You can imagine how distorted the original statement had become.

It's my opinion that many politicians are playing the "gossip game" with their constituents concerning President Reagan's Star Wars Defense Proposal. The problem is the opponents of this program aren't even playing the game correctly. They are distorting the story before the first word has been uttered.

Star Wars, High Frontier or

Strategic Defense Initiative (SDI), offers a space-age shield against strategic ballistic missiles having defense, rather than offense, as it's primary purpose. It can easily serve to prevent nuclear war, rather than being offensive with the potential to cause a nuclear war. Presently, if any country launches a missile at any city, that city faces immediate annihilation. With Star Wars in place, the missile would be destroyed in space before reaching target.

Once perfected, Star Wars would serve as a nuclear watchdog and would act as a sentinel on continuous duty in space for world peace. This system would give us a way to defend our country without having to threaten the massive destruction of non-combatant populations of other countries. Imagine, achieving peace without having the high buildup of nuclear armaments.

For the past 40 years we've followed the doctrine of Mutually Assured Destruction (MADD). This doctrine embraces the philosophy of if you destroy me, I'll destroy you. Star Wars could eliminate MADD and get this country and the rest of the world off of the nuclear treadmill. This new defense program could stop the construction of offensive nuclear weapons and forego the development of a new generation of offensive weapons like the MX. I believe the program would promote peace and not the manufacturing of more missiles.

In the first paragraph of our constitution, the national government is commanded to provide for the common defense. This is not only a legal and constitutional obligation but also a moral and ethical one. I would urge each of you to write your congressman and U.S. senators and tell them to support the Star Wars program. If you don't, this country may end up like the old Hindu proverb which states, "A man without a stick will be bitten even by sheep."

Myrick, Fuhrmann are wed

The wedding of Jill Ann Myrick and Patrick Raymond Fuhrmann was held during the late afternoon of Dec. 28 in St. Peter's Church of Lindsay in a setting of Christmas elegance, with lighted candles, poinsettias, garland, and Christmas trees decorated with white doves and red lights.

The altar was centered with the Unity Candle which the couple lit during their wedding ceremony.

Officiating for the Nuptial Mass and double ring ceremony were Father Nicholas Fuhrmann pastor of St. Mary's Church in Gainesville, Father Cletus Post, pastor of St. Peter's Church in Lindsay and Father Stephen Eckart of Subiaco Abbey.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Myrick of Lindsay and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Fuhrmann of Rt. 2, Gainesville.

Presented at the altar by her father, the bride was wearing a designer gown of shimmering white taffeta. In design it featured an exquisite V-neckline bordered with a taffeta ruffle, tiny seed pearls, and tridescents. Lace covered the entire bodice to the flattering natural waistline. The back of the bodice was of French Alencon lace.

Sleeves of the bridal gown were leg-o-mutton in style, beautifully adorned with appliques of matching lace.

The full skirt flowed gracefully into a semi-cathedral length train. A deep flounce of matching lace bordered the skirt along with a taffeta ruffle.

Her finer-tip length veil was held by a flower wreath enhanced with pearls.

She carried a pearl bouquet with tiny red roses laced with white baby's breath and green streamers. For sentiment she wore a pearl necklace that belonged to her late grandmother, Rene Myrick; and pearl earrings borrowed from her aunt, Mrs. Pat (Sis) Stelzer.

Kenneth Fuhrmann of Lindsay was his brother's best man. Bruce Bengfort and Greg Haverkamp both of Lindsay and Joe Bengfort of College Station, all friends of the groom were groomsmen. Ushers were Joe Myrick, bride's brother, John Anderle, Groom's nephew, and friends, John Dieter, Doug Anderle and Jeff Parsons. Jeff Myrick, bride's brother, and Kevin Anderle were Mass servers.

Godparents of the couple Harold and Caroline Neu of Denison and Ray and Toni Mae Lueb of Oklahoma City participated in the special liturgy by presenting Offertory gifts at the altar.

Ruth Felderhoff was organist for traditional wedding music. Rene Stelzer, cousin of the bride, Preston Garrett, a friend, Kristy Stelzer, a cousin, Sis Stelzer, an aunt, were vocalists. Selections included "Color My World", "Somewhere My Love", "Just You and I", "Only a Shadow", "Ice Castles", "Gentle Woman", "How Great Thou Art", and "Edelweiss".

MRS. PATRICK RAYMOND FUHRMANN
... nee Jill Ann Myrick ...

Attendants

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Julie Myrick. Bridesmaids were Alice Gruber of Lindsay, Shawna Hellman of Lubbock friends of the bride and Pam Hoberer of Lindsay, sister of the groom.

They wore floor length emerald green taffeta dresses designed with a square neckline in front that formed ruffles across the shoulders and a V-neckline in back. A large bow accented the dropped back waistline.

Amy Hoberer and Andrea Fuhrmann, both of Lindsay and nieces of the groom were flower girls; and Kory Anderle of Muenster, groom's nephew, was ring bearer.

Reception

A reception followed in the Knights of Columbus Hall in Gainesville.

Kristi Woods of Stillwater, Okla., Bridget Anderle of Gainesville and Lisa Hess of Lindsay, friends of the couple, secured guest signatures in the bride's book.

Lou Schad and her assistants catered the dinner and Betty Rose Walterscheid served the wedding cake, assisted by nieces of the groom, Kim and Denise Anderle, Stephanie Wimmer, Sondra and Nicole Bauer, Leslie Fuhrmann and Jennifer Fuhrmann.

The couple will reside in Gainesville upon return from a wedding trip to Jackson Hole, Wyoming.

The engagement and approaching marriage of Terri Lynn Murphree of Gainesville and Stephen Patrick Hermes of Lindsay is announced by her parents Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Murphree. Parents of the future groom are Mr. and Mrs. Julius Hermes Jr. The couple will be married in St. Peter's Church of Lindsay on Feb. 8, 1986 in a 5 p.m. Nuptial Mass celebrated by Father Cletus Post. Attendants will be Holly Robertson, Cheryl Murphree, Kristi Hiser and Carol Hermes. The bride-elect is a 1982 graduate of Gainesville High School. She is a secretary employed by Tyler and Simpson of Gainesville. The future groom is a 1980 graduate of Lindsay High School. He is employed as a welder at Structures, Inc. of Muenster. The couple will reside in Gainesville.

County Agent's Report

by Craig Rosenbaum

Small grain insects have good start

Many of you have been hearing the airplanes flying and know something is up in the fields. It appears that we have a fairly good infestation of winter grain mites in area small grain. In checking fields this past weekend, there seems to be no difference in preference to wheat or oats. In the past we have thought that winter grain mites tended to give more pressure to oats.

Mites are very small and range in size from 1/32 to 1/16 inch long. The adults have four pair of reddish-orange legs and a body that is dark brown to black. These mites feed primarily at night and for this reason, producers have an advantage in checking fields. The easiest way to check for mite populations is to inspect fields an hour or so after dark using a flashlight. The small mite is easily detected with the light from the flashlight because they will be up on the plant leaves and tend to shine in the light.

There are two scales that we use in considering economic damage. The first of these would be insect counts. Mite populations of 100 per linear foot on young grain is enough for control. As the grain gets larger, the 150 to 250 per foot is enough for control measures. The second scale to use is just visible damage to the grain crop. Mites will cause the leaf tips to turn brown and plants to become stunted with a silver-grey appearance.

Worse infestations appear to be in fields with continuous small grain from three to four years. Also, fields that have high organic matter and crop residue tend to be a little worse in mite populations. We are in a time of year when we would expect to see buildups of populations. As the temperature gets into the 50 to 60 degree range in the daytime and in the 40's at night, this is excellent weather for mite reproduction. When the temperature drops into the 20's, then we have very little reproduction. What we need now is a good rain to close off the soil. This would help in reducing mite populations. However, that doesn't seem to be in the forecast, so chemical measures are needed in some cases. Those suggested insecticides include the following:

Insecticide	Amount per acre	Waiting Period/Days
		Harvest	Grazing
Disulfoton (Di-Syston) (8 lb.)	¼ to ½ pt.	See Remarks
Methyl parathion (4 lb.)	½ pt.	15	15
Malathion (25 % WP)	1 lb.	7	7

Remarks

DISULFOTON. Labeled as foliar spray on wheat. Do not graze treated fields. Do not repeat application within 30 days. Do not harvest grain within 30 days of application.

Be sure to check your fields if you feel you might have mite populations.

GRAIN MARKETING OPTIONS WORKSHOP

Date: Thurs., Jan. 9, 1986
Time: 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.
Place: Gainesville National Bank Auditorium - Gainesville
RSVP: Pre-enroll by calling the Extension Office at 668-5412.

Producers of wheat can now trade commodity options. An option is a contract that gives the buyer the right, but not the obligation, to buy or sell a commodity futures contract for a specified price for a specified period of time.

It gives farmers another pricing tool to assist in price risk management. In other words, it is a type of "insurance" against sudden price drops that requires no margin deposits, and allows buyers to participate in a price risk.

Dr. Edward G. Smith, Economist Grain Marketing and Pol icy, and Dr. Ken Stokes, Extension Economist, will conduct a one-day workshop on January 9 in Gainesville.

The program is as follows:
10 - 10:15 a.m.—Review of Wheat Market Situation and Outlook
10:15 - 11 a.m.—Knowing Your Prices; and Establishing Price Objectives
11 - 11:45 a.m.—Localizing Futures Markets; and Review of Hedging Mechanics
12 - 1 p.m.—Lunch Break
1 - 2:15 p.m.—Intro to Uses and Cost of Commodity Options
2:15 - 2:30 p.m.—Break
2:30 - 4 p.m.—Determining Your expected 1985 Selling Prices Using Options; Comparison of Current Marketing Opportunities; and Mechanics of Hedging Using Options

DAIRY HERD IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION (DHIA) ANNUAL MEETING

Date: Mon., Jan. 13, 1986
Time: 8:00 p.m.
Place: Catfish Haven Restaurant - 5 miles north of Whitesboro on Highway 377
RSVP: By Jan. 10, 1986, to County Extension Office 668-5412 - Members and Wives

Our area association will hold its annual meeting this year at a restaurant owned by member R.E. (Bob) Davis. Mike Tomaszewski, State DHIA Director, and Tommy White, Area Dairy Specialist, will present the program on Status of DHIA, Herd mate and Dart. A general business session will follow. Plan now to attend with your spouse.

SMALL GRAIN VARIETY AND HERBICIDE TOUR

Time: 10:00 a.m. - Henry Popp Farm (Home Place) - North of Lindsay; 11:30 a.m. - William Hermes Farm - Hood
Place: Lindsay, Hood

This year we have about 20 hard and soft wheat varieties at these two locations. There appears to be a lot of early difference in both growth and tillering. Jim Blalock and I will be at the plot location to discuss variety differences. Also, weed control and identification will be covered for broadleaves and grass types. See you there.

NEW DAIRY LEGISLATION AND WHOLE FARM BUY OUT SEMINAR

Date: Thurs., Jan. 30, 1986
Time: 8:00 p.m.

Dairymen are again faced with many decisions under the new farm bill. One of the most important is the Whole Farm Buy Out Provision.

- 1) Base Period for Bidding
- 2) Explaining three to five year Buy Out Program
- 3) Calculation for Best Choices for Area Dairymen
