Paul Harvey's column Sunday points to malpractice suits as the outstanding cause of skyrocketing medical costs in this country. It's easy to agree with him when we frequently hear that courts rule in favor of the suing parties and award payments running into the millions.

Too often the attitude is that the accused is loaded with money whereas the plaintiff is miserably poor. It presents a perfect opportunity for a slick lawyer to play on the sympathy of the court and jury. He refers to the money laden doctor or corporation living it up in comfort and luxury while the victim of carelessness or ignorance has to endure pain and disability.

We can understand that such cases do exist and an adequate compensation is justified. But does it have to go to the ridiculously high figures? Does it seem right that financial status should be reversed, making the suing person rich and the accused poor? And does it seem right to regard the suit principals as pawns used by opposing lawyers to collect their enormous fees? Some of the highly publicized cases leave little doubt who the principal beneficiaries.

Knowing that politicians often have a legal background, we are inclined to wonder why they do not make more pride in their profession and do something about the evil of legal malpractice. It seems that something should be possible, like limiting their pay to a reasonable fee instead of a fat share of the spoils. Or restricting the demanded payoff to a reasonable rather than exorbitant figure. Conceding that law suits are justifiable, it seems only reasonable to keep them in line with justice.

One of the country's problems is that the big majority of us are not involved in the court cases, hence we're not concerned and we're not sufficiently aware that it is very much our business. The fact is that we are paying for those malpractice suits in the rising costs of doctor and hospital care. The charges for those services have to be added to the bills they send us. Furthermore, it's obvious that doctors and hospitals can't afford to pay the enormous pay-off awarded by courts, they have to take out expensive insurance policies for their protection. That cost, added to the usual cost of maintaining a business or hospital, explains why their bills make the patient squirm.

But that's still not all the story. Avoiding malpractice charge involves making sure that the patient is kept in good physical condition. Whatever ailment is suspected has to be checked out by EKG, X-Ray lab test, etc. to determine if some additional care is needed. If so, it gets the proper medication or therapy. It becomes a part of the patient's medical history, and possibly an eventual bit of evidence in a malpractice suit.

All of these expenses are the reasons why medical bills go up and up. All of them are costs of a racket that has taken over the medical profession. And all of them are good reasons why government should

War on drugs hits home Toma examines Gainesville's drug problem

David Toma spent six hours with Gainesville students Tuesday and then spent about two and a half hours with some 1,300 students, parents and other area residents that night. What he had to say surprised some people, shocked a few more, but enlightened virtually everyone who came to listen.

What he had to say concerned drug and alcohol abuse in Gainesville.

"You want to know if you've got a problem?" Toma asked his audience. "You've got more than a problem, my friends. You've got a real mess."

Toma, who was invited to speak in Gainesville several months ago, has lectured throughout the world on the problems of drug and alcohol abuse among young people. He was a middleweight boxing champ in the Marine Corps, a pro baseball player and a New York policeman for 21 years, 16 of which he spent as a vice squad detective. During that time, he amassed the highest number of arrests of any Newark

Policeman and had a 98 percent conviction rate. He has written four books, and he has had two television series based upon his life, Toma and Baretta.

Toma spent much of his presentation drawing comparisons and contrasts between his own experience and what he sees and hears from young people during his travels.

After growing up in a ghetto, at the age of 21, Toma decided to become a policeman. He became disillusioned with his work and after five years, became a detective with the vice and narcotics squad of the police department.

He found himself "just going through the motions" in making arrests, doing nothing more to help, and it troubled him. He said he found that the one overriding factor he found after "getting in the trenches" was that "no one really cared, they were just going through the motions."

Toma saved the life of a three-year-old boy one night, and that same night only an hour later, his own five-year-old son died. Toma suffered a nervous breakdown, began swallowing some 100 tranquilizers every day, lost his friends, and almost killed his family and himself.

It was at that time he began to battle back, making the commitment to help young victims of drug and alcohol addiction. He began by speaking to audiences like the one he had Tuesday night — on his own time — from 1957 to 1972. He spent five futile years trying to get his book published, and in a last-ditch effort, lied to get a guest appearance on the Mike Douglas TV show. Shortly thereafter, the doors to Hollywood were opened, and then came Baretta.

Toma later began a busier, more comprehensive lecture schedule, and says he has done some 10,000 lectures worldwide — more than 8,000 of them in junior high and high schools. During those visits, he found one common characteristic in every school he visited, he said. Including Gainesville.

"I've found that the majority of kids in every school are on drugs," Toma said. "The students here told me today that about seventy or eighty percent (are on drugs) at this school. And everybody else has their heads in the sand."

Although Toma discussed just about every illegal drug now being used, he devoted most of his time to marijuana. He told the audience that one marijuana cigarette, when lit, contains more than 400 chemicals and poisons, the most dangerous of which is THC, the psychoactive "high" ingredient. THC stays in the body for more than four months, he said.

He called marijuana the most controversial and unpredictable drug now being used because of its difference from one plant to the next and one person to the next. The most common casualties from marijuana smoking are memory loss, numbness in any part of the

City gets $11,015 sales tax rebate

The City of Muenster has hit a bonanza this month in its rebate from State Comptroller Bob Bullock on city sales taxes collected here during the pay period ending Nov. 11, 1983.

The city sales tax of 1 percent is remitted to the state treasury along with the state sales tax, and is returned to the city less a 2 percent handling fee. The amount of rebate was $11,015.25 as compared with $3,624 at this time last year, reflecting local sales of more than three times as high as in '82. This increase accounts for much of the rebate increase, however Bullock explains that another factor is the cooperation of tax payers in meeting the state's new earlier reporting deadline of the 20th of the month.

Rebate checks totaling $52 million to 980 cities of the state are 23 percent higher than a year ago.

Payments to several cities of North Texas along with total payments to date and the amount of increase or decrease this year, were reported as follows by the comptroller's office.

Muenster, $11,015, to date $103,519, up 11.41%; Lindsay $3,709, to date $51,388, down 4.06%; Gainesville $49,233, to date $807,458, down 10.16%; Valley View $581, to date $7,722 up 12.61%; Pilot Point $4,485, to date $61,908 up 5.98%; Sanger $1,975, to date $49,279 up 18.41%; Whitesboro $4,081, to date $120,108 up 0.58%; Bowie $25,784 to date $389,302 down 10.65%; Nocona $7,853, to date $146,311 down 7.82%; Saint Jo $1,143, to date $19,879 down 8.90%.

Garbage rate hike will affect only businesses

A story in last week's Enterprise said the Muenster City Council approved increases in garbage pick-up rates in the city. It should have also said that these rates will affect businesses only and each increase will reflect each business's volume of garbage. The Enterprise regrets the omission.

The Cooke County Campfire choir performed favorite Christmas Carols last Thursday as part of the Christmasfest program sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce. Campfire leader Ann Heffron directed the young singers.

Abney named C of C president

Don Abney of Lone Star Gas Co. was recently chosen as the 1984 president of the Muenster Chamber of Commerce, it was announced at the Chamber's monthly luncheon meeting, Tuesday. He will succeed John Pagel who has served as president since October.

Sharon Wolf will continue as treasurer, John Fisher as vice president, and Monica Hess as secretary. John Pagel was re-elected to the board of directors with a three-year term, Wanda Flusche a three-year term, Don Abney a one-year term and Matt McCoy a one-year term.

No final figures are yet available concerning the success of the Christmasfest promotion, and probably won't be until after the first of January, but Chamber President Johnny Pagel said the reactions he has received have ranged from very good to very bad. Overall the membership agreed that the parades and opening of the Christmas season in Muenster were a success.

Most of the survey ballots dealing with the direction to be taken by the Muenster

Industrial Development Board have been returned, Henry Weinzapfel said, and in general they indicate an overwhelming sentiment that the board should actively pursue industrial prospects. Almost all of the respondents approved the building of an apartment complex, and several people have expressed an interest in investing in such a complex.

In other action, the members were reminded that preparations for the 1984 Germanfest would begin soon after the first of the year.

750 toys collected for needy

More than 750 toys are available to needy children of the county, thanks to collections sponsored by Camp Fire girls in the two Muenster schools. Fifth grade members at the public school, directed by Linda Hacker, conducted a drive in grades 5 through 12 which yielded 433 toys. 148 of those were collected by the 5th graders themselves and included some $70 worth of new toys bought out of their treasury. Approximately 250 more were given by grades under 5, and 50 to 100 were given in a collection at Sacred Heart conducted by Jean Greathouse.

All of the toys have been delivered to the county Camp Fire headquarters where needy people may come and receive two toys for each child. The organization points out that it will not deliver the toys.

Rather, persons will come to the headquarters and register and will be permitted to pick from the assortment of items.

In the name of the Camp Fire girls, Principal Eddie Green and the two ladies directing the collection extend sincere thanks to all who participated.

Winter still moderate

While winter by the calendar is getting close, and the chill factor occasionally indicates that it has arrived, the weather has been actually moderate at Muenster. Low readings reached the low thirties twice and highs reached the sixties twice. But weather reports predict a tough weekend.

The Secret's out in Montague

Staff photos by Bernie Fette

To say that a women's clothing store dealing almost exclusively in designer originals seems a bit out of place in Montague might just be the understatement of the year.

Even so, Glenna Heller is betting — and confident — that it will work.

The co-owner of "Secrets" the new high-fashion shop in Montague (and perhaps the only of its kind in North Central Texas) says she's received more questions on that subject than any other since pursuing the venture. "Why in Montague?"

Heller says she thinks the location will be an advantage and doesn't seem the least bit concerned that Montague might be just too far out of the way. She says she's received good response so far, particularly from the Wichita Falls area.

One thing Heller thinks will bring shoppers to her store is what she's offering and how she's offering it. People can get much the same types of exclusive fashions at Secrets as they can at such Dallas Stores as Bloomingdale's and Saks Fifth Avenue, she says, but they don't have to contend with the huge stores and traffic associated with big-city shopping.

The diversity is there, too. "I don't buy it if it's not different," Heller says of the clothes at Secrets. "This is high fashion — there's not a brand in here that can be found anywhere else in this area."

You won't find brand names like Levi's and Izod, but you can find designer names like Victor Costa. You won't find denim jeans, but you can find leather pants. You can find a piece of jewelry for $3 and you can find a blouse for $13.95. You can also find a mink coat for $1,995.

Heller admits she's catering mostly to a more fashion-conscious upper class, but also says she plans to add more traditional and conservative items to her selection in the future. She also plans to empty the store every two to three months in order to keep the selection fresh.

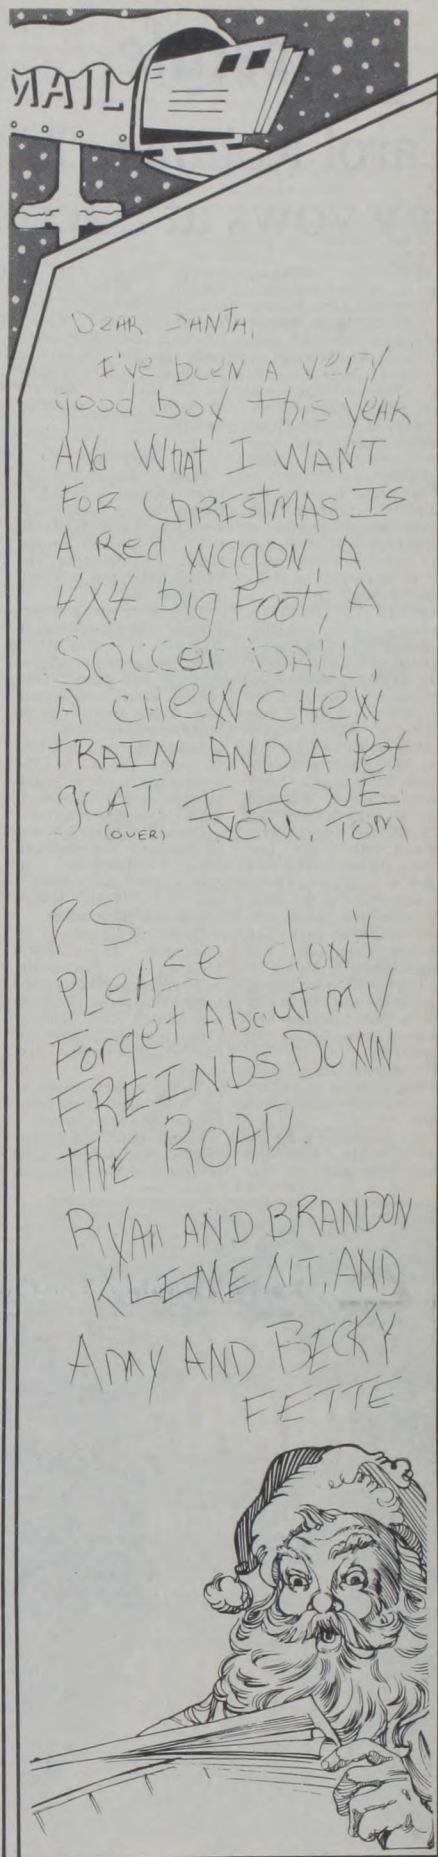

Another service she is making available through her store is pageant consulting. Heller, who describes herself as a "pageant mom", says the pageant system is just now coming to this area, and she and her store will have the qualifications to assist area girls competing in pageants.

Most of her qualifications are a direct result of experience, she says. Her daughter is the current Texas Imperial Miss and was the first runner-up in national competition.

Heller says the success of her store probably depends more than anything else upon the effectiveness of her advertising and just how well people get to know and remember Secrets. Judging from her grand opening Sunday, the place won't be easy to forget; the door prize was a mink coat and the guest of honor was Dana Rogers, the current reigning Miss Texas.

A few years ago, many of the people in this area associated Montague with high-quality fresh produce; the events of a few months ago made people associate Montague with mass murderer Henry Lee Lucas.

One would think that if Glenna Heller had her way, people will soon associate Montague with something completely different.

body, and damage to the reproductive organs, which can result in handicapped, deformed or mentally retarded offspring.

He said the students told him virtually every illegal drug known to man can be obtained easily by a student in Gainesville. He also said the students are aware of what happens to the drugs sometimes before they are obtained. Some dealers go so far as to soak marijuana cigarettes in embalming fluid or lace the cigarette with a mixture of parsley leaves and rat poison.

But Toma didn't restrict himself to just these drugs. He told the audience that alcohol is the number one killer among U.S. teenagers, claiming some 25 a day. He also criticized parents who allow their children to drink.

"Your kids are killing themselves," Toma screamed at one point. "We're losing this war because there's an epidemic out there."

The answer Toma offered as a solution to the problem was a four-part solution:

1. Bring the meaning of God back into the schools.
2. Make a commitment in life.
3. Families should share more feelings and emotions.
4. The family should work to stay together.

"People everywhere are high," Toma said. "The next victim is one of you."

Carol Rohmer, James Weatherad say vows at Sacred Heart Church

Carol Ann Rohmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Rohmer, became the bride of James Robert Weatherad, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Weatherad, on Saturday, December 10. Their Nuptial Mass was celebrated by Father Victor Gillespie in Sacred Heart Catholic Church at 5 p.m. with a traditional double ring ceremony.

The bride is a 1982 graduate of Lindsay High School, where she was a member of 4-H, the Pep Club and the Drill Team. She is employed as shift-leader at Sonic Drive-In in Gainesville. The groom is a graduate of Greenfield High School in Greenfield, Missouri and is employed by DOTCO Fishing Tools.

Presented at the altar by her father, the bride was wearing an Alfred Angelo wedding gown of Chantilly lace, Venise lace and satin ribbon. It featured a Queen Anne neckline, encircled with a baby-doll ruffled yoke. Bishop sleeves were trimmed with a wide lace ruffle at the elbow, tied with a narrow satin ribbon bow, and were fitted to the wrist. The bodice was closed with pearl buttons in back. The Chantilly lace skirt was designed with a scallop of two lace ruffles at the instep, rising at the sides to be tied with a ribbon cluster and sweeping into the cathedral length train.

Her sheer fingertip length veil was attached to a fitted headpiece embroidered with pearls.

For "something old" she wore a necklace cross and chain belonging to her mother, brought from the Vatican in Rome by her cousins, the late Father John Schumacher and Father Lawrence Schumacher many years ago. For "something borrowed", the bride wore her sister, Barbara Mosman's diamond earrings.

Attendants

Maid of honor was Kay Lynn Metzler, a friend of Gainesville. Bridesmaids were Mrs. David Whitecotton, the bride's sister, Helen, of Montague and Shirley Fuhrmann, a friend, of Gainesville.

They wore all lace Peach Priscilla formals, lined in silk, with a peplum at the waist, designed and created by the attendants. They carried peach, white and beige flowers arranged by the bride's mother.

Jeanie Mosman and Lisa Mosman, nieces of the bride were flower girls and Stephen Tyler, nephew of the bride was ring bearer.

Donald Weatherad was his brother's best man, and Gene Rohmer of Gainesville, bride's brother and L.W. Voth, bride's cousin were groomsmen.

David Whitecotton of Montague and Jimmy Mosman of Gainesville, both brothers-in-law of the bride, and James Prestage and Russell Kirk, both of Gainesville both brothers-in-law of the groom were ushers.

Wayne Becker, cousin of the bride and Glen Swirczynski were Mass servers.

In the special liturgy, the bride's godparents Ollie Rohmer and Mrs. Ben Voth presented Offertory gifts at the altar. Preceding the ceremony, a poem was read to the parents of the bride and groom, thanking them for all they have done, and for a lovely wedding.

Wedding music was presented by vocalists, Werner Becker, Sr. uncle of the bride and his daughter Mrs. Teresa Krebs, cousin of the bride; and by Tony Luke, organist who presented traditional music and favorite selections of the couple. A special prayer was read with a musical background.

Decorations in church included floral arrangements in the wedding colors made by the bride's mother, and ferns and plants to enhance the altar space provided by the David Whitecottons.

Reception

A reception, dinner and dance were hosted by the bride's parents in the Sacred Heart Community Center. Barbara Mosman and Betty Jones, sisters of the bride registered about 175 guests.

The bride's table was covered with white lace, and held floral arrangements. A white drapery wall arrangement included two wicker fans and flowers, with wedding bells suspended between the fans.

Guest tables held hurricane globes, peach colored candles and floral baskets in wedding colors. Each table was centered with mistletoe. Suspended from the ceiling was a large birdcage holding lovebirds and flowers.

The three-tiered angel food wedding cake was made by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Della Voth. The chocolate, horseshoe-shaped groom's cake was made by the bride's mother and sister. Cake servers and reception assistants were Doris Voth, Debbie Kirk and Cindy Prestage.

Guests danced to music by Jay Anderle and Brad Wimmer's Disco.

The couple is at home in Gainesville since returning from their wedding trip.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents at their home on December 9, and a shower was hosted by the bridal attendants, and sisters and mother of the bride on November 20.

Hospital Auxiliary conducts 14th In lieu of Christmas cards project

One of the most worthwhile services for the holiday season, serving more than one purpose for an institution and for individuals is the "In Lieu of Christmas Cards" project sponsored by the Muenster Hospital Auxiliary, now for the fourteenth consecutive year. Evelyn Sicking and Harriet Pagel are co-chairmen for the project, announcing a December 17 deadline for contributions to the hospital benefit and for placing names on the holiday greeting list to be published in the Christmas issue of The Muenster Enterprise.

ment given annually by the hospital auxiliary. The project also results in time saved by individuals during an always hectic period, by relieving their rush to send Christmas greetings, to relatives, friends and neighbors. And it lends a special glow to friend greeting friend, knowing fringe benefits will include a third person, a patient ill in the hospital.

Wolfs return from valley visit

Bernard and Agatha Wolf have returned from a wonderful 4 1/2 weeks, vacationing in the deep valley area of Texas, visiting especially with their daughter and son-in-law, Julie and Wilfred Klement and a grandson and family, Chris and Donna Klement and baby Laura, all of Mission.

They particularly enjoyed the 80 degree temperature, the flowers, visiting and renewing friendships with those other vacationers they'd met in other winters especially Gene and Rose Carter, former Muenster residents who maintain a home in Arlington, but spend winter vacations in the Mission area. The Wolfs left home on November 4 and returned to Muenster on December 6.

Kochs host Garden Club Christmas party-meeting

Christmas decorations provided a beautiful seasonal setting for the Garden Club meeting in the King Koch home when Holly Koch was hostess to the group of 15 members attending on Monday evening.

They answered roll call by telling of their favorite Christmas ornaments, some new, some very old, but all evoking treasured memories. Conversation that followed was flavored with nostalgia, providing part of the Christmas program.

Members also brought plants for a gift exchange that followed the meeting. Refreshments, served in the dining room, were in a holiday theme, including crab meat timbales, a Croatian traditional Christmas bread, and chocolate cookie dessert with hot-spiced tea.

Decorations emphasized the feast of Christmas with a Nativity scene in one room and a cedar tree in the entry decorated with all white crocheted Christmas ornaments made by Bronte Gonsalves.

During a brief business session conducted by Mrs. Ray Wilde, minutes were read by Mrs. Bill Luke; treasurer's report by Mrs. Herb Miller; County Council report by Mrs. Ray Sicking; progress report on the Club Scrapbook by Mrs. Alfredo Antonetti; progress report on the essay-poster contests by Mrs. James Roark who said 17 essays have been received from Muenster Public School; and a number of posters from Sacred Heart School, with more expected.

Members noted to send a monetary gift to Cooke County Development Center for Christmas. Earlier, the garden club sent flowers to St. Richard's Villa for Thanksgiving.

Two sizes of napkins showing Texas Wildflower scenes will be offered for sale by the garden club. Information is available from Holly Koch. She also read a letter from Mrs. Royal Ferris of Dallas who presented the November program on daylilies. She invited the club to view her daylilies next June.

Mrs. Wilde appointed a nominating committee of Mmes. Dick Ferber, Ray Sicking and R.N. Fette to report in January.

Mrs. Paul Endres thanked members for her "Yard of the Month" award in November. Mrs. Al Hess is project chairman.

Included in reports during the business meeting, members told about the club pilgrimage to Lambert Landscaping Nursery in Dallas on Monday, Dec. 5, when they met at the Roark home at 9 a.m.; rode together in the Wilde van to Lambert's toured the extensive garden areas, and had a late lunch at Olla Podrida, followed by shopping.

Those attending were Mmes. Marie Endres, Holly Koch, Eileen Luke, Dolores Miller, Alice Roark, Marcy Wilde and Mable Sicking.

O, Holy Night

We wish you a Christmas rich in love and peace. Thanks, friends for allowing us to serve you.

How's Your Hearing?

Chicago, Ill.—A free offer of special interest to those who hear but do not understand words has been announced by Beltone. A non-operating model of one of the smallest Beltone aids of its kind will be given absolutely free to anyone requesting it.

Send for this model, put it on and wear it in the privacy of your own home. While many people with a hearing loss will not receive any significant benefit from any hearing aid, this free model will show you how tiny hearing help can be. It is not a real hearing aid, and it's yours to keep free. The actual aid weighs less than a fourth of an ounce, and it's all at ear level, in one unit.

These models are free, so we suggest you write for yours now. Again, we repeat, there is no cost, and certainly no obligation. Thousands have already been mailed, so write today to Department 52659, Beltone Electronics Corp., 4201 West Victoria Street, Chicago, Illinois 60646.

Growing Child

Toys: When to Rotate Them

Some time (maybe even now) your child will have more toys than she can use, or more than there is room for. When this happens, she may drift from one toy to another for only brief and superficial play, according to Growing Child, the monthly child development newsletter.

This is a sign that it is time to put some of the toys away for a while, leaving only current favorites. With a more limited selection of toys, a child will learn to be more inventive and resourceful in looking for new ways to play with each toy, and her attention span will get longer.

From time to time, switch toys from storage to playroom for an ever-changing variety. A rainy day is a good time for this activity: exchanging "old" toys for "new" toys can help overcome boredom. If a child is old enough, she can help decide which toys to put away and which to bring out.

These periodic switches offer you a good opportunity to examine the toys. If any parts are missing, write to the manufacturer for replacements. If any repairs are needed, do them. If the toy is damaged beyond repair, discard it or salvage whatever may be reusable. A "junk" box of old toy parts can be a treasure chest to an older child who likes to tinker with construction projects.

Never throw away a useable toy, even though you think a child has surely outgrown it. Children play with toys in different ways at different ages. A feature that might not have been evident originally may offer pleasure a year or two later.

A child who is sick in bed recovering from an illness often prefers a less challenging toy, one she has played with earlier. Besides, it's always good to have a selection of toys for younger children, whether visitors or your own. Save good toys; they may turn out to be another generation's treasures!

Toys: Where to Keep Them; Growing Child has a catalog of unique, educational toys, books and records for children up to six years old. To get a copy, send $1 to Catalog, PO Box 620N, Lafayette, Indiana 47902.

John J. Hess family celebrates 54th

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Hess of Lindsay were honored on their 54th wedding anniversary with a reception Sunday, Nov. 20 in the St. Peter's Catholic Church Parish Hall. The reception began at 5 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Hess were married Nov. 27, 1929 in Louisville, Kentucky. His parents were the late Frank and Mary Hess of Muenster. Mrs. Hess is the former Edna Margaret Bischoff, daughter of the late Frank and Mary Bischoff of Louisville, Ky.

After living three years in Louisville, Ky., the Hesses moved to Muenster. In 1953, they moved to a farm south of Lindsay, where they presently reside.

Mr. Hess is a farmer. Mrs. Hess is a homemaker who enjoys gardening and canning. They have six children: John Louis, Lindsay, Wilfred, Rt. 2

Gainesville; Marcy (Mrs. Julius) Metzler, Rt. 2 Gainesville; Alfred, Gainesville; Wanda (Mrs. Clem) Hermes, Rt. 2 Gainesville; and Delores (Mrs. Leroy) Neu, Lindsay.

Almost all the couple's children, 23 grandchildren and nine great grandchildren were able to attend the occasion. Unable to attend were a granddaughter Sharon Reed and husband of College Station, a great grandson Jeremy Terry of Gainesville and brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hess of Muenster.

Melanie Orsburn, a great-granddaughter secured names for the guest book. The registration table held the guest book, the couple's wedding picture, a more recent picture, and a bouquet of flowers.

Friends and relatives enjoyed a catered meal prepared and served by Lou Schad and Mary and Elfrieda Hundt. After the meal Father Cletus said a few words of congratulations to the couple.

A special cake was made by Mrs. Henry Spaeth. It was cut by the Hesses' daughter-in-law, Marcella Hess, and was served by a daughter, Wanda Hermes, and a daughter-in-law, Ann Hess and a great-granddaughter Melanie Orsburn.

Attending the occasion with the family members were the Gary Hesses, Arthur Hesses, Mrs. Agnes Hess, Mrs. Bonnie Hess and Mrs. Lucille Hess, all of Muenster. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Evans and a grandson of Pilot Point. Special guests included Rev. Cletus Post and Vera Conrady.

A mass of thanksgiving was read Sunday Nov. 27 at the 10 a.m. mass for the honored couple.

John J. Hess and the former Edna Margaret Bischoff were married on November 27, 1929 in Louisville, Kentucky. This Photo From the Past was made on their wedding day by Heath Studio of Louisville. They celebrated their 54th anniversary in Lindsay on November 20, 1983.

Lindsay CCD plans Christmas play

The CCD Christmas play will take place Sunday evening Dec. 18. It will be in the Lindsay Cafetorium at 7:00 p.m. Students in grades 1 - 8 will be participating in the program as well as nine kindergarden students. Also two high school students, Deanna Nortman and Laura Fuhrmann will be helping with the music.

The program will include nine kindergarden children singing "Away in a Manger", and the first grade singing a special birthday song. The second grade will present "A Charlie Brown Christmas." The third grade will be working with the 7th and 8th grade in presenting the Nativity scene.

The 4th grade will do a choral reading, while the 5th graders present "Santa's Workshop."

The 6th grade will be presenting a song in sign language. In the 7th grade Debi Nortman will give a puppet presentation.

The 7th and 8th grade will be handling the narration and scripture readings for the nativity. A part of this nativity will be incorporated into the 5:00 mass on Christmas Eve.

CCDteachers who have worked to put this program together include Sister Ferdinand, Jane Myrick, Rosalee Sandmann, Sister Mary Andrew, Becky Benner, Diane Hermes, Sister Dorothy Terese, and Catherine Stoffels. Parents who have been helping include LaVern Nortman and Mrs. Lawrence Zimmerer.

Friends and Family

John Louis Hess was dismissed from Baylor Hospital in Dallas Monday after surgery. He has been transferred to Muenster Hospital where he will be convalescing until his release on December 23.

Lay Franciscans gather

Members of the Secular Franciscan Fraternity met in church after 10 o'clock Holy Mass on Sunday, December 11, for the monthly meeting.

Mrs. Tony Hermes, president, led the prayers and conducted the meeting.

The Franciscan Ritual prayer opened the meeting.

Instead of reading from scripture, Mrs. Mary Stoffels had a good and interesting reading from the New Vision 6th issue.

How Do We See God? In your own mind you realize that Jesus Christ in the vision has a perfect reign over humankind. Sr. Bonaventure explained Francis of Assisi's relationship with Jesus Christ the vision of the word as a mirror - Jesus was the text who reflected to Francis the vision of the harmonious reign of God. One effect this had was to lead his own deepening relationship with the Paschal Mystery confirmed, with receiving the gift of the stigmata. His constant looking in the mirror resulted in his becoming a continual course of conversion.

A copy of the news letter from the Venerable Antonio Margil District San Antonio, Texas was distributed to all present.

SCHOOL NEWS

Bluebirds have holiday activities

Funtime Bluebirds enjoyed an evening out on Friday, Dec. 2 while participating in Camp Fire's Luminary lights project for Gainesville. Camp Fire members from the Council began the evening by walking single file from the Camp Fire office to the Court House, where they gathered to sing a collection of Christmas carols. After caroling, the boys and girls of the Council received treats from Santa and Mrs. Claus, and then downtown Christmas lights were turned on.

The meeting on Thursday, Dec. 8 was an occasion of pride and enjoyment when Funtime Bluebirds met after school to work on a goodwill project — making cookies for the Cooke County Development Center's Christmas party. They were pleased to see their own works of art as cookies were baked and decorated and proud to contribute toward enjoyment of others.

The evening continued in cooperation with other Camp Fire groups, bringing an atmosphere of festivity and celebration to late evening shoppers in Muenster's Christmasfest, when a program of Christmas carols was presented at the Mid-Park.

Saturday, Dec. 10 was a special day for Funtime Bluebirds and five other members from the Council and two leaders, Mrs. Donna Gieb and Mrs. Marla Fette who were treated to a trip to Casa Manana Playhouse in Fort Worth. Part of their reward for having highest sales in the magazine project. They saw "Twas the Night Before Christmas, a very impressive production featuring bright colors and wonderful characters and scenes.

On the way home, Camp Fire members enjoyed a picnic lunch provided by the Camp Fire office.

Drug abuse class finished

Seventh grade health class students of Muenster Public School have completed a study on causes and results of alcohol and drug abuse. It was presented in a multimedia program developed by Educational Service District No. 121 under grants from the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism and on the National Institute on Drug Abuse. The 7th grade health teacher is Jo Ann Pagel.

Areas covered were alcohol and drug information, self concept, decision making skills and coping skills. The overall goal was to help young people make decisions on the subject.

Among guest speakers was Sharon Snow of the Texoma Council on Alcoholism presenting facts and figures on alcohol and drug use. She also shared some of her many experiences with the class.

Also on the program was the Reality Seekers, a group of young people from the House of Hope in Sherman. They told about heartaches and problems they deal with as a result of drug and alcohol abuse, saying that a low opinion of one's self along with peer pressure are big factors in drug and alcohol involvement.

Cub Scouts plan pinewood derby

Planning for the Cub Scouts' annual pinewood derby started Sunday night as Cubmaster Lupe Evans announced a date some time in March and asked den leaders to get kits for the boys.

Next, outdoorsman activity pins and Webelo badges were presented to Douglas Evans, Ryan Gehrig, Raymond Stewart and Kelly Colwell as mothers did the pinning and the promotion was marked on the advancement ladder.

The meeting was preceded by a caroling tour to Muenster Hospital and St. Richards Villa and a number of homes. The scouts rode a hay wagon furnished by Harold Bindel and pulled by Den Leader Andy Trubenbach.

At the meeting Darren Bindel lit the spirit candle, and the flag ceremony was led by Douglas Evans, Raymond Stewart, Kelly Colwell and Ryan Gehrig. The meeting was followed by refreshments.

Lindsay and Valley View share lead in all-area grid selections

Muenster's two schools were barely noticed in Sunday's listing of an all-area team as chosen by the coaches concerned and published in the Gainesville Register. Teams were Class A and AA exclusive of Gainesville, and included Muenster, Sacred Heart, Lindsay, Valley View, Era, Whitesboro, Callisburg, Saint Jo and Thackerville. Muenster Hornets were not represented on the offensive team but had Brian Klement and Johnny Eldred on defense. In addition MHS received honorable mention for Tim Fleeman, and Neal Flusche. Neil Hesse as punter was Sacred Heart's only representative on the first team but Hesse also received mention on secondary defense and Kevin Switzer and Bret Walterscheid were also included. Lindsay and Valley View, the two top teams of the zone shared honors with 6 each on the first string. Lindsay had John Dieter and Mike Corcoran on offense; Gary Dankesreiter, Mike Corcoran, Steve Corcoran and Kenny Thurman on defense; also Gary Dankesreiter and Jeff Wimmer on offensive honorary mention and John Dieter on defensive honorary mention. Valley View was represented on offense by Gary Ward, Mike Alexander, Billy Farrell and Scott Roberts, and on defense by Gary Ward and Kinzy Donnelly. On offense honorable mention were Ray Sappington and David Tharp; and on defense honorable mention were David Tharp and Billy Farrell. Callisburg had William Strickland and Mike Newton on offense; Jerry Hamilton and David Marshall on defense; also Clint Hollandsworth on honorable mention offense; and Paul Hobbs and Jeff Tetimeyer on honorable mention defense. Era was represented on offense by Jaret Kindiger. Saint Jo had Kevin Reeves on defense; Chris Turner on offense honorable mention; also Chris Turner, Chris Parker and Nathan Mitchell on defense honorable mention. Thackerville had Mark McCage on offense; Mark Jones on offense honorable mention; Darrell Maggard, Mike Bond and Mark McCage on defense honorable mention.

Era's Clint Brown claims the rebound while surrounded by MHS Hornets Kevin Wolf, Craig Felderhoff, Jay Mollenkopf, Cory Klement, and Ronnie Fisher. Muenster won 43-25.

Hornets walloped 55-33 at Pottsboro

Muenster Hornets were outsized and outscored Tuesday night in their encounter with the Cardinals of Pottsboro. It was a matter of the home team gaining slightly in every quarter and finishing at the big end of 55-33.

especially Kevin Wolf and Cory Klement. Kevin led the scoring with 13 and also rebounded 12, and Klement was next with 9. Meanwhile Ronnie Fisher got 6 points and 15 rebounds. MHS teams will be at the Callisburg tournament this week facing Prairie Valley as the first opponent. Tuesday they and the JV girls will play at Tom Bean.

Muenster juniors win two thrillers

Eighth graders of Muenster Elementary were the winners in a pair of thrillers with Lindsay Monday night. First the girls won 22-19 in overtime, then the boys put on a dramatic 6 point rally in the last 3 minutes to win by a point. The girls trailed 4-2 at the first quarter, tied 7-7 at the half, trailed again 15-9 at third period and rallied in the fourth for an 18-18 tie at the end. In overtime Lindsay took a 1 point lead with a foul shot and held the lead until 30 seconds before the end when Melody Klement hit a 2 pointer. As Lindsay headed back up the floor Staci Walterscheid stole the ball and moved in for a lay-up and 3 point margin. Top Muenster scorers were Staci Walterscheid 11 and Peachy Switzer 4.

The future Hornets started with a 4-4 first quarter tie and trailed 8-5 and 12-9 the next 2 periods. Still 5 points behind at 3 minutes to go, they moved up to a 14-13 deficit as the end approached. Then Scott McAden hit a 2 pointer with 6 seconds remaining on the clock. Muenster scorers were Stuart Hess 9, Scott McAden 4, Brian Hess 2. Eighth grade girls now have a 5-0 record and the boys a 3-2 rating. A seventh grade game was different, however. The Lindsay boys gained steadily to a 38-24 win. Scorers were Michael Pagel 12, Shane Wimmer 8, Weldon Hermes 4. The games ended pre-holiday activity for the juniors. Their next is Jan. 2 with Slidell.

This shot for Forestburg clears the hands of Muenster defenders: Penny Russell, Rita Walterscheid, Dee Ann Walterscheid and Dana Dankesreiter. Muenster was the winner 28-26.

Peanut growers see good year

Texas peanut growers are enjoying a good price for their crop this year, but for many farming small acreages, the outlook is dim because of the quota system. "Many peanut farming operations are no longer economical because of small quotas allotted by the government," says Johnny Feagan, an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. (The quota system was instituted by the U.S. Department of Agriculture years ago to encourage more stable peanut production.) "Thus we'll likely see fewer and fewer peanut farmers in the years ahead and a greater concentration of production," Feagan says. Tight supplies of peanuts due to a good demand have boosted prices to growers the past several years, Feagan said. While the price for quota peanuts has been good — ($550 per ton the past several years) — the price for additional peanuts (those grown outside the quota or allotment) has also been excellent. Most farmers have been getting $400 to $450 per ton for additional peanuts this year, considerably above the $185 per ton support level — the price farmers could sell them to the government if the market price dropped. However, this support price will not normally cover the cost of production, so once demand declines and prices drop, small farming operations will be hard-pressed to continue to grow peanuts, says Feagan. Peanut use in the United States is up sharply this year compared to 1982, notes the economist, but will likely be down in 1984. Food use of peanuts is up 14 percent for 1983 compared to last year and use of salted peanuts is up more than 30 percent. U.S. peanut production this year should total about 2.9 billion pounds compared to 3.4 billion in 1982. Harvested acres are up about 10 percent in southeastern states and down some 6 percent in the Southwest.

23 hunters killed in '82 by firearms

Firearms are deadly weapons, deadly enough to kill 19 Texas hunters in 1981 and 23 in 1982. Texas hunting accidents also result in up to 100 non-fatal disabling injuries each year. "With increased fall and winter hunting activities at hand, it's appropriate to recall the basic rules of hunter safety," says Dr. Gary S. Nelson, safety engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Nelson points out that although basic hunter safety rules may seem elementary and a matter of common sense, the occasional violation of these simple rules by otherwise safe hunters results in both fatalities and injuries. He lists these basic firearm safety rules:

1. Treat every gun with respect due a loaded gun, even if you "know" it's not loaded.
 2. Guns carried into a camp or home, or put into automobiles, must always be unloaded.
 3. Always be sure that the barrel and action are clear of obstructions before loading.
 4. Always carry your gun so that you can control the direction of the muzzle, even if you stumble. Keep the "safety" on until you are ready to shoot.
 5. Always be sure of your target and your background before putting your finger on the trigger.
 6. Never point a gun at anything you do not intend to shoot.
 7. Unattended or store guns should always be unloaded; guns and ammunition should be stored safely beyond reach of children and careless adults.
 8. Never climb a tree or fence with a loaded gun.
 9. Never shoot at a flat, hard surface or the surface of water.
 10. Never mix gunpowder with alcohol.
- "Safety costs nothing while carelessness can lead to devastating results," says Nelson. "So practice safety every day."

WITH AVERAGE BILLING, YOUR ELECTRIC BILL WILL BE ABOUT THE SAME EACH MONTH.

Everyone knows electric bills go up and down throughout the year. Some months they're low. Some months they're higher, depending on how much electricity you use. But for most of us there aren't any highs and lows in our monthly income. It's pretty much the same from month to month. So, balancing the monthly budget can be a problem. Well, Texas Power and Light Company has an answer. It's the Average Billing Plan.

And each month after you join, you'll pay an average of your monthly electric bills over the past twelve months. No more ups and downs.

Of course, you're still paying for all the electricity you use. But with average billing, your electric bills will be about the same each month. So budgeting will be that much easier.

If you want to know more about our Average Billing Plan, call your local TP&L office today.

January 1 will bring changes to certain retirement accounts

Beginning January 1, 1984, The Tax Equity and Fiscal Responsibility Act of 1982 (TEFRA) will make significant changes in existing Keogh and corporate retirement plans. Small business owners and self-employed individuals will have to have existing plans amended to meet new contribution limits established under TEFRA. Also, for existing "Top Heavy" plans — plans which allow for 60 percent or more of the plan's benefits to go to "key employees" — TEFRA will impose new specifications, as well. "I recommend that plan holders check with their trustees, CPA's or attorneys to make sure all the required amendments are being handled," said Earl Russell, investment representative with Edward D. Jones & Co. in Gainesville. "TEFRA adds some complexities to Keogh and corporate retirement plans that may make a Simplified Employee Pension, or SEP-IRA, a more attractive retirement option for some plan holders," he added. "It's a plan that allows small business owners or self-employed individuals to set aside part of their salary or earned income — 15% or $30,000, whichever is lower — tax-deferred, with no reporting requirements other than the standard 1040 form."

Russell says people with existing Keogh or corporate retirement plans should contact the local IRS office, their CPA or their attorney for complete information about TEFRA and its implications for specific retirement plans. For more information, please contact Earl Russell at 665-0351 or Kelly Standing, Print Communications, Edward D. Jones & Co. 314-851-4258.
