County ponders raises

Proposed salary increases for all Cooke County elected officials were released this week by county judge Jim Robertson.

The proposal calls for a $1,200 a year raise for all elected officials, and would put the top salary in the county — that of county judge — at $28,326 per year.

Commissioners, along with the county sheriff, would make just over $24,000.

The proposal will be one of several items discussed by the commissioners at their next meeting Monday, August 13, in the courthouse at Gainesville.

A plea by Tom Crawford, a candidate for the office of constable, for a salary of $18,000 a year, a vehicle, insurance, a part-time secretary, retirement benefits and other expenses was denied by the commissioners at their first budget hearings in July.

Constables in Cooke County currently earn a token salary of $1 a year, and perform no official duties.

No salary for the constable is included in the proposal to be considered next week by the commissioners.

A raise equal to that proposed for the elected officials is contemplated for all other county employees as well, Robertson said.

The salary increases will barely cover the cost of increased insurance premiums for employees who insure their spouses, he noted.

Salary increases, along with a proposed increase in the supplement paid by the county to the district attorney and district judge, are listed below:

Official	Present salary	Proposed salary
Judge	$27,126	$28,326
Commissioner	$22,846	$24,046
Sheriff	$22,846	$24,046
Attorney	$22,726	$23,926
Clerk	$20,706	$21,906
Treasurer	$20,706	$21,906
Tax Assessor	$21,241	$22,441
Justice of the Peace	$17,496	$19,206
District Clerk	$20,706	$21,906

As "Texas Lawman of the Year"

Montague sheriff honored

Montague County sheriff W.F. Conway was named Texas Lawman of the Year by the Sheriffs' Association of Texas at their recent meeting in Waco.

Conway was cited for "dedication and accomplishment" in the field of law enforcement. A letter he received from Gov. Mark White stated, "By gathering sufficient legal evidence to bring about the arrest, trial and conviction of Henry Lee Lucas, you have contributed to the safety of countless citizens throughout Texas."

Conway arrested Lucas, who has since been given the death penalty for murder, on a weapons charge on June 11 of '82. The investigation leading to murder charges being filed in Montague County took 11 months.

Conway, who lives with his wife Jennie at Forestburg, will end eight years as sheriff on December 31, having lost in the Democratic primary election. He worked 12 years prior to that as a deputy sheriff in Montague County, and was a city policeman in Bowie for three years prior to that.

He has been in law enforcement for 27 years.

The Sheriffs' Association presented the award to Conway July 24 during their annual convention in Waco. Conway received a plaque and a citation from Gov. White, and was also congratulated by Vice President George Bush, who spoke to the gathering.

"The professionalism you exhibited during your extensive investigation has earned you the respect and admiration of all Texans," White's letter said.

Conway has six grown children and nine grandchildren. His son, Herman, is patrolman with the Decatur police department, a son-

Committee schedules final forum on 'Fest

The Chamber of Commerce's long-range planning committee for Germanfest will hold its final public meeting Friday evening at the Muenster Telephone Corp. offices.

The meeting, set for 8 p.m., will give citizens a chance to air their views about the future of Germanfest.

Committee chairman Alvin Fuhrman said after the last meeting that the chamber wants to "change the emphasis" of the annual fest to a more traditional German theme in an effort to attract a more well-behaved crowd. The event drew more than 30,000 visitors to Muenster last April.

The public is invited to attend Friday's meeting and express their views on Germanfest. The committee will make its recommendations to the full board of directors at their regular meeting August 8, and the recommendation will be presented at the chamber's monthly luncheon meeting the 14th.

Visitors get a taste of Texas "horse-pitality"

by Bob Buckel

A couple of frauleins from the Federal Republic of Germany are getting a taste of Texas this summer in the home of Angelo and Laverna Nasche near Muenster.

Twin sisters Miranda and Cordula Plaetschke of Regensburg, West Germany, have been visiting with the Nasches since July 4. Their six-week stay here is a part of a vacation package arranged by a travel agent in Germany who gave them a choice of a farm, ranch or city experience.

To feed their love of horses, the girls chose the ranch.

"We are interested in horses," Cordula, or "Cocs," says. "We worked in France as group guides for tourists. We ride in the English style in Germany — the saddle is smaller and the horses are more nervous. I think it is easier for us to ride here than it would be for an American to ride English horses."

The girls, both 19, just finished their 13-year public education in Germany's excellent school system. They have studied English since the fifth grade and French since the seventh, and speak both languages fluently. The trip to America is a final vacation before Cocs enters a university near Munich and Misha, as Miranda prefers to be called, begins studying advertising in a special private academy.

"In our schools, everyone goes for four years, then the kids are separated," Cocs explains. "You have to pass special tests to get into the different schools after that."

To qualify for a university, as Cocs has, you must attend school for 13 years and pass rigorous entrance exams. Cocs will study "garden technology" this fall.

Misha has a job lined up, but she must pass two exams and take part in a two-year work-study program to earn the position. Cocs' four-year study program also includes a half-year of practical experience, which she will begin in September.

But while they're in America, the girls are getting their fill of the laid-back Texas lifestyle. Their impressions are varied.

"We have more hills, mountains and forests in Germany, and more rain. It is not so hot. And the people live closer together — here you have so much room."

Regensburg, where they live, is a city of 130,000 with buildings dating back to 179 A.D. It is in Bavaria, in southern Germany.

Rep. Stenholm to head House subcommittee

The House Small Business Committee chairman announced that Congressman Charles W. Stenholm has been named chairman of the Subcommittee on Energy, Environment and Safety Issues Affecting Small Business.

Chairman Parren J. Mitchell (D-Md) said the vote by the full House committee for Stenholm was unanimous.

Stenholm, a third-term representative from Stamford, said he believes the chairman's seat will be a boost to all small business people in the 17th District.

"Being named chairman of a House subcommittee will allow me to have a more positive impact

STATE CAPITAL Highlights

AUSTIN—As late as two or three weeks ago, West Texans, particularly conservative Democrats, were seething over the lack of consideration being given to them in the state's electoral process.

But two or three weeks from now, they may well find themselves the objects of a lot of political attention, especially behind-the-scenes vote-winning.

President Ronald Reagan and his Texan Vice President George Bush spoke to an estimated crowd of 28,000-30,000 in Austin last week. They pointedly and repeatedly invited disgruntled conservative Democrats to cross party lines and find a permanent GOP welcome mat.

By coming to Austin, the politically liberal oasis of Texas, to hand-deliver his Republican invitation, Reagan puzzled the incumbent Democratic leadership... but he sure got the attention of a few of them.

Leaders of today's Democratic coalition, including labor, blacks, Hispanics and urban liberals, almost ignored West Texas during the primary process. The majority of votes are located east of Interstate 35 and in the Rio Grande Valley. Liberal Democrats have, in recent years, regarded West Texas conservative Democrats as something akin to a red-headed stepchild who really has nowhere else to go.

Gramm's Effect

But with Democrat-turned-Republican Phil Gramm as the GOP nominee for U.S. Senate, the rules of the game are changed... now they do have a place to go.

Moreover, many conservative Democrats who voted in their U.S. Senate primary for either Congressman Kent Hance of Lubbock or former Ambassador Bob Krueger, who also represented a large portion of West Texas in Congress, do not have any inclination to vote for the eventual winner, liberal Lloyd Doggett of Austin.

Besides a lack of philosophical agreement, Doggett's low-road attacks on both Krueger and Hance have not been followed up by even sheepish apologies, leaving many conservatives still fuming. The presence of two northern liberals on top of the ticket doesn't help soothe them, either.

But if Gramm symbolizes the concept that a Democrat can change parties in Texas and still prosper, the leaders of his former party are aware of his effect and are very anxious to defeat him in November. A few weeks ago, some West Texans were seriously talking about seceding from the state. Now, they find themselves as much or more a key to victory for either party as any other group.

Bullock Halts

The good news for Gov. Mark White last week was that Texas Comptroller Bob Bullock told reporters he would not challenge White for the Governor's Mansion in 1986. Saying he had found no "groundswell of support", Bullock surmised a continued candidacy would be detrimental to good government.

The bad news for White came when he, Texas Attorney General Jim Mattox and former Attorney General John Hill were subpoenaed to appear in federal court where atheist Madalyn Murray O'Hair challenged religion in Texas politics. O'Hair was successful in overturning a section in the Texas Constitution mandating Texas officials to "acknowledge the existence of a supreme being".

O'Hair had a few choice words to direct at the presiding judge: "He saw me in court, and the first thing he did was open court with a prayer."

Bullock Forecast

Last week Bullock told Texans

they can expect a stronger state economy than the national economy for the next year.

After polling 222 Texas companies, Bullock said they are producing more and planning to hire more employees in the next six months. Less than one-tenth planned personnel cuts.

Trial Delayed

The trial of Attorney General Mattox on a commercial bribery charge, scheduled Sept. 17, will be delayed until February.

Mattox's defense counsel has conflicting trial dates throughout the fall.

Candidate Back In

A Republican candidate for the Austin state Senate seat being vacated by Doggett was back in the race again last week after resigning for lack of GOP support.

The withdrawal of Pat McNamara would have left his party with no nominee against Democrat Gonzalo Barrientos. But Austin GOP leaders, perhaps embarrassed by McNamara's departure on the eve of Reagan's visit to their town, pledged to provide him with both staff and funds if he would get back in the race, an offer he accepted.

Texas Tackles

Two Texas legislators visiting Boston last week during the National Conference for State Legislators found themselves witnessing a store robbery... while they were inside the store.

They tackled the robber, recovering the $270 taken from the cash register of an elderly woman store manager and returning it to her.

The bipartisan "crimebusters," Rodney Tow, a Conroe Democrat, and Terral Smith, an Austin Republican, were with their wives in a bookstore, when the incident, which spilled out onto the sidewalk in downtown Boston, occurred.

Reagan's aim is to help rebels of Nicaragua who are trying to take back their country. In Salvador the intention is to assist the legitimate government. A new ideal ...

IT HAPPENED again last night, just as it has hundreds of times over the last 70 or so years since the modern Olympics began. A young athlete, still panting from the effort of the race, stepped up onto the top tier of a platform and leaned down smiling while someone hung a gold medal around her neck.

They played the "Star Spangled Banner" and hoisted that flag to the top of the pole. The medal-winner held up quite well, but as always, my eyes clouded with tears.

The winner this time was 20-year-old Mary Wayte, from Mercer Island, Washington. She won the medal for swimming, although I couldn't tell you the stroke or the distance. After the race, she was more intent on congratulating her American teammate, who finished second, than in celebrating her own victory. She smiled and waved on the platform and made me proud we're from the same country.

I hope Mercer Island gives her a parade when she goes home.

That scene will be repeated many times before the Olympics are over in Los Angeles. I'm stirred by the American wins, but I'm almost as proud to see a young German or Finnish or Korean or Chinese athlete step up there and receive a medal. When someone performs honorably I want to see them honored, no matter where they're from.

I suspect that the American obsession with sports will be fanned into flame anew by this Olympics. The image of these young people, the fittest and fastest and strongest in the world, performing even beyond their abilities is not an easy one to resist.

If the striving and winning and losing of these athletes doesn't stir your blood, you may be beyond stirring.

But while the cult of sports and the adoration of athletes is bad when carried to the extreme, this Olympics may still be a good thing. It may give us a renewed vision of the healthy ideals of competition, of the joy of play and the comradeship that can exist on an athletic field even between people who speak different languages.

It's funny, but before that opening ceremony began I was almost sick of the Olympics. All the controversy surrounding the Russian boycott, the politics, the security problems, the smog, and the endless parade of official-this and official-that, ad nauseum — I was afraid that Hollywood would firmly and finally manage to plasticize the Olympics, and remove from them the blood, toil, tears and sweat that make them real.

But they didn't — they can't. The Olympic spirit is still alive, and maybe healthier than ever.

In the four years between Olympics, you can get a little cynical about the ideals they represent. After missing the Moscow Games, we in America were starved for the pomp and pageantry of this unique and joyful international event.

It's a shame the Russians aren't here. I don't mean Chernenko and the old men who run the Kremlin — I mean the swimmers and the gymnasts and the wrestlers and the weightlifters, the people who are so much like all the others now competing. I begin to sense now how we devastated the spirit of the games when we boycotted them last time, and how deeply we must have wounded the pride of the Russian people.

I hope in the future, the old men who run governments will stay in their places and, if they must, exchange their bitter words, but leave the athletes out of it. The Olympic athletes deserve better than to be pawns in our international bickering.

A final thought: When Miss America was forced to resign last week under a cloud of shame, it must have been a terrible blow to the people who looked up to the individual involved and the ideal she represented. It makes all of us — even those who scorn the very idea of beauty pageants — a little sad to see a symbol shattered.

But we crowned a new Miss America last night, and we'll crown another one tonight and perhaps every night this week and next. Every time an American girl leans down to have that medal draped around her neck, we'll have a new ideal, a new symbol.

I'd rather have my kid watch Mary Wayte on TV, then go out and start working on her freestyle kick, than have her watch some self-proclaimed sex symbol and go out looking for lipstick and makeup. There's more to life than looking pretty — give me a girl with the guts and determination to swim a race, or walk a balance beam, or finish a marathon.

Then just play the national anthem, and forget the crown — hang a medal around her neck. We won't need a Bert Parks to tell us, "there she goes — Miss America, your ideal." We knew it all along.

COMMENT

Aid to communism...

EVIDENCE IS stacking up to indicate a considerable lack of wisdom and understanding in Congress. The most charitable description that can be applied to the recent conduct of Congress with regard to Central America is that it is in a "Munich mood," as characterized by columnist George Anne Geyer. This means, of course, that it appears Congress is as intent on appeasing the Communists of Central America as European leaders were in appeasing Hitler in the late 1930s.

Those who are inclined to be more precise might say the Congress is aiding the Central American communist revolutionaries. That is the way editor Kyle Thompson of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram phrased it: "(shutting) off support of those opposing the Communist-controlled government in Nicaragua is clearly a vote against the best interests of the United States."

"Having come to such a conclusion, one can then expand this line of thought to conclude (that shutting off such support) is in the best interests of the Marxist-Leninist Sandinista government that controls Nicaragua.

"...carried to a final conclusion in Congress. (It) clearly will assist the spread of communism in Central America, and will give the Soviet Union a military stronghold on this continent only jet-flight minutes away from Texas itself."

You can't present the facts much plainer than that. Editor Thompson expresses our opinion precisely.

Not content with attempting to deny aid to the Contra "freedom fighters," a group of House leaders sent a letter to Daniel Ortega, chief communist revolutionary of Nicaragua, which began: "We have been and remain opposed to U.S. support for military action directed against the people or Government of Nicaragua..." Now clearly, these congressmen, including Majority Leader Jim Wright, are in violation of the Logan Act which prevents anyone without authority from interfering in the foreign relations of the United States. Only the president has such authority under the Constitution.

But beyond that, their action borders on treason, giving aid and comfort to the enemy, the Communist enemy in Nicaragua, which is exporting revolution throughout Central America. Clearly, it betrays the Contra "freedom fighters" who are striving to regain the freedom of the enslaved people of Nicaragua.

The most valuable agents the Soviets have in this country are not those in the KGB or even members of the Communist Party, U.S.A. Those of greatest value are those non-communist who promote the objectives of the communists. There are many of this breed in the Congress right now.

This problem must be seen in its true light: The issue, over the long term is the freedom of the American people. To preserve that freedom we must remove from Congress those who serve the Communist cause, no matter what their motivation may be. It is the responsibility of the people to use their wisdom and understanding to replace those representatives in the Senate and House who have demonstrated by their actions they do not possess the wisdom to serve the people.

Benson is president of the National Education Program, based in Oklahoma City.

Tame The Bear.

When the bear's loose on Wall Street, large investors may worry. The bear is mean. But he can be outsmarted. Just join the Payroll Savings Plan and buy U.S. Savings Bonds. Bonds have a variable interest rate combined with a guaranteed minimum.

That means you get higher returns in a bull market and protection in a bear market. And that's a smart move.

Take stock in America.

Visitors enjoy Texas

at the northernmost point of the Danube River.

"We have not so much beef cattle," Cocs adds. "Ours are more dairy cattle, and they live mostly in the stable — we have no space to turn them out in the fields as you do. We grow more wheat and corn."

The girls' parents both work — their father manages a factory that makes wood parts for furniture, and their mother is a kindergarten teacher. They have one older sister, who manages a "grocery shop" in Nuremberg.

The schools they have attended have all been public, as private schools are rare and cannot duplicate the quality of the public schools in Germany. Nevertheless, religion is part of the curriculum, with teachers for Catholic and Lutheran students, and some brought in to teach the Moslem faith to the offspring of the Turkish workers in that part of the country.

Since coming to Texas, they have been to Six Flags, Whitewater, the Kennedy Memorial, and Southfork Ranch. They have ridden horses at Lloyd Trubenbach's ranch, Boots Sicking's ranch, at the Hadley and 24K ranches and at Shorty Freeman's ranch. They saw miniature horses at Vern Brewer's ranch in Gainesville, and attended a benefit cutting horse show in Will Rogers Coliseum in Fort Worth.

They've also been to the Forestburg rodeo, and this weekend they will ride in the grand entry at the Saint Jo rodeo. Also on the agenda before they leave are visits to some area museums and a trip to Oklahoma — just so they can say they've been there.

Whitewater and Six Flags were very impressive. "We don't have such big amusement parks, and there are no water parks. It's only hot for one month in the summer."

Another big contrast between the two countries is the television fare. What do the visitors think of American TV?

"Bad. Bad. There are too many advertisements, too many channels. We have one regional channel, and one national channel. The TV is on only a few hours of the day, very little in the morning, and it ends at midnight. There is advertising only in the afternoon and with certain movies — there are no commercials on weekends."

"We have more news, too. There is international news every hour, from the whole world. We also get American news and French news not translated."

The other marked difference the girls noticed is on the highways. Germany's highway system is one of the best in the world. There are no billboards and no speed limits, except in the towns, and most of the cars travel at 90 to 100 miles per hour on the open road.

"It is much more difficult to get a driver's license in Germany," Misha says. "You have to be 18, and you must pass two examinations. And seat belts are required by law, for the front and back seats."

While at the Nasche home, the girls have been loosely following the Olympics, especially the exploits of the West German team which has won several medals already. They are perhaps more aware of world events than the average American youth because of their country's close proximity with so many other nations.

"Our grandparents came from East Germany after the war," Cocs says. "They had a big farm there, but they came with nothing."

The girls visited East Germany for a week recently on a special program, although such visits are normally not allowed. They were closely guarded throughout the visit and were not even permitted to talk to the people.

"It's hard," Cocs says. "It is a poor land and poor people. We learned to appreciate our freedom. Many people are shot at the border, trying to get to the West. It is all cleared of forest, and there are automatic lights and guns on the East side. It is sad."

Although they have not taken part in protests against the basing of U.S. nuclear weapons on German soil, the girls have mixed feelings about the move. Like all Germans, they fear any war between the two superpowers would devastate their country.

"When the next war would come, it would be in Germany," Misha says. "When the East and West fight it's always in Germany. Our people understand war — there are many people alive who still remember the last war, and there are museums. We study it in school. We are afraid because there has never been a war in America like there has been in Germany."

When they head home next week, Misha and Cocs will take with them a broader knowledge of the world outside Europe, and affection for the friendly people of Texas.

Also, perhaps, a little sunburn and some saddle sores.

Chamber offers coupons

The Muenster Chamber of Commerce office has available coupons good for savings on tickets to Six Flags Over Texas, International Wildlife Park and Wax Museum of the Southwest.

The coupons also have a phone number on the back which citizens may call toll-free for discounts of up to 60 percent on hotel accommodations at Amfac Hotel and Resort, near Six Flags.

The coupons are part of a promotional offer and are made available to the Chamber of Commerce by the businesses involved. Anyone desiring them may come by the chamber office during business hours on Tuesday and Thursday.

Fishers also play host to young German girl

SEVENTEEN-YEAR-OLD SABINE WILERS has been visiting with Butch and Eileen Fisher in Muenster since July 11, on vacation from her home in Oldenburg, West Germany. Another avid equestrian, Sabine has ridden horses at Lloyd Trubenbach's place frequently during her stay, and even got to cut goats at the Saint Jo Riding Club arena last week. The Fishers took her to see Southfork Ranch, Six Flags and Whitewater, and she enjoyed a Texas Ranger baseball game. She also got to visit the Reunion Tower in Dallas, and made a visit to 24K Ranch east of Muenster. Her biggest disappointment during the visit was an unsuccessful attempt at skiing during a camping trip to Lake Texoma — but she says she's going to continue trying after she returns to Germany (although how that will work with her family's sailboat she wasn't quite sure). Sabine left Wednesday afternoon, so a more detailed story on her was not possible before presstime.

Funds for job training approved

Governor Mark White announced this week that $833,573 will be used for job training programs for economically disadvantaged, unemployed, and underemployed Texans in the Texoma area.

These funds will be used for job training programs in Cooke, Fannin, and Grayson Counties. The Texas Department of Community Affairs has executed a contract effective July 1 for the provision of a job training program under the Job Training Partnership Act (JTPA).

"The Job Training Partnership Act is a catalyst for integrating the private and public sector in developing skills needed by Texans for productive employment and economic self-sufficiency," White said.

Under the Job Training Partnership Act, local elected officials in partnership with private industry councils composed of business and community representatives, plan and provide programs best suited for residents of their area.

Program services include basic education skills training and job placement.

At Sacred Heart Church Henscheid, Wimmer wed

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Wimmer are on a wedding trip to Florida, following their marriage in Sacred Heart Church on Saturday, July 28 at 5 p.m. Father Denis Soerries was celebrant of the Nuptial Mass and officiated for the double ring recitation of vows.

The bride is the former Tammy Henscheid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Henscheid and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Wimmer.

Presented at the altar by her father, the bride was wearing a formal white wedding gown of organza and Alencon lace. Pearls and iridescents adorned the ruffled, scooped neckline and bodice, and accented the Victorian sleeves. Alternating layers of organza and lace ruffled from the fitted waist to form a long, full chapel train.

Her white lace bridal hat was turned up at one side to reveal a cluster of white silk roses with pearl drops. A fingertip veil was attached in back. For sentiment she borrowed a pearl necklace from her Aunt Regina, Mrs. Henry Pels. She carried a bridal cascade of white and pale yellow mixed silk blossoms and white roses.

Attendants

Tracy Henscheid, bride's sister was junior bridesmaid. They were identically gowned in yellow ruffled dotted Swiss dresses. Each carried a straw-colored basket of yellow and white mixed blossoms. All flowers for the wedding party and all flowers used to decorate the tables in the reception area were made by Mrs. Arnold Knabe.

Angel Henscheid was flower girl and Scott Hermes was ring bearer.

Nick Walterscheid, a friend, was the groom's best man, Jacob Pangel, a friend and Lonnie Henscheid, bride's brother were groomsmen and Bart Henscheid, bride's brother was junior groomsmen.

Friends of the groom, Billy Huchton, David Felderhoff, Steve Henscheid and the groom's brother Ronnie Wimmer ushered guests to their places in church.

Darren Bindel, Glen Swirczynski and Curt Bayer were Mass servers.

Wedding music on the organ was provided by Rita Pels, bride's cousin who played selections as guests were arriving, and by Christy Felderhoff, organist. Tina and Ronnie Weinzapfel gave trumpet accompaniment to the organ processional and recessional.

Janet Hermes, groom's sister gave the couple's chosen readings during the wedding liturgy and Cheryl Mollenkopf, a cousin led the Offertory petitions and prayers of the faithful.

Reception

A reception, dinner and dance followed in the Community Center. Mrs. Danny Walterscheid and Mrs. Joe Hoedebeck presided at the bride's table, registering 400 guests.

The Schneiders catered the dinner. The three tiered white wedding cake with two heart shaped side cakes were decorated with white, yellow and green flowers, and the horseshoe-shaped groom's cake were made by Mrs. Debbie Rice. Cake servers were Charla Bayer, Cheryl Bayer, Betty Luttmner and Paula Yosten.

Special guests at the wedding were grandmothers of the couple, Mrs. Elizabeth Mollenkopf and Mrs. Dora Henscheid.

The bride is a 1981 graduate of Sacred Heart High School and is a sales clerk at Bayer's Kolonialwaren. The groom is a 1978 graduate of Muenster Public High School and is a machinist employed by Valenite. They will reside in Muenster.

Rehearsal Dinner

Lawrence Martins vacation in Hawaii

When asked about their vacation and trip to Honolulu, Lawrence and Nellie Martin responded with: "We have so many happy memories and pictures of a glorious vacation, and we are grateful to the many friends whose help added to the pleasure."

They returned on Wednesday, July 25. Among highlights were several grand tours given by Muenster native Alfred Walter and his wife Clare, who pointed out places of interest on Oahu, through the large shopping center a Ala Moana, and a breathtaking view from the top of the Americana Hotel at night.

The Martins were also the Walters' guests at Mass on Sunday at Fort De Russy where all visitors were greeted with leis. After Mass the Walters hosted a champagne buffet brunch.

Other highlights of their trip were visits to the U.S.S Arizona Memorial, to Punch Bowl Crater, Pali Lookout, Blow Hole, the Mormon Temple, pineapple and sugar cane fields, Hanauma Bay, Waimea Falls Park, Diamond Head, the State Capitol, Iolani Palace, Waikiki Beach, Kaneohe and Pearl Harbor where Lawrence Martin was stationed more than 40 years ago during WW II.

One day they flew to the Island of Hawaii and toured Hawaii Volcanoes National Park and the Kilauea Crater whose sulphurous steam still billows from the ground. They also walked through the long lava tube and along the Black Sands Beach. They recalled with pleasure the visit to the Arboretum and Botanical Garden, where amid other great natural beauty, orchids and anthuriums grow like wildflowers. Back on Oahu for their last day, they attended a luau where food was bountiful and drinks were flowing and completed the day by attending a hula show and fireworks display.

When Lawrence and Nellie Martin began their vacation, family members Doug, Phyllis and Pete took them to DFW, and when they returned Ernie, Yvonne and Joey met them.

Sacred Heart group studies leadership

Sacred Heart High School student council members Connie Bayer, Carmen Daugherty, Sally Stoffels, Julie Rohmer, Stephen Schmitt, Laura Flusche, Gail Fisher, Amy Henscheid and their sponsor, Mrs. Holly Koch spent the week of July 15-20 on the campus of Trinity University in San Antonio. They were attending a Summer Leadership Workshop sponsored by the Texas Association of Student Councils.

Members of student councils are elected representatives who meet regularly to promote citizenship, scholarship, leadership, human relations and cultural values. The purpose is to develop these commitments in students so that their heritage may have even greater worth for the next generation.

The functioning student council is a unique agency for genuine learning far beyond basic concepts of civics or "mock government." The idea requires individual commitment, individual involvement — the living central arena of the student world.

About 200 students and sponsors attended the Trinity University program. Throughout the summer other universities also present the intensive preparation program for student council roles.

During free time on Wednesday afternoon and evening, the Sacred Heart group enjoyed shopping, dinner at the Magic Time Machine, and San Antonio's delightful and traditional River Walk.

At groom's parents' home in Era Garden wedding unites couple

A garden wedding at the rural home of the groom's parents in Era was the setting for the marriage ceremony uniting Dora Rae Sicking and John Wesley Erwin, Jr. on July 21 at 7:30 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Paul and Bernice Sicking of Myra and the groom is the son of John and Edith Erwin of Era.

The bride is a 1983 graduate of Muenster High School where she was FHA president, Student Council secretary, a majorette for the marching band and member of the chorus. She is employed by The Center in Muenster. The groom is a 1977 graduate of Era High School where he was class president and football king. He attended Cooke County College, North Texas State University and the University of Texas at Austin. He is employed as ranch manager of ABC Registered Brangus Ranch in Leo.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was wearing a white wedding gown of Chantilly lace over satin, designed with fitted bodice and slim fitted sleeves, and sweetheart neckline. The full skirt fell into a sweeping train edged with narrow, crystal pleated ruffles.

Her three tiered veil of illusion made by her mother, was edged with matching lace and fastened to a head piece of lace and pearls. She carried a bridal bouquet of red and white roses tied with red ribbons.

In keeping with tradition, she had a birthdate penny in her shoe and borrowed a pearl necklace from a friend, Connie Lutkenhaus.

Attendants

Staci Sicking of Myra was her sister's maid of honor. Marla Wolf of Muenster, bride's sister and Nikki Vrla of Farmers Branch, bride's cousin were bridesmaids. Jennifer Sicking of Muenster, bride's niece was flower girl and Aaron Sicking, bride's nephew was ring bearer.

The bridal attendants were identically gowned in red and white checked gingham. Ruffles of the peasant blouse and tiered skirt were underskirted with white eyelid embroidered lace accented with little red bows. Each carried a long stemmed red rose with ribbons. The little flower girl carried a white basket of red and white rosebuds.

Mark Erwin of Austin was his brother's best man. Scott Selby and Paul Bentley, both of Era and friends of the groom were groomsmen, who also served as ushers and assisted preceding the ceremony by rolling out the white carpet in an improvised aisle, for the entrance of the wedding party.

Wedding music was provided by Rhonda Payeur, groom's sister who played the piano and the groom's mother who sang his favorite boyhood hymn "How Great Thou Art." Stephanie Richey, friend of the bride, read a poem.

The wedding ceremony was officiated by Rev. Rodney Bolejack, Baptist minister. The wedding party stood on a raised deck made by the groom and his father. Decorations included a white wrought iron arch entwined with English ivy and red roses; and similar flowers marked the aisle and decorated a trellis. A white flag, inscribed with the couple's names and wedding date, was elevated above the garden.

Reception

An informal garden reception followed, hosted by parents of the bride. Connie Lutkenhaus of Muenster and Shelly Zimmerer of Hood registered 250 guests in the bride's book. Dinner was catered by the Schneiders.

The bride's table was covered with red under white lace cloth made by the groom's mother. It held bride and groom goblets and a special bottle of champagne, gift from the bride's classmate Sandy Wimmer. Also displayed was the bridal portrait, a large photo frame with an assortment of informal pictures and a portfolio of bridal pictures.

The tiered wedding cake with pedestals and doves between layers and bells and doves on the top keepsake layer, plus additional side cakes, were all decorated in white, with red roses. The wedding cake was a gift from the groom's sister-in-law Sandy Erwin. She baked, decorated and cut the cake.

Serving both the bride's cake and the horseshoe shaped groom's cake were Tammy Retier, Amber and Marsha Vogel and Shirley Reiter.

Paula and Randy Reiter, bride's sister and brother-in-law were reception assistants and supervised both the ceremony and reception.

Decorations at the reception included wedding bells above the bride's table, and red and white lantern-covered lights swinging above tables and lawns; and red and white streamers.

Out of town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Mark Erwin of Austin; Nikki Vrla and a friend; Dolores Vrla and son Cory and his fiancée Cynthia all of Farmers Branch; the groom's grandfather Joseph Lucchino and Mrs. Lucchino and daughter Phyllis of Omaha, Neb., and Jackie and Rose Bewley, and Brian Carroll and his parents all of Mesquite. Special guests were the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Hilda Reiter, and the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Elsie Lohner, both of Muenster.

When the couple returns from a trip to Lake Murray and the Arbuckle Wilderness they will be at home on the ABC Ranch in Leo.

REV. KEITH THOMAS
... leaving Muenster post ...

Rev. Thomas moves to Montgomery

Keith Thomas has resigned his position as pastor of the First Baptist Church in Muenster, and has accepted a call as pastor of First Baptist Church, Montgomery, Texas. He and his family moved recently.

During his five-year stay in Muenster the church has experienced tremendous growth, both spiritually and physically, under his leadership.

The average weekly attendance is now about three times its number when Rev. Thomas arrived. The yearly budget is about three times its size five years ago. An Associate Pastor and part time

Bible School daily attendance averages 191 at Sacred Heart

VBS staff averages 100 per day

The fifth annual Vacation Bible School of Sacred Heart Parish came to a close Friday, July 27 with a special liturgy in Sacred Heart Church. Theme for the week was "Jesus Is My Answer."

Children of ages four through grade six spent the week studying Bible stories which revealed how Jesus can be their answer through Love, Joy, Peace, Bible Study and Forgiveness.

With an average daily attendance of 191 students and about 100 teachers, aides, craft helpers, refreshment hostesses and nursery attendants, classes began each morning at 9 a.m. with a worship service led by Mrs. Emily Klement and Mrs. Ruth Felderhoff.

Classes entered church to the theme song "Jesus Is My Answer." Mrs. Klement then led the assembly in Pledges to the Flag, to the Christian flag and to the Bible; she gave a short Scripture lesson and taught the children new songs.

During worship service, the children had the opportunity to donate to this year's two-fold mission project. Household goods donated will be divided between the Ronald McDonald Houses of Dallas and Fort Worth; and all moneys collected will be sent to Sister Roberta Hesse in Africa.

Students then returned to their separate classrooms for individual instruction in Christian Living, and Bible stories through worksheets, crafts, songs, games and learning situations.

At mid-morning, students were served refreshments by Mrs. Anne Poole and Mrs. Doris Muller and a number of assisting hostesses.

directors Michelle Knauf and Margie Klement carrying Bibles; teachers Tim Voth and Lyle Huchton carrying the U.S. and Papal Flags; celebrant Father Denis and Mass servers Scott Wilde, Helmuth Koelzer, Brian Knabe, Troy and Aaron Berres.

Dana Hess and Ryan Sicking gave readings; Misty Knabe, Brian Rohmer, Kody Truebenbach and Da Lana Walterscheid presented Offertory petitions.

In the Offertory procession Da Lana Endres carried a Bible; Joey Martin a workbook; Jason Sicking a craft; Tammy Fleitman presented the Offertory collections of money for mission projects; Brian Hermes carried the bread and chalice and Serena Fuhrmann brought the water and wine to the altar.

Eucharistic Ministers were Irene Hartman and Lanie Bartush.

BELINDA ANN DONALD AND DON EDWARD PULTE have chosen September 15 for their wedding day. Their engagement and approaching marriage have been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Donald of Arlington. The future-groom is the son of Mrs. Coralee Pulte of Gainesville and the late Robert Pulte. He is also the grandson of Mrs. H.J. Fuhrman of Muenster. The wedding will take place at 6 p.m. in Fielder Road Baptist Church Chapel, with Rev. Bill Taylor, Educational Director of Prestonwood Baptist Church of Dallas officiating. Attendants will be Mrs. Marsha Propes and Mrs. Robyn Dougherty, sisters of the bride, and Diane Pulte, sister of the groom. The bride-elect is a graduate of Lafayette High School in Louisiana and attended the University of Southwestern Louisiana. She is a Geological Technician employed by TXO Production in Fort Worth. Pulte is a graduate of Gainesville High School and holds a Bachelor of Business Administration degree from Texas Tech, and a Master's degree in Information Systems from North Texas State University. His is a senior program analyst. They will reside in Fort Worth.

secretary have been added to the staff.

Keith Thomas led the church in a successful building program in which a new auditorium, pastor's office and Sunday School rooms were added to the original church.

Although the original note would have been paid off in November 1983, an adjoining lot with house on it was purchased to provide more parking space. The note was therefore extended to the spring of 1985, with all payments having been made to date.

A mobile home was also bought for the pastor to live in, with Keith Thomas being the first pastor in over 20 years to live in Muenster.

Father Victor Gillespie visited all classes on Tuesday and gave each child a holy card in remembrance of Bible School.

On Thursday Jeannie Patterson of Denton, a McDonald House representative attended to present each child a coupon for a free hamburger, compliments of McDonalds as their way of expressing thanks for the mission project each year.

The closing liturgy was planned by Mmes. Emily Klement, Ruth Felderhoff and Linda Knabe. The entrance procession included Four and five year old children sang "Jesus Loves Me" and Mrs. Klement led the student body in "I Love You Lord" and "Joy, Joy, Joy". The sixth grade sang "Abba Father" with hand motions. "Jesus Is My Answer" was the closing song.

Father Denis urged each child to thank teachers for "a job well done." Emily Klement presented an appreciation gift to Vacation Bible School directors, Michelle Knauf, Margie Klement and Anne Poole, following the closing liturgy.

Hutcherson accepts position at church here

The First Baptist Church of Muenster has recently called Jimmy Hutcherson of Fort Worth to be its Associate Pastor, Youth Leader and Song Leader.

He is a graduate of Winnsboro High School and received a Bachelor of Science degree in Education from Baylor in 1979 and a Master's degree in Counseling from Baylor in 1980. He also served as a high school counselor for three years in Hawaii. He is now studying for a Master of Divinity degree at Southwest Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth.

is a graduate of the Hawaiian Baptist Academy in Honolulu, Hawaii. She received her Bachelor of Science degree in Education from Oklahoma Baptist University in 1982. As Miss Hawaii for 1980, she represented the state of Hawaii in the 1980 Miss America contest and received the Miss Congeniality award.

Although now living in Fort Worth, they are making plans to move to Muenster as soon as possible, in August.

Fr. Stephen celebrates Mass at St. Richard's

Tuesday July 24 was a very special day at St. Richard's Villa, with both spiritual and social appeal.

Mrs. Margaret Eckart's son, Father Stephen Eckart of New Subiaco Abbey, Subiaco, Ark. who is assisting with parish work at St. Peter's Church in Lindsay, was celebrant of the Mass at 7 p.m. in the front lobby of St. Richard's Villa.

Residents and guests joined in singing led by Miriam Caplinger, accompanied by Mrs. Johnny Fisher at the piano. Some of the favorite songs were "We Gather Together," "How Great Thou Art," "Amazing Grace" and

"Holy God, We Praise Thy Name."

The Social Activities Commission of Sacred Heart Parish hosted a social hour after Mass. Mmes. Caplinger, Lucille Hess and Regina Pels served homemade cookies and ice tea to about 50 persons, including residents and guests.

Earlier on the same day in the afternoon, a group of Acteens from the First Baptist Church and their sponsor, Mrs. Sheri Robison, accompanied by Mrs. Anne Green, came to visit, bringing two big baskets of fresh fruits. They entertained with songs and music.

Club hosts picnic

All work and no play makes for a dull club, and as such as the Bluebonnet Extension Homemakers Club strives to work to help others, the time comes occasionally for members to relax and smell the flowers.

The philosophy was demonstrated when the Bluebonnets were guests of Kathy and Dave Berres who hosted the club's summer picnic at the Muenster Park on Sunday July 15.

Festivities were enjoyed by members and their families, along with the wonderful helpers who gave of their time to make the 1984 one hundred meter bike rally during Germanfest a great success.

Fried chicken with bountiful trimmings, swimming and great fellowship combined for a delightful day for members and guests.

TWU workshop studies childrens' book ideas

The art and techniques of storytelling were outlined by Mrs. Augusta Baker in a workshop — "The Storyteller's Role in Bringing Children and Books Together" — at the Woman's Club adjacent to the Denton Public Library last Thursday (July 26).

Mrs. Baker is teaching a two-week session at TWU. Currently she is the storyteller-in-residence, College of Librarianship, University of South Carolina. The North Texas Library System sponsored the workshop. Mrs. Baker touched on initial guidelines for presenting programs and sample program themes and materials which might be used. Librarian Mary Mosler was accompanied by Mrs. Florence Williams of the Muenster Public School.

On Thursday July 19, Staff member and lay representative Teresa Fowler and Librarian Mary Mosler attended a Northeast Texas Library System meeting at the Carrollton Public Library. After registration and introduction the Mayor of Carrollton gave the welcome address. Campaign speeches were made by candidates for seats on the Advisory Council. Lay representatives from each library present voted for four members. Reports were heard from libraries, committees (By-laws, Sesquicentennial, Legislative, and Automation) and the Northeast Texas Library System staff.

Sickings entertain kin

Entertaining grandchildren has recently filled a busy week for Wilfred and Betty Sickings.

Three year old Lisa Clegg spent several days with them and when she returned home, her sister Pamela accompanied her grandmother to finish the week on the farm during school vacation. Lisa and Pamela are daughters of Dianne and Keith Clegg of Gainesville.

While Lisa was their guest, the Sickings visited in Dean, Texas on Wednesday, with Steve and Julie Sicking, and their infant daughter, Jaymie Shea, born on July 13 in Wichita Falls. Before returning home they all enjoyed a barbecue lunch.

While Pamela was their guest, the Sickings drove to Fort Worth on Saturday to visit Janet Vance. Meeting them there were Karla Wilson and her children, Jeremy and Melanie of Weatherford. The group enjoyed the noon meal at Furr's Cafeteria and then drove to Weatherford to see the farm where Janet will soon move.

H&W expands on good idea

BOB HESS STAYS BUSY cutting meat for the packagers.

Don Hess and Sylvan Walterscheid started nearly 13 years ago with an idea — to provide quality meat processing for the people of Muenster and Cooke County.

A look at H&W Meat Co. today will confirm that it was an idea whose time had come.

Hess, who serves as manager of the plant on North Mesquite, is a native of Muenster who began working in the meat business when he was in the seventh grade at Pagel's store downtown. He worked for seven years at Hofbauer's before doing a two-year hitch in the service.

After that, Hess worked in Dallas for a chain operation for about a year. It was during that time that Walterscheid approached him about setting up a meat processing plant to handle his cattle.

"He was having a hard time getting the beef he sold processed properly," Hess says. "He talked to me about opening up a small plant. I didn't know anything about slaughtering at that time — we just got it started and learned as we went along."

CO-OWNERS OF H&W MEAT, Don Hess and Sylvan Walterscheid work to assure quality from the farm to the table. The combination has paid off for 13 years. Photos by Bob Buckel

MEAT WRAPPERS Linda Grewing and Della Walterscheid put on the finishing touches.

The result is one of the cleanest, most modern meat-packing plants anywhere. The present facility was built in 1971 and expanded two years ago.

H&W now offers custom processing of hogs, beef, sheep and goats, and handles retail sales of everything from beef halves and quarters to cheese slices. They also manufacture a variety of sausage and sell it at their store, and do a brisk wholesale business with restaurants, schools and other area institutions.

H&W also offers a complete line of custom curing and smoking along with their custom meat processing.

The experienced staff at the plant includes meat processors Henry Knabe, Bob Hess, Ron Yosten and Doug Hess. Along with Don, Bob and Henry have been with the company since its beginning.

Dorothy Yosten, Della Walterscheid and Linda Grewing work as meat wrappers, and Greg Hoening and Keith Koelzer make up the cleanup crew. In addition, Theresa Mae Walterscheid, Sylvan's wife, serves as a part-time bookkeeper.

H&W's quality beef still comes from Walterscheid's feedlots at his farm north of town. In addition to sales at the plant on North Mesquite, Hess and Walterscheid own Kountry Korner's convenience store at the west end of town on highway 82, and that outlet also handles a lot of the H&W products.

Starting with good beef and finishing with quality processing, fair prices and friendly service, H&W Meat Co. has made a name for itself. People drive to Muenster from throughout the area to buy their quality products — and it's no wonder.

Putting H&W's meat on the table is always a good idea.

by Myrt Denham

Sorry about there being no Forestburg news in last week's Muenster Enterprise — but it was mailed in and in time. It probably went by the way of the Rio Grande Valley or who knows where.

The next phase of construction began on the new community center Sat. July 28. I, for one, must really compliment the wonderful group of Forestburg Homemakers who have and are so very diligently and faithfully working on this project.

The annual Uz Homecoming is scheduled for Sat. Sept. 1. It will begin at 12 noon, under the shade trees of the old school grounds. Bring your dinner and spread it with your friends. Everyone is invited.

To attract mourning doves

SCS urges sunflower shredding

Early August preparation for dove hunting can pay big dividends in September, Ray Svacina, district conservationist for the USDA Soil Conservation Service in Gainesville said this week.

"Although most farmers consider sunflowers to be a nuisance, they provide excellent food for dove," Svacina said. "Wildlife biologists rate native sunflower seed as one of the best mourning dove foods in Texas. One reason is because sunflowers produce seed earlier in the summer than many plants."

Doves are almost exclusively seed eaters. They have been feeding on weed and grass seed produced last fall or this spring.

Sunflowers are a fresh food supply, usually beginning in July. But seed in the seedheads are not available to the birds. Shredding can solve the dove's problem.

Svacina said doves do not have feet adapted for climbing or clinging to standing sunflower plants. They are strong fliers, good walkers, adequate perchers, but poor scratchers.

This is why dove feed should not be covered with litter, debris, and thick vegetation. The birds should be able to walk about looking for seed with relative ease.

Doves can find plenty of open ground to feed in shredded sunflower fields.

"During the first week of August, shred those areas in your sunflower field where most plants have produced seed, because all the plants in the same field do not always produce seed at the same time, Svacina suggested. "If seed production is uniform, shred one-half of the field, up to five acres.

This first shredding will make your field more attractive than unshredded fields. Concentrations of birds will begin shredded areas. About one week before the opening of dove season, which is September 10, shred the remainder of your field.

SCS personnel at Gainesville give technical assistance to landowners and operators through the local Upper Elm-Red Soil and Water Conservation District.

Weather Service warns of humidity dangers

If summertime temperatures seem hotter than they actually are, they really may be. It all has to do with the temperature-relative humidity combination — one that can affect your health.

Once temperatures reach 100 degrees (which they have in recent days over parts of Texas), folks who work and play outdoors should pay special heed to weather conditions, emphasizes Dr. Mickey Flynn, meteorologist with the National Weather Service's Southwest Agricultural Weather Service Center at Texas A&M University.

Among heat related problems are heatstroke, sunstroke, heat cramps and heat exhaustion.

To warn people about the possibility of these problems, the National Weather Service has initiated the use of a "heat index" or "apparent temperature."

For example, if the actual air temperature is 100 degrees and the relative humidity is 40 percent, the heat index or apparent temperature would be 110 degrees. Should the relative humidity increase to 60 percent with the same 100-degree air temperature, the heat index or apparent temperature would climb to 130 degrees — a level which would make heatstroke or sunstroke imminent.

Heat index or apparent temperature is a measure of the contribution humidity makes with high temperatures to reduce the human body's ability to cool itself, Flynn explains. The body normally cools itself by perspiring, and this perspiration then evaporates from the skin. However, high relative humidity hinders the evaporation of perspiration, causing the body to become overheated.

Crop insurance deadline August 31

The final day to apply for crop insurance on the 1985 wheat crop in northern Texas and southern Oklahoma counties is August 31, according to Bruce Hottel, district director of the USDA's Federal Crop Insurance Corporation (FCIC).

Hottel adds, however, that wheat growers who have insurance and are interested in participating in the special Individual Yield Coverage Plan (IYCP) have until the final planting date of December 15 in Texas and November 31 in Oklahoma counties to apply.

Farmers with wheat insurance who can qualify for the IYCP plan of insurance may elect to substitute the special IYCP yield for the area average yield per acre already established by FCIC for each farm and gain additional coverage at no extra cost.

To be eligible, Hottel explains, producers must have proven yield records for a minimum of the most recent three years for each wheat farm. Producers who choose to insure under either the IYCP program or the regular area average plan can choose a guarantee wheat yield up to 75 percent of these average yields.

Production and acreage records to prove wheat yield records should be submitted to the Agricultural Stabilization Conservation Service (ASCS) office in each county; the earlier the better.

Hottel suggests that interested producers who have insurance coverage need to initiate a request for IYCP yields at the county ASCS office at least by the final planting dates mentioned above, which is normally 15 days prior to the final acreage reporting date for wheat insurance. After being qualified by ASCS, the producer takes the IYCP certification form to his individual insurance agent who processes the IYCP yields to his regular scheduled acreage report.

Federal Crop Insurance policies, which provide coverage against most unavoidable causes of crop loss, are sold by independent FCIC insurance agents or by a private insurance company reinsured by FCIC. A list of those authorized to sell insurance in each county is available from the ASCS office.

County Agent's Report

We have had some reports from area producers that the insecticide ear tags are not working as well this year as in previous years. Entomologists have been cautioning us to this because the flies are building up a resistance to the insecticide in the tags.

So, if you have received a rain lately, look for an increase in hornfly infestations. You might consider spraying the livestock with an insecticide to reduce the population quickly if you are one of the ones having problems with ear tags.

If you have not treated the livestock for cattle grubs, this should be completed shortly. One application of a pour on insecticide is all that is necessary to control cattle grubs.

Many producers are storing grain this year. When storing we should remember our insecticides, too. Once the grain bin is full of grain be sure to level the grain and treat the top with an approved insecticide. Malathion has worked fairly well in the past. Bacillus thuringiensis can also be put on top of grain to help keep down the insect population. Hanging "no pest" resin strips in the grain bin will help reduce moth infestations. In filling the grain bin leave enough room at the top to allow for inspections.

One other insect item. Time is at hand to check for grubs in the lawn. Diazinon, Dursban or Dylox provide adequate control and should be used at recommended rates given on the chemical container label. The granular form is easier to apply and to wash into the soil than liquid or spray formulations. After using granules, drag the grass with a tow sack or water hose to knock them down to the soil. Then apply enough water to soak the granules into the soil.

Weight, size important in heifers

Cattlemen can improve their calf crop by paying close attention to the selection of replacement heifers.

"The key is to select replacement heifers based on weight and frame size," says Dr. L.R. Sprott, beef cattle specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"This should be done when heifers are 15 months old so that they can be bred to calve at two years of age," he says.

Studies have shown that heavier, large framed heifers will have a higher pregnancy rate, particularly during the second breeding season.

Who owns reservoirs? Question has complex answer...

Who owns Texas' reservoirs? How about the fish and fishing regulations? Who controls water levels?

These questions, often asked by Texas hunters, fishermen and other recreationists, have few simple answers.

Even though a reservoir may be classified as "public" in terms of access, actual control of the reservoir and the lands around it may be under the aegis of multiple interests, both public and private.

Ernest Simmons, inland fisheries section chief for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department (TPWD), said the Parks and Wildlife Commission has authority to establish fishing regulations in all public waters. The fish are considered by law to belong to the people of Texas.

Beyond that, the situation is more complicated.

"Confusion is understandable, because in some instances one public agency builds a lake and another entirely separate public agency owns all the water," Simmons said. "The shoreline may be owned by either or both the agencies, by some other agency or by private interests."

"The managing authority of a reservoir generally is the one which controls certain primary functions such as flood control, power generation or water supply," said Simmons. "Thus, the managing authority may be the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, a city, a water district, river authority, energy company or a state or federal agency."

opinion about the way a lake is managed?

Fishery management is the responsibility of the TPWD. Most other management considerations, such as access, water level control and shoreline recreational facilities generally are under the control of the managing authority.

In some cases, state and national parks and forests share the authority and responsibility for providing access and recreational facilities.

Who furnishes maps? As a rule, according to Simmons, no agency is required to produce them but some do because it is their interest to do so. Private map companies are producing an increasing number of high-quality lake maps, and copies usually are available at tackle shops and marines around the lakes.

For lodging, restaurants, marinas, fishing guides and the like, it may be advisable to contact the Chamber of Commerce in a town near the lake you wish to visit. The TPWD can provide information on species and numbers of fish stocked in the reservoir, and also the location of state parks in the vicinity.

Nine area reservoirs are listed on a roster of public lakes with more than 500 acres of water throughout the state. Those are:

— Moss Lake, with 1,125 acres, located in Cooke County and managed by the city of Gainesville;

— Amon Carter Lake, 1,540 acres, located in Montague County and managed by the city of Bowie;

— Lake Bridgeport, 13,000 acres, located in Wise and Jack counties and managed by Tarrant County Water District number one;

— Eagle Mountain Lake, 9,200 acres, located in Tarrant and Wise counties and under the management of Tarrant County Water District number one;

— Farmers Creek Lake, 1,600 acres, located in Montague County and managed by the North Montague Water District;

— Grapevine Lake, 7,830 acres, located in Tarrant and Denton counties and under the management of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers;

— Lake Lewisville, 23,280 acres, located in Denton County and managed by the Corps of Engineers;

— Lake Ray Roberts, located in Denton and Cooke counties and managed by the cities of Denton and Dallas and the Corps of Engineers;

— Lake Texoma, 91,200 acres, located in Cooke and Grayson counties and under the management of the Army Corps of Engineers.

Tractor safety device released by company

John Deere & Co. has announced that in the interest of farm safety it will make available its patents for a transmission device that reduces the risks of tractor accidents.

The special transmission valve, which was developed at the John Deere Product Engineering Center in Waterloo, Iowa, prevents hydraulically activated transmission clutches from engaging unless the clutch pedal has been depressed and released by the operator following each start.

Operators have been injured when they improperly started their tractors by bypassing normal circuitry while standing on the ground. It is a practice that manufacturers have urged farmers not to use and have tried to discourage through other design changes.

The danger in such a start, of course, is that the tractor will move if the transmission is in gear. With the safety device in the clutch hydraulic circuit, the machine won't go into motion following a start even when it is in gear, at least not until the operator mounts the machine and depresses and releases the clutch pedal.

This action by Deere marks the fourth time the company made its safety patents available to the entire industry at no cost.

Do you have an investment that can Double in 6 years
Triple in 9½ years
Quadruple in 11 years

Zero Coupon Bonds from Prudential-Bache Securities can. How? Zeros are purchased for a fraction of their face value. And instead of paying interest periodically, the interest is automatically reinvested and compounded over the life of the bond. The effects of this compounding are quite dramatic. For example, a $350 initial investment would grow to $1,000 in as little as 9½ years.

Zeros are especially attractive for retirement planning and funding your children's education. To learn more call Kenneth Floyd at 817-759-2725 or 817-665-7612 or stop by our office at 800 E. California, Suite 9.
