Jaycees raise $1,800 for MDA telethon

Thirteen volunteers collected more than $1,800 in a door-to-door fund-raising drive for the Muscular Dystrophy Association in Muenster last Thursday.

The drive, sponsored by the Muenster Jaycees, enabled the club to present checks of $1,800 and $1,000 to the MDA on last weekend's Labor Day Telethon. Club president Tim Felderhoff and drive chairman Wayne Klement went to channel 12 in Sherman to make the presentation.

The $1,000 was donated by the club from their own funds, bringing the total donation to more than $2,800.

Last year the Jaycees raised $2,500 through a beef raffle and presented it to the MDA on the telethon.

"We told them the money was from the people of Muenster, not just the Jaycees," Klement said. "They were sure glad to see us come over there."

Volunteers who went door-to-door collecting the donations were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Klement, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Klement, Chuck Bartush, Tim Felderhoff, Mark Lippe, David Fette, Mark Klement, Bubba Swirczynski, Ross Felderhoff, Doyle Klement and Sam Hess.

"The Jaycees are really proud of the people of Muenster," Klement said. "The drive was a big success, and the people of Muenster have been really good to us."

The Labor Day telethon annually raises millions of dollars for research and treatment of the victims of muscular dystrophy, a crippling childhood disease.

MISD raises taxes 5¢

Cite declining oil values, rising expenses

by Bob Buckel

The Muenster ISD board of trustees cut $25,000 from the proposed budget for the coming year, holding the tax increase to a nickel in the face of dwindling values and rising expenses.

The board, meeting Thursday night for a public hearing on the proposed budget, debated long and hard after superintendent Charles Coffey presented a $1,229,402 spending plan that called for a tax increase of 8.9 cents — from 55 to 63.9 cents.

Coffey painted a "realistic" picture as he told the board that declining oil values and increased expenses for state programs continued to hit Muenster harder than most other districts in the county.

New expenditures include the cost of salary increases, career ladder funds, the cost of implementing a tutorial program, a higher share of the counselor's salary, and increased expenses for the district's share of the Cooke County Special Education Co-op. Although the school district will receive more state funding than last year, new expenses will exceed new revenue by more than $32,000 according to the latest estimate.

"I can see all kinds of budget crunches coming if our values keep dropping and our ADA keeps dropping," Coffey said. "The future right now doesn't look very good. I'm just trying to be a realistic as possible."

In addition to those factors, the 1984-85 budget also has to make up for an appraisal error that put a squeeze on last year's finances. The '83-84 spending plan was formulated based on an estimate of $90.2 million in taxable values — but the Cooke County Appraisal District later amended that figure to $85.1 million, causing a funding shortfall last year of about $28,000.

This year, with a drop of another $4.5 million in values, a tax increase of 3.3 cents would have been required just to bring in the same revenue the school

City hires new administrator

Joe Fenton, director of public works at Whitesboro for the last eight months, will take over as city manager of Muenster starting September 24.

Fenton's hiring was finalized Wednesday morning after the city council discussed his and other applications in an executive session following Tuesday night's council meeting.

Fenton replaces Ron Montgomery, who resigned last week to go into private business after less than a year with the city.

The 36-year-old Fenton earned a B.S. in business administration from Benedictine College in Atchison, Kansas and served in the U.S. Marine Corps prior to beginning a career in public works. He has worked at Antlers, Oklahoma as town administrator, as director of public works in Tuttle, Oklahoma, as an equipment operator in Oklahoma City, and as water superintendent for the city of Chickasha, Oklahoma.

Prior to taking the job at Whitesboro, Fenton worked for three years at Howe, in Grayson County. He was one of the applicants for the Muenster job last year when longtime city manager

Custom prevailed Monday as presidential and vice-presidential candidates officially launched their campaigns with appeals to labor unions. As usual the speeches featured political rhetoric in which each of the candidates outlined benefits to be expected under his administration as well as praising working people for their part in making their country the world's best.

Actually, it seems the time is already past for candidates to seek endorsements. Reagan has already received assurance from the Teamsters, and Mondale is supported by UAW, the NEA, and others, however each candidate knows very well that rank and file members do not necessarily vote as their leaders promise. Rather, most members listen to candidates as individuals and intend to vote according to their own convictions. Those are the people both candidates are trying to win over.

The state of the economy, as revealed by an official report on Labor Day, indicates a strong campaign start by the president. US has reached a new high in the number of employed persons, as well as new lows in several categories of unemployment. There are fewer men, fewer women, fewer youths, fewer minorities, out of a job. People are better off than a year ago, better than four years ago, and voters are urged to stick with the administration that brought the improvements.

Despite high employment, however, there are problems haunting both parties, especially the decline of exports as many American workers price themselves out of the market. This election's voters are called upon to select the best party to lead the country in solving this problem. Possible answers are protective tariffs and competitive wage levels, each associated with serious problems and each emphasizing how important it is to select the most capable leadership for the job.

This angle of the labor subject is really more proper to labor day observance than the glowing comment on labor's achievements. It has a bearing on the country's future rather than past success, and, unfortunately, some of the industrial troubles we have today. Between now and election-day American voters will want to decide which party should be entrusted to restoring a healthy labor policy.

Another issue that's vital to the next administration and more so to future US security is foreign policy. Democrats complain about the deterioration of relations with Russia. They say that Reagan is out of line in his refusal to deal

Council holds line, sets tax rate at 43¢

The city council Tuesday night approved a budget of $517,581 for the city of Muenster, keeping the tax rate at 43 cents as it was last year.

The budget includes $320,808 in planned expenditures for the general fund and $196,773 for the water and sewer department. General fund revenues are projected at $387,011, and water and sewer income should reach $228,000 under the budget.

City employees got an across-the-board raise of $100 a month under the new budget, which was heavily revised in a marathon budget workshop last week. The council also discussed paving, streetlights, municipal court, office improvements and a surveyor's bill at the site of the proposed municipal lake, as they took care of several items prior to going into closed session for personnel discussion (see separate story).

Councilman John Pagel, who oversees the street department, said that five areas remain to be corrected for this summer's paving project to be complete.

"The only thing we lack is finding the areas where they had a problem and correcting those problems," Pagel said. The city is still withholding about $9,000 of the final payment due Jones & Co., the paving contractors, pending final approval of the work.

One area, it was noted, still has a severe drainage problem. A 200-foot section of Maple St. was surveyed and found to have an 18-inch difference from curb to curb, creating a "belly" in the street where water runs across. The center of the street is six inches lower than one curb.

The council agreed to talk to the paver and see if the problem can be corrected by building up the blacktop, without taking out the whole section, putting down more base and redoing it.

"Rather than have repercussions later on, I'd like to see us get together with Jones and see if we can't work something out," councilman Ted Henscheid said.

Two die in Gainesville crash

Two people were killed instantly in a two-car collision just north of Gainesville Sunday afternoon.

Ronald Lee McAfee, 20, and Carol Thomason, also 20, died when the 1976 Buick Regal he was driving went into a skid and was hit broadside by a 1974 Buick LeSabre.

The accident occurred at 3:15 p.m. on FM 372 nine-tenths of a mile north of Gainesville.

The occupants of the LeSabre, Gainesville pastor Jimmy Lee Hatcher, 32, his wife Rebecca, 30, and children Donny, six, Julie, three, and Robert, eight months, were all wearing seatbelts and survived the grinding crash.

Hatcher was transferred to Medical Plaza Hospital in Sherman, where he was listed in stable condition Tuesday. Rebecca was listed in fair condition at Gainesville Memorial Hospital.

Benefits set Saturday in Muenster, Myra

Anyone with a big appetite and a yen for helping worthy causes could clean up in western Cooke County this Saturday, as both Muenster and Myra will host charity fund-raisers featuring lots of food and entertainment.

The Muenster Jaycees will put on their annual Chicken Fry at the city park, to raise money for the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation. The entertainment — including a hay bale throwing contest, horseshoe tournament, sack races, greased pig chase and egg toss — will get underway at 5 p.m., with serving slated to open at 7.

A dance will cap off the night's activities at 9 in the pavilion, with music provided by Mike Otts. The dance is free and open to the public.

Cost of the dinner will be $5 for adults and $2.50 for children under 12. The dinner is an all-you-can-eat affair.

Over in Myra, the Volunteer Fire Department will serve their annual bar-b-que supper beginning at 5 and continuing through 9 p.m.

Tickets for that dinner are also $5 for adults and $2.50 for children under 10 years of age. A western dance will follow with music by the Rustlers.

All funds will benefit the Myra Volunteer Fire Department.

with the Soviets, and also in his determination to help the government of El Salvador as well as the rebels of Nicaragua. Voters are getting the word that Mondale wants to get out of Central America leaving the people without help to cope with the Red menace, whereas Reagan is dedicated to supporting freedom in Central America while resisting the Marxist threat to U.S. Liberals apparently don't understand that the threat of Marxist world domination has reached the eleventh hour, or if so, they are not really aware of threatened consequences to our freedom and our way of living. On the other hand Reagan is more alert to the Russian intention and also to the futility of cooperating with the Reds. Moscow is well known for its failure to live up to terms of its treaties.

Even so Reagan has made an effort to get along. He has proposed meetings whereby both countries would gain, but USSR scorns the suggestions. Its idea is that no meeting is fair unless Moscow has the advantage.
We could say that US foreign policy is a matter of life and death. Under the liberal, detente way the Marxist conquest proceeds steadily and our survival is threatened. Under the conservative way we still have a chance to continue our own freedom and restore it to others.

Forgettable moments ...

THE OTHER day I read an article by a woman who said she seemed destined to be the victim of a lifelong series of accidents — none really serious, but all foolish.

She had just glued her fingers together with super-glue. She recounted the time she had been about to give directions to a foreigner when her jawbone dislocated and hung grotesquely while the foreigner turned and ran.

It reminded me of the time our church was recruiting bus-riders in a Spanish-speaking section of town. I had just had my braces removed and been issued a retainer, which made me talk funny. I knocked on a door and a lady answered who obviously could not speak English.

Just as I started to talk to her, a rubber band popped loose and pinned my tongue to the floor of my mouth. I was totally unable to talk. The lady closed the door, mercifully, in my face.

The woman with the dislocated jawbone has nothing on me. I'll bet we could swap stories for hours.

I'm not sure when it started, this tendency of mine to mess up, wreck things, embarrass myself and those around me. If it was awkward adolescence, it lasted an awfully long time.

There was, for instance, the time in junior high when a friend was on crutches for an ankle sprain. We were all borrowing them, taking turns walking around on them acting goofy. I decided to go down the stairs.

Putting the crutches two steps below me, I pushed off — and hurled my body through the air down a whole flight of stairs, landing in a heap at the bottom with the crutches crashing in on top of me.

It's tough to be cool in such a situation, but I gave it my best shot.

I also gave the crutches back, and prayed I'd never really need them. At the time, it seemed a pretty unlikely request.

Then there was the time my family had gone to Houston on vacation and we were touring the then-new Astrodome with a group of about 200 people. The group was gathered at the bottom of an escalator and the guide was talking on his little megaphone.

I had wandered over near the escalator, wanting to be first when the group went up. As the guide was talking, I absent-mindedly leaned against the moving rubber handrail.

Rubber, as many of you know, has a tendency to grab and hold onto whatever it contacts — that's why it makes good tires and sneakers. This rubber grabbed the seat of my pants and carried me up the escalator like a sack of laundry on a conveyer belt. About halfway up, with most of the crowd watching and laughing, I managed to get off the handrail and began trying to run down the up-escalator.

The guide, who had lost his audience and given up on his speech, pointed the megaphone my way and said, "Just go on up. We'll be up there in a minute."

My dad joined the others in the crowd in muttering, "Whose kid is that?"

Of course, it got worse after I began to drive things. I wrecked the family car only minutes after getting my driver's license and being added to the family's insurance policy. When I took the police report to the insurance agent, he looked at it and gave me a nervous grin.

"Boy! We're going to have fun with you, aren't we!" he said. Insurance agents have since become some of my best friends.

I did $500 damage to a speeding Buick when I ran a stop sign on my 10-speed bicycle and crashed into its side. We fixed my bike in the shop, but insurance had to be called on once again to fix Dinky's car. His mother, who had seen almost everything, nearly fainted when I told her I had done that with my bicycle.

But my crowning achievement had to be the snowmobile wreck.

One summer our scout troop was given two brand-new snowmobiles by an oil company, to help us in our annual Christmas-tree cutting expedition. As luck would have it, there was an early snow that winter, and Mr. Varner, the scoutmaster, sent word out that we could all ride the snowmobiles at the North Elementary playground one afternoon, just to get the feel of them.

On this playground, which covered several acres, there was but one small building, a wellhouse, and one telephone pole. They were about 10 feet apart.

When it was my turn to drive, a couple of the guys (fools!) piled on behind me and away we roared. On my first circuit of the playground I decided to cut between the pole and the wellhouse, at full speed (since I was still unclear on how to slow the thing down). As I zipped toward the gap, second thoughts crept into my mind. At the last minute I decided I couldn't make it and jerked the handlebars.

I hit the pole at top speed, squarely between the front skis. I was bruised and I think one of the guys left a tooth in the back of my head (the one in the rear wisely jumped off before impact).

I took my entire life savings plus several weeks of manual labor to scrape up enough savings to pay the $50 deductible. At the age of 11 or so, I was branded a madman, and insurance agents were already looking at me with fear in their eyes.

You get used to it after a while.

How to save jobs...

WE ARE all very much aware of the generally depressed conditions as regards employment in the steel and automobile industries. For example, in 1974, there were 512,000 employees in the steel industry. This had declined to 245,000 by February this year. Of the 1.5 million members of the Auto Workers Union over 250,000 have been laid off.

Though we certainly should be concerned about the misfortune of our fellow citizens, in our efforts to assist them we should be very careful not to do so at the expense of everyone else. Generally, when we look to governmental action to solve economic problems, rather than relying on the free competitive market, we end up benefiting the few at the expense of the many.

In the Congress and the media we are discussing various ways to solve the problems in these basic industries. In nearly every instance the recommended solutions involve governmental action. They vary all the way from relatively mild tariffs, to the more stringent import quotas, to the controversial and highly dangerous "national industrial policy."

In each of these cases the result would be higher prices and lower levels of living for all Americans, hardly the direction in which we should move.

We would like to suggest we should approach the problems of the steel and automotive industries from a different perspective. We should first ask why these particular industries are suffering when other major industries are not.

We believe the facts will support the conclusion that steel and autos are in trouble because they are not competitive with international producers. There are two reasons for this: First, the firms became complacent during boom periods when there was little or no competition and failed to modernize plants in order to improve productivity. Second, because of their strong positions they were able to grant exorbitant wage concessions to organized labor because they could pass price increases along to consumers.

Now that both industries are faced with stiff foreign competition these two errors have come home to haunt them. They have only one choice as we see it: Both industries must reduce wages!

First, let's consider the lack of modern plants. There is absolutely no reason we cannot build as technologically modern plants as anyone else — except that they would not be profitable. Why? Because our high labor costs prevent profitability in the face of foreign competition.

Consider that the average total compensation of a U.S. auto and steel worker is between $26 and $30 an hour. This is twice as much as compensation in manufacturing in general and much more than that among all other workers.

We have literally priced hundreds of thousands of workers out of jobs. As steel and auto prices rose, employment dropped.

The answer to the problems of the steel and auto industries is not to resort to tariffs, domestic content laws, import quotas and other forms of protectionism. This would force the American consumer to pay more than the competitive price in order to save a few of the highest paying jobs in the country.

The answer is to lower wages so that modernization can be profitable and the end price of the products can compete face to face with any foreign competition.

State Capitol Highlights ...

AUSTIN—An era in Texas public education ended this week when State Board of Education Chairman Joe Kelly Butler announced he would resign from that post effective Friday.

Butler, a Houston businessman who had chaired the board for nearly a decade, said in his resignation letter that he was stepping down now so the newly created Legislative Education Board could have a free hand to implement the education reforms passed this summer by a special session of the Legislature.

"I am convinced that the responsibility for the policy and planning functions of the Texas Education Agency should lie with the Legislative Education Board until such time as the appointed board is installed," Butler said in the letter.

Butler was a very controversial figure during the debate on the education reforms.

He and the board, rightly or wrongly, took much of the heat for the crisis that many people believed existed in Texas schools.

Dallas billionaire H. Ross Perot, who headed the Select Committee on Public Education, made abolishing the elected board a personal vendetta, and the Legislature went along, voting to replace the existing 27-member elected board with a 15-member appointed panel.

Reaction to Butler's resignation was mixed, with his supporters saying Butler had been made the "scapegoat" for the Legislature's own failings to adequately fund public education.

Butler's detractors, however, said his resignation did not come soon enough.

His resignation followed criticisms that the current board was attempting to hamper implementation of the reforms and that the Texas Education Agency was encouraging local school districts to circumvent the changes where possible.

Butler will be replaced by the current vice chairman, Paul Mathews of Greenville.

Senate Campaign

While educators were pre-occupied with Butler's resignation, U.S. Senate hopefuls Lloyd Doggett and Phil Gramm were exchanging barbs over which one was more steadfast in his support of right-to-work laws.

It all started last week when Gramm, speaking to a group of county officials, accused Doggett of voting against the Texas right-to-work law on several occasions.

Doggett, who spoke to the same group only minutes later, said Gramm was "flat wrong," and challenged the Republican congressman to find an instance in which he had voted against the right-to-work law.

Gramm obliged by having a campaign aide cite several votes in which the Austin state senator had voted against right-to-work provisions in the Texas Legislature and the 1974 constitutional convention.

While Doggett said those votes were on bills that needlessly duplicated present law or proposed constitutional provisions that would simply have cluttered up a document lawmakers were trying to unclutter, Gramm accused Doggett of attempting to "run away from his record."

City library celebrates

Silver Anniversary reception set Sunday

by Bob Buckel

It's hard to put a dollars-and-cents value on the contribution a library makes to a community. It loans out books and films, helps people find out things, helps kids learn the art of pursuing knowledge.

A good library is indispensable to a good town. Like so many other surprising things in a town so small, Muenster is blessed with a good library.

It was 25 years ago this week that it all started.

The Catholic Daughters of America, recognizing a need in the community, began a book collection in 1959 and loaned volumes out to interested citizens. After a dozen books were purchased, club member Mrs. J.M. Weinzapfel offered her home as a place to keep the books in a convenient, central location.

Several months later, the club's chaplain urged them to consider using their books as the basis to start a public library. They formed a committee, chaired by Mrs. Weinzapfel, to approach the city council and ask for space.

The city agreed to let the club use a 12-by-14 room in city hall. Volunteers built shelves with donated lumber and supplies, and a desk, typewriter and table were also donated. The library opened in September of '59 with a volunteer staff.

During their first six years, 300 books were added to the collection, many of them donated by the Subiaco Academy in Arkansas, St. Alice's Parish Library in Dallas and the Catholic Daughters. As the number of books swelled, more spaces became needed, and in 1962 the city council removed a wall at city hall to double the library's space.

In 1965, still growing rapidly, the book collection was moved to a rent house owned by Joe Luke. Again, the people of Muenster donated time and materials to remodel the building.

Also in '65, the facility was officially adopted by the city and began for the first time to receive city funds on a regular basis.

A library board was appointed by the council, and the first grant of county funds was received.

In January of 1970 the library, with a book collection numbering more than 3,000 volumes, moved to its present location in the Myrick building on Main Street. Hours were increased to two days a week and book circulation rose dramatically.

The most recent remodeling of the building, which was purchased by the city in 1982, was completed over the winter when a new floor, new shelving, wall covering, carpeting and other needed improvements were added. The removal of several interior walls increased the usable space inside by 300 square feet. All the remodeling was paid for by donations, with no tax money spent.

The library now has a collection of more than 16,000 books.

But the success of the library is more than a tale of buildings and numbers of books — it is a story of people who donated their time and efforts to the building of the facility — from the first librarian, Mrs. Weinzapfel, to Mrs. Joe A. Luke, who served for nine years as head librarian, and Mrs. Steve Moster, who has been the city's librarian since 1974.

Librarians at the public school and Sacred Heart schools in Muenster, as well as those at Cooke County Library, provided valuable help with the book purchasing and cataloging.

A "Friends of the Library" organization was formed in '75 and sponsors various activities and fund-raisers for the library, even publishing a cookbook to help buy audio-visual equipment and supplies.

Library workers through the years have included Mrs. Moster, Victoria Gremminger, Evelyn Schilling, Teresa Fowler, Betty Felderhoff, Evelyn Koesler, Elizabeth Toothaker, Lee Toothaker, Elizabeth Herr, Agatha Wolf and Lois Marquardt. Volunteers put in more than 3,000 hours at the library last year.

Many others have helped through service on the library board and city council, the Catholic Daughters and other organizations. Shop teachers and classes at the Muenster and Sacred Heart schools have built shelving and scores of individuals have donated time and efforts.

In September of 1975 the Muenster library was accepted as a provisional member of the Northeast Texas Library System, and in less than two years had fulfilled the requirements to become fully accredited.

The library in 1981 received the prestigious J. Frank Dobie award, a grant of over $2,200, to help expand its collection and services.

Currently the Muenster library offers not only books from its extensive collection, but films, cassettes, discs and a host of services through interlibrary loan — including a rotating collection large-print books, other books, films and videotapes.

In 1983 more than 10,000 books were checked out by library patrons, while 1,683 checked out magazines, 826 borrowed cassettes and discs, and more than 4,000 viewed videotapes and films.

The library had 847 registered users last year.

Board members include: Sharon Felderhoff, president; Janet Hess, vice-president; Norbert Koesler, treasurer; Pauline Stelzer, secretary; and members Frank Felderhoff, Joe Sicking and Melvin Luke. City councilman Claude Klement heads the city's library committee.

The Muenster Public Library remains the only city-sponsored library in Cooke County, serving Muenster as well as the surrounding towns of Lindsay, Myra, Forestburg and Marysville. It is open from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday and Thursdays, and from 2:30 to 5:30 p.m. on Wednesdays.

The library, with its dedicated volunteer staff and bright, attractive facilities, is a credit to the city of Muenster.

Kiwanis slates pancake feast

The Muenster Kiwanis Club will hold a pancake supper prior to the Muenster High School homecoming game against Windthorst September 21.

The supper will be held in the Muenster High School cafeteria from 4:30 to 7:30 p.m. according to publicity chairman Gary Fisher.

The menu consists of pancakes, bacon, sausage, milk and coffee. Ticket price for adults is $2.50 and for children $1.50. It is an all-you-can-eat affair.

Club members Jerry Bynum and Ken McDougle are serving as co-chairmen of the supper, which could become an annual event according to club president Charles Coffey.

Mayor Ronnie Felderhoff added, "I almost think it would be better to rip that section out and redo it. He (the contractor) should have shot that grade and had it right before he did it. It needs to be done right and we need to make them fulfill their contract."

On other business, the council agreed:

- to install streetlights on Cherry Lane at 9th Street and at FM 373, at the request of property owners in the area;
- to charge a $25 processing fee for those who take defensive driving courses to avoid traffic fines;

- to install extra lighting and another phone in the city secretary's office;

The council will seek an explanation from the surveyor at the lake site on two bills for $3,960 and $3,000, due to the slow progress of the work and the size of the bills.

"I don't think we should pay these bills until he gets everything done," Mayor Felderhoff said, "and when we do I think we should question the amounts. He needs to explain these bills to us and to the water board. He's holding this whole project up."

The council noted a letter from the State Board of Insurance which stated the city's pumper, a 25-year-old unit used by the fire department, will be certifiable for five more years as long as it can pass certain tests.

They noted, however, that the city should begin setting money aside to buy a new pumper when the old one can no longer be certified.

 and the three children were released from the Gainesville hospital.

According to the report by Highway Patrol officers, McAfee's vehicle was southbound on FM 372 and the Hatcher car was northbound when the accident occurred.

McAfee's car apparently went off the pavement with its right front tire. The driver pulled the wheel back to the left and lost control, going into a sideways slide down the middle of the highway with the passenger side leading. The Hatcher vehicle struck it with its left front section, causing massive damage to both cars.

Neither McAfee nor Thomison were wearing seatbelts, officers said. The Hatchers and their children were all buckled in, with the youngest in a child safety seat in the back. The car in which McAfee and Thomison were killed belonged to Thomison and was not insured. McAfee had no driver's license, according to the report.

City manager hired

 Steve Mosier retired.
 Fenton holds class B water, sewer and solid waste management certificates from the Texas Department of Health, and is also a licensed plumbing inspector. He is married and has three children.
 Monday is Montgomery's last day on the job. Fenton will start work here two weeks later.
 The city also hired a new police officer last week, replacing Ron Emerson, who resigned recently after just a few months on the local force.

 Ronald Stewart Taylor, 37, started work on patrol Saturday in Muenster, bringing the department back up to full strength.
 Taylor is a certified police officer and has worked for the Denison police department for the past eight-and-a-half months. He served eight years in the Army as a military policeman, and was last stationed at Fort Lewis, Washington.
 Taylor has two children. He is still looking for a house in Muenster while commuting from Denison.

School budget set

 system operated on last year.
 After reviewing the budget, board members searched for a way to reduce expenses even further and avoid the proposed 8.9 cent tax increase. One item caught the brunt of the board's attention — a proposal to spend $25,000 to air condition the remainder of the high school, including the cafeteria and hallways.
 The classrooms were air conditioned over the past summer.
 "I think everyone is happy we air conditioned the high school," board member Leon Klement said. "But I think they're going to question it if we air condition the cafeteria and the hallways if we're going to raise taxes that much. Let's face it — the kids spend most of their time in the classrooms."
 "We could sure put the air conditioning on hold for a period of time," board president Joe Hellman agreed.
 Trustee Jerry Walterscheid added, "We could hold off and cut the tax rate to 60 cents and see what the legislature is going to do. There should be a lot of things straightened out down there, and we could get more vocational money or something like that."
 Dennis Hess moved the board amend the budget to include a 60-cent tax rate, reducing proposed tax revenue from $490,287, to $460,364, based on 95 percent collections. Walterscheid then moved the tax rate be set at 60 cents per $100 valuation. Both motions passed unanimously.
 The budget cuts reduce the amount of money proposed for capital outlay on plant maintenance and operation from $50,000 to $25,000, with decisions on actual items still to be made by the board on a case-by-case basis as the year progresses.
 The budget cut does not necessarily mean the high school cafeteria won't be air conditioned, Coffey explained, just that less money will be available overall for that type of capital outlay.
 The income figures in the proposed budget look like this:
 — the tax rate of 60 cents should bring in $460,364, based on a 95 percent collection rate; — $418,173 of that will go to maintenance and operation, and $42,200 will go to retire bonds;

 — athletic gate receipts and lunchroom income are estimated at $65,000;
 — other local revenue such as interest income will bring in an additional $21,000, it is estimated, bringing total local revenue to an estimated $546,519.
 — state aid of $625,600, federal aid of $24,620, and $10,000 from the sale of the driver's education car bring the total proposed income for the 1984-85 school year to $1,206,739.
 Expenses will total $1,204,402 according to the estimate, with various departments breaking down like this:
 — payroll costs will total $840,881;
 — purchased and contracted services such as utilities, contracted instructional services, the appraisal district, etc. will cost another $108,055;
 — capital outlay including everything from typewriters to books to a bus, is budgeted at $103,081;
 — supplies and materials, including teaching supplies, gas for the buses and food for the cafeteria, will cost an estimated $101,988;
 — debt service will cost $44,195;
 — other operating expenses, including such items as insurance, travel, dues, etc., will cost $31,202.
 Last year, income exceeded expenditures by only $1,828 — an accomplishment, considering the appraisal error and the resulting $28,000 shortfall. Higher collections and improved interest income helped make up the difference.
 Before going to the new budget, the board approved last year's final amended budget, with expenditures of $1,125,420.
 The board also voted to approve the proposed budget for the Tax Appraisal District, and discussed cancelling their regular September meeting, with a special meeting possible at the discretion of the board president.

Chamber to meet Tuesday

The general business meeting of the Muenster Chamber of Commerce has been changed from noon luncheon to a breakfast meeting this month, in an effort to attract more working people. The meeting will be held Tuesday at 7:30 a.m. at the Center Restaurant. The date of the meeting was incorrectly listed as September 14 in the Chamber's monthly newsletter — the correct date is September 11. Everyone interested in getting involved with the community is urged to attend the meeting.

Man gets prison term

A Gainesville man pleaded guilty last week to two counts of burglary of a motor vehicle and was sentenced to three years in prison. Victor Rodriguez, 26, was given two three-year terms for the two offenses, to run concurrently. He also had a previous probated sentence for unlawfully carrying a weapon revoked. The motor vehicle burglaries occurred July 16 at a residence on Lindsay St. in Gainesville, when Rodriguez broke into a 1979 Pontiac and a 1984 Ford pickup, both belonging to Zack Parker. He was indicted August 23 by a Cooke County grand jury on both offenses.

Also indicted at that time was Tommy Joe Trammell, for criminal mischief in connection with a June 27 incident on FM 371 northeast of Gainesville. Trammell allegedly damaged a 1981 four-wheel-drive Toyota pickup belonging to Kim Archer.

No one hurt in wreck here

No one was injured in a minor accident on highway 82 in Muenster Wednesday morning. According to the police report, a 1982 Chevy van driven by Ronald J. Crump, 22, of Wichita Falls, was eastbound and making a turn into Grewing's Gulf station when it was rear-ended by a 1971 Ford Mustang driven by Traci Stoffels, 20, of Muenster. Stoffels' vehicle was also eastbound. Police Chief Helen Tompkins said the sun was in Stoffels' eyes when the wreck occurred at 8:30 a.m. She was ticketed for making an improper lane change.

Obituaries

Hammer rites read

Funeral service for Stella M. Hammer, 75, of Gainesville, former Muenster resident, was held Friday, August 31, at Geo. J. Carroll Funeral Home with the Rev. Andy Stowe officiating. Burial in Fairview Cemetery

Services held for Stewart, 69

Memorial service for Agnes Schmitz Stewart 69 of Dallas was held August 30 in Holy Trinity Church. She passed away Tuesday, August 27 in Doctors' Nursing Home of Dallas ending a long illness. She was a native of Lindsay, born January 24, 1915, a daughter of the late Joe and Anna Schmitz. Survivors are one daughter, Florence Ann Williams of Dallas; two sons, Wesley Stewart Jr. and Ricky Stewart, both of Dallas; one grandson, Eric Williams; and one brother, Walter Schmitz of Muenster. Among relatives attending were Mr. and Mrs. Al Horn, Martin Trubenbach, Gerrie Johnson, and Walter Schmitz, all of Muenster, and Mike Trubenbach of Lewisville.

Fundraiser to be held

Muenster's Republican party met last Thursday night to begin planning campaign strategy for the upcoming November election. A follow-up meeting was held Monday as well. The group decided to be more active, trying to counteract the lack of interest which seemed to prevail in the last election. A fundraiser is planned in the near future.

was directed by the Carroll Funeral Home and the pallbearers were grandsons, Mark Robison, Jeffrey Hammer, George Hammer III, Michael Berry, Dewayne Bryant and Randall Hammer. Honorary pallbearers were Russell Hammer, Ken Harrison, Kenny Briggs, Pat Cheaney, Dave Record and Brent Hammer.

Stella Hammer died August 29, in Louisville Memorial Hospital. She was born March 12, 1909 in Clovis, N.M. and spent much of her younger life in Oklahoma. She was married to George Hammer in October, 1932, and they came to Muenster in 1942, remaining until 1959, when they moved to Vernon. They moved to Gainesville in 1972, were members of the First Baptist Church, Muenster. George Hammer died August 31, 1981. Survivors are five sons, George Jr., Robert and Nolan, all of Lewisville, James of Mabank and Thomas "Butch" of Waco; three daughters, Bonnie Robison of Muenster, and Linda Bryant and Nancy Berry of Lewisville; 21 grandchildren, 12 great-grandchildren; and two sisters, Ellen Blalock of Monett, Mo., and Alta Couch of Gladewater.

"Florida Boys" concert set

The "Florida Boys" gospel singing group will perform September 17 at Gainesville High School's auditorium, sponsored by the Psalms Quartet of Gainesville. The Florida Boys have performed throughout the U.S., Canada, Mexico and Europe and host a nationally syndicated TV show called "The Gospel Singing Jubilee." Each year they co-host a singing cruise to the Bahamas. Psalms, the sponsor of the concert, will perform along with the Florida Boys. The Gainesville group has travelled to more than 40 concerts so far this year, and hopes to use the proceeds from the concert here to purchase a van or bus. The Florida Boys are Les Beasley, manager, emcee and lead singer, Glen Allred, baritone and lead guitarist, Derrell Stewart, pianist, Buddy Liles, bass singer, and Terry Davis, the newest addition to the group. Beasley is active in composing and arranging, and has served two terms as president of the Gospel Music Association during his 30 years with the group. Allred has also been with the group 30 years and is a well-known composer. The concert will be held at 7:30 p.m. a week from Monday at the GHS auditorium. Tickets are $4 each and may be purchased at the door or by writing Psalms, P.O. Box 1272, Gainesville 76240.

Cooke County to get justice grant money

Cooke County will get $6,785 for its victims and witnesses services program, and the city of Gainesville will get more than $35,000 under a criminal justice grant program announced last week by Governor Mark White. More than $24 million was awarded throughout Texas to local law enforcement departments to help initiate programs that will put more officers on the street, discourage juvenile crime and organize citizens into neighborhood watch and other crime prevention projects. The city of Gainesville received a $3,588 grant for its cable crime prevention program, and an additional $32,154 grant to fund its narcotics and dangerous drug unit.

Other grants went to the North Texas and Texoma regional planning commissions, Sherman school districts, West Central Texas Council of Governments, the cities of Carrollton, Denton, Lake Dallas and Flower Mound, and Dickens, Grayson and Denton counties. Funding of the programs through the various agencies and governing bodies is made possible by assessment of fines against persons convicted of violating criminal laws in Texas.

MRS. GARY SCOTT
... nee Diane Steadham ...

Vows exchanged at area ranch Outdoor wedding unites pair

Diane Steadham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Steadham, and Gary Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Scott, all of Forestburg, exchanged marriage vows on September 1.

The outdoor, garden wedding was held at the Jackson Ranch, in a shaded, wooded area at 5 p.m.

Rev. Roger Rickert officiated for the double ring ceremony before an archway decorated with red and white carnations, greenery and white baby's breath. Baskets of white gladioli and red carnations, and baskets of ferns further enhanced the area.

The bride was accompanied to the archway by her father. For her wedding she chose a traditional white gown of organza, with bodice covered by French lace. Long, sheer sleeves were gathered at the wrist with white satin ribbons.

She wore a white picture hat of lace and chiffon veil drifted to her waist. Tiny satin bows were scattered on the veil.

She carried a tear drop bridal bouquet of red and white roses enhanced with red and white streamers.

The bride's sisters, Doniece Steadham and Debra Dill were maid of honor and bridesmaid, respectively. Each wore a princess gown of red taffeta and carried a white parasol decorated with red rosettes and red stain streamers.

Britany Dill, niece of the bride was flower girl. She also carried a matching parasol. Brady Dill, nephew of the bride was ring bearer.

Gene Scott, father of the groom was the best man. David Steadham, brother of the bride, and Max Cunningham, cousin of the bride were ushers.

Charlene Rickert presented special wedding music, singing "That's the Way Love Goes", "The Rose", "You Are the Wind Beneath My Wings", accompanied by a six-piece band, whose members were relatives and friends.

A reception followed the ceremony. Jennifer Scott, niece of the groom, registered guests.

The three tiered white wedding cake was decorated with red rosettes. A fountain at the base of the cake provided additional beauty. The cake was made by Sue Oakley.

The groom's chocolate, horseshoe-shaped cake was made by the bride.

Both cakes were placed on tables covered with white eyelet cloths, decorated with red roses, red satin ribbons and white wedding bells. Following a wedding trip to Lynch, Debra Dill and Doniece Steadham. home near Forestburg.

Cub Scouts to hold recruiting rally Tuesday

Cub Scout pack 664 will hold a membership rally at the VFW Hall in Muenster Tuesday at 7 p.m.

"Tiger Cubs," a newly-formed program for second graders, will recruit members at the drive. The Tiger Cub program is affiliated with the Boy Scouts of America but not a part of Cub Scouts, which boys usually join after they graduate from the second grade.

In Tiger Cubs, a boy and his parent or guardian join together as a team. They work together on projects together, meeting once a month to share experiences and have fun. The aim of the program is strengthen family ties and prepare for Cub Scouts.

Tuesday night's rally will be the only time membership will be open for Tiger Cubs, according to pack 664 committee member Nita Fleitman. It is hoped that a new den of Cub Scouts can be formed with the rally Tuesday, if enough adult leaders come forward with the boys.

Boys who are eligible to join will be receiving flyers at school giving more information about the meeting. A parent or guardian must accompany those boys wanting to join.

Prize list revealed for supper

One big attraction — besides the barbecue — at the Myra Volunteer Fire Department's benefit barbecue supper Saturday night, will be a list of prizes to be offered in a drawing.

Among the prizes are a Winchester 12-gauge pump shotgun, 500 feet of construction pipe, a car stereo, a ceiling fan, a wrench set, a fire extinguisher, a water cooler, a recipe, and $10 in trade.

Money earned through the drawing and barbecue supper will be applied to the fire department's improvement fund.

Party has 'care bear' theme

The first birthday of Lacy Gayle Endres, daughter of Phil and Marlene Endres, was celebrated with a party in their home on Monday, Sept. 3.

A Care Bear theme was carried out in birthday cake and decorations. Refreshments included ice cream, cake and cold drinks.

Pictures were made and gifts were opened and displayed.

Special guests were grandparents, Ed and Clara Endres and great-grandmother Victoria Gremminger. Also Troy and Chris Pangel, Sharlene and Bobby Hartman, Glenda, Lisa and Amanda Russell, Rhonda and Holly Hartman and the hosts, Phil and Marlene Endres.

Carrie Hess turns six

Carrie Hess celebrated her sixth birthday at two events. Her parents, Judy and Virgil Hess hosted supper with a decorated birthday cake on Friday evening, Aug. 31. The family gathering included the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lutkenhaus and Mrs. Agnes Hess, the honoree's sisters Connie and Heather and the hosts. Earlier in the afternoon another party observed the birthday when Wanda Flusche served cupcakes at Tender Loving Care Day Care Center.

At St. Peter's Church in Lindsay

Zwingski, Rohmer repeat vows

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Rohmer are on a wedding trip to Ireland and several countries on the European continent, traveling extensively in Italy and Switzerland in particular. When they return they will make their home in St. Louis, Mo.

They were married on September 1 in St. Peter's Church in Lindsay, with Father Victor Gillespie of Sacred Heart Church officiating at 5 p.m.

The bride is the former Kim Lee Zwingski, daughter Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Zwingski, of Lindsay. She is also the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Greving, Sr. of Lindsay. She is a graduate of Lindsay High School and attended Cooke County College.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Rohmer of Muenster. He is a graduate of Muenster High School and American Technological Institute, and is a pilot for Ozark Airlines in St. Louis, Mo.

The bride was presented at the altar by her father. She was wearing a formal white wedding gown of English net illusion, designed with long Genevieve sleeves. The fitted bodice was encrusted with all-over lace applique, and featured a sheer yoke with elegant jewel neckline. The skirt of English net over white taffeta was scattered with satin appliques and swept into a cathedral length, scalloped-edged train.

A brief illusion veil was attached to her white lace bridal hat.

She carried a cascade of white gardenias and green grape-ivy leaves with lilac satin ribbons.

Attendants

Donna Dieter was maid of honor. Renee Rohmer, groom's sister, Laurie Rohmer and Cindy Rohmer, groom's sisters-in-law were bridesmaids. They were identically gowned in lilac taffeta, designed with ruffled necklines, puffed sleeves and full skirts. Their flowers were miniature cascades of white gardenias.

Kenny Rohmer was his brother's best man. Bill Rohmer and Terry Rohmer, also groom's brothers and Kelly Zwingski, bride's brother were groomsmen. Ushers were Karl Klement of Decatur, Dwayne Rohmer of Dallas, a cousin, Tim Hartman of Muenster and Adam Schniederjan of Gainesville.

David Rohmer, groom's cousin and Steve Zwingski, bride's cousin were Mass servers and candlelighters.

Wedding music was presented as guests were being seated, and during Mass. Pat Hennigan, Jr., groom's cousin was organist playing traditional wedding marches, and Robbie Coffman of Gainesville was soloist. Selections included "If", "Perhaps Love", "Through the Eyes of Love", "Let It Be Me", "There Is Love" and "Hail Mary."

Altar decoration included arrangements of white and lilac gladioli, and lighted candles.

Reception

A reception, dinner and dance followed in the Sacred Heart Community Center in Muenster.

Lisa Hess of Lindsay secured guest signatures in the bride's book, seated at a white wrought iron registration table, that held flowers in the bride's chosen colors of orchid and white.

Dinner was catered by Rohmer's Restaurant of Muenster. Corky and the Del-Rays played for dancing.

The white wedding cake, decorated in orchid flowers by Betty Rose, featured three major tiers over a lighted fountain and two double-tiered cakes at each side connected by stairways displaying miniatures dressed as the wedding party. The groom's cake was chocolate and decorated with an airplane.

All flowers and decorations were made by Mrs. Arnold Knabe, using orchid and white.

A white lace curtain covered a central window behind the bride's table and was enhanced with wicker baskets of orchid and white flowers and two wicker circles holding satin hearts.

The centerpiece for the bride's table was a mixed floral arrangement, and two floor baskets held matching flowers. White lace swags were caught up by floral clusters. A central ceiling ornament was a suspended very large white bird cage holding flowers and doves.

Reception assistants were Jackie

Sandmann, Robbie Fleitman, Diane Bierschenk, and Sandra Hess.

Mrs. Biffle returns from trip

Mrs. Mildred Biffle began a memorable vacation on Aug. 8 when her daughter-in-law Collette Biffle and her grandson, Brad Biffle of Muenster saw her off from DFW. The flight took her to Los Angeles and then to Bakersfield, California. There she was the houseguest of long-time friends, Logan and Barbara Barksdale.

In Bakersfield Mrs. Biffle was honor guest at a luncheon hosted by another friend, Doris McClurg, the former Doris Price of Gainesville. Mrs. McClurg also hosted a Sunday brunch at the Red Lion Inn for Mrs. Biffle and several members of the Barksdale family.

A most impressive experience was seeing the large farming operation of the Logan Barksdales' son-in-law which included a processing plant to market the huge potato crops. The seemingly unlimited use of water in the residential areas was unreal, said Mrs. Biffle, until Logan explained that they had a flat rate and could use all the water needed to keep lawns and landscaping in lush condition. Mrs. Biffle also enjoyed visiting in the home of Allen and Norma Barksdale.

On Aug. 15, Mrs. Biffle, Ethel (Barksdale) Teves and the Logan Barksdales began an interesting trip to the summer home of John and Ruby Barksdale on Eagle Lake about 150 miles northwest of Reno, Nevada. It is the largest natural lake in California.

About 40 relatives and friends from Idaho, Oregon, Colorado,

California and Texas gathered on the weekend of Aug. 18 and 19 at Eagle Lake to help John Barksdale celebrate his 75th birthday and his wife's 70th birthday.

There were cookouts on the large deck of the comfortable summer home where the lake and mountains were in constant view.

The young people enjoyed boating, swimming, and skiing and then everyone sat around a bonfire in the evenings when the temperature dropped to 38 and 40 degrees at night.

During the birthday celebration, the deck was festive with balloons and banners. Two decorated birthday cakes and homemade ice cream were served.

Much laughter was brought on when video tapes of the celebration were shown, after being slyly recorded by John McIntire, son-in-law of Ruby Barksdale.

High point of the trip for Mrs. Biffle was visiting with her nieces, Mrs. Judy Honsacker of Lafayette, Calif., Sue Henson of Paradise, Calif., a nephew's wife Shirley Barksdale of San Francisco, and a grand-nephew and his wife, Scott and Marlene Barksdale of Sand Point, Idaho. These are the children of the late Winnie Lou (Biffle) Barksdale and John Barksdale.

On the return trip to Bakersfield, the Logan Barksdales treated their guest to a day in Sequoia National Park to view the giant redwood trees, completing an "almost storybook vacation."

Early on the morning of Aug. 22, the Logan Barksdales and Doris McClurg saw Mrs. Biffle off on her return flight to Texas, where she was again met by Collette Biffle and son Jim Biffle.

The Barksdale families are planning a reunion in Texas during the Easter holidays and will attend church services on Easter Sunday at their former home church, The First Baptist Church in Gainesville, to honor the memory of their parents.

Endres enjoys first birthday

Mitchell Robert Endres, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Endres, was one year old on Aug. 18, and was honored with two parties. The first, on Aug. 16 was hosted by his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Endres, who entertained in their home.

A Mickey Mouse theme was carried out in party favors and birthday cake, served with ice cream and punch.

Guests were cousins, DaLana and Allison Endres and their parents Mr. and Mrs. Jim Endres, and the honoree and his sister, Mindy and their parents, Bob and Kenya, and the maternal grandmothers, Mrs. Kenneth Hale.

The party on Aug. 18 in the home of the honoree included supper followed by birthday cake and ice cream. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Gregg Wilde and Jeffrey and Matthew, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hale and an aunt and uncle Kelly and Larry Insel and Karey of Oklahoma City.

SACRED HEART QUARTERBACK Bret Walterscheid rolls out behind blocking back Greg Bell during last week's scrimmage against

Tigers maul Aubrey

Sacred Heart wins final scrimmage 2-0

The Sacred Heart Tigers showed "much improvement" in their Friday scrimmage against Aubrey, scoring twice while holding their opponents scoreless. "We moved the ball good," coach Virgil Henscheid said. "We made a few mistakes, but we got good blocking on the line and opened up some good holes. The only way we got stopped was through our own mistakes."

Sacred Heart scored on their first two drives of the night, and had another drive going when they ran out of plays near the end of the scrimmage.

Defensively, Henscheid was even more pleased.

"They drove the ball down to about our 18 the first time they had it, but we stopped them cold," he said. "We shut them down completely the second time."

Junior lineman Kevin Switzer turned in an outstanding game for the Tigers, blocking fiercely on offense and terrorizing Aubrey's offense from his defensive tackle position. Keith Hennigan and Tim Knabe also blocked well, according to Henscheid, and quarterback Bret Walterscheid turned in a good job calling the signals.

"We've still got a long way to go, but we improved a whole bunch," Henscheid said. "I was especially pleased with our defense, especially the second drive."

Era quick foe

Looking ahead to Friday night's season opener at Era, Henscheid says his team will have to contain the Hornets' quickness and make fewer mistakes of their own in order to win.

"They have a better team than they've had the last several years," Henscheid said. "They've got good speed, good quickness, and they'll outweigh us across the line."

Era's quarterback, 145-lb. senior Mark Knabe, has been calling the signals for four years and runs the option with a lot of finesse. Add a couple of quick backs and two tackles — Jaret Kindiger and Richard Zanchetta — who weigh in at 205 and 210 respectively, and Era will be a tough match for the Tigers.

"We want to contain their quarterback on the option and string it out with our defensive ends," Henscheid said. "The play of our ends will probably be the key to the game. We're going to have to eliminate silly mistakes and play a good, hard game."

Kickoff at Era's field is set for 8 p.m.

A roundup of area sports happenings

Football season kicks off...

Football fans will have their pick from a full slate of action this Friday night as teams throughout the area will open their seasons. The first-week schedule looks like this:

- Muenster will host Nocona at 8 p.m. on Hornet field;
- Sacred Heart will travel to Era for an 8 p.m. contest;
- Lindsay will hit the road to play S&S Consolidated, also at 8 p.m.;
- Era will host Sacred Heart;
- Valley View will travel to face Paradise at 8 p.m.;
- Saint Jo will be on the road against Savoy at 8 p.m.;
- Callisburg will be at home against Pottsboro for an 8 p.m. ball game.

Volleyball continues...

Muenster's two volleyball teams will square off Tuesday in a 5 p.m. contest at the Sacred Heart gym, their first meeting of the year. Sacred Heart will play Thursday at Nocona in a 6 p.m. contest, while Muenster's ladies will enjoy the rest of the week off.

Callisburg's spikers will bring their efforts to Gainesville Tuesday for a 6 p.m. contest, and will travel to Bonham Thursday to meet for a 5 p.m. match. Both the varsity and junior varsity will be involved in a tournament at Denison over the weekend.

Sacred Heart's volleyball squad will also be at that Denison tourney, which is to be played on Saturday.

Friday is parents' night...

MHS Hornets will open their season with a parents' night observance in which players will be introduced with their parents before the game.

The event will begin at 7 p.m. when parents meet with Wanda Flusche at the gate entering the field just south of the grandstand. Their purpose at that time is to take their places in a line which will be in the same order as players as they appear for introductions. The introductions are planned for 7:30. All parents are urged to be there.

Dove survey conducted...

A statewide mourning dove survey conducted by Texas Parks and Wildlife Department personnel on 225 roadside routes during the second week of August indicated mourning doves are most numerous this year within 100 miles either side of a line from Wichita Falls to McAllen.

Era edges Prosper, set for SH

The Era Hornets came through their second scrimmage Friday night with a 1-1 tie and a good attitude going into the regular season.

"We scored on our opening drive, then they came back and scored on a 70-yard run," coach Mike Allison said. "At the end we ran 10 plays each on the goal line. We scored three times and they didn't score any, so we felt like we came out on top."

The Hornets once again had a good team effort, according to Allison, with no particular individual standouts.

"We moved the ball pretty well," he said. "The backs and the line all did a good job. On defense, we looked real good except for that one big play. Of course, that's what we need to prevent. But other than that, they didn't move the ball on us very well."

Allison's troops picked off a couple of passes and pounced on three Prosper fumbles during the scrimmage — another encouraging sign for a defense that was porous last year.

Sacred Heart Showdown

The Hornets will host Sacred Heart in their regular-season opener Friday night at 8, in what may prove to be a tough matchup.

"We've seen Sacred Heart a couple of times," Allison said. "They've got an outstanding quarterback, and they've got a defensive tackle who's all over the field. We'll have to figure out how to stop the quarterback and see what we can do to move the ball against that defense."

Allison said the two teams have about the same number of athletes out for football this year, so the matchup could be fairly even.

"It ought to be a pretty good battle," he said. "We've both scrimmaged Aubrey, and they beat them a little worse than we did."

Knights spoil Paradise

Lindsay tailback Kenneth Fuhmann broke a 60-yard run to give the Knights a scrimmage upset of the state's top-ranked class A football team in their final pre-season outing Friday night.

Fuhmann's run was the only score in the scrimmage, as Lindsay pulled off a 1-0 win over Paradise at Lindsay. While pleased with the outcome, coach Grady Roller termed Paradise "overrated" and looked ahead to a tough season opener against S&S Consolidated Friday.

"They (Paradise) have an excellent quarterback," Roller said, "but other than that they're highly overrated. It was a real even scrimmage other than the long one we broke on them, and they had a defensive miscall on that one."

The meeting with Paradise was "a good scrimmage" for the Knights going into their game Friday at S&S, a solid class AA team who tied Valley View in a scrimmage last week.

After romping over Alvord in their opening scrimmage, the Knights needed some competition from Paradise.

"I was very pleased with the aggressiveness on defense, and with the offensive line's blocking," Roller said. "Those were the two areas I was most displeased with after last week's scrimmage."

Lindsay rolled to 245 yards rushing, but completed only three of 14 passes for 47 yards, dropping "a bunch" along with way.

On goaline offenses, the teams tied 2-2 with Lindsay's Steve Corcoran and Fuhmann running in from one and two yards out and Paradise scoring once on an option and once on a pass.

"I think both teams got a lot out of it," Roller said. "I saw a lot more aggressiveness, offensively and defensively."

S&S Looks Tough

The Knights' first for-real foe will be S&S, a team which has looked tough in pre-season scrimmages against Bells and Valley View.

"We'll have to play very good football against S&S," Roller said. "They've got seven offensive and seven defensive players back, including two real good running backs. Quarterback is probably their weakest area after they lost a real good one last year."

The 4-3 S&S defense features a middle linebacker who weighs in at about 215 lbs. and is mobile, making a lot of tackles. The whole linebacker crew is tough, according to Roller.

"We'll just try to run our basic stuff at them and see if we can do anything," he said. "We're not planning anything fancy."

The Knights came through the pre-season in good shape as far as injuries are concerned.

Gametime at S&S field in Sadler will be 8 p.m.

Area golfer plays in tournament

Clyde Bond of Gainesville played recently in the Rawlings World Amateur Championship golf tournament at Myrtle Beach, South Carolina.

The tournament drew 750 players from 44 states and four foreign countries, and was held on 26 different golf courses in the Myrtle Beach area. The 30-mile stretch of beach has 34 golf courses, with 11 more under construction.

Bond finished 25th in the first flight, which was made up of 92 players.

This was the first for the tournament.

Hornet effort pleases coach

MHS gridders get aggressive

The Muenster Hornets held a tough AA team from Southlake Carroll to a single score in their scrimmage Friday night, and moved the ball consistently although they failed to cross the goal line.

Coach Leonard Peters was pleased with the effort.

"We moved the ball on them consistently," he said. "They didn't stop us — we stopped ourselves with penalties and turnovers. But the blocking by the offensive line was the best I've ever seen in Muenster."

Peters said the backs "ran hard" and gave credit to the passing game for some improvement after a lackluster performance in the Hornets' first scrimmage.

But the defense made the biggest gains.

"The thing I like most about this scrimmage was the fact that in the last series, after we'd run 80 plays, we were going harder than we were when we first started," Peters said. "We had zip and enthusiasm and we weren't tired — we were giving it to them instead of them giving it to us."

The Hornets' zip held a Southlake Carroll team, predicted to make the playoffs in their AA district, in check most of the game after one early touchdown. It was a hard-hitting, productive scrimmage according to the Muenster coach.

"We just got after them," he said. "That was something we'd been lacking, and I was real pleased with the effort."

Muenster came out of the scrimmage with no one injured and no one sick, heading into Friday's season kickoff against Nocona here.

Nocona to use veer

Nocona will bring a new coach and a new offense to town Friday, as they will try the Muenster defense with their Houston veer. The team is tougher than they've been in several years, Peters says.

"They're a big AA school, and they've got a lot of kids out for football," he said. "They're a much better football team than they were the last time Muenster played them two or three years ago. Their kids have pride and they're tougher."

Peters cited a bigger-than-

Please see HORNETS, next page

Hornets

average defensive line as one of the strongpoints in a "good, pursuing" Nocona defense.

"We think the veer will give them problems — it's a new system for them and it's not easy to learn," Peters said. "We're going to try to play the quarterback real hard and cause some bad pitchouts. But with the veer, if the defense makes a mistake they can go all the way if they hit it just right."

Nocona's best player should be tackle Kevin Martin, a 6'0", 200-lb. senior who was a unanimous all-district selection last year. He is "big, strong and quick" according to Peters.

"We've lost our openers the last two years," Peters said. "We've got a lot of incentive this year to win that first game and get some momentum going. It could really help our season to start out on a winning note — this is a good football team."

Kickoff time is 8 p.m. Friday at the MHS stadium.

Eagles tie S&S in scrimmage

Valley View fought to a 1-1 tie with a solid S&S squad in their scrimmage Friday night, discovering some weaknesses as they prepare for a season-opener against top-ranked Paradise Friday.

"We didn't do too bad," coach John Kassen said. "We've got some areas we need to work on, but overall I was pretty pleased with the effort."

The Eagles rushed for 211 yards and passed for 57 more, but the passing game showed some holes.

"We're not throwing or running our routes like we need to," Kassen said. "The passing game has improved, it's just not where we need it to be."

The Eagles squashed Prosper in their first scrimmage, but last week's meeting gave them a much better look at their troops under the gun.

"The competition was a lot better this week," Kassen said. "We got a lot out of it. S&S may have tough sledding in their AA district, but they were a good test for us."

Kassen said his squad "improved in nearly every area" despite a couple of defensive breakdowns.

QB the target
Paradise quarterback Chris Lowery, who accounted for 53 touchdowns on last year's 12-1 team, will be the man to stop in Friday night's season opening matchup at Paradise.

"He's a super athlete," Kassen said. "We're just going to try and stop him — but they've got a good running back, too. They're balanced — they throw about as much as they run — and they're a pretty good defensive ball club too."

Valley View will stick to their guns, the pair of 1,000-yard running backs they return from last year's squad, Ray Sappington and Gary Ward will carry the attack to the Paradise line, while quarterback Mike Montgomery tries to iron out the kinks in the Eagle passing game.

"We'll just do what we've been doing," Kassen said. "We won't put on anything special for Paradise. If they stop us, they stop us."

Gametime in Paradise is 8 p.m.

Hornets boast speed, size in lineup

Era looking to dish out some punishment

The Era Hornets are looking to recover their sting after a 2-8 season last year.

New coach Mike Allison, who moved to Era in the spring, will be putting in his first fall on the sidelines for the rebuilding Hornets. Allison has eight starters back from last year's team, to work with as he begins his task.

"Most of these guys have started for a couple of years," he says, looking at the team roster. "They've taken some licks — now they feel like it's their time. We've got a real good group of seniors."

Era's backfield going into Friday's first scrimmage with Aubrey consisted of quarterback Mark Knabe, a 145-lb. senior, and halfbacks Bradley Fenley (sr., 150 lbs.) and Chris Sikes (sr., 155 lbs.). Anchoring the line will be Richard Zanchetta at tackle (sr., 210 lbs.) and junior Jaret Kindiger, a 205-lb. guard.

"Those two (Zanchetta and Kindiger) are our two best linemen, and maybe two of the best in the district," Allison says. "They've got good size and quickness, and they're both leaders."

"Right now there's a battle going on for fullback," Allison says. The competitors are sophomore Kevin Ford (150-lbs.) and freshman Stuart Kyle (180 lbs.). Ford started at tight end or split end last year and "he will be on the field" in Allison's game plan this year. But Kyle is "starting to come along" at the fullback spot and may give the Hornets some added muscle behind the line.

"Overall, we're fairly small outside of those two big linemen," Allison says. "We'll average 150 to 160 pounds across the front, and the backs will average 140 to 150. We do have some quickness, though. That's one of our team strengths."

Knabe and Zanchetta both placed in the 100 or 200-meter races at district last year and are the two quickest Hornets. At defensive tackle, Zanchetta will range from "sideline to sideline" to spark the Era defense with his quickness. Most of the starters will go both ways, Allison says.

"We've just got 25 kids out. Depth is a problem. But the kids have a good attitude — they want to do well and they feel like they can compete."

Era will run the wishbone and make the most of Knabe's speed with the option. Allison says the senior quarterback "has done an excellent job so far in the drills," reading the defenses and using his quickness to its fullest advantage.

When he throws the ball, Knabe will throw it side-to-side in an effort to open up the Hornet running game. Allison says the squad plans to pass "at least 30 percent" of the time, using a lot of sprint-out passes to get Knabe out from behind the taller defensive linemen.

On defense, the Hornets will line up in a standard 5-2, moving the linebackers around as they read the offenses. Stopping the big play will be a primary goal of the Era defense this year.

"Last year's team didn't play nearly as badly as the scores indicate," Allison says. "They just gave up big plays. We want to try to eliminate those. We're working on the kicking game to make it a weapon instead of being at the mercy of whoever's kicking against us."

One promising junior to watch for at Era is Michael Bruce, a 140-pounder who should see lots of action at split end and in the defensive secondary. With seven freshmen and six sophomores on the roster, Allison's team is a young one, but has a good core of senior leadership.

That combination should help make the Hornets respectable again.

In scrimmage against Alvord

Panthers discover aerial game

The Saint Jo Panthers made a discovery Friday night that they hope will help them as they open the football season for keeps against Savoy this Friday.

They have a passing game. The Panthers used their speed against Alvord to amass about 175 yards through the air, while senior running back Kevin Reeves scampered for 120 on the ground and sophomore Randy Talley rushed for 30 more.

Saint Jo came out on the short end of a 3-2 score, as Alvord scored on the final play of the scrimmage, but Panther coach Steve Qualls was pleased with the results nevertheless.

"We improved greatly over the week before," Qualls said. "A couple of defensive mistakes cost us touchdowns, but the offense looked real good."

Quarterback Donald Castle got good protection from his line and Reeves found some gaping holes as the Saint Jo offense emerged against the Alvord team. Part of that offense remained on the bench as running back Andy Sappington stayed out with an ankle injury. He should be ready to play Friday against Savoy.

"We just went in the wrong direction twice on defense," Qualls said. "They either lucked out or read the mistakes very well, because they ran right into the gaps both times and we just didn't have a man there."

Speed vs. Savoy
Saint Jo will be outnumbered but not out-quickened in Savoy

Friday night, as they will try and use their speed to gain an advantage on the bigger Savoy squad.

"They're a lot better than they were last year," Qualls said. "We watched them scrimmage Honey Grove, and they've got a couple of big kids. They're mostly a running team — if we have any advantage, it's that we're a little quicker."

Qualls, who will only take 15 players to the season-opener, will be looking to pass a lot and outrun the Savoy defense.

"We'll work the same way we worked against Alvord," he said. "We'll try to put the ball in the air behind them, and get around them on the ends."

The Panthers beat Savoy 27-0 in their meeting last year, but Qualls said they committed a couple of goalline turnovers that helped Saint Jo's cause. He looks for a much tougher game this year.

The contest will get underway at 8 p.m. in Savoy.

★ District Games

Tigerettes start slow

Tigerette volleyball teams of Sacred Heart made a slow start in their 1984 season, losing three matches to the hot, undefeated girls of Callisburg.

In each contest the visitors won two straight games, scores being as follows: JV-B lost 14-16 and 13-15; JV-A lost 9-15 and 2-15; Varsity lost 10-15 and 6-15.

Eleven more matches remain on the regular schedule after which TCIL district and state tournaments will end the season.

Whitesboro trips Callisburg

The Callisburg Wildcats continued to have a rough pre-season as they dropped a 2-0 decision to a tough AAA Whitesboro team Friday night in their final scrimmage.

"We saw some improvement in certain areas," coach Gary Utsler said, "but we're still looking for defensive tackles, ends and a secondary. Everybody back there is training. It's just going to take us a while."

The Wildcats, who graduated 13 seniors off last year's 6-3-1 team, were outscored 5-0 by another AA squad, Sanger, in their first scrimmage. They are still looking for some experience, especially on defense, as they prepare to open the season at home Friday night against Pottsboro.

"We've got about five seniors," Utsler said. "Everybody else has been playing junior varsity ball, and it's a little more complicated up here. It will take time for these kids to make the adjustments."

On offense against Whitesboro, backup quarterback Keith Williams, a 5'9", 155-lb. junior, led the team well between the 20's. The Wildcat attack bogged down, however, when the goalline was within reach and Whitesboro kept them out of paydirt.

"Williams threw the ball real well," Utsler said. "I was very pleased with the way he came out of the backup role and ran the team. He did a very good job."

Williams was filling in for starting quarterback Clint Hollandsworth, who went down in the first scrimmage with a knee injury. Hollandsworth will continue to recuperate Friday as Williams takes over the starting role for the season opener.

Also on defense, Utsler had high praise for running back Monty Gilbreath, and said the offensive line continued to do a good job in the trenches.

"Defensively, we just didn't get in our coverage and we got burned on a couple of long passes," Utsler said. "A lot of that is just inexperience — they weren't where they needed to be when the ball was snapped."

Mike Weaver was cited for his "exceptional" play at noseguard, while Kevin King did a "pretty good job" in the secondary according to the coach.

"We've just got a lot of holes to fill defensively," Utsler said. "Offensively, we've got more kids back and we're a little ahead of the defense — I haven't found that much fault with our offense."

Pottsboro Struggle Set

The matchup Friday night with Pottsboro could be a grinding collision of two inexperienced teams looking for a win, according to Utsler.

"They're a lot like us," he noted. "They lost a lot of kids and they're young like we are. This is probably one of the weaker teams they've had for several years — it should be a pretty even ball game. The team that makes the fewest mistakes will win it."

Pottsboro runs the straight-T and the wing-T, relying primarily on their power game and shunning pass. Utsler looks for a low-scoring affair, possibly a defensive struggle, with both teams likely to move the ball on the ground and grind out the yardage.

Game time at Callisburg is 8 p.m.

WITH AVERAGE BILLING, YOUR ELECTRIC BILL WILL BE ABOUT THE SAME EACH MONTH.

Everyone knows electric bills go up and down throughout the year. Some months they're low. Some months they're higher, depending on how much electricity you use.

But for most of us there aren't any highs and lows in our monthly income. It's pretty much the same from month to month. So, balancing the monthly budget can be a problem.

Well, Texas Power and Light Company has an answer. It's the Average Billing Plan. And each month after you join, you'll pay an average of your monthly electric bills over the past twelve months. No more ups and downs.

Of course, you're still paying for all the electricity you use. But with average billing, your electric bills will be about the same each month. So budgeting will be that much easier.

If you want to know more about our Average Billing Plan, call your local TP&L office today.

Accent on good food, service at Gourmet II

Don and Jackie McKerson have traveled an unusual route to bring fine dining to Gainesville.

Their restaurant, the Gourmet II, opened last month just north of town on the west side of I-35, near the Texas Tourist Bureau. The location is one formerly occupied by the Peacock, and more recently the Quails Nest.

But the Gourmet II is anything but for-the-birds.

The restaurant is a "child" of the Gourmet, an established tradition in Ardmore, Oklahoma just off I-35. Don's mother, Mazola McKerson, has been running it for more than 25 years, and he grew in the restaurant business dreaming of having a place of his own.

After graduation from high school in Ardmore, he attended college, finishing up at Morehouse College in Atlanta, Georgia. It was in Atlanta that he met and married Jacqueline, a speech therapist in the Atlanta schools. Don went to work for Western Electric as an equipment engineer, and they made Atlanta their home for 17 years.

"I had always wanted to have my own restaurant," he says.

"That was one of my childhood dreams. I got a call from my mother one day and she said she needed help with the business. We made the decision to come back to this area, but it was a very hard decision."

The McKersons left Atlanta for Ardmore, and worked for three years with Don's mother at the Gourmet. As it worked out, she opted not to retire and Don was left with another decision to make.

"We had pretty much decided to go back to Atlanta," he says. "Then some customers of ours from Gainesville were in one night and they told us about this place. I wanted to do something on my own, so I made inquiries and everything fell into place."

"I never dreamed we would get the response we've gotten in Gainesville," he says. "The people here have been fantastic."

For those who've never stopped at Ardmore's Gourmet, a bit of background may be in order. The restaurant has no particular specialty, just an emphasis on excellent food and service, in an atmosphere of "fine dining."

And the hot rolls are made fresh, twice a day, from Mazola's recipe.

"You have to have good food," Don says. "I use all my mother's recipes. And I guess my mother has made the rolls famous — everyone loves them. My wife is doing all the baking, and has gotten pretty good at it."

Jackie, a native of Florida, is working in the Ardmore schools as a speech therapist, and comes to Gainesville in the afternoons to help run the restaurant. At first, Don thought he and Jackie and four or five employees could handle it, but the business has grown so quickly more staff members have been added.

"We've been doing a lot of catering in Gainesville for many years, so it's not like a stranger coming to a new place," he says. "We were overwhelmed the first few days, though. The response has been great."

Don is now training more help and doing double duty supervising the kitchen to make sure the food is all up to standard. The restaurant features a daily luncheon buffet — "regular down-to-earth food at reasonable prices" — and steaks, seafood and other entrees at night. A Sunday smorgasbord runs from 11 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. and features roast beef, turkey and dressing and usually another entree, with a variety of trimmings.

"We're happy to be here, and DON AND JACKIE MCKERSON are the owners of the Gourmet II, Gainesville's newest restaurant.

happy the people of Gainesville have accepted us the way they have."

The McKersons have one son, Alfred, who is a sophomore at Southern University in Baton Rouge.

Hours for the Gourmet II are: — 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Tuesday through Friday for noon luncheon;

— 5:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday for dinner;

— 11 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Sunday for the deluxe smorgasbord.

The restaurant is closed on Monday and does not open for lunch on Saturdays. Everyone is invited to come try Gainesville's newest restaurant.

THE SIGN OUTSIDE means what it says — "fine dining."

Tax law seminar set at Courthouse Sept. 17

State Comptroller Bob Bullock has announced Cooke County residents with questions about changes in state tax laws can get answers during a special seminar to be held at 2 p.m. September 17 in the county courtroom of the Cooke County Courthouse.

"The state sales tax rate is going up and a number of new items and services will be taxable for the first time beginning October 2," Bullock said. "We are holding seminars across Texas so that these changes won't come as a surprise to anybody."

Comptroller representatives will explain the changes and answer questions during the seminar. The meeting is open to the public.

Cooke County residents who cannot attend the seminar should contact the Comptroller's Field Office in Sherman at (214) 893-0178 or call the Comptroller's toll-free tax hotline at 1-800-252-5555 for answers to their tax questions.

Surprise party fetes Dorothy Zimmerer

Mrs. Dorothy Zimmerer was honored Saturday evening, September 1 with a surprise birthday party, given in the home of her daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Les Wilson.

The backyard party was given by all of Mrs. Zimmerer's children. Pick up foods and drinks were served to guests. Three different cakes were served. One was made for Mrs. Zimmerer, one for all the Zimmerer family members who have birthdays in August and September, especially Joanie Jones, who shares her mother's birthday of Aug. 31. Another cake was decorated for Janie and Les Wilson who have an anniversary on September 1.

Guests attending the birthday party were all of Dorothy's children, her grandchildren and a number of special friends.

Young Homemakers hold first meeting

The Lindsay Young Homemakers held their first meeting of the year in the home of Elaine Zimmerer on Wednesday, August 22.

Following a short business meeting, members enjoyed a buffet style meal.

Secret pals from last year were revealed with an exchange of gifts. New secret pals were drawn for this year.

Patsy Tamplin won the door prize.

Our next meeting will be on Tuesday Sept. 18 at 7:00 p.m. in the homemaking room.

Personals

Ray and Celie Hoenig and children Collette, Gretchen, John and Quentin visited at A&M University with their son and brother Aaron over the Labor Day weekend. While there, they enjoyed a tour of the campus.

Richard and Edna Hermes spent Labor Day weekend at Luling visiting with their son Ronnie and his wife Dana. They also enjoyed visiting in Kennedy with Dana's parent's, Joe and Mary Fuenter and family on Sunday.

Greg Zimmerer will be a freshman at Subiaco Academy at Subiaco Ark. His parent's Mr. and Mrs. Billy Zimmerer took him to Arkansas on Saturday Aug. 25. They stayed through Sunday. Greg will begin his classes on Monday Aug. 27.

Glenn Hermes spent the Labor Day weekend at home with his parents Joe and Alice Hermes. A family get-together was held.

Weldon Bezner who recently underwent surgery came home Wednesday August 29. He had an 8 day stay at Parkland Hospital in Dallas. He will be recuperating for 3 to 4 weeks at home before he begins treatments in Denton.

The Lindsay Booster Club met on Tuesday evening to view the film of the scrimmage against Alvord. The club meets each Tuesday evening during the football season. Meeting time 8:00 p.m.

To all of you who don't think you're making the most of your money.

"Here's how you can earn 10.25% — a yield of 10.75%* — with the First Texas MoneyMaker Plus™ account."

You're making more money than you've ever made before. But, a lot of you are settling for the same low interest you had before. Right now, the First Texas MoneyMaker Plus account is probably the best place for your money. Because, in this money market account, not only do you get the high interest you want, you'll get the accessibility you need.

All it takes is a minimum deposit of $2,500, and your money starts earning high interest right away. That's higher interest than a savings account and close to what you get on some CDs. But that's not all that makes the MoneyMaker Plus account such a smart investment.

You also have instant accessibility. With this high interest you're not only able to write up to three checks every month, but you can make unlimited deposits of any amount and withdrawals of $50 or more anytime you'd like. And, with First Texas branches and Automated Teller Machine locations statewide, you can make transactions just about anywhere you'd like. Ask for details.

Most importantly, you'll have the security of knowing that your principal and interest are insured up to $100,000 by the FSLIC. And, you're backed by an institution over $3 billion in assets strong.

So, for all of you who don't think you're making the most of your money, look into our MoneyMaker Plus account. It's the money market account that gives you the high interest you want, and the accessibility you need. Just stop by a First Texas branch near you. Or simply call. In Texas, call toll-free 1-800-442-1256. Outside Texas, call 1-800-321-3419.

*Rate and yield effective as of deposit date of September 4, 1984. Rate and yield may fluctuate depending on market rates. Annual yield is based on principal and interest left in deposit for one year, with rates remaining unchanged.

IN THANKS

My family and I can never really express our true feelings to the people of Muenster for everything you have done for us the last couple of weeks. Our deepest thanks go to the Muenster Jaycees, Dr. Juarez, nurses, Muenster Hospital and to Beta Kappa for starting the Love Fund and to everyone who contributed to it. Also for the prayers, cards, visits, food, flowers and all the offers of trips to Dallas. My family and I are truly grateful. May God bless each of you.

County Agent's Report

The other day we were in several alfalfa fields in the county and ran across an insect problem that's causing some real problems now. Alfalfa caterpillars or webworms have been feeding on foliage of the alfalfa. You will be able to see the damage pretty easily. The worm skeletonizes the leaves by eating between the veins that causes a white or gray appearance to a field. They usually cause the most damage late in the growing season at about the second or third cutting period.

In this type of weather, most of their feeding is done at night. We found a few worms in the heat of the day, but good counts should be conducted at night. Probably the best time would be from about 10:00 p.m. till 2 or 3:00 a.m. when feeding is most active.

Control is best when the worms are just starting their feeding, or we notice about 10 to 15 percent damage to the leaves. Once the worms begin to pull the terminal leaves together and make webs, then most of the worm's life cycle has been completed and they are probably starting to pupate, and chemical control is of little value.

Carbaryl (Sevin) will do a good job on controlling the worms if they are just beginning their cycle.

This year's Cooke County Hay Show will be held at the end of September. T.J. Davidson and I will be sampling round bales if you have some you need tested. The schedule for collecting hay samples, both square and round, is as follows:

Precinct I (Northeast Cooke County) - Monday, September 10.

Precinct II (Southeast Cooke County) - Tuesday, September 11.

Precinct III (Southwest Cooke County) - Wednesday, September 12.

Precinct IV (Northwest Cooke County) - Thursday, September 13.

Call T.J. or me if you would like us to pick up your square bale or take a round bale sample. All remains from the square bales will again be donated to the Frank Buck Zoo to help feed the zoo animals.

This year, due to the drought, producers will need to make special considerations for forage feeding values. Your hay will be analyzed for protein and recommendations made according to value for supplementation for dry and/or lactating cows.

That's how much you could lose just on resale value if you don't buy a John Deere

Looking for a big discount when you buy a tractor? Don't get stuck with an even bigger discount when you want to trade.

Always consider resale value when you price a field tractor. Because the differences among brands may sometimes be bigger than ANY purchase incentive.

Compare John Deere with our two leading competitors. According to the Spring 1984 Official Guide of the National Farm and Power Equipment Dealers Association, the average 5-year-old John Deere 4440 sells for 106 percent of its 1979 list price. One leading competitor averages 87 percent of its 1979 list price. The other averages 73 percent.

What's that mean in dollars? Add the John Deere gain on original price to the competitor's loss. The John Deere advantage is as much as $8,938!

Is this only true of one model? No. Every 40 Series 90- to 180-hp tractor has an average resale price that's higher than its new price five years ago.

Is resale your only John Deere advantage? No. Don't forget the remarkable fuel efficiency of today's 50 Series John Deere Tractors. And don't forget our unmatched reputation for high quality and high reliability. See your John Deere dealer. He'll be happy to explain the big difference between a low-price tractor and a low-cost John Deere: 100-hp 4050, 120-hp 4250, 140-hp 4450, 165-hp 4650 or 190-hp 4850.

NOTE: Average resale prices taken from Spring 1984 Official Guide of The National Farm and Power Equipment Dealers Association.

Percentages calculated from best currently available information on 1979 list prices.

Muenster YHT chapter opens year with supper

The Muenster chapter of Young Homemakers of Texas will open the 1984-85 year with an Installation supper on Monday, Sept. 10 at 7 p.m. in the homemaking department of Muenster Public School.

This meeting provides an opportunity for interested persons to become acquainted with the organization and its members.

Installation of new officers will precede the meal. The business meeting will include planning programs and projects for the coming year. Names of Secret Sisters will be revealed.

Anyone interested in learning more about YHT or in joining the organization is welcome to attend the supper and meeting. However, attending does not obligate one to join.

YHT is an organization open to any person not enrolled in high school, and not over 35 years of age. Eligible members may be single or married.

Some of the goals of YHT are for members to learn new skills and gain information contributing to home and family living and community membership.

Garden Club holds fete

Twelve members, one prospective member and two guests attended the annual get-acquainted party hosted by Mrs. Jim Roark for the Muenster Garden Club on Monday, Aug. 27.

A brief meeting followed when members set the date for a Placement Flower Show on October 20 in the home of Mrs. Marcy Wilde.

The first regular meeting of the garden club will be held on Monday, Sept. 10 in the Cooke County Electric Co-op Building, with Mrs. Juanita Leach of Gainesville as speaker on "Horticulture" and Mrs. Sue Endres as hostess. Members are each asked to bring a house plant.
