Forger draws probated term

A woman who pleaded guilty to four counts of forgery-related offenses was sentenced to 10 years probation during a district court session just before the Christmas holidays.

Gwenda Garcia pleaded guilty December 19 to forgery by passing, forgery, possession of a forged instrument and another count of forgery. The crimes in question took place from mid-August to mid-September of last year in Gainesville and Muenster.

The first guilty plea was for a forged payroll check on Callisburg Properties. The $310 check made out to a Regina Wilson was passed at Wal-Mart on August 29. The next check included on the plea was forged on the account of a Danny or April Jones and passed at Tom Thumb September 4 for $175 cash.

A forged check on the account of a Billy Joe Lee for $210 was found in Garcia's possession when she was arrested, hence the possession of a forged instrument charge. A final forgery was on the account of Tony J. Fuhrmann, passed August 16 at the Fashion Shop for $250.

Garcia will be required to make restitution on all the checks and several others which were not specifically named in charges against her, as part of the plea-bargain arrangement. She was given 10 years probation on each of the four counts, to run concurrently while remains free and works to pay off the checks.

Also pleading guilty just before Christmas was Donald Alex Sloan. Sloan was given 10 years' probation for three counts of burglary of a habitation, one count of arson and one count of burglary of a motor vehicle.

The sentences will run concurrently and restitution is required in four of the five cases.

Sloan pleaded guilty to playing a role in the burglaries of the Lee Edward Caldwell home on May 21, the Thomas Lee Matthews home on February 3 and the Weldon Dean home, also on February 3. He was a co-defendant with James Michael Cheaney in both the February 3 burglaries, and with Michael Keisel in the May 21 break-in.

The arson charge stemmed from a February 8 incident in which Sloan helped Cheaney burn his car in order to collect insurance money. No restitution is required in that case.

The vehicle burglary occurred on October 30, when Sloan and David Allen Sevigny broke into a White cab-over truck at Wayne Gilbert Auto Salvage in Gainesville, doing $125 damage to the truck in the process.

Altogether, Sloan's bill for restitution and damages will total more than $1,500 to be paid off during his 10-year probationary period.

A SISTERLY SNOWBALL just missed its mark as the photographer found Christy and Tisha Krebs of Lindsay enjoying the New Year's Day snowfall and an extended school holiday Wednesday. The three-and-a-half inch snow played havoc with schools and businesses as they cranked back up after the holidays, but for those whose school wasn't scheduled to start it was a welcome opening for 1985. Photo by Bob Buckel

Grand jury upholds jail suicide ruling

A Cooke County grand jury upheld its earlier ruling of suicide in the death of an inmate at the Gainesville city jail during a special session December 27.

District attorney Phil Adams said he called the session due to a newspaper article in the Gainesville Daily Register alleging a private investigator had come up with "inconsistencies" in the police account of the death of David Ray McBath, 20, on November 28. An earlier grand jury investigation had confirmed the ruling of the death as a suicide.

Adams said the grand jury last week heard testimony from the private investigator and from a Register reporter who wrote the articles about the hanging. The jury also toured the city jail and examined the cell where the hanging took place.

"The private investigator had absolutely nothing to add that was of any benefit," Adams said. "No new evidence was presented."

The meeting was the last for the 1984 grand jury. The panel will be reorganized January 7 when it is called in for its first session of the new term.

1984 permits total $655,000

Building permits in 1984 totalled $655,000 in Muenster according to figures released this week by city secretary Celine Dittfurth.

While that total is down from last year's record of $1,081,470, it still reflects a strong economy in the local building industry. Only three of the last 10 years have seen more total permits issued.

The 1984 permits break down like this:

- nine new homes were built for a total value of $530,000, making up the bulk of the new construction;
- one duplex was built for a total of $60,000;
- two mobile homes were moved in, with permits totalling $31,000;
- three commercial additions totalled $19,000;
- seven residential additions totalled $12,000;
- a home moved in required a permit for $3,000.

Last year's total on nine new homes was $570,000, but two big commercial projects pushed permits above the one million mark for the first time in Muenster's history. Muenster Telephone Corporation took out a permit for just over $300,000, and Tony's Feed and Seed did $110,000 worth of work at their facility inside the city limits.

Not reflected on the city's totals are rural construction figures. Several new houses outside the city limits were also built during the year, contributing to the economic growth of the area. Last year's permit total is exceeded only by 1983 ($1,081,470), 1978 ($863,875) and 1975 ($964,750) in the last 10 years.

The building roller-coaster

Building permits in Muenster over the last 10 years

Relative to the tragedy of Ethiopia, it was shocking a few days ago to learn that the United Nations General Assembly had approved an appropriation of more than $70 million to build an elaborate headquarters building there rather than spend the money to help the millions of famine victims of that country.

United States was one of the few UN members objecting to the UN's heartless attitude. And doubtless this country was influenced by the action, as well as other incidents and policies of the past, to withdraw a few days ago from UNESCO.

On the other hand, a report from Washington discloses that President Reagan has ordered that $125 million more in emergency food aid be made available to Ethiopia and other drought-ravaged African countries. While the UN, which presumably exists for all people, chooses to gratify member vanity with glory and luxury, the United States alone lives by the organization's humane policy. Meanwhile the left-dominated UN prefers to help the Ethiopians in the form of military aid enabling the Marxist government to continue its oppression.

To make matters worse, we have a report from the official of a leading British charity that huge amounts of Western food aid to Ethiopia were being misused. The official says that people on the scene told him emergency supplies were going to political activists and militias, and not to the starving.

Lindsayite takes reins

Janelle Haverkamp is new county attorney

Lindsay native Janelle Haverkamp took over the duties of county attorney at the start of the new year, replacing recently-relected Kip Schiller who resigned the position.

Haverkamp, a 1977 graduate of Lindsay High School, where she was valedictorian, earned a bachelor's degree in History from Texas Tech University in 1981, graduating summa cum laude, and attended Southern Methodist Law School in Dallas.

At SMU's law school, Haverkamp was a Meade Whitaker endowed scholar and a member of the Phi Alpha Delta law fraternity. She earned her law degree there in May of last year and was admitted to the State Bar of Texas after passing the bar exam last month.

She is the daughter of Frank and Angela Haverkamp of Lindsay.

Schiller, who served two-and-a-half years as county attorney, originally resigned effective November 1, but agreed to stay on through the end of the year while the county commissioners screened applicants for the job. He will join the law firm of Henry and Hatcher in Gainesville.

The county attorney's office handles criminal cases prosecuted in county court and represents the county in other legal matters.

Haverkamp worked for Gainesville attorney Belvin Harris after graduation from law school while awaiting the results of the bar exam. She has been working in the county attorney's office for the past several weeks to familiarize herself with its workings.

The commissioners officially appointed her to the position in their final meeting of the year last Friday after accepting Schiller's resignation, which was effective January 1.

Starting the new year temperature plunged to the season's lowest to date with a reading of 18 and a chill factor of below zero. It was accompanied by .98 inch of moisture, which included a snow measure of 3½ in.

Fiddling with time ...

I may write to the TV network and complain. Never in my life have I witnessed such a travesty, a blatant flaunting of the laws of nature and the truth.

It happened New Year's Eve, as I was curled up in my armchair with a bag of leftover Christmas candy watching Andy Williams and Gladys Knight and Chaka Khan and all the other assorted stars sing and celebrate the inevitable. Andy Williams and Lily Tomlin were in Times Square, in New York City — which, as everyone knows, is on the East Coast of the U.S. — and they read bad jokes badly off cue cards until the big neon apple dropped down and it was midnight.

Okay, right. It was midnight in New York, but it was only 11 o'clock in Fort Worth. The network gave us all kinds of shots of people kissing and yelling and acting foolish in Times Square, but why the shots from Fort Worth? Why all the celebrating at Billy Bob's, with Charlie Daniels and Louise Mandrell, when it was only 11 o'clock? Did they pay all those people to act like it was midnight? Did they sneak in earlier and set the clocks up, to make them think it was midnight? Do they think we don't know there's a one-hour time difference between the East Coast and Texas?

Where's Mike Wallace and Morley Safer? I want some answers.

I noticed they didn't have anyone celebrating in Los Angeles, where it was only 9 o'clock. I guess they figured a three-hour hoax would be too much, but one hour was okay. The people in L.A. weren't even warmed up yet when all the New Yorkers were going home to work on their hangovers.

I must say, I was offended. Everyone in the nation who watched the show must have thought all those Texas people were extremely foolish, celebrating the New Year at 11 p.m. on December 31, 1984. I prefer to believe those people were not really Texans, but transplants from the Northeast who simply wished to celebrate the moment along with their cohorts back in the Big Apple. If that were the case, the network should have made it clear. I was embarrassed for my state.

Indeed, it's somewhat embarrassing for me to admit I watched the silly New Year's Eve show. I haven't done that in quite some time. But my family was away and my dog was lost (she's back now — probably she was out carousing herself) and I was all alone, snif, snif. I hadn't heard Andy Williams sing in awhile and I wanted to see how much weight Chaka Khan had put on.

In case you missed it, he can still get those high notes, and I'd say about 30 pounds.

I've never quite understood why people get so excited about the ticking of the clock that brings a new year around every January. It is a curious rite of passage, this New Year's Eve business. Are we celebrating the end of the old year or the beginning of a new one? Are we filled with hope for the clean calendar we see in front of us, or just glad to get that old one out of the way?

Some people blow on noisemakers, wear funny hats, throw confetti and kiss whoever happens to be nearby. Others ask questions and try to figure out the answers. We probably accomplish about the same thing — we take note of the change and go on.

At this writing, it's January 2 and 1985 is upon us in full force. Now it's time to put out the next paper, build the next house, plant or harvest the next crop, drill the next well. It's no different than it was before, except that now we write 85 on our checks.

Or is it different? As the years accumulate, we do notice the differences in subtle or sometimes startling ways. The big resolutions usually go unheeded, but the little ones add up, changing the course of our lives in thousands of tiny ways, until we look back and find ourselves in a vastly different spot than we thought we'd be.

Maybe that's what we celebrate — not the big changes, but the little ones that finally shape our lives. The passing of a year should be a time when we pause and look how far we've come, then look ahead and set goals. It's a time to try new things, to grow in new directions and make an imprint on that new calendar.

Anyway, since I missed your party New Year's Eve, let me wish you that happy new year now. May it be one of hope and love and growth for you and yours.

And let's hope they fix the clocks at Billy Bob's.

The disappointing fact is that American generosity is being exploited to support our Communist enemy while our intended beneficiaries are ignored. This is a matter that deserves careful inquiry. If our charities are going astray the shipments need to be transferred to more dependable transporters, like the churches.

While on this subject it's a good idea to recall that US, so often maligned by Marxists as the international Scrooge, is by far the leading supplier of non-military help to the world. America has responded generously to distress calls from all parts of the world as far back as most of us can remember.

A calamity that specially impresses us is that of the early 20s in the USSR when the recently established Marxist state was ravaged by pestilence and hunger resulting from a bloody civil war. Responding to the Soviet distress call, the American Relief Administration, directed by Herbert Hoover, provided the country with more than 700,000 tons of food, clothing and medical supplies. Then, as today, politics were put aside, and the American people rescued a regime that embraced an ideology opposing the American ideals. In fact the response was so impressive that the Red government presented

COMMENT

Hoover with a proclamation of friendship of the Soviet people.

The relief effort, characterized as "boundless and entirely unselfish," moved the Council of the People's Commissars "To express the most deeply felt sentiments of gratitude" to Mr. Hoover and his colleagues. In their words, "millions of people of all ages were saved from death, and entire localities, including many towns, escaped a threatening fearful calamity." Furthermore, the gushing resolution said that "all the people of USSR will never forget the aid rendered to them by the American people," and the declaration of appreciation was held "to be a pledge of the future friendship of the two nations."

What a contrast between the Soviet attitude of that day and this! Can anyone imagine from current Soviet diatribe, whether any of the present leaders know what our country did for theirs more than 60 years ago? For that matter do any of them recall the vital alliance of US with their country in World War II? And do they recall the enormous help given by US to them before and after the war, financially, technically, industrially and in foods?

Looking at the subject honestly, the USSR owes its existence to our people, the very people it now regards its No. 1 enemy in its program of world conquest.

Judging by Russia's amnesia concerning previous American assistance, it is proper now to ask whether the Red Marxist subjects of Ethiopia, whose problems derive directly from the Red creed, recognize what is being done for them by the U.S. As the packages of Western aid are distributed by the Soviets, after being picked over for benefit of the Red machine, do the Ethiopians realize the generosity comes from people about whom they hear only malicious lies? And do they know that their socialist brethren are supplying only weapons to agitate their internal strife?

Present distress over there is a reminder to Americans to be proud of their country. No other country has been so generous in supporting the lives and freedom of nations in need.

The Media's view ...

A VERY substantial case can be built placing responsibility on the media for the loss of the Vietnam War. Now the media are working against our best interests in Central America.

For example, Accuracy in Media reported that "Karen DeYoung, the foreign editor of The Washington Post, is typical of many of our journalistic elite today. In covering the rebellion in Nicaragua that overthrew Somoza and brought the communists to power, she shamelessly covered up the communist backgrounds of the Sandinista leaders who had been trained in Cuba. Later, teaching a journalism class at the leftwing Institute for Policy Studies, DeYoung said, 'Most journalists now, most Western journalists at least are very eager to seek out guerrilla groups, leftists groups, because you assume they must be the good guys.'"

The media are now using the same techniques in El Salvador that helped the communists take over all of Southeast Asia and Nicaragua. Wrote Arnaud de Borchgrave, "Mr. Reagan is absolutely right when he accuses the media of deliberate distortion in their coverage of Central America."

Mr. Christopher Fogarty of Chicago worked in the eastern half of El Salvador in 1981 and 1982. He has given the National Education Program a statement based on his personal experiences which clearly indicts the press as often being pro-communist.

Mr. Fogarty states that "Reports by the San Salvador based foreign news media...are usually so distorted (in favor of the communists, that local readers who are knowledgeable about the events are shocked. The opinion is regularly expressed by man-on-the-street Salvadorans that such reporters are paid communist agents."

The United Press International bureau chief in El Salvador admitted to Fogarty that he had written a false report, blaming his sources. Significantly, he stated that "his main source for UPI news of military action in El Salvador is Radio Venceremos, the clandestine communist propaganda station."

Mr. Fogarty stated that the American press is quick to cover the severe economic and social distress but never points out such is caused by "communist destruction of bridges, buses, factories, powerlines and telephone switchgear, etc."

Says he, "The Spanish-language broadcasts beamed into El Salvador from Radio Venceremos, Radio Nicaragua, Radio Havana, and Radio Moscow are stridently open about their governments' Marxist campaigns in El Salvador and all of Central America. The few communist sympathizers I met were outspoken...and proud of their communist.

"Why are reporters unable to identify the subversives as Marxist or communist when the subversives' own propaganda stations adamantly proclaim it to the world? It is because the reporters know that in the U.S. such clear identification would not serve the interests of the communists? One can only speculate."

Fogarty reports that "the overwhelming majority of priests, who fear a communist victory, are not interviewed for the news; only leftist priests are heard from."

He stated that only subversive doctors, who treat the few civilians who have sided with the guerrillas, are given a big play by U.S. media. "Doctors treating the tens of thousands of needy innocents in refugee camps are not considered newsworthy."

Benson is president of the National Education Program, based in Oklahoma City.

State Capitol Highlights ...

AUSTIN—The governor and the attorney general traveled together last week to tell a Panhandle town citizenry they would fight to stop the federal government from turning a nearby site into an atomic waste dump.

But whether their political promises to a Deaf Smith County promised for fear will ever need to be kept, only time will tell.

The feds will pick the proposed site in 1990, and the Texas site near Hereford is one of the top three locations.

No one in Texas appears to like the federal action, especially since the region around the site is fertile enough to generate yearly some $248 million worth of agriculture products.

The land also sits over the Ogallala Aquifer, a major source for the Panhandle's water supplies. If nuclear contamination made it into the aquifer, opponents fear, the entire region's population could be affected.

The feds plan to actually use the high level radioactive waste dump, whichever site is selected, by 1998.

Texans have a few years ahead of them to convince the federal officials to go elsewhere.

Lawsuit, Veto

But Gov. Mark White and Attorney General Jim Mattox, perhaps the best pair of campaigners in the Lone Star State, haven't missed this excellent opportunity to step to the fore.

Mattox has filed a lawsuit challenging the method which picked the site. White promises to use state veto power to stop the dump.

Under federal law, the state selected for the waste burial site can refuse it, but Congress can override the veto.

To Back Down?

That means the responsibility for making a Texas veto stick lies with the Texas congressional delegation, and not really with the Texas Legislature or its executive branch.

But White, a Democrat who campaigned staunchly against Reagan, has seized this moment as an entry for Democrats back into the Panhandle which has lately voted increasingly Republican.

The political furor, plus a large Texas voting population and a large Texas delegation in Congress, may cause the U.S. Department of Energy to pick on another state with less clout and back down on the Texas site.

Galveston Beach

Mattox scored a victory in the courtroom last week when a state district judge ruled he had the authority to confiscate property of Galveston beach-front owners after Hurricane Alicia shifted their property lines.

The land once owned by over 250 private citizens is ruled to be now in the public domain, which by law is the area between the existing natural vegetation line and the mean low tide line.

Mattox had sued to stop property owners from rebuilding homes on what is now state land because the hurricane changed the shore line.

Pesticide Confrontation

Texas Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower has modified his controversial new pesticide regulations, but the state's largest farm group, the Texas Farm Bureau, wants to investigate whether he has stayed within his authority.

His final version, modified after complaints from some agriculture groups, was released last week and will go into effect Jan. 21. Hightower's goal is to protect farmworkers who might unknowingly enter fields too soon following pesticide applications.

A spokeswoman for the United Farm Workers Union said union members will monitor treated fields for compliance and report findings to Hightower in three months.

Parole Returns

A study made public last week by the Texas Board of Pardons and Paroles indicates about 16 percent of the convicts paroled under a new scoring system were returned to prison within a year.

The system, called the Pablo plan, tries to identify inmates who have the best chances of keeping their paroles.

The 16 percent is about the same rate as in past years.

Parting Advice

The warden of a women's prison unit in Gatesville is retiring at 70, but said the court-ordered reforms, not her age, was the main factor.

Lucile Plane said that new rules and regulations on how male and female inmates must be treated have created problems, and she thinks that women inmates shouldn't have been brought into the lawsuit which sparked the reforms.

The abuses cited in male prison units—widespread brutality and housing and medical conditions—were not present in women's units.

Short Takes

- Gov. Mark White plans to meet in New Orleans on January 17 with other Gulf Coast governors for discussions on the growing drug problem.
- Recent gubernatorial appointments include: Menton Murray Jr., Brownsville, 357th District Judge; Charles W. Barrow, Waco, Texas Judicial Council.
- After Legislators met with the Corrections Corp. Of America, Nashville, on the possible use of private prisons, Gov. White defended his closed-door meetings on the subject which included talks with Merrill Lynch Pierce Fenner & Smith on financing.
- Rep. J. W. Buchanan, D-Dumas, has pre-filed HJR 14 which would amend the Constitution to require elections on proposed constitutional amendments to be held on the November general election date.

Clark to discuss Gainesville hanging

At Morton Museum on Monday

Dr. L.D. Clark, professor of English at the University of Arizona, will speak at Morton Museum on Monday, January 7, at 7:30 p.m. on The Great Hanging at Gainesville.

His talk will be based on his recently published book, CIVIL WAR RECOLLECTIONS OF JAMES LEMUEL CLARK, including Previously Unpublished Material on The Great Hanging at Gainesville, Texas in October, 1862. He will also be available to autograph copies of his book.

Dr. Clark is a native of Cooke County. The Great Hanging has retained an important place in the lore of the Clark family since Dr. Clark's great-grandfather, Nathaniel Miles Clark, was one of the men hanged during the Great Hanging which took place in Gainesville during the Civil War.

Nathaniel's son, James Lemuel, who at that time was serving in the Confederate Army, subsequently wrote his memoirs about this tragic event. These writings also contain information about his service in the Confederacy under General Albert Pike, including contacts with Indians who were then resisting white encroachment. Dr. Clark has now published these memoirs together with his well documented introduction to help put the events in perspective.

A graduate of Gainesville High School, Dr. Clark studied briefly at Cooke County College and then earned his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees at Columbia University in New York City. In connection with his extensive studies on D.H.

... Historian to speak here ...

Lawrence, Dr. Clark has travelled throughout the Southwest, in Mexico, and has done research in Italy. He also spent a year in Nice, France on a Fulbright fellowship.

Dr. Clark has published a number of books on Lawrence and has also written numerous works of fiction. His first novel, "The Dove Tree", has a historical background laid in Cooke County, as do his subsequent works "The Fifth Wind", and "Is This Naomi? and Other Stories". Dr. Clark has also published "Dark Night of the Body", as well as stories in various literary quarters and in a volume entitled "Stories Southwest".

The Cooke County Heritage Society invites the general public to come to Morton Museum to hear Dr. Clark's presentation on Monday, January 7, at 7:30 p.m.

Sesquicentennial countdown gets rolling

The Cooke County Sesquicentennial Committee will be stepping up its level of activity in 1985, as the countdown for celebrating Texas' 150th birthday in 1986 enters its final stages.

Cooke County's committee, made up of people from each commissioner's precinct, each city in the county and each ward in Gainesville, has been meeting for some time on the third Monday of each month. Chairman Ed Alexander of Gainesville said the committee's agenda will become increasingly active throughout 1986 and into '86.

The county was recently sanctioned as an official Texas Independence County, along with 118 other cities, counties and communities during a meeting in Austin. The official title allows local organizations to use the Sesquicentennial logo on promotional materials, sell commemorative items and have their events listed in the soon-to-be-published Guide to Sesquicentennial Events for 1986.

To win the approval, Cooke County's committee was required to meet several criteria, including the drafting of a master plan of the county's proposed Sesquicentennial events, projects and activities.

Included in that plan was the organization of the committee, which was appointed by city and county officials. The committee members met with county service clubs, school representatives and other leaders as well as civic leaders from outside the county.

The committee's goals for the Sesquicentennial celebration include:

- enhancing the natural beauty of the county through an intensive beautification and clean-up campaign within communities and along roadsides;
- improving existing buildings in downtown Gainesville and other communities, with emphasis on restoring historic buildings;
- erecting permanent structures at the entrance of the new Cooke County fairgrounds and at the Frank Buck Zoo, located in Gainesville's Leonard Park;
- creating a dramatic production carrying out the Sesquicentennial theme;
- cooperating with the Cooke County Heritage Society and the city of Gainesville in restoring the historic Santa Fe Depot;

- appointing additional committees to carry out plans for such activities as a tour of historical homes in the area, as well as tours to other places of historical interest and a fall foliage tour;
- incorporating the committee and selling memberships to raise funds and also to involve more people in the celebration.

Traditional Cooke County celebrations such as Muenster's Germanfest, Lindsay's Octoberfest and Rosston's Sam Bass Day will also carry out the Sesquicentennial theme, and several new celebrations will be created to take advantage of the festive atmosphere. The calendar of events so far looks like this:

- Muenster's Germanfest is set for April 25 - 27;
- Rosston will stage Sam Bass Day on the third Saturday in July;
- Gainesville will hold an Oil Industry Week between September 15 and October 15;
- Gainesville's Harvest Moon festival will be held the last week in September;
- Valley View will celebrate the Saturday before Easter and the Second Saturday in October;

— Lindsay's Octoberfest will be held the first week in October;

— the Sesquicentennial Wagon Train will spend the night in Muenster June 21 of '86, then be in Gainesville the next night before heading for home at the Fort Worth Stockyards on July 4;

— Cooke County Heritage Society is planning a tour of historic homes;

— Morton Museum in Gainesville will have a special exhibit on Cooke County history during 1986.

Committee chairmen for the Sesquicentennial include Bill King, public relations; Margaret P. Hays, historic and cultural; Parker Yarbrough, Fair Park; C.I. May, wagon train; Whit Williams, education; Robert A. Davis, jr., tours; and Sandy Yarbrough, special events.

Other members of the Sesquicentennial committee are Becky Bezner, Johann Bezner, Marcia Clifton, G.C. Ellis, Monica Hess, Bob Hurley, Mrs. Dale Klement, Nadine Pitzinger, Helen Platt, Dick Powell, Ana Reed, Louis Stephenson, Joe Stout, Pat-tie Tucker, Joe Ward, Virgil Welch, Lynn Goerke and Sue Wood.

Anyone desiring the help with the Sesquicentennial may contact any of these committee members for further information.

Jett is a media representative for Lone Star Gas Co. and travels extensively throughout the company's service area speaking to civic clubs and various organizations. He deals with energy issues, but injects his own special brand of humor into the speeches.

The flag contest winner will receive $100 and have his or her design incorporated into a city flag. The contest has been open for several months, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, and has attracted a host of qualified entrants. The winner will be named and the award presented at the banquet.

New officers for the Chamber will also be named that evening, with a new president to take over the reins from outgoing president Don Abney.

The theme of the banquet this year will be "The History of Muenster" and exhibits will display photographs and other memorabilia from the area's history. A review of Muenster's past, present and future is planned if time permits.

The banquet will be held at the Sacred Heart Community Center, with the meal catered by Rohmer's Restaurant. A happy hour will proceed the banquet, and the meal will be followed by a dance featuring music by Mike Otts Disco.

Tickets for the affair may be purchased at the Chamber office on Tuesdays and Thursdays, or at the Muenster Enterprise office Monday through Friday.

Jett, the keynote speaker, has been with Lone Star Gas Co. since 1977, and has been in the public eye as an entertainer, PR man and radio and television personality since 1954. A native of Mobile, Alabama, Jett holds a B.A. degree in speech and communications from Birmingham-Southern College.

Luke, Powell wed in Arlington

MRS. MICHAEL THOMAS POWELL
... Carolyn Ann Luke ...

Surrounded by family members, relatives and close friends, Carolyn Ann Luke of Arlington became the bride of Michael Thomas Powell of Dallas on Saturday, Dec. 22 at 7:30 in the evening, in Most Blessed Sacrament Catholic Church in Arlington.

Father Eugene Luke O.S.B. of New Subiaco Abbey, Subiaco, Arkansas, uncle of the bride presided over the traditional double ring ceremony and Nuptial Mass.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W.J. Luke of Muenster. She is a graduate of Sacred Heart High School and attended Texas Tech University in Lubbock and North Texas State University in Denton. She is employed as Sales Representative and Designer by Marlborough and Lord and Associates of Dallas.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Beryl T. Powell of Arlington. He is a graduate of Sam Houston High School and the University of Texas at Arlington, with a Bachelor of Business Administration degree in Accounting. He is employed as an auditor by Mobil Oil Corporation in Dallas.

The bride was presented at the altar by her father.

For her wedding she chose an ivory satin gown designed by Angelair, with high lace neckline and sheer yoke. An overlay of pearled Alencon lace adorned the bodice.

Satin Genevieve sleeves, centered with a lace applique, were puffed above the elbow and finished with slim fitted lace and illusion sleeves to the wrist.

The full ivory satin skirt fell from a basque waistline. Three tailed satin bows, each centered with a satin rose, accented the back of the skirt and train. Matching wide lace edged the hemline which flowed gently into a cathedral length train.

The bride wore a wreath of ivory flowers, with bridal illusion attached to the center back, falling briefly past her shoulders. The bridal bouquet was a cascade of three Japet white orchids, pink roses in a diagonal pattern around the orchids, interspersed with white stephanotis, pink statice, babies breath and English ivy.

Attendants

Mrs. Don (Kathy) Hartman of Muenster was her sister's matron of honor. Another sister, Mrs. Fray (Nancy) Webster of Hurst and a friend of the bride, Laurie Walterscheid of Denton were bridesmaids. They wore identical, tea length dresses of burgundy taffeta designed with a surplice bodice overlaid with diagonal folds. Full, crystal pleated puffed sleeves were elbow length and featured tailored flat bows at the shoulders. They wore matching slippers and carried cascades of flowers similar to the bridal bouquet, including a white Japet orchid, stephanotis, pink statice and ivy.

Charles W. Powell of Arlington was his brother's best man. Jim Luke of Keller, bride's brother and Don Hartman, bride's brother-in-law were groomsmen.

Fray Webster of Hurst, bride's brother-in-law and Albert Ramirez of DeSoto, friend of the groom were ushers. Wedding music was presented by Lester Ackerman, organist and Vicki Keller soloist. Selections included Handel's organ prelude "Rejoicing", "Liebster Jesu, wir sind hier", and Bach's "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring."

LIFESTYLE

Vocal selections were Beethoven's "Hymn to Joy", "Edelweiss" and Schubert's "Ave Maria."

For the processional of the wedding party, the organist played "Rigaudon" by Canipra and Wagner's "Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin." The recessional was Purcell's "Trumpet Tune."

Also participating in the liturgy were Mr. and Mrs. David Fette who assisted as Eucharistic ministers.

Altar decorations included a background of palms, with a pair of tall floor candelabra each holding nine hurricane globes with votive candles. Baskets of candlelight gladioli and spider mums with pink statice and greenery were in front of the altar. The couple's Unity candle was a gift from Fr. Eugene Luke, in a holder which he made.

Reception

A reception and cocktail buffet followed in the Shamrock Room of the Arlington Hilton Hotel, hosted by the parents of the bride.

Patricia Cunningham of Tulsa, bride's cousin and Monica Hartman of Muenster, a friend of the bride, secured guest signatures in the bride's book.

Music at the reception was provided by pianist Dr. David Bishop, DDS of Allen, Tx. a friend of the bride's family.

The bride's table was elegantly covered with a puffed ivory linen table cloth, accented with scallops of white satin ropes caught up with satin roses, and floor length pleated skirts. The four-tiered ivory wedding cake was decorated with cascades of pink rose buds. For sentiment, the top layer held the bride and groom ornament used thirty years before for the bride's parents' cake. Flanking the cake were composites holding the bridesmaids' flowers. The bridal bouquet was placed at the base of the cake.

The groom's table, with similar covering, held the two tiered Black Forest cake with rum-mocha icing. Coffee, punch and champagne were also served from this table.

Guests were seated at large round tables in the reception room. Centerpieces were floral arrangements of burgundy and pink carnations, babies breath and greenery with burgundy tapers in crystal holders.

Guests attending from out-of-town came from Spring, San Antonio, Denton, Keller, De Soto, Hurst, Fort Worth, Dallas, Muenster and Allen, and College Station Texas; West Monroe, Louisiana; and Tulsa and Edmond, Oklahoma.

Since returning from a wedding trip to Lake Tahoe snow skiing, the couple is at home in Dallas.

Rehearsal Dinner

Following the wedding rehearsal on Dec. 21, the groom's parents hosted dinner for members of the wedding party and spouses at Steak and Ale Restaurant in Arlington.

Among other courtesies for the couple was a cocktail supper on Nov. 23 at the home of Don and Kathy Hartman, hosted by the bridesmaids and attended by family members and close friends.

Her fingertip length veil of illusion net was attached to a lace headband. At the sides of the veil were appliques of embroidered lace flowers, and pearls were scattered around the lower edge.

She carried a cascade of white roses, red and white tiger lilies, and white stephanotis, with touches of red berries, ivy and babies breath. White ribbon streamers were tied with lovers knots. A crystal rosary, gift from the groom, was entwined in the wedding bouquet.

Reception

A reception, hosted by parents of the bride and groom in the Sacred Heart Community Center, followed the church service. It included a catered dinner, central cheese table, open bar and a dance with music by Johnny Reede and the Crystal River Band. Catering was by Rohmers Restaurant.

Lisa Bezner of Lindsay, groom's sister and Stacia Brown of Nocona, a friend of the bride registered guests in the bride's book.

Seated at the bride's table were the wedding party, parents, grandparents and godparents of the couple. Decorations on the bride's table included white net over white cloths, caught in scallops with flower clusters. Floor arrangements were baskets of flowers in the bride's chosen colors. Over the reception area was red net draped from the center of the room to the walls, with a large focal centerpiece suspended from above.

A display table held a number of pictures of the bride and groom, and the bridal portrait was shown on a lighted easel.

The three tiered white wedding cake, made by Betty Rose Walterscheid, was accented with holly leaves, red berries and tiny white lights, over a festive red fountain. Votive candles surrounded the base of the cake.

Assisting with serving wedding cake were Julie and Vanessa Felderhoff, Kristy and Kelly Yosten and Shirley Henscheid.

Distributing rice bags were Emily Felderhoff, James Felderhoff, Keri Felderhoff and Jaclynn Henscheid.

The couple left on a ski trip to Durango, Colorado. Since their return they are at home in Lindsay.

The bride is a 1982 graduate of Sacred Heart High School and is attending the Registered Nurses Program at Cooke County College. She is employed by the Biology Dept. of CCC.

The groom is a 1979 graduate of Lindsay High School and is employed by Peterbilt of Denton.

Pre-nuptial parties for the couple included the rehearsal dinner in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Bezner on Thursday, Dec. 27. An "Around The Clock" shower on Dec. 20 was given by bridesmaids in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Henscheid.

A roundup of area sports happenings

Back in the gym...

Basketball action for area teams heats up again after the Christmas hiatus. January is the busiest month on the schedule and several games are slated Saturday as teams work overtime to catch up.

Muenster began district play Thursday against Slidell and continues with games slated at Forestburg Saturday, 7 p.m., and here against Alvord Tuesday at 5:30 p.m.

Sacred Heart will host Alamo Catholic Friday at 6 p.m., then play host to Liberty Christian Saturday at 1 p.m. Wichita Falls Notre Dame will venture into the Tigers' gym Tuesday for a 6:30 p.m. matchup.

Lindsay will host Era Saturday with play beginning at 5:30 p.m. They will travel to Slidell Tuesday for another district matchup, also beginning at 5:30.

Era, after taking on Lindsay Saturday, will travel out to Forestburg for a 7 p.m. match Tuesday.

Forestburg stays at home to play Muenster Saturday and Era Tuesday.

Callisburg hosts Southlake Carroll Friday in a district contest beginning at 5 p.m., then travels to Aubrey Tuesday for another district matchup slated to get underway at 5 p.m.

Fur upswing seen...

Somewhat higher fur prices may give the sagging Texas fur trade a boost this trapping season.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department Furbearer Program Leader Bruce Thompson said the current trapping season, December and January, promises to bring better profits for trappers, hunters and fur traders than last year's subpar season.

"Prices were down last year, and the harvest also was off as well," Thompson said. "The freezing weather in late December and January probably also reduced the amount of effort for collecting furs."

Thompson said prices for the more popular Texas furbearers such as raccoons, ringtail cats and gray foxes may be higher this year.

For further information about the Texas fur harvest, a free leaflet entitled "Texas Fur Trade" is available on request from the department. The 1984-85 furbearer regulations digest also is available. To obtain either or both publications, write Literature Sections, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, 4200 Smith School Road, Austin, TX 78744.

Cold fishing...

Moss Lake reports water clear, 57 degrees, two feet low; black bass slow to one lb. on minnows; crappie fair; white bass fair; catfish fair to four lbs. on rod and reel with shrimp.

Lake Texoma reports water is murky and 54 degrees, normal level; black bass slow to four lbs. on spinners with metalflake worms; striped fair to 18 lbs. on live bait and trolling hellbenders with trailers; crappie good on minnows and small jigs; white bass fair on Bayou Boogie; catfish good to 35 lbs. on jug and trotline with live bait.

Trophy deer scoring factors considered

If you were fortunate enough to bring in a trophy-sized white-tailed buck deer from your hunting trip this season in Texas, you might wonder how its antlers stack up against the competition.

Measuring and scoring deer antlers can be done only by those who have been schooled in the exacting procedure, according to Horace Gore, white-tailed deer program leader for the Texas

Parks and Wildlife Department. "There are five main factors which have to be considered in scoring a set of antlers," Gore said. "These are inside spread, numbers of points or tines, tine length and beam circumference at the base of the antlers."

Even after these measurements, a complicated set of rules involving symmetry and other factors can weigh heavily on the buck's total score, Gore noted.

The department does not keep records on trophy deer per se. This job is handled by the Boone & Crockett Club, which for more than 30 years has maintained records of the largest big game trophies taken on the North American Continent.

Under Boone & Crockett standards, a whitetail buck must score a minimum 170 points in the typical category and 195 points in non-typical to qualify for the record book. Gore said to qualify for a typical listing the Boone & Crockett record book, a buck would usually have to have at least 10 points with at least 18-inch spread and beams more than four inches in circumference.

"Of the 240,000 bucks taken annually in Texas only two or three would qualify for the B&C record book," Gore added. The largest typical Texas buck in the book was a 15-pointer taken in Dimmit County in 1932. It scored 194 7/8 points, Gore said.

The largest non-typical head was a 49-pointer shot in McCulloch County in 1892, and that rack remained the largest nationally until a recent entry from Missouri bumped it to second place.

While Boone & Crockett heads have been taken from several regions of Texas, the major share of qualifiers has come from the famed brush country of South Texas, Gore said.

Gore stressed body weight is not a factor in B&C competition.

If you have taken an outstanding buck you think might qualify, you may write the Boone & Crockett Club, 205 S. Patrick St., Alexandria, VA 22314, for the location of an official B&C scorer in your area.

IN THANKS

Thanksgiving Novena to St. Jude. Oh Holy St. Jude, Apostle and Martyr great in virtue and rich in miracles. Near kinsman of Jesus Christ. Faithful intercessor of all who invoke your special patronage in time of need. I have recourse to you from the depth of my heart and humbly beg you to whom God has given such great power, to come to my assistance. Help me in my present and urgent petition. In return I promise to make your name known and cause you to be invoked. Say 3 Our Fathers, 3 Hail Marys and Glorias. St. Jude pray for us and all who invoke your aid. Amen. 7-1C1P

No words can express our gratitude to Dr. Juarez and Dr. Antonetti, Father Victor, Bishop Dangelmayr and the entire hospital staff for their care and concern while I was a patient at Muenster Memorial Hospital. The cards, spiritual bouquets and flowers are deeply appreciated, especially the prayers of residents at St. Richard's Villa. Thank you all. Della and Herman Hartman, Tom, Roy, Joe and Don and their spouses. 7-1C1P

County Agent's Report

There are well over five million native pecan trees along Texas rivers and streams. Little wonder the State claims this popular and productive tree as the official State Tree of Texas.

The pecan, whether native or a named variety, is often claimed as a good yard or shade tree. Not only does it provide shade but rewards the grower with desirable nuts as well. The pecan makes a stately shade tree and is comparatively fast growing. It is quick to leaf out in the spring, thus allowing the desired winter sun more than most other tree selections.

Winter is pecan tree planting time. Planting when the tree is dormant and the season cool and moist is important for good livability.

For success in planting pecans, select and buy sound, vigorous trees. The pecan is purchased bare-rooted. Choose trees which are not dried out, and keep the root area moist at all times. If there is a delay in planting, cover the root area with moist rags or with moist soil until planting.

Select a tree 3 to 6 feet in height, above the root line, and prune at least one-third of the top growth away. Cutting the new tree back is often difficult for most gardeners. But, pruning the tree will pay off with faster establishment of roots and faster growth the first critical year after planting.

Locate the pecan planting in well-drained soil and where there is ample sun and growing room away from the competition of neighboring trees.

You should dig the planting area large enough to easily accommodate the tree's root system. Set the tree at the same depth it stood in the nursery row. Replace well-prepared topsoil around the roots, firming it well to eliminate possible air pockets, and water well after planting.

Do not fertilize the tree until it is well established and growing. Usually, it is best for the grower to wait until the second spring or growth season to begin a fertilizer program.

Perhaps the most difficult and the most important item in growing pecans is to choose the proper variety for one's specific area. New varieties which are of better quality and more disease resistant are replacing the older less desirable ones.

Cooke County to be represented

Farm Bureau to convene

Texas Farm Bureau, the largest state Farm Bureau in the nation with 317,575 member families, will send 22 voting delegates and more than 600 county Farm Bureau leaders to the 66th annual meeting of the American Farm Bureau Federation Jan. 7-10 in Honolulu. Several Cooke County members will be among the delegates.

The county Farm Bureau leaders will attend the convention as a result of successfully participating in the two-year Farm Builders Awards Program.

TFB President S.M. True, a Plainview cotton and grain farmer, will lead the Texas voting delegation which includes the current 13-member TFB Board along with several past state Board members. The chairmen of the 13 state commodity advisory committees will serve as alternate voting delegates.

AFBF President Robert Delano will present his annual address during the general session, Jan. 8. Delano's talk will be followed by an address by William D. Ruckelshaus, who served twice as director of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency. He announced his resignation from that post in late 1984.

The Jan. 8 afternoon session will include several conferences — commodity, economic services, natural and environmental resources, insurance, national issues and Farm Bureau women.

The general session will continue on Jan. 9 with a morning address by Navy Capt. Gerald Coffee, a former Vietnam war prisoner. The convention business will conclude on Jan. 10 with voting on the rest of the resolutions and election of AFBF Board members.
