It Doesn't Show in Our Bank Statement

Periodically we issue to the public bank statements which include a listing of all our assets. All? Well, not quite all. We must admit there is one thing we leave out, for it is impossible to figure in dollars and cents. It's our good will, one of the most valuable assets we possess. You'll sense it, the minute you step into the bank. It shows on the faces of our employees and our depositors. It reveals itself in the way we perform our various services.

Funny thing about good will. The more we give out, the more we have left. Come in and get your share.

HOME-CANNED BERRIES TAKE LITTLE SUGAR

Home canned berries play leading roles in the pantry because they contribute vitamins and minerals for health, can be used in many ways, and are easy and inexpensive to can.

Blackberries, blueberries, boysenberries, raspberries, elderberries—can them all and others, too, with little or no sugar. Sugar gives them better flavor and more calories, but has nothing to do with keeping qualities.

Berries are too precious to waste and none will be wasted if you will see to it that every step taken is the right one. First of all, wash, rinse and examine your jars. Be sure to inspect the top edges of those to be sealed with glass top seal or two-piece vacuum seal closures because top seals refuse to work unless tops of the jars are perfect. Cover jars, glass lids, and zinc caps with luke-warm water, heat to boiling and keep hot until needed. Wash and rinse rubbers and vacuum seal lids and drop them in boiling water—they don't need boiling unless you plan to do old-fashioned open kettle canning—then they must be boiled a few minutes to sterilize.

Every berry must be fresh, sound, ripe, and firm. Wash them carefully and then take your choice of canning methods.

Gladys Kimbrough, Home Service Director of Ball Brothers Company, prefers to hot-pack berries. This is how it is done. Place berries in a wide, shallow pan; add one-half cup sugar, or less, for each quart of berries; set the pan over low heat and simmer until the berries heat through and the sugar dissolves (remember you don't have to use any sugar); pour the hot berries into clean, hot jars and process five minutes in hot water-bath canner.

If you prefer cold packing, fill a jar about half full with raw berries, then tap it gently on a folded cloth to shake the berries down. When the jar is filled to within a half-inch of the top, add enough hot syrup to cover the berries. Process 20 minutes in a water-bath canner. Syrup for four quarts of berries may be made by boiling two cups sugar and three cups water or berry juice together until the sugar dissolves. If you are a little short on sugar—and who isn't these days?—try making the syrup of one measure sugar, one measure corn syrup, and one-half measure water or berry juice. This syrup seems rather thick and sweet, but it will become thinner and less sweet after it has been with the berries a few weeks. And if you have no sugar at all, cover the berries with hot berry juice or boiling water; seal or partly seal the jars (follow the manufacturer's instructions) and process 20 minutes in a water-bath canner.

If you want your berries to really star, can them without sugar. Then they can be used as if they were fresh from the patch. The juice can be drained off and used for making jelly. The berries can go into a pie or into jam—a jam turnover tucked in a lunch box will make the noon hour much more pleasant for somebody and surely you need nobody to tell you that jelly and jam are far more delicious when freshly made than at any other time.

Your Health

BY GEO. W. COX, M. D.

AUSTIN, TEXAS.—"Be sure that your preschool child will be ready to go to school in September," Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, urges the parents of all children who will respond to the school bells for the first time next fall. "If you have not already done so, start now to prepare your child for the added strain of school life."

"First and foremost is the need for vaccination against smallpox. Parents and physicians should see that children are vaccinated before they are one year of age; the matter is entirely in the hands of parents and their doctors during the earliest years of life. At school age, however, vaccination becomes absolutely necessary. If your child has not been vaccinated, have it done immediately so that the scar will be completely healed before school opens."

Immunization against diphtheria is also highly desirable, Dr. Cox believes. This disease, which causes serious illness and deaths among young children, can be prevented with toxoid. The child who has never been vaccinated should be given this safeguard against a dreaded disease. Even though he may have been immunized as a baby, doctors and health officers usually recommend an additional dose of toxoid to strengthen immunity before entrance into school.

"In addition, before you send your child to school you are urged to take him to your physician or the nearest clinic for a complete physical examination," Dr. Cox adds. "You will want to know that he is in good physical condition and can compete with the other children on equal terms. If the check-up reveals any weakness or defect there will be time to build up his general health and correct defects before September. Don't let your child start his school life with any avoidable handicap."

A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows, to wit: Suit for divorce stating plaintiff and defendant were duly and legally married in Greenville, S. This is a family war. Put your War Bond buying through the payroll savings plan on a family plan, which means figure it out yourself.

More ELECTRIC POWER FOR Victory

THIS huge turbo-generator, a mighty weapon of war, providing more power for victory, has just been put in operation by Texas Power & Light Company at its Trinidad Generating Station. The effective capacity of this new unit is 30,000 kilowatts, or 40,000 horsepower... enough to supply the power and light needs of a city of 100,000 population.

TEXAS POWER & LIGHT COMPANY Supplies More Electric Power for Victory

THIS new 30,000 kilowatt turbo-generator drives machinery in factories producing weapons of war and industrial materials essential to victory. Its pent-up power and energy adds speed and impetus to America's war effort.

The policy of the Texas Power & Light Company is to be always ready ahead of demand, and when this great power station was built by the Company at Trinidad almost twenty years ago provision was made for adding this tremendous power unit.

Actual construction of this new turbo-generator was begun in 1941, months before Pearl Harbor. Because of this wise planning for the future in providing space for expansion, the huge machine has been installed at maximum speed and with a minimum use of critical materials. And now, without delay or confusion, the TP&L Company's extensive transmission system... interconnected with the transmission systems of Lower Colorado River Authority, Brazos River Transmission Electric Cooperative, Texas Electric Service Company, Southwestern Gas & Electric Company, and several other neighboring companies... is ready to deliver power from this new turbo-generator for use wherever it is needed in Texas, or in the Southwest.

The Trinidad power plant, strategically located with respect to vast reservoirs of natural gas and adjacent reserves of lignite, is now, and has been, operated to provide the basic supply of electricity for a large area. By virtue of its central location, and its nearness to these large fuel reserves, this great generating station is becoming more and more the bulwark of dependability for the users of Electric Power in the Southwest.

Planning for the future, an axiom of Company policy, has prevented there being at any time any power shortage in the 52-county area served by Texas Power & Light Company. The coming of war, with scores of new military installations added, vast expansion by industry for war production, and a greatly increased population, caused an enormous increase in the demand for power and light service. The Company was found ready, meeting every requirement promptly and efficiently with ample power provided ahead of all needs.

The Company has also aided the national war effort by helping meet critical power requirements of the war program in other areas. When drought impaired the Tennessee Valley Authority's power supply in the Southeastern states, this Company, with others, came to the rescue and relieved the power shortage in that area. This Company, cooperating with ten other companies in seven other states, is now providing power for a great war plant in Arkansas which is turning out aluminum for our country's war program.

This fourth powerful unit at Trinidad contributes to the efficiency of America in waging victorious war. It stands as an example of that which has made America great... the system of free enterprise, under which men are permitted to use their talents and venture their time and money in planning and building for the present and in anticipation of future needs. Under this system of American industrial-liberty, the factories and industries of Texas and the entire Nation were able to speedily gear their manpower and resources to meet the wartime emergency and thus enable the United States to become in reality the Arsenal of Democracy.

FEED SITUATION IN COOKE COUNTY

Every farmer in Cooke county should save all of the hay possible as it will be hard to get and will be a high price this fall. Not only all of the cane, millet and sudan planted for hay must be saved but every Johnson grass meadow should be cut and saved.

Due to the drought during July farmers were unable to plant late feed. This should cause every farmer to save every bit of feed possible. Ensilage is one of the best feeds both for beef and dairy cattle. This feed can be put in both trench and picket silos.

We do not know at the present time what the cotton seed meal situation will be but we hope that farmers can trade their cotton seed for meal during the ginning season.

One way to help the feed situation is to plant a large acreage in fall grain, especially wheat. This, oftentimes furnishes a great amount of high protein feed during the winter months. Remember to save all the feed you can as all feed will be high and hard to get.

Miss Shultz To Meet With 4-H Club Girls

DURING EARLY COLONIAL DUTCH HISTORY, SUGAR WAS SO PRECIOUS THAT IT WAS SUSPENDED BY A STOUT CORD FROM THE CEILING AND GUESTS WOULD CHIP OFF JUST ENOUGH TO SWEETEN THEIR BEVERAGE. AFTER DINNER IT WAS LOCKED AWAY.

AFTER AN EXTENSIVE STUDY, THE DEPT. OF ECONOMICS AND SOCIOLOGY OF IOWA STATE COLLEGE REPORTS THAT MARGARINE COMPARES FAVORABLY WITH BUTTER, BOTH IN NUTRITIVE VALUE AND PALATABILITY.

From Here and There

What we need now is not only optimism but also hop-to-it-ism.

It's just when things seem at their worst that you mustn't quit.

There is only one way to be happy and that is to make somebody else so.

We can do anything we want to do if we stick to it long enough.

One of the greatest lessons of life is to learn not to do what one likes, but to like what one does.

Those who deny freedom to others deserve it not themselves; and, under the rule of a just God, cannot long retain it.

Nothing gives one person so much advantage over another as to remain cool and unruffled under all circumstances.

Dentist (as patient opened his purse)—No, no, don't bother to pay me in advance.

Patient—I'm not. I was just counting my money before you give me gas.

Sightsees—Why do you sailors have your trousers so loose at the bottom?

Sailor—That, Madam, is to allow for shrinkage when we are shipwrecked and have to wade ashore.

Joking Customer—How much are your four-dollar shoes?

Smart Salesman—Two dollars a foot.

with JOSEPHINE HUDDLESTON

When it comes to color, Joseph's coat had nothing on the multi-colored patchwork designs created by the case-making clothes moth when it spins the portable case in which it spends practically all its larvae life.

"Prolonged study of the habits of this case-making clothes moth reveals it to be a first class dress-maker, being able to enlarge its case by the insertion of little gores as it becomes plump on our bright sweaters or fine lins.

"Without leaving its case the larva makes a slit halfway down one side and inserts a triangular gore of new material, possibly from little Johnny's red sweater. A similar insertion is made on the opposite side. If the larva is restless and moves from Johnny's red sweater to your yellow one, this gore will be a different color. Still without leaving its case, the larva reverses itself and makes corresponding slits and additions in the other half. The case is lengthened by successive additions to either end."

The case-making clothes moth doesn't actually do its tailoring with needle and thread. But, left where it can nibble on them, it will use threads from your precious woollens for making the cocoon or portable case in which it spends most of its larvae life.

All of which reminds us of some facts about the safe storage properties of cedar chests—and a misconception about "moth-killing."

- 1) Cedar chests do not kill adult moths. However, moths don't like the odor of cedar and it's practically impossible to get them into a cedar chest!
- 2) Moths don't eat fabrics. Instead, it is the moth larvae, or moth children in their early stages, that cause fabric damage.
- It is to prevent even a minimum larvae-grazing period after hatching that cedar chest manufacturers urge that all garments and articles be cleaned or brushed thoroughly and aired before being stored in cedar chests.

Once freed from all eggs or larvae—and placed in a cedar chest before being exposed to egg deposits again—such things are safe! Facts taken from Farmer's Bulletin 1353.

You might as well Confess!

Almost everyone likes a mystery—almost everyone enjoys the thrilling excitement of tracking down a criminal with an ace detective. But some are a little ashamed to admit reading mysteries. Well— you needn't be.

Maybe you didn't know that many college professors, bank presidents, great scientists, captains in industry, even the President of the United States all like their mysteries. In fact, millions of Americans are reading more mysteries today than ever before.

Why? Mainly because these fast-paced, easy reading stories are both relaxing and refreshing. It is for them—and for you—that we are publishing

Ellery Queen's Mystery Magazine

Edited by Ellery Queen, famous detective of the radio, the movies, and best-seller books, it is devoted exclusively to the best in detective crime short-story literature. And we mean literature. The fact that a story owes its plot to crime and detection need not prevent its being well written. Short detective fiction that is well written is not too readily available. But we are finding them—in books, in magazines, in the files of famous authors—and by arrangement with other publishers as well as with authors, we reprint in the approved Reader's Digest manner the best detective fiction to be produced.

Such masters as Dashiell Hammett, Agatha Christie, Stuart Palmer and Ellery

Queen are to be found in it. But stories are selected on their merits, not on authors names. Tough and suave, casual and swift, comic and tragic, they are mingled with refreshing variety and stimulating change of pace. Rare gems, fit for the most critical, delightful to the most naive. You will find the new magazine well printed—sharp and clear, kind to the eyes. You will find the size—same as The Reader's Digest—convenient to hold, to handle, to slip into your pocket. You will find the cover as pleasing to look at as a book jacket. And you will find the contents the most satisfying quarter's worth of good entertainment you have found in many a day. On sale at all good newsstands—25c a copy.
