NOVEMBER 1, 1985

The column this week continues its review of propositions on the ballot for the Texas election on constitutional amendments to be held next Tuesday, November 5. Six propositions were considered here last week. The remaining eight are as follows:

Proposition 7 would allow Chambers County to be divided into two to six justice of the peace precincts. The proposal to increase the number of the county's JPs is based principally on its high caseload in a limited population as many non-residents are involved in the Houston Beaumont area. This is an enabling proposal. If the issue is decided as a constitutional matter it still does not become legal until approved by the county.

Proposition 8 would provide $500 million in additional general obligation bonding authority for the Veterans Land Board to finance more low interest home mortgage loans to veterans. Its purpose is to provide additional funds for a program already established to help veterans finance their housing. Also it specifies veteran eligibility and provides loans for less than 10 percent, substantially under VA and FHA mortgage rates. It is self supporting, all costs being repaid by the veteran's repayment schedule. The program, started in 1984, is popular and can be kept active by proposition 8.

Proposition 9 permits the legislature to provide for the prior approval of the expenditure for emergency or emergency transfer of appropriated funds.

Its purpose is to improve on the state's method execution authority.

Proposition 10 provides for authorizing the Veterans Land Board to issue up to $500 million in general obligation bonds to create the Farm and Ranch finance program to provide financing assistance for purchase of farm and ranch land. The program is to be directed the same as the Veterans Land Board.

Qualified applicants would be able to finance up to $95,000 on purchase of a 50 acre tract to be amortized in 40 years or less at an interest rate of less than 10 percent. Eligibility is limited to US citizens living in Texas at least 5 years and having a net worth of not more than $250,000. Also at least 35% of the purchaser's household gross income for the preceding three years must have come from farm and ranch. And there are other requirements to assure the state's security in making the loans.

Proposition 11 gives the legislature authority to determine the manner which a person is charged in a criminal offense. The purpose of this amendment is principally to simplify the language and procedure in preparing and trying criminal cases.

Proposition 12 would grant to the Texas Supreme Court and the Court of Criminal Appeals jurisdiction to answer questions of state law certified from a federal appellate court. This is a technical provision giving the two courts the jurisdiction to answer questions of state law certified from a federal appellate court. This makes it possible to decide some cases by referring to federal court to interpret matters of state law not completely settled by state courts.

Proposition 13 would create a judicial district board providing for re-apportionment of court districts and providing for administration and jurisdiction of the courts. The amendments involves a number of changes intended to facilitate and modernize operation of the court.

Proposition 14 would provide for abolition of the office of treasurer in Andrews County and transfer of duties to the county auditor. County offices have been abolished in several other counties and Andrews County is seeking

Planning for parade in full swing

Muenster is going "all out" this year to usher in the Christmas season with special features added to its annual Christmas parade on Saturday, Nov. 30.

In addition to the Mini Parade at 11 a.m. for children 8 years old and younger, and the main parade at 1 p.m. with attractive prizes, trophies and cash awards, entertainment for the day will be highlighted by a program presented by the Cooke County Chorale directed by Glenn Wilson.

This outstanding group, noted for its talented performers and superb direction, will sing Christmas carols and other selections on a stage in the Mid Park, following the parade.

There will also be a program by "94 1/2 Lucky Country".

The sponsors have already received several registrations for floats in the parade and are appealing for many more floats and more bands, asking that notification be sent to Ben Bindel, parade chairman, soon, to facilitate scheduling. Information may be obtained by calling 759-4512 or 4578 or 2227.

Santa Claus, of course will ride in the parade as the major attraction and later will meet little children at the Mid Park which will be decorated with the support of the Jaycees and Chamber of Commerce. Homes and especially businesses are encouraged to have their lighting and decorations up by Nov. 30.

Light vote expected

Voters of Muenster will join those from all over the state next Tuesday, Nov. 5 in deciding whether to add any or all of 14 amendments to the state constitution.

Balloting will be in the customary places. The North box will be in the Knights of Columbus Hall with Christi Klement as the election judge and Mary Lee Henigan, Mary Bayer, Leona Pick and Annette Anderle as assistants.

The South box will be in the VFW Hall with Janet Fisher as the election judge and Laujuana Klement as the assistant.

Both polling places will be open from 7 to 7.

According to the last election count, North Muenster has 1248 qualified voters and South Muenster has 229, a total of 1677. Ac-ording to the statewide customs of a poor turnout at amendment elections, the total number of votes is expected to be below 800. Nevertheless, it's hoped that the turnout will be a credit to the city.

Kolonialwaren to have open house

Friends of Muenster, and everywhere, are invited to an open house showing the remodeled and enlarged Kolonialwaren und Bakerei owned and operated by Charles and Carolyn Bayer. It's a two day event, Friday and Saturday, Nov. 1 and 2, and includes the showing of store and its stock of foods, the bakery and its operation and display of products, and special attractions such as sale items and drawings. The giveaways include 6 tickets to a Cowboy game and gift certificates.

The business was started as a convenience store by Ray Swirczynski on April 11, 1964, and was enlarged a few years later to provide storage and an office. The Bayers became the owners-operators in July 1978 and continued the improvement program. They converted a part of a store into a cooler and also started their bakery in 1980. A year later they enlarged the bakery providing space to make a greater variety of baked goods.

They continued with those facilities until this year when they made more improvements and additions. They increased the size about 30 percent by adding a 75 x 16 feet space to the former 75 x 35 structure.

Other exterior changes include moving the entrance from north to east to shut out winter wind, and replacing the former door with a bay window. Also they changed the wall design and installed a mansard roof trim presenting a traditional German look. And they installed a drive-in window at the west side.

The added space was divided between store and bakery, each now using about half of the total space. The store is arranged for shopping convenience with shelves at eye level.

Kiwanis hear Main Street presentation

Muenster Kiwanis members received a short briefing on the Texas "Main Street" program at their noon luncheon meeting Wednesday. Kate Singleton, Main Street project director from Grapevine presented a slide show and talked about the program in Waxahachie and Grapevine. The program usually includes facilities and improvements in the business district, economic incentives and retail promotion. This combination state and local effort has resulted in 93 million dollars of reinvestment in Texas so far. Mrs. Singleton recommended further promotional efforts in Muenster to take advantage of the increasing flow of discretionary income from the metroplex. "Tourism, she said, has become the number two industry in Texas."

Good News!

From this time on, many of his disciples broke away and would not remain in his company any longer. Jesus then said to the Twelve, "Do you want to leave me too?" Simon Peter answered him, "Lord, to whom shall we go? You have the words of eternal life. We have come to believe; we are convinced that you are God's holy one. John 6: 66-69

Sen. Stenholm wants competitive bids

Congressman Charles Stenholm has introduced legislation which would lead to competitive bidding for government contract projects and result in considerable savings for the federal budget.

The Contract Savings Act, H.R. 3357, was recently introduced by Congressman Stenholm and Congressman Bob Smith (R-Oregon). The bill would subject the performance of many non-national security activities -- currently handled in-house by the federal government -- to competitive bidding between government agencies and the private sector.

Under the act, the Office of Federal Procurement Policy would be required to use "fair and equal" cost comparisons between the government's performance of commercial activities and the private sector's cost for doing the same work. Contracts for such activities as construction projects and food services would be awarded to the lowest bidder. Congressional Budget Office estimates show that if the legislation were adopted, the government could save up to $1.1 billion a year.

"Competitive bidding is one of the basic ideals of American free enterprise," said Congressman Stenholm. "Free and open competition improves the products and services while keeping costs down. The pressure of a competitive market also gives vitality to those who can make a better product, or can cut costs of that product, and weed out those who cannot."

"This needed legislation would benefit the taxpayer, the small business sector and the government," the Stamford farmer-lawmaker said. "This is a concept that the federal government should have been using long ago."

Congressman Stenholm said this is the kind of legislation America will need in efforts to cut the national debt and trade deficit. He noted his bill would lead to substantial savings without cutting government services or quality.

City starts plan for Sesquicentennial

Mayor Richard Grewing gave his formal approval last Monday for the Park Board to pursue a Sesquicentennial Project for Muenster.

In the hope of promoting community-wide participation in beautification of the town, the Park Board looks toward the Texas Sesquicentennial, also an-anticipating Muenster's own Centennial less than 37 months away.

Therefore a town meeting has been called for Wednesday, Nov. 13 at 7:30 p.m. at City Hall, as an open invitation to the public to share ideas and thoughts on the project. Each organization in Muenster is urged to send a representative. Details will be announced in next week's paper.

Halloween dos and don'ts

The Texas Department of Health suggests the following precautions to be taken in behalf of trick-or-treat children.

First, children should not eat any treats before bringing them home for examination by an adult.

Costumes should be made of brightly colored, fire-resistant material. If a costume is dark, however, it should have some fluorescent or reflective tape on it. Masks should allow clear vision, and hats should be securely attached, he said.

An adult or older child should always go with small children and should carry a flashlight to light the way and to make the children more visible to motorists.

The children should not enter the home of anyone they do not know, and they should stop only at homes with outside lighting.

Children should stay out of the street, and never run between parked cars. They should not run through yards, or even on sidewalks. All too often, hard-to-see objects are lying in the grass, and slick surfaces can be invisible in poor lighting, Sowards said.

Tips are offered also for homeowners who expect trick-or-treaters.

"They should turn on a porchlight, or other outside light, and be sure the lawn is cleared of any objects a trick-or-treater could trip over. And they should keep jack-o-lanterns and candles away from doorsteps and curtains to prevent igniting a costume, or even the house itself," Sowards said.

CCC invites public to free show on Haley's Comet

Cooke County College will help local and area residents get the most out of a real "once in a lifetime" opportunity beginning November 6 (Wednesday).

On that day will be the first showing of "A Comet Called Haley," a special program to be presented in the CCC Planetarium on campus. It is open to the general public at no charge.

"I suppose that by now just about everyone is aware that Haley's Comet is coming," says Ron Bost, CCC chemistry professor and astronomy instructor who directs the planetarium programs. "What most people don't know is where to look for it."

"Since this most famous of comets hasn't been seen by the unaided eye since 1910 and won't be seen again for another generation, its scheduled reappearance in the coming year truly represents a once in a lifetime event for most of us."

Bost adds that unique presence of a planetarium at CCC offers local and area residents a special opportunity to learn about this famous fiery light in the heavens, to know when and where to look for it and even to find out how it has shaped the course of history.

"We'll be doing this program each Wednesday night through mid-December, depending on interest and turnout," Bost says, "and then we'll start it up again after the first of the year. Again, there is no admission charge, and we encourage all interested persons to come out."

He points out, however, that seating in the planetarium is limited to about 50 persons, and for that reason it will be necessary to make reservations. These reservations can be made by calling the CCC Division of Continuing Education at 817/668-7731, Ext. 223.

This is also the number to call to arrange for special group reservations, which should be scheduled at least two weeks in advance.

"Through the ages, comets were believed to be harbingers of doom and were blamed as the cause of floods, plagues and disasters," Bost says. "It will be interesting to see if modern superstitions still surround the return of Haley's Comet in late 1985 and early 1986."

Bost explains that the comet will be barely visible to the naked eye in December 1985 - low in the southwest, below the Great Square of Pegasus. It will be visible by telescope from the fall of 1985 through June 1986 and will best be seen in the southern hemisphere.

"Haley's Comet will be much dimmer to us in 1985-86 than it did in its last appearance 75 years ago because it will pass the earth at a greater distance," he says. "Still we will be able to see it, and we'll be keeping everyone posted on the best times to view it in this area."

Two die in car crash

Two Hispanic teenagers were killed and another was injured in an automobile accident early Sunday on FM 373 about 4.5 miles north of Muenster.

As reported by EMS, two of the young men aged 19 and one aged 16 were in the car which went out of control in making a curve at high speed and plunged into a tree in a creek bed, tearing the car into two pieces. The wreck, discovered about 7 a.m. is believed to have happened about five hours earlier.

Justice of the Peace Dorothy Smith said all three were Hispanics in the country without visas. The two older men were pronounced dead at the scene. The other was able to walk away and was taken to Muenster Memorial Hospital with minor lacerations and bruises. He was dismissed the next day.

OF THE MOST IMPORTANT 'ORDER FORMS' YOU USE

When you plug in an electric appliance or flip a light switch, you're making a buyer's decision to purchase electricity. When the bill arrives and you see you bought more than intended, it's too late to do anything about it. A problem with higher-than-expected usage is that electricity is so convenient to use. It's such a major part of life...we forget the costs attached to the services electricity provides.

The first step toward efficient energy use is to be aware of your usage habits. For more information, contact the Member Services Department. Electricity is a wonderful bargain, but we don't think you should buy more than you need.

approval to do likewise. It is an enabling amendment. If approved it is still subject to a vote of the county.

All of these amendments will be before Texas voters next Tuesday. Several are vital to all of the state's welfare and are likely to get strong support. Others concern certain areas or certain segments of the population and attract less interest. However all deserve serious study to determine which are improvements to the constitution.

RICHARD F. WILLIAMSON

STATE REPRESENTATIVE - DISTRICT NO. 63

On Tuesday, November 5, 1985, you will have the opportunity to solve a major problem to the State of Texas - WATER DEVELOPMENT. It is, I think, your responsibility to think about this issue, go to the polling place and vote. And I urge you to vote FOR Proposition 1 and 2. What do these amendments mean?

1. There is no increase in state tax to finance these amendments.
2. There will be no authority granted to transfer water between regions.
3. There will be provisions to allow local government to sell bonds for water projects utilizing the low bonding cost of the State.

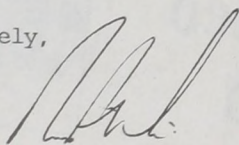

In the spring of 1984 I promised you that I would work to create a good statewide water plan because you then recognized the necessity of solving our water development problems statewide. The plan is now before you for your vote. The problems connected with water development will not go away if we fail to pass Proposition 1 and Proposition 2.

This is a good plan - it does not favor one region over another. It will create a mechanism for local government to build water treatment and transportation facilities at the lowest possible cost. It was well thought out, discussed and debated in the Legislature. It is strongly supported by both major political parties. There is virtually no opposition to this package.

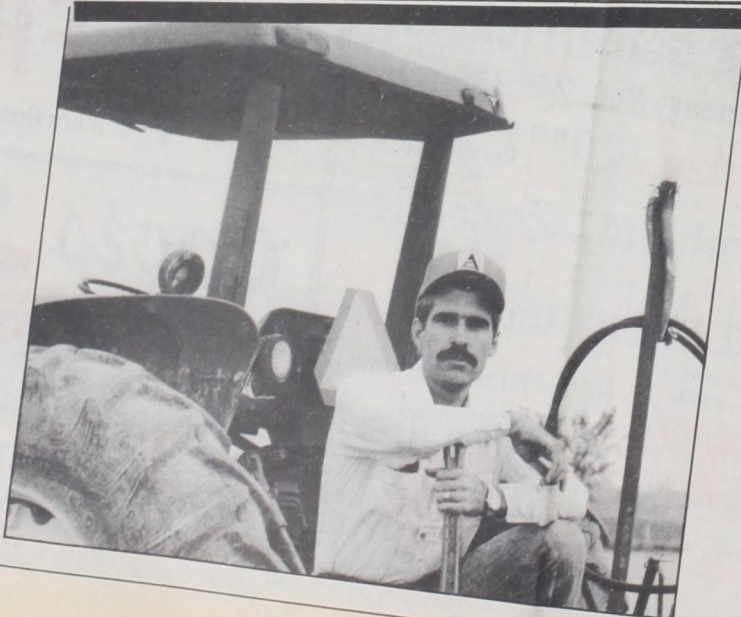

Why then worry about the outcome? I worry that too many of us will have something else to do on voting day. This may be the last chance we will have to vote for a good plan that helps Cooke County without favoring the large cities.

Please, go vote on November 5, 1985 and vote FOR Proposition 1 Proposition 2. The future of our State is in your hands.

Sincerely,

Richard F. Williamson
STATE REPRESENTATIVE
District 63

By the way, I paid for this ad. None of your tax money is used to promote this message. That's how important I think it is to you and the future of Texas.

Hartman, Le Brasseur wed

In a late afternoon candlelight wedding ceremony with Nuptial Mass Saturday, Oct. 26 in Sacred Heart Church, Monica Rose Hartman became the bride of Jonathan Paul Le Brasseur. Father Victor Gillespie OSB officiated at 5 p.m. The bride's great-uncle Bishop Augustine Dangelmayr attended in the sanctuary and gave the general blessing.

The bride is the daughter of Joan and Alvin Hartman of Muenster. The groom is the son of Fern and Clayton Le Brasseur of Wells, Michigan.

Presented at the altar by her father, Monica was wearing a white Peau-ganza gown designed with fitted bodice trimmed in beaded silk Venise lace, with a scoop neckline complimented with full short puff sleeves adorned with silk Venise flowers. The softly gathered skirt, featuring a picked-up-hem, was completely encircled with layers of self-fabric ruffles, and swept into a semi-cathedral train. Her chapel length veil was finished with a hand-rolled hem and sprinkled with re-embroidered motifs. It was attached to a headpiece of Alencon lace and bridal pearls.

She carried a cascading arrangement of white silk orchids, stephanotis, valley lilies, forget-me-nots, miniature tulips and freesia on a French lace doily, with a sterling silver rosary entwined. The treasured rosary, carried by the bride's mother on her wedding day was brought from Germany by the bride's great-grandmother, Mrs. Joseph Dangelmayr and belongs to Mrs. Tony Felderhoff who carried it on her golden wedding anniversary. She also carried a wedding handkerchief made by her maternal grandmother, and borrowed a gold ring from her paternal grandmother, Mrs. Victor Hartman, which belonged to the late Mrs. John Bayer.

In keeping with tradition she wore a single strand of pearls borrowed from the groom's mother, and a blue satin and lace garter made by a family friend, Mrs. Elitha Endres. Both the bride and the groom carried birthdate pennies, a gift from the Victor Hartmans.

Preceding the ceremony the bride presented long stemmed red roses to her mother, and to the groom's mother as she left the altar.

Attendants

Laurie Walterscheid of Dallas, bride's cousin was maid of honor. Rhonda Hartman and Sharlene Hartman, bride's sisters-in-law, were bridesmaids, all identically gowned in red organza, with fitted bodice, scoop neckline and sheer organza pouff sleeves. The skirt was full and trimmed with flounced apron effect. They carried white gladioli with greenery.

Holly Hartman, bride's niece was flower girl wearing a white taffeta dress with red sash, in a design similar to the bride. She carried a white wicker basket of red and white carnations, daisies, and forget-me-nots. All wedding flowers were designed and created by Sharlene Hartman. Andrea Le Brasseur, groom's niece, carried the Unity candle in the wedding procession.

Dick Le Brasseur of Middleton, Conn. was his brother's best man, and Kenny Hartman and Bobby Hartman, bride's brothers were groomsmen. Chris Pagel was the ring bearer.

Rick Le Brasseur, groom's nephew, Joe Hoedebeck, Mel Walterscheid, Neil Hesse and Kirk Mollenkopf, friends of the groom were ushers.

Wedding music was presented by the bride's aunt Ruth Felderhoff who played the electronic piano; and vocalists bride's cousins Christy, Ann, Jenny and Rose Felderhoff who sang "Edelweiss" and "Morning Has Broken".

Christy Felderhoff and Wendell Black sang "Colour My World", "Wedding Song", "One Hand, One Heart", "Let It Be Me", "Wind Beneath My Wings" and "Beginning Today".

Wedding liturgy included readings by Susan Walterscheid, Eddie Stock, friends and Danny Walterscheid, a cousin, and Offertory petitions by Sandra Walterscheid, a friend.

Stephen Schmitt, bride's cousin and Bret Walterscheid a friend of the groom were Mass servers. John Yosten, Joe Felderhoff, David Tompkins and Georgia Wolf, all relatives of the bride, were Eucharistic ministers.

Following recitation of wedding vows, the couple lit their Unity candle, which was made by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Tony Felderhoff.

Altar decorations included a background of lighted candles in pyramid design on the high altar with two matched arrangements of white gladioli and white spider mums. Tall floor candelabra with lighted candles, entwined with greenery and white ribbon, were in the altar space. White satin bows with clusters of red roses marked family pews in the center aisle.

The couple presented red roses at the Blessed Virgin's altar and lighted candles, concluding the ceremony.

Reception

A reception, catered dinner and dance followed in the Sacred Heart Community Center, hosted by parents of the couple. Securing signatures of guests in the bride's book were friends of the bride, Carolyn Powell of Arlington and Sally Ferguson of Whitesboro, at a table covered with a lace and net cloth over white, handmade by Mrs. Tony Felderhoff. The couple's picture and unity candle were displayed with the bride's book.

A wall decoration behind the bride's table was a simulated window with Austrian pouf curtains, a heart design and three white hanging baskets of red and white flowers, with two floor baskets of matching flowers.

The bride's table held a silk arrangement of white and red flowers, crystal and silver candle holders with lighted votive candles. Special crystal glasses for the couple's champagne toast were gifts from the bride's parents.

The cake table was covered with a white linen and tatted lace tablecloth, and held the white, three-tiered wedding cake, the German chocolate groom's cake and an arrangement of red roses. Cutting the cakes were Carolyn Powell a friend, and Mary Felderhoff, a cousin. Serving were Paula Yosten, Amy Walterscheid, Jeanna Hartman, Vicki and Debbie Schmitt, cousins of the bride. Christy Yosten distributed rice bags which were made by Donna Lester and Julia Fleitman at a bridal shower.

Guest table decorations carried out the couple's chosen colors of red and white, with red heart centerpieces designed and made by Chris Pagel. Also hurricane globes, lighted red candles, English ivy and circles of silk flowers on white cloths. Childhood pictures of Monica and Jon were displayed on a special table covered with a linen cloth that belongs to the Grandparents Hartman, and was their wedding gift from Victor's father, George Hartman.

A dance concluded the festivities. The bride is a graduate of Sacred Heart High and Grayson County College of Sherman. She is a certified dental assistant for Dr. Gerald Graham.

The groom graduated from Big Bay de Noc High School in Nahma, Michigan. He received his BA in Secondary Education and BS in Sports and Recreation Management from Lake Superior State College of Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan, and a ME in Secondary Education from North Texas State University. He is employed at Sacred Heart High School in Muenster as coach and athletic director.

When they return from a Caribbean cruise, Epcot Center and Walt Disney World, they will live in Muenster in their recently purchased new home. A special house blessing by Father Victor Gillespie was held Sunday, Oct. 20 following the rehearsal dinner hosted by the groom's parents for the wedding party, parents and grandparents.

A classmate - bachelorette party was held on Friday, Oct. 18 to honor Monica Hartman, in the home of Rhonda Hartman, assisted by Sharlene Hartman, Laurie Walterscheid and Sally Ferguson. Guests presented a personal shower. Special guests were Mrs. Eddie Stock of Dallas, Mrs. Sylvan Walterscheid and the bride's mother.

A miscellaneous shower on Sunday, Oct. 20 was held in the bride-elect's future home, giving aunts, cousins and grandmothers a view of the new home. Guests made quilt squares embroidered with their names, to gift the honoree. Special guests were mothers of the couple, Mrs. Clayton Le Brasseur and Mrs. Alvin Hartman, and grandmothers Mrs. Victor Hartman and Mrs. Tony Felderhoff. Refreshments included cake, punch and nuts.

Kind words like theirs make it all worth my effort. The appreciation and "thank you" that come my way are about the only compensation I get for doing this.

COMMENT:

After reading my comments in last week's column about the condition of these county roads, a lady called me up about it. She said, "If you want to know where your commissioner is working - go take a look at the road he lives on. It is so nice, smooth, graveled well and with all the brush trimmed back out of the bardiatches." So to be sure--this writer and my partner drove down this road and "shore-nuff" it is just like the lady described it to me. Now that is taking care of Number 1 and close relatives first. It sure has somewhat of an aroma about it - doesn't it?

Why is it that when a person runs for an elected office they go out and make all sorts of promises - then as soon as they are elected they forget all about their promises.

Now that I have seen where the present commissioner has had his crew working it surely should not have taken 10 months to fix this particular road. However, no one sees the road crew working anywhere else. How come?

Muenster Hornets nip Era Hornets 20-6

With a 20-6 win over Era's Hornets last week, the MHS Hornets remained very much in contention for the North Zone District 4-A title. They have a loop record of 3-0 whereas Valley View, with two games remaining on schedule, stands at 2-0.

Action this week will have Valley View facing the revived Lindsay Knights and Era facing Collinsville while Muenster has an open date. The day of decision for MHS will come next week when it meets Valley View in the season finale.

Starting last week's contest the visitors held a slim advantage of three first downs to one as possession changed four times and three fourth down efforts were decided by inches, each side winning once and Era losing once.

The turning point came on the first play of the second period when Stuart Hess recovered a fumble on Era's 40. From then MHS scored in 6 plays. Key plays on the way were 10 by Eldred, 19 by Bynum on a fourth down effort, and the 13 yard TD by Eldred. The PAT failed. Score was 6-0 at 9:26.

Next drive started with Era's punt ending first series. Hennigan returned to Muenster's 48 and a clip penalty moved the ball back to the 33, where MHS faced 67 to the goal. Ten runs by Flusche and Eldred, including 18 by Flusche and 8 yards of penalty gained to the 7 where Klement connected with Burnette for the second TD. Going for a 2 point PAT, Klement hit Eldred in the end zone and MHS led 14-0 at 3:25 before intermission.

That was enough time for the black and white clad Hornets to get back in the game. After kickoff Era punted on first series, Muenster on second, and Era was 55 yards away. A penalty and a 13 yard run by Ford gained to the 40 where the visitors got the benefit of a timely break. A pass interception by Hennigan was nullified by a roughing the passer penalty and the visitors were moved to the 35. Two plays later Quarterback Moore connected with Ford in the end zone for 6 points. A 2 point PAT effort failed. MHS led 14-6 at 43 seconds before intermission.

Those few seconds were marked by two interceptions, Burnette snaring it for Muenster.

Third period started with a Muenster drive which ran out of steam at the 22 and called for a field goal effort. But failure to connect on the snap back ended with a loss to the 37.

Next came a pair of exchanges. Era punted on 1st series, Muenster fumbled on first, and the exchanges continued until about midway into the fourth when Muenster got started with 60 to go. Nine plays made the distance and Bynum's 24 yarder was the key play. Cheaney went over from the 2. The PAT missed. MHS led 20-6 with 2:22 on the clock.

Two plays featured the remaining time. Era recovered a fumble. Damian Hellman intercepted for Muenster.

Muenster juniors lose at Era

Muenster Junior High lost in two ways at Era last week. They were at the short end of a 20-7 score and they lost one of their top runners, James Hennigan, for the rest of the season with a shoulder fracture. Besides, they lost their former season record, dropping from 5-0 to 5-1.

However, they had a good first period with a 55 yard drive ending with Boydston's 15 yard romp and a PAT kick also by Boydston.

Again in the next period they moved well but failed to finish the job. They drove from near mid-field and dropped a possible scoring pass in the end zone. Era did better, ending a drive with a 20 yard sweep but missing the PAT. Muenster led 7 to 6 at the half.

Next quarter was a scoreless defensive standoff.

On the fourth period Era took the lead with a 25 yard sweep and added a 2 point PAT.

Muenster's effort to recover by passing backfired. With some two minutes remaining Era intercepted and returned 35 yards for a spare TD.

KC Oilers extend record

The KC Oilers, fifth and sixth graders sponsored by the Muenster Jaycees, picked up two more wins last week boosting their record to 6-1 and facing only one more game this season. They are coached by Cliff Sicking and Larry Gobble.

The championship game of the season is booked for Saturday, Nov. 2 with First State Bank at the Boys' Club field. Starting time is noon.

They started the week Tuesday with a 16-8 count over Olney Savings and rolled over CBJ Tire next for a 34-6 win.

Playing Olney Savings Mike Gobble put first 6 on the board on a 50 yard break-away and Ryan Sicking ran over for 2 more.

In the third period the Oilers drove 35 yards and Gobble scored from the 5, and Ryan Sicking's run added 2 points.

Olney scored in the fourth on a short run and carried over for 2 making the final score 16-8.

Oiler standouts on offense along with the scorers were Darren Klement, Steve Nasche and Jeremy Jones. On defense they were Gary Hess, Tony Perryman, Larry Switzer and Bill Parks.

Next it was CBJ Tire with Oilers going strong again. They started with Gobble's TD, then Rex Huchton's score followed by Koelzer's 2 point PAT. Next Gobble raced 43 yards for 6 points and Ryan Sicking added 2. They led 22-0 at the half.

Early in the third Sicking's pass to Nasche was good for a TD and the score was 28-0. CBJ was next on the board with its only score of the game.

And finally, a 40 yard gain set up the ball for Sicking's score and the final count of 34-6.

Outstanding for the Oilers Chad Cheaney, Larry Switzer, Bill Parks, Chris Hess and Helmuth Koelzer.

Two blocked punts by Weber Aircraft resulted in the Muenster boys' only loss. The measure of defeat was 12-0. Nevertheless the team did a good job, especially Mike Gobble, Tony Perryman, Ryan Sicking, Gary Hess, Rex Huchton, Bill Parks, Larry Switzer, Jason Biffle and Chris Hess.

Cubs over Cistercian

The Cubs provided the good news for Sacred Heart at Irving last week by edging the Cistercian kids 14-6. The win compensated to some extent for the 40-21 loss that awaited the Tigers later in their contest with the Cistercian Hawks.

The action started early as SH drove to the 3 and fumbled and then earned 2 on the next play when Josh McCoy got a safety. Later in the period the junior Hawks went ahead with a 64 yard drive featuring big gains of 30 and 11.

And promptly after that a pass from Steve Koelzer to Pete Abbot gained a 57 yard TD putting the Cubs back in the lead 8-6.

The remainder of the game had the Cubs gaining to the Cistercian 11 and the 4 but failing to score. However, near the end they got a big break when Koelzer intercepted a Hawk pass and rambled 18 yards to the goal.

Hawks over Tigers 40-21

With both teams at full strength Sacred Heart and Cistercian were near even in their first half at Irving last week. The Hawks led 23-21 at intermission.

It was different after that and the game ended 40-21. Kevin Switzer and Mike Adair were out with injuries. But Matt Walter, Mister Super of the Hawks was still there, completing 350 yards and four touchdowns in passes. Even in losing Sacred Heart was proud of Matt. He's the kinfolk, a son of former SH student, Rodney Walter, grandson of the Oscar Walters.

The Tigers got off to a good start with a punt on second series setting Cistercian back to its 20. Returning the Hawk's punt on next series they reached the 10 but were penalized back to midfield for clipping.

From there Wayne Becker gained 18 and Switzer swept left end for the remaining 32. Switzer's PAT made it 7-0.

After kickoff the Hawks advanced 22 to the 32 and fumbled, Bartel recovering for SH on the Hawks 37. Taylor's pass to Voth gained 26 and his quarterback sneak finished the distance. The PAT was blocked. Tigers led 13-0 at 2:45 in the first. Hawks went 64 yards on Walter's pass to Stanzel. Becker stopped an apparent score by halting the play at the 17. Shortly after Cistercian settled for 3 on a 17 yard field goal.

After next kickoff Tigers were 74 yards away and made it in 8 plays, the big one being a pass for 25, Taylor to Voth. And Taylor's pass to Adair raised the count by 2. That ended the scoring for SH with a lead of 21-3 at 9:07.

And that's when Cistercian got organized. It returned the kickoff 92 yards to a TD but was penalized back to its 24 for clipping. Eleven plays did the job and included Walter's 22 yard run and a 19 yard pass. A kick for extra point was good.

Next the Tigers were intercepted on second series, one of their five turnovers, and the Hawks were 63 yards away. On second play from there Walter's pass went 52 yards to pay dirt. The PAT missed leaving the score at 21-16 at 2:39.

The next TD needed only seconds. Tigers fumbled on first play after kickoff. Hawks recovered on the 26, and Walter sailed in from there. A kick made it 23-21.

Starting the second half the Hawks kicked on second series and the Tigers gained 24 before stalling on the Cistercian 24. Five plays from there to the end zone included a 32 yard run by Lopez and a 32 yard touchdown pass by Walter.

On first series after kickoff the Hawks intercepted and were 25 yards away. Three tries gained 10 and the second series stalled after which Alvarez booted a 23 yard field goal.

Starting the fourth period Cistercian intercepted at midfield and returned 25 to the SH 25. Three plays later Taylor intercepted for the Tigers on the SH 23. The next two series gained 22 and the third failed, forcing a punt. That put the Hawks back to their 24 where Walter passed to Stanzel for 76 and the final TD. PAT was good. Score was 40-21.

Knights crush Pirates 41-0

Lindsay High had a happy homecoming last week when its Knights broke out of their slump and rolled over Collinsville's Pirates 41-0.

Coach Grady Roller said that the reason for their improvement is partly the previous open week enabling some injuries to heal, and especially getting things together like old times. Blocking and timing were definitely better and defense was solid.

The win was the first in six weeks and gives Lindsay a 1-1 standing in the zone race of District

4-A with a chance to remain in contention when meeting Valley View's Eagles this week. Roller regards last week's win as a morale builder for the Eagle game.

The Knights in their tussle with the Pirates failed to get going in the first quarter, but they took charge in the second. Metzler was first to the end zone with an 8 yard sprint capping a 32 yard drive. Wayne Fleitman kicked the extra point upping the score to 7-0 at 9:28.

Near the end of the same quarter Metzler did it again. He made the last yard in a 62 yard drive. A blocked PAT left the count at 13-0.

Frank Sandmann blocked two punts in the third period, and the team cashed in on both. The first score started 43 yards away, used eight plays, and Rick Sandmann went in from the 2.

With 1:52 remaining in the period Metzler intercepted, giving Carpenter his opportunity for a 10 yard dash to the line. A 2 point PAT by Weems raised the score to 27-0.

Fangman's next punt block gave the Knights a set up on the 18 yard line. Metzler took it in from the 1 and followed up with the kick for an extra point.

Finally, the scoring ended with only 1:09 remaining on the clock. Sandmann passed to Klement for 10 yards and a TD and Metzler added a point.

County Agent's Report

by Craig Rosenbaum

For the past several years you have been hearing about two new TAM wheat varieties for Texas. These are 'TAM 107' and 'TAM 108'. Most research data seems to point to their use in the Western High Plains of Texas and not in our area. TAM 107 and 108 were developed by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the initial testing was done at Bushland, Tx in the late 70's. Many Cooke County producers remember Dr. J.H. Gardenhire, former professor and plant breeder at the Experiment Station at Dallas. He, along with other researchers at Bushland, Amarillo, and Vernon, had a great bit to do with the development of these two new short wheats.

three-year average in the North Central Texas Area which included Dallas, Temple, and McGregor, Texas Experiment Stations. TAM 107 and 108 are compared to wheats that have normally been grown in the North Central Texas Area.

Variety	Three Year Average
TAM 107	46.0
TAM 108	42.7
TAM 105	36.7
TAM W-101	37.3
Sturdy	40.4
Vona	39.4
Payne	41.3
Mit	48.8

TAM 107 is a result of a cross between 'TAM 105' and the biotype C greenbug resistant line 'Amigo'. TAM 107 is an early maturing, awned, short statured, hard red winter wheat. It is resistant to powdery mildew and biotype C greenbugs. It is partially resistant to stem rust but is susceptible to leaf rust.

Researchers with the Experiment Station who have worked in the development of these new wheats recommend that both TAM 107 and 108 are adapted to the western region of Texas where leaf rust is not a major problem. They also go on to say that both varieties have test weights lower than most varieties currently being produced commercially in Texas. For this reason, the TAM 108 variety should be grown under irrigation or on dry land in areas with relatively high rainfall.

TAM 108 was selected from a 'Sturdy', 'Triumph', 'Senturk' Cross. It is resistant to soilborne mosaic virus and powdery mildew. It is partially resistant to stem rust and it, too, is susceptible to leaf rust.

Producers in Cooke County have a great many varieties that are proven for our area. It would appear that both of these varieties hold little future in plantings for our county.

Farm Bureau urges support of 1, 2, 10

Propositions 1, 2 and 10 especially merit approval by voters on the Nov. 5 ballot, according to Leonard Hartman, president of the Cooke County Farm Bureau.

The first two deal with helping assure adequate water for future domestic, industrial and agricultural use, the local farm leader said. Proposition 10 would assist farmers and ranchers in the purchase of land, he said.

Hartman pointed out that neither the water projects nor the land-purchase program will require use of tax money for financing.

Proposition 1 authorizes the issuance of an additional $980 million of Texas water development bonds to create special water funds for water conservation, water development, water quality enhancement, flood control, drainage, subsidence control, recharge, chloride control, agricultural soil and water conservation and desalination.

Proposition 2 authorizes the issuance and sale of $200 million of Texas agricultural water conservation bonds. Proceeds from the sale of these bonds would be deposited in an agricultural water conservation fund for use by the Texas Water Development Board in funding programs adopted by the Legislature.

Fire can improve rangeland

Editor's note: This article is one in a series of news releases announcing the availability of several fact sheets about rangeland management. The sheets, published by the USDA Soil Conservation Service, are free to livestock producers.

homes, or other places where smoke would be a hazard.

How to use fire to improve rangeland during the dormant season is the subject covered by a new fact sheet, "Prescribed Burning," recently released by the USDA Soil Conservation Service.

"A fire plan should always be worked up before the practice is carried out," Svacina warned. "The plan should consider the amount of available fuel, desired weather conditions, preferred wind velocities, direction to burn, and the location of improvements that could pose hazards."

Ray Svacina, district conservationist for SCS at Gainesville, said the leaflet summarizes how producers are using the practice in some parts of the Southwest to suppress undesirable plants.

Svacina said fuel to carry the burn is dormant grass or other vegetation that will burn during the winter.

"Prescribed burning is a relatively new technique being used to improve rangeland," Svacina said. "Lightning and the Indians burned the prairies and forests of the Southwest for centuries. The big difference is that the Indians did not fence a herd of livestock on the areas that were burned."

Soil Conservation Service personnel assisting local conservation districts can help livestock producers plan prescribed burns.

Generally, prescribed burning is applied during the dormant season.

Single copies of "Prescribed Burning" are available free from the SCS office at Gainesville.

"Prescribed burning should be done when the humidity is from 20 to 60 percent, when wind speeds are between 6 and 15 miles per hour, and when the temperature is from 45 degrees to 70 degrees Fahrenheit," Svacina said. "Burns should be directed away from highways, populated areas,
