School starts September 2 at Muenster Public School

Students attending the Muenster Public Schools will begin their 1986 school year at 8 a.m. on Sept. 2. The school day will be slightly longer this year with dismissal set for 3:33 p.m. Students in grades 7 through 12 will be dealing with an innovative schedule which slightly expands last year's school day. According to school officials, the schedule has been devised to further reduce the amount of academically engaged time which is lost to various meetings, assemblies, etc. An additional feature of the schedule is the availability of enrichment as well as tutorial help during school hours. No curriculum change is anticipated except the addition of co-educational physical education classes at all secondary grade levels.

Students in grades 7 through 12 will begin the first day of school with the traditional school assembly in the auditorium, where they will be apprised of various changes in school policies, some because of local board changes, and some either mandated or made possible by recent state laws. One example of change will deal with those students who take a college course while a senior in high school. In the past, those students who took

English 1043 from Cooke County College in the spring received only the college credit for the course. Under a concurrent credit policy recently adopted by the state, it is now possible in some cases to receive both the college credit and credit for Senior English. To further take advantage of this possibility, Muenster school officials have asked Cooke County College to offer English 1043 this fall and English 1053 next spring, thus allowing students to earn six

Fall schedule

Students who will be attending Muenster Public School this fall, and who will be in grades seven through twelve, are asked to come by the school and pick up their fall schedule of classes on Thursday, Aug. 21. The schedules, including locker assignments, etc., will be available in the office from 9 a.m. till noon, and 1 to 4 p.m. Official registration cards will be completed on the first day of school, Sept. 2. Parents are urged to check student's health records to see that all immunizations are up to date to avoid having to update them after school starts.

hours of credit toward college and complete college freshman English requirements. The course will be offered at Muenster High School with registration taking place on Monday, Sept. 8 at 6:30 p.m. in the library. The course is open to all area high school seniors, as well as any adult who might wish to enroll. If the venture proves successful, the school district will ask the Texas Education Agency to allow the district to grant seniors credit for an "Honors English" course, a designation which is necessary in order to earn an Academic Honors Transcript under provisions of Chapter 75. Another policy designed to encourage students to take higher level courses is a change in the way class rank and honors will be determined. Although the change will not affect the 1987 graduating class, it will have a significant impact on lower high school grades. Cooke County College has also agreed to pursue the idea of offering an art course in Muenster for which students would not receive high school credit, but would allow them to try their hand in art. All in all, school officials feel that students will be given the opportunity to be even more successful academically during the coming school year.

Chamber accepts Kiwanis' challenge

At their monthly luncheon meeting the Chamber of Commerce accepted the Kiwanis' challenge to raise funds for a new fire truck. Several weeks ago, the Kiwanis Club pledged $100 per member towards the purchase of a new fire truck for the City of Muenster. They challenged other organizations to do the same. To meet the Kiwanis' challenge, the Chamber is initiating what is now called "AUTOFEST." Autofest will be a one-day event for showing and judging of antique, classic and custom automobiles. Plans also include a parade, games and a dance on the pavilion with 50's and 60's music. Autofest will give any local organization the opportunity to raise funds to meet the Kiwanis' challenge and otherwise raise funds for their group as well. For more information on "AUTOFEST," call the Chamber office at 759-2227.

The program for the Chamber luncheon was a musical slide presentation, "On The Road Again With Bill Hammett." Mr. Hammett has been chief photographer of TP&L employees since 1974. During that time, Bill has taken thousands of pictures of TP&L employees, facilities, and the scenic beauty of the service area. He has taken these and other pictures and put them together in a slide presentation that shows the uniqueness of, and the beauty found in, Texas. Churches, homes (restored and run-down), courthouses and fields of flowers combine to present a picture of North Texas that is irresistible. Bill's three-projector musical slide presentation of the TP&L service area won top honors at the 1985 Professional Photographers of America convention in Chicago.

After the program, the members of the Chamber were reminded of the Town Hall Meeting, Aug. 21, at the Knights of Columbus Hall. The dates for Christmasfest and the chairman for the Parade and the Lighting & Decorating Contest were announced. Ben Bindel, Ed Griffin and Gary Fisher will be chairing Christmasfest this year with the parade scheduled for Dec. 6. It was also announced that the Chamber Banquet will be held Jan. 23, 1987, and Pat Dennis and Doris Muller are chairpersons for this event.

Chamber to hold town hall meetings

The future of Muenster will be the main focus of Town Hall Meetings to be conducted on Thursday, Aug. 21, at the Knights of Columbus Hall. The Muenster Chamber of Commerce will sponsor the meetings to be conducted by Howard Rosser, Director of Tourism with the East Texas Chamber of Commerce. All Muenster area residents are invited to attend, voice their opinions and listen to ideas concerning economic stability and the quality of life available today.

Mr. Rosser will ask pertinent questions of the residents concerning Muenster issues. Some specific input will be collected through questionnaires. Meetings will be held at 9 a.m., 12 noon with a light lunch available, and 7 p.m. in an effort to fit everyone's schedule.

Rosser has been active in tourism for 25 years. He was the originator of the Autumn Trails in Winnsboro, Texas before joining the East Texas Chamber staff.

Kiwanis Club to present Red Cross disaster relief

The Muenster Kiwanis Club invites the public to attend a program by the Red Cross at their weekly meeting on Wednesday, Aug. 29, at The Center Restaurant meeting room (tavern) at 12 noon.

The topic will be "Red Cross Responding to Disasters" and will be 20 minutes in length. Lunch will be served prior to the presentation.

The Kiwanis Club meets weekly at 12 noon each Wednesday for lunch to share fellowship and view a short and informative topic. The public is always invited.

Roving cowboy rides so kids can walk

by Janie Hartman
What would make a man leave his home and family? Love.

Royce Cherrix, a weatherbeaten cowboy, rode into Muenster last week as part of his Ride Across USA campaign to raise money for the United Cerebral Palsy Association.

Cherrix started his ride in Chincoteague Island, Virginia on March 20, 1984, dedicated to fight a personal battle against the crippling muscular and speech birth defect disease that is taking the life of his eight-year-old son, James Aaron. "They told me between 11 and 15 he will die. And through my efforts, hopefully, we can raise enough money to save one child which will compensate for his loss, our loss...our great loss."

The 45-year-old Virginian, a thoroughbred horse trainer and exercise boy for 34 years, plans to raise $1 million for the cause. Taking two years to plan, he financed the trip himself and is not officially sponsored by anyone. He simply goes from town to town, contacts the media and asks that people send donations to the United Cerebral Palsy Association "for him (his son) and all the others like him."

Cherrix's destination is the O K Corral in Tombstone, Arizona. Why Tombstone? "The gunfight at the OK Corral took lives and through the efforts of my horse and myself, we hope to save lives."

Making his way across country as a pony express rider, Cherrix delivers letters to government and city officials. This often leads him away from Arizona but "finds it a more eye-catching way to draw attention" to his ride. He is presently riding to Antlers, Oklahoma to deliver a letter to Senator Gerald Dennis from Fort Worth Mayor Bob Bolen.

Already covering over 10,000 miles, Royce started his ride on his 5-year-old Appaloosa, Jimmy, named after his son. Early in his journey, he met Loretta Lynn and family and spent several days on their ranch, becoming friends with Loretta's oldest son, Jack. While fording a river on his horse in July '85, Jack Lynn was killed. Still wearing the spurs given to him by Jack, Cherrix dedicated the remainder of his ride to him.

After riding Jimmy for several months, Cherrix developed pneumonia and was hospitalized, suffering from exhaustion, exposure and malnutrition. It took him nine months to recover, but on March 27, 1986, he picked up where he left off in Texarkana, with a second horse, Penny. Cherrix stopped in Blanco County, Texas in May to try and trade for a fresh horse. He spent several days with Willie Nelson in Austin, but Nelson didn't have a horse that could make the long ride. His 10-year-old Penny had lost about 100 pounds "and was getting down." He did find the trade he needed at Dripping Springs, Texas and named him Willie Nelson #2, the friend he now rides.

Royce Cherrix has received letters, honors and autographed photographs from many celebrities and government officials. His proudest is the Arkansas Traveler, the highest honor the governor can give, from Bill Clinton, governor of Arkansas, appointing him to be "authorized and commissioned to serve as an Ambassador of Good Will from Arkansas to the people of other states..."

This one man's Ride Across USA does not accept any personal donations. When in need of cash, he finds work, then moves on. He asks that all donations be sent to United Cerebral Palsy Association, Inc., 66 East 34th Street, New York, N.Y. 10016.

He would appreciate people writing across the bottom of the check, "For Royce Cherrix's Ride Across the USA."

Good News!

Thus the Lord answered me:
If you repent, so that I restore you,
in my presence you shall stand;
If you bring forth the precious without the vile,
you shall be my mouthpiece.
Then it shall be they who turn to you, and you shall not turn to them.

Letters to the Editor

Letter to the Editor:

I want to express a few words of tribute to Ramie Fette:

I did not grow up in Muenster to have known him a lifetime, but for four pleasant years I worked at The Enterprise and grew to have an affection and admiration for this man.

I never saw him display anger or scorn, even under an occasional stressful situation; instead he always showed thoughtfulness to all.

I doubt any other newspaper, large or small, had an editor as considerate as Ramie. When a few tragic events occurred in Muenster,

I've seen him struggle with the story, and I will never forget what he told me. "It's a newspaper's obligation to print the news as it happens, our readers are entitled to that; but I never want to write anything that causes pain, I try to just state the facts in these sad circumstances."

Ramie, Elfreda and David have worked these many years, day, night and weekends, to give Muenster a good neighborhood paper. I hope all of their readers appreciate the dedication this kind, religious man gave them. He will be missed.

Sincerely,
Daryl Ferber

If you care...

If you care about the future of Muenster or at least some aspect of it, you have a fine opportunity to cultivate that concern with the help of a fresh viewpoint. On Thursday, Aug. 21, the Chamber of Commerce will sponsor three different town hall meetings, conducted by a man very experienced in the area of tourism and commerce. Howard Rosser will ask questions and help us develop some answers concerning the effect of today's actions on tomorrow's results.

Almost everyone needs to attend one of the meetings. The few exceptions are those people who don't spend money, pay taxes or make a living here.

Texas future site?

by Sen. Lloyd Bentsen

The President announced in May that the search for the nation's first high-level nuclear waste dump site has been narrowed down to three Western states, one of them Texas.

On the day of that announcement the Secretary of Energy revealed that he was "indefinitely postponing" the search for a second permanent dump site in the Eastern U.S.

These two decisions, announced on the same day, mean that Texas could wind up hosting the first, and only, nuclear dump in the country.

Both decisions are unwelcome to Texans, the second made more so by the fact that it was totally unexpected.

It is also probably illegal and most certainly impractical.

Secretary of Energy John Herrington maintained that declining amounts of civilian nuclear waste eliminate the need for a second repository. That is not correct. It tells only half the story, omitting the fact that the amount of military nuclear waste is increasing.

It is true that the energy department's total estimates of need have declined. In 1982 they estimated we would have accumulated 140,000 metric tons of nuclear waste requiring storage by the year 2020, some 22 years after the first dump is scheduled to open. Today, they have cut that estimate to 130,000 tons.

But the first nuclear waste repository, wherever it is built, is limited to a capacity of 70,000 metric tons - barely over half of the storage space that will be needed.

I have written Secretary Herrington pointing out the impracticality of his decision and noting the shortfall in storage capacity that it would create. I also testified about the problem at a recent hearing of the Senate Energy Committee.

Compounding the shortfall problem, of course, is the fact that if this nation winds up building a single nuclear waste repository in a Western state we'll have to transport a lot of waste generated in Eastern states a long way.

I have also written U.S. Comptroller General Charles A. Bowsher, seeking a ruling on the legality of the Secretary's action.

I believe he is in violation of the Nuclear Waste Policy Act, which clearly requires him to recommend to the President six potential sites, three for a first repository and three for a second.

This is much more than a legal technicality, it is a major change in policy since the understanding all along has been that the first nuclear waste dump in the West would be followed by a second in the East.

Both the law and common sense clearly indicate the Secretary's decision was a mistake. I am continuing my efforts to turn it around.

Cooler weather!

Although August is usually the hottest month of the summer, the first two weeks have been relatively cool compared to the last scorching weeks of July. The temperatures and precipitation have been recorded by Steve Mosler as follows.

Aug. 5.....	96 and 72
Aug. 6.....	96 and 73
Aug. 7.....	98 and 74
Aug. 8.....	90 and 72
Aug. 9.....	with .02 rain 99 and 75
Aug. 10.....	.88 and 75
Aug. 11.....	with .27 rain 96 and 72
Aug. 12.....	.90 and 66

On Aug. 3, Muenster received .62 rainfall, bringing the monthly total to .91 inches. The year-to-date total is 19.47 inches of precipitation.

NEW FIGHT SONG NEEDED ON CAMPUS

By Edwin Feulner

Drug abuse in the United States is a bit like terrorism—every time there is a highly publicized death, as in the case of basketball player Len Bias, people act with such shock that you would think it had never happened before. But the sad fact is that people die every day from drugs.

Len Bias died of a heart attack allegedly caused by "free-basing" cocaine. There is no such thing as an overdose of this dangerous intoxicant, doctors say, because the same amount may give one person a "high" and kill another. Cocaine causes an interruption of the normal electrical patterns in the brain that send messages to the body. Simply put, Len Bias' brain told his heart to stop beating.

Although cocaine, and an even more dangerous derivative known as "crack," are the drugs in the news lately, a wide range of other substances are similarly polluting the country. Drug use in the workplace has reached near-epidemic proportions. That is not only potentially dangerous to the users' co-workers and in some cases the nearby community, it is costing America uncounted billions of dollars in lost productivity.

Drugs are primarily a youth problem, however. Ask most any college student where to find drugs on campus, and even those wise enough to stay away from them can probably tell you.

In spite of the evident problem on our campuses, all too often college and university administrators say, "It's the same everywhere," and abdicate their responsibility for trying to eradicate drugs.

In a speech here recently, Secretary of Education William Bennett called these administrators down off their high horses. "Our colleges and universities often, and sometimes quite properly, call to task the rest of society for failing to live up to its stated ideas," he said. "They set themselves the role of moral gadfly, moral conscience."

"Surely when parents send their children to college, they have the right to expect the colleges to take some measures to protect their sons and daughters from drugs," Bennett added.

Bennett suggested after his speech that he would favor congressional action giving the secretary of education the authority to withhold federal aid to any college found not to be making a good faith effort to eradicate drugs.

Some kind of standards would have to be established, of course. It would be wrong to simply say a school is "not doing enough" because a drug problem has been discovered. Secretary Bennett surely does not have any rash policy in mind, but he is absolutely right to suggest that colleges and universities may have to be forced to crack down on a problem many of them would just as soon ignore.

At the University of Maryland (where Len Bias played basketball), for instance, students found in possession of drugs can expect penalties ranging from a reprimand to expulsion. "Pushers" are supposed to be expelled.

Not to single out Maryland, but that policy is far too lenient. Possession of drugs is a crime. Those caught on campus with drugs should be arrested by police, and if found guilty, thrown in jail. Students should be told, "If you 'do drugs' on campus, your college career ends. Period. No coming back to class—ever." Even the most thick-headed freshman can understand such a straightforward policy.

Those schools that wish to pursue the sort of "enlightened" drug policies that have made drug abuse a national epidemic may do so without the good grace of federal funding.

Search for family history leads through 7 states

Two sisters, Bernice Sicking and Deloris Reiter, are continuing a very dedicated search for family history, for many years, and during this summer pursued the search through seven states.

In La Crosse, Kansas they visited Emma Schaben and Wayne Schaben, and Emma accompanied them to Ness and Bayne, KS. to visit the old homestead of Gehard Schaben. He was a brother of Mrs. John Koll, one of the first settlers of Muenster. Readers of Muenster's early history can readily recall the name "Koll." Mrs. Koll (nee Christine Schaben) was the mother of Katherine Derichsweiler and grandmother of Elizabeth Knabe, wife of August Knabe.

Mmes. Bernice Sicking and Deloris Reiter found the foundation of the "Old Schaben School," located about one mile south of Ness, Kansas. The school land was donated by Schaben especially for Schaben children. Gehard Schaben's brother, Hilger, also lived in this area.

Also of interest was The House of Stene in Dodge City, Kansas because it has a collection of pictures of pioneer women of Kansas.

Flooding and closed roads in Nebraska prevented extensive travel in that state. In Westphalia, Iowa, where Katherine Koll and Bernard William Derichsweiler were married, they visited the birthplace of their grandmother, Elizabeth Derichsweiler Knabe. In the churchyard cemetery they noted tombstones of kin, including their great-great-grandmother, Christine Koll.

In Farmersville, Iowa they visited another correspondent, Geneologist Linda Sedlemeyr, who accompanied them as tour guide and chauffeur. They crossed the Mississippi at Prairie De Chein (where the river was first discovered) and then drove into Wisconsin.

At Bagley, Wisc. they were joined by Sibella Harris, only living granddaughter of Anna Sibella Schaben Sedlemeyr (sister of Christine Koll). She shared photos and many memories of life along the Mississippi and showed them where Gottfried Schaben's home was, and recalled stories told by her grandmother. The cemetery at Caserville where Gottfried Schaben is buried is on a hill overlooking the Mississippi. His wife is buried a few miles away in another cemetery because weather often did not permit climbing that hill, so they used the lower level cemetery.

Sibella Harris read and translated the German inscriptions on the grave markers. At 83, she lives alone in the house where she was born, where her only modern convenience is a phone.

Mmes. Sicking and Reiter said her appearance is that of a lady about 50 years of age, but her sharp mind and vast knowledge go beyond her 83 years. They spent the night along the Mississippi, at Prairie De Chein.

In Leopold, Ill., lack of time prevented their visit where their great-grandparents, Albert Knabe Sr. and Margaret Nabors Washburn, were married. Gus Knabe was born in Leopold, Ill.

In St. Louis, the night was again spent along the Mississippi and the great Arch was visible from their window. In St. Louis were records of Great-grandparents Christopher Walter and Anna Stieffel's marriage, and Grandmother Mary Walter Reiter's birth.

At Jefferson City, Missouri, they visited Linda Epstein. She is the granddaughter of Mina Knabe Vandervort and is researching the Knabe Family History. Mina was a sister of August Knabe.

They spent sometime sightseeing through Missouri with a stop at Branson. In Arkansas they sought more Reiter-Walter history. The final collection of documents was found at the McAllister, Oklahoma Library and the Church Rectory, along with records to follow from Bill Derichsweiler.

Mmes. Bernice Sicking and Deloris Reiter say they will continue to search out historical items through correspondence with other relatives.

Plans are being made for a Knabe family reunion on Aug. 31.

Freshman Orientation at CCC Aug. 18 and 20

GAINESVILLE - Students who will be starting college this fall don't have much time left to sign up for "Freshman Orientation '86" coming up Aug. 18 and 20 (Monday and Wednesday) at Cooke County College.

According to Bill Caver, CCC director of counseling, students who'll be enrolled for fewer than nine credit hours - particularly those part-time students enrolled only in evening classes - are exempt from the orientation program.

"But this definitely doesn't mean they're excluded," he stressed. "We welcome all students, including part-time students, to the orientation because it could be of tremendous benefit to them also."

Correction

Last week's Enterprise story on the City Council meeting erroneously stated that city residents are allowed one bundle of trash bags per three months. The correct amount is one bundle of bags per six months.

Caver added that by "freshmen," he meant all daytime students who will be enrolling for nine or more hours this fall and who have previously completed fewer than seven college credit hours - at CCC or elsewhere.

This would therefore include any students who may have enrolled for summer courses at CCC immediately after high school graduation.

Freshmen are given the option of attending either the Aug. 18 (Monday) session or the Aug. 20 (Wednesday) session of orientation. They need, however, to sign up in advance and specify their choice of day to attend.

"A trip to the Registrar's Office here on campus to sign up for orientation will save them a trip to campus on registration day," Caver pointed out. "That's because one of the activities of orientation is the advance registration of all participants for fall classes."

"Another bonus of the orientation program is that attendance will earn eight clock hours of credit in an orientation course in which all new freshmen must enroll - if, again, they're taking nine or more hours this fall and have previously earned less than seven hours."

The course, PY 1711, earns one hour of college credit and involves 16 clock hours of study - half of which participants in orientation will complete in advance. Others will have to register for the course as part of their regular fall class load.

In addition to the classroom portion of the course, students will be required to complete three outside assignments in a special orientation workbook.

"I cannot overemphasize the importance of this orientation program," said Caver. "Through it, students will get information that really can help them get much, much more positive benefit out of the time they spend at CCC."

Orientation activities will begin at 8:30 a.m. and run through 4:30 p.m. Again, students may choose between the Monday or Wednesday session but need to sign up as soon as possible.

For more information about Freshman Orientation '86 or about the fall semester at CCC in general, contact the Counseling Center at 817/668-7731, Ext. 216. Registration begins Aug. 28.

Texas Utilities to make refund

Texas Utilities Electric Company, parent to Texas Power & Light Company, recently announced it will file an application with the Public Utility Commission asking authorization to refund to its customers about $64.8 million that has been saved because of lowered fuel costs.

TP&L Manager, Harry Bomar, said the company will ask the PUC to authorize the refund at the earliest possible date, which probably would be in October. The refund would come through a credit to customers' bills.

Under the company's proposal, the residential customer with an average October usage of 1000 kilowatt-hours would receive a refund of about $10.50.

The refund will be made in accordance with the new permanent fuel rule recently adopted by the PUC. The rule requires that refunds be made if amounts over-recorded from customers exceed four percent of its annual fuel costs or $40 million, whichever is lower.

Because of the drop in market prices of natural gas in late 1985 and early 1986 and the company's aggressive effort to obtain lower-priced gas supplies, the company was able to lower rate charges to its customers by about five percent, effective in March.

Most of the revenue the company will ask to refund was over-collected during February, before the lower rates took effect.

Bomar said the company is continuing to pursue the lowest-priced fuel supplies available in order to maintain savings to its customers.

THE DAY YOUR AIR CONDITIONER BITES THE DUST COULD BE THE HAPPIEST DAY OF YOUR LIFE.

Let's face it. As dependable as your air conditioner is, it won't be around forever. And though saying goodbye isn't easy, think about it another way: if your air conditioner isn't a high-efficiency unit, you've probably been using more electricity than you should trying to keep cool. A high-efficiency air conditioner gives you the same amount of cool air as your old unit, but uses less electricity. And qualifying units earn a valuable rebate from the electric company. In other words, a high-efficiency air conditioner ought to be money in your pocket, any way you look at it.

Your recognized Energy Action air conditioning dealer or contractor can help you choose the best unit for you. Look on the bright side. Look into a high-efficiency air conditioner or heat pump. Because with the electricity you'll save, the day your old air conditioner bites the dust could be the happiest day of your life!

50th anniversary observed

MR. and MRS. HENRY ZIMMERER ON THEIR WEDDING DAY AUGUST 25, 1936

In the company of their children, grandchildren, relatives and friends, Frances and Henry Zimmerer celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on Aug. 9, 1986.

Henry is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. I.A. Zimmerer and Frances is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Pete Walterscheid. They were married in Sacred Heart Church of Muenster on Aug. 25, 1936, with his brother, the late Father Francis Zimmerer, O.S.B. officiating.

They are the parents of four children, Virginia, Mrs. Wilfred Hess of Lindsay; Leonard Zimmerer of Bedford; Patsy, Mrs. Truman Wolf of Dallas; and Larry Zimmerer of Lindsay. There are 10 grandchildren; and one great-grandchild, and all were present for the celebration.

The celebration opened with a Mass of Thanksgiving in St. Mary's Church of Gainesville at 5:30 p.m. Father Cletus Post, O.S.B. was celebrant and the honor couple's grandsons, Jason Wolf and Dan Zimmerer, along with Jason Zimmerer, were Mass servers.

Wilfred Hess, Truman Wolf, Rickey Hess and Scott Wolf were ushers.

The couple's children and spouses were their attendants, standing in for the original best man and bridesmaid, the late Bruno Zimmerer and the late Isabelle Walterscheid. Assisting as Eucharistic Ministers were Sister Dorothy Theresa Zimmerer, Rudy Zimmerer and James Walterscheid.

Also participating in the liturgy and giving the readings were David Reed and Scott Wolf. Bobby Zimmerer was the lector.

Mark Wolf and Adam Zimmerer read petitions and prayers of the faithful.

Grandchildren presented keepsakes laden with treasured memories and family symbolism. Sharon Reed carried her grandmother's cookbook, reflecting a love of cooking. Ashley Zimmerer carried her grandmother's prayer book, symbolic of prayer that is a vital part of her life.

A scale-model tractor was carried by Isaac Zimmerer, symbolizing his grandfather's Case dealership and implement business. Wheat presented by Scott Wolf indicated his grandfather's love of farming.

Rickey and Donna Hess presented their son, Cody Michael, a symbol of the gift of life and the beginning of the fourth generation.

Red roses were offered by Lisa Hess and Terry Rohmer in loving memory of Pete, Christine and Tony Walterscheid; and Ignatius, Helena, Father Francis, Bruno and Leonard Zimmerer.

In the Offertory procession also were Mark Wolf and Adam Zimmerer who carried the Offertory gifts. Sister Dorothy Theresa Zimmerer provided guidance and assistance in the preparation of the ceremony.

Music was provided by Pat Henning, Jr., Kenny Bezner, Martha Fuhrmann, Laura Fuhrmann and Deana Nortman. Selections included "Edelweiss," "Now Thank We All Our God," "Let It Be Me," "Have I Told You Lately That I Love You?," "Love," "How Great Thou Art" and "Wherever You Go."

The Knights of Columbus Hall in Gainesville in a 1936 black Buick, similar to the car used 50 years ago.

A reception was held in the KC Hall. As guests entered, they viewed the couple's restored wedding portrait. Granddaughters presided at the guest book.

The three-tiered anniversary cake, made by a niece, Betty Rose Walterscheid, was placed over a lighted waterfall. The cake was white frosted, with gold roses and bells. A "50 Year" gold ornament enhanced the top layer.

A catered dinner was followed by a program that featured recollections of 50 years together.

Larry Zimmerer introduced Sister Dorothy Theresa who led the group in prayer. After dinner, Patsy Wolf welcomed family members, relatives and friends. Lenny Zimmerer led the program, emphasizing 50 years. A slide presentation followed.

Of special interest at the reception was a pictorial display arranged by Virginia Hess and Elaine Zimmerer. A Walterscheid family tree was a gift from Elmer Wiesman.

Mrs. Henry Zimmerer was gowned in a champagne beige dress with lace sleeves. Her husband wore a navy suit and both had gardenias for corsage and boutonniere.

All flowers and decor for church and reception were designed by Mrs. Arnold (Aileen) Knabe.

Guests who came from a distance to attend were Paul and Ann Zimmerer of Orlando, Florida and Lucky and Sally Spaeth of La Grand, Texas.

Marie Mosman visited by Edwards family

Norann McDonnell, daughter of Mrs. Marc Edwards, the former Becky Mosman and granddaughter of Mrs. Marie Mosman, is a recent graduate of North Texas State University with a degree in Journalism and Public Relations.

She is now employed in Dallas and was selected as a Dallas Cowboys Cheerleader. She also made the recent trip to London with the cheerleaders and had the opportunity for some sightseeing.

Mr. and Mrs. Marc Edwards and daughter Missy, all of Monroe, Louisiana came to Muenster to join and accompany Marie Mosman when all attended the graduation. In July, Becky and Missy spent a week here and on Aug. 1 they all attended the funeral of Marie's cousin, Mrs. Rita Forney in Temple. Mrs. Forney was the daughter of the late Lula Nieses, a frequent visitor in Muenster with relatives here.

Three new members join Franciscans

Members of the Secular Franciscans of St. Peter's Parish in Lindsay held formal ceremonies on July 15, receiving three new members.

Following the Mass of the day, Marie Zimmerer made her solemn Profession and Elizabeth Hoberer and Frances Zimmerer made their first commitment becoming active members.

Father Cletus Post performed the impressive ceremony and Mrs. Tony Hermes led the candidates and postulants before the altar for the candle-light rites.

A reception followed and members later held their monthly prayer meeting for July with prayers from the Franciscan ritual.

Next meeting will be a prayer meeting following the 10 a.m. Mass on the Feast of the Assumption, with special services for that day.

Learning Center sets open house

The Young Children's Learning Center and the Sacred Heart Kindergarten and their faculties will hold an open house on Wednesday, Aug. 20, from 1 p.m. until 7 p.m. During that time they will demonstrate the materials the children will use, and will answer questions concerning the schools offering education that excites and teachers that inspire and care. They invite guests to enter the SHS Kindergarten using the east entrance, lower level, of Sacred Heart Grade School; and the Young Children's Learning Center at 204 East 7th Street.

The Young Children's Learning Center and Kindergarten of Sacred Heart invite children to become a part of their pre-kindergarten and kindergarten community, with an educational program providing a setting for encouragement and motivation. A combination of Montessori and traditional methods of teaching offer each student a personalized education.

Bronte Gonsalves is the new director for the Learning Center and Kindergarten through grade 3. She says there are still openings for children, ages three to five. New projects being planned include art appreciation, a trip to a symphony, a trip to a theater production and receiving visits from guests from other countries.

The staff at the Learning Center includes Patsy Bayer, Mary Whittington and Le Ann Mollenkopf in addition to Bronte Gonsalves.

BRONTE GONSALVES, the new director of the Young Children's Learning Center, and MARY WHITTINGTON, a staff member, demonstrate one of the many materials the children will use. This demonstration was made at the first parents' meeting where the new director and staff were introduced and the new year's officers were elected.

Sickings to reunite Sept. 20

The families of the late Ben Sicking, Gus Sicking, Henry Sicking and Bill Sicking and Mrs. Frank Trachta will hold a reunion on Saturday, Sept. 20, at noon in the Muenster City Park. All attending are asked to bring a covered dish for the dinner.

It turns water into great-tasting coffee.

For less money.

Now great coffee flavor costs less. Thanks to "Custom Roasting," a new coffee roasting process, you can get terrific coffee flavor at a lower coffee price.

You see, Custom Roasting intensifies the flavor of coffee beans. It also expands the beans more than conventional roasting methods, so there is more coffee surface area to interact with the water in your coffee maker.

Since you get more flavor from each bean, you use less coffee to get the taste you love. And that saves you money.

To help you save even more, here's a special offer. Just redeem the coupon below and you'll get 40¢ off your next purchase of new Maryland Club Custom Roast Coffee.

The good news is you save money on coffee. The bad news is you still have to pay for the water.

Simplifying indigent health care

AUSTIN - State Comptroller Bob Bullock has released guidelines to county governments in Texas to simplify accounting for the state's new Indigent Health Care (IHC) Act. "It is our responsibility to provide a system that will make the paperwork easier for the Texas counties while they give health care to the areas that need it most," Bullock said. The IHC law, passed in 1985, requires county governments to provide medical assistance to the county's residents who can not support themselves. The IHC Act will affect 70,000 Texans who do not qualify for other federal or state health care programs. Texas counties are likely to spend as much as $20 million in the 1986-87 biennium on medical services as a result of the IHC Act, Bullock estimates. The Indigent Health Care Accounting Systems Manual is a step-by-step approach to deal with these funds. The over-200 page manual can be used independently or integrated into the Standard Financial Management System for Texas Counties, also produced by Bullock's office. The Comptroller's Financial Management System for counties and the system designed for cities are both highly praised for effectively helping local governments in Texas with their accounting functions. The IHC manual includes sections on budgeting for IHC, accounting procedures and financial management procedures. Also included in the manual is a section on internal auditing. In each of these sections comprehensive examples are given to show transactions that relate to the IHC program. A copy of the Indigent Health Care Act is also included in the manual along with a glossary of accounting terms that are commonly used.

Lifetime licenses offered to sportsmen

AUSTIN - What could be termed a "gift of a lifetime" is now available from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Texas hunters and fishermen may now purchase resident lifetime hunting, fishing or combination hunting/fishing licenses which will be effective beginning Sept. 1.

Lifetime licenses offer benefits for both the license holder and the state's wildlife and fishery resources.

A lifetime license relieves the sportsman from having to renew his hunting or fishing license each year, as a new license will be sent to him or her by mail each year prior to Sept. 1.

If the purchaser moves out of Texas, the lifetime license still would be valid anytime he returns to Texas to hunt or fish.

Lifetime licenses benefit the resource because funds received from their sale will be placed in a special Lifetime License Endowment Fund. Interest from the fund will be used by the TPWD to acquire, develop, manage and repair hunting and fishing areas in the state.

Lifetime resident combination hunting/fishing licenses are $500, and lifetime resident hunting or fishing licenses are priced at $300 each.

Application forms for lifetime licenses can now be obtained from TPWD Headquarters, 4200 Smith School Road, Austin, TX 78744, or from all TPWD law enforcement regional offices across the state. They also may be obtained by calling statewide toll-free 1-800-792-1112.

Now's the time for safety course

AUSTIN - Hunter education officials of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department advise hunters planning out-of-state hunts this fall to plan now to attend a hunter education course.

Many states, including Colorado, require completion of a certified hunter safety course as a prerequisite for issuance of a hunting license.

Steve Hall, assistant hunter education coordinator, said the course also is advisable for Texas hunters, although not required by law.

The course is taught by volunteer instructors across the state. To locate an instructor in your area, contact your local game warden or call toll-free 1-800-792-1112.

Hall said 450 hunting accidents have been recorded in Texas since 1980, with 108 resulting in fatalities. "Only nine graduates of the hunter education course have been involved in hunting accidents, and most of those were the victims and not shooters," said Hall. The department certified 11,284 hunter education students in 1985.

Hall noted that the Colorado archery season for deer, elk and antelope is Aug. 16-Sept. 20, which leaves little time for preparation. For complete information on Colorado hunting seasons, contact the Colorado Division of Wildlife at (303) 297-1192.

Dove hunting seasons adopted by TP&W Commission

AUSTIN - The Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission has adopted season dates and bag limits for dove hunting, including provision for a two-weekend special white-winged dove season in a portion of the South Zone.

Meeting in Austin July 24, the commission adopted a whitewing season of Sept. 6-7 and 13-14 after hearing staff reports indicating that whitewing populations have recovered from reduced numbers during the past two years.

Last year's whitewing season was cancelled by the commission after surveys indicated the December 1983 freeze severely reduced citrus groves which provide important whitewing nesting habitat in the Valley.

The regulation framework provided by the U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service for migratory game bird seasons does not allow opening of any season before Sept. 1 because of international treaties. Therefore, the department was not allowed to open the whitewing season on Labor Day weekend which begins on Aug. 30 this year.

The bag limit for the whitewing season in the Special White-winged Dove Hunting Area is 10 white-winged, mourning and white-tipped doves, to include no more than two mourning and two white-tipped doves. As in previous seasons, shooting hours will be noon to sunset during the whitewing season in the special whitewing area, and 30 minutes before sunrise to sunset during the mourning dove seasons.

The mourning dove season in the state's North Zone will be Sept. 1-Nov. 9; the Central Zone season dates are Sept. 1-Oct. 30, 1986, and Jan. 3-12, 1987; the South Zone season is Sept. 20-Nov. 18, 1986, (Sept. 20-Nov. 14 in the Special White-winged Dove Area), and Jan. 3-12, 1987.

The mourning dove bag limit is 12 per day, to include no more than two white-winged doves and two white-tipped doves.

White-tipped doves, a common species in Mexico, increased dramatically in number and expanded their range throughout an eight-county-area in South Texas from the early 1970s through 1983. The 1983 freeze slowed their rate of growth but white-tipped doves are now continuing their population expansion. Whitetips are common in the areas south of Corpus Christi and Laredo.

Whitetips are similar in size and shape to a whitewing with a bright rusty-red coloration on the underside of the wing. The name "whitewing" refers to the white on the tip of the tail, but this can be misleading since mourning doves and white-winged doves also have white on the tips of their tails. Whitetips have been a legal game species in Texas since 1984.

Ron George, dove program leader for the TPWD, said surveys indicate populations of mourning doves are 26 percent above 1985 levels, and approximately 10 percent above the long-term average.

The commission authorized moving six days of the mourning dove winter season in the South Zone to the fall season. This will result in a 60-day fall season (54 days in the special white-winged dove area) and a 10-day winter season for the South Zone. George said this will permit additional dove hunting opportunity in conjunction with the early portion of the quail season.

As during past seasons, all whitewing hunters participating in the special whitewing season will be required to have $6 White-winged Dove Stamp to legally take whitewings anywhere in Texas. These stamps can be obtained from Parks and Wildlife Department offices or retail hunting license outlets.

Muenster ISD welcomes new basketball coach

The Muenster School District welcomed the addition of Ted Heers to the coaching staff this past week as two-a-days began at the Hornet practice field. Heers, a 1983 graduate of Texas A&M University, will coach the receivers and secondary for the Hornet varsity. He will also be the varsity boys' and girls' basketball coach as well as the varsity girls' track coach.

"I'm really glad to be here. Muenster is a very congenial city. Everyone at the school is upbeat and helpful. I've already got high aspirations for the basketball season."

Heers attended high school in Pittsburg, Texas, lettering in four sports before enrolling at the University of Texas at Austin.

"I know it's ironic that I went to Texas then A&M, but I had always dreamed of playing for the Longhorns. I had a couple of chances to play Junior College basketball, but I wanted to try out for 'Horns, plus two of my sisters were already down there. So I got Abe Lemons to let me walk-on. It was a great experience, unfortunately I was physically out of my league. I did get to meet Coach Lemons, and yes, I am an Aggie fan."

Transferring to A&M, Heers

spent three years there as a member of the Southwest Basketball Officials Association. He officiated games to familiarize himself with the rules and stay close to the game. He previously coached at Texarkana Liberty-Eylav of District 7-AAAA and Canton of District 13-AAA and assumes head coaching duties for the first time.

"I wish we could start working on the press, free throws, man to man, and all those fundamentals we need to practice, but I believe we have a score to settle with Valley View long about November. That's the number one priority right now."

Motorcyclists not wearing helmets are taking risk

Wind-blown hair and the fast lane of the open road, from astride a powerful two-wheeler, may sound exciting to some. But for all too many, a motorcycle ride ends with an ambulance trip to the hospital - or to the morgue.

A recently completed Texas Department of Health (TDH) study shows motorcyclists, especially those who do not wear safety helmets, are at high risk of disabling or fatal injuries.

The study also shows that accident victims without helmets have more serious head injuries, spend more time in the hospital, and cost the taxpayers more money for treatment and care than those who wear helmets.

Dr. Robert Bernstein, Texas Commissioner of Health, said, "This study reinforces something we already knew - motorcycles are dangerous. Motorcyclists, even those wearing helmets, are among the most vulnerable people on the road. But the study also clearly shows that choosing to ride a motorcycle without a helmet multiplies the risk of serious injuries and the ultimate cost to us all."

Since the state law requiring motorcyclists to wear protective helmets was repealed in 1977, fatal injuries to bikers have increased. During those nine years, motorcyclists accounted for 10 percent of all traffic fatalities, although motorcycles constituted only three percent of all registered vehicles.

In 1976, the year before the repeal, with 267,419 registered bikes on the road, there were 186 motorcyclists killed and 8,173 injured. By 1985, with 309,008 bikes registered, 361 bikers were killed and 10,236 injured.

An average of 12 motorcyclists per 10,000 bikes die each year now, compared to an average of seven per 10,000 bikes in the years before the helmet law was repealed.

Texas, and about half of the other states in the U.S., repealed its helmet requirement under pressure from motorcycle enthusiasts who claimed the law violated their personal freedom. Since then, in view of rising accident rates and soaring insurance rates, many states have reinstated the law. Attempts to revive the law in Texas are still opposed by motorcycle clubs and individuals, although some opinion polls among bikers and the majority of motorcycle dealers support reinstatement.

Thanks, everyone!

Conway Twitty's Six Flags performance will begin at 8 p.m.

Fruit, coconut combine for a dessert or a salad!

It's rare that a recipe can be placed in two categories — dessert and salad — and satisfy everyone. However, this recipe is one developed especially for coconut dessert lovers and coconut salad lovers! So, it's your choice as to how you wish to serve it.

Complementary textures

Moist flaked coconut mingles with fresh orange sections, crushed pineapple, miniature marshmallows and smooth whipped topping in a rich, luscious mixture.

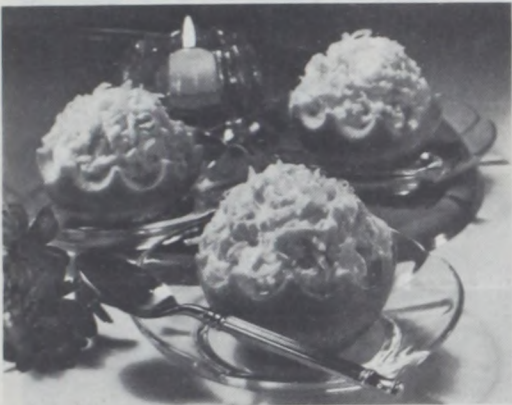

Whether served in fresh orange cups, your very best sparkling stemmed dessert glasses or as a salad on crisp greens, this Orange Coconut Cups recipe belongs in your file.

ORANGE COCONUT CUPS

- 4 large seedless oranges
- 1 can (8 1/2 oz.) crushed pineapple, well drained
- 2 cups Birds Eye Cool Whip non-dairy whipped topping
- 1 cup Baker's Angel Flake coconut
- 1 cup miniature marshmallows
- 1/4 cup milk

Halve oranges. Scoop out orange sections, leaving membrane. Remove membrane from shells and discard. Use a small round cutter or melon-ball scoop to cut a scalloped edge, if desired.

Combine orange sections and remaining ingredients. Spoon into orange shells. Chill about 1 hour. Garnish if desired. Makes 4 1/2 cups or 8 servings.

WHETHER SERVED AS DESSERT OR AS SALAD, Orange Coconut Cups are a refreshing addition to company and family meals.

Unsolvable tax problem tackled by IRS office

Taxpayers with an "unsolved" federal tax problem can get help from a special Internal Revenue Service office. It is called the Problem Resolution Program (PRP) office, and it gives personal attention to taxpayers when previous contacts through normal IRS channels have not helped, Tom Allen, Problem Resolution Officer for North Texas, said. Allen gives the following as an example: If a taxpayer's expected refund has not arrived 90 days after filing an original or amended tax return he or she should first contact IRS Taxpayer Service with the problem. An assistor will help the taxpayer, find out what is happening to the return, and let the taxpayer know when to expect the refund. If the refund has not arrived by that date, the taxpayer should contact PRP. Once PRP takes the problem, the taxpayer generally deals with one person and is kept informed of the progress of the case.

"One of the most common complaints brought to Problem Resolution is about delayed refunds," he said. "Sometimes these are caused by incorrect or duplicated social security numbers or by taxpayers who change their names - after marriage, for example - and do not inform the Social Security Administration." Taxpayers who move after filing a return without providing a forwarding address may also have their refunds delayed.

Allen stressed that PRP is not a substitute for normal IRS channels and cannot be used to appeal technical decisions of a tax examination. PRP will help if:

1. You have contacted IRS regarding the status of a refund at least 90 days after filing an original or amended return. Subsequently, a second inquiry is necessary.
2. You requested information or assistance more than 45 days earlier and have received no acknowledgement or final response.

3. You previously responded to a billing notice and now have a third or subsequent notice indicating incorrect action or a lack of action by IRS on your earlier response.

Taxpayers can reach the PRP office by either writing or calling IRS asking for Problem Resolution. To phone: 742-2440 in Dallas; 263-9229 in Fort Worth; toll-free 1-800-424-1040 elsewhere in Texas. Address written inquiries to: Special Tax Problems, P.O. Box 50008, Dallas, TX 75250.

As we will remember, Billie was bitten three times by a copperhead several weeks ago. This writer chatted with Billie the other day and Billie says that Forestburg folks are wonderful! She received so many nice cards, letters and calls for which she is so very grateful. She says she enjoyed each and every card, letter and calls. Lotus flowers bloom on Sockwell Ranch

Marion Sockwell called this writer on Saturday to tell about the lotus flowers that were blooming on a small pond close to their house. Marion was really elated about this event - as this flower is a native to Asia and Africa. She said the pond was covered with them and a beautiful sight. She theorizes that a duck or other water fowl brought the seeds in. Veda Brogdon took pictures of it all - if they are okay, we will try to publish one. For more information, do call Marion.

Met up with Ruth Smith in Muenster Tuesday and we had lunch together at The Center. Was a most enjoyable time for both of us as we hadn't seen each other in

Mike Steinke dies in Indianapolis

On Monday morning, Aug. 11, this writer received word that Michael (Mike) Steinke had passed away in an Indianapolis, Indiana hospital of a heart attack on Sunday. Mike was the son of Lorraine and Everett Steinke of Edwardsburg, Michigan. Mike had been very ill with a heart condition for several years. He and his parents and two of his brothers lived in the Forestburg area several years back. They resided on the Ertan Tate place, on the Bell place and for a while on the place now owned by the Larry Dills. His oldest brother, Walter, graduated from the Forestburg school the same year that Teresa Huddleston did. Mike is survived by his wife, Debbie, and daughter, Katy, of Elkhart, Indiana; by his parents; two brothers, Lee and Wesley of Edwardsburg, Michigan; and brother, Walter, who resides in Alabama. He was born June 20, 1952. Funeral services were held on Tuesday, Aug. 12.

Mike was this writer's good friend and pal. His parents always said he was Myrt's boy, thus I was very deeply hurt and saddened by his untimely death. We can more or less accept the passing of someone three-score years or more, but one so young it is hard to comprehend. Our sincere sympathy goes to Mike's family and many friends.

IN THANKS
PRAYER TO SAINT JUDE

FARM AND RANCH NEWS

County Agent's Report

by Craig Rosenbaum

Wheat yields throughout the state were somewhat off in 1985-86.

Several factors contributed to low yields in the Texas Blacklands. These included:

1. Flooded conditions in the late fall and early winter.
2. Drought from mid-January through April.
3. Mild temperatures which were nearly ideal for development of fungal disease and proliferation of the Hessian fly.
4. Extensive late planting due to wet weather.
5. Harvest losses due to prolonged wet weather in May and June.

In general, the wet fall, dry spring and mild winter favored early maturing varieties with a short grain fill interval. Early maturity is a drought avoidance mechanism, as the crop is in the field fewer days and generally matures during cooler weather than do later maturing varieties.

In the case of late planting dates, later maturing varieties and those with substantial vernalization requirements performed very poorly. The second week of December provided a high percenttage of the chilling hours available to vernalization during the 1985-86 winter. Wheats planted after this date were late, uneven and yielded poorly.

Wheat harvest was generally 7 to 10 days earlier than normal due to abnormally dry spring weather. Growers who were able to harvest before the rains began in May generally harvested quality wheat. Substantial harvest problems were encountered in North Central Texas and the Panhandle as rains repeatedly drove combines from the fields. Lodging, heavy weed population and poor grain quality resulted from delays.

The following table, compiled by Dr. Travis Miller, Extension Agronomist at Texas A&M, shows 12 wheat demonstrations conducted in the Texas Blackland Prairie. The variety 4876-V5 will be a new release this fall from Texas A&M. It will go by the name COLLIN. Most of the development of this new variety was conducted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Dallas.

Producers wishing to try a new hard wheat variety may want to consider a small planting of one of the newer varieties.

AG BRIEFS...

CATTLE FUTURES IMPACT - The main impact of the futures market on cattle prices may not be as simple as higher or lower prices but rather more violent price changes - as happened during the recent dairy buyout market crash. The very nature of the futures market is alien to the way most cattlemen think, says a livestock marketing economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. The futures market is, in fact, a huge gambling arena where fortunes are made and lost - but only by trading activity. Price changes create buying and selling opportunities and have a broad effect on the futures market. Unfortunately, cash market people watch those futures market gyrations religiously and let them influence their selling and buying prices.

BWARE OF RABID ANIMALS - Rabies remain a threat to both humans and domestic animals in Texas due to the large number of confirmed cases in wild animals, says a veterinarian with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. Some 700 cases of rabies are now confirmed annually in Texas, and most of these are in wild animals. For instance, rabies have declined in dogs and cats but have increased in skunks and bats. As the incidence of wild animal rabies increases in a given area, the risk of exposure for domestic animals increases. This means that all dogs and cats should be vaccinated annually and should be kept away from wild animals. Unvaccinated dogs and cats that are bitten by a rabid animal should be destroyed immediately or isolated for six months. Vaccinated dogs and cats that are bitten should be isolated three months.

Indoor herb gardens are easy to grow

More than 25 different herbs can be grown indoors year-round to add fresh flavor to favorite recipes. Among the most popular are basil, chives, and thyme.

An indoor herb garden is as easy to grow as houseplants, according to Dr. Ellen Henke, noted plant and garden authority. The basic requirements are a sunny window, containers with bottom drainage holes, all-purpose potting soil, perlite and top quality seeds.

Dr. Henke suggests starting an herb garden in a series of four-inch plastic or clay pots, one herb variety per pot. Follow these simple steps:

1. Cover the drainage hole with a coffee filter to prevent the soil from escaping. For good drainage, line the bottom of the container with pebbles or those styrofoam "peanuts" used as packing material.
 2. Fill the container to an inch below the rim with a mix of one part potting soil and one part perlite. Plant three or four seeds to a pot at the depth and spacing recommended on the seed package. Use a pencil or other slender, pointed object to make the holes.
 3. When the seeds are in place, gently smooth the soil over them. Set the pot in a shallow bowl of water and let it sit until the top of the soil is moist.
 4. Remove the pot from the water, label it with the herb variety and place it inside a clear plastic bag. Seal the bag with a wire "twist" to form a miniature greenhouse. It won't need water again until the first signs of greenery appear.
 5. Place the bagged container where it will receive at least five hours of bright sunlight daily. Do not place in direct sun.
 6. When tiny leaves have formed, remove the pot from the plastic bag and gradually move it to a sunny window. Herbs enjoy daytime temperatures of 70°F. They do need a 10 degree temperature drop at night.
- Too much heat and too little light will produce weak, spindly plants. Keep the soil evenly moist.

Indoor herb gardens also can be started with young plants which are available at most local nurseries. Tarragon and rosemary should be purchased as young plants.

Containerized herbs need nitrogen just as houseplants do. For young herb plants, Dr. Henke recommends a monthly feeding of Knox unflavored gelatin, which contains 15 percent nitrogen.

Thoroughly dissolve one packet of gelatin in one cup of boiling water. Add three cups of cold water to make one quart of liquid. Soak the soil with the gelatin solution until the water runs out the drainage hole. One application will supply a young herb plant with nitrogen for up to four weeks.

Fully grown herb plants should be fertilized with Knox unflavored gelatin only when they are heavily harvested. This will conserve the essential oils which provide the herb's flavor. Harvest the herbs regularly to keep the plants lush and bushy.

Report the herbs when their containers become filled with roots. Fresh potting soil will replenish the phosphorous and potassium needed for continued growth.

The transition from gardener to chef can be made with a quick snip of the scissors or a pinch of the fingernails. Cut only young, tender sprigs.

If you wish to dry the herbs, cover the oven rack with cheesecloth and spread the leaves over it. Set the oven on "low" and keep the oven door open. Within a few minutes, the leaves will dry out and crumble easily. Store them in a sealed jar in a cool, dark cabinet.

Dr. Henke has compiled a full-color, illustrated guide to growing 28 indoor herbs plus 28 houseplants. It contains detailed information on light, water, humidity and nutrition requirements for each plant.
