FOR FRED AND DEBBIE SHIVERS and their daughters, Tracy, Karrie Lynn and Kristie Lynn; and David and Teresa Shivers and daughter Abbra, The Texas Sesquicentennial is more than a spectator event. As members of the Wagon Train, they are reliving the life of prairie pioneers who trekked to Texas 150 years ago. The adventure of the two young Oklahoma families is being underwritten by The Morrison Milling Co. of Denton. The wagon is their sole living accommodation while they are on the train, except for a chuck and supply wagon pulled along behind. The children are none older than five years, therefore their education is on Kindergarten and preschool level. For the Shivers families and all other participants, theirs is a never-to-be-forgotten experience.

Wagon Train to arrive in Muenster Thursday

The Texas Sesquicentennial Wagon Train is approaching Muenster and will arrive from the west between 3 p.m. and 4 p.m. next Thursday, June 19. It began its trek in Sulphur Springs on Jan. 2 and will have visited more than 120 cities and towns on its route around Texas.

Muenster's welcoming committee, chaired by Chamber of Commerce President Monica Hess, has chosen to welcome the modern-day pioneers with German ethnic flavor including food, hospitality, music, entertainment and welcomes. A wide cross-section of local organizations is united to offer the expected crowd of 1500 an evening meal of German food, different from the many barbecues and trail meals they are accustomed to. The Jaycees, VFW Auxiliary, Volunteer Fire Department and the Catholic Daughters of America will serve sausage, kraut and the trimmings, including homemade peach cobbler made with loving care by lots of Muenster ladies. The meal and other expenses are being partially subsidized by local businesses, organizations and individuals so the meal price to wagon train people will be only one dollar. Everyone in the area is invited, however, to come and visit and enjoy the meal, too. Price to all visitors is $4.00 per plate. The committee hopes to break even for the event.

The train should parade up Main Street and proceed to Seventh Street, which will be closed from Main to Mesquite for the festivities and wagon train camping.

Supper and entertainment by Germanfest favorite, Jerry Oz, will start at 6:30 p.m.

At 7:30 p.m., Mayor Richard Grewing will deliver a welcome address and present mementos of the visit to the wagon master, Mikki Gerstberger of Encore Video will deliver the same welcome in German to add to the ethnic flavor of the occasion.

The Butterfield Stage Players will give a short preview of their new production, "Curse You, Jack Dalton" in the evening as an introduction to the main event in Gainesville. Everyone in the area is invited to visit and see the Wagon Train, enjoy the meal and entertainment and make our visitors welcome. Among many points of interest are the Wagon Train School sponsored by Cooke County College, and the wagon entered by the Morrison Milling Company of Denton. Some local residents will have joined the Wagon Train to ride along by the time it reaches here.

Members of the welcome committee will travel to Windthorst this Saturday to meet and make final arrangements with the wagon master. They welcome any and all volunteers and/or donations for the Thursday Wagon Train Day. Contact the Chamber office.

City gets $5,594 tax rebate

The City of Muenster has received a check from State Comptroller Bob Bullock in the amount of $5,594.95 as its rebate for city sales tax collected here during the pay period ending May 30, 1986.

The amount is an increase of 4.65 percent over that of the comparable period in 1985 and increases this year's amount to $53,841.29. The amount last year at this time was $51,450.17.

Trubenbach wins run-off, faces no one in Nov. general election

Wayne Trubenbach was a sweepstakes winner in the Democratic primary run-off last Saturday. Besides becoming his party's nomination for the general election in November, he also became an unopposed candidate. The Republican party did not choose a nominee for the office. As a result, Trubenbach is a strong favorite to occupy the late Robert Bayer's place on the commissioner's court.

Trubenbach won the Democratic run-off by a substantial margin of 472 to 334. The result was surprising, especially after trailing in the early count of votes. However, a late surge of voters put him over the top in a big way.

Results as reported by the two parties in the Muenster boxes were as follows:

Heavy-loss fire hits Hess Paint & Body

A fire Friday night and early Saturday caused extensive damage to the Glenn Hess Paint and Body Repair Shop on Mesquite Street. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

The blaze was discovered by two young men, Mark Hoening and Kevin Switzer, between midnight and 12:15. They immediately delivered their message in person to Fire Chief Herb Knabe who started calling firemen and the police department while Hoening and Switzer notified Glenn Hess and his wife.

Meanwhile, volunteer helpers were gathering at the shop. They pushed three outside vehicles to a safer distance and remained to help carry things out as long as the heat permitted.

Cause of the fire's origin remains unknown. The damage in general included inside equipment and furnishings along with electric and air lines and twisted rafters and beams, warped walls and caved-in roof. Included were four vehicles, one a total loss and the other three badly damaged.

Other loss was sustained by Steve Fette who owned and operated an automotive repair department in one area of the shop.

Glenn and Jeanie and Steve are most grateful to all who helped in any way, especially the young men who spread the alarm and joined the workers.

The owners intend to rebuild immediately, expecting to be back in business in about one month.

grain fields early this week, but were halted by scattered showers on Tuesday night.

The War of Secession

Part 3 of 3

by Robert McDaniel

Southern people, for the most part, agreed that the Negroes were better off as slaves than they would be if they were freed. They felt that since the slaves had employment and were provided food, shelter and clothing, they had few worries and were happy and contented. These people believed slavery should be allowed anywhere in the United States. Others, mainly Northerners, felt that the practice of slavery was wrong and should not be allowed in a democratic society such as the United States. These people were against the extension of slavery into new territories, and also wanted to free the Negroes already held as slaves.

There were two different opinions concerning the freeing of the slaves. Some favored freeing slaves gradually and were called emancipationists. (This is the stand President Abraham Lincoln finally took when he issued his Emancipation Proclamation). Another group, who thought slavery was sinful, believed there should not be a moment's delay in giving each slave his freedom. They wanted to abolish slavery immediately and were called abolitionists.

The problem of what to do with slavery once again became a critical issue in Congress in 1850 in connection with new territories becoming states. Prior to 1850, as a new territory entered the Union, it was easy to know whether it would enter as a free state or as a slave state. The Mason-Dixon Line and the Ohio River were recognized boundaries which clearly determined which side a territory would choose when entering the Union.

It did not shock Northerners when Arkansas (1836) and Louisiana (1812) became slave states. Nor did Southerners become upset when Iowa (1846) did not become a slave state because these states were simply following the agricultural patterns of their neighboring states. However, when Missouri wanted to become a state in 1821, both factions of Congress became upset because Missouri was neither above the Ohio River line as was Iowa, nor below this same border as was Arkansas and Louisiana. This issue was settled momentarily by the Missouri Compromise.

The issue again received attention in Congress when Texas (1845) entered as a slave state. Northerners felt it was time to put a limit on the extension of slavery; that is to allow slavery in those states that already had it, but not to allow it to extend farther west. The fear was made even greater when the United States allowed Texas to become the 28th state with the stipulation that it could, at its discretion, divide into a maximum of four additional states. This division, as it happened, would add eight senators who would favor the extension of slavery, and would greatly unbalance the voting power of the Senate in favor of the pro-slavery faction.

Southerners, of course, were against the restriction of the extending of slavery. They had accepted the northern boundaries because farms north of the Mason-Dixon Line were of inadequate size to allow large plantations as there were in the South, and ethnic groups representing northern European countries had settled the New England and Great Lakes area and these groups did not favor slavery.

Also, the South was not going to allow a western boundary to be placed on slavery because they saw the large, flat lands of the Great Plains to be suitable for cotton.

To help prevent more friction between the two factions, the idea of popular sovereignty was developed by Stephen A. Douglas; that is to allow the voters living in these new territories to determine whether the area would be slave or free. When residents in Iowa and Missouri moved into the territory of Kansas to temporarily unbalance the vote in favor of the side they wanted to win, this led to the Bleeding Kansas Incident.

Texas was not concerned about the concept of popular sovereignty because it had already entered the Union. Texas did have problems because its governor, Sam Houston, was not in favor of secession and several leading political figures, including James W. Throckmorton, were against secession. Also there were two different groups of counties within the state which did not favor secession when the vote was taken on Feb. 23, 1861. These two groups were the German communities located in the Hill Country which voted against secession as shown: Bexar, 46%; Fayette, 52%; Gillespie, 96%; Mason, 97%; and Medina, 60%; and those counties, mostly near the Red River, which were settled by Upper South immigrants: Angelina, 57%; Bastrop, 51%; Blanco, 61%; Burnet, 61%; Collin, 70%; Cooke, 61%; Fannin, 58%; Grayson, 66%; Jack, 84%; Lamar, 55%; Montague, 63%; and Williamson, 58%.

Some historians feel that the German communities did not vote for secession because they had endured some form of persecution in their home country (religious, military, political or social) and did not want to endorse any form of slavery. A second reason is that these thrifty-minded Germans were not going to buy slave labor when they had children who worked for free. The other counties who voted against secession were populated by people from those states located in the Upper South (Tennessee, Arkansas, Kentucky, Missouri) who did not have the same ideology about slavery as their Gulf South neighbors. There were slaves in these states, but the mountainous topography of these states did not allow large wholesale usage of slaves as it did in the delta and savannah regions of Virginia, the Carolinas, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana.

Nevertheless, the majority of the voters in Texas favored secession and Texas took part in the Civil War and sent thousands of her men to give their lives to protect a cultural institution of their ancestry.

Sell the Post Office!

WASHINGTON, VA. - Imagine a textile producer arguing against import restrictions on textiles, or a city councilman fighting to cut federal revenue sharing, or a wheat farmer opposing price supports for wheat. Over the years, we have gotten used to people lobbying for special-interest favors that benefit themselves; it is noteworthy when someone does the opposite.

That's exactly what is happening in the direct mail industry. As you may know, I am the president of a direct mail advertising company. Some direct mail advertisers are coming to the conclusion that the country would be better off without the postal subsidy ... and that, in the long run, they and their companies would be better off as well.

Indeed, they are willing to turn completely to free enterprise - to abandon the "safety net" of a government monopoly on first-class mail and take their chances in the marketplace. To put it bluntly, they want the federal government to sell the post office.

The private sector, if given the chance, could deliver the mail much more efficiently and cheaply.

It is a measure of the effectiveness of the Postal Service that the price of a stamp has risen 250 percent in 14 years, yet (despite a billion dollar subsidy) the service continues to lose hundreds of millions of dollars - $251 million in fiscal 1985. There is virtually no chance that the Postal Service will break even, now or in the foreseeable future, without huge grants from the overburdened American taxpayer.

Unrestrained by market pressures that keep private sector unions in line, the postal unions have run away with the store. In a 1984 report, Professor Michael Wachter of the Wharton School of Economics concluded that "the Postal Service pays a wage which is higher than the wage paid in every major industrial sector of the American economy." He said the average postal worker is paid 23 percent more than the average private sector worker with similar training and responsibilities. Other experts put the figure at 30 percent or more.

Labor costs amount to more than $19 per hour per worker, and the average postal wage of $29,000

The U.S.S. San Jacinto

Navy names cruiser to mark Sesquicentennial

WASHINGTON - The U.S. Navy has agreed to name its next Aegis cruiser the U.S.S. San Jacinto in honor of the battle through which the Republic of Texas secured independence from Mexico, U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm has announced.

"The San Jacinto is a Ticonderoga-class guided missile cruiser. It is to be christened in December of this Texas Sesquicentennial year and commissioned in December of 1987," Gramm said. "When fully operational, it will join nine other guided missile cruisers as one of the most powerful warships in the world," the senator said.

"Needless to say, I am proud that the Navy has chosen - in this special way and at this special time - to pay tribute to the valor of those who won our independence against overwhelming odds on the battlefield at San Jacinto."

The San Jacinto will be 563 feet long, 55 feet across the beam and will displace 9,600 tons under full load. It will be powered by four gas turbine engines which generate a total of 80,000 horse power.

The ship will be capable of traveling in excess of 30 knots. San Jacinto will carry an array of armament, including two helicopters, Tomahawk, Harpoon and Standard missiles, anti-submarine rockets and two five-inch guns.

TCADA to hold public hearings

The Texas Commission on Alcohol and Drug Abuse will hold public hearings at four locations during June 9-12. The hearings to be held in Austin, Corpus Christi, Galveston and Arlington, are to allow public testimony regarding the alcohol and drug abuse portions of the Alcohol, Drug Abuse and Mental Health Block Grant for fiscal year 1987 and the Commission's legislative appropriations request for the 1988-89 biennium.

The date for the Arlington hearing will be Thursday, June 12, from 2-4 p.m. in the North Central Texas Council Governments Board Room, 616 Six Flags Drive, Centerpoint Two Building on the second floor.

Representatives from the Commission will be present at the hearings to explain the budget process and receive comments from interested citizens. Preliminary reports of the intended use of block grant funds for Federal Fiscal Year 1987 (beginning Oct. 1, 1986) will be provided along with relevant budget information.

All written and oral comments will be considered in the preparation of the final plans and budgets. Interpreters for the hearing impaired and for Spanish-speaking persons will be available at the hearings to assist as needed.

Preliminary intended use reports and relevant budget information can be obtained from Regional Councils of Government or by contacting Becky Davis, Deputy Director, Texas Commission on Alcohol and Drug Abuse, 1705 Guadalupe, Austin, Texas 78701-1214, or by phone at (512) 463-5510.

Written comments will be accepted by the Commission through June 30, 1986.

Time capsule will be Boy Scout project

Jason Gehrig is planning the placement of a time capsule in a specific area within the city of Muenster, as one of the projects for his Eagle requirements in the Boy Scouts.

The decision for exact location of its display and preservation has not been made, however, the time capsule will be sealed, containing items which represent Muenster's past and especially Muenster's present. It will be divided into segments for organizations to contribute or show most of the aspects of the community and, hopefully, will reflect what Muenster people think best represent the city.

Suggestion boxes will be placed in local grocery stores and in Gehrig Hardware for residents to place their written notes indicating ideas for inclusion.

Jason Gehrig said he will appreciate comments about the best place to preserve the time capsule, the most suitable items to include, and any other ideas. The suggestion boxes will remain in the stores until Monday, June 23.

The Boy Scout is also requesting pictures of businesses and local families; he noted that information should be written on the back of every picture. Pictures may be left at Gehrig Hardware or mailed to P.O. Box 323, but must be identified. Current phone numbers will also be of great help to him as he begins assembling the project.

If a business has no picture, but wishes to be represented, he said he will attempt to take the picture. "Hopefully," he said, "with participation of the community, the time capsule will be a success." Jason is the son of Jim and Cindy Gehrig.

Thanks to all the voters of Precinct 4 who supported me in the run-off election on Saturday. Your kindness to me, and your support of my candidacy, will always be remembered and treasured.

State Fair plans are heating up

Preparations for this year's State Fair of Texas are heating up as fast as the Texas summer.

The first deadline in the Creative Arts Department is July 5, when entries are due for the "Shoe Box" Float Competition. Each float design must be constructed using an actual shoe box and is required to focus on a Sesquicentennial theme. The top prize winner will be developed into a full-sized float which will be featured in the nightly parade during the fair, Sept. 26 through Oct. 26.

Another special competition for the Sesquicentennial year is the "Best of Texas" Birthday Cake contest, sponsored by Burrus Mills, which features a grand prize trip for two to Hawaii. Cake recipes should be mailed to the Creative Arts Department no later than July 15, 1986.

Entries in the Sesquicentennial Quilt and Banner Contest will also be required to have a theme pertaining to Texas. These will be judged on the use of color, original design and theme.

The Texas Heritage Recipe Contest on Oct. 15 will be divided into three categories: Ethnic, Chuckwagon and New Southwestern Cuisine. The blue ribbon winner in each category will win a trip for two to New Orleans, San Antonio or Rio Grande Valley/Padre Island. Complete contest rules will be published in the Dallas Morning News food section in September.

A new "Best Texas Pie" Contest, sponsored by Crisco, is scheduled on Saturday, Oct. 4, at 2 p.m.

Complete descriptions, requirements and deadlines for all areas of Creative Arts competition at the 1986 State Fair of Texas are set forth in this year's Premium List, which is now available. Requests for copies of this booklet should be directed to the Creative Arts Department, State Fair of Texas, P.O. Box 26010, Dallas, TX 75226.

Choose beef for Father's Day

What's cookin' for Father's Day? Turkeys have their day at Thanksgiving. Hams generally grace the table at Easter. Why not beef for Father's Day? It's nutritious, fun to cook and dads love it!

"We want to tie beef to Father's Day like turkey has been tied to Thanksgiving," says Lucille Sterling, president of the Texas CowBelles, an organization devoted to the promotion of beef in the state. "If we can establish that connection, we can get people to head for the meat case in June and think of beef when they think of Father's Day."

Governor Mark White strengthened that connection by signing a "Beef for Father's Day" proclamation which states...

"Beef is a basic American food. It is rich in protein, iron, B-vitamins and other essential nutrients making it a food that fits well into today's active lifestyle. The beef industry is a vital part of our State's food chain and contributes millions of dollars to the state economy annually..."

Texas CowBelles from across the state and representatives from the Beef Industry Council were on hand May 15 as Governor Mark White signed the proclamation in the Governor's Reception Room at the State Capitol. A beef rib roast was presented to the Governor during the ceremony.

"Consumers are often surprised at how low in calories and cholesterol beef is," says Anne Anderson, Texas Beef Promotion Coordinator. "The rib roast presented to Governor White, for example, contains a mere 217 calories per three-ounce, roasted, trimmed serving. It contains only 68 milligrams of cholesterol as compared to the same amount of roasted chicken which contains 76 milligrams of cholesterol."

According to the American Heart Association, no more than 300 milligrams of cholesterol should be consumed per day. A three-ounce serving of beef rib roast accounts for less than one-fourth of the American Heart Association's recommended maximum.

"HAMMING IT UP" for the camera crew from Austin was a group of visitors to the Kiwanis Park and another group of onlookers. And everyone was singin "You Are My Sunshine," humming when they couldn't remember the words.

Ruling requires all septic systems to be registered

The Cooke County Environmental Health Department has received numerous requests to certify private sewage disposal systems (septic tanks).

Lending agencies are requiring certification to protect against the possibility of septic failure and the chance of default and repossession of the property.

The Health Department has customarily furnished this service at no charge and handled these requests on a routine basis. The reduction of interest rates has increased the number of this type inspection significantly, making it necessary to charge for this service.

The Cooke County Commissioner's Court in session on June 2, 1986 voted to make a $25.00 charge for certification of a registered private sewage disposal system.

Cooke County has required all systems to be registered with the Health Department since the adoption of the regulations on Feb. 11, 1974.

Systems that have not been registered under these regulations will be required to comply with the same regulations as a new system.

The fee for the new system, for percolation testing and inspection is $50.00.

There are no longer any provisions for exemptions of systems that might be on any size farms or ranches. The regulations exempting homes on five acres or more has been rescinded.

In double ring ceremony...

Grewing, Harrison exchange vows

In a Nuptial Mass with double ring wedding vows, Laura Lee Grewing of Muenster became the bride of Tommy Lynn Harrison, Jr. of Denton on Saturday, June 7, at 5 p.m. Father Victor Gillespie officiated in Sacred Heart Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Grewing of Muenster and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Lynn Harrison of Denton. Laura is a 1983 graduate of Sacred Heart High School and is co-owner of Tops and Teams Sporting Goods in Muenster. Harrison is a 1981 graduate of Lake Dallas High School and of Spartanburg Technical College of Spartanburg, South Carolina and is employed by Peterbilt of Denton.

Before an altar decorated with white gladioli and carnations, the bride was presented by her father. She was wearing a white silk organza gown featuring a Victorian yoke bodice with a lace wedding band neckline, and sheer puffed sleeves gathered and banded to Chantilly lace. The skirt was encircled with rows of Chantilly lace featuring a sweetheart hemline that fell to slipper length and flowed to a chapel train. She wore a white bridal hat trimmed with lace appliques and rows of seed pearls, with attached fingertip-length illusion veil. Her bridal bouquet was a dozen red roses.

Melinda Fanning, the bride's niece of Muenster, was flower girl, wearing a light blue taffeta long dress and carrying a single long-stemmed red rose to present to the bride, who placed it on the Blessed Virgin's altar following the ceremony.

Justin Serna, the bride's nephew of Sanger, was ringbearer. The best man was the groom's father, Tommy L. Harrison of Denton. Groomsman were Tim Walser of Nocona, a friend, Randy Serna, the bride's brother-in-law, and Bruce Harrison, the groom's cousin of Lawton, Oklahoma.

Mass servers were Ryan Bayer and Jason Frost, nephews of the bride of Muenster.

Ushers were the bride's brothers-in-law, David Bayer and Mark L. Sicking, and a friend of the groom, Bobby Hartman, all of Muenster, and Lester Fortenberry, a friend of the groom of Sanger.

Wedding music was presented by organist, Mrs. David Bayer, the bride's sister Janice; and vocalists Mrs. Eileen Fisher, Christy Felderhoff and David Bayer, a brother-in-law of the bride. Selections included "Through the Eyes of Love," "Trumpet Voluntary," "Song of Ruth" and "How Great Thou Art."

Readings in the wedding liturgy were given by Debbie Walser of Nocona, Betty Luttmir, Peggy Grewing, sister-in-law of the bride, and Margie Starke, a dear friend of the bride.

We made a better coffee. You'll enjoy the change.

New "Custom Roast" Coffee.

Now better coffee flavor costs less. "Custom Roasting" is a new coffee roasting process that gives you more coffee flavor at a lower coffee price.

How?

Two ways. First, custom roasting involves the carefully controlled movement of coffee beans through the roaster under exacting conditions of heat, air velocity and time. This intensifies the natural coffee flavor.

Second, this special process expands coffee beans significantly more than ordinary roasting. The result is more coffee surface area to interact with the water in your coffee maker. And this gives you more flavor from the coffee.

The result is that you need less coffee to get more flavor. Which means you save money.

And to help you save even more, here's a special introductory offer. Just use the coupon below and you'll get 70¢ off your next purchase of new Maryland Club Custom Roast Coffee.

Try it. You'll enjoy the change.

As part of our involvement with the Texas Sesquicentennial celebration, we will contribute 10¢ toward restoration of the Texas Goddess of Liberty atop our State's capitol when you redeem this coupon.

Texans urged to take extra care in the sun

The American Cancer Society (ACS) has some words of warning for Texans looking forward to spending time outdoors during the long days of summer.

If you fry now, you may pay later, the Society cautions, because every exposure to the sun ages and damages skin. Skin cancer is the most serious form of "payment" for sun worshipers. More than 400,000 new cases of skin cancer will be diagnosed this year. While the vast majority are highly curable, the problem itself is largely preventable by exercising good sense and taking simple precautions.

"Young people, especially, are unaware of the cumulative amount of damage they are getting when they get too much sun," said Linda N. White, R.N., Houston, Chairman of the ACS Texas Division skin cancer program development committee. "They think because nothing happens this year, or in five years, that everything's okay."

"Also, a lot of people are unaware of the damage done other than skin cancer ... wrinkles, drying out, the aging process," White added.

Because skin cancer occurs more frequently than any other type of cancer, it is important to recognize its warning signals: a sore that does not heal; any unusual skin condition, especially a change in the size or color of a mole or other darkly pigmented growth or spot.

To reduce the risk of damage from too much sun, the Society advises Texans to:

- * cover up - wear hats and protective clothing;
- * use sunscreens - apply sunscreen at least an hour before going into the sun and again after swimming or perspiring heavily;
- * avoid the midday sun - between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. the sun's ultraviolet rays (the ones that do the damage) are strongest;
- * don't use indoor sun lamps, tanning parlors or tanning pills.

In addition to taking precautions in the sun, the Society recommends monthly skin self-exams to note any changes in moles, blemishes or birthmarks.

For more information, contact your local American Cancer Society office.

WAYLON JENNINGS

Waylon and Jessi set at Six Flags

ARLINGTON - Six Flags Over Texas had planned to introduce a million-dollar expansion of its Music Mill Amphitheater with shows by country music superstars Waylon Jennings and Jessi Colter on June 14, and Willie Nelson the following evening.

That was before Nelson was forced to cancel when he broke a guitar-playing thumb in a tumble from a bicycle. It was also before torrents of rain brought construction of the huge amphitheater to a soggy halt.

The bright spots in the story are Waylon and Jessi who will be keeping their date with Six Flags concertgoers in the park's Festival Concert Pavilion, a paved area with no formal seating. Showtime is 8 p.m. and fans are invited to bring blankets and cushions for added comfort. A $4.00 charge will be made for the concert in addition to the regular park admission fee.

General Manager Bob Bennett said the new Music Mill facility, expanded from 4,500 to more than 10,500 seats, all reserved, will likely be completed in time for a June 27 appearance by the rock group, Mike & The Mechanics.

"We'll have one of the finest outdoor concert facilities in the country when the Music Mill expansion is completed," Bennett said. "All we need is a few days of sunshine."

Noble Planetarium presents 150 years of Texas astronomy

Beginning June 16, the Noble Planetarium at the Fort Worth Museum of Science and History will examine how Texans have been fascinated by the sky and the science of astronomy throughout the past 150 years.

This sesquicentennial presentation, 150 Years of Texas Astronomy, begins with a look at how the Indians and cattle drives relied on the North Star for guidance a century ago. It traces the founding and continuing development of McDonald Observatory and discusses Texas' role as the center for manned space exploration.

The show also mentions some of Fort Worth's noted contributors to the science of astronomy, such as Charlie Mary Noble, who directed the interest of young minds toward the stars, (and for whom the Museum's planetarium is named), and Oscar Monning, who until recently was the owner of the largest meteorite collection in the world.

Summer showtimes for 150 Years of Texas Astronomy are as follows: Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday - 2, 3; Thursday - 2, 3, 8; Saturday - 1, 2, 3; Sunday - 1, 2, 3, 4, 8. Admission to the program is $2.50 per person for adults and children over 4. Children under 4 will not be admitted.

We, Glenn and Jeanie Hess, would like to thank all of the concerned citizens who helped save what we could of our business, Glenn's Paint & Body, which burned Friday. Without the help and concern of many of you we couldn't have made it, and probably would have suffered a much greater loss.

We would like to thank the fantastic crew of the Muenster Fire Dept., the Police Dept. and especially the young people who noticed the fire, notified the fire department, the police and even moved things away from the burning building. We don't know who all of you were, but Mark Hoenic, Kevin Switzer, Randy Reiter, Teddy Walterscheid, and especially our parents and employees - we owe you a lot.

Times like this are never easy to take, but to our customers and friends, we promise this is not the end!

Look for our re-opening soon - and along with it will come the most modern equipment available today. We've been in business 4 years at this location. And believe it or not, there has been many advances in equipment since that time. Especially in paint booths. We will soon be able to offer the absolute "cleanest" and best paint jobs in the North Texas area.

So, our loss can simply be your gain, please be patient, and stay with us. We hope to be back in business in a month or so. We will still provide estimates and referrals. We will be more prepared for fire this time as an automated sprinkler system as well as alarm devices will be installed.

Stay tuned, and thanks again for your sincere kindness.

Glenn and Jeanie Hess

Cauble Reunion held June 8

The Cauble Reunion was held Sunday, June 8, at the home of Lynn and Karen Teace in Alvord. Sixty-three descendants of the late O.L. and Myrtle Cauble gathered for the occasion. Lunch was served with some Louisiana food specialties such as Cajun Soup, Bawdian, Dirty Rice and many kinds of desserts, as well as chicken and dressing with all the trimmings. After lunch they went swimming in the Teace's enclosed swimming pool, with workout rooms, hot tub, etc. Mr. Teace sells yearly memberships to the swimming pool for $199.00 each, but you don't have to be a member to go swimming.

The late Mr. and Mrs. Cauble were the parents of six girls. One daughter, Mrs. Frances Myers, passed away in 1980. Those living are Mrs. Irene Harry, Mrs. Rose Rice, Mrs. Kate Robeson, Mrs. Tommi Hudson and Mrs. Minner Reddell. All were in attendance and a host of grandchildren and great-grandchildren. Sunday morning, the Christians left for Stephenville to attend Baccalaureate services for the graduating class of 161, of which their granddaughter Shannon Christian was a member and Salutatorian of the class with a grade point average of 98.1. There were 54 honor graduates. Bill and Dorothy hosted a dinner following the service. Shannon received her diploma Monday night. ## Family reunion camp out held at Stony Point

Over the Memorial Day weekend, the Tolbert Fannings hosted the 14th annual family Camp Out at Stony Point. This is not a "remember when?" reunion, but more a "what do you plan next year?" and 74 young members of LaVona's family appeared. "These young parents automatically turn into 10-year-olds when they cross the cattleguard," reports Tolbert, "so the wind, rain and hail bothered no one." Daniel and Gretchen Wettlin and daughter Erin traveled the longest distance, coming 1600 miles from Newtown, Pennsylvania. The youngest members were James Wesley, son of David and Debbie Wright of College Station, Texas; and Traci, daughter of Clark and Debbie Richardson of Fort Worth, Texas, both four-months-old. Tolbert was the oldest.

Lake Nocona offers big variety

NOCONA - Lake Nocona is a 20-year-old reservoir which appears to offer some of the better fishing opportunities to be had in the North Central Texas region.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department biologist Bruce Hysmith said the lake, located eight miles north of Nocona in Montague County, has excellent populations of largemouth bass, crappie, channel catfish and sunfish.

"The department stocked

Florida largemouth bass here in 1981 and 1982, and subsequent surveys indicate the Floridas have contributed heavily to the bass population," Hysmith said. He added that bass populations and growth rates both are above average in the 1,470-acre water supply lake.

"Also, the lake has almost triple the statewide average for channel catfish, and their growth rate is excellent," Hysmith said. Crappie also apparently benefit from the reservoir's excellent populations of forage fishes, he said.

Large redear sunfish also provide fine sport for youngsters using live bait, he said.

Two public parks on the west shoreline provide boat ramps, picnicking and camping. For more information, contact the Nocona Chamber of Commerce, Box 27, Nocona, TX 76255, (817) 825-3526.

Wildlife Park offers free admission June 23 - 29

Persons 60 years and older will be admitted free of charge to the International Wildlife Park June 23-29.

With identification and proof of age, persons 60 years and older become VIPs at the tourist attraction during Senior Citizen Week.

"The International Wildlife Park is ideal for those who are unable to walk great distances," said Mickey Hunt, executive vice-president of the International Wildlife Park. "They are able to ride through the animal safari in the comfort of their own automobiles and feed the animals from their car windows."

The park's Entertainment Village, located adjacent to the drive-through safari, is also included in Senior Citizen Week. The amusement area is designed to accommodate wheelchairs along sidewalks, in rest rooms and all buildings.

The feature attraction in the Village this season is "The Best Little Circus in Texas," featuring Killer Willard the boxing kangaroo, clowns, jugglers and a chimpanzee comedy revue. Matinee and early evening performances are scheduled daily through the summer.

Other attractions in the Entertainment Village include bear and parrot shows in the Afri-Theater, the Wildlife Express train ride, elephant ride, Junior Jungle, baby animal nursery and animal exhibits.

The International Wildlife Park is located in Grand Prairie just north of Interstate 30 (old DFW Turnpike) and Belt Line Rd.

The park opens at 9:30 a.m. with the last car of the day admitted at 6 p.m. For additional information on Senior Citizen Week and the "Best Little Circus" show schedule, call (214) 263-2201.

County Agent's Report

by Craig Rosenbaum

Time now to start doing battle with mesquite

The time is approaching for doing battle with mesquite, specifically with foliar application of herbicides. Mesquite growth varies because of moisture conditions, so ranchers need to assess their individual situations to determine when to apply foliar herbicides.

Data obtained from Texas Agricultural Experiment Station research shows that higher plant kills occur when monthly rainfall exceeds the average six months prior to spraying. With less rainfall, the degree of control is reduced. Generally, if mesquite plants have developed a large quantity of leaves and plants are not moisture stressed at time of application, reasonable control may be expected.

Also, mesquite leaves should be fully extended and should have turned from light green to dark green before herbicide is applied. Usually, this occurs about 40 days after bud break. When leaves have matured, plants begin to store carbohydrate reserves, and control is good at this time.

Research by Texas Tech University shows that food reserves are used during the period of pod elongation. Applying herbicide during this period usually results in poor control. Once pods have elongated, storage of food reserves continues, and excellent control is obtained during this period.

About 90 days after bud break, control with foliar applied herbicides decreases because of wax build-up on leaves and a general decrease in plant growth activity.

Soil temperature also is an important factor in mesquite control. Research by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and Texas Tech University has shown that soil temperature at 12-18 inches of depth at time of spraying should be 75°F. or higher for the best control of mesquite. Data from Texas Tech shows poor mesquite control if herbicide is applied when soil temperature at 12-18 inches is below 75°F.

If frequent rains occur during the spray season, plants may put out new leaves. These leaves should be allowed to mature before spraying. Also, mesquite with foliage damaged by insects, disease, hail or a late frost should not be sprayed until new foliage has developed and matured.

Three herbicides are registered and effective for control of mesquite by foliar application: Grazon ET (triclopyr), Banvel (dicamba) and Grazon PC (picloram).

Grazon ET and Banvel may be used alone. However, a higher degree of control may be obtained by using a one-to-one mixture of triclopyr and picloram or a one-to-one mixture of dicamba and picloram. Although 2,4,5-T registrations have been cancelled and 2,4,5-T is no longer available, a rancher with a supply of 2,4,5-T on hand can legally use it. Use 2,4,5-T alone or in a one-to-one mixture with picloram or dicamba. 2,4,5-T cannot be legally sold nor can it legally change hands.

For cost-effective mesquite control with foliar herbicides, use proper timing combined with the proper method and follow up with good range management.

AG BRIEFS...

PROTECT YOURSELF FROM LIGHTNING - Lightning often is a companion of spring thunderstorms in Texas and can be a deadly force. Quick thinking combined with common sense can go a long way in preventing lightning fatalities when thunderstorms are on the prowl, says a safety engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. For protection from lightning, stay away from telephones, large fixtures and appliances while indoors. If outdoors, seek shelter in a building protected from lightning, a large steel-framed building or an automobile; don't touch metal objects; get off bicycles, horses, tractors, or golf carts; avoid lone trees or taller trees in groves; don't huddle in groups; seek a low spot, such as a ravine or gully; avoid railroad tracks, beaches, piers or any open space; and don't go swimming or boating.

HOME EC BRIEFS...

OUTDOOR WORKERS NEED PRECAUTIONS AGAINST SUN - People who work outdoors have one thing in common with sun bathers - a higher risk for developing skin cancer. "Farmers and ranchers, construction workers and others who work outdoors may not expose large areas of their skin to the sun, but the cumulative effect of the sun's rays just to the forearm, head and neck can add up over time," says health education specialist Dr. Mary Ann Heussner. She reminds outdoor workers to wear hats when in the sun. Dark, thick hair offers more protection than light or thin hair, but it's possible to get a scalp burn regardless of your hair type. Protective clothing is an important precaution, she says, along with putting a sunscreen on any exposed body parts such as the forearms, face and neck. Avoiding the midday sun when possible will also help workers stay away from the sun's strongest and most damaging ultraviolet rays.

 * Looking for a Job and

* Ways to Increase Income
 In addition, this guide provides suggestions on job hunting including evaluating skills, writing a resume and application letter, knowing where to look for jobs and preparing for an interview.

The packet of information is available to anyone interested.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic level, race, color, sex, religion, handicap or national origin.

Steer validation is scheduled for June 25

4-H and FFA members who plan to exhibit steers at the major livestock shows (Fort Worth, San Antonio, Houston, State Fair of Texas) must have their steers validated in June. A countywide Steer Validation time has been set for 8 a.m. until 10:30 a.m. Wednesday, June 25. The validation will be held at the Gainesville Livestock Auction.

A validation fee of $3 will be charged to 4-H members. Steers will be weighed, nose printed and ear tagged at the validation session. Steers that are not validated will be ineligible to show at the major livestock shows in 1986-87. If you have any questions, contact your local Vocational Agriculture Instructor or County Agent.

It pays to topdress pastures.

Proper fertilization of pasture will greatly increase meat and milk production. You'll see faster weight gain, more pounds of gain per acre, a longer grazing season and greater carrying capacity. Begin with a soil test.

Let our Fertilizer Specialist help you. He has the "know-how and we have the materials. Come see us soon. We're ready when you are.
