Election Day turnout is high, results show upsets in county

Election Day in Muenster favored Bill Clements for Governor of Texas and returned Rosalee Bayer to office as Commissioner of Precinct 4.

Both election judges, Christi Klement in North Muenster box, Precinct 18 and Janet Fisher in South Muenster box, Precinct 17 said Tuesday's voter turnout was one of the largest they can recall.

Mrs. Klement said there are approximately 1200 eligible voters in Precinct 18 and 860 actually appeared. Mrs. Fisher estimated about 275 eligible voters in Precinct 17, and 197 cast their ballots.

Unofficial election results as reported by Klement and Fisher are as follows, with a comparison to the Cooke County total vote, shown in the last column:

Parish advances annual picnic to Nov. 23

The Sacred Heart parish will host its annual homecoming picnic and benefit bazaar again this year, but will advance its date to the Sunday preceding the customary Thanksgiving holiday.

Friends, relatives, former residents and hometown folks are invited to plan their schedules to include attendance at the event as an opportunity for fellowship and feasting.

The day will begin with a traditional Thanksgiving menu as an introduction to the holiday season. Serving will begin at 11:30 a.m. Prices will be $5.00 for adults and $2.50 for children.

Always a dominant feature of the Thanksgiving event, the Country Store this year is "bigger and better" according to the co-chairmen Dorothy Mae Yosten, Regina Pels and Miriam Caplinger. Principal emphasis is on beautifully handmade crafts and Christmas items. Also available will be baked goods, candies, jellies, etc. A special feature of the Country Store will be a "Christmas Wonderland," when it offers a great assortment of Christmas decorations. Large outdoor decorations, wreaths, personalized sleighs, a beautiful Christmas tree skirt and round-the-world quilt raffle.

New to the event will be a Catholic Gift Shop called "Heavenly Gifts." Margie Klement is chairman.

Children's games and booths will be open during the afternoon for their entertainment.

General picnic co-chairmen are Don Hess, Werner Becker, Jr. and Tom Herr.

Dinner co-chairmen are Carrie Ann Walterscheid, Charlotte Dangelmayr and Patsy Dangelmayr.

Further details will be announced as plans are completed. Sponsors call special attention to the change in date, Sunday, Nov. 23, 1986.

Council stands firm on garbage fee hike

"We have a $100,000.00 garbage operation losing $40,000 this year. The city can't keep on doing this for chicken feed," said Mayor Rich Grewing Monday night.

The city has received several complaints and questions regarding the three dollar increase in basic garbage rates. Some businesses have experienced much larger increases after a survey was made recently of the kinds and amounts of trash produced by individual locations. Some charges have now been changed after specifics were better understood. Some city customers have taken measures to reduce the volume of trash or the amount of city labor required to pick it up. City Manager Joe Fenton said the city will continue to study special cases or hardship cases individually. Muenster garbage collection charges will remain at the recently set levels. Residential charges range from $6 to $15 mostly. Some businesses pay over $200.00 per month.

Mayor Grewing held out hope of lowering the fees. "We hope to lower trash charges if and when the new dumpsite is opened and if costs go down. Anyway, that's our intent."

Many factors are coming into play concerning Muenster garbage and disposal thereof. See accompanying story.

Joe Fenton reported to the council that the Chamber of Commerce has pledged $500.00 toward the $2,500.00 needed for Muenster's share of purchase of the Mini-bus. This is still just a proposed project. Fenton has received some comment concerning that the mini-bus project is tied up in too much government red tape and control.

Flossie Schoppa, local assistant to state representative Richard Williamson, presented surveys to council members requesting ideas and comments to the legislator.

The councilmen will return the surveys after consideration and discussion with constituents.

The council voted to remove garbage and sewer fees from water service to the Kiwanis Park on Main Street.

City officials will work with county emergency management people to make cooperative arrangements in advance of their need. The mutual aid agreements are proposed among all communities in Cooke County.

City Attorney Chuck Bartush, Jr. presented a proposed ingress and egress agreement to the former landfill on Art Bayer's property. Muenster may no longer use the site but the agreement, if approved, will allow for state mandated inspection of the site and closure regulations which last for five years.

Harvey Lamkin came to the council meeting to express his thanks and that of the entire Hillcrest neighborhood for the city's help in bringing the curbing and road improvements in their area to reality. He was concerned, however, that the concrete work and the negotiations and contracting over it had suggested discrimination for one concrete contractor over the other. "It would appear to the neighborhood people that the city council was pushing one (contractor) over the other," Lamkin said. Just which contractor was discriminated against was never clearly stated during this lengthy discussion.

The council was insistent that they had favored neither contractor. Janet Barnhill and Frances Bayer, who were present at the Monday night meeting, argued that there has been discrimination between concrete contractors and it was unfair because both do quality work. Mayor Grewing stated that a reliable source told him that a councilman had suggested one contractor's name to an inquiring resident. Stopping short of reprimand, Grewing emphatically said no city official or employee should recommend any contractor or worker over another and it should not happen again. He thanked Lamkin for the much appreciated, but seldom received, thanks.

Three residents will oppose proposed landfill site

The City of Muenster has received formal notice from the Texas Health Department that they have received request for a public hearing concerning the proposed new landfill site. (See front page, Muenster Enterprise, Oct. 24, 1986). Hal Nelson of the Health Department in Austin has received a letter from attorney Stuart Henry formally requesting the hearing. The letter names those requesting the hearing as three longtime residents, King Koch, Charles Bartush, Sr. and Doug Robison. Nelson will soon send the notice of public hearing to the city naming the time and place of the hearing. The city must publish this notice in a general circulation newspaper in this area no less than 30 days prior to the hearing date. There is a $1500.00 cost to the city for the hearing.

The proposed site 10.6 miles north of Muenster is under lease to the city at this time. It has undergone two years of legal and environmen-

Heritage Society to form

At the Town Hall Meeting in August, a desire for a Heritage or Historical Society of Muenster was expressed. This has been discussed and Mrs. Juanita Bright has undertaken to organize such a society. If you have an interest in the history of Muenster, preserving your heritage, or just want to see Muenster's heritage stay alive, contact the Chamber of Commerce at 759-2227 or call Juanita Bright at 759-4482.

Bentsen attacks smugglers with bill

For $12.95 anyone - drug smugglers included - can mail order a catalog detailing the radio frequencies used by the Drug Enforcement Administration, the Federal Bureau of Investigation and other federal agencies.

Then, with a simple scanner purchased at a consumer electronics store, anyone can listen to the radio conversations of our law enforcement agents - broadcast mostly in the clear, without voice encryption or frequency security.

It's no secret to drug smugglers that they can simply and legally obtain that catalog. They know they don't have to buy a van crammed with sophisticated electronics gear to avoid being caught in the net of a drug bust.

This is a ridiculous situation. We spend hundreds of millions of dollars a year fighting drug traffickers, yet we do nothing to stop these criminals from electronically snooping on the tactical communications of our law enforcement agencies. For example, when DEA requested $7 million this year for secure voice walkie-talkies, the Office of Management and Budget completely cut the funding.

The original version of the comprehensive anti-drug bill recently approved by the Senate included funds for secure voice communications equipment for the Customs Service and Coast Guard. But it left out the DEA, the FBI and the Secret Service - which is often drawn into drug trafficking investigations while enforcing credit card fraud and counterfeiting laws.

To remedy this, I introduced - and the Senate approved - an amendment to provide these three agencies with secure communications equipment. It increases the total cost of the anti-drug bill by $9 million. To close such a serious gap, this one-time expense is a small price to pay.

And when Congress reconvenes, I will continue my long-time fight to improve the tools we have to combat drug smuggling - especially in Texas.

Back in 1978, I authored the Psychotropic Substances Act which restricted purchase of a key ingredient in the drug PCP or "angel dust" and stiffened penalties for trafficking in PCP - which produces horrifying psychotic reactions.

In 1983, the Caribbean Basin Initiative included my amendment requiring cooperation in U.S. drug fighting efforts from countries wanting CBI benefits.

The Comprehensive Crime Control of 1984 contained two Bentsen anti-drug provisions. One increased the maximum sentence for trafficking in non-narcotic drugs - such as angel dust, LSD and amphetamines - to the same as the maximum 15-year and $25,000 sentence for trafficking in narcotic drugs - such as heroin, morphine and cocaine. Second-offenders are now subject to 30 years in prison and a $50,000 fine.

Another provision I authored allows the Federal Aviation Administrator to revoke the licenses of pilots involved in drug smuggling. Smugglers who fly after their licenses are revoked risk five years in prison and a $25,000 fine. And last year, the DEA Administrator complied with my request to restrict use of the drug MDMA or "ecstasy" thus making its abuse illegal.

While cocaine confiscations on the Texas-Mexico border were skyrocketing from nine pounds in 1983 to 846 pounds in 1985, the number of drug enforcement agents in Texas - from both the DEA and Customs - remained at about 180. I went to the mat many times during those years to fight repeated attempts to take away some of those agents.

All indications are that the latest war on drugs will mean a beefed up federal drug enforcement presence in our state.

I intend to monitor the situation closely to ensure Texas gets the resources that are needed.

SOVIET SPIES: 25 DOWN, MORE TO FOLLOW

By Edwin Feulner

On October 19, about a week after Soviet boss Mikhail Gorbachev huffed away from Reykjavik, Iceland, upset over President Reagan's refusal to exchange America's anti-missile research program for another "arms control" agreement the Kremlin would have violated, a small group of Soviets left New York for the motherland.

Their expected one-way trip had been on the pre-summit agenda, but in the words of Secretary of State George Schultz, time ran out before the matter could be discussed.

The United States had ordered their departure. The Kremlin hoped the U.S. would change its mind and allow the Soviets - most of them thought to be spies operating out of the three Soviet missions at the United Nations - to stay. The subject apparently never came up. So the Soviets packed their bags, as ordered, and left.

To which we should add: Good Riddance! Less than a week before the summit, on October 7, the Senate Intelligence Committee said - in a 141-page report, 16 months in the making - that the U.S. has suffered great damage as a result of recent spy activities. The report said the damage was "far greater than anyone in the U.S. government has yet acknowledged publicly" and named the U.N. as a key Soviet intelligence outpost.

Intelligence Committee Chairman David F. Durenberger (R-Minn.) said there are "too many secrets, too much access to secrets, too many spies... and too little effort given to combating the very real threat which spies represent to our national security." One of the alleged spies identified in the report is a top aide to U.N. Secretary General Javier Perez de Cuellar.

Unfortunately, many Americans underestimate the problem. Among the 55 "diplomats" being expelled from the Soviet Embassy in Washington are a number of known spies.

In New York, hundreds of foreign moles cozily operate out of the United Nations. Gennadi Zakharov, for example, whose arrest sparked the Soviet KGB's set-up of U.S. journalist Nicholas Daniloff, was an "employee" of a U.N. scientific agency. In truth, he was a high-ranking operative in the Soviet KGB.

But Zakharov is just one of many. Approximately 450 Soviet nationals and more than 200 people from other Soviet-bloc countries are on the payroll of the U.N. Secretariat. Although the Soviets have traditionally been reluctant to use Secretariat employees for spying - since U.N. employees lack diplomatic immunity and are eligible for arrest - they are obviously growing bolder.

Just prior to the Zakharov arrest, the Reagan administration ordered the expulsion of 25 "diplomats" attached to the Soviet mission at the U.N. - all of whom were thought to be intelligence operatives. The last of the 25 left on October 19. The Soviets also were given until April 1, 1987, to reduce the number of people staffing their missions to 170.

An unclassified CIA report tells the story. "Approximately one-fourth of the Soviets in the U.N. Secretariat are intelligence officers and many more are co-opted by the KGB and GRU (the Soviet military spy service)," the report says.

The FBI estimates that approximately 1,000 Soviet and Soviet-bloc intelligence officers operate out of the U.N. The problem is massive.

Over the past few years, both Congress and the administration have taken steps to reduce this huge Soviet intelligence operation. Yet U.S. counterintelligence officials admit that restrictions are difficult to enforce, as the new Senate Intelligence Committee report clearly shows.

All of which adds up to a spy nest on our doorstep and a potential replay of the Daniloff incident the next time a high-ranking Soviet spy is arrested in the West.

Democrats, Republicans join Gramm in oil industry recovery bill

WASHINGTON - Describing it as a step "that can speed the day when we make the energy industry competitive," U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm brought his Oil & Gas Revitalization Act to the Senate floor.

Gramm was joined in pressing for the legislation by a bipartisan group of senators, including Democratic Sens. Bennett Johnston of Louisiana and David Boren of Oklahoma and Republican Sens. Pete Domenici of New Mexico and Don Nickles of Oklahoma.

During the Senate's discussion of the bill, Johnston said he was "delighted that the package has been brought up for discussion here because it renews our resolve, those of us in the oil and gas producing states, to be ready next year to fight with renewed vigor..."

"I am very pleased that the senator from Texas has indicated it will be his intention to bring this forward as a bill early next year and we can get action on it as soon as possible," added Boren. "I look forward to being a part of that effort."

In the 75 days before Congress reconvenes, Gramm said, a series of conferences will be held by congressional sponsors, officials of the Departments of Energy and Interior and representatives of the oil and gas industry to refine the legislative package.

The bill already has the support of President Reagan, Energy Secretary James Herrington, Interior Secretary Donald Hodel, the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners, the Independent Producers Association of America and other industry groups.

Gramm's legislation would require a study of the economic and national security impact of an oil import fee. It also would repeal the Windfall Profits Tax, the Fuel Use Act and would effectively eliminate a series of regulatory restraints on the oil and gas industry.

Gramm said the bill was the product of a six-month effort "to try to come up with a comprehensive program to build a national energy program."

Muenster State Bank receives high rating

Muenster's home-owned and operated bank recently received notice from Sheshunoff & Company, the leading bank analysis firm in the country, announcing their ratings as of June 30, 1986. The letter states in part, "Your bank's rating is an A+, making your bank one of the best rated in the country."

"The Sheshunoff Ratings, as published in The Bank Quarterly

Ratings of All U.S. Banks, are based on the same objective criteria bankers use to evaluate their own bank and other banks. We have weighted these factors to reflect the level of importance given each factor by bank presidents in the Sheshunoff Annual Survey and Bank Safety and Soundness.

"I would like to congratulate you and your senior management on a job well done."

Letters to the Editor

Dear Friends,

The wagons have rolled many miles and now that the journey is over, I wanted to send a note to say thank you and to keep in touch.

Yes, it was a tough trip and yet it was an easy one. I don't think a person on the trip didn't at one time think of quitting and going home. Why would approximately 200 people and 31 wagons make the "complete trip?" Your answer, each and everyone who came to see the Wagon Train, to cheer us on, those who kept up with us every day from Texas, the United States and from different countries, the townspeople who planned celebrations for our arrival, the children who came to learn and the aged who came to remember - that is what the trip was all about. We gave and we received.

From the point I conceived the Wagon Train idea in July 1983 to the completion in Fort Worth/Saginaw July 1986, it was a roller coaster for three years in our personal lives. Many people ask, "Would you do it again?" The answer is "Yes, but with all things in life after we've done something, I'd like to make a few changes."

As the wagons rolled around Texas we saw piney forests, killed rattlesnakes, ate and breathed dust, climbed mountains, rolled in 75 mph winds, pulled through mud, dealt with death and crossed ranch lands. The experiences we had and the friends we met were more than can be put on paper.

"What am I going to do now that the Wagon Train is over?" is another often-asked question. That is not easily answered. Some have asked me to be a guest speaker with emphasis on the trip experiences, how an idea became reality, and to a young group on motivation. Only time will tell with what comes my way.

The main purpose for writing this letter is to say Thank You for the part you played in the success of the Texas Sesquicentennial Wagon Train. It took all of us in many ways to make it happen.

Sincerely thank you,
/s/ Jan Franca

NOTICE!

Beware of con artists

During the next few months people should be especially wary of persons claiming to represent someone other than themselves in gaining access to their home.

According to reports from police departments from around the state, a number of people have been robbed in their homes by persons posing as electric company employees, government agents or welfare workers.

No one is immune from these types of people, especially the elderly who are often deceived. These con-artists have claimed to be electric company employees conducting business such as delivering a refund, discussing a bill, reading a meter or collecting a past due bill. The intruders most often rob or swindle the unsuspecting victim.

Harry Bomar, Texas Power & Light Company Manager in Gainesville, says "anyone claiming to be a TP&L employee should show proper identification. All of our employees carry an official ID, which has their picture on it. They should also carry a Texas Drivers License."

"All refunds from Texas Power & Light are refunded through credit on monthly bills, and are not hand delivered," said Bomar. He further stated that there are times when a TP&L representative will have business with a customer in his home, but that proper ID should be shown.

Anyone wishing to confirm the identity of someone claiming to be with Texas Power & Light should call 665-4371.

Bullock urges businesses to plan ahead for taxes

State Comptroller Bob Bullock is urging Texas businesses to plan ahead to avoid year-end confusion over the state's new sales and gasoline tax rates.

"Consumers won't see the increased taxes until Jan. 1, when they go into effect, but businesses have to get ready for it in advance," Bullock said.

A special session of the Texas Legislature has raised the state's sales tax rate one and one-eighth percent and added a nickel a gallon to the state's gasoline tax.

"Many cash registers will have to be reprogrammed and employees will have to be trained to handle the new taxes," Bullock said.

He said the end of the year is normally busy for many businesses and the tax changes can add to the workload unless businesses plan for it.

"My office will be contacting taxpayers and will be sending new rate cards and updated information on these state tax changes," Bullock said.

"I want to remind companies that only the rate and not what is taxed has been changed," he said.

The new tax law will increase the state sales tax rate to 5.25 percent and bring motor fuels taxes to 15 cents a gallon. Optional local sales taxes will mean even higher rates in most areas of Texas.

Taxpayers with questions may call the Comptroller's office toll-free at 1-800-252-5555.

AS MEMBERS OF THE General Construction Process Class of Muenster High School assemble the structure, they learn construction procedures by building a partial wall section. Honeywell initiates urgent LP-gas safety valve alert Honeywell has initiated a second major LP-gas safety alert on a combination gas valve manufactured between 1966 and 1972. The company estimates that 220,000 of these valves were installed on LP-gas heating systems during that time period. The valves must be located and replaced to ensure the safety of individuals using LP-gas heating systems, including central furnaces, boilers, pool heaters, conversion burners, floor furnaces, gas-fired logs and recreational vehicle heaters.

An explosion or fire could result if the control should fail. In such an instance, the valve does not shut off the gas supply when the pilot is out. Since LP gas is heavier than air, it may temporarily exist at floor level. If the combustible gas is exposed to an ignition source, such as electric sparks or matches, a fire or explosion may occur, causing property damage and personal injury.

All LP-gas users should check their furnaces or heating appliance and identify the model number on their combination gas control valve. Model numbers being recalled are the CS133, CS134, CS5133, CS5134, V4136, V4146, V5189, V7284, V8129, V8136, V8139, V8146, V8169, V8188, VS8133, VS8138 and VS8193.

If the gas control has one of these numbers, the user should immediately call Honeywell toll-free at 1-800-328-8194.

The recalled controls will be replaced with newer models at Honeywell's expense. Honeywell will contact a service contractor and make arrangements to replace the valves.

Honeywell is concerned for the safety of LP-gas users and the potential safety hazard that may exist should the control fail. In April 1980, the company, in cooperation with the Consumer Product Safety Commission, began a voluntary recall of the LP controls when field reports indicated instances in which the control failed to operate properly. The current voluntary program is an effort to reach LP users who may not have been reached during the first campaign.

Smith's condition improving

Mrs. Dorothy (Eberhart) Smith is beginning to show improvement from injuries suffered in a two-vehicle traffic accident on Hwy. 82 near the Gainesville Shopping Center on Oct. 21.

She is a patient at Harris Hospital in Fort Worth. According to her daughter, Mrs. Arnold Zimmerer, she was permitted to sit up on the side of her bed Tuesday. She is breathing without the respirator and all tubes have been removed.

Get-well cards may be sent to Dorothy Smith, ICU 3rd Floor, c/o Harris Hospital, 1301 Pennsylvania Ave., Fort Worth, TX 76104.

A fund was opened Tuesday at First State Bank, Drawer A, Gainesville, TX 76240 on her behalf. Persons wishing to participate are invited to make a deposit there, to relieve part of the enormous cost of her medical expenses.

Grants have guest from Germany

Mr. and Mrs. A.V. Grant entertained guests from Germany for five weeks during the fall when several of her relatives were enjoying their first visit to the United States.

Included were her brother and sister-in-law, Willie and Hedda Mueller, and their son Peter of Korbach, Germany. Peter, however, had visited the Grants previously while he was in San Antonio some years ago. He is fluent in English, but his parents speak only German. Mrs. A.V. Grant is fluent in both languages.

The Grants took their guests sightseeing to places they especially wanted to see. High on the list was Southfork, the TV ranch near Dallas. The Muellers told of seeing the TV program each week with English dialogue deleted and lines dubbed in, in German. The same procedure, they said, is used for "Gunsmoke" and other Westerns they view.

They expressed interest in the Red River and camping out. Together they spent a day at the Red River and three days camping out at Lake Nocona. The Muellers considered it great fun. They said they found the wide open spaces "Land not in use" difficult to believe.

The Grants and Muellers visited in Denton with the Grants' daughter and son-in-law, Leila and Mike Khalill, and their daughter, 1½-year-old Leyla. The Khalills entertained for the Muellers with a dinner in the restaurant they own in Denton. The Khalills also visited here in her parents' home for family get-togethers. Peter Mueller spent part of the time in San Antonio seeing old familiar places. The Muellers returned to Germany on Oct. 11.

Most local storekeepers aren't "Johnny-come-latelys." Some have been serving this area for many, many years. A number of stores are now being run by a second, and in some cases even third, generation of the same family.

Locally stores have a fine reputation to uphold. That's why you can be sure of getting the kind of friendly service you want and deserve. That's a strong reason why you should shop locally. Part of every dollar you spend is for service, so why not get it. You are paying for it.

Guests were served decorated cupcakes, and enjoyed picture taking and watching the honoree open and display her birthday gifts.

FOURTH GRADERS OF Muenster Public School didn't need Springtime for homemade kites. Something else, maybe a beautiful Indian Summer day, was inspiration enough. The idea developed after they read a story about a young boy who made a kite. Students were anxious to test their own abilities and the project included doing research, sketching a kite, collecting the right materials, recruiting parental aid and actual testing. In upper photo, Jill Reiter's kite takes a nose dive. Center, Trent Truebenbach gets his, made of clear plastic "bubble" packing, into the air, and in lower photo, Laura Vogel rewinds cord to try again. Janie Hartman Photo

Muenster playoff hopes gone, play Collinsville in season finale

The Muenster Hornets' hopes for consecutive playoff appearances vanished Friday night as the Era Hornets remained unbeaten with a 27-13 victory at Muenster Stadium. Kevin Ford and Stuart Kyle led Era combining for 230 yards rushing and three touchdowns. Andy Burdette led Muenster with 92 of their 124 total yards.

Muenster scored on their first possession of the game. Drue Bynum made the 65-yard drive pay off when he went around the right end for a 5-yard touchdown run. Stuart Hess kicked the PAT for a 7-0 host lead.

Ford brought Era back. First he kept them in business with a 14-yard run on a fake punt. Then he scored from 4 yards out. Nick Muller kicked the PAT.

Era took the lead with 7 minutes left in the first half when Michael Knabe lofted his only completion of the night into the corner of the end zone where Butch Matthews made a diving grab for the score. Muller added the PAT again for a 14-7 lead.

J. Shane Wimmer brought the hosts back with a scoring strike to Brian Hess just before intermission. The 3-yard pass left Muenster down 14-13 at the half.

Era took control in the second half. They put their offense in high gear and their defense shut-out Muenster for the final two quarters. Twice the Era Hornets stopped Muenster on fourth down, once on a 41-yard field goal attempt.

Era widened the lead late in the third quarter. Kyle banged over from 7 yards and Muller made the PAT for a 21-13 margin.

The final Era score came late in the fourth quarter. Ford, who had 141 yards on 26 carries, broke 3 tackles enroute to a 36-yard touchdown scamper and tickets to the playoffs. Ford has 1,436 yards in 9 games.

Muenster saw their record fall to 4-5 on the year. They meet Collinsville this Friday at 7:30 in Collinsville for the season finale. Collinsville was a 30-6 winner over Prosper last week.

Muenster Junior High clinches share of crown

The Muenster Little Red Hornets ran their record to 6-1 on the season with a 20-6 victory over the previously unbeaten Era Hornets last Thursday evening at Era. Muenster can win the district title outright with a victory at Muenster Stadium over Collinsville tonight. Kickoff is at 6 p.m.

The Hornets broke to 20-0 halftime lead over Era and twice in the second half Era stopped Muenster inside the 10-yard line. Era scored on a 90-yard run after stopping Muenster on a 4th and goal at the 1-yard line with 4 minutes remaining in the game.

"They are a super bunch of kids," said a happy coach Bob Gross. "We're proud of them and their effort this year."

A Ryan Sicking to Spencer

McAden 4th down pass got things rolling for Muenster. Sicking rolled right and hit McAden on a 6-yard scoring toss for a 6-0 first quarter lead.

Mike Gobble intercepted an Era pass at midfield and Muenster made the turnover pay off. Three plays later, McAden broke over the left side for a 50-yard touchdown. Troy Pagel added the extra point.

The Muenster squad then scored a touchdown with less than 30 seconds in the half for the fourth time this season. Muenster fumbled the ball into the end zone where Pagel recovered it for the 20-0 intermission margin.

Pagel, Brad McDaniel, Terry Felderhoff and Chris Reyling led the defensive charge. The Little Red defense has allowed only 24

Tigers stay alive in district play

by Max Hastings

A strong defense and a powerful offense, that scored every quarter, gave the Sacred Heart Tigers a 54-6 victory over the Boles Home Hornets. This was a key win to keep the Tigers alive in the district race.

Wayne Becker, who exploded in the first half for 108 yards and 2 TDs, started the scoring when he raced to the outside of the Hornet defense to get in from the 18-yard line. Frank Hastings' kick added one more and put the score at 7-0. Sophomore running back Ryan Bayer tacked on six more as he bulled through from the 9-yard line. Hastings was on target again for the PAT. Hastings then picked up a touchdown of his own, and added yet another successful PAT. This ended the quarter scoring at 21-0.

Early in the second quarter, the Hornets managed to raise their spirits temporarily by burning the Tiger defense with a 78-yard Randy Roper-to-Pat Dusek bomb which narrowed the lead 21-6. However, the PAT try for two failed, and the Tigers stormed back with touchdowns by Becker and Hastings to make the game a 35-6 halftime blowout.

The Tigers' coaches started substituting freely in the second half, and many younger players got some valuable playing time. The only third quarter score came on a 2-yard run by Darrell Dangelmayr. Freshman running back Troy Berres scored on a 1-yard plunge in the fourth quarter, with David Halley adding the PAT. Freshman quarterback Steve Koelzer then teamed up with classmate Tony Grewing for the Tigers only touchdown pass of the night to complete the scoring. The PAT failed, leaving the score 54-6.

Dangelmayr finished the night 3 of 8 for 49 yards passing. He failed to get a touchdown pass, but did connect with Craig Voth once for 28 yards, Hastings once for 12 yards, and Mike Adair once for 9 yards.

offense with 63 yards on 9 carries. Ryan Bayer also picked up some valuable yardage as he tacked on 47 yards on 7 attempts.

The defense played a strong game, only giving up 4 first downs with 16 yards on 22 carries, and 125 yards in the air. Casey Houtchens and Steven Knabe both had interceptions. Knabe also had one fumble recovery. Other players standing out on defense were Deano Bayer, Darrell Dangelmayr, Mike Adair, and Terry Bartel.

The Tigers, on the other hand, ran the ball well picking up 284 yards on 46 carries with 24 first downs. The two quarterbacks combined to pass for 57 yards and went 4 of 11 with no interceptions.

The Tigers will wrap up regular season play with a home game. They will play Dallas Lexington Christian. Game time will be 7:30 p.m.

Tigers faced with must-win situation!

by Max Hastings

IT is a must-win situation for the Sacred Heart Tigers this Friday against Dallas Lexington. Both teams are 3-2 in district and tied for third. Denton Liberty finished the year last Friday at 6-0 and clinched first. Fort Worth Oakridge finished second at 5-1.

The only way for the Tigers to go to the playoffs is to win this Friday and be picked by the TAPS Division Committee to go to the playoffs. Other teams in the same position are Dallas Temple (5-4), Houston Southshaver (5-2), and Lubbock Christian (5-4).

Lexington will be a worthy opponent with QB Nick Loy leading the wishbone offense. John Goode, Jay Paulsen and Anthony Diorio will also be backing the offense. The defense, which runs out of a 4-4 stick, will be blitzing with the help of their LBs Norman Lange and Jamie Adams.

The Muenster Golf Association will hold its monthly golf tournament at Nocona Hills Sunday, Nov. 9, at 9 a.m. points all season while the offense has rolled to 166 total points.

Sicking, McAden, Pagel, McDaniel and Paul Black supplied the offense with fuel against Era.

"It was a team effort," added Coach Ted Heers, "they really want that championship."

Kickoff tonight is at 6 p.m. as the Little Red tries to win the first Junior High Championship for Muenster in six years. Come out and support the Hornets!!

Tigerettes scrimmage Northwest Texans

The 1986-87 edition of the Sacred Heart Tigerettes appears to be priming for a continuation of the 1986 AAA State Championship team. That is if Tuesday night's scrimmage is any indication. The Tigerettes hosted the Texans from Northwest Justin and claimed a 64-23 scrimmage win.

The Tigerettes, using their pressure defense, jumped out to a 16-6 first period lead behind 11 points by junior forward Vicki Walterscheid. The second period was more of the same as the Tigerettes held the visiting Texans to 6 for the period as they canned 18 of their own. Danna Hamric paced the second period scoring as she

Taking a 34-12 lead in the third frame, the Tigerettes began to deploy different offenses and defenses as they outscored the Texans 10 to 3 for a 44-15 lead after three quarters. Lisa Hamric paced the Tigerettes with 4 in the period.

The final frame was more of the home cooking for the Texans as the Tigerettes outscored their opponents 20-8 in rout to the 64-23 scrimmage win. Vicki Walterscheid led the Tigerettes with 6 in the period.

"I was very pleased with our performance," said Coach Jon LeBrasseur. "For our first scrimmage our girls seem to have a good grasp of our offensive and defensive schemes." "If we continue to be the aggressor on our defense, we could have a successful year."

The statistics on the Tigerettes relate to Coach LeBrasseur's wishes as the Tigerettes recorded 25 steals and tossed up 76 shots. Scorers for the Tigerettes were: Vicki Walterscheid 19, Danna Hamric 15, Lisa Hamric 13, Julie Bartel and Noelle Hesse 6 each, Molly Koelzer and Vickie Schmitt 2 apiece, and Julie Rohmer 1. Vicki Walterscheid and Vickie Schmitt paced the Tigerettes in rebounding with 11 and 10 respectively. On defense Danna Hamric paced the Tigerettes with 6 steals.

The junior Tigerettes were also victorious as they pulled off a narrow 33-30 win over the AAAA Texans' JV. The Tigerettes trailed until the 2:30 mark in the fourth period when Angela Endres hit a 20-foot jumper to put the Tigerettes ahead for good 28-27. Leading scorers for the future Tigerettes were: Amy Walterscheid and Janie Fisher with 6 each, Jennifer Fuhrmann, LaBeccah Hess, Debbie Schmitt and Angela Endres all scored 4, Janal Flusche and Misty McCoy scored 2 each and Tina Schilling canned 1. Jennifer Fuhrmann was the leading rebounder with 10.

Next action for the Tigerettes will be next Tuesday evening against the Valley View Eagles. JV action is scheduled to begin at 5 p.m. with the varsity to follow at 6:30 in the Tiger Den.

FARM AND RANCH NEWS

County Agent's Report

by Craig Rosenbaum

Deadline draws near for hay show entries

Farmers and ranchers have until Nov. 21 to submit entries from this year's hay crop for the Texas State Hay Show.

The show will be held Dec. 11-12 at the Coach Light Inn in Brenham and more than 300 entries are expected.

The State Hay Show will feature hay samples from throughout Texas plus a program of interest to hay producers, users and commercial suppliers.

Concurrent sessions the morning of Dec. 12 will be presented by members of the Texas Forage and Grassland Council who will be meeting in conjunction with the hay show. These will deal with forage seed production, lean beef production, forage for horses, and forage for dairy cattle.

A hay judging contest for 4-H and FFA members will be held on Dec. 11 starting at 1:30 p.m.

Registration is from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Winning hay show entries will be recognized at a luncheon on Dec. 12.

Producers may submit one sample in each of the seven show classes. Classes are the same as in past years and include Coastal bermudagrass, other bermudagrasses, other perennials, mixed grasses, summer annuals, winter annuals and legumes.

Samples should be sent to Dr. Don Dorsett, Extension Agronomist, 355 Soil and Crop Sciences Building, Texas A&M University, College Station, TX 77843, or to Bill Thane, County Extension Agent, County Courthouse, Brenham, TX 77833. Producers need to include their name and address, county in which the hay was produced and the class to be entered.

TRULY A PHOTO FROM THE PAST is this farmer, binder and double team with grain shocks in the background, on a post card written by the late Joe Lutkenhaus of Muenster to Ben Kathman in Nebraska. Odella Dettin shared the picture.

We have seen some problems in wheat throughout the county lately. The excessive rains we had on the early planted wheats seemed to have contributed to some fields with poor stand. Much of our seed that we kept this year could have poor vigor due to the low test weight. And too, don't forget to check for greenbugs that are showing up in quite a few fields over the county.

With these things in mind, probably the most intriguing factor to poor growth and yellowing of fields is a lack of nitrogen. Even though some fields have received adequate pre-plant nitrogen, deficiency symptoms may show up. In the sands, the excessive moisture that we received earlier can cause a problem with leaching. Heavy stubble remaining from milo and sudan fields tend to tie up a lot of nitrogen fertility. This nitrogen will be released to the plant during decomposition of the stubble, but it may take until next spring. In conditions that have heavy amounts of residue in fields, the additional applications of 30 to 40 pounds of Actual Nitrogen should cause a good response by the small grain. Some of the nitrogen that has leached deep into the soil profile may later become available to the plant if the root zone begins to develop and get deeper in the soil. There is also a condition that causes movement of water and dissolved nitrogen salts upward into the soil profile. This can also benefit small grain plants later in the growing season.

Again, a nitrogen deficiency is not the only cause of yellowing. Our greenbug infestations and leaf diseases can cause this condition. Greenbug feeding will cause the plant to yellow but you will also see spotted areas on leaves at the site of the feeding. Feeding patterns are usually irregular and you will often find circular areas in a field or spots throughout the field where the greenbugs are feeding.

Watch your fields now for the presence of leaf rust as another cause of leaf discoloration. Earlier in the week we saw volunteer wheat containing large amounts of leaf rust and this will infect planted fields.

Many things cause the yellow spots so be aware and check fields at regular intervals.

Preserve vegetables before frost gets them

COLLEGE STATION - You can beat Mother Nature to the punch by freezing the peppers, onions and tomatoes in your garden before the first frost damages them.

"Produce which is slightly frost-damaged can be salvaged, but the quality will be better if you process them before the tender plant tissues are frozen," says Marilyn Haggard, a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service specialist.

She points out that peppers and onions are the easiest to process because they don't have to be blanched, and can be frozen using the following simple procedure:

- Wash peppers and remove the membrane and seeds, then dice or slice as you would if preparing them for casseroles or soups.
- Freeze in a single layer on a baking sheet.

- When frozen solid, place in moisture-vapor resistant packaging such as freezer bags, rigid containers or glass jars with airtight seals. Onions are best stored in glass containers because their odor easily transfers to other foods in the freezer and is difficult to remove from plastic containers.

The specialist says that Anaheim peppers, often used for chiles rellenos, can also be frozen for later use if the skin is removed first.

Haggard advises removing the skin by blistering over a gas flame, roasting in a very hot oven or heating in a small amount of oil in a very hot skillet. Then remove the stems and seeds along with the skin.

Flatten each pepper to remove air and place in moisture-vapor resistant packaging. Wax paper, freezer paper or plastic wrap placed between peppers before freezing will make them easier to handle when thawing, she adds.

When the first killing frost of winter approaches and you still have green tomatoes on the vine, Haggard suggests testing them for maturity.

Cut a couple of tomatoes that you aren't certain will ripen. If the knife cuts through the seeds, the tomato is not mature and will not ripen. Use these tomatoes for relish or green tomato pickles.

If the seeds move away from the knife and are not cut, the tomato is mature and will ripen indoors. The mature tomatoes can be made into tomato sauce or picante sauce or frozen for later use.

HOME EC BRIEFS...

SMALL CHILDREN NEED WHOLE MILK - It's particularly important that babies drink whole milk, says a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service nutritionist. Dr. Dymple Cooksey says that the fat provides essential fatty acids and calories, in addition to the calcium, vitamin D and phosphorus found in all milk. A parent who is concerned about a child's weight may wish to restrict ice cream and other highly sugared or high fat dairy treats as snacks, but shouldn't serve skim milk to a child under two, she adds.
