Mini-van is coming!

A driving service will be implemented in Muenster towards the latter part of next week after the arrival of a mini-van. Mrs. Pat Walterscheid has been hired part-time as the driver of the van.

The mini-van is a service provided by the City of Muenster for everyone in the area, especially senior citizens. The van is one in a thirteen-bus system that covers Cooke, Grayson and Fannin counties. In operation Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., the van will go anywhere in the three-county area. The only exceptions for leaving this area are medical trips for Medicaid patients.

The mini-van is a Ford Aerostar that seats seven people including the driver. Eighty percent of the money used to purchase this vehicle came from a federal grant, while the remaining 20 percent came in equal parts from the Muenster Chamber of Commerce, Knights of Columbus, Cooke County Beer Distributors, Muenster State Bank and the Muenster Jaycees.

Everyday costs of the van's operation will be equally divided between the federal grant and the City of Muenster. A 50 cents donation is asked of each rider, but is not required.

In order to use the service, an appointment must be made at least one day in advance by calling City Hall, 759-2236. The service may be used for any reason: health, business, employment, shopping or social trips. Health trips (i.e. doctor's appointments, trips to the pharmacy) will be given priority. However, Paula Tepera of the Texoma Regional Planning Commission warns that the mini-van is "not an ambulance or taxi service." City Hall must be notified if a rider needs to cancel his scheduled appointment.

On the mini-van, all passengers will be required to wear seat belts, and no smoking will be allowed. Also all children under the age of 10 must be accompanied by an adult.

A five-member Advisory Board composed of Muenster residents will soon be formed to resolve questions concerning this new service.

County gives notice, may move ambulance

The Muenster City Council received Wednesday notification that an important item will occupy the agenda for the regular June 22 Commissioners' Court meeting. In a letter dated June 8, 1987, County Judge Jim Robertson informed the city that the court is considering discontinuing the Muenster EMS station due to the relatively few number of calls received from the Muenster area. He added that no decision has been made and encouraged the entire City Council and any interested Muenster area resident to attend the Monday meeting at 10 a.m. in the Commissioners' Courtroom.

Accompanying the letter was a collection of statistics concerning the Muenster EMS station since Jan. 1, 1987.

Over 186 days there have been 13 emergency calls and 20 non-emergency transfers. The ambulance has logged 14,591 miles during that period and the station of Third and Oak Streets has incurred $1,417.39 in operating costs.

In a telephone interview Wednesday, Judge Robertson said, "Our problem is putting a lot of mileage on an expensive vehicle and taking extra travel time." When asked about the problem of making Muenster feel like part of the country he cited the importance of responding to calls from the east and south from a central location.

Robertson said in closing, "We talked to Herman Carroll at the Muenster Hospital Tuesday and he seems to understand our problem, but we haven't discussed it much, maybe we can work something out. We certainly haven't decided yet."

Fire departments receive praise for quick response

Due to the quick response of the Muenster and Myra Fire Department, what could have been a major tragedy was prevented.

A fire started at about 2:40 p.m. on Saturday, June 6, in the wheat field of Garry Fetsch, one mile east of Muenster. The fire began when a bearing on the back of the combine being used locked and began to get hot due to friction. Straw trapped near the bearing started to smolder, and then a flame appeared.

When it was realized that the field had caught fire, the Muenster and Myra Fire Departments were alerted. The fire was put out by 3:15 p.m.

Muenster Telephone Co. hosts open house

The Muenster Telephone Corporation hosted an Open House for customers and other guests on Sunday, June 7, from 2 until 5 p.m. Approximately 150 people attended the event which opened the building specifically for public view for the first time since its remodeling began three years ago. Manager Alvin Fuhrman commented, "This is the first time in a long time that we are not in the middle of some type of construction on our office. We thought that this would be a good time for an Open House because we are between projects."

The Open House featured the entire grounds of the plant, including the warehouse and television building as well as the office building. Employees and their spouses were on hand to greet visitors and to explain some of the equipment and procedures that go on during the day-to-day operations of the company.

The meeting room featured a display of antique telephones that were used in the telephone system in Muenster during its early years. Also on display was the first switchboard ever used in Muenster, dating back to 1909. Besides the antiques, a display of business telephones representing the latest technology in that area was on hand. Maps were also set up showing the areas of service that Muenster Telephone covers.

A reception was held in the company's meeting room and the company's colors of orange and blue were used as accents. The reception featured a cake made by Cathy Fuhrmann of the Farmer's Kitchen. The cake was decorated with the company's logo and scenes depicting the progress of Muenster Telephone over the years. Guests enjoyed delicious cookies made by Carrie Yosten, and punch made by Gracie Fuhrman. The centerpiece carried out the theme of the company's colors and featured lovely blue and orange flowers. It was created by Bouquets and Gifts.

Guests registered for door prizes and each guest was given an assortment of complimentary novelty items. Each guest also received a complimentary copy of the company's History 1909-1987, each booklet contains pictures, profiles on the employees of the company and a complete history of the 78 years that Muenster Telephone has served the area.

Door prizes consisted of novelty and decorator telephones, a clock/calculator, and a Grand Prize of a cordless telephone. Prize winners were: Grand Prize: Al Hess; Adult Prizes: Mary Mosler, Beatrice Wolf, and Lori Wolf; Children's Prizes: Cory Cain, Josh Wilde, John Flusche and Kyle Endres.

Guests registered from Gainesville, Valley View, Forestburg, Dallas, Commerce, Lake Kiowa, and Denton, as well as Muenster.

Employees and their spouses were treated to a Sandwich Supper after the day's events were over.

Good News!

And now, O kings, give heed; take warning, you rulers of the earth. Serve the Lord with fear, and rejoice before him; with trembling pay homage to him. Lest he be angry and you perish from the way, when his anger blazes suddenly. Happy are all who take refuge in him!

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

As the Executive Director of the Texas Veterans Commission, I have had the pleasure of working with State Representative Richard F. Williamson since his election to the Texas legislature. I want to inform his constituents of his dedication to his duty as a member of the Texas House of Representatives. Of course, I am particularly familiar with Representative Williamson's efforts on behalf of veterans.

Richard Williamson's genuine interest in the well-being of our State's veterans is repeatedly demonstrated by his actions. As a member of the House Appropriations Committee responsible for the State budget process in Texas, he has been a constant source of support for veterans' programs. I can say without a doubt that he has been and is a champion of every veterans' cause in the State legislature.

The current mood of austerity in State government and the fact that we haven't had young men killed or maimed by war in thirteen years makes some forget that there are still 1.8 million veterans of war in Texas. And their widows and orphans can't forget. Representative Williamson hasn't forgotten who made the sacrifices or what it took in human terms to save our freedom. He has stood like a rock and fought every effort to reduce or erode our State's commitments to veterans. The veterans of Texas are very fortunate to have a man like Richard F. Williamson working for them.

Sincerely yours,
Aubrey L. Bullard
Executive Director

Letter to the Editor:

Diane Wolf, a member of the Commission of Fine Arts, made a motion to her fellow members and they unanimously approved a request to Treasury Secretary James A. Baker III for a design change of all of our U.S. coinage. She is requesting support from the general public so that she has evidence to submit to the Secretary. In a survey by the Numismatic News, it generated a very favorable response from 4,309 people, and this was not just from coin collectors. I think a majority of people enjoy putting back a few coins of unusual design or what have you.

I enclose a copy of the letter I wrote in support. You may quote all or any part. I warn you that I have flowered it up, but hope it gets some strong points across.

Sincerely
Ray J. Wilde
The letter, in part, follows.

Dear Diane:

It was real heartening to hear of your motion for complete design changes on our U.S. coinage, and the support that you received from the rest of the Commissioners of Fine Arts.

I have been involved in my family Chevrolet auto business since 1925, and during the years I have traveled to a high percentage of foreign countries because of winning trips from Chevrolet. One of my most enjoyable experiences on every trip is the investigation of the coinage of every country that I pass through. In many of the countries, I have been welcomed most graciously by their mints and/or officials, and have bought mint and proof in many cases direct from them. It has been a deep concern that a great nation such as ours has waited so long for a change in the design of our coins.

Being of a German heritage, saving is our prime consideration to train into our family. What better way to start training youngsters to save, than to purchase collectibles that will always have value? What better way to keep them off the streets or out of mischief?

We need, too, to allow the Federal government to make profit from making money, rather than only from taxes. I don't think there is a more painless way to help support the needs of the government, than by seniorage.

Sincerely,
Ray J. Wilde

Two Muenster Persons Struck By Lightning

Several persons of Muenster felt lucky to escape with their lives when lightning accompanied a thunder storm last Monday struck in the east end of town.

Mrs. John Tempel is reported to have suffered the most painful effects. Standing in the back yard at her home she felt the electrical shock strike her shoulder and travel down her side to the ground. The lightning left a burnt streak the entire length of her body.

Other members of the family were also dangerously near and members of the Jake Tempel and H. A. Walterscheid families, who live in neighboring houses, reported that the lightning struck several objects almost within their reach.

From Henry Trucha comes a report that his son, Richard, at Stamford had a similar experience last Saturday. According to his letter,

Attendance of Bugs at Softball Game Reaches Astronomical Numbers

736,987,429,534 — According to Shorly Herr this figure represents his conservative estimate on the number of bugs attending the softball game at Myra last Thursday night.

Biblical stories about the plague of locusts and a few more recent yarns about the density of grasshoppers in Kansas can now meet with some credence here since people saw that bugs can actually get thick enough in the air to cast a general shadow.

The air was dense with the pests. People were pulling them out of their hair and their pockets, squirming about to get them off their backs or kicking them off their legs. Hands were continuously in motion to brush the insects off of faces and very few had the courage to venture a shout or yawn.

Richard was standing beside an open window when the bolt knocked him over. He had no definite idea how long he lay on the floor but from his dazed feeling he felt that it must have been for several minutes.

Shorly Herr, Paul Hellman, Jim Lehnertz, and Jerome Engel had a huge time on their fishing trip to Lake Dallas Sunday. None of them had any fishing tackle.

"End of Session" Retrospect

by Richard F. Williamson, State Representative and Gregory D. Watson, Administrative Assistant

AUSTIN - Texas is at the crossroads of the future. Sometime during the next forty-five days, Governor Clements will call the Legislature back to Austin to begin a series of special legislative sessions that will finally resolve State spending and taxing policies for the next four years. A number of citizens of Cooke County have contacted my office to find out about the budget problem and why it hasn't been resolved. This is the first installment of a multi-part series of articles concerning the State budget crisis that must be solved during the next 90 days.

This first installment will provide a skeletal overview of the situation using numerical references. Failure to produce a spending plan that balances with estimated revenue for the next two years, will result in closed schools, unpaid bills, a reduced credit rating - and in general - chaos at all levels of government. This we cannot and will not allow.

As of the last week of the regular session of the 70th Legislature, the projected deficit on Sept. 1, 1987 will be $990 million. People of Cooke County might wonder how the fiscal year can end with a deficit if our State Constitution prohibits deficit balances. Our Constitution only requires that at a particular point in time, the Comptroller will clearly state that planned spending is no more than planned revenue receipts during the next two fiscal years. If, for some reason, during the next two fiscal years spending exceeds revenue, a deficit is then created and must be dealt with during the following two fiscal years. And that is exactly what has happened during this current two-year budget cycle - our expenses are greater than our revenues. The reasons for this are many. First, the Legislature as a whole has failed to control State spending or raise taxes to cover expenses. Additionally, federal funds have been greatly reduced in recent years and the Legislature has drawn from State monies for the continuation of programs formerly supported by federal funds such as highway construction and maintenance and numerous health care programs. Revenue to pay for our expenses fall into two categories - "tax" related and "non-tax" related sources of revenue. The Legislature has relied far too heavily upon "non-tax" sources as opposed to direct taxes to pay for State programs. A "non-tax" source is rather distinguishable from a "tax" source inasmuch as a "non-tax" source is one that tends to fluctuate with everchanging market conditions. The best example of this would be the State's overdependence on the oil industry. By contrast, a "tax" source is more stable and predictable and is not nearly as sensitive to market fluctuations as are the "non-tax" sources. A good example of a "tax" source would be the motor vehicle registration fee that all car owners are required to pay.

The Legislature has historically been reluctant to transfer its emphasis from "non-tax" sources onto "tax" sources simply because reliance on "non-tax" revenue allows for inflated spending projections - projections which later solidify into concrete spending obligations. And frankly, the average populist Texas legislator is reluctant to raise taxes in fear of the political backlash that might result. On the other hand, that same average Texas legislator fears equally the negative reaction of reducing government aid to isolated special interest groups, particularly when that government aid is directed into his own district.

The Senate has passed a budget proposal of $39.9 billion for the two-year budget cycle beginning Sept. 1, 1987 and ending Aug. 31, 1989. The House has proposed a budget of $39.4 billion - not too terribly below the Senate version. The Governor has indicated that he will veto any budget that results in a tax increase that would bring in more revenue than necessary to maintain the current level of services adjusted for population increases, which he now estimates to be $37.6 billion.

Presently, because the House and Senate differ on their "bottom line" for the aggregate State budget, a House-Senate Conference Committee has been deliberating to iron out the differences between the two bodies. Such a Conference Committee may not recommend a budget that is higher than the higher proposal or lower than the lower proposal. Moreover, as of May 20, any bill that the Legislature sends to the Governor, the Governor may avoid acting on it until after the Legislature adjourns. That would prevent the Legislature from overriding any gubernatorial veto.

Therefore, the current situation is stalemated. A Senate and House committed to a spending plan of around $39 billion; a Governor committed to a spending plan of around $37 billion; and a populace apparently reluctant to accept the tax increase necessary to make up the difference. The problem is fairly simple, we can no longer rely on "non-tax" sources to generate the amount of money necessary to pay for our spending habits. We either reduce spending by curtailing or completely eliminating government programs or we raise money by increasing "tax" sources. During the next four weeks, this series of articles will discuss in detail the position of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, the Legislature and the possible solutions to the problem.

The coming historic debate over the future of government in Texas should be of critical importance to every citizen of Cooke County. We are truly at the crossroads of the future and the right decisions must be made as soon as possible.

Stenholm calls for stronger energy policy

Calling for a stronger national energy policy, Congressman Charles W. Stenholm is the chief co-sponsor of a variable oil import fee bill that would set the floor price of oil at $25 per barrel.

Congressman Stenholm (D-Stamford) joined Congressman Joe Barton (R-Ennis) recently in introducing "The Energy Independence Act of 1987," a bipartisan piece of legislation that will provide a benchmark price of $25 per barrel, ensuring a viable domestic industry. Congressman Stenholm said this Act will encourage U.S. energy companies to explore new fields and maintain existing ones, especially stripper wells. Of the revenues generated by an import fee, 25 percent would be used to purchase stripper well oil for the U.S. Strategic Petroleum Reserve at a fixed price of $25 per barrel. The remaining 75 percent of revenues would be used to reduce the federal deficit.

Congressman Stenholm said, "The purchase of stripper well oil will serve a dual purpose of keeping stripper wells in production at a time when they are being shut in at a dangerously high rate, while also building up the nation's Strategic Petroleum Reserve."

Citing oil industry figures, the five-term Democrat said current, depressed oil prices may reduce the U.S. stripper well inventory by one quarter. "This would mean the loss of hundreds of thousands of barrels in oil reserves per day and would have a negative impact on the 20-plus states which have stripper well production, to say nothing of the impact it would have on the national economy as oil imports increase.

THE MUESTER ENTERPRISE wishes to thank Mrs. Marie Fuhrmann for sharing this treasured Photo From The Past. The Fuhrmanns in Lindsay continued to receive God's blessing, through Father Bruno and Father Nicholas Fuhrmann. After being ordained May 16, 1954 at Subiaco Abbey, the two cousins celebrated their first Solemn Masses on Sunday, May 23, in St. Peter's Church, Lindsay.

Father Bruno offered his Mass at 9 a.m. Clergy assisting at the Mass were Rev. Conrad Herda, Rev. Leo Koesler, Rev. Nicholas Fuhrmann, Rev. David Flusche and Rev. Paul M. Nahlen. The clergy and family members were served a noon dinner in the parish lunchroom.

At 4 p.m., Father Nicholas offered his First Mass. Assisting clergymen were Rev. Joseph Fuhrmann, Rev. Aloysius Fuhrmann, Rev. Bruno Fuhrmann, Rev. David Flusche and Rev. Vincent Orth. After Mass, supper was served in the lunchroom for family and friends.

A reception was held in the parish hall that night to honor both newly ordained priests.

An outstanding feature of these two Masses was that all assisting clergy were relatives of Father Nicholas and Father Bruno, with the exception of Father Conrad, pastor of Lindsay.

Father Bruno is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joe Fuhrmann and is presently a faculty member of Subiaco Abbey in Arkansas.

Father Nicholas is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Willie Fuhrmann and is the pastor of St. Mary's Parish in Gainesville.

A special edition will be published by The Muenster Enterprise on June 26, devoted to the history of St. Peter's Church. Particular emphasis will be placed on brilliant color interior pictures highlighting architectural features and outstanding art work in the edifice. Old photos, sure to become treasures, and many never before published in newspapers or magazines will be included in the special edition and will be available only to subscribers of The Muenster Enterprise.

Ad space in this special collector's edition is available, and needed to support its production. Call The Muenster Enterprise if you'd like to be included.

McGruff scheduled to appear at Muenster City Park pool June 17

McGruff, the Crime Prevention Dog, will make an appearance at the Muenster Swimming Pool on Wednesday, June 17, at 1:30 p.m. McGruff is going there to promote his slogan, "Take A Bite Out Of Crime," and to associate with Muenster kids who will be learning more about him when they return to school in the fall.

McGruff will also be seeking support among Muenster businesses and organizations. Everyone interested in learning more about his program or sponsoring a class is urged to come talk to McGruff. Also on hand to answer questions will be members of the Muenster Kiwanis Club, which has taken up the McGruff campaign as a project.

McGruff is the symbol of a crime prevention campaign that started in California several years ago and is spreading nationwide. Aimed at grades K-6, the program uses a series of tapes to educate students.

Claude Selder, Jr. of Gainesville Lions Club has been working to organize the McGruff campaign throughout Cooke County. There has been an enthusiastic response to the program, and all elementary schools are participating.

Each class, K-6, will receive a McGruff puppet. Also used will be a set of 26 tapes covering subjects such as drug abuse and theft. The series of tapes teaches what children can do to prevent crime in their community. Since the tapes progress in difficulty for older grades, each class will use about 8 tapes at its level.

So far, organizations sponsoring classes are the Kiwanis, the VFW, the VFW Auxiliary, and the Bluebonnet Extension Homemakers Club. More sponsors for classes in Muenster are needed; cost to be a sponsor is $75.00 per class.

Western Federal's Gainesville branch set to relocate June 15

The Gainesville branch of Western Federal Savings and Loan Association is scheduled to open its doors June 15 at a new location, 800 E. California Street.

Customers should experience no interruption in service as a result of the move.

To commemorate the relocation, the Gainesville staff will host a week-long open house, which is scheduled to begin Monday, June 22. Refreshments will be served throughout the week, and a video cassette recorder will be given away in a drawing. "We decided to have a week-long open house to provide all of our customers ample opportunity to come in, to look around the office and to visit," said Branch Manager Gerry Jones.

The need for additional space was a prime factor in arriving at the decision to relocate, he said. "We're gaining about 350 more square feet in the new location," he said. "Our current building couldn't be remodeled to suit our needs."

The new office, about two miles south of the old, North Grand site, will feature a more efficient floor plan, an additional teller station and a drive-through facility with a night depository.

The Gainesville office is one of 18 Western Federal branches throughout Texas, including Bowie, Lewisville, Carrollton, Garland and North Dallas.

Office hours are from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Thursday; 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Friday. The branch's telephone number, 665-0316, will remain the same.

Pilot Point Pioneer Days June 19-21

Cowboys and Indians alike will have their time in the spotlight during the Second Annual Pilot Point Pioneer Days to be held in the Denton County community, June 19-21.

Two nights of rodeo action are scheduled for this year's Pioneer Days. Rodeoers ages 21 and under will compete at Amen Arena on Loop 387 South on both June 19 and 20 starting at 8 p.m. Tickets are priced at $2.50 in advance and $3.00 at the gate.

Rodeo events will include bareback, bull riding, saddle bronc, calf roping, ribbon roping, barrel racing and team roping. Entry fee is $25.00 per event; entry deadline is June 18.

A full day of events will open with a flea market at 8 a.m. Saturday, June 20. The flea market, which will feature vendors from around the state, will be held around The Gazebo on The Square. Also at The Gazebo on that afternoon, the Texas Old Time Fiddlers Association will be hosting its second Annual Pilot Point Pioneer Days Fiddling Contest beginning at 1 p.m.

The notorious Evans Gang will stage two mock robberies of the old Pilot Point National Bank during activities on June 20. The Evans Gang will pull their robberies at City Hall, located downtown, at 11 a.m. and 3 p.m.

Also scheduled for the downtown area on June 20 are "pie-in-the-face" and dunking booths featuring local dignitaries; game booths, free hayrides; an antique car display; and concessions.

The Point Shopping Center, located on U.S. 377 in Pilot Point, also will host several events on that day. At 10 a.m., "Go Western" contests will begin at the center. The winners of each contest will qualify for the Pilot Point Go Western Team which will compete in the North Texas State Fair in August. Contests will include horseshoe and washer pitching, hay rolling, an egg toss, moseying and quilt-sewing.

In addition, a carnival will be located at the Point Center throughout Pioneer Days.

Following Saturday night's rodeo, a street dance will be held on the shopping center parking lot featuring Jerry Reed of Denton from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Tickets will be priced at $3.00 for individuals and $5.00 for couples.

Sunday, June 21, will continue with an old-fashioned barbecue held at Pilot Point Elementary School from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Tickets will be priced at $5.00 each.

The Kwahadi Indian Dancers, a team of 40 to 50 Boy Scouts from Amarillo that performs from coast-to-coast, will perform at 2 and 4 p.m. in the Selz High School cafeteria. The team brings three tons of costumes, teepees, stage gear and sound and light equipment for its colorful show. Tickets are priced at $3.00 for adults and $2.00 for children.

Tickets to all events are available from the Pilot Point Chamber of Commerce, Box 249, Pilot Point, Texas 76258. Call 686-5385 for information about all events.

"Learn To Swim" program starts June 27

Lifestyle

The Red Cross-sponsored "Learn to Swim" program will begin its 1987 season with registration on Saturday, June 27, at the Muenster City Pool.

Those registering should wear swimsuits as they will be tested and then assigned to a specific class level. These levels include beginner, advanced beginner, intermediate and swimmer. Registration must be accomplished at the pool and phoning-in is discouraged.

The only requirement for taking part in the program is the completion of kindergarten and a signed permission slip from a parent or guardian. The form which appears in this article should be brought to registration by each student.

This year's course will be taught in two sections, one during the week of July 6-10 and the other from July 13-17.

First week classes will begin at 10 and 11 a.m. with the 9 a.m. hour being reserved for those in the swimmer class and those adults who wish to improve their water skills.

Second week classes will begin at 9, 10 and 11 a.m. All those wishing to assist in the teaching of the swim program are asked to call Jeannine Flusche at 759-4497. Any adults, regardless of swimming skills, are asked to join. Help is needed in all facets of the program. Muenster now has the status of being the only program in the state that does not charge a service fee for students in the swim program.

Cards will be awarded to those who pass their skills at the end of the five days of classes. Patches will be available at 50 cents each to those who pass and wish to purchase the patch.

Basic rescue and water safety classes are available for those 11 years and older. No requirements need be met with the exception of a permission slip for those under 18 years of age. This course provides the individual with knowledge and skill enabling him to save his own life, to respond correctly in aquatic emergency and to assist life guards in search and rescue procedures. It is a 5-6 hour course. Advance registration is not required. A fee of $2.50 will be charged for the handbook. Basic rescue classes will be held from 8-9 a.m. July 6-10 at the Muenster pool.

MRS. LAURA HAVERKAMP has her blood pressure checked by Bonnie Brooke of Gainesville. Pressure checks are given the second Wednesday each month preceding the S.N.A.P. luncheons.

Federal Savings & Loan Insurance Corp.

Assurance.

Those are two things you should demand before you trust your hard-earned dollars to any financial institution: the insurance our federal government provides through the FSLIC, and the assurance of knowing your money is invested with a stable, financially strong company. With First Texas Savings, you have both. Your deposits are protected up to $100,000 per account title by the FSLIC.

In addition, First Texas Savings is part of the largest savings and loan holding company in Texas, with nearly $9.0 billion in assets.

We are among the strongest savings and loans in the nation. Not just in Texas. In the nation. And since a financial institution's overall stability is measured by its net worth-to-assets ratio, it's reassuring to know that First Texas rates substantially higher than the federal standard.

So double-check before you place your money in any financial institution. Check for insurance. Check for assurance. Or simply call First Texas Savings.

Donna Johnson, Vance Wells united

MRS. VANCE WELLS
... nee Donna Sue Johnson ...

Donna Sue Johnson became the bride of Vance Wells on June 6 in a traditional candlelight ceremony with double ring vows officiated by Kevin Greerson of Fort Worth at 7 p.m. in First Baptist Church of Gainesville.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Johnson of Gainesville and is a fourth grade teacher employed by the Lindsay Independent School District. She is a graduate of Gainesville High School and Cooke County College and received her degree from North Texas State University in 1985.

The groom is the son of Mrs. Pam Beaver of Rt. 6, Gainesville and Curtis Wells of Rt. 5. He is a 1982 graduate of Muenster High School, attended Mary Hardin Baylor University in Belton and is presently attending Cooke County College. He is a plumber employed by Rex Plumbing of Denton.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by her parents. She was wearing a formal white satin wedding gown designed with fitted bodice, a high, wedding-band collar, a yoke of English net, and a dropped waistline. The bodice and long tapered sleeves were intricately smocked, beaded and sequined. The skirt fell to slipper length in front and flowed into a cathedral train, all enhanced with matching smocking, pearls and sequins. The train was edged in hand-sequined Madeira embroidery.

She wore a matching derby-style hat with attached pouf of filmy net, and carried a cascade of white starburst poms, pink rosebuds, lavender daisies, blue carnations, yellow kalanchoe, white gypsophilia and English ivy. The traditional penny in her shoe was a gift from Allison Walterscheid.

ATTENDANTS

Danna Johnson of Gainesville was her sister's maid of honor, wearing a floor-length Laura Ashley gown of lavender satin.

Debbie Waggoner Peter of Cedar Lane and Amy Ley, of Gainesville, both friends of the bride, and Melissa Wells of Gainesville, sister of the groom, were bridesmaids, wearing identical gowns in the bride's chosen colors of yellow, blue or peach. They carried spring bouquets with ribbons matching individual dresses. The dresses were made by the groom's mother, Mrs. Pam Beaver.

Jenevi Wells, sister of the groom, was flower girl, attired in a Laura Ashley gown in pink satin, and carrying a basket of spring flowers. Danny Gillham was ring bearer.

Leslye Wells of Gainesville, groom's brother, was his best man. Joel Salyer of Georgetown, Mike Walterscheid of Muenster and Marcus Tate of Bowie, all friends of the groom, were groomsmen.

Ben Sullivant, cousin of the bride, and Steven Tucker, friend of the groom, both of Gainesville, were ushers who also served as candlelighters.

The altar was decorated with cathedral candelabra and white tapers; pyramid candelabra on either side held white tapers; all were entwined with English ivy and greenery and ferns banked the candelabra. Two palms were placed between the candelabras.

Wedding music was presented by Johnny Dill, organist, Glenn Wilson of Gainesville, pianist, and Andy Cherry of Van, Texas as soloist. Selections included "The Wedding Song" and "The Lord's Prayer."

RECEPTION

The reception following in the Fellowship Hall at First Baptist Church was given by the bride and groom.

Sharon Voth Tate of Arlington and Linda Schmidkofer of Gainesville, friends of the bride, secured guest signatures in the bride's book.

Betty Rose Walterscheid baked and decorated the three-tiered wedding cake. Reception assistants at the bride's table were Debbie Cler, Deborah Sullivan and Betty Alsop, all of Gainesville. At the groom's table were Holly Greerson of Fort Worth and Thersa Salyer of Georgetown.

Decorations included rosebud satin rice bags in pastel colors, and white baskets holding silk pastel flowers made by Debbie Cler, groom's aunt. A collection of photos and the bridal portrait were displayed.

Special guests at the wedding and reception were former fourth grade students of the bride at Lindsay ISD.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by Mrs. Pam Beaver and Curtis Wells at K-Bobs.

The couple will be at home in Gainesville.

Herr-Muller families gather for Sunday reunion

Twenty-seven years of continuous annual reunions marked the 1987 Herr-Muller family gathering as a milestone.

Held mostly in Muenster, sometimes in Rosston, the reunion was moved to accommodate the size of the crowd as it grew with additions of marriage, births and new relatives and new in-laws, new cousins, etc. The reunion is always held on the Memorial Day weekend.

More than 125 signed the guest book and many more so accustomed to being present, just didn't get around to it.

Out-of-town members of the clan began gathering earlier as weekend guests of local relatives, and all were present for the noon meal on Sunday at the pavilion in Muenster City Park.

A bountiful assortment of covered dishes was being assembled by guests as many others brought ribs and chickens to be prepared in two smokers tended by Pete Helinger, Arnold Schilling and Jesse Walterscheid.

Movies were made during the day, and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Stelzer and Mr. and Mrs. Andy Stelzer showed films of the 18-day European tour they completed recently. Others showed films made during other reunions.

The original members of the Herr-Muller relationship were represented by Adolph (Shorty) Herr of Arlington, and Mrs. Al (Mary Herr) Schnitker of Pottsville. Mrs. Margaret (Herr) Hennigan of Oklahoma was unable to attend; Theo Miller and Mrs. Joe (Katie Miller) Bernauer, both of Muenster, were present; Nick Miller also of Muenster was unable to attend.

Cities represented were Buena Park, California; Conway, Arkansas; Post, Texas; Mineral Wells; Arlington; Pottsville; Azle; Gainesville; Sherman; Lindsay; Lubbock; Rosston; and a great many from Muenster.

Hoedebeck reunion held May 31

More than 100 descendants of the late Fred and Anna Hoedebeck met Sunday, May 31, for their annual reunion. The covered dish meal was held at noon in the Muenster City Park.

Fred and Anna Hoedebeck were parents of 18 children. The seven living children of the Hoedebecks attending were Mrs. Frances Reiter and Gene Hoedebeck of Muenster; Leo Hoedebeck of Gainesville; Alfred Hoedebeck of Irving; Father Paul Hoedebeck of Subiaco, Ark.; Mrs. Philomena Howell of Houston; Joe Hoedebeck of San Diego, California.

Also joining the gathering were sisters-in-law, Mrs. Ray Hoedebeck of Denison; Mrs. Cletus Hoedebeck of Garland; and Mrs. Norbert Hoedebeck of Quinlan.

Oldest person attending was Mrs. Frances Reiter; youngest was Others attended from Lindsay, Gainesville, Allen, Plano, Garland, Irving, Coppell, Quinlan and Dallas.

Fleitman reunion

Descendants of the late Henry and Mary Fleitman were together for a nostalgic reunion attended by the four remaining children of the pioneer Muenster couple, and by more than 100 other relatives representing four generations.

The four remaining sons and daughters are John Fleitman, 79, who was also honored as the oldest guest present; Hilda Self, Bruno Fleitman, all of Muenster, and Irene Laux of Lindsay.

The youngest guest was one-month-old Stephanie Ann Krueger, daughter of Jim and Shirley Krueger of Sanger and granddaughter of Richard and Edna Hermes of Lindsay.

The covered-dish noon dinner was followed by an afternoon of "remembering when?" visiting, games, picture taking and getting acquainted with newer additions to the relationship.

The reunion was made more special by the recent births of two great-grandchildren, Keri Lynn Dennard, daughter of Ron and Doris Dennard of Burleson, and JoAnna Marie Felderhoff, daughter of David and Barbie Felderhoff of Muenster.

St. Richard's Villa News

The monthly birthday party in May had as honorees Anna Starke and June Stuart. June is a new resident coming from Dallas. Both received corsages, gifts from Lora's Flowers. Mrs. Starke's family came with a decorated cake. Other cakes and punch were provided by the Villa. Relatives and friends joined the residents. Sonny Walterscheid and Norma Clifton presented music for listening, dancing and singing.

May 7 was an exciting day as residents and staff participated in a full fire drill and viewed fire safety films. Employees were given a hands-on demonstration in use of fire extinguishers by Fire and Safety, Inc. of Wichita Falls.

On Mother's Day, an open house was held. A large number of relatives and friends came to visit from 2 to 4:30. Mr. Fuson and Beverly Sawyer, director of nurses, greeted guests and served punch and cake. All resident ladies wore corsages, gifts from Mr. Fuson. The dinner menu was decided by the residents who listed their favorite foods.

Tears mingled with goodbyes as Linda Tripp, activity director, said farewell to residents and staff. A transfer of her husband, Rev. David Tripp, moved them from Whitesboro to Fort Worth.

Two groups of young children delighted residents with visits on May 15. Muenster Public School fourth graders came at 10:15 and Sacred Heart's second graders came at 2:30.

On May 22, the Rev. Steve Pearson of Muenster Baptist Church made a visitation and addressed the residents in assembly. Afterwards, the group gathered on the patio for refreshments.

The "cookies ladies," Lucille Hess and Millie Voth, made their regular monthly appearance bringing homemade cookies for all who can tolerate sweets and bananas for those on restricted diets.

Every Tuesday morning, Louise Fisher came to entertain with piano selections and to lead singing. Each Tuesday afternoon residents gathered to see a movie shown by Muenster Public Library personnel. Fresh popcorn and soft drinks were provided by Villa personnel.

Each Wednesday residents joined to play Bingo. Taking turns as hostess were Lu Vogel, Augusta Walterscheid, Dorothy Yosten, Catherine Hermes, Margaret Kupper, Leona Eberhart, Julia Cunningham, Betty Yosten, Margaret Reiter, Amanda Fuhrmann, Marie Henschel, Romana Bayer and Thelma Dill. Ed Dill also helped with the games.

Every Thursday morning, Joe Hoenig came out to play the piano and to lead singing.

Every Sunday morning a worship hour was held in the lobby with Chris Cain and Eddie Ramsey conducting and Rita Richey playing the piano and leading singing.

Every afternoon residents gathered to recite the Rosary led by Caroline Hess. Once a month pastors of Sacred Heart Church celebrate Mass in the lobby. Relatives and friends join residents for the service and spend time afterwards visiting them.

Among out-of-town visitors signing the guest book during May were Joe and Lilly Hoedebeck of San Diego, Calif., with his sister, Frances Reiter; Bobbye and Lloyd Hefner of Amarillo, with her mother, Edna Hogan; Bill and La Queta McCollum of Dallas and Judy Hartman of Denton, with their Grandmother Hogan; Leroy Kupper and family of Rockwall, with his father, John Kupper; Sister Corrine Koessler of Lawton, Okla., with friends; Connie Miller of Saint Jo, former nurse's aide; and Ruth and Jim Penton of Rosston greeting everyone.

JAYNA JAE BIFFLE

Jayna is one

Jayna Jae Biffle, daughter of Jim and Donna Biffle, celebrated her first birthday on May 27 with a party at Muenster City Park. Festivities at the birthday included tennis, swimming, movies, gift opening, picture taking and a hot dog supper. Guests also enjoyed a peach-colored doll figurine cake baked by Betty Rose Walterscheid.

At the party, all children ate hot dogs and cake on Jayna's new picnic table, a birthday gift from Grandmommie LuLu Hess.

Helping Jayna celebrate was her family Jim, Donna and Jack Biffle; Grandmommie LuLu Hess; Grandparents Jimmy Jack and Collette Biffle; and godparents Judy Biffle and Brent Hess and his family Mary, Ashley and Kristen.

Also attending the party were aunts, uncles and cousins including Linda Grewing and Julie, Tammy, Jon, Ken and Matthew; Howard and Darlene Hess and Willie, Waylon and Tanya; David (Herky) and Mel Biffle and Jason and Melissa; and Brad Biffle.

Friends who came were Melvin and Terry Hess and Justin; Janet Voth and Debra and Michael; Greg Walterscheid; and Ron Trubnback.

Mrs. Cain attends graduation at MPS

Mrs. Richard Cain was back at home to attend commencement exercises at Muenster High School and see her granddaughter, Melanie Richey, receive her diploma. Mrs. Cain came from Fort Worth and returned there after the weekend in Muenster to continue staying with her sister-in-law, Georgia Hogan. She had spent the past six weeks in the Hogan home during the illness and death of her brother, Charles Cloyce (C.C.) Hogan, who died on May 6, 1987.

Hogan was born in Montague, Texas, on Jan. 23, 1907, a son of James and Edna Hogan. Edna Hogan is of St. Richard's Villa, Muenster.

Hogan was a retired linotype operator for the Fort Worth Press.

Heritage Society sets Summer Fun Classes

The Cooke County Heritage Society announces two Summer Fun Classes to be offered at the Morton Museum. The first class, "An Hour With History," will meet on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, July 6, 8 and 10, from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m. Part of each hour will be spent on the reading and telling of historic stories about the county, while the other part of the hour will be spent on field trips to the Courthouse, the Fire Station and the old Carnegie Library. The fee to cover expenses is $10.00.

The second class, "History Tapping On Your Shoulder," will meet from July 20-24, from 10 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. each day. The primary purpose of this local history course is to demonstrate to children ages 7-12 how history continues to surround and affect their lives, often without them being aware of it. Activity sheets and one area field trip each day will be used to accomplish this purpose. Fee for this class is $15.00.

Each of the students will receive a Cooke County Heritage Society T-shirt. Refreshments will be served on the last day of each class. Registration for both classes is from June 8-22. For more information, please contact the museum at 668-8900.

Heart Attack Warning Signals

During a heart attack, your body usually sends out warning signals that your heart is starving for oxygen. An uncomfortable pressure, fullness, squeezing or pain in the center of your chest for more than two minutes is one signal. Chest pain that spreads to your shoulders, neck or arms is another. Dizziness, fainting, sweating, nausea or shortness of breath may also occur. Sometimes the signals may subside, only to return later.

If you are with someone who is experiencing the warning signals, and if they last for two minutes or longer, insist on taking prompt action. Expect the person to deny the possibility of anything as serious as a heart attack. Call the emergency rescue service, or get to the nearest hospital emergency room with 24-hour cardiac care. Give mouth-to-mouth breathing and chest compression (CPR) if it is necessary and if you are properly trained.

Camp Sweeney opens June 7 with a blast!

GAINESVILLE - The 38th year of Camp Sweeney for Diabetic Children opened Sunday, June 7, with a blast - of hot air! A huge hot air balloon greeted the campers as they arrived for the first three-week session, and the campers, ages six through 18, were given a ride in the tethered balloon.

Transported from Dallas for the opening session, the balloon was an exciting beginning to an activity-packed three weeks, said Camp Director James V. Campbell, who has headed the camp every summer since its beginning in 1950.

Help Your Heart

During the campers' stay, they will be treated to exhibitions by skydivers, an airplane dropping packs of sugarless gum over the camp, a carnival, swimming, fishing, crafts, archery, riflery, horseback riding and numerous other activities. In between the fun, the campers learn how to take care of their diabetes, becoming self-sufficient and more self-assured. A camp doctor and his assistants conduct regular classes, emphasizing the importance of balancing the diabetic's diet, insulin and exercise.

The hot air balloon also will greet campers at the beginning of the remaining two sessions, which are scheduled for June 28 and July 15.

If a diabetic child's family is unable to pay the full tuition costs for the three weeks, financial help is available by writing to Betty Stephenson, Public Relations Director, Southwestern Diabetic Foundation, Inc., P.O. Box 918, Gainesville, Texas 76240.

No child is ever turned away because of financial reasons. The only requirement is that he or she has diabetes. Registration now is under way for either of the next two sessions.

Tips on determining structure

Being able to see "structure" and differentiate it in a weed or grass line is a lot different than finding a stump on a small lake that sticks out like a sore thumb. Although structure is only one element to consider in establishing a fishing pattern, in itself, structure is worthy of detailed study.

One of the best structure experts on the pro fishing circuit is Randy Fite, two-time winner of the Lone Star circuit and member of the Johnson Outboards Pro Staff.

"Structure is anything that disrupts the bottom," explains Fite. "One tree coming up from a flat bottom would be a form of structure. Another form of structure would be a bottom that's running along flat and all of a sudden drops down or rises. And fish will relate to either one."

"A weedline is structure," Fite continues, "but the entire weedline is not a relevant structure. What the bass fisherman should really be looking for is an aspect of the structure that's a little different. For example, if you have a completely straight weedline that suddenly makes a corner or a dip, the corner or dip in the weedline is what I would probably want to fish first."

How do the pros go about fishing a lake from scratch? What are their techniques to discover not only the lake's structure but the best eventual fishing pattern?

"To establish a fishing pattern, this is the way I would start out on a new lake," instructs Jerry Rhyne, one of the better spinner-bait fishermen in the country and Johnson Outboards Pro Staff member. "Before launching the boat, I look at a map and I pick a particular area in the lake that I decide I want to fish that day. I consider the season and the light conditions to determine whether the fish are likely to be up shallow or down deep."

"Then I start studying the visual structure - wood, rock, grass and so on. If I'm going down a shoreline and I see three or four pieces of wood, I fish all those places from zero depth to seven or eight feet. If I don't catch a fish, then I begin to think the bass aren't going to associate themselves with wood. So I begin to look for a harder structure like rock, maybe indentations in a rock cliff or boulders. And I start fishing that. If that still doesn't work, I'll start looking for grasses."

"Usually one of those structures is going to hold some fish. If I find the fish alongside the wood, I'll most often find them in grasses, too. If I find the fish near rock, it's unlikely I'll find them near wood or grass."

It's very important to keep in mind that structure just isn't something showing above the surface; it can be on the lake bottom as well.

"Depth changes are sort of like the interstate system: some spots are real busy and some aren't," explains Randy Fite. "The first true depth change (is) from zero to five feet. You might find the first (bass) in a foot of water but the next one in five; they're basically on the same type pattern. If you've got a little lip, a little edge, or a bench in the first five feet of water, you really want to explore that."

"Then probably your next step is around the 8- to 10-foot mark. Naturally, any little quick drop such as a rock point that drops off from eight to 10 to 12 feet of water will hold fish. Normally, the fish will be in a particular area of those drops, such as the point of the drop-off or an indentation of it."

"Just a straight, true-line drop won't attract fish. There's got to be some structure down there for them to get on: a brush pile on a ledge, a stump pile, or just a single stump and root structure coming out of that stump."

Fite specifies three factors to keep in mind about depth changes: time of the season, water temperature and water clarity.

"Those three factors are probably the most significant in determining how deep the fish are going to be in any lake at any given time," he said.

Who Are Your Customers?

By far the greater portion of the money spent in Muenster comes from the people who live within a radius of a few miles of town, and from the people who live within the city limits.

These, then, would be termed "steady customers" — the ones you lay in supplies for and whom you expect to sell to. We want to further expand our trade area, but your sales campaigns are directed at the people you see daily or frequently.

The very obvious and easily demonstrated conclusion is that The Enterprise, which goes into nearly all the homes of your customers, is the medium of advertising you can use to the best advantage. It reaches them regularly, and is read thoroughly.

An advertising or merchandising campaign that does not include The Enterprise in its scope consequently is passing up the greatest potential medium at the disposal of the merchant.

The fact that "everybody knows me" will not sell the merchant's wares. Tell your customers of the advantages of trading at your particular store, rather than with the other fellow, whom they doubtless "know" as well as they do you.

FARM AND RANCH NEWS

Farmers must develop plan by 1990

The 1985 Food Security Act requires that all the lands in the nation be checked to determine if they are "highly erodible." If they are "highly erodible," a system needs to be developed with the landowners on these fields by 1990.

"The system will be developed with the producer to bring the erosion rate down to an acceptable level," states Ray Svacina, District Conservationist in Gainesville. "The application of the system will be concluded by 1995. Letters are being mailed to Cooke County farmers at this time to notify them that they may have highly erodible soils. It is intended to develop one third of the Conservation Plans each year. The landowners being notified are encouraged to schedule a planning date as soon as possible."

"Some of the present cropping systems and conservation practices will be acceptable as a system," states Svacina. "But it will be necessary to develop a Conservation Plan on these fields and include them under the Food Security Act," he concluded.

This "highly erodible" land determination and planning has been given highest priority in the current workload. "We are putting many other routine jobs and projects on the back burner because of this program, especially non-cost share jobs," states Svacina.

The Soil Conservation Service and the Upper Elm-Red Soil and Water Conservation District has the responsibility to develop these plans to meet the 1990 application date. Failure to comply could mean ineligibility for any type assistance from USDA. This ineligibility extends to deficiency payment, FmHA loans, crop insurance, etc.

Look for the 'real' seal

June is dairy month, and while dairy products are in the spotlight, consumers may want to take the time to find out what "real" dairy products are.

"There are many products displayed in supermarket dairy cases, but not all of them are actual dairy products," says Mary Kinney Sweeten, a nutritionist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service. "Consumers should also be aware that all dairy products aren't kept in the dairy case."

According to Sweeten, "A dairy food is made from milk, not vegetable fat or protein. This includes a wide variety of products ranging from ice cream to cheese to evaporated milk."

"Some dairy products may take consumers by surprise," the specialist says. "For example, pasteurized process cheese is cheese that has been ground, melted and pasteurized. Emulsifiers are added to keep the milkfat from separating, and vinegar, salt and other spices may be added to enhance the flavor and texture, but it's still "real" cheese."

Some varieties of milk may also be misleading. Nonfat dry milk, and evaporated and condensed milk are simply milk with different amounts of water removed. Condensed milk also has an added sweetener, she explains.

The Food and Drug Administration has set up standards of identity for all milk and real dairy foods to guarantee their uniformity, value and wholesomeness. These standards regulate such things as milkfat and moisture content of cheese, and weight per gallon of ice cream.

Sweeten says, "Identifying 'real' dairy products may be a little tricky because imitation products are often packaged like the 'real' thing. The easiest way to identify a dairy product is to look for the 'real' seal on the container. If it's not there, read the list of ingredients. In 'real' dairy products, milk or cream constitutes 100 percent of the essential ingredients."

Join the Associated Milk Producers, Inc. in celebrating dairy month by learning about 'real' dairy products, and making the 'real' seal part of smart shopping habits.

Results of stocker-feeder sales aired

Sorting calves into special groups for sale can pay dividends, according to five such sales that were part of the South Central Texas Beef Herd Improvement Program during 1986.

The program is an interdisciplinary educational effort of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

In sorted cattle sales (one at Milano and five at Brenham) the following findings emerged:

- Lighter calves brought a higher price. A calf 100 pounds lighter than another calf brought $3.50 per hundredweight more at Brenham and $4.30 more at Milano. In weight categories, calves in the 301-350 pound range brought $4.06 per hundredweight more than those in the 350-401 pound category. However, the difference was only 54 cents per hundredweight in favor of the lighter grouping for the 451-500 pound and 501-550 pound categories.

- Steers brought $8.50 more per hundredweight than heifers at Brenham and $6.34 more at Milano.

- At the Milano sale, cattle with 3/4, 7/8 and full Brahman blood all brought the same price. Cattle with less Brahman blood, however, brought a premium price over 7/8 Brahman cattle, with the highest price going to cattle with 1/4 Brahman - an advantage of $12.24 per hundredweight. Price premiums for 3/8 and 1/2 Brahms over 7/8 Brahms were $10.91 and $10.36 per hundredweight, respectively. The price differential between non-Brahms and 1/8 Brahms was only 12 cents per hundredweight. On the average, calves with more much less; the price difference of 5/8 Brahman calves over 7/8 Brahman was less than half the price premium for cattle of 1/2 or less Brahman blood.

- At the Milano sale, cattle were graded and price differences noted. Prices were highest for large framed calves with a yield grade potential of number one, with medium framed number ones averaging $2.45 less per hundredweight. Large framed and medium framed number twos brought $3.76 and $4.36 less per hundredweight, respectively, while small framed twos and threes had large price discounts of $10.40 and $28.47 per hundredweight, respectively. There were no small framed ones, medium framed threes or large framed threes in the sale.

- Data collected did not show any price difference in lot sizes; no lots were of semi-trailer load size. Also, such factors as horns, color, number of crosses, fill, flesh condition and preconditioning did not reflect price differences.

The four sales of Brenham were held on regular sale days, points out Dr. Gerald Cornforth, Extension Service economist. Cattle were co-mingled into sorted lots of two or more head. Singles were sold during the regular sale. Lots were preweighed and sold with a predetermined 2 percent shrink. The four sales involved 147 lots totaling 1,047 head.

At Milano, cattle were not co-mingled but were shaped and sorted into lots of one head or more. The sale was on a regular sale day, but singles were sorted out and sold in a jackpot during the special sale. Cattle meeting predetermined preconditioning requirements were sold first. The sale included 492 preconditioned cattle and 542 head in the rest of the special sale for a total of 1,034 head.

According to Cornforth, 12 special sales are planned during 1987 and will include the following: Brenham - May 18, June 15, July 13, Aug. 17, Sept. 11 and Oct. 16; Marlin - August, September, October and November; and Milano - September and November.

GARDEN

Trees that usually have bagworms are probably already infested again this year.

Look for bagworms 3/8-1/2" in length. Spray with Sevin, Dursban or Spectracide. Fruit trees should be sprayed for twig bores in June. Since you shouldn't spray the fruit itself, this is a good year to spray since the late freeze eliminated most fruit anyway.

Use Dursban or Lindane.

TIP OF THE WEEK: Dispose of gasoline that has been stored for more than 2 months. Small engines may experience problems with this stale gas.
