The day begins with the 8 a.m. Mass in Sacred Heart Church. The name of the 1987 Good Neighbor recipient will be announced at the close of the service.

Following will be the traditional Communion Breakfast in the K.C. Hall, with a guest speaker.

Members and guests and widows of deceased members are invited.

Farm Bureau urges members to attend convention

Leonard Hartman, president of Cooke County Farm Bureau, has announced plans for the annual Cooke County Farm Bureau Convention to be held Thursday, Oct. 15, at the Armory in Gainesville.

A dinner will be served beginning at 6:30 p.m. with the general meeting to follow. Guest speaker will be Tom Catchings, Jr., state manager, TASC.

Kiwanis Club sponsors annual supper

The Muenster Kiwanis Club is sponsoring its annual Pancake Supper on Friday, Oct. 16, 4:30 p.m. to 7 p.m. as a club benefit.

The location is the MHS Cafeteria. Tickets are $3.00 adults and $2.00 children. Sponsors suggest this will be a good meal before the football game.

ABBA to offer special kind of help

"ABBA," a newly-formed group in Cooke County, has been organized to lend support to its very name, "Ali Babies Born Alive."

"ABBA" originated in St. Mary's Parish of Gainesville and extended into Lindsay; where the second meeting was held on Oct. 1. The parishes of Muenster and Valley View have been invited to join and support a combined effort to fight abortion.

"ABBA" will provide a means to help the women facing problems associated with her pregnancy.

The next meeting will be held in Muenster in the cafeteria of the Community Center on Thursday, Nov. 5, at 7 p.m. "ABBA" is offering a Counseling Service with protected confidentiality via a 24-hour Hot Line telephone number 668-6391, as well as one-on-one counseling in person.

Plans are also being prepared to offer temporary housing, clothing and medical help for the mother and child. To accomplish this "ABBA" will have many needs to fulfill.

Maternity clothes, baby layettes, homes before delivery, and after the birth, and of course, money, are among those needs.

Volunteers are needed to answer the hot line phone. This will not present a problem, since Call Forwarding is becoming generally used.

A training session will be held

STATE REPRESENTATIVE Richard Williamson, center, was the guest speaker at the annual 4-H Awards Banquet. He also presented the Gold Star Boy and Girl Awards to Wayne Becker of Muenster and Donna Lutkenhaus of Lindsay.

City purchases fire truck chassis locally

Muenster Fire Chief Herb Knabe on Monday informed the City Council that the basic chassis for the new Muenster fire truck had arrived at the Smeal Fire Equipment Company of Snyder, Nebraska. The truck was purchased through Endres Motor Co., at a price of $30,432.20. This purchase netted a savings of $1,400.00 under previous estimates. Knabe requested a transfer of funds to pay for the truck immediately to avoid interest and it was done. The new equipment to be fitted on the truck is contracted to cost $75,352.00.

Other business addressed by the City Council follows:

Councilmen appointed members to the Muenster Centennial Celebration Steering Committee. Named were Juanita Bright, Bertha Hamric, John Fisher, Jane

Monday and Urban Endres.
- A 1984 paving lien will be purchased back from Muenster State Bank after repeated nonpayment. The city, by agreement, must now try to collect on the loan of about $4,000.00.

- An amendment to the alcoholic beverage sales ordinance was passed to allow special permit sales in new areas of the city. The change is published in this issue of The Enterprise.

- The City will notify two property owners along West Eddy Street that they have 10 days to pay their assessment for paving before legal action is taken. One owner was assessed $2.42 per running foot and the other $1.21 per foot for about 200 feet of paving on their street.

- The City continues to look for a volunteer to assume duties as Emergency Management Director.

- Manager Joe Fenton requested the purchase of a new telephone system for City Hall, saying that the existing system is badly worn. Mayor Ted Henscheid favored fixing and purchasing the existing system. They are now studying proposals by Muenster Telephone Corp., ATT represented by Cliff Sicking, and a system from Lehnis Perkins.

- Installation of street lights was approved at the following intersections: Hwy. 82 and Ash St., Cross and Ash Streets and N. Maple and Third Streets.

- The Public Library received a semi-annual $2000.00 contribution from city funds.

- $2,200.00 was transferred to the Firemen's Pension Fund.

- The City is looking for a volunteer member to the Cooke County Tax Appraisal District Board of Directors.

- Councilmen addressed water well repair problems. In one case, a motor or pump or both will probably need replacement. In the other, major 72,000 volt electric service is so near the well that it must be disconnected before the well servicing rig can be set up. The City is negotiating with TU Electric for a solution.

WAL-MART staff and management unite to cut the ribbon at Grand Opening ceremonies last Thursday.

Wal-Mart has grand opening

Before the new Wal-Mart Store in Gainesville opened up for their Grand Opening last Thursday, the management, led by Store Manager Stan Green, welcomed a large crowd of community leaders. The Wal-Mart employees received a big thanks for their dedicated service and their hard work in moving from the old store on North Grand Avenue.

Those present were given a view of the new store and the corporate philosophy that has established 1,083 stores in the United States.

The new store contains 85,899 square feet. A snack bar and automotive service area are new features which were not available at the old store.

During the ceremony, all department managers were introduced to emphasize their "store within a store" concept. This decentralized management concept plus the high employee morale and new environment will combine to give the customers the best every day. Ida Bindel, Fabrics, and Brenda Walterscheid, Foods, of Muenster and Mary Ann Arendt, Domestic, of Lindsay are among the Wal-Mart department managers.

Other familiar names at Wal-Mart are Harvey Lamkin, new Garden Center Manager. Sandra Corcoran and Dianne Neu manage the Furniture and Health & Beauty Aid Departments. Paula Russell Moore is Check-Out Supervisor and Teresa Fleitman Bean, an original employee, works in Lay-A-Way.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

As I sit here penning this letter, there is a crew of men working on the top of Muenster Telephone's controversial tower. I don't know if the "temporary" antennas are coming down or new "temporary" antennas are going up. Whatever the case, I can not help but make these comments.

There have been mistakes made on both sides. Muenster Telephone Corporation and the City of Muenster have been less than "absolutely" up front and without error; so let's forget about all of the "should haves," the "what ifs" and "if onlys" and deal with the present situation. We cannot reverse what has already taken place and we can not let ourselves get bogged down in what we can not change. Muenster needs a progressive business posture. Muenster needs to support those things that contribute to economic improvement of the community. Muenster needs Alvin Fuhrman and Muenster needs good telephone and TV cable service. We don't need attorneys and a court house and we don't need this community hassle. LET THE TOWER STAND!

Johnny Pagel, President
Muenster Industrial Board

Letter to the Editor,

Many people have asked how they can help in the fight against abortion. The newly formed group in Cooke County "ABBA" (All Babies Born Alive) may be just your answer. It will also provide a means to help the women facing the problems associated with her pregnancy.

ABBA was started by St. Mary's Parish in Gainesville, but has extended an invitation to the parishes in Lindsay, Muenster and Valley View to join and support them.

I attended a meeting last month in Lindsay and the next meeting will be in Muenster in the cafeteria of the Community Center at 7 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 5.

ABBA is offering a counseling service via a 24-hour hotline telephone number (668-6391) as well as one-on-one counseling in person. They are going to try to offer temporary housing, clothing and medical help for the mother and child, as well as legal help for the mother.

To do all this, they have many needs as well. They can use mater-ity clothes, and baby layettes. They also need homes that might be used before the delivery or after the birth as well. They are also looking for volunteers to answer the hotline phone which can be done in your own home thanks to Call Forwarding. They are having a short training session on Nov. 7 and 8 to help prepare you for this counseling.

Of course, the need for money is always there, too. Therefore, they are planning a fundraising dinner on Nov. 14 in the KC Hall in Gainesville. It will include a happy hour, meal and a dance. Tickets should be available in a week or so.

This is an excellent opportunity for everyone to help. So plan to come to the next meeting and decide whether you can help with the clothing, homes or money. And let us know right away if you would like to be a counselor. You may call us anytime at home, 759-4252, or the Garden Center, 759-2766, and you may drop off your donations at the Garden Center, too.

Record of government meetings important

By Attorney General Jim Mattox

One of the major foundations of our democratic system of government is the people's right to know what their government is doing. Since there is no perfect government, an open government allows defects to be pointed out and corrected.

Government is the servant of the people. Although the people have delegated certain authority to the government, the people have not given public officials the right to decide what is good for the people to know and what is not good for them to know.

The Texas Open Meetings Act protects the people's right to know by requiring public bodies to meet in public. However, there are exceptions to the Act which allow closed sessions for discussions of lawsuits against a governmental body, personal matters, and potential sales or purchases of real estate by a governmental body.

The Act was improved significantly recently by an amendment passed by the regular session of the Texas Legislature.

The amendment requires a governing body to tape-record its closed meetings, or to keep an agenda of the proceedings certified by its presiding officer.

The recordings are sealed and kept from public disclosure unless the governmental body decides there no longer is a reason to keep the tapes sealed or a district judge determines that the discussions in closed session were illegal and the tapes should be made public.

There are legitimate reasons for a closed meeting: the privacy of personnel matters; the importance of keeping legal strategy secret; and the protection taxpayers dollars from the negative effects of private real estate speculation when news of a government purchase or sale spreads. Such closed meetings benefit the citizenry.

However, without some record of the discussions in closed meetings, the public is completely unprotected from possible illegal, secret, self-dealings by public officials who would illegitimately claim an exception to the open meetings law.

The fact that a record exists and someone can be held accountable for illegal discussions is a good incentive for public officials to keep public matters public unless they fall within the specific exceptions.

I encourage public officials to conduct all public business in open meetings unless it is perfectly clear that an exception is applicable and it is in the public's best interest to close the meeting.

BIG BAD BUSINESS By Edwin Feulner

Ronald Reagan's two landslide electoral victories don't mean America's large caboodle of business bashers have quit snorting and frothing. On they go, fevered, as William F. Buckley put it, by the fear that someone, somewhere is making a profit.

To be sure, more people today than 10 years ago respect what George Gilder calls "the spirit of enterprise." Indeed, more today recognize that entrepreneurship has all the elements of high romance: adventure, individualism, rags-to-riches (and riches-to-rags) possibilities.

But the business bashers are unmoved. What drives them (if we're to believe their constant refrain) is Compassion; they simply can't abide capitalism's dog-eat-dog cruelties. Many have made mints belaboring this theme in print and on podiums.

Even assuming the worst—that the only motive of the entrepreneur is greed—the key fact remains: Entrepreneurship has made it possible for even the poorest class to enjoy a standard of living so high it's unheard of for the vast majority of citizens of most countries, where the tyrants alone live well.

Of course, despite the tyrants' best efforts to suppress information about the outside world, none of this is news to most of the world's people, which is why they emigrate here in unmanageable numbers. Yet it never seems to occur to business bashers to wonder why so many millions would risk their lives to get to a heartless, greed-crazed hell.

Instead, what flummoxes 24-year-old Norman Atkins, writing in The Village Voice, is how so many people around his age, who seemed so properly liberal in college, could end up on Wall Street, of all places. "Why would someone like Converse (a 24-year-old investment banker Atkins interviewed)—intelligent, well-rounded, politically respectable—why would he become an investment banker in the first place?" Atkins marvels. (Note, by the way, the unstated assumption that one must be liberal to be "politically respectable.")

Converse himself marvels to Atkins, "Who could possibly be proud of belonging to a profession that claims as its chief virtue that it maintains 'efficiency of the market'?" Another young investment banker, whom Atkins calls Gaddy, assures him that "there was nothing about my character which suggested that course [leading to Wall Street], because in college I was known as—and I remain—extremely liberal."

"Gaddy keeps emphasizing his politics, trying to show that not all investment bankers are right-wing," Atkins says. These types "pretend they're so sly in their good intentions, that they're going to pick up the buttoned-up business school jock talk only to advance the cause of justice and the Democratic Party."

But Atkins believes the light at last is dawning for his generation, which, he says, "didn't need Boeskygate to see what's wrong with our corporate culture." Another young Wall Streeter says that when he was luxuriating in New York's Essex House awaiting his job interview, he said to himself, "What am I doing here? And why do I want this job when I basically abhor businessmen and consider them nothing but parasites on society?"

To stay with the biological metaphor, who's the host organism these businessmen/parasites are living off?

The truth, of course, is quite the opposite: Businessmen create the wealth that pays for the world's biggest social-welfare bureaucracy, headquarters: Washington, DC.

Leftists still can't grasp the most obvious of facts: Wealth must be created before it's available for their favorite activity: using government to redistribute it.

Hostility to "corporate culture" is always fashionable among intellectuals, who try to elevate their status by denigrating business. Too often they succeed, because businessmen are too busy trying to run their businesses while filling out reams of tax and regulatory forms to be able to fight wars of words and ideas.

As for the hollow-headed hypocrites Atkins interviewed, I hope they flee the horrors of corporate culture to find spiritual peace in Albania.

Bloodmobile to be in Muenster Oct. 14

Blood, a most precious natural resource, is a gift that helps thousands of people every day to recover their health. The American Red Cross is the sole supplier of blood to 44 hospitals in the Red River Region. In case the need for blood transfusion arises during your hospital stay or that of a family member, it is important that you know some basic facts. These are the main things to remember:

The blood you receive through the American Red Cross is available because a volunteer - a caring neighbor in your community - donated it. There is no known substitute for human whole blood and there is no way to maintain a reliable blood supply except by regular donations from healthy individuals.

The American Red Cross Blood Service works by mobilizing volunteer donors in the community to make sure there is enough blood available at all times to meet any individual patient's need. The emphasis is on each person doing what he can to help.

The Red Cross Blood Service finances itself by recovering its collection, processing, equipment and distribution costs from users of its services. The method of recovering these costs is a processing fee charged to hospitals (currently $44.00 per unit). The hospital will pass this fee along to the patient and it should be listed separately from other charges on the hospital bill. Normally, health insurance completely covers this cost. If you are hospitalized in the Region, you will automatically receive Red Cross blood.

If you are hospitalized in a facility which is not regularly supplied through Red Cross, your local Red Cross Blood Services will arrange to have Red Cross substitute for human whole blood and there is no way to maintain a reliable blood supply except by regular donations from healthy individuals. The community responsibility shown by concerned citizens has eliminated the need for you to worry about replacement while you are in your hospital bed.

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be at the Muenster KC Hall on Wednesday, Oct. 14, from 3 p.m. to 7 p.m.

Please make a blood donation for someone who needs it now!

Movement for Moving To New Homes Strikes in Lindsay Community

Lindsay, Oct. 6—Last week has found a number of families taking up residence in different homes in various parts of the community. Mr. and Mrs. Anton Dieter who formerly lived in the small house directly behind the Dieter garage have chosen the home of the late Joseph Block in which to reside in the future.

The Billingsleys who have occupied the house on the Joe Hundt farm north of Lindsay have moved into the large house of the late grandfather Fuhrmann, more recently occupied by the W. J. Laux family.

High School Bell Rings Discord in Low Grades

Little by little the system at the parochial school is getting adjusted to fit their changes in schedule as a result of advance grade work. For two weeks pupils of the grammar grades were disturbed every time the bell announced the end of high school class periods, but the worries are all over since a special gong was installed on the second floor for the advanced students. Now the kiddies do not stir unless the main bell, their bell, is rung.

WOLF TRAPPER BAGS 21 IN 5 WEEKS AND STILL GETTING 'EM

Wolf trapping in the Muenster area continues with encouraging results, Jack Witten, a government licensed trapper in the employ of the State and County advised while in town Tuesday. In the five weeks that he has been in this community he has killed 21 of the animals, all of them on the Gordon Ramsey, John Fette, Hickman, and Anders ranches. His catch Saturday night was three on the Fette place.

Making his performance here even more pleasing, at least in the opinion of Mr. Witten, is the fact that two thirds of the animals killed to date have been females. In each case, he stated, he probably succeeded in eliminating one litter from next year's wolf pack.

While in Muenster, Mr. Witten was accompanied by William Stein, another trapper who was detailed to continue the trapping in Cooke County. Mr. Witten is being transferred to start a similar campaign against the wolves of Haskell county.

Mr. Stein advised that he will continue to occupy the small house on the Gordon Ramsey place and that he will await the request of anyone who wishes his help in getting rid of wolves. To date requests have come only from the four men on whose places Mr. Witten made his catches.

TWO NEW GIRLS START WORK AT HOSPITAL

Miss Mary Alice Bonauer, who formerly worked in the Myrick hospital and is now in training for a nurse in El Paso, has been replaced by Miss Gertrude Roberg.

Gertrude returned from St. Vincent's Hospital in Sherman, where she had been employed, to accept the position.

Miss Aileen Haverkamp has taken the place of Miss Louise Russell who had been working nights.

There is an outworn story about the fellow who said "You can't put me in jail" and the cop who counted with "Well, I'm doing it, ain't I?" The beer situation here at Muenster is very similar. For a long time we've heard the remark that "they can't take the beer out of Muenster." About a week ago a pack of officers convinced us that it can be done. It may be possible now to find a few bottles scattered, somewhat like in the home brew days, but this town is no longer the oasis it used to be.

There has been lots of talk about who could possibly have sent in the complaint and even more talk to the effect that we had it coming. Muenster likes its beer and under normal conditions is entitled to it. Furthermore officers are not inclined to cause trouble as long as everything is conducted peacefully. If the suggestions made several months ago by individuals and later by the Ladies Civic League had been observed Muenster would still have its beer. But we were not content to just have the beer, we encouraged excessive drinking and boasted about our immunity. Neither officers nor citizens will tolerate such action.

Congratulations!

Gilbert Endres Distributing sponsors mobile training unit

As impressive as was the Anheuser-Busch Mobile Training Unit Van that visited Monday and Tuesday at Gilbert Endres Distributing, Inc., even more impressive was the program of six seminars taught by a specialist in the field, Dennis Zulpo, who also brought the van to Muenster.

The presentation resulted from a company request for Anheuser-Busch to furnish the mobile unit for training of on-premise retail account managers and service personnel, and off-premise retail managers and clerks.

Each seminar was two hours in length, and three sessions were taught each day.

In the first instance, Zulpo related his teaching to service personnel of bars, private clubs, etc., giving an overview of the history of Anheuser-Busch, its involvement in the marketplace and its commitment to retailers.

He provided a brief background on how beer is made, to stress the importance of proper handling; and he was prepared to offer product-handling-and-pouring tips to maximize profits. Most informative was a demonstration of the importance of a clean beer glass in providing good-looking, good-tasting and high-profit beer.

On the second day, Zulpo taught for the benefit of off-premises retail managers and clerks.

His seminars repeated the first two points of Monday's classes, and then developed four additional points related to sales by off-premises personnel. He taught highlights of the role beer plays in sales revenue and profits in off-premise accounts. He pointed out profit opportunities through aggressive shelf management and merchandising techniques. He also stressed the increased profit which can be made from premium beers versus low-priced beers, and how advertising increases sales and profitability.

The Anheuser-Busch Mobile Training Unit originated in Los Angeles and began its program of seminars in big-city areas. At present, principal concentration is in smaller cities. Before arriving in Muenster, Dennis Zulpo held the program in Lubbock, and, after Muenster, his next stop was in Denison.

George Grounds said, "He wants to come back to Muenster and we want him to come back, which he hopes to do in 1988." Zulpo is also driver of the training unit van which is equipped for 10 people in a classroom environment.

Dennis Zulpo is a former professional football player. He played for the Dallas Cowboys in 1977-78; San Francisco in 1979; and St. Louis in 1980.

Classes in Muenster were attended by persons from Lake Bridgeport, Melissa, Lindsay, Lincoln Park and Muenster.

Band to highlight Autofest

This year the Knights of Columbus will host the Autofest Dance in the Sacred Heart Community Center. John Walterscheid and Ben Bindel promise a show which will be full of memories, fun, and a night to remember. The date to remember is Oct. 24.

The activity begins at 7 p.m. with a "Trivia Happy Hour" courtesy of the local beer distributors, Miller Lite, Old Milwaukee and Budweiser. The happy hour will feature beverages at 50's prices. The happy hour also serves the purpose of getting people into the hall early so they do not miss the opening act of the show, set to begin promptly at 8 p.m.

The opening act will feature a light show set to music prior to the entrance of the performers, "Johnny Reed and the Time Machine and Their Classic Rock Revival." Of interest to dancegoers is that the lighting and sound is being handled by a profession technician who regularly manages the lighting and sound for many well-known rock stars. Also of interest is that the music will be the best dance hits of the 50's, 60's and 70's. Each musical set will be from a different period complete with dress.

The music will be non-stop during the evening. During the period when the live performers take a break, plans include dance contests to the jitterbug, twist, as well as hoola hoop contest, and much more. Everyone is encouraged to wear dress from the 50's and 60's, or put on your casual party clothes and blue suede shoes. Door prizes include prizes for the best dressed of the 50's and 60's.

The Muenster Volunteer Fire Department will be assisting the KCs by handling the beverage concessions. All proceeds from the dance will be donated to the Fire Department for use towards the purchase of the new fire truck scheduled for delivery soon. A limited number of tickets are being sold. Tickets are available from most KC members, as well as the following merchants: Muenster Garden Center, Kountry Korner, Bayer's Kolonialwaren, and the D.I. One Stop. All age groups are invited.

Book Fair set for SH School on Oct. 11

It's time again for the annual Book Fair sponsored by Sacred Heart School's Home-School Society. This event is designed to benefit both the organization and the school, and to encourage reading among the youth of Muenster. This year the Fair offers a wide selection of children's and adult books to buy, including religious books and some classics. They are mostly paperback and inexpensive.

Fair hours on Sunday morning, Oct. 11, are from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30; on weekdays Monday, Tuesday and Thursday from 2:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.; on Wednesday from 6:30 p.m. to 8 p.m.; and on Friday morning from 10 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.

The Fair is located in the reading room, ground floor of the Elementary building. Interested buyers should enter through the west door of that building and go downstairs.

To coincide with the annual Book Fair, the Home-School Society is sponsoring a door decorating contest in the grade school, themed "Books Open the Door to..." Prizes will be awarded to first and second place room winners.

Sponsors suggest that the Book Fair is an excellent place to do some early Christmas shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. Hess and Gina tour area

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Hess and daughter, Gina, spent most of August on a trip of 8,000 miles, touring, vacationing and sightseeing in 16 states and Canada.

They were particularly fortunate in experiencing a cool August, in fact, the unusually cool weather was the topic of conversation in each state, and local residents believed an early autumn was approaching. Mrs. Hess said, "In many northern states and Canada, trees were already beginning to show color."

In New Mexico they viewed the Indian Ruins, Shiprock and took the opportunity to visit in Four Corners, the area where New Mexico, Arizona, Utah and Colorado meet.

"Everyone tells you about the Grand Canyon, but one can't really imagine its immensity and startling beauty until one actually sees it," said Mr. and Mrs. Hess.

"There were lots of attractions in Utah; and Zion National Park was our favorite with all the spectacular color, and especially the mile-long tunnel," they said, commenting also that the windswept mountains of sandstone and the colors were unbelievable.

Something rather unusual occurred while they were in Provo, Utah, viewing the Bridal Veil Falls. They missed a hail storm by only a few blocks, and when they drove back onto the Interstate, the roads and the ground were white for miles.

A Saturday evening tour of Salt Lake City in a horsedrawn carriage was especially enjoyed by Gina. Then they attended Sunday morning Mass in the Cathedral of Magdalena, and later toured Mormon Square. They heard the Mormon Tabernacle Choir sing for their Sunday broadcast and not only saw the famous, huge pipe organ, but got to hear it played.

They drove through Salt Lake and Salt Flats and then were enroute to Nevada.

Julius Hess particularly enjoyed seeing the farm lands in Idaho and Washington. Harvest time was nearing completion.

They saw some of the re-foresting being accomplished slowly on beautiful Mt. St. Helens.

Taking Interstate 5, they drove through Oregon down to the Redwood Forest in California and back up the coast all the way to Canada. "It was a beautiful route and the wildflowers were abundant," said Mrs. Hess.

At Vancouver, Canada, they crossed by ferry to Vancouver Island. The ferry ride and time spent in Butchart Gardens were highlights of their island trip.

"Dairy farms are beautiful in Canada. We passed lush green fields and farms with huge white barns. All were picture-perfect," they said.

Describing the scenery, Mrs.

Hess told that the Glacier Mountains were so spectacular.

Their return to the States was by Montana and Glacier National Park. Yellowstone and Old Faithful brought back many memories, as almost 28 years ago when they drove the same route, the snow was so deep they could hardly pass through.

In South Dakota, Mt. Rushmore, the Goldmines, the Badlands and the famous Wall Drug Store were highlights. In Nebraska they visited the Corn Palace, where the entire building's interior is re-done each year with huge murals, all made of different colors of corn and milo.

Recalling the entire trip, Mrs.

Hess said, "We were very fortunate to have had truly beautiful, sunny weather. There were only three times and a few minutes when we needed to use the car's windshield wipers."

"We had a memorable vacation - never trying to meet deadlines or arrival times. When we found something we wanted to see, we took the time to stop and enjoy it. We kept a daily diary and made many pictures. Part of our trip was to retrace our wedding trip 28 years ago when we toured Utah, Idaho and Washington enroute to visit a sister, Elsie and family living in Washington. At that time, we also returned by way of Montana, Wyoming and Colorado."

Varied exhibits fill State Fair buildings

DALLAS - Visit the State Fair of Texas - and see the world!

From Thai handicrafts to Brahman cattle, from Roaring Twenties clothing to a miniature circus, there's plenty to see at the Fair.

This year's event, set for Oct. 9-25, will feature special exhibits from Sea World of Texas, Virginia Slims, Texaco, Thailand, and numerous other companies and organizations.

The 277-acre park offers 337,500 square feet of space for general and commercial exhibits and another 299,080 square feet specifically designed for the exhibition of livestock.

Sea World will introduce its new park, now under construction in San Antonio, with a massive exhibit and a multi-media aqua show, both in the Centennial Building. Tropical gardens, splashing fountains and a Texas-shaped pool will highlight the exhibit.

Also in the Centennial Building Virginia Slims will display the changing styles of women's fashions from the late 1800's to the Roaring Twenties. Life-sized mannequins will be used.

Exhibiting at the Fair for the first time will be Thailand, which will show products ranging from jewelry to rattan as well as provide travel information. A number of other nations, including Australia, Ecuador, India, Germany, Mexico and Morocco, will offer items for sale in the Centennial Building's International Bazaar.

Other exhibits will include a geodesic dome home, an electronically-controlled luxury whirlpool system, state-of-the-art video equipment and a miniature circus complete with approximately 4,500 people and 2,000 animals, all four inches tall or less.

The Automobile Building, which offers fairgoers their first glimpse of 1988 cars and trucks, and the Tower Building, where vendors sell a variety of foods, are always popular with visitors to the State Fair. New food items this year will include Cajun dishes and Texas-shaped pralines.

Grand Place and the Embarcadero will feature an assortment of consumer items for sale, as well as educational and promotional displays. Winners of State Fair contests will be on display in the Creative Arts Building, also the site for fashion shows, cooking demonstrations and other special events.

The State Fair livestock department expects to show thousands of sheep, horses, swine, chickens, goats, rabbits, dairy and beef cattle in seven different buildings. Especially popular with young Fair visitors is the Future Farmers Barn Yard, which showcases mother animals and their offspring.

Besides the vast array of exhibits, the 1987 State Fair of Texas also offers a dazzling variety of entertainment each day, such as a high dive show, ice skating revue, acrobatic show, parade, fireworks display, the musical comedy "South Pacific" and a number of performers on stages throughout the grounds.

The Fair grounds are open from 7 a.m. to 11:30 p.m. daily, and the buildings are open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Admission is $3 for adults and $1 for children aged 5 to 12 on weekdays, $5 for adults and $2 for children on Saturdays and Sundays. Children under 5 are free at all times, and senior citizens are admitted free on Tuesdays. Parking on the grounds is $3.

Harlow Ranch in busy schedule

School has begun once again at the Prairie Valley Branch School, located on the Campus of the Harlow Children's Ranch. The boys are busily "getting back in the groove."

Even though school has begun, there is still a time of fun for the boys to enjoy. A member of the staff of the Harlow Children's Ranch recently donated a pontoon float to the home for the boys' enjoyment. Another member of the staff donated a motor. This will certainly be a treat, since they already enjoy fishing and boating.

Quincy Wilson has recently joined the staff as a House Parent for Harlow Children's Ranch.

Joey has returned to Harlow Children's Ranch, and is doing well. Pat has returned to his own home and is doing fine, since his recent appendectomy.

Last Saturday, a group of 12 came from Sheppard Air Force Base in Wichita Falls to visit with the boys at the Ranch. They spent the day with them, working, having a time of fellowship, and enjoying a good meal together. Their visits are certainly welcome.

Anyone who would like to visit Harlow Children's Ranch is urged to please contact us.

Halloween safety program provided

The children of Muenster Public School, grades K-4, are being provided with an extra measure of safety this Halloween. Each child will be given a special Super Safety Trick-Or-Treat Bag™ which has been provided through Sampling Corporation of America in cooperation with The National Safety Council and sponsored by Kraft Handi Snacks, Campbell's Spaghettios, Del Monte Fruit Cup, Warner Lambert Candilicious, Triaminic Cough Syrup, Kool Aid Soft Drink Mix, Karo Corn Syrup, Minute Maid In-the-Box, and ACT Fluoride Rinse. These companies are interested in safety for children. The plastic bag includes safety tips and is printed on both sides with a special fluorescent ink. A child carrying this bag would be highly visible to motorists because of the bright reflection of the color. This is especially important at dusk, which is a time of day when visibility is generally poor. Also, each child will get a large, self-adhesive "Safety Patch," with similar coloring, to be worn on the back of their outer garments or costumes for additional visibility to motorists. Each child also receives a free treat of Del Monte Fruit Cup to enjoy; a sample of Kraft Handi Snacks Peanut Butter and Crackers; a new and exciting Candilicious treat and a special parent safety booklet containing additional safety tips and suggestions on creating a successful at-home Halloween party, costume and makeup ideas and party recipes. Participating organizations receive posters which serve as further reminders of the need to be extra cautious during these few days. Also included as part of the program is a publicity kit with media public service announcements to help broaden community safety awareness. The program is being distributed, "not to encourage trick-or-treating," but to acknowledge that this practice, for the most part, already exists and children would benefit from an effort to make their celebration experiences safer! In many communities the program provides a basis for alternative activities, such as parades, parties, etc., all designed to make Halloween a safer, more fun experience.

Eagles rout Tigers 60-7

The Valley View Eagles continued to run rampant as they piled up 337 yards of rushing offense enroute to a 60-7 thrashing over Sacred Heart Friday night.

The Eagles opened the game with a 60-yard touchdown drive. Damian Krahl's PAT gave Valley View an early score. On their next possession, Sacred Heart scored through the air when Scott Taylor latched onto Darrell Dangelmayr's 21-yard touchdown pass. Deano Bayer kicked the extra point, tying the game at 7-7 in the first quarter.

Valley View scored another 7 in the first quarter and 14 in the next to take a 28-7 halftime lead.

Sacred Heart lost all hope of a comeback when David Ward returned the second half kickoff 83 yards for another Valley View touchdown; Krahl's kick failed. The Tiger defense held Valley View scoreless for the remaining quarter.

The Eagle offense pushed hard for 26 points the final quarter to win their homecoming game 60-7.

"Valley View has a fine ball club," stated Coach Joe Pasqua, "Kassen has a better team than last year."

The Tigers played the second half without the talents of Deano Bayer and Curt Bayer, both left the game in an ambulance. Deano received injury to the head area in a tackle pile-up. Curt sustained a bad bruise to his left heel, after completing a 24-yard pass. Both Bayers will be back on the field this Saturday.

Tommy Bonner stayed out the fourth quarter with a minor arm injury.

Bright spots for the Tiger defense were Ryan Bayer's two fumble recoveries, Curt Bayer and Dangelmayr's interceptions, Wayne Becker's tackles and the prevention of three extra point attempts, kicked by all-stater Damian Krahl.

Sacred Heart gained only 61 yards on 25 carries, with Curt Bayer completing two passes for 33 yards and Scott Taylor's 21-yard TD completion.

The Tigers will host Dallas Lakehill Prep for their '87 Homecoming this Saturday night on Tiger Field. The Warriors have senior experience and size backing them. Quarterback Dray Sterling weighs in at 175, working behind 195-lb. center Mike McCluer. Also two 150-lb. wide receivers and a 6'3", 175-lb. tight end. Adding bulk up front are two 200-plus-lb. junior tacklers. The squad lacks speed, but has strength up the middle.

"We're back with a team classification the same as we are," said Coach Pasqua after being outclassed the past two weeks. "I feel like we'll be ready."

Donnie Knabe remains on the injured list, waiting on a head cut to fully heal.

Game time is at 7:30 p.m. Saturday night, with homecoming festivities at halftime.

VV football season suspended

District 9A favorite, the Valley View Eagles, has had its football season suspended by the University Scholastic League.

The ruling came after head coach Jim Kassen knowingly played an ineligible player, senior Dwayne Boggs.

Coach Kassen said he was "shocked and surprised" by the ruling, but that he wouldn't appeal.

"I think it all boils down to hard feelings from other schools. We have been successful in recent years making the playoffs and they saw this as a way of eliminating us. We did it in good faith and he certainly wasn't recruited."

The Eagles played the ineligible player because they felt like he would be granted a hardship by the UIL since the League knew the circumstances that surrounded the case.

Valley View will be permitted to play the rest of the games, but they won't count in the District 9A West Zone standings.

Muenster will meet Valley View on Oct. 23 at Valley View. The Hornets will receive a 1-0 win despite the outcome of the game.

No rookies in the football contest

The third week of The Enterprise football contest sees another new winner. Chip Beechwood of Decatur won the weekly top prize after picking 18 correct out of 24 games. Micky Haverkamp followed with 17 right, collecting second prize for the second time.

Two entrants picked 16, two 15 and five guessed 14 correct. All contestants believed A&M would defeat Texas Tech and only one knew Gainesville could defeat

Everman. Locally only three supported the Hornets, choosing them to win and three hoped Sacred Heart could pull off an upset over Valley View.

Brenda Fuhrmann came closest to the tie-breaker with a 7-30 score.

Winners picked up their cash prizes at Walterscheid Oil Company, last week's tie-breaking sponsor.

Moss Lake offers plenty of angling variety

GAINESVILLE - Moss Lake near Gainesville is only 1,125 acres in size, but it offers more fishing variety than many larger reservoirs.

Biologist John Moczygmba said the lake, located just north of Gainesville, has been stocked with walleyes, smallmouth bass and Florida-strain largemouth bass. These fish supplement populations of native largemouth bass, white bass, white crappie and channel catfish.

Moczygmba said reports from the lake indicate walleyes up to five or six pounds have been caught. Walleyes were stocked in 1977, 1978 and 1979. Smallmouth bass in the four-pound-plus range were caught last spring, resulting from stockings in 1985-87.

Bass fishing has been good, and the lake appears to have large numbers of 10-to-14-inch bass.

Moczygmba said large numbers of bass in this size range were caught and released during a recent bass tournament. The largest bass weighed five pounds, 10 ounces. Moss Lake has the standard bag and length limits, including a limit of five black bass (largemouth, smallmouth and spotted) in the aggregate. Largemouths must be 14 inches, but smallmouth and spotted bass over 10 inches long may be retained.

A net survey conducted in spring 1987 indicated there are plenty of channel catfish in Moss Lake. Moczygmba said more than 70 percent of the catfish collected were longer than 15 inches, and the heaviest weighed just under five and a half pounds.

To reach Moss Lake from Gainesville, take U.S. Highway 82 west to FM 1201 and go north nine miles. Facilities include two marinas, two boat ramps and a swimming beach.

Type II hunting permit sales reported brisk

About 9,000 persons have purchased Type II Wildlife Management Area hunting permits from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, officials said.

The Type II system, which went into effect Sept. 1, allows holders of $35 annual permits to use some 400,000 acres of land for hunting in season, fishing and other recreation.

"I'm pleased with the response so far," said Charles Allen, director of the department's Wildlife Division. "I think the Type II system addresses a real need for affordable hunting recreation in Texas."

Allen said there have been a few problems associated with starting the Type II concept, but most have been solved. "As with any new program, it's difficult to get the word out to everyone," he said, "but if the hunters will bear with us I think the Type II program will succeed in providing a lot of low-cost hunting opportunity."

The department entered into lease agreements with forest products companies and the State General Land Office to conduct public hunting on their lands. Revenue from sales of permits will be used to reimburse the department for expenses incurred by the program, and any funds remaining will be disbursed to the landowners based on visitation by permit holders.

Allen said the department may sell 23,000 permits, which is the maximum allowed under the formula of one hunter per 15 acres, if sales continue strong.

The permits are available at most department offices across the state. Purchasers will receive a booklet containing Type II rules and regulations as well as location maps of the areas. Also, holders of Type II permits are eligible to apply for special drawing hunts for mule deers, pronghorn antelope and desert bighorn sheep.

Oh Charlie, oh Charlie, You're the eldest of five, You were the beginning Of a very lively tribe.

And when a young tyke You loved the outside, Remember the corn patch In which you hid?

You worried your mother And frightened your pop, Even tho you had a grand time With your good ol' pal Spot.

In your shiny red coupe You'd terrorize the town, But when the cops would come Charlie could not be found.

You would change your direction With the bat of an eye, And the poor man after you Would give up with a sigh.

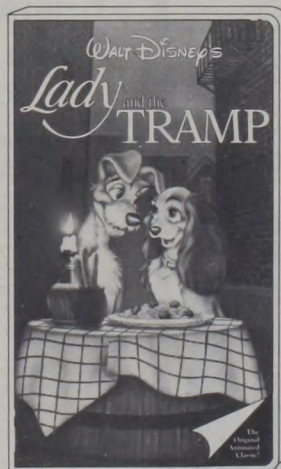

And we best not forget The noble advice you prepare, Like asking your sister on her wedding day If it was a "she she could wear?"

You've brought laughter and memories To this our hometown, And tho you've been gone 20 years We all smile when Charlie's around.

So as you now turn 40 And your hair starts to thin, We love you so dearly And we're proud you're our kin!

Muenster shut out by Van Alstyne 6-0

Van Alstyne's Curtis Corbray scored on a 2-yard run midway through the third quarter to stake the Panthers to a 6-0 victory over the Muenster Hornets. The Panther defense totally shut down the Hornet offense. Muenster gained 29 yards rushing and 18 yards passing. The Hornets ran just 33 plays from scrimmage compared to 69 plays for Van Alstyne. Muenster had plenty of chances. They picked off five turnovers but could only muster 3 first downs for the game. James Hennigan intercepted two passes while Bobby Don Thornhill, Brian Hess and J. Shane Wimmer recovered fumbles. Three Hornet turnovers, along with nine costly penalties, combined to thwart the Hornet scoring hopes.

The Panthers rushed for 162 yards and passed for 78 more. Their 240 yards of total offense was five times as much as the Hornets, yet the turnovers kept Muenster victory opportunity alive.

Muenster dropped its record to 1-4 for the year. Van Alstyne is now 2-3.

Friday night at 7:30 p.m. the Hornets will meet Prosper here at Hornet Stadium. It will mark the beginning of District 9A play. Valley View will play Collinsville and Era meets Lindsay.

Quail bag limit increased for '88

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission has authorized a daily bag limit of 16 quails per day for the Nov. 7-Feb. 28 quail hunting season in Texas.

Last season's limit was 12 per day. The department staff recommended the increased bag limit because August quail surveys indicated improved quail populations in most areas of the state. The possession limit is 48 quail.

Don Wilson, upland game program leader for the department, said weather conditions have been better than average for quail production during the past two years, allowing the birds to rebound from low populations caused by the freeze in the winter of 1983-84.

The 1987 median counts, completed during August, showed that quail populations are at record highs in South Texas and the Cross Timbers of West Texas.

The median count in South Texas was 39 birds per route, the highest on record and considerably better than last year's 29 median count.

In the Cross Timbers, the survey found 34 birds, also an all-time high. The previous record was 22 birds in 1983. Last year the median count was only 13 quail per route.

The Rolling Plains, which produces fairly consistent quail numbers from year to year, showed a count of 28.5, or about the same as last year. A median of 23 or over is considered good. To put this year's Rolling Plains median in perspective, it was about seven times better than the 1984 count of four birds per route.

Paradise upsets Lindsay 10-0

by Gene Hermes

Paradise defeated the Knights in a non-district game 10-0. The Panthers received all their points from senior Dale Holt.

Holt, with 50 seconds left in the first quarter, kicked a 35-yard field goal for a 3-0 lead. Late in the second period, he ran 3 yards to make the only TD of the game, then kicked the extra point to make the score 10-0. The TD drive covered 81 yards and was helped along by a 15-yard roughing the kicker penalty.

The second half remained scoreless. Lindsay had five hard penalties for 51 yards. Attempting 8 passes, only one was completed to Regi Klement for 6 yards. Three passes were intercepted and one fumble was lost by the Knights.

A bright side of the game were three quarterback sacks, two by Leo Sandmann and one by John Fangman. Tacklers for Lindsay were Brad Neu with 16 and John Fangman with 12. The Knights' defense held the Panthers to 57 yards rushing and 40 yards passing. The Knights had 123 yards rushing and 95 yards of that was by Mike Dieter on 16 carries.

This Friday Lindsay will play host to the Era Hornets, with the Homecoming pre-game and festivities starting at 7 p.m. Honored graduates will be the classes of 1954 and 1978. Game time is at 7:30 p.m. for the opening district bout. All fans are asked to wear black and white to show their support.

KNIGHTS' DEFENSE, Greg Zimmerer 64, Leo Sandmann 75 and Jeff Arendt 65, put a stop to this Paradise rusher.

County Agent's Report

New grass released by SCS and TPWD

The USDA Soil Conservation Service, in cooperation with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, has announced the release of 'Plateau' awnless bushsunflower.

Plateau is primarily intended for inclusion in warm-season grass mixtures for use on droughty sites. It is adapted throughout the Edward's Plateau, Rio Grande Plain, East and West Cross Timbers, and Grand Prairie major land resource areas with adaptation to the Trans Pecos MLRA limited to certain sites. It adds diversity to the plant community in revegetation projects and is a high quality forage/browse for sheep, goats and deer.

Foundation seed of Plateau is produced at the James E. "Bud" Smith Plant Materials Center, Knox City, Texas, under supervision of the Texas Department of Agriculture and is available for distribution to certified seed growers. Seed yields at Knox City have averaged 119 pounds per acre, with pure live seed ranging from 30-40 percent.

Quite a few acres of small grain have been planted in the county so far this year. With this planting, producers should be aware of several possible insect problems.

We have had reports of some army worms in the southern areas of North Texas. So far army worms have not been a problem in Cooke County, but we should still make periodic field checks. Army worm outbreaks are favored by cool, damp weather. These worms are the larvae stage of a dull colored moth that is most active at night. The worms are generally pale green in color but may range to brown or even black. Scout fields and look for the young, small green worms on the growth. If you have four to five worms per square foot and you see some seedling stand loss or foliage loss on older plants, then control measures are recommended.

We always get the question of how long worms will be active. Army worms take approximately two to three weeks to reach full growth before they burrow into the soil to pupate. Hopefully, the weather conditions will prevent any outbreak this fall.

If you are planting wheat or other small grains into stubble of grain sorghum, sudan, or some other warm season forage, you should check for chinch bug damage. Chinch bugs were a big problem this summer in grain sorghum fields. According to some of our entomologists, this has been the worst year for chinch bugs in the North Texas area. Last year's mild dry winter and a dry April when the young hatch caused a tremendous buildup in these summer pastures. There is a fungus that kills a lot of young in April. However, it was too dry this year and we saw large chinch bug buildups. As few as one to two chinch bugs can kill a young tender seedling of wheat. When temperatures are 60 degrees, chinch bugs slow down their feeding process. When temperatures go below 50 degrees, all feeding on susceptible plants should stop. Once we get a good cold snap or a freeze, then this insect problem will migrate out of the fields. One way to avoid chinch bug damage on stubble fields is to delay plantings until after the first freeze of the fall.

Reminder!

The deadline for public comments on the Second RCA Appraisal Report has been extended to Oct. 14, 1987.

Much of USDA's future national conservation program will be based on findings in the appraisal.

Copies of the draft report are available through local USDA agencies. Written comments on the report can also be given to local offices, or send them to Coy A. Garrett, State Conservationist, USDA Soil Conservation Service, 101 South Main Street, Temple, Texas 76501-7682.
