Autofest offers something for everyone

The second annual Autofest celebration is in the countdown stage in the Muenster Chamber of Commerce office, where numerous calls are being received from across Texas, to indicate attendance far ahead of last year.

Entire auto clubs are pre-registering by mail.

What's in store for those who come to Autofest? First of all, there is no charge! The event will be held on the streets surrounding Muenster Ball Park and open to everyone. The four streets will be closed to regular street traffic beginning at 7 a.m. At 7:30 registration for the Volksmarch will begin at the entrance to the ballpark grandstands. At 8:30 registration for autos entering the Autofest will begin at the intersection of Walnut and 2nd Streets. At 10 a.m., most events will get underway, lasting until 5 p.m. when trophies will be awarded to the various winners.

While organizers have placed an order for weather much the same as we have been having over the last month, they also have made contingent plans for the autoshow to be held on Nov. 7 in case of a full rainout. However, the Knights of Columbus and Volunteer Fire Department will have the Autofest Dance at the Sacred Heart Community Center regardless of the weather conditions.

There will be plenty to watch as the autos will participate in several games which are designed to demonstrate driver skills. One of which is titled "Dead Slow Race." Drivers will be asked to run a short course on a timed basis to see who can go the slowest (without stopping). Drivers are also tested on their ability to drive up to a post and stop, with the winner being judged as the one who comes closest, but does not touch the pole. Other games include Basketball Toss, Blind Driver Navigation, Tire Change, Tire Roll, Wrench Toss and more. All games are subject to available time and weather conditions.

Other items of interest going on at the Autofest site include an open craft sale and show. Anyone with arts and crafts is welcome to come and set up on the street in a designated area free of charge. In addition, a number of local businesses will have fun-booths at the Autofest site, giving away items to those who participate in their games. There will be free "Autofest" balloons for the kids, and numerous auto-related promotional items available from various merchants and the Chamber.

Local entrants are being sought for the show itself. The trophy classes and sponsors are: 1900's, Muenster Chamber of Commerce; 1910's, Endres Motor Company; 1920's, Endres Motor Company; 1930's, Rohmer's Restaurant; 1940's, Hennigan Auto Parts; 1950's, Gregg's Chevrolet; 1960's, Glenn's Paint & Body. The Muenster Wholesale Beer Distributors will sponsor a trophy each: Showmanship Award, Old Milwaukee; Best of Show, Budweiser; People's Choice, Miller Lite. Hoedebeck GMC will be hosting the trophy for the new area of judging, "Commercial Class," which will cover pickups and trucks.

From all indications, Oct. 24 will be a fun day for all age groups. It hopefully will give the young a look at what it was like to own an auto 50 or more years ago; bring back memories to those who did own one of those autos; and provide a great place for proud auto owners of the antiques and classics to show off their investment.

Muenster to fall victim to 'gangsters' in town Saturday

MUENSTER...Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker will roam the streets of Muenster Oct. 24 as Kevin Titus and the Depression Era Outlaws Living History Association recreate a 1930s robbery. The robbery will take place on Main Street in front of Modern Floors. Modern Floors has offered their building to be the "bank" for this one day.

Kevin Titus and the DEOA, Inc. has re-enacted the pages of history several times in the last few years. The first of their performances was in Lancaster, Texas, where they recreated a robbery that actually took place on Feb. 27, 1934. Clyde Barrow and Raymond Hamilton robbed the R.P. Henry Bank in Lancaster (now M. Ruth's Gift Store). The take from the robbery was $2,400. Fifty-three years later actors from a living history group, the DEOA recreated that infamous day in Lancaster history. Approximately 2,000 people were on hand to witness the event.

This nationally incorporated group, founded in 1984 by Kevin Titus, tours the states portraying famous and infamous characters of the 1930s. The cars, clothing and firearms are authentic, and the care of them is extensive. The organization consists of men and women whose interest lies with the 1930s era. The organization "does not glorify criminals of this period or any period." They perform historical re-enactments and they include peace officers in their show.

The DEOA will be involved in many future motion picture productions, including one to begin in New Orleans in early November. The group is scheduled to leave for New Orleans the week following Autofest.

To see this amazing recreation, be on Main Street at 2:30 p.m. Oct. 24. Members of DEOA will be at the Autofest during the day to visit with anyone interested. Kevin said, "We are all looking forward to a great show in Muenster."

Back to Central Time Sun.

This Sunday is the day to return to regular Central time. You will have to be an early riser to watch the sunrise because now it will happen one hour earlier.

We gain an hour Sunday morning, Oct. 25. Remember to set your clocks back one hour before bedtime!

Volksmarch set for Sat. at Autofest

The Autofest Volksmarch was organized with the Muenster walkers in mind. The first Volksmarch, held during Germanfest, was held at a time when most of Muenster walkers were busy with other activities or visiting family. The Muenster Kiwanis Club decided to have another AVA-sanctioned walk at the Autofest so that Muenster walkers could have a chance to participate.

What is a Volksmarch? It is a leisurely walk over a pre-determined course for fun and health. Those who participate in AVA-sanctioned events can get either a stamp in a booklet, or can enter for a higher award, a nice medal dated and designed for that event. The medal designed for the Autofest walk will be out of heavy cast pewter with inset printing. The design will be in the shape of an early steam fire engine used in cities in early years. This design was chosen because all the proceeds will be donated to the Muenster Volunteer Fire Department. Volksmarch medals are collector items. Those who regularly attend volksmarches wear vests, hats or shirts on which every medal they have ever earned is pinned.

Those who walk and choose the booklet stamp only are going for a higher award. After collecting a full booklet of event stamps, the walker can turn the booklet over the sanction group, the AVA, and receive a handsome award noting the miles walked. AVA-sanctioned events are held throughout the world, but have their origins in Germany. In fact, Ben Bindel, organizer of the local volksmarch group, the Muenster Wandervogel Volksmarch Club,

Letters to the Editor

Letter to the Editor,

My last four letters to the Editor to the Gainesville Register have ended in file 13.

To me, this election of Nov. 3rd is very important the 25 amendments are vital and too many people do not thoroughly understand about the vote to move the assessing and collecting to our elected county tax assessor/collector.

We will always have taxes, but we need a few checks and balances in the system.

E.F. (Kit) Carson

Letter to the Editor,

Gainesville Register

Thank you, Mr. Williams. Your article Friday, Oct. 16, 1987 about the Cooke County Taxpayers Assn. meeting Thursday evening at Cooke County College is the first time any view of the taxpayers has been published in the Register. Your coverage was fairly complete, but you failed to mention that the elected tax assessor-collector is bonded and the appraisal district is not.

As I understand the county taxing situation in Texas, there are 32 counties who have modified the appraisal district operation as it exists in Cooke County. Why not call or contact some of the modified systems and check on their cost of operation and general public satisfaction. Too, as I understand it, CCAD's new computer can handle 9 terminals with only one now in use. If we are to discuss this most important election for Cooke County, let's lay all the cards on the table.

Yes, I realize that all of the current tax receiving entities wants the current system left as is, but the majority of the personal taxpayers do not. This move is our only vote, and we have only two years in which to make it work. You know the law - the tax receiving entities name the appraisal board. The appraisal board only can contract for appraising, and the only way appraising can be changed is by contract.

Wayne Peveto built a politically immune county tax system. This election is our only vote - our only chance - to have any influence on current or future taxes in Cooke County. Please vote on Nov. 3, 1987!

City tax rebates are down for October

State Comptroller Bob Bullock sent checks last week totaling $55.3 million in local sales tax to 904 cities levying the one-percent city tax. According to Bullock, this year's payments are down by 5.5 percent overall compared to payments made by October last year.

Muenster received a check for $6,664.22 which is $919.00 more than the payment for the comparable period last year. However, the increase still does not catch us up with last year's total. 1987 payments total $83,707.78, 3.36 percent lower than last year's payments by this time. By comparison, Lindsay received $4,482.28 which is over $1,000.00 less than the same period last year. Receipts for the year are down 10.64 percent. Gainesville's check was up, $60,438.86 but the year's receipts are lagging 7.27 percent.

October checks represent taxes collected on sales made in August and reported to the Comptroller by Sept. 20.

"We're just flat swamped,"

Bullock said, noting there has been an 85 percent increase in telephone calls in the past four weeks.

Bullock said the agency's switchboard and Texas toll-free number (1-800-252-5555) would be open from 7:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. on weekdays.

He said taxpayers who have been getting busy signals during peak times in the middle of the day should be able to get tax information by calling earlier or later in the day.

"We've gotten more than 7,500 calls a day compared to our normal load of 3,800," Bullock said.

An increase in the state's sales tax rate to 6 percent took effect on Oct. 1, as well as the extension of the tax to many services.

Tax specialists are answering an average of 132 calls a day, Bullock said, which a 123 percent increase over the normal call load.

"Taxpayers are going to get a straight answer from us - it just might take a little bit longer than usual," Bullock said.

Constitutional amendments explained

Dear Editor,

We would appreciate it if you would place this notice in your newspaper under organizations and/or veterans news. It is possible that we can locate some of the former DESTROYER ESCORT SAILORS who served in WWII and the Korean War that are readers of your newspaper. Please consider using the ASSOCIATION'S logo to attract the reader to the notice.

Sincerely, Edward L. Lesniak National Recruiter

NOTICE: ATTENTION FORMER DESTROYER SAILORS

In the annals of naval history the destroyer escorts are acknowledged for winning "The Battle of the Atlantic." Though many of these ships were recommissioned during the Korean conflict and used in reserve service, they are non-existent today.

Over 10 years ago, a dedicated group of men formed the "Destroyer Escort Sailors Association" to honor those sailors who served on board the destroyer escorts. They believed that the destroyer escort sailor should not be lost to oblivion as most of their ships were. These ships were considered obsolete for our present day Navy and were sold for scrap iron or used as targets for torpedo/missile practice. Twelve of these ships were sold to foreign nations. The former USS HURST DE 250, now the MANUEL AZUETA A-06, used for cadet training in the Mexican Navy, made a port of call to Philadelphia for the 1986 DESA Convention.

If your interest is activated as a former destroyer escort sailor, we are having a reunion and convention for your shipmates in St. Louis Sept. 2-6, 1988. Anyone who served aboard these types of ships or knows of anyone who did, please contact: Edward L. Lesniak, 8311 Osceola, Niles, IL 60648, 312-967-7655.

There is a chance that you may locate a lost "ole buddy." DE Sailors and DESA are special for fellowship and communication, recognition and reunion.

Do you know where your shipmates are today? What they are doing? How some "ole buddies" are trying to locate you? DESA is here to renew that old camaraderie.

AUSTIN - This is the third installment of a six-part series of articles examining the 25 proposed amendments to the Texas Constitution and the two referendum propositions, all of which go before the voters on Nov. 3, 1987.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT No. 11 would provide an exemption from ad valorem taxation of certain property that is located in the state for only a temporary period of time.

Currently, tangible property, which merely passes through Texas and does not remain in the state for more than 175 days, is subject to ad valorem taxation. Examples of the type of property in question are: goods, wares, merchandise and ores (except oil, gas and petroleum products). The property in question is used for assembling, storing, manufacturing, processing or fabricating.

This proposed amendment would extend an ad valorem tax exemption to this type of property.

FOR ARGUMENTS:

It has been proven by the experience of other states that exempting commercial property that is only temporarily in the state is highly beneficial to the conduct of free enterprise. Without this exemption, Texas would be at a tremendous competitive disadvantage.

The exemption would encourage economic development by providing incentives for manufacturing and other business activities which temporarily bring into the state goods or materials for commercial purposes. In the long run, taxing jurisdictions would be better off because more revenue would be raised from the transaction of commerce than would be brought in through the levy of the tax.

Like Proposed Constitutional Amendment No. 10, this proposed amendment also would allow a local taxing jurisdiction to override the exemption and tax the property any way.

AGAINST ARGUMENTS:

Exemptions from any tax merely shifts the burden from one group of people to another. Besides, the proposed amendment is unfair to those businesses which do not ship their products outside the state and is also unfair to those businesses that use materials from or made in Texas in their manufacturing processes. Such businesses would have to continue to pay taxes on their inventories of materials and goods while the exempted businesses would escape the burden of paying for the benefits and services of local and State governments that both types of business inevitably use.

The provision in the proposed amendment which allows a local taxing jurisdiction to override the exemption is in and of itself unfair as it could result in fluctuating, non-uniform treatment of businesses from one jurisdiction to another.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT No. 12 would allow spouses to agree in writing that all or part of their community property passes, upon the death of one spouse, to the surviving spouse. A change in the Constitution is necessary because Article XVI, Section 15 thereof makes such agreements involving community property unlawful.

Because of this, spouses must currently resort to a complex conversion of the community property into separate property and must then establish a "joint tenancy" with right of survivorship by signing separate joint tenancy agreements covering their separate ownership interests in the property.

However, the execution of a simple signature agreement - provided by many financial institutions - that creates joint tenancy with right of survivorship is not effective in relation to community property. On the death of a spouse, the community property does not automatically become the property of the surviving spouse. Instead, it passes by will or by statutory rules of intestacy in the absence of a will. And finally, if the community property is not first converted into separate property, it may not pass upon the death of one spouse as the two spouses originally agreed.

FOR ARGUMENTS:

This proposed constitutional amendment would eliminate a legal trap that many married couples unintentionally fall into by establishing a joint tenancy arrangement with a financial institution in the mistaken belief that they have, in the process, created an effective joint tenancy with right of survivorship in relation to their community property.

The proposal merely simplifies what spouses can already legally do right now. It also helps financial institutions by offering them the flexibility they need to provide, in a direct and simple manner, valid joint accounts with right of ownership as to community property.

AGAINST ARGUMENTS:

This proposed amendment would fundamentally alter the long-standing protections of community property laws in Texas. Such a departure from the established principles of community property law would lead to much chipping away of the community property system, which exists to protect the interests of both spouses in property acquired during the course of their marriage. Unless spouses agree otherwise, property acquired during marriage is considered community property and is subject to the joint control, management and disposition by both spouses. Current law allows spouses to separate their property by agreement and no amendment is necessary to the Constitution.

Moreover, the proposed amendment, by making it easier for couples to create a joint tenancy with right of survivorship in relation to their community property, sets up a pitfall for the unwary spouse in estate planning and drafting a will. A spouse may attempt to devise an interest in community property in a manner that is not consistent with a joint tenancy with right of survivorship to the community property. Expensive litigation may be necessary to resolve this type of conflict. All in all, the proposed amendment would result in domestic unrest.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT No. 13 would authorize the creation of "emergency medical services" districts with concomitant power to levy an ad valorem tax on property situated in the district not to exceed 10 cents per $100 valuation. An "emergency medical services" district would provide those medical services which existing rural fire prevention districts are unable to offer.

FOR ARGUMENTS:

This proposed amendment would allow all rural areas of the state to establish special districts which would provide the full range of emergency medical services that rural fire prevention districts cannot do. By their very nature, rural communities are too remote from cities which provide fire control and emergency medical services. Since the existing rural fire prevention districts take care of one side of the coin, the proposed "emergency medical services" district would take care of the other - currently unfulfilled side.

This proposed amendment is strictly optional. If the voters of a certain area do not wish to establish an "emergency medical services" district - or to participate in one already set up - they do not have to.

AGAINST ARGUMENTS:

The authority of existing rural fire prevention districts could easily be expanded to provide the sought-after medical services and that is the better way to pursue this. There is no need to set up more bureaucracy.

This proposed amendment and Proposed Constitutional Amendment No. 2 - if both adopted - would, in concert, create a whopping tax increase in the affected areas. At a time when taxes in general are already skyrocketing, voters should reject this proposed amendment.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT No. 14 would allow the Legislature to provide by general law for the appeal by the State in certain criminal cases. Currently, Article V, Section 26 of the Texas Constitution prohibits the State from appealing any issue in a criminal case in which the State is, by the very nature of criminal cases, a litigant. This prohibition has existed since 1876. No doubt the provision exists because the State is a mighty goliath with limitless resources while the defendant - generally - is a small "David" with finite resources to do battle.

Texas is the only state in the Union that completely prohibits appeals by the State in criminal cases. And that prohibition, although not intended to, often results in a ruling biased in favor of the defendant due to dismissal of indictment, or granting of a new trial, or the suppression of evidence - or of a confession - through routine procedural moves.

FOR ARGUMENTS:

When an error occurs at trial, the defendant in a criminal case can now appeal to seek review and correction of the error. But when the prosecution in a criminal case discovers that an error has been made, it has no recourse on appeal to seek review and correction of the error. Consequently, on a technicality and there is nothing the State can do about it.

Court rulings are very important things and should not be taken lightly. When a part of the Judicial Branch fundamentally misconstrues a law enacted by the Legislative Branch, that misinterpretation reshapes the law itself. If a court rules erroneously, the State should be able to appeal such a bad-precedent-setting case to a higher court so as to ensure down the line that the error is corrected and that there will be proper judicial construction of the law henceforth.

Moreover, due to the broad discretion that trial judges have, the State's inability to appeal may result in wild fluctuations in the treatment of similar cases by different judges. Again, such circumstances can cast much confusion on the status and meaning of a particular law.

AGAINST ARGUMENTS:

In this nation and in this state, we have a long-standing guarantee that a person shall not be subjected to double jeopardy. This proposed amendment seeks to circumvent that civil libertarian protection. Because the State has virtually infinite resources and because the average defendant has only limited resources, the State could abuse its appeal right by using it as a tool for harassment. This is especially likely in a highly-politicized case.

To remove the existing prohibition would result in longer, protracted trials clogging already over-crowded court dockets and causing great hardship on defendants who - after all - must be presumed innocent until proven guilty. This is often a ruse used by overzealous politically-ambitious prosecutors to grab headlines.

Allowing the State to appeal would allow for "interlocutory" appeals (those of orders and rulings that occur during the course of a trial) if the State would have this benefit, then so too should the defendant. This proposal is wide open. The types of decisions that could be appealed should at least be limited to those that would terminate the case. Alternatively, the prosecutor should be required to dismiss the case if the appeal is denied. These necessary restrictions would allow the prosecution to appeal when necessary to avoid the double jeopardy problems blocking appeals after a defendant's acquittal, yet would limit that privilege only to instances when such appeals are unavoidable. These restrictions should most appropriately be included in the proposed constitutional amendment itself rather than merely in the concomitant implementing legislation which can easily be changed without voter approval.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT No. 15 would abolish the office of County Treasurer in Fayette, Gregg and Nueces counties.

Currently, all but six of the 254 counties in Texas are required to have a County Treasurer who is elected by the voters and who is responsible for the receipt, deposit and disbursement of county funds within guidelines specified by the Commissioners Court. A County Treasurer must also keep accurate accounts of all county receipts and expenditures and make financial reports to the Commissioners Court.

By statute, each county in Texas that has a population of 10,000 or more is required to have a County Auditor who is appointed by the district judge(s), rather than elected by the voters. The County Auditor oversees all books and records of offices that collect county money.

As of the 1980 census, Fayette, Gregg and Nueces counties all had a population exceeding 10,000.

FOR ARGUMENTS:

In many counties, the elective office of County Treasurer is no longer needed and is an expensive link to the romantic past. The County Treasurer merely serves as a transfer agent - receiving money, depositing funds and issuing checks on warrants. These duties are easily performed by a County Auditor who, in many counties, already performs treasurer

Texas to see modest economic growth in '88

State Comptroller Bob Bullock issued a state revenue estimate last Thursday that reconfirms previous reports from his office that the Texas economy will show modest growth in 1988-89.

The report, provided in accordance with a provision in this year's appropriations bill, also shows that the state could have a 1989 ending balance of nearly $200 million in the General Revenue Fund.

According to the estimate, most of the gain in the ending balance is the result of $133 million in vetoes by the Governor.

The estimate also notes that the state closed its books for the 1987 fiscal year $745 million in the red, which is about $267 million smaller than anticipated last July.

The estimate pointed out that the $267 was an "artificial improvement" in what was projected to be a billion-dollar deficit because spending was simply postponed until the 1988 fiscal year.

Bullock's estimate showed that he now forecasts the price of a taxable barrel of oil at $17.40 for 1988 and $18.00 for 1989, up about $1.00 a barrel each year.

Bullock attributed the oil price increase to "continued stability" in world oil markets, but cautioned that declining Texas oil production would actually result in 22 percent less tax income from oil.

Improving conditions in the oil business are being offset by a worse than expected slump in real estate and construction, Bullock said.

Assurance.

Those are two things you should demand before you trust your hard-earned dollars to any financial institution: the insurance our federal government provides through the FSLIC and the assurance of knowing your money is invested in a safe, strong company. With First Texas Savings, you have both.

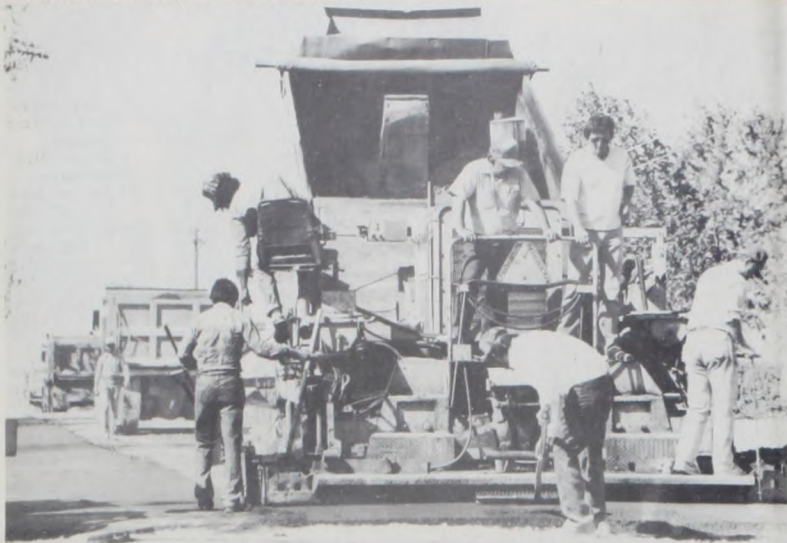

Your deposits at First Texas are protected up to $100,000 per account title by the FSLIC. And no one has ever lost a cent in an FSLIC insured account, nor will they. That's because, according to Congress, the FSLIC is backed "by the full faith and credit of the United States government."

What's more, you have the assurance of knowing that First Texas is part of the state's largest savings and loan holding company, with assets totalling over $9 billion. We trace our roots back to 1890. And since that time, we've managed through good times and bad. Through booms as well as the Great Depression. For nearly 100 years we've been here - and we will continue to be here, protecting our customers' money, and helping them build for their future.

So double-check before you place your money in any financial institution. Check for insurance. Check for assurance. Or simply call First Texas Savings.

duties. This is duplicative and wasteful.

In the absence of a County Treasurer, independent auditing of the handling of county funds would reveal any fraud or misapplication of taxpayer dollars and would maintain the element of checks-and-balances vital to good government.

The case-by-case approach taken by this proposed amendment - like previous ones approved by Texas voters - is a wise and prudent one. It allows individual counties with specific population, resource and economic factors to decide for their optimum benefit whether the office of County Treasurer should be abolished or retained. The Legislature is always happy to accommodate.

AGAINST ARGUMENTS:

The office of County Treasurer is a very important one and should not be abolished in any county in the state. The County Treasurer is elected by the voters and is, therefore, directly accountable to the people. The Treasurer safeguards the public trust and is a valuable check-and-balance on the power of the Commissioners Court.

On the other hand, an appointed County Auditor whose bread and butter depends upon the whim of the Commissioners Court could not objectively analyze county finances and would require the added expense of periodic outside audits to assure an ethical, reliable accounting of county funds.

To abolish the office of County Treasurer is the very height of hypocrisy. If duplication and overlapping truly exist, then the position of County Auditor should be abolished rather than that of County Treasurer. To abolish the position of Auditor would be easier and less expensive, too, because it could be accomplished on a case-by-case basis (as it is done now) through statutory change rather than by costly statewide constitutional amendments every year or so. The trend toward abolishing the office of County Treasurer is a dangerous power grab by commissioners courts so as to get a stranglehold on the county's financial affairs unchecked by the watchful eye of the Treasurer.

Even if abolition of the office of County Treasurer were a good idea - which it is not, but if it were - then the piecemeal approach embodied in this proposed amendment is inefficient. Voters should reject this proposal and urge the Legislature to submit another measure for voters' consideration which would provide a uniform means by which counties may determine for themselves whether a County Treasurer, Auditor, or someone else, should handle the county's bookkeeping without the necessity of perennial amendments to the Texas Constitution.

J.H. Bayers celebrate fiftieth

MR. and MRS. J.H. BAYER
...on their wedding day,
Oct. 19, 1937...

Surrounded by family, friends and relatives, Mr. and Mrs. J.H. Bayer celebrated reaching a milestone few couples achieve, that of observing the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding day, on Saturday, Oct. 17.

The golden observance began with a Mass of Thanksgiving at 5 p.m. in Sacred Heart Church with Father Victor Gillespie as celebrant.

Leading the entrance procession into church were the couple's five sons and daughters-in-law, Danny and Mary Alice Bayer and daughters; Leonard and Patti Bayer and family; Charles and Carolyn Bayer and family; Claude and Mary Bayer and family; and Clinton and Barbara Bayer and sons.

They were followed by the original wedding attendants, the bride's sister, Olivia (Walterscheid) Wimmer, and the groom's brother, George Bayer. The honor couple, John and Adelaide Bayer followed with Father Victor. Mass servers, grandsons Kelly Bob Bayer, Weldon Bayer and Heath Bayer, approached the altar with their parents in the entrance procession.

Emily Klement narrated the entrance procession.

The anniversary liturgy included Readings by John and Cheryl Pollard; and Prayers of the Faithful and Offertory Petitions by Father Victor and Vickie Bayer and Amy Bayer.

Vickie and Amy narrated the Offertory procession in which items relating to the couple's fifty years together were presented at the altar by grandchildren.

Johnathan Bayer carried a tractor representing their years of farming. Allison Bayer carried a piece of needlepoint, Adelaide's favorite hobby and pastime. Lucas Bayer carried five silk roses representing John and Adelaide's five sons.

Dan and Mary Alice Bayer and Clinton and Barbara Bayer presented the Offertory gifts of bread and wine.

Rita Bayer presented organ accompaniment. Denise Bayer played the guitar and Melissa Bayer added the tambourine for soloists, Emily Klement and Charles Bayer. Selections included "One Day At A Time" before Mass; "We Gather Together" for the entrance hymn; "All That I Am" at Offertory; "I Am The Bread of Life"; and "How Great Thou Art" at Communion; "Edelweiss" for the Communion Meditation; and "Holy God, We Praise Thy Name" for the recessional.

Assisting as Eucharistic ministers were Claude and Mary Bayer; Leonard and Patti Bayer and Carolyn Bayer; sons and daughters-in-law; and nephews Art Bayer and Alvin Hartman.

Ushers were grandsons: Curt Bayer, Craig Bayer, Jared Bayer and Deano Bayer.

The church altar was decorated with lighted candles, and large fan-shaped arrangements of white gladioli tied with American Beauty satin bows. Center aisle pews were marked with 14 large Beauty satin bows with gold accents.

Mrs. John Bayer attended her golden wedding celebration wearing a street-length rose dress with dyed-to-match shoes, and a white orchid corsage. Her gold bracelet was a gift from her children. The children's gift to their father was a new gold watch.

Her attendant, Mrs. J.H. Wimmer (Olivia)'s dress was similar in color to the one she wore at the original wedding.

On her wedding day, Tuesday, Oct. 19, 1937, Adelaide Walterscheid, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joe Walterscheid, was attired in a formal, floor-length bridal gown of white Skinner satin made in princess style. Her long net veil was held in place with a delicate silver tiara. She wore silver sandals. Her arm bouquet was made of fresh white, carnations and fern.

The groom was the son of Apollonia and John Bayer, Sr. Their Nuptial High Mass was officiated on a Tuesday morning at 8 a.m. by Father Frowin Koerdt O.S.B. as was the custom in Sacred Heart Parish, followed by an all-day wedding celebration.

A wedding breakfast was held in the home of the bride's parents where a wedding dinner also was served at noon for a large group of relatives, family members and aunts and uncles.

A white wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom was the table centerpiece.

During the afternoon an old-time family get-together was enjoyed.

For young relatives and friends of Johnny and his bride, another celebration took place Tuesday night at the parish hall to which the community was invited.

Mr. and Mrs. J.H. Bayer, Jr. are lifelong residents of Muenster and members of Sacred Heart Church and are active in community, farming and parish affairs. Their family includes five sons and daughters-in-law and 16 grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. J.H. Bayer continue to reside on the family farm north of Muenster. Their operations are known as

J.H. Bayer and Sons, Inc. Several of the service organizations on which he has served are Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District Board of Directors; Muenster Hospital Board; Sacred Heart Church Finance Committee; the Muenster Industrial Board; and several others.

RECEPTION

Following the Mass of Thanksgiving on Saturday, Oct. 17, 1987, celebrating their 50 years together, the goldenweds hosted a reception, dinner and dance in Sacred Heart Community Center for more than 250 guests.

Securing guest signatures were granddaughters Amy Bayer and Charla Bayer, at a table covered with white lace, holding the golden wedding invitation on an open "Bible" with a corsage of fresh flowers.

Preceding dinner, guests enjoyed viewing a table display of family pictures of several generations, news stories, and memorabilia; visiting and helping themselves at a cheese table.

A catered buffet meal was served by Rohmer's Restaurant. Guest tables were set in fan-shape in front of the main table, which was decorated with roses, carnations and tiger lilies of white, gold and beauty. The front of the table was edged with swags of white net, scalloped and caught up with clusters of tiny corsages in the same hues. Gold candelabras held crystal votive candles.

A table for the small grandchildren was directly in front of their grandparents' table.

Guest tables were covered with white cloths, centered by gold bands with narrow beauty satin ribbon. Hurricane globes with lighted candles were encircled with fern wreaths and baby rosebuds of beauty color. Gold bows marked the ends of all tables.

A gift table, covered with a lace cloth, held gift plants and flowers sent to the couple. Decorations were designed by and under the guidance of Aileen Knabe, assisted by daughters-in-law.

The anniversary cake was an outstanding work of culinary art, baked by Charles Bayer and decorated by Carolyn Bayer.

It was made of three tiers standing over a lighted American Beauty fountain. The lowest, largest layer held figurines of five sons. From each of the statuettes, a white stairway led to each of five individual, heart-shaped cakes, where grandchildren were represented by little figurines.

Fresh American Beauty carnations decorated the heart cakes.

The middle and top tiers were separated by pillars and fresh flowers and greenery. The top keepsake layer held a goldenwed couple, and a gold cross nestled in a cluster of fresh flowers. The layer will be preserved with a new arrangement of matching silk flowers.

The cake was encircled by ivy and American Beauty carnations and was placed on an oval table covered with a white lace cloth, with gold candelabra holding lighted crystal votive candles.

Cake servers were granddaughters Amy, Vickie, Denise and Melissa Bayer.

Following dinner, a "History of 50 Years," written and read by Charles Bayer, delighted hosts and guests alike.

At the conclusion of the family history, Charles Bayer honored his parents with a champagne toast, joined by the entire assemblage.

Then Denise and Melissa Bayer sang a song, dedicated by all the grandchildren, to their grandparents, "You, Again," in harmony, and with their own guitar accompaniment.

Doug Martin's group played for dancing. For the first dance, Emily Klement sang "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" as honorees and their families waltzed to the music.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cain and Dorothy Johnson, all of Sherman;

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bayer, Miss Nelda Bayer and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Heisler, all of Dallas; Patsy Otto of Tulsa, Okla.; Norma and Larry Scott of Ardmore, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hartman of Denton; Mr. and Mrs. Pete Cook and Mr. and Mrs. Jess Shields, all of Saint Jo; Alice and John Schroeder, Frank and Romania of Arcadia, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Willard Hartman of Killeen; Mrs. Wade Meadow and son of Canyon; Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Klement of Mission; Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Bayer of Grapevine; Mr. and Mrs. Dub Roland of Whitesboro; Grandchildren John and Cheryl Pollard and Charla Bayer, all of Lubbock; Craig and Rita Bayer of Lewisville; Also many from Gainesville, Lindsay and Muenster.

JOHN C. SCHMIDLKOFER and Catherine Angerer, married on Oct. 17, 1922, are shown with their attendants, Catherine Schmidkofer and John Angerer.

Schmidlkofers observe 65th

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Schmidkofer of Lindsay celebrated their 65th wedding anniversary on Sunday, Oct. 18, with their children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren, and other relatives and friends attending a Mass of Thanksgiving in St. Mary's Church in Gainesville at 11:30 a.m., with Father Nicholas Fuhrmann officiating.

Fifteen years ago, they observed their golden wedding anniversary with an anniversary Mass in St. Peter's Church in Lindsay, a family dinner at noon and Open House in the cafeteria all afternoon.

Father Damian Wewers celebrated the golden jubilee Mass and the Schmidlkofers presented the Offertory gifts at the altar.

The golden anniversary cake was made by their daughter Marie, Mrs. Joe Paul Fuhrmann. It was a handsome confection, topped with an ornamental gold numeral "50" and further adorned with roses for the children and rosebuds for the grandchildren. The cake was served with gold punch during the afternoon reception.

John C. Schmidkofer and the former Catherine Angerer were married in Sacred Heart Church in Muenster on Oct. 17, 1922. She is a native of Muenster and daughter of the late George and Mary Angerer. He was born in Indian Territory, Oklahoma to the late August and Mary Schmidkofer. They are parents of seven children (one is deceased). There are 37 grandchildren and 27 great-grandchildren.

Attendants at their wedding were his sister, Catherine Schmidkofer, and her brother, John Angerer. Both are now deceased.

Their children and spouses are George and Louise (Mages) Schmidkofer; Marie and Joe Paul Fuhrmann; Joe and Viola (Flusche) Schmidkofer; Herbert and Rachel (Voth) Schmidkofer; Leroy and Rosina (Hess) Schmidkofer; and Rosalee and Jerry Reiter.

John and Catherine Schmidkofer began their married life on a farm in the Wolf Ridge area in a new home they built. After six years they moved to the Van Slyke area and farmed there until Camp Howze took over their property. Since 1953, they live in their present home north of Lindsay. With each move, they built a new home. He is a retired farmer and they are members of St. Peter's Parish.

A family celebration to observe the 65th anniversary followed after Mass, when the honor couple and approximately 130 guests enjoyed a fish fry and family reunion at the home of bachelor grandsons, Paul and Eddie Fuhrmann.

Children and grandchildren were hosts and brought covered dishes of vegetables, salads and desserts.

While the men fried fish outside, the women prepared the feast inside after rain drove the meal from tables on the lawn, into the house.

There was a display of pictures, assembled by the Schmidlkofers during their 65 years. The day included observance of Catherine's 84th birthday of Oct. 19.

Special guests from out of town for the celebration were her sisters, Marie Heinrich and Clara Miller, and the latter's daughter, Mary Reynolds, all of Slaton.

Several of the boys were recognized recently for scholastic and citizenship achievements at the Prairie Valley Branch School located on the Harlow Children's Ranch Campus: Jason was awarded "Student of the Week" for the first week of school; Bobby was honored for weeks two and three; Bobby and Joe tied for the fourth week. "Student of the Month" was awarded to Bobby. Great month, Bob!

The installation this week of a central heating unit in the school was welcomed as mornings have been chilly! A dealer in Princeton, Texas (located east of McKinney) donated the complete heating unit for the school and also gave the Home a compressor for its central heat pump.

Jack Barry, a friend of the Home from the Dallas area, came up for the weekend to take some of the boys along for a day of golf at Nocona Hills Country Club. The boys who didn't go along for the golfing attended the Nocona Centennial Parade and Carnival. Harlow's welcomes back John Attaway, a previous staff member. John will be serving as Program Director and Assistant Administrator. Licensed by the State of Texas as an administrator for residential treatment centers, John is also an experienced professional counselor and a local pastor.

 The eight boys living at Harlow's have enjoyed fishing from the pontoon boat which was donated to the boys. Unfortunately, mechanical problems have hindered the boat's operation. The boys are in need of a working outboard motor at this time. Anyone wishing to provide the Home with a new or used, medium horsepower motor may do so by contacting 825-6290.

Medical screening tests announced by MPS

Dr. Les Schachar's staff of Gainesville and Kay Wimmer, Muenster Independent School District's school nurse, will be using the tumbling E to conduct vision screening for students in grades K-8 on Oct. 23, 1987.

Scoliosis screening by Dr. M.P. Knight will be provided during the first week in November for grades 5-9 to identify those students who have a possible curvature of the spine and to refer them for medical evaluation where indicated.

A date for screening students for hearing difficulty is not scheduled at this time, however, it will be scheduled during the first semester of the school year. Parents will be notified by letter or telephone if their child needs additional examination and possible treatment for any of the three areas - eyes, ears and the scoliosis test.

Now, Breast Cancer Has Virtually Nowhere To Hide.

The best weapon against breast cancer is early detection.

And that's why a mammogram is so important.

A mammogram is a low-dose x-ray that helps your doctor "see" breast cancer before there's a lump, when the cure rates are near 95%.

It could save your life and your breast. However, a mammogram is only part of the fight against breast cancer.

You should regularly examine your breasts, and have them examined by your doctor as well.

Although not perfect, mammography is still the most effective weapon in the early detection of breast cancer. See guidelines, and consult your physician. It's essential you have a mammogram - even if no symptoms are present.

Kay Bynum, Radiologic Technologist, will be happy to answer your questions and will personally conduct the mammogram.

Because all breast cancer needs is a place to hide.

To fight breast cancer, the American Cancer Society offers the following mammography guidelines:

WOMEN 35 to 39:
See your doctor for a baseline mammogram.

WOMEN 40 to 49:
Have a mammogram every 1 to 2 years, even if no symptoms are present.

WOMEN 50 and Over:
See your doctor for a mammogram every year.

In addition, a professional breast examination is recommended every three years for women 20 to 40, and every year for those over 40.

Mammograms are offered on a self-referral basis, no doctor's order necessary. Results will be sent to the physician of your choice.

Have a Mammogram. Give Yourself The Chance Of A Lifetime.

That same evening, having pizza out was a special treat. Accompanying him were his parents, Monte and Sherri Haverkamp, his brother Nathan and little sister Kelsey; and grandparents Tom and Virgilla Herr of Muenster and Chalkie and Polly Haverkamp of Whitesboro; also Derek's godfather Brian Herr of Denton. Hood sets annual feast Nov. 7

It's time

...to think about Halloween safety!

It must be generally conceded that dangers and risks exist at Halloween time. At the same time, children's anticipation of a special, fun time is always present.

The best solution hopefully would be to teach safety and common sense in spite of the excitement of the moment, and to provide costumes and masks that do not add to the danger. Also to provide entertainment that is thoroughly enjoyable.

A special and safe attraction for Halloween youngsters this year will be held on Oct. 31, sponsored by the FHA of Muenster Public School, who will offer a Spook House from 6 to 8 p.m. The location will be at 1041 North Maple, in the garage at the home of Joni Sturm, FHA advisor.

The fun time will be appropriate for children of all ages. Treats will be served after the children proceed through the Spook House. A fee of 50 cents per child will be charged to cover expenses.

Lindsay Lay Franciscans celebrate patron feast

The Secular Franciscan Fraternity of Lindsay celebrated the feast of St. Francis of Assisi, by attending Mass in St. Peter's Church on Saturday, Oct. 3, and participating in a special liturgy prepared by the members of the Sacred Heart Province in Chicago.

Members gathered in the front pews and opened the service with the Peace Prayer, recited in unison, and led by Mrs. Tony Hermes.

Veronica Klement read the story of St. Francis of Assisi, telling of his final days on earth and his death in 1226, and of his return to God.

Response to the Reading was sung by the members, accompanied by Martha Fuhrmann on her guitar, to the melody of "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow." She also accompanied on the guitar for other songs.

Petitions were read by Mrs. Hermes, followed by singing of the "Our Father." Dismissal prayers were from the special October Prayer Service Sheet.

The meeting closed with the hymn "Francis, Friend Of All Things Living."

The next meeting will be on Nov. 10 in the parish hall.

GETTING IN THE SPIRIT of Halloween, Mary Ahren's fourth grade class made a football game out of skeletons. They called their team the "Horror High Skeletons." The boys in the class each had a position on the team, with the girls as cheerleaders, complete with pompoms. The skeletons were cheered by a large crowd of pumpkins and ghosts. Pictured are, l to r, sitting - Leasha Perryman, Mindy Hennigan, Wendy Pels, Misty Klement, and Marti Riggs; kneeling - Cody Sicking, Carrie Hess, Julia Fleitman, Greg Russell, Jason Sicking and Jeremy Hellinger. Jeff Felderhoff and Darrell Russell are standing. The class would like to report that they won the game and would like to wish everyone a Happy and Safe Halloween.

Tips for a safe Halloween

Halloween evokes images of goblins, witches, and other cleverly-disguised children who go trick-or-treating each year. But it also can bring images of danger if parents, motorists and homeowners do not take certain safety precautions, according to the Texas Medical Association.

Costumes, especially dark-colored ones, are difficult for motorists to see at night. Parents should include reflective tape or reflective liquid "paint" (available in hardware stores) on costumes and bags to improve a child's visibility.

Make certain the costume is not so long that a child can trip on it, or so loose that it may catch on bushes and other obstacles.

Cloth masks and entire head masks can block a child's vision or breathing. Instead, consider painting a mask on the child's face with cosmetics or grease paint.

Parents should review safety rules with their children, including walking on sidewalks or staying to the side of the road, and not eating any candy or fruit they receive until it has been checked at home.

Motorists must be especially attentive on Halloween. Slow down and drive with extra caution through residential areas.

Homeowners can help out by having outside lights on as a sign of welcome and so trick-or-treaters do not trip over stairs or other obstacles.

The Texas Medical Association suggests follow these easy guidelines and help make Halloween fun and safe.

Den 4 Cub Scouts study fire safety

Cub Scouts of Den 4 opened their Oct. 5 meeting with the Cub Scout Promise led by Jamie Hellman, the den's newest Bobcat. Jamie then lit the Good Conduct Candle and was presented his Bobcat badge in a special ceremony. Jamie had completed all of his requirements in May but was unable to attend the Pack meeting to receive his badge. Jamie has also completed the requirements for his Wolf badge during the summer vacation and will receive it during the Pack meeting in October.

October is Fire Safety Month and the Cubs reviewed some of the safety tips to do if caught in a fire. They explained what to do if their clothes caught on fire, how to have a special meeting place outside for the family in the case of a fire in the home. The boys were encouraged to sit with their family and make an escape plan for their homes if they do not have one and to have a fire drill with their family to see if it will work and make sure everyone knows what to do safely. The boys then learned three magic tricks. They learned how to make a five-pointed star two different ways and they saw how to make water rise in a glass using water, cardboard, piece of newspaper, a match and a glass. They also learned about the battle between air, fire and water in this trick.

Elections for denner and assistant denner for the month of October were held. Jamie Hellman won the position of denner and Royce Knabe was elected as assistant denner. Red progress beads were then given out. Mark Walterscheid received two, Michael Flusche received one, and Royce Knabe also received two.

The boys went outside and enjoyed playing pass the lifesaver game, using only a lifesaver and straw. Afterwards, refreshments of bananas, cookies and Kool-Aid was served by Royce Knabe. Next meeting will be on Oct. 12 when they will hopefully be able to visit the fire department.

News from... MPS kindergarten

Rosemary Dankesreiter's Kindergarteners are busy hunting through magazines for pictures of things beginning with M, S, N, P and T. These pictures are cut and glued on individual sheets. Mrs. Dankesreiter is compiling them into "dictionaries" that the children will use when writing in their journals.

The children are enjoying learning a repertoire of songs and Finger Plays. Boys and girls were thrilled to make Black Cat, Happy Pumpkin and Spooky Ghost sack puppets. They then practiced oral language skills with the puppets.

The afternoon kindergarten class was visited by Muenster Volunteer Firemen Herbie Knabe and Jim Gehrig. The men showed the class the heavy coats and boots worn by the firefighters. A discussion about fire safety rules was held. Boys and girls brought their Fire Prevention posters to school. They were displayed in the classroom.

Mrs. Dankesreiter showed the class a "body-parts" mannequin. The children had learned names of major organs from a previous lesson. They were able to see the location and comparable size of the heart, lung, liver, stomach, large and small intestines. Next week they will study about major muscles in the body.

IA Science experiment was held to show the children that air takes up space, and has substance. Children felt air pressure and saw how compressed air works.

The McGruff lesson was on "At Home Alone." The children discussed what an emergency is, and what to do if an emergency occurs. The children are being encouraged to learn their addresses and telephone numbers.

14-6 win sets up showdown with Liberty..

Tigers stay unbeaten in district play

Key running from Wayne Becker and a heads-up defensive effort kept the SH Tigers undefeated in district play as they nosed out Tyler Street 14-6 Saturday night.

The win, over a team that improved drastically over last year, sets up another epic battle as the 3-0 Tigers host top district rival Liberty in the Division 2, District 2 Friday night game.

Sacred Heart was unable to move the ball on their first possession. The Tigers got some offense going on their second drive after taking over at their own 34-yard line. Wayne Becker and Scott Taylor ground out 66 yards, 56 on 9 carries for Becker. Deano Bayer's kick followed Becker's 4-yard run to put the Tigers ahead 7-0 with 2:02 left in the first quarter.

A 4-yard touchdown run by Becker capped a 66-yard drive for Sacred Heart in the second quarter and Bayer's kick gave the Tigers a 14-0 lead at half.

The third quarter saw both teams exchanging the ball, with a defensive battle preventing the offense from scoring.

Sacred Heart controlled the ball during the final quarter, but were unable to find paydirt. Darrell Dangelmayr covered a fumble to stop a Crusader scoring attempt, but on their next possession, with only 8 seconds in the game, Tyler Street quarterback John Barker passed to Billy Hamilton for an 81-yard touchdown. An extra point failed, narrowing the Tiger lead 14-6.

The Crusaders attempted an on-side kick, covered by Sacred Heart as time ran out.

Tyler Street was the "toughest ball game these kids ever played in," said Coach Joe Pasqua. "It was the hardest hitting game since I've been in Class A competition."

Becker rushed for 125 yards on 28 carries to lead the Tigers' offense. Taylor contributed 32 yards on 9 carries and completed 3 passes for 10 yards. Ryan Bayer caught a pass for a 19-yard gain.

Deano Bayer and Darrell Dangelmayr led the team in tackles with Dangelmayr recovering a fumble.

"There was a great team effort on the defense," said the coach, giving extra credit to Wayne Becker, Deano Bayer, Tony Grewing and Ryan Bayer. "Randy Miller did a bang-up job - he played everywhere."

5-55 Penalties - Yards	7-45

All eyes will be on the Sacred Heart-Liberty game this Friday as the 3-0 Tigers take on the 3-0 Warriors. It is expected to be a tooth-and-nail battle between the two district leaders.

"We'll have to be at our best to win," said the coach. "It's going to be a toss-up, with whoever gets the breaks coming out the winner. They're not as aggressive as last year, but have lots of speed."

Denton Liberty Christian returns this year with a pair of exciting runners. Lucky Smith scooted for 1,825 yards, 18 TD's and a 9.4 rushing average in the '86 season. Teammate Russell Spain added 1,031 yards, 12 scores and a 7.3 average per carry. On defense, the Warriors have senior Kerry Roberson with 102 tackles under his belt last season.

The Tigers will again play without the talents of Donnie Knabe and Glen Swirczynski, who are still sidelined with injuries. The team also lost four players to the no-pass, no-play rule. Game time is 7:30 at Tiger Field.

Cubs swallow Cats

The Sacred Heart Cubs roared to a 42-0 win over the Callisburg squad Thursday evening in the Cat Den. The Cubs jumped the Cats early and never looked back.

Helmuth Koelzer did all of the first quarter scoring as the speedy quarterback dashed off right end from the 6-yard line and followed with a 48-yard run. Both conversion attempts failed. In the second period, Jason Frost, Larry Switzer and Steve Nasche gang-tackled the Cat tailback for a safety. Larry Switzer then proceeded to return the kick-off for 6 more Cub points. The first half ended with the Cubs dominating the Cats 20-0.

The second half was more red for the Callisburg club as Helmuth Koelzer raced 51 yads for a score. Martin McCoy from his wingback position skirted 27 yards off left tackle for 6 more. Kelly Bell plunged in the conversion. The final score came on a broken play as Steve Nasche scooted in from the 8. Bell converted the 2.

Recovering fumbles for the Cubs were Scott Hennigan and Gary Hess. Martin McCoy and Helmuth Koelzer picked off Cat passes. Steve Fisher led the Tiger tacklers. Other top players were Bill Park, Greg Hess, Jordan Bayer, Jeff Sicking, Tom Greathouse, and Werner Becker. Next action for the Cubs will be Friday evening at Tiger Stadium as the Cubs will host the juniors from Liberty Christian at 5 p.m.

Bald eagle case highlights Game Thief rewards by TPWD

AUSTIN - An incident involving the killing of a bald eagle was the most significant case reviewed by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's Operation Game Thief Committee in Austin Tuesday.

A tip from a Texas resident led to the arrest of a man who had killed a bald eagle for a wall mount. After his arrest by state and federal game wardens, the man was charged with illegal possession of an endangered species.

The anonymous caller who reported the violation will receive a $500 reward paid by the U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service to Operation Game Thief in compliance with the federal Bald and Golden Eagle Act.

A federal judge assessed the violator a $1,000 fine, three years' probation, suspended his hunting rights for one year and ordered him to perform community service four hours a week for one year.

Persons observing violations of game laws in Texas may call toll-free 1-800-792-GAME. If the information provided leads to conviction, the caller may be eligible for a cash reward from Operation Game Thief, which is funded entirely by donations from individuals and organizations and directed by a volunteer committee.

Also on Tuesday the OGT

Committee authorized payment of $2,450 in rewards to 13 callers, while 22 callers did not request rewards and one was ineligible. During the past six months, the OGT line received 364 calls. The 268 calls investigated resulted in apprehension involving 70 violators, from which 132 convictions were obtained. Of the 268 calls investigated, 13.4 percent resulted in arrests and convictions, according to Capt. Stanley Brooks, OGT coordinator.

Knife sharpening tips offered

There should be no mystery about sharpening a knife. It doesn't take a special knack, just a little practice.

Here are some suggestions to help put a sharp edge on a blade and keep it keen from the folks at Coleman/Western Cutlery, who have made knives since 1911.

- Use a good medium-fine stone, moistened with light oil.
- Place the stone on a flat working surface, preferably mounted on a board or holding device so that it is secure and will not slip.
- The preferred all-around edge for sporting blades is one with a 15 to 20-degree bevel. Fillet knives perform well with a 10-degree angle.
- Using semicircular strokes, almost as if slicing cheese, draw the edge of the blade across the stone. Contact between the blade's edge and the stone begins at the heel of the cutting edge and runs to the point of the blade.
- The trick to getting a good edge is to maintain the same angle throughout the stroke. If a knife is very dull, make several strokes on one side, then repeat the same number of strokes on the other side. As the knife begins to sharpen, alternate, making only one stroke on each side.
- Pressure is important. The first series of strokes should be heavy. As the edge nears completion, pressure should be lighter.
- Speed is not critical. It is better to move the blade slowly across the stone and maintain the same angle than to make rapid strokes with inconsistent angles.

To properly sharpen a knife, use semicircular strokes and draw the edge of the blade across the stone.

• For finishing the edge or touching it up as the knife is used, strop it on leather or use a butcher's steel.

Lindsay leads West Zone...

Hornets hold Knights in 16-0 battle

The Lindsay Knights took advantage of their experience to shut-down the Muenster Hornet offense and record a 16-0 win. Lindsay held Muenster to 4 first downs and 46 total yards. Muenster falls to 1-1 for district play while Lindsay goes to 2-0.

James Hennigan provided the only offensive threat for Muenster as he ran 16 times for 53 yards. Lindsay controlled the line of scrimmage and put 16 first half points on the board.

Mike Dieter scored in the opening quarter on a 6-yard run with 6:14 on the clock. Leo Sandmann kicked, giving the Knights a 7-0 lead. Sandmann struck again when he kicked a 30-yard field goal, lengthening Lindsay's lead to 10-0.

Dieter scored again on a 2-yard sprint in the second quarter. He set up the drive by recovering a Muenster fumble on the 49-yard line. Sandmann's kick was blocked by Travis Klement.

The second half remained scoreless, with Muenster holding Lindsay at the goal line as the clock ticked down.

Muenster did have one scoring threat in the third quarter when J. Shane Wimmer intercepted an errant Knight pass. He returned it to the Lindsay 14-yard line. After a fumbled snap, a quarterback sack, and a penalty, Muenster found itself on the 45-yard line and out of downs. Lindsay's offense totaled 238 yards, 213 on the ground. Dieter led the Knights with 96 yards on 16 carries. Craig Neu and Greg Roller ran for 44 apiece.

Defensively, the Knights sacked the Hornet quarterbacks 6 times. 3 the work of John Fangmann. Ted Cason led with 11 tackles, followed by Fangman 10 and Brad Neu 9.

The Hornets travel to Valley View this Friday night for a 7:30 kickoff. The Eagles beat Muenster 20-7 last season, but are ineligible for district play this year. A win or loss will not count in the district standings.

Lindsay plays at Collinsville Friday night. "We have to go over with a positive attitude," said Lindsay head coach Grady Roller, "they're in the running for district." The game will match the only two remaining West Zone 9-A teams without an official loss. "It's hard to keep the team 'up' for a third game," said Roller. "I hope to win by a touchdown or two." Little Red routs Lindsay

The Little Red Hornet squad ran its season record to 4-1 last Thursday night with a 38-18 thrashing of the Lindsay Squires. Mike Vogel scored four touchdowns to help the Hornets overcome a 6-0 deficit. The win left Muenster and Valley View tied for first place with 2-0 records. They play tonight at 6 p.m. at Muenster Stadium.

Vogel, along with Ryan Sicking, provided a running game that went both over and around the Squire defense. Sicking scored one touchdown, and he and Vogel each added 2-point conversions. Doug Hennigan intercepted a pass to set up one score, and strong support was provided by Tony Perryman, Jeremy Jones, Jason Biffle, Justin Ramsey, Chris Kubis and Mike Gobble.

Upset in football contest

Week five of The Enterprise football contest sees two new weekly winners - Henry Knabe won first place by picking 18 out of 24 games correctly. Benny Haverkamp earned the second place prize with 17 of 24 games picked correctly and a 13-point difference in the tie-breaker game.

Also scoring 17 correct were Bobby Hess, with an 18-point difference; Craig Stoffel with a 29-point difference; and Carol Grewing with a 34-point tie - breaker difference. The winners picked up their prizes at Tops and Teams, last week's tie-breaker sponsor.

Everyone picked Sacred Heart's win over Tyler Street, with Mark Rigsby the only contestant picking the correct 14-6 score. The most distant guess was 37-17.

Six entrants thought Muenster could defeat Lindsay and only two chose Collinsville to beat Era. Sixteen believed Dallas could win over Washington and only five picked Texas over Arkansas.

Besides Knabe selecting 18 winners, four had 17 and five correctly picked 16. This week's worst choice was only nine correct picks.

With three weeks remaining in the football contest, Craig Stoffels became the leader with a 73.40 percent, followed by brother Chris at 72.34 percent. Mickey Haverkamp's running a close third with a percentage of 71.88 and Mark Klement moved into fourth with a 71.28 percent correct pick.

New, non-tobacco chew for worried tobacco users

Irving—A new chew that contains no tobacco or nicotine is now being introduced throughout Texas as an alternative to smokeless tobacco, which can cause oral cancer. Made from a patented blend of herbs and flavorings, this new chew is called Smokey Mountain Chew. It looks and tastes much like smokeless tobacco but it leaves a clean mouth taste and does not stain teeth.

According to Cowboys tackle Randy White, "It got me off tobacco! Now I can enjoy dipping without worrying about my health." White says the key to quitting is to wean yourself off nicotine gradually. "The way I did it was to mix Smokey Mountain with my tobacco chew, a little bit at first, then more and more. I'd also swap out, using the non-tobacco chew one time and my tobacco chew less and less. After a couple of months, I was free of tobacco—and I don't miss it."

The new chew comes in two forms: a moist snuff-type product available now (in Classic and Wintergreen flavors) and a loose-leaf chew available in December. The products can be found in most mass outlets where smokeless tobacco is sold.

Smokey Mountain Chew was developed by Better Life International, Inc. in response to reports from the Surgeon General's Office and other national health agencies that use of smokeless tobacco can cause many serious health problems, including cancer of the tongue, cheek and gums.

Better Life is based in Stuart, Florida, with a regional office in Irving.

Proper care of contact lenses reduces problems

Recent stories in the news media about problems with contact lenses, especially extended-wear lenses, have caused some wearers to wonder about the safety of their lenses. The Texas Medical Association says caring for your lenses properly can reduce your chance of eye infections and extend the life of your lenses.

Here are some "do's and don'ts" that are true for all types of contact lenses:

-Heed warning signs. Eye problems can develop rapidly, so if you experience eye pain, excessive tearing, vision changes, or redness of the eye, immediately remove your lenses and contact your eye doctor right away.

-Don't wear your lenses longer than prescribed by your eye doctor.

-Clean and disinfect your lenses each time they are removed. Daily-wear lenses should be cleaned and disinfected not just once a day, but each time they are removed - for swimming or for any other reason.

-Rinse with sterile saline solution. Soft lenses must be rinsed with sterile saline solution, not water. Soft lenses should not be rinsed with homemade saline solution. Use only commercially available sterile saline solution to rinse lenses before inserting them into your eyes.

-Use an enzymatic cleaner as directed. Enzymatic cleaning is a deep-cleaning step to remove protein deposits on lenses that is prescribed by many eye doctors. Disinfection is required after enzymatic cleaning.

-Read and follow lens-care instructions. Read package instructions before using lens-care solutions, and read and keep for future reference all instructions provided with your lenses.

-Schedule and keep follow-up visits. Visit your eye doctor regularly to make sure that your eyes are healthy and that any problems are detected early.

-Don't use other types of solutions. Use only the types of solutions your eye doctor suggests. If you've forgotten which solutions were prescribed, contact your eye doctor's office.

FARM AND RANCH NEWS

Fan operation is major factor in aeration management

How effective an aeration system is in removing moisture and odor and cooling stored grain depends heavily on the fan operation schedule.

Such a schedule hinges on the aeration system, atmospheric air conditions, and stored grain conditions, says Richard Withers, an agricultural engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Frequent checks of the temperature and moisture conditions of stored grain as well as knowledge of atmospheric air conditions are a must for proper fan operation, Withers emphasizes. Automatic controls can be used to facilitate the process.

Grain temperatures often are high because of harvesting during hot summer weather, and additional heat may be added if grain is dried before storing. Aeration can effectively remove this heat after grain is stored by a continuous fan operation until all of the grain is about the same temperature as the atmospheric air, Withers points out. A minimum airflow rate of one-twentieth cubic feet per minute (cfm) per bushel is recommended, but a rate of one-tenth cfm per bushel is preferred, he notes.

Usually a fan is operated only when air temperature is at least 10 degrees F. lower than grain temperature. However, Withers suggests operating a fan when the temperature differential is less than 10 degrees F. when grain with a temperature of 90 degrees F. or higher goes into storage.

In this case, the air's relative humidity is secondary since moisture will normally be transferred from the grain to the air during cooling, according to the engineer. Once the fan is started, aeration should be continued according to the above procedure until the entire bin of grain has been cooled and temperatures equalized.

Aeration begun in the summer should continue through the fall and winter any time air is 10 degrees F. or more below the grain temperature. Periodic aeration should continue until grain temperatures are reduced to at least 50 degrees F. throughout the bin. Stored grain at 50 degrees F. can be moved during the summer months with little danger of moisture condensation and subsequent spoilage, says Withers.

Aeration also can be used for holding undried (high-moisture) grain in storage for shorter periods prior to drying. This can reduce spontaneous heating of grain, making short-time storage possible. With high-moisture grain, fans should be operated continuously, regardless of the weather, until grain moves through the dryer, says the engineer.

How long can grain be held in aerated storage without loss in quality due to mold and heat damage?

The higher the moisture content and temperature for a particular airflow rate, the shorter the allowable storage time, notes Withers. Under temperature conditions existing at harvest time in southern Texas, grain with an initial moisture content of about 18 percent can seldom be held more than eight to 10 days without some damage.

Grain of good quality and proper moisture content when placed in storage, and aerated properly, seldom develops objectionable storage odors. However, objectionable odors will often develop in grain which has not received the proper attention, Withers points out. Aeration will reduce and often remove some of these odors but will have little effect on odors caused by excessive grain deterioration.

How long a fan must be operated to remove odors varies with storage conditions, extent of grain deterioration, and airflow rate. Some odors can be removed readily with only a few air changes; others require longer periods of aeration. An airflow rate of one-tenth cfm per bushel is adequate for this operation, says Withers.

County Agent's Report

This past week we were planting various small grain result demonstrations and noticed one alarming fact. At one location we found large amounts of stem rust on volunteer wheat and volunteer wild oats. It should be noted that the same rust attacking the wild oats will not attack the wheat. Separate strains attack different types of crops.

Stem rust is one of the most destructive plant diseases that attacks some susceptible varieties of wheat. It is highly epidemic and can increase at rates of up to 50 percent per day. In contrast, leaf rust is less epidemic, probably not increasing at rates above 20 percent per day.

The stem rust fungus produces two spore stages on wheat - the red and black stages. The red stage spreads during the growing season, but the black stage occurs only as wheat nears maturity. Stem rust develops at temperatures near 68 degrees F. and is seriously hampered when temperatures get below 50 degrees F. or above 104 degrees F. For these reasons, we hope to see the stem rust slow down its development or possible infection of other fields during the winter months. One way to reduce infestations is to graze small grains during the winter. Another method is to do a good job in plowing volunteer stands during the summer months.

This infestation of rust is new due to the fact that most races do not overwinter in North Texas. With these increasing changes in various rust races, producers should check their fields periodically through the winter and spring for rust buildups. During the fall and winter there is no economic control for rust other than possible grazing of stands.

State selling seedlings

Seedlings for windbreaks, Christmas tree production and other tree crops are available again this year from the state forest nursery located near Alto.

This year's windbreak seedling selection at the Indian Mound Nursery features a wide variety of species. A special wildlife packet being offered includes 50 each of mulberry, oriental arborvitae, Russian olive and one oak species. Oaks available include cherybark, Shumard and water, the latter often being referred to locally as pin oak. Other seedlings offered include baldcypress, catalpa, Chinese elm, green ash, honeylocust and sweetgum; also loblolly, longleaf, shortleaf, slash and Virginia pines. In addition, cottonwood cuttings and stratified black walnut seeds are again available.

All windbreak species are priced at $15 per hundred, plus sales tax and shipping charges. Minimum order quantity is 100, but landowners may split their orders to order 50 of one species and 50 of another.

Landowners interested in planting pines as a crop have three varieties of loblolly pine and four other pine species from which to select. The choices available include regular, superior and drought hardy loblolly; rust resistant slash; shortleaf; longleaf and improved Virginia pines. Virginia pine is the species most frequently planted for Christmas tree production in Texas. Prices per thousand are $28 for loblolly, slash and shortleaf; $45 for longleaf and $60 for Virginia pines. Sales tax and shipping are extra.

Seedlings from the Indian Mound Nursery may not be used for landscaping or ornamental purposes.

Because of the wide species selection, landowners should consult with professional foresters to ensure that tree species selected will match the growing site, says Al Stauder, operations manager of the Texas Forest Service nursery in Alto.

"Improper species selection will greatly jeopardize the chances of successful windbreak or tree crop establishment," declares Stauder. "Properly located, constructed and planted with appropriated species, windbreaks reduce soil erosion and help protect pastures, fields and vineyards from the drying effects of wind. Tree crops of suitable species will put idle land to work growing benefits such as wildlife, recreation and timber income for landowners."

Windbreak and pine seedling information are available from any Texas Forest Service field office and from the Indian Mound Nursery, P.O. Box 617, Alto, Texas 75925, phone 409-858-4202. Orders will be shipped on a first-come, first served basis beginning around mid-December. Landowners need to order early though, to ensure that they will get the species and quantities desired.

Dairy forage meeting

Cooke County dairymen are invited to a Cool Season Forage Meeting to be held Tuesday, Oct. 27, at 11:30 a.m. at the Cooke County Fairgrounds. At this meeting, results of a Grazing Study using wheat, oats, and wheat-oat mixtures on the David Smokler Dairy at Lancaster, Texas will be discussed. Small gain forages produce extremely high quality roughage for dairy cattle. The Smokler demonstration netted some 5,070 pounds of milk per acre during the growing season in 1987-88. Tommy White, Area Dairy Specialist with the Extension Service, worked with Dr. Smokler on this demonstration and will present the program.

Following the program, a hamburger lunch will be provided by the Cooke County Dairy Herd Improvement Association. All dairymen are welcome to attend.

Hay show Oct. 27

The 1987 Cooke County Hay Show will be held Tuesday, Oct. 27, at the Cooke County Fairgrounds. A Hay Quality and Feeding Program will be presented at 7 p.m. by Tommy White, Extension Dairy Specialist. At this time, recommendations will be made as to nutritive quality and feeding regimes for various hays.

This year some 75 hay samples have been entered in the County Hay Show in Legume, Summer Annual, Warm Season Perennials and Cool Season Annuals. The quality appears to be excellent for the forages in the show.

The 7 p.m. meeting is free and open to the public.
