Gainesville snake population to increase this weekend

by Elaine Schad

More than 5,000 people are expected to invade the area around the Red River this weekend when more than 250 hunters will participate in the 20th Annual Gainesville Jaycees Rattlesnake Roundup Friday through Sunday.

Most of the events will take place at the National Guard Armory, 316 West Hird St., which will be open from 2 to 6 p.m. Friday and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. Included in the roundup will be snake shows, a carnival, flea market, guided tours and a snake-eating contest.

test is planned for 3 p.m. Participants will be given preweighed buckets of fried rattlesnake meat and will eat as much as possible in one minute. There will also be an Easter egg hunt at 2 p.m. at the armory for the children.

"Years ago, the hunt started as a way to control the snakes," Goldsmith said. "To some extent, that is still true."

The Red River area is one of the best in the state to hunt rattlesnakes because of the rock bluffs where snakes have dens, and because of the many different varieties of snakes in the area.

Bingo Hall, 805 West Scott Street. Tickets are $5 in advance and $7.50 at the door. Admission to the Armory on Saturday and Sunday is $3 for adults and $1 for children 12 and under.

Jaycee and weekend organizer Allen Goldsmith visited The Enterprise Tuesday with a few of his friends. "We know several Muenster folks have been having good luck on recent nice days catching and storing snakes. We're looking for a big turnout," he said.

Proceeds for the event will go for Jaycee community projects. For more information, contact Goldsmith at 668-8080.

Jaycees host Easter egg hunt April 3

Muenster Jaycees will host their annual Easter Egg Hunt on Easter Sunday, April 3, at 2 p.m. in Muenster City Park. There will be two divisions, small children up to six years of age; and six to twelve years of age. For more information, call Shawn Flusche at 759-4876 or Joe Pagel at 759-2897.

Firemen support Williamson

Richard Williamson has gained the endorsement of FirePAC, the political action committee of the State Firemen's and Fire Marshals' Association of Texas, in the race of the Texas House of Representatives.

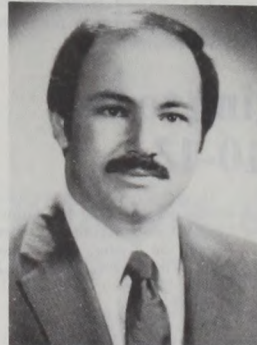

"Williamson's strong support of fire service issues indicates a broad-based concern for providing basic services to the people of Texas," says FirePAC Chairman Ray Williamson.

In response to the endorsement Representative Williamson replied, "I welcome the formal endorsement of the Statewide Lobby Organization that represents the fire fighting force in my Legislative District. One of my first and foremost concerns has been and will continue to be the strength of both the professional and volunteer fire fighting organizations in my district."

The State Firemen's and Fire Marshals' Association is the oldest and largest fire service organization in Texas, representing volunteer, paid and industrial firefighters. The SFFMA counts more than 1,100 fire departments as members and represents more than 21,000 firefighters.

Third-term State Representative Steve Carriker, a farmer from Roby, has announced that he will seek the recently vacated 30th District Senate seat. The 30th District covers a broad expanse of West Texas and the Red River area, including Carriker's home county of Fisher and seven other counties he currently serves in the Texas House.

Carriker, 37, attended Western Texas College in Snyder and received his B.A. from the University of Texas at Austin. He and his wife Kathy have three children, ages 12, 5 and 3. Kathy is the organizer of "Country Crafted Texas" and is a member of the board of Texas Rural Communities, an economic development foundation. Kathy also was a public school teacher for nine years.

STEVE CARRIKER

Currently serving as the Vice-Chair of the House Democratic Caucus, Carriker stressed in his announcement statement both his lifelong residency in the district and his demonstrated leadership abilities in the legislature. "I was born, reared, and live in the 30th District," he said, "and I make my living tilling 30th District soil. My great-grandparents settled here and my children are growing up here. This is where my commitments are."

An elected member of the Democratic National Committee, Carriker went on to point to the effectiveness of his work with the Democratic Party and in the legislature. "This District can't afford do-nothing representation in the Senate. I'll make the same kind of Senator as I have Representative; someone who listens to his constituents, makes the right decisions, then fights hard for his district," Carriker said.

Carriker serves on the committees on Agriculture, County Affairs and Interim Joint Committee on Waste Management. He served for four years as a member of the Board for the Senior Texans Employment Program and serves as a member of the Advisory Board for Green Thumb. He has

Daylight Saving Time begins April 3, at 2 a.m.

Losing one hour of pre-dawn sleep won't be the most pleasant thing, but it's coming anyway, arriving at 2 a.m. Sunday, April 3, and resulting in the gain of an extra hour of daylight in the evening, with extra time for gardening and all those other chores!!! That one hour of sleep will be regained with the return to Standard Time on the first Sunday of November. So, remember to set clocks ahead one hour Saturday night at bedtime.

Good Friday closing noted

Mayor Ted Henscheid has issued a proclamation on the observance of Good Friday, urging all businesses in Muenster to close between the hours of 2:30 p.m. and 3:30 p.m. The practice has its roots in a reverent tradition of long standing, recalling the anniversary of the death of Jesus Christ on Calvary, three days before Easter.

A rattlesnake pit will be set up in the armory and snake handling demonstrations will be given throughout the day by renowned snake handler Bill Ransberger of Sweetwater, the location of the largest rattlesnake hunt in Texas. The Gainesville hunt is right behind Sweetwater as one of the largest hunts in the state, said Allen Goldsmith, one of the chairmen of this year's event.

Safety demonstrations and first aid rules for treating snake bites will also be given. Other demonstrations include snake milking and the characteristics of the rattlesnake. There will also be a flea market in front of the armory.

Guided tours through the hunting area for a $5 registration fee will be conducted beginning Saturday morning. A snake eating con-

Area hunters are invited to bring in their rattlesnake catch from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. each day to compete for $50.00 cash prizes to the person or team bringing in the most pounds of snakes and the longest snake. Trophies also go to the winners and runners-up plus a trophy for the snake with the most rattles.

The event will feature fun and attractions for the whole family including a carnival from 6-10 p.m. Wednesday night through Sunday night.

A country-western dance, featuring Kelly Wolf & Co., will close the roundup from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Saturday at the Jaycee

As a broke run-off candidate for the State Board of Education, I appreciate your coverage of this race. We have 49 counties and 90 newspapers in our district. Please let your readers know that I care what they have to say.

My office phone is (915) 752-7321; home phone (915) 752-6442; mailing address Box 74, Bangs, Texas 76823.

Please call or write if there is anything you think I need to know

P.S. Your vote is also appreciated.

Dear Editor:

The Muenster Minibus was recently visited by 18 residents of the Van Alstyne and Whitwright area on their local minibuses. They came to view Muenster and to see Fischer's Market, Fischerhaus, Frybrant and Bayer's Kolonialwaren, and to shop at our local merchant's stores along Main Street and Division. Every single person on these buses wanted us to give everyone they visited a great big "THANK YOU!!" One of the drivers called to tell us they haven't stopped talking about what a wonderful town Muenster is. They are already planning to come with another group to Germantown along with other groups coming in the Grayson-Fannin county areas.

Now is the time to call City Hall and plan an area trip on OUR MINIBUS. One trip being offered is to the Fannin County Museum in Bonham which offers exhibits of antique furniture, vintage clothing and art collections. There is no door admission, but any donation is appreciated. Please call if you or any group in Muenster, Myra, Marysville, or Lindsay is interested in this or any other social trip you may have been wanting to make. And remember, you don't have to be over 60 to enjoy this service.

One service being added for the summer months only is rides to the swimming pools on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons. Riders must be 10 years or older and a charge of $.50 will be needed for a trip there and back. Riders will be picked up at their residence at 1 p.m. and the driver will leave the pool area promptly at 4 p.m. Please call 24 hours in advance as any medical trip must come first.

Our driver will also take anyone who needs a ride to the City-School election on Saturday, May 7, 9 a.m. You will need to call the Friday before by 4 p.m. Although the Minibus appreciates the "Thank You's," the service could also use any suggestions, donations or support you can offer. Funding for this service is being cut every year and so we must ask for help from other sources.

If you appreciate the minibus bringing people to our town to buy and trade, please let it be known by your contributions. Almost everyone who came on the Van Alstyne-Whitwright buses purchased something here and plans to return. Thank you for helping our Minibus continue to serve our community and a special thank you to all the businesses who welcomed our visitors so warmly.

Bentsen determined to secure windfall profit tax repeal

Senator Lloyd Bentsen, chief Senate negotiator on Congressional trade legislation, said last week that repeal of the so-called windfall profit tax has created sharp divisions between Senators and House members crafting an agreement on trade legislation.

Bentsen, Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, said he is determined to repeal the energy tax and predicted it will be one of the last trade bill issues decided.

"It's one of the most controversial items in the legislation and certainly one of the last ones that'll be decided," Bentsen said.

"I think that we'll be butting heads at the end of the negotiations, trying to get that thing repealed," he said.

Bentsen said that the need for repeal is clear and that, while the Senate is on record in favor of the repeal, several House negotiators disagree.

"The windfall profit tax is really bad tax policy, and it's bad energy policy," Bentsen said.

"At the present time, you're not collecting any revenue for the Treasury from the windfall profit tax, but it's costing the federal government millions of dollars to do the accounting, and it costs industry over a hundred million dollars to do the reporting. So we have to turn that around," he said.

"The problem is it's been before the negotiators before, and each time the House has been adamant in its opposition. We pass the repeal of the windfall profit tax in the Senate, but each time it's defeated on the House side," he said.

Bentsen said he is determined to reach a different result this year.

"It's going to be tough," Bentsen said.

"And as the chief negotiator for the Senate on the trade bill, we'll be fighting for that, I think, right up to the end," Senator Bentsen said.

Texas Conference on Aging to be held in El Paso on April 10-13

El Paso will be the site of the 7th Annual Texas Joint Conference on Aging April 10-13. Volunteers, retirees and professionals in the field of aging throughout the state will convene to draw upon their experience and prepare for the future as Texas draws close to the end of another century.

The conference, sponsored by AARP, begins at 1 p.m. on Sunday, April 10, with five intensives including management training, strategic planning, targeting special elderly populations, and dealing with difficult family situations.

Other topics during the conference will cover housing alternatives, money managing, ways to recruit younger seniors, new directions in services for the frail elderly, and many other issues. Southwestern Bell will present "Link Up America," a new project concerning the elderly.

To register, or for more information, contact The Rio Grande Council of Governments - Area Agency on Aging, 123 Pioneer Plaza, The Center, Suite 120, El Paso, Texas 79901, (915) 533-0998.

Religious programming: Yes or no?

WASHINGTON - A rumor claiming a federal agency is considering taking religious programming off the air is causing area residents undue concern, Congressman Charles W. Stenholm said.

The rumor, which surfaces nationwide every couple of years, alleges the Federal Communications Commission will schedule a hearing to determine whether religious broadcasts should be banned from television and radio. The petition, which is in the form of a letter, claims that aesthet Madalyn Murray O'Hair is behind the move. At the bottom of the sheet, petitioners are asked to duplicate the sheet 10 times, like a chain letter, distribute them to friends and send copies to their elected federal officials.

Congressman Stenholm receives hundreds of letters each time the rumor starts. Most of the letters are from churches and residents from the 17th District who do not realize that the report is baseless. "There is no need to worry," said Congressman Stenholm. "Our First Amendment rights guarantee our Freedom of Religion and Freedom of Speech. There's nothing factual about it. Please help me set the record straight about this by telling your friends and neighbors the truth.

"If it weren't about such a serious subject, it would be easy to make light of this preposterous idea," he said. "But the fact is there are many people who get worked up about it and upset when they read it. They put a good deal of effort into circulating petitions among friends and fellow church members. My staff then has to work to answer their pleas for help in this area."

The Stamford Democrat asks anyone who is holding a copy of the letter to keep it with the knowledge that there is no need for concern. "If you can trace the letter past your immediate friends though, please let me know."

Finnell appointed to marketing committee

AUSTIN - Texas House Speaker Gib Lewis has appointed Rep. Charles Finnell, D-Holliday, to the House Select Committee on the Marketing and Pricing Practices of Petroleum Products.

The committee was created by Speaker Lewis pursuant to the Rules of the House of Representatives of the 70th Texas Legislature. It will examine the current marketing and pricing practices of refined petroleum products and the relationship between the independent and integrated suppliers.

Finnell is a candidate for the Texas Senate in the upcoming May Special Election in the 30th District which includes Cooke County. He currently serves as chairman of the House General Investigating Committee, and is a member of the House County Affairs, and Retirement and Aging Committee.

In making the announcement, Lewis stated, "This committee will review the pricing practices between suppliers and retail outlets of petroleum products. Ensuring equity in this marketplace not only benefits Texas motorists, but also enables all components of the petroleum industry to be active participants in a fair and competitive market."

He continued, "I am pleased Representative Finnell is willing to commit his time and capabilities to this effort."

Rep. Finnell defends local control of Texas schools

HOLLIDAY - State Rep. Charles Finnell, D-Holliday, strongly defended the principle of local control of our Texas school districts after visiting Ethel Kidwell Elementary in Iowa Park during Texas Public Schools Week.

"School boards, educators, parents and students form a local partnership that can best determine the needs and goals of our school systems," said Rep. Finnell, candidate for the State Senate 30th District.

Finnell opposes a District Court ruling last year that the current method of school financing in Texas is inequitable. The ruling is being appealed by the State of Texas.

"Judicial activism of this sort could erode the influence of local people over their children's education," stated Rep. Finnell, fourth in seniority of the Texas House of Representatives.

The Archer County businessman also commended the work of public schools in the drive to improve literacy rates in Texas.

"We must continue local programs of excellence that will prepare our students for competition in today's world-wide marketplace," said Rep. Finnell.

Myths of community newspapering exposed

Every metropolitan newspaper office contains one or a dozen people who dream of the quiet life of a weekly newspaper editor. They would like to swap their daily struggles and deadlines for the life of contemplation, the pleasure of thinking great thoughts and ennobling the citizenry with them.

I know of no inoculation that would prevent the spread of this kind of thinking, but I have been around enough weekly newspaper people to know that a year on a weekly will cure the disease permanently. I still think editorship of a weekly ranks among the highest callings a man or woman can answer. But passage of time has changed the overall perspective.

Oh, we have the odd community newspaper editor who spends his time at the country club in golf togs or in a smoking jacket in his vast library. But those people bear little similarity to the sort of people who put out most of this country's weeklies.

Still, 99.999 percent of the nation's citizens are positive they can put out a first class newspaper in four days— and spend the rest fishing. The few who think otherwise are the editors of weeklies.

Most non-weekly people think the county seat town is just a miniature of the world. They believe the country editor spends his or her time wielding great power for the benefit of mankind within the county's boundaries.

They do not accept, or at least they sweep under the mental rug, the idea that most country editors do the work of two people for less pay than a good carpenter takes home.

Myths continue, though. Journalism schools are full of people who want to reform part of the world. More power to them, and to the big city chaps who want to try their luck in the small town. But they should be forewarned that some of their myths are going to evaporate as the years go by.

Let me offer 10 that are sure to vanish. I compiled the list for the TPA Messenger eight years ago. Its accuracy has not changed.

1. If a newspaper editor turns the full fury of the editorial page loose on a community problem, it will be solved in a hurry, even if everyone else in town is opposed to the editor's view.
2. If an editor makes one mistake in giving 1,000 items of information, people will remember the 999 correct items and forget the minor lapse.
3. If the editor sits down and explains things patiently, the president of the club that got only six inches of space will understand that no favoritism was intended when the town's other club got seven and three-eighths inches.
4. That although a businessman might quarrel with the editor, he wouldn't let his spite get the best of him and kill next week's full page ad.
5. That people will happily pay for advertising and subscriptions promptly, if asked politely.

6. That creditors will gladly wait for their money, if asked politely.

7. That all city and county officials believe one of the editor's first duties is to analyze the work of elected officials and show them their mistakes.

8. That friends will get a chuckle out of a dropped line or typo that causes the newspaper to say the friend has a social disease or is facing bankruptcy.

9. That country editors live a slow-paced life of bliss, with plenty of time to rewrite every story and polish it to excellence.

10. That a country editor, harassed by creditors, libel suits, irate business people, club presidents and assorted other characters, could find no other job that would provide as much pleasure of gratification.

It is possible, barely possible, that no matter how advanced the world gets and how rampant cynicism becomes, newspaper people will keep myth No. 10 alive. I hope to.

60 attend convention in Fort Worth

Sixty young people from Sacred Heart Parish attended the Fort Worth Diocesan Junior High Youth Convention in Irving at the University of Dallas Conference Center on Sunday, March 26.

Adult sponsors accompanying them were Mrs. Sandra Hennigan; Mrs. Lynn Hacker; Mrs. Linda Knabe; Mrs. Kathy Berres; Mrs. Celine Bartel; Mrs. Irene Hartman; Mrs. Emily Klement; and Don Hellman and Herbie Fisher. They traveled in two busses, and spent a full day, enjoying spiritual growth, workshops on "Getting Along With Your Parents;" "How To Say No;" "God and Music;" "AIDS Information for 6th, 7th and 8th Grades;" "Drugs and Alcohol;" "Teenage Pregnancy;" "Refugees and Social Justice" (at this workshop three San Salvadoran teenagers explained their escape from their war-torn country and their plight as refugees).

A special Mass was offered in the chapel for the group. It was followed by a spaghetti supper. The evening was completed with a dance, with ON-N-ON as deejays for the event. ON-N-ON is a Christian music group that plays Christian rock or secular music with only positive and upbeat messages.

A highlight of the day was a group performance of "The Covenant Players," a group based out of Los Angeles, and presenting the Christian message and Gospel through dramatic interpretation, using few props. This ministry is worldwide, performing in 38 countries on five continents. In addition to live drama, this ministry now includes radio, television, motion pictures, recordings, cassette tapes and workshops in drama communications.

The clown ministry, trained by the diocese, performed all day, and also served as guides for the youths as the day's events progressed through a memorable experience.

time followed at 7 p.m. by dinner catered by the Hermes sisters of Lindsay. The style show will begin at 8 p.m.
At least 30 female saints will be featured during the style show. Members have done extensive research into the lives of each saint, ranging from St. Theresa of Avila and Mary Queen of Scots to Joan of Arc. The show will feature music of the era in which the saint lived, decorations of the country the saint represents, and a lively biographical narrative.

"We hope that this will be as entertaining and successful as our bridal show of a few years ago," said Johann Bezner, one of the organizers. "I think it's very unique and unusual."
Mrs. Bezner said the idea first came to mind after a successful saints masquerade party sponsored by St. Mary's last fall, and fits in with what she said seems to be the year when women's contributions have come to the forefront in both the religious and secular world.

"This seems to be the year of the woman," Mrs. Bezner said. "With this being the Marian Year and with our church being St. Mary's, it all ties together very well."
Mrs. Bezner said the Altar Society would be interested in presenting program for other parishes if contacted.
Tickets for the dinner and style show are $8 each and must be purchased by April 18. For more information or to make reservations, call Janice Endres before 4 p.m. at 665-8015, or after 4 p.m. call Marcy Bezner at 665-6577 or Denise Schumacher at 665-0816.

Home-School Society hosts programs

The evening of Monday, March 28, was a busy time at Sacred Heart School. At 7 p.m. parents met with the teachers of their children in homerooms. Year-end school activities and field trips were discussed. Parents also were given the opportunity to examine their children's work.

At 8 p.m. parents, alumni members and school supporters met in the Community Center for two programs. The first was presented by Lorena Taylor, one of the first graduates of Sacred Heart High School. She shared her recollections of the formation and early days of the high school.

Sister Carmelita presented the second part of the program, of slides made during various school plays during the 50's and 60's. Included were "The Christmas Carol," "Snow White," and "Mother Goose." Many of the viewers in the audience found themselves in the pictures, highlighting a fun time!

The Sacred Heart Home-School Society held a regular business meeting following the programs. The Book Fair set for May 2, the annual school-sponsored walk-a-thon set for April 16, and an open house for the primary library were among items discussed.

An announcement was made concerning donations made to the primary library that provided funds for painting and refurbishing. Book proceeds from the SHS Home-School Society - sponsored Book Fairs also helped enlarge the library.

Rules help determine exemptions

Divorced or separated parents must use special rules to decide whether they or their former spouse can claim the exemption for their child when they file their tax return. The special rules for divorced or separated parents apply only if:

1. The parents are divorced or legally separated under a decree of divorce or separate maintenance, are separated under a written separation agreement, or lived apart at all times during the last six months of the calendar year, and
2. One or both parents provide more than half the child's total support for the calendar year, and
3. One or both parents have custody of the child for more than half the calendar year.

Although there are some exceptions, the parent who has custody of the child for most of the year is usually treated as the parent who provides more than half the child's support. It does not matter whether the parent with custody has been actually providing more than half of the child's support.

A noncustodial parent may claim the exemption for their child if either (1) The custodial parent signs a written declaration that he or she will not claim the exemption for the child and the noncustodial parent attaches this written declaration to his or her return, or (2) A decree or agreement executed before 1985 provides that the noncustodial parent is entitled to the exemption and he or she provides at least $600 for the child's support during the year, unless the pre-1985 decree or agreement is modified after 1984 to specify that this provision will not apply.

More information for divorced or separated individuals can be found in IRS Publication 504, Tax Information for Divorced or Separated Individuals, available by using the order blank in the tax return package or by calling 1-800-424-3676.

SOME OF THE THINGS DISCUSSED HERE MIGHT SHOCK YOU.

But not if you follow these tips for working around power lines.

- Keep ladders and trimming tools away from overhead wires.
- Don't dig if you suspect there are underground wires—call us first!
- Make sure you're clear of all wires when installing or removing a TV antenna.

Please remember, think about where your power lines are before you work around the house. They may be above or below ground. Find out the exact location, or you might become just another statistic. And that's the shocking truth.

DON'T LET A POWER LINE BE THE END OF THE LINE.
