Weather Service honors top observers

Thirty of the nation's top volunteer weather observers were honored on Tuesday, April 26, by the Commerce Departments' National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration for their unusual and outstanding accomplishments in the field of meteorological observations.

Steve Moster of Muenster was one of the 30 so honored on Tuesday. In fact, the 30 were selected from the 12,000 observers who collect daily measurements of rainfall, temperature, and other meteorological data. In addition to making up the national climatic record, this information is valuable to various public and private users, including utility and construction companies, farmers, ranchers and urban planners.

Steve Moster was also one of five selected from the 30 national winners on Tuesday to be honored with the "Jefferson Award," named for Thomas Jefferson, a keen weather observer who is credited with making the first known meteorological observations, with instruments, in this country from 1776 to 1816. The other 25 observers received the "Holm Award," named for John Campanius Holm, who recorded the first weather observations in colonial America, near Wilmington, Delaware in 1644 and 1645.

Moster received the "Holm Award" in 1976.

The other four "Jefferson Award" winners on April 26 were Paul Burman of Wakefield, Nebraska; Charles Copley of Coalville, Utah; Virgil Mathias of Mathias, West Virginia; and James Miller of Leesville, Louisiana.

Once a day, the volunteer observer records the weather at his home or place of work. At the end of every month, these measurements are mailed to the National Climatic Data Center, in Asheville, North Carolina, where they become part of the permanent record of the world's weather.

Many of the observers assist the weather service during times of severe weather by taking special rainfall, river level and other observations in remote areas. This information is vital to the National Weather Service's flood, and flash flood, warnings program.

The volunteers use permanent instruments and are visited regularly by National Weather Service personnel who check the instruments for accuracy.

Steve Moster received the awards in recognition for 40 years of service for the National Weather Service. A Citation for Service, Letter of Appreciation and lapel pin from the U.S. Dept. of Commerce and the National Weather Service were presented to him for his dedicated service and contributions to the field of

New at Germanfest

April 29, 30 and May 1 are the days of Germanfest. The fun and frolic are about to begin. Official opening ceremonies will be held at noon on Saturday, April 30, near the flag poles in the city park. Ed Griffin, coordinator of the ceremonies, said, "It will begin with comments from officials, followed by the presentation of the Concession Theme Prize. The North Texas State Sabre Drill Team will perform a drill followed by the raising of the flags with national anthems and a balloon release.

An inter-faith Praise Service will be a highlight of the weekend of festivities. The service will be held at the Mid Park at the corner of Main and First Streets. It will begin at 9:30 a.m. on Sunday. Rev. Steve Pearson, pastor of First Baptist Church, and Father Denis Soerries, pastor of Sacred Heart Catholic Church, will be doing the scripture readings and comment. The music, a mixture of gospel, contemporary Christian and praise, will be presented by Wendell Black, Steve Pearson, Emily Klement, Eric Gray, Pam Fette and David Fette.

Free entertainment for children has been added this year with "Sniffles, Sunny and Friends," Oma's Storytime with Dorothy Fisher, and "Jim & Betty" (magic, face painting, songs, storytelling) roaming through the park or performing at the "Castle Theater" at various times during the Fest. The times will be posted at the "Castle Theater" or watch for the Pied Piper of Hamelin to lead you to the Castle at the right times.

If competition is your "thing," enter one of the old favorites: Germanfest Metric Century Bicycle Rally, German Fun Run, the North Texas Championship Tug-of-War, or the Germanfest International Volksmarch. The new events this year are the North Texas Champion Arm Wrestling which will be held on Saturday and the "Bartenders Triathlon" sponsored by Bud Light. There will be five competitions: one Friday night, Helga and the Bavarian Woodchoppers on Saturday and Sunday, Kelly Wolf & Company, and Johnny Reed & The Time Machine will be on the Texas Stage on Saturday. Dancing to the sounds of the 50's & 60's will be the thing to do on the new 30' x 70' dance floor in the street through the park near the Texas Stage. Billy Roy the One Man Band will be back this year playing near the Texas Stage also.

The traditional German sausage dishes, barbecue and trimmings will be back with the addition of fried chicken by Ginny Schneider, baked potatoes by Kountry Kitchen, and Pardue fajitas. New snacks will include fresh lemonade, Texas Twist pretzels, and Aunt Lil's Kolaches.

The admission will be $3.00 at the gate for all over approximately 6 years of age. There will be a height measure at each gate. The height limit will be 50 inches. All over this height will be $3.00.

The Chamber urges everyone to observe traffic and information signs in or around the park. Have a delightful GERMANFEST!

WORKERS have been busy this week on this and many other Germanfest projects. This newly enlarged "Texas Stage" adjoins the new 30' x 70' dance floor on the west side of the city park.

Montague Co. and Nocona stay dry!

A prominent sign posted in Nocona over the last month proclaimed "Make Muenster Sweat... Vote Wet!"

Although Muenster residents probably were concerned, their concerns can be relaxed now. Montague County voters turned down the wet-dry referendum by a vote of 1016 for versus 1208 against allowing sales of beer and wine. Only the northern part of the county participated in the vote.

Significant totals from certain areas were Nocona: 719 for, 674 against; Saint Jo: 153 for, 284 against; Montague: 118 for, 45 against; and Absentee: 35 for; 147 against.

For the time being, Montague County will stay dry.

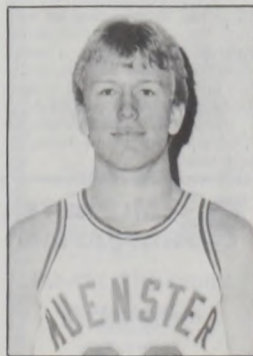

Brian Hess named to Academic All-State

Saturday afternoon at the Texas Association of Basketball Coaches Awards Banquet in San Antonio, TABC Chairman Duane Hunt of Borger announced that senior Brian Hess was a 1988 member of the TABC Academic All-State Team.

Selected with nine other boys from more than 3200 Class A players, Hess was considered for his class rank, grade point average, SAT scores, individual basketball accomplishments and team success.

After being named All-State by the Texas Sports Writers Association, and first team All-Region by the TABC, this honor rounds out possibly the most successful season by any Hornet cager in history.

"Brian had a very good senior year," said Coach Ted Heers. "He helped lay the cornerstone for future success for the Hornets."

Brian, the son of Dennis and Kathy Hess of Muenster, is a senior at Muenster High School.

Building permits total $560,875

One measure of progress in Muenster is the record of building permits issued in 1987, in number and worth.

According to City Secretary Celine Dittfurth, the record shows a total of 32 building permits and three sign permits.

Valente tops the list with the $173,000 addition to their east plant. There were three new homes; four mobile homes; seven storage buildings; four carports-patios; one sand box with roof; one grain bin and hopper; and 11 home and business improvements.

Building permits totaled $560,875, comparing with $339,900 in 1986.

Good News!

MATTHEW 19: 26

Festival enters its 13 year! History of 'Fest recalled

Muenster's first attempt at a homecoming festival was a four-day event in April 1976. It was this community's salute to the country's Bicentennial.

It was also the first multi-day party since the young Muenster community's "Schutzenfest," a three-day celebration that began in May 1899.

The big event faded with the advent of Prohibition, and as interests changed.

Not until the Bicentennial did another community-sponsored party attract a concerted effort. Known as German Week, it was held on the parking lot in front of the Community Center. The 1976 version included two pageants, a flag presented after it flew over the national capitol, a Miss Muenster contest, won by Barbie Hess, and the first Fun Run that drew 251 runners. In its four-day stand, it drew about 5,000 visitors.

Favorite topic of conversation the next week was the expert handling of the crowds and the amounts of food and drink consumed — 93 kegs of beer and 3600 lbs. of sausage. Little did sponsors visualize the enormous growth they would handle in 1987, and anticipate in 1988.

By its second year, its name was changed to Germanfest and in its third year, the celebration was moved to Muenster City Park. Crowd guessers estimated the crowds at over 30,000 and 1345 registered for the Fun Run.

In 1979, weather worries began to haunt the Chamber of Commerce, with parking a major problem, using the detour on Hwy. 82 while the old overpass was removed.

Special community attention was directed to striving for an image promoting community interests, fire safety, traffic assistance, first aid, a warm reception and parking facilities — rather than just reaping profits.

The Jaycees' new refrigerated trailer-truck was a big attraction with beer kegs inside, connected to spigots outside.

The weather merely turned nippy and food consumption burgeoned to 3400 lbs. of sausage; 500 lbs. sauerbraten; 475 lbs. barbecue; 400 fryers; 160 lbs. corned beef; 250 kegs of beer served from the van and 38 more served to Fun Runners after the race.

A Texas Historical Marker was unveiled during the 1980 Germanfest. The visitor count passed 30,000. Food consumption was almost doubled. Entertainment features were high priority. Congressman Charles Stenholm was among the guests.

Deadline for tax exemptions is May 2

by Elaine Schad
Monday, May 2, is the deadline for submitting applications for several important property tax exemptions, according to officials with the Cooke County Appraisal District.

Homeowners can reduce their property tax bills in 1988 by taking advantage of partial exemptions for residence homesteads. Application forms are available at the CCAD office on California Street in Gainesville.

Texas law allows homeowners to make a single, one-time only application for residence homesteads. Taxpayers who have never received a residence homestead exemption on the home in which they were living in on Jan. 1, 1988, and those who became 65 or who became disabled during 1987 must apply this year to receive the exemption for 1988.

Texas law provides several types of homestead exemptions for homeowners, including two for school districts. They offer a $5,000 general homestead exemption to all homeowners, and an additional $10,000 exemption to those 65 or older, or those who are disabled.

Homeowners who reached the age of 65 or older on or before Jan. 1, 1988 may apply for a special property tax "ceiling" for school district taxes.

While the market value of an elderly person's homestead may fluctuate with the market, the taxes due to the school district cannot increase. The ceiling is rescinded, however, if the owner adds an improvement other than normal maintenance or repair.

New legislation provides an additional tax benefit to certain homeowners. If the surviving spouse of an over 65 homeowner is at least 55 at the time of the older spouse's death, and the death occurred after Jan. 1, 1988, then he or she can retain the tax ceiling.

Farmers and ranchers may also be able to lower their tax bills, officials said. If their land qualifies for productivity valuation, commonly known as an agricultural exemption, the land will be taxed on its ability to produce rather than its market value. Agriculture exemption applications must also be filed by Monday. New agricultural applications must be filed if land has been either bought or sold during the tax year.

Veterans with a service-connected disability can receive property tax relief in 1988 by filling out an exemption application.

A veteran's application can claim the exemption on only one piece of property, such as a home, car, or any other property the applicant owned on Jan. 1, 1988.

The applicant must be a Texas resident in order to qualify, and must file the exemption application by Monday.

Property owners are reminded that they may be required to file exemption forms in more than one county if they own property under the jurisdiction of separate appraisal districts.

For more information about exemptions and other property tax information, the booklet, "Taxpayers' Rights, Remedies, Responsibilities," is available from the local appraisal offices.

To obtain application forms or for more information, contact the Cooke County Appraisal District at 665-7651.

Beef Checkoff goes for the gold

Like a fleet Olympic runner, the beef checkoff came out of the blocks full steam on Oct. 1, 1986. That was the date the nation's producers began contributing $1 per head for research, promotion and education about beef.

Now the beef checkoff is entering the stretch run of its 22-month trial period as cattlemen ready for the May 10 vote on whether to approve it permanently.

However, unlike that Olympian whose energy is spent as the finish line comes in sight, the beef checkoff's momentum becomes stronger as the referendum date comes closer. Ongoing programs on national, state and local levels continue to encourage increased beef consumption. All these programs are coming together to improve the profit potential of cattle production.

"Studies reveal that the number of Americans who believe beef fits into their lifestyle increased from 59 percent in January to 64 percent in June," said Barbara Bayer of Muenster, Texas, chairman of the Cooke County Steering Committee. "Those who believe beef is an important part of a well-balanced diet increased from 51 percent to 56 percent. These increases show that every dollar checked off by cattlemen in this program is an investment that pays dividends."

In the first year of the programs, checkoff dollars collected nationwide totaled about $73 million. About $5 million of this amount came from beef and cattle importers. In Texas, checkoff dollars totaled $12.6 million.

"The checkoff is structured so that all producers invest an equal amount for each animal sold in the program," said Bayer. "Importers and all producers participate. The law sets a 5-percent cap on use of checkoff funds for administration so dollars go to their intended purposes of promotion, research and information. And the state council decides how to invest 50 cents of each dollar. This allows our Texas Beef Industry Council to respond to those needs within our state. The remaining 50 cents goes to the Beef Board for national programs."

Major programs on both national and state levels resulting from checkoff dollars include:

- Announcement of a working relationship to promote "heart-healthy" diets between the American Heart Association, Texas Affiliate and the Texas Beef Industry Council.
- Cooperating with health professionals to produce brochures on the nutrition of red meat (distributed to 4.5 million supermarket shoppers), cholesterol and heart disease, and the truth about common misconceptions of beef.

- Getting the word out to the media that beef is back. More than 4,700 positive articles reaching approximately 371 million consumers have recently run in major prestigious publications.

- Providing secondary and elementary school teachers with lesson plans, films, software and multi-media packages for the classroom. Through these tools, educators can instruct millions of students on beef's proper role in the diet.

- Airing more than 500 television spots and 1,920 radio spots about beef. For instance, during the Winter Olympics coverage on ABC, beef checkoff dollars sponsored 19 commercials, one Olympic Diary, and one Olympic Moment. Overall, the beef ads have reached 94 million adults between the ages of 25 to 54.

FEATURED crowd favorite entertainer, Billy Roy, will bring his "One Man Band" back to Germanfest this year. He will play near the new Texas Stage and dance floor.

Lindsay School Board, contractor attend hearing

by Elaine Schad

An arbitration hearing is set for 10 a.m. May 26 at the Lindsay City Hall in an attempt to resolve final payment on the new Lindsay elementary school building.

The contractor, L.J. Taylor Co. of Wichita Falls, has requested the arbitration hearing after it failed to accept the Lindsay school board's decision in February to assess a late penalty.

The contractor exceeded by 84 days the Oct. 12 completion date stated in the contract with the district, said Lindsay Superintendent Henry Schroeder.

The board first voted in January to assess a late penalty of $11,750, representing a penalty of $250 per day for 47 days. The board granted the company 37 days of grace even though it wasn't required by the contract, Schroeder said.

A representative of L.J. Taylor Co. requested the board reconsider the decision in February, but members decided to uphold its original decision. Students in grades six through eight began using the new building, located northwest of the gymnasium, in January.

The Lindsay school district and the contractor has both submitted a list of five arbitration judges. The two will agree on three judges who will hear the case, Schroeder said.

Both the school district and the contractor have the option to appeal the decision of the arbitration board through the courts, should either deem that necessary, Schroeder said. "State law has it set up so you go through the arbitration process first," he said.

During its regular April meeting this week, the Lindsay School Board reviewed a needs assessment of the district and its campuses. Board members are expected to decide at its next meeting about priorities for the district and implementation of the plan.

In other business the board:

- Set May 9 at 7:30 p.m. as the date to canvass election returns. The regular monthly meeting will also be held at that time.
- Approved a contract with the Region II Service Center to provide media materials to the district for 1988-89 at a cost of $1.50 per student average daily attendance (ADA).
- Rejected two bids for the purchase of a chest-type freezer for the cafeteria. School officials will rebid the item.

- Appointed board member Janie Wilson to serve as the district's representative on the Texas Association of School Boards (TASB) Legislative Network.

- Passed a resolution supporting Alan Leverett to be appointed as a trustee for the TASB.

- Tabled a discussion on the purchase of a new clock, bell and alarm system for campus buildings.

Lindsay sets new transfer policy for '89

Superintendent Henry B. Schroeder has announced the transfer policy for Lindsay ISD as follows:

- "April is the legal month to transfer all students living outside the Lindsay ISD boundary who wish to attend school here for the upcoming 1988-89 school year.

- "All transferring will be done in the Superintendent's office from 7:45 a.m. until 3:30 p.m., or by calling the following number for an appointment, 817-668-8923.

- "The $250 transfer fee per family, per year is still in effect. The fee must be paid on Registration Day, which will be Sept. 1, 1988.

Pre-Kindergarten screening in Lindsay will be held on May 5. Parents are to call the school office to make an appointment, 668-8923.

Finnell helps to examine advertising

State Rep. Charles Finnell was appointed last week to the subcommittee that will examine televised advertising of health and life insurance policies targeted at Older Texans.

The subcommittee will study charges made at a recent hearing of the House Committee on Retirement and Aging that certain television advertisements of life insurance and Medicare supplement insurance are intentionally misleading.

"Our main concern is to protect the interests of Older Texans since they spend more on health care than people under 65. If these aggressive marketing practices are deceptive and illegally victimize our senior citizens, we will make strong recommendations that appropriate protective legislation be passed," said Rep. Finnell.

Rep. Finnell noted that "celebrity endorsements," misleading information about Medicare benefits and other possibly unscrupulous practices would be examined by the subcommittee.

"I find it unacceptable for insurance advertising to play on the fears and insecurities of retirees and people over 65. Those who resort to scare tactics and misleading solicitations must be held responsible for their actions," said Rep. Finnell, founding chairman of the House Committee on Retirement and Aging.

Atheist's son to speak locally

William J. Murray, former vice president of America Atheists and the son of atheist leader, Madalyn Murray O'Hair, is scheduled to speak locally.

Murray, who was the plaintiff in the Supreme Court case which removed prayer from the public schools of the United States, will speak this coming Sunday evening, May 1, 6 p.m. at the Westminster Presbyterian Church of Gainesville, Texas, according to the pastor, Kyle Thurman.

Further information on Mr. Murray's appearance at Westminster Presbyterian Church can be obtained by calling the church, 665-5164.

13th YEAR

Three new flag poles were added in 1981 and one of the flags was a gift from the mayor of Münster, Westphalia, West Germany. The baseball park was made available to campers and local automobile dealers furnished vans, making the loop around town and to the park gate.

Germanfest in 1981 was a whopper, gaining almost 50 percent. Sanitation, security and supervision were super. The first German Bike Rally drew 119 participants.

By 1983, following months of intensive promotion, extensive improvements, new activities, entertainment, crowd accommodations and encouraging response to the German Fun Run, the crowd grew to 55,000.

Each year, entertainment and culinary delights aimed at emphasizing the ethnic German heritage and culture. The Fun Run became recognized as the second biggest in the state. Growth of Germanfest was phenomenal. Food consumption gained and quantities became almost repetitious, except that amounts always grew.

With the intention of fostering a more ethnic atmosphere into the festival, sponsors looked back into the original German Week in the Bicentennial Year of 1976, therefore keeping a better control on the nature of entertainment presented and kinds of souvenirs becoming available.

Food, whether traditional, ethnic or contemporary, was always bountiful. Guests had ample reason to feel well-fed, delightfully entertained and royally treated. Germanfest bloomed, reflecting its ethnic heritage.

In 1987, the Bike Rally grew to 2145 riders from the initial 119 riders in 1982. Entertainment was almost non-stop and hospitality was genuine. Total attendance was 46,627, down from 1986 but the Fun Run was up. Praise was heaped on Germanfest 1987. The city and park were geared for added security.

Police Chief Helen Tompkins said, "We were eminently satisfied with crowd behavior, fantastic weather and the best cooperation of guests and hosts.

The community put its best foot forward, presenting clean streets and well-tended lawns and yards.

For those who judge crowds by amounts of food consumed — In 1986, the crowds ate happily on 518 kegs of beer, or 8,228 gallons or 44,203 glasses.

Well! attendance was 46,627. That's only slightly more than an average of one per person. Arguments could arise on two sides???? foods consumed: Sausages 5560 lbs. or 2.5 miles! or 27,800 servings; Kraut by the gallons; potato salad 2472 lbs.; chicken, 500; ribs, 380 lbs. Fishers seek history of Ed Schmitt

Mrs. Margaret Fisher, Clyde and Polly Fisher and Al Schmitt spent Thursday and Friday of a recent week visiting their first cousins, the Stracks and the Kloppeles and their families in Kingfisher, Oklahoma. They enjoyed sightseeing and reminiscing; and were seeking history concerning their father, the late Ed Schmitt, for use in the Muenster Centennial History Book.

Ed Schmitt and his two sisters were born in Germany; and after the death of their father, they accompanied their mother to the United States.

The Muenster visitors also sought out the cemetery where Ed Schmitt's mother is buried and visited her grave. She was the grandmother of Margaret Fisher and Al Schmitt.

Extension homemakers elect new officers

On April 13, the Muenster Extension Homemakers Club met at the home of Ann Herr.

The hostess read the inspiration, "Childhood Memories," written by her daughter, Marlene Fisher. Ann also showed a large pillow which she had shown at the art show held at the club's district meeting at Gainesville and for which she won a third place ribbon.

New officers elected for the following year were: Dorothy Fisher, president; Lucille Lutkenhaus, vice president; Florence Williams, secretary - treasurer; Armella Lutkenhaus, delegate; and Irene Klement, alternate delegate.

Fuhrmanns attend bakers' workshops

Francis and Cathie Fuhrmann of "The Farmer's Kitchen" have returned home since attending the National Retail Bakers Association Convention held at the Dallas Convention Center on April 16-19. This convention was held in Dallas for the first time and gave many local bakers a chance to display their wares.

It was themed "Bake It Great in '88!"

The Fuhrmanns were invited to display some of their cakes, but due to the impending birth of their baby, they hesitated to commit themselves to a rigid schedule necessary for participating in the convention.

However, they were able to attend, and returned to Muenster with a lot of new decorating ideas for technique and product lines.

Bakers, wholesalers and machinery companies from all over the U.S. attended the convention, staffing 700 booths. Many new lines of wedding cakes and accessories were also shown.

In August 1987, Francis and Cathie Fuhrmann also attended the Great Southwest Bakers Association Summer Baking Workshop held on Padre Island.

FIVE GRANDCHILDREN of Mary Ann Arendt received First Communion recently: Amy Arendt, Scott Arendt, Jenny Arendt, Alex Knabe and Kristine Hartman. Mrs. Clem Reiter is the great-grandmother.

Unique style show

by Elaine Schad

Saint Bridgid was an excellent brewer of ale and a food gourmet. Saint Catherine of Sienna was the youngest of 25 children.

They were immigrants, soldiers, martyrs and children. An undying faith and an enthusiasm for spreading the word of God, however, provided a common thread for the 30 female saints of the Catholic Church on parade during the Saints Style Show last week, sponsored by the St. Mary's Altar Society.

The program was unique not only because it was the first style show of its kind in this area, but also because of the way its sponsors tied together the saints, as portrayed through the centuries, with their continued impact today in the lives of many.

They were featured for more than an hour at St. Mary's Parish Hall, with St. Ann leading the way from the first century. Mother Teresa of Calcutta, considered a St. Scholastica's outfit, modeled by Bitsy Duffy, was a habit of the Benedictine Sisters of Saint Scholastica Convent in Fort Smith, Ark. Mrs. Duffy carried the rosary of Sister Dorothy Therese Zimmerer of the Sisters of Divine Providence. Johann Bezner, St. Gertrude, carried a rosary worn for more than 60 years by Sister Alban Bezner of the Divine Providence Order of Our Lady of the Lake Convent in San Antonio.

Alma Herr chose to model St. Agatha because she was baptized on that saint's feastday. Susan Shasteen, a regular singer at St. Mary's, chose St. Cecilia, the patroness of music. Susan Smith, a native of the Philippines, chose St. Rose of Lima, regarded as the originator of social work in Peru and the patroness of the Philippines.

The group even featured a real member of a religious order, Sister Gabriel Burton of St. Mary's.

More than 160 audience members were treated to dinner and desserts representing 11 countries around the world where many of the saints resided in their day. Each model even had her own "doll saint," a miniature of her own costuming.

"It was just amazing some of the problems we ran into putting on this show," said Catherine Bezner, one of the organizers. The group tried to be as authentic as possible, and sometimes that posed problems.

The group almost fell short of featuring one of the most prominent women saints of the church, St. Teresa of Avila, declared the first woman doctor of the church in 1970. Through the generosity of the Discalced Carmelite Convent in Arlington, however, they were able to borrow a habit for that evening since it was such a special situation, Bezner said.

St. Joan of Arc's armour, modelled by MaQuita Gossett, was another challenge. Rita Orsborne was able to shape the uniform of one of France's most famous soldiers with paper-mache over a mannequin sprayed with silver paint.

Bunny Khaira, a native of India, helped create the remarkable likeness of the Indian-styled habit worn by Mother Teresa of Calcutta and the sisters of her order, the Missionaries of Mercy.

Georgia Wolf wore an authentic replica of the habit of St. Frances Xavier Cabrini she received from the Sacred Heart of Jesus Convent in Colorado. When St. Bernadette Soubirous of Lourdes, modelled by Melinda Dieter, came to the forefront, it was noted that the Lourdes grotto behind St. Peter's in Lindsay is currently being restored in honor of the Marian Year.

There were other interesting local tidbits of research to offer with many of the saints' biographies. Such as the fact that the women sodalities of St. Peter's in Lindsay and Sacred Heart in Muenster are both named after St. Anne. The middle stained-glass window on the north wall of St. Mary's is of St. Anne.

VFW Auxiliary presents award to Radiology Dept.

The Muenster Memorial Hospital - Radiology Department was named recently by the VFW Auxiliary to receive its annually awarded Certificate of Appreciation.

The framed citation carried the tribute: "In recognition of your purchase of the mammography machine for the Muenster Memorial Hospital. You provide a great service and opportunity to all women of the Muenster area through your programs. We salute you and say, 'Thank You' for your foresight and caring."

The presentation was made by Auxiliary President Frances Bayer and Safety Chairman Linda Knabe to Hospital Administrator Herman Carroll and Radiologist Kay Bynum who conducts the programs for the hospital.

The Radiology Department was chosen by the Auxiliary for its annual award because many women have taken advantage of their special package deals and have discovered various hidden problems thereby saving lives.

Their package deal is a bargain not only because of the low cost, but of the nearness and availability.

The Ladies Auxiliary recommends the advantages of this program sponsored by the local community hospital as soon as possible. "Who knows - the next life saved may be yours."

Jane Hoehn visits in hometown

Jane Hoehn, former resident and retired nurse in the U.S. Air Force, returned to Muenster to spend several days of an extended vacation with her sister, Mrs. Ed Cler, and family and her brother, Jack Hoehn, and family in Nocona. She was accompanied by a friend, Ann Borgrette.

Their plan is to travel leisurely for sightseeing, after leaving their winter home in Holiday, Florida on April 1, enroute to their summer home in New Hampshire.

They visited her niece and family, Christi and Gerry Cash, in Lake Charles, Louisiana; and a brother, Bill Hoehn and family of Deer Park; and another niece and family, Sheila and Jerre Butler, in Austin. They arrived in Muenster and Nocona on April 8.

Spending more time along the way, they will see Carlsbad Caverns and continue sightseeing and visiting relatives and friends. They plan to arrive in Seattle in time to attend the Retired Army Nurse Corps Convention on May 13, 14 and 15.

They will travel in Canada, crosscountry, and will arrive at their destination in New Hampshire in mid-June, remaining there through October to enjoy the Fall Foliage Festivals before wintering again in Florida.

Centerpoint Cemetery sets cleanup

Centerpoint Cemetery Association has set a clean-up day for Saturday, May 7, at 8 a.m. Committee members note that a number of the grave markers need to be straightened and some filling and scraping needs to be done. Your participation is needed and will be appreciated.

At the 1987 regular business meeting, Jimmy Ice and Drue Wayne Armstrong were elected to replace committee men Ernest Haralson and Alvin Edes who asked not to be re-elected. This year the positions to be voted on will be those of Tobie Thompson and Asko Talley. This election will be held at the May 28 business meeting.

The association voted in May 1987 to have a covered dish dinner this year. The committee will provide tables, paper goods, ice water, tea, coffee and some folding chairs. We hope to have a shade, but bring your sunhat.

As always, the annual Memorial Day will be held the last Saturday in May. This year, it will be May 28 at 10 a.m. at the cemetery. Should the weather be so bad as to prohibit this, the meeting and luncheon will take place at the Saint Jo Civic Center on the square in Saint Jo.

We hope to see you there, but if you cannot attend this year, please remember that your donations are needed to build our perpetual care fund and maintain the cemetery now and in the future. Our mailing address is: Centerpoint Cemetery Association of Bonita, P.O. Box 401, Saint Jo, TX 76265.

MHS Band gets silver rating

by Priscilla Phillips

On April 16, the Muenster High School Band performed at the Festival on the Lake at Lakeview Centennial High School in Garland.

The band performed three musical selections for three judges. Each judge critiqued the band and gave them a rating. The ratings were set up Olympic-style - gold, silver, and bronze.

The three ratings the band received were one gold, one silver and one bronze for an overall award of a silver plaque. It was an excellent performance by our band.

REPLACE YOUR OLD AIR CONDITIONER WITH THE HOTTEST THING IN HEATING AND COOLING:

It's the "hottest" thing because it's so versatile and energy efficient. The heat pump not only cools the home in summer, it also heats it in the winter.

Plus, a heat pump costs less to operate than any other heating system. Even a gas furnace. And that means lower energy bills for you each month.

Ask your dealer about the all-in-one comfort center: the amazing heat pump. Or if you're looking for a new home, look for an Energy Action home with a heat pump.

Leslie Hess advances in cheerleader tryouts

On April 10 Leslie Hess participated in the preliminary auditions for the Dallas Cowboy Cheerleaders along with approximately 800 other girls.

She was announced as a semifinalist, and returned to Cowboy Headquarters April 17 where she participated along with 126 other young ladies.

They were taught a jazz combination, and kickline routine that they later performed for the judges.

Leslie was chosen along with 58 other girls to participate in the finals on May 8. They will perform their own routine and will be interviewed.

Those who make it past the finals will advance to the Cowboy Cheerleader Training Camp in the summer.

Local riders compete in muddy race

Local motorcycle riders Mark and Doug Cler of Muenster and Randy and Randal Sawyer competed in the TCCR Association races held April 17 at the Flying P Ranch in Weatherford.

Weather ruined the mini-class race, with stormy skies that morning putting a damper on the competition.

Ten-year-old Randall was unable to finish the amateur mini-class. Built-up mud clogged the wheel forks on the muddy track, abling only one mini-amateur and two pro-mini racers to finish.

Because of the delay of clearing the track of mini-bikes, Amateur Class Competition was shortened two laps. Track conditions improved as the sun partially dried the surface.

In the 250cc Amateur Class, Randy Sawyer finished 2nd with Mark Cler placing 2nd in the 200cc class. Doug Cler, trying for a comeback after a shoulder separation, placed 7th in the 125cc amateur class.

The next race is scheduled for Sunday, May 1, near Longview.

FARM AND RANCH NEWS

Soil Conservation Bulletins

Eligibility for participation in all programs administered by ASCS is established under law without regard to race, color, religion, age, sex, handicap or national origin.

Crop Acreage Reports
We are taking crop acreage reports with the computer this year.

We are also going to do this by appointment for our larger farms. If you have three farms or more, you should contact this office immediately, so that we can schedule a time for you to come in.

For the remainder of farmers, May 2 is the final date to report wheat, oats, barley, also ACR and CU, if you are participating in the program on these crops. If we are unable to take your crop report due to heavy workload and lack of time, we also schedule you an appointment. We are trying this method for the first time and we are hoping it will benefit all of us.

You should report your crop acreage even if you are not participating in the program. If you do not report your crops, this will result in the acreage and yield being considered zero.

Wheat, Feed Grain and Cotton Programs

Remember, to have a valid contract to participate in these programs, all landlord and other producer signatures must be in this office by April 29.

Provisions for Conservation Use Acreage (CU) and ACR (layout, set aside)

ACR and CU acres may be grazed or hayed except during the five-month non-grazing-haying period from June 1 through Oct. 31.

Let me also remind you that land designated as ACR and CU must be maintained. This means appropriate weed control measures must have been applied, soil erosion controlled, no unauthorized haying or grazing will be permitted, and acreage figures must be accurate. Failure to maintain this acreage could cost you a portion of some or all program benefits.

Failed Crop Acreage

Producers who have failed small grains due to a natural disaster should not destroy this acreage without first filing an ASCS-574, Application for Disaster Credit, in this office. This should be done before any use is made of the crop.

1988 Payment Limitation Information

There are, by law, limitations on the payments a "person" may receive in a program year under the wheat, feed grain and cotton programs.

Payment limitations per person for 1988 is $50,000 for wheat, feed grains and cotton deficiency, diversion, and PIK payments.

ASCS County Committees are required to make person determinations for individuals, general partnerships, joint ventures, or other entities (corporations, trusts, limited partnerships, estates, etc.) if (1) an individual's or entity's estimated farm program payments will be at least $40,000; (2) the number of "persons" is being increased from the prior year and the payment limitation may apply; and (3) the County Committee is unfamiliar with the sources of labor, equipment, management, capital, or financing for the farming operation.

County wheat tour scheduled

Wheat throughout the county is showing various growth patterns and disease resistance. In order to keep up with the effect of herbicides, fungicides, variety and forage date, a county tour is scheduled for Monday, May 2.

STOP 1 - The tour will begin at 8:30 a.m. at the Fungicide and Variety Plots located on Highway 82 west of Cooke County Electric Co-Op at Muenster. At this location, varieties have been evaluated for disease resistance along with an application of fungicides for the control of powdery mildew and leaf rust.

STOP 2 - At 9:30 a.m. a stop will be made at the Herbicide and Variety Plots located on Highway 82 at Lindsay. Both varieties and herbicide effectiveness on control of broadleaf weeds along with cheat, ryegrass, and wild oats will be evaluated.

Two locations have been used for forage production analysis for both fall and spring growth of various varieties of soft and hard wheats.

STOP 3 - At 10:30 a.m. the tour will stop at the Frank and Don Sandmann Farm located at the intersection of FM 1630 and FM 3108 south of Lindsay.

STOP 4 - The final stop on the tour will be at 11:30 a.m. on the Jerry Hudspeth Farm southeast of Era. This farm is located south of the Doyle Selby home off FM 922. A hamburger lunch will follow the last stop. Data on forage production, disease tolerance of varieties, and herbicide use will be available. Producers are urged to attend the tour.

County Agent's Report

by Craig Rosenbaum

With hot, dry weather looming ahead, homeowners and others involved in landscape development should focus on water conservation. Water conservation can be practiced in all areas of landscape development and maintenance, including plant selection, irrigation practices and equipment, and soil preparation. These practices can be aesthetic as well as practical.

Homeowners can lower their landscape water usage in several ways:

- Using native and adapted plants. Native plants often thrive on existing growth conditions and reduce the need for extra irrigation. Many plants have been introduced that show adaptability to soil, rainfall and temperature conditions.

- Taking advantage of innovations in irrigation practices and equipment. The landscape irrigation business is experiencing a revolution, with new timing devices, low pressure systems, drip irrigation and other highly specialized water devices focusing on more efficient water usage. Irrigation systems and small ponds and fountains also can effectively use water as an aesthetic addition to a landscape.

- Using mulches for insulation. By providing an insulating layer between the sun and soil, mulches prevent rapid drying and lower soil temperature in hot weather, which keeps the top soil from crustifying or hardening. Low-cost materials such as hay, grass clippings, bark and pine needles are excellent for mulching and can add appeal with texture and color.

- Properly preparing the soil. When soil has been loosened and improved with plenty of organic material, such as peat, pine bark or compost, it will hold significantly more moisture and release it over a longer period of time. However, organic materials break down over time and need to be supplemented. A compost pile can be a good source of these materials, allowing the homeowner to recycle leaves, grass clippings and other waste to improve the soil.

The Beef Checkoff Vote:

Who, When, Where and How

When is the referendum?
May 10, 1988.

Where do I vote?
In the Extension Service office in the county in which you reside during normal business hours, 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

What if I live in one county and my ranch is in another county?
You vote in the county where you live.

Where do I vote if I am involved in a corporation?
The designated voter will vote in the county in which the corporation is registered.

Who is eligible to vote?
Producers who owned or acquired ownership of at least one bovine animal during the period of October 1, 1986 through March 31, 1988.

What if I own cattle in a partnership?
A group of individuals, including members of a family, is considered a producer entity. The group shall be entitled to one vote.

What if I am involved in a partnership and I also have cattle in my name?
You may be deemed the person to vote on behalf of the partnership, and you are also allowed to vote in the name of your personal holdings if they are two separate entities.

Can both husbands and wives vote?
Husbands and wives who jointly own cattle are entitled to cast only one vote. However, if cattle is owned separately in each person's name, they are both eligible voters.

Can FFA and 4-H students vote if they owned cattle during this time period?
Yes. There is no age limit to vote.

Can I send someone to vote for me by proxy?

No.

Who counts the votes?
The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) offices. ASCS will certify, count, and tabulate the votes nationwide because they are bonded.

Do I need to register ahead of time?
No. Registration and voting will be at the same time—May 10.

Do I need to take something with me to show that I am a beef producer?
No. But you will be asked to sign a certification statement saying that at some time during the period, you have owned or acquired ownership of cattle.

What if someone votes who is not a beef producer?
Names of all voters will be posted in the ASCS offices and names may be challenged by other beef producers in the two days following the referendum.

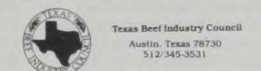

If my name is challenged, what should I do?
The ASCS office will contact you, and you must then show proof of ownership of at least one bovine animal during the period.

Is there a time limit on absentee voting?
All written requests must be received by the state Extension Services office by April 29, 1988.

If I miss the absentee deadlines, can I still vote in person May 10?
Yes.

What does it take to pass or fail the Beef Checkoff?
A simple majority of all those who vote nationwide.

When will we know the results?
ASCS will count the vote May 24.

Beef Checkoff

- Cooperating with Paul Harvey, America's best known radio personality, to promote beef two times per week. His spots run from December 1987 to June 1988.

- Using point of purchase (POP) materials effectively. A recent study of 18,000 supermarkets showed industry POP materials increased fresh beef sales from 3 to 5 percent in a four-week period. In other words, every checkoff dollar invested for POP returned $62 in projected additional beef sales.

- Distributing beef promotion placemats that provide nutritional information. More than 500,000 have been used by Texas restaurants and 200,000 by Texas hospitals.

"It's just good business for beef producers to join together through the checkoff to sell our product," Jimmy Owen, chairman of the Texas Beef Industry Council board of directors, said. "This joining together is paying off. Hundreds of projects are currently being funded through checkoff dollars. In addition to our TV spots and magazine ads, checkoff dollars support projects in research, education, foodservice, and retail, as well as provide nutritional information to consumers, food editors, dietitians, and doctors."

Registration and voting will take place May 10 at county extension service offices around the nation. You may vote in your county of residence unless your cattle are corporately owned.

Ag Tips

from your Exxon Farm Distributor

Make sure your tractor's crankcase oil is at its level best.

Your tractor's oil level should be between "add" and "full". If you put too much oil in your crankcase, it can cause the crankshaft to churn the oil too much. The resulting foam can impair its lubricating qualities and lead to the loss of oil.

When there's not enough oil, the reduced volume may not be able to handle contaminants and then deposits can build up. Also, low oil volume can cause the oil to overheat and greatly increase the rate of oil deterioration.

How to catch a fuel hog.

A notebook kept in a dry place near your fuel supply is all you need to find out if one of your tractors or trucks is guzzling too much fuel. Write the date, gallons, and time or mileage for each piece of equipment you fill up. Also list the jobs done—plowing, cultivating, etc. With this record, you can spot an engine that is becoming greedy and fix it before it wastes a lot of fuel.

XD-3™ engine oil can save you more than just fuel.

XD-3 heavy duty oil can reduce friction and wear in the engines of your trucks and tractors. And when friction is reduced, you can save fuel in both your gasoline and diesel engines.

And XD-3 15W-40 can also cut down on engine oil consumption. In fact, recent case histories show you can save up to 40% on the oil consumed with XD-3 15W-40 when compared to single-grade oils.

So if you want to save on engine wear, fuel and oil at the same time, ask your Exxon Farm Distributor about XD-3.
