Chamber prepares for Fall Fest

The Muenster Chamber of Commerce is planning a Fall Festival scheduled for Sept. 17 in the City Park.

"Operation Centennial Clean Sweep Kick-Off" will be the theme, with proceeds of these benefit activities dedicated to help beautify Muenster for the forthcoming Centennial year. Funds will be used to assist in the installation of the Centennial street light project, and help fund the Clean Sweep activities of the Keep Texas Beautiful Program. A day of family fun is in the making.

The City Park will open at noon on Saturday, Sept. 17. "Der Münster Spielen" (The Muenster Games), will be an afternoon and evening of games the whole family can enjoy. No gate admission will be charged for the games; games and refreshments will be moderately priced.

Games for the young and old are being planned, with new types of games being developed, to supplement historical activities.

A 50's and 60's dance is scheduled on the Texas Stage dance floor Saturday night with Johnny Reed and his popular Auto Fest 1987 band. Come as you are and enjoy the street dance under the stars from 8 p.m. to 12 midnight. An admission fee for the dance of $5.00 per person will be charged.

United Way meeting Sept. 7

The United Way meeting of special interest to Muenster will be held on Wednesday, Sept. 7, at 5 p.m. in the City Hall.

Mattie Swirczynski and members of the Muenster Park Board are division chairmen. They are hoping for the attendance of 30 willing helpers.

City Council adopts tax rate decrease, pursues landfill

The Muenster City Council adopted a tax rate decrease at Wednesday night's meeting. The 1988 tax rate for Muenster was $0.45 per $100.00 valuation. The 1989 rate will be $0.41767 per $100.00. The decreased rate is made possible by increased property valuation and tax base. Effectively, the city budget will increase by 3 percent to a total of $483,381.00. A proposal to include in that amount an employee pay raise of from 2 to 3 percent was rejected. That amount would have been taken from miscellaneous sources and would not have changed the total budget. City employees received a 5.5% raise last year after no increase the previous year. Councilman Aubry Tuggle opposed any raise, citing the economy. Councilwoman Pat Dennis favored a small increase rather than a larger one after 2 years. Councilman Willie Wimmer proposed no raise now but with a review later to see whether certain expenses or savings materialize which might allow a small employee raise. That proposal was adopted.

The Council also considered the Cooke County Appraisal District revised budget. They chose to table the budget which effectively accepts it. However, an agreement requested by the district to accept anticipated legal fees which would be passed through to taxing entities was rejected.

In other action the City Council: - Accepted a street paving project for Pecan Street between Sixth and Seventh Streets. This one-block section between Sacred Heart Cemetery and football field will be paved under agreement with Cooke County Precinct Four. The county will provide labor and equipment. Sacred Heart Parish will pay for materials. The city agreed to an oil and chip paving job under city supervision since this street is not considered a residential street.

- Accepted recommendation of the Park Board to allow use of the city baseball park for the Muenster Madness - Cystic Fibrosis Bike Rally to be held Oct. 1. The condition was included that a local organization must accept responsibility for running the event and cleaning up afterward. Organizers estimate that the rally will attract 2,000 riders and possibly 5,000 visitors to Muenster that day.

- Accepted recommendation of the Park Board to allow use of the city park for a Fall Festival sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce on Sept. 17.

Keep Texas Beautiful visits Muenster

The office of the Chamber of Commerce was filled with sounds of minds working enthusiastically this last Tuesday, as Keep Texas Beautiful officials from around the state met to plan strategy for a regional meeting which will be held Sept. 29 and 30 in Wichita Falls. Muenster was chosen for the planning meeting because of its central location in the North Texas Region of Keep Texas Beautiful.

Attending the meeting were: Martha Dollarhide, KTB Board member from Whitewright; Mary Lou Wolf, Burkburnett Chamber Beautification Committee; Marilyn Ruggles, Executive Director, Burkburnett C of C; Norma Crane, Public Information Officer and Coordinator of Wichita Falls Clean Country; and Marilyn Stafford, Wichita Falls County Chairman for KTB; and Gary Fisher, District Governor for KTB.

The meeting on Sept. 30 is designed to give people a head start in competing in the 1989 $700,000 award contest which Keep Texas Beautiful sponsors. The regional meeting is to assist interested communities in planning a local litter and beautification campaign which will work for their individual community. By planning a regional meeting and inviting mayors from only the Northwest quadrant of Texas, the communities in this area have a much better chance of winning in 1989 over all of the other regions of the state. Most regions don't get started in the program until after the first of the year.

Since KTB began the $700,000 award contest in 1986, over $155,000 has been won by communities in District No. 3 alone. Prior to Muenster winning in 1986, no other town in the entire region had ever won so much as a plaque. Keep Texas Beautiful has been promoting beautification in Texas since the early 70's, being assisted by the Texas Highway Department with landscaping funds beginning with the 1986 contest.

Mayors from towns as far south of Abilene, east to Sherman, and west and north to the Texas borders have been invited and encouraged to attend. With most towns facing a city dump crisis such as Muenster, recycling and waste management are important topics which will be discussed at the meeting. Incidentally, Muenster will be entering to win the contest for the 1989 contest during the Centennial year.

At the strategy meeting held this Tuesday, Martha Dollarhide announced that Gary Fisher had won the "Outstanding District Governor Award" for KTB. He was chosen from 24 districts over the state of Texas. The award was also announced at the annual convention of KTB in Corpus Christi on July 1.

Available land leads to progress

Community Lumber Co. is reaching from Muenster to Lindsay in developing land there for new homes and businesses. The project is called Community Estates Residential Subdivision.

"A couple of years ago we were furnishing materials for a home in Lindsay, and we were approached that there was a need for housing in Lindsay," said John Pagel of Community Lumber Co. "The property adjoining the home was available, we were interested, so we bought it."

The project began in January 1987 when the company bought two partials of land, one from Frank Haverkamp and Weldon Bezner and the other from Anna Woods. The property is bounded by Hwy. 82 on the north, Pecan and Bezner Streets on the east and south and FM 1199 on the west, with Haverkamp and Bezner keeping the western half of the highway frontage.

"We're always looking for opportunities, and this seemed to be a good opportunity," Pagel said recently. "Lindsay is well positioned in the county - close to Gainesville, the leading economic center of the county. Lindsay also has a good school system and a lot of other pluses going for it."

"We're real excited about the future of Lindsay and hope to be a part of it," he said.

After buying the property, the company's next move was to have the property surveyed and platted. Frontage on U.S. Highway 82 was set aside as commercial property, along with five lots on the east side of Pecan Street. The remaining property was platted into 26 residential lots of various dimensions.

"It's going to be first rate, a distinctive subdivision," Pagel

Lindsay youth killed Aug. 27

by Elaine Schad

A 26-year-old Dallas man has been arraigned for involuntary manslaughter, a third-degree felony, and on felony driving - while-intoxicated charges in connection with a Saturday auto accident which killed Lindsay High School Senior Quentin Lee Hoenig.

Timothy S. McInturff was transferred from Gainesville Memorial Hospital to the Cooke County Jail Monday afternoon, sheriff's officials said. Justice of the Peace Bill Freeman set bond at $5,000 on each count.

Quentin Lee Hoenig, 18, was killed instantly when a car driven by McInturff collided with his motorcycle around 11:40 p.m. about three miles west of Gainesville on U.S. Hwy. 82 near Weber Drive, officials said.

McInturff was driving the wrong way in the westbound lane when the accident occurred, officials said. Both Lindsay Police Chief Joe Reynolds and a truck driver attempted to warn and stop however, wasn't enough to stop McInturff from proceeding the wrong way before he hit Hoenig, said Freeman.

McInturff has had two prior DWI convictions, said Freeman. Results of toxicology tests are not yet available, but alcohol was a factor in the accident, he said.

Hoenig was returning home from his part-time job at the Golden Corral Restaurant in Gainesville when the accident occurred, officials said.

The accident was the second in Cooke County which occurred over the weekend. Authorities are continuing their search for a hit-and-run driver who struck and killed a 21-year-old Washington man Saturday morning.

Joseph Lloyd Bowen of Vancouver, Wash., was pronounced dead at the scene by Justice of the Peace Dorothy Smith. The accident occurred about four miles south of Gainesville on Hwy. 51. Officials estimated the time of Bowen's death as between 1 and 2 a.m. Saturday.

IT'S THE END of the first day of school at Sacred Heart as youngsters seek their buses for the ride home. Now it becomes doubly important for drivers of all vehicles to be alert to the presence of lots of little kids at various times of the day. Janie Hartman Photo

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

The national news media did not publicize this item, but it finally filtered out that Gov. Michael Dukakis signed an executive order that forbids the school children of Massachusetts from saying the Pledge of Allegiance to the U.S. Flag. You may ask, "Why did he do this?" One answer is: "The name of God is mentioned." Since Michael is a member of the American Civil Liberties Union, he is just following the line advocated by this body of people whose main motive for existence is to remove God from every vestige of American society and to release criminals from jail. To see just how well Michael does follow ACLU principles, read the July 1988 issue of Readers Digest. The name of the article is "Getting Away With Murder."

The ACLU was founded by a man who was an atheist and a communist; and according to him, God is the most detrimental force America has ever had to deal with. The mandate of the ACLU is to protect the rights of the criminal over the victim. When Jimmy Carter was President, he appointed 264 ACLU judges to the Federal bench. With this many judges turning criminals back to the streets, is it any wonder the war against crime is being lost? The ACLU is against capital punishment and so is Dukakis.

The ACLU is pushing the doctrine of humanism that says there are no absolutes - no right or wrong - each situation must be judged on its own merit. This doctrine is now showing up in our textbooks and is being taught in our public schools.

It has been our tradition since the founding of our country to worship and trust in God, but according to the ACLU all this has to change since our founding fathers were unenlightened. All the old values such as morals, honor, honesty, truthfulness and integrity must go. The history textbook authors omit the fact that America was founded by pilgrims looking for religious liberty; and if this rewriting of history continues, in 20 years that part of our heritage will be forgotten.

If you don't agree with the changes advocated by the ACLU, you might want to take a look at a courageous, God-fearing man named George Bush who, on the last night of the Republican Convention, proudly asked the audience to stand and recite with him the Pledge of Allegiance with the words, "This nation, under God," spoken with a firm resolve.

After contemplating this, perhaps you might want to send a message to Michael in November.

Sincerely,
Ann Scivally
Gainesville, Texas

To Whom It May Concern:

Someone asked me the other day if "Wie geht's?" was a proper phrase in German or not. Apparently, this person got in trouble when he used it in Germany. Why? I'll tell you.

First, let's make sure we all know what it means. "Wie geht's" literally translated means "How's it going?" but normally translated is "How are you?" The phrase is really three words: wie, geht, es, meaning how, goes, it. The hard part is the part left out quite often among people: the personal pronoun.

The complete phrase has two forms: familiar and formal. But then again, when addressing people in the German language, there is always that choice. What is the difference and what are the forms? I'll tell you.

Wie geht es Ihnen? This is the formal form. It is used when addressing someone you do not know, someone you hardly know, or someone in a supervisory position over you, or things like this. It is not a distancing maneuver between people. Some people are very good friends, yet still address each other formally.

Wie geht's dir? Here, we have a contraction and a lower case pronoun. It's the familiar form. This is the "What's hap'nin'?" and "What's goin' down?" form. Family members use it; close friends use it; children use it amongst themselves; etc.

The only difference in "dir" and "Ihnen" is the familiar and the formal. In English, we don't have that. We would always say "How are you?" And therein lies the rub, when an American might go up to a German and out of the blue blurt out "Wie geht's?" It just isn't done that way, and chances are, they just might tell you, albeit politely.

Officials promote political tickets

If past elections are any indication of how Muenster voters will go in November's presidential election, things don't look good for the Dukakis-Bentsen ticket.

Since 1940, Democratic presidential tickets have won Muenster approval only twice. Franklin D. Roosevelt edged out Republican opponent Thomas Dewey in a 174-148 turnout here in 1944. John F. Kennedy, a Democrat and Catholic, won a 484-267 contest in 1960 against Richard Nixon.

Another fact making a Republican victory in Muenster more likely is the fact that Vice President George Bush defeated Sen. Lloyd Bentsen here in his unsuccessful 1970 bid for the U.S. Senate. Muenster's vote was 348 for Bush, 249 in favor of Bentsen.

Bill Sullivant, Cooke County Democratic Chairman, claimed that this campaign's Democratic ticket could draw more Muenster votes because of candidate appeal.

"Governor Dukakis is a strong leader. Bush doesn't come across with such a strong personality," Sullivant said Friday. "Dukakis has a good record for having turned around the economy of Massachusetts. Cooke County's economy, including Muenster, has been depressed. Dukakis' ability to positively affect the economy is something Muenster voters will consider."

Bentsen will help the ticket here, too, he said.

"Senator Bentsen has been one of the foremost advocates of legislation that would be helpful to the oil industry," he said. "He's a conservative Democrat."

Sullivant said that it was too early in the campaign to predict how Cooke County will vote.

But Debbie Hess, Cooke County Republican Chairman, said most people tend to vote for a party's platform rather than the candidates.

"I've never heard anyone say they'll vote for or against a person just because he's from Texas," Hess said Monday.

"And some people say that they're voting to get some changes. They need to remember what things were like eight years ago, with worse unemployment rates and inflation," she said.

Among major election issues that Hess thinks will cause Muenster voters to side with the Republicans are the Republican ticket's opposition to abortion and gun control and its support of peace through military strength.

She predicted that the Republicans easily would carry Muenster in November.

Muenster's closest presidential election since 1940 was the Dewey/Roosevelt contest of 1944. The biggest blowout elections were Dwight D. Eisenhower's 1956 victory over Democratic candidate Adlai Stevenson, 658 votes to 80 votes; and Ronald Reagan's 1984 victory over Walter Mondale, 1,027 votes to 124 votes. Twenty years ago, Muenster came out to support Republican Richard Nixon with 547 votes, Democrat Hubert Humphrey with 191 votes and American Independent Party nominee George Wallace with 133.

Lindsay utility rates to increase

by Elaine Schad

The Town of Lindsay is requesting that the Public Utilities Commission allow them to raise water and sewer rates an estimated 15 to 20 percent.

The rate increases are needed to make repairs and upgrade the systems, and to bring prices in line with those that similar-sized cities are charging, said Mayor Don Metzler. Should the PUC approve the increases, they could take affect as early as the September billing, he said. The city is also restructuring its dumping fees.

The basic charge for both services will rise from the current $7.50 per month to $9 per month. The $9 fee includes a $5 per month charge for basic water usage, up from $4, and $4 for sewer, up from $3.50.

In addition to the basic charge, commercial users will be charged $1 per thousand for from 2,000 to 10,000 gallons of water used, and $1.25 per thousand for use in excess of 10,000 gallons. After the basic fee, commercial sewer customers will be charged 25 cents per thousand for use in excess of 3,000 gallons.

Dumping fees will also change. City residents will be charged $1 to $5 per load depending upon vehicle size. Those using the dump must show a driver's license and water stub as proof of city residency.

People living outside the city limits may still use the dump, but will be charged from $5 to $15 per load. The new rates will take effect Sept. 1.

In a related matter, the council has voted to proceed with some renovations to the water system to remain in compliance with Texas Water Commission standards. The city had contracted with Wortham and Associates to oversee the installation of a weir box and an effluent flow metering device. Total cost is estimated at $7,000. Project bids should be let at the September meeting.

NOTICE!

There will be no garbage pickup on Monday, Sept. 5, due to the Labor Day Holiday. Garbage trucks will run both routes on Tuesday, Sept. 6.

Westfest on Labor Day

Westfest is an annual Czech festival held on Saturday and Sunday of Labor Day Weekend in the small community of West, Texas, located 17 miles north of Waco on I-35.

The first Westfest, held in 1976, was organized to preserve the Czechoslovakian heritage of the community and to raise funds for community projects. Funding from Westfest enabled the city to purchase land for future development, construct a ballpark, and build a community center which is used by the Senior Citizens. Westfest has also donated money to organizations such as Sokol, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Czech Folk Dancers, West High School Band, Summer Baseball Program, West Library Association, Ambulance Association, Westfest Scholarship Program and others.

Six bands play each day at Westfest and folk dancers from around the country perform. The music is predominantly Czech featuring polkas and waltzes. There are also exhibitions by the Sokol gymnasts. Twenty-eight food booths feature a variety of foods to appease almost any appetite, beer gardens to quench a thirst, and almost 100 arts and crafts booths to browse through. There is also a children's area with games, rides and supervision.

This festival draws thirty to forty thousand people each year with most attendees coming from within the surrounding five state area. On Friday night a street dance beginning with the Miss Westfest contest officially opens the festival. A parade is held on Saturday morning at 10:30 a.m. and a 5000 meter run is scheduled for Sunday morning. Horseshoe tournaments are held each day. The festival grounds open at 11 a.m. both days.

Admission is $3.00 for adults and $1.00 for children. Free shuttle buses run throughout the day from downtown West to the festival grounds.

Services held for Quentin Hoenig, 18

Mass of Christian Burial was held Tuesday, Aug. 30, for Quentin Lee Hoenig, 18, of Lindsay, who was killed Saturday in a motorcycle accident three miles west of Gainesville on Hwy. 82.

Celebrant was Rev. Cletus Post, O.S.B., pastor. Burial was in St. Peter's Cemetery in Lindsay. Rosary was recited on Monday at Geo. J. Carroll & Son Funeral Home in Gainesville.

Quentin Hoenig was born March 18, 1970 in Muenster, the son of Raymond and Cecilia Neu Hoenig. He attended Lindsay schools and was to begin his senior year this week. He was a member of the Lindsay Knights varsity football team, was vice-president of the Lindsay Chapter of Future Farmers of America, and was a member of St. Peter's Catholic Church.

He is survived by his parents, Raymond and Cecilia Hoenig of Lindsay; three brothers, Aaron Hoenig of College Station, Mark and John Hoenig of the home; three sisters, Carla Hoenig of Denton; Collette Bayer of Muenster, and Gretchen Hoenig of the home; paternal grandfather, Joe Hoenig of Muenster; maternal grandmother, Ida Neu of Lindsay; one niece; and his fiancée, Erin Ryan of Moss Lake.

Pallbearers were Jim Bayer, Dale Hermes, Donald Neu, Gene Hermes, Tim Bindel and Curtis Hoenig. Honorary pallbearers were the Lindsay Knights football team.

COUNCIL

Reviewed and approved monthly bills incurred by the city totaling $37,722.93.

Revealed that application had been made Monday to the state for use of a site on J.D. Fleitman land for a sanitary landfill.

Walt Klement asked why the Grady McElreath site was no good. Mayor Ted Henscheid said the State Health Department declared the soil too permeable. Klement then asked if the Fleitman site was actually opened, who would make the decision when to cover the trash. The mayor replied, "We will, Walt, you and I." Klement then asked how the site selection had been made and why it was kept so quiet. City Manager Joe Fenton replied that the City had to look for proper soil type and high ground elevation. He added, "We were not secretive about the selection. We were the ones who took the initiative to notify the neighbors in the area and called Dave Flusche Sr. first. We intended to continue to notify all neighbors ourselves but after the first call, they all knew about it. We went to the landowners first. We were not secretive."

Klement asked if it was true that Hermie Grewing's land was available and if so why not go there? "Was it more expensive?" he asked. Mayor Henscheid replied, "Honestly, that is what the executive session is for tonight. We're going to consider it."

The open meeting adjourned to meet in executive session.

PROGRESS

"Having the entire project already platted and recorded eliminates any consumer worry. Someone who wants to buy a lot already knows each lot location, its size and how the project will be when completed."

Company owners gained approval for the preliminary plat from the Lindsay City Building and Ordinance Committee, which was then approved by the Lindsay City Council. From this plat, they installed the sewer and water systems and a new street. The Lindsay City Council this summer granted final approval for the subdivision.

Pagel said the block, when completed, will have curbed and paved streets and underground electricity and telephone cables. The homes built there may be either speculation homes or custom-made, depending upon Lindsay's market.

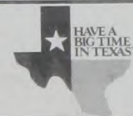

"Ideally, we'd like to work with each individual owner - build his dream home to his exact likes and dislikes," he said.

Potential buyers have made inquiries about the lots, although the company is not ready to sell yet, Pagel said. "The complete installation of utilities is expected within the next 60 days or so and at that time we expect to be selling," he said.

Local contractors working on the project include Joe Geray of Lindsay and Sylvester Bohmann of Bohmann Construction in Gainesville.

MRS. STANLEY JOSEPH HESS
...nee Tonya Rose Fisher...

Fisher, Hess exchange vows

The wedding of Tonya Rose Fisher and Stanley Joseph Hess was held on Saturday, Aug. 20, at 5 p.m. in Sacred Heart Church, with the Nuptial Mass and double ring ceremony officiated by Father Victor Gillespie O.S.B.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis R. (Butch) Fisher of Muenster; and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Louis Hess of Lindsay.

The bride is a 1985 graduate of Muenster High School and is a junior attending Midwestern State University in Wichita Falls majoring in Education. She is employed by Fischer's Market as a cashier.

The groom is a graduate of Lindsay High School and is employed by Metzler's Paint and Body Shop.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was wearing a formal bridal gown designed with five tiers of Chantilly lace over winter white satin, rounded neckline edged with a double lace ruffle; long lace sleeves with matching lace ruffle and a chapel length train trimmed in lace scallops.

Her fingertip, layered veil was attached to a pearl tiara headpiece.

She wore a treasured gold cross and chain given to her great-grandfather by his father. It was also worn by the bride's mother on her wedding day.

Her bridal bouquet was a cluster of three large proteas with peach throats, a cascade of stephanotis, mini-carnations and English ivy, with delicate pearl sprays.

ATTENDANTS

Le Ann Sicking of Muenster, a friend of the bride, was maid of honor. Janie Fisher and Gail Fisher, sisters of the bride, and Sandra Hess of Lindsay, sister of the groom, were bridesmaids.

They wore tea-length teal satin dresses with pointed, dropped waistlines; sweetheart necklines; scooped back trimmed with a bow; three-quarter length fitted sleeves with a gathered insert.

They carried European-style bouquets centered with one large peach rubrum lily, with three sprays of peach butterfly flower tendrils nestled in peach tulle bows. Their headpieces were peach butterfly tendrils and pearl sprays with narrow peach ribbons.

Megan Lippe of Muenster, cousin of the bride, was flower girl and Gregory Gilbreath of Gainesville, nephew of the groom, was ring bearer.

Donald Neu of Lindsay, a friend of the groom, was his best man. Todd Fisher of Muenster, bride's brother, and Randy Hess and Danny Hess of Lindsay, both brothers of the groom, were groomsmen.

Ushers were Steven Fisher of Muenster, bride's brother, Ronnie Fisher of Wichita Falls, bride's cousin, Greg Hess of Gainesville, groom's cousin, and Craig Stofels of Muenster, groom's cousin.

Mass servers were Michael Gehrig, groom's cousin, and Brandon Bayer, bride's friend.

Readings for the wedding liturgy were given by Julie Fisher. The Offertory gifts were carried to the altar by the bride's godparents, Polly and Clyde Fisher, and by the groom's godparents, Virginia and Wilfred Hess. Eucharistic ministers were Paul and Dorothy Fisher; James and Theresa Walterscheid; Roger and Jane Taylor; and Chuck Bartush Jr.

The bride presented a peach rose to her mother before the ceremony and another to the groom's mother before the recessional.

Wedding music was presented by organist Ruth Felderhoff, including Pachabel, Canon in D; Thornbirds; Chariots of Fire; with keyboard accompanist, Anne Poole. Vocalists were Christy Hesse and Eric Gray. Selections were "Come Journey With Me," "Somewhere, My Love," "All I Ask of You," "Rainbow," "The Rose," "Edelweiss," "Love Lift Us Up," and "Song of Ruth."

When the couple placed a rose on the Blessed Virgin altar, Eileen Fisher, mother of the bride, sang, "Hail Mary" with organ accompaniment by Janice Bayer.

Altar decorations were arrangements of gladioli, tulips, peonies and fountain lilies. Peach floral arrangements were placed on side altars. Family pews were marked with peach and white bows.

RECEPTION

A reception, dinner and dance followed in the Sacred Heart Community Center. Dinner was catered by Rohmer's Restaurant and dance music was provided by Marty Bartlett of Lindsay.

Laurie Fisher, cousin of the bride, presided at the bride's book, registering 460 guests at a table draped with a lace cloth, and holding a heart-shaped decorated wedding invitation; and a decorated basket with peach and teal satin rosettes with birdseed and potpourri; and a portfolio of wedding candid.

The table for the wedding party was covered with a lace cloth with peach net overlay, and peach flowers, peach and teal hearts with peach loveknots. A pair of heart-shaped candelabra and plant arrangements, and cascading votive candles, graced the head table.

All table and reception decorations were made by Aileen Knabe.

Guest tables were covered with white cloths and held heart-shaped bells with cherubs, peach flowers and bows. Hurricane candle holders were nested in lace and peach candle rings.

The three-tiered fountain wedding cake and the chocolate groom's cake were cut by Betty Rose Walterscheid. Reception assistants were Robin Hess, groom's sister-in-law; Laurie Fisher, Julie Fisher, Sally Fisher, Maggie Fisher, Jennifer Lippe and Lisa Lippe, all cousins of the bride; and Melanie and Kathy Orsburn, nieces of the groom.

Guests attended from Wichita Falls, Denton, Sherman, Montgomery, Bedford, Paradise, Conroe, Gainesville, Montague, Saint Jo, Rosston, Forestburg, Dallas, Lindsay, Austin, Buda, Muenster and Oklahoma.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by parents of the couple, at The Center Restaurant on Aug. 18, for attendants and grandparents of the couple, John J. and Edith Hess of Lindsay and Margaret Fisher of Muenster and Ruth and John Ward of Conroe. After dinner, they went to the Butch Fisher home to view the gift display, to visit and to swim.

Since returning from a wedding trip to San Antonio, the couple is at home in Gainesville.

Video cassette course to be offered by parish

A video cassette course, "Healing the Eight Stages of Life," will be offered this fall in a Sacred Heart parish adult education program.

The video cassettes feature Father Matthew Linn, S.J., and Father Dennis Linn, S.J., and Sheila Fabricant, M. Div., who work together as a team, integrating physical, emotional, and spiritual healing through their writings and retreats. They have taught courses on healing in many countries and universities for such diverse groups as religious communities, ecumenical congregations and medical personnel. All three are members of the Association of Christian Therapists, and serve on the Board of Editors of the Journal of Christian Healing.

They teach that "All of us have experienced times when we react to people or have irrational fears due to traumatic or bad experiences in our past. At times we also suffer the effects of unresolved resentments and hurts through physical ailments and emotional pain. How can we be freed from these effects from our past? One way to deal with them is through prayer. As we go back with The Lord to these painful times, He who is beyond time can heal us and set us free. We can also be set free by absorbing the love we experienced in the positive events of our past."

This is the premise of the video cassette course, "Healing the Eight Stages of Life." Prayer is incorporated into each stage by the authors.

Barbara Fuhrmann, director of religious education, will facilitate the six-weeks course that will meet on Thursday evenings, 7 to 9 p.m., beginning on Sept. 22.

Interested persons are invited to call Sacred Heart Church, 759-2511, and leave name, address and phone number. A $10.00 donation is acceptable but is not requested.

SH faculty participates in in-service

The Sacred Heart School faculty completed a week of intensive in-service training prior to the opening of school on Aug. 29. Last Monday, the In-Service Week began with the new principal, Jack Murdock, establishing the theme for the year, "Expectations." He pointed out that a vast amount of research data supports the concept that high expectations result in high achievements while low expectations result in low achievements.

Murdock emphasized close communication with parents, helping children succeed and supporting one another with the group's wide variety of skills, experience and talents.

The afternoon session was devoted to a series of seminars led by teachers utilizing materials provided by the principal. Key topics included developing an effective learning climate, individual motivators for individual action, increasing motivation, effective teaching strategies and low profile classroom controls focusing student attention directly on lesson content without unnecessary distractions.

On Wednesday, the teachers in the elementary school attended a workshop at St. Maria Goretti's in Arlington, focusing on how to teach reading more effectively led by Sr. Gabriel, Associate Supt. of the Fort Worth Diocese.

Thursday, the faculty went on a retreat to the home of Charles Bartush Sr. The retreat was led by Sr. St. John Begound, who teaches English at Tarrant County Community College and the University of Dallas. Working in small groups, she helped the faculty focus on the role of a teacher who develops a caring environment for students by modeling that behavior. A strong sense of unity and mutual commitment to develop a positive, child-centered environment evolved from that retreat.

Many teachers expressed a sense of renewal as a result of the day-long retreat. One teacher commented that "this was the first in-service experience that was fun." The faculty put in a week of hard work preparing for the opening of school. They reviewed effective educational methods, defining the spiritual climate to be achieved, and developing a unified, caring spirit among the faculty in order to provide both the skills and environment to help children be successful.

Three fly to South America for ordination

Katie Swirczynski, her son Virgil Swirczynski and grandson Michael Swirczynski flew to Quito, Ecuador, South America on Monday, Aug. 22, to attend the ordination to the priesthood of Jose Cornelio Rodriguez. He is the Seminarian sponsored and paid for by Katie Swirczynski and her late husband Herman. She said, "It costs only $1,000 to pay for a young man's education to the priesthood in that country. I would like to tell others about this."

Mrs. Swirczynski related: "We left Dallas at 7 a.m. Monday, Aug. 22, on American Airlines to Miami, changed there to Eastern Airlines which took us to Quito, Ecuador, where the secretary of the Monastery met us at the airport and took us to our motel."

"Tuesday morning we left the city at 5:45 a.m., drove 50 miles over mountainous curves, which took us five hours."

"The monastery is on an Indian Reservation, or 'territory,' where Jose was ordained in a small church at 11 a.m."

"I was so surprised during the Mass, when the congregation sang 'Glory, Glory, Alleluia,' just as we do, except that it was in Spanish."

"This is the place where Jose will be stationed as pastor ... (He offered his First Mass in his hometown on Saturday, Aug. 27)..."

"After the ordination, we were guests at a wonderful meal served to the public in what seemed to us to be a school cafeteria."

"Two bands played music all day long. Sometimes the people danced. Imagine my surprise when Jose asked me to dance!"

"On Wednesday morning, my son and grandson and I were ready to start home, but our plane was overbooked. The next day our plane was due to leave at 7 a.m., when repairs were needed and had to be flown over from the United States. Then at 8:30 p.m. that night, we finally got to start home. Everyone by that time was getting a bit perturbed."

"We had a two-hour layover in another city, finally landed in Miami Airport at 3 a.m. Saturday morning; left Miami at 9 a.m. and arrived at DFW at 11 a.m."

"We all feel we had many exciting times and a most pleasant vacation."

Sutton Reunion held

On Aug. 21, 1988, the descendants and relatives of Neverson Green Sutton and Callie Walker Sutton met together for the annual Sutton Reunion. One hundred, twelve relatives and eleven friends attended the Sunday luncheon at the Ross Point Community Center near Rosston, Texas. Family members traveled from Oklahoma, Louisiana, Colorado and cities throughout Texas to be at the event.

Green and Callie Sutton raised a family of nine children and three orphans in Prairie Point, Texas. He was a farmer and also owned the cotton gin. Numerous descendants still reside in the Rosston/Prairie Point area.

The reunion originated more than 50 years ago when the families would gather each summer on Green's farm to celebrate his birthday.

Special guests this year were Ardie Sutton and his daughter from Denver, Colo. and his niece, Ginny Safar, Nederland, Texas. These are descendants of Green's brother, Bill. Also attending for the first time were two sons of Ellie Sutton Workman, a sister of Green.

Fred and Peachie Ford of New Deal, Texas have worked hard through the years to see that the reunion continues successfully. They carefully monitor and record descendants and send birthday cards and reunion invitations to hundreds of family members each year.

For 1989, the Sutton Reunion will be held on the first Sunday of October at the Ross Point Community Center. All descendants and friends are welcome to attend.

Church welcomes two more

The Forestburg United Methodist Church is very proud and happy to welcome Imogene and Joe Evans Sr. as new members to their congregation.

Forestburg has many businesses indicating progress

Upon reflecting of all the things available in the 'Burg area, well, it sorta adds up. We have a lady, Mrs. Wesley E. (Rula) Willis that does custom baking - and she is good at it, too - no need to go out of the area for this. There is the Forestburg Card & Gift Shop - many lovely things to purchase there. We have a TV, VCR, etc. repairman. Terry Landers has his woodwork shop; Mary Jo Eldridge sells a beautiful line of jewelry; Debra Dill has her beauty shop plus D's Enterprises (has beautiful T-shirts and T-shirt dresses for sale). Debra also has a good line of skin care products as does Bula Mae Berry. Marion and Howard Sockwell have a ceramics business - they make and sell 'em plus give lessons. Also there is a young gent in the snow cone business and think he is doing right well for himself - I've indulged and found them very tasty and refreshing. However, as I've said several times before: Forestburg sure could use a nice little cafe.

Of course, there is Dill's Garage and Service Station plus Landers Enterprises plus the Forestburg Country Store.

If you are looking for a place to worship, there are the Forestburg United Methodist Church, First Baptist Church and the Church of Christ plus the Nazarene Church of Prairie Point. All will welcome you with open arms.

Decatur firemen praised for work

by Elaine Schad

While the thought has always been in the back of their minds since they moved their auto parts and repair business from Muenster more than 50 years ago, the Flusche families of Decatur have never had to deal with any major emergency from being located right by a major railroad and four major oil company storage areas. Until last Friday, that is.

Quick action by Wise County emergency personnel averted a potential disaster early last Friday when a gasoline storage tank erupted into flames just a block from the Flusche shop, located at the 200 block of Bus. 81 on the east side of town. A six-block area was evacuated for about seven hours while firefighters fought flames that shot more than 50 feet in the air.

Jerry Flusche, who co-owns Flusche Co. Inc. with his brother James, was driving to work about 7 a.m., still a little dark, and was the first to spot the fire.

"I saw a bobtail truck with a fire behind it, so I tried to honk to stop him," Jerry said. "I got two blocks farther down and noticed the fire wasn't on the truck, but was going up to the top of the tank. The fire was spreading just as fast as you can imagine."

Firefighters used about 350 gallons of foam and a lot of water to contain the blaze, which virtually destroyed the Long Oil Co. storage tanks. The company is presently improvising using portable tanks, Flusche said. Officials think the fire began when a line from a bobtail gasoline transport truck to the storage tanks was still attached when it pulled away from the loading dock.

A pretty tense moment came when a train happened upon the scene before anyone had a chance to stop it. "It went right through while the fire was burning, and it had chemical cars," Flusche said. "You should have seen everybody scatter."

While the people in the shop itself didn't have to evacuate, it was a miracle there weren't further explosions, officials said. The fire was so intense, it darkened the faces of firefighters and melted a good deal of metal on an oil transport truck located just behind the storage tank. Officials said it was the worst fire in Wise County in at least 25 years, and praised local volunteer and other emergency units for their quick efforts.

A former volunteer fireman, Flusche said he realizes there's always a chance something like the fire Friday could happen with so many oil storage tanks sitting just down the road from the shop. "But then you could drive down the road and get hit by a car. You just can't spend your life worrying about it," he said.

The Flusches celebrated their 50th anniversary at their Decatur business last year. Jerry and James' father, Cooney Flusche, sold out their Muenster business in 1937 and moved to Decatur with two of his brothers, Al and Lawrence Flusche.

SH shows improvement

Tigers battle Era Friday night at 8 p.m.

A respectable crowd was on hand to support the Tigers Thursday night; however, that didn't appear to be enough as the Bulldogs managed to cross the goal line twice, while Sacred Heart failed to score. The Tigers' second team gave up one touchdown. Alford dropped down from Class AA with a 6-3-1 record last season.

Offensively, Alford's varsity moved the ball all over the field with little avail, gaining 15 first downs to the home team's 6.

Coach John Sims was real pleased with the effort of the team. "Ryan Bayer played an outstanding linebacker," said Sims, "and I was impressed with Curt (Bayer) and Darrell (Dangelmayr)." The coach also thought the younger kids played as well as they did against Collinsville.

In Sacred Heart's first session of 20 plays, four first downs were made, but drives were stopped by an interception and two fumbles.

Alford finished their first 22 plays with 20 first downs and 2 touchdowns.

In the Tigers' second set of plays, only 2 first downs were made, while the defense buckled up and allowed the Bulldogs only 5 first downs and no touchdowns.

The second teams played one session with Alford hitting pay dirt once. The Tiger defense held their opponents to 4 first downs while completing 3.

The Tiger offense lost three fumbles and one interception.

Shawn Dangelmayr picked off an Alford pitch.

Curt Bayer was the Tigers' leading rusher, gaining 61 yards in 12 carries. Glen Swirczynski carried 10 times for 33 yards and Darrell Dangelmayr added 2.

Chad Fleitman completed a pass for 15 yards, 1 of 5 attempts.

In the scrimmage, Coach Sims stated that they accomplished what the team and coaches wanted to do and found out where the boys belong.

Sacred Heart will host the Era Hornets Friday night at 8 p.m. on Tiger Field. In last year's opening at Era, the Tigers surprised the Hornets with a 41-14 swatting. Sims is "looking forward to playing Era."

The Tiger team picked up two additional players, sophomore Jon Schilling and freshman Scott Hennigan.

Tony Grewing is the only injured player, out for a couple more weeks.

Hornets meet Pirates for 1988 debut

Kickoff in Collinsville Friday at 8 p.m.

The 1988 Big Red team will mark its 40th campaign this season by rekindling last season's final game rivalry with the Collinsville Pirates. In last year's season finale, the Pirates held off the Hornets' last ditch rally for a 17-14 district win, propelling the 5-5 Pirates to their first playoff appearance. Muenster finished 3-7, but both teams are dramatically improved and returning eight starters on either side of the ball.

Collinsville moved the ball well against Sacred Heart to the tune of a 3-0 scrimmage win, and played Temple Christian, 12-2 a year ago, to a 0-1 scrimmage count. The Pirates are led by senior John Green, a standout in the NTSBL, and transfer Alvin Childress who has been impressive at fullback.

On the homefront, the Hornets looked better last Friday against the highly touted Howe Bulldogs. Coming up short by a 2-1 count, the Big Red displayed a gritty defense, and an offense capable of the big play. Despite numerous penalties, the Hornets struck quickly for their score when James Hennigan went 60 yards with a screen pass to the Bulldog 12-yard line. Scot Vogel rang up the score from 6 yards out.

The Bulldogs struck paydirt twice on long passes. Both TDs came on first down plays and the first coming on the opening play of the scrimmage.

"We came away from the scrimmage happy," said Hornet mentor Bill Jump. "The kids were aggressive, didn't give up a long drive, and came back to score. Mental errors were still a problem, especially the penalties, but the scrimmages are to work the kinks out. We should be prepared for the real thing at Collinsville."

Keith Klement, Donnie Boydston and J. Shane Wimmer were cited for their aggressive hitting and the play of Troy Pagel, Bobby Don Thornhill and Marshall Smith was improved from the Chico contest.

The Hornets will kick off at 8 p.m. in Collinsville Friday night. The MHS Band will perform at halftime and wishes the '88 Hornets BEST OF LUCK!

Koelzer signs with Houston Baptist

Sacred Heart's Molly Koelzer signed a track letter of intent to attend the Houston Baptist University. Koelzer selected Houston Baptist over UTA, North Texas and TCU. "We're excited about Molly joining our program," said an elated Coach Bibb. "We feel Molly will make a big impact to our program." Koelzer is expected to run cross-country this fall in preparation for the indoor track season followed by the outdoor season.

Koelzer is perhaps Cooke County's finest female trackster. Her school records include: 12.4-100, 26.3-200, 58.3-400 and 2:22-800. Houston Baptist, a Division I school, is in the Trans-America Conference. Koelzer is the second Sacred Heart Tigerette to sign with a Division I school this year. Vicki Walterscheid earlier signed a basketball letter of intent with Sam Houston State University.

Orthodontist opens satellite office in Muenster

Dr. R. John Nelson has become Muenster's first orthodontist by bringing his practice here one day each month.

"Over the years I have treated a lot of patients from the Muenster, Saint Jo and Forestburg areas," Nelson said Monday. "That's part of the reason I moved here."

Nelson has practiced orthodontics in Denton for 22 years. He earned his dental degree in 1962 from Baylor College of Dentistry, and returned to that university four years later to earn his graduate orthodontics degree.

He comes to Muenster on the afternoon of the third Monday of every month. In June he opened his satellite office in the office of Dr. Chris Bean, while continuing to be based in Denton.

"It's working fine so far," he said.

Nelson brings with him necessary orthodontic instruments and supplies to use in Bean's office. Wanda Sparks, his receptionist, and Dorothy Wakefield, chairside assistant, also come. Patients can call for appointments without referral from a dentist, he said.

"More and more smaller communities are being served by the dental specialties," he said.

Orthodontics is a dental specialty that primarily deals with straightening of the teeth.

FARM AND RANCH NEWS

Before feeding livestock...

Test drought-damaged corn

DALLAS - A toxin-producing fungus which attacks drought-stressed feed grains is causing contamination in some corn supplies intended for dairy and livestock feeds.

Tommy White, a dairy specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, has cautioned producers to beware of aflatoxin contamination, particularly in corn, for the duration of the drought. The problem could affect other feed grains as well.

"Dairy producers must be the most cautious," said White. "The level of aflatoxin legally allowed in corn fed to cows - 20 parts per billion - is much lower than permissible levels for other livestock."

In addition, dairy cows, as well as young livestock, are more adversely affected by aflatoxin, said White. He said the animals suffer loss of appetite and weight, and may develop liver lesions.

"Aflatoxin levels of just 450 parts per billion can kill a calf and will cause decreased milk production in dairy cows within three to four weeks," said White.

Feed companies have been alerted to the potential contamination and are screening their corn stocks, said White. However, he suggested that producers double-check all corn, whether it's purchased or homegrown.

"Small, stunted ears and dusty grain kernels are signs of corn with a potential aflatoxin problem," said White. "A blacklight test can be used to detect contamination but chemical analysis is necessary to determine the aflatoxin level."

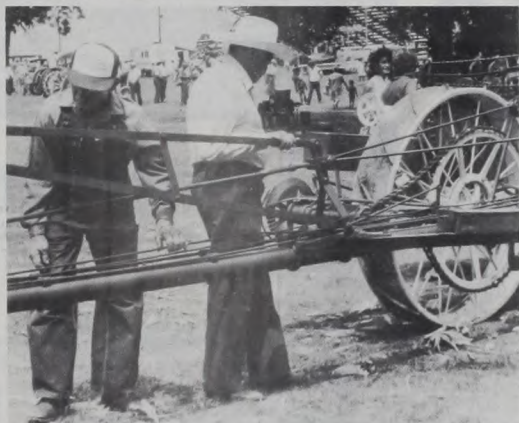

Contaminated corn shows a greenish-yellow fluorescence under a blacklight in a darkened room, explained White. If dairy producers buy a pre-mixed ration, they should make sure it is guaranteed aflatoxin-free, he advised.

White also noted that farmers who have corn ruined by aflatoxin may be eligible for federal disaster payments. These farmers should inquire for more information at their local county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) offices.

County Agent's Report

by Craig Rosenbaum

On Thursday, Aug. 11, 1988 the USDA released major reports on U.S. crop production and U.S. crop supply and demand conditions as of Aug. 1, 1988.

Weather and Crop Condition

As July began, crops were suffering from the severe drought reaching from the Rocky Mountain states eastward across the corn belt and into the Southwest. As mid-month approached, the weather patterns began to shift and rains were falling across the drought area. However, the abnormally high temperatures resumed in the later part of the month in much of the northern Great Plains putting crops under more stress and negating much of any benefit received from the earlier rains.

Feedgrains

During July, corn was considered mostly fair to poor. The first regular forecast of the 1988 corn crop for grain was set at 4.48 billion bushels, down from the July estimate of 5.2 billion bushels. This estimate is 37 percent below the 87/88 crop and 46 percent below the 86/87 crop. The average yield is forecast 78.5 bushels per acre, down 40.9 bushels from last year's record high of 119.4 bushels per acre. Expected acreage harvested for grain was estimated at 57.1 million acres, down 4 percent from 1987 and down 4 percent from the July estimate due to drought losses.

Sorghum production for 1988 was forecast at 561 million bushels, down 24 percent from 1987. Area for harvest was estimated at 9.0 million acres, down 15 percent from last year.

Oats production for 1988 was forecast at 206 million bushels, down 45 percent from last year.

Barley production is forecast at 288 million bushels, down 1 percent from the July estimate, and 45 percent below last year.

The entire feed grain complex has been affected by the widespread drought. Both yields and acreage have been greatly reduced.

Wheat

Total production is forecast at 1.82 billion bushels, down 13 percent from 1987 and at the lowest level since 1978. The average yield was forecast at 34.4 bushels per acre, 3.2 bushels below 1987. Harvested acreage was forecast at 59.2 million acres, down 5 percent from 1987. These reductions were largely due to a drought-reduced spring wheat crop.
