'Fest brings more crowds, less money

Although attendance at Germanfest '88 was up almost 1,000 people from last year, gross revenues to the Muenster Chamber of Commerce were down about $5,000.

These findings were part of a financial report compiled by the Chamber staff and presented to the general membership of the group at its luncheon Tuesday. Dick Ferber, Chamber executive director, said the report took since Germanfest, seven weeks ago, to assemble because of incoming bills from the event.

"The gate receipts are up about 1,000 people over last year, but I guess people just aren't spending as much," Ferber said Tuesday. "The economy just wasn't there."

Ferber said he figured total attendance at the Fest to be 52,000 people. He arrived at this figure by adding the number of paid gate admissions, the number of worker/entertainer passes, children passes, Fun Run and Bike Rally participants and the "Fudge Factor" - estimated number of those who sneak in the park.

The Chamber's gross revenue of $92,935 was down from $97,623 in 1987. Net expenses of $62,590, however, were up $9,272 from last year.

"The message we're trying to get across to people is how much of the Germanfest money stays in Muenster and turns over," Ferber said. "Almost half of what we spent (47 percent) was paid to Muenster businesses while 28 percent more went to other businesses in Cooke County."

Most of the increased expenses are due to one-time purchases that will not be made in future years, Ferber said. These expenses include construction of a dancefloor in the road near the west stage and a tickethouse and purchases of electrical supplies.

In gross retail sales (concessions and beer sales), Muenster businesses and organizations brought in $156,156, which is 85 percent of the total sales. Businesses from outside Muenster brought in $28,307. Of the 35 concession booths, 21 were set up by Muenster people. All 22 arts and crafts booths were run by people from other cities.

"We're very close to reaching a peak down there," he said. "I just don't see how we could expand anymore at the park."

The most frequent complaint Germanfest '88 officials heard from the event was a shortage of restrooms, he said.

"Problems this year were minimal," Ferber said. "Everyone said this was the best year in the way of law enforcement."

Suggestions for improvements next year are encouraging more local participation in vending, more activities for young children and making things more clear with signs.

The fact that 1989 is Muenster's centennial year will play a big part in promotion of next year's Germanfest, he said. Muenster's king and queen, or könig und königin, will reign over the event.

Public meeting set for Red River Bridge

Community leaders from the city, Chamber of Commerce and Industrial Board gathered at the Chamber of Commerce meeting room for a special called meeting to discuss the Red River Bridge project.

Texas Highway Department official Dale Cantrell was present to announce that a date and location have been set by the highway dept. for a public meeting to gather public opinion on the project. That meeting will take place from 4 to 6 p.m. on July 26 at the Saint Jo School auditorium. The auditorium is located at 306 Evans Street, about two blocks south of U.S. Hwy 82.

Official public notice will be printed in area newspapers of both Texas and Oklahoma in future weeks. This will be the only public meeting on the subject.

Cantrell explained that although nothing is final, the Oklahoma Department of Transportation is favoring a bridge over the Red River due south of Courtney, Okla. Courtney is a very small location on the map but is very close to the river and probably represents the least cost to Oklahoma. (See map marked "NL")

This location would be of little value to the Saint Jo/Muenster area because of the lack of existing connecting roads. There are no guarantees yet that the bridge project would include connecting roads. Road projects to be handled by the county would surely get more attention going west into Nocona and the Nocona Lake area and little concern over connecting with Cooke County.

People present at the Tuesday meeting emphasized that if a fair

Council to consider 9-1-1 enhancement

A 9-1-1 emergency telephone line has been available to Muenster residents since 1984 and may soon be expanded because of a Texas Legislature bill.

Alvin Fuhrman of Muenster Telephone Co. said he hooked Muenster to a 9-1-1 line when his company went to digital electronic switching four years ago. He connected the emergency line to 736-2288, the city's line to the sheriff's office.

"The 9-1-1 is nice to have for emergencies," Police Chief Helen Tompkins said. "For fires, police, ambulance - whatever, because people can panic."

Muenster callers use the number frequently, Tompkins said. Muenster and Valley View are the only cities in Cooke County that have 9-1-1 service.

But as a result of House Bill 911 of the Texas Legislature, passed in 1987, Muenster City Council members may approve upgrading of the system.

"The city is considering authorizing the inclusion of Muenster in a 'feasibility study' to see what it would take to include Muenster in enhanced 9-1-1," Joe Fenton, city manager, said Monday. "We want to see if we can afford it and see if we need it."

House Bill 911 provides a method for planning, financing and implementing 9-1-1 service to all parts of the state. The Texoma Regional Planning Commission is the agency designated to carry out 9-1-1 planning activities for Cooke, Fannin and Grayson counties.

In the legislation, all Texas counties with populations greater than 120,000 are required to implement 9-1-1 service. Smaller counties such as Cooke County are encouraged to adopt the service but are not required to do so.

Jerry White of the Texoma Regional Planning Commission presented 9-1-1 service information to the City Council at its June 1 meeting. White told aldermen of the advantages of the number including its ease to remember and dial, faster access to emergency service, better coordination of emergency agencies and calls answered by emergency communications professionals.

Fenton said if Muenster decides to upgrade its existing 9-1-1 service, probable added features will be:

Forced Disconnect provides automatic control of disconnecting a call to avoid the caller jamming incoming telephone lines.

Called Party Hold allows the answering point to hold a line open after the caller hangs up.

Ring Back allows the answering point to hold a line open and ring that number back after the calling party hangs up.

Automatic Number Identification displays the caller's telephone number on a screen within the public safety answering point.

Regional 9-1-1 systems are financed with a monthly service fee of not more than 50 cents per telephone line and a monthly surcharge on intrastate long-distance serviced not to exceed .5 percent.

Muenster's 736-2288 line costs city taxpayers about $150 each month, Fenton said.

9-1-1 is the nationwide emergency telephone number intended to give the public direct access to a public safety answering point within their local area. About 43 percent of the state's population lives in areas where 9-1-1 service is available.

For more information, call the Texoma Regional Planning Commission at (214) 786-2955.

Jaycee Banquet and Dance set for June 18

The 26th annual Jaycee banquet, installation ceremony, presentation of awards and dance will be hosted by the local chapter on Saturday, June 18, in the Sacred Heart Community Center.

The happy hour will begin at 6 p.m.; dinner, catered by Ginny's Catering Service, will be served at 7 p.m.

Presentation of awards to members and recognition of special efforts during the year will be followed by a highlight of the evening, presentation of the Outstanding Citizen Award. The identity of the honored person is kept secret until the announcement is made.

Guests will dance to music by Hoss Country from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m.

Tickets for the dinner and dance are $7.50 per person. Tickets for the dance only are $6 per person.

The deadline for purchase of tickets has been extended to Friday morning, June 17, but after that the caterer must know the final count.

Tickets may be purchased from Mark Klement at 82 Liquor, or from Deb Klement.

No coolers will be allowed.

Letters to the Editor

The Mini Bus seems to have a problem scheduling out of town medical trips. I am sorry if we have to change someone's appointment but we are here to help everyone that we can, not help just a select few. We can only make one trip per day to Gainesville, and whoever calls first with a medical appointment, we work around that time. To avoid a problem, call us first to see when we have a trip scheduled to Gainesville, Denton or Sherman. If you wish, we will call your doctor and work out an appointment for you. So please, instead of bad-mouthing the Mini Bus because it's not always available at your convenience, please have a little consideration and work with us.

Pat Walterscheid,
Muenster Mini Bus Driver

Last Chance for Veterans!

If you have not turned in your military information by June 30, it probably won't be in the Muenster Centennial History Book. Forms for all veterans can be picked up at the VFW Hall, Hofbauer's, Chamber of Commerce office or Fischer's Market.

We want the life stories of only the men who were killed in service, and their photos.

Help is needed also on the WWI veterans' stories. If your ancestor was a WWI veteran, please give us the information.

We certainly want to give due tribute to all of our servicemen, but we need your help.

Bernice Sicking

Dear Editor,
I want everyone to know that we have the most generous people in all the world. The dishes that are sent to homes and the casseroles that are sent for dinners on the funeral day are beyond description. We who serve these meals are very grateful for the thoughtfulness of so many.

We are so thankful to the KC's for providing us a place that is very comfortable. We are thankful to Rohmers who provide the ice. Also to the persons or person who provided us with ice in the past.

We are thankful to Florence Grewing and Margie Walterscheid for their monetary gifts and any others I may have missed.

Three covered dishes that were brought to Elfreda Fette's house at the death of Ramie had no names and she has been unable to find the owners after trying repeatedly. She asks that the owners pick them up at the K of C Hall.

Also, all you other generous people, you know who you are, please pick up your pans and bowls at the hall. We are being swamped. Don't think for one second that we don't appreciate them, but it is impossible for the family or the workers to return them. The hall is open every day at 4 p.m. and at noon on Sunday.

Thank you and God bless and keep you.

Sincerely,
Dorothy Fisher

Lead notices mailed Wednesday

The city of Muenster on Wednesday complied with a national agency's law that states all U.S. cities must inform water customers of dangers of lead exposure in drinking water.

Joe Fenton, Muenster city manager, said the notices were mailed June 15 with bills to water customers. The notices were from the Environmental Protection Agency.

"There is no danger in the city's water system," Fenton said Monday. "Apparently the only danger may be in the solder used to join water pipes in the home."

The EPA has judged that a level of exposure to lead in drinking water of more than 0.050 parts per million (ppm) is a health concern. In the city's last Chemical Analysis Report, done by the state in 1984, the lead content in Muenster water was 0.02 ppm.

Fenton said the EPA recently banned sales of solder with high lead concentrations. The agency made this move because lead tends to leach from solder into drinking water.

Lead levels are thought to be highest, according to the notice, when a home water system has lead pipes or when the system has copper pipes with lead solder and is less than five years old. Levels also are high when water is soft or acidic and sits in the pipes for several hours.

"To take care of the problem you could let the water run for one or two minutes every morning to let the water that sat there all night flush out of the pipes," Fenton said.

Too much lead in the human body can cause serious damage to the brain, kidneys, nervous system and red blood cells. The greatest risk is to children and pregnant women.

Water customers who have questions concerning contents of the notice after reading it may call City Hall at 759-2236.

Tax Appraisal District may forego equipment

Who will pay for the $13,000 in new computer equipment requested by the Cooke County Tax Appraisal District to aid in the transition when the county tax assessor-collector takes over property tax collection duties?

Tuesday night's Appraisal District Board meeting made no progress on the question. They think the county should pay and vice-versa.

Chief Appraiser, Bill Sherman, says the equipment is necessary to save delay time on the computer when more users are connected to the system. He said it should prevent 15-30 second response delays.

"It may not sound like a long time, but it is when you're waiting," he said.

Board Chairman, Jim Zachary, indicated that he wants to see how big the problem is once everything is hooked up. The board seemed to agree and perhaps no one will have to pay for the additional equipment.

The appraisal district board will meet with the commissioners and Tax Assessor-Collector Joyce Zwinggi to make the decision in the near future.

In other action the board set a budget workshop meeting for Tuesday, June 21. That budget must be set and submitted to the taxing entities for approval before they can set their budget.

Zachary said, "Our problem is how we're going to do our business and set our budget." He agreed with Sherman that sharing personnel and equipment with the county represented a potential "administrative nightmare and employee nightmare," but the mandate of the voters must be followed.

Centennial marketed with logo, souvenirs by committee

EDITOR'S NOTE: Third in a five-part series on committee divisions preparing for Muenster's centennial.

The Marketing and Merchandising Division of the Muenster Centennial Steering Committee hopes to promote the city's birthday celebration while earning money to finance it.

Johnny Fisher, head of the division, said his committee was set up to form guidelines and organize sales of centennial souvenir items. And sale of these items will begin after publication of a catalogue in September.

Souvenir items for sale are beer steins, commemorative plates, Christmas ornaments, commemorative coins, brooches and crystal wine glasses, Fisher said. The products will be sold in the Muenster Centennial Museum and in local stores.

"We are encouraging businesses and organizations to get in on the sales to help their fund-raising and to boost the centennial," Fisher said. Bids will go out to producers on the six items about June 20, he said.

"The City Council granted the Steering Committee exclusive rights on the logo... but any entrepreneur is encouraged to get prior written approval of the Steering Committee and market other things, such as t-shirts," he said.

In order to help fund the centennial celebration, the committee requires that it receive 10 percent from sales of items with the centennial logo that are sold for a profit. Free use of the logo is granted and encouraged on non-revenue items, such as letterheads and pencils, he said.

In giving an example of centennial expenses, Fisher said the minimum order of commemorative plates is $12,000.

compromise was not reached, they had no intention of supporting a bridge project and would rather have no bridge at all. It is becoming evident that bridge promoters in Nocona will be satisfied only with an artery that severs and promotes the area north of Nocona for development purposes and funnels all the south-bound traffic through Nocona.

Discussion during the meeting suggested that the location decision could be more politically motivated than decided by logic and fair economic benefit to the whole area. Some Muenster business people say that "boycott Muenster" is a serious project in Nocona. Their lobbying efforts in Austin have been noted.

Immediately after the Tuesday morning meeting the Chamber of Commerce met for the regular monthly luncheon meeting. The bridge was a major item of discussion. Urban Endres spoke up to request that the Chamber of Commerce assume a leading role in preparing for the July meeting including the hiring of a professional consultant.

"What better use could be made of Chamber resources than to negotiate the proper placement of a Red River bridge to benefit not only Muenster, but the whole area," Endres said.

The Chamber of Commerce office will prepare for the public meeting to include a major outlay of funds if necessary. However, concern was voiced that an all-out campaign on a personal, private business and public level was needed to complement the Chamber's efforts.

"I don't think that throwing a lot of money at the problem will do any good if we individuals don't get personally involved like the people have in Nocona," Janie Monday said.

We hope everyone enjoys our 26th Annual Installation and Awards Banquet Saturday, May 26, from 6 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the Community Center.

Community party bigger and better

Ideal weather; a bountiful dinner menu; the appeal of great prizes, country store and auction; children's games under the pavilion; and the timing of a pre-Father's Day benefit that permitted individual family observances on next Sunday's Father's Day, all contributed to a highly successful, day-long community gathering on June 12. Sponsors estimate that final reports will show a satisfying growth.

Dinner chairmen Carrie Ann Walterscheid and Virgilla Herr and their assistants served more than 850 meals at noon.

Prize winners were: Trip to the Bahamas, $1,250 value, Mrs. Bea Koelzer. Magnavox TV, $900 value, Ronnie Weinzapfel. Beef half, plus processing, Gene Gieb. Beef half, plus processing, Damian Walterscheid. Three-piece tool cabinet unit, $250 value, Anita Luttmir. Hog, plus processing, Nick Miller. $100 in trade at MBC, Vince Felderhoff. Ceiling fan, $99 value, Albert Rohmer. Major tune-up, $100 value, J.T. Pagel. $100 savings bond, Doc Reinart. $100 savings bond, Debbie Fisher.

In the Children's Raffle, prizes and winners were: Encyclopedia, $225 value, DeAnn Dangelmayr. Keyboard, $50 value, Thelma Trubenbach. Radio control car, $40 value, Shirley Hellinger. Bicycle, $100 value, Henry J. Knabe. Wagon, $35 value, Alvin Hartman. Bat and ball, $30 value, Lisa Felderhoff. Heritage doll, $50 value, Clinton Endres. Charlie Knabe was winner of the rifle and Cindy Hartman was winner of the quilt.

Muenster ISD school board meets, installs new officers

by Elaine Schad

New school board members were installed and officers elected at the regular June meeting of the Muenster School Board.

The oath of office was administered to members Joe Hellman, Harold Bindel, Leon Klement and Tom Flusche. Flusche will be serving a two-year unexpired term, while the others will have full three-year terms.

Hellman was re-elected as board president, Bindel as vice president and Dennis Hess as secretary.

The board heard a presentation from John Pagel and Ronnie Felderhoff concerning a tax abatement program to encourage the expansion and establishment of business in the school district. The board will wait until after the two give their presentation to the county and will review the proposal again at its July 7 meeting.

In other business the board: --Approved a request from band director Priscilla Phillips for the expenditure of $6,950 for the band department. About $5,000 of that total will go for new band equipment.

--Approved the 1988-1989 football budget as submitted by Coach Bill Jump for $10,897.25, about the same as last year.

--Appointed Superintendent Charles Coffey as the district's representative to the Region 11 service center.

--Authorized high school principal Eddie Griffin to contact a local person to teach high school physics for one hour per week beginning this fall.

--Revised guidelines for entry to the career ladder, level 3.

--Authorized Coffey to check with Van Alstyne for more information about the possible installation of a drip irrigation system for the football field.

Services held for Frank J. Walterscheid

Frank Joseph Walterscheid, former resident of Muenster, and for the past 43 years, a resident of Hereford, died Monday, June 6, 1988.

He was married to the former Elizabeth Loerwald in Lindsay in 1929. A retired farmer and carpenter, he was a member of the Knights of Columbus and St. Anthony's Catholic Church.

Survivors include his wife; and four sons, Leonard, Larry and Vincent, all of Hereford, and Kenneth of Yukon, Okla.; three daughters, Betty Shuval of Austin, Jannett Blackstock of Stanford and Doris Welch of Amarillo; four sisters, Irene Wimmer, Cecilia Wimmer, Agnes Walter and Ida Hesse all of Muenster, 35 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by two sons - Richard Walterscheid in 1938 and Butch Walterscheid in 1968.

Mass of Christian Burial was offered on Wednesday, June 8, in St. Anthony's Church of Hereford by Father Cletus McGorry, pastor. Burial was in Restlawn Cemetery under direction of Rix Funeral Home. Rosary Service was held the preceding evening at 8 p.m. in Rix Chapel.

Relatives attending from Muenster were Mrs. Catherine Walterscheid; Willie Walterscheid; Carl and Pat Walterscheid; Donald and Dorothy Endres; Oscar and Agnes Walter; Lawrence and Irene Wimmer; Ida Hesse; Tom and Lucille Hesse. Also Sandy and Leon Fuhrmann, Jerome Fuhrmann, Mrs. David Endres and Sister Mary Helen Fuhrmann.

In lieu of flowers the family requested memorials be made to Hereford Senior Citizens organizations.

Hundreds attend Hess funeral

A large number of relatives and friends from the surrounding area, and many towns and cities in Texas attended the funeral of Ruth Hess in Sacred Heart Church on June 10.

Mass of Christian Burial was offered by Father Denis Soerries and Father Cletus Post.

Mass servers were Gary Hess, Stevan Nasche and Mark Flusche.

Others participating in the special liturgy included Jenny Wimmer and Jolanda Wimmer, with Readings from the Old Testament and New Testament. Also Aaron Hess, Kelly Wimmer and Stephanie Wimmer, presenting Offertory gifts. Leslie Hess read the Offertory petitions for her mother.

Assisting as Eucharistic ministers were Lucille Hesse, Debbie Endres, Claude Bayer, Mary Bayer, Norbert Walterscheid, Mary Ann Walterscheid and Harold Flusche.

Emily Klement, Christy Hesse and Ruth Felderhoff presented music for the Mass and special liturgy. Their selections included "Amazing Grace" for the entrance and "How Great Thou Art" for the recessional; "Wherever You Go" at Offertory; "I Am the Bread of Life" and "God Gives His People Strength" at Communion; "Edelweiss" for the Meditation.

Pallbearers were Brad Wimmer, David Gressett, Jeff Wimmer, Shayne Wimmer, Mark Nasche, Jimmy Hess and Ryan Hess. Interment in Sacred Heart Cemetery was under direction of McCoy Funeral Home of Muenster.

Mrs. George Avery dies in Denton

Gertrude Elaine Avery, wife of Muenster Enterprise linotype operator, George Avery, died at Denton Regional Medical Center on June 10, 1988 at 3:30 p.m. She died at the age of 77, after a lengthy period of failing health.

She was born in Shelton, Neb. on March 20, 1911 to Lee Beerup and Alice Josephine Beerup. On August 8, 1937 she married George W. Avery. They are members of Asbury Methodist Church and have been residents of Denton for 41 years.

Survivors are her husband George; one daughter, Julie Mangrum of Galveston; one son, George L. Avery of San Diego, Calif.; one sister, Mildred Ingerson of San Diego; and one granddaughter, Shea Lyn Morris of Waco.

The funeral service was held in the Schmitz-Floyd-Hamlett Chapel in Denton on Monday, June 13 at 10 a.m. with the Rev. Richard Dunagin officiating, assisted by the Rev. Ricks Edmondson.

As he spoke Rev. Dunagin told that the Latin term for "sailing" means "to depart," to go be "with The Father." He said, "We were not designed to stay on this earth, but to complete the journey and go to The Father."

Special music included "In The Garden" and "Amazing Grace."

Interment was in Roselawn

Memorial Cemetery of Denton, directed by Schmitz-Floyd-Hamlett Funeral Home.

Pallbearers were Ferrill Wheeler; Horace J. Venable, Jr., Thomas Sands; Robert McKee and Trace Wooten, all of Denton, and Don Cockrell of Dallas.

Alvin Hartman, David Fette, Della Schmitt and Mrs. Victor Hartman.

Police officer injured in automobile accident

Muenster officers will be carrying an extra load and longer shifts for the next several days while Officer David Boyd allows his bruises and injuries to heal.

He and his wife were involved in a traffic accident Wednesday, June 15, at about 12:45 p.m. at the California Street - 135 overpass in Gainesville, Police Chief Helen Tompkins said. They were enroute to Dallas.

Approaching them in a private vehicle was an eighty-year old

Valley View man, driving north in the southbound lane against heavy traffic. Attempting to miss him, Officer Boyd swerved and struck one side of the bridge, crossed the southbound lane and hit the other side.

He was transported by ambulance to Gainesville Memorial Hospital where he was examined, x-rayed, treated and released. He suffered no broken bones, but extensive bruises. Mrs. Boyd was not seriously injured.

MRS. BART WAYNE POPE
...nee Laura Kay Griffin...

Denton ceremony unites couple

Laura Kay Griffin became the bride of Bart Wayne Pope on June 11 in a Eucharistic Mass with double ring ceremony celebrated in St. Barbabas Episcopal Church of Denton, by the Rev. William Brown, pastor, and the Rev. Christianne McKee at 2 p.m. Of special significance was the feast day of St. Barnabas.

The bride is the daughter of E.R. and Maudine Griffin of Muenster. The groom is the son of Bert Pope III and Glenda Pope of Ponder.

Presented at the altar by her father, the bride was wearing a formal white satin wedding gown designed with fitted bodice, yoke and puffed sleeves of sheer tulle and lace, stand-up lace collar, and satin bows at the shoulder.

The bodice was closed in back with small, satin-covered buttons. A large satin bow graced the back waistline. The bell skirt was edged with a wide band of matching lace. Pinned to her petticoat was a handkerchief trimmed in blue that belonged to her maternal great-grandmother.

She wore a veil of tulle illusion with blusher and carried a bridal cascade of white tiger lilies with burgundy centers, and greenery of fern and ivy.

For sentiment, she wore her paternal grandmother's wedding ring and her maternal grandmother's necklace of frosted heart with diamond center.

ATTENDANTS

Tania Roessner, the bride's roommate of Denton, was her maid of honor. Martha Hendricks of Sherman, a friend, Cindy Pope of Ponder, groom's sister-in-law, and Cathy Griffin of Arlington, bride's sister-in-law, were bridesmaids. The maid of honor wore a tea-length burgundy dress with jacket and carried a cascade of dusty rose lilies. The bridesmaids wore tea-length dusty rose dresses with jackets and carried cascades of burgundy lilies.

Heather Griffin and Lindsay Pope were flower girls, and Tiffany Griffin was ring bearer. They wore dusty rose taffeta dresses with bows on the shoulders. Flower girl baskets were filled with rose and burgundy blossoms. Tiffany carried a white satin ring pillow, with white satin bows holding the rings.

Darrell Salter of Denver, Colo., a friend of the groom, was the best man. Boyd Stevens, Bobby Cranford, Brian Wilhite, all of Ponder and friends of the groom, were groomsmen.

Ushers were Les Griffin of Arlington, bride's brother, and Vic Pope of Ponder, groom's brother. Wedding music included "Trumpet Voluntaire," "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," "All Love Excelling," and traditional liturgical music on the organ.

Altar flowers were arrangements of white gladioli and white carnations.

RECEPTION

A reception followed the church service, and was held in St. Barnabas Parish Hall.

Chrissie Noell, a friend of the bride, presided at the guest book, registering one hundred guests.

The bride's table was covered with dusty rose taffeta, overlaid with the maternal great-grandmother's lace tablecloth. A large burgundy bow gathered the ecru lace in the center. Runners of burgundy were draped to the floor. Names of the couple were lettered in gold. The centerpiece was a crystal swan filled with flowers. Lighted candles were on each side of the rose crystal punch bowl and cake.

The white wedding cake, a Betty Rose creation, was decorated with dusty rose flowers and burgundy ribbon; it had silk flowers between layers, and a china bridal couple on the keepsake layer.

Receptions assistants were Lisa Stult of Decatur, and Sherrie Wheeler of Ponder who served cake and punch. Cathy, Mrs. Les Griffin, and Tania Roessner served wine and cheese. The reception was coordinated by the bride's aunt, Ms. Sandra Stanford of Austin.

Reception rooms were decorated with baskets of silk flowers, and wreaths in "country style" on walls, using various shades of pink and burgundy.

The couple's wedding trip included flights to New York, cross-country to San Diego, then Colorado. They will return to Grapevine on June 24.

They postponed their wedding trip for one day so the groom could be confirmed into the Episcopal Church on Sunday, June 12.

For her going-away attire, the bride wore her mother's wedding dress of 1960, street-length, white and designed with a 5-inch insertion of lace in the skirt, and a wide collar with a sash of dusty rose added for color.

The bride is a graduate of Van Alstyne High School and Texas Woman's University. She is working toward a degree in Occupational Therapy. The groom is a graduate of Ponder High School, attended Cooke County High School and Texas Aero-Tech Institute of Dallas. He is an electrician employed by Braniff. They will reside in Grapevine upon return from their wedding trip.

Yostens celebrate 50th anniversary

Stan Yosten and the former Rosabell Miller were married in Sacred Heart Church of Muenster on June 7, 1938, with the late Father Frowin Koerdt OSB officiating.

On June 5, 1988, they celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary, a unique milestone only a small number of couples are privileged to reach.

Both of the Yostens were born in Muenster, Stan in 1913 and Rosabell in 1918 and spent their youth here. He is a son of the late Robert and Agnes (Swirczynski) Yosten and she is a daughter of Theo Miller and the late Rosa (Herr) Miller.

They lived in Muenster four years after their marriage while Stan was employed by "Shorty" Herr Motor Co., (where Ford Motor Co. is now located). During WWII, they lived for one year in San Antonio and both worked in a defense plant. Relatives recall that they lovingly nicknamed her "Rosie, the Riveter" when that song became popular. In 1944, they moved to Fort Worth. Stan was employed by General Dynamics for 33 years. He retired in 1976, and they have continued to make their home in Fort Worth.

The reception, dinner and dance honoring the Yostens were held in National Hall in Fort Worth and hosted by their children, two sons and their spouses and two granddaughters. The family circle includes Jim Yosten and wife, Teresa, and their twin daughters, 15-year-old Kristy and Kelly; and Gregg Yosten and his wife, Tammy.

For the celebration, Rosabell wore a two-piece, tea-length orchid lace dress over pink silk. Her corsage was of white orchids.

Attendants at the wedding 50 years ago were the bride's sister, Bernice, now Mrs. Paul Yosten; and the groom's brother, Leonard (Spike) Yosten. Both were present for the party. Bernice Yosten was attired in a pink crepe de chine tea-length gown.

The dinner was catered by Rohmer's Restaurant of Muenster.

The three-tiered anniversary cake was ornamented with a gold "50" numeral encircled with net, and was served by the couple's granddaughters, Kristy and Kelly, and a niece, Shirley Henscheid.

Among the 250 guests attending were local relatives including Mr. and Mrs. L.J. Yosten; John and Pat Yosten; Mrs. Susie Bullion and children Lesley, Christopher and Brett, who were enroute home to Austin after visiting here; David and Susan Yosten of Plano.

Buddy and Dorothy Mae Yosten, and Mr. and Mrs. Al Yosten of Muenster, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Phillips and sons of Dallas, and Bob Yosten of Euless.

Matt Yosten of Sulphur Springs, John and Lanie Bartush and Mrs. Pat Klement, all of Muenster; Mr. and Mrs. Tony Reiter of Gainesville; Curtis Holland and Mrs. Eleanor Little of Cleburne.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Miller and family, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Miller and family, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Felderhoff and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Henscheid and family, and Messrs. and Mmes. Arnold Schilling, Emmett Walterscheid, Charlie Stelzer, Nick Miller and Clyde Walterscheid, all of Muenster; Mr. and Mrs. Ted Miller of Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. Don Muller of Denton, Mr. and Mrs. Commodore Woods and Mrs. Mary Schnitker of Denison, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Yosten and family of Fort Worth and Mr. and Mrs. Randy Bayer of Roanoke.

Children are offered ride to pool

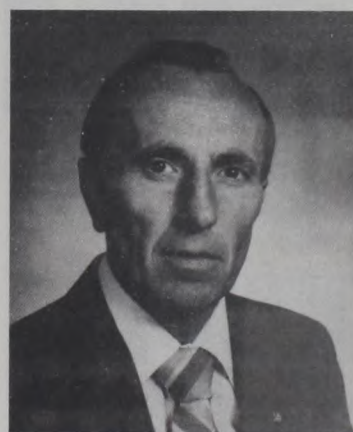

The Muenster Mini-Bus will transport children to the Muenster Swimming Pool on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons, unless a medical trip interferes, according to an announcement this week by Pat Walterscheid, Mini-Bus driver.

She stated that she will pick up and return children at their homes. Rides are 50 cents per ride, one way or $1.00 round trip. Tickets are available in advance at the City Hall, singly or 10 tickets at $4.50.

She stressed that parents should understand that the Mini-Bus driver cannot accept responsibility for children while they are at the pool.

For more information, call Pat Walterscheid at 759-2236.

Joe Fisher is the father of Neil and Jim Fisher and Theresa Walterscheid and JoAnn Pagel. He was married to the late Gertie Schmitt on October 14, 1930. Joe counts 12 grandchildren.

Eight children, 31 grandchildren and 29 great-grandchildren make up the family of Joseph Michael Weinzapfel and the late Julia Christina Meurer. Married on October 3, 1916, they are the parents of Mrs. Thomas, Rev. Joseph and Henry Weinzapfel and Agnes Hellman, Dora Jackson, Juanita Bright and Mary Elizabeth Birden. Robert Weinzapfel, their oldest son, was killed in World War II.

Al Schmitt married the late Evelyn Otto on November 10, 1936. Their six children are Wayne, Harvey and Tom Schmitt and Loretta Victor, Joyce Hall and Doris Penny. Al also counts nine grandchildren.

Joseph A. Hoenig is the father of Rupert, Jerry and Raymond Hoenig and Eleanora Pelzel, Rita Cottle and Edna Mae Hermes. Lucille Hoenig, a daughter, died in infancy. He and his late wife, Susanna Fleitman, were married on July 24, 1928. Joe is the grandfather of 39 children and has 23 great-grandchildren.

Holiday salutes fathers

Although the observance of an official day for honoring fathers is a relatively new tradition, fathers have been recognized as special men throughout history.

Mrs. John Bruce Dodd of Spokane, Wash., started the observance of Father's Day in the United States in 1910. It is traditionally celebrated on the third Sunday in June. In 1936, a national Father's Day Committee was set up.

The Enterprise dedicates this page to Muenster fathers as a tribute to them and their families.

Theo Miller is the father of nine, grandfather of 33 and great-grandfather of 52 children. Rosa Herr, who is now deceased, became his wife on November 14, 1916. Their children are William, Herbert and Ted Miller and Rosabell Yosten, Bernice Yosten, Barbara Felderhoff, Marilyn Bayer and Carol Ann Henscheid. One son, Paul, died in 1926.

Charles Wimmer and the late Isabel Neu were married on October 21, 1945. Their children are Randy, Ricky and Sandy Wimmer and Sharlene Schilling and Sharon Sampson. After Isabel's death in 1969, Charlie married the late Helen Hess on July 26, 1974.

Your Name

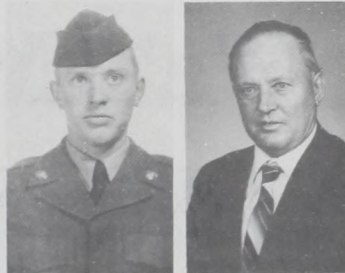

You got it from your father, 'twas the best he had to give.
And right gladly he bestowed it. It's yours, the while you live.
You may lose the watch he gave you and another you may claim,
But remember, when you're tempted, to be careful of his name.
It was fair the day you got it, and a worthy name to bear.
When he took it from his father, there was no dishonor there.
Through the years he proudly wore it, to his father he was true,
And that name was clean and spotless when he passed it on to you.
Oh, there's much that he has given that he values not at all.
He has watched you break your playthings in the days when you were small.
You have lost the knife he gave you and you've scattered many a game.
But you'll never hurt your father if you're careful with his name.
It is yours to wear forever, yours to wear while you live.
Yours, perhaps some distant morning, to another boy to give.
And you'll smile as did your father - with a smile that all can share.
If a clean name and a good name you are giving him to wear.

Joseph John (Joe) Wimmer married the late LaVerna Schmitz on May 23, 1933. They are the parents of Larry Joe Wimmer and Marcie Klement, Frankie Jo Prescher, Carmen Lee Henkel and Karla Kay Hellman. Joe also has 13 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Clyde Fisher married Pauline Grill on June 27, 1953. Their 10 children are Chuck, Richard, Dannie, Ginnie, Ronnie, Julie and Laurie Fisher and Nancie Lippe and Kathie Herr. Angie Fisher, their youngest child, died this year. There are 11 grandchildren in the family.

William Hermes is the father of Gary, Tim, Glenn and Denise Hermes and Debbie Bradshaw, Alyce Cler, Cheryl Martin, Laurie Rohmer and Pam Sidwell. On February 13, 1952, he married Mary Evelyn Hofbauer. They are the grandparents of seven children.

There are 10 children in the family of Herman Stoffels. They are Cindy Gehrig, Donna Simmons, Pam Dangelmayr, June Bartush and Janel, Mark, Chris, Craig, Connie and Sally Stoffels. Herman, who was married to Alma Sandmann on June 30, 1947, is also the grandfather of 20.

The parents of nine children and grandparents of 17 children, Paul Hoedebeck and Elsie Sanchez were married on December 28, 1946. Their children are Paul, Fred and Joe Hoedebeck and Linda Knabe, Peggy Grewing, Mary Hess, Terri Cagle and Toni Lankford. A daughter, Mary Lynn, died in infancy.

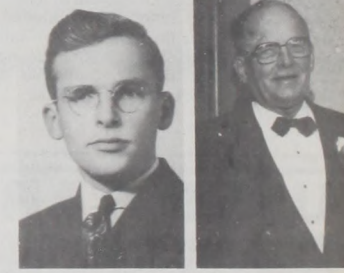

Bernard Sicking is the father of five sons and five daughters. They are Jim, Melvin, Wayne, Herbert and Allen Michael Sicking and Lorraine Mathews, Betty Jean Schneck, Judy Ann Gill, Donna Kay Schad and Denise Landers. He and Adeline Yosten, whom he married on October 25, 1938, are the grandparents of 26 children.

Charles Bartush Sr., the father of 13 children and 26 grandchildren, married Mary Jane Green on August 5, 1950. Sons Chuck Jr., Bill, John, Joe, Paul, Mike and Jim Bartush along with daughters Ann Marie Matt, Cindy DeOlimo, Cathy Otto and Mary Beth, Angela and Virginia Bartush are their children.

Joe Voth, married to Vina Fette on January 3, 1938, is the father of Jerome, James, Robert and Mark Voth and Kathy O'Brien, Lola Kindiger and Joan Cowden. Their daughter Sheila Voth is deceased. Joe and Vina are grandparents for eight children and great-grandparents for four children.

Behind the wheel

"Make a left turn at Gregg's Chevrolet and then a U-turn at the car wash," JoAnn Pagel directed last Thursday morning.

Jimmy Herr obligingly turned on the blinker and checked traffic with glances in the rear-view mirror and over his shoulder. Smoothly, he eased the red Ford Escort into the turning lane on Hwy 82.

Jimmy is one of 45 Muenster teenagers enrolled in two local driver's education courses this summer. But before he and other students earned the right to be behind the wheels of driver's ed cars, they passed rigid state requirements in the classroom.

JoAnn Pagel, who has taught the course five years - three of the years while it was still offered in the Muenster High School curriculum, said driving students are required to spend 34 hours in classroom studies.

"In class they were taught things such as rules of driving, signs, maintenance costs and insurance," JoAnn said. "I showed lots of films on the advantages of seatbelts and consequences of drinking and driving."

The classes began at MHS in April. Thirty students are enrolled and stayed one and one-half hours after school every day until the 34 hours of classroom work was completed. All of the students passed written and vision tests administered by troopers from the Texas Department of Highways & Public Transportation.

At Sacred Heart High School, 15 students began the classroom portion last Wednesday. Clarence Johnson, a Gainesville man with 24 years of driver's teaching experience, said his students began driving in an SH car on Monday.

Once in the car, students are required to spend seven hours driving and seven hours observing the driving of another student. Driving time is divided among skill, rural, city and expressway driving.

"In Muenster the majority of students can drive before they get in the class," JoAnn said. "They just need some polishing up. The most trouble they have is with city driving. They're not used to interacting with traffic."

As her students drive, she reminds them of correct driving procedures such as keeping both hands on the wheel in the 10-2 position and using hand-over-hand turns. She always keeps a close eye on the road and a foot close to her brake.

"I have used the brake before," she said. "It's there for me if a student panics."

Jane Klement and Melissa Bayer, observing in the back seat of the car, agreed that driver's ed was never boring.

"We watch all the other drivers in Muenster, too," Jane said. "Some of them don't drive right at all - they don't use blinkers and they turn from anywhere."

And the reactions of Muenster drivers to students in the car are usually amusing, they said.

"People always wave and honk and laugh when they see us because they know we're taking driver's ed," Melissa said. "I don't know why they think it's so funny."

The hardest things about the course include staying after school for the class, backing around cones, parallel parking and driving without a radio, the students said. But the radio remains turned off to prevent students from getting distracted.

However difficult the course may be at times, its advantages outweigh the problems, the students agreed.

"If we don't take driver's ed, we have to wait until we're 18 to get our licenses," Melissa said. "So I think the class is a pretty cool deal."

CCC offers clinic June 27-July 11

A program aimed to help fifth through eighth grade students improve their reading skills will be offered at Cooke County College June 27 through July 11.

Classes will meet Monday through Thursday from 1-3 p.m. on the CCC campus, Room 512. Cost is $38 per student.

Using computers and state-of-the-art methods, this program is a modern technical approach to reading enrichment that is instructive and fun for students. The clinic is not only designed to help students who have poor reading skills but also good readers who want to increase reading speed and comprehension.

In order for a student to be eligible to enroll in this clinic, he must have at least third grade-level reading skills. This must be verified with scores on the CTBS or TEAMS tests at the time of registration.

Instructor for the clinic is Marilyn Bullard. Children must be registered by a parent or guardian, who should come in person to the CCC Office of Continuing Education in Room 109 on campus. Office hours are Monday-

Thursday from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., and 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Fridays. For more information, call Cathy Keeler at 668-7731.

Blacks announce birth of son

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Black of Myra proudly announce the arrival of their new baby boy, Dustin Marshall Loyd Black.

He was born Friday, June 10, 1988 at 9:02 p.m. in Coastal Bend Hospital in Aransas Pass and weighed 5 lbs. 8 1/2 oz. and measures 18 inches long.

His parents are Wendell and DeeAnn Black of Myra. His grandparents are Mrs. Dorothy Black of Myra and Nell and Winston Roach of Prairie Point. Mr. C.P. Roach of Prairie Point is his great-granddad.

The baby's mother, Mrs. Wendell (DeeAnn) Black had received permission from her doctor to go on a fishing trip to Port Aransas with her parents, Winston and Nell Roach, and other members of her family. On the trip were Brad and Teresa Roach; Randy Roach and sons Cody and Jared.

DeeAnn and her relatives went to Port Aransas to fish Tuesday, June 7, 1988. DeeAnn was out fishing and she hooked a 7-foot shark. They watched him for two hours and had to move their boat. However, her line broke.

The next day, DeeAnn was out in the boat fishing again with the rest of the fishing party. Soon, she became aware that her baby was on his way. So her brother, Randy called in to find the nearest doctor available. When they reached land, there was an ambulance, police and a private ferry all waiting to help.

DeeAnn was taken to Aransas Pass to the Coastal Bend Hospital where the baby was born. Her husband, Wendell, flew down to be with them, but he was two hours late. The baby boy had already arrived.

DeeAnn and the baby were dismissed from the hospital Sunday at noon and they flew to their home in Myra. He was introduced to the family doctor on Monday by his mother and grandmother.

So, the baby is fine and everyone is happy. It was quite an exciting time for a little while. Mrs. Nell Roach is spending a few days with her new grandson and his family.

Exhibit planned

The Exhibit Committee of the Rosston Volunteer Fire Department is planning an exhibit to be displayed in the Fire Hall on Sam Bass Day, July 16. It is to be all kinds of crafts, needlework, knitting, crochet, quilts and handwork, old and new. For any questions or information, you may call Mrs. Sally Ford 768-2258, Mrs. Pat Ford 768-2780 or Mrs. Cindy Boto 768-2264.

Steadhams honored at church

Mr. and Mrs. Don Steadham were honored at the Church of Nazarene at Prairie Point Sunday, June 5, 1988 at the morning service.

Don and Ruthie were presented the Distinguished Service Award. It is the highest award in the church.

Through the years, Don and Ruthie both have served very faithfully in many responsibilities of the church. Ruthie is pianist, Sunday School teacher, church board member and has been church treasurer for 15 years.

Don has spent many hours in the early years of the Church of Nazarene at Prairie Point helping to get the church organized. He is a church board member and Sunday School superintendent.

The money given for this award will go to the Church of Nazarene Medical Plan for Missionaries.

Visitors at the church for the presentation were Miss Donna Kay Steadham and Billy Glen Harrison of Bellevue and Mrs. Bobbie Wylie.

Larry and Debra Dill and Brady, and Bill and Betty Scott's granddaughters, Crystal and Cassie, of Oklahoma also attended.

Fellowship games, refreshments follow church services

Sunday evening, June 12, regular services were held at the Church of Nazarene at Prairie Point. After church, the congregation gathered at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Marshall Stewart for a time of fellowship. Volleyball was played and refreshments were served. A nice number of people attended.

Kelleys in reunion

The Kelley reunion was held at the Forestburg Community Center Saturday, June 11, 1988. It was for the descendants of the late L.T. and May Kelley, lifetime residents of Prairie Point, Texas.

Of their 12 children - four girls and eight boys - Mrs. Louise Shults of Forestburg, Texas is the only living child. There are four daughters-in-law living of which Mrs. Estelle Kelley of Era and Mrs. Corinne Kelley of Pampa were present. One son-in-law, Ed Bonner, of Forestburg was also present. They have no idea how many grandchildren, great-grandchildren and great-great-grandchildren there are.

There were at least 102 present from different parts of the country. California, Arizona, Kansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma; and in Texas, El Paso, Amarillo, Pampa, Paris, Garland, Dallas, Plano, Lewisville, Josephine, Irving and local areas were represented.

Food was served, pictures were taken and a lot of visiting was done by all.

Old West Gunfighters present program

The Old West Gunfighters presented two shows for the Peterbilt party and barbecue Saturday, June 11, 1988 in Denton.

Those attending were Renee and Doyle Gates and sons, Shelia Pomeroy and Misty, Rickey and Linda Huckaby and Lance, Kim and James Huckaby, Tom and Becky Richardson and Chari and Norma White.

Mrs. Edith Richardson of Gainesville stopped by Sunday for a visit with Tom and Becky and Chari Richardson, Bill and Norma White.

Bill White was a business visitor in Decatur Monday.

Denton's Miller Lite wins tourney here

Miller Lite of Denton came out on top of a 10-team men's softball tournament sponsored by Old Milwaukee Light of Muenster. The tournament was June 9 and 10 at the Muenster Baseball Park.

Myrta Paint & Body of Tioga placed second in the contest, ahead of Old Milwaukee Light of Muenster and Bud Light of Muenster in third and fourth. Trophies and t-shirts were awarded to the top three teams.

In the final games, results were as follows:

Miller Lite 12, Myrta 6
Miller Lite 17, Old Milwaukee 9
Miller Lite 16, Myrta 8

Old Milwaukee 20, Ardmore Livestock 2
Old Milwaukee 17, Bud Light 2
Myrta 12, Old Milwaukee 7

Bud Light 8, Texas Pick Up of Gainesville 5

Bud Light 14, Ski Rack of Denton 6
Bud Light 14, Texas Pick Up 8
Myrta 20, Bud Light 6

Coaches of Old Milwaukee are Tim Felderhoff and Nick Walterscheid. Adam Wolf coaches Bud Light.

The teams would like to thank Urban Endres and Bob Vogel of Cooke County Distributing for sponsoring the tournament.

Heard The One About The Male Nurse And The Lady Welder?

It's no joke to be unemployed, headed nowhere in a dead-end job earning minimum wage or working a "for men only" or "for women only" job you hate because that's all you're qualified for. It's a fact that many men and women today are earning top wages and loving their jobs once "reserved" for the opposite sex. YOU CAN TOO! Cooke County College offers top quality training in nursing, paramedicine, drafting, legal assisting, business computers, cosmetology, auto and diesel mechanics, welding, secretarial and office management and many more. Cost is much less than most commercial "trade" schools, and you can even earn a two-year college degree. All you need is a high school diploma or GED, and financial aid is available. You can start this summer, so call for details today! Counseling Center, Cooke County College, 1525 W. California, Gainesville, TX 76240, 817/668-7731 or Metro 430-0352.

Texoma Posts Impressive Record For Big Catfish

DENISON - The recent catch of a 118.5-pound blue catfish at Lake Texoma is the latest in a series of impressive catches of big catfish in recent years.

Biologist Bruce Hysmith of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department said Dan Grider of Madill, Oklahoma was juglining on the Oklahoma side of the border reservoir on May 4 when he caught the big fish. It was 57 inches long and 41 3/4 inches in girth.

Hysmith said seven blue catfish over 67 pounds each have been caught at Texoma since 1984. Five were caught on rod and reel, one on a trotline and Grider's fish on a jugline. "All but one of these fish was a lake record, a state record, a specific line class world record or combination of the three," said Hysmith. One fish was disqualified for technical reasons. Grider's fish would not qualify as a Texas state record because it was caught on the Oklahoma side of the lake.

Hysmith noted that a 116-pound caught on a trotline in 1985 was found to be 23 years old.

Deer Lease Register Available From TPWD

AUSTIN - Hunters and landowners are reminded that the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department again is continuing to offer its deer lease register for the upcoming hunting season.

The register is a free listing of properties being offered for hunting leases in Texas. The TPWD offers the listing as a service to landowners and hunters, but is not responsible for negotiations between the two.

The register, which is updated monthly, currently contains listings of 565 landowners, and more than 3.2 million acres. To obtain the listing, or list property, call toll-free 1-800-792-1112, or write the TPWD, 4200 Smith School Road, Austin, TX 78744.

Wildlife Feed Removed From Sales Tax List

AUSTIN - Ranchers and others who buy grain or other agricultural products to feed wildlife no longer will have to pay sales tax on it.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials said an announcement from the State Comptroller's Office indicates feed for wildlife such as deer and turkeys will have the same sales tax exemption now in effect for cattle feed. However, feed bought for pets such as cats and dogs is still taxable.

Officials said supplemental feeding of wildlife is widespread in Texas, especially in areas where there are active hunting lease operations for deer and turkey.

Wildlife Poison Hotline Number Established

AUSTIN - Persons encountering suspected cases of wildlife poisonings can report such incidents by calling a toll-free number, according to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Bruce Thompson, nongame and endangered species program director, said the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) has contracted with Texas Tech University to operate the hotline for collecting data on poisonings of wildlife by pesticides. The 24-hour number is 1-800-858-7378. Operators can answer questions about pesticide product safe use, recognition of pesticide poisonings, clean-up and disposal procedures and other general information. Any evidence of poisoning wildlife also should be reported immediately to the department's Operation Game Thief number, 1-800-792-GAME, or a game warden in the area where the poisoning is occurring.

A PROUD SALUTE TO OUR ★ DAIRY INDUSTRY ★

Local dairymen speak out on their family-oriented business

Dairymen in the Muenster area say that while the milking industry has become increasingly sophisticated in recent years, financial risks have grown as well.

Kenneth Bierschenk, who has milked cows on his family-run dairy for the past 10 years, said he has seen many changes in dairy operations. These changes range from improvements in animals to better techniques and more efficient equipment, he said.

Other changes in milking operations include automated equipment and cattle hormones, both which increase the speed and amount of milk production, said 15-year dairyman Leon Klement. And a larger milk surplus is not what is needed in the North Texas area, they said.

Bierschenk, who thinks some type of supply management is needed in the industry to regulate production, said small dairies are hit hardest by low milk prices.

"The next several years will be a little rough," Bierschenk said Tuesday. "It'll be a little lean for us unless the government steps in."

The government's effort in 1986 to decrease milk production with the Dairy Buyout Program did not succeed in its goal here, Klement said.

"While some people got out then, much of the rest of us just got bigger," Klement said.

He and his brother Ronald Klement own 160 Jersey cows. They grow and grind their own feed and raise replacements for their herd.

"Everybody's getting bigger, and there are fewer dairymen around," Klement said. "It takes a lot of money to get started in the business and it's a lot of work. Some of the older dairymen are retiring and not that many young ones are getting in."

But problems of running a dairy did not discourage Bobby Sicking from starting his own operation in February. He had been milking for a man in Valley View for the past five years.

"The only way to get anything is to get into the business yourself," Sicking said in explaining why he bought Emmett Sicking's dairy and began his 66-head dairy with his wife, Carol.

"Things are rough right now for dairymen, but the rain helped a whole lot," he said Monday. "They expect feed (prices) to go up and hay (prices) to go up and the price of milk to go down. We're going to have to do more corner cutting and better managing."

Weldon, Wesley and Warren Sicking returned to the dairy business in 1984 after crunches in the Texas oil situation resulted in oil field layoffs in the Muenster area, explained their father, Louis Sicking.

Louis Sicking, who milked cows himself from 1947 to 1961, called dairy farming "a lot of long hot and cold hours." But he and his wife, Pauline, help their sons with the chores required to maintain their 88-head herd.

Pauline said her main contributions to her son's business is in calf raising. She wrote universities across the nation that do cattle research for information about vaccines and diseases.

"There are a lot of new diseases they didn't have long ago,"

Pauline said Tuesday. "I can usually nurse the calves back to health. But the thing is, never let them get sick."

Brothers Mark and Wayne Klement started a dairy northwest of Muenster in 1983. After Mark changed to another business in the summer of 1984, Wayne and his wife and children operated the dairy.

"We are what you would call a 100 percent family dairy. It takes all of us to keep things going," Wayne Klement said Tuesday. "I don't know how we're supposed to keep up with the 3,000 and 4,000-head dairies."

Klement said the price of milk fluctuates somewhat but is generally dropping. The price is about $1 per hundred lb less than it was one year ago.

"I can remember my dad getting checks for $14.75 per hundred pounds. Today our check was for $12.20," he said.

Klement has written Texas congressmen about the situation of dairymen.

"I tell them, 'Dang, think about us when you're making your next decision.' They always write back and say they're doing their best."

In giving his dairy philosophy, Klement said, "If everybody who wanted to milk cows for a living got as many cows as they could milk themselves without having to hire anyone to do it for them, there wouldn't be a surplus."

"In years to come there won't be a family dairy," he said. "Our family's milked for years. We're going to hang on as long as we can."

A.M.P.I. is major part of dairy industry

by Janie Hartman

The industry which has been a distinguishing feature of Muenster for more than 60 years is still going strong.

The "Muenster Cheese Plant" was started in 1924, and for many years all local milk was used for cheese production. Throughout the past 64 years the organization of a local cooperative by community pioneers has been a definite asset. A local Farmers Market Association led to organization of many family dairies.

When the time came for the North Texas Producers Association to succeed FMA, the local cheese plant became the receiver of surplus milk. Muenster is still handling surplus milk while AMPI has a record volume to process, with milk coming from El Paso, Dallas/Fort Worth, Windthorst, Stevenville, Lawton, Okla. and of course some local Muenster dairies.

Approximately 90 people are on the plant's current payroll, and operation goes 24 hours each day, seven days a week.

Today, the plant is designed to make cheese from 30 million pounds of milk each month, or one million pounds per day. It also has facilities to dry the whey from the cheese-making process and its own separate waste treatment plant.

CHEESE

The Associated Milk Producers Incorporated plant today makes "stirred curd cheddar cheese," a natural cheese, which is placed in 500-pound barrels and then sold to cheese processing plants for further processing. Kraft is the plant's number one customer, with most of Muenster's cheese going to Springfield, Mo. There it is manufactured into several varieties of processed cheese, such as Velveeta and American.

At the factory, the process starts in the receiving bay where milk is delivered in 6,000-gallon stainless steel tank trucks. This is about 49,000 pounds of milk per truck. The double insulated walls of the truck tank make it possible to transport and keep milk with less than two degrees of temperature change per day.

Each truck is in the bay for approximately one hour. A sample of milk is taken to the lab and tested before the milk can be unloaded. The lab test for antibiotics and can detect one cow's "bad" milk in the 6,000-gallon tank.

The milk is then unloaded into one of the plant's three 50,000-gallon silo storage tanks, taking about 20 minutes. The plant then pre-rinses, CIP (cleans in place), re-rinses and sanitizes the truck before it leaves the bay. A wash tag is placed on the truck to indicate that it is ready for reloading.

As the milk enters the "cheese-making room," it is run continuously through "high temperature, short-time pasteurization," to kill all pathogenic materials. It is then poured into 40,000 pound Double O vats where it is cooked and cut for two hours.

The plant runs 25 vats each day, equaling one million pounds of milk. One hundred pounds of milk can make 10 pounds of cheese.

The curds and whey is then poured on drain tables where it is stirred and more whey is removed from the cheese for another two hours, before being pressed into 500 lb. barrels. After a one-hour vacuum, the cheese is capped, sealed and stored in a 32 degree "vault."

On day six, a sample is plugged by the lab to be analyzed for moisture, fat and salt. The lab gives "quality assurance" that everything is just right before the cheddar cheese is shipped out.

In ideal conditions, the milk out of the storage silo can be curd cheese in the vault in seven and one-half hours.

WHEY

The "old cheese plant" is now the powder plant. Milk is mostly water with only 12.2 percent being solid. The water from the cheese goes to the evaporator and drying whey facilities.

The liquid whey, in the past, was dumped in local pastures as fertilizer, but today is a valuable food product. It is filled with milk sugar and nitrogen and used in many commercial milk products such as ice cream.

The liquid whey is first heat-treated in a three-stage evaporator where about one-half of the water is removed. It is then dried in a 370-degree chamber through a belt dryer which evaporates the remaining water. The powder is sacked in 50 pound bags and sold to commercial markets. The whey plant sacks 1,100 bags daily.

When milk surplus rises, the plant can quit drying the whey and use the drying equipment to make powdered milk.

WASTE TREATMENT

An extra project that goes with the Muenster plant is a separate sewer system for treatment of some 110,000 gallons of water used daily by the plant. The sewage facility, consisting principally of two lagoons with about three acres of surface space, treats water by air and chemicals. It makes the waste water a higher quality of water than the water in the creek. The Muenster plant has a licensed operator who makes daily waste treatment reports and is checked regularly by the Texas Department of Water Resources.

The city of Muenster welcomed the plant's waste treatment which eliminated the odor problem Muenster has known for years.

"MUESTER CHEESE"

There has always been a misunderstanding about the name of Muenster Cheese. If referring to the place of manufacture, it was cheddar cheese made in Muenster. If referring to variety, it was not made here and the name has no connection with this town.

Nevertheless, the "made in Muenster" cheese is no longer. In the mid-1970s, when the present factory was added, the 40 pound cheese blocks which were sold locally were no longer made.

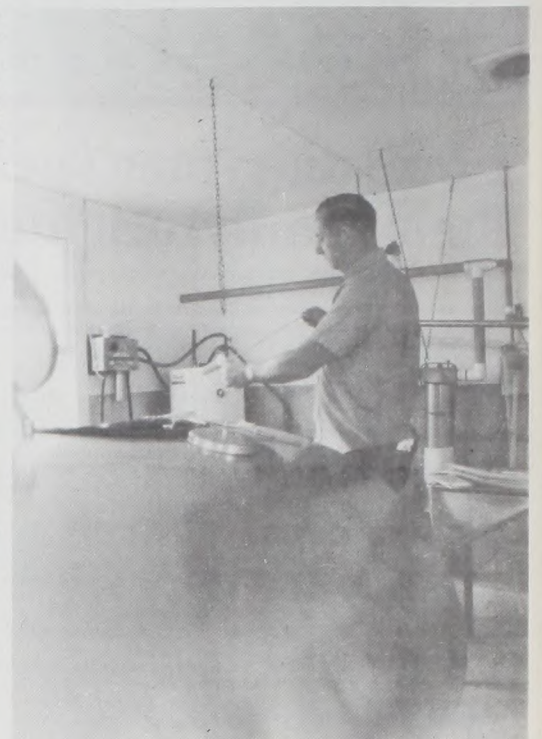

CONSTRUCTION CONTINUES

Construction at Muenster's AMPI is still far ended. Plans are currently in the making to build a mozzarella cheese facility on the grounds. This will be a "value added" commercial product, unlike the cheddar which has a market price.

Texas moves up to sixth place in national milk production

COLLEGE STATION - Texas has moved ahead of Michigan to place sixth in national milk production for April.

Dr. Robert Schwart, economist in dairy marketing with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service, said that "milk is fast becoming part of the new images of Texas, particularly with June Dairy Month at hand."

Texas milk production was up 13 percent from year earlier levels in April, Schwart said, with 439 million pounds of milk produced in the Lone Star State.

In addition, U.S. Department of Agriculture estimates of the state's milking herd of 343,000 cows is up 5 percent from levels posted in April, 1987. Yields per cow were estimated by the USDA at 1,280 pounds.

Although consumers may wonder why milk production in Texas has moved ahead, the answer is that it is profitable to produce milk in Texas, he said. Expansion is easier in Texas than in many other states, since most resources can be put into purchasing cows rather than providing housing for them as is necessary in colder areas, Schwart said.

"In addition, producers in some states must buy a production base in order to sell milk. For example, producers in California can expand all they desire to grow but they have to take the manufacturing price for their milk or buy Class I base if they want to share in the Class I price," Schwart said.

April milk production in 21 selected reporting states totaled 10.6 billion pounds, up 2 percent from year earlier levels. At the same time, the milking herd in the reporting states was reported to be 8.6 million cows, or 1 percent smaller than a year ago. Average production per cow was 1,229 pounds, up 3 percent from last year, he said.

The top 10 milk producing states this past April were:

First, Wisconsin, with 2.2 billion pounds which reflected a 3 percent increase over April of last year; second, California, 1.6 billion pounds, up 5 percent from last year; third, New York, 986 million pounds, down 1 percent from last year; fourth, Minnesota, 918 million pounds, reflecting no increase percentage from last year;

fifth, Pennsylvania, 847 million pounds, no percentage increase from 1987; sixth, Texas, 439 million pounds, up 13 percent from a year ago; seventh, Michigan, 437 million pounds, no percentage increase; eighth, Ohio, 417 million pounds, no percentage increase; ninth, Washington, 325 million pounds, 4 percent increase; and tenth, Iowa, 316 million pounds, for a 5 percent increase.

"The problem with this milk production increase is that more milk translates into lower prices for producers of Texas and the nation," Schwart said.

HOMEMADE PEACH ICE CREAM

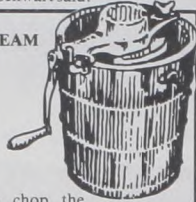

- 1 1/2 c. sugar, (divided)
- 4 c. sliced, peeled fresh peaches
- 6 eggs
- 1 (13 oz.) can evaporated milk
- 1 (14 oz.) can sweetened condensed milk
- 1 pt. whipping cream
- 1 T. vanilla
- Whole milk

Puree 2 cups peaches and finely chop the remaining cups. Sprinkle 1/2 cup sugar on peaches and cover. Beat eggs well. Add remaining sugar, evaporated and condensed milk, and whipping cream; mix well. Stir in sugared peaches and vanilla. Pour into freezer container. Finish filling the container with whole milk. Freeze. Makes 1 gallon.

TANGY PEACH PIE

- 1 (9-inch) baked pie shell
- 1 c. peaches, mashed
- 2 c. fresh peaches, sliced
- 1/2 c. orange juice
- 1 c. sugar
- 2 1/2 T. cornstarch

Fill pie shell with sliced peaches. Combine mashed peaches, orange juice, sugar and cornstarch in a saucepan and boil, stirring constantly, until mixture is clear and slightly thickened. Pour heated mixture over peaches in pie shell. Cool thoroughly before serving.

NATIONAL DAIRY MONTH

Milking it for all it's worth

The four Food Groups are Milk, Meat, Fruit-Vegetable and Grain. The dairy farm supplies milk and milk products that make up one of the four basic food groups.

This group's primary function is to furnish calcium, necessary for the proper development of teeth and bones. Dairy foods also supply other nutrients such as protein, riboflavin, Vitamins A, B-6 and B-12, as well as minerals, phosphorus, magnesium and zinc. The Vitamin D found in 98 percent of marketed milk is supplied by fortification, as is Vitamin A in low-fat and skim milk.

Because the body cannot manufacture its own calcium, this mineral has to be consumed from foods daily. Although the Food and Nutrition Board recommends 800 milligrams daily for people 25-50 years old, an adequate intake of calcium should be consumed by everyone for regular bone growth and regeneration.

The Recommended Dietary Allowances (RDA) according to the Food and Nutrition Board for calcium depend on your age and stage in life:

	Milligrams needed daily
Children	800
Teenagers	1200
Adults	800
Pregnant and lactating women	1200
Pregnant and lactating teenagers	1600

The need for calcium is never outgrown. Children need calcium for growth and healthy teeth. Teenagers need calcium for their rapid growth spurts. Adults over 19 years of age need calcium to maintain healthy bones and teeth. Older adults need calcium for bone repair and to slow down bone loss.

Lack of this essential mineral, in the long run, causes thinning and weakening of the bone structure, a condition known as osteoporosis.

Francine Hinton, Nutrition Consultant with Associated Milk Producers, Inc., says that while teenagers, pregnant and lactating women need four servings, pre-adolescents need three servings and adults need two servings from the milk group.

According to the National Dairy Council, one serving from the milk group equals:

- 1 cup milk 1/2 cup ice cream
- 1 cup yogurt 1 cup buttermilk
- 1 oz. hard cheese

Be sure to look for the "REAL" seal on calcium-rich products during June Dairy Month and the rest of the year.

The seal, a symbolic drop of milk enclosing the word "REAL," helps consumers distinguish between genuine dairy products and imitations.

For a copy of "The All-American Guide to Calcium-Rich Foods" from the Associated Milk Producers, Inc., write the Texas Department of Agriculture Dallas District office at 1801 N. Lamar, Suite 103, Dallas, Texas 75202.

There's a milk to suit every taste

Processing developments over the past few years have made possible such a wide variety of milk types that some people find it hard to know the difference. Listed below is a lineup of the kinds of milk currently available in the dairy case. Whatever your taste or dietary needs, there's certain to be a milk to fill the order.

Whole Milk must contain at least 3.25 percent milkfat and 8.25 percent solids not fat. The solids not fat include protein, carbohydrates, minerals and water-soluble vitamins. In addition, almost all whole milk marketed is fortified with vitamin D.

Lowfat Milk has had sufficient milkfat removed to bring the levels to between 0.5 and 2 percent. It also must contain at least 8.25 percent solids not fat. Vitamin A is added to offset its loss caused by removal of some of the milkfat. It must contain 2000 International Units (IU) of vitamin A per quart. Lowfat milk is labeled with the percent milkfat, e.g., 2 percent lowfat milk. Addition of vitamin D is optional. Milk-derived ingredients may also be added to lowfat milk. If nonfat milk solids are added to reach the 10 percent solids not fat level, the product must be labeled "protein fortified" or "fortified with protein."

Skim Milk, also called nonfat milk, has had sufficient milkfat removed to bring the level to less than 0.5 percent. It must contain at least 8.25 percent solids not fat and must be fortified with vitamin A. If nonfat solids are added to reach the 10 percent level, it must be labeled "protein fortified" or "fortified with protein." Addition of vitamin D is optional.

Chocolate Milk is made by adding chocolate or cocoa and sweetener to milk - whole, lowfat or skim. Both the lowfat and skim must be fortified with 2000 IU of vitamin A per quart. Addition of vitamin D is optional.

Eggnog is a mixture of milk, eggs, sugar and cream. It may also contain added flavorings such as rum extract, nutmeg or vanilla. It's a seasonal product most readily available during the Christmas holidays.

Nonfat Dry Milk, fortified with vitamins A and D, is obtained by removal of water from pasteurized skim milk. It takes 100 pounds of milk to make about eight pounds of nonfat dry milk, which contains not more than five percent by weight of moisture and not more than 1.5 percent by weight of milkfat, unless otherwise indicated. It is fortified with vitamins A and D and has all the proteins, minerals and water soluble vitamins of the nonfat portion of milk.

Evaporated Milk is a canned whole milk concentrate containing not less than 7.5 percent milkfat and 25.0 percent milk solids. It is prepared by evaporating about 60 percent of the water from fresh whole milk. This concentrate is then homogenized, fortified with vitamin D (400 IU per reconstituted quart), sealed in cans and sterilized by heat. Addition of vitamin A is optional.

Sweetened Condensed Milk is a canned whole milk concentrate containing not less than 28.0 percent milk solids and 8.0 percent milkfat. It is pasteurized and may be homogenized. The quantity of the nutritive sweetener used is sufficient to prevent spoilage.

Buttermilk is made by adding a special bacterial culture to pasteurized milk to produce the desirable acidity, body, flavor and aroma characteristic of this product. Salt is usually added. Yellow flecks in some buttermilk are bits of real butter added for extra flavor.

Sweet Acidophilus Milk is made by adding a bacteria culture known as Lactobacillus acidophilus to fresh pasteurized milk, generally lowfat or skim. These bacteria are thought to maintain the balance of beneficial microorganisms in the intestinal tract. Acidophilus cultured milk may be prescribed for people who are taking antibiotics.

Lactose-Treated Milk is pasteurized milk to which the enzyme lactase has been added. The enzyme helps to break down lactose, the natural sugar found in milk, into two digested sugars. In other words, the lactose in milk is predigested prior to drinking, so even those who are lactose-intolerant can receive the benefits of milk's nutrients.

High-Calcium Milk is made by adding calcium to milk, generally lowfat, to help individuals meet their daily calcium requirements. The added calcium is derived from milk or from chemical compounds such as calcium carbonate or tri-calcium phosphate.

County Agent's Report

by Craig Rosenbaum

By now most of the wheat harvest in the county is complete and in general, this year produced better results for county farmers. Overall, yields were up, harvest weather was good, and the price was about a dollar over last year.

This past week we completed harvest of the various wheat plots throughout the county and are currently compiling the data. Several varieties look promising and should deserve some attention by producers. Variety summary of the better yielding varieties included:

COLLIN - Released in 1986 by Texas A&M University. Named after Collin County, where its superior adaptation to the Texas Blacklands was demonstrated. Collin is moderately resistant to leaf rust, stem rust, stripe rust and barley yellow dwarf virus. Collin is moderately susceptible to powdery mildew, and septoria leaf blotch and susceptible to Hessian fly. In addition to its moderate resistance to leaf rust, Collin possesses slow-rusting. Collin is early maturing and is ADAPTED FOR NORTHERN BLACKLAND PRODUCTION.

TAM 200 - Released in 1987 by Texas A&M University. TAM 200 has moderate resistance to leaf rust, stem rust, stripe rust, powdery mildew and barley yellow dwarf virus. TAM 200 is moderately susceptible to septoria leaf blotch. In addition to its moderate resistance to leaf rust, TAM 200 possesses slow-rusting. TAM 200 is medium maturing and is ADAPTED FOR NORTHERN BLACKLAND PRODUCTION.

PIONEER 2157 - Released in 1984 by Pioneer Hi-Bred International. Pioneer 2157 is susceptible to leaf rust and powdery mildew. Pioneer 2157 is also susceptible to stem rust, moderately susceptible to septoria leaf blotch and stripe rust. Pioneer 2157 is moderately resistant to barley yellow dwarf virus and resistant to Hessian fly. Pioneer 2157 is ADAPTED FOR NORTHERN BLACKLAND PRODUCTION, but may require a fungicide for protection from powdery mildew and leaf rust.

PROBRAND 812 - Released in 1980 by Northrup King Company. Probrand 812 was planted on 63 percent of the Texas Blackland acreage in the 1984-85 wheat growing year. Because of this expansive acreage and prevalence of races of the leaf rust pathogen able to attack the variety, yield losses of between 40-50 percent were found. Probrand 812 is susceptible to leaf rust (although races that attack it are declining). Probrand 812 is also susceptible to stem rust, powdery mildew, septoria leaf blotch and Hessian fly. Probrand 812 is moderately susceptible to stripe rust and barley yellow dwarf virus. Probrand 812 IS ADAPTED FOR NORTHERN BLACKLAND PRODUCTION, but would require a fungicide for protection from powdery mildew and leaf rust.

TE 5221 - Released in 1982 by Taylor-Evans Seed Company. (developed by Seed Research). TE 5221 is moderately resistant to leaf rust, powdery mildew and septoria leaf blotch. TE 5221 is moderately susceptible to stripe rust, stem rust and barley yellow dwarf virus and Hessian fly. TE 5221 is an early maturing wheat and IS ADAPTED FOR NORTHERN BLACKLAND PRODUCTION.

COKER 68-15 - Released in 1971 by Coker's Pedigreed Seed Company. Coker 68-15 is moderately susceptible to leaf rust, powdery mildew and septoria leaf blotch. Coker 68-15 is susceptible to Hessian fly and stripe rust and moderately resistant to stem rust and barley yellow dwarf virus. Coker 68-15 is medium maturing and IS ADAPTED FOR NORTHERN BLACKLAND PRODUCTION.

FLORIDA 302 - Released in 1984 by the University of Florida. Florida 302 is moderately resistant to leaf rust, stem rust, powdery mildew and barley yellow dwarf virus. Florida 302 is moderately susceptible to septoria leaf blotch and stripe rust. Florida 302 IS ADAPTED FOR NORTHERN BLACKLAND PRODUCTION.

We will publish result demonstration plot results in upcoming papers.

It pays to topdress pastures.

Proper fertilization of pasture will greatly increase meat and milk production. You'll see faster weight gain, more pounds of gain per acre, a longer grazing season and greater carrying capacity. Begin with a soil test.

Let our Fertilizer Specialist help you. He has the know-how and we have the materials. Come see us soon. We're ready when you are.

WHO SAYS THE FULL-SIZE CHEVY PICKUP IS BETTER?

Ford owners

"Ford was darn good. My Chevy's better."

Former Ford owner Wayne Davenport, Hunt, Texas.

EVERYTHING YOU WANTED IN A TRUCK!

MORE POWER.

Chevy tops Ford in power. Chevy's standard 4.3L Vortec V6 engine with Electronic Fuel Injection gives you a maximum of 160 horsepower (15 hp more than Ford). Plus, Chevy offers a standard 5-speed manual transmission. And with a full-size Chevy, you get up to 13,500 lbs. of towing power, when properly equipped.* And depending on the Chevy you choose, there are a number of available powertrains to consider, including the 5.0L, 5.7L, and 7.4L V8 engines, and the 6.2L V8 Diesel, and available transmissions including the 3-speed automatic, 4-speed manual, and 4-speed automatic with overdrive.

MORE CORROSION PROTECTION.

Chevy gives you two-sided galvanized steel front, back and sides. More two-sided galvanized steel than Ford. And Chevy's GM 6/60 powertrain warranty* includes a 6-year/100,000-mile warranty against body rust-through for peace of mind.

MORE VERSATILITY.

Chevy creates a whole new area of superiority with cargo box side indentations that let you build a two-tiered load layer with 2x6's for an extra loading surface. Ford doesn't offer this.

MORE ON-ROAD COMFORT.

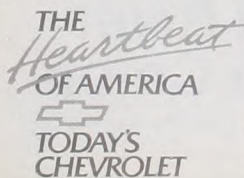

Chevy gives you more total interior space than Ford, including more leg room and shoulder room. The new double A-arm independent front suspension helps smooth the road. And, Chevy offers over 25 percent more glass area than Ford for better visibility.

MORE CARGO BOX STRENGTH.

Chevy's massive new frame is bigger and heavier for better load-carrying ability. Plus, Chevy's new all-welded cargo box mounts directly to the frame from below so there are no exposed bolts to trap water and cause rust. Ford's doesn't.

MORE 4x4 ADAPTABILITY.

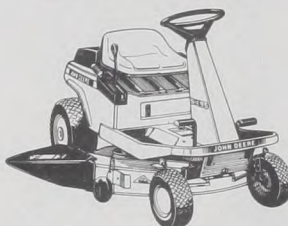

Chevy's Full-Size 4x4's feature the standard shift-on-the-fly Insta-Trac System. Ford still makes you get out and change hubs. And Chevy includes anti-lock rear brakes when in the two-wheel-drive mode for sure control.

Summer jobs for unemployed youths... Workin' for wages

Eric Taylor, age 15, pitched an armload of tree branches and weeds onto the back of an overflowing truck Monday afternoon. He paused in the heat to survey with approval the wooded area of the Muenster City Park where he and five other teens were clearing brush.

Eric and his group are part of the Texoma Regional Planning Commission's SWAT team - Summer Work Assistance Team. They are but six of about 300 high school students in Cooke, Grayson and Fannin counties employed in the program.

Ron Wilkerson, a Denison High School counselor, is a supervisor of the SWAT team. Falling under TRPC's Job Training Partnership Act, the teenage program is in its second year.

"The purpose of the program is to take kids who are at risk of not being employed after graduation and giving them some job training during the summer," Wilkerson said Monday. "This service helps the youth and the cities."

Students chosen to work in the program come from low income backgrounds. Although several Muenster teenagers applied for the program, none of them qualified, said Joe Fenton, Muenster city manager.

SWAT team members work no more than 40 hours each week for the entire summer and are paid $3.50 per hour, Wilkerson said. The federal government pays their wages.

"We've got teenagers doing all kinds of work - painting signs, putting up street signs, working at courthouses and boys' clubs," he said. "We've also got some classroom training for them to determine if they have skills necessary to fill out job application forms and for basic employment."

The six members of the SWAT team who worked in Muenster this week were from Denison and Sherman. Wilkerson drove them here each day in a West Grayson minibus and supervised their clearing of brush in areas of the park and the sewer.

Fenton said a SWAT team will return to Muenster later this summer if the city needs more work done.

Telephone Co. hosts party

The annual swim party hosted by Muenster Telephone Corp. for its employees and families was held Friday evening, June 10, at the City Park.

Hamburgers, hot dogs and all the trimmings were served to 52 guests.

Games, visiting and children's games were enjoyed by all.

The newest attendee of the group, and getting all of the attention, was week-old Haylee Hess, daughter of Brent and Mary Hess.

A Gift to the AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY MEMORIAL PROGRAM goes a long way in cancer control.

Shower honors bride-elect

A bridal shower honoring Rose Herr was given in the home of Dianna Klement, sister of the bride-elect, on Saturday afternoon, June 11.

About 30 guests attended the shower where refreshments were served, wedding gifts opened and pictures taken. Guests also signed Rose's wedding book.

The shower was given by bridesmaids Dianna Klement, Pat Herr, Rosina Schmidkofer and Jean Pagel. Rose will marry William Schmidkofer on June 25 at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Gainesville.

PUBLIC NOTICE

THE STATE OF TEXAS
TO: STEPHEN F. HEFNER
GREETING: You are commanded to appear by filing a written answer to the plaintiff's petition at or before 10 o'clock A.M. of the first Monday after the expiration of 42 days from the date of issuance of this Citation, the same being Monday, the 4th day of July, A.D., 1988, at or before 10 o'clock A.M., before the Honorable District Court of Cooke County, at the Courthouse of Gainesville, Texas. Said plaintiff's petition was filed on the 28th day of April, 1988. The file number of said suit being NO. 88-225.

The names of the parties in said suit are: BILLY GENE UNDERHILL as Plaintiff, and STEPHEN F. HEFNER as Defendant.

The nature of said suit being substantially as follows, to-wit: TO REMOVE CLOUD ON TITLE OF THE FOLLOWING 2 TRACTS OF LAND, to-wit:

TRACT I: All that certain lot, tract or parcel of land being twenty (20) acres of land out of Lot No. Twenty-five (25) of the Subdivision of the Hunt County School Land Survey, Abst. No. 440, in Cooke County, Texas, described as follows:

BEGINNING on the West boundary line of said Lot No. 25 at the Southwest corner of the 65-acre tract out of said Lot No. 25, conveyed by I.R. Budlong, et al, to Ivory Evans by Deed dated February 9, 1942, and recorded in Vol. 262, Page 337 of the Cooke County Deed Records, said corner being in the center of the road;

THENCE South with said road 362 feet to corner;

THENCE East 2418 feet to corner on the West right-of-way line of Interstate Highway No. 35;

THENCE N. 0 deg. 16 min. W. with said line, 362 feet to corner on South line of said 65 acres conveyed by Budlong, et al, to Evans;

THENCE West with said line 2418 feet to the beginning.

LESS AND EXCEPT an undivided one-half (1/2) interest in and to all of the oil, gas and other minerals, as was reserved in the Warranty Deed from I.R. Budlong, et al, to Ben "Bo" Reid and wife, Sue Reid, as recorded in Vol. 434, Page 251, of the Cooke County Deed Records.

TRACT II: all that certain 75 acres of land out of the John Gregg Survey, Abstract No. 397, in Cooke County, Texas, located about 1/2 mile Northeast of the town of Valley View, and more particularly described as follows:

BEGINNING at the Northeast corner of a 40-acre tract out of said survey sold to Hutchins, which beginning point is 381 varas East of the Northwest corner of said survey and of Lot 1 of a division of said survey as shown by Deed executed by W.B. Foreman and Guy M. Bryant, Jr., to T.E. Tullis, recorded in Vol. 11, Page 267 of the Cooke County Deed Records.

THENCE East with the North boundary line of said survey, 718 varas to the Northeast corner of said Lot 1 in the North line of said survey;

THENCE South with the division line between Lots 1 and 2 of said survey 592 varas to the Northeast corner of a 100-acre tract out of said survey sold to Thomas;

THENCE West with the North line of said Thomas 100-acre tract, 718 varas to the Southeast corner of said Hutchins 40-acre tract;

THENCE North 592 varas to the place of beginning.

The name and address of the attorney for plaintiff, or the address of plaintiff is: L. Kip Schiller, P.O. Box 279, Gainesville, TX 76240.

Issued this 19th day of May, A.D., 1988.

NOTICE TO DEFENDANT: You may employ an attorney. If you or your attorney do not file a written answer with the clerk who issued this citation by 10:00 a.m. on the Monday next following the expiration of twenty days after you were served this citation and petition, a default judgment may be taken against you.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Gainesville, Texas, this 19th day of May, A.D., 1988.
