CONSERVATION CLASS IS WELL ATTENDED BY WAR VETERANS OF CCC

Classes in Soil Conservation are being offered the World War Veterans attached to the local soil conservation camp, according to representatives of the supervising personnel of the camp on Fourth Street. The course that is being offered by the members of the technical service includes an orientation course followed by a complete Soil Conservation Training Program which offers instruction in each phase of erosion control. The lessons are followed by direct application of these methods upon the farms where the enrollees are working.

The purpose of the course, as outlined by N. P. Stephenson, Personnel Training Officer for Region 4 of the Soil Conservation Service, is to "give the men a thorough understanding of the erosion problem and the complete coordinated plan of control to the end that they may go back to farms of their own and put into practice the soil and moisture conserving practices that are being employed by the Soil Conservation Service. The Training Program should also improve their chances of obtaining jobs when discharged, enabling them to return to their home communities with a substantial value to an employer and with some skill or knowledge which will enable them to earn a better livelihood for themselves and their families."

Apparently adopting as their slogan "Life Begins at 40," ex-service men attached to Camp SCS T-21 are taking advantage of the training offered, and meet for classes every Wednesday evening at six. Plane table mapping and farm surveying are being taught by Emil Stuter, Engineering Aide. Instruction in classification of soils as to series and type, determining the degree of erosion, and methods of increasing soil productivity is offered by Zech C. Dameron, Jr., Agricultural Aide. Lessons in farm planning, gully control, terracing, terrace outlet protection and running strip crop lines are conducted by John H. Johnson, Engineering Aide. O. J. Orton, Technician in charge, assists with farm planning and will teach classes in field crops and pasture improvement. Instruction on the job is being conducted by Camp Superintendent, M. W. Ledbetter and Senior Foreman C. L. Hagood and E. S. Rothe. Coordinated with all the work, camp mechanic Steve Borders gives instruction regarding ECW Safety regulations and care of equipment.

Heartily cooperating with the Training Program that is being offered, Captain Sylvan B. Simpson, commanding officer, Lieutenant Hays, second in command, and R. M. Herriott, Educational Advisor, are active in class organization and attendance. Academic courses and classes in wood-work, accounting, and Government are also being conducted by Lieutenant Hays and Mr. Herriott.

Needy

Acute suffering among the poverty stricken people of Brownwood, intensified by severe cold weather which has brought numerous new cases of sickness, has made additional heavy demands upon the Community Center for warm clothing. Shoes for children are needed especially.

Contributions of any sort are appreciated and will be distributed in the proper manner, workers at the center stress.

Roosevelt Back in War Days of 1917

Hidden for 19 years in an album owned by Eugene Tucker of the Department of Agriculture picture division, this hitherto unpublished picture of President Roosevelt has just been discovered. It shows him on the rifle range at Indian Head, Md., when he was Assistant Secretary of the Navy, in 1917.

ICC APPROVES SANTA FE PURCHASE MAKING BROWNWOOD ONE OF PRINCIPAL RAIL CENTERS IN TEXAS; ORDER EFFECTIVE ON JANUARY 30

Brownwood will become one of the most important railway centers in the state as a result of the purchase of the Fort Worth and Rio Grande railroad from Menard through Brownwood to Fort Worth by the Santa Fe system.

Approval of the sale by the Interstate Commerce Commission will mean that the Santa Fe will now have a direct short line between Brownwood and points west and south of here and between this city and Fort Worth, Dallas and other central and north Texas points. The order becomes effective January 30. Report of the Commission's approval came late Monday from Washington.

President's Statement
Samuel T. Bledsoe, Santa Fe president, said in a statement from Chicago early this week:

"Brownwood now will be 118 miles closer to Fort Worth via Santa Fe than heretofore. Our railroad will have a more direct route to the South Plains by intersection at Brownwood with its Galveston-Lubbock and transcontinental lines.

"The country affected by acquisition is, north of Brownwood, farming and stock country, while south it is largely devoted to the cattle and sheep industry. Distances are, from Fort Worth to Brownwood, 137 miles; from Brownwood to Brady, 51 miles; and from Whiteland to Menard, 27 miles. The FW&RG has heretofore used Santa Fe truckage from Brady to Whiteland. The newly acquired railroad was built into Granbury from Fort Worth in 1887; extended to Dublin in 1890 and to Comanche the same year; to Brownwood in 1891, Brady through Brownwood to Fort Worth in 1903 and Menard in 1911. "Acquisition of this 215-mile new line, together with the construction of the 111-mile line between Boise City, Oklahoma, and Las Animas, Colorado, gives the Santa Fe system a total of 12,558 miles of track," President Bledsoe pointed out.

At the same time of its approval of the sale, the Commission ordered that the St. Louis, San Francisco and Texas Railway Company be permitted to purchase certain properties of the FW&RG. It also voted permission to the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe Railway Company to lease all properties of the Fort Worth company except those acquired by the Atchison road, and granted permission to the St. Louis road to operate over part of the main line of the FW&RG tracks.

Weakened Finances
A purchase of capital stock will effect the control of the road. The weakened financial structure of the FW&RG was one of the main considerations influencing the Commission in its decision.

"The Rio Grande Company has been in financial difficulties for a number of years," stated the Commission. "From the time of its organization in 1887 to December 31, 1925, its losses from operation amounted to approximately $6,687,000." (Continued on page 3.)

FOUR MEN RECEIVE INJURIES IN AUTO-RAIL CAR MISHAP

As the result of a collision between an automobile and a railroad car Friday at noon, George Trowbridge, Frisco employe, was seriously injured and two other railway workers and a rural mail carrier were slightly injured.

The mishap occurred at the Mc-Hen crossing of the Frisco on the old Blanket road about five miles north of Brownwood. The railroad employes, including Trowbridge, Alton Pickens and Reuben McCullough, section foreman, were returning from a patrol trip along the tracks north of Brownwood, and Jack Alcorn, rural mail carrier, was returning to Brownwood after making his daily route.

The rail motor car was coming down grade and when the brakes were applied the slippery track made it impossible to check the speed of the car. Alcorn's windshield and other glasses in his car were frosted and he was unable to see the approaching machine. The automobile was badly damaged, and Trowbridge suffered a badly fractured leg, with deep cuts and bad bruises, and will be confined to the hospital for several weeks.

Alcorn received a bad blow on the head in the crash, but X-ray examination revealed that the skull was not fractured. He was dismissed from the hospital as were Pickens and McCullough after their injuries had been treated.

Two CCC Enrollees Charged With Theft Of U. S. Army Truck

Grady Barker, 19, and Roy Henshaw, 21, enrollees of the Lake Brownwood State Park CCC camp are in Brown county jail awaiting examining trial for the theft of a 1937 Dodge truck owned by the U. S. Army.

Local police were notified at 8:24 p. m. Tuesday of the theft, and broadcast a report over the police radio. Cisco officers arrested the two youths about five minutes after hearing the report. The pair had stopped at a Cisco filling station to inquire about the road to Eastland when they were arrested.

Two members of the sheriff's department went to Cisco Tuesday night and brought the youths back to Brownwood. Theft charges have been filed by County Attorney Conner Scott. Scott has stated that the case probably will be transferred to federal court since the stolen property belongs to the federal government.

Evert Wheeler, another enrollee at the camp, was arrested late Wednesday and charged as an accomplice. Wheeler was on duty as a night watchman when the truck was stolen.

BROWN COUNTY ROAD PROJECT COMPLETED BY WPA JANUARY 10

Construction of a 10.5 mile stretch on the May-Williams-Cross Cut road from Highway 23 north through May has just been completed. The road, formerly impassable in bad weather, has been placed into all-weather condition by a 6-inch caliche surface 18 feet wide. The project ran from March 27, 1936 until January 10, 1937. Approximate cost was $29,000, 60 per cent furnished by the WPA and the remaining portion by the sponsor.

Work was started Monday on a WPA project of fencing both sides of a 15-mile new state highway No. 4, about three miles north of Junction, in Kimble county, to a point 18 miles north of Junction. WPA cost is estimated at $2,141, while the sponsor's contribution is $825. All but two of the 25 men employed on the project are furnished by the WPA.

A stretch of 4.2 miles of fencing on both sides of a new farm-to-market road on Highways 4 and 29 in Kimble county was completed recently at a total expenditure of $1,508.

The men who have been working on the project now completed have been transferred to another fencing project on Highway 4 from a point 3 miles north of Junction. This project was started last Monday and consists of approximately 15 miles of fencing on both sides of Highway 4. The estimated WPA expenditure will be $2,141, while the sponsor will contribute approximately $825. The project employs 24 men. John Munn is superintendent.

City-Laid Eggs Coming Up!

Eggs from some of her 15,000 "penthouse" chickens are gathered by Miss Lillian Swenson, 19, at a Long Island poultry place conducted on modern lines. Eggs laid in the individual coops slide down to a collecting tray. In front of each cage is a chart, and if Biddy isn't laying her quota of eggs, she goes to market. By use of individual cages, chickens are being raised in New York and Chicago skyscrapers, with approval of health authorities. Music is provided to make the hens lay better.

REDUCED ALLOTMENT TO BE EFFECTIVE IN WPA WORK FEB. 1

The recent reduction in Works Progress Administration funds amounting to a decrease of $6.60 per man month allotment in District 14, or an aggregate reduction of more than $16,000 per month, was explained before a mass meeting in Brownwood Tuesday attended by officials of the various political subdivisions and chambers of commerce in the 12-county area comprising this district.

The reduction was effective on January 1, 1937 on new projects and will be effective on February 1 on all projects. The cost of project operation in District 14 during the past one and one-half years has amounted to an average of $39.60 per man month.

"Since no change has been made in the provisions which requires that $21.00 of the man-month allotment in ten counties and $24.00 in two counties must be spent for labor, the reduction in federal funds affects the amount of materials and equipment which the Works Progress Administration can furnish," District Director Karl E. Wallace told the officials of sponsoring groups. "It will, therefore, be necessary that sponsor's funds be increased for the purchase of materials which under the old set-up could be furnished by the Works Progress Administration," he said.

Stafford Speaks

Harold Stafford, Administrative Assistant from the State office of the Works Progress Administration, prefaced his explanation of the new set-up with a review of emergency relief legislation since the first emergency relief appropriation act of $500,000,000 passed on May 12, 1933, which during the past three and one-half years has been increased to approximately six billion dollars for all types of work programs and including the direct relief during the early part of emergency relief administration. "The sole element, contained in early day relief distribution through commissaries, grocery orders and straight cash given in direct relief, has been eliminated in the present works program which was first inaugurated in the FERA and CWA carried on through county administrative units and since July, 1935, by the Works Progress Administration operating as district administrative units.

Unemployment in the United States, Stafford said, increased from 4,665,000 in January, 1930 to 10,514,000 in December, 1931, and reaching a peak of 13,300,000 in January and February, 1932, just prior to the inauguration of federal relief. During these dark years of the depression county judges and mayors found themselves unable to cope with the unemployment situation through local public and private charity funds and appealed for aid to the federal government. Hearings and research by the Woods Committee and Gifford Committee, appointed by President (Continued on page 7.)

FOOD PRESERVED BY WOMEN'S CLUBS IN COUNTY VALUED AT $66,540, AGENT'S REPORT REVEALS

Food canned and preserved during the past year by members of women's home demonstration and 4-H clubs throughout the county had a total value of $66,540, reports Miss Mayesie Malone, county home demonstration agent, in her annual report to Extension Service officials at College Station.

Miss Malone's complete summary of her year's work follows: "The Brown County Home Demonstration Council held eleven regular meetings and one called meeting in 1936, with 155 attending. Two special meetings were also called with the Agriculture Association.

"The Council sponsored eight Achievement Days, two of these were 4-H Club Achievement Days. Zephyr girls had a garden show in June and Brooksmith had a bedroom program in October. The six women's clubs visited both yards and bedroom demonstrations in each community.

The expansion work has been cared for this year with more definite help given by the women and girls to non-club members than in previous years.

The Council has sponsored two encampments, one for girls and other for the women's home demonstration clubs with a total of 185 women attending the two camps and many visitors.

Two new 4-H clubs have been organized for 1937, Woodland Heights and Mukewater, with a total enrollment of 40 girls.

The Council paid $5.50 on the expenses of the Gold Star Girl to the Farmers' Short Course, and while she was there she was elected secretary of the state boys and girls organization.

Eight dollars was also paid by the Council on the district vice president's trip to the International meeting of the Country Women of the World at Washington, D. C.

Twelve 4-H Club girls and six sponsors were guests of the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce to the Fat Stock Show in March, and seven girls were given trips to the Centennial by the Chamber of Commerce in November. The Chamber of Commerce also furnished ice for both camps.

May and Blanket clubs cooperated with their communities in their community fairs. May furnished educational exhibits featuring the two demonstrations of the county this year and club girls furnished some exhibits for the other fair.

Austin Mill & Grain Co. gave their usual contribution of $50 this year and added an extra $5 to the amount, which was used to send representatives to the Short Course and furnish two cooks for women's home demonstration club camp.

Austin-Morris Furniture Co. furnished other prizes for the 4-H bedroom contest, and other local merchants contributed prizes and supplies for shows, contests and camps.

One of our 4-H club girls won second place in the district bedroom contest.

The state secretary of the boys and girls organization was given a trip to Agricultural Association in Fort Worth to appear on the program.

The cooperation from organizations and individuals is 100 per cent and has always been since home demonstration work was started in Brown county.

Yard Work

Early in the year sixteen yard demonstrators signed up for their work and plans were drawn with very definite information given in each place to cover several years. Thirteen of these demonstrators made a very nice showing in spite of the many handicaps, especially the dry, hot summer. Very few shrubs were lost.

Sixty-eight cooperators reached goal number 1, which was: Have sanitary drainage and disposal of waste, 169 reached goal number 2, have a thoroughly clean and orderly arranged yard and keep it that way, 60 reached goal number 3, screen the toilet with an evergreen.

The following is a report of yard work by 300 demonstrators and cooperators: Eighteen lawns were sodded, 1,255 nursery shrubs were planted and living, 691 native shrubs planted and living, 322 roses planted and living, 156 planted trees for shade and background, 1,189 plants rooted from cuttings, 47 walks and drives constructed,

Pedaling to New Records

Helen Stephens, Missouri farm girl who set a world record in winning the Olympic 100-meter dash for the United States last summer, has gone cosmopolitan. Miss Stephens has taken up residence in New York, where she will train under expert hands in an effort to develop her running form more thoroughly. Here she is working out on a stationary bicycle in Gotham.

Representative

Ross K. Prescott of Santa Anna who this week began service as Representative in the Legislature from the 125th District, composed of Brown and Coleman counties. Mr. Prescott, formerly of Brownwood, is a graduate of Daniel Baker College. He was a member of the faculty of Santa Anna High School when elected to the Legislature.

Williams Chapter

The annual Williams F. F. A. Father and Son banquet will be held at the high school gymnasium Wednesday night, January 20. The Williams Future Farmers feel that they are very fortunate in securing Ross R. Wolfe, noted nurseryman of Stephenville, to be principal speaker. Mr. Wolfe will present a program designed to create a more appreciative attitude toward agriculture and farm life.

The Williams home economics department will, as they have in the past, help the boys put on the banquet. The food is to be contributed from the boys' homes, and will be prepared by their mothers and the home economics girls. By having the boys to bring the food from home, it has been found that 17 sanitary toilets built.

Total expense of yard improvement was $209.51. Some spent as little as $4.50 and made a very good showing. This was done by buying small shrubs or rooting most of them and use of native shrubs such as bee bush, alarita, haw, youpon, cedars, honeysuckles, samae, red-bud, prickly skunk bush, buck-eye, and others.

Eleven new yards will be started this month and the others will carry on their demonstrations started last year and the past five years until their plans have been completed.

Bedroom Improvement

Bedroom improvement has been carried on in Brown county this year in both the 4-H girls' clubs and women's home demonstration clubs. The girls' work was a county contest, which entitled the winner to enter the district contest, in which this county won second place. The women had no contest in their work. As a result of this demonstration the following report for the county is given: 491 bedrooms were improved, 91 new bedrooms were added or created from other space, 99 windows were added, 232 rooms were provided with curtains, 190 walls were papered or painted, 207 floors, were improved, 72 rooms were screened, 54 hand made rugs were completed, 42 mattresses were made at home, 136 factory mattresses were added, 417 pieces of bed linen added, 120 spring or mattress protectors added, 163 bed spreads added, 27 woolen covers added, 133 dressers or dressing tables added, 49 dresser scarfs added, 289 clothes closets added, 113 bathing centers added, 41 reading or writing tables added, 125 book shelves added, 64 lamps added, 55 chairs added, 614 pieces of furniture refinished. Total spent on improving bedrooms was $1,492.35.

Each 4-H club in the state is required to carry one productive demonstration and the girls of Brown county have carried garden demonstrations. This year special emphasis was given to leafy, green and yellow vegetables.

Garden plans were made in January. J. F. Roseborough, Extension Service horticulturist, visited here early in the year, and gave suggestions on seed selection and planting.

The Zephyr girls held a fresh vegetable show in June with a splendid exhibit. Another vegetable show was held at the girls' encampment in July with 38 girls entering exhibits.

The following reports were given: 155 added fertilizer to garden plots, 198,726 quarts of vegetables were canned, which valued at 20 cents per quart, had a total value of $38,745.29; 69,966 quarts of vegetables were brined, pickled or preserved, which valued at 20 cents per quart, had a total value of $13,393.20; 360,040 pounds were stored, cured or dried, which valued at 4 cents per pound had a total value of $14,401.60; vegetables were prepared 2,390 times; 40 made hot beds or cold frames; 45 installed irrigation systems; 44 pantries were built or improved; 57 pantries were organized; 51 built or remodeled store rooms or cellars; $1,285.62 was reported from sale of vegeta-

Agent's Activities

The agent's activities are reported as follows: 193 days were spent in the office, 136 days were spent in the country, 276 visits were made to demonstrations, 247 different homes were visited, 749 office calls were received, 1,255 telephone calls were received, 71 news stories were published, 533 individual letters were written, 325 different circular letters were written, 579 bulletins were distributed, 225 meetings were held with a total attendance of 7,664. The agent worked with eleven women's organizations and 10 girls' organizations with an enrollment of 600.

WHO PAYS FOR TEXAS HIGHWAYS?

Texas' highways, to date, have cost Texas taxpayers approximately seven hundred and fifty millions of dollars. License fees from motor vehicles have contributed $202,000,000. Gasoline taxes have accounted for $176,000,000. Federal aid has totaled $91,000,000. YOUR PROPERTY TAXES HAVE CONTRIBUTED $281,000,000—MORE THAN ONE-THIRD OF THE TOTAL. Large trucks—those weighing more than 8000 pounds loaded—have paid a total of $27,000,000 in license fees and gasoline taxes, or 33 1/2 per cent of the total cost. Yet these trucks have been responsible for an additional cost of construction and maintenance amounting to approximately 50 per cent of the total amount far in excess of their contribution. These "lender trucks" result in 25 per cent increase in pavement costs.

Their bigger loads have required thicker pavements, costing from 35 to 60 per cent more; their size has made wider and heavier bridges necessary; maintenance costs have increased through their use and abuse of the highways.

Such extra expenditures are almost solely for the benefit of the big trucks, and are not necessary for the small trucks and passenger cars. YET THEIR COST IS BORNE BY THE OWNERS OF PASSENGER CARS AND SMALL TRUCKS, AND BY THE GENERAL TAXPAYER, WHO MAY NOT EVEN OWN A CAR, WHILE THE BIG TRUCKS THEMSELVES HAVE PAID ONLY 33 1/2 PER CENT.

Any increase in present truck loads, size or speed limits will further increase the highway costs which all of us, the people of Texas, must pay.

Texas railroads provide and maintain their own rights-of-way; afford employment to 60,000 men and women (who are also taxpayers); pay large taxes in support of city, county, state and federal governments; and, in addition, pay annually more than $900,000 toward state highway costs. The interest of the railroads in highway regulation is precisely parallel to that of the public.

"ONE OF BEST INVESTMENTS" IS CONSENSUS OF OPINION AMONG BROWN CO. FARMERS ACTING UNDER STATE PROGRAM SOIL CONSERVATION

By C. W. LEHMBERG, County Agent

Perhaps no county in the state stands more in need of soil conservation work than Brown county. The topography of Brown County is undulating to hilly. The loss of surface water and top soil is immense and the damage from washing to some fields is almost beyond remedy.

According to a survey made a year ago through the County Agent's office, there are approximately 75,000 acres of marginal and sub-marginal land in the county. Strenuous efforts are being made to check the destructive inroads of water and wind erosion in the county. The Extension Service, through the County Agent's office, Vocational Teachers and the Soil Conservation Service are in the field putting into practice the various recommended methods for checking soil erosion and maintaining soil fertility.

The Extension Service, which is by far the oldest and the most important agency in carrying on soil conservation work, has been actively engaged in terracing and contouring crop lands in Brown county for the past 15 years.

Approximately 45,000 acres have been terraced. Some of the terraces built years ago are still in good condition. Others have been neglected and will have to be repaired or rebuilt. The present Agricultural Conservation program has done much to make farmers soil conservation minded. Some of the mistakes that have been made in the past, such as giving terraces too much fall or spacing terraces too far apart, are rapidly being corrected.

This article deals with soil conservation work done through the County Agent's office during the past three years.

During 1934, ninety-seven farms comprising 2,938 acres were terraced. In 1935 forty-four farms with a total of 3,536 acres were terraced, and in 1936 one hundred twenty-six farms comprising 6,231 acres were terraced. As a rule terrace lines are run on the level, however, in certain cases where the physical condition of the farm demands it a variable fall is given not to exceed 1 inch per 100 feet. These terraces were built according to standard specifications furnished by the Extension Service, A. & M. College of Texas with a base of 24 feet to 36 feet and 18 inches to 24 inches high. The total length of terrace lines run on the 267 farms

Gable and Crawford in "Love On the Run" At Lyric Sunday and Monday

Clark Gable and Joan Crawford in "Love on the Run"

Romance runs rampant, adventure has its fling, and love conquers all in the delightful new M-G-M comedy melodrama, "LOVE ON THE RUN," which comes to the Lyric Theatre Sunday and Monday. Teaming those two exhilarating and colorful personalities, Joan Crawford and Clark Gable, in a dashing tale of modern doings by ultra-modern people, the new picture provides excitement and laughter in an entertainment melange of an heiress, a fortune hunting nobleman, two American correspondents and a brace of European crooks.

amounts to 347.1 miles. Various types of machinery ranging from home made drags and long winged plows to county road machinery were used in building terraces. The cost of building terraces runs from 30 cents per acre to $1.50 per acre, depending on the kind of machinery used and the physical condition of the farms before terracing. The increased value of terraced land over the same kind of land not terraced has been conservatively placed at $8.00 per acre. Applying this figure to the 12,695 acres terraced during the past three years, has increased the real estate value of these farms in Brown county $101,569.00. Some of the best informed farmers in the county estimate that terracing crop lands increases acre production at least 25 per cent. Taking this as a conservative figure the increased productive ability of the 12,695 acres terraced amounts to $47,380.24. These farmers have increased the value of these farms $148,949.24 as a result of carrying out approved soil building practices which means larger farm incomes, a higher standard of living and happier and more contented homes.

Pasture improvement work has been done on 37 farms and ranches. Contour ridges were built on 1,137 acres of pasture land. These contour lines are run on the level with the ends turned up. Some of these ridges have been sodded with Bermuda, Buffalo and Mesquite grasses and on others mixtures of clover and grasses have been sown. The total length of the contour lines amounts to 617,760 feet or 117 miles. There are on file in the county agent's office at this time 453 applications for terracing and contouring.

Statements from farmers regarding the benefits of terraces and contour ridges: M. L. Brooks of Bangs made the following statement regarding the work done on his farm:

"In 1934 I had my farm terraced under the supervision of County Agent LehMBERG. My farm was so badly washed that it had almost become worthless. Most of the top soil was washed away leaving nothing but bare red clay in many places. Terraces 24 feet wide and 20 inches high were built. Since the land has been terraced this farm is coming back into production and is building up rapidly. Production has increased from 25 to 35 per cent. I am going to have the balance of my farm terraced as soon as I can get to it."

J. L. Ferguson whose farm is located in the McDaniel community made the following statement:

"I had 120 acres terraced in 1935. The County Agent ran the terrace lines on the level. I built my terraces 48 feet wide and 30 inches high. This work paid good dividends the first year and my soil is becoming more productive every year. I had some more terrace lines run in 1936. I am going right on with this work until every acre of my farm is protected by terraces."

Murray N. McBurney of Zephyr said: "I am convinced that building terraces on my farm is the best place of work I have ever done. It has built up my land and increased soil fertility. In past years I lost a good deal of my top soil and yields continually decreased. I am going to terrace my entire farm as rapidly as possible because it is the best crop insurance I can get."

M. E. Fry, breeder of Polled Herefords, whose farm and ranch is located on Pecan Bayou in the southern part of the county, is highly pleased with the result of

WEST TEXAS WOMEN LEARNING VALUE OF HOME CANNED GOODS

West Texas women and girls have played a prominent part in the home food supply of their families, reports from county home demonstration agents in that section indicate.

Her home food supply is valued at $373.77, and the total cash out lay required to produce her year's food was $26.35.

RANCHMEN FEED OUT OWN STOCK FOR MORE QUALITY AND PROFIT

Many farmers and ranchmen of West Texas, long noted for the quality of their feeder stock, are turning to feeding out their own calves and steers, according to reports of county agricultural agents.

A pioneer in feeding out calves is Casper Real of the Turtle Creek community in Kerr county, who has on feed his thirteenth group of Hereford steer calves in 13 years.

Real says the calves this year are the best he has ever fed and that they have surpassed all previous groups in getting on feed. They are receiving a ration of 1 1/2 pounds of cottonseed meal, 6 pounds of ground whole ear corn, 15 pounds of legari silage from the Real trench silo and all the hay they can clean up.

The high cost of grain has kept many El Paso county farmers and cattlemen from feeding out beef, but a cattle feeding test, started in November, may open up a new field in this respect. These tests will determine the relative value of rations of alfalfa and cottonseed meal; Alfalfa, cottonseed meal and cottonseed hulls; alfalfa, corn, and cottonseed meal as fed to lots of 12 Highland Hereford yearling steers.

Head flies and cattle grubs take a large toll from West Texas ranchmen, and a group of Coke county cattlemen, as well as 16 boys from the Bronte high school of that county, recently gathered at the J. M. Williams ranch to see a demonstration in the control of this pest. County agricultural agent B. J. Baskin of Mitchell county explained the life history of the heel fly grub, and the backs of 23 cattle, heavily infested with grubs, were scrubbed with water, soap, and derris powder, one of the several agents for killing the grubs.

Q. How did the name of the town Fairburn originate? C. W. B.

A. It is tradition that when an Indian chief, looking for a camp site for a new hunting ground, saw the tree-crested mottle or knoll there, he exclaimed "Fairburnas!", which means "heart's desire," or "heart's delight."

Q. Will the San Jacinto Memorial Monument at the battlefield contain an auditorium and when will it be completed? H. L.

A. It will contain an auditorium with 5,000 seating capacity and contractors say it will be completed and ready for dedication in October.

Q. Who was Jesse Grimes? B. M. A. Jesse Grimes, for whom Grimes county was named, was born in North Carolina in 1778; moved to Alabama in 1817 and from there to Texas in January, 1826, settling in what is now Grimes county. He was in the convention of 1836; served in congress of the Republic and in State legislature; died March 16, 1866.

Q. What reply did Texas make to Gen. Arista's threatened invasion and re-occupation of Texas made from Monterrey in January, 1842? E. K. D.

A. Treating it as a joke, the Texas Congress, then in session, passed a bill annexing to Texas the two Californias, Chihuahua, Sonora, New Mexico, and parts of Tamaulipas, Coahuila, Durango, and Sinaloa. Pres. Houston vetoed this bill and Congress passed it over his veto.

Q. Why was Anthony Butler recalled by President Jackson as minister to Mexico in 1837? K. F.

A. He was recalled by request of the Mexican government because his activities over several years in attempting to negotiate the purchase of Texas, coupled with the revolt in Texas, created a justifiable suspicion that the United States was interested in acquiring Texas, to the extent of assisting the Texas revolution.

Q. What followed the Texas reply to Arista? E. K. D.

A. Mexican troops in March, 1842, numbered about 5,000, crossed the Rio Grande, captured San Antonio, Goliad, and Refugio, and after holding these towns a few days withdrew and marched back to Mexico.

COUNTY FARMERS TO RECEIVE $136,000 IN TEXAS SCS PROGRAM

Brown county farmers cooperating under the federal soil conservation program will receive an estimated total of $136,000 as soon as a final report on land measurements is received from the state allotment committee at A. & M. College.

Brown county has been allowed by the state committee a base of 35,012 acres for cotton and a total production of 3,594,936 pounds. The general crop base is 53,678 acres with weighted poundage of 5,367,800 pounds. The total allowed for soil depleting crops is $5,690 acres. These figures are based on 1,132 work sheets signed by cooperating farmers. They do not include acreage to be planted by farmers who did not enter the program.

The number of acres diverted from soil depleting to soil conserving and building crops will be the basis on which the farmers will be paid. The average to be paid per acre for diverted land in the general crops classification is $5.70. For cotton land diverted the payment will be 5 cents per pound for the normal yield and for peanut land diverted the payment will be 1 1/2 cents per pound on the normal yield of the acres that are diverted.

Who Wants To? Engineers have estimated that it would cost more than $250,000,000 to duplicate the great wall of China.

ing remembered by a girl's club over a period of four years... it was a lovely party. Dora Dean, as you know, is state chairman of Hymnology, has the highest ranking in the National Federation of Music Clubs, for her own junior club and possesses a charm and personality that is altogether beautiful. Her voice is like rippling water over shining pebbles that the sun has shone on. It has color, warmth and beauty enough to keep me thrilled for weeks to come. Her visit is over but her shining spirit and lovely graciousness are still with me. "A voice can burn or it can bless... her voice brings only happiness."

PEEP SHOW - For Ladies Only -

BY MIGNON

Three old hags look out at me, I was—I am—I'm gonna be. One is content with bygone years One repeats with easy tears One looks dismal... she needs a crutch She talks all the time without saying much...

We are always a little suspicious of people who are always over-worked. Great activity does not necessarily result in great accomplishment. I have known people to hurry and bustle about making a great show of work and at the day's end they had practically done nothing but hurry and fume and fuss and throw everyone about them into a nervous hissy. That's kinda like our New Year's resolutions. We don't have to make so many nor make such a fuss about them while we are making them, if we put even one good resolution into practice.

A printing establishment should always be a very busy place. It is quite like keeping house. You get all the news you can for your paper, put into type and print it, then you go about tearing it down and putting all the type back into the cases so you can begin all over again. A busy housekeeper cooks her meals, fills her dishes with food, it is eaten and she washes the dishes so that she may begin all over again for the next meal. It's kinda like the music goes round and round... only with the newspaper there's quite a bit of static now and then.

I read the other day how to get rid of company gracefully when you should be "on the job" and hard at work. This is the way the presidents did it: Grant drilled them out; Hayes, the first abstentionist, dried them; Arthur smiled and bowed them out; Cleveland, in his second term, crowded them out; McKinley loved them out; Roosevelt rode them out; Taft laughed them out; Wilson shut them out altogether; Harding joked them out; Coolidge let them talk themselves out; and Hoover just went out with them.

Looking about for shorter shorts than those appearing in the magazines so that even the busy working girls could stay abreast with the reading public I have these to offer: Pome... Adam Had 'em. Essay on Woman: Woman was ribbed into being... headed for trouble by a serpent and hot footed from the Garden of Eden for raising a little Cain...

No wonder I'm a little light headed this week. Jennie Harris Oliver sent me the smiling likeness of herself... a new one... a big beautiful photograph which sits here and looks so encouragingly at me. Even her pictured likeness inspires me. Unconsciously as a flower gives perfume or a bird sings its song she is always giving of her dear self. Did you read her new story in January Good House-keeping? "The Other Man." It is a different story than her usual story but you'll like it, of course. Everyone likes everything she does.

I told you I'd be loping out where the west begins in the delightful company of Dora Dean Reed, that sweet nightingale, from Mangum, didn't I? Well it was a gala weekend. First we visited Eldorado and had an afternoon of such glorious music. Then the next day to Ollustee the home of the New State Club, the Double Three Club, and our own Lydia McCaleb. The Santa Fe Purchase

Brownwood people recognize in the purchase by the Santa Fe of the Frisco railroad the opening of a new era of prosperity and development of this section of Texas. Approval of the purchase, anticipated for some time, was given by the Interstate Commerce Commission this week. The 215-mile line, from Menard through Brownwood to Fort Worth, will go under Santa Fe ownership and management on January 30, under the plan which gained Federal approval.

Immediate benefits to Brownwood will be the immediate expenditure of a large sum of money by the Santa Fe in improvement facilities, in the ballasting and practical reconstruction of the line from Brownwood to Fort Worth, construction of new trackage and similar work which will be undertaken in the near future, and continued for some months. More far reaching and more permanent are other advantages, however.

Under what is understood to be the plan of the Santa Fe officials, Brownwood is to become one of the most important division points on the Texas system, and has possibilities of becoming one of the major railroad centers in the State. Improved transportation facilities for Brownwood shippers and travelers will be important, as will the increased traffic through Brownwood due to the shortening of the Santa Fe route from West Texas to Fort Worth and Dallas by 118 miles. The new route takes added importance when the 111 mile line between Boise City, Oklahoma and Las Animas, Colorado, recently constructed, is considered. The shorter haul from the South Plains and from the western area beyond Amarillo and Lubbock will send much traffic through Brownwood, and should give Brownwood an important place in railroad circles such as has been enjoyed by Temple, Cleburne and other Texas cities.

It is not without regret that Brownwood people see the passing of the Frisco railroad, however. Since it was extended from Comanche into Brownwood in 1891, giving this city short rail connection with North Texas, the Frisco has played an important part in the development of the section which it has served. Throughout the 46 years of its existence in Brownwood, the Frisco has been a part of every movement for the betterment of the portion of the State that it was serving. During more recent years, however, the road has been operating at a heavy loss, and in spite of the desire of those in charge, it has been impossible for them to improve their facilities and service as they desired.

With the strength of the Santa Fe System behind it, the old Frisco line will return to its former place of importance, and experience a new period of great usefulness to the territory served. All Brownwood joints in extending the Santa Fe officials a pledge of cooperation and a wish for success in their new development.

A strong plea for prompt payment of 1936 taxes assessed by the Brown County Water Improvement District No. 1 has been made by directors of the district. Payment must be made before February 1 to avoid delinquencies. Under an agreement between directors of the water district and representatives of holders of the district's bonds, the bond holders will continue to accept 3 per cent interest on the bonds, instead of 5 1/2 per cent. But this agreement will hold good only in event the district collects at least 75 per cent of the 1936 assessments. If 75 per cent is not collected, the 5 1/2 per cent interest must be paid.

From the standpoint of the bondholders, the agreement is not an unreasonable one. They purchased the bonds in good faith, expecting to get a 5 1/2 per cent return on them. Because of changed financial conditions, they have been induced to accept a lower interest rate. It was understood by both parties that the agreement was a temporary one. The bond holders now ask that, if the agreement is to be continued, the people of the district show their good faith by paying at least 75 per cent of the taxes now due.

It is good business to do so. Under no circumstances can payment of the taxes be avoided. If not paid before February 1, they must be paid at some later date. If not paid voluntarily, the bond holders already have indicated they will force tax suits to be filed. In such event, not only will payment be more costly to the property holders of the district through the added cost of the suit, but the expenses of the district will be increased by the necessity of having to pay the higher interest rate.

There is no good reason for not making payment. The property owners of the enthusiastically ordered the bonds issued, and expected that they would be paid. To fail to meet the requirements of the bond holders, especially when they appear to be fair, would not only impair the credit of the district, but would make it extremely difficult to secure Federal aid to complete the irrigation feature. Further, should the district default further now, and should Federal aid not be forthcoming, the present default would be a stumbling block which might forever prevent the sale of more bonds of the district at some future date when conditions might warrant completion of the irrigation system at the district's expense.

The district owes the directors a vote of gratitude. They have worked long and ably in an effort to untangle the financial difficulties which the depression brought upon the district. They have been eminently successful under the circumstances. Given proper cooperation at this time, they will see the matter through to a successful conclusion, although at times the future might look dark. Payment of water district taxes at this time would be a great aid to them in this work, as well as a profitable step for the property owners themselves.

Athletic departments of numerous colleges are complaining that there are too many "Bowl" football games on New Year's Day. Extension of the football season into the first day of the New Year is frowned upon for various reasons, principal one being that it keeps students who play football out of the class rooms too long, detracts from studies and in general makes discipline difficult.

With six or seven Bowl games in progress as 1937 opened, it seems that the position is justified. The thing can be overdone, and apparently it is. Furthermore, the success of the games this year gives rise to the prediction that several more will be thrust upon the public by another season.

But it is too much to hope that they will be discontinued. Some of the conferences may decline to permit their teams to play, but there will be plenty more to take their places. So long as the games pour money into the athletic departments of participating colleges in the tens of thousands of dollars, there will be takers.

50 CREWS OF MEN Battling ICE and SLEET Working DAY and NIGHT TO RESTORE AND MAINTAIN POWER SERVICE

"Stand by to maintain service"

As storm warnings were broadcast last week, Linemen, Servicemen and Maintenance Crews of the Texas Power & Light Company were "standing by" as ever, in times of possible disaster. Few of these men have slept or rested since the storm's fury began its unprecedented damage to power and communication lines. Tirelessly they have battled ice and sleet, slush and freezing mud... without rest or shelter, "To maintain... restore and maintain electric service."

"Clinging" sleet and snow of the most dangerous type clinging to power and communication lines, adding tons of weight... far more ice than there has ever been in the history of this section. In many cases they broke, interrupting service in some Texas cities and towns.

In the early stages of this record-breaking storm, patrolling of lines could be carried on only on foot and in heavily chained motor equipment. This was slow and painful work for the men. Later, as the clouds lifted, airplanes were used, speeding up the locating of line-breaks.

At all times the actual restoring of service was made slow because of crippled communication lines which made it impossible quickly to pass along the word that repairs had been completed. Observers were long delayed in giving new assignments to repair crews. However, no moment was spent in idleness... every man threw his whole energy into the merciless task... night and day!

It is at times like this that the "service above self" idea back of the Texas Power & Light Company's entire organization demonstrates its real value to the people the company serves. No estimate can now be made of the staggering damage suffered by this company as a result of this history-breaking storm, except we know that it is great. Service is being restored and maintained just as rapidly as human skill and endurance can mend the breaks. Even after service is restored, weeks will be required to completely repair the damage done to power lines and equipment.

The Texas Power & Light Company takes this opportunity to thank the people for their cooperation and patience while the many repair crews worked day and night to restore and maintain service.

The loyalty of the employees in these trying times is highly commended to the public. The men spared no personal discomfort or danger for the sake of restoring and maintaining that service which is their sacred trust in times of storm and flood and disaster.

"To maintain... restore and maintain service" has been... is now... and always shall be... our guiding thought and aim!

ACTIVE PUBLIC HEALTH PROGRAM SUCCESSFULLY CARRIED ON BY JUNIOR SERVICE LEAGUE IN 1936

During 1936 Junior Service League, local welfare organization, raised $1,009.25 by means of benefit entertainments, subscriptions and donations of friends for use in financing its various welfare projects in Brownwood. An active public health program which included the maintenance of a health center at Community House and the employment of a public health worker was the organization's major project. In addition to the health program a center for collection, renovation and distribution of used clothing was operated daily at the Community House, and numerous other projects were carried on from the center throughout the year.

Attendance at weekly recreational classes conducted by League members for underprivileged children during the summer months averaged approximately 70 children. The classes, which included a story hour, Bible study and supervised play were held each Wednesday morning at the Community House. Once each month during the summer the children were taken to Coggin park for a picnic given by the League members.

During the year more than 4,000 garments were collected and distributed from the used clothing room at the community center. Included in these were 500 garments collected by League workers and reconditioned by members of the NYA sewing class. More than 360 quilts were made by Community House workers from materials contributed to the League and were distributed to families. A total of $95 was spent on shoes for school children during the year.

At Christmas time baskets were distributed to 118 families, 60 of which were families with no source of income. The distribution of the Christmas baskets, which was under League direction, was accomplished through cooperation of members of all the Brownwood churches, and a large number of interested individuals who furnished and delivered many of the baskets, members of the Brownwood Fire Department, who renovated used toys contributed for the baskets, and several merchants who made donations to the League's basket fund.

Through cooperation with the city and county health authorities, typhoid serums were given at the health center to 238 persons during the summer months. League workers also took active part in a clean-up campaign in portions of the city where typhoid was found to be prevalent. Smallpox vaccines furnished by the Red Cross were given to 90 children during the year.

Among other health measures carried out under the direction of Mrs. Roy Gower, the League's health supervisor, have been the examination of a large number of children and adults, instruction in hygiene and sanitation, treatment of cases of infectious skin diseases and other similar work.

In November the scope of the League's work was greatly enlarged with the starting of a League-sponsored WPA home hygiene, sanitation and public health project. The League's Community House houses the project, which employs three instructors and twelve workers. Mrs. Gower is in charge of the project.

Included in the work being carried on under the project is the organization of several Well Baby Clubs, general clean-up work in the poorer districts of the city, nursing service in homes where such service would otherwise be impossible, groups organized among expectant mothers and mothers of young babies, for instruction in pro-natal care and care of young children, furnishing cod liver oil for approximately 100 undernourished children and a number of other public health measures. A total of 21 Mexican children have been placed in public schools as a result of the workers' efforts.

A report for work carried on under the project for last week is indicative of its scope. The report, in part, is as follows:

Good progress made in five homes where clean-up work, including eradication of bed bugs, has been started.
Tub baths were given 14 school children.
Hair cuts were given eight school children. The work was donated by local barbers upon request of the League workers.
Bed baths were given 18 patients who were unable afford nursing care.
Treatment was given in 11 cases of scabies.
The WPA health project is scheduled to last until July.

Reduced Allotment—

Hoover to study the unemployment situation from 1931 to 1933, developed the fact that unemployment had become a national problem and could be combated effectively only through federal legislation and federal funds.

Unemployment Decreases
Now that the economic condition has been greatly improved and since the number of unemployed given work by the Works Progress Administration has been decreased to approximately 2,500,000 persons, increased cooperation from local political subdivisions in the works program is being asked, Stafford said.

National statistics on expenditures of Works Progress Administration funds reveal that approximately 80 per cent of the money is being spent for labor, 16 per cent for materials and equipment, and less than 4 per cent for administrative costs. The break-down in district 14 expenditures resembles closely the percentage distribution announced in the national figures.

"Approximately $1,410,000 in federal funds have been spent in the operation of projects in the twelve counties of the fourteenth district of the Works Progress Administration since its inception in July, 1935," District Director Wallace stated.

Public officials and representatives from civic organizations attending the mass meeting tendered a vote of appreciation for the efficient work rendered by the Works Progress Administration in this district and pledged their cooperation under the new set-up. The consensus of opinion expressed at the meeting was that the program under the new set-up, although involving a reasonable increase in sponsor's contribution, can continue to be operated on its present basis of integrity and efficiency.
