GREAT CLOSING OUT SALE

ON ALL KINDS OF IMPORTED AND DOMESTIC

CHINAWARE

Many beautiful patterns. Will sell positively at cost. $700 worth of china-ware to be sold in 10 days, commencing Friday, Oct. 4 and closing Monday, the 14th. We intend to close out this entire line as we have not sufficient shelf room to carry this stock. Also

Our Entire Stock of Ready-made Men's and Boys' Clothing

We have some very nobby suits left, both for boys and men. All our goods are fresh, no old stock. We have only carried this line for about eighteen months and our tailor made-to-order clothing business has grown to such immense proportions that we can no longer handle at a living profit ready-made suits. We intend to close out this entire stock at cost, freight added.

We will also include in this sale a limited number of hats which we will sell at one-fourth off.

Do You See

This dress suit in the picture? About every other man you meet in Donley county has an equally good suit, and if you ask him where he got it he will tell you, "I gave my order and selected the fabric at E. Dubbs & Sons." Now is the time to give us your orders. Every part of the suits we put out through the tailoring houses we represent is guaranteed to fit and keep their shape. We cannot do this with ready made suits. Come and see what we have to offer you.

E. DUBBS & SONS

Goes to Ft. Worth.

Rev. Wilson C. Rogers will leave next week for North Ft. Worth, where he will accept the pastorate of the First Baptist Church of that growing young city. The pastorate carries with it a good salary and a pleasant home. Bro. Rogers has sold his business interests here to E. R. Tatum. The Banner-Stockman's best wishes go with him to his new field.

Steffens Cream.

Dubbs offers this celebrated cream by single gallon at $1.75. Larger orders $1.50 during this season. The best for parties and home gatherings.

Do you need a typewriter ribbon? Get it of the Banner-Stockman.

The Ladies' Aid of the Baptist church held an interesting meeting Wednesday afternoon in spite of the threatening weather. A number of new names were enrolled. The matter of the Thanksgiving dinner was again discussed and the price was placed at 35c for adults and 25c for children under twelve. It was also decided to prepare a box for the Buckner Orphans' Home at Dallas, and all parties wishing to contribute anything to same will please send it to Mrs. C. W. Bennett's home before Oct. 19. Anything in the way of clothing, bedding, shoes, etc., in good condition will be gratefully accepted.

The highest grade of school shoes for medium prices at Rathjen's.

Notice.

TO MY FRIENDS AND CUSTOMERS: Having sold my interest in the firm of White & Clarke to Mr. Clarke with the understanding that I was to open a shop for myself, I am now ready for business in the old post office building, rear of First National Bank, and will do cleaning, pressing and repairing at reasonable prices. I also have a very attractive line of both ladies' and gents' samples for tailor made clothing. I guarantee all my work in every respect. Will call for and deliver all orders.

CAN'T PASS ON ONE TRACK

A Railroad Impossibility, Often Tried But Never Successful. Wreck Sunday Night.

When two trains attempt to pass on a single track trouble always ensues. There was a good big bunch of trouble handed out on the Denver Road Sunday night and the participants in the smash-up are extremely lucky to have gotten off with only the loss of an arm for one of the engine-men.

About half-past ten o'clock while engine 308 was standing on the main line at the depot in Clarendon, engine 309, pulling a long and heavy freight train, came down the hill from the north and crashed into the light engine. Engineer Sam Lewis and Fireman George Owens of 309 saw that a collision was inevitable and jumped. Lewis escaped unhurt but Owens was caught under a part of the wreckage and had his right arm so badly crushed that it had to be taken off just above the elbow. Dr. T. W. Carroll assisted by Dr. Wm. Gray attended to the amputation at the Atteberry hotel shortly after the accident.

No one else was hurt. Three cars of cabbage and onions and one car of horses were piled in a heap while engine 309 was badly smashed up. The other engine had the pilot knocked off and a few other minor damages sustained, but was able to proceed to the shops under its own steam. The main line was blocked for twenty-four hours but traffic was not interrupted as trains went around on the side tracks.

The cause of the wreck seems to have been general all-round carelessness on the part of both crews. Engine 308 with Conductor Franklin and Engineer Wyatt, headed north, pulled into town. The fireman, whose name we failed to learn, was sick and refused to take his engine further. The head brakeman offered to fire the train into Amarillo, provided the conductor would cut out half the cars and leave them here. The whole crew repaired to the telegraph office and were busy discussing the matter with the dispatcher, leaving the engine by itself on the main line and nearly opposite the depot. The southbound freight pulled into town just at this time and the wreck resulted. This train was evidently running at a speed greater than the law allows or it could have been stopped in time to avoid any accident. Engineer Lewis claims that the other engine had no headlight burning and for that reason he could not see it until too close to stop. In this claim he is borne out by local parties who say that they noticed the headlight being very dim. To a man up a tree however, it looks like both crews were to blame.

Had the northbound engine been attached to its train the wreck would have been a serious one indeed, and it is entirely likely that the depot would have been smashed to kindling wood. As it was only four cars were piled up, and the damage comparatively slight to what it might have been. A peculiar thing about the wreck was the fact that the car containing horses was smashed and buried under another car loaded with cabbage, and yet only two horses were killed. The others all escaped, some apparently without a bruise. Those Clarendon people who had the time Monday to watch the proceedings were entertained by watching the wrecker clear the debris. The Denver certainly has a fine wrecking outfit and the men know their business. Some heartless individual will say they ought to, as they have had considerable experience of late, but we wouldn't be so mean as to insinuate such a thing.

REPUBLICANS IN A MESS

Dallas Postmaster Down and Out—Sloan Simpson Gets His Job at the Pie Counter.

DALLAS, Sept. 29.—A big political sensation was cut loose here tonight for Texas republicans. D. A. Robinson resigned as postmaster of Dallas to head off his political enemies who had influenced the powers at Washington to ask for his resignation tomorrow. Mr. Robinson says pernicious political activity seems to be the cause of his troubles. He called his bondsmen, who are Dallas bankers, together this evening and informed them of his determination to beat his enemies to it, and turned the postoffice over to them.

Republican State Chairman Cecil A. Lyon was in town and arrangements were made to put Sloan Simpson in charge of the office Tuesday next. Simpson is a former rough rider and a close personal friend of President Roosevelt.

Miss Stout Here.

Clarendon Public School and the patrons of the primary department are to be congratulated on the fortunate acquisition of Miss Katie Stout, who this week begins work with the little folks, sharing the heretofore arduous duties with her sister, Miss Maggie. The two sisters have been assigned to the new building with their large flock of first and second graders, and all is moving along smoothly, while Miss Katie is already winning a place in the hearts of her little charges second only to the love they have formerly borne her sister. It is safe to say that no other school in the state is so well fixed with primary teachers. The Misses Stout have few equals and no superiors.

—People who enjoy a good cup of coffee have been wearing satisfied expressions on their faces all week. The coffee used at the Majestic Range Cooking Exhibit at Taylor & Sons' all week is the celebrated "Breakfast Bell" brand, for sale in Clarendon exclusively by The Martin-Bennett Co. There are many good coffees but none superior to this brand, and if you haven't had a cup better go right around to Taylor's and have one, "free gratis for nothin'" and with hot biscuits and butter on the side.

If Your Eyes Trouble You, call on C. N. Bushnell, the graduate optician, at Dr. Stocking's drug store, Clarendon, Texas. Eyes tested free. Glasses scientifically fitted when needed. Satisfaction guaranteed.

—Have you seen the display in Clower's window? Don't buy a thing in the way of china until you see his line.

AN ALL NIGHT SERVICE

Local Electric Light People Now Looking Into the Possibilities of Such a Move.

A. L. Chase, general manager of the Clarendon Water, Light & Power Company, was here Tuesday for the purpose of figuring on an all-night service for electric lights. In company with Local Agent Kemp he visited a number of the business men and ascertained their views on the subject, and found that without exception all the patrons of the plant not only wanted the all-night service but were willing to pay a reasonable additional rate to secure same. It will be necessary to have some changes made in the franchise before the matter can be fully adjusted, Mr. Chase says, but he will frame up his proposition with a view to giving satisfaction all around and a better light service.

Before the change can be made it will be necessary to install an entirely new outfit of machinery at the plant. The fuel proposition is getting worse all the time, and Mr. Chase now has in mind a new fuel, which in its application will be a radical departure from the present boiler arrangement. It will take a good deal of money and several months' time, he says, to install the necessary apparatus, but if he can get the consent of all parties concerned he will put his plans into execution, and in about six weeks will have his proposition ready to present.

Letter From S. W. U.

Mr. Jno. E. Cooke, Clarendon, Texas.

Dear Sir:—

Again I report from S. W. U. I am back in school pursuing my course for an A. B. degree which I hope to take this year.

I am missing the Banner-Stockman. Please change my paper from Childress to Georgetown. I must keep up with Clarendon and old Clarendon College.

Southwestern has had the greatest opening she has ever had. She has a larger student body than ever before. In short the prospects are very flattering for the most successful year's work in her history.

Clarendon College still has a representation in Southwestern which bids fair to uphold her glorious record.

Best wishes to you and Clarendon.

DISPLAY

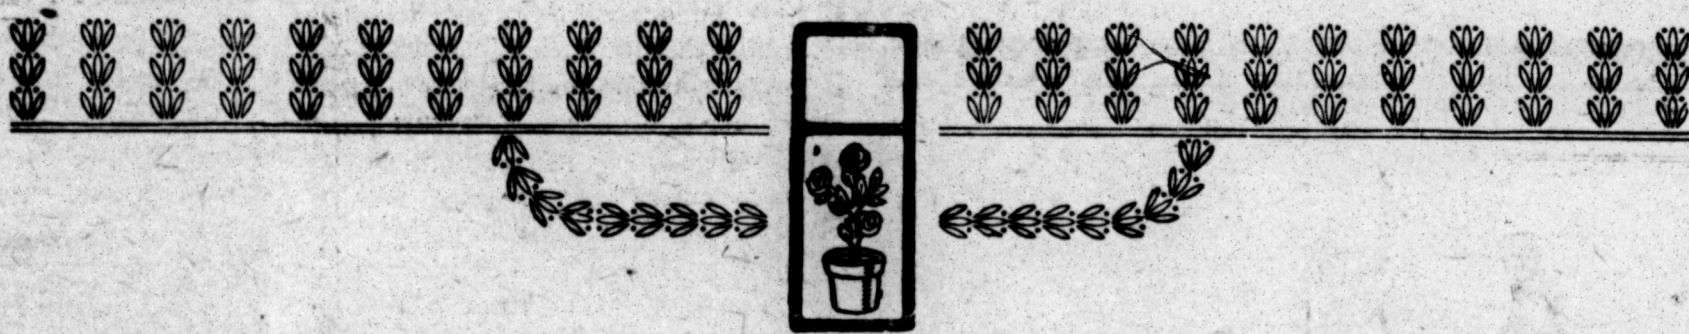

WE have this week received and have on display what we believe to be the best selected and most complete stock of dry goods, notions and ready-to-wear goods ever brought to this market. Everything to be found in a strictly first-class dry goods store is here. In our dress goods department will be found all the newest patterns in silk, wool or cotton goods. Mrs. J. W. Beverly, an expert dressmaker, has charge of this department and will help you plan your new dress.

We are especially strong on novelties, belts, purses, ladies' and misses' cloaks, rain coats, ready-to-wear silk waists and tailored skirts.

Our stock of Friedman and Courtney's full vamp shoes are, we believe, the best shoes on this market and a trial will convince you that we are right.

In our men's furnishing department we can please you in all lines. Suits, overcoats, shirts, underwear, gloves and anything you want in this line.

In our grocery department you will find everything that is carried in a first-class grocery store and all kept in a clean, sanitary condition. Our trade has almost doubled in this line since we assumed the business September 1st, which alone is proof enough that our groceries satisfy. Try us next month and see if we don't save you money. We have competent help all over the house who will take pleasure in showing you through our mammoth new stock.

YOURS VERY ULY

CLARENDON MERCANTILE Co.

Clothes for Men

We are pleased to announce that our fall stock is complete in every detail, and we are showing the largest stock of clothing and gents' furnishings in Clarendon. A visit to our store will demonstrate the many advantages of a big stock.

The new fall and winter models of suits have every little feature the young man of today wants in his clothes, such as rounded corners at bottom, and on collar and lapels; two or three buttons, cuffs on sleeves, and other little details that stamp the style as fashion's latest.

Also we have materials, styles, prices and sizes to suit the young and the old; the low and the high; the fat and the lean. Put us to the test.

Price $7.50 to $30.00

CLARENDON COLLEGE

The enrollment in all departments in the college has reached the high water mark of 313, the largest in the history of the school for the first month. All the special departments have splendid classes. Nearly all the rooms in both dormitories are filled. The seating capacity of the chapel is taxed to its utmost. Everything shows a flourishing condition of affairs, and everyone looks forward with interest to the consummation of the plans for the new building.

The reception given by the College Circle last Friday night at the girl's dormitory was well attended and all seemed to have a most pleasant time. The ladies have the thanks of all present for this enjoyable occasion.

President Slover spent Saturday and Sunday in Tullia where he preached Sunday.

The college ball team will go to Claude Saturday to cross bats with the team there. The boys expect to keep up their reputation and win as before. A fare of $1.20 for the round trip has been secured. Several teachers and students will go up to see the game and cheer for the team. The school has the material for a fine ball team if the boys will develop it. We should have the best team and the best record in the history of the school.

At the meeting of the Athletic Association Wednesday it was decided to take charge of the Lyceum course for this year, and the greatest attractions that have ever been to Clarendon have been secured. The following is the list of attractions: Reno, the king of magicians; The Fulcher Entertainers; The Powelson Company, and the Clark Company; three of the finest musicians that could be secured; and Charles E. Varney, a lecturer of considerable reputation. The boys have contracted for the very best talent that the Bureau Company, and expect to give the Clarendon people a rare treat.

Mr. Slater, an impersonator, was present at the chapel exercises Tuesday morning, and gave a reading that was enjoyed by all.

The following former Clarendon College students have entered other schools this fall for higher work: Arthur SoRelle, University of Michigan; Hugh Arnold, University of Texas; Stuart Condron, Southwestern University; John Arnold and Grover Merrill, A. & M. College; Miss Maude Wagley, Girls Industrial School at Denton. These schools, among the foremost of the whole country, give these students credit for their work done here.

Robbery at Rowe.

Sheriff Patman was called to Rowe Wednesday to investigate a depot robbery. Agent Sank Thompson's story is to the effect that he worked late Tuesday night making out reports, and about two o'clock in the morning started to leave the depot, having something more than $200 of company money on his person, the depot not having a safe. As he locked the door two men covered him with a pistol, relieved him of the money and then searched the depot for other valuables. They had first tied his hands behind him. About this time a freight train came along and Thompson sprang in front of it, thus getting the train between him and the robbers. He ran with the train and eluded them, going on down to Hedley where he was relieved of his shackles. Sheriff Patman took down his bloodhounds but there seemed to be no trail and nothing was ascertained, except the possibility that the men made their escape on the train. No arrests have been made.

Waters-Pierce Oil Co.

In the state again; they have made A. L. Connally & Co. their selling agents here for that wonderful smokeless and odorless oil heater. Clarendon people should jump at a chance to get one. tf

Alexander & Cole report having sold Dan Foster's business house between the Standifer and Wooten buildings, to G. W. Baker, consideration $3500. They also sold last week the 320-acre place of W. A. Womack, four miles east of town, to Chas. Knapp, of Vernon; the price being $6000. Mr. Knapp will gain possession Jan. 1st, and will immediately move here. He is a good citizen.

HOME INDUSTRY

"Patronize home industry." It's an old song, we will admit, but one that should never die. The Banner-Stockman has been a consistent advocate of this plea and does everything it can at all times to induce home people to trade with home merchants and keep their money at home. We think it but right that the proposition should be allowed to work both ways. We have a printing plant worth $5,000 at least, and we are fully capable of handling almost any class of job printing; yet every month there is much work sent out of town that we could do, and in the majority of cases the price would be so little more at home that it looks all wrong from every point of view to see this money sent away. Recently a Clarendon business firm gave an order to a foreign stationery house through its traveling representative for a certain amount of printing. Another firm needing exactly the same class of work was solicited for an order, but declined to give it, stating that they could get it from the Banner-Stockman almost as cheaply. The next day we were asked for quotations and our price was actually $1.50 less on the job than the traveling man obtained from the first firm, besides the saving in freight or express. Another firm secured a large supply of printing from a city house at a saving of about $3 over our price. The same week the editor bought one article from this firm which amounted to almost as much money as the entire order of printing, and freely and gladly paid more for it than he could have bought it for in Dallas. Now, the Banner-Stockman is not quarreling with our business people in this little talk. We are simply trying to get the idea before you that the printing of the town should be done in the town. We are prepared to do it, have our money invested, need the work to help pay the heavy expenses of running such an establishment as the Banner-Stockman plant, and are entitled to the patronage of every business concern in town which has the good of the community at heart. In seven cases out of ten our prices are no higher than you would pay in Galveston or Dallas. In the other three the advance in price would be practically insignificant. At any rate, a good newspaper is entitled to all it can make, and the business people owe it their patronage.

PAWNEE Bill show will be at Daltart, Amarillo, Childress and Wichita Falls. The management deciding these cities as being the only ones large enough to make the performances pay. When it comes to the crowd attending we wager Childress will hold the record.—Childress Index.

The only error in the above was the leaving out of Clarendon from the show's itinerary. As to the largest crowd attending the show at Childress that will doubtless be the case. So few shows know that Childress is on the map that when one does happen to drop off there the people go, even if they have to pass up the water wagon man for three days to get even on the finances.

LUCKILY this season has not been so damp as to cause the pumpkin vines to grow so fast that the little pumpkins are torn from the vines. As a consequence Donley county will produce the biggest crop of jack-o'-lanterns in her history.

GAIN TEN POUNDS THIS WEEK.

That man Cooke of Clarendon keeps trying to make sport of Childress. We hope he will grow fat upon his jokes, because he needs the flesh.—Childress Index.

Just one year ago with this issue of the Standard an old man came into this office and stopped his paper because something in it did not just suit his fancy. We have frequently met him on the street since that time, and it is amusing to note the look of surprise of the old fellow's face that we are still in existence regardless of the fact that he stopped his paper. Some day—and it won't be long, either—that old gentleman will cease to walk the walks of men. His heart will be stilled forever. Neighbors and friends will follow his lifeless clay to the silent city and lay it to rest among the flowers. An obituary will be published in these columns telling what a kind father, a good neighbor and beloved citizen he was—which the recording angel will overlook for charity's sake, and in a very short time he will be forgotten. As he lies out there in the cold, cold graveyard wrapped in the silent slumber of death he will never know that the last kind word spoken of him was perhaps by the editor of that paper which in life he so spitefully "stopped." Did you ever pause just a moment and think that your editor, whoever he may be, will write your obituary some day.—Somerville Standard.

Perhaps every editor could state a similar experience to the above. The Banner-Stockman has one or two "obituary possibilities" in Donley county, who doubtless thought at the time they "stopped the paper" that we would soon fail in business, pine away and die. No paper can suit every man, and the man who is fool enough to "stop it" because he is not pleased with something said which no doubt suits the taste of nine-tenths of its readers, is the only loser in the transaction. But generally, he is a stubborn fellow, and worries along without the paper by dint of borrowing it from a neighbor or reading it at the barber shop each week.

CLARENDON has about rid herself of the kind of cattle described below, but we print it because it is an elegant example of inelegant language most forcefully expressed: Every town has a lot of lazy loafers. Every town has a lot of lazy devils claiming to have such weak backs that if they undertook to split the kindling wood it would lay them up for weeks. They allow their wives to take in boards and do washing to keep the family but they are willing to bet the drinks that they can shoulder a two-bushel bag of wheat in a half-bushel measure. But when one of these cracker-box statesmen passes in his checks, his wife, instead of holding a jolification meeting, will weep over his worthless cadaver and spend a year's income on a funeral outfit that don't fit him, when he deserves to be kicked into eternity in his shirt tail.—Honey Grove Signal.

THE Roswell Register-Tribune has been for some months printing a series of photographs of prominent Pecos Valley men under the caption, "The Valley and its Makers." We offer the suggestion that Robinson print his own likeness. He not only belongs to the class but ranks high in the affairs of "The Valley," for as editor of such a splendid Valley advocate as the Register-Tribune he is doing as great a work as any of the men about whom he writes. Come through, Rob; don't be bashful.

EVERY woman in every town appreciates a full-page advertisement with a list of bargains from a store in her town or some other town she can visit. We never saw a woman yet who wouldn't pore through such an advertisement even before she read the "personals." Fact! Call us down if you can.

It is against the law to gamble, but we would be glad to risk our chances of acquiring a million on a bet to any of these down-in-Texas papers that they can't trot out a locality that can touch Donley county when it comes to producing a bumper crop every year.

THE editor of the Amarillo Daily Panhandle says a man told him that Amarillo was the best town he knew of its size when it came to drinking. If that man does not turn out to be a wooden Indian we will see if we can't rustle up one of Harry Thaw's alienists to examine him.

We really believe that Artesia newspaper man was prevaricating when he made mention of a man getting damages from a farmer who planted his oats so near the fence that one of the heads hit the man on the temple as he was passing and put him in the hospital, although the newspaper man assures us he can show us the man who was hit.

FROM the frequency of wrecks on the Denver it would appear that the telegraph strike has the road tied up pretty bad and that probably train orders are being sent by mail, and all railroad mail is about two days behind.

A BETTER telephone service is Clarendon's lot. It has been steadily improving ever since the present management took charge, and the "missing links" are being supplied now in the shape of new boxes all around.

AND had it ever occurred to you that the only section of Texas that will reap the full benefit of the 15 cent cotton price is the Panhandle? Donley county has some bale-to-the-acre patches.

PAWNEE BILL'S BIG SHOW

Brings with it an interesting group of Indian Braves, Squaws and Papposes.

There are nearly one hundred Indians with the Pawnee Bill. Historic Wild West and Great Far East show, which will be here on Monday, October 7th. They represent half a dozen Indian nations and include a score of papposes and their mothers, wigwam belles and wrinkled warriors.

White Thunder, a stalwart brave is the champion bow and arrow shot of the Sioux tribe. Flatiron, 93 years old, is said to be the greatest orator of the Sioux nation.

The older cowboys with the organization assert that it was Flatiron who harrangued the Indians before they went into the Custer fight. He is still an orator and every once in a while he holds a pow pow. He is too old to do active work with the show, but is taken along for his good influence among the Indians, seeming to have the power to quiet them when they become restless and dissatisfied. Flatiron is a member of the Ogallala tribe of the Sioux nation, and is one of the hereditary chiefs of that tribe.

Three other Indian warriors who had conspicuous part in the Custer massacre are members of the Pawnee Bill aggregation. They are Charlie-Owens-the-Dog, Standing Cloud and Long Bull. They are loth to talk of the slaughter. Long Bull is credited with being one of the greatest Indian statesman of history. He has made several journeys to Washington to participate in the negotiations with the white men regarding land claims. Standing Cloud, despite his 70 years, is one of the fleetest sprinter with the show. Charlie-Owens-the-Dog is a cousin to Geronimo.

Best Cotton in Texas

R. S. Kimberlin says the above caption will apply to the cotton crop, in the Benson neighborhood down in the corner of Donley, Hall and Briscoe counties. Capt. Kimberlin says that none of the farmers down there are figuring on less than a bale to the acre, and several who have been all over the cotton country have said on seeing this section that it was the best showing in the state. There is quite a thriving community there now, with gin, school house, church and about thirty residences. Mr. Kimberlin is just completing the erection of his fourth rent house on his land down there. The gin is expecting to turn out 1800 bales this season, all raised on land which three years ago was inhabited only by the coyotes and cattle. All other crops are also in fine shape.

W. G. Egerton was down from Middlewater this week and as usual called on the Banner-Stockman. He is somewhat elated over the fact that telephone connection has been established between Amarillo and Dalhart and other north plains towns and that he can now sit in his office at Middlewater and talk to folks in Clarendon. For several years the section above Amarillo has, needed better long distance telephone facilities and we rejoice with the people up there upon the establishment of this line.

The Cold Storage Power Co. was busy Monday icing refrigerator cars into which were loaded the cabbage spilled by the wreck. If this had been a ditch town everybody would have been happy Monday, for there was more cabbage piled up around the depot than Carter had oats.

R. A. Morris has bought the Rowe cattle and will begin shipping Saturday. It will require one hundred and sixty cars to handle the cattle, counting 25 to the car, makes the total number 4,000 head. —McLean News.

KNEW HUMAN NATURE.

Logic of the Man Who Fiddled in the Midst of a Flood.

When Davy Crockett was on his way from his Tennessee home to Texas to fight for the new republic he rode overland with some chance friends from Little Rock to Fulton. One day they were started by hearing the high notes of a distant violin playing a rollicking air. Putting spurs to their horses, the men hastened toward the sound and soon observed several others running through the fields in the same direction. At last they came over the crest of a ridge in view of the river and beheld the fiddler seated in the middle of the flood in an almost submerged buggy playing as fast as he could shake the bow.

"Hello, there! Turn back!" shouted the men who came through the field.

"I can't," replied the fiddler.

"But you've missed the ford. You'll drown!"

"I've known that for half an hour."

"What are you going to do?"

"Sit here till you chaps come out and turn my horse the right way."

The horse was with difficulty keeping his footing and seemed about to be swept away. One of the men who had been attracted by the fiddling waded out and by a precarious way reached the horse's head and led him round to the ford and back to the bank, the passenger fiddling all the way and winding up with a merry jig.

"What do you mean by sitting out there fiddling in the face of death?" demanded Crockett of the rescued stranger.

"Well, colonel," said the fiddler, "I am a student of human nature. When I found I had missed the ford and needed help, I set out to get it. I might have shouted myself hoarse and no one out here would have paid the slightest attention to me. But there isn't a man west of the Mississippi who wouldn't come running at the sound of a fiddle in the woods."

"And he was right," said Davy, "for there we were, the lot of us, our horses all of a lather, for running to satisfy our curiosity about that squeaking fiddle in this out of the way place." —Youth's Companion.

His Compliment.

A few weeks back a wedding breakfast was given by a substantial farmer blessed with five daughters, the eldest of whom was a bride. A neighbor, a young farmer, who was honored with an invitation, thinking no doubt that he ought to say something complimentary upon the event, addressed the bridegroom thus:

"Well, you have got the pick of the batch."

The faces of the four unmarried ones were a study.—London Graphic.

The London Cobby.

An extreme specimen of a dandy alighted from a four wheeler and went round to pay the driver. The poor old bag of bones mare turned her head to gaze at him.

"Yes," said the driver confidentially to the horse as the passenger moved away. "That's the blessed hobject you've been a drawin' off!"—London Express.

That which is his lot today may be yours tomorrow.—Latin Proverb.

Found Dead

The crew of a freight train found the body of a dead man between Giles and Memphis Wednesday. The body was lying in the grass on the rightofway and was just thirty feet inside the Donley county line. Sheriff Patman and Justice of the Peace Cavness, of Rowe, went down and an inquest was held. A ticket was found on his person sold at Arkadelphia, Ark., and signed by James Rogers. Two bottles of medicine in his pockets were from the drug store of Townsend Bros., in the same town and had been prescribed by Dr. Townsend for "Mr. Rogers." The contents of the bottles and the directions indicated a serious stomach trouble, and the emaciated appearance of the man bore out the supposition that he was a seeker for health. His ticket was to Memphis. On investigation Sheriff Patman found that he was brought up the road on Sunday morning's passenger train and had been carried by his station and allowed to get off at Giles. He started to walk back to Memphis and was seen by several people on the way back. The coroner's verdict was that he died from natural causes, superinduced, perhaps, by the over-exertion of the walking. When found he had been dead for perhaps 48 hours. The body was taken to Memphis and interred there. He was a man perhaps 50 years of age, under sized, black beard, and had only $1.80 in his pockets.

Now is the Time

To buy an oil heater; warm days you can set them aside and they are just the stuff for the bath room ALL THE TIME. Get one at Connally's.

An Enjoyable Party

Mrs. I. W. Carhart, Sr., entertained a number of ladies Wednesday afternoon, the attraction of the occasion being the fascinating game of whist. Tables were prepared for twelve couples, and those attending report one of the most pleasant whist parties they have ever attended. Mrs. A. L. Connally was the winner of the prize, a cut class bon bon dish. Mrs. Frank D. Martin received the consolation prize, a handsome piece of china. The refreshments served were pronounced elegant.

J. M. Browder has sold all of his cows to D. A. Yokley and leased his east pasture of twenty-one sections to him. Mr. Yokley will perhaps make his home in Memphis. He is a well-to-do business man and we will be pleased to welcome him as a citizen of Memphis. Mr. Browder will retain his steers and calves and ship out the calves right away. He will still retain his north and west pastures.—Hall County Herald.

Frank Finch who was recently married at Topeka, Kansas, to Miss Laura Book, has gone to house-keeping at his home at the Ninety-Six ranch. He is one of the most energetic and popular young men of the county and resided here for about twenty years.—Hall County Herald.

Relative to the all-night light service the Banner-Stockman will say that it would be pleased to see it installed. At the same time we would be glad to see other improvements in the service made, particularly the turning on of the lights at an earlier hour in the evening during the fall and winter months. Five o'clock is not too early, even now, and every business house in town could use their lights advantageously at that hour.

W. M. Stevens returned from Oklahoma Sunday quite sick.

SOME GOOD ROAD WORK

Commissioner McGee, Clays a Sand-bed in His Project and Makes of it a Good Road.

T. J. Woodward returned Wednesday from a trip to the south of here and reports the best piece of road work he has yet encountered about three miles this side of Rowe on a heretofore almost impassible sand bed. Commissioner McGee has had charge of the work and has had a force of men and teams on this particular job for some little time. The entire length of the sand bed (about one mile) has been clayed, after having first been graded. The result is a piece of road unexcelled in the county. Capt. McGee was fortunate in finding a fine clay bank near at hand, and in gaining the permission of the owner to the use thereof. The road building question is now the most serious one confronting Donley county, and the solution of same is the spending of much money in work of a durable character. Wherever possible the sandbeds should be treated to a coat of clay as in the above instance.

Damaged by Fire

The bath house of Shook Gray-Crisp company at Mineral Wells was damaged by fire last Saturday night to the extent of several thousand dollars. The pumping machinery and other valuable appliances were not burned. The loss we are told, amounts to about $3,500 or $4,000 with insurance of $2,000.

Dr. Shook was here last week and traded his home place here to T. L. Benedict for the latter's one-third interest in the wells. J. E. Crisp then bought a third interest on Friday and the fire occurred Saturday night. Mr. Crisp will move his family to Mineral Wells shortly and take an active part in the management of the business.

Giles County.
 Giles, Texas, Sept. 26.
 Browder & Sons unloaded another car of tiling at Giles Monday and Tuesday which they are using to conduct the water from the Springs to the reservoir which will supply Memphis with water in the future.

Mr. O. Wood of Oklahoma came in on the 24th of this month to visit with his brother and sister, Mr. Albert Wood and Mrs. P. P. Neeley, he will also do some prospecting while here and if he can find some land to suit him will locate here permanently.

Messrs. Beverly and Heral, of Amarillo, Texas, were in Giles Wednesday and Thursday on a cattle buying trip they went out to the Diamond Tall Ranch to look at the Browder cows.

Messrs. Duncan and Duncan, of Dickens County, came in on the 26 with a large herd of cattle intending to ship to Kansas City but sold them for $15.00 around to Franks and Neely who will ship them later.

Mr. Ack Killian, of the north-east part of Donley county sold his 100 acre farm to Franks & Neely the consideration was $12.00 per acre.

The Shoe-Bars shipped out 1200 steers from Giles on the 30th.

Giles Sunday School turned out in full force to attend the Sunday School Convention at Hedley.

A terrific wind and rain storm struck Giles on the night of the 29 and blew down several telephone posts no other damage reported.

A Certain Cure for Croup—Used for Ten Years without a Failure.
 Mr. W. C. Bota, a Star City, Ind., hardware merchant, is enthusiastic in his praise of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. His children have all been subject to croup and he has used this remedy for the past ten years, and though they much feared the croup, his wife and he always felt safe upon retiring when a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was in the house. His oldest child was subject to severe attacks of croup, but this remedy never failed to effect a speedy cure. He has recommended it to friends and neighbors and all who have used it say that it is unequalled for croup and whooping cough. For sale by all druggists.

The Cooking Exhibit
 Mr. Duke has had large crowds all week, bad weather considered, at the cooking exhibition being conducted at H. W. Taylor & Sons store. Mr. Duke shows how biscuits are baked in three minutes in a Majestic range. And the biscuits are good and accompanied by a fragrant cup of Breakfast Bell coffee it makes nearly everyone wish for a Majestic in their home. Mr. Duke is a Majestic salesman; he spends no time in "knocking" other stoves, but he does know all about the Majestic and he tells it in a convincing manner and then he "shows you." He points out the good qualities of his range and then illustrates the same. For instance, in illustration of the superior qualities of the Majestic airtight oven, on Wednesday he baked a big layer cake, 17x19 inches and six inches high, placed it on the floor, laid a long and heavy plank across it and had fifteen ladies stand on the plank. The cake was mashed as flat as the proverbial pancake but by the time the carving knife was procured and someone ready to cut it it had risen to its former proportions and was in no way impaired by the rough treatment accorded it. The Majestic people claim that this can only be done in an absolutely airtight oven and that theirs is the only one made. Messrs. Taylor report business in the stove line entirely satisfactory during the week.

How to Cure a Cold
 The question of how to cure a cold without unnecessary loss of time is one in which we are all more or less interested, for the quicker a cold is gotten rid of the less the danger of pneumonia and other serious diseases. Mr. B. W. L. Hall, of Waverly, Va., has used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for years and says: "I firmly believe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be absolutely the best preparation on the market for colds. I have recommended it to my friends and they all agree with me." For sale by all druggists.

About five dozen trimmed dress hats just received. Likely you can find just what you want in stock. Come quick and look through them. Mrs. A. M. Beville, the Milliner.

Quincy, Sprains and Swellings Cured
 "In November, 1901, I caught cold and had the quinsy. My throat was swollen so I could hardly breathe. I applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm and it gave me relief in a short time. In two days I was all right," says Mrs. L. Coustus, Otterburn, Mich. Chamberlain's Pain Balm is a liniment and is especially valuable for sprains and swellings. For sale by all druggists.

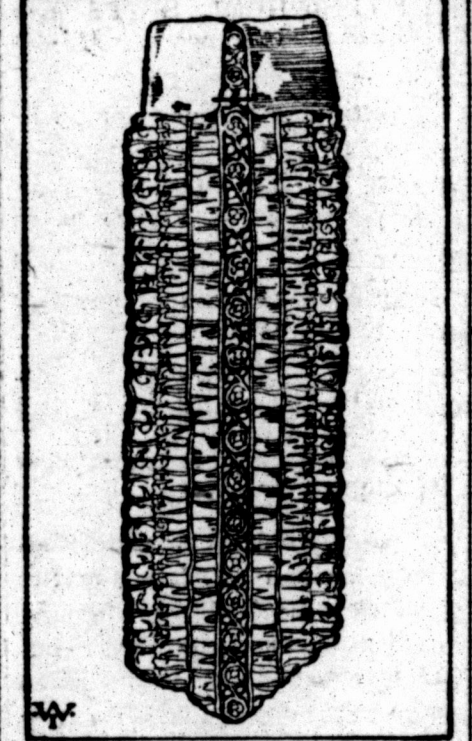

WHAT TO EAT.
 Why Fried Foods Are Considered Indigestible?
 Why are fried foods considered indigestible? Because the fat in which the frying is done, no matter of how good quality that fat may be, forms a thin coating over each particle of food so fried. Now, neither the digestive fluids of the mouth nor those of the stomach can act upon fat, and so the fat incrustated food cannot be digested. Fats are digested only by a certain agent known as steapsin, which meets the food in the intestines. By the time the stomach gets into contact with the fat encrusted food, it has fermented—and that's indigestion.

Spiced and corned meats should be avoided, first, because they are usually taken from an inferior part of an inferior—often diseased—animal, and second, because the chemicals used to prevent the meat from undergoing chemical change outside the body will act within the body to prevent the chemical change known as digestion. Meat is often denied to those suffering from rheumatism, because the disorder known as rheumatism is nothing more or less than an effort of the system to get rid of a certain poison which has been deposited at the junction of some of the long bones of the body.

Another question often asked is, "Why should I not drink with my meals?" Well, mainly because dilution of the gastric juice and the saliva with a pint or more of water will weaken their action, perhaps to such a degree that they may fail to do their work, and the consequence is indigestion. Of course fluids other than water, as wine, beer, tea, coffee and so on, not only dilute the digestive fluids, but complicate the problem by adding a poison to the food.

It is advisable to drink freely of pure water at other times than during meals because the body needs every day at least two quarts of water. The body of a man or woman of average size contains about a barrel of water. This is being literally "steamed" out of the body at the rate of six or seven pounds, upward of three quarts, a day, and so, in addition to the water contained in all solid foods (a beef-steak is about three-quarters water), the body needs about two quarts daily. Why are condiments, mustard, pepper, vinegar, tobacco and similar things condemned by food experts? Because, in a word, they are irritants and excitants. This applies with still more force to those other stimulants, tea, coffee, wine, beer and spirits. All are irritants, all sting the organs to frantic efforts, until the poor body labors like a tired horse spurred up a steep hill. When it comes to candy and pastry the answer to the "why" is simply, they are bad in every way. "There is no health in them."

LINGERIE NECKWEAR.
 Smart Things in Lace and Muslin For Blouses.
 A fashion that will remain throughout the winter is that of wearing white linen collars, fronts and other accessories with wash blouses. Most becoming are these things, and not expensive. Hand work and real lace play an important part in their construction, but even then the adjuncts are no more graceful or becoming than when imitation val or plain linen is used.

Quite the favorite collar is a high standing turnover, and many are elaborately adorned with broderie anglaise and have hemstitched edges. Almost without exception they are held together at the front with a bar pin of gold or silver, and the old safety design is rarely if ever seen now. Any kind may be substituted, but a plain fine bar with a single jewel in the center is more often used.

The variety of linen or muslin tabs or small fronts worn with these collars is endless, and tiny silk bows of any color are good. Plain turnover collars with extremely narrow plaited ruffles are pretty and becoming for morning wear. There are cuffs to match.

Covering the entire hem of a blouse down the front are so called jabots to be worn with thin waists. They are not suitable with plain blouses, having stiff cuffs. A woman who is at all clever with her needle can make those front pieces with strips of embroidery or lace left from other work, and there should be one or more ruffles of lace down each side. The jabot is fastened under the collar, and a tiny bow, either of silk or hand work, makes a pretty finish at the throat.

ARE YOU CONVERTED?
 TO THE MULKEY STYLE OF PHOTOGRAPHY
 A good picture is like a good man, it may not please everyone but it is a good picture just the same. A photographer is like a setter pup on his first hunt, if he has patience and knowledge he will get results, but if he has neither of these essentials he will probably flush as many birds but his work will be for naught. I always try to make a picture that will be a trade winner. That I have succeeded in many cases is evidenced by my increasing business. If you have never visited my studio you should make it a point to call soon. You will see the pictures of the best looking crowd in the state. Even though you have not made up your mind to have your picture made call around and give me a chance to "show you."

The Money-Making Sheep

Ten head of sheep sent to the Fort Worth market last week by H. O. Samuels of Dallas county, sold at $5.75 per cwt. Their average weight was 125 pounds, making the price per head $7.23. They had just been sheared, and their breeding and size was such that they must have yielded a fleece of eight or nine pounds, worth 22 or 23 cents. At the minimum weight and price, the wool of each sheep was worth $1.75, making these sheep yield to their owner $9 per head.

At this price it would be hard to find a more profitable work for farmers than that of raising sheep for the Fort Worth market.

There are several things that bring more money for the labor and pains bestowed than raising 15-cent cotton, and one of these is good mutton sheep, for which the demand is always beyond the supply.
