SPLINTERS

Benjamin has always been noted for its friendly, congenial people and reckoned as a good place to live and to substantiate this statement, it is the only town we know of in which hog jowls can be purchased for 8½¢ and the turnip greens are free for the picking. Of course some of our urban readers may scoff at this delectable dish, but even the urban members of the brad lines would be pleased to dunk their portion of the staff of life in a little well seasoned potlikker, we imagine.

If the man that lost the sack of wheat on the detour between here and Seymour will send us his name and address, we will send him a year's subscription to the paper. If he does not want the paper he can have the wheat by coming after it, but as the sack had a hole in it, a little of the wheat spilled out and we fed some of it to our chickens.

After our allusions in this column to the writer's proximity to the poorhouse due to the infrequency of our subscribers paying up their subscriptions, one reader, after a perusal of the column containing that heart rending appeal, told us that he enjoyed our feeble efforts because they were so humorous. Some people would laugh at a funeral.

But everybody to their own tastes as the old lady said as she kissed the cow.

After bargaining around in the mud most of the week searching for news and other lost sacks of wheat and having but mediocre luck in finding the former and no luck at all in finding the latter, we were tempted to throw in our hand and call for a new deal. The entire office force is feeling a bit gloomy this week on account of the Associate Editor, who does all the work, being out of town, leaving the editor, the janitor and the printer's devil the entire burden of getting out the paper. The janitor almost reneged on account of the mud tracked in by the multitude of customers, the ed has been feeling indisposed, and the devil has felt like the devil. The most cheerful event of the week was the arrival of a past due paper bill.

We got in our possession last week, a dozen game hens which were formerly the property of a Mexican agriculturalist. Our rooster, having only the advantage of an English education, has made several overtures to the latest members of the family, but as yet has been unable to roll his r's, properly place the accents, get the right pronunciation, enunciation and articulation and consequently has met with but little success in the courtship of the dusky gallinas.

We have a sympathetic feeling for the gallo for on one occasion we crossed the Big River and chanced to look upon a ninita muy hermosa but owing to our inability to properly maneuver la lingua de la petit fille, the best we could do was to make a mental picture of the fair creature an yearn for a fluent vocabulary as used by Don Quixote.

4-H Club to Meet

The 4-H Club will meet with Mrs. J. C. Patterson on Monday afternoon.

Correction

We had our attention called to an error in an article last week dealing with the proposed salary cuts of some of the county officials. The error appeared in the amount of ex-officio salary paid one of the officials and for that reason we are giving the salaries paid to the various officials as obtained from the records in the office of the County Clerk. County Judge, $150 per month; Commissioners, $100 per month; Sheriff, salary $83.33, office expense, $16.67; Deputy Glover, $50 per month, Deputy Hardberger, $50 per month; County Attorney, $50 per month, County Clerk, $41.66 per month, Treasurer, $2,000 per year; County Agent, $83.33 per month, Home Demonstration Agent, $100 per month, District Clerk, $60 per month.

Other county official are on a commission basis and for that reason not listed here as they receive no stipulated salary from the county.

Peas Show Big Profit In Howard

Using a blow out spot in a cotton patch to make a profit of $171 was the achievement of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hillard of Howard County, according to the report of the home demonstration agent there. The spot had been cultivated like the rest of the patch until the middle of the summer when it was planed in 75c worth of peas. From these peas 400 No. 3 cans and 220 No 2 cans were filled for themselves and others. Dried peas to the amount of 630 pounds have been harvested for winter use and sale. And in addition to that the family and many of the neighbors used the peas freely when they were green, while at least on unknown visitor harvested from the patch, getting enough to fill 60 No. 3 cans. The cost of the cans used was $23.20; the value of the dried and canned peas is $195.50 which leaves $171.65 as return on the work and use of the land.

COOP News

That cotton may be carried in the channels of cooperative marketing free from country damage, possible fire and theft at an extremely low figure was a statement made by R. J. Murry, general manager of the Texas Cotton Cooperative Association.

"In fact" Mr Murry said, "carrying charges on cooperative cotton on a monthly basis per bale for a year period is but 25 cents. These charges, he said, include storage, insurance, and interest on the initial cash advance of approximately $25 per bale. In no instance is the monthly aggregate per bale carrying charge as much as 30 cents a bale and not 45 cents or higher, as trade interests and others would have the grower believe."

According to Mr. Murry, the monthly per bale carrying charges, including all the foregoing items, for a period of 3 months would be slightly above 26 cents per bale; for six months, slightly above 26 cents per bale; for nine months slightly above 25 cents a bale and for a year on the basis of 25c per bale, per month. Emphasis was placed by Mr. Murry on the fact that these carrying charges included all carrying charges, insurance and interest with the interest rate being at five percent.

H stated that these low costs offered the grower a most economical manner in which to hold cotton free from fire, theft or country damage, and at the same time place his cotton in position to receive benefit of a higher market, government closing services, and other beneficial services.

Notice

We would like to take this means of expressing our sincere appreciation to the people of Knox County for their stand and interest taken in behalf of the continuation of the Extension Service Work in this county.

It is our desire to thank each of you for your personal interviews and promotion of petitions which expressed your sentiment favoring Extension service work.

Now is the time that our work can be of great benefit to the citizens of Knox County and it is our desire to show our willingness to work, but first we must know who is in need of our services, so your cooperation can be shown by getting word to us by telephone, by letter, by sending word or by still better, coming to see us personally.

At a date in the near future, dates and locations of a series of Meat Canning and Curing demonstrations will be given in all the county papers. This work begins in November and includes the services of both the Home and County Agents. If you have canning and curing of Beef or Pork and need our assistance, get your name to us for a demonstration; if it is impossible for us to see you the date set, you will be notified of a similar demonstration held near you.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE, $1.50 A YEAR

A feeling of optimism, which was noticeably lacking a month ago, is becoming more apparent, especially so since the general rains over the country have practically assured the stockmen and farmers sufficient moisture to go into the winter with some degree of security against the drought which had heretofore been threatening. The winter weeds, wild rye and grass on the range will save the stockmen many a dollar on a feed bill which a short time ago seemed inevitable. The small grain planters are almost certain to realize a profit on their pasturage. Although the rain has damaged the grade of the cotton that was open in the fields, the price for this commodity has been on the upgrade. Even in the face of the 600,000 bale increase in the last government report, the price remained steady and following the announcement by the President that plans were being formulated to care for the entire conomic situation through the banks and other agencies, all stocks took a raise. The move of the Southern bankers toward the handling of the cotton situation with a view toward raising the price by holding several million bales off the market this year and the announcement that the Farm Board would hold better than two million bales off the market until 1932 and later if necessary, coupled with the improvement in both the foreign and domestic demand, gives the cotton situation a rosier hue, although at the present the color may be described as a pale pink. No one has yet ventured a prediction as to how long the depression will last but many are beginning to think that it has reached the turning point and that from now on there will be a gradual tendency toward more normal times.

While we are not foolish enough to attempt to outline a farming program for this section, we are attempting to find out a few facts from men who have shown a profit other than cotton during the past year, in hopes that we may, by their suggestions help the farmer to change to some more profitable product. Although having spent practically a lifetime among the farmers of this section, we are quick to admit that we know absolutely nothing about the farming business, but if we can find out from the men that have produced a commodity at a profit, what that commodity was and how it was produced, and pass the information on for the benefit of the farmer who devoted practically all his land to growing cotton at a loss, then we will feel that we have justified our existence in the community by havin rendered a service. In another section appears a third of a series of articles dealing with this problem. You may take it for what it is worth.

MEMBERS KNOX COUNTY RED CROSS ATTEND CONFERENCE.

The work of the Red Cross for this section will move along more smoothly and efficiently, it is believed by all of those attending the Regional meeting at Wichita Falls, by reason of the instruction received from the National speaker and Representative, Mr. Henry Baker, who gave the chief address of the day.

Eighty one delegates were present from the group of counties represented, the largest that ever attended a meeting in this section, according to Mr. Beeman, Chairman of the Wichita Chapter and also the chairman of the meeting.

The program was interesting and instructive throughout. The welcome address given by Mayor Nelson of Wichita Falls and response by a representative of Ft. Worth of the Tarrant County Chapter. Red Cross accomplishments in Texas for the past two years was an address given by Mrs. Edith Hennesy, Field Representative.

A most delightful "get acquainted" luncheon with music and song by radio artists and the presentation of the banner offered to chapter having largest number of delegates present, filled the noon hour. The Mantague Chapter carried off the banner.

In the afternoon an address Forward Texas by Representative Baker, concluded the day.

Those attending from the Knox County Chapter were Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Moorhouse Mrs. Oral Patterson, Mrs. O. W. Driver, Mrs. I. T. Wright, of Benjamin, Rev. R. O. Browder of Truscott.

BILLBOARDS

The war against defacing the scenery and endangering the lives of highway travellers by advertising billboards is gaining new recruits daily. The latest is the Fox Film Company, which has announced its abandonment of billboard advertising in favor of newspapers. Newspapers are better advertising media, the Fox people say, and of that there is no possible question. If there were no other argument against billboards, that should be enough.

Safety on the highways depends upon every driver keeping his eyes on the road. There should be no signboards by the roadside, except those which call attention to the wares of the roadside retailer on the spot, direction markers and signs established by the highway authorities to indicate the condition of the road ahead.

DREAMS

"One must have some daring if one is to live one's dreams," said Captain Wolfgang Von Gronau as he landed his flying boat in New York harbor after flying over from Germany by way of Iceland, Greenland and Labrador. This pioneer of a new trans-Atlantic air route dared to try to realize a dream which he had had for years.

All have dreams of things we would like to do; few of us have the daring to attempt to make the dreams come true.

"Many loved truth, and lavished Life's best oil

Amid the dust of books to find her,"

So wrote James Russell Lowell in his great Commemoration Ode. But the poet saw the truth clearly:

"They love her best who to themselves are true

And what they dare to dream of, dare to do."

DUPONT

Although related to one of the richest families in the world, T. Coleman Du Pont started in life with nothing but his bare hands and a keen mind. He worked as a coal miner, with pick and shovel, in a coal mine which he later owned. He loved to build, but cared little for the thing he had built after it was done. When the Du Pont powder industry was dying of dry rot and his cousins, who owned it, wanted to take hold and see what he could do. He built the business up into one of the most important industrial corporations in the world, and then retired to do something else.

A great American passed away when Coleman du Pont died at the age of 66.

CASH

Within the next three weeks the largest amount of cash newly put into circulation at one time will find its way into the tills of merchants all over the country. That is the annual distribution of the Christmas Clubs, maintained by 8,000 banks. Eleven million persons have been depositing small amounts every week since the first of the year, in order to accumulate a fund for Christmas buying. The average in these Christmas accounts is $56.40 this year, but the grand total runs to six hundred and twelve million dollars.

Not all of the money will be spent for Christmas presents. Some will go into permanent savings and investments, some to pay off debts incurred during the year, some for other purposes. About a third will be spent for gifts; but all of the six hundred million will change hands, and it is money changing hands that makes business good. The faster it changes hands, the better business is.

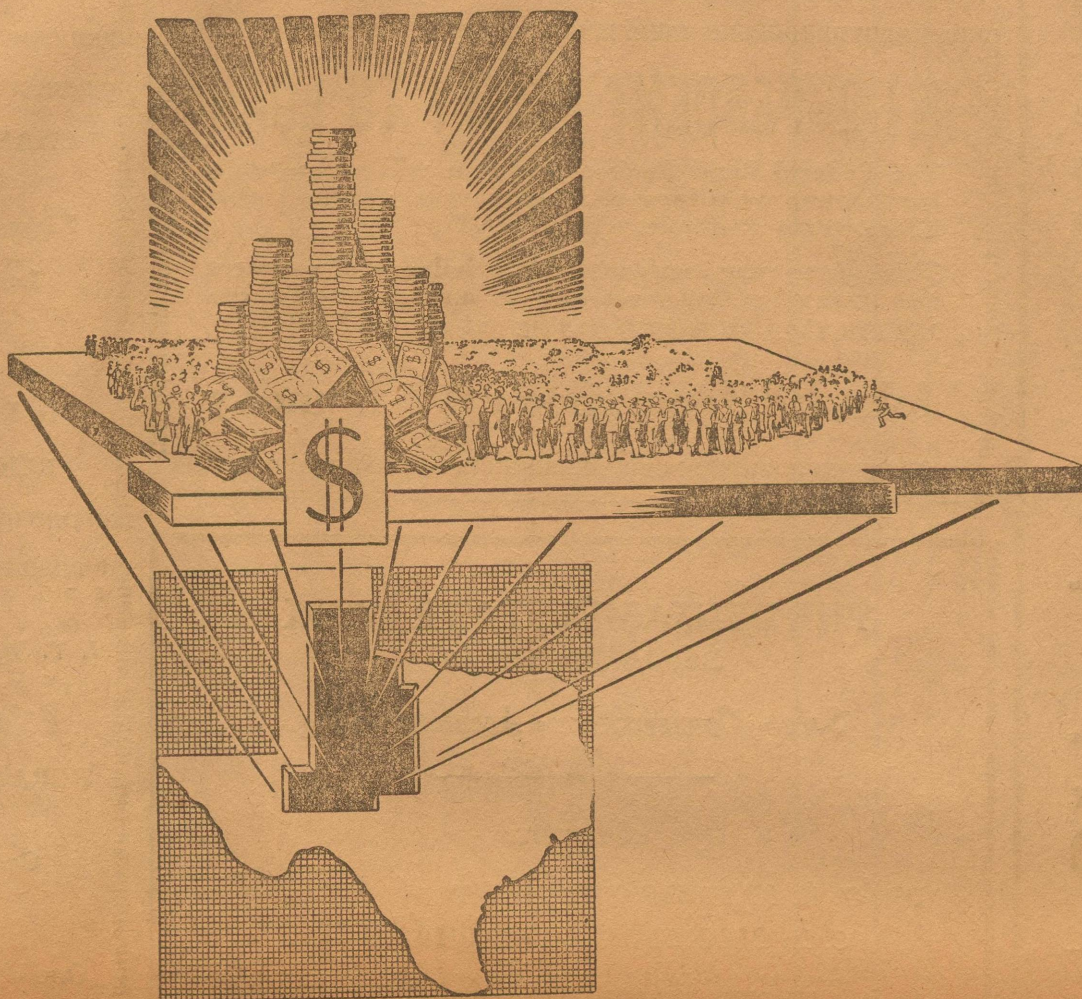

The stimulus of this immense sum starting to circulate again should go a long way toward restoring prosperity.

MATING

The head of the Westfield, N. J., schools, told a convention of school nurses the other day that one of the things which high school students should be taught is how to select their future husbands or wives, and how to judge the characters of men and women.

"SPORT"

Two-thirds of what passes for "sport" in the United States is pure commercialism. Some of the inside of the "boxing game" was revealed the other day when a fight promoter sued Gene Tunney for half a million dollars, claimed as commission for arranging championship bouts. The court

TWO MILLION DOLLARS PAID IN WAGES AND SALARIES ...

A REAL CONTRIBUTION TO WEST TEXAS' PROSPERITY

PROVIDING a livelihood for over 1,200 employes . . . many of whom are your friends and neighbors . . . the West Texas Utilities Company has contributed to the prosperity of West Texas, for the last three years, an annual payroll of over $2,000,000.00.

Two millions of dollars is a powerful agency toward the stabilization of business conditions. . . Its expenditure means a substantial amount of trade for retail stores, grocers, laundries, doctors, dentists, and commercial establishments of all kinds.

Only the continued expansion and development of the West Texas Utilities Company has made possible the building of this payroll. Through efficient management and economical operation, this company has expanded its facilities, reduced rates and stimulated the industrial and agricultural development of its territory. To carry forward these important projects, the assembling of a loyal, enthusiastic and hard-working corps of native West Texan employes has been a logical outgrowth.

These employes are genuinely concerned over their company's activities. They are working for West Texas . . . its growth and development . . . just as you are working toward the same goal. To co-ordinate our activities is the constant aim of the West Texas Utilities Company.

Every dollar you spend for electric service . . . and more! . . . has, for the past eight years, been re-invested in the future of West Texas. Payrolls alone, for construction and operation, are equal to 30c out of every dollar you spend for electric service—a sum which goes back into this "Land of Opportunity" in salaries and wages paid to West Texan employes.

Do You Know?

. . . that if you are an average user of domestic electric service you can increase your use and enjoyment of the comforts and conveniences of electric service by three times, and only increase your total bill by approximately 10c a day? This is made possible through a major transmission line electric system and an organization accustomed to doing large things in a large way.
