SPLINTERS

A merry heart maketh a cheerful countenance.—Prov.

A casual glance at the political situation for this year will reveal that even first termers will have opposition and the old Democratic plea of a second term will likely fall on deaf ears. Even those who have felt themselves firmly entrenched in the good graces of the dear peep are feeling shaky as it becomes more apparent that the "office boy" errand running type of office holder doesn't exactly fit in with the present scheme liberal progressive politics with action as the keynote.

U. S. Senator Tom Connally of Marlin comes up for reelection again this year and with Jo Bailey, Jr. an avowed contender and possibly others this promises to give the state a little action. With Congress now in session we may expect the sharpshooting to begin from every angle.

With the announcement from Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson that she was resigning from politics, the office of governor was thrown wide open and contenders are jockeying for places on this ticket. C. C. McDonald, Tom Hunter, Jimmie Allred, and possibly Walter Cline from Wichita Falls, Lieut. Gov. Edgar E. Witt, from Waco, Speaker of the House Coke Stevenson of Junction, and others are looking on this office with wishful eyes.

Knox County, through no fault of hers, was switched from her rightful congressional district (the lower half of Marvin Jones' old district which elects a brand new congressman this year) and placed in a district which contains several large cities headed by Wichita Falls.

In this new line up the present incumbent is W. D. McFarlane of Graham, serving his first term. Former Speaker of the House Fred Minor of Denton has thrown his hat in the ring. Geo. W. Bacus of Ver-seat again. Sam Spence, district arnon, who made the race for Congress last election, has announced for the torney at Wichita Falls, has been mentioned as a possible contender and in our neighboring county, District Judge Isaac O. Newton has been mentioned as a possibility. While it is not likely that some who have not yet been mentioned will be.

This district also elects a Senator this year. Senator Ben G. O'Neal of Wichita Falls is completing one four year term. It is likely that he will have opposition although as yet we have heard of no announcement for the office. Representative George Moffett of Chillicothe has been listed as a potential candidate and although he has intimated that he would be a candidate for the office which he now holds, he has not made a formal announcement. Moffett has represented the 114th district two terms and demonstrated considerable strength in the last election when he won the nomination in the first primary against three opponents.

It is a bit early to tell much about county politics but from the feelers that are being put out we may with certainty predict opposition for the majority of the county offices. The issues are not clearly outlined but it is likely that the public will want a definite statement from each candidate on how they stand on the many public questions that confront only Knox county, but the stated a nation.

Knox City Show Man Injured In Theatre Fire

Lee Smith, owner and manager of the Texas Theatre at Knox City narrowly escaped death Monday night when fire broke out in the projection room and he was forced to jump. Smith, on crutches from a recent leg injury, was saved further injury as he jumped to the sidewalk below, by E. E. Teaff who broke the fall and extinguished the burning clothing. Both received burns. First aid treatment was given at a local drug store.

Action of the fire department confined the fire to the projection room and loss of machines constituted the major damage.

SOROSIS CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS FOR NEW YEAR

The Sorosis Club at their regular meeting Thursday afternoon elected officers for 1934 as follows: President, Mrs. L. C. Moorhouse; first Vice president, Mrs. D. J. Brookreson; second Vice president, Mrs. C. R. E. Weaver; Recording Secretary, Mrs. O. W. Driver; Parliamentarian and Critic, Mrs. Frank Moorhouse; Press Reporter, Mrs. H. T. Cunningham; Librarian, Mrs. J. C. Coffey.

Waggoner Pays Taxes

Among the appreciated early taxpayers at the office of the tax collector here was the W. T. Waggoner Estate. They sent in their entire payment in December, explaining that they did so with the idea that they might be needed. Their taxes totaled $28,571.48.

Another nice thing done for this year was the payment of quite a nice bit of truck taxes in Baylor county by the Waggoners. They said that they used the county's roads quite a bit, and felt it was only fair that some of their truck taxes be paid here. Consequently they bought over $400 worth of tags for their big trucks in Baylor county. —Baylor County Banner.

MISS MABLE MOORHOUSE ELECTED PRESIDENT OF JUNIOR SOROSIS CLUB

At the regular meeting of the Junior Sorosis Club Thursday evening 1934 officers were elected. Miss Mable Moorhouse is the new president of the club. Other officers are as follows: Miss Helen Bisbee, vice President, Mrs. Homer T. Melton, recording secretary, Mrs. B. W. Snody, musician, Miss Emma Jane Alexander, reporter, Miss Catherine Jones, critic and parliamentarian, and Miss Annie Lee Wright, corresponding secretary. Hostesses were Mr. J. C. Veal and Mrs. J. F. Waldron.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Burnett and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Atterbury were Abilene visitors Monday.

HIGH LIGHTS FROM PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S MESSAGE TO SEVENTY THIRD CONGRESS

Without regard to party, the overwhelming majority of our people seek a greater opportunity for humanity to prosper and find happiness.

I congratulate this Congress upon the courage, the earnestness and the efficiency with which you met the crisis at the special session. I venture to say that the task confronting the first Congress in 1789 was no greater than you own.

We have made great strides toward the objectives of the National Recovery Act.

Earl Sams Announces Program For Primary Teacher s Meet Here

Earl Sams has authorized this paper to announce his candidacy for the office of Tax Assessor and Collector of Knox County subject to the Democratic primaries. Under recent act of the Legislature the offices of Tax Assessor and Tax Collector have been combined in counties of over ten thousand population and Knox County comes in this classification. In making the announcement Mr. Sams calls attention to his past record as Tax Assessor of Knox County. He is thoroughly familiar with the work and promises that if elected to the newly created office he will continue to give the people of the county courteous and efficient service. He expects to see all the voters of the county before the election but takes this method of making his formal announcement as a candidate for the office.

Uncle Trav House Asks Re-election Treasurer

The Post is authorized to announce the candidacy of J. T. (Uncle Trav) House for the office of County Treasurer of Knox County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primaries. In seeking re-election to this office of responsibility Mr. House calls attention of the people of the county to his past record and promises that if they see fit to again elect him to office he will continue to serve them honestly and efficiently. He expects to see as many of the voters as possible before election but takes this method of making his intentions public at this time.

Vernon Brewer To Run For Superintendent

In a statement to the press Thursday Vernon Brewer, principal of the local school system, announced his intention of becoming a candidate for the office of County Superintendent of Knox County subject to the action of the Democratic primaries. A prepared statement for publication in the press of the county containing his formal announcement and qualifications for the office which he seeks. Mr. Brewer came to Knox county in 1930 following the completion of a four year course of education at Texas Technological College at Lubbock and has been connected with the local schools since that time. His work has been creditable and during his residence in this place he has made many friends over the county.

J. H. SCOTT

J. H. Scott, 76, father of Mrs. Boyd Smith of this place, died here Thursday, December 28. Mr. Scott was born in Collin county, Texas, December 30, 1857. He joined the Baptist Church at Dallas in 1923. Mr. Scott is survived by Mrs. Boyd Smith of Benjamin, one brother, S. J. Scott, and eight grandchildren. Funeral services held at the Benjamin Baptist Church Friday were conducted by Rev. H. F. Gage, local pastor, and interment was made in the Benjamin cemetery.

Mr. E. P. Storm of Truscott was a Benjamin visitor Monday. Mr. Storm has recently bought out the partnership interest of his father-in-law, A. A. Clark, in the Truscott hardware business for nine years and since coming to Truscott have made many friends.

Liquor Tax Bill Passes National House

Washington, Jan. 5—Under the whip lash of Democratic leaders obeying White House orders for speedy action, the house late today passed the administration's liquor tax bill, designed to yield $550,000,000 a year to the treasury in revenues.

The roll call vote was 388 to 5.

The five votes against the bill were cast by Allen, Republican, Illinois; Drumm, Republican, Pennsylvania; Edmonds, Republican, Pennsylvania; Hoeueel, Democrat, California, and McFadden, Republican, Pennsylvania.

The measure imposes a $2 gallon tax on whiskey, $5 a barrel on beer and levies of 10 to 40 cents on wines. The present occupational taxes are continued, as the 30 cents a gallon extra tax on rectified spirits. The present import duties on liquors were not revised by the bill.

Passage of the bill came after the Democratic majority had called down a score of amendments ranging from a proposed tax of $4 a gallon on whiskey to an increase of 31 1-2 cents a half pint in the tariff on champagne from abroad.

In their anxiety to push action on the bill, house leaders limited debate yesterday to four hours, and today gave members who wished to speak on amendments only five minutes each. Administration officials had estimated that each day of delay cost the treasury approximately $750,000 in liquor taxes, since the present revenue of spirits is only $1.10 a gallon.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Combs and daughter, Miss Beth Combs, of Stamford were guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Sams Wednesday. The Combses are former Benjaminites and have many old time friends here. Judge Combs is one of West Texas' best known lawyers and has risen high in that profession. Formerly mayor of Abilene, he is now engaged in private practise at Stamford. Miss Beth is a teacher in the Abilene High School.

Cotton Men To Meet For Reduction Plans

W. E. Jones, county agent, has called the following meetings of Knox County cotton farmers on the dates and at the places given below for the purpose of explaining the new 1934 acreage reduction plan.

Benjamin, Monday, January 8, 2:30 p.m. at courthouse for Vera and Benjamin farmers.

Knox City, Wednesday, Jan. 10, Munday, Thursday, January 11 for Munday and Goree farmers.

Truscott, Friday, January 12, Truscott school auditorium for Truscott and Gilliland farmers.

For 1934 there will not be a plow up campaign such as was used last year to reduce the acreage but the government will lease a maximum of 35 to 45 percent of the acreage. One half the rental will be paid in March or April and the other half will be paid in August or September. The contracts are here now and some of the farmers are already signing them.

College Station—Texas farmers will receive an average of at least $6.14 per acre this year for with holding land from cotton production in the 1934-35 Government cotton plan, according to figures sent the Texas A and M College Extension Service by C. A. Cobb, chief of the Cotton Section, Agricultural Adjustment Administration, Washington.

This rental is based upon the Texas five year average production of 136 pounds of lint per acre as given by the United States Department of Agriculture. The average Texas rental payment is the new plan will be $4.76 or more per acre, the remainder of the benefit coming in the form of at least a one cent per pound parity payment on 40 percent of the average five year production. Extension Service officials point out, however that since all land yielding less than 100 pounds of lint per acre is excluded from contracts, the average yield of eligible contract land will be more than 136 pounds lint per acre, and the rentals accordingly higher.

Under the 1934 cotton reduction plan, Texas farmers are eligible to receive a total of $30,650,725 in rental payments if a full 40 percent reduction of the State's total acreage is achieved. The parity payment of at least one cent per lb. on the farm allotment would total $8,575,350 for Texas if all cotton growers sign contracts. The Texas farm allotment, which represents 40 percent of the average five year production, has been fixed at 1,832,000 bales. This State allotment is to be ratably distributed among the cotton counties.

The Agricultural Adjustment Administration has fixed a tentative goal of a reduction of 6,420,000 acres in Texas. The average annual cotton acreage in Texas during the base period, 1923-32, is 16,050,000 acres. A forty percent reduction of this average acreage would mean that Texas cotton farmers would plant about 10 million acres next year in cotton. The average annual production in Texas during the base period was 4,580,000 bales.

The campaign for offering the new 1934-35 cotton contracts to farmers begins this week in 214 Texas counties, in charge of county agents and county committees.

Miss Lucille Harris of Munday was in Benjamin Wednesday. Miss Harris made the race for County Treasurer two years ago and has many friends over the county.

Miss Polly Randolph of Truscott was in Benjamin Tuesday.

GREETINGS TO 1934.

The United States has come to the end of one of the most momentous years in its history. It has been a year in which vast unprecedented experiments have been tried. It has been a year in which government problems and issues have, to a greater degree than at any time since the World War, engaged the attention and interest of the public. It has been a year of trial and error, of achievement and failure. And finally, it has been a year of astonishing change.

For the first time since government was founded, there has been sweeping legislation to control the wages and hours of the entire working population, and the competitive methods of virtually all industry. A dramatic and frankly experimental effort to solve the farmers problems has become part of the law of the land. The largest public works program we have ever known has been inaugurated. Everything that the present leaders of government believed would spur recovery has been done. Advisors who had no previous connection with politics have been called in—and their plans have been adopted. The whole prestige of government and the immense power of the public treasury, have been used whole heartedly and sometimes ruthlessly to bring us stability and prosperity.

To say that these efforts have been entire successes is to close our eye to facts. To say that they have failed is to be unjust. They have fallen between these extremes. Men have been put to work by the hundreds of thousands—men who had had little or no work for two or three years, and had been forced to suffer the ignominy of organized charity in order to keep their families and themselves from utter privation. Wages have been appreciably raised and the sweat-shop, encouraged by the depression, has been eliminated. Child labor is on the wane. The CCC camps whatever their shortcomings, have served to provide thousands of young men with useful work under army pay and discipline, and have kept them debilitating and demoralizing influences.

And in other fields, the Administration has much on which it can honestly pride itself. It has started a program whereby the country may eventually be solved. It has done a good job in solidifying and safeguarding the banking structure. It has attempted to protect the public against stock swindlers and fly by night promoters, who reaped so fine a harvest in the boom years and even after. It has created machinery seeking to encourage home financing and private construction.

This is all on the credit side of the ledger. The entries on the debit side are not less important—and it does the country and the Administration no service to overlook them. All great experimental movements breed errors—and Mr. Roosevelt and his advisors would have been a great deal more than human had they avoided them. It is unquestionably true that, in working to bring recovery, methods have been adopted, and laws passed, which will make arid some of the springs from whence recovery must eventually flow. They are, by and large, one of the most progressive influences in the average community. Yet the industry as a whole (owned by millions of investors) is being politically castigated because of the sins of the few—a policy which can profit no one.

Again, in the securities act, certain provisions have made it impossible to issue legitimate industrial securities—thus depriving business of capital it sorely needs, depriving workers of potential jobs, and depriving the public of a place to put its money where it can do essential work. The law was designed to banish the seller of the wide blue sky—and it seems to have banished the seller of honest shares and bonds as well.

In brief, government, and the voting public, must not forget that private initiative are still the most important of national attributes. Government can do much to cure depression but after recovery has commenced, it is industry and bottomless. It can be more easily exhausted than we know. The Administration should certainly not be blamed for honest mistakes—unless it makes no effort to correct them. And now is the time for that.

In summing up, the American people have the best reasons for looking to the future with confidence. The country is still here. The land is no less fertile than it was. Its industries are no less great. Its individual spirit is no less potent. Its intellectual capacity is no smaller. Factories, utilities, railroads, insurance companies, mines, banks, farms—they are still here, and they will be doing business as usual when new forces, new changes, of which we know nothing now, have usurped the center of the stage.

So, greetings to 1934.—Industrial News Review.

College professor says Roosevelt's English is standard, clear, and precise. And his diction is forceful enough to become dictation.—Dallas News.

Contracts for 1934 cotton acreage reduction are now available and farmers wishing to co-operate may sign up. As the success of this campaign, like the success of any other public venture, depends on co-operation, it should be to the interest of the cotton farmers to give the move whole hearted support.

May 1934 Bring You Happiness and Prosperity

The Old Year has been ushered out... the New Year has been bowed in. And with 1934 has come a new spirit—a spirit alive with courage and energy, and illuminated by a brighter aspect down the track to Recovery.

And there is reason to look into 1934 with strength renewed and hopes heightened. Such obvious factors as freer spending, rising prices and more activity in the marts of commerce indicate that there is a real and tangible basis for better feeling.

In keeping with the spirit of the season, we "resolve" for 1934 to continue our same high quality of service... we pledge ourselves to continue to work for the greatest good of this vast "Land of Opportunity"... and we wish for you a happier and more remunerative year. "HAPPY NEW YEAR."

Do you know that your increased use of Electric Service is billed on a surprisingly low rate schedule... and adds only a small amount to your total bill?

ON TEXAS FARMS

By W. H. Darrow, Extension Editor
"I would have had no cash income this winter if I had not followed Extension Service methods in growing my early spring pullets," declares Mrs. J. H. Callhoun of Oakland section, Colorado county. Her 180 pullets were laying at a 50 percent rate in November.

With the aid of foundation pattern which are a short cut to good fit and economical dressmaking, Mrs. J. O. Jackson, home demonstration club woman of Swan, Smith county, last year made 17 dresses and under garments for herself and 12 dresses for other women. She also helped 29 other women make foundation patterns.

Alfalfa has been sown on plowed up cotton land on 14 Wheeler county farms, and farmers are preparing to sow sweet clover on such land on 19 farms next spring. The plow up campaign opened the opportunity for legumes, says the county agent.

One sanitary pit toilet is to be constructed this winter as a demonstration in each of 21 Denton county communities having home demonstration clubs.

The dabs of renit feed brought in to Webb Farms in Pecos county have been put into trench silos this year and fed to cattle. Formerly these small amounts of feed were seldom used.

A profit of $218 from sale of standardized canned products is reported by Mrs. W. E. Miller of Floydada, who is a member of Lake Side Home Demonstration Club in Hale County.

Clarence Eiland and H. A. Pendleton of Munday were in Benjamin Thursday on business. Both are prominent business men at that place.
