EVERYONE HAD A GOOD TIME

Dimmitt Wins the Baseball Game After a Hard Fought Battle—2000 People Present.

Independence Day—the most inspiring day of patriotism to the American people who have reached that age of understanding whereby they realize the full meaning of the great holiday, and the day that the small boy looks eagerly forward to, as it means to him a day of un-restraint among sweetmeats, sweet drinks, fireworks and noise, especially the latter two (we speak from experience)—dawned upon Hereford resplendent with sunshine. In fact had the weather been ordered for the day it could not have been prettier.

Every road leading into Hereford from the surrounding country was well traveled Wednesday evening and Thursday morning. The trains brought enough more visitors to swell the attendance to Hereford's celebration to over 2000 people, and we believe they went away feeling amply repaid for their time spent in the metropolis of the plains.

The program opened up at the court house, when Judge Gough, in a well worded speech, set forth the objects of the gathering and introduced Dr. R. M. Johnson, who read the Declaration of Independence in an impressive and audible manner.

Then followed a stirring and highly interesting address by the Rev. Randolph Clark, the venerable and distinguished president of Randolph College at Lancaster. We regret that we cannot publish his address verbatim as it was one of the most inspiring and instructive talks we have ever listened to.

After Mr. Clark had finished and the applause had subsided it was announced that dinner was ready and all repaired to the long awning covered table where a tempting array of bread, cakes, pies, pickles and other goodies were spread. A nearby wagon contained enough barbecued meat to appease the appetites of all.

Joe Killough and G. E. Burns & Co. had tastily arranged stands on the court house grounds and served ice cream, cold drinks, etc., until they had sold everything in sight.

At about 2 p. m. the crowd gathered around the base ball field where they were to witness an interesting game of ball between the Dimmitt and Hereford teams.

The teams were composed of the following players:

Dimmitt—B. Bell, 2b; Robinson, lf; J. Bell, 1b; Cash, rf; Cloyd, p; G. Bell, ss; Kiser, c; J. Bell, 3b; Crowley, cf.

Hereford—Burns, c; Boyd, p; McCracken, 1b; Johnson, 2b; Mercer, 3b; Jowell, ss; Dyer, lf; Patton, cf; Smith, rf.

Owing to our poor memory and the fact that a tabulated score was not kept, we are able to give the score by innings only, as follows:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Dimmitt	0	0	1	0	0	2	0	1	x	4

The chief feature of the game was the total absence of wrangling and the excellent pitching of George Cloyd of the visiting team and of John Boyd of the home nine. Conner Jowell's acrobatic work was also worthy of mention. F. L. Vanderburgh acted as umpire.

The Dimmitt boys are as gentlemanly a lot as ever visited a town and at their request we make the announcement that during the month of August, the date of which will be published later, Dimmitt is to have a barbecue and tournament to which all Herefordites are cordially invited and at which time a return game of ball will be played. Let us hope that our boys will practice up and even up baseball matters at that time. We might also add that owing to a shortage of figures the thirty additional scores that each side made was omitted in the above score by innings—the true score being thirty-two to thirty-four.

During the progress of and following the baseball game the following races and contests took place:

TOURNAMENT CONTEST.

Entries—W. W. Simpson, Luther Bennett, James Carter, W. P. Rambo, Robert Knight, Frank Vaughn and M. O. Meeks.

M. O. Meeks captured 10 rings out of a possible 15 and secured the first prize, W. P. Rambo taking second money with eight rings.

SWEEPSTAKES RACE—250 YARDS.

Entries—M. O. Meeks, who won first money; Claude Norton, second prize; Ola Conoley, Will Womble,

The 100-yard dash was won by James Carter, though we were unable to get the other entries owing to the fact that no record was made.

BURRO RACE.

In this there were only two entries—Alfred Clary and B. Clayton, the former winning.

The bicycle races were dispensed with owing to the lateness of the hour, as were the other contests advertised.

In the evening the dining parlor of the Ritchey House and the court room of the county building were cleared and the young people (and some of the older ones) gave themselves up to the fascinations of the terpsichorean art, the music being furnished by local musicians on string instruments.

As ye editor is too clumsy to trip the light fantastic we can only say that as a looker-on it seemed that everyone was winding up the day's festivities with as much enjoyment as was partaken of at the opening, though perhaps a little more weary.

Hereford people deserve great credit for the pleasing manner in which the many visitors were entertained, but perhaps to no one person is more credit due than to J. M. McGlothlin, who as Marshal of the Day, worked incessantly for the amusement and welfare of the crowd.

With a sincere wish that all may be physically able to attend many more similar gatherings we will close this article and go to press.

A PATRIOTIC AFFAIR.

Was the Reception Given by Miss Flossie Johnson.

On Wednesday night a large party of young people assembled at the palatial home of Dr. and Mrs. R. M. Johnson to assist their daughter, Miss Flossie, in the proper celebration of the ushering in of the day of all days in the hearts of the American people—the Fourth of July.

Miss Johnson was ably assisted by Miss Maude Patton and John Boyd in receiving and entertaining the guests.

In addition to the usual pastimes of music, games and social chat a charade was indulged in which served to tax the brains as well as to amuse the guests. The tasks and their answers are as follows:

1—Take "p" from a color and leave a writing material—(p) ink.

2—Take "p", from a precious stone and leave a nobleman—(p) earl.

3—Take "p" from a preacher and leave a crime—(p) arson.

4—Take "p" from a fruit and leave an organ of the body—(p) ear.

5—Take "p" from an atom and leave a particular thing—(p) article.

6—Take "p" from an allegory and leave fit for tilling—(p) arable.

7—Take "p" from tropical plants and leave a gift of charity—(p) alm.

8—Take "p" from a wild animal and leave a part of a flower—(p) anther.

9—Take "p" from a medicine and leave the state of a sick person—(p) ill.

10—Take "p" from a bird and leave any young man in this room—(p) lover.

Miss Nellie Hoyle tied with Conner Jowell and Miss Conner for first prize—a box of bon bons—they having solved nine of the ten puzzles, and in the cut Mr. Jowell and Miss Conner won. Miss Maude Patton and John Boyd received the "booby" prize—a bag of stick candy.

Then followed a delicious luncheon of ice cream and cake, the table being decorated with flowers and American flags, one of which was presented to each guest, after which the usual pastimes were indulged in until a late hour—or more properly speaking a "small" hour—when the guests departed for their respective homes, all agreeing that Miss Johnson was a charming hostess and a royal entertainer.

Miss Bratton Entertains.

A party of the younger element were invited to the home of Miss Rose Bratton last night to end up the day's festivities. Miss Bratton proved to be a charming hostess and entertained her young friends royally.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Comments on Current Events in the Busy Outside World.

Oh, yes! The republicans in Ohio are harmonious. Hanna's bandages are worn for ornaments, not to cover wounds.

The country sympathizes with Secretary and Mrs. Hay in the accidental death of their eldest son, Adelbert. "Mysterious" are the ways of Providence."

The Boers now seem in a fair way to regain all that they have lost, and they are carrying the war into Cape Colony. If this sort of thing keeps up the British will be asking for arbitration.

Some people are unreasonable enough to think that those who purchased Cuban bonds from the Cuban junta for a song have no right to demand payment of the face value of those bonds with interest.

It is at home called stealing to break into a man's house and carry off his valuables, but the pride with which Chinese stolen goods are exhibited by eminently respectable persons shows that it isn't considered wrong to rob the heathen.

Mr. McKinley would better be careful how he allows his name to be used by a speculative mining company, even as the representative of his wife's interests. The wife of the president of the United States has no business to have such interests.

Texans along the border are rejoicing over the capture by Capt. Rogers of the notorious Mexican bandit and murderer, Cortez. It is safe to say that no insurance company would issue a policy on the life of Cortez for a 90 per cent premium.

Everytime a flea bites you, you are in danger of contracting a dangerous disease, according to a theory which has been officially endorsed by the head of the United States marine hospital service, that disease is transmitted from animals to man by the flea.

Division of responsibility seldom accomplishes good results, hence our refusal to enthuse over the dual government, military in spots and civil in spots, which will be inaugurated in the Philippines on the "glorious Fourth." There will be a military governor and a civil governor and they will both be bossed by Secretary Root.

Naturally Senator Foraker will take a prominent part in the Ohio campaign, as it is his seat in the senate that is at stake.

The administration has officially admitted that our forces are still opposed in many portions of the Philippines and the casualty reports to the war department emphasize the admission.

"Little Billy" Chandler doesn't believe in shedding gore, but Admiral Evans ought to know that he is always willing to shed barrels of ink in any sort of a newspaper wrangle that will keep the people from forgetting "Little Billy's" existence.

The gentlemen who are declaring that they will not support Mr. Bryan again are crossing a bridge long before they get to it. Mr. Bryan has not asked anybody to support him again, nor has he said anything that can be construed into even the vaguest intention of doing so.

Another mare's nest has been found by the civil service Reform League, which declares that partisan politics was at the bottom of the Maryland census frauds. It is possible, if the league keeps on making discoveries, that it will some day see itself as the people see it.

Mr. Wanamaker may be bluffing, but the fact remains that the Quay railway franchise stealers of Pennsylvania dare not call his bluff.

Powerful as they are, the trusts are cowardly. That is shown by their trying to use the small manufacturers to ward off tariff blows.

The republican quarrel over tariff revision is growing more acrimonious all the time. Go ahead boys, fight it to a finish! You can count upon the democrats in congress to properly referee the fight.

"Corporal" Tanner has been telling campaign secrets. He says the republican national committee promised in writing that a new commissioner of pensions would be appointed if Mr. McKinley was re-elected. We don't doubt it, nor that the committee made many other promises to make votes that have not been redeemed.

C. W. Richardson and wife of Decatur arrived on Sunday and are visiting at the home of his brother, J. H. Biggs. Mr. Richardson is very favorably impressed with this country and may become a resident of Hereford in the near future.

J. D. and J. W. Thompson of Marietta, I. T., came in on Monday's train and are looking for a desirable ranch property. The former was through this section of the country eighteen years ago and says it has changed wonderfully since then.

John S. McKnight, the former manager of Smith, Walker & Co.'s large store at this place, but now a traveling salesman for the J. V. Farwell Dry Goods Company of Chicago, came in Saturday and combined business with pleasure in selling goods and shaking hands with his many friends at this place. He received the REPORTER during his absence and says that it was like getting a letter from home to peruse its contents.

UNDER FALSE COLORS.

Are the Two Mormon Elders Who Held a Meeting Here Tuesday Night.

Last Tuesday two Mormon elders came into town and represented themselves as Latter Day Saints, and under such representation obtained permission of the church trustees to hold a meeting in the church house.

Much indignation was aroused when it was learned that these two travelers were representing the Mormon organization of Salt Lake City, Utah, and it is due the trustees of the church that an explanation be made that they be not censured for their action in the matter.

When the church was built everyone contributed and it was understood that all christian denominations should be allowed to use the edifice. W. W. Meeks (a member of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, with headquarters at Lamoni, Ia., and Independence, Mo., whose members are as much opposed to the false teachings of the faith which kept Mormon Roberts from taking a seat in the United States congress, as are any other true christian organizations) was among the contributors and it was with the understanding that should any of the members of his church come here and wish to hold services they should be welcome to do so, and it was under these circumstances that these two scoundrels were allowed to use the church in the promotion of their home disrupting and society corrupting doctrines.

HEREFORD AGAIN BLESSED

With a Glorious and Timely Fall From the Clouds.

On Tuesday morning at about 2 o'clock a heavy and refreshing rain commenced to fall and lasted until about 9 o'clock, causing our stockmen and farmers to rejoice in the fact that they had cast their lot and fortunes in a country that is blessed with timely and bountiful rainfalls.

While the crops and grazing pastures were not suffering from want of water, Tuesday's rain was welcome and effectually puts a quietus on the fellow who is always preaching that this is an arid country.

Local Paper Deserves Support.

The effort of any newspaper to build up a town is practically nullified unless it is backed up by the business men of the town. A stranger turns from the news columns of a paper to its advertising columns, and if he fails to find there the business cards of the merchants and professional firms he comes to the conclusion that the editor is not appreciated, in which case it is a good place to keep clear from. No town ever grew without the active assistance of its papers. Nor can a paper grow and build up their localities without the assistance of the town. Business men should realize this and remember that in lending support to their paper they are not only building up their own business, but are helping to support that which is steadily working for the growth of the whole town.—Press and Printer.

Patronize and Pay Your Printer Promptly.

In perusing a paper published down the way we read this plagiaristic piece purloined, no doubt from a more pretentious sheet, viz—
 Persons who patronize papers should pay promptly, for the pecuniary prospects of the press have a peculiar power in pushing toward public prosperity. If the printer is paid promptly, and his pocket book kept plethoric by prompt-paying patrons, he puts his pen to paper in peace, paints the picture of passing events in more pleasing colors, and the perusal of his paper will become a pleasure to the people. Please paste this piece of proverbial philosophy in some place where all persons can see it—and please punge promptly.—Allen Advocate.

What Next?

One of our bright exchanges, viewing the evolution of our summer costumes, gets off the following clever remarks: "The shirt-waist man and the netwaist girl go hand in hand today, and the people year after year keep throwing their clothes away. The coat and vest are laid to rest, and where is the fleecy shawl? And clothes get thinner and fewer—what will be the end of it all? Oh, what will the shirtwaist man next take from the things he has to wear? And what will the netwaist girl throw off from the shoulders now so bare? The shirtwaist man and the netwaist girl go rolling down the way. Have we started a trend that is going to end in the old fig leaf some day?"

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Secretary Gage May Resign.

REPUBLICANS IN A FIGHT

Over the Control of the Pension Bureau, After Evans' Job—Revising Tariff a Bluff to Hold Republican Votes.

(From our regular correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, July 3, 1901.

Secretary Gage is chafing under the muzzle that has been put upon him by the administration, and some predict that it may result in his resignation. Since turning the matter over to the diplomatic branch of the government with the hope of reaching a satisfactory settlement of the tariff war with Russia into which Secretary Gage's blundering construction of law plunged this country, Mr. McKinley informed Secretary Gage that he must cease talking for publication about the acts which led to the tariff war. This Mr. Gage is inclined to regard as a double reflection on his judgment, but whether he will take it seriously enough to resign is not yet apparent. Those best informed express the opinion that the interests which placed Mr. Gage in charge of the financial branch of the government will intervene if necessary, to prevent his resigning, as they do not wish to take chances with a new man.

The republican fight over the control of the pension bureau is growing sensational. Commissioner Evans this week made a statement—his first public resistance to the demand for his removal—that breathes defiance between the lines and may be considered a dare to Mr. McKinley to redeem the written promise of the republican national committee to Gen. Daniel E. Sickles during the campaign last year, that Evans would not be continued at the head of the pension bureau during this administration if Mr. McKinley were re-elected. Mr. Evans intimates that in addition to the desire of the pension sharks to control the work of the pension bureau there are republican politicians who wish a change because they have not been allowed to dictate in defiance of law appointments and promotions in the bureau. Taken all in all this statement of Mr. Evans would be "hot stuff" in much colder weather than that which Washington is now passing through and his friends say he has unlimited ammunition for more of the same sort and that having become tired of being abused for doing his duty and standing between the government and a ring of pension looters, he will use it without regard to who is hit if the fight against him is kept up. Democrats are playing the role of interested spectators in this fight. Gen Sickles, who used to be a democrat and who is a leader on the anti-Evans side, was a McKinley stumper both in 1896 and 1900, and "Corporal" Tanner, who seems to be second in command, is a republican who was summarily kicked out of the office of pension commissioner by the late Benjamin Harrison for doing the very thing that Evans is being fought for not doing.

The opinion is increasing among democrats that the republican talk about revising the tariff so as to hit trust-controlled articles is nothing more than a vote-making bluff. In many congressional districts in the west and middle west there is a strong sentiment among the republican voters against the trusts. It is to keep this vote from being lost to the party that the tariff revision talk was started, and it is expected that a considerable number of republican representatives from that section will make speeches during the coming session of congress in favor of taking the duty off trust controlled articles, not because they expect or really desire any legislation along that line, but because the speeches will make good campaign documents in next year's congressional fight.

It seems that Secretary Gage's order imposing a countervailing duty on Italian sugar, on the suspicion that Italy was paying an export bounty on sugar was as big a blunder as that he made about Russian sugar. The Italian government has officially informed this government that it does not pay a bounty on sugar exported just as Russia did. Matters of this sort are too important and far-reaching in their effect to be determined upon without absolute knowledge of the facts.

Within a few days—probably next week—the advisory headquarters of the Ohio republicans will be established in the Canton home of Mr. McKinley and the advisor-in-chief will be no less a personage than Mr. McKinley. Although there is no national issue involved in the Ohio campaign this year, unless the election of a legislature that will name Senator Foraker's successor can be considered such, Mr. McKinley is very anxious that the republicans shall win, not that he would grieve to see Foraker lose his seat in the senate but because of its moral effect on the congressional campaign of next year. As a shrewd politician he recognizes that unless the republicans can retain control of congress many of his plans concerning the Philippines will be upset, as he has no idea that all those plans can be put into effect through legislation by the present congress.

INTERESTING STOCK NEWS

Changes That Are Being Made Among the Cattlemen of the Panhandle and Vicinity.

G. F. Ingersoll, a prominent cattleman of Miles City, Mont., came in on Tuesday and is looking for bargains in cattle. He is quartered at the Ritchey.

Livestock Inspector Sachse reports that during the month of June there were thirteen shipments of cattle from Hereford aggregating 16,634 head. This does not include the large numbers bought here and sold to local parties.

Judge Jno E. Ferguson received a letter from D. W. McClure of Sedalia, Mo., saying that he had recently sold 235 head of 2-year-old Durham steers whose weight averaged 1231 pounds. This goes to show what blood and corn will do.

IMPORTANT MEETING.

That Held by the Executive Committee of the Panhandle Stockman's Association.

We are indebted to N. E. Hord for the following:

The Executive Committee of the Panhandle Stockmen's Association held its regular summer meeting at Amarillo Monday. Thomas Bugby of Clarendon presiding, E. H. Brainard of Canadian, secretary. S. G. Carter of Miami, William Harrell of Amarillo, N. Hord of Hereford and W. C. Isaacs of Canadian were members of the executive committee in attendance. After arranging for fall inspection for the Panhandle and New Mexico districts, on the public markets, etc., several other matters of public interest were introduced and passed upon, among which was an expression favoring the establishment at South McAlistier, I. T., of quarantine yards by the U. S. Animal Industry Bureau which on the extension of the Choctaw Route through the Panhandle could be utilized this fall in sending feeders and other stock cattle through to the feed lots of Southeastern Kansas, Missouri, Illinois and into the open market, which would also be available for the same purpose from the

They also resolved to invite the Commercial Club of Amarillo and similar bodies in the Panhandle to co-operate with their association in lending their moral support to encourage an exhibit worthy of the great state of Texas at the Louisiana purchase Anniversary Exposition to be held in the city of St. Louis in 1903. A Deserved Compliment.

We congratulate Mr. F. T. Denson of Hereford, Texas, that the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, one of the largest publications in the west, illustrated six poses of two children, made by him while a student at the Guerin College of Photography, St. Louis, Mo. The half-tones were printed in colors, and reflected much credit on Mr. Denson, we were, however, pained to notice that through an oversight Mr. Denson was not accorded the proper credit.—Southwestern Photographer.

Will Build a Fine Residence.

W. B. Dameron of Castro county on Wednesday gave Contractor James Thomas the contract for a six-room residence. This is to be one of the finest residences in Hereford and when finished Mr. Dameron will move here and make Hereford his home. That Mr. Dameron will have a well-built house is assured by his selection of Mr. Thomas as the builder, that gentleman having built most of the fine residences and business blocks which beautify Hereford.
