BILL CLAYTON

Representative Makes Report At CofC Meeting

Bill Clayton turned red and tried to answer modestly when Dr. Joe Whitley, chairman of the Board of the Chamber of Commerce, government affairs committee, asked him if there was anything to the stories going around about how effective Clayton has been in the Texas legislature.

"I went down there to be a hand and to do some hard work," Clayton told the committee meeting at the Country Club for a month last month. "I'm expanding that to get caught up in several committees of sponsors and determining the outcome of major legislation. Whitley said he was surprised to hear Clayton say that.

factors contributing to his effectiveness in the legislature, Clayton believes.

Clayton has served on the Committee on Counties, which considered more bills than any committee except for the State Affairs Committee, of which Clayton was also a member. He served besides on the rules committee and the reclamation and conservation committee.

In discussing political prospects for the 1968 races, Clayton told members of the government affairs committee that much will hinge around whether John Connally decides to make a bid for a fourth term. Other possibilities throwing their hats into the governor's race may be Preston Smith, Ralph Yarborough and Don Yarborough. Among those in the lieutenant governor's race will be Jerry Watson, Franklin Spears and House Speaker Ben Barnes, Clayton predicts.

Continuing on the water situation, Clayton said that West Texas was being excluded from the Texas Water Plan. Clayton said the Texas Water Development Board would have the opportunity to drop us if it could.

Confirming the fact that current plans do not include West Texas in a significant manner, Clayton said.

Farmers Union Meets Monday

Texas Farmers Union and county officers from 11 counties met at the 11th annual meeting Monday at the Hereford Country Club.

Speakers at the meeting included J. W. Herring, president of the state union, and other county officers. The meeting was held in the afternoon.

Accident Victim Improving In Local Hospital

Richardson, 45, of Hereford, was seriously injured Wednesday afternoon when he was struck by a car while crossing a dirt road.

Highway Patrolman Rommie Barnes said Richardson was traveling at about 70 miles per hour when he came upon several piles of cattle which had been damaged preparatory to spreading on the road.

The 1965 Dodge pickup driven by Richardson passed completely through one pile and hit a second one before turning sideways on the road. Hitting that pile of cattle was just like hitting a wall, Richardson said.

GROWINEST CLUB IN TOWN

Kiwanis Try Harder

Dean Herring, president of Hereford's Kiwanis Club, has worked together with other growers in the organization to make it the fastest growing club this side of the Mississippi River. And they have met with no small amount of success, as the figures indicate.

Today the Kiwanis number 64 in Hereford, up 24 from the roster figure when names were called in January. In actuality, there are 31 new Kiwanians, but seven have either had to drop out or have moved. Club members aren't through with their push, the goal of "67 in '67" still hasn't been met, and President Herring will have until Dec. 31 to get the job done.

Kiwanis, the number one civic club throughout the nation, is working to be "the" civic club in Hereford, Herring says. The group does not let regulations stop it from going ahead with its promotions, although rules prohibit them from utilizing the common methods of fund-raising. With emphasis on religion and youth, the club works on a smaller scale here than some.

Funds have been channeled into civic projects from mop and broom sales, lawn fertilizer sales, Halloween candy sales and pancake suppers on election nights, to name the most common.

But civic projects aren't the ingredients that really hold a club together, Herring believes. He lists three major factors that contribute to a club's enthusiasm: good food, good fellowship, and good programs. Kiwanis here have got all three.

In the food category, Mr. and Mrs. L. Z. Oldham have worked every Thursday to give the members a hearty meal for their money; in the fellowship department, friendship and a "friendship dollar" have contributed to keep members congenial and forward in their relationships.

Programs stand on their record, and included in this might be interclub trips made by members willing to take the time to spread their Hereford enthusiasm around to other Kiwanis clubs in the district. Hereford's Kiwanis have made interclub trips this year.

FOR MIDGE INFESTATION Farmers Eye Milo

Perfect weather — as far as the sorghum midge is concerned — is taking some farmers to the bar ditches as they watch for signs of midge infestation in the grain sorghum crop in the Hereford area. Checks by some agriculturalists have revealed the pest to be present in all directions from Hereford, with winds and wet weather persisting, the infestation can spread quickly.

Salesmen Fail With Strafuss

A Deaf Smith County resident was too cagey to fall for an old badger game which three men attempted to pull off on his farm Tuesday.

L. J. Strafuss, who lives 13 miles north of Hereford on U. S. 385, told the sheriff's office that three "lightning rod salesmen" came to his home and went up to examine the system on the roof.

They then came to the field where Strafuss was working and told him that the cable was burned in two. Strafuss wouldn't take the service which the salesmen offered, checked when he returned home later in the day, and found that the cable had been freshly cut.

Strafuss said the "salesmen" were driving a white Ford pickup with whitewall tires and fancy hubcaps, and a red pickup. Both vehicles left his residence going south.

Johnsongrass is the carry-over plant for the midge, and this is the point where grain men should first check, a check with sprayers indicate. If the midge is present in johnsongrass — and not in the field — spraying will prevent damage to the crop.

Once midge is found within the sorghum crop, it is too late to spray, chemical men point out, explaining that spraying has to be done before the sorghum plant is in bloom. Once found in a field, the eggs have already been laid and damage is certain.

An infestation of one midge per seed husk is enough to cause significant loss of grain, sorghum experts say.

Sorghum midge infests all varieties of grain sorghum, sorghos, broomcorn, johnsongrass and sudangrass. Successive life cycles appear throughout the season, from first emergence in the spring until plants are killed by the fall freeze. The United States Department of Agriculture reports as many as 13 generations of midge occurring within one growing season near San Antonio. Well established throughout the southern quarter of the United States, the midge thrives in a humid climate. This is the first year that the pest has come so far north, it See MIDGE Page 2

Rev. Goodwin Begins Duties At Local Church

The Rev. Homer Goodwin, who recently has accepted the pastorate of the Assembly of God church in Hereford, brings to his congregation the experience of many years in the foreign mission field. Rev. Goodwin and his family have worked in missions in west Africa some 12 years.

Now at home at the church parsonage at 800 Union Avenue, the Goodwins have three children, the youngest to be a junior in Hereford High School this fall. To join the family soon will be Sandra Goodwin, who was the wife of their oldest son, Sidney, who died in Africa. She has an eight-year-old daughter, Gwendolyn.

Other children of the Goodwins are Betty, now Mrs. Jerry W. Shepperd, whose husband, a minister, is teaching at the Assemblies of God College in Waxahachie. Nova Jean, 21, has been in the Caribbean area this summer doing evangelism work. She will be in Hereford about Sept. 1. John, 16, will be a member of the choir in Hereford.

Lots of Bull- With or Without Cast

An animal with a cast on its leg. Not unusual in the present generation, but when it happens to be on a 1,200 pound bull with a mischievous disposition anyway, it could be considered a rarity.

It started just over three weeks ago when Ward Bardoliermer 15, a 26-month-old registered Angus owned by Mr. and Mrs. Joe Andrews of the Frio community, found his way out of the lot and past the electrical fence.

Never one to pass up a good scrap, the bull squared off with three adversaries. During the battle, his hind leg was broken just above the hock or joint.

Not too many years ago, if such a thing happened to a horse or bull it would have been necessary to destroy the animal. Today, it is a common occurrence for legs on animals to be set.

So, on July 19, Dr. Gene Cope, Hereford veterinarian, put a plaster of Paris cast and splint on the bull, which was tied down during the two-hour ordeal.

"Of course, he tried to get up a few times, but generally, he was pretty quiet," said Dr. Cope. Tranquilizers are shunned in such a case by Dr. Cope because the effects can be damaging. "I like the animal to be able to get right up on its feet. It could be groggy by the tranquilizer and have trouble standing or walking, fall and break the cast."

The fast drying cast covers about a foot on either side of the hock, and a splint runs all the way up and down the leg, keeping it still. "It's like a person walking with crutches," explained the doctor.

LOCAL YOUNGSTERS WIN STATE — Steve Shaw, top, and Pat Click, bottom, student in the Hereford schools, won state honors in a fire prevention poster contest sponsored by fire departments. Shaw, the son of Mrs. Oliver Streu, was presented a check for $5 by former Chief Earl Phillips and a ribbon by Chief Jim Dickerson. Steve's poster won third in the senior division. Click, standing with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Orpah Click, received $10 and a ribbon for his entry in the junior division, which received second place in state competition.

choice as Secretary of the Month in the designation sponsored by The Hereford Brand and the local chapter of National Secretaries Association.

She is a charter member of the association, was chapter treasurer last year and is a committee chairman this year. "Meeting people," she says, is the principal part of her job and the thing she likes best. She meets them in persons and by telephone often when they are feeling anything but socially inclined as they call on the denlist. Patients are of all sorts and I like them all, even when they're difficult," the friendly blonde receptionist avers.

Mrs. Dirks had no formal training for her job and has learned it to handle its various aspects as she worked. She was married young, without completing high school studies, and has gained further education by reading, observation and contact with a variety of people.

Born in Granite, Okla., Faye Conrad moved to Dimmitt when she was in elementary school and except for a short time in Colorado, lived there until she came to Hereford nine years ago.

Her husband, Darrel Dirks, is a farmer and vegetable grower. They live at 211 Aspen and the family includes four children: Terry is the oldest, 13, and Donnie 11. The two girls are younger, Kim eight years old and Lisa seven months.

Gas Rate Hike Facing Board

Hereford City Commissioners will discuss again Monday night the application for a rate increase by Pioneer Natural Gas Co.

Commissioners tabled action on the proposal in their July 17 meeting until they could study the matter further.

The rate increase, which would average 72 cents monthly for general service users, was requested by Pioneer because of "increased costs of doing business."

Other items on the agenda include an annexation petition on property east of Aikman Elementary School and new construction at the Hereford Municipal Airport.

Commission meetings, which are open to the public, begin at 7:30 p. m. in City Hall.

Page Two Report ---

Continued From Page One Clayton asserted that this area cannot be stuck in putting heat on the state to get the water to this area. "We are going to have to present a united front to the state government," he told committee members.

"It is all a matter of education," Clayton said, explaining that West Texans are going to have to convince the metropolitan areas — namely Fort Worth, Dallas and Houston — of the economic importance of this area in the welfare of their own cities. West Texans will have to work to get city citizens to vote "yes" for water for agriculture.

Clayton and committee members alike expressed optimism in the ability of Texans to keep their state from being torn apart by riots as has occurred in the North. "It will depend on actions at the local level," the representative said, predicting nothing similar to the Northern situation to occur in Texas.

Constitutional revision, which ran into such opposition this year, was mentioned by a committee member to this Clayton replied that "nobody would vote against revising the constitution if they were the ones who would get to write the new one," explaining that the old document has various safeguards that some Texans are not about to jeopardize.

A big disappointment to many Texans this year was the rejection of the liquor-by-the-drink legislation proposed by Governor Connally. Liquor legislation "needs to be strengthened up," Clayton pointed out, explaining that the liquor bill would have helped in enforcement of the liquor trade currently gone awry at dry areas. Clayton has gone on record as opposing the bill, however, presumably because of his constituency's strong stand against the bill.

In closing the informal question-and-answer session at lunch Friday, the representative urged the government affairs committee of the chamber of commerce here to work to get approval for proposed industrial revenue bonds in November, 1968.

CLAYTON ANSWERS QUESTIONS — Bill Clayton of Springlake, this district's representative to the Texas House, answered questions in an informal session with the government affairs committee of the chamber of commerce when in here Friday. Here Clayton answers a question posed by committee chairman Dr. Joe Whitley.

Kiwanis ---

Continued From Page One year, which is going to gain them recognition at the international convention to be held in Toronto. The goal, however, is $2. The interclubs have resulted in 4500 miles of travel to 2 other clubs, including visits to every club in the district except one newly formed in Shamrock — it's turn is coming up. One of the trips was as far as 500 air miles.

Interclubs are valuable in allowing members here to see how other clubs function. "Herring points out. They learn from the experience of other clubs, and vice versa. New projects can be born by getting together with the boys in another city in their work with youth.

Hereford Kiwanis have sponsored the Key Club at Hereford High School. Also on a similar basis, the Kiwanis Club throughout the nation sponsors Circle K clubs on college campuses. A track meet for fourth, fifth and sixth grades was sponsored here last year, and Kiwanis are thinking in terms of making it a regular affair.

Officers of this "growingest, gooiest" club have been Herring, president; Ray Todd, vice-president; Don Hensale, secretary; Bartley Dowell, treasurer and Laura Higgins, sweetheart. New officers will be elected early next month, but they will not begin their tenure until January, Herring says.

One of the jokes among the Kiwanis concerns their ruling that they can only have two members from any profession in a club. A club in Georgia had two funeral directors already on its membership roster — and was wanting to enlist another young mortician in the community whose enthusiasm would be a definite asset to the club. After convincing the national headquarters of the merits of the young man, they agreed to list him as a "Southern planter." Looks like Kiwanians are serious when they talk membership.

Milo ---

Continued From Page One is believed, a check with sprayers in Hereford showed, that several years ago there were indications of a severe infestation near the Easter community but since that time there has been nothing further north.

Chemical men making spot checks throughout the county have found midge as far north as the Ford community in the upper half of Deaf Smith County. The pest has also been located to the southeast of Hereford, to the west at Westway and also to the Northwest. The midge population has seen the significant increase within the last two weeks as rains have continued humid conditions in the area.

Victim ---

Continued From Page One apparently broke the windshield of the pickup with his head, but had no real bad cuts there. His body also hit the steering wheel and bent it, and dented the dashboard of the vehicle.

The accident occurred just after 6 p. m. Wednesday, near the home of Richardson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Syd Richardson.

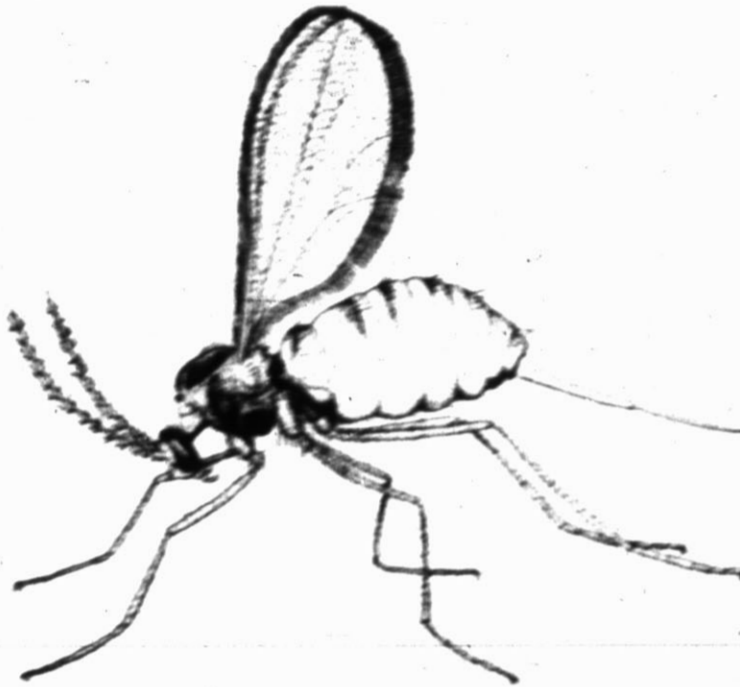

Richardson was rushed to Deaf Smith County Hospital for emergency treatment. The attending physician said he had a fracture-dislocation of the neck, a cut on one leg and multiple cuts and bruises.

He was reported in improving condition Saturday afternoon.

Duties ---

Continued From Page One. The Goodwins come from Plainview, their hometown. They have owned their home there for the past 14 years, although much of their time has been spent away. Rev. Goodwin has served as pastor of the West Plains sector of the church for the past two and a half years, as well as serving as interim pastor at Tulsa.

Although he was not ordained until 1936, Rev. Goodwin began preaching when he was 18. He is originally from Dallas. He has pastored churches in Plainview, El Paso and Lubbock. Rev. Goodwin has served as pastor of the church here before, 1942-1944. The family had already been in Africa and could not return at that time because of World War II. The Goodwins have worked for 12 years in Africa during four terms of service.

Mrs. Goodwin (Thelma) will assist in women's work at the Assembly of God church, and will also be involved in young people's activities. The church here has Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. worship at 11 and evening services at 7:30, preceded by young people's meetings at 6:30.

This was only the second time that Dr. Cope has put a cast on an animal of such size. The other one also built retrovered successfully and continued to be used for breeding purposes.

Ward Bardolmer, explained Mrs. Andrews has lost several hundred pounds since the leg was broken. He has much difficulty in moving around and generally stays stationary for long periods of time near a pile of feed.

The suspense will continue for the Andrews family and Dr. Cope for three more weeks, but at present the bull appears to be mending satisfactorily.

While setting the leg, Dr. Cope took pictures at each stage. He hopes to use the pictures with an article for a trade magazine.

Data On Local People To Go On Computers

NEW YORK, July 22 — Much more is known about the personal affairs of each and every resident of Deaf Smith County than they would imagine.

In the official records of Federal, state and local bureaus and in the private files of other organizations is a mass of data covering the social and economic lives of each local person.

Where he was born, now much education he has had, his marital setup, his earning capacity, where he lived previously, whether he owns his home or rents, whether or not his wife works, if he owns a washing machine, his police record, if he has one, how much he pays in taxes — these, and many other facts about him are all in the records.

What brings this matter to the fore at this time is a plan, now under consideration in Washington, for an electronic data center that would bring together and put into computers the wealth of information that is now spread among many governmental agencies in Washington and elsewhere.

One such agency is the Social Security Administration. Its files contain information on the earning and employment records of some 7,500 local people who are now holding down jobs, or are self-employed or are retired.

Another source is the FBI, which has the fingerprints of approximately 6,400 residents of Deaf Smith County on tap.

Included are the fingerprints of government employees, of men and women who have served in the armed forces, of people who have been charged with felonies and of many others.

Much information concerning local individuals has also emerged from the surveys made by the Census Bureau. The 151 people in the area who have been divorced and the 270 who are foreign-born are thus pin-pointed.

This data would be fed into the computers, together with the mass of other facts about the local population.

Opposition has been voiced by Congressmen and others, however. They fear the collection and improper use of dossiers each citizen.

A FAR OUT FAN

YONKERS, N. Y. (AP) — Lou O'Neill, who says a 50,000 watt radio station can go almost anywhere on a clear night, received a postcard from the Bahamas. A harness racing fan was seeking information on the Yonkers meeting.

"This fellow," says O'Neill, "wanted a list of mudders for the Yonkers Raceway meeting."

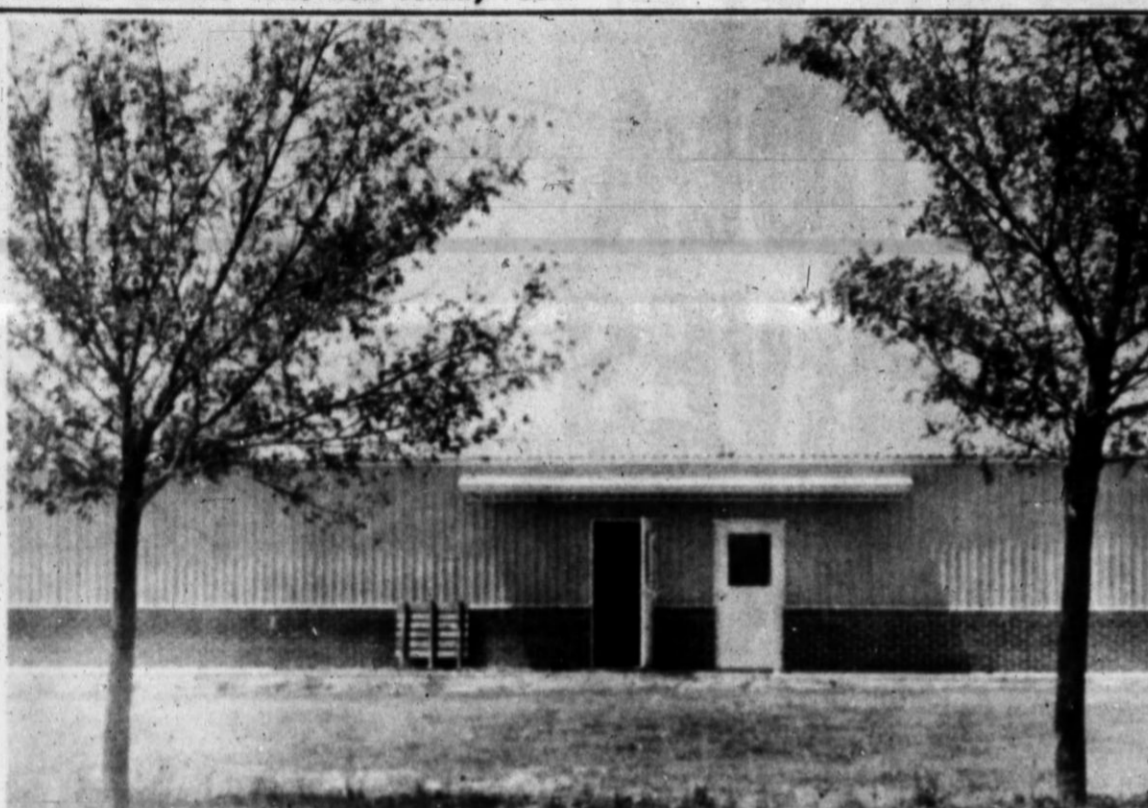

O'Neill has been broadcasting the Yonkers feature harness race nightly since 1950. Station WHN carries the program.

Government spokesmen have assured them that the only purpose of the data bank would be to produce better national statistics and that there would be no unwarranted disclosure of information about individuals.

Draft Agency Answers Queries On New Law

Editor's note: Below are questions now being asked at draft boards. The answers are by Col. Morris S. Schwartz, State Selective Service Director, 702 Colorado St., Austin, Texas 78701. He will welcome your questions.

Q — What must I do to qualify for II-S classification as an undergraduate college student?

A — You must file a written request with your draft board after June 30, 1967. At the end of each school year you must furnish the board with convincing evidence that you are continuing to pursue satisfactorily a full-time course of instruction.

Q — How is the phrase "satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course of instruction" defined?

A — An undergraduate student taking a four-year course must earn 25 percent of the credits toward his bachelor's degree at the end of his first academic year, 50 percent at the end of his second, and 75 percent at the end of his third. If five years of study are prescribed by the school for a bachelor's degree in some field, a student must earn 20 percent of the total credits toward the degree each year.

Q — What is meant by a "student's academic year?"

A — In determining a student's eligibility for classification in Class II-S (college student), his academic year shall include the 12-month period following the beginning of his course of study.

"Provision has been made to accommodate as many as 300 officer candidates at the school if that number of qualified and properly motivated applicants can be found," said Lt. Col. Botho Schenck, Academy Commandant. Courses are prescribed and administered by the U. S. Army Infantry School, Fort Benning, Georgia, and entitle the successful graduate to a commission as a second lieutenant in the U. S. Army Reserves, as well as a commission in the Texas National Guard. Candidates will attend a two-week training session in August followed by eight weekend training sessions and two weeks full-time again next summer before being graduated.

Work Forum To Be Held Here

Bureford/Jaycees made final plans during a meeting Wednesday night for a Regional Work Forum, to be held here

August 18. Jim Vines, club secretary, said Jaycees are expected to attend the forum for Canyon, Amarillo, Tula, Vega, Happy, Plainview, Silverton, Dumas, Friona and Dimmitt. Program for the forum, which is held for the purpose of exchanging ideas on club projects, will be presented by the area director. Also included will be a luncheon and a social at the Jaycees Hut in Jaycees Park. Vines said members postponed plans for the Rolling Pin Throwing Contest and Pet Show until after the Work Forum.

Highway Department Installs Reflectors

Red means WRONG. That is, red means wrong on Texas freeways. The Texas Highway Department has installed red reflectors on many Interstate and other controlled access highways to warn drivers that they are going the wrong way. A broken red line of reflectors indicates to the driver that he is traveling the wrong way on the freeway. A red arrow pointing at the driver from the pavement as he begins to enter a freeway ramp indicates that he is entering the wrong way. These reflectors, in extensive use for about a year, are made of acrylic plastic — red on one side and white on the other. A driver going in the right direction sees the white side. A wrong-way driver sees the red. So red means "wrong way." Thousands of these markers, have been installed on such high-volume traffic highways as Interstate Highway-11 through Houston and Interstate Highway 385 through Austin, as well as on many others in the state. Installation of the markers is the Highway Department's second major innovation within the year to minimize wrong-way movements on freeways. Earlier the Department began supplementing its "Do Not Enter" signs along freeways with "Do Not Enter Ramp" signs and "One Way" signs. The reflective pavement markers are an effort to cut wrong-way accidents even more. The lane lines in most cases are limited to metropolitan areas where there are high volumes of traffic. The reflective markers are placed at 40-foot intervals with 15-foot lines of white non-reflective buttup markers centered in between. The arrows are placed on exit ramps to 1-way frontage roads, exit ramps that have any history of wrong-way entry, and exit ramps where the design of the connection with the cross street or highway is such that traffic may have an easy access to the exit ramp for wrong-way movement. A big advantage of these markers over paint or other devices, says a Highway Department spokesman, is that they are just as good when wet as when dry. This means that the reflectors can be seen during rainstorms. "The Texas Highway Department is concerned about wrong-way accidents on our freeways," explained State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer. "We hope these new markers will help by warning motorists that 'Red means WRONG.'" Peel and halve bananas lengthwise; add sweetened orange juice and a suspension of grated lemon rind. Bake in a hot oven for about 15 minutes. Serve with pork chops or pork loin roast.

BRITISH BAPTISTS NOT JOINING UNION
LONDON — Britain's Baptist Union has issued a 60-page report turning down any role in the ecumenical movement for the present. The report states: "So far no plan of church union or scheme for basically altered church relations has been put forward in Britain to which Baptists could unitedly or near unitedly give assent."
It also adds: "The Baptist Union is not able at present to enter into a covenant to work and pray for the inauguration of

Brucellosis Vaccination Changes Made

The minimum age for calf vaccination against brucellosis has been lowered from four months to three months, according to a United States Department of Agriculture announcement.

Research has indicated that acceptable resistance is induced with the strain 19 vaccine on three month old calves. This early age vaccination also reduces the possibility of calves producing reactors that can confuse the brucellosis test. The early age vaccination is also expected to help the cattle producer because it will often fit better with his regular management practices.

The amended regulation defines "an official vaccinee as a female bovine animal vaccinated against brucellosis at the age of three through eight months." If the heifer calf is a beef breed on a range or semi-range area, she may be vaccinated from three to eleven months.

The vaccination of heifer calves past the age of eight months is discouraged by the USDA because of the possibility of persistent reactors.

"Producers in Texas counties yet to enter the brucellosis eradication program should continue on this vaccination program," Dr. C. M. Patterson, Texas Agricultural Extension Service veterinarian advises. "Eliminating as much infection as possible will speed up certification when the county enters the eradication program."

SENATOR YARBOROUGH

Free Enterprise System Still Best

For the first time since 1946, our railroads were paralyzed this month by a nationwide work-stoppage. It lasted only forty-eight hours, because Congress passed emergency legislation to get the trains running again — largely because of demands for war material in Vietnam.

Let's consider this bill Congress approved and its effects on a precious American right — free collective bargaining in a free enterprise system.

Here is a chronology of the events which led up to the action by Congress:

On May 17, 1966, six unions representing 137,000 shopcraft workers requested pay raises and changes in work rules to meet the rising cost of living. In June of last year talks began with the railroad companies — representing 95 per cent of the total railroad mileage in the United States.

Later in 1966 the National Mediation Board attempted to mediate the dispute and failed. In February of this year President Johnson set up an emergency board to study the deadlock. That board also failed to settle the dispute between the railroad workers and railroad management.

The question then came to Congress. Each House passed a bill to keep the railroads operating, largely because emergency shipments were needed to supply the men in Vietnam. But there was a basic difference in the two bills. The House Bill preserved free collective bargaining in a free enterprise system; the Senate bill provided for a Government Board to be appointed to set the wage, and then required workers to accept that wage and work under government edict until January, 1969.

The Senate bill was a forced labor bill; the House bill was a free enterprise, free collective bargaining bill.

Let us make no mistake about it. The free enterprise system is a two-way street. It's free for management, and it's free for labor. If you put labor under government edict, if government fixes the wage and says you've got to work for it, it won't be long until government also fixes the prices of the commodities and the profits that companies earn. It's a two-way street.

Everyone in the United States Senate voted to get the trains running again. The only difference was which bill we wanted. I voted for the House bill which keeps free enterprise, the free collective bargaining system. But the majority voted for the Senate bill with a mandatory work order for the shopcraft unions under a wage to be fixed by the U. S. Government. The vote in the Senate was 69-20, but nobody voted to keep the strike going.

There was a grossly erroneous report in the newspapers that those who voted for the House bill were voting to keep the strike going. In the House of Representatives the vote was 24 to 148 — 24 for the forced labor Senate bill and 148 for the House bill. Both bills were alike in putting the men back to work and setting the trains moving again.

There were false reports that 20 members of the Senate and 148 members of the House voted to keep the trains deadlocked with a paralyzing walk-out. This was absolutely incorrect; no one voted to keep the strike going.

Collective bargaining has suffered in this dispute. I hope Congress will continue studying problems of our transportation industry, lost for all, management. We must find a way to preserve the free enterprise system; else it will be lost for all, management as well as labor.

COMMERCIAL BEAUTY SPOT — Deaf Smith County Rural Electric Cooperative, on East Highway 60, was selected as Commercial Beauty Spot of the Month by the Beautification Committee of the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. and Mrs.

Hubert White, pictured at right, are caretakers for REC and responsible for the recognition, said Leo Forrest, manager.

JAKE STREET Water, Inc. Names Director For PR

Jake Street, a former West Texas Chamber of Commerce executive, will assume the duties of public relations director for Water, Inc. Sept. 1. The department of public relations was created during a meeting last week of the Water, Inc. board of directors in Dimmitt.

Making the announcement of Street's employment was John J. Kendrick, president of Water, Inc. "The need for a public relations program has increased continually with the rapid growth and development of Water, Inc.," Kendrick stated. "Water Inc.'s first responsibility is to engage in study and research and to collect and disseminate among our people and others information concerning the immediate need for obtaining a supplemental supply of fresh water for the area to be served by this organization. Another foremost responsibility is to create public interest in and develop public support for water resource development and conservation projects. With a man of Street's background, we feel that the first step in obtaining these goals has been accomplished." Street presently is project director for the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. He has served as manager for the Dumas and Hamilton Chambers. His background includes community relations, advertising and radio.

Street has a Bachelor of Science degree in business administration and a Principles of Organizational Management certificate from the University of Houston and the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. He is a member of the Chamber of Commerce Executives Association of West Texas, the Texas Chamber of Commerce Managers, the Texas Industrial Development Council and other professional and civic organizations.

He and his wife, Roma, will make their home in Lubbock and are member of the Baptist Church.

Vic Washington of Wyoming led the nation in punt returns last season, taking 34 punts 443 yards for a 13-yard average.

SHUR-GRO

Local Firm Expands

Expansion at Shur-Gro Liquid Feeds, Inc., located near Hereford and the Holly Sugar Refinery, has tripled that manufacturing firms output of liquid feed supplement for cattle men within a 400-mile radius of Hereford.

Roland Barton, manager at the 3½-year-old company, said that the expansion to handle the increased output has all been done within the existing structure, which was begun in January, 1964.

The expansion at the Hereford plant included the addition of a mixer twice the size of the original mixer, which will still be used. Also added was a stainless steel "mix bench" for the formulations of various vitamin, mineral, and other mixtures to be added to the basic feed. More storage, 50,000 gallons, now gives the plant some 230,000 gallons capacity both above and below ground.

Barton estimates capacity of Shur-Gro to now be in the area of 300 tons output of custom formulations daily. Shur-Gro specializes in custom formulations for the feed lot industry, with shipments to various points within its gigantic selling area. The company also sells to the range cattle industry, and anticipates installation of a branch plant in the future to help alleviate freight costs from the local plant.

Shur-Gro is a wholesale business, with the bulk of its supplements being sold through the Red Barn Chemical corporation. Barton pointed out that although business has grown steadily throughout the company's history, it has shown a considerable increase in the last year alone.

Assistant manager for Barton has been Jerry Skaggs, who has worked out feed lot nutrition formulas for cattle; the liquid supplement formulated by Shur-Gro includes protein and phosphorous to balance the ration, and also has all necessary trace minerals and vitamins, growth hormones and antibiotics. Shur-Gro works under a franchise in manufacturing supplements which have some critical processes patented. The company has access to an IBM computer for some nutrition layouts and in figuring least cost formulations. Barton anticipates that the increased output of the Hereford plant will be sufficient for at least another three years; Shur-Gro is planning to locate branch manufacturing offices in other areas of its sales territory, however, in an attempt to get the manufacturer closer to the user. The installation of new equipment in Hereford will be completed, probably next week, before the October to March heavy season for cattle feeders.

LESS GRAPE JUICE AND GRAPE JAM

MELBOURNE — Australians are drinking more wine. Figures issued by the Commonwealth statistician show that in 1965 Australians averaged 1.3 gallons a head. For three years before, it was 1.2 gallons and in 1961 only 1.1 gallons.

The figures also showed that Australians are eating less fresh fruit and less jam.

PLAYS IN MET MUSEUM
NEW YORK — A series of short plays are being performed this summer in the Metropolitan Museum of Art as an experiment in artistic expression.

Thomas P. F. Hoving, recently appointed director of the museum, said the purpose is to highlight and animate various collections in the context of the societies in which they were created. A play by Ionesco is presented in a modern painting gallery, a medieval work in the museum's Romanesque chapel.

Jim Bunning of the Philadelphia Phillies has shut out the New York Mets six times. He pitched a perfect game against them in 1964.

Ray Berend . . . in Vietnam scene.

Vietnam Vet In Hereford

A Hereford man who returned home Tuesday after a year's tour of duty in Vietnam says it presently appears that the battle is at a standstill and could go on indefinitely.

lives northwest of Hereford. However, Berend adds that he wouldn't call for an all-out offensive to end the war because the casualties would be too high, and he feels that there are now enough G.I.'s in Vietnam.

Berend, who attended Hereford schools, was drafted on Feb. 1, 1965. He took his basic training at Fort Bliss, Texas, and spent some time at Fort Campbell, Ky., before heading for Vietnam Aug. 8, 1966.

There were approximately 15,000 troops — one-half of them Marines — on the 21-day trip to Vietnam. On his arrival, Berend was stationed at Pleiku.

The 573rd Supply and Service group, to which Berend was assigned, had the job of supplying fuel and clothing to other companies. They supported the 4th Division Infantry, the 173rd Airborne and the First Cavalry during the year Berend spent in Vietnam. Eight months were spent with the infantry on the Cambodian border.

Quietly admitting that the fighting "was pretty bad," Berend said the Viet Cong uses "Russian, German, all type guns and are most dangerous as snipers. The jungle terrain is perfectly suited for such a war, which is being waged by the VCs with weapons much older than those of the Americans.

The VCs are similar to the Japanese kamikaze pilots in that they don't give up, says Berend.

Just before he left Vietnam, Berend explained that he read in a newspaper that "the enemy is starting to draft 13-year-old boys. I don't know what that's a sign of unless they're hurting for replacements."

"Berend said he does think the Vietnam conflict is a political war and "somebody is making a bundle of money off of it. I couldn't say who it is, but it sure wasn't me," he laughed.

Following a leave here, Berend will go to Fort Hood to await his discharge Feb. 1.

Here's a different idea, and one youngsters will enjoy. Mix instant chocolate-flavored mix (the kind used for milk drinks) with sugar and cinnamon and sprinkle over hot buttered toast.

One Car Totaled Following Wreck

One car was considered a total loss by city police following a collision just before midnight Thursday on McKinley Street. Officers said a 1953 Chrysler driven by Charles Wiley Black, 22, of 425 Ave. D, was going north on McKinley in the 600 block when it struck a parked 1957 Plymouth owned by Gehe Godwin.

The impact of the collision knocked the Godwin vehicle about 11 feet onto a lawn, while Black's car continued on several yards. Damage to the Godwin car was not determined.

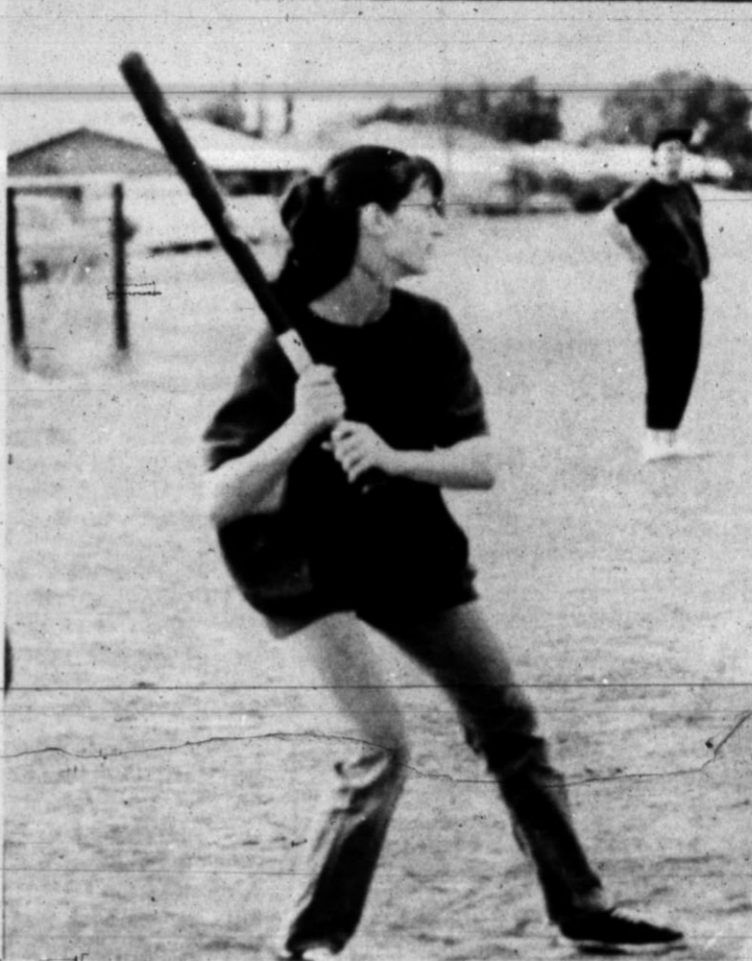

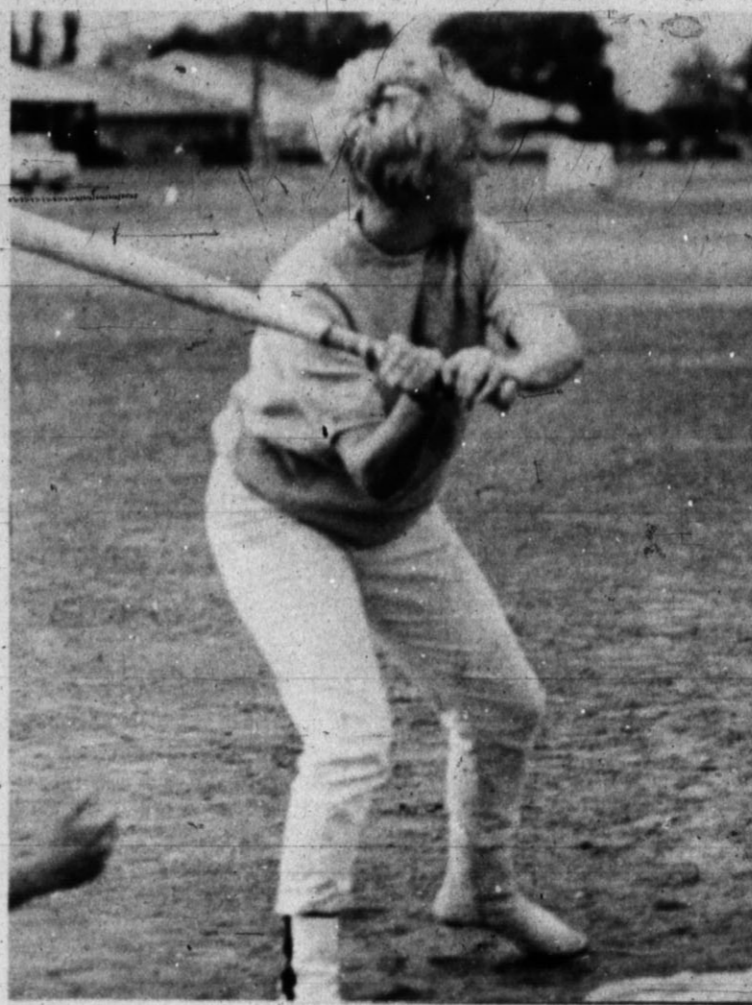

Black reportedly was taken to Deaf Smith County Hospital for treatment of injuries, but hospital attendants said he did not show up there.

Citations were issued for driving on wrong side, not passing, and for failure to have vehicle under proper control.

TIP ON TERMINOLOGY

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A Greek word now in common Christian usage, "diakonia," means service to others. The Rev. Arthur J. Seegers, a Lutheran executive here, notes that the word stems from "diakonos" or servant, as used by Jesus when he said:

"Whosoever would be great among you must be your servant (diakonos), and whoever would be first among you must be the slave (duolos) of all."

DETERMINATION, FEMINE STYLE — Approximately 52 women are presently competing each week in the Women's Softball League as evidenced by the pictures. Games are played on the baseball field at St. Anthony's Catholic Church. There usually is a good bit of horseplay from the females, but when it comes time to bat they get serious.

Wayland College To Start 58th Regular Session

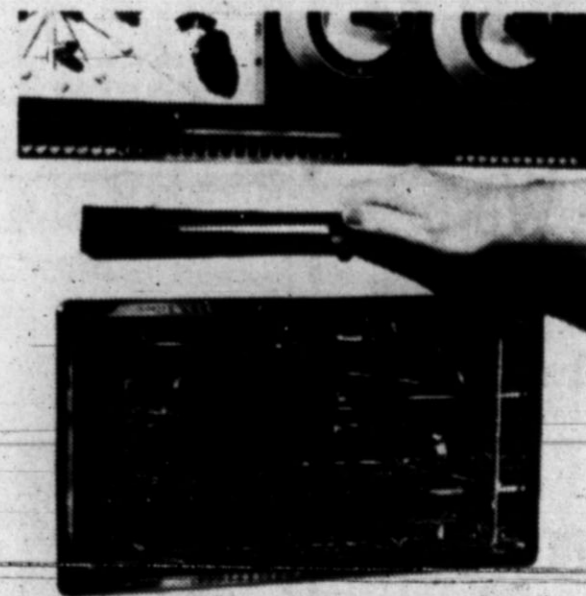

Wayland College will start its 58th regular session when classes begin September 7. Deadline for making application for enrollment for the fall semester is August 28. Dormitories will be open on September 3 and the dining hall will be open September 4. The fall semester will be concluded December 22. It will be the first time for the college to complete the opening semester prior to the Christmas and New Year holidays.

—Also a first at Wayland this year will be the microterm, January 8 — January 26, a period during which students can earn a maximum of 4 hours credit.

Construction on the $500,000 Haral Memorial Auditorium on the campus is well past the halfway mark, said Raymond Jameson, Plainview contractor. The 1,500 seating capacity structure is to be ready for use in December.

Extensive remodeling of the second floor of Gates Hall, the original Wayland College building, now used for administrative offices and classrooms, is underway and is to be completed by the time the fall term starts.

Clean GAS Cooking.

No way around it, broiling creates smoke. But there is a way to keep it out of your kitchen. Close the broiler door and let the GAS flame consume the smoke. Closed-door broiling is just one of many reasons why GAS cooking is cleaner and cooler.

POWER HITTERS DELUXE — Members of two teams in the Women's Softball League were pictured taking their turns at bat Thursday night on the field at St. Anthony's Catholic Church. The females, determined though they are, still take time to straighten their hair and clothes when they step to the plate. And those breaks between innings when they have to stop and talk to the other players. Oh, the poor umpire.

Sheriff's Dept. Adds Deputy

Newest member of the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Office is Gene McWhirter, who arrived Tuesday from a job as chief of police near Waco. McWhirter served two times as chief of police of Lacy-Lakeview, a suburb of Waco. The first term was from 1959 to September, 1964, and the second term for about a year. In between, McWhirter spent 2½ years as a captain in the Snyder Police Department. The new deputy will bring his wife, Ruth, and son, Ricky, 9, to Hereford soon.

OSWALD "TRIAL" TO BROADWAY

NEW YORK (AP) — A courtroom drama that might have happened, "The Trial of Lee Harvey Oswald," is on the Broadway production schedule for next season. Written by Amran Ducovny and Leon Friedman, the play examines both prosecution and defense arguments concerning the man named by the Warren Commission as President Kennedy's assassin. "The audience," Friedman says, "actually will be the jury."

Second Quarter Busy For Highway Dept.

Eighty-seven new miles of Interstate highways were completed to full freeway standards during the second quarter of 1967, the Texas Highway Department in Austin reported today.

On July 1, a total of 1,615 miles was complete to full Interstate standards. This compares with 1,528 miles under rubber on April 1 of this year.

At midyear, three-fourths of the 3,028-mile Interstate network in the State was completed to full Interstate standards, under construction or fully adequate to accommodate present traffic volumes.

Specifically, the status of the Interstate highway system in Texas on July 1 was:

—Completed to full Interstate standards, 1,615 miles.

—Under construction to full Interstate standards, 378 miles.

—Adequate for present traffic 217 miles.

—Under construction in stages, 54 miles.

—Construction and right of way acquisition programmed, 168 miles.

—Right of way acquisition only programmed, 597 miles.

When the national 41-thousand-mile Interstate network is finished in the early 1970's, Texas will have more miles of Interstate than any other State.

Even now, more miles of Interstate highways are in service in Texas than any other State — except California — will have on completion of the system.

Route-by-route, here is how each of Texas' 14 Interstate highways shaped up on July 1:

IH 10 — (Orange-Houston-San Antonio-El Paso) — Total length, 878 miles; completed to full IH standards, 34 miles; under construction, 80 miles; adequate for present traffic, 4 miles; under stage construction, 22 miles.

IH 20 — (Shreveport, La. — Dallas-Fort Worth-to a junction with IH 10 west of Pecos) — Total length, 630 miles; completed to full IH standards, 419 miles; under construction, 57 miles; adequate for present traffic, 46 miles; under stage construction, 23 miles.

IH 30 — (Texarkana-Dallas) — Total length, 170 miles; completed to full IH standards, 121 miles; under construction, 11 miles; adequate for present traffic, 6 miles; no stage construction.

IH 35 and 35E — (Laredo-Gainesville, via Dallas) — Total length, 505 miles; completed to full IH standards, 372 miles; under construction, 52 miles; adequate for present traffic 19 miles; no stage construction.

IH 35W — (Western leg of IH 35 via Hillsboro-Fort Worth-Denton) — Total length, 85 miles; complete to full IH standards, 56 miles; under construction, 20 miles; adequate for present traffic, 8 miles; no stage construction.

IH 37 — (Corpus Christi-San Antonio) — Total length, 143 miles; completed to full IH standards, 6 miles; under construction, 26 miles; adequate for present traffic, 2 miles; under stage construction, 5 miles.

IH 40 — (Across the Panhandle via Amarillo) — Total length 177 miles; completed to full IH standards, 43 miles; under construction, 45 miles; adequate for present traffic, 74 miles; no stage construction.

IH 45 — (Galveston-Houston-Dallas) — Total length, 285 miles; completed to IH standards, 181 miles; under construction 49 miles; adequate for present traffic, 15 miles; no stage construction.

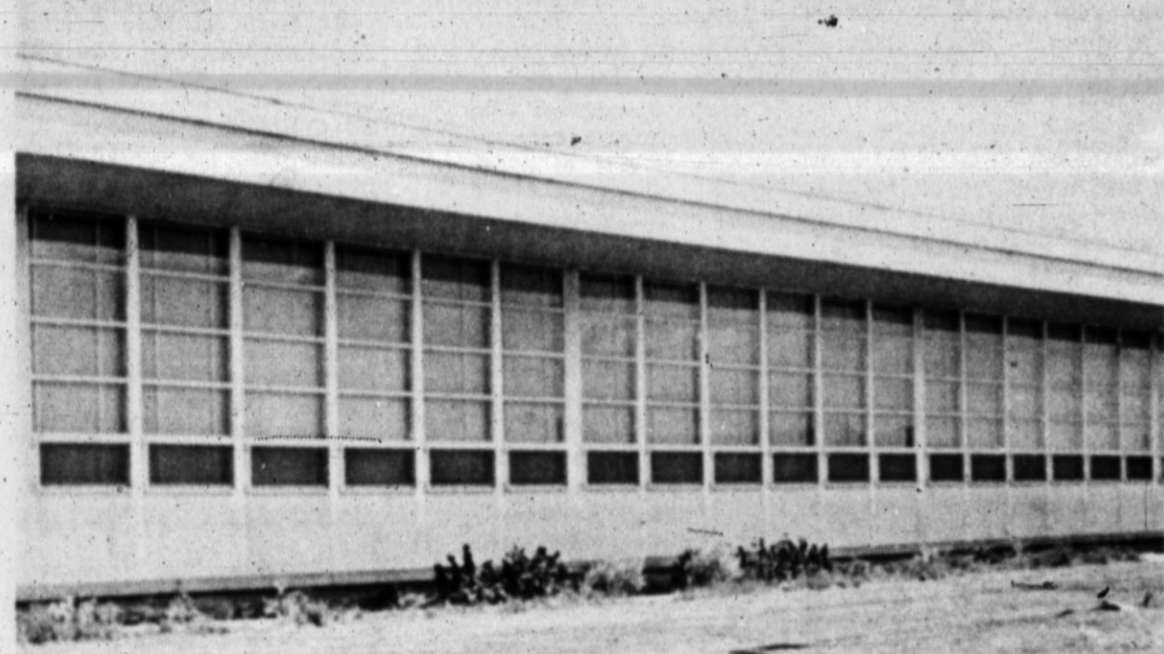

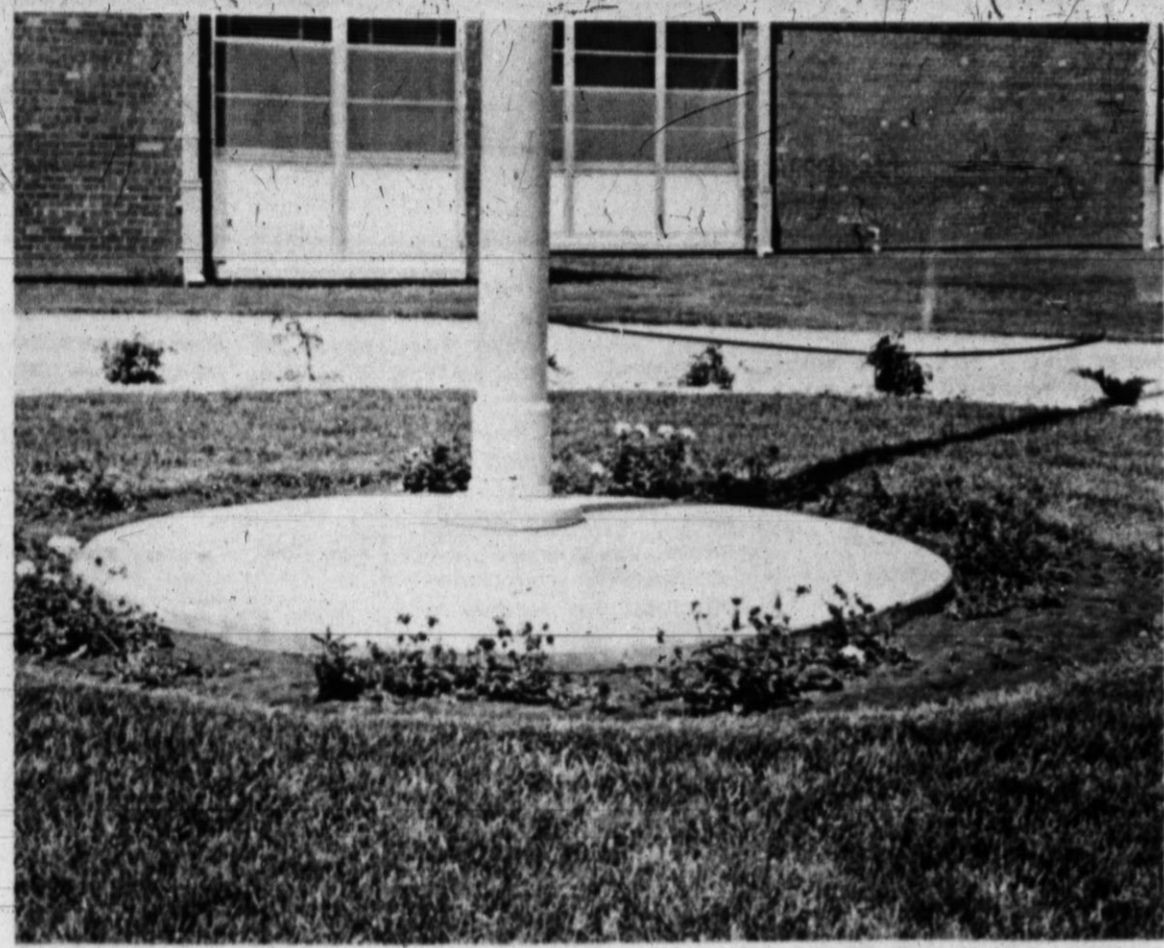

IH 110 — (Recently designated connection from the International boundary to Interstate 10 in El Paso) — Total length, 91 of a mile. Programmed for right of way acquisition only.

Forage Testing Suggested For Greater Profits

A forage test is a valuable tool in developing economical livestock feeding programs. And Dr. J. Neal Pratt, Extension Agronomist at Texas A&M University, says forage testing not only lets a livestock producer know the quality of the forage he is feeding but also can serve as an aid in evaluating forage production practices and methods of fertilization.

Pratt said that forage samples received at Texas A&M's Agricultural Analytical Laboratory last year showed a tremendous variation in the quality of samples tested. Several grass samples contained 17 percent or more crude protein while many others contained less than 10 percent, he said. Without a forage test, the livestock producer is simply guessing as to the quality of his forage. The result — many producers feed too much or too little supplemental feed — a costly mistake either way.

Pratt lists the major factors influencing forage quality as the amount of plant food the crop received and the stage of maturity when it was harvested for hay.

The agronomist says that local county agricultural agents can supply information on how to take forage samples and where to send them for analysis.

C. B. Burdine Buried Monday

Funeral services for C. B. Burdine, 82, former Hereford resident, were held Monday in Lubbock, where he had lived about 15 years.

Officiating was the Rev. Grantland Grove, associate pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian Church, assisted by the Rev. Clements E. Lamberth Jr., pastor of the John Knox Presbyterian Church.

Burial was at Resthaven Memorial Park in Lubbock under direction of Rix Funeral Home. Pallbearers were Winston Brown, Bill Ellis, E. J. Haymes, Ray Raymond, R. C. Taylor and Croft Bigham.

Born in Anson, Mr. Burdine died unexpectedly Sunday morning at University Convalescent Home in Lubbock. He lived and farmed in Deaf Smith County from 1935 to 1951, before moving to Littlefield and then to Lubbock.

Survivors include his sons, I. A. and Wendell of Hereford; a daughter, Mrs. Dick Ellis of EMERGENCY ROOM procedure is shown by pressure with a fellow student playing the RoseAnn Fraser, preparing to check blood patient.

NURSERY DUTY and care of newborn babies is work most students like. Betty Davis and Katie Koehn are teamed.

LVN Class Nears End Of Training For Nursing Duty

GRAY PINAFORES worn by students in the Licensed Vocational Nursing class at Deaf Smith County Hospital will be exchanged for white uniforms Sept. 11, graduation day for the group which a completing a year of training under direction of Frances Carver, R.N. A graduation ceremony, open to the public, is being planned. Each class member will receive a certificate, pin and stripe denoting the graduate LVN, and will be eligible to take state board examinations at Austin in October.

CAPPING CEREMONIES were held for the students in January and their floor experience began immediately afterward. Until then, their training was principally "book work" and they still attend regular classes as well as work with patients in the hospital under Mrs. Carver's supervision.

PATIENT'S COMFORT is a concern of the nurse, and neat bed-making is an important part. Miss Koehn expertly turns a corner of the sheet.

STERILIZING EQUIPMENT in the central supply room is used by Sarita Leal and Florence Vaught, with a package ready for the "oven".

ACCURATE MEASUREMENT of medicine is necessary. Mrs. Carver tells class members who group around her in the medicine room where supplies are kept.

MACHINES HELP in many ways in the care of patients, and those in the hospital are of varied types. Betty Davis demonstrates use of the intermittent positive pressure breathing machine.

History At First Hand Is Family Enthusiasm

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

Local history, in whatever locale they live, is something of a family hobby for the J. H. Padgetts and their children. With Mrs. Padgett, Texas history has been "a consuming interest" since childhood in a family that had its part in that history, she says.

THE PADGETTS, living at 220 Beach, came to Hereford only a few weeks ago from Waco. This part of Texas is new territory to them, so they are checking on nearby spots of historic interest which are in reach for sightseeing trips.

Such jaunts for exploring, sightseeing and learning area history; supplied a family pastime for the Padgetts in the years while their children were growing up. Now the three children are grown, the youngest in college, and the couple is still pursuing that interest.

Padgett is manager of the new Swift & Co. plant here. During his 21 years with the company, the family has lived in the Chicago area and in Alabama as well as in other parts of Texas. San Antonio was their home for a number of years.

OF GERMAN ANCESTRY. Mrs. Padgett was born Katherine Keike in the South Texas town of Charlotte. Her grandparents on both sides came to Texas from Germany, as did many residents of that section. She attended school at Charlotte and Three Rivers, married early with no more than a high school education, then began doing office work and learning on the job skills which have qualified her as an accountant and secretary.

Only recently Katherine Padgett did as many women without college training talk of doing, but seldom do; she enrolled for a semester at McLenna County Junior College in Waco.

were small she confined her work to her home, but when the youngest was in junior high school she returned to office employment. Soon after coming to Hereford she was employed by Axe and Shollenbarger, accountants.

A member of her high school chorus, Mrs. Padgett enjoyed that activity so much that she joined a women's chorus in Park Forest, the Chicago suburb where the Padgetts lived for some time, and found it a pleasant diversion and the children were quite entertained to see their mother up on the stage at community programs.

She likes antiques — the family keepsakes which she makes a part of the decor in her home — enjoys sketching and hopes to give more time to that and other interests in coming years, and with her husband likes to play a social game of bridge occasionally.

THE PADGETTS are Methodists and give some of their time to church activities. For outdoor sports events, especially baseball as both their boys played on school teams and James Henry III, called Bo, is attending Paris Junior College on a baseball scholarship.

His older brother, Steven, lives in Los Angeles, is married and has a daughter, Maurine. The Padgetts' daughter, Robin, is Mrs. W. D. Meredith Jr., of Dallas. They both earned college scholarships, Robin in band and Steven in academic work.

For the first time in several years the entire family is expected to be together the last week in this month. Plans for that reunion hold first place just now in the thoughts of the attractive Hereford newcomer.

Cadet Petersen In Training

FT. SILL, OKLA. (AHTNC) - Cadet Gary R. Petersen, 20, son of Richard A. Petersen, 409

Cadet Gary A. Petersen

Irving, Hereford, Texas, is in training learning to operate communications equipment in Army Reserve Officers' Training Corps summer camp at Ft. Sill, Okla. He is a student at Texas Technological College, Lubbock, Tex.

He is receiving six weeks of training in leadership, rifle marksmanship, physical conditioning and other military subjects.

Upon successful completion of summer camp and graduation from college, Petersen will be commissioned a second lieutenant in the U. S. Army.

Cadet Petersen graduated in 1964 from Tascosa High School, Amarillo. He is a member of Phi Kappa Psi fraternity.

George Sauer Jr., the New York Jet end whose father is the club's personnel director, was second in the American Football League in receptions last season with 63 for 1,079 yards and five touchdowns.

By MELVIN YOUNG
It's a dog's world. The K-9, according to the Wall Street Journal, is now leading a life of luxury with fancy, heated dog houses, but he doesn't necessarily like it.

Dog houses are getting fancier and fancier. Some, we might add, as could be the case at our house, look better on the outside than does the master's domain. Yet the family pet — the ungrateful cur — often times doesn't like his little cottage. Instead, he much prefers to sleep on the outdoor picnic table — a lofty perch that allows him to look into the kitchen window and see what the rest of the family is doing.

Animals are strange critters. As a matter of fact, at the Young residence, we now have a menagerie of animals that includes three cats, of varying ages, and one dog — named Sir Winston. He's half English Bulldog and half Pekinese and all pest. The cats, incidentally, like the dog quite well. Each came to our home as a kitten and grew up (some still growing up) with the dog and they seem to stay on the best of terms.

But the point we're making is this: We went to a great deal of trouble and expense to build a fine dog house and the dog sleeps outside most of the time — with one or two cats draped over the top. A peaceful scene to be sure.

We're waiting until winter however, and making plans now to insulate the quarters for warmth in hopes the whole bunch will move inside.

And we don't mean — inside the master's house.

It hurt me quite a lot at first That 100 a week have died Preserving Freedom for the Worst The men content to hide

Freedom for the Bearded ones Who passively carry signs Alarmed to see the native sons Die for their designs

Freedom for the Newest Breed Who burn draft cards at will At a sit-in they'll take the lead But they'll never take a hill

Lawyers, Ministers, Men of means Teaching all young men in jeans How to dodge the draft

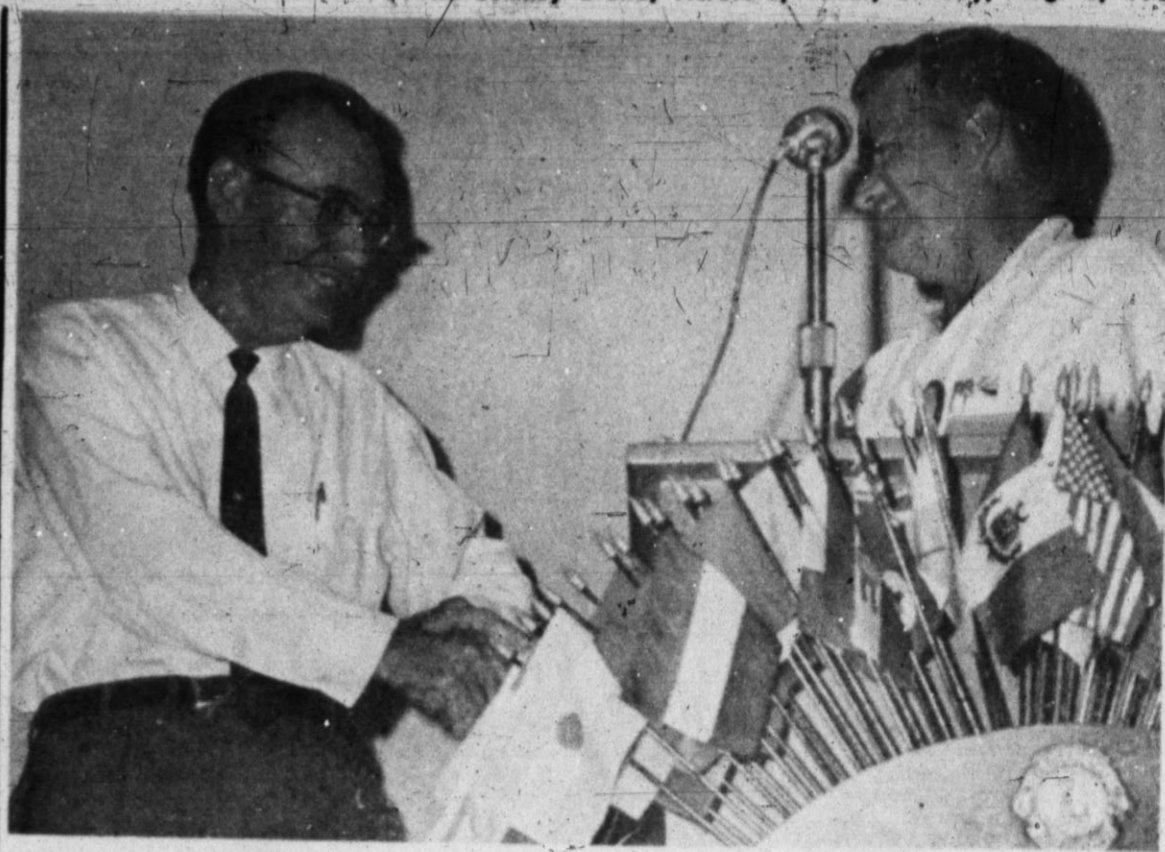

But now I see in different light Just what I'm fighting for If these men didn't have that right I wouldn't have come to war

And more important, infinitely more My loved ones there at home They are the ones that I'll die for If my time should come

So, my friend, with bearded face Realize what you are a BY-PRODUCT of freedom's race Keep pounding that guitar

Sing your songs of immoral strife As long as you can I'll know That I'm content to give my life Fighting our Mutual Foe.

KIWANIS CLUB SPEAKER — Jeff Bentley, a public accountant from Amarillo, spoke to the Kiwanians last Thursday on the assets and liabilities of life. In his speech, Bentley compared life to the assets and liabilities of accounting.

Amarillo Man Speaks To Kiwanis Club

"We must use the virtues of human existence in the way that God intended for us to use them," stated Jeff Bentley, public accountant from Amarillo, and speaker for the Kiwanis Club last Thursday at the regular luncheon meeting.

Bentley began his speech by explaining the assets and liabilities of accounting, then he embarked on a subject that people are quite familiar with — life and your soul. Comparing the soul with accounting, Bentley stated that man has a choice and that life has assets as well as liabilities. Listed under assets were love, hope, history, freedom and faith.

Last but not least, was justice. We must always endeavor to give every man an equal break.

Bentley ended the program with this statement, "There is no one else like you; no carbon copy, so you feel important. And when you feel important, only then do you feel the virtues and assets of life."

Seaman Tiefel Participates In Celebration

(20673) USS CHICAGO (CG-11), (FHTNC) July 26 — Fire Control Technician Third Class Jake E. Tiefel, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Tiefel of 124 Ave. J., Hereford, Tex., took part in the 18th annual "Sea Fair" celebrations in Seattle, as a crewmember of the guided missile cruiser USS Chicago.

"Sea Fair" provided an opportunity for the citizens of Seattle to better understand the nature and mission of the U. S. Navy. For four days, Navy men of the U. S. First Fleet held open house aboard their ships, complete with guided tours.

Other events which highlighted "Sea Fair" included a reception and ball for the visiting Navy men, hydroplane races on Lake Washington, and an evening Seattle Torchlight parade.

RED CHINA RELATIONS MAY SOON GET BETTER

UNCLE SAM TO RESUME MOVE TOWARD DETENTE

By HENRY CATHCART

Central Press Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—A few months ago there were signs in Congress and elsewhere of a movement toward trying to thaw U.S. relations with Red China. Activities were suspended, however, as word seeped out of China about mounting internal disorders aimed at re-establishing the full authority of Mao Tse-tung, which apparently had gone into eclipse in 1966.

In recent weeks either the internal strife in China has subsided to a degree or the authorities have been doing a better job of suppressing news of the disorders. In any event China does not seem on the verge of shaking itself apart as was the case four or five months ago.

If this estimate should prove correct, a revival of the detente effort can be expected. The form would be to find a way to accommodate Red Chinese representations in the United Nations, to renew U.S. efforts to encourage some exchanges of news correspondents, and to seek a meaningful dialogue on the positions of the two countries in the Vietnam war.

The short-term goal, of course, is to de-fuse the Vietnam fighting. The long-range effort would be to restore a semblance of rationality in relations between the two countries as a long-step toward world peace.

Red China nurtures deep animosity toward the U.S. but historically the two nations have been allies with a broad base of common understanding and U.S. sympathy and assistance to the Chinese.

Given the size of the stakes and the potential for improvement, there are indications that moves toward the detente will be resumed shortly.

• INVESTIGATION PRONE—Mrs. Mildred B. Ross, a secretary in the office of Sen. Thomas Dodd, has the undesired distinction of being close to two major senatorial investigations.

Mrs. Ross was hired by Dodd only two weeks before the first charges concerning his misconduct were published. It wasn't until several weeks later that Dodd learned that Mrs. Ross was the married name of Bobby Baker's sister.

Dodd decided that her work was satisfactory and that she should remain on his staff, since she had nothing whatsoever to do with the financial dealings of her brother.

• CHANGE OF NAME—With President Johnson actively striving to establish more normal relations with the Soviet Union, the Pentagon still maintains a unit with the potentially embarrassing name of the "Cold War Division."

It is a section of the War Games Agency and its task is to devise possible Cold War situations in which the U.S. and Russia confront each other and work out plans so that the United States comes up on top.

The operation is a necessary part of military planning and no one wants to clip its wings. But its name is uncomfortable to some officials, particularly to one who has suggested a change to the "Crisis Management Division."

Is Featherbedding Killing Industry

While we recognize the value of unions, and the important role they have played in the development of our nation, we are prone to wonder on occasion if they might not someday kill the goose that lays the golden eggs.

What really alarms us is the rapid growth of other nations in the realm of industry. Already, we find hundreds of Japanese and German produced items at prices 50 percent below their American counterparts.

Hereford Lucky

When it comes to accidents, Hereford has been most fortunate this summer. Our good fortune, in a measure at least, must be attributed to alert and careful driving of motorists.

Without both of these factors, it is certain that several youngsters who operate bicycles would be dead. Some of the kids, especially on residential streets, are far too young to ride bicycles on a public road.

If we recall correctly, the Optimist Club once sponsored a series of proper bicycle riding clinics, and we hope that they can see their way clear to once again institute the program.

While we recognize bicycle infractions as definitely coming under police jurisdiction, the entire problem truthfully traces back to the parents, who are responsible for the behavior and the welfare of their children.

If our motorists, as we said, had not been so alert and so lucky, we feel that several youngsters would already have been killed this summer.

Talk of Texas

By JACK MAGUIRE PALACE FROM THE SOIL — In 1889, Fort Worth citizens decided to build a great exhibition hall utilizing nothing for its construction except products grown in Texas.

"Spring Palace," as it was called, was built entirely of East Texas timbers. Floors were covered with split ears of corn, and the carpets were yellow and brown corn stalks.

The 225 by 375-foot building was, perhaps, the most unique ever constructed in the state, but its life was to be short. The wood walls and roof, plus the kind of furnishings and decorations used, made it a firetrap.

HISTORY'S TREASURED CHEST — A few oak boards are all that remain of the hall where Texas proclaimed its independence from Mexico at Washington-on-the-Brazos in 1836.

John M. Gould, a cabinetmaker, salvaged some of the siding from Independence Hall a few years after the historic declaration was written there.

About 1860, Dr. Richard Rogers Peebles acquired the chest from Gould and inscribed in ink inside the lid the history of the piece. Today the chest may be seen in the State Archives Building in Austin.

IT'S A WOMAN'S WORLD — An adult male who strikes, pinches or tampers with the person of a female against her will can be charged with aggravated assault in Texas.

A female can strike a male, however, and be charged only with the lesser offense of simple assault unless she inflicts serious bodily injury.

FOOTNOTE TO HISTORY — Texas won its independence from Mexico almost entirely without the services of a regular army.

Although the first plans for a military force were made in October, 1835, when leaders met at San Felipe de Austin, almost nothing was done. At no time before the Battle of San Jacinto, when Santa Anna was captured and independence won, did Texas have as many as 100 regular soldiers under arms.

Even at San Jacinto, the majority of the troops were volunteers and not regular soldiers.

TEXANS AT WORK — A disappearing, but curious, industry of the Big Bend country is the production of wax from the candleilla weed.

Ranging from rugged camps that often are 50 miles or more from the nearest habitation, crews of Mexicans gather the candleilla, load the weed on burros and return it to the camp for processing.

The resulting wax then is boiled again in clear water to get rid of impurities, then it is poured into trenches to cool. Later it is broken into small pieces, loaded in sacks on burros and brought to the nearest highway for trucking to market.

Federal Money Fails To Stem Riots In Cities

By BERT MILLS WASHINGTON, D. C. — Rioting in cities across the nation commands the headlines as officials in Washington are seeking desperately to find the cause and cure of urban ills, with no optimism that success is attainable.

Federal money has been poured into the cities by the bucketful but still the shooting and burning and looting continues. There seems to be a growing feeling, in and out of government, that existing programs are not reaching the root cause of the crisis in the cities.

THE BOOTLEG — Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Bindweed grass farm reacts to some weather experts, his letter this week reveals.

Dear Editor: Some practical joker in town, apparently having read in The Brand last week that I wasn't in the market for tin cans and bottles wrapped in a newspaper and thrown in a ditch by the road near my bindweed grass farm out here, has now left a batch of tin cans and bottles in the same place, with a rolled-up page of a newspaper stuck in each one. He didn't get the point.

Anyway, I pulled the pages out one by one and put them together and found I had a complete newspaper except for the front page which didn't matter as one day's riots seem about like another's: There are times when the most predictable thing in a paper is the front page.

Speaking of predicting, I found on page 14 of the can-and-bottle-delivered paper (by the way, if the joker who did this will let me know his name, I have a few items I'll be glad to deposit on his front lawn in town to maintain a balance of trade) an item about the weather.

According to it, the odd weather we've had this summer such as unseasonably cool days and too wet in some places and too dry in others has been blamed by a weather bureau expert on the jet streams, the upper air wind patterns above 10,000 feet. One jet stream flows from Alaska and northwest Canada over the Great Lakes region and then toward the Northeast. The other comes in from the Gulf of Mexico, crosses the Southwest, and turns east over Kansas, he said.

The weather expert went on to say the jet streams explain this summer's weather, but when asked about how to explain the jet streams, he said "We don't know the full answers. They're never normal."

I have thought this over and I believe what he's saying is that he doesn't understand the weather either and that it's too never normal. I get very little satisfaction out of knowing that when I need a rain and it stays dry, the fault lies with a jet stream. This is like always putting the answer one step out of reach.

So far weather experts are like economics experts, they're not better at telling you what happened yesterday than what's going to happen tomorrow. You don't find many economics experts getting rich in the stock market or many weather experts getting rich in farming.

Yours faithfully J. A.

It is easy enough to say the cities have too many people living in slums in hopeless poverty with very little to lose by participating in riots. But that does not answer the question of why America allowed this condition to develop, nor what can be done about it now that it is an accomplished fact.

One bipartisan group of 23 Senators, mostly from states that are primarily agricultural believes a major contribution toward a long-term solution to urban woes would be to stop the exodus of rural people from farm to city. Their answer is a program to stimulate new jobs in rural areas and small towns, through a program of tax incentives to private industry.

Their bill is called the Rural Job Development Act. It is S. 2134, now pending before the Senate Finance Committee. Sponsors are Senators James B. Pearson (R., Kan.) and Fred Harris (D., Alaska). The 21 cosponsors include 11 Democrats and 10 Republicans. This is not an Administration bill although the President and Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman have espoused the general idea.

Terms Attractive to Industry Corporate managers should be interested in the attractive terms offered by the Pearson-Harris bill. These terms are specifically designed to overcome the usual objections against locating a new factory outside an urban area. These objections are the extra transportation costs both of obtaining materials and shipping the final product to major markets, and the shortage of trained labor.

To surmount these obstacles, the Rural Job Development Act would extend four types of tax encouragement: increased tax credits on investment in plants and machinery, accelerated depreciation on that investment, a 125 percent deduction on wages paid to low income workers for a three-year period, and assistance in training workers.

Business would have to pay a price to earn these government favors. A plant would have to be located in a "rural job develop-

By LARRY FUHRMANN enlightened citizens.

Anybody who knows just enough to be able to make out the headlines is probably tired of hearing all the theories, all the answers, and all the "grass roots" philosophy emerging as a result of riots in our Northern cities. . . . but for those of you who can strain your eyes just a little longer, here comes another slant on the subject. This one's a little closer to home.

The Texas legislature this year had a chance to hike tuition at state-supported colleges and universities, and, in the traditional style, lawmakers turned down proposals to take more out of the students' pocket-books at the beginning of every semester. This action on the part of the legislature puts Texas, along with California (at least up to the present), head and shoulders above the crowd in advancing its own citizens culturally, economically and socially.

The inscription on the Main Building at the University of Texas at Austin reads, "Ye Shall Know The Truth, And The Truth Shall Make You Free." It should be taken as a mandate by the young people of this state — rich and poor, Anglo, Latin and Negro — to turn the great Southwest into an oasis of Where but Texas can a young person get by on as little as $6000 to secure a full-fledged college education? It's not possible in the North. With loans and scholarships available — all without discrimination by race — there is no reason why any enterprising youngster who is willing to invest a few years of frustrating sweat can't end up in a better bargaining position as far as jobs are concerned.

Granted, things still aren't as rosey for the educated Negro as they are for the educated Anglo. The Negro will still probably have to take lower pay, as statistics can show. But he can join the ranks of his educated brothers who have enough sense to see beyond the ends of their noses in this period of racial strife. Brothers like Martin Luther King and Medgar Evers, who have gained the respect of men black and white, as well as moving out of the poverty ghetto.

Education and the college degree, that magic little parchment that is the pre-requisite to salaries at least big enough to live on, are dirt cheap in Texas when compared to their equals in Northern states. Our schools aren't limited to the Anglo rich.

Residents of practically every community in this section were clamoring for rain. General reports indicated that some damage is already apparent from the prolonged drought.

The feed crop is said to be suffering greatly from the lack of moisture, while gardens in many places have already been extensively damaged. Due to heavy rains during the spring and summer of 1941, a bumper feed crop was made here last year, but prospects for a repetition are far from bright unless considerable moisture falls within the next two weeks.

A general curb in allocation of tire purchases was this week announced through the Deaf Smith County War Price and Rationing Board. Ezra Norton, chairman, made the announcement, which also includes rulings of passenger cars, and warns merchants to comply with price regulation postings ment area" designated by the Secretary of Agriculture, in a county not containing a metropolitan area or a city with a population of 50,000 or more, plus other conditions.

The local exemption board for Deaf Smith County composed of C. R. Smith G. R. Jowell and

The goal of the bill is to create new jobs and industries not to relocate existing factories. At least 10 new jobs must be created at the outset, at least 50 percent of the original work force must be local residents, and at least 33 percent of the workers must be heads of families earning less than $3,000 a year or individuals with incomes under $1,800.

The bill would be limited to industrial production — manufacturing, producing, processing or assembling. Detail and service establishments which might be competitive with local firms would not qualify for the benefits. Recreational enterprises would qualify only if they did not compete with existing enterprises in the area.

Treasury Would Benefit Senator Pearson believes that despite the tax drain on the Treasury due to reduced taxes on business, the long-term effect of this bill would be to increase Federal tax receipts. He cited a hypothetical example in which the U. S. would lose $80,000 in tax receipts but gain $103,000 in individual income tax payments, taxes on profits of firms supplying the new enterprise, and in reduced welfare costs.

It all adds up to an attractive plan worth serious consideration by Congress, the sponsors claim. Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield (D., Mont.), one of the cosponsors, called it "perhaps the most important domestic program in the country today." He said he would urge the Senate Finance Committee to hold hearings.

The fourth Red Cross home nursing class will begin Friday afternoon and all women who are planning to enroll in a home nursing class are asked to attend. As many as thirty five can register for the course.

Mrs. Marie Carroll, registered nurse, will conduct the course which will consist of lessons twice each week for six weeks. Classes will meet in the court house in rooms formerly used by the WPA at 3 o'clock.

Before the war started, library fans all over the country were disturbed over the fact that people were reading 75 to 80 percent light fiction-mystery stories and westerns. With the coming of the war, however, things have changed. At least they are different in the Deaf Smith County Library, according to Clara McLean, librarian. The people are now reading 90 to 95 percent light fiction.

50 YEARS AGO

Dr. Price, received the notice Monday of the number of soldiers this county is to furnish on the first draft: Deaf Smith County's quota is 31. Twice that number is to be called before the board for examination. It is expected that with examination for physical disability and those claiming exemption for other reasons, that it will require the examination of at least twice the number to get the quota.

The boys here are called for Saturday of this week. The board has three days in which to make the examinations. Those claiming exemption on the grounds of dependent family are required to make affidavit to certain facts. If they are not satisfied with the decision of the local board they can appeal to the district board.

The Travis county Grand Jury has returned five indictments against Governor Ferguson.

Those indictments following on the call of speaker G. Fuller for a special session of the legislature to consider impeachment proceedings against the governor have caused a sensation in political and official circles.

This is the second attempt of impeach the governor this year. Other state officials are also indicted. The indictment charging embezzlement against the governor contains only mention of the sum involved and the identifying date: The amount is $5,600.

H.D. CHATTER Office Visits Make Friends

By Mrs. Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

There have been some new acquaintances recently in the Extension Office. Delores Manning came in making the survey for the American History class. The results have been in the Hereford Brand and it was most interesting.

TERRY SPARKS tempts my willpower coming by selling doughnuts. It is hard to say no to someone so nice and courteous. Wayne Moton sell greeting cards and he even made a trip to the bank to get change for me to pay him. He gave super service and is very polite and nice.

We've met Betty Vaughn, manager of Villa Park Apts, by phone. Also, Mary Lee Morrison came to the office for bulletins.

WHEN HAVE YOU BEEN to Gus Pedde's place out south on Highway 385? I stopped the other day and was so interested in all the new or old things for sale. He calls it "junk and stuff" and has about anything you'd want.

Naturally, what I wanted, a coffee grinder, wasn't for sale. It belonged to Gus's mother and he is proud of the manufacturer's name on the grinder. It was made in Germany and the manufacturer was Pede of Germany.

The name Pede originally was Pede. Roy Messer and Gus got in a discussion of their names and Roy says their name was at one time Messerschmidt.

THE CLOTHING LEADERS of Home Demonstration Clubs got a slight shock when they discovered a typographical error in the program title. The program is Clothing Storage and it was listed Clothing Shortage.

With just the adding of one letter and rearranging the other, it did seem a little different, to say the least. However, clothing shortage does have some interesting implications.

It could appeal to those who like short shorts or the miniskirt and what about the many "angelic" type people who simply "haven't a thing to wear." Anyway, ladies, the program is on storing out-of-season clothing.

In this part of the country, the type designs and fabrics make most clothes appropriate for almost year round wear. Also, with air conditioners—almost everywhere, the same clothes are comfortable in the summer.

Mrs. Edwin Ramey of Dimmitt who has just returned from a very wonderful trip to Hawaii tells me that only the newest and most modern buildings have conditioning and that in her opinion, it is needed. Even the island with perfect weather needs some engineering improvement.

MRS. ARTHUR BLACKBURN came in to ask the type vinegar for vegetable pickles and thought it would be good to remind you. Distilled vinegar, and some of it now is colored, so look at the label, is for vegetable pickles.

Cider vinegar is for fruits; both vinegars pickle, but the cider does have a flavor that is not the best with some vegetables. (While writing this, Mrs. Don Clark called to ask the type vinegar).

For dill pickles, it is all right to use fresh or dry dill or the dill seed. The water used in pickling should be boiled and then set 24 hours to let the minerals settle.

IF YOU HAVE a pressure cooker for sale, call 364-0932 as this woman is in the market.

Often we get calls in regard to pressure cookers to buy and used fruit jars. Many people want fresh vegetables for canning—so if you have surplus vegetables, call us and it will accommodate you and others.

What will be devised next? Mrs. Jack Wright tells me they are raising red (I said red) okra. When it is cooked, it turns green and I wonder if when it is pickled it remains red. Tahniks to Raymond Bean for the lovely eggplant he left on my desk.

HOW TO GLAZE CARROTS Carrots are nutritious and in most markets prices are more reasonable than in months past. Carrots make a colorful garnish, raw or cooked. Serve them frequently for color and flavor appeal. USDA food specialists give the following directions for glazing:

Scrape or peel carrots. Cut them into strips, quarters or circles, and pre-cook until almost done. For six servings—1/2 cup each—you'll need about 3 cups cut pre-cooked carrots. In a heavy fry pan over low heat, blend 2 tablespoons butter or margarine with 1/4 cup brown sugar and 1 tablespoon water. Add pre-cooked carrots.

Cook over low heat, turning carrots several times until syrup is very thick, carrots are tender and look glazed—takes 5 to 10 minutes. Keep heat low to prevent scorching.

VARIATION—If you like sweet-sour combinations, substitute one tablespoon of lemon juice for the water in the above recipe. If a more tart glaze is preferred, increase lemon juice to suit your taste.

AN INTERESTING RECIPE from Kathleen Cayler. She recommends this cake and says she got it from her next door neighbor, Mrs. Carl Swanson. The rhubarb can be uncooked fresh or frozen, but be sure to drain well before using the frozen.

The cake freezes well. In freezing cakes sometimes imitation extracts will give an off flavor when the cake thaws. Let cakes thaw in original wrapping to prevent formation of moisture on the surface of the cake. Cakes do not freeze solid so protect cakes from being crushed in the freezer.

RHUBARB CAKE
1 C. brown sugar
1/2 C. shortening
1 egg, beaten
2 C. flour
Dash of salt
1 t. soda
1 C. buttermilk
1 t. vanilla
2 C. fresh, uncooked rhubarb

Cream shortening and sugar. Add egg and stir well. Add dry ingredients alternately with buttermilk. Beat well and stir in vanilla. Add rhubarb which has been cut into small chunks. Place in 8 x 10 greased and floured pan.

Sprinkle over cake mixture—1 C. brown sugar; 1 C. broken walnuts and 1 T. butter cut into small pieces.

Bake in 350 degrees for 50—55 minutes.

CATS! Delbert Bainum says they had a cat that went to the creek every morning and got herself a fish. He said they always suspected she was running the trotline but she was too clever to be caught. A cat fishing? Maybe so. Too, would this contribute to pollution?

It came as a surprise to me, but this week I have learned that many people are grown and have never been owned by a cat.

Dorothy and Frank Prowell, being catists, sent condolence on Brother Black's passing. Also, Lydia & Tom DeShazo were very sympathetic. The Prowell's lost Dilly this summer and the DeShazo's George has gone to his reward.

Mrs. Faust Collier liked the cat stories, but says her Chip, a gift to the Colliers from Harold Easley, is a bigger character and more ornery than any of our cats.

I can only agree after I learn Chip is older and has had more actual experience. It seems Chip's most-trying habit is being an expert at wheeling food from her masters at the oddest moments.

A cream sauce for seafood tastes especially good when sauteed green pepper and canned pimiento (both dried) are added. Slivered ripe olives also make an excellent addition.

Anniversary Party Given For Couple

A surprise party celebrating their Golden Wedding anniversary was given for Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Weathers when Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sartain were hosts in their home, 125 Ave. K.

Anniversary date for the couple, who have lived in Hereford almost 20 years, was July 22. They received telephone calls that day from both their sons, Van Weathers of Sweetwater and R. C. Weathers of Puerco, N.M.

At the informal reception in the Sartain home, cake and coffee were served.

Callers who registered were Messrs. and Mrs. Homer Thomas, Andrew Batterman, C. Nue, Ira Ricketts, Raymond Beene, L. C. Thomas; the Rev. Ron Harpster, Melissa Harpster, Mae Russell, Kathy Duncan; Mrs. Nancy Duncan, Carl Schroeder, H. E. Harer and Jack Hudson.

INDIAN RELICS WINDOW ROCK, Ariz. (AP)—

In the year 2068 members of the Navajo Tribe will unearth two 5x15 foot-time capsules from beneath Window Rock and discover artifacts of the Indians of the 1960's and 1980's.

The capsules, loaded with over 80 different items, were buried Memorial Day to commemorate the Indian treaty of 1868.

When the Navajo tribal leaders of the future dig into the ground, they will find artifacts ranging from a ceremonial mask to a baseball glove, Indian points to a wine bottle, and Navajo moccasins to a set of dentures.

The future tribal leaders will also hear, on tape, the voice of Raymond Nakai, tribal chairman, as well as Graham Homes, area director for the Bureau of Indian Affairs Carroll Bistui, a St. Michaels High School student, selections of contemporary music, and John F. Kennedy's Inaugural Address.

Cases Probated, Dismissed In District Court

Three persons were placed on probation and two cases were dismissed in action during the past week in 69th District Court.

Roby Lippert, former manager of the Hickory Log Restaurant, was placed on five years probation after pleading guilty to a charge of felony swindle with a worthless check.

Judge Archie McDonald ordered restitution totaling $2,135.36 to be made by Lippert.

Nick Prieto, charged with the burglary of White's Auto earlier this year was given three years probation after entering a plea of guilty.

The case of Don Riley of Friona, charged with taking a number of cattle feed cubes from a Deaf Smith County farm was dismissed by District Attorney Bill Hunter. The Riley case was a "companion" to the Don Bandy case which saw two hung juries before it was dismissed. The men were charged jointly.

Also dismissed was the case of Ernesto Flores, charged with theft over $50.

GOING UP — Walls on the addition to the Hereford Brand building at 130 W. 4th St. were nearing completion this week. The new addition will double existing floor space to the plant.

Best kickoff return artist among the major college players in 1966 was Mississippi State's Marcus Rhoden. He took 26 kick-offs for 572 yards, beating out John Ginter of Indiana by 40 yards.

"KEEPING BUSY" — Jess Stanford, a life member in the Hereford Lions Club, has spent many an hour working on civic projects. Stanford, who retired only three years ago, tends his flowers "keeping busy."

Stanford Still Active In Community; Church Work

A man who has done his share of pioneering in Hereford and Deaf Smith County has reached the ranks of the "old-timers" club; judging from his looks, his attitude, and his enthusiasm, no one would imagine that Jesse Stanford, who has been in and out of this city ever since 1908, is nearing his 59th birthday.

Jesse is a real worker, and he is a sacrificer who has had to figure out ways to pay for all the bond issues he has voted for.

"I've never voted against a bond issue since I've been in Hereford," Stanford can say. "Sometimes it has been hard to do when you hardly have enough for yourself, but these are for things that are always for the good of the community." Stanford will modestly discredit any contributions he has made to the civic progress of Hereford, but his works in First Methodist Club, the school system, chamber of commerce and other organizations throughout his many years here indicate that he can readily qualify for honors bestowed to this city's leaders.

Stanford is no "has been" in Hereford, as his fellow church workers and Lions Club members well know. He was at the Lions Club carnival with the heartiest of them, and probably put in as many hours on that project as any Lions in the club. He worked every night except one in a ticket booth on the lot at the Bull Barn. But he'll admit that not getting home until midnight or maybe 2 a. m. "is a little strenuous" when he has to keep it up every night in succession.

He told the carnival planners that they could depend on him to be in there working at his favorite Lions Club project, since he wants to "keep doing a little something." He didn't retire from his work in the furniture business at E. B. Black Co. until 1964, when he turned the reins of the pioneer Hereford store over to his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Barnard.

Reflecting from an easy chair sitting in the living room at the Stanford home which the family built in 1926, Jesse remembers when times have been trying, when it appeared that Hereford folks were doing all they could just to stay together. But he recalls that people "couldn't leave" and when the family built the house, they "didn't figure on leaving."

Mrs. Stanford herself, a member of the E. B. Black family, has spent 55 years of her life living on the same block in the city.

Jess Stanford, born in 1884 at Waco, attended Clarendon College in Clarendon during the years 1902-1904, and was one of the college's six graduates in its first class. He came to the Hereford area in 1908, when he started farming south of Summerfield. After the Stanfords' marriage, they did spend some time in Waco, but by 1917 they had made Hereford their permanent home. They have, besides their daughter, a son, Bill, who today is an official in the Plainview school system. The Stanfords have five grandchildren.

Stanford, who enjoys good health in his daily endeavors, says that "the Lord's been good to me" and he just hopes that nothing will get him down.

First in importance to him is his work at the First Methodist Church, where he has served in some capacity on the official Board ever since 1926. He claims he's done "everything except preach" in church activities.

For 17 years — too long a tenure in his opinion — Stanford served on the Hereford school board, beginning back in 1928.

Watching Hereford grow from a little burg of 2500 (Stanford says that figure could easily have been inflated by the chamber of commerce) at the corner of Second and Main, this Hereford businessman has seen the changes come in the city, and he's glad to see them; he's glad to see that today's people are able to enjoy advantages wrought by the hard work of his generation, and he hopes the trend continues for the benefit of tomorrow's citizens.

AT LIONS CLUB

Visiting last Wednesday at the local Lions Club regular luncheon meeting were two members of the Amarillo Lions Club who challenged the Hereford organization to a baseball game. All players in the proposed game must wear women's apparel. The game is scheduled for Friday.

Earl Stagner presented the program which was a film on the Pikes Peak Annual Race to the Clouds. Stagner was presented a certificate of appreciation from the Hereford Lions.

The meeting was concluded by the presentation of perfect attendance awards.

That's why Jesse Stanford keeps voting "yes" on the bond issues, and working until 2 a. m. to raise money for civic projects.

Martin Heads

For Vietnam

Ebb Martin, son of Mrs. Bonfile Martin of 303 Ave. A, will leave for Vietnam Thursday.

Martin, who finished 15 years service in the U. S. Army July 27, and his wife, Delores, have just completed a 10-day visit with Mrs. Martin and her other son, Johnny.

Martin will leave for Vietnam from Fort Leonardwood, Mo.

At cocktail time, insert small frankfurters in a head of cabbage and serve the franks with a tangy sauce. To prepare the cabbage, choose a dark green head, rinse thoroughly and dry. Trim base so head will stand steady. Curl loose outer leaves down and away from the head.

Mrs. Kelly Parker, nee Miss Ann Kirby

Kin Attend Wedding Of Miss Kirby

The recent marriage of Miss Ann Kirby and Kelly Parker at Lubbock, where the couple is now at home at 2207-30th, is of interest to friends of the bride in Hereford.

A number of relatives, in whose homes she has visited here, attended the marriage in the chapel of First Christian Church of Lubbock July 22. Stanley Hovatter, associate pastor, conducted the ceremony.

The couple was unattended and the only guests were family members and a few close friends. They were entertained at a wedding supper at a Lubbock inn after the wedding.

Mrs. Parker is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James E. Kirby of Las Cruces, N. M., and the granddaughter of Mrs. J. W. Kirby of Hereford.

Her grandmother attended the wedding from this city, as did uncles and aunts, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Perrin, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Posey, Mr. and Mrs. Lisle Woodford, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Gilbreath Jr., and a cousin, Miss Royce Gilliland.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil A. Parker of College Station. He is a gra-

Cadet Sparks In Summer Classes

FT. SILL, OKLA. (AHTNC) Cadet Darrell L. Sparks, 20 whose mother, Mrs. Leatrice Sparks, lives at 125 Avenue J, Hereford, Tex., practices grenade throwing while attending Army Reserve Officers' Train-duate of Texas A&M University with a major in business administration and is a graduate student at Texas Tech, where the bride is to receive her degree next January.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN With the initial membership drive little more than a month away, Hereford's Community Concert Association is getting set for a campaign which is expected to be a big success, considering the enthusiasm shown when the organization was formed a few weeks ago.

AS ANNOUNCED then, a "hold" order has been placed for two of the first season's concerts, one by pianist Peter Nero and the other by the Texas Boys Choir. Another concert, or more if there are enough memberships to boost the budget that far, will be booked immediately after the membership campaign.

Publicity chairman Clara Gilentine and Margaret Formby are already receiving their material, which reveals facts major and minor about the artists who are to perform here.

Both the soloist and choir are too well known to need much introducing to prospective audiences, but it is only in the publicity package from the booking agency that you find items like the note that Peter Nero was so discouraged for awhile at public apathy to his piano style that he got tired playing in anonymous cocktail lounges and took a job selling pianos.

THEN HE MADE a best-selling album and was off on the wave of popularity that is still growing.

Texas Boys Choir, which started in Denton and then moved to its present base in Fort Worth, is in its 21st year still under the direction of its founder, George Bragg.

Actually there are now two concert choirs of 26 voices each, so if you hear of the TBC singing in Halifax the night it appears here, don't be surprised.

There are a lot more bits about the musicians in those publicity releases, but much better than hearing about them will be hearing them, so I'm standing in line for a membership card when the drive starts Sept.

Bride-To-Be Surprised With Shower

A surprise lingerie shower for Miss Beverly Lemons, whose marriage to Jerry Tisdale is planned for Sept. 4, was a Thursday evening event in the home of Miss Cheryl Solomon.

Miss Janis Dean was co-hostess for the informal party, with ten close friends of the honoree as guests.

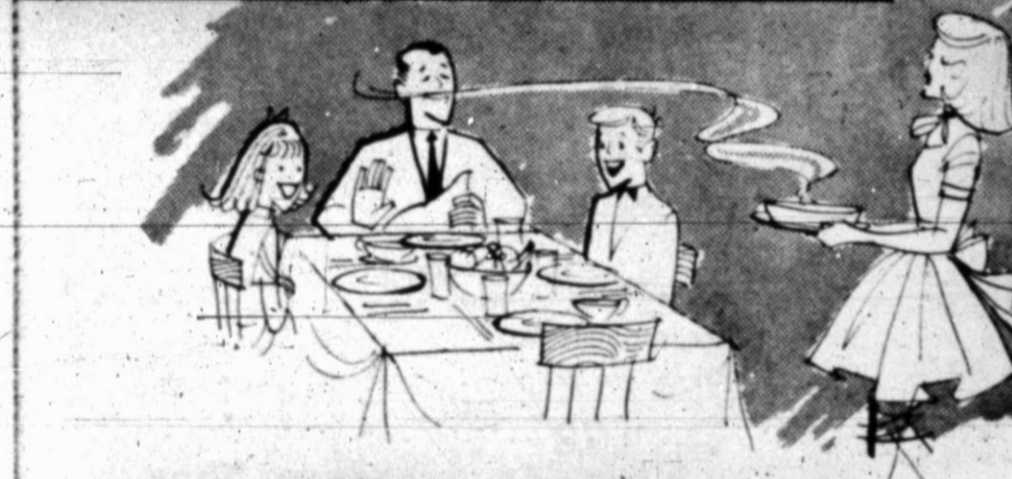

Tea sandwiches, cookies and mints were served with Cokes. After the gift packages were unwrapped, a series of games entertained the group.

INCREASED MONEY TO ENGLAND'S ARTS

LONDON (AP) — England's Arts Council has been allotted $20, 160,000 for support of cultural activities during the next year. The sum represents a 26 per cent increase from preceding appropriations.

Of the total, $4,480,000 is assigned for grants to drama companies including the Royal Shakespeare and National Theatre. A special fund of $500,000 is set aside to help culture projects which run into emergency situations.

Casa de Amigos

By MARTIN WINCH
All of us who work permanently under the Casa de Amigos try to keep our activities and our persons in public view. This is supplementary, but second best, to involving more Spanish-speaking and Anglo families with one another. The effectiveness of our work under the Casa depends upon our ability to keep the Spanish-speaking and Anglo communities aware of us and of our doings. We try always to be in evidence around the Labor Camp. We visit the barracks and homes in the labor camps regularly. We maintain fair contact with Spanish-speaking neighborhoods in and around Hereford. And we watch for acquaintances at races, wrestling matches, dances, carnivals, revivals, and other gatherings. Eunice Vasquez and the VISTA workers have been presented at most of the public offices in Hereford. In the course of our work, we are regular visitors in many of the City, County and State offices, and occasional visitors in the rest of these offices. Beyond person-to-person con-fact, we have had many opportunities to meet with civic and church groups. Miss Vasquez, the VISTA workers and Virgil Dodson, VISTA sponsor, make their public appearances severally or together. During the past year, we have spoken by invitation at 20 gatherings to 9 organizations in Hereford. Among the civic groups which have invited us to speak are the Chamber of Commerce Agricultural Committee, the Hereford Migrant Ministry Board, the Kiwanis Club, the Lions Club of Hereford and Easter, and the Rotary Club. We have reported on our activities at each of the Migrant Ministry's nine meetings during the past year. Our sponsoring and supporting organization, the Board is supported by five local church congregations and the United Church

Women of Hereford. Church-related groups we have been invited to address include, in addition to the Migrant Ministry Board, the combined women's circles of the First Christian Church, the Young people and a social problems seminar at the First Methodist Church, the Knights of Columbus, and an evening service at the Wesley Methodist Church. By our request, we have spoken to combined women's circles at the local Episcopal, Presbyterian and First Methodist Churches, and before the young people at the First Baptist, First Christian, Presbyterian, St. Anthony's and Wesley Methodist Churches. We have been present at meetings of the Hereford City Council, the Jaycees, the Seeker's Methodist Sunday school dinner, and the West Hereford Home

Demonstration Club. During the past year, we have outlined activities under the Casa de Amigos on eight occasions before assembled groups in Amarillo. We have addressed six church congregations of different faiths at the Amarillo Air Base. Offerings given at these services were donated to the Migrant Ministry. Finally, programs at the Casa have been discussed in Amarillo with the summer youth conferences of the Lutheran and Presbyterian Churches of the Panhandle area. The written word is another vital public platform. This column on the Casa de Amigos has been appearing weekly in the Brand since the early spring. We distribute a quarterly newsletter to the member congregations of the Migrant Ministry, to various Panhandle churches and individuals, and to several

TO HOLD DIRECTORS' MEETING
The quarterly directors' meeting of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association is scheduled Sept. 15-16 in McAllen, Texas. Headquarters will be the Fairway Motor Motel, according to Don C. King of Fort Worth, TSCRA secretary-general manager. Committee meetings are scheduled on Friday. The general session will begin at 9 a. m. Saturday, with TSCRA President Ben H. Carpenter of Dallas presiding. The session is open to all members and all others interested in the cattle industry. King urged all who plan to fly to the meeting to make plane reservation early. NOT HOSTILE TO RAY SYDNEY — "Hostile Witness" is keeping Ray Milland busy around the world. The star originally appeared in the courtroom drama on Broadway, then went on a tour of the United States, and is now performing it on a swing across Australia. When that is completed, he goes to England to both direct and star in the film version.

AT KIWANIS
At the regular luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis Club, Thursday, plans for the District Convention to be held in Tulsa were discussed. At least 16 Kiwanians and wives are to take a chartered bus and stay from September 21 to 23. Ladies night has been scheduled for Friday, August 11, at the Country Club. Earl Phillips, past president of the State Firemans' Association, was presented the award as Citizen of the Month, for the month of July. The plaque in which he was supposed to receive will be presented to him later. The inter-club will be held in Plainview. Green Bay Packer linebackers average 241.3 pounds.

Mrs. Robert Pat Price
... nee Miss Katie Jane Wharton

Wharton-Price Vows Exchanged

Miss Katie Jane Wharton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Wharton of McKinney, and Robert Pat Price of Denton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Toy E. Price of Widorado, were married in a morning ceremony Saturday in Trinity Presbyterian Church at McKinney.

Members of the immediate families attended the wedding, conducted by the Rev. Bob Lee, pastor of the church. The couple left for a honeymoon at Red River, N. M., and Southwestern Colorado, and will be at home after August 13 at 707 Bernard, Denton.

Green foliage and baskets of white gladiolas at the altar were flanked by standing lighted tapers. Attending the bride were Mrs. Don Wharton of Irving, her sister-in-law, and Miss Elaine Williamson of Houston.

Dr. Jack Quisenberry of Childress was Price's best man;

Truman Price of Amarillo, his brother, was groomsmen; Bob Phillips of Oklahoma City, Allen Downing of Canyon, and Doyle DeMoss of Denton the ushers.

Wedding soloist was Don Wharton of Irving, with Miss Bopeep Wilson of McKinney as organ accompanist.

The bride, whose father gave her in marriage, wore a gown of imported white Irish linen with empire bodice and full A-line skirt. Elbow sleeves were trimmed with Venise lace, as was a Watteau panel train.

A band of the lace held full gathers of her silk net veil. Her bouquet was of gardenias and stephanotis.

Attendants were dressed in green peau de soie, with scooped necklines and A-line skirts. Their headresses were of green flowers on circular veils and each carried a nosegay of yellow rosebuds and daisies.

A reception in the church fellowship hall followed the wedding. Miss Shirley Price of Amarillo was at the guest register, Mrs. Allen Downing of Canyon, Misses Suzanne Hayter and Sarah Pickett of Dallas in the houseparty.

Brunch was served at a table appointed all in white with floor-length organdy and net cloth and center floral arrangement.

Traveling costume of Mrs. Price was a beige linen dress with standing collar of tangerine shade. Accessories were in brown and her corsage of gardenias.

A teacher in elementary schools at Dallas, the bride is a graduate of North Texas State University and previously attended the University of Hawaii and Austin College, where she was a member of Alpha Delta Chi.

The bridegroom was graduated from Hereford High School before attending West Texas State University, where he received a bachelors degree, and the School of Pharmacy at Southwestern State College at Weatherford, Okla. He is a pharmacist in a Denton drug store.

Red Conference And Black Power

All of us continue to be deeply concerned about the summer's outbreak of civil disorders and riots. The questions confronting us now center on why these disorders happened.

We have heard a very great deal about the internal, social frustrations that supposedly engage a few of our people to lawlessness.

But, I would like to suggest to you today that there may well be other contributing causes for this summer's lawlessness — external causes.

I refer to the almost universal feeling that agitation and exploitation of these disorders has been organized and encouraged by forces outside American society — indeed, by forces dedicated to the subversion of American society.

We cannot now say for a fact that this theory of outside agitation is true, but it certainly is one of the first and most important questions to which the congressional and presidential investigators must address themselves.

In many of the cities where disorders have occurred local citizens have witnessed demagogic rabble-rousing by certain unscrupulous spokesmen whose words clearly are designed to inflame passions and to incite small-scale disturbances that can be turned into large-scale disturbances that can be turned into large-scale tragedies.

For many months American citizens have been treated to the "Black Power" harangues of one Stokely Carmichael of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee.

More recently, the spokesman for this group — popularly known as "Snick" — has been one Hubert (Rap) Brown. Those of us here in the nation's capitol were treated just last week to an example of Brown's outright call for violence among Americans. His appearance in a small Maryland town was followed by disastrous fires. His agitation in Washington, itself, was followed by vandalism by teenagers whom police said had just been "rabble-roused a bit too much lately."

The point which our investigations must pin down about Stokely Carmichael and Rap Brown is just this — Do their agitations represent part of an organized, foreign-dominated program aimed at open guerrilla warfare inside the United States?

I can only suggest that as a priority matter our investigators take a close look at what has been happening in Havana, Cuba, this past week; at who is there; and at the public ties between the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee and pro-Communist action groups in Latin America.

The facts of the matter are that in Cuba this week the communist parties of Latin America have been holding a massive conference of what they call the Latin American Solidarity Organization. This Havana communist meeting is dedicated to nothing less than the exportation of communism to a dozen other Latin countries. More important, the Solidarity Conference is talking publicly for the first time of direct subversion inside the United States, including guerrilla warfare.

Present in Havana for this planning session is none other than Stokely Carmichael of "Snick". He has associated his "Black Power" movement with communist aims, and he has called for a "revolution" inside the United States, and for the assassination of our President.

This is not Carmichael's first venture into the realm of Latin communism. Last January, in little-noted but increasingly significant action, Carmichael participated in pro-communist demonstrations against the government of Puerto Rico and then established an official alliance between his "Snick" and the communist-dominated "Independence" movement in Puerto Rico.

On January 26 Carmichael signed a protocol of agreement pledging "concerted actions" inside the U. S. in cooperation with his Latin colleagues.

The group with which Carmichael allied his American agitations represent part of an organized, foreign-dominated program aimed at open guerrilla warfare inside the United States.

Thus, the Cuban-organized communists make it no secret at all that their ultimate target is our country. They are busily training revolutionaries to carry out Red subversion throughout our hemisphere. They pointedly say that "the duty of every revolutionary is to make revolution."

The United States would be blind, indeed, not to recognize the open ties between Cuban communism and the persons who are doing their best to stir up lawlessness and destruction here at home.

Americans do not even like to think about the possibility of internal subversion and internal fighting. But there are those in this world audacious enough to plan for exactly that.

I believe Americans have every right to demand that this situation be thoroughly examined and explained. Any persons engaged in plots aimed at eventual overthrow of our society are nothing less than traitors and should be dealt with accordingly.

NEW BEAT

DALLAS — Churches should make use of "all the sources of music, both traditional and contemporary," says the Methodist Commission on Worship.

Its chairman, Bishop Lance Webb of Springfield, Ill., said this includes jazz, folk music, guitars, drums, trumpets and other wind and string instruments, in addition to the traditional organ and piano.

HONOR BAND — Arriving back from the Texas Band Masters Association convention in San Antonio, Ben Gollehon is congratulated by Johnny Pool, a Hereford Hustler. The tape of the Hereford High School Band took top honors at the convention and was named the Honor Band of the state. Gollehon made the trip to San Antonio with Mr. and Mrs. Lynn McClary.

Cadet James A. Cowell

Dimmitt Man In Cadet Training

FT. SILL, OKLA. (AHTNC) — Cadet James A. Cowell, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard M. Cowell, 502 S. W. Fourth, Dimmitt, Tex., is now attending Army Reserve Officers' Training Corps summer camp at Ft. Sill, Okla. He is a student at West Texas State University, Canyon, Tex. He is receiving six weeks of training in leadership, rifle marksmanship, physical conditioning and other military subjects.

Upon successful completion of summer camp and graduation from college, he will be commissioned a second lieutenant in the U. S. Army.

Cadet Cowell graduated in 1963 from Dimmitt High School. He is a member of Kappa Alpha fraternity.

Annual Roundup To Be Saturday

VEGA — A full day's slate of activities is on tap Saturday as the annual Oldham County Roundup will be celebrated.

The day will begin with a parade at 11 a. m. and continue with a barbecue at noon on the courthouse lawn and numerous games.

A four-ounce serving (one-half cup) of orange juice (fresh, frozen or canned) will meet the recommended daily allowance for vitamin C.

Mrs. J. W. Duffey, Pittsburgh, Mrs. J. W. Duffey, Pittsburgh, Tex., has been here to be with her father, R. L. Mason, who has been ill at Deaf Smith County hospital for several weeks. Another daughter, Mrs. B. T. Sebastian, and children, Marc and Bobby, of Calif. have been here several weeks to help care for their father. Marc and Bobby have visited the Gary Masons quite a bit of the time. A relative, Chapman Smith of Dallas, spent a few days visiting the family and Mr. Mason, recently.

BOUGHT IN ADVANCE FOR MOSCOW THEATER ATHENS — The Moscow Art Theater, making its first visit to Greece, caused a reform in local boxoffice practice.

Seat sale usually starts a week before premiere, but this time ticket distribution started a month in advance. The price was upped from the usual $1.33 to $5. Four plays were listed, including "The Cherry Orchard," "Dead Souls," and "Kremlo Chimes."

BALLETS AFRICAINS TO TAKE U. S. TOUR

NEW YORK — Les Ballets Africains, a dance troupe from the republic of Guinea, is set for an extensive summer-autumn tour of the United States. The Troupe on earlier visits made brief treks.

Signing of essential contracts for the trip took place in an unusual setting — headquarters of the United Nations with ambassadors of several countries participating.
