WHERE IS HE? This seems to be what the Roby Lions were saying Friday as halfback Roger Webb flips out of their reach as shown in circle as he steps on the other side of the goal line. He is shown in circle rolling out of the reach of his tacklers who were engulfed in bringing down someone. Rochester won the scrimmage over the Lions by a four touchdown margin.

Steers Open 1968 Football Season With Game Here Friday With Knox City

Football season is about to get underway in this section of the county as the Rochester Steers tackle the Knox City Greyhounds here this Friday night, Sept. 13. These two teams are arch rivals and always the game is well worth watching. Friday the "13th" or any other date makes this game a hard one for either team to lose. So Friday the Steers will be in there playing their very best to make this Friday the "13th" Lucky instead of Unlucky.

Game time is 8 p.m. and the weather will probably be perfect to enjoy this first game. Let's hope for a wee nip of chill to make it seem more like football weather.

Knox City is a fine class A football team and Rochester still is class B, but the Steers don't seem to understand the difference between the classes as the Steers will be playing to win. The Steers need your backing so be at the game and cheer them on to victory. Because the Steers are known to play a hard game and this game with a class A opponent will be no different.

This is a non-district game between Knox City and Rochester. Rochester downed the Knox City team 36-0 last year so the Greyhounds will be seeking revenge and the Steers will be after the first victory to kick under their belt for the season opener.

The scrimmage with Roby Friday was one everyone in the crowd enjoyed. The Steers won the scrimmage with a four touchdown margin. Roger Webb made two touchdowns, Sid Smart and Keith Gauntt made one each, or at least this is the way the reporter saw it. But there is always the possibility of me making a mistake in which I am very sorry for. I will be reporting the games as I see them all this season and if I make a mistake in telling just who makes or does what, please forgive me in advance.

Be at the game Friday, it is at home and everyone can go and see their hometown team play a good hard clean game. But remember these rules as the game goes in progress:

THE PLAYER
He lives clean and plays hard. He plays for the love of the game.

He wins without boasting, he loses without excuses, and he never quits.

He respects officials and accepts their decision.

He never forgets that he represents his team, his school and his community.

He expects his school, town, and community to support them.

THE SPECTATOR
He never "boos" a player or official.

He appreciates a good play

no matter who makes it.

He knows that his team, school and community gets the blame or praise for his conduct.

He recognizes the need for more "Real Sportsmanship."

And Always remember the boy who fumbles, misses a tackle, or drops a pass, wishes he had not, much more than you.

Basket Supper Tonight At 6 p.m. At The Park

Today is the Thursday everyone has been waiting for. This is the night for the "basket supper" which is to take place tonight at 6 p.m. Bring your "basket supper" in a box if you don't have a basket or however you choose to get it there. The supper will be spread all together and everyone will eat.

The color guard by the Boy Scouts will begin no later than 6:15 and eating will get underway soon after. After the meal, of which everyone has stuffed themselves miserably, the rest of the program will take place.

There will be the introduction of the organizations, in the community including the school organizations. The Little Brownies, Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and all organizations will be suited out in full uniform with a job for each to do, for which they will get recognition.

The Mayor of our town, Pete Tanner, will make a short talk, and the introduction of football players will be made by the Booster Club members. The band will play, the cheerleaders and twirlers will have a short pep rally for the football game the next night with Knox City. The program will be well worth your time to see, as you won't see so many civic organizations and school organizations all together and recognized for their efforts in the progress of Rochester again.

Mrs. Clarence Gauntt is overall chairman and Aubrey Headstream will act as master of ceremonies. Jerry Harris and James Reid have volunteered to bring tables and chairs, but if you have lawn chairs you might bring them along as then, you will be certain, of having a place to sit. Phil Simmons has charge of loud speaking arrangements, and each and every member of the community has the responsibility of seeing they are present with a basket of food, plenty of time and full of energy to enjoy the food and fellowship and program. This is one way to help forge Rochester on. This is the time to make plans to make our community a more progressive town in which to live. Make your plans to be at the meeting and "Get Your Marble". Everyone wants to help his or her community.

Local Couple's Grandson Was Buried Friday

Roby Anthony Garcia, six-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Adair Garcia of Knox City, died at 5:55 a.m. Thursday in the Children's Medical Center of Dallas, where he had been a patient four days.

Funeral was held at 10:30 a.m. Friday in the Santa Rosa Catholic Church in Knox City, with the Rev. Clement Schmidt officiating. Burial was in the Knox City Cemetery under the direction of Smith Funeral Home.

Survivors include the parents; one brother, Adam Jr. of the home; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Garcia of Rochester; maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Rios of Knox City.

There will be plenty of tea for everyone but if you prefer any other beverage you might bring it along. Bring enough paper plates, cups and eating equipment for your family. They will all be put together and everyone will eat until he is well stuffed. This is one thing about Rochesterites, they know how to cook and if you are tired of the wife's cooking, look around and find someone else's cooking and enjoy it. This does not mean the supper is only for the young adults in the community, this means the supper and program is for everyone from the youngest to the oldest.

If you do not have a way to get to the supper, let some member of any of the civic organizations know and they will see that you have a way. Some of the older folks do not like to drive after night, but if you will let someone know a few minutes ahead of time, there will be a car to see that you get there and get back home. Where there's food concerned and our community, everyone will and must put forth that little extra bit of effort. We all are glad to help in anyway possible. Let's each one in this community be at the basket supper Thursday night at 6 p.m. Get your "marble." You never know when you may be asked for it.

This would give the grade school registration somewhere around the 204 mark. Last year's registration in grade school was 179.

Students Should Report Changes

"Now that 'back to school' time is here students receiving social security benefits should review their individual situations" R. R. Tuley, Jr., manager of the Abilene Social Security Office announced today.

"A child who is receiving social security benefits on the record of a retired, deceased or disabled parent may receive benefits after age 18 and up to age 22 if he is a full-time student, or if he resumes his education after a summer vacation. This last point is what we are emphasizing now," Tuley continued.

"Plans have a way of changing over the summer," Tuley explained. "A student might decide not to go back to school at all — many girls will marry and a boy may have found a job he likes and wants to keep. Or the student might decide to go back to school on a part-time basis, and heard factual reports of the arrest of the chairman of the New Hampshire delegation. In a different light, the distribution of "We Love Mayor Daley" signs seemed to be going a bit too far.

However, we must not let our observance of these events cloud the basic issue.

For much too long protesters and rioters have been sympathized with and allowed to run uncontrolled in the cities of America. The time has come that they must be dealt with firmly. It is unfortunate, for the Democrats at any rate, that the enforcement of law and order came so vividly to our attention at the time and place of a national political convention.

It is a principal tenet of our society that laws are enacted for the benefit of our citizens. These laws must be enforced so that our nation shall remain stable. The time is now for us to support more rigid law enforcement. For if we do not start now, will we ever start?

EDITORIAL

American citizens, reflecting upon events which occurred during the recent Democratic National Convention, must be thoroughly confused.

At a time when an outraged public is demanding of political candidates a return to law and order, a police department tries to enforce laws and is instantly accused of "brutality."

A week previous to the Democratic National Convention, Chicago Mayor Richard Daley and the commander of the National Guard forces there announced that lawlessness would not be tolerated.

Americans across the nation applauded these intentions, thinking that, finally, in at least one city, demonstrators would not be allowed to run rampant in the streets.

The Chicago demonstrators were firmly told that it was against the law to remain in city parks all night or to march without a permit. The protesters refused to comply with these orders. In marching, they were well aware that they were breaking the law, and must have known the consequences they would have to face.

The police, trying to protect convention delegates and guests from hostile mob action, were charged with "brutality" and "over-reacting."

Let us examine the caliber of the demonstrators. They were, almost without exception, bearded, filthy, foul-mouthed youth. They are unemployed by choice. They carry the Viet Cong flag, spit on policemen and call them "Fascist pigs."

The scenes we saw on television Wednesday night, were the aftermath of several days of confrontations between police and lawbreakers. We saw the demonstrators being clubbed and arrested.

What we did not observe were the countless events which preceded Wednesday night's action. Police were goaded, spit upon, subjected to barages of rotten fruit, tin cans, and profanity which was too vile to be aired on even today's acquiescent broadcasting media.

The fact we must not forget is this: the protesters were law-breakers, duly warned of actions which would be taken against them if they chose to disregard laws.

The policemen and national guardsmen were simply enforcing the laws of the city of Chicago.

It is bewildering then, in the light of these facts, that on national television, some news commentators and convention delegates sided with the protesters.

One delegate even referred to the demonstrators as "children." This reference is almost laughable; one of the few events of the convention which could be so labeled.

As far as we know, biological facts affirm that "children" cannot grow beards. And most "children" at that time of night are bathed and asleep.

Among those condemning police actions were some clergymen. It is disgusting that these men, to whom we look for spiritual guidance, would side with and even participate in actions of the demonstrators.

There were those who sympathized with the demonstrators because of the injuries they received. But little was said about the countless numbers of policemen and national guardsmen who sustained injuries.

It is unfortunate, of course, that some photographers and newsmen were injured and arrested while they were covering the riots for their respective media. Anyone with the smallest iota of intelligence realizes that the confiscation of cameras and the arresting of reporters is not the best way to obtain favorable publicity.

Some events on the convention floor added to the aura of overzealous law enforcement. We saw a newsmen being hit

Washington State Russet Potatoes For An Easy-to-Eat Swedish Potato Salad

The connoisseur says that a really good potato salad must have all the flavors blended to mellow goodness to just the right tartness. Such is this salad with the Swedish touch of pickled beets in a different version of a potato salad. Recommended are the fine-flavored, good-textured new harvest Washington State Russet and Norgold Russet potatoes now in your market.

SWEDISH POTATO SALAD

- 5 medium size Washington State Russet Potatoes
- 1/2 cup chopped green onion
- 3 tbsps. chopped parsley
- 1/2 cup diced, pickled beets
- 3 tbsps. wine vinegar
- 6 tbsps. olive oil or other salad oil
- 1 1/2 tsps. salt
- 1/2 tsp. pepper
- 1/4 tsp. dried dill

Cook potatoes in jackets in boiling salted water about 20 minutes or until tender. Drain and remove skins, slice into salad bowl. Add onion, parsley and beets. Combine vinegar, oil, salt, pepper and dill. Shake or beat to blend. Pour over salad. Refrigerate several hours turning once or twice before serving. Garnish with additional beets, onion and parsley, if desired. Serves 8 to 10.

Tax Man Sam Sez:

In a few more days millions of our young Americans will give up their summer jobs - or play - and head back to school - or college. Those students who have summer earnings will want to file an income tax return next January 1 or before April 15, to get a refund. If income tax was withheld they need to keep their Form W-2. (Their employer usually gives them a W-2 shortly after the end of their employment). Those making less than $600 are not required by law to file, but they won't get a refund of their income tax withheld unless they do file. Social security taxes are not refunded. Each year quite a few students lose $40 or $50 simply because they lose their W-2. They don't want to face the tongue lashing their ex-boss would give them if they went and asked for another W-2. Most students soon find that income tax will be an important part of their life from now on, and that they need to be careful to keep their records.

Fire's Costly Toll

Every day fire strikes more than 6,430 times in the United States, with one breaking out every 49 seconds in an American home, says the American Appraisal Company. Worse yet, fire claims a life every 43 minutes, which in 1966 amounted to some 12,100 fatalities.

Charcoal can be saved and reused by putting the hot coals into a bucket with a tight fitting lid. Set it aside to cool. Since burned charcoal is hard to light; when reusing it, mix it half-and-half with fresh charcoal.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Sign Language

When Ed's car was stolen from a repair shop, he demanded damages for the loss. In a court hearing, he accused the management of negligence for leaving the car in a vacant lot, unattended, with the key in the ignition. But the company replied: "We have a sign on our wall reading 'NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR THEFT.' That means exactly what it says."

Nevertheless, in spite of the sign, the court upheld Ed's claim. The judge said that, as a matter of public policy, the law usually will not let a garage escape liability for its own carelessness.

In other words, the law does not always accept signs at face value. Other factors may be taken into account in deciding on a sign's legal efficacy.

Thus, not only public policy but also the legibility and the position of a sign may affect its value. In one case the manufacturer of a powerful cleaning fluid was held liable for a customer's injury because the warning on the label was so small, and so obscure, that it was easily overlooked.

But that doesn't mean the public can disregard signs with impunity. For the most part, signs do serve an important purpose by putting people "on notice"—and are indeed entitled to be obeyed. Certainly if you disregard the "WET PAINT" sign on a park bench, you do so at your own peril.

In fact, it is possible that you might have to obey a sign that you cannot even see. A motorist drove through a stop street, colliding with an oncoming car. His excuse was that the stop sign was lying in a ditch, out of sight.

Yet, the motorist admitted he knew the neighborhood, and knew it was a stop street. Under these circumstances, even with the sign missing, the court said he should have obeyed its command.

Nor does a sign need elegance of phrasing to be effective. What counts is whether it gets its message across. Once a farmer, pestered by trespassers, posted this sign as a warning:

NOTIS

Trespassers will be persecuted to the full extent of 2 mean mungrel dogs wich aint never ben overly soshibil with strangers. No doubt any court would hold that the farmer's sign made its point abundantly clear. A public service feature of the American Bar Association and the State Bar of Texas. Written by Will Bernard.

The men all went dove hunting.

A kid's got a right to some privacy too.

If your kid's been hiding out lately when he gets on the phone, take the hint. There are probably some things he'd rather discuss without an audience around. And he's entitled. After all, asking a girl out at his age is hard enough. But when the whole family's listening in, a guy could freeze. Help loosen young Don Juan's tongue. Call your General Telephone business office and get him an extension phone. Then he can have his tête-à-têtes without feeling self-conscious.

When a kid feels you don't want to listen in on all his private conversations, he's more apt to tell you about them. An extension phone gives him that choice.

A PSALM OF COTTON
The following was in the Oct. 16, 1931 issue of the Rochester Reporter. It had at that time been clipped from the Cotton Trade Journal and mailed to Farm and Ranch by a subscriber. It was written by a Southern Cotton Farmer.

Cotton, Thou are my shepherd, And I am in want;

Thou hast caused me to feed in a dry pasture, thou hast destroyed my credit; thou hast led me into the paths of poverty, law suits, liens and near nakedness.

Thou hast destroyed my soul and my happiness,

Thou hast caused me to bow to a banker with my hat under my arm and mortgage the muscle and produce on my farm,

Thou hast caused me to live in a rented house in full view of the moon, while stars come twinkling through the cracks.

Thou appointest my head with ignorance, superstition, poverty and unpaid accounts, How can I trust thee?

Thou hast kept my children out of school, church and society, thereby robbing them of that which is good and noble and elevating and refining.

Thou hast caused me to go to the barn and bring out the old fertilizer sacks and ask my wife to make me a shirt, with these inscriptions in full view:

"Eighteen percent acid phosphate" on the breast and "12-4-5" on the tail."

The prevailing price of cotton Thursday was about 5 cents.

ROLLING PLAINS COTTON GROWERS INC.

Samples from some of the "first bales" are beginning to trickle in to the classing office of the cotton division of Agriculture Marketing Service, USDA, Abilene, according to B. B. Manly, officer in charge.

Samples from "first bales" at Rowena, Runnels County; O'Brien, Haskell County; Neinda in Jones County, but the cotton was grown in nearby Fisher; Stanton, Martin County; Snyder in Scurry County; and Loraine in Mitchell County have been received.

The Stanton bale was 1 1/32 inch staple, Snyder one inch, Loraine 3/32, and Neinda 1 1/16.

All staples "looked pretty good. It was all hand pulled and from the matured, bottom bolls on the plant," Manly stated.

"It is pretty hard to say at this stage of the crop what is going to be the final outcome. The only report of a matured crop comes from Tom Green County" he added.

Producers in some counties are complaining about dry weather. However, producers in other counties think the dry, hot weather is reducing insect problems.

Last season Manly made one of the more accurate "guesstimates" of the number of bales the Abilene Classing Office would handle. When asked for an estimate on the number this season, he said he would guess the Munday branch of the Abilene Office would class 75,000 bales and the Abilene division would class around 375,000.

"Our office will not class samples from Glasscock County this year, which will reduce our total about 13,000 bales. Even then, we might class around 400,000 bales here" Manly stated.

Patients in the Knox County Hospital as of September 9, 1968:

Knox City - Ida Reynolds, Bill Clonts, Ida King, Mary Williams, H. M. Warren, Carrie Belle Benedict;

Munday - Leon Perez, Darcus Phillips, Birdie Smith;

Stitching And Stewing

By RUTH ANN FANSLER
Sneakers should be fitted right on a child's feet, just as regular shoes. Research shows sneakers bought by regular shoe size did not fit the child properly and had to be replaced in one out of four cases.

If you must buy without benefit of fitting, be sure you and your dealer agree that the sneakers can be exchanged if they don't fit properly. Points to check for proper fit are:

1. The widest part of the child's foot (the ball) is at the widest part of the sneaker.
2. The fit at the heel is snug and firm enough so that you can't insert a finger at the back when the sneaker is laced and so that the upper does not gape unduly at the side when the sneaker is flexed.
3. The sneaker toe provides growth room about equal to the width of the child's own thumb.
4. The child can move his toes, that the fold in the upper comes just behind the point where the big toe joins the foot and that the upper can be pinched or folded slightly across the ball of the foot.

Consult a physician before fitting sneakers on a child with foot trouble or a child who wears corrective shoes.
