Singing School

There will be a singing school begin here at Meadow next Monday, the 4th of August. We would like for every child of literary school age to be in this school. We believe that three weeks of training will benefit our singing in our church worship. The Bible tells us to sing and to sing with the spirit and understanding, and there would be no singing if some one did not know some music. So you see it is our duty to give our children training that they will be qualified to fulfill that Scripture, and the people of Meadow have been liberal with their donations. So come out and be with us in the school with your children. It will begin at 2 o'clock Mon-

Peaches Everywhere

There should be "peaches, peaches everywhere" on family tables now and on pantry shelves for winter use. In observance of Peach Week, let there be suggested.

CANNED PEACHES

Immerse the peaches in boiling water until the skins will slip easily. Plunge into cold water. Remove skins, cut peaches in halves, discard pits. To prevent darkening and the loss of Vitamin C, drop the halves immediately into a solution made by dissolving 2 tablespoons salt and 2 tablespoons vinegar in 1 gallon of water. Rinse fruit with clear water.

Make a light sirup by boiling for 5 minutes, 3 measures of water to each measure of sugar. Peaches may be packed raw, but a better pack is obtained if the fruit is first simmered in the sirup 4 to 8 minutes depending on the texture of the peach. Use a kettle or pan large enough to prevent stacking the halves. Do not cook until too soft to handle. Pack at once, placing the halves in overlapping layers, the concave surface of each half being downward. Fill container with boiling sirup. Process in water bath; quart and pint jars and No. 2 and No. 3 plain tin cans 15 minutes.

The Star family have enjoyed some fine peaches recently as the compliments of the Edgar Mackey's and the Herman Pendergrass'.]

BAPTIST REVIVAL

Revival services begin this Sunday at the Baptist church with the expectancy of continuing through Sunday Aug. 17. Rev. Thos. A. Bohanon, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Kaufman, Texas, will do the preaching, and Mr. Gera d Moore of Sudan, Texas, will lead the singing.

A hearty invitation is extended to those of other religious faiths and all others to attend these services which will be conducted twice daily. We believe there is a distinct need for a heaven-sent, Holy Spirit inspired revival of pure religion in our church and community. Help us, therefore, with your prayers and support. Geo. W. Lair, Pastor.

Fighting for a New Europe

Free French Forces have joined the other fighting units of the Allies—Australians, Belgians, Czechoslovaks, Luxemburgers, Dutch, Norwegians and Poles—in action against Nazi invading forces, particularly in the various contested sectors of Libya and Syria. Above, a contingent of French Colonial infantry, part of the De Gaulle forces which repudiated the Franco-German armistice, are shown again on the march, probably "somewhere in Syria" with the Free French tri-color banner flying proudly.
