Meadow Calf Champion At Tri County Show

Grandma Beall Dies Friday

Mrs. Josephine Beall, 84, better known as Grandma Beall, died at her home in Meadow Friday morning. She had been confined to her bed for quite a length of time, and the latter days of her life did not afford her many pleasures. She will be much better off now that she has gone on to a place of rest.

Funeral services and burial were held in Meadow Saturday afternoon, with the Plains Funeral Home in charge.

ever held in our community and one of the best shows of the West Texas Area. This list of show subscribers is somewhat late in getting into print due to the rush of events following our show. However we sincerely hope that it has inconvenienced no one and that we may look forward to an even better show next year, as the V. A. boys continue to improve in their methods of feeding and showing.

The students of the defense school held a banquet in the gym last Friday night. Approximately 50 students and their guests were in attendance. They were served by the H. Ec girls. Diplomas of achievement were awarded them.

Miss Billie Lackey, an ardent Hubber fan attended the game Tuesday between the Sox and Cubs.

The Boy Scouts went to Rich Lake Friday, April 4. They stayed all night and explored the caves that night and the next morning. Since they have new tents, their night's stay was very enjoyable.

They are to clean the town up very soon.

Soon after school is out they are going to the Post Boy Scout Camp for a week of outdoor camping.

ALLIES!

Outstanding in the Allied struggle for freedom are the Australians, fierce and romantic fighters, shown here in review as they embarked for Libya, where they played an important part in striking victories. The "Aussies", military communiques have disclosed, are virtually irresistible in battle, while their happy-go-lucky spirit has won them friends the world over. They fight side by side with the armies of Belgium, Czechoslovakia, the Free French, Luxemburg, the Netherlands, Norway, Poland and the sister nations of the British Commonwealth.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor—I notice recently where a certain church organization is trying to prevail on the newspapers not to sell the only commodity they have (advertising space) except in certain instances. In my opinion, the place to work on this is not on the newspapers, but on our local, county, state and federal public officials. These men seem to be getting along pretty well, while the country printer is just barely eaking out a living, and maybe has to wear an old spring hat through the winter.

The law permits the making and selling of hard liquor in Texas, and it is being legally sold (I suppose) in less than 10 miles of Meadow. If you don't want this stuff advertised change the law, and you will get the desired results.

I notice quite often long articles in the paper written by the local preachers. I wonder how much they pay the paper for running them? Are the preachers afraid the brewers will have more effect over the people of their congregation with paid advertisements than they can with their free columns?

—A Star Reader.

EDITOR'S NOTE—We have no desire to enter in a controversy with the pastors of Meadow in regard to the Star running hard drink advertisements.

That issue has been fought out as far as we are concerned, and there is nothing to fight, without you put up a straw man and start knocking him down. But as Editor Stricklin of Brownfield said last week, when the member churches of the Baptist Nine conference quit taking donations from all people who either make, sell, or consume intoxicating beverages, they will be in a better position to tell the newspapers not to accept money from such people.
