GONE WITH THE WIND COMING BACK TO RIALTO FEBRUARY 16

To those who have never seen what is universally acclaimed as being the greatest motion picture to come out of Hollywood since the inception of talkies, the showing of "Gone with the Wind," starting Feb. 16 at the Rialto Theatre for a limited engagement, will come as the entertainment of a lifetime.

Audiences viewing the current engagement will see the complete, uncut picturization of Margaret Mitchell's celebrated novel the only thing "cut" being the admission price.

To see "Gone with the Wind" is to enrich your life with a memory that will remain a thrill as long as you live. Everywhere that the picture has been shown it is described as the greatest picture ever made. "Gone with the Wind" is a Must picture. It is a Must self-assignment for everyone because of many highlights.

And important is the fact that the picture was directed by a master of human emotions, Victor Fleming, who gave us "Captain Courageous," "Test Pilot" and "The Wizard of Oz."

"Gone with the Wind" is a picture that beggars all superlatives, defies description and is so amazing that you cannot possibly believe it is so truly great unless you see it. It is an event cannot afford to miss. See the complete uncut version February 16, 17, 18 at the Rialto.

Juniors, Lounell Finley, Wallace Finley, Maurice Fox, Hazl Miller, Eva Jean Pray.

Seniors, Louise Hemme, Pauline Landert, Elwanda Wilborn, and Maud Alice Zorns.

The above students have made an average grade of 90 or above in four subjects with no grade below 85. We take our hat off to these students, and may their life be as successful as their school days.

3rd Grade, Herbert Hicks; Nancy Lee Hester, Sybil Williams.
2nd Grade, Teddy Joe Lucas, Connie Finley, Jessie Lee Upton, Alvis Woolam.

Seniors

The seniors are progressing rapidly on the completion of the annuals for this year. They hope to have them ready for sale by the middle of Mar. Every one be saving your money for one of the best annuals M. H. S. has ever had.

The seniors were glad to have a new student join their class at mid-term. Mildred Benson came from New Home.

We are sorry to have Elwanda Wilborn out of our class. She has been absent two weeks with bronchitis and we hope to have her back soon.

Mola Walker, Reporter.

Juniors

The Junior class held a class meeting Monday morning and selected a committee of three to select the play to be presented by the class sometime this semester. The three appointed were: Lou Nell Finley, and Ellie Glenn Nettles. The sample plays that were ordered were: "Linda Lou", "No Fooling", and "Relax Albertus". They are all comedies. The committee with Mr. Hartzog's help will choose the characters. No date has been set for it to be present. Juniors are looking forward to lots of fun and a big crowd.

Sophomores

It would be well to notice that the Sophomores were faithful in their promise to ride the bus if one were taken to Brownfield Tuesday night. We believe that we really helped to win the games. We wonder why Ola Mae enjoys going to the Brownfield games.

Aubrey Williams is back in school after a car accident. We are proud of Willie Blair and Jesse Brooks for their contribution by the FFA radio program Tuesday. We are glad to welcome Dorothy Euckress back to Meadow. Laverne Henson, Reporter

Freshmen

The Freshmen were glad to have two new students join their class at mid-term. They were Barney Rodriguez and Maureen Tyser.

We were proud of James Fox in his radio talk.

Home Ec

The Home Economics has as its high point of interest at present the rally to be held this spring in San Antonio. For the freshmen girls it would be a dream come true. This thought might be an incentive for using the thimble.

The club has a theme this spring that of being well groomed and neatly dressed. Club members are doing their share of cooperation to make money for the club. Reporter.
