Direction Of Child Activities

Students of child life estimate that the average boy or girl spends two per cent of his time at church, twenty-five per cent at school and the rest of the time at home or at any rate under the direction of his parents.
 Altho time isn't everything, the directing of seventy-three per cent of their children's time places a decided responsibility on fathers and mothers. How time is spent determines in large measure the development of character.
 In this age of machinery and accelerated living, the problems of developing recreation have changed considerably. Yet character and standards are needed as much as ever, even though our ideas of customs and conduct have changed.

Miscellaneous Thoughts
 On Little Things

Some things begin small and get bigger. Others begin big and get smaller. In the first class are babies, kittens, diseases, sins, potatoes, family jars and a few other things. In the second class are anticipations, plum puddings, enthusiasms, resolutions, honeymoons and flannel underthings.
 "Some men start like a snail and finish like an express train. Others start like a race horse and end up like a tired mule."

Making war unpopular is simply a matter of making patriotism cost everybody real money, including munitions makers, industrial establishments and manufacturers, as well as buck privates.

Every resident of Darrouzett should do something positive to help increase the natural beauty here. If you don't think a little improvement will help multiply it by the population of Darrouzett and see whether that would make any difference.

Many a man talks to other people about himself so long and favorably that he ends up believing he is really an exceptional specimen of the human race.

It won't be long now before the male of the household will be forgetting to water the flowers while the head of the house is off on her vacation.

If talking could solve economic problems the many predictions that we have "turned the corner" would make it easier for everybody.

Editors are accustomed to being blamed for nearly everything that they print, because almost any view will not please some people.

One of the easiest things in this world of ours is to make plans for something that you expect to do next month.

The only way to get out of debt is to pay your money on what you owe. That's no magic formula, but it works.

Lesson for July 12

THE PREACHING OF THE APOSTLES
LESSON TEXT—Acts 3:11-4:31.
GOLDEN TEXT—And now, Lord, behold their threatenings: and grant unto thy servants, that with all boldness they may speak thy word.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Peter Preaches a Sermon.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Peter Preaching in Jerusalem.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Two Brave Preachers.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Apostolic Preaching.

- Peter Preaching Before the Multitude (Acts 3:11-26).
 1. The audience secured (v. 11). In appreciation of his healing the cured cripple took hold of Peter and John, calling attention to these men as his healers.
 2. Disclaimed miracle-working power (v. 12). Though the miraculous healing of the cripple focused attention upon Peter and John, Peter immediately turned attention from himself to Christ.
 3. Proclaimed Jesus as the Messiah (v. 13-18). Pointing to the healed man, Peter declared that it was through faith in Jesus that this man was given "perfect soundness." He declared that the very one whom they had "delivered up," "denied in the presence of Pilate," "and killed," God had raised from the dead.
 4. A call to repentance (vv. 19-21). Despite their aggravated crime in murdering the "Just and Holy One," Peter called upon them to repent, assuring them that their sins would be blotted out and that they would enjoy refreshing seasons.
 5. Appeal to the Scriptures (vv. 22-26). The warnings and promises are based upon the words of Moses and the prophets.

II. Peter Preaching to the Sanhedrin (Acts 4:1-21).

- Peter and John arrested (v. 1-4). The healing of the lame man caused such a stir that the people flocked to see the man. Advantage was taken of this occasion to preach Jesus Christ to them. As a result of this preaching, five thousand believed. Such a following caused great alarm. The priests were intolerant because these new teachers were encroaching upon their ministerial functions. The Sadducees were angered to be told that the One whom they crucified had arisen from the dead and would appear again.
- Peter and John on trial (vv. 5-12). This trial was before the Sanhedrin, the supreme court of the nation.
 a. The inquiry (vv. 5-7). They asked, "By what power and what name have ye done this?" This inquiry admitted the reality of the miracle.
 b. Peter's answer (vv. 8-12). Filled with the Holy Spirit, he replied to their question, showing them that he and John were not being tried as evildoers but for doing good to the needy man. He boldly declared that it was by the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom they had crucified, and God had raised from the dead, that this man stood before them whole. He further declared that there was no salvation save in the name of Jesus Christ.
- The Impression upon the Sanhedrin (vv. 13-22).
 a. They marveled (v. 13). They saw that the behavior and words of Peter were as unusual as the miracle. They were made to feel that instead of sitting as judges they themselves were on trial.
 b. They took knowledge that the apostles had been with Jesus (v. 13).
 c. Commanded not to speak in Christ's name (v. 18). Not being able to deny the miracle or gainsay the accusation which Peter brought against them, they attempted to intimidate him.
 d. The reply of Peter and John (vv. 19, 20). They openly defied the Sanhedrin and expressed determination to disobey their command. Thus they repudiated the authority of the rulers of Israel and set the Church in a place of independence from the Jewish state.
 e. Their release (v. 21). Having further threatened them, they let them go.
- The Church at Prayer (Acts 4:23-31).
 As soon as Peter and John were set free they hastened to their fellow disciples and rehearsed their experience. They turned to the Holy Scriptures for comfort and strength. They praised God for deliverance and prayed for boldness to speak his Word and that their testimony might be confirmed by signs. Their prayers were answered by the shaking of the place where they were assembled, and they were filled with the Holy Spirit.

Mercy
 We had mercy shown us at the beginning of our Christian course. We have had mercy shown us today, and shall need mercy, if Jesus tarry, in our dying hour. Well, the way to enjoy it is to be merciful, to deal in grace with others.—W. Lincoln.

Here is a ladder of success with which to measure yourself.
 100 per cent—I did.
 90 per cent—I will.
 80 per cent—I can.
 70 per cent—I think I can.
 60 per cent—I might.
 50 per cent—I think I might.
 40 per cent—I wish I could.
 30 per cent—I wish I knew how.
 20 per cent—I don't know how.
 10 per cent—I can't.
 0 per cent—I won't.
 —From the Expositor.

Wouldn't it be strange if someone came to the Superintendent of the Sunday School and said to him, "I see you are kept very busy with the work of being a Superintendent so if you have something that needs to be done and you need someone to do it you can count on me every time." If too many said that to him he'd probably wonder what had happened. However, it would be a good thing for you to say to him, "I'm sure he wouldn't be offended, and I'd take a chance on what he might think. The next time you see him tell him that and enforce it with a good hearty handshake."

Perhaps the pastor wouldn't know how to act either if too many would come and say, "You can count on my being at the services regularly from now on, whether I get all my work done or not, or whether I get to visit my aunt or grandmother or cousin which I haven't seen for such a long time, or whether I get my sleep out on Sunday morning or not I'll be there on time." If you want to know how the pastor or Superintendent would act in either of these or similar cases just try it the next time you meet one of them.
 To do either or both of the above suggestions would be but to fulfill Christ's words, "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and his righteousness and all these things shall be added unto you." Matt. 6:33.

Titling continued from bulletin of May 24.
 If I may deduct taxes paid on property rented to others, why not on my home?
 Because taxes paid on your home are family expenses, just as rent would be if you did not own your own home. In the other case they are business expenses, the rented property being your source of income.
 Suppose I have no regular income? Title whatever money you receive, whether in gifts, allowances, or for labor performed.
 What was the dominant characteristic of the Master's life on earth? Unselfishness beyond question. "I came not to do mine own will but the will of him that sent me." He put God first.
 What is the dominant natural characteristic of the whole human race? Selfishness, again beyond question. In some form selfishness is, not like the love of money, a root, but the fundamental root of all kinds of evil.

FAVORITE RECIPES

Buns

3 cups milk (part water may be used)
2 tablespoons lard, or other shortening
4 tablespoons sugar
2 teaspoons salt
1 cake Fleischmann's yeast, or 1 pint light bread sponge
Scald the milk to melt the shortening; let cool, and add the sugar, salt and then the yeast or bread sponge. Stir in enough flour to make a stiff dough; let raise and roll out. Cut with biscuit cutter or other utensil. When very light bake about 15 minutes in moderate oven. Increase heat for a few moments to brown the buns. This recipe makes about two dozen. This can be varied by rolling the dough in rolls and sprinkling sugar and cinnamon and dotting with butter (best results are obtained by using this dough as soft as possible).
—MRS. I. M. ROPER.

Apple Sauce Cake

1 cup sugar
1 1/2 cup applesauce (sweetened as for table use)
1/2 cup butter
1 cup raisins
1 cup walnuts
2 cups flour
1 egg
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon allspice
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon soda
Cream egg and shortening well; add applesauce which has been mashed fine and in which soda has been dissolved. Add spices and vanilla; add flour in which raisins and nuts have been dredged. Bake in moderate oven.

The last census shows that the consumption of beef is slipping. The following comparisons are between the years 1927 and 1929:

Beef decreased 9.2 percent in quantity; increased 13.4 percent in price. Mutton and lamb increased 9.7 percent in quantity and 10.8 percent in price.

Pork increased 14.1 percent in quantity and 15 percent in price.

Pork and lamb undoubtedly displaced beef during this period, but we must keep in mind that the price slump of all commodities started in 1930. Lambs were first to strike the cobog because of an over supply, decreased purchasing power, and lower prices on other commodities. There was no surplus of cattle or hogs, hence that factor did not enter the general decline.

There is a great deal of agitation today among the growers because some restaurant and hotel keepers claim that salads and other light foods are taking the place of meat food. The main difficulty seems to exist where prices asked by retailers and carterers do not reflect the present hoof values.

We can't blame the cowmen for trying to increase beef consumption and it is perfectly proper that interests should be displayed from that source, because manifestly the packer can only pass on to the public what the grower supplies—a condition that the grower has expressed too little interest in the past. The chances are that the one thing more responsible than any other for decreased beef consumption is lack of quality. Good cattle sell first, and quality beef is always in demand. The grower is vitally interested in the situation "from the grass roots to the table" and it is good to see him on the job.

Some encouragement has come from the fact that cattle values on Middle Western markets still reflect a substantial part of the recent dollar per cwt. increase. Coast markets have been even a little stronger.

Top fed steers on the Los Angeles Market last Monday brought $8.35; good grassers a shade stronger, top

FOR SALE—One-half section of improved land. Eight miles north of Darrouzett.—See M. L. Beck, Darrouzett, Texas. 1-tfc

$6.75; common grades and half-fat cattle have not fared so well. Hog values are holding their own from 50c to 75c increase within the last two weeks. The top on Los Angeles market last week was $8.35 for Eastern Grain Fed, quotable at $8.50.

Authorities estimate a decrease about ten percent in Fat Cattle receipts on the Middle Western Markets for the next three months. We also get some encouragement from the fact that the dairy herds have been pretty well culled, due to low Butter Fat prices and the decrease in number of cattle from that source is going to help the general situation.

The visible supply of hogs does not reflect any surplus. Lamb prices are steady to weak, with good choice lambs $8.35 to $8.50 on the Los Angeles Market. Any material increase in Livestock values must depend on improved industrial conditions which at this time look very encouraging.

ple and people going thru to ball games, I often served 30 or 40 dinners a day.

Hotel Has "Company"

"Managing a hotel is like having company 365 days a year," Mrs. Erts thinks. "Not only must we be ready to accommodate people at any time but we must try to please everyone."

Mrs. Erts finds the hotel business interesting because of the many different people that she meets. "There are new people coming in all the time and they are always different," she says. "I don't believe that there is a better place to learn people's dispositions than at meals. Some people are appreciative and others are not at all."

Travellers Are Considerate

"When I first started in, I had a horror of serving meals to travelling men for I thought they were worse than rattlesnakes," Mrs. Erts remarked. "I have always found them very nice and considerate. Now we often have people stopping here whom we have known a long time."

"Mrs. Erts is a strong believer in co-operation within a community. 'Sometimes I wonder if the community realizes what it means to keep travellers and workers in a town to spend their money here instead of elsewhere,' she said.

Conservation The Hope Of Meeting

CONFERENCE WILL HOLD MEET AT GOODWELL SOON TO DISCUSS SAVINGS PLANS

Arrangements have been completed for the holding of the Panhandle District Soil and Moisture Conservation Conference at the college auditorium in Goodwell, Oklahoma beginning at 10:00 a. m. Wednesday, July 15th. A growing realization that assets which are immediately convertible into cash are needlessly going to waste every year in all parts of Oklahoma has stimulated state and local leaders to carry on this campaign for conservation. The Panhandle conference has been arranged by Fred R. Merrifield, District Agent Northwest of Stillwater, Oklahoma in cooperation with H. C. Hyer, Guymon and H. H. Finnell, Director of the Panhandle Agricultural Experiment Station, Goodwell. A half dozen prominent Oklahomans will appear on the program
