

Personally Speaking

By E. M.

Social customs often have queer origins.

There are those who claim that the custom of allowing women to precede men thru doors originated in the prehistoric days when cavemen wore skins of animals and made love with clubs. The cavemen, the story goes, made their wives enter caves first to see if there were any savage animals within that might attack them.

The custom of men's walking on the outside when with a woman grew out of an older time when the streets were full of mud, geese, ox-carts, and ruffians. "The custom is continued today," one writer suggests, "because some girls enjoy it as a mark of deference. Then too, it makes it easier for them to look into the shop windows."

The word "etiquette" itself in former times signified the ticket tied to the necks of bags or affixed to bundles to denote their content; a bag or bundle thus labelled passing unchallenged. From thih it came to mean the conventional rules of personal behavior observed in the intercourse of polite society.

In most instances, we find the origin of social customs to be based upon consideration for others. Manners provide people who possess them a key that unlocks the social doors forever closed to those who lack them.

Philosophy itself is said to be merely common sense in a dress suit. And speaking of dress suits, one of America's foremost writers is said to close his letters with: "Yours until Gandhi wears a tuxedo."

Cradle Roll Will Be Started Here By Sunday School

Plans for a cradle roll department in the local Sunday School are being made by Rev. A. Blair Grubb. The department will be started on Sunday December 13.

Parents are urged to turn in the names and, if possible, a snapshot or photograph, of children of three years or younger.

A record of children in the department will be hung in the front of the front of the Sunday School assembly room. Certificates of membership will be given the parents of each child enrolled.

It is not necessary for parents to be affiliated with the local church or Sunday School for children to be enrolled in the cradle roll department, Reverend Grubb pointed out.

A "trades day" will be held at Booker on Saturday, December 12, according to announcements made in THE BOOKER NEWS.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Higgins Methodist Church will hold a Quilt show in Fellowship hall on Thursday, December 10. Unusual or heirloom quilts will be on exhibit.

* Frances Trenfield of near Follett, who belongs to the Darrouzett Scout troop as a "Lone Scout" is ill with chickenpox. She has been obliged to miss classes at the Higgins High School where she is a freshman.

Primary Youngsters Preparing For Santa Claus

Youngsters in the primary room at school are so anxious for Santa to come that they are already preparing for him. Last week one of the pupils, Ralph Hamilton, brought a cedar Christmas tree for the room.

Altho they have brought a few ornaments from home, the children will make practically all the decorations for the tree themselves under the direction of their teacher, Mrs. J. E. Speer.

The children will string cranberries and popcorn, make paper chains and stars, and small gifts from each other. Among the gifts will be small terrapins made from English walnut shells with paper head and legs pasted on the bottom of the half.

Some time during the week before Christmas, the primary pupils are planning to invite their mothers and small brothers and sisters to a Christmas program in their room.

League Receives District Banner

Winning the Epworth League district banner for having the most efficiency points was the high point for Darrouzett Leaguers at the rally held Tuesday night at the Shattuck Methodist Church.

Points are based upon attendance, local church activities, visits to the sick, reading of the Bible, etc.

Other Leagues represented at the meeting were from Gage, Arnett, Fargo, Tierce Chapel, and Shattuck. The meeting was opened by games, led by Thoburn Camp of Shattuck. After a devotional service and business meeting, an entertainment program was given.

Those who attended from Darrouzett were Misses Marguerite Hennigh, Olive Chappell, Violet Phebus, Coeta Terrel, Rubye Messner, Florella Woods and Doris Montgomery; Messrs. A. Blair Grubb, Glen Hennigh, Orval Chappell, G. B. Hennigh, Marion Carter, Alfred Fausset, Harry Bellah, Willard Smith, Carl Hanschu, and Lewis Woods.

The next group meeting of the Leagues will be held at Fargo, Okla., on January 11, 1932.

The Higgins Lions Club will celebrate the Christmas season by sponsoring a community Christmas tree on Main Street at 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon, December 24. Arrangements are being made to have Santa Claus on th scene in full regalia, according to THE HIGGINS NEWS.

The Booker chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star was formally instituted on Friday night, November 27. The newly-received charter was read; and officers were installed.

Jack Stewart of Follett and Melvin Garton of Booker were among the players in "Smilin' Through" a drama presented by students in the Panhandle Agricultural and Mechanical College at Goodwell, Okla., on December 3.

A Christmas Cantata for the purpose of raising funds for Christmas baskets for the poor will be held on December 15 under the auspices of the Lions Club at th Perryton high school auditorium.

School Praised By Supervisor

CHECK IS TUESDAY

J. C. Griffin Explains State Aid To Heads

Commendation for following out improvements suggested at the inspection last year was given the Darrouzett School by J. C. Griffin, rural school supervisor, at his visit here on Tuesday. "The school needs very little to make it ideal," he declared.

Mr. Griffin, who checks school houses and equipment of schools applying for state aid, visited the school last year. He has inspected schools in this county for three years.

The supervisor met with the school trustees and faculty on Tuesday at the school house to check over school conditions.

Griffin Likes West

"It is a pleasure to find that in large measure the Western schools are living up to requirements set by the state department on rural school aid," he told the group, remarking that he especially liked visiting the West.

"The best school is not the one that spends the most money but the one that spends it wisely," Mr. Griffin pointed out with the added comment that schools can do a great deal of good without much money.

"State aid is granted schools meeting certain physical requirements on the theory that if the school will provide a proper house and equipment, teachers will teach if they are at all capable," Mr. Griffin stated. "The recent policy of the state department is to help with school maintenance after the community has provided proper facilities."

State Aid Explained

The supervisor believes that it is the right of every school child to have satisfactory light and warm fresh air in the school room—both conditions are state aid requirements, he emphasized.

"The newest movement in education—the teaching of children not subjects—has also become the aim of the state aid department," Mr. Griffin declared. "The department is interested in protecting the health of the pupils. I have great faith in what state aid is doing for the school children of Texas," he added.

School Is Praised

The official also commended the school for having jacketed heating stoves in every class room. The stoves, if properly installed and managed, are the most efficient, economical, and sanitary ones on the market he stated.

The local school has received state aid for the past two years. In 1930, it was granted $846; in 1931, it was given $415. The amount of $415 granted last year was the maximum amount granted any school of this size under the new law on state aid which took effect last year, Mr. Griffin explained.

The local school hopes to receive the maximum amount allowed, again this year.

Baptismal Services To Be Held Sunday

Baptismal services will be conducted on Sunday by the local Methodist Episcopal Church, according to Rev. A. Blair Grubb, pastor.

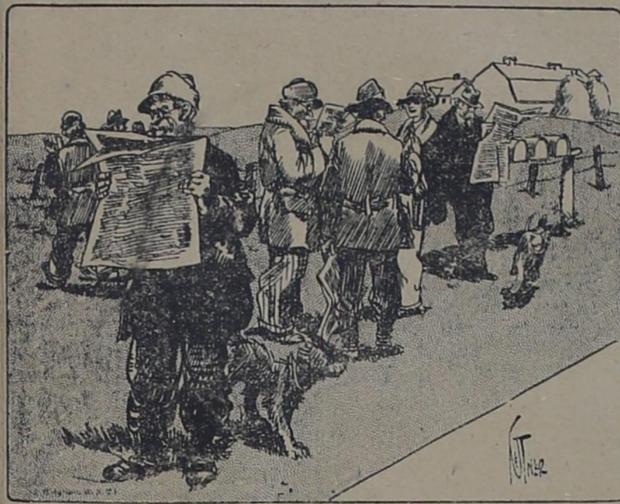

Parents who want their children baptised and other interested parents are asked to see Reverend Grubb at once.

Services for those who wish to be sprinkled will be held at the Sunday morning services, while immersion services will be held in the afternoon at the Follett Methodist Church baptistry, Reverend Grubb said.

Follett merchants are busy making plans for their third annual Christmas Festival, which is to be held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, December 10. A "bigprize" parade and a minstrel show are being planned. Santa Claus will also come to Follett with a team of oxen, according to THE FOLLETT TIMES.

The preliminary trial of J. C. Freeman, who was arrested at Taloga, Okla., on November 24 at the request of Sheriff Grimwood of Beaver on charges of robbing the Knowles bank of $443.50 in a daylight holdup on October 19, will be held this week at Beaver, where Freeman is being held in jail.

Commerce Group Re-elects Men

BECK IS DIRECTOR

Roads Are Discussed By Business Men On Tuesday

The five directors of the local Chamber of Commerce were re-elected for the coming year at a meeting of the group on Tuesday evening at the Hotel Erts.

M. L. Beck was appointed to fill the vice-presidency since I. M. Rover who formerly held the position has moved away. Other officers who will continue their positions are A. H. Montgomery, president; Otis Travis, secretary; C. H. Powell, and R. B. Hennigh.

The meeting date of the group was changed from the second Tuesday of each month to the second Monday. The next meeting will be held at 7 o'clock Tuesday night, January 12 at the Hotel.

The group decided to sponsor a special community-boosting Christmas caition of The Darrouzett News, which is a Chamber of Commerce and school publication. All merchants in town are urged by the group to carry additional advertising in order to make the issue possible.

Roads Discussed

Discussion of the improvement of roads in and near Darrouzett was the chief topic of the meeting. M. L. Beck, Otis Travis, and R. D. Hennigh were re-appointed as a committee to investigate the possibility for the opening of a road north of town and to make suggestions for a route.

C. T. Phillips, Ray Hennigh, and R. W. Perry were designated a road maintenance committee to help in the keeping up of roads in and near town. A motion was passed that a fund tagen up several years ago for the purpose of opening a road west of town be turned to the Chamber of Commerce road maintenance fund since it had not been needed for the original purpose.

Committee Appointed

xJ. E. Speer, R. D. Hennigh, and C. H. Powell were appointed a permanent committee on entertainment, according to Mr. Montgomery.

Plans for a membership drive were also discussed briefly by the group. The matter of securing a gravel pit for the use of the Chamber of Commerce was taken up.

Those attending the meeting were A. H. Montgomery, R. D. Hennigh, J. E. Speer, Ray T. Hennigh, R. W. Perry, J. T. Mosley, M. L. Begg, George Russell, C. H. Powell, Otis Travis, C. T. Phillips, Walter Messner, George McViever, D. R. Rush, and Miss Elsie Montgomery.

African Experiences Described To Geography Classes By Dupont

Vivid descriptions of Africa and actual experiences on the dark continent told by Joe Dupont during the geography periods on Friday and Monday helped the seventh graders to visualize more clearly the continent they are studying.

The talks were illustrated by a map of Africa on the wall. A number of high school students also heard the discussion given by Joe, who has made three trips to Africa. His first visit was as a cabin boy on a sailing schooner at the age of fourteen. His last trip was made seven years ago.

"During the dry season, the country near the Nile consists of sand and dust; in the rainy season, it is mud," Joe remarked.

The Red Sea is a very hot place, Joe told the students. "Sailors working on deck are obliged to wear white clothing and ironwood shoes." While Joe's party was on the Red Sea, two Chinese stokers died from the heat, and were buried at sea.

The Mediterranean Sea with its hundreds of sharks and pilot fish was also pictured to the class.

The Belgian Congo is the most uncivilized part of Africa, Joe says. "Here are found natives worshipping wooden images as fetishes. The Negroes also work for as little as six or seven cents a day. Polygamy is practiced here."

In the Congo region, Joe saw diving boys who would dive as deep as thirty feet for money thrown in the water by travellers. Here also, he met a native who could not believe that there was such a thing as snow.

When Joe told him about the copper-colored people in America called the red race, he remarked that he could tell a story too and began an impossible narrative about some green men.

On one occasion when Joe's party needed supplies from a distant town, the natives sent the message by means of tom-toms. The supplies were received as soon as if the message had been telegraphed.

One of the most interesting people that Joe met in Africa was an old gray-haired Negro who had been captured in his youth by Arabian slave drivers. The native told stories of the raids of the Arabs on the villages, their heartless murder of women and children, and the brutal seizure of the men for slaves.

"One of the most amusing persons I met," Joe continued, "was a Negro who wore cast-off European clothes and carried a cane."

"The Old Roman Architecture of Tunis almost makes one believe that he is in another world," Joe declared. "The Mohammedon cities are very interesting and often very beautiful. From a distance the mosques of the temples look like liquid silver."

Joe also visited a Mohammedan temple, and took a walking trip along the Nile.

Experiment Shows Terracing Is Valuable, Cottingame Says

Two to three extra bushels of grain sorghums per acre is the return received by the Robbins brothers of near Canadian for terracing about 240 acres of land, according to a report made by W. K. Cottingame, county agricultural agent.

The terraced land produced the extra amount of threshed grain more than unterraced land of the same nature and locality, a check-up revealed after the crop had been harvested.

The farmers believe that the increased yield will be greater next year because this time they will conserve most of the moisture from the fall and winter rains that they did not get last year, according to Mr. Cottingame.

The men terraced 240 acres of land this spring, planted two rows of grain sorghum, and skipped two rows which were planted to Mung beans to be plowed under for soil improvement. The beans produced approximately 10 bushels per acre.

Epworth Leaguers Deserve Credit

Members of the local Epworth League deserve a great deal of credit for winning the efficiency banner awarded the outstanding League in the Gage group.

Altho it is one of the very smallest groups in the district, the League won over organizations in much larger towns.

All in all, Darrouzett's young people have been found able to hold their own in school, Interscholastic League work, and any other competition with nearby towns.

God Bless Her

By MILDRED CRABTREE SPEER

SMILE again, my dear one,
Here is a cheerful place;
See the soft candle light
And the broad door way?
It's the keeper's delight
To welcome travelers.

This place is filled too—
So tired aren't you?
I know of another inn
Where there are many rooms,
And they will take us in:
Lean on me; let me guide.

Clean, fragrant, new-mown hay . . .
Now eat and drink while I
Feed our faithful beast, here,
And fix a soft place for
Your weary body, dear . . .
Such a beautiful night.

Do you rest now, Mary?
Here is the child to hold.
Mary, a light shines, a star!
Somewhere there is singing!
Mary, the heaven's afire!
Ah, she sleeps . . . God bless her.

Somewhere

By MILDRED CRABTREE SPEER

A child carried a small, sticky package;
A woman teased a waiting lover;
A mother sewed wearily
On various small articles;
A stooped old grandmother, smilingly
Baked and watched expectantly, and
Bells rang clear, high on a snowy tower.

All parents are urged to bring their children up to the age of three or the time when they enter the beginners department are eligible. We want you to bring a slip with the baby's full name on and if you have it, a snapshot photo of the baby. Smaller sizes are preferable because they will take up less space and will be more in uniform.

The baptismal service for those desiring baptism will be held next Sunday at the Follett M. E. Church, time, 3:00. If you or your children desire to be baptized see the pastor before next Sunday, if you have not already done so.

Have you subscribed for the Central Christian Advocate, our Church paper. It is worth many times the subscription price which is two dollars. If you received one of those pamphlets given out some time ago with a subscription blank in it return it or if you did not receive one put your name on a slip of paper and hand to the pastor or drop in the collection plate. If you are unable to pay for your subscription new hand in your name and pay in a few months. Be sure to have a religious paper coming into your home.

QUESTION BOX: Is there some religious question troubling you? Write your question on a slip of paper without your name and drop it in the collection plate. They will be answered in the evening services. We will discuss any question that is not too controversial. Feel free to take advantage of this question box to help find a solution for your difficulties. This is for both young and old. Young people are free to present any problem which they might find difficulty. It may be on the Bible or about some course of action in which you are doubtful.

The Greeks and Romans might have been artistic, but we never heard of 'em making cardboard ladies so natural like those in the Beck Drug Store that the minister of the town would walk up, tip his hat, and speak to one.

Some one was saying in church the other night that they wished the bald-headed men in the congregation would wear a small green cap or a sun shade of some kind as the light reflecting from their bald spots was very annoying.

Imagine Thelma Carter calling Coach Mullings "papa".

Some of the students in typing class got excited and thought their type writer had tuberclosis, when the instructor told them to readjust the tabular key.

And Professor Mullings is so absent-minded that he grabbed up his whistle and started to class with it the other day.

MY CHRISTMAS

When I was awake Christmas night,
 And all was very dark,
 My parents were in bed asleep,
 When the dogs began to bark.

I got up and looked out the window,
 And then I looked around.
 I heard somebody coming,
 Down the chimney with a bound.

And then I went back to bed.
 When I awoke in the morning
 I found it snowing,
 And it was storming.

I went into the front room
 And found my Christmas was the best,
 And when next year comes
 I will tell to you the rest.

ASSEMBLY NOTES

The fifth and sixth grades had charge of assembly Thursday, December 3.

The sixth grade gave a play named, "Cosette," written by Wilma Lash and Naomi Rush. It was taken from the book, "Les Misreables," by Victor Hugo.

The characters were: Jennie Woods, landlady; Gerald Ludlum, landlord; Erma Hennigh, Cosette; Rachel Littau and Gertrude Stranske, landlady's daughters; Lionel Settles and Roy Phillips, boarders; and Oscar Taylor, the man who came to take Cosette away.

Other numbers on the program were piano solos by Wilma Lash and Mavis Altmiller, and a reading, "A Sewing Lesson," by Naomi Rush.

Tersea Frass announced the program. Mrs. Ruth Wright was director.

O. M. C.

Joe DuPont, who has spent some time in Africa, talked to the seventh grade geography class about his experiences, on Friday morning. The eighth grade and the Spanish 1 class were also visitors at the class period to hear the talk.

The Choral Club and the grade music classes are beginning to learn Christmas carols.

An amendment to the constitution of the Press Club has been made. The amendment named the qualifications necessary to become a member of the club.

These qualifications are: a scholastic average of B must be made by the prospective member; he must be recommended by the English teacher and faculty advisor; and he must show an interest in Press Club work.

Alberta Reger, Doris Montgomery, and Lewis Woods were the committee appointed to draw up the requirements.

The assembly visitors on Thursday were: Mesdames H. F. Ludlum, Emma Lash, C. W. McGee, George Hennigh, C. A. Bellah, H. D. Lash and daughter, Edgar Taylor, D. R. Rush and son, A. Blair Grubb, and J. W. Chase.

—T. C.

Mr. Fred Mullings gave a lecture before the seventh grade geography class on scientific facts about the universe in general. The talk was illustrated by a school-owned apparatus which shows the earth, sun, moon, and planets and their movements.

Lipscomb Defeats Canadian 27 To 21

The Lipscomb High School Tigers defeated the Canadian Wildcats in a fast game Friday night at Canadian. The score was 27 to 21. The game was hard fought throughout. The lead changed from one team to the other until the last half when the Tigers rallied to gain a lead that was never overtaken.

The Lipscomb boys made numerous personal fouls, and as a result four of them left the game with four persons each.

Lipscomb's next game will be with Higgins Friday night.

Primary Room Notes

By MRS. J. E. SPEER

Any Primary student can tell just how many days there are until Christmas. All of the busy periods are used in decorating the room for Christmas. A fire place with three stockings hung on it has been placed on the north board. A large Santa and Christmas tree is on the east wall. Flowers are on the windows, and trees and Santas are being made to place on the windows. A number of pictures have been brought from home and mounted.

Dorothy Woods brought fifteen gold fish to school Monday morning. As this is too many fish, the primary room has decided to give some of them to the other grade rooms.

The students of the first and second grades drew names on Monday afternoon, so that each child in the room would receive a Christmas gift. These gifts are to be placed on the big Christmas tree according to the decision of the group.

Alfred Altmiller visited the primary room Monday morning.

Ralph Hamilton brought a Christmas tree to the Primary room Friday. This tree is about seven feet tall, and is a rich green color. Ralph Hamilton, Kieth Stephenson and Robert Mills helped Mrs. Speer set it on a foundation Friday afternoon. The students of the room are going to trim it with things they bring from home and are going to string popcorn and cranberries and make chains to go on it.

Betty Jane Frass brought two new books to school Monday morning. These books are about the Bobbsey twins; the room has read one book about the Bobbsey twins.

Harry Hennigh, Bobby Chase, Esther Littau, Dorothy Woods, Lela McVicker and Winifred Rush have brought trimming for the Christmas tree.

Mr. Speer allowed the primary room to take a table that had been used in the auditorium, for a reading table. The students have been using some school desks for a reading table and were very glad to get the new table.

The students of the first grade who had the best lessons Monday were allowed to decorate two small trees in the sandtable and make toys to go on them.

Fifth, Sixth Grade Notes

By MRS. RUTH WRIGHT

The play which we gave in assembly Thursday morning was written by Wilma Lash and Naomi Rush. It was taken from a story in their reader.

We all enjoyed practicing for our program, and believe it was very helpful to us.

A house is being constructed by the citizenship class to show the numerous ways in which a house should be safely guarded from fire. The boys are doing the carpenter work and the girls are making the furniture for the model house.

Thursday afternoon we drew names in order to determine to whom we should give a Christmas present. We voted to have a small Christmas tree for our room if possible. Friday morning Mrs. Wright and several of the girls stenciled a Santa Claus and three red Christmas bells on our blackboard. Later in the day cut-out pictures of the Wise Men going toward the star of Bethlehem were posted on our windows.

These decorations made us aware of the fact that Santa Claus soon will be here and we are all becoming thrilled and excited when Christmas is mentioned.

Mrs. H. F. Ludlum was a visitor in our room this week.

In order to stimulate an interest in the neatness, promptness, and correctness of written work in arithmetic, a contest was started Monday. Points will be given on the above mentioned qualities and points will be subtracted from the score for papers handed in late and incorrect problems.

The fifth grade were divided into three groups and each group wrote a little play, Penn's Treaty with the Indians. The best play will be acted out during class period.

The airplane race conducted between the 6th and 7th grade spelling classes is interesting and both sides seem anxious to keep in the lead. The side with George Settles as pilot is ahead.

Third, Fourth Grades Activities

By Mrs. Lela Hennigh

The nature study classes are making books in which the students will put nature poems.

Mrs. Hennigh was ill on Monday so Mr. Ray Hennigh taught our room.

Charlie Hennigh brought some pretty calendars for our room.

Jewel Fiskin and Gertrude Stranske cleaned up the reading table on Monday.

During busy period the room made Christmas flowers for our windows.

Pictures of Santa Claus in colored chalk have been drawn on the blackboards in our room.

Richard Rush is health inspector for the fourth grade. Beulah McGee is inspector for the third grade.

The third and fourth grades covered some books on Monday.

Geography classes in both grades are carrying out some interesting projects this week. The third graders are making clothing booklets with covers of dolls with various articles of clothing cut from colored cloth of various kinds. The fourth grade is making a booklet with a map of the world as a cover. Inside, the students are writing about various parts of the world.

Mrs. C. M. Speer of Floret, Texas, arrived on Sunday to visit with her son, J. E. Speer, and Mrs. Speer until Christmas. She has been visiting at the home of her son, J. B. Speer at Morse, Tex.

Miss Alberta Reger spent the weekend with her grandmother, Mrs. Belle Frazier, of Follett.
