The Answer to the Question "Is There A Santa Claus?"

EDITOR'S NOTE:-(The following was written by the late Francis P. Church, an editorial writer on the New York Sun, and first printed in the Sun, September 21, 1897. We reprint it here for the worth that these words are to humanity, and with all due respect to the writer who has passed on. You have probably read this article before, but it will do you good to read it again.)

Dear Editor:

I am eight years old. Some of my little friends say there is no Santa Claus. Papa says "If you see it in the Sun it's so." Please tell me the truth, is there a Santa Claus?

VIRGINIA O'HANLON 115 West Ninety-fifth Street.

Virginia your little friends are wrong. They have been affected by the skepticism of a skeptical age. They do not believe, except they see. They think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their little minds. All minds, Virginia, whether they be men's or children's are little. In this great universe of ours man is a mere insect, an ant, in his intellect, as compared with the boundless world about him, as measured by the intelligence capable of grasping the whole truth and

Yes, Virginia there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy. Alas, how dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Claus! It would be as dreary as if there were no Virginia. There would be no childlike faith then, no poetry, no romance, to make tolerable this existance. We should have no enjoyment except in sense and light. The eternal light which with childhood fill the world would be extinguished.

Not believe in Santa Claus! You might as well not believe in fairies! You might get your papa to hire men to watch in all the chimneys on Christmas Eve to catch Santa Claus, but even if they did not see Santa Claus coming down, what would that prove? Nobody sees Santa Claus, but that is no sign that there is no Santa Claus. The most real things in the world are those that neither children nor men can see. Did you ever see fairies dancing on the lawn? Of course not, but that's no proof that they are not there. Nobody can conceive or imagine all the wonders there are unseen in the world.

You tear the baby's rattle apart and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not the strongest men that ever lived could tear apart. Only faith, fancy, poetry, love and romance, can push aside that curtain and view and picture the supernal beauty and glory beyond. It it all real? Ah, Virginia, in all this world there is nothing else real and abiding.

No Santa Claus- Thank God he lives and he lives forever. A thousand years from now, Virginia, nay, ten times ten thousand years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood.

I Am Christmas

I am Christmas.

People tell me that my origin runs far back into a heathen festival. My roots, they say, lie in pagan life.

So be it!

I accept the charge -and glory in it.

For my pagan practice has been redeemed at the touch of Christ. My heathen ancestry was never the same again once his name and spirit blessed it.

And such is my mission, always, to the soul.

I touch self-seeking, and it gives place to good will.

I touch the warlike plans of men and they hide their battlements with holly, knowing that they are out of harmony with His spirit.

I touch hard faces and make them tender.

I touch saddened children, and make them laugh,

I touch the cynic, and give him faith.

I touch the people like you-and they are not the same again.

I AM CRRISTMAS.
