Did you ever suffer with Morbus Sabbatticus?

Altho Noah Webster pays no attention whatsoever to the word, great many ministers are very much concerned about it. One Methodist preacher (not in Texas and surely not in Lipscomb county) says that invaribly the symbreakfast on Sunday mornings. Of course people in Darrouzett are not much concerned about horse shoe or the world series but possibly the following article from the Higgins News might not be amiss just about this time of year:

Who Wants to Swap For a Farmer's Income

The Department of Agriculture at Washington estimates that during 1929, a typical year, the average farmer of the United States had available after paying operating expenses, $882 as a balance for labor, management and capital investment. It must not be inferred that the farmer received this sum in actual cash, as the figure given includes the value of food and fuel produced and consumed on the farm.

The closest estimates available indicate that the value of the average farm and its equipment is about $8, 500. Interest upon that investment at 4 per cent would amount to $340 a year. Deducting this outgo from $882 would leave the farmer a net return of $542 for his labor and management for a full year.

Fire Prevention Week Is Here

This first week in October has been set aside as Fire Prevention week. From October 4 to 10, special efforts are being made everywhere to impress upon the people the necessity for taking precautions against fires.

Reams of publicity are being written; innumerable speeches are being made; for the cause. Children in schoolrooms are being taught fire prevention methods by means of projects. Mayors of cities are issuing proclamations for the observation of Fire Prevention week. People are being urged to remove from their premises and to destroy all inflammable rubbish and to consider every possible means of averting the destruction of valuable property by means of fire.

Fire prevention is of such importance to the nation that the points we learn during this week especially devoted to fire prevention should be followed thruout the entire year.

Farmer Protection Against Foreclosure

A plan to protect thousands of land owners in the South against loss of their farms through foreclosure following a failure on their part to meet obligations is being formulated by W. A. Fraser, President of the Woodmen of the World Life Insurance Association, with headquarters at Omaha, Nebraska, the largest institution of its kind in the world.

Mr. Fraser became intensely interested in the plight of the Southern farmer last year following receipt of hundreds of letters from members of his Association begging him to lend his influence as well as the influence of the Woodmen of the World in their behalf.

Touring the South last spring he conducted a special investigation of conditions. He instituted several forms of relief for the farmers who found themselves unable to meet their obligations and called upon the membership of his organization to extend assistance wherever possible.

Mr. Fraser advocated diversification, which in many instances he was told was impossible especially with renters or with mortgaged farms. Renters claimed that the owners of the land demanded that every foot be given to cotton; they were not even allowed land enough to plant vegetables or fruits for their own consumption. Owners of mortgages took much the same position. They wanted cotton. So the farmer who has his farm mortgaged or the renter are in rather a helpless position and a movement must be started and carried to a successful termination whereby farmers must diversify.

The Government itself is responsible, in a great measure, for mortgages that are now burdening the average Southern farmer. The politicians conceived ideas of loaning farmers money at a low rate of interest. Senators, Congressmen and State Legislators advocated the farmer borrowing Government money because it was cheap. Many farmers followed their advice. When it really was not necessary to have the money, they were advised to borrow. Therefore, farmers are not entirely to blame fo the unfortunate predicament they now find themselves in.

In a letter written to Comissioner Paul Bestor, of the Farm Loan Board, Mr. Fraser wrote:

"Many of the letters I have recently received have dwelt on the fact that our government was willing to declare a moratorium for Germany, suggesting that if we could be so magnanimous to our late enemy, responsible for many of the ills that the Country is now suffering, surely our country would help its own people many of whom fought to preserve our home institutions and the liberty of our people."

In Mr. Fraser's judgement, our Government should come to the assistance of these thousands of farmers who are unable to meet their obligations and who now face the loss of their homes and their farms through no fault of theirs. The Federal Land Banks should take immediate steps so that leniency will be extended to all farmers who actually own the land that is now encumbered and who are working that land and depending on the crops produced for their own as well as their families' livli-

A moratorium should be declared for at least one year. The Federal Land Bank System, which was established as a permanent service, will not be injured by such a step. The Federal Land Banks can withstand the moratorium put into operation date-much-, but they do over eat, in behalf of farmers who can prove their present inability to whenever somebody puts it in front meet obligations. I. Paul and Silas in Jail (vv.

IC-Initial Victories in Europe.

1. The occasion (vv. 16-24). As the missionaries went out from day to day to the place of prayer they were accosted by a young woman possessed by a spirit of divination. She was owned by a syndicate of men who derived large gain from her soothsaying. us to come this way. Her utterances as she followed the missionaries became a great annoyance to Paul who in the name of Jesus Christ commanded the evil spirit to come out of her. The evil spirit immediately obeyed Paul's command. When the demon was cast out the supernatural power of the maid was Paul and Silas before the magistrates on a false charge. Without any opportunity to defend themselves, Paul and Silas were stripped and beaten by the angry mob and then remanded to jail where they were made fast by stocks.

2. Their behavior in jail (v. 25) They prayed and sang hymns to God. It seems quite natural that they should pray under such circumstances, but to sing hymns is astonishing to all who have not come into the possession of the grace of God in Jesus Christ. Even with their backs lacerated and smarting, with their feet fast in the stocks, compelling the most painful attitude in the dungeon darkness of the inner prison with extreme uncertainty before them, their hearts went up to God in gratitude.

3. Their deliverance (v. 26). The Lord wrought deliverance by sending a great earthquakes which opened the prison doors and removed the chains from off their hands. The earthquake cannot be explained on natural grounds. Earthquakes do not throw bolted doors open and unclasp fetters from men's hands.

I. The Conversion of the Jailer

The jailor's sympathy did not go out very far for the prisoners, for as soon as they were made secure he went to sleep. Being suddenly aroused from slumber by the earthquake, he was about to kill himself, whereupon Paul assured him that the prisoners were all safe. What he had heard of their preaching, and now what he experienced caused him to come as a humble inquirer after salvation. He was convicted of sin and felt the need of a Savior. Paul clearly pointed out the way to be saved. He said, "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ." The word "believe" means "to trust and fully obey." The following facts prove that the jailor was saved;

1. Transformation from brutality to tenderness (v. 33). He who a little while ago could with impunity lay on the cruel lashes is now disposed to dress the wounds of the prisoners.

2. Confession of Christ in baptism (v. 33). Those who have experienced the saving grace of God are willing to confess their faith in Christ under all circumstances.

He set meat before them (v. 34). 4. His whole household was baptized (v. 33). When a man's family is willing to follow him, you may be sure that his conversion is genuine. III. The Magistrates Humbled (vv.

1. The prisoners ordered released (vv. 35, 36). The earthquake brought fear upon the magistrates and thus moved them to release the prisoners. 2. Paul's refusal to go (v. 37). The ground of his refusal was that their rights as Roman citizens had been violated. They demanded public vindication. The magistrates were guilty of serious offense. Paul was willing to suffer for Christ's sake, but he used the occasion to show them that persecuting men who preached the gospel was an offense against the law of God and man.

3. Brought out of prison by the officers (vv. 38, 39).

4. Returned to the house of Lydia (v. 40). Upon their public vindication, Paul and Silas left the prison and eptered the house of Lydia. After ministering comfort to the brethren, they took their departure.

IV. Always Rejoicing (Phil. 4:4-9). The presence of the Lord Jesus Christ gives such peace that singing God's praises is possible even in prison.

Primary Room Notes

By MRS. J. E. SPEER

The primary room had a very pleasant surprise on Thursday of last week when Mrs. Powell came to the door with a larg goldfish bowl, and four fish in the bowl. The bowl has many colored rocks and shells in it; a large castle in the center of it furnishes a hiding place for the fish. Many happy minutes are spent every day watching the fish.

Winfred Rush brought a new record for the portable on Monday morning; it has been played several times, and all agree that it is one of the best records we have.

A number of the primary students attended a party Monday evening given by Don Fiskin on his sixth birthday.

It has been necessary to place a pig on the blackboard in the primary room; those whom the health inspecins find dirty have their names placed by the pig so he may eat them. It is hoped that the pig will starve to death before long.
