

Personally Speaking

By E. M.

Well, as Mark Twain once remarked, "The time a person needs a vacation worst is the day after a vacation." After nearly a month of vacationing, I still feel he is right for it is really quite hard to settle down to work again.

After travelling around in a succession of automobiles, airplanes, interurbans, taxis, ferries, rowboats, busses, and trains for a month it is difficult to sit still in a chair long enough to write this column or even a news item.

Speaking of ferries, do you believe in fairies? Our driver does after asking a filling station attendant if many cars took the ferry across the Tennessee River. "Oh no," was the reply, "but the ferry takes a great many cars across."

And trains! Did you ever have an early train to make and an alarm clock that didn't go off? Either of them is bad enough but oh the combination! Anyway until I know differently I'm going to insist on being at least runner up as record-holder for getting up at 5:25 a. m., getting dressed, packing a bag, searching frantically for the car keys, and finally—making the train.

A great institution is the umbrella! Especially in a town like Norman with its sidewalk canals and subterranean river streets—in rainy times. A friend and I were unsuccessfully trying to leave a tea during a downpour last Sunday when an umbrella piloted by one of the hosts came to the rescue. Our dramatic exit from the tea consisted to my friend being escorted to her car (half a block away) sheltered by the umbrella, the said car being brought around to the drive, my being escorted to it (protected by the umbrella) and finally the host being escorted back to the house by said umbrella. Hooray for umbrellas!

Oh, yes, and regarding dramatic exits, did you ever try to chase an interurban (by means of an automobile) over a muddy road, nearly getting stuck, thrashing about muddily and frantically while said interurban rapidly disappeared in the distance? Well, don't if you want to keep a sweet disposition sweet.

Headed toward Lookout Mountain at Chattanooga, Tenn., out history major driver was asked just why it was such a historic place. "Well—er—er—" he evaded. "It had something to do with the Civil War, but these bronze tablets with inscriptions will tell you all about that." After reading those same inscriptions and finding out that the Union forces had lodged the Confederates from their stronghold there in 1863 we suggested to the history major that perhaps if we asked a guide we might be able to find out who won the war.

Added to my list of embarrassing moments is the time when I took Mrs. Bob Quillen, wife of the Aunt Het writer, for a sales woman in a N. C. hotel gift shop and continued to ask her the prices of various souvenirs. Mrs. Quillen, however, is a very friendly sort of a person and took no offense whatsoever. Her famous husband, incidentally, is in a N. C. sanatorium having his teeth jerked out. Poor man!

The following (not original) is dedicated to one or two tourist cottages I have known:

"One morning very early I looked upon the wall
The bed bugs and the coccies
Were having a game of ball.
The score was six to nothing
The bed bugs were ahead,
The coccies knocked a home run,
And I fell out of bed."

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Hennigh and family visited with Mr. and Mrs. Dave Rosseau on Sunday.

Mrs. John Paine and Hill Redman of Booker spent Monday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hill.

W. L. Hill spent Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray T. Hennigh, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Travis, Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Rush were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Phillips on Sunday afternoon.

Junior Leaguers To Hold Party Thursday Night

Boys belonging to the Junior Epworth League will entertain the girl members at a lawn party planned for Thursday night at the H. D. Lash home.

The party is given the girls as winners in a League contest held during the past three months.

Wayne Lash will serve as host, while Mrs. A. Blair Grubb, leader of the group, will assist with the games.

Contest Winners Announced for Junior League

Winners in the contest held by the Junior Epworth League during the past quarter under the direction of Mrs. A. Blair Grubb are Ema Hennigh in the girls division and Richard Rush for the boys, according to announcements made Sunday night.

The girls in the class, who are declared winners in the group contest, were to be given a party Thursday evening by the boys. At that time individual prizes to the two high ranking members were to be presented by Mrs. Grubb.

A new contest for the quarter beginning this Sunday is being planned by Mrs. Grubb. Points are to be based chiefly on league work. Credit will be given for attendance at meetings, for promptness, perfect behavior, bringing Bibles, and learning Bible verses.

The boy and the girl who have the most points at the end of the quarter will be awarded prizes. The losing side will again entertain the other group with a party.

Mrs. Grubb will continue to award Bibles to those who have none but who attend League services for 13 consecutive Sundays. Attendance certificates will also be given those who have a perfect record at the end of the quarter.

Erma Hennigh has the distinction of being the only person to earn an attendance certificate during the past quarter in either the Junior Epworth League or the Blue Bird junior girl's Sunday School class, Mrs. Grubb stated.

Grubbs To Leave July 4 for Trip To Dickens, Tex.

Rev. and Mrs. A. Blair Grubb who have been granted their annual vacation from duties at the Methodist Episcopal church will leave July 4 for Dickens, Texas, where they will visit Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Speer for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Speer are spending the summer at the farm home of Mrs. Speer's father, L. G. Crabtree.

Arrangements for services during Reverend Grubb's absence will be announced later.

Livestock Producers Get Benefit of Loans

Substantial benefits to Texas livestock, poultry and dairy producers will be received from farm loan legislation sponsored through Congress by the special Texas contact committee, Governor Ross Sterling announced today on receiving a report from the committee.

"I feel that every farmer and livestock raiser in Texas should be informed of this legislation," said the Governor.

John W. Carpenter of Dallas, chairman of the Governor's Advisory committee or contact committee, reported that farmers would also be able to secure loans for crops to be harvested in 1933. The committee of 35 was appointed by the governor to contact the Reconstruction Finance corporation and Congress to secure loan benefits for Texas farmers and ranchers.

The congressional legislation, which was originated by the Texas committee, will extend the time for farm seed loans and will broaden the Reconstruction Finance Act to include loans to livestock raisers and truck growers, the Governor explained. Acting under the terms of the original act the Secretary of Agriculture had arbitrarily closed the loan period on April 30.

"A great part of these loans were

Daily Vacation Bible School Is Planned for July 18-29

Arrangements for the Daily Vacation Bible School to be held by the local Methodist Episcopal Church organization from July 18 to July 29 are being made, according to Rev. A. Blair Grubb, leader.

All children in the community from those four years old on through high school are urged to attend, regardless of denomination.

Age groups will be held similar to the plan last year, which was the first time a Bible school had been held here. Three divisions are being planned—kindergarten, junior, and senior.

Although teachers have not been definitely decided upon, three, and possibly four will be on the faculty, Reverend Grubb stated.

Classes will be held each morning during the two weeks, except on Saturdays and Sundays.

Children who attended the school last summer have indicated their anxiety to take up the work again this year.

Frequent Showers Hinder Travel, Harvesting

Frequent hard showers during the past week have inconvenienced travel and put a stop to wheat harvesting for the present.

A hard rain north and west of Darrouzett on Tuesday afternoon delayed travel for several hours. Water flowing over North Fork bridge prevented crossing for some time.

People living in this community remember few Junes as rainy as this one has been.

Club Encampment Is Held at Studer's Lake

The first encampment for Lipscomb County 4-H Club members was held at Studer's Lake on June 20th and 21st, in connection with the Hemphill County clubs with a total attendance of 112 persons, 95 of whom were club members. Ten of the Lipscomb county club members were present.

Everyone expressed the fact that he had a grand time with playing club games, swimming and watching the performance of the different stunts that were enacted by each club. Tentative plans were made for a repetition of the encampment for 1933. It is hoped that even a greater number of club members will be in attendance next year.

Here's How to Dispose of Extra Pennies and Pencils

Pencils or pennies?

If you have any extra of either and would like to put them where they will do the most good just get in touch with Mrs. A. Blair Grubb or Miss Elsie Montgomery by Sunday.

In a letter received recently by Miss Elsie Montgomery, from Mrs. Annie S. Ross, principal of the Bidar School for boys at Bidar, Deccan, India, the missionary stated that donations of pencils are most thankfully received. "Pencils out here are no good and the boys treasure their American pencils so much," Mrs. Ross wrote. "I had enough to go around for Christmas last year and they were so pleased."

A package of pencils is to be sent from here Monday to the Bidar School

Elsie Montgomery Returns on Tues.

After a month in Oklahoma and the South, Miss Elsie Montgomery returned to Darrouzett on Tuesday.

Miss Montgomery visited friends at Norman and Guthrie, Okla., and attended a national council of Kappa Phi, national Methodist college girls' organization, at Montreat, N. C., from June 14 to 21. She holds a district office in the order.

Interesting points of the trip were a plane trip from Enid to Oklahoma City, a tour thru the Vanderbilt estates at Biltmore, N. C., a drive to Mt. Mitchell and Grove Park Inn, Asheville, N. C., and Lookout Mountain at Chattanooga, Tenn.

Legion Picnic Near Higgins On July 4

A big picnic and barbecue will be held nine miles north of Higgins on next Monday, July 4, according to announcement made public this week by the Higgins post of the American Legion, under whose auspices the big celebration is to be held.

Plans are being made to make this celebration one of the largest of its kind ever to be held in Lipscomb County. A big double header baseball game will be staged, foot races, horse races, and contests will be held. A big public speaking is also to be held.

The big barbecue at noon is the big feature attraction of the whole day, with music furnished by the Canadian band. Ten hogs, ten sheep and three beaves have been butchered and will grace the table when the barbecue is served.

Old timers from all over the panhandle of Texas and Oklahoma are expected to be at this picnic, and all are invited to come to Higgins on the 4th, and have a good time as well as renew friendship.

An admission charge of 50 cents will be made at the picnic grounds and will entitle you to the barbecue as well.

Mrs. Joe Bridges of Twin Buttes, Colorado, is visiting her sister, Mrs. C. H. Powell. She arrived in Darrouzett on Saturday.

Continued Rains Delay Harvest Damage Crops

Continued rains this week delayed the wheat harvest still further and resulted in greater damage to crops.

At best a short crop this season, the wheat yield has been cut down half because of the continued wet weather, it is estimated. Much rain has fallen thruout June.

Few carloads of new wheat have been shipped by the local elevators this year.

Farmers are anxiously awaiting sunshiny days in order to continue the interrupted harvesting.

Darrouzett Team Beats Two Teams In Sunday Game

The double-header baseball game which was played at Logan, Okla., on Sunday was won by Darrouzett team. Teams from Clearlake, Logan, and Darrouzett competed.

The local team was victorious in both games. Clearlake was beaten with a score of 12-8; and Logan with a score of 10-5.

The line-up for Darrouzett was as follows:

Catchers—George McVicker and Herbert Smith.
Pitchers—Virgil Foudray and Arnold Daily.

First Baseman—M. H. Flock.
Second Baseman—Ray T. Hennigh.
Third Baseman—Carson Altmiller.
Shortstop—Hill Redman.
Left fielder—Russell Gilger
Right Fielder—Bill Pugh
Center fielder—Keith Cross
Umpires were George Thompson and Otis Travis.

Scout Troop Plans Overnight Outing

Unless continued rainy weather prevents, Boy Scouts of the Darrouzett troop will take an overnight hike on Thursday evening of this week, according to Rev. A. Blair Grubb Scout master.

S. S. Cross Plans Lawn Party For Friday Evening

Members of the young married people's Sunday School class will enjoy a lawn party at the parsonage on Friday evening.

Rev. A. Blair Grubb will conduct the games.

What's The Use?

Dear Sir:

I am enclosing $10.20 on my account that is much past due, but wish to inform you that the present shattered condition of my bank account makes it impossible for me to send you my check in full in response to your request. My present financial condition is due to the effect of the Federal laws, State laws, County laws Incorporation laws, By-Laws, brother-in-laws, and out-laws, that have been foisted upon an unsuspecting public. Through these various laws I have been held down, held up, sat on, walked on, flattened, squeezed, and broke until I do not know what I am, where I am or why I am.

These laws compel me to pay a merchant's tax, capital tax, income tax, incorporation tax, real estate tax auto tax, light tax, water tax, cigarette tax, school tax, syntax, liquor tax and carpet tax.

In addition to these laws I am requested and required to contribute to every society and organization that the inventive mind of man can invent. Give to the society of St. John the Baptist, the Woman's Relief, Navy League, The Children's Home, the Pro-Freeman's Benefit, Jewish Society, the Dorcas society, the Y. M. C. A., Y. M. H. A., the Gold Diggers' Home, also to every hospital and charitable institution in town, the Red Cross, the Black Cross, the White Cross, the Purple Cross, the Flaming Cross and the Double Cross.

The government has governed my business so that I do not know who owns it. I am suspected, expected, inspected, disrespected, examined, re-examined, informed, required, commanded, and compelled until all I know is that I am supposed to provide an inexhaustible supply of money for every known and unknown

Pastor Returns From Theology School Tuesday

Inspiring Meeting Is Conducted By Methodists

That a most inspirational meeting was held at the ministerial training school conducted by the Oklahoma conference of the Methodist church from June 14 to 24 at Guthrie, Okla., is the view expressed by Rev. A. Blair Grubb, who attended from here.

Reverend Grubb returned to Darrouzett last Friday. Services here during his absence were conducted by Rev. Victor Johnston, Nazarene preacher from Alva.

45 Attend

Approximately 45 ministers from various charges in Oklahoma and part of Texas attended the summer institute which was held under the auspices of the commission on course of study of the Methodist Episcopal church.

Reverend Grubb has attended the school for the past three years. This summer he studied courses in Bible commentary, new studies in mystical religion, Paul and his epistles, religions of mankind, and religious values.

Officials Speak

The chief lecturers for the school were Dan B. Brummit, new editor of the Central Christian Advocate, and N. F. Forsyth, who has charge of leadership training for the Methodist Episcopal church. Horace F. Patton, Methodist pastor at Weatherford, Okla., served as dean of the school, while A. K. Fleming of Carmen acted as registrar.

Rev. J. O. Himes of Follett, Howard Wheat of Quinlan, and George Baker of Rosston, all attended the school with Reverend Grubb.

GEORGE T. RICHARDSON, EDITOR OF THE WORCHESTER (MASS) POST, SAYS:

"Now, as never before in the history of American business, intelligent, continuous and convincing advertising is essential to the business which depends for success upon the patronage of the consuming public.

"The business that has 'economized' by starving is advertising during the past two years has seen itself die of anemia. On the contrary, the businesses that have redoubled the punch of advertising appeal have usually found a gratifying response.

"Given good goods at prices in key with the times and advertising is the only medium that reaches the masses, and selling today is assured. People must eat, must be clothed, will be amused. Direct and appealing solicitation through alert advertising in the newspaper is the cheapest, the best and, in fact, the only satisfactory method of reaching the potential customer.

"IN TIMES SUCH AS THESE HAVE BEEN IN RECENT MONTHS, SELLING EFFORTS MUST BE INTENSIFIED BY THE ONLY CERTAIN METHOD KNOWN—ADVERTISING. THE BUSINESS THAT FAILS TO DO THIS WILL, SOONER OR LATER, FAIL ALSO IN BUSINESS ITSELF."

need, desire, or hope of the human race, and because I refuse to donate to all and then go out and beg, borrow or steal the money to give away, I am ousted, cussed, discussed, boycotted, talked to, talked about, lied about, held up, held down, and robbed until I am just about ruined.

The only reason that I am clinging to life at all is to see what the hell is coming next.
Yours very truly,
JOHN SMITH,

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Perry and sons went to Follett on Saturday evening.

"BONUS ARMY" STRESSES FUTILITY OF WAR-MAKING

A published photograph of the "bonus army's" encampment in Washington shows a group in front of a shack upon which are nailed signs reading: "Who won the war? We haven't won anything!" "Did the United States ever have any ragged soldiers? Not until today." "Millions for war; not one cent for hungry veterans."

To account for the sort of thinking that produces such obvious appeals we must go back to the original perversity and essential falseness of all war-making emotion.

A war is declared. At once the drums beat, the flags stream in the streets and the machinery of raising an army is under way. By draft or enlistment the young men of the country are drawn into the exciting maelstrom.

They are told they are heroes, saviors not only of their own country but of civilization. They are raised from their common walks in life to something akin to Sir George of Sir Galahad. Nothing is too good for them, for their government has a hazardous and woefully tedious job for them to do.

The war is over. Those who return come back to the dull insignificance of their former lives. But a dislocation has occurred. Even the dullest must feel the disproportion between the former adulation and plaudits which they had known and the stagnant round of their less heroic days.

What they fail to recognize is that all war making is based on just these same fictitious appeals and that were they given sharper perceptions they would discern the underlying and purposeful hokum that no government can in times of stress forego.

It is to avoid such a plight as the world now finds itself in, bowed down under the crushing weight of military expenditures, mortgaged ahead for war benefits, apprehensive of future wars, that such organizations as the League of Nations and the World Court have been formulated. It is to them that we must look for surseance from the shocking illustration and insanity of war.

That the United States is a member of neither is a commentary on the littleness of what passes for statesmanship.

—New York World-Telegram, June 10, 1932.

BREATH UPON THE WINDOW

If you are not on hand to hear a radio broadcast at the moment it is given, can you "turn back" the radio and pick up the report when you want it?

No. But if you are not at liberty to read a newspaper the minute it is issued, the newspaper is available for your instant use at any time you want to pick it up.

If an important speaker gives a statistical report over the radio can you "turn back" the radio in order to compare the speaker's closing statement with his opening statement?

No, but your eye can compare the last paragraph of a newspaper's report of a public address with the paper's report of the speaker's opening remarks.

If you are listening to something you want to hear over the radio, and neighbors drop in, can you ask them to wait until the broadcast is over, before you receive them?

Or if the baby screams, or something boils over on the stove, can you holler at the announcer to "Wait!" while you investigate the baby or take the pot off the stove?

No, you cannot. But you can lay down your newspaper when a domestic emergency arises. You can attend to the duty required of you, return to your paper, and resume reading where you left off.

Can you file a radio talk for reference? Can you refer at will to information gained over the radio? Can you accurately quote from memory what you have just heard over the radio, even five minutes after you have heard it?

Does your mind absorb data vocally given as rapidly as the next man's?

No, No, NO! Dozens of Nos to all these questions.

The newspaper will continue to serve, as it always has served, every citizen's need for a stable source of information and knowledge. It is readily available, it may be preserved for record, it may be referred to, taken up and put down, at will. It may be glanced at or pondered over. The section you wish may be singled out when and as you wish it.

Radios were originally designed for entertainment, and as a successor to the talking machine in providing music in the home.

It ably fulfills these purposes, but as an advertising media, as a news source, it is as breath upon the window—here this minute, then gone, FOREVER.—Courier, Orosi, California.

Beautifulizing your home town is a proposition of years. Beauty won't spring up everywhere in a month or two.

The young people may be experimenting with life but they don't know that sometimes experiments are dangerous.

If newspaper readers took all the advice being offered in the many columns being printed they would be crazy in less than a week.

LOST—STOLEN—MISSING

The following unique notice was recently affixed to a church door in England:

"MISSING—Last Sabbath, some families from church.

"STOLEN—Several hours from the Lord's Day, by a number of people of different ages, dressed in their Sunday clothes.

"STRAYED—Half a score of lambs, believed to have gone in the direction of "No Sabbath School."

"MISLAID—A quantity of silver and copper coins on the counter of a public house, the owner being in a great state of excitement.

"WANTED—Several young people. When last seen were walking in pairs up Sabbath-breaking Lane.

"LOST—A lad carefully reared; not long from home, and for a time very promising. Supposed to have gone with one or two older companions to Prodigal Town, Husk Lane.

"ANY person, assisting in the recovery of the above, shall in no wise lose his reward."

This unique way of stating an old truth, with which we are all familiar at least serves the purpose of making us stop to think. But will we do anything more about it? Will we do something?

THE TWO KEYS

By Arthur B. Rhinow

The gentleman in charge of the safe deposit vault showed me how to open the little compartments containing the tin boxes with the valuables of the depositors.

"It takes two keys to open each compartment," he explained, "the guard key and the depositor's key. Neither the guard key alone nor the depositor's key alone can open the lock. The first turn is made by the guard key and the last turn by the depositor's key. Then, without any magical sesame, the lock opens."

Interesting, very interesting; not only to locksmiths, depositors, bank presidents, and the public in general, but also to me. And I pondered on. There are two keys to success.

FAVORITE RECIPES

By Doris E. Montgomery

CHEESE TOAST

4 slices bread
½ cup milk
¼ cup grated cheese
Salt and red pepper to taste
Remove crusts from bread and fry a delicate brown in hot fat. Remove from fat and place in warm milk until moist. Cover with grated cheese. Sprinkle on the salt and red pepper and bake five minutes in a hot oven. Serve at once.

STUFFED ONIONS

six medium sized onions
six tablespoons bread crumbs
salt and pepper
½ cup nut meats
boiling water to moisten
Remove outer skins of onions and parboil ten minutes. Remove inside with fork or spoon. Chop fine; put in saucepan and mix with crumbs, nuts and seasoning and one tablespoon butter. Moisten with boiling water and cook five minutes. Have a creamy substance rather than wet. Refill shells, sprinkle with buttered crumbs over top and brown in oven.

One is in your possession. Your diligence, perseverance, and thrift will go far toward opening the lock to the treasure chamber of success. But another key is necessary, the key that represents the power that rules the universe. If you only depend upon your own will and power, the results of your efforts will give you thrills but not satisfaction. You must work in harmony with the Almighty to achieve true success. Your key must co-operate with God's key. When your will is attuned to God's will, you are bound to be a success, no matter how much the world may rate you as a failure.

"Ora et Labora" is an old Latin proverb, meaning Pray and Work. Not work alone nor pray alone, but prayer and work. Work alone, without God, makes us selfish in greed and pride; and prayer alone ends in religious sentimentality. Prayer and work are the two keys to a healthy success.

We favor progress in ideas, but don't drop the good ones you know for a few half-baked new ones.

The United States is entirely too big for the people of any state, or city, to think that the republic revolves about it.

Church people are not worrying much about what street-corner loafers think about the habit of going to church.

When you hear a man raving about a tomato and lettuce sandwich, you know some woman has been fooling with his eating.

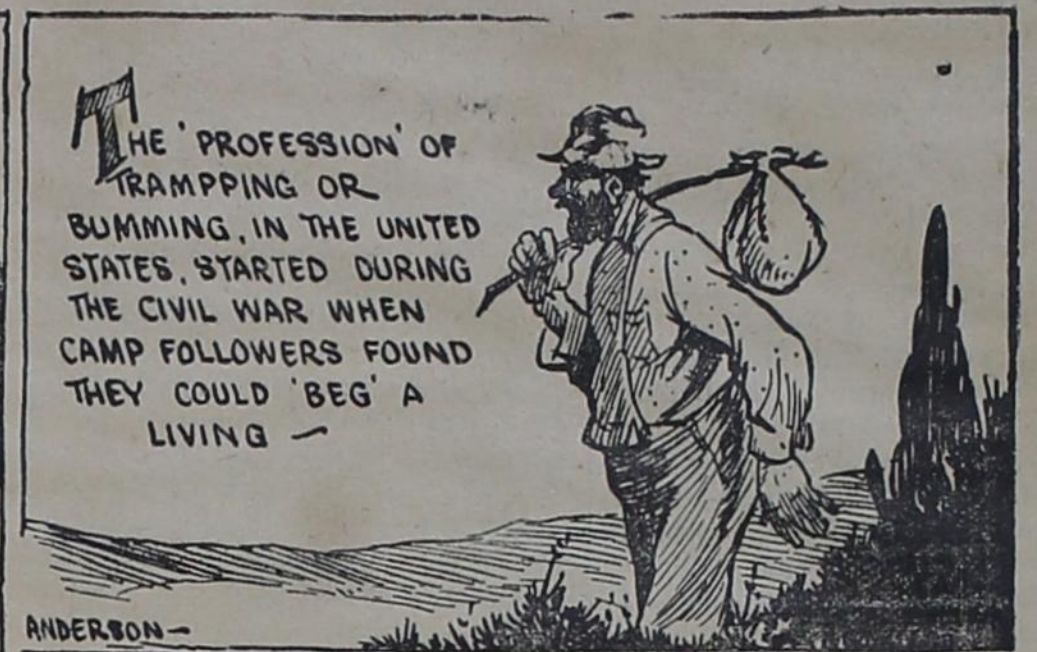

Speaking about pollyanna people did you ever hear a man running for office telling the people how much he thinks about them.

Quality of people, not number, is what counts in a city or county; the same observation is equally true of newspaper circulation.

The Livestock Situation

During these times when we all are thinking about the elimination of waste, I know of no more profitable field for operation than in connection with the wool clip of California and other Western states, which is now going very largely in the grease to New England factories and paying freight on about 60 percent of waste between the original fleece and scoured wool.

California stands second largest in lamb production and third largest in production of wool—more than 7 percent of the total wool clip of the United States comes from West of the Rocky Mountains and practically the entire production goes to eastern or southern textile plants, the manufactured articles shipped back into the western state to supply the needs of nearly twelve million persons.

There is a continued shifting of population from eastern to western states. Naturally manufactured and trade conditions must be adjusted accordingly.

Here is a tremendous industry within our grasp and one of great economic importance to the western states; it seems reasonable that we may at least go so far as to create storage, pulling and scouring facilities. Under present conditions the grading of wool (seven commercial grades) is accomplished after several thousand miles of transportation, and wool seems to be the one big production that is not graded near the source. We have found it advantageous to grade at or near the source our fruits and vegetables, field, dairy poultry and farm products to the benefit of the grower or producer. Why not Wool?

Manifestly it is more economical to transport the scoured product to the point of manufacture than to ship the raw material with the 60 percent of waste. Furthermore it is not beyond reasonable expectations that considerable part of the western clip might be utilized in manufacturing at least the things that we wear and use, shipping the graded and scoured wool or the manufactured products to the east, and we also have the advantage of foreign markets easily available from the ports of the Pacific. There is no overproduction of wool, in fact we import about 50 percent of our annual requirements.

In this instance we may well profit by the principle laid down by the first laws of New England where the settlers were required to raise a certain number of sheep and to make up into cloth enough of the wool to furnish warm clothing during the winter months for the use of those hardy pioneers and their families.

The wool growers of the western states have accomplished much in improving the fleece and working out economies of great benefit to the industry as a whole, but until we shape ourselves to handle the clip along economical lines the industry will continue to be unduly burdened. Small textile plants have been located in some of the western states—some successful—others unsuccessful; but what has been done is a very slight gesture towards an enormous project of great potentialities. Improper management and lack of sufficient capital are the two elements which have determined the destiny of such activities. Wool represents one of our greatest undeveloped resources and apparently holds out big possibilities to labor and capital under proper leadership.

We should keep in mind that there is no real prosperity to be had by placing an undue burden in transportation or otherwise upon any person or business—an expansion and development of our natural resources results beneficially to the country as a whole.

During nine months federal taxes on tobacco amounted to more than $333,071,486. So it seems that some of the money that "goes up in smoke" finds a resting place at Washington.

On Texas Farms

By W. H. Darrow

Extension Service Editor

If Texas continues to develop as a farm-fed cattle state it is not improbable that future historians will give 4-H club boys the credit of forcing the change. Seasoned stock men are already saying it.

Ten years ago a mere handful of boys were feeding baby heeves. Farmers regarded it as a agent fad. In recent years the big livestock shows of the state have had a hundred of well finished club calves on exhibit where formerly a score or two constituted the showing.

Copying the club boys, farmers have gone feeding calves for themselves. It has graduated from kid stuff to a respected farm enterprise. The collapse of prices has helped instead of hindered the move, for even with low priced beef, beef calves have provided a better market for farm feed than cash market.

Club boys hasn't done it all, by any means, but by steady plugging they have charted the way for others in the calf feeding business. In the meantime a change has taken place in the demonstration of the boys. Instead of feeding one animal they have been finishing two three and five, and even fifteen to twenty calves.

In 1931 there were 801 beef calves finished by 535 club boys who made a total profit of about $12. per animal. This represents the premium the calves brought their owners for the farm feed consumed.

What the results of the feeding year completed the past spring will be, no one yet knows, but a fair example may be that reported from Hockley county where boys and girls made average profits of about $7 a piece on 61 beef calves fed, not including $165 received in premiums.

Olo Woods spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Woods.

George Russell went to Beaver on Monday.

Livestock Producers

(Continued From Front Page) made in the last days of the loan period and thousands of deserving borrowers were not able to get their application in before the period for making application was terminated," the committee report said.

"Of the $50,000,000 originally made available to farmers, and later increased to $85,000,000, only $3,500,000 or less than 4 per cent of the total, has been used in Texas, Arizona, and New Mexico, while these states produce about 20 per cent of the annual agricultural wealth of the nation."

"The local loan advisory committees, which already have done a splendid service in getting information to the farmers, will be able to give prospective borrowers additional data as soon as this legislation is approved by the President," said the Governor.

"Many a farmer, discouraged from seeking a loan last April because of the drouth, now has prospects for making a crop, and will be greatly benefitted by aid from the government. This contact committee deserves the highest praise and commendation from the people of Texas for extraordinary service in the common welfare."

Should Our Farmers Sell or Hold Wheat?

"The answer to the question of whether to sell wheat direct from the machine or to hold for a better price is shrouded with mystery," says the Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman as the big movement of wheat in Oklahoma and Texas is getting under way.

"The answer to the question will depend in part upon the actions of a very uncertain congress. It will depend likewise upon the policy of the federal reserve bank and other agencies which have it within their means to expand our currency, or to put more money into circulation.

"Naturally the price of wheat will depend upon the day-to-day prospects of production in every wheat-producing country in the northern hemisphere. If a reduction of some 200,000,000 bushels of wheat in the United States should be accompanied by another short crop in Canada and continued poor conditions in Russia, the ground work at least will be laid for a sharp upturn in price."

Continuing, the Farmer-Stockman points out that it did not pay to hold wheat the last three years, a fact that will be pretty certain to influence the vast majority of wheat growers to sell from the thresher and combine. Wheat will pour into the elevators. It will be a buyers market. It may be that this will be the fourth year when it will pay to sell wheat at harvest time. It may not.

It is also pointed out that if left alone the price of wheat would probably have made a rather sharp upturn in late May. As it was, wheat did well to hold its own while the prices of other commodities were breaking sharply. In fact, the price of wheat for the last year has made a good account for itself, due largely to the fact that the Stabilization Corporation was carrying the larger share of the surplus.

Anvil Park Rodeo Is Taking Form Quickly

Canadian, Texas, June 30th—Rapid progress is being made in the preliminary arrangements of the 10th Annual Anvil Park Rodeo, to be held here July 20-22. The stock is being rounded up, grained and conditioned for this yearly occasion.

Flying hoofs—swirling ropes—dare-devil riders—speed—bucking broncs—twisting steers—bawling calves.

And over it all the romantic atmosphere of a bygone day in old-time Texas Panhandle—a day when the round-up became a Rodeo, and when the top cowhands of the country side vied in the spectacular sports of the frontier.

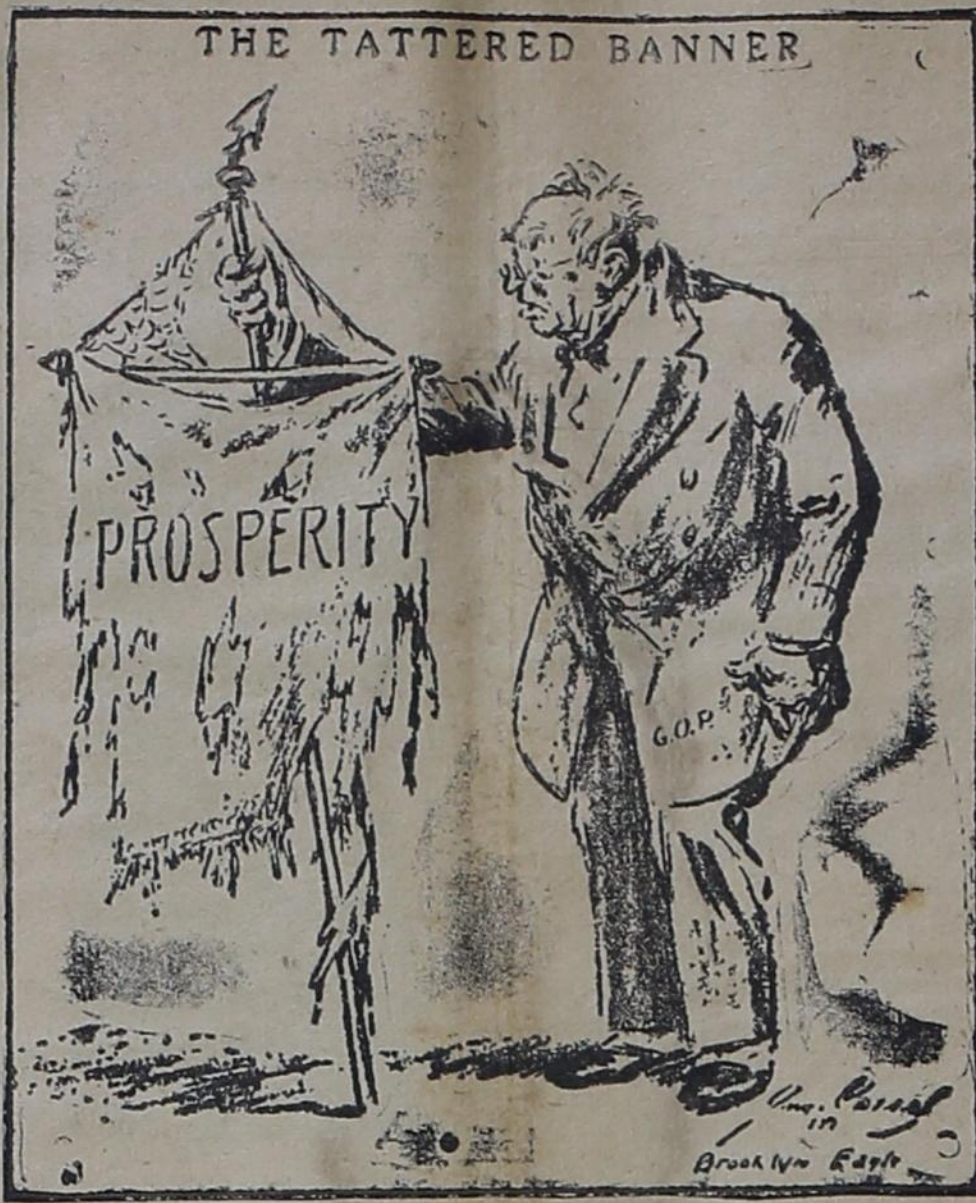

This will be the setting for the Anvil Park Rodeo, the premier show of the Panhandle.

And what a Rodeo it will be! It is a recognized affair, and brings to Canadian the foremost contenders in the rodeo game.

One of the greatest measurements of a good rodeo is the choice of stock used in the riding and roping events. Here again the Anvil Park Rodeo will be outstanding, because the association has its own stock and by a process of elimination has taken out all undesirable stock and today have one of the foremost bucking strings in the Southwest.

The choice of the rough bucking horses, and cattle will be used in this show. Some of the broncs used in the string have never been successfully ridden according to the rules of the game.

The association has its own string of Brahma cattle, and have gathered together the wildest Bucking Brahma steers, which means that there will not be much loafing on the part of the boys who plan to ride these hump-backed, across sections of devilment.

Texas Weekly Industrial Review

The following record of industrial activity lists items showing investment of capital, employment of labor and business activities and opportunities. Information from which the paragraphs are prepared is from local papers, usually from towns mentioned, and may be considered generally correct.

COMMERCE—"Commerce Journal" installed $8,000 press recently.

TIMFOS—$150,000 worth of highway improvement being made on high ways leading from this city.

PLAINVIEW—W. B. Smith, El Dorado, Ark., received $89,750 contract for construction of new post office here.

AUSTIN—New state office building, to cost $500,000, being built here.

PAINT ROCK—$10,000 Baptist church edifice under construction here.

JOHNSON CITY—Interior of W. E. Stevenson Store building being remodeled.

SHERMAN—Commander Larabee Corp. of Minneapolis, Minn., purchased G. B. R. Smith Mill Company.

TIMPSON—New shipping shed under construction here.

All the events will not be the straight cow and man competitions however, as the West's finest riding and roping talent have been acquired for the special exhibitions. As these trick riders tear across the arena, the crowds will rise in their seats in applause, as they have distinguished themselves in that company for years.

No show is complete without its entertainment features. The worlds leading cowboy entertainer will be strutting his stuff in the arena between events. Among others will be Red Sublette, and his pinto mule, which sometimes seems to know more than his master, both expert mirth provokers.

The "non-pareil" announcer, Floyd Studer of Amarillo will be here again this year to inform the public of the progress of the show.

Interest over the entire Southwest is focused on the great Anvil Park Rodeo, because of the previous shows and the success acclaimed them.

Rodeo performances will be held each afternoon beginning July 20th.

Travel Bureau Does Much For Tourists

Denver, Colo., June 30—Business may not be all that it should be, and there are no doubt a few who are still hoarding their money "in the old sock," but such conditions do not alter the fact that hundreds of thousands of Americans citizens are daily turning up the old bus—or a new, shiny one—for a long vacation trek to the mountains, lake resort or sea shore.

That is the report of the Conoco Travel Bureau, maintained in Denver for the purpose of extending free service to motor travelers throughout North America. Nearly 110,000 vacation trips have been planned by this organization so far this year, and that number is expected to increase considerably before the close of the summer vacation season.

Incidentally, the Conoco Travel Bureau, which is maintained by the Conset a record for trip services, according to E. S. Karstedt, vice-president. "This fact might be attributed both to the growing popularity of this free travel service and to an improvement in general business conditions to the point where Mr. and Mrs. Average Citizen have been convinced that they can afford an annual vacation trip," said Mr. Karstedt.

"The service extended by the Conoco Travel Bureau is of wide general value, aside from the direct benefit to the motorist," Mr. Karstedt pointed out, "in that it encourages motorists to stop and shop throughout the country, and because a large staff of workers have been enlisted from the ranks of the unemployed to handle this service to travelers.

"At the headquarters of the Conoco Travel Bureau in Denver, a staff of 160 persons is maintained at this time, marking state road maps for individual vacation trips, and supplying innumerable pieces of literature devoted to scenic spots throughout the country. Of this staff, more than 100 persons have been employed during the past month, and the peak of the travel will not be reached before July 20. This staff of workers does not include the thousands of Conoco employees who serve the motorists at the more than 8,000 branches of the bureau throughout the country—wherever the Conoco red triangle is displayed.

Established in the spring of 1930, the Conoco Travel Bureau set about to provide a free travel service that would really be of an aid to the motorists, not only in helping him in planning his vacation or business trip, by providing road maps and literature devoted to major scenic attractions, but also to aid him en route by supplying tourist camp and information, checking parcels, and genuine and comfort of his tour.

During the first year of the Conoco Travel Bureau's operation slightly more than 26,000 such trips were planned for motorists. With the view to constantly improving its service, new features were added, and this service was advertised in newspapers throughout the country, with the result that more than 67,000 motorists called upon the bureau to plan motor vacations during 1931. Success of the 1931 season prompted the bureau to prepare to serve an even greater number of tourists this year. It was fortunate that plans were made in advance, for the opening of the travel season saw an avalanche of requests for trip service that by June 10 had nearly reached 73,000, and this number was increased to over 100,000 by June 20.

Anyone who travels by motor car is eligible to call upon the Conoco Travel Bureau for free trip service, regardless of the route covered or the or the route to be covered. Trips actually planned by the bureau this year covered every state and province in North America, and ranged from 500 to 10,000 miles, while the average is approximately 3,500 miles each. Using this average as a basis, and considering that about 110,000 trips have been planned, it is estimated that motor cars "travelling the Conoco way" will have covered 385,000,000 miles by the time these vacation trips come to an end.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Taylor spent Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. Taylor's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Taylor.

Oscar Taylor spent Saturday evening and Sunday with Markley Woods.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Mosley and son, Lloyd, and Margaret Hutton went to Borger on Monday evening. They visited Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Powell.

Well, as far as we can make out, they are still trying to decide the prohibition wrangle with hot air.

The extent of the intelligence of some men can be gauged by their thought that a historian may be human.

If a five dollar bill got into the church collection you would have to call the doctors to treat the astonished observers.

Some curiously affected individuals express their regard and affection by criticizing and scolding. Strange as you may think it is, it's true.
