

Personally Speaking

By E. M.

There are tragedies and tragedies but one of the briefest and most tragic is the one I read recently in a high school paper. Here it is. If you have tears, prepare to shed them now.

Act I. Two Toreadors and one bull. Act II. One toreador and one bull. Act III. One bull (the big brute!)

I'm sure that you have the water works turned on by now and are weeping a perfect Niagara on this sheet so we'll talk about something more pleasant.

Let's see now—in spring people's fancies usually turn to flower gardens and moonlight nights. At the present a great many people in town are especially concerned with gardens. Nearly every home boasts a flower garden or numerous flower beds.

It is interesting to note that a great many flowers and ornamental shrubs have economic value as well as decorative value. We find a great number of plants that are commonly grown only for ornamentation grown by specialists in the manufacture of commercial drugs.

Seeds of the poplar and showy larkspur produce an extract known as tincture of larkspur which is used in the control of body parasites.

Even the lowly dandelion on which gardeners wage bitter war each spring has an important use in the manufacture of a diaphoretic. Natives of certain states also use the leaves to make an intoxicating wine.

The castor bean plant which is much used as an ornamental shrub has an important economic value. Over two million bushels of castor beans were imported into the United States in 1926 at approximately $1.80 a bushel. Aside from the medicinal value, the oil from the seed is used extensively for lubricating oil for airplanes and similar motors.

Mints have a variety of uses. Menthol crystals for the cure of colds and asthmatic conditions are also derived from these mints. Spearmint is also used for flavoring.

Calendulas or false marigolds and American saffron are all valuable for coloring matter. The orange pistillate flowers of the saffron are worth their weight in silver as a vegetable dye.

Even the common blue flag has a commercial use. The underground stem is used in the manufacture of cathartics and emetics.

The shower purple fox love found in so many gardens produces an important medicine, tincture of digitalis, which is used as a heart regulator and a tonic. The preparation is made from the leaves which are gathered at the time the plant is in bloom.

A certain variety of the poppy is grown for the purpose of obtaining opium, morphine, and allied drugs. After the petals fall, the milky juice from the receptacle of the flower is secured and dried.

Altho violets were formerly used in the manufacture of a "cure-all", their cultivation at the present is solely for decorative purposes.

These are but a few of the many ornamental flowers that are important in the drug world.

Unsettled Weather Strikes Town This Week

Doubts that spring had really come were expressed on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week when a cold wave struck the community. The temperature was only four degrees above freezing on Wednesday morning.

The weather has been very unsettled for the past few days.

Rain fell early Saturday morning; a dust storm and a high cold wind raged on Saturday and Sunday.

Monday proved a spring day again; then the cold wave came. A heavy rain fell early Wednesday morning, and another during Wednesday night.

Large Crowd Sees New Ford V-8 On Display Monday

A large crowd gathered at the R. E. James Motor Company on Monday to view the new Ford V-8 deluxe tudor sedan that was being demonstrated here.

A number of people were also taken riding in the new Ford on Tuesday morning. From here the car was taken to Gate, Okla. However, Darrouzett was the last place on the demonstration tour sponsored by the Ford Motor Co., as the automobile is to remain at Gate.

Plans are being made by the local Ford agency to secure new Fords for sale as soon as possible.

Local Students Gain No Places But Experience

Six Represent School At District Meet

No places but a great deal of experience was gained by the six Darrouzett students who participated in the Interscholastic League district meet at Canyon last Friday and Saturday.

Those who went from here were Alberta Reger and Oklahoma Tingley, girl debaters; Nina Martin and O. C. Elfers, extemporaneous speakers; Lewis Woods, who entered 880 yard run; and Russell Giger, broad jump contestant.

The students were accompanied by Mrs. Henry Frass, Jr., J. E. Speer, and Fred Mullings.

A summary of the meet that appeared in THE AMARILLO DAILY NEWS is given below:

CANYON, April 22.—A gale of dust stifled the last day of the District Interscholastic League meet here, forcing complete loss of gate receipts in the track meet but not dimming the ardor of the contestants.

The boys battled against the high wind on Buffalo field, the girls' tennis and volleyball matches continued in indoor courts in the college gymnasium; and literary activities were pursued in the college classrooms.

Debate finals are being held tonight in the college auditorium.

Cazzell High Point Man

Amarillo took first place in the track meet with a total of 37 points. Les Cazzell was high point man with 15 points, taking first place in each of the three events he entered. Farwell was second with 20 points; Pamp third with 19.

An Amarillo girl, Annette Powell, won first place in the tennis singles. The Panhandle team of Barbara Hawkins and Ruth Crum took first in doubles.

John Robertson of Lariat captured first in boys' singles; Erving White and Harrell Cannon of Amarillo second.

Canyon Wins In Art

The Friona girls volleyball team was winner.

Winner of two other contests were announced. They were district contests and will not be a part of the state finals.

In the art contest, one school furnished the winners. Phyllis Albers and Dora Miller, both of Palo Duro School at Canyon, won first and second places.

Perryton was high point school.

Home Economics

In the home economics contests the following were winners:

Clothing: First, Thalia Pearson, Perryton; second, Kitty Ruth Lawler, Stratford; third, Tina Mae Wright Dimmitt; fourth, Katherine Sealy, Spearman.

Foods: First, Winnie Mae Ison, Perryton; Tommie Mae Hogland, Perryton; third, Frankie Pendergraft, Spearman; fourth, Gertrude Barkley, Spearman.

In essay writing winners were:

Class A: First, Carrie Coffee, Amarillo; second, Mary Prien. Class B: first, Leona Bozarth, Follett; second, Helen Martin, Groom. Ward school: first, Mary Alice Wilson, McLean; second, Sybil York, Panhandle.

Mrs. Walter Messner returned from Waynoka, Oklahoma, on Sunday. She has been visiting her brother, Ivan Lawson, and Mrs. Lawson.

Clean-Up Time

Trip To Palo Duro Canyons Is Interesting To Students

A trip to the Palo Duro canyons near Canyon, Texas, proved one of the most interesting phases of the Interscholastic League meet last week-end in the opinion of the six students and two faculty members who went from here.

The group consisting of Oklahoma Tingley, Alberta Reger, Nina Martin, Russell Gilger, Lewis Woods, O. C. Elfers, Supt. J. E. Speer, and Fred Mullings made the trip to the canyons on Friday afternoon.

They especially enjoyed climbing about the rocks and exploring the canyons. A considerable amount of rugged climbing in and around among the rocks was required to reach the bottom, the group reported.

At the bottom the climbers found very large sandstone boulders that had fallen from the tops of the cliffs. They also saw a tiny stream that trickled out of a crevice in a large rock.

The party found that trip back even more rough than the descent. Several of the girls insisted that they had reached the top long before they actually got there. Several times the party was obliged to stop to empty sand out of shoes.

Finally arriving at the rim of the canyon, the explorers found themselves with scuffed shoes, skinned knees, bruised arms and enormous appetites. The latter misfortune was promptly remedied by a picnic supper held on the rim.

Another interesting sight was the visit to the geology museum at the West Texas State Teachers' College, the group reported.

Here they saw the skull of a mastodon which had been dug up a year or two ago near Amarillo. The tusk of the animal was nine feet long, while the eye-sockets were approximately ten inches in diameter. The group also saw a number of old relics formerly owned by the Goodnight ranch. The collection included old saddles, bridles, ironed irons, Indian bows and arrows, blankets, and papoose cradles.

Jelly Jar Vases Painted By Art Class

Vases painted and decorated by the seventh grade art class in a recent project under the direction of Miss Elsie Montgomery will form an important part of the seventh grade exhibit to be held as part of the P. T. A. meeting on Wednesday afternoon, May 11.

The students have painted approximately thirty vases. They have used jelly jars, vinegar jars and similar objects for the vases. The vases have been painted blue, black, green, gray, red. A number of them have been decorated with gold dust; designs have been applied to some; while in still others, two shades of paint have been blended.

Ice Cream Social Planned Saturday By Womens' Order

An ice cream social to be held from one to six o'clock on Saturday afternoon April 30, at the Ladies Aid workroom on main street will take the place of the usual monthly food sale, according to Mrs. A. Blare Grubb, president of the society.

Cake, and ice cream, in cones and dishes, will be for sale, Mrs. Grubb said.

S. F. Cross Buys Merchandise Stock Of Hennigh's Store

The stock of merchandise in Hennigh's store was sold and the building and fixtures leased to S. F. Cross of McCloud, Okla., in a business transaction on Monday, according to R. D. Hennigh, present proprietor.

Mr. Cross will take possession of the property on May 9. Mr. and Mrs. Cross who have been visiting here for the past 10 days, left Tuesday morning for McCloud where they will finish business matters and prepare to move to Darrouzett.

Mr. Hennigh and his family will remain living in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Cross are very well known in this community.

Mrs. Cross is the daughter of Mrs. John Beck and the sister of M. L. Beck. Mr. Cross has been in the mercantile business at Logan and Sunset, Okla., and at Follett. He also operated a store here when the town was first established.

P. T. A. Postpones Farewell Party Honoring Faculty

Postponement of the farewell party to be given the faculty by the P. T. A. has been announced by Mrs. A. Blair Grubb of the program committee.

The affair will be held at 6:30 next Friday night, May 6, according to Mrs. Grubb. The postponement was made because of illness and disagreeable weather this week.

People in the community are to bring covered dishes for the supper. Games will be played outdoors.

Various selections will be given by the band; while R. D. Hennigh will give a talk expressing the appreciation of the community for the work of the teachers.

Election of officers for the P. T. A. or the coming year will also be held at the meeting.

Many Legionnaires Attend Tri-State Rally At Perryton

The Tri-State Legion Rally held in Perryton on Sunday and Monday was considered a big success by the local post in charge of the affair, and despite the rain drew an attendance of nearly 225 Legionnaires and Auxiliary members from the three states, Kansas, Oklahoma, and Texas.

A splendid convention program was held, all of the meetings being thrown open to the public. All of the sessions were well attended.

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Messner are visiting in Oklahoma City and Norman, Oklahoma. They plan to return on Sunday.

BENEDICTION

Everyone in the community is urged to participate in the special local service held in connection with the thirty-first delegated General Conference of the Methodist Church which convenes in Atlantic City, N. J., on Monday morning, May 2.

According to a special bulletin issued by the church "Grave issues confront this deliberative assembly of our great Church, bringing together 850 delegates from 40 foreign lands and from all sections of our own United States. It is highly fitting that, in our Sunday worship, we should remember our Methodist world fellowship."

"The nature of the times and the particular stage at which we have arrived in the life of the Church lay upon our delegates heavy responsibilities. Let us join with them in prayers of the General Conference and for the Church. At home and abroad the Church is a world Christian fellowship."

Appreciative Group Present At Recital

A small but appreciative audience attended the piano and stringed instrument recital presented on Saturday night under the direction of Mrs. A. Blair Grubb and E. J. Stranske, music teachers.

Several of the numbers previously announced were omitted because students were ill or could not be present. Numbers given included the following:

Rush; "The Home Over There," Hawaiian guitar solo, Rachel Littau; "Drifting," solo, Opal Lourwood; "The Big Brown Bear," vocal solo sung by Mrs. J. T. Mosley, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Grubb;

Some Suggestions On Spring Cleaning

Some good suggestions for a spring home-cleaning campaign come from Sitllwater, Okla., the home of the Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical College. They follow:

"Because the first impression of the kind of family that lives in a house is gained from the condition of the porches and immediate dooryard, the entrances are good places to start the home clean-up campaign.

"Because of the lack of storage space in many homes, it is necessary to utilize some of the porch space for storage. This, of course, results in a crowded and unsightly appearance.

"Check over all the things that are now on the porch and see which should be eliminate entirely and which may be stored in an outbuilding or cave.

"Window washing and the scrubbing of woodwork and floors might follow as a means of insuring cleanliness and complete renovation before outdoor work requires so much time and attention that the house will be neglected for several months. A thorough cleaning now will make routine housework easier and better throughout the summer."

Who Is A Friend?

I will tell you. He is a person whom you dare to be yourself. Your soul can go naked with him. He seems to ask of you to put on nothing, only to be what you are. He does not want you to be better of worse. You do not have to be on your guard. You can say what you think, so long as it is genuinely you.

He understands those contradictions in your nature that leads others to misjudge you. You can avoid your little vanities and envies and absurdities and in opening them up to him they are lost, dissolved on the white ocean of his loyalty.

He understands you do not have to be careful. You can abuse him, tolerate him. It makes no matter. He likes you. He is like fire that purges all you do. He is like water that cleans all you say. He is like wine that warms you to the bone. He understands you.

You can weep with him, pray with him. Through and underneath it all he sees, knows and loves you.

A friend, I repeat, is one with whom you dare to be yourself, and whom you can trust.—Author Unknown.

IN MY IMAGINATION

By Mildred Crabtree Speer

One day
I am a queen;
I hold riches and power
In my hands.
I wear each day
Robes of royal purple,
And lovely jewels.
I am gracious;
Sacrificing my own desires
For the good of my people.

Another day
I am a soldier
With eyes set straight ahead
And proud mien;
I walk by crowds
To stirring martial music;
I lie in mud at night;
Eat moulding food;
I all but die on a bloody field
To give my country life.

There follows other days when
I am a doctor
Relieving pain and sickness;
A lawyer
Fighting for the weak;
A governmental official
Bearing the cares of
Our bold nation;
Sometimes a social butterfly
Bathing in pleasures' pool.

But in reality
I am a mother:
Washing, clothing, and feeding
A warm body;
Seeing a smile
Break through storms of bright tears;
Holding a dear body close
To heal a hurt;
Realizing the ambition of
All humanity—king or fool.

COMPARISONS

Comparisons may be odious but—

If Texas had as many United States senators to the square mile as does Rhode Island, it would be sending 490 men to the upper house of the national congress, all the rest of the county could elect Republican senators and it wouldn't make any difference, and the depression would be over for Washington hotels.

On the other hand, were Texas as thickly populated as Rhode Island, it would support 169,063,031 people—a population greater than all the United States and the equivalent of the combined population of Canada, Czechoslovakia, England, Finland, France, Germany, and Portugal.

And here's a comparison for which we are indebted to the Louisville Enterprise: "If all the politicians in Texas were laid end to end—that would be a good thing."

SHORT WORDS

There are long words and short words, more of the short than the long, and it is to the use of the short words that the English language seems to run. Not long ago, a group chose what to them were the big words in common life, and they were all short words.

Take that outside of us, the mystery of the world, how it all falls into the span of short words: sky—star—sun—earth—air—rain—snow—tree—grass—water—grow. And the things more near us in the way of life—that word "life" itself! man—woman—child—food—drink—fire—home—love—work—play.

The things of the spirit, all said in short words: faith—hope—fear—grace—strong—weak—wonder.

And then those two infinitely decisive words—Yes—No.

MOST of them words of one syllable, too. Even "syllable" might have been written "part."—Dearborn Independent.

NINE REASONS FOR GOING TO CHURCH

FIRST. Action of mind upon mind is a recognized principle in psychology. As a mob easily turns to mob violence, and an army to unparalleled deeds of patriotism, so a body of worshippers ascends unscaled spiritual heights.

SECOND. Regularity in any worthwhile undertaking is most desirable; and by virtue of a recognized holy day, adjustment of industry, schools, and government thereto, regularity naturally means weekly. Certainly nothing less would be adequate.

THIRD. It creates public opinion therefore so that the week, the young and the vacillating are directed into a helpful practice.

FOURTH. It secures the service of a good habit. By it the work of the Kingdom is promoted through the church more than any other line of church activity, advancing Sundayschool attendance, finance, evangelism and Christian leadership.

FIFTH. It is a natural outreach of the inner life after satisfaction of a constitution life-hunger; and is universally available.

SIXTH. It is always an open sesame where religion's endeavor finds new fields of creative thought and spiritual companionship.

SEVENTH. It creates and nourishes that sacred inner motive without which good work lose their meaning and content.

EIGHTH. Without stipulated financial requirement, social standing or racial exclusions, it is the most powerful stimulant toward democracy.

NINTH. Being the supreme art, public worship is the noblest form of culture of any single practice known to mankind, and opens the door into unlimited activities where native capacity gets its best opportunity for self-development.

FAVORITE RECIPES

By Doris E. Montgomery

Sandwiches are a food that is appropriate for many occasions—lunch dinner, parties, teas, and picnics.

In spreading the bread of the sandwich with butter, it is much better to cream the butter by whipping it with a fork until it is soft and easy to spread.

Below are given two sandwich recipes which will prove economical as well as good.

CHEESE SANDWICHES

1 cup mayonnaise or cream
½ teaspoon dry mustard or butter
½ teaspoon paprika
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ cup chopped onions
Cream the cheese; mix well with mayonnaise, mustard, paprika, and salt. Cream well; add onions. Cut bread thin; spread butter and lettuce leaf on bread.

"DATE" SANDWICHES

½ cup raisins
8 tablespoons water
Wash prunes and raisins, and chop fine. Add water, and cream with a spoon until it is a smooth mass. Spread on thin slice of bread with lettuce leaf.

Incidents from our trip to district meet at Canyon:

On the way to Canyon one of the boys had to ride in the rumble seat of Mr. Speer's car. Mr. Speer gave him his 22 pistol and a full box of cartridges, and told him they would stop for everything he killed. The student shot up the box of cartridges but they never had to stop.

Mr. Mullings drove up to a filling station at Canyon and asked if he could get his gas tank filled on time. The man looked him over and asked him what kind of security he could give and what part of Arkansas he was from.

Mr. Speer stopped in Pampa for a shave. The whole burg was enthused over the new Ford which was in town. The barber started telling Mr. Speer what a pick up it had (and scraped down one side of his face.) He said it would turn corners 80 miles an hour (and circled his chin.) He said it would pass anything on the road (and whizzed past his ear and down the other side of his face.) He said the brakes were good. Just then he stopped and told Mr. Speer he owed him 40 cents and to hurry up for the new Ford sure was peppy. Mr. Speer said if the new Ford was as close as the shave, he wouldn't have one because you couldn't get in it.

The remainder of the pupils noticed O. C. complaining about these being so many museums in the college exactly alike. Come to find out, he had got turned around and had been in the same one three times.

From the way they stretched out in some of the races, those track men must not have taken a good stretch since last track meet.

Among the collection at the museum were some guns and a large trap which had a log chain to stake it with. All the guns were in cases to keep people from snapping them, but the trap was just on the floor; however, I didn't notice anybody setting it.

 "CARNIVAL BOAT"

Fifth and Sixth Grade Notes

The salt map of Texas, made by the Texas History Class, is completed. The counties water-colored different colors give it a very attractive appearance. By this project we were made to realize more clearly than ever the immense size of Texas.

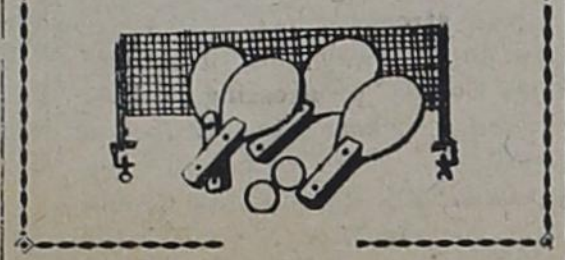

The fifth grade Geography class has also started a salt map project. This map is to be made of the United States with each state a different color.

The sixth grade English class wrote letters to a rural school in California. The school is located in the Imperial Valley and we hope to receive answers to our letters and consequently learn about the geography and schools in that section of California.

Advertisements were studied and illustrated during English period on Monday. Posters advertising automobiles, creamery butter, oil stoves, furnished homes, silverware, etc., gave a great variety of thought for clever advertisers.

Most of our pupils who were ill with the measles are back in school again. We hope by next week our attendance will be one hundred per cent.

SPORTING SHOTS

If the weather will permit, the Longhorns will play two baseball games this week. One game will be played with Lipscomb on our home diamond Thursday afternoon. The other will be played at Follett on Friday afternoon.

The pupils from Darrouzett that entered the district meet at Canyon were not fortunate enough to place, but they enjoyed the trip and will profit by the experience next year.

Character Sketches
 Freshies are traditionally classified as green, but here's where I depart from the tradition—for I just got over the measles and am inclined to be a trifle red.

I have sandy hair and freckles, but just the same I'm the best looking little gentleman around here. Who am I?

I am a pretty little Junior with big brown "come-hither" eyes that are awfully dreamy, and I have darling little black curls all over my head. I excel in all sorts of sports—and I'm just darn cute in general.

What I've often wondered it, "Why is a Freshman?" Being a seventh grader I'm naturally interested, but the real reason is I think Miss Friend is going to ask that on a quiz sometime soon.
 7th Grader

7th grader;
 The very question itself would tell anyone but a seventh grader the answer. You have to learn not to ask such dumb questions sometime and the Freshman year is reserved for that purpose. Yes, my dear child, I realize that even some sophomores are rather dumb, but I think that if you inquire real closely you'll find that the ones that are flunked the Freshman year!

Freshman Notes
 Markley Woods, G. B. Hennigh and Allen Daily are back in school after having the measles.
 Olive Chappell and Thelma Carter absent from School on account of the measles.

The Freshmen are studying a classic, "Old Testament Selections," On Monday nearly everyone told stories from the Bible for English class.

In History the Freshmen are studying about the meaning of Renaissance. They are also making Current Events books.

We are studying the reproduction and growth of plants and animals in our General Science class.

In Algebra the Freshies are studying about setting up equations.

Sophies Hold Baby Bottle Contest

To the tune of side-splitting laughter from the audience, G. A. Jenkins, Jr., guzzled his way to first prize of 50c, in the baby bottle milk drinking and whistling contest held by the Sophomores at the assembly exercises last Thursday morning.

G. A. won over four other boys: Lewis Woods, Roy Roper, Willard Smith, and Kenneth Jenkins. Kenneth won second and was presented with 25c.

Interest ran high in the audience during the contest which came as a surprise to climax the Sophomore assembly program.

The opening number on the program was a reading "Efficiency of Lightening," supposedly written by Physics student, was given by Marguerite Hennigh. Mary and Arthur Helfenbein sang "Er Salai Die Noch Unbekart" in German. Arthur accompanied on a mandolin.

Willard Smith and O. C. Elfers presented a humorous dialog. A Sophomore trio, consisting of Louise Draper, Lois Roper, and Coeta Terrel, sang "When It's Sleepy-Time Down South." That old famous selection, "My Darling Nellie Gray" was sung by the entire class.

Mrs. William Terrel, Mrs. J. W. Chase, and Mrs. G. R. Mills and daughter were assembly visitors on Thursday.

Primary Room Notes

By MRS. J. E. SPEER
 The students of the primary room started last week to doing free hand cut out work. They will work on this in busy period for the next two weeks. A garden poster was made first and then cut out figures for a "Down on the Farm" poster.
 Red and blue birds were the window decorations chosen for use in the primary room this month. This goes well with the bird and bird house, and swimming duck border around the board.

Students of the first and second grades took a field trip on Friday at their writing period. Flowers, leaves, and grasses were brought back to the school building.

The Buick Company sent the primary room an enlarged picture of a baby holding a steering wheel. The students placed it on their bulletin board, and each one is trying to see how many like copies can be found in the magazines.

Many students of the primary room are absent because of measles. A number of students returned to school Monday after being absent several days on that account.

The students of the second grade received a new reader this week. It is a third grade reader. Second grade students have read all of the second grade readers, and are very glad to get a reader used by the third grade.

Good English Club Meets Friday

The "Good English Club" met Friday, April 22, 1932. The president called the meeting to order, and the secretary read the minutes. Rachel Littau read the oral English errors, and Teresa Frass was appointed to keep them for the next week. The following officers were elected for the next six weeks:
 Rachel Littau—president.
 Lionel Settles—secretary
 Wilma Lash—ass't. secretary
 Robert Burke—librarian
 Ida Littau—ass't. librarian
 Gertrude Stransbe—monitor
 Thomas Burke—reading table monitor.

Measles! Several Sophomores are absent because of them, but school goes on.

In Spanish the conjugation of verbs is being reviewed. In English poetry is being studied while scrap books, artistically designed, are being made. In Algebra the constant study of logarithms is driving us to Dentention Hall (or Opportunity hall as Mr. Speer calls it). In history we are studying Science and Philosophy. Altogether we have enough to keep —Coeta Terrel.

Third and Fourth Grade Activities

Two more students who have ruined their perfect attendance records this week on account of the measles are Jack Phillips and Richard Rush. G. A. Jenkins is the only one left now who has a perfect record.

Visitors last week were Mrs. Wm. Terrel, Mrs. J. W. Chase and Delbert Rush.

Some very good drawings in connection with third grade reading class were made last week, showing vases and bowls of Indian pottery. The class agreed that Don James' was almost perfect and that Dean Terrel had the next best. Jack Phillips' drawing was also considered good enough to be put on display with the others.

Bird booklets, that were started some time ago for nature study, are being finished the first of this week. The booklets contain stories and pictures of ten of our most common birds.

G. A. Jenkins, and Daisy Painter are health inspectors this week.

It looks as though the picnic which was planned for Friday of this week will have to be postponed again on account of the measles.

Gertrude McGee and Wayne Lash are housekeepers this week.

Vernon Roper and Don James are to keep the reading table, library and magazine rack straight all week.

Dogs

German police dogs are very pretty, they are very large and are a blackish color. Many of the people think they are the prettest dogs we have. A rat terrier is not like that. He is smaller. Some of them are spotted and some are brown. They get to be about fourteen inches tall.
 Collies are yellow. They are very pretty. They are not as big as a German police, or they are not as small as a rat terrier. The collies are about the best stock dog that we have. Sometimes when a man goes hunt-

County Seeks Land For Paved Highway

Effort is being made by Lipscomb County citizens to secure right-of-way on State Highway 117 at county expense so that the State Highway Department can grade and drain the strip preparatory to paving.

The 31-mile strip running from Ochiltree County on the west thru Booker and Follett to the Oklahoma line on the east has been financed for paving for more than a year but poor bond markets has prevented the beginning of construction.

According to the state highway division engineers here, the state agreed to do grading and drainage if the county would obtain the right-of-way, and the movement is now on foot to secure the land.

The bond issue affecting the road was voted in district election in the northern part of the county.

The strip there affords the northern outlet of Highway 117 to Oklahoma. The road through Ochiltree County has been financed for paving is being paved through Hansford County, is financed for paving or has been graded and drained in Hutchinson County, and already is paved from Stinnett to Panhandle. It also is financed for surfacing from Panhandle south to Conway, its origin—Amarillo Daily News.

Highway Bonds Are Favored In Third Ochiltree Election

For the third consecutive time, Ochiltree county voters went to the polls last Saturday and cast their ballots favoring the issuing of bonds for the paving of State Highway No. 117 and Federal No. 83 through the county. The bonds authorized were in the amount of $400,000 and were carried by a vote of 1,077 for and 48 against.

Sitting in extraordinary session, Wednesday, the commissioners court canvassed the election returns and declared the election.

Gibb Gilchrist, state highway engineer and W. J. Van London and P. S. Bailey, state engineers of the Amarillo district, were in Perryton on Tuesday of this week inspecting highways No. 117 and No. 4. Mr. Gilchrist stated that contracts would be let as soon as possible for the caliche work on No. 117 west from Perryton to the Hansford county line and north on No. 4 to the state line.

While in Perryton, Mr. Van London made the statement that no better base material could be found than the natural caliche which is to be used on the highway construction work in this county, due to the fact that it is not subject to expansion and contraction.

The paving authorized by the voting of the $400,000 bond issue will amount to 65.67 miles.—Ochiltree County Herald.

125,000 People See Exhibits Sent Out On Santa Fe Special

More than 125,000 people, from the farm and ranch for the most part, visited the Santa Fe-Texas A. & M. College farm and home special train on its recently ended tour of nearly eight weeks, final check on attendance figures announced from College Station, Texas, show. The train, operated by the Santa Fe Railway Company in co-operation with the Texas A. & M. College and other co-operating agencies and institutions, made 152 stops for exhibit and lecture programs. Its itinerary included nearly every section of Texas. All operating arrangements were handled by the railway while the exhibits aboard and the speakers were furnished by the college. The tour began February 15 and ended early in April.

Exact total of those who passed through the train at the 152 stops was 125,173 as compared with 110,076 for the 117 stops of similar train in 1928 and 102,393 for 93 stops of the 1923 train. Total attendance at stops on G. C. & S. F. lines was 65,985 and on P. & S. F. lines 59,188. Average attendance at the 152 stops this year was, in round numbers, 825.

Caldwell, with 2,076, showed the record attendance of the itinerary. Brenham was second with 1,877, Brownfield third with 1,601, Santa Anna fourth with 1,554 and Carthage fifth with 1,513.

Commenting on the train, J. F. Jarrell, manager agricultural department of the Santa Fe, Topeka, Kan., who has directed forty-seven agricultural trains in states in which the Santa Fe operates, said: "The 1932 train has had more people in attendance than any other similar train operated in the United States and has drawn the highest percentage of farmers in its crowds of any we have sponsored. I share with many others the opinion that the interest shown by Texas people in the lesson taught by the college exhibits aboard has exceeded that displayed at any other educational train of this nature."

H. H. Williamson, vice-director and state agent of the Extension Service of A. & M., speaking for the college, said: "We are indebted to the Santa Fe for the opportunity afforded us by the train to carry the message of A. & M. direct to more than 125,000 Texans who studied the exhibits and questioned the specialists aboard. It is possible to retrace the itinerary of the train by requests for agricultural bulletins received since the train started. The special has been a means of popularizing the short cuts to low cost of production, to balance farming and to making each farm a self-sustaining unit that 100,000 farmers, farm women and club boys and girls are demonstrating with the help of county and home demonstration agents in nearly 200 Texas counties."

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Phillips went to Shattuck on Tuesday. They visited Mrs. C. C. Hennigh who is recovering from an operation.

"Consolation Marriage" starring Irene Dunne and Pat O'Brien will be shown here at 2:30 Saturday afternoon.

Miss Zelma Beck of Morse, Texas, spent the week-end at the home of her uncle, Mr. M. L. Beck, and Mrs. Beck.

Guadalupe county farmers apparently believe that prosperity will "be riding six white horses when she come," for they have organized a stallion circle and bought two Percheron stallions from A. and M. College as a start toward farm raised farm-power.

To many bright young lads forget their day's work while dreaming about the huge fortune they are going to make in a few years.

As far as we can judge every citizen of America thinks that he could write a newspaper column that would move Bisbee off the front page. Farmers are now preparing to feed the nation, and hope they get something above their expenses.
