Wildcat Cagers Nip Clyde In Strong First Game Rally

Both Rising Star basketball teams—girls and boys—won their games with Santa Anna Tuesday night. The girls defeated Santa Anna 39 to 26 in a slow, dull game, in which Jettie Duggan scored 21 points. The boys easily outclassed Santa Anna boys 56 to 40 with scoring about evenly divided. Pat Agnew scored 18 and Johnny Jones 14. Friday night Cross Plains teams come here for games at the local gym at 7 o'clock.

The Rising Star Wildcat basketball team issued notice to other District teams that it will just about live up to pre-season predictions of its strength when the Rising Star boys took the measure of a strong Class A Clyde Friday night of last week. It was the first Wildcat game after only a week of practice.

The win, by a 45 to 41 score, was the more impressive because the Cats came from behind a 15 to 0 first period deficit to post the victory.

Pat Agnew, Rising Star center, was the high point player of the game with 22 points.

On the same bill the Rising Star girls, in their third game of the season, had little difficulty with the Clyde girls, taking a 41 to 34 victory with Coach Putnam using practically his entire squad. Jettie Duggan rang up 25 points to lead the scoring.

Coach Weldon Hill has five lettermen from last year's team, one regular who was out with an injury for the latter part of the season; three new players who are eligible for the first time this year, four freshmen and one soph with which to build his team this year. The lettermen are Pat Agnew, Johnny Jones, Gerald Green, Beyrl McKinney, and Rodney Smith.

Rising Star Men Among Hunters as Deer Season Opens

Six Rising Star men were among the several thousand deer hunters who took to the ranches and fields of southwest Texas this week as the 1960 hunting season opened Monday. They are J. D. (Skeet) Clark, A. D. Jenkins, Horace Witt, Curtis Alford, Fred Brizendine and Floyd Nunnally who went to Clark's ranch at Rock Springs near Del Rio Monday for their annual hunt.

The State Game Commission reported Saturday that the heaviest concentration of white deer in many years awaited the hunters this fall. The season runs through December 31. More than 10,000 permits for deer hunting have been issued to ranchers in the Edwards Plateau area, the principal deer grounds of the state. Hunters may secure the names of ranchers with deer permits from chambers of commerce in the counties. Deer bagged must be registered at game and fish check stations in each county.

Mrs. Brown is a member of a pioneer family of Rising Star where her father, A. J. Rhone, was a merchant for many years. Her husband, F. D. Brown, owns and operates a cafe in Coleman. Her sisters are Mrs. Russell Dill of Rising Star, Mrs. Ada Mable of Cisco, Mrs. Hallie McDonald of Houston and a brother, Curtis Rhone of Houston, who is with a biological research project there.

U. S. Got More Than The Biggest State When It Admitted Alaska, Seems

Rising Star this week experienced the same sort of weather which the rest of the section disliked—Arctic temperatures and biting wind. There was some inclination to credit the admission of Alaska to the Union of sovereign states for the early season invasion. Texas not only lost its distinction as the biggest state but got something it liked even less. "We don't mind giving up first place, but we think Alaska ought to keep its weather," said Clifford Watkins, local groceryman.

His sentiment found plenty of echo. The thermometer dived to 17 Tuesday for the lowest point in the earliest cold wave of many years, according to the recording device at the City Hall.

Charles Tylor, Rising Star banker, would argue with that, however. He reported 15 degrees and refused to yield another degree. There were reports of 14 degrees from other places about town. What everyone did agree on, it was cold—colder than it has been here at this time of the year in many, many moons.

"If this keeps up," said Mayor Walter Smith, "we're likely to have some winter this year."

He reported little damage to water pipes and so far as could be known. However, such damage usually shows up after the thaw sets in—if there will be a thaw. Highest temperature recorded this week was 65 degrees, registered just before the wintry blast hit.

Peanut farmers were grateful for one thing. You guessed it — no moisture.

Wildlife Becoming More Plentiful And Important in Rising Star Area

Wildlife is becoming more plentiful and economically important in the Rising Star area according to Raymond Wade, technician of the Soil Conservation Service assisting the Upper Leon and the Brown Mills Soil Conservation Districts. Types of wildlife available for the sportsmen in this season of the year are deer, turkey, squirrels, quails and waterfowl. Fine fishing is available on a year-round basis in Brownwood Lake, Cisco Lake and Lake Leon and in many of the farm ponds in the two districts.

One of the many things that are considered by the land owner and the technician in preparing a soil and moisture conservation plan is the possibility of wildlife as a means of increasing the farm and ranch income. Nearly all land owners are interested in wildlife. Some like to hunt and fish, others just like to see quails, deer, turkeys and etc. in their pastures and feed them as pets. Many landowners, plant borders, strips and odd areas in grasses that are heavy seed producers for cover and food for wildlife. They also fertilize their farm ponds to increase fish production. It is only natural to expect them to charge a fee for sportsmen to hunt and fish on their property.

One complaint that is heard time and again is that some hunter got into the covey of quail that the housewife has fed all summer around her chicken yard. While the wild game belongs to the state all hunters and fishermen should remember that most of the land on which we hunt and fish belongs to individual property owners. Always secure their permission before hunting and fishing on their land. Find out where they want you to hunt or fish; be sure that you close all gates; do not climb over fences as this pulls staples out of posts letting the wire sag and livestock either get out or get mixed. Remember that you might want to come back hunting or fishing again. Pay the fee requested for going onto the private property. Good fat game and fish don't just happen. The landowner has provided food, water and cover and is due a reasonable return for his labor and cash outlays.

Safety is a vital part of hunting and fishing. Remember that no matter what fee you have paid for the privilege of hunting or fishing, that if through some act of yours damage is done to the landowners property, chances are he won't let you come back if it was due to carelessness on your part or you fail to report it. When landowners feel that they have been unduly imposed upon they usually begin to refuse the right to hunt or fish on their property to anyone. We as sportsmen do not wish this to happen. Then for the most important reason of all practice safety so that you can live to enjoy hunting and fishing for many years to come.

It's The Law In Texas

"LAWYER TALK"

Many persons feel that the "whereases", "afosaids", and other legal verbiage used by lawyers are intended only to confound and confuse the layman.

Nothing could be further from the truth. In drafting legal documents, the lawyer attempts to draft them in such a way as to exclude all ambiguities. In the last analysis, a legal document means what some court at some future time shall declare that it means. As a consequence, it is the lawyer's duty to his client to attempt to draft the instrument in such a way that it can mean only one thing.

Most any paragraph of non-legal language contains numerous ambiguities. When a lawyer refers to the "deed aforesaid", he is attempting to make it clear beyond question that the deed he is referring to is the deed mentioned in a prior portion of the instrument. Likewise, when he prefaces a legal document with a long list of "whereases", he is simply reciting pertinent details to show the facts of the situation that lead to the execution of the instrument.

The difficulty with drafting a document in layman's language is that to the trained analyst such language is susceptible of several meanings, and consequently is likely to lead to litigation. It is the draftsman's purpose to avoid litigation which is usually expensive for the client.

Another reason why lawyers use legal language is historical in nature. Thus most deeds declare that the grantor "by these presents does grant, sell, and convey" the land in question to the grantee. Each of the words recited has a technical meaning. The words together have frequently been construed by the courts and consequently the lawyer knows in using them that their meaning is settled, and that they will operate to properly transfer the title. He would be inviting litigation for his client, if instead of using those words, he devised new language to express the same purpose. He could only say, "While I think the language that I have used will accomplish the purpose, I cannot be sure of it."

As a consequence, the lawyer, in the interest of his client, naturally uses the time-tested language instead of experimenting with new language. (This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

1/2-Year-Old Is 'Dimes' Poster Girl

Mary Beth Pyron, 2, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Pyron of Florence, Ala., has just been chosen national poster girl for the New March of Dimes 1960 campaign in January. Her picture will appear on millions of posters (above), canisters and coin collectors in every town and village of the country, symbolizing the New March of Dimes attack on crippling birth defects, arthritis and polio, diseases that affect one in every four U. S. families. Mary Beth was born with an open spine and water on the brain. Medical science knows no way of helping her. Hope lies in scientific research supported by the New March of Dimes. Mary Beth is a sunny, affectionate child and loves to ride her new walking horse (left). Her brother Tommy, 4, is a normal child.

WORKING TOGETHER FOR A GOOD SCHOOL

It is every student's responsibility to work for a good school. The demand for good schools is more important today because of the higher economic level of the average family and the need for specialists in various vocational fields.

Cooperation with teachers and fellow students is the first step. I read an article about a man who had to pick up his wife at a downtown store. The traffic was heavy, but he was fortunate enough to slip into a parking space with twenty minutes of unused time on the meter. Some students are this way—they look for space paid by the other fellow. In other words, they expect to get their work from others and by cheating. They never really try to understand their lessons or work with their teachers. Are you this kind of student? If you are, you should try to remember this old saying, "What is worth doing is worth doing well."

Another way students can help have good schools is by being a good listener and taking part in class discussions. It means being considerate in the class room by not popping gum or being noisy. Students should obey all the school's rules and try to understand they are for their good.

A third way we can help have good schools is by taking part in all the school activities. We should have the right kind of school spirit toward basketball, football, and other sports.

We need good schools! Are you honestly willing to give your very best and go beyond what is expected of you in all your work and activities?
 —Bennie Sue Morris

FISH LINE

I'm back again. It wasn't that we didn't have any news last week, but I just plain forgot!

The Freshmen took aptitude tests last Monday and Tuesday. One good thing—we got out of class. One bad thing—we didn't know any of it. Well, that's the way it goes.

The girl's basketball team played Clyde last Friday at Clyde. The basketball schedule appeared in last week's paper, so come to all the games you can.

The Christmas cards will be delayed but keep your money ready for they'll be coming!

The F.H.A. girls are selling subscriptions to the Progressive Farmer for the next two weeks. J. M.—Who is it? Imagine sitting in one's lap and being locked in the room with another! You'll win one way or another.

D. C.—Any more ball games? Too bad!

 It looks as though the cold weather is here to stay—for a while anyway.

The second order of Party Mix nuts should arrive anytime now; if you want any, just let us know.

The speech class gave its play after what seemed like a long time of rehearsing and going over it so many times, but it went as well as we could make it—except for a few unfortunate things; such as, the dinner table lost a leg, fall-downs, changing between scenes, etc.; we really enjoyed giving it and we want to thank each and every one of you for coming and those who helped.

The F.H.A. project is under way with the selling of magazines.

I want to remind everyone about class dues—let's get them in early this year so we won't have to worry about later on.

Here's a little news going along the grapevine:

A certain triangle—Maria G. and J. C. (a Junior) Lynda Erwin. (Know anything about it?)

And Pat D. (Cloud 2nd). Why keep it a secret?

It's not long until banquet time and all the Sophs are looking forward to it.
 So long for now!

BAND NEWS

The stage band played at the nightly P. T. A. meeting last week. We barely had time to work up a program, but we played four numbers.

I don't remember if I mentioned the band officers, so they are as follows: Captain, Gerald Green; First Lt., George Cook; Second Lt., Gary Jones; Secretary, Karen Steel; Treasurer, Beryl McKinnerney; Librarian, Virginia Townsend; Reporter, Linda Koonce; Band Sweetheart, Karen Steel.

Some cold morning from 8:15 to 9:00 think of the band battling the cold wind and marching. We haven't stopped yet because we go to marching contest at Sweetwater the 21st of this month. We're going for first division—so wish us luck!

SENIORS, FIRST AND FOREMOST

You know, as time goes on, it gets more and more difficult to arrive at something interesting and brilliantly witty to put in my column every week. When this Senior class was nothing more than a bunch of Fish at RSHS, there were numerous things happening to tickle my reader's ears; but, by the time one gets to be a Senior, either he's quit doing newsy things or is still doing the same ones. But we're still the liveliest, going group alive!

I'm telling you, more of us would like to be in that Physics class; I only wish I knew what was so "interesting" that they're studying. Whatever it is, they've been studying it all year long, eh, Putnam?

Basketball is getting in the old swing at RSHS. Although I'm not a sports reporter, I'm one interested Senior girl among many interested Seniors. Of course, most of you have heard about the "humdingers" at Clyde last Friday night. Two Seniors, Pat and Jettie, figured prominently in scoring and playing. Hope to see you all at the game in the future. Mark my word—these teams will bear watching. State—here we come!

Handling that's really a breeze. The all-new, new-size Falcon parks on a dime... turns on one, too! You'll be able to steer with power steering ease... without power steering. You'll be able to stop as though you had power brakes... without power brakes.

Room for six—and all their luggage. No doing without in the Falcon! There's hip, shoulder, knee, and head room galore! Both two- and four-door models are a cinch to enter. Then, thanks to the Falcon's front-mounted engine, there's luggage space aplenty for everyone.

Up to 30 MPG on regular gas, too. And the Falcon actually crossed the country without any oil added. Speaking of theft, the Falcon's finish never needs wax. Its aluminum muffler normally lasts up to twice as long.

Sweet performance from Ford's most modern Six. A full 90 hp. You'll have to feel the pickup and responsive power to believe it! And each Falcon Six is electronically balanced, while running under its own power, for top smoothness.

New luxury interiors. Upholsteries are truly quality-made... materials you'd expect to find in cars costing twice the money. Seats are chair high. The front seat cushion is foam padded. And the Falcon rides smooth as silk... corners on rails.

Proved over 3,000,000 miles. To top off 3 years of testing, a fleet of the new-size Falcons has just been proved over every mile of numbered Federal highway. It's without a doubt, the world's most experienced new car.

"They're Baby Safe!"

Texan Got the Gate

"Texas sent a county judge to take possession of Santa Fe but the U.S. colonel kicked him out," Will Wilson said.

Congress Didn't Want Texas in 1837, Says Attorney General Will Wilson

The Republic of Texas wanted annexation in 1837 but was rejected by Congress.

Sam Houston withdrew the offer and dreamed of a new republic stretching westward from Texas to the Pacific including the northern tier of Mexican states, plus present day New Mexico, Arizona, and California.

Attorney General Will Wilson, a great admirer of Houston, points out how skillfully Houston incited the jealousy of the United States.

"Sam Houston stoked the fire under the pot of jealousy by ignoring the United States and dickered with France and England, both known to want Texas independent."

"Houston's vision of a large competitive nation between the U. S. and Mexico caused Washington to run a fever."

Annexation followed, resulting in the 1848 War with Mexico in which the Western one third of the present United States was acquired. During this war, Gen. Stephen W. Kearny led U. S. troops overland from Dodge City, Kansas, to capture Santa Fe and remain in possession.

Senator Benton in Congress immediately put the Santa Fe territory into a boiling caldron of debate over slavery by demanding that possession of Santa Fe not be delivered to Texas because Texas was a slave state.

A full dress rehearsal of the coming tragedy of civil war began.

Texas sent Spruce M. Baird as county judge to take possession of Santa Fe, but Colonel John M. Washington kicked him out. Texas also sent Robert S. Neighbors as county judge of El Paso.

Since there were no federal troops in El Paso, Judge Neighbors successfully established a beachhead and took possession for Texas.

Governor Bell of Texas called a special session of the legislature to organize 3,000 mounted volunteers to capture Santa Fe from the federal troops. The legislature gave Bell an out by providing that the troops be used only if the United States refused to buy the disputed territory.

This brought on another bitter division and debate in our national congress, compromised by fixing the present boundary between Texas and New Mexico and paying ten million dollars for surrendered territory. Texas kept El Paso because she had possession, but Texas lost most of what is now New Mexico.

Historian Will Wilson says Texas got short changed again.

Texas had money in the treasury but her northern and western boundary had been pushed down more than 100,000 square miles.

"The United States bought that real estate for 15 cents an acre!"

Mrs. Caudle Bride Of J. R. Bucy in Ritual Saturday

Mrs. J. B. Caudle became the bride of J. R. Bucy in a simple ceremony, read at 6 p.m. Saturday in First Methodist Church by Rev. R. E. Cook.

Miss Linda Koonce played the traditional wedding music. Lanham Brown served as best man. Mrs. Robert Cook was matron of honor. Delwin Caudle gave his mother in marriage.

Bronze mums were artistically arranged by Mrs. Betsy Burns on the altar. Corsages were also arranged by her.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the pastor's home. The refreshment table was laid with lace over pink and an arrangement of mums centered the table where Mrs. Cook, assisted by Linda Koonce, served, cake, coffee, and cocoa.

"SLOW AND EASY" is the watchword for preparing round steak, according to the Texas Beef Council. The favorite meal of many Texans, round steak has high protein and little waste.

Mrs. Horton, of Eastland, Tells WSCS Of Methodist Missions in Africa

The Mary Ann Cook circle and the Womans Society of Christian Service and invited guests met Tuesday evening in the dining room of the First Methodist Church for a supper meeting.

The tables were laid in white, with multi-colored maps of Africa down the center. Wooden bowls filled with autumn greenery and pyracantha berries were used as table centerpieces, and throughout the room for decorations. Place cards were miniature red maps of Africa. Mrs. Cook gave the invocation and the meeting was opened with a piano solo by Bonnie Bird.

Mrs. Bill Crawford, president of the circle, gave the welcome address, after which Mrs. R. E. Cook introduced the guest speaker for the evening, Mrs. James Horton of Eastland and Mrs. M. Collie, also of Eastland, who accompanied Mrs. Horton.

Mrs. Horton, who toured Africa last year with her husband, gave a most interesting account of her travels. They included Nairobi, Kenya, noted for its beautiful pink poinsettias, hydrangeas, begonias, and other flowering shrubs, trees, and flowers; Pretoria, administration capitol of South Africa; Johannesburg, with its modern churches, factories, schools, and industries, and beautiful homes; Kimberly, with its gold and diamond mines, and Cape Town, a modern city with many interests, one of which is a huge fish industry. She also visited Ethiopia, where the natives live in round topped huts built of mud and straw. Here there is a very dire water shortage in all sections. They have no modern equipment, and their harvesting is primitive. A few modern buildings in some towns have been built by the United States.

In Cairo, Egypt, they found along with old buildings, some modern ones, including the Hilton Hotel, offering every service a hotel in America would offer. What is said to be the exact spot on the Nile River, where Pharaoh's daughter found the baby Moses in the basket of bulrushes, was pointed out. They also saw the Pyramids, the oldest church in Egypt, and the modes of living in rural sections. As Mrs. Horton talked she showed slides of all her travels, these were beautiful and made the lecture real.

Mrs. Horton highlighted the work of the Methodist Church in all areas of Africa.

After the program Mrs. Horton was presented a gift by the Mary Ann Cook Circle. The benediction was given by Mrs. Vada Arnold.

Forty-seven members of the circle, the Womans Society of Christian Service and their invited guests attended the meeting.
