Qualifier Tennis; and Bryan Ezzell, Senior.

The 1976-77 Wildcat athletic season was climaxed by the All-Sport Banquet held Monday night, April 25th in the high school gymnasium.

A delicious meal was prepared and served by mothers of the Rising Star cheerleaders. Jeanne Hounsel, Junior brought the welcome address and was followed by her brother Ken, who introduced the speaker for the evening. Morris Southall, Assistant Coach at Brownwood High School delivered a very interesting talk directed at the young athletes present concerning self motivation. He stressed that you should use what you have to the best of your ability-always with the help of the Lord. Mr. Southall is the Past President of the Texas High School Coaches Association and was also named to the Texas High School Hall of Fame along with numerous other honors.

Coaches for their respective sports were next on the agenda. J.L. Newbury, girls basketball coach and girls tennis recognized team members and outstanding individuals. He was also given a plaque from his students in appreciation for all the work he did for the students.

L.C. Hounsel, girls track coach and boys golf coach announced individual district winners and those qualifying for state, along with all those participating throughout the year. The boys golf team placed third in district. Hounsel was given a recognition plaque by team members.

Coach Frank Gray was the last to announce honors incurred by his squad. Coach Gray also supervised the boys tennis team with help of various team members. Seniors boys were introduced and football players attaining the All-district mark were presented. Mackey Elliott and Ken Hounsel were named to the All-Area football squad. Mackey Elliott, Senior offensive line was also named to the All-State team and will be the Rising Star High School Representative for the All-Star game to be played in July. Coach Gray stated what a tremendous honor this was and said he could not remember anyone from Rising Star receiving this very coveted honor since 1950.

At this time the 1977-78 majorettes and cheerleaders were announced. They include: Drum major-Sharon McGinnis; Head twirler-Becky Wilson and twirlers: Taby Chambers, Kaycee Rutherford and Carla Bowers.

Cheerleaders are as follows: Head-Jenny Walker; Assistant Head-Jeanne Hounsel; Secretary-Laurie Hill; Treasurer-Carolyn Bessent and Reporter-Deana Gage.

Problems Discussed At Called Meeting

The Rising Star City Council in a Friday April 22 called meeting took the following action. The hiring of a city, foreman was postponed for action until the regular council meeting on May 2. The council hoped to have additional application by May 2.

Stating of the Moore gas well, which the city owns, was discussed. The council voted unanimously to sell the gas well along with approximately seven miles of pipeline to the well.

The council instructed the mayor to continue his efforts to seed additional gas supplies and to invite supplies of natural gas to meet with the council to discuss terms for negotiations.

Action was taken by the council to discuss design, installation, and costs of a new gas distribution system for the city. Two consulting engineering firms will meet with the city council on May 2 to begin this discussion.

The city will make an application to the State of Texas for a permit to operate an emergency ambulance. A petition will be circulated to solicit pledges from the people to help pay for insurance and other costs necessary for operation of the ambulance. Negotiations will be initiated between the city and an individual or individuals to operate the ambulance if a permit and the insurance can be obtained.

A policy was adopted by the city council to file felony theft charges against a person or persons when it is proven that the city's gas or water mains are illegally tapped.

The states of the city's new land fill (Dumpground) was discussed. It was decided to open the land fill to the people of Rising Star during a planned "Clean-up week. The council will ask the Chamber of Commerce to sponsor the "clean-up" week. The council postponed setting management plans for the land fill until their May meeting.

A request from the Rising Star Jaycees for the city to help pay for the lights at the baseball field was tabled until such time as a representative from the Jaycees could meet with the council for discussion.

April 28th Marks Her 98th Birthday

The story has been told before, but bears repeating. In a few short days, Minnie Mayfield will have seen 98 years of some good and some bad days. Most of her years were spent in and around Rising Star and throughout the years her warmth, charm and tremendous knowledge of the Bible have attracted numerous friends, neighbors and curious reporters. This small, witty lady sitting in her wheel chair is always happy to see you and will visit for hours with you. She is lovingly cared for by one of her four daughters, Mrs. Emma Morris.

Mrs. Mayfield told me Sunday afternoon that she would love to "get up and go", as she has spent the majority of her years tending her family, house and most treasured garden spot but, now spends most of her time indoors.

Born April 28, 1879 in Naruna near Lampasas, she attended county school in Lampasas.

"One Sunday afternoon", says Mrs. Mayfield, we were married. The "we" being L.W. Mayfield and Miss Minnie. The actual date being recorded as December 21, 1902.

The Mayfield's farmed cotton and corn in Bell County, later moving to Haskell County and in March of 1912 moved just west of Rising Star still continuing to farm cotton, but with the addition of peanuts. She recalls the boll weevil very vividly and in 1920 Mr. Mayfield moved his family "to town" to its present location on McClure Avenue. Mr. Mayfield then worked in the oil fields in the area. The house stands much as it did then and recently one of Mrs. Mayfield's daughters, Eunice Sparks painted a picture of the house and it hangs of the wall in the room in which she spends most of her days.

During the 1920's, Rising Star was a very prosperous town as were the towns of Sipe Springs and Pioneer. Mrs. Mayfield recalls the presence at one time of three banks, three drugstores and two hotels. The school at that time was a three story building, located where the present Ward School's older complex is today.

Quite a few changes have taken place since these times, but one thing has remained steadfast and has never faltered and that is the faith and love for the Lord which Mrs. Mayfield carries within her heart from day to day. She is one of the oldest, if not in act the oldest living member of the First Baptist Church of which she has been a member for 56 years. Of the almost 98 years Mrs. Mayfield has lived on this earth, 84 of those were as a Christian.

The Mayfields raised six children, two boys; Mr. Louis Mayfield of Rising Star and O.W. Mayfield of Burkett; four girls; Mrs. Emma Morris of Rising Star; Mrs. Tommy Ingram (Mary) Foster of Freer and Mrs. Matt (Eunice) Sparks of Victoria. Mrs. Mayfield also boasts of nine grandchildren and thirteen great-grandchildren.

If you ever need a lift--drop by and talk to this wonderful lady and settle back for a very enjoyable visit.

Happy 98th Birthday Mrs. Mayfield

Cattle Profits Still A Year Or Two Away

STATION-Although cattlemen are starting to see better prices again, it may still be a year or two before they making profits.

That's the contention of Dr. Ed Uvacek, a livestock marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Uvacek, who has been in the business of analyzing cattle cycles for some time, is basing his projection on the assumption that a new cycle is just now beginning and that the second to the sixth year of the cycle is generally the most favorable period from the price standpoint. Historically, cattle cycles have been highly consistent in both duration and magnitude generally lasting about seven-to-eight-years during this build-up phase.

"Cattle numbers peaked in 1975," points out Uvacek "and since then, there has been a liquidation which now looks like it is coming to an end. With a new cycle about to start, the years 1978 to 1982 should provide fairly good price years for cattlemen, if history repeats itself. Of course, this doesn't take into consideration such factors as droughts, depressions or similar catastrophic situations."

Although 1977 won't be a banner year for cow-calf operators, they should at least be able to realize incomes large enough to cover out-of-pocket costs, believes Uvacek. Of course, they will have to keep a wary eye on inflation--the real villain during the past several years and one which remains a constant threat. Improved price levels, therefore, may not be sufficient enough to offset rising production costs.

"In order to survive in this new cattle cycle, cattlemen will have to muster whatever technological, financial and marketing innovations they can get their hands on," contends Uvacek. "The cattlemen of 1980's must by necessity, become market oriented and be extremely progressive. Otherwise, he had better find another vocation."

Bessent On To State

Carolyn Bessent, Junior at Rising Star High School took second place in the 220 yard dash with a time of 26.85 to qualify her for next month's state Class B track meet. J. Shelton of Goree just edged ahead with a 26.6 time to place first in the event.

Only the first and second place winners will be allowed to qualify in the regional meet for state competition.

Other winners from Rising Star who placed but were not eligible for state were Laurie Hill third in the long jump with 16-8 1/2; Kim Harris, 5th place Discus (89-11 1/2); Laurie Hill triple jump (34-4 1/4); Laurie Hill 440 yard dash, (61.3) and the 880 yard relay team which placed third with a 1:50.1.

Retired Persons Hear John Lee

The Retired Persons of Rising Star were addressed by Mr. John Lee, the new mayor on April 19. Mr. Lee discussed the rising cost of gas prices. What he had to say was not encouraging but the way he said it convinced us that he has a sincere desire to try to help us meet the challenge of this important issue. We are convinced it is our problem and all citizens of Rising Star must put their shoulder to the wheel and help solve this problem. Thank you Mr. Mayor.

On April 26 the RP of R.S. enjoyed a covered dish luncheon and an address by the Rev. Herbert Taylor, pastor of the Methodist Church.

On May 3 Mrs. Nell Maynard will present a music program which will include instrumental music as well as just good old fashion gospel singing. All retired persons are urged to join in these activities each Tuesday at 2:00 p.m.

The Now Washbasket

By Bobbie Hill

Spring is here, the time when a young man's fancy turns to thoughts of love, and the homemaker has to start spring cleaning.

Smart consumers know a basic product like 20 Mule Team Borax can make their work easier and less expensive, because it freshens as well as cleans.

Here are a few tips to get you started:

— Everybody knows that ammonia and water make a good dirt and grease cutter for windows. Just a little borax will help add more sparkle. We recommend 1/4 cup borax to a 2 gallon pail of water and 1/2 cup of ammonia.

— Urine odors from mattresses and mattress covers may be neutralized by dampening the spot and sprinkling borax over it. Rub the borax into the areas and let dry. Brush or vacuum to remove the dry borax.

— Make your own wall and floor cleaner by mixing 1/2 cup borax, 1/2 teaspoon dish-washing liquid and 1 tablespoon of ammonia with 2 gallons of warm water.

— Shower, tub and tile surfaces will sparkle when washed with a solution of borax and warm water. Sprinkle borax on a damp sponge or soft cloth and use as you would a powdered cleanser. This can even be used on fiberglass surfaces without scratching. Rinse thoroughly.

(For more household cleaning tips write to: MAGIC CRYSTAL BOOKLET, U.S. BORAX, P.O. Box 75128 Sanford Station, Los Angeles, CA 90075.)

Pioneer News

- Mrs. A.C. Halsell

By Mrs. Mabel Falls (A.C.) Halsell

I had a good laugh when I read a clipping, by Leon Hale (Houston Post) sent to us by our daughter, who is an avid reader of Hale's column. The column was entitled "The News according to Opal Hughes". After reading the column, I began to review some of my own news items, seeing myself in some of the items and hoping I would not see myself in others. (I do wish to state here that so many spelling and grammatical errors are typographical, often after our columns gets to the office; which we regret) Some quotes from Hale (Quote Opal Hughes) are:

"Mrs. Bell Whitaker is doing as good as she can." and "Talked to an old timer, Mrs. A. L. Duff. She said, she is doing just fine and washing her tomatoes."

Mrs. Noble Allen is doing pretty good.

Then she writes, Let us close with a report on how Karl Hughes is doing; Karl Hughes is doing just fine and passes his time off good. And one thing about Mr. Hales column; you read, interpret, associate with familiar incidents laugh and say "He's been there too." Now what is so bad about reporting that a person is doing good? I am never more pleased, in greetings than when I enquire of our little neighbor boy, How are you today, James? and sick or well or tired from play, he replies, "Good" and it almost makes one feel "Good" in the truest sense.

Mrs. F.L. Dean of Rising Star, accompanied by Mrs. Merl Schooler of O'Donnel and Mrs. Agnes Baskin of Lamesa visited Mrs. Ethel Brown on Thursday. Mrs. Cole Tillotson of Jesop, Iowa; and Mrs. Ester Winters of Horseshoe Bend, Ark., visited Mrs. Brown during this week. Other visitors were Mr. Pete Fore and Mr. Hiram Foster.

Week-end visitors WITH Mr. and Mrs. Pete Fore were Mrs. Bessie McDaniel, of San Antonio, and Vi Harlow, of Marble Falls.

Rev. Dan Applin of Cross Plains preached at Pioneer Baptist Church, Sunday in the absence of their pastor, who is away conducting a Revival.

Those celebrating a Twentieth Wedding Anniversary with Mr. and Mrs. John D. Burleson with a dinner, at Odom's Cafe, Sunday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Cole Tillotson, Jesup, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Winters, Horseshoe Bend, Ark.; Mr. and Mrs. A.J. Schenk, Huntington, Woods, Michigan; Mr. and Mrs. Roger Schnek, Marshalltown, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Dee Burleson, Austin and the three Burleson children.

Mrs. Brown received word of the death of her niece's husband, Mr. Elmer Hardeston in National City Cal. He was related to other people in the Pioneer area. No other information was available.

Mrs. Speck Conner and Mrs. Joe Fleiming visited Mrs. Gladys Sessums, Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Sessums left Monday morning for Ft. Worth where she will have surgery on her wrist.

Mr. and Mrs. E.J. Flippin and children went to Arlington, Sunday where they attended Six Flags and where they watched The Texas Rangers and Minnesota team play.

Wannetta Parsons reports that Lottie Beth Hobbs, of Austin called Friday to assure her that their anti-ERA efforts thru the HCR35 Bill are not dead. Their son Bill 24 is in the Committee at this time the Bill has a good chance of approval in the Committee and that a Senate hearing will be in the near future. She urges that those interested should write to Senate Committee members.

Katrina Ring from Lakewood Recreation Center visited Tabitha Hutton, Sunday.

I must put in a Helpful Hint, I just heard in talking to Mrs. Calvin Roady. Last August she planted White Bermuda onion seed in her garden. They came up early, produced an abundance of green onions and now they large sweet onions, ready for serving in any way one would wish. Try this and next year, maybe we wont have to be without onion sets. Visitors with the Roadys this week were Mr. and Mrs. Rankin, Mrs. Billy Freeman, Mrs. Jean Fore, Vi Harlow from Marble Falls, Mrs. McDonald of San Antonio and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Roady Cross Plains.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Roady accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Bob Roady went to Anson Sunday where they visited Mr. and Mrs. N.A. Roady.

state competition which will be held Tuesday, May 3 in Hogg Auditorium in Austin will be Valley Mills of this area and Bronte. The alternate play chosen was that from Leuders-Avoca.

Carla Bowers Named To All-Star Regional Cast

In regional competition held in Brownwood last week, Carla Bowers was selected to the All-Star Regional Cast for her performance in the one act play, "The Sand Box." The two groups proceeding to state competition which will be held Tuesday, May 3 in Hogg Auditorium in Austin will be Valley Mills of this area and Bronte. The alternate play chosen was that from Leuders-Avoca.

RIISING STAR CEMETERY ASSOCIATION

We are grateful to all who continue to support in the care of our cemetery.

At this time of the year we need the help of everyone in caring for our cemetery. We would like for each of you to work around your curbs as we do not have enough in our maintenance fund for this purpose. We also urge everyone to contribute to our maintenance fund. The interest from our permanent fund is not sufficient to maintain our cemetery, as it should be maintained.

This week we thank the following for their contributions:

PERMANENT FUND
J.E. Cooper-Longmont, Colorado-$50.00.
Lillian Burton, Rising Star, Texas-$10.00
Mr. and Mrs. W.L. Allman, Mansfield, Texas-Memorial to J.E. Bolding-$25.00

Newbury Gets Third

Central Texas tracksters posted some top performances Friday in a regional qualifiers meet hosted by Rising Star.

May's Phil Mitchell provided one of the meet's highlights when he pole vaulted 14 feet for the third time this season. Mitchell also took second in the 100 with a 10.4 and ran a leg on the Tigers third place 440 yard relay team.

Teammate Ted Murphee won the 880 in 2:07.4, with Santa Anna's Early taking second. Rising Star Nicky Newbury pole vaulted 12-6 for third place, the same finish posted by May high jumper Jay Edwards who cleared 6-2.

Jay Weathers of Santa Anna was third in the 330 yard intermediate hurdles, clocking a 41.4.

Most of the tracksters were tuning up for next week's Class B regional in Brownwood.

WASHINGTON

"As it looks from here"

OMAR BURLESON

Congressman

17th District

recommendations are adopted to meet the "crisis."

IT IS SOMETHING LIKE A MAN in the middle of the desert with a jug of water. He is told to conserve the water, but not encouraged to search for another supply. If he stands there long enough his bleached bones may be some day found with the jug of water still at his side.

OVER THE YEARS, THERE HAS DEVELOPED a high prejudice against fuel producers and, particularly, oil and gas. It is "big oil", "big coal", "big utilities", big everything which produces and delivers energy to the American people. Costs have gone up and will go higher if this entire concept is approved. A complicated system of rebates and subsidies of one sort and another is proposed to relieve the costs burden in certain areas. Unfortunately, some other "big businesses" who depend on adequate energy supplies are inclined to stand by, seemingly, for fear of drawing attention to themselves. In consequence, this "every man for himself" attitude is causing this Country's economy to lose ground on most every issue involving Government regulations.

ENERGY FUELS WILL BE NEEDED FOR FUTURE GROWTH, to maintain our high level of economy, looking to the future development of high technology which furnishes jobs, and improvements for future generations.

THE PRESIDENT'S PROPOSAL ON ENERGY does nothing to increase production of energy supplies. The conservation measures mean sacrifices in our economy without anything to replace them.

IT MAKES SENSE TO CONSERVE IN AN INTERIM PERIOD but the controls which go with it are the main reason we are in the shape we are today. If we think we have controls and regimentation on the economy by a bureaucratic Government, if all the elements of the energy policy were adopted, there would be inevitably more at the cost of every citizen in this Nation. Not only is additional production not encouraged but it is to be more hampered and restricted by the red-tape of environmental controls, which is already limiting the production of coal and nuclear supplies. We have the natural resources in this Country if they were allowed to develop without being hamstrung by all the regulations which now exist but which will be just about total if all Administration

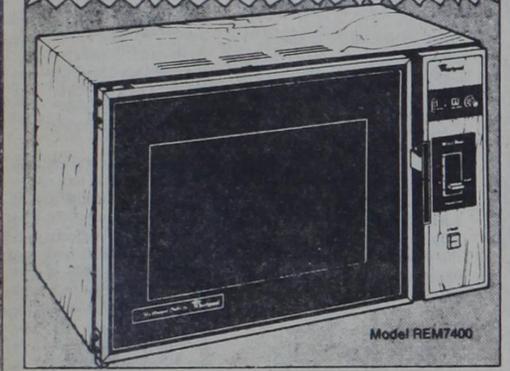

HOMER'S ODYSSEY tells how the hero, Ulysses, and his men were shipwrecked on an island inhabited by a man-eating giant called Cyclops. In the face of this predicament Ulysses was able to persuade the giant to grant him the favor that he be the last of the crew to be eaten.

THIS ANCIENT GREEK STORY somewhat illustrates the attitude of some people and some businesses towards Government intervention in the free market. Each wants to be the last to feel the Federal teeth although they are deeply concerned about the preservation of the free enterprise system. Efforts are fragmented to preserve it. This seems to feed the trend here in Washington for more rules, regulations, control and regimentation on "the other guy."

FROM OUR CHURCHES

Church Of Christ

Few will deny that ours are troubled times. The international scene is potentially explosive. Internal conflicts disrupt all too often the smooth flow of life at the national level. Homes seem to be disintegrating more and more rapidly. Violence is on the rise. What has gone wrong and how can we solve the problems?

The root of the difficulty is in the fact that we, as a nation, have largely lost our moorings. Although America has, from the start, been a country of extremely varied ranges of thought and practice: religious and otherwise, still the main stream has been, until recently, one of deep faith in God and profound respect for the Bible. Radical elements have succeeded in destroying much of this, leaving in their wake confusion and fear. When ancient Israel ceased to be a people of the Scriptures, and prophet said of her: "My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge" (Hoseah 4:6). Any rupture of relations between God and men will result in disaster: "There there is no vision (revelation from God), the people perish" (Proverbs 29:18). The word translated "perish" in the last passage literally means "become naked". People without God are stripped bare of direction and values, resulting in sheer catastrophe, for "it is not in man that walks to direct his own steps" (Jeremiah 10:23).

We must return to God and to the council of the Bible. We must make meaningful once more the abundant references in our Constitution and other founding documents, as well as in our history, to God and the Christian faith. We must put God and the Sacred Oracles back into our nation. We must begin by putting these back into our churches. Most of our pulpits are nothing more than sounding boards for empty platitudes, soothing words or political and social commentaries. Most of the major seminaries have long since abandoned any fundamental belief in the Bible as the Inspired Word of God, in favor of theories which make the Book a purely human document, full of errors and legends. We must put God and the Bible back into our homes, in regular readings and devotionals. We must find a way also to put God and the Bible back into our educational system. This is our only solution; the alternatives are too terrible to imagine. It will take courage to stem the tide and reverse the process, but it can indeed be done!

Join us for Bible classes: on Sunday at 9:30 a.m., on Wednesday at 7 p.m., and for the Assemblies on Sunday at 10:30 a.m. and 6 p.m.

Several among us are still sick, Hassie Moon had her eye surgery and is doing fine. Mrs. Georgia Crossnoe expects to return home this week. Pam Hill is to have back surgery in Ft. Worth this week. She enters the hospital Friday. Ollie Burns fell and broke her ankle, but is able to be up and about some. Mrs. Harvey showed a slight improvement at the first of the week, but remains in Cisco Hospital.

We extend our sympathy to Jack White, following the sudden death of his brother-in-law Elmer Hardesty, in California, last week. Several others have contributed Memorial funds to our church Library, to honor Sam Jones.

Congratulations to Alton and Olene Claborn on their 50th Wedding Anniversary. Their daughter hosted a reception Sunday at Lake Hubbard.

May your week be a good one. Call us if we can serve in any way.

A small child was riding in a train through the high mountains. The ravines were deep and threatening. A man moves over to the side of the boy, and asks if he isn't frightened by those deep gorges. His reply is, "Oh no, you see, my daddy is the engineer."

When the world is unsure, the children of God know their Father is running the world. Have you found this same confidence?

The desire for a fuller, richer life runs as an unbroken thread throughout the history of mankind. This yearning and aspiration to attain perfection is given expression in nearly every object of art. It is the dominant theme in literature and the inspiration of the world's great music. Religion, literature, music—these are the inseparable trinity to which man intuitively turns with faith and confidence for strength to hold a forward course unswervingly through every trial.

It is in these, rather than in the material things, that the spirit finds complete contentment. These irresistible forces alone possess the power to exalt and unify, and have inspired the noblest deeds of valor and sacrifice. However difficult the path, everyone will find courage in the knowledge that the beautiful things in life endure for all time.

"There is a light to lead you, There is a Love to guide— There is an Unseen Power Forever at your side." Come worship the Lord with us in the beauty of his Holiness, and He will lift us above the ugliness of the earth.

This past Sunday was a very beautiful day, and though we lost an hour sleep by the setting of our clocks ahead, our attendance at worship was very good. We appreciate all those who came, and the very special music provided truly an inspiration to us.

Mrs. Pete Starks has returned home from the hospital and is reported to be improving. However Lee Byrd and Mrs. Carl Irbay are patients in the Cisco Hospital. Mrs. Byrd is showing some improvement and resting comfortably at her home. Her sister Mrs. Mabel Rolston has returned to Rising Star and is caring for her.

Our Revival in Cisco Wesley Church got off to a good start this past Sunday evening with good singing, good attendance and good preaching by Rev. Bobby Weathers of Stephenville. Several from Rising Star attended the first services. An invitation is extended to all to unite with us in these Revival Services which will run through Friday evening. The services time each evening is 7:30 p.m.

Come by and visit with us, and if we can be of assistance to you and yours please let us know.

First Baptist Church

Most of the difficulties we have with other people and with ourselves is of our own making. Hurt feelings, a harshly spoken word, a felt rejection and other experiences are common to all of us. What do you do when something like this happens?

The old saying is true that troubles, like babies, grow larger through nursing them. You can dwell upon what happened. You can let anger and revenge build up in your mind. How can a Christian overcome such thinking? God says, true love, "takes no account of the evil done to it—pays no attention to a suffered wrong."

It is also true that half of our troubles come from wanting our own way. The other half generally come from getting our own way. Again God says that "love does not insist on its own rights or its own way, for it is not self-seeking."

We can pray that God will fill our hearts with such love. As God's love controls our response to others we will then know a life filled with that which "endures long and is patient and kind. It is not arrogant and inflated with pride. It is not rude, and does not unbecomingly."

Because of God's love controlling our lives a Christian, we will have a beautiful relationship with other people.

R. D. Williams, Pastor

Commentary By Myrtle Owen

(Rev. 3:2,3) The Clouds are lifting, the dawn is breaking. Let us hold tightly to the things of this world. If we are ready when Christ comes, then we shall rise to meet him in the air, but if we fail to be ready, we shall be left behind; let our minds be daily centered on Jesus, looking for His soon return. He may come tomorrow. Let us be ready!

(Rev. 3:8) Before us in an open door. Life is filled with new possibilities. Tomorrow is another day for new opportunities to enjoy the blessings of God, I arise every morning, looking around the corner of discover what good things God has in store for those that Love Him.

(Rev. 3:17, 18) Many times we go to great lengths to build our fortunes and pave the way for a few years of comfortable living and too often over look the most important possession of all—God. It is a precious thing to belong to God. There is no earthly possession worthy to be compared with the value of such a relationship. All temporal and earthly values shall eventually lose their worth. But the limitless treasures that are ours in belonging to God shall never lose their values or depreciate through usage or the passing of time.

STATE REP. FRED HEAD SAYS

PRESIDENT CARTER MUST DEMAND NEW ENERGY PRODUCTION

AUSTIN-State Representative Fred Head indicated strong displeasure with President Carter's reliance on conservation as the major element in his national energy policy. "The President still does not recognize that increased production of energy sources is the key to any national energy policy," Head said.

Head went on to say that too many states have sat back and failed to explore and develop their energy resources. "These other states have not developed their deep coal reserves or their off-shore wells because it might make their pretty countryside look bad," Head said. "I'm about ready to vote to shut down all oil and gas production going out of Texas until the President gets tough on these states who have done nothing in regard to producing energy resources. One of these days, the people in these other states are going to understand that oil and gas wells and producing coal mines are a beautiful sight."

Head continued. "I've had a number of people suggest shutting down Texas production to out-of-state users. Others have suggested separating Texas into five states to take advantage of the cheap interstate gas. One even suggested seceding from the United States. One thing is for certain, Texas residents have footed the bill for the gas to heat America's icy northlands and something drastic must be done to put a stop to it."

The veteran legislator from Athens urged all Texans to write President Carter and White House Energy Chief James Schlesinger and express their views on the new energy policy. Head remarked, "We've got to let the President know that we've been drilling day and night, and paying through the nose for oil and gas while other states have sat back and bought our oil and gas cheaper than we can buy it ourselves."

Claiming that the President's proposed conservation policies would create severe hardships on Texans in particular, Head said, "In a state as large and diverse as Texas, a huge tax on gasoline and big cars would have a tremendous negative effect on our economy and our lives. In the crowded Northeast, there is no problem if you can't afford to drive since there are buses, railroads, and subways ready to take you where you want to go. However, in Texas, highways are our only practical link with one another, and gasoline at a reasonable price and cars safe enough to drive in are essential if we are to maintain our well-being."

Head concluded, "We must demonstrate to the President that the way to solve our nation's energy crisis is to create incentives to increase production of oil, gas, and coal while developing alternative energy sources instead of raising the price of gasoline to over a dollar a gallon and taxing big cars out of existence."

Republican Party To Host School

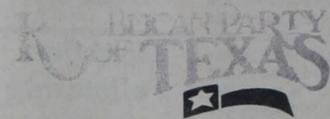

On April 29th and 30th, the Republican Party of Texas will conduct a leadership school for county chairman, precinct chairman and other interested personnel from the 17th Congressional District.

A reception will be held on Friday, April 29th beginning at 7:00 p.m. at the Sheridan Inn in Abilene. The school will start at 7:45 a.m. Saturday morning and will run until 4:30 p.m. and will be conducted at the Sheridan Inn. Following the school, the Taylor County Republicans will host everyone to a "Dutch treat" dinner at the Town Crier on Highway 80. Babysitters will be available. Area Republicans and all other interested people, independents or otherwise, are extended a cordial invitation to attend.

Fashion 'n Fabrics

By FANNIE GLEESON

Here is another version of the fashion that shows every indication of being the hit of the year: the culotte. The one illustrated is a set of three different designs. The one shown has a unique front yoke closed with buttons and loops. Another version has a zippered flyfront, panel seaming for slimming effect and diagonal pockets. The third is a plain version.

As we've been used to elasticized waistbands for skirts and pants of knit fabric, it's time to get acquainted with the closure type. Don't be alarmed when you notice that the upper edge of the pantskirt is larger than the waistband. This accommodates the curves below the waist. The extra amount is eased onto the waistband.

The waistband overlaps from right to left for a front closure like coats and blouses. When a pantskirt or skirt has a back closure, the overlap is left over right. In all cases, the underlap should extend at least one and a quarter inches beyond closure seamline.

A waistband should be snug, not tight. You also want a waistband that is firm enough to hold its shape. Use interfacing half the width of the waistband.

Either fusible or nonfusible interfacing may be used, depending upon personal preference as well as kind of fabric. When nonfusible is used, baste it to half of the waistband along the four sides of the interfacing. Unless topstitching will be used to complete the waistband, secure the edge of the interfacing at long fold line with invisible slip-stitches.

A quick waistband can be made by placing the seamline of the long unnotched edge of the pattern piece on the selvage of your fabric. After cutting the waistband as described, interface. Fold waistband lengthwise, having the raw edges extend five-eighths inch below the selvage edge. Turn under the long raw edge a trifle more than five-eighths of an inch. Turn the two short ends under five-eighths inch and press all folds.

Working from right side of skirt, pin long fold over the seamline, placing pins on outside in a perpendicular direction. Baste, catching in the selvage on the inside of the waistband. Topstitch the four sides of waistband, stitching from the outside.

WORLD'S NO. 1 DRINK
 Bostonians in 1773 dumped a lot of tea into the harbor, not because they didn't like it, but to protest British taxes on imports.

Today there's a switch. More and more Americans are dumping tea into their cups because of the high rise in coffee prices. As coffee zooms past $3 a pound, even the staunch coffee-lovers are finally being tempted to find out why tea is the most popular beverage in the world.

As a start, tea is one of the least fattening. Like coffee, it contains caffeine to give you a lift. You can take it straight, or with milk, sugar or lemon. And compared to coffee, it's deliciously inexpensive.

There are about 3,000 kinds of tea, all coming from the same plant, but they break down into three main types: black, green and oolong.

In the United States, according to Tea Council, 97 percent of the tea consumed is black, which is fermented. Oolong is partially fermented, green is unfermented. Here are some of the most popular black teas:

Darjeeling — the finest grade and the most delicately flavored.

Earl Grey — highly scented.

English Breakfast — robust and full-bodied.

Lapsang Souchong — smoky flavor.

If you care to try an oolong tea, jasmine is delicately flavored with jasmine blossoms.

The Tea Council reports the best way to prepare tea is to preheat the teapot with hot water. Add leaves or bags. Pour in water and boil. Let it brew from 3 to 5 minutes.

If you pour the boiling water over a tea bag in a cup, cover the cup with a saucer while it brews.

YOU AND YOUR HEALTH

By Peter J. Esse, M.D.

GRANDMA'S DAY

Did Grandma have it easy? Here are two letters giving opinions:

Dear Dr. Esse: Most of the younger generation do not slop hogs, chop wood, and few cook three big meals a day. Not the way Grandma did over a wood stove, not electric, not gas. They do not do laundry on a washboard.

Grandma did diapers, not Pampers. She did not drive a pickup truck or tractor — she did it all with horses. She worked all day in the field.

We did not turn out our kerosene lamp and go to bed at 8 p.m. Often we got up at 3 a.m. Pet pigs and lambs needed special attention. I have carried water a quarter of a mile. I have walked three miles to buy groceries at night so my husband could help me carry them.

Although we didn't have a PTA and our children had a one-room schoolhouse, we also worked for a better community. We had no buses, no air conditioning. Just a stove in the middle of the room.

My first year at school I walked three miles through fields, whether snowdrifts, rain, or shine. But I am glad I went to that kind of school.

I have seen it all firsthand. I lived through it all without taking tranquilizers or aspirin.

Things may be difficult in modern life but it wasn't easy in my time, either. — Mrs. A.

Dear Dr. Esse: Anyone who says Grandma had it easier is, well, crazy. How many of the younger ones ever washed on the board, canned all their own meat, dressed chickens, ironed with an old-fashioned iron? — Mrs. W.

SPORTS from the pressbox

By RED LAKELAND

HOTLINE ON SPORTS

While his daughter, Chris, basks in the rich world tennis spotlight, 53-year-old Jimmy Evert still retains his middle American style. Although a friend says room additions to the Evert home make it the only $125,000 house in a $35,000 neighborhood, Jimmy's life is encompassed in a six-block area. He lives three blocks from the courts and six blocks from church. His car, for weeks at a time, might not go out of the six-block area.

"I like to consider us a typical American family," Evert told me. "We have our problems like everybody else. I love my family. I don't like them to be put on a pedestal."

VIEWS IN SPORTS

It was 17 years ago that a czar was born. Pete Rozelle became commissioner of the National Football League. He finds it less fun than he used to. Having nothing better to do, or nothing he can do better, he'll try for 27 years. The club owners, by a vote of 27 to 1, decided to give him a new contract. The old one, which by press estimates paid him from $200,000 to $250,000 annually, had three years to run. The new one is for 10 years and calls for a raise. This suggests the owners think their 50-year-old chief executive is doing satisfactory work.

CALORIE COUNTDOWN

BY SUSAN DUFF MASTRO

THE BASIC FOUR AND CALORIES

The four food groups are the categories formulated by nutritionists, and agreed upon by all of them, which are essential for a healthy body.

Each group specifies a certain kind of food and how much of it all of us need to supply the proper nutrients to our body every day.

Dieters too often neglect that word "nutrition," and many of them do so because they are concerned with the number of calories in food. You can combine good nutrition with good dieting practices by following this calorie-wise outline of eating from all the four food groups.

The first is the milk group. The nutritional plan states that adults should have at least two glasses of milk every day, or their nutritional equivalent, cheese and other milk-made foods. An eight-ounce glass of non-fat skimmed milk has 90 calories. Two glasses add 180 to your daily tally.

Next, the meat group. Two servings from this group which includes all meat, fish, poultry, eggs, should be eaten every day. A serving refers to three ounces of cooked meat. The average calorie-count for an ounce of meat, fish or poultry is 75 calories per ounce. Two three-ounce servings then amount to 450 calories from the meat group.

The vegetable and fruit group is the third food group. Four servings of vegetable and/or fruit should be eaten every day, including a dark green or deep yellow vegetable, citrus fruit or tomatoes. A serving of this group means a half cup of vegetables or fruits or a half cup of fruit juice.

The final of the four groups is the bread and cereal group. Four or more servings of enriched whole grain or restored bread should be eaten every day; each serving is one slice of bread or a cup of cereal. The average calories in a serving from this group are 70; four servings add 280 calories to your daily intake.

The 180 calories from the milk group plus 50 from the meat group plus 160 from the fruit and vegetable group plus 280 from the bread and cereal group add up to 1070 calories daily. A perfect reducing calorie count combined with a perfectly and totally nutritious diet plan. Try it. You'll feel good and you'll lose weight slowly and permanently.

A Breakfast To Smile About

Set the alarm a few minutes ahead and see if that extra time and effort aren't worth this tempting platter of Glazed Canadian Bacon and Pineapple. A mixture of Log Cabin syrup, pineapple juice and vinegar, poured on the bacon and pineapple, creates a tart glaze that enhances the meat and fruit flavors. Serve with frozen toaster waffles and pass the syrup!

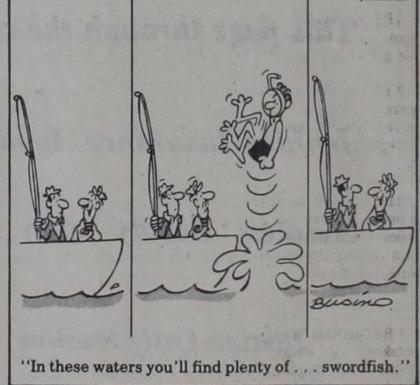

GLAZED CANADIAN BACON AND PINEAPPLE

- 1 can (8 oz.) sliced or crushed pineapple in pineapple juice
 - 1/2 pound sliced Canadian bacon
 - 1/3 cup pancake and waffle syrup
 - 1 tablespoon vinegar
- Drain pineapple, reserving 2 tablespoons juice; cut rings into pieces. Arrange bacon slices in a skillet and top each with pineapple. Combine reserved juice, the syrup and vinegar; pour into skillet. Heat, basting occasionally until bacon and pineapple are glazed, about 5 minutes. Serve with waffles and additional syrup, if desired. Makes 3 or 4 servings.

People can detect the smell of some substances if as little as one thirty-billionth of a part by weight is present in a given weight of air.

TIPS ON TRIPS

At any season, whether your next trip turns out to be a delight or a disaster might depend on how well you follow these five time-tested travel tips.

1. When packing, attach a list of the contents of the bag on the inside of the lid. When you repack make sure everything on your list goes back in—including new purchases. This will keep you from leaving anything valuable behind.

2. Before embarking, make sure to insure your valuables. If you plan to carry along good jewelry, or an expensive camera, this is especially important.

3. Your bags are more easily identifiable if there is something distinctive about them; they are harder to lose if they are harder to confuse. At least be sure to have an identification tag on them.

4. Always have a little cash on hand in the currency of the country you're in for tipping and small purchases, but carry most of your money in American Express Travelers Cheques. Should they be lost or stolen, American Express protects your fun by refunding missing

Travelers Cheques help protect against loss or theft of funds.

Canada, and Avis offices in Europe.

5. Make sure you have two lists of vital statistics and keep one in your suitcase, one in your purse. Include your eyeglass or drug prescriptions, your credit card numbers, Travelers Cheques numbers, your passport number, addresses to remember, flights you're scheduled to take.

Follow these tips and you'll be taking the right precautions for saving your trip.

Why is it dangerous to inhale the fumes of carbon tetrachloride? -- C.R.

The fumes of carbon tetrachloride can be carried by your blood stream to the liver, kidneys and heart and could cause permanent damage. Even a home fire extinguisher could cause this damage if it contains this chemical. Once again, as with all medicines and chemicals, read the label.

Is it true that a male contraceptive is now being studied? -- S.F.

Yes. So far the time-release capsule has been proven to be 100 percent effective in prolific rabbits. The testosterone containing device will be implanted under the skin, and it could make men infertile for up to two years. It's still a big hop from rabbits to men, but the eight years of previous study is bringing this device closer to reality.

Is the cost of special schools for the physically disabled tax deductible? -- M.H.

Payments for sending a mentally or physically handicapped dependent to a special school are tax deductible if the principal reason for attendance is to alleviate the handicap. You can get the full story on this and information on other medical tax deductions in the "Medical Expense Record Book." For a copy send $1, plus two first class stamps, and your name and address, to me in care of this newspaper. Supply is limited.

TIM'S AUTO TIPS

With today's new cars having electronic ignition, spark-plug life has been doubled. You can save more money when you change plugs by having them sand-blasted and re-gapped. It will add another 6,000 miles to your old plugs.

SOUND-ADVICE

All Ages Susceptible

The belief there is a correlation between old age and impaired hearing is merely a myth, according to the Beltone Crusade for Hearing Conservation.

The crusade is sponsored by Beltone Electronics Corporation, world leader in hearing aids and electronic hearing test instruments, as a public service educational program.

While it is true hearing loss is most common among persons over age 65, impairments can and do strike individuals of all ages, including infants.

From birth through the teen years, most hearing losses are caused by birth defects, infections or severe cases of childhood illness. For young adults the greatest threat of hearing impairment comes from continuous or prolonged exposure to excessive noise. During middle age, persons can encounter otosclerosis, which is a disorder of the bones of the middle ear.

Among senior citizens the primary cause of hearing problems is presbycusis — a loss of hearing due to aging. Commonly termed "nerve deafness" this condition frequently results in the victim being able to hear, but unable to clearly understand.

There is no certain method of avoiding any of these conditions. However, crusade officials point out the likelihood of encountering these problems can be diminished by observing certain common-sense precautions. They include obtaining medical attention for infections and severe childhood illnesses and avoiding exposure to excessive noise.

Consumer Debt $1,450 Per Family

To what extent have Eastland County residents been utilizing the installment credit available to them in their recent stepped-up spending for consumer goods?

How large is their debt load, relative to income, and how well are they managing it?

As in other parts of the country, there was an uptick in consumer spending in recent months, especially in December, causing the debt load to expand considerably.

From the standpoint of business, this was a good sign. It was a solid indicator of an economy that was on the rise. People were again in the market place for new cars, washing machines, furniture, refrigerators and other costly goods and services.

Because most of it was bought on credit, as usual, the increase in the debt load reflects the increase in consumer buying.

Nationally, according to figures from the Federal Reserve Board, consumer credit at the beginning of the year was at a three-year high, nearly $179 billion. It was 10 percent more than a year earlier. Auto buying was the chief reason.

In Eastland County, based upon average earnings and spending locally and upon the national findings, the amount of installment debt outstanding is estimated at $1,450 per family. In general, the debt load is equivalent to about one-seventh of net, disposable income.

That is the average. Some families have bigger obligations than that and some have much smaller ones. There is a small proportion that buys for cash and has no installment debt at all.

As for the Eastland County population as a whole, the amount of such debt outstanding at the beginning of the year was approximately $10,932,000 it is estimated.

The largest part of it consisted of loans for car purchases. Most of the rest was for other consumer buying, for personal loans and loans for home repair and modernization. Mortgage loans, charge accounts and single payment loans are not included. They do not fall into this category.

Some 15 percent of the average local family's after-tax income, or about $120 per month, is needed to meet the installments on its debt, it is calculated.

Boys Take 18-B Track

Rising Star broke a deadlock with Gorman by winning the final event of the day, the mile relay to take top honors and the team championship at the District 18-B boys track and field meet in Ranger Texas Tues.

The two school each had to totaled 128 points going into the final event with Rising Star winning in 3:47.6 and Gorman placing third.

Tolar finished third in the team standings with 91 points, followed by Gordon with 67 points.

Kevin Fry of Tolar was the high point individual at the meet with 37 points. Fry won the long jump, 100, 220, and ran a leg on the winning Tolar sprint relay team.

The top two in each event qualified for the Region II track meet to be held in two weeks at Brownwood.

Texas Leads Nation In Tornado Sightings

QUICK ACTION CAN SAVE LIVES, PROPERTY

It was May 26, 1976--the height of the tornado season in Texas.

The National Weather Service had posted tornado warnings for Hill County and the sheriff's office, following standard procedure, alerted deputies out in the country. Sure enough, an ominous black twister appeared in the sky.

With Sheriff's deputies tracking the twister by car and radioing in reports to a voluntary weather station, it was determined that the path of the storm would take it near a Presbyterian children's home where 75 youngsters lived.

Calling ahead in the nick of time, deputies warned of the oncoming tornado and the children were evacuated to the safety of a nearby basement before the storm destroyed the north end of the home.

This is just one story out of many incidents that demonstrates how advance warning and preparedness saved lives in Texas last year.

It has been going on ever since the NWS instituted a system of tornado spotting and warning in the 1950's.

Individual's Role
But it is just such preparedness and early warning--through a nationwide system of weather professionals and trained spotters--that have made too many people forget their own role in protecting themselves and their property against storms, says the Texas Information Center (TIIC) of the Insurance Information Institute.

Catastrophes don't always happen to the "other guy". Every year communities that have never before been struck by a tornado become a disaster area.

Last year Texas was far and away the leader in tornado incidents in the nation with between 176 and 201 tornadoes sighted. The discrepancy in figures is due to the system of recording used by two reporting agencies--The National Weather Service (176) and the Department of Public Safety (201). There were, luckily, only two tornado-related deaths in the state in 1976.

Whenever a community begins mopping up after a windstorm or tornado, insurance companies put into force pre-arranged catastrophe procedures to help a community recover from the disaster.

If warranted, additional claims people are called in to help expedite claims processing. As a general rule, hardship cases get first priority. The individual property owner can help by making temporary repairs to prevent further damage - the cost of which is often covered by the insurance policy - and by notifying the agent or company representative immediately upon discovery and estimation of potential loss.

The message is an old one but worth repeating, especially this time of the year: proper action and after a storm can save lives and property.

Windmills have long been a common sight on the farm. But a windmill in the city and high atop a multi-story apartment building? There's one located on top of a renovated tenement at 519 East 11th Street on the Lower East Side in New York City.

What's it doing there? It's using the wind to generate electricity for 33 tenants in the building below.

Erected by means of funds provided by the Community Services Administration, the central agency within the federal government for developing, testing and operating various programs to reduce poverty, the 2,000 watt, 14-foot diameter, three-bladed wind generator is the first windmill to be installed in any major American city for power generation.

The 5-story, 11-unit, 33-tenant tenement on which it is mounted was renovated by a group of tenants who organized themselves into the 11th Street Movement.

Advised by an Energy Task Force headed by Architect Travis Price and Wind Generator Designer Ed Finch, they and their community sponsor, Interfaith Adopt-A-Building, negotiated a $177,494 loan from the city of New York to make the abandoned apartments habitable again. Through "sweat equity" (their own labor), they earned the right to future ownership of one of the rehabilitated apartments for no other charge than a monthly carrying charge on part of the municipal loan.

The renovated building also has experimental solar collectors on its roof. These, and the windmill, were made possible by a combined CSA grant of about $40,000.

Both the windmill and solar collectors are experimental projects of innovative, inexpensive methods of generating energy and power for use by poor families. If they prove adaptable on a wide scale in urban and rural areas, they would make both housing and energy more affordable by the poor. With costs of fuel and electricity soaring, many poor families - both in the city and country - are now unable to obtain adequate fuel, heat or electricity for what are often substandard apartments or dwellings.

Besides installing the solar collectors and windmill, the tenants also added insulation, storm windows and other weatherizing materials to insure more efficient use of the heat and energy these devices generate.

At present, the solar collectors, generating power from the sun's rays, heat 80 percent of the hot water used by the 33-tenants and the windmill is expected to generate ample electricity for most of the tenants' needs.

Based on the ratio of electrical output to the windmill's cost, Architect Price said the system should provide lifetime savings of ten times the initial investment. The lifetime of the windmill and collectors are estimated to be 30 years.

In 1974, when the present 11th Street projects originated, the tenement at 519 East 11th Street, like several others on the same street, had been earlier gutted by fire. Some 13 separate blazes had forced previous tenants in the building to flee in 1973, leaving ownership to the city after landlords abandoned it.

By their combined efforts and the technical advice of Architect Price and other experts with the Energy Task Force, the group transformed their building into what was an island of restoration in its block and neighborhood.

Today, it is one of several renovated buildings in the block. The sweat equity concept has been used to restore five other nearby buildings.

Meanwhile, the 11th Street Movement tenants and their advisors are also exploring other small-scale techniques to relieve their poverty: use of urban roof top space for food production plus intensive aquaculture in the cellar. They are also looking into possible production of rooftop windmill generators like their own for sale and use by other groups of poor people.

Even more important than specific projects, the "Sweat equity" group, along with the advisors, have shown how urban cooperative groups can plan their own future. Non-urban groups, with suitable adaptations, might do the same.

As the 11th Street Movement has apparently proved, the windmill and similar relatively inexpensive energy-producing methods has no narrow bounds, urban or rural.

The windmill could yet become commonplace again, both in the city and in the countryside.

Age Passport, including the places where it may be obtained and where it may be used write the National Park Service, P.O. box 728, room N-18, Santa Fe, N.M. 87501. You'll be sent a brochure that describes both the Golden Age and the Golden Eagle program.

The Golden Eagle is for person under 62 and is a little different. It also admits the permit holder and a carload of accompanying people, but it costs $10 and is good for only the calendar year.

Those who plan several visits to Park System areas charging entrance fees may save by buying the Golden Eagle for $10 rather than paying individual entrance fees, which range from 50 cents per person to $3 per car, at each area.

The Golden Eagle and Golden Age Passports were established as part of the Federal recreation fee program under the Lan and Water Conservation Fund Act of 1965, as amended. Most revenues from Golden Eagle Passports sales go into federal outdoor recreation programs.

When you write for your brochure describing the Golden Age Eagle programs, also ask for the free SUPER 77 trip planner that describes National park Service areas within a tankful of gasoline of your home.

PORK SCALOPPINE

Cookbooks are full of excellent recipes for veal scaloppine, since these thin fillets are especially adaptable to a variety of spices and sauces. Italian and French cuisines, particularly, feature them often. The big problem is that veal scaloppine can be very expensive.

But there is a way you can try all of those scaloppine recipes without putting such a huge dent in your kitchen budget. The secret is to use pork, for pork makes a fine substitute for veal. Just ask your butcher to cut 3/4 inch medallions from the pork loin and then flatten them with his cleaver. Presto. Pork scallops. Another substitute is to buy 3/4 inch pork chops, remove the bones and flatten with a meat mallet or edge of heavy saucer.

Here is a recipe from Sweden that can be made with veal, but also works wonderfully well with pork.

Pork Scaloppine with Mustard Cream Sauce

Ingredients: 1/3 cup white vinegar, 12 pork scallops (about 2 pounds), 8 peppercorns, crushed, 2 cups heavy cream, 1 cup flour, 1/3 cup Dijon style mustard (optional), 1 jar lingonberry preserves (optional), 5 tablespoons butter.

Put the flour in a cereal bowl or plate. Sprinkle the scallops with salt and pepper on both sides and then press gently into the surface of the meat. Dip each scallop into the flour and tap off any excess.

Saute the pork in 3 tablespoons of butter for 2 minutes on each side. Transfer to a platter and keep warm.

Add the vinegar and the peppercorns to the skillet, bring the mixture to a boil and then reduce the liquid in volume by two-thirds as you stir. Scrape up particles that may have adhered to pan.

Add the cream and stir. Simmer the mixture for five minutes or until it thickens, then remove the skillet from the heat and add the mustard. Now mix the remaining 2 tablespoons of butter into the sauce and season with one teaspoon of salt.

Pour the sauce over the pork scallops and serve the lingonberries on the side as you would cranberry sauce along with a crisp green salad, noodles, buttered cauliflower with lemon and fresh fruit for dessert. A California white wine or ice cold beer goes great with this dish. A Consumer Service from the CYANAMID Agricultural Division.

SANITATION NUTRITION HELP CONTROL INTERNAL PARASITES--A Texas A&M University veterinarian says that internal parasite treatment in livestock may be ineffective if good sanitation and nutrition practices are not followed. Cattle develop some resistance to parasites but this can be overcome if animals are over-crowded and under-nourished. When animals are moved from the infection source and placed on an adequate ration, they will rapidly lose most of their parasites. The medium stomach worm and the common liver fluke are the most serious internal parasites in Texas livestock.
