May Centennial Brings In Record Crowd

The May Centennial combined with the May Homecoming Celebration was held Saturday, September 19th on the May School Campus. According to the old timers of May, this was the largest attendance ever to gather at May for any occasion. The May folks agree this was the best Homecoming May has ever had, with the largest number of ex-students since the beginning of the Homecomings.

Being impossible to count heads, those in charge of the various activities estimated at least 1200 or more attended.

The students began registering at 8:00 a.m. in the May Homemaking Cottage, they were served coffee, punch and cookies for eye openers.

At 9:00 a.m. the May Centennial Pageant: "The May Messenger" (the name of May's first newspaper) was presented. Putter Jarvis was Master of Ceremonies for the Pageant and a former May school student, did a great job. The May people join in to say, "A great big thank you Putter for a job well done, we hope you will come back and visit us again soon."

The Pageant was held in the May School Gymnasium and depicted scenes of the early days of this century. A one room teacher school house, with pupils sitting on a crude board bench that was held up with sawed blocks from large trees, the teacher, Rev. Bill Campbell, pastor of the First Baptist Church sat on a similar seat as the students. He taught at ease as if he had done this all his life. The pupils were dressed much as did the early 1900's school children.

There was a one room home for a family of seven, one little daughter relieved mother with the care of the two week old baby who seemed to like to be rocked. This was the Freeman family who lives here in May on Sidney Street. Each member was busy helping with the cooking and house work. Mrs. Freeman demonstrated the way butter was made in the old days, in a crock churn with lid to match and a dash made from an old broom handle sawed off to proper length, with a slat of wood cross each way to form a mixer, many present had never seen one. While mother was busy fixing lunch, cooking on an old cast iron stove, big sister was rocking the baby. This scene was very impressive.

There was also a Black Smith Shop, equipped with antique tools that were used many, many years ago. There was also a new stand with little boys selling "The May Messenger", May's first newspaper.

The old rope hanging galery was used in the old days to see that justice was enforced. Lawmen shot at a criminal three times but he got away with a slight leg injury, he was caught and led back where he was to be hung later.

Three old timers furnished Fiddle and Guitar music, several couples not wanting the music to be wasted, danced for a short session.

Two poets, Rev. Estill Allen and Marion McDaniel read some of the poems composed for this occasion. They received a standing ovation.

The May Centennial History Book was for sale in the entrance hall to the building. The Book represented many, many long hours, days, and months of hard work. Much traveling and many dollars, as the faithful committee which was headed by Rev. Estill Allen, Co-chairperson and Editor; also Marion McDaniel, Chairperson; researched Marker; Doreen (Sook) Burnett, Co-Chairperson, researcher; May Business Enterprises and Herschel Wheeler, Co-Chairperson, Researcher of May School History.

Lunch was served beginning at 11:30 in the school lunchroom, sponsored by the May Senior Class. The food was bought, cooked and served by the senior mothers.

The Parade at 2:30, which took the onlookers back to the early part of this century. A number of old models of the Ford model T coupe and touring cars looking as black and shiny as the day they rolled off the assembly line. Other makes and models of antique cars also graced the parade. The First Graders float was named the Graduating Class of 1993. Others in the parade was the Fire Trucks, Flags, Drill Team, Homecoming Queen candidates, Class Floats, Organizations, and outside floats. The outdoor Privy was a part of the Centennial parade.

Following the parade, the students and families met in the High School Auditorium for the regular annual business meeting with the 1981 president, Jo Anne Windham presiding.

Longest distance was recognized, Jake Plummer from Washington State. Jake received the award.

The oldest May graduate present was Bonnie Grace LeMaster of May.

The Coming Home Queen was Mrs. June Shannon of Stephenville, a former English teacher in May for eleven years. The elected Coming Home King was Wayne Harrell, a member of the 1946 class.

1982 officers elected were: President--Elizabeth Hardy; Vice-President--Eddy Hardy; Secretary--Jeanne Hardy; Treasurer--Ina Mae Moore and Parade Chairman--JoAnne Windham.

Outgoing officers were: President--JoAnne Windham; Vice-President--Betty Chambers; Secretary--Treasurer--Wayne Pittman; Parade Chairman--Elizabeth Hardy. The Pep Rally followed the business meeting.

Supper was served in the May Home Demonstration Club House from 5:30 to 8:00 p.m.

The May Junior Varsity Football game with Gordon was at 8:00 p.m. A capacity crowd cheered the May Tigers on to victory with a score of May 24 and Gordon 13.

Teresa Petross was crowned as Homecoming Queen. She was escorted by her step father, Bill Buzbee.

After the game, a dance was held at the Youth Fair Barn on the May Rodeo grounds, featuring the "Texas Pride Band." The report was that there was only about half of the people.

HOME COMING 180 Register for Homecoming

Barbrie Rust was crowned Football Sweetheart during half-time activities at Saturday nights Homecoming festivities.

Jerry Watkins, speaker for the 25th Annual Rising Star High School Homecoming began the program by saying, "This room is saturated with Memories, Spirit and Togetherness". In his introductory remarks, Watkins said, "I'm from Rising Star and never heard anyone who did not say it with pride and love." He went on to say, "I've been rich and I've been poor, I've been to New York City and I've been to Rising Star and RISING STAR IS BETTER."

Watkins closed with the poem, "Home."

Board Expresses Thanks

Reunion Weekend 1981 was, for all who participated, truly a day of Memories, Spirit and Togetherness.

It was Great to have classes represented as early as 1908 and to have many non-graduates of RSHS, who have become not only a vital part of the Rising Star Ex-Student Association but citizens of our town.

May I express the sincere appreciation of the permanent board of directors and the officers of the Rising Star Ex-Student Association to all on the program, the faculty and students of the Rising Star Schols, the PTO, the chairman and judges for the parade, the REACT Club, the local business organizations, Johnson Ford of Cross Plains, the Eastland County Highway Department, "The Rising Star" for its excellent coverage; radio stations and television and to the Exes, who traveled great distances to be a part of the 25th Rising Star Homecoming: a memorable experience.

My definition for the word reunion—it is the best of both worlds.

Quik Stop Rammed By Comanche Driver

With all the excitement Saturday night, the Quik Stop was also the scene of a little itself. A car driven by a Comanche resident rammed into the front of the store. Manager Kathy Hall stated that the individual had come into the store and made some purchases. He then left the store and got into his car. The vehicle then jumped the curb, an outside post, the sidewalk and crashed into the front of the store damaging a freezer and two aisle rows of merchandise. The Comanche man told investigating officer, Dennis Edwards that his thongs got hung on the accelerator pedal. After his forward motion the car then backed up and hit a post guarding the self-serve gas pumps located in front of the store.

The vehicle received only a minimal amount of damage. No one was injured in the accident which occurred at approximately 7:40 p.m.

Emergency repairs were made to the store that night and now await the arrival of a replacement window.

The driver was taken to Eastland County Courthouse where he was held on several charges.

Starbrites Entertain For Homecoming Exes

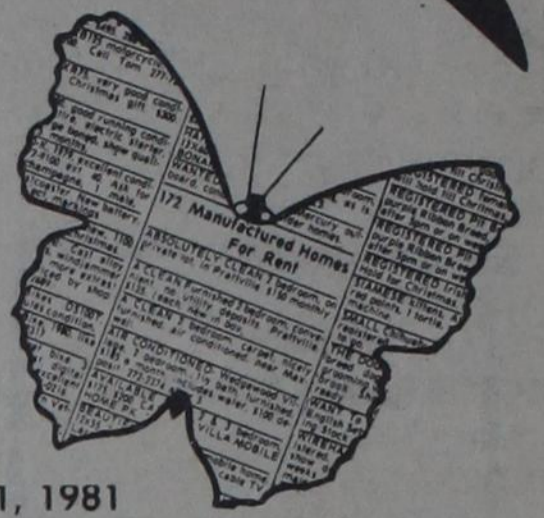

All thirteen who traveled to May Wednesday, September 23rd reported a good time. They were served a country dinner of pinto beans, greens, macaroni and cheese, buttermilk and cake and coffee by the Senior Citizens Club of May. The Starbrites played and were delightfully applauded.

Thursday, September 24th, thirty-five registered at the Club. Three tables full played 42 during the morning and one table full after noon, while the band practiced. We were all glad to see Velma Turner back. She hasn't been able to attend for a long time. Mr. Ross of the Carbon Community came by for lunch. He had come in for a hair cut. Saturday September

25th nineteen Starbrites, all bright eyed and shined up were at the High School gym and played at 8:30 during the registration of the ex-students for Homecoming. Only one of us, Julia Ross is a Rising Star Ex. Lela Clark figured she had broke a record of some kind. She didn't know of any other 85 year old lady who got up before daylight to play in a rhythm band. We all had fun. How about our float in the parade—all dressed up in "our best bib and tucker" was quite a contrast to the clowns in the Fourth of July float, huh? Many thanks to Clyde Griffin for driving the bus and truck for us. Remember we leave October 3rd at 10:00 a.m. to go to the Eastland Fair. Reporter, Rilla

"MILEPOST 407: A WEST TEXAS STORY" SHOWS POIGNANT PAST AND PRESENT OF TEXAS "They called it the big country and they still do," says narrator John Henry Faulk in the opening segment of "Milepost 407: A West Texas Story." The half-hour documentary, airing Thursday, Oct. 15th at 10:30 p.m. on Channel 13 tells the poignant story of West Texas—the land and its people—from its first settlement after the Civil War to a contemporary economy based on cattle ranching and oil. Produced by Fort Worth Productions and presented on public television by KERA, Dallas/Fort Worth, the documentary features the revealing recollections of two people—Miss Tommie Clack, born in 1882, and Rupert Richardson, born in 1891—who relive the early days when the white man first confronted the Comanche for rights to West Texas' wide-open spaces.

The Bhakta Family Enjoys Eastland County

The Best Western Restaurant - out on the Interstate - has a new look these days. Not only in its garden-terrace decor, but in its attractive Managers from India, Bharat Bhakta and Mr. Bhakta's brother, Kiran. And managing, to these young men, means being able to personally take care of anything that needs attention. Kiran is doing a lot of the cooking, but Bharat assists him when necessary.

Bharat and Kiran had lived in California for about seven years before moving to Eastland on August 15th of this year. But Bharat Bhakta's wife, who is a homemaker rather than a worker at the Restaurant, lived in India until her marriage about six months ago. Kiran, who is the younger of the brothers, is not married.

Like most people the world over, the Bhaktas are enthusiastic about their plans for the future. They hope to keep Best Western a quality place to dine, with a menu comparable to restaurants in the Metroplex and other areas. They may even add a few International dishes, such as chicken curry and similar things, as interest indicates.

"I don't know whether the people here would like the curry or peppers as hot as they serve them in India," Bharat smiles.

At the present time the Restaurant is serving mainly American food, with meals based around beef, chicken, or seafood. And a wide cross-section of people seem to be enjoying it - business people, oilmen, and travelers from the Interstate.

As the Bhakta brothers stir about with their duties at the Best Western it is difficult to realize the tremendous changes which have taken place in their lives. Bharat and Kiran were born in a small town named Pathadia, near Bombay, Southern India. Bharat enrolled in a College at Bardoli, where he studied Mechanical and Electrical Engineering.

In 1972 his parents moved to San Francisco, where his father went into business. About two years later Bharat and Kiran decided to move to the United States and work with their father.

This was a new and sometimes strange experience for the Hindu boys, coming to America without knowing any of the language or customs of the country. Bharat began to learn the English language by watching television and attempting to talk to people. And he began restaurant work by washing dishes, cooking - anything that was needed.

About five years ago Bharat and Kiran's father moved to Blythe, California - northeast of Los Angeles, on the edge of the Mojave desert - to run a Motel. There the brothers learned even more about American cooking and restaurant management.

Six months ago Bharat went back to India on a visit and met and married a lovely girl.

"No, I didn't know her before that time," he explains. "I found her on this visit."

After a tradition wedding the young couple returned to the United States. This summer the opportunity came to manage the Best Western Restaurant, and they came on to Eastland. Bharat Bhakta states that they have enjoyed it very much here - that the people have been friendly. They have found the area less crowded than California, with a hot summer climate comparable to that of Bombay. They haven't seen winter here yet, but are looking forward to that as just another in their long series of adventures.

Occasionally the family may travel to the Metroplex or to Coleman to visit other friends from India. Mrs. Bhakta also has an Uncle in Arizona.

Mr. and Mrs. Bharat Bhakta and Kiran Bhakta have apparently made all necessary adjustments to live with the American culture. But on one matter Bharat has not quite adapted! When asked what his hobby or recreation was, he looked a bit puzzled.

"My spare time? But I spend most of my time in the Restaurant," he explains. "I enjoy my work there!"

"Mainly," he adds, "I like to meet people. I want the people of this area to come out and try our food and service. I think they'll be very pleased."

COMMENTARY
By Myrtle Owen

First Thessalonians 4:13-18, (Written by request). The coming of the Lord for the Church, and Its future, But I would not have you to be ignorant, brethren, concerning them which are (or have died) asleep, that ye sorrow not, even as others which have no hope. For if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so them also which sleep (die) in Jesus will God bring with Him. For this we say unto you by the word of the Lord, that we which are alive and remain unto the coming of the Lord shall not prevent (or precede) them which are asleep. For the Lord Himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trump of God: and the dead in Christ shall rise first: Then we which are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air: and so shall we ever be with the Lord. Wherefore comfort (or cheer) one another with these words-- Revelation 1:7, Behold, he cometh with clouds, and every eye shall see Him, and they also which pierced Him: and all kindreds of the earth shall wail (mourn) because of Him. Even so Amen. I believe that the Bible teaches the personal, bodily return of Christ-- the same Man that-- the eyes of the apostles saw and the same Man that was taken up from them on the Mount of Olives. There are two stages to His coming. The first stage is called the Rapture. This refers to the Lord's coming in the air. He will not descend to the earth at that moment. This is an appearance which the Bible describes as "a thief in the night" (1 Thess. 5:2), so breathtakingly quick that Paul says that it will be "in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye" (1 Corinthians 15:52). Think how quickly you can bat you eye; that is the duration of Christ's appearance, None will see Him except those who are looking for Him. The next stage of Christ's coming will be a full-scale revelation of His Person in the clouds. This "coming" is the one referred to in this verse. He will appear surrounded by those whom He has raised from the dead and the living one whom He has translated in the Rapture. In this stage every eye will see Him. It will be a revelation of Christ the Person to the entire human race as He comes to the earth to fight the Battle of Armageddon.

So we have on the one hand the Rapture of the saints, and on the other the revelation of Christ returning with the saints to rule the earth. The Rapture is secret; the revelation of Jesus is public. The Rapture is a moment of time; the revelation will take place very slowly and universally. So live for God; let your own life be drawn in and hidden in Him, and then try to get others to accept this salvation, and experience the joy of living in Christ. Ask Jesus to come into your heart, ask Him to forgive your sins, and then except him and then tell others, you are saved. The saints will pray and hear Christ say, "Surely I come quickly. Amen."

of reach. Abilene drove 40 yards for their last score of the game.

Wildcats agree that winning a Homecoming game is a tremendous experience.

Rising Star hosts Santa Anna this Friday night for their last non-district game.

WILDCATS, PANTHERS AND BEES!

Not only was there a hot pursuit taking place on the playing field Saturday night between the Wildcats and Panthers, but some BEES decided to get in the action. The BEES seemed to suddenly appear throughout the stands on Rising Star's side. Several spectators were stung by these invaders, including one of the coaches and a referee. No one was seriously hurt but a lot of pain was experienced. The bees whereabouts since the game is unknown. Let's hope they have moved on!

to 1933. The Parade flowed from Rising Star High School down past the red light and then back to the gym for the Pep Rally.

DEFENSE PAYS OFF

By Craig Scoville and Dean Stephens
The Wildcats had been working all week to stop the Abilene Panthers' passing attack, and the work really paid off.

Abilene was quick to score, taking the opening drive in six plays down for a touchdown.

From there it all seemed to be Rising Star's defense, after Shults took an interception 45 yards for a touchdown.

Again defensively, Jon Vaughn, picked off a fumble out of the air and fought his way in for the Wildcat's second TD of the night.

Midway through the fourth quarter, Thad Chambers put through a 31 yard field goal, which put the game out

HALFTIME FESTIVITIES GO WELL

By Mike Cogburn
Saturday night's performance was by far the best of the year for Mrs. Billie Zellman and the Blue Brigade Band. The show was filled with about 30 minutes of music and entertainment.

They opened the night with an old favorite, "Apache, Sailors Dance, Climb Every Mountain and The Horse Flight Song."

There was lots of action from the twirlers and flag corps. Twirlers Gretchin Williams (head), Melinda Finley and Leslie Alford put on a fine show for the Homecoming crowd. Flag Corp Elizabeth Aldridge (head), Kim Fuller and Laura Clay aided the Band in the presentation.

Barbrie Rust was crowned as the 1981 Football Sweetheart by the following seniors: Terry Walker, Thad Chambers, Damon Cooper, Edward Anderson, Billy Nall, Jon Vaughn, Chuck Harris and Clay Shults. Clay Shults also presented flowers to the Homecoming Queen, Gloria Jones Phillips and was escorted by Homecoming King, Jerry Watkins.

Student Loans Guaranteed

Austin--The Texas Guaranteed Student Loan Corporation announced today that over $100 million dollars in student loans had been guaranteed by the corporation since it began its administration of the guaranteed student loan program for the state of Texas in January of this year. The corporation, TGSLC, was created by the Texas Legislature in 1979 as a public, non-profit corporation to guarantee loans to college students made by private lenders in the GSL program.

TGSLC was created, in part, to improve private lender participation in the guaranteed student loan program and to provide college students greater access to student loans. Joe L. McCormick, Executive Director of TGSLC noted that the positive response of banks, savings and loan associations and credit unions throughout the state has been tremendous. McCormick pointed out that of the $100 million dollars guaranteed to date, over 96 percent of these guaranteed student loans were made by private lending institutions.

Recently passed federal legislation will restrict the student's eligibility to families with $30,000 income or less. Families with higher incomes will have to demonstrate financial need in order to qualify for a guaranteed student loan. It is difficult to predict just how many Texas students will be adversely affected by these new restrictions which go into effect October 1, 1981.

TGSLC is confident that the lending community in Texas will continue to provide loans to students and the corporation is dedicated to administering the guaranteed student loan program to maintain their support. In addition, Texas is fortunate in having its own state loan program, the Hinson-Hazlewood Loan Program, to assist eligible students who may qualify. Hinson-Hazlewood Student Loans are also guaranteed by the Texas Guaranteed

Loan Corporation. Students interested in making application for a Texas Guaranteed Student Loan are encouraged to contact the financial aid office of the school they plan to attend.

THE SPIRIT STRIKES AGAIN

By Merlinda Munguia
Friday, the spirit strikes again!

The cheerleaders gathered together and came up with something wild!!

The Student Body lined up in a long line (to each others belts) and off we went. A Snake-Dance. Belt-loops got torn off, people got swung off while going around the track. One round and guess who takes the lead, Mrs. Easley and second in line Mr. Gray and here we go again. What an exciting day! The Spirit was up again for the wonderful game ahead of us.

The Rising Star High School Spirit never dies!!!

HOMEcoming PEP RALLY

By Becky Hardesty
The Homecoming Pep Rally was a big success. The stands were full, and people were even standing in the lobby. Senior, Barbrie Rust introduced Jack Hill and Junior, Amy Dudley introduced Dean Bailey. Coach Lankford introduced the Junior High Football team and the junior high cheerleaders and twirlers also performed. All of the ex-cheerleaders and twirlers got down on the court and did cheers with the current cheerleaders. Coach Finley introduced the Rising Star High School football team. The Rising Star High School Band was also there and they played, "Another One Bites The Dust." But one thing is for sure—the pep rally was filled with spirit and support for our team!!!

HOMEcoming PARADE

By Dean Stephens
The Rising Star Annual Homecoming Parade was led by Rising Star Police Chief Gene Hicks. The annual parade was exciting. Among the excitement was a contest to see who can make the best float showing their class and school spirit.

The Senior Class won the contest with a float entitled, "Cage the Panthers". Second place went to the 4-H Club and Third place went to the Freshman class.

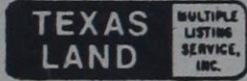

The Rising Star Band struck up a fight song beneath the red light and the cheerleaders yelled along with the Band firing up the spirit in the town. The High School and Junior High Twirlers twirled along with the band.

There were many Exes of Rising Star in the Parade. We had classes from 1980 down

May News

By Entha Campbell

Dear Sis,
Dola Ritchie gave me her Mary Smith Corn Meal Pie recipe that no holiday season is complete without.

Beat well after each addition:

- 4 whole eggs
- 2 C. Sugar
- 4 TBSP corn meal
- two-thirds C. sweet milk
- two-thirds C butter or oleo
- 2 tsp vanilla
- one-eighth tsp salt.

Pour in unbaked pie shell. Bake at 300 degrees for 35 to 45 minutes.

I was sick last week is my reason for no May news, and this week I will be gone 3 days due to the death and funeral of a cousin in Big Spring.

Mrs. Dola Ritchie went with Mrs. Tim Lancaster to Mrs. Lancasters home in San Angelo where she visited for a week. They returned Thursday evening in time to get ready for homecoming on Saturday.

Donald Isbel of Houston has recently visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Isbel, for several days.

The historical pageant presented at homecoming was written by Marion J. McDaniel and O.C. "Putter" Jarvis was Master of Ceremonies. Everyone was interested in the historical facts presented. A book of these facts may be purchased from M.J. McDaniel or Sook Burnett.

I promise more news next week.
Love, Entha

May FBC Missionary Group

The Woman's Missionary Union of the May First Baptist Church, met Wednesday, Sept. 23, at 10:00 in the Church Fellowship Hall to finalize the Mary Hill Davis Week of Prayer for State Missions study.

Mrs. J.J. Smith, Mission Study Chairman, was in charge of the program. She opened the meeting with with prayer.

Taking part on the program included Mmes. Smith, James Isbell, Bill Campbell, August Richardson, James Harris, C.O. Young, J.N. Odom and Guy Jagers.

State Missions was discussed with emphasis on individuals and the possibilities of what could happen if all Southern baptist Women would combine their efforts and resources. Due to the rapid growth of inhabitants many workers will be needed. These would include Spanish Americans and the refugees from so many other countries. There we need workers that can talk to these people in their language, and teach them to talk our language. The question was asked, "Are we willing to share with the hungry, starving and sick in this great state of Texas? Shall they be his people too?"

The lesson of the people of all colors was explained as God being the Weaver and knows just what is best.

The Mary Hill Davis (one of our great Missionaries) study and program was concluded Wednesday at 8:00 pm, as the Women met in the Church Sanctuary and viewed a film, "The Tapestry of Texas." The narrator explained the film step by step.

Rev. Bill Campbell, church pastor led the song service prior to the program. After the film Mrs. C.O. Young was asked to read the poem, "The Weaver." My life is but a weaving between the Lord and me, I may not choose the colors He knows what they should be, for he can see the pattern upon the upper side, while I can see it only on this the under side..

Sometimes he Weaveth illness, which seemeth strange to me, But I shall trust his judgement and work on faithfully.

Tis" he who fills the shuttle, he just knows what is best, So I shall weave in earnest and leave with him the rest.

But till the loom is silent and the shutter cease to fly, Shall God unroll the canvas and explain the reason why.

The dark threads are as needful in the Weavers skillful hands, as are the threads of gold and silver, in the pattern he has planned.

The program was dismissed with prayer voiced by Maude Isbell.

State Inheritance Tax Law

State Comptroller Bob Bullock's office Monday reminded Texans that a new state inheritance tax law took effect this month and will apply to estates of those who died on or after September 1, 1981.

The Comptroller's office reported the new law will save Texas taxpayers at least $20 million in death taxes the first year.

The new law did away with the state's basic inheritance tax schedule and statutes, replacing them with a law that ties Texas inheritance tax collections to a part of the federal estate taxes owed.

For example, under the old state law if the federal tax due was $5,000, the "federal credit" would be $500 and the state inheritance $700, resulting in the Internal Revenue Service collecting $4500 and Texas $700.

Under the new law, Texas would now collect the "federal credit" of $500 and the IRS would collect $4500, using the $5,000 example.

In effect, the new law allows persons who owe federal estate taxes to deduct from the amount due the federal government any inheritance tax paid to the state. The amount is determined by an IRS formula.

The Comptroller's office said this also means that is federal estate tax rates are cut, Texas inheritance taxes are automatically dropped back.

More than 45 other states have similar laws that piggy-back on the federal law.

Estates of those who died before September 1, 1918 are subject to Texas' old inheritance tax law and tax schedule, Bullock's office noted.

Eastland County Hay Show Schedule

Friday, October 2 is the date for the ninth annual Eastland County Hay Show, held in conjunction with the Eastland County Fair.

Dr. George Alston, Extension Agronomist, will judge the hay at 9:00 a.m. and will conduct a hay production program at 1:30 p.m. During the judging, he will examine a sample taken from each bale and establish a score for each bale. That score, along with the protein content established by the testing laboratory will determine the final score. The production program at 1:30 will be most educational. He plans to use a new computer to determine the amount of supplement to add to the various protein levels of hay to satisfy the requirements of cattle. Award plaques will be presented for the first place bale in each class.

If you feed or produce hay, you owe it to yourself to be present for the hay show, especially the afternoon program.

We hope to see you at the Eastland County Hay Show October 2.

The concept of "face" is developed in infancy, not through the repetitious exposure to one face but from experience with a large number of varying faces. A baby's looking preferences suggests that he actively seeks variety so that he can try out his new concepts on the world. If there is the right amount of discrepancy between the old and new, he will carefully study and absorb the new into the old, thereby broadening and enriching his concept.

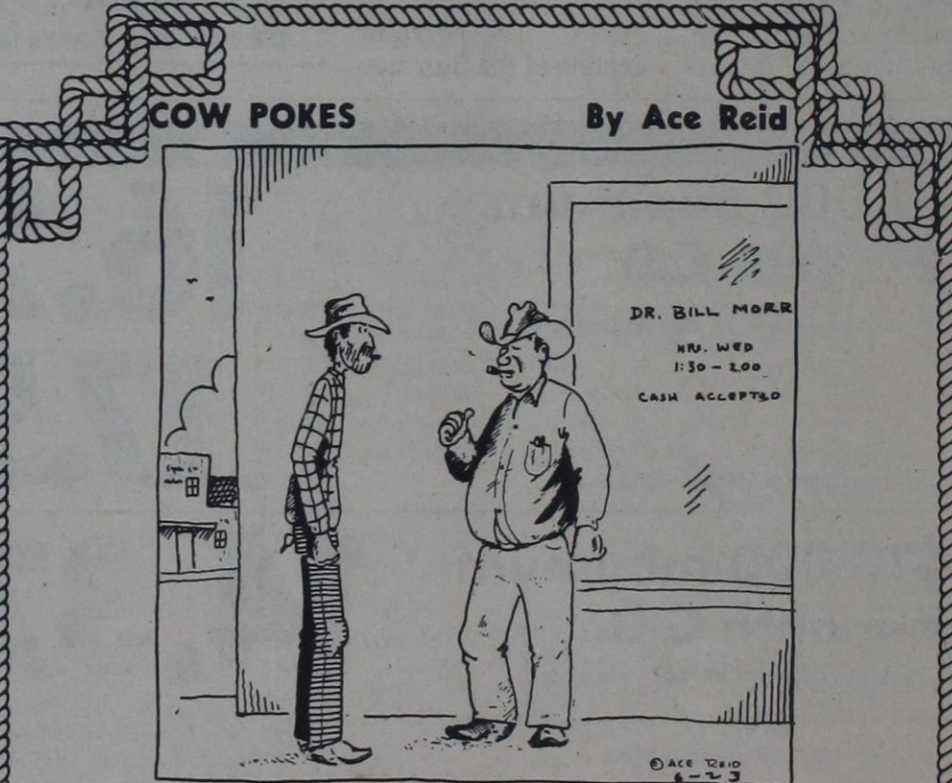

If there is too much discrepancy, he may have to form a new concept or at least make subdivisions of the old. That is why baby is interested in so many different people and their faces between five and seven months old. He is digesting variations on the theme of his parent's faces so as to build one of his first permanent conceptions of an object in the world. This forming of concepts is an important principal in learning. The Growing Child newsletter follows a child's development month by month. For more information on the physical and social development of children up to the age of six, write to Growing Child, PO Box 620N, Lafayette, In. 47902. Include child's birthdate when writing. A year's subscription to the newsletter costs $11.95.

Local Briefs

Saturday visitors of Mr. Bob Hodnett were Adina Krueger and Otto McCoy.

When babies are five to seven months old they are very loveable because they're social with everyone. They smile and gurgle at the sight of a face. Why? According to Growing Child, the monthly child development newsletter, babies are fascinated with faces because they are learning how to develop a concept or an idea. This concept is a kind of picture in a baby's mind of what something is like. A baby starts out with an impression of his mother's face, which has certain features in certain places. When a new face comes along, it has the same general form but with little changes here and there that make it look different. Is the new thing a face? The baby must study the pattern to make sure. He probably looks at the main landmarks—eyes, nose, mouth, to see if they conform to the pattern has seen before. If they do, he may give a little smile. It seems to be his wordless way of saying, "I know what that is—it's a face!" And of course a face has great significance for him.

"I jist gotta new diet, my doctor put me on fried steak, gravy, mashed potatoes and pie ... said he wanted me to die happy!"

What's Behind Retail Price Spreads

When retail beef and pork prices are high or rising and corresponding farm prices are unprofitable, both consumers and producers want to know the cause.

"To evaluate the situation, consumers and producers need to understand such things as price spreads, farm value shares and marketing margins," explains Dr. Ashley Lovell of Stephenville, area economist for Texas A & M.

"The farm-to-retail spread is an estimate of the total cost of marketing functions necessary to make a pound of beef or pork available at the retail store for the consumer," says Lovell. "The price spread covers such marketing functions as transportation, processing, packaging and storage as well as other marketing costs." Because of increasing costs of shipping, processing and retailing meats, price spreads over the long term increase to cover higher costs, notes Lovell. However, monthly data illustrate that price spreads fluctuate, increasing when livestock prices fall and decreasing when livestock prices rise.

Although several reasons are held for the fluctuating margins, a contributing factor is retailer's reluctance to change retail meat prices. Last year the U.S. Department of Agriculture reported a 5 percent increase for retail beef prices while the farm-to-retail spread rose 8 percent. This is in sharp contrast to the 21 percent jump in the farm-to-retail spread in 1979.

For pork, the farm-to-retail price spread decreased in 1980 for the first time in several years. However, the marketing margin increased sharply in the fourth farm quarter, continuing higher into March 1981.

"Livestock prices are more volatile than meat prices," explains Lovell. "While livestock prices fluctuate with marketings, competition and consumer resistance encourage retailers to hold the line on prices."

The evaluation of price spread statistics suggests a need for improving the efficiency of management and production practices, believes the economist. In today's inflationary economy, if cattle and hog producers are to effectively compete for the consumer dollar, they must improve their production and marketing efficiencies.

"Widespread producer support of commodity association marketing efforts can be a means to improve efficiency in the marketing systems for beef and pork. An efficient, competitive industry will reflect promptly and accurately changes in supply, demand and prices as they occur," says Lovell. Questions concerning competitive imbalances, significant changes in products or services, and changing cost structure suggest that cattle and hog producers as well as marketing firms will influence future changes in price spreads, explains Lovell.

Two Eastland County Ranches Honored

AUSTIN--Two Eastland County ranches will be honored this year in the Texas Family Land Heritage Program, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has reported.

The current owners will be invited to an awards ceremony to be held in the Capitol Rotunda November 10 at 1 p.m. with a reception to follow.

The county honorees are: Mrs. Pebble

Hargus Boles, Eastland, owner of the Hargus Ranch, and Doyle Samuel Johnson, Desdemona, owner of the Johnson Ranch.

The Program recognizes families who have maintained continuous agricultural production on the same land for 100 years or more, Brown said.

Instituted in 1974, the program has now registered 1454 farms and ranches. These are the first honorees in the program from Eastland County.

Thursday, October 1, 1981

"A short history of the farm or ranch is printed in an annual Family Land Heritage Registry," Brown said. "It has proved to be very useful to be very useful to genealogists and historians. The books are in high school, public and college libraries in the counties which have honorees."

County Judges and county historical commission chairpersons have been very helpful in registering families, Brown said.

Persons interested in applying for the honor next year may write to Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown, Texas Department of Agriculture, P.O. Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711.
