Time was when some lonely genius working in a dingy home shop, without funds, friends or prospects, might come up with an invention that would revolutionize an industry and perhaps make him rich. Such a person invented the safety pin, the clothes pin, and a host of other so-called minor improvements in the technology of our society which found a mass need, a mass market and mass money for their inventors or those who victimized them.

It didn't take much financing, just an idea, a certain amount of ingenuity and a lot of perseverance.

But most of that kind of inventing has already been done. Very few, if any, revolutionary simplicities are within the reach of the impoverished loner. Most of our inventing is being done in great laboratories where teams of scientists and engineers pool their brains and their labor in the solution of technical problems concerned with the evolving marvels of our electronic and nuclear age. Such teams are backed by enormous resources in materials and money. You can't build an atom bomb in a wash shed.

Of course there is still much inventing going on at lesser levels. But even so, the financing required is far out of shop designer's reach of the home worker.

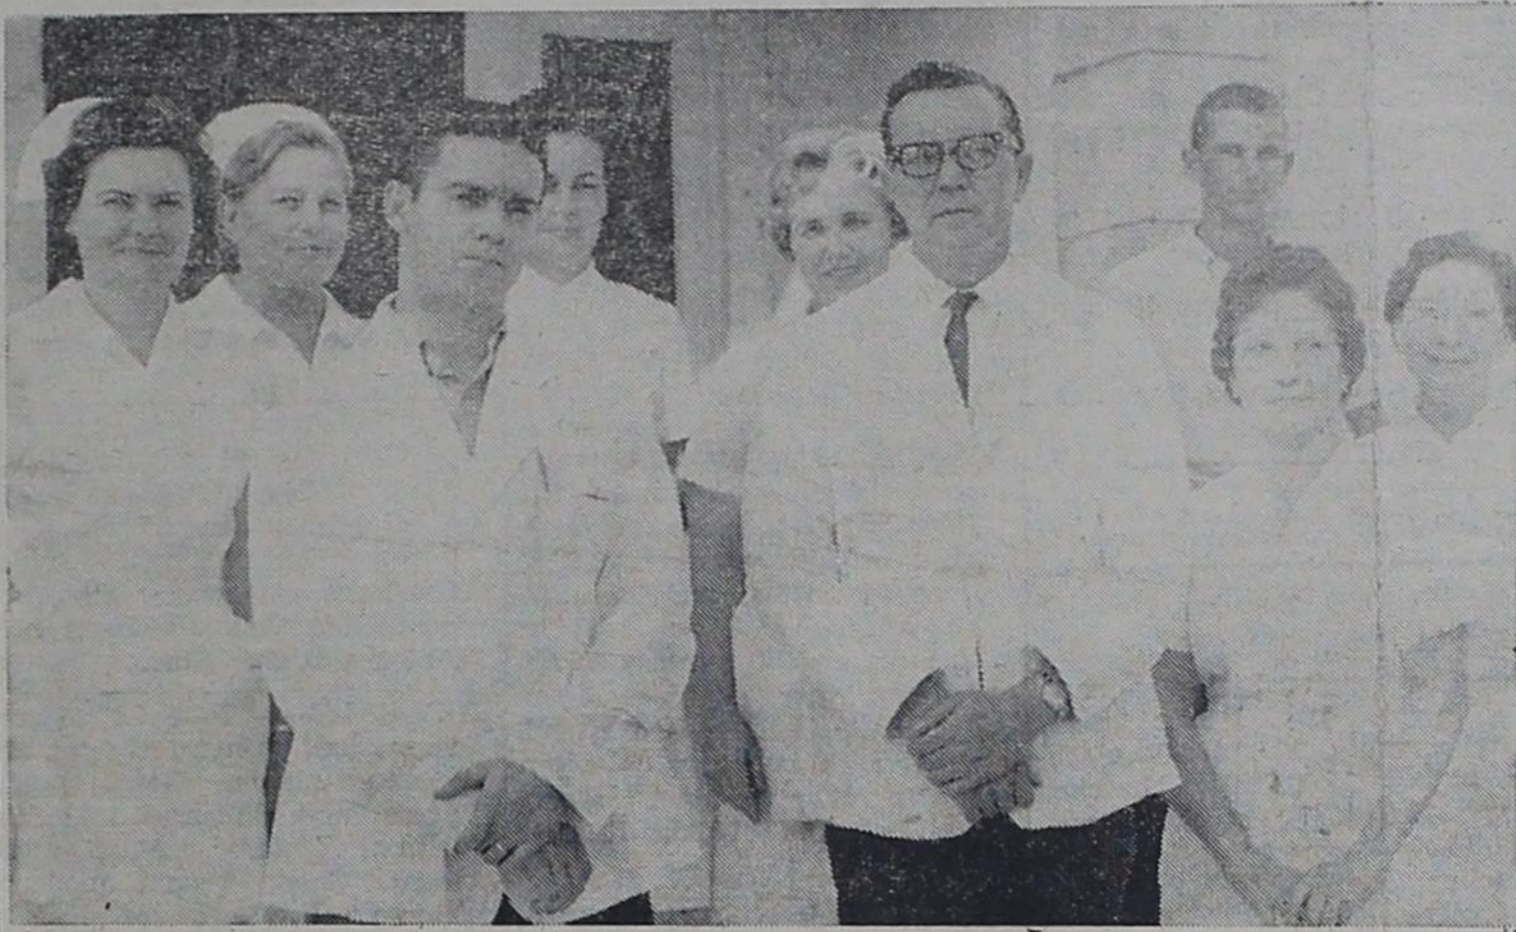

Over at Eastland the other day I took opportunity to call on Victor Cornelius who parlayed a theatrical advertising idea into one of the biggest printing establishments in west Texas with clients all over the United States and in several foreign countries. With the decline of the theatrical business, Victor cast about for other printing worlds to conquer and got into menu printing. The sort of menus he does aren't the bread and butter kind which gather thumbprints in the average cafe. They are as swank as a Neiman-Marcus mink stole, with the look of Fifth Avenue and the dignity of a French chef — the sort of saddle blanket-size thing you'd expect the captain of waiters to hand you if you walked into Romanoff's with Elizabeth Taylor on your arm and the backing of the Chase National Bank in your wallet.

He prints menus for cafes, restaurants and hotels from Canada to Mexico, until his menu printing business rivals, if it doesn't exceed his theatrical advertising volume. But every business has its problems and one of those which bothered Victor in his menu printing was that of getting the right pictures on varying menus.

Because menu orders run to only a hundred or so, often less, it is not always practical to make the printing changes necessary to conform each lot to the exact specifications of the restaurant so far as the pictured dishes are concerned. It is necessary to standardize within certain classes, although a particular restaurant might not serve exactly the dish pictured.

So Victor and his staff, acting upon an idea from his salesmen, went into the inventing business, and after months of trial, error and midnight sweat, during which they cannibalized hundreds of ball point pencils, electric gadgets and the Lord knows what else, they came up with a heat-seal press that works. It resembles no printing press.

Bill Rutherford, son of Mr. Mrs. C. C. Rutherford of Rising Star, has been assigned to the March Air Force Base of the Strategic Air Command in California.

Bill, who grew up in Rising Star, graduated from Rising High School, and then studied at Tarleton State College, in Stephenville, where he received ROTC training.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Joe Henry attended the Homecoming at North Texas State University, Denton Saturday. En route to Denton they visited her parents at Dallas.

Wildcats Have Week Off Before Gorman Game

The Rising Star Wildcats, smarting under defeat by a Blanket team which they rated to have defeated easily, have two weeks in which to furbish their badly tarnished pride, and lick their wounds, so to speak, and get ready for the battle of their lives.

With one game remaining on their schedule, it is do or die against the Gorman Panthers here Friday night, Nov. 20.

Gorman, undefeated, stands at the head of their district, with victories over Bangs, May and Blanket. The Wildcats can claim a tie for the district title and the right to represent the district in the playoffs, by defeating the Panthers.

But they will have their work cut out for them.

The Wildcats hold victories over Bangs and May. They lost to the Blanket team (which May defeated 34-6) by a score of 12-6.

The two teams fought on even terms for three quarters in the game at Blanket Friday night, with all the scoring concentrated in the fourth period.

Blanket scored first and failed in the try for extra point. Rising Star knotted the count on Terry Geye's one-yard plunge a short while later.

The score stood at 6-all until the final two minutes when Blanket scored on an eight-yard run.

Both teams threatened in the first half. Blanket drove to the four and Rising Star to the one.

NELSON FUNERAL AT MAY
Funeral for Dave Nelson, who died at Monahan's Tuesday, was to be held at May Thursday afternoon, with burial in May cemetery. He formerly lived at Rising Star and for many years farmed in the Pioneer community.

Hospital Staffed and Equipped for Service

The Rising Star Hospital is now operating under new management and is ready to receive patients.

Dr. Charles B. Wright, whose specialty is general surgery but who also does general practice, is the new operator. The hospital will be maintained as an open staff hospital, open to all doctors in the area who wish to use its facilities for the care and treatment of their patients.

Most of the staff which served the hospital under Dr. Allen Dean Schmitt, has been retained.

Associated with Dr. Wright as technician is his son, Mike, who has been accepted as a medical student at Des Moines Osteopathic College, Des Moines, Iowa, for the term beginning September. Mike took his pre-med courses at Sam Houston State University, Huntsville.

Other members of the staff are: Surgical nurse and receptionist, Mrs. Gwen Moore; LVN Peggy Willett, Pat Hight, Sadie Brizendine, Daisy Steel, Katy Wood; Nurses aids, Melba Kent, Josie Owen, Arlene Botts and Ada Clark; Cooks, Clara Burkhead and Mary Fussell; Technician, Mike Wright; Custodian and maintenance, Scotty Morris.

The hospital, owned and operated as a community project, has 26 beds in operation, with equipment and approval for 32.

The operating room is regarded as one of the best equipped in this area, while the hospital as a whole, with central heating and other modern facilities, meets state hospital standards.

The institution has complete laboratory and X-ray facilities.

CofC To Help Sponsor Livestock Project for FFA

The Rising Star Chamber of Commerce at its noon meeting Tuesday voted to sponsor the purchase of a registered Angus heifer for a "revolving" beef heifer program set up under the Sears Roebuck Foundation plan.

The program was explained by H. L. Geye, High School agriculture teacher and advisor for the local FFA chapter.

The chapter, Mr. Geye told the group, has received a grant from the Sears Foundation which they have voted to use in a beef heifer project. The grant plus a portion of FFA funds has been used to purchase a registered Angus heifer from Charles Rutherford, local breeder. This will be placed in charge of a selected member of the chapter who will pay for it by returning a heifer calf for a similar project, or purchasing a comparable heifer to be so used in continuing the program in the chapter.

It was suggested, Mr. Geye said, that a second heifer be purchased to expedite the project and Mr. Rutherford offered to sell a similar animal at a greatly reduced price.

"Since it is the suggestion of a member of your organization," said Mr. Geye, "it was felt you might wish to participate." He pointed out that the C of C is called upon for many contributions toward promoting the livestock industry among boys of the area, and he expressed the appreciation of the FFA for the help given.

The chamber also voted to set up a depot for mistletoe that may be gathered by local people if a market for the product is secured.

Reports on the United Fund program and the county industrial development project were heard.

P-TA TO SELL BULBS

The Rising Star P-TA will sell light bulbs Tuesday night, Nov. 17, the proceeds to be applied to payment on the air conditioners which the P-TA has purchased for the public school buildings.

Peanut Harvest in Full Swing; Yield Good, Grade Improves

With the peak of the harvest season just beginning more than half a million pounds of peanut of the 1964 crop had been processed by the Winfrey Peanut and Feed company's new drying plant in Rising Star through Tuesday of this week.

Most of the crop, which was generally late because of the summer drought and late rains is being harvested in a considerably green state and a drying time of 48 hours in some cases is necessary to completely cure the peanuts, Mr. Winfrey said.

However, the grade continues to improve, ranging in the upper 60's for the majority of the crop, he said.

The yield is uniformly good, averaging about 30 bushels per acre with some of the crops running much higher, he said.

A load of peanuts from a farm between Abilene and Anson was brought the farthest distance to the local plant.

The drying plant is running at full capacity, but has been able to handle all demands satisfactorily. Total number of tons processed through Wednesday was 267.

in existence, because it doesn't print.

It consists of a gang of "heads" ingeniously contrived with heating elements, reversible vacuum, etc., which pick up patterns of pre-printed colored pictures conforming to the customer's exact requirements and heat seals them in the already printed menu in a design quickly set by means of a pug chart keyed to the make-up process.

So each restaurant can get exact pictures of the foods it serves, and variations between small lots of menus are possible at slight cost.

I asked him what it cost to invent the press.

"About six thousand dollars," he said.

The price of being a genius has gone up.

ELECTION YEAR '64

Perhaps one of the most important elections in history occurred last week. The issues in the 1964 election were of a more serious nature than in previous elections. Fortunately, as the voting results indicated, most Americans were aware of the importance of casting their votes this year; a larger number of votes than the prognosticators had anticipated.

The result of the election was an overwhelming victory for the Democratic Party; however, in several cases the Republican Party accumulated many votes. The two-party system of government is still evident; although, the Republican control may have been weakened by this election.

The main decision facing the American voters was the choosing of a liberal system or a conservative system. They made their choice clearly by re-electing Lyndon Johnson.

We have our leaders now; the rest is up to the American people. Our government must have our full support and cooperation in order to be a successful administration.

There are many problems in the world today, each of which could develop into a world crisis at any time. It will take an intelligent, diplomatic, capable, and experienced man to lead our country through the turmoil and preserve our peace. The American voters have chosen Lyndon B. Johnson as this man. President Johnson will also be faced with many domestic problems and will have to satisfy Americans in their dealings at home and in world affairs.

The election is over; the result is evident. The big task of putting these campaign promises into realities in the future is the next problem facing the newly elected administration. This cannot be accomplished without the help of every individual American.

KNOWLEDGE COMES BUT WISDOM Lingers

This is a big week for the seniors. Tonight is the coronation. Sharolyn has her crown and the girls all have their pretty dresses and butterflies! The boys seem to take everything in stride—I honestly believe they do not know what nervousness is!! All the students are looking forward to this event and urge everyone to come!

Plus seeing all the favorites dressed up, the stage band is going to entertain the audience with a few songs. They all have worked hard and sound great! We have quite a few seniors in it; thus we are very proud!

This week is also "Twirp Week". This does seem to worry the boys—HA! The girls ask the boys for dates. It gives the girls a chance to experience all a boy goes through on a date and also show them nice little courtesies girls enjoy.

Some of the girls seem to think they have learned quite a lot. They all agree that boys should receive more credit for the trouble and worry, they go to for a date. They agree heartily that deciding whom to ask, choosing a place to go, getting the car with gas, having enough money, meeting the parents, and entertaining their date is no easy matter!!!!

We all hope to see you at the coronation.

OFFICE SUPPLIES AT THE RECORD

LIVE AND LEARN

HI! READERS. This week is a calm week. You might say it is the calm before the storm—the storm being two things; one is that next week is six weeks tests; the other, the Wildcats tackle the Gorman Panthers!!

Despite the calmness, we are still having lessons. On Algebra II, we are factoring. The chemistry class is finishing the chapter on "Gas Laws". The typing classes are becoming more acquainted with their key board. The girls in shorthand are now reading and writing their shorthand. The civics class is studying Chapter X, "The Presidency". The Homecoming "five" will finish their garments by next week.

The Wildcats are working hard this week. Next week they go to Gorman.

Until next week,
 Marcia

BUILDERS OF TOMORROW

We are in the fifth week of the second six weeks' period, so it is about time to begin studying for tests again. The Sophomores had a thorough Biology test last week; perhaps Mr. Gray will be easier on us next time. The World History class is working on chapter eight in our notebooks; this chapter is especially long, and we are hoping that Mr. Nunnally will not hold a test until next week. The Health students are discussing the different parts and diseases of the eye; we have touched on the scientific names for various eye specialists. The Sophomore English class is reading selections from a unit on the supernatural.

 W. E.—Did you get mixed up in class or what?

NOT FINISHED, JUST BEGUN.

There is no football game this week, but be back next week backing the Wildcats when they play their last district game against Gorman. The Wildcats have done an excellent job so far this year. They deserve your support!!

The biology students are studying the classes of the joint legged phyla.

We are studying the unit "old Stories Forever Young" in English I. This unit brings back old stories, legends, and ballads and presents them as interesting stories and poems.

In Ag. I, the boys are studying beef cattle in general. We are also preparing to enter a team in the Greenhand Chapter Conducting Contest and another team in the Quiz Contest. These contests are to be held in Stephenville.

In Algebra I, our principal interest is in negative numbers. T. F. having trouble with girls, especially older ones

DO RE MI

The stage band has been practicing three weeks for the coronation, which you will see tonight. We hope you enjoy this program as much as we will enjoy giving it for you.

The marching band has been learning some new music for our final ball game with Gorman.

Everyone enjoyed the trip to Brownwood; but, best of all, we liked those pancakes!!!
 Good Luck, Wildcats!!

TOWARD NEW HORIZONS

Our Future Homemaker of the Month for October is Judy Rutherford. To receive this honor, Judy had to work hard. She had an A average for this six weeks, completed her official duty as vice-president of F.H.A., read "Teen Times", and "Future Homemaker." Judy also helped to prepare the superintendents' dinner and made a very attractive bulletin board display.

She had a total of thirty-five points and helped the rest of the members to get started on their projects and activities.

Signing off,
 Pam

F.F.A. NEWS

In Ag. I the Greenhands are still studying parliamentary procedure; also they have taken up the study of Beef Science.

The Ag III boys are now concentrating how to identify about twenty-five different kinds of grasses found in our area. In Ag III we have not yet started parliamentary procedure; although, the contests are only a few weeks away.

Both classes have been listening to speeches given by four contestants at the National F.F.A. Convention. The speeches mainly concern how the farmer farming methods, new equipment, and how the farmer may speak out for himself.

Sports Scoop!!
 One of the nicest sounds I can think of is the voices of fans and students cheering their team on to Victory! It helps the morale of the whole team to know that you are there to back them all the way, win or lose. That is why I want to remind you students that we need your backing at those basketball games.

The girls have really displayed some fine playing this year. Tuesday night we played Carbon, and it proved to be a very exciting game. We have a new assistant manager, Carolyn who is doing a real nice job.

Next week I am starting a new series in the girls' sports article. Be sure to watch for it.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Our first meeting was held on October 28 in Room 5. All members were present. Sponsors present were Mr. Nunnally, Mrs. Claborn, and Mrs. Nowlin. Mr. Nunnally opened the meeting by explaining the delay in our getting started in our meetings. Many things have come up such as aptitude tests and band trips and several others causing some of the members to be absent; then John Gerhardt, our president took over.

We had several points to discuss. First, the constitution was read and the purposes pointed out. The date for our meetings was set for the first Monday in every month. Next, we had an election for vice-president; Donnie Fraley, a senior, was chosen. A committee was placed in charge of keeping the halls clean. We will start with the freshman members, Sara Howard and James Gerhardt, and move up a class each month. Mr. Nun-nally also volunteered to raise and lower the flag each day. Another point we discussed was if we wanted student council pins; any member contact Mrs. Claborn.

The purposes of the student council are:

1. To aid in the internal administration of the school.
2. To foster sentiments of law and order.
3. To promote the general activities of the school.
4. To develop in the student a growing appreciation of membership in a democracy.
5. To promote in all ways the best interests of the schools.

That is all for this week. See you after our next meeting.

Mail Early and Well for Xmas, Postmaster Says

Patrons should mail Christmas gift articles destined for distant states not later than December 12 and not later than December 16 for nearby areas to insure delivery before Christmas, Postmaster Cliffogene Witt advised this week.

Greeting cards which are prepaid at the first class rate, may be sealed and contain written messages, will receive priority of dispatch and delivery and will be forwarded or returned without charge provided the return address is shown on the envelopes. Greeting cards addressed to distant states should be mailed not later than Dec. 12 and those for local areas not later than December 16

Endorsement, "Do Not Open Until Christmas" is permissible on gift parcels, and written matter may be enclosed providing the parcel is properly endorsed to that effect and the proper postage is paid.

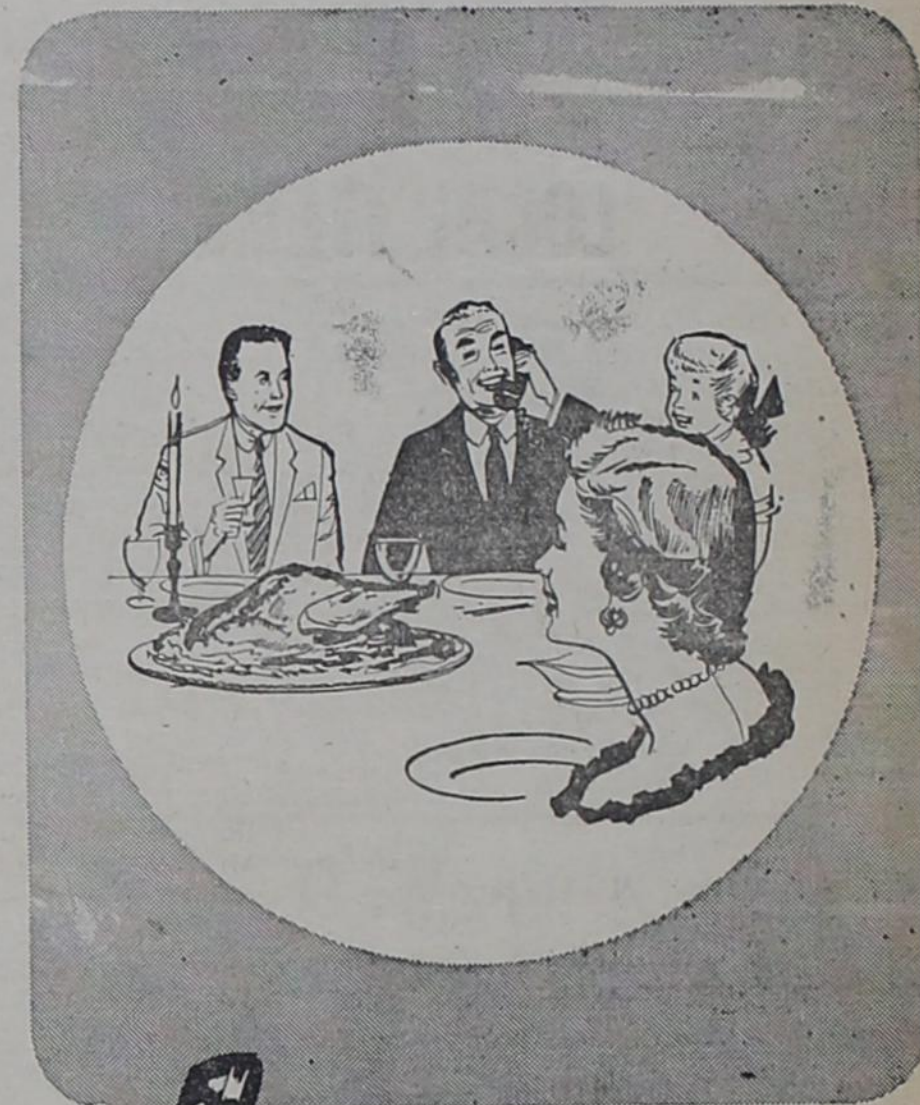

"Parcels should be wrapped well and solidly. Remember your package might wind up on the bottom of a sack which may also contain several rather heavy cartons. Always include name and address of the sender and the addressee on the inside of the parcel, and use Zip Code on parcels as well as letters and cards," reminded Mrs

Witt.

Special Delivery articles will be delivered on the day of arrival if they arrive prior to 11 p. m., or local closing time. Special handling will insure priority dispatch and transportation to the office of address.

"Separation of greeting cards into "Local" and "Out of Town" bundles will facilitate handling and dispatch. Complete and legible addressing of all mail is extremely important.

Equal Payment Plan

Budget minded? Aren't we all? Now you can know every month just what your electric service bill will be. West Texas Utilities Co. has a new plan for residential customers... a new Equal Payment Plan. They will estimate the amount of electric service you will use in the next year and divide it into 12 equal even-dollar payments. This estimate is based on your past electric service usage, or in the case of a new customer, on similar accounts.

To keep the payments balanced, your account is reviewed monthly and yearly. If your actual metered electric usage differs materially from the estimate... due to a new major appliance or unusual conditions... you are notified that a change, up or down, in your monthly payments is needed. You may join at any time. The Equal Payment Plan Year ends with your 12th monthly payment. If at the end of the EPP year you have used more, or less, than the estimated amount, your 12th monthly payment will be increased or decreased to balance the account. Call or visit your WTU office... ask for complete details of the Equal Payment Plan now.
