Arthur Smith, on the state of the weather: "I thought we'd get some rain but these clouds won't integrate."

School is out but it has been a busy week for Director Alton Roan and six members of the Rising Star High school stage band at Tarleton State College this week.

Roan and five members of his stage band left Monday morning for the stage band clinic in progress there. The youngsters are Judy Lewis, Bruce Hubbard, Mike Pruet, Linda Burkhalter, Charlene Vermillion and Sandra Teague. In forming three bands from among the students attending the clinic, Judy Lewis and Sandra Teague were named to the first band and the others to the second.

Seems they ran out of piano players and Mr. Roan came back to Rising Star and prevailed on Tommy Darnell to enroll at the clinic. Tommy "tickles the ivory," with a right good will that infects his whole anatomy. He plays from his feet up.

So Rising Star is pretty well represented at the Stephenville school.

Moreover, they put Roan to work teaching a class in theory. That is one way to make your room and board.

Frank X. Tolbert, peripetetic columnist of the Dallas Morning News, had an interesting article this week on the subject of prairie dogs. This once ubiquitous West Texas creature, which is actually a species of ground squirrel, and whose colonies, according to Tolbert sometimes covered hundreds of miles, has been reduced to a few isolated "dog towns." The Dallas News writer, responding to one rancher's request that he send a "dog catcher" to help rid the rancher of a 40-acre colony, suggests with a flair for diplomacy, that the rancher actually is blessed with "an outdoor museum on your grazing lease in that little 40-acre kingdom of a vanishing and interesting little beast."

Moreover, Tolbert suggests, although the prairie dog competes with the cow for vegetation, "it has been theorized that 250 prairie dogs eat as much as one cow." It actually pays its way in checking mesquite and brush and weeds and other grass limiting vegetation on which it feeds.

The first prairie dog I ever saw was one brought in captivity to the little town of Cookville in northeast Texas where I once lived when a child of three or four years. It was a very interesting animal, I recall, and in its four-by-four wire cage, with the wires buried a foot under the ground, it didn't have much of a chance to escape my curiosity.

That East Texas resident had very little experience with the West Texas rodent. Until the next day! His prairie dog did a tunnelling act that would have made a penitentiary lifer turn green with envy.

The only dog town I recall seeing in these parts was a small colony on a ranch owned by Charles Kleiner of Cisco some 30 years ago. I believe it was in the Leeray community in the northern part of the county.

Kleiner offered to bet me a hat that I couldn't kill one with a rifle dead enough to keep it from disappearing into its hole. I concluded he knew more about prairie dogs than I.

Not "How Much?" But "When?" Rain Problem

The rain problem in this section is not quantity, but when.

So far this year the Rising Star area had received 11.04 inches of rain, almost half the average annual precipitation. These figures are supplied by the City Hall official weather station, and may be regarded as accurate to the point of conservatism.

Nevertheless, it is too dry

Awards Program Ends First Day Camp for Girls

Thursday marked the end of the first day of camp for the Rising Star Girl's Club, The Starlighters. The camp was held at the Jack Agnew farm with Ed Croan as Day Camp chairman. Each age group had their own campsite and "lived" there each day. The leaders came to the individual campsites for the various activities. All the girls met together for singing under the direction of Mrs. Frank Gray, Julie Watkins and Betty Nowlin.

Living in the home at "Twin Oaks" were Nancy Agnew, Beverly Burns, Shirlene Botts, Donetta Croan, Cynthia Hounsell, Mary Jane Kizer, Barbara Richter, Arla Hill and Linda Ezzell.

At the "Beaver" home were Mary Jean Agnew, Mary Ann Lee, Jerrilyn Winfrey, Saralyn Butler, Debbie Nunnally, Billie Jean White, Janna Hubbard, Jeanine Bailey, Cynthia Brown and Sharon Donham.

The "Squirrel" home had Betty Ann Kizer, Reba Stark, Janet Ezzell, Kova Poyner, Brenda Bailey, Sue Henry, Harriet Schmitt and Jacqueline Hill.

The girls enjoyed activities of hiking and outdoor craft, games and sports, handcraft and singing. In charge of the various activities were these leaders and counselors: Mrs. Dean Bailey, Outdoor and Nature, assisted by Cynthia Brown and Sharon Donham; Mrs. Eddie Joe Henry, Handcraft, assisted by Harriet Schmitt and Brenda Bailey; Mrs. Weldon Hill, Games and Sports, assisted by Linda Ezzell; Mrs. Frank Gray, Singing, assisted by Julie Watkins and Becky Nowlin.

The week of day camp activities was climaxed by an Awards Ceremony and Program for parents and friends of the girls. H. McDonald, Community Chairman, was in charge of the program. The program opened with Julie Watkins singing as the girls marched into place following the flag. Brenda Bailey was the Flag Bearer and the Honor Guard was Cynthia Hounsell and Janet Ezzell. The audience participated in the flag salute and singing of "America."

Julie Watkins and Becky Nowlin led the girls in a group of songs. Using hand organs for accompaniment Julie and Becky sang some songs.

Awards were presented to the girls for attending day camp and for perfect attendance. B. A. Butler was presented an award for appreciation of all the services he has rendered to the girls over the year.

The counselors, Cynthia Brown, Sharon Donham, Brenda Bailey, Linda Ezzell, Julie Watkins, Harriet Schmitt and Becky Nowlin were saluted by the girls as they led them forward and sang, "For They Are Jolly Good Counselors."

The program ended with the playing of "Taps" in the distance by Larry McKinnerney.

Guests of Mrs. Ruth Nay recently were Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Scallon of Vanderbilt, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Siegle of Bridgeport, Ill., and a daughter, Mrs. W. C. Hardy, and three sons of Monahans. Mr. and Mrs. Scallon also visited Mr. and Mrs. Flanagan, her aunt and uncle.

Mrs. Eddie Joe Henry and two young sons are in Dallas for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. DeWees.

for peanut planting and there is much anxiety over the lack of general rains to soften the topsoil and put it in condition for seeding the principal row crop in this section.

Winter and early spring rains provided a fair "bottom" season, but since April there have been few and only local showers, and persistent drying winds quickly nullified whatever benefit they brought.

In May, for instance, only .15 of an inch was recorded at the local station. On June 5, there was a respectable shower amounting to .81 of an inch here, but it did little benefit.

There have been good rains of a local character in a few areas, but what is needed is a good general rain which will not quickly evaporate from the soil.

Most of the rains received so far this year fell here in January and April. The City Hall station records show that 2.95 inches were received in January and 3.8 inches in April. February had 1.48 inches and March 1.52.

While rain in those months is important for the deep moisture it provides, the really critical months from the standpoint of a peanut crop — and summer pastures for that matter — are June and August. June for planting and early August for fruiting. When those months are dry, the crop is seriously affected, no matter how much rain may have been received at other times, say the growers.

Right now they are waiting for a good June season.

FHA Personnel To Attend Area Meet At Abilene

Personnel of the Eastland County Farmers Home Administration office will attend a bi-area meeting on June 18-19 in Abilene to discuss measures proposed by President Johnson to eliminate rural poverty, it was announced.

These measures, along with other aspects of the FHA program, were presented to the FHA state staff members in Dallas on June 24 in a meeting with Howard Bertsch, FHA Administrator. Elmer L. Foster, Area 12 Supervisor, whose office is located in Eastland County office, attended the meeting.

At the meeting in Abilene officials will discuss steps taken to help young farmers take over the farms of retiring elders, progress made in developing rural community water systems, and the housing assistance given senior citizens in rural areas.

The Farmers Home Administration through a network of 1,500 county offices located throughout rural America provides credit assistance in farm and financial management to owners and operators of family farms and aids farmers and rural residents in improving rural housing and other rural community facilities. The agency's funds supplement the credit provided by other lenders. State Directors and county supervisors of the agency serve as chairmen of RAD technical action panels organized to help rural communities develop their local economies.

Mrs. Alice Lawless, county office clerk, Homer Cole, county supervisor, Darrell G. Cooper, assistant county supervisor and Elmer L. Foster, area supervisor, will represent Eastland county at the Abilene meeting. Oris Burner of Seymour is the area supervisor for the area surrounding Seymour.

BACK FROM FALLS CHURCH
Mrs. Pete Starks has returned from Falls Church, Va., where, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Sharon Alford, and two grandchildren, she visited her brother and his wife, Sgt. and Mrs. J. D. Womack and son, Jeffrey. Sharon and her two children remained for a further visit with the Womacks. Mr. Alford is stationed in Germany.

Intercity Phone Circuits Will Be Transistorized

Replacement and expansion of equipment furnishing long distance telephone service between Rising Star and Cross Plains will get under way shortly at the Kizer Telephone plants in the two towns, it was announced by Ralph Kizer this week.

Transistorized equipment will replace much of the present vacuum tube equipment, making the circuits much more dependable and furnishing service even if commercial electric power is interrupted, Mr. Kizer said.

At present the circuits between the two towns are overloaded during heavy usage periods and sometimes the customer receives a busy tone.

The new equipment is now arriving and installation will begin as soon as the remainder is received.

The improvement will require about two weeks and represent an investment of $8,000.

Yanks on Top In Standings Of Little League

The Yankee team of the Rising Star Little League is presently leading the field. The youngsters have been playing some interesting games featured by good pitching and the Yanks are going to have a tough time staying on top.

Games are played each Tuesday and Thursday night at the lighted field in the City Park.

Schedule for the remainder of the season is:

- June 18: Yankees vs. Indians; Yankees vs. Dodgers;
- June 23: Indians vs. Dodgers; Indians vs. Yankees;
- June 25: Dodgers vs. Yankees; Dodgers vs. Indians;
- June 30: Yankees vs. Dodgers; Yankees vs. Indians;
- July 2: Indians vs. Yankees; Indians vs. Dodgers;
- July 7: Dodgers vs. Indians; Dodgers vs. Yankees;
- July 9: Yankees vs. Indians; Yankees vs. Dodgers;
- July 14: Indians vs. Dodgers; Indians vs. Yankees;
- July 16: Dodgers vs. Yankees; Dodgers vs. Indians.

Cheerleaders Back From Cisco School

The new cheerleaders of Rising Star High have returned from a 5-day cheerleading camp at Cisco Junior College, Cisco. They have learned new yells and routines that they plan to present to the public next football season. They will be looking for you to be out there helping them back the Wildcats this season, so do not disappoint them. — Reporter.

While at ACC, Agnew has been a member of Sub-T16 Social Club, Vice-president of the senior class, member of the Letterman's Club, member of the Student Senate, and member of the varsity basketball team. He also appeared in Who's Who in American colleges and Universities.

Agnew is a senior majoring in marketing.

Pat Agnew Named ACC Senior Favorite

ABILENE — Joe Patrick Agnew of Rising Star was named favorite of the senior class of 1963-64.

Agnew's honor was revealed with the recent presentation of the school yearbook. A 1960 graduate of Rising Star High School, Agnew is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Agnew of Rising Star.

While at ACC, Agnew has been a member of Sub-T16 Social Club, Vice-president of the senior class, member of the Letterman's Club, member of the Student Senate, and member of the varsity basketball team. He also appeared in Who's Who in American colleges and Universities.

years, approximately, of the 200 years total, has been lived by Mr. Evans. Mrs. Evans has contributed 98 and two-thirds years. The 200 year mark was fixed on Saturday by a process of accounting supervised by Sterling Evans of Houston, an insurance company director and manager of the large Wortham ranch and farming interests as well as presiding officer of the Texas A&M board.

Other children of the Evans couple are John Temple Evans of Brenham, J. W. Evans of Levelland, and Mrs. R. L. Leuschner of McCamey.

Mr. Evans' birthday is on Feb. 3, and Mrs. Evans will be 99 next October 18. They were married on Dec. 9, 1890 at Devine in Medina County. He is a native of Alabama, who came to Texas as a young man, and she is the former Emily Crutchfield who was born in Angelina County and moved with her parents when she was 13 years old to Medina County.

For most of his life, Mr. Evans was a prosperous stock farmer in Medina and Frio Counties. In 1930 he retired, traded some property at Pearsall in Frio County for a home and three acres of land in Rising Star, and he and Mrs. Evans moved here. For quite a while they "farmed" their three acres, but later sold most of the acreage off in lots, keeping only a garden. When they moved to the Twilight Acre Nursing Home last February the residence on South Anderson Street was also sold.

HOME FOR STAY

Derrell White has returned to his home here from Veterans Hospital at Temple where he recently underwent stomach surgery. He will return to Temple July 5 for a further hospitalization period of two or three weeks during which he will undergo special treatments and observation.

Editorials

To those who have accepted the glib formula, "middle of the road" as delineating the path of moderation and virtue in all things — especially politics — we present the views of Howard E. Kershner on the subject, excerpted from his book, "God, Gold and Government":

"Let us look closely at this middle of the road doctrine," writes Mr. Kershner.

"Is there something sacred about keeping in the 'middle-of-the-road' as between right and left?"

"Why is less effort being made currently to determine what is right and what is wrong and more emphasis being placed on the desirability of steering a course between the two?"

"Compromises are often necessary, but not as between right and wrong, not as between truth and error."

"If one group says 12 times 12 is 144 and another group contends it is 160, why not try to discover the facts rather than assume the correctness of a middle course that 12 times 12 is 152.

"The middle-ground philosophy is an absurdity — a course plausible only to the unthinking who are not willing to bestir themselves in an effort to find the facts but are eager to appear tolerant and compromising in the hope of retaining popularity in all quarters.

"I once heard a middle-of-the-road preacher declare: 'If you don't repent in a measure and change your ways considerably, you will be damned to a certain extent.'"

"What we need is a resolute determination in all quarters to find the right course of action and then adopt it, and not go wobbling down the middle-of-the-road, comforting ourselves that we are at least half right."

"If the truth lies on one side of the road or the other, we are certainly wrong if we stay in the middle."

"At best, the 'middle-of-the-road' is a temporary and dangerous expedient." And, we might add, if you don't think so, try driving in it.

Browsing With Bev

By Beverly Nicholson, County Home Demonstration Agent

June is a time of brides and bridal showers. An appropriate gift for the bride sometimes becomes a difficult decision for friends to make. A choice the bride will appreciate is one or more basic small tools which most homemakers use every day.

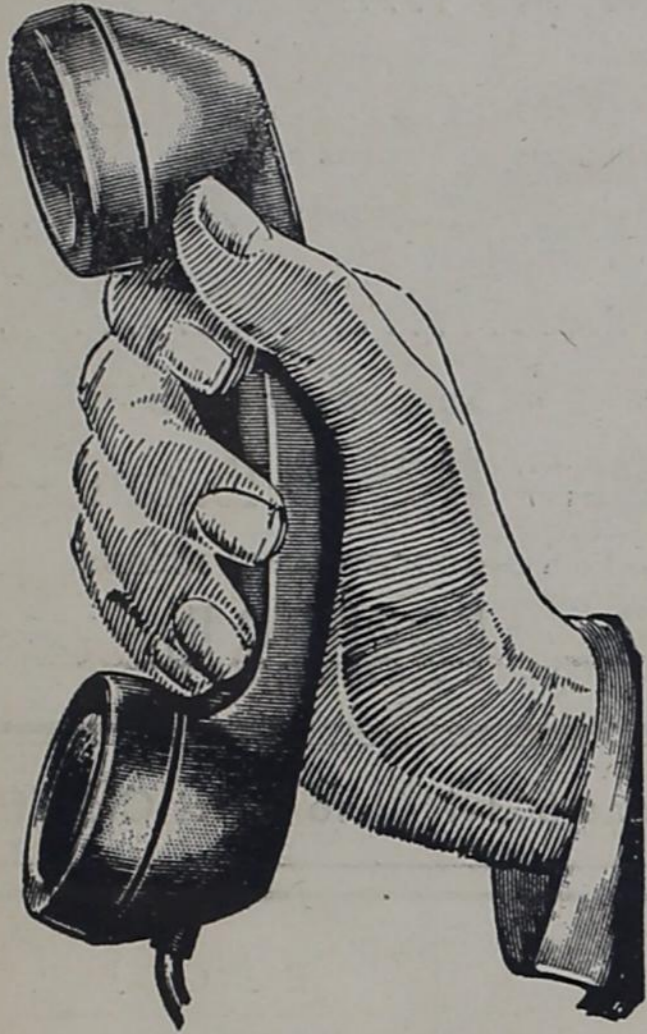

The list to select from might include these categories:

Pots and pans; a large chicken fryer; a small frying pan with cover; one-quart, two-quart and three-quart saucepans; an oblong cake pan or large utility pan; a loaf pan; a covered casserole with pie-pan lid; six custard cups; and a coffee mixer.

Kitchen tools: a measuring cup or cluster of cups; a set of measuring spoons; a set of mixing bowls; a perforated mixing spoon; one spatula; a rubber scraper; a paring knife; a vegetable peeler; a vegetable brush; a small strainer; an egg beater; a rolling pin; a can opener; a pancake turner; a long handled fork; a grater.

Some first additions: a cooking sheet; a cooling rack; a tube cake pan; two pie plates, 2-

Fire can destroy the Bond... but not your savings

All that the owner of this charred U.S. Savings Bond has to do is mail the remains to the Treasury Department, with as much more information as he can give—serial number, and date and place of issue. He'll get a fresh Bond to replace it. No charge.

The Treasury has grown accustomed to providing this sort of service. In the past 20 years it has replaced over 1,300,000 Savings Bonds that have been lost, stolen, burned or mistakenly tossed out with the trash.

Every U.S. Savings Bond sold is registered in the name of its owner, and a microfilm record made. So the government can check when, where, and in whose name a Bond was purchased—even if there isn't a burned crisp to send them.

This assurance against loss is another of the many reasons why Americans now hold over $47 billion in Series E and H Savings Bonds. The money they're saving is providing for their personal security. And it's also helping to build the strength of America at a time when the enemies of freedom are stronger than ever.

U.S. Savings Bonds are a good way to provide for your future. Buy them where you bank or work.

Keep freedom in your future with inch size; 2 round cake pans, 8 or 9 inch size; one muffin pan; a teakettle; one or more salad or pudding molds; a potato masher; a wooden mixing spoon; a utility knife and a carving knife.

Now, some tips on how to give him the right styles in a collar for:

The Long, Lean Face — wide-spread collars with cut-away effects of the point. This makes the neck seem shorter and the face wider.

The Full Face and Heavy Jaw — pointed, semi-spread collar, worn low. This gives added length to the face.

The Thin Face — spread collars that fit moderately high on the neck. This gives added width to the face.

The Round, Jovial Face — collars of medium length and spread, slightly rounded ends. This softens the mouth lines formed by smiling and hearty laughing.

Meat Institute Will Talk Import Problem

COLLEGE STATION — The beef import problem is one of the topics slated for discussion at the two-day Livestock and Meat Marketing Institute to be held this fall at Texas A&M University.

In announcing plans for the institute, Ed Uvacek, livestock marketing specialist at Texas A&M, said one of the highlights of the event will be a two-hour panel discussion on the meat import and export situation.

Members of the panel will include a meat broker, a processor, a cattle exporter, a cow and bull packer, a national packer, a government official and a livestock producer, he said.

The institute will be the second of its kind held on the Texas A&M campus. It is designed to give livestock producers and meat processors and market men an opportunity to meet and discuss mutual problems of the industry Uvacek said.

The economist said the upcoming institute can provide a common ground where livestock producers can learn the problems of the processors and sellers of the meat and meat products.

Other topics to be covered at the institute include meat demands and specification buying, using outlook for profits and cattle and lamb feeding in Texas.

The institute will be held Sept. 24-25. Persons interested in the production, processing or marketing of livestock and meat are invited to attend, Uvacek said.

News From May

Mrs. J. J. Prentice

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Michael made a business trip to Weatherford last week.

The WSCS of the May Methodist Church met in regular session Monday afternoon at the church. The final chapter of the mission study, "The Three Classics," was presented by Mrs. A. F. Michael.

Mrs. Grace Glenn was in the chair for the business session at which time the following officers were elected:

President, Mrs. Frank Madison; vice-president, Mrs. A. F. Michael; recording secretary, Mrs. Grace Glenn; treasurer, Mrs. O. C. Allen; secretary of children's work, Mrs. Elvia Shults; secretary of Christian social relations, Mrs. Loyd Alexander; secretary of literature and publications, Mrs. Charley Bibby; secretary of missionary education, Mrs. J. J. Prentice; secretary of promotion, Mrs. Marvin Chambers; secretary of spiritual life, Mrs. Clyde Nesbit; secretary of student work, Mrs. Weldon Haynes; secretary of supplies, Mrs. O. C. Allen; and secretary of youth work, Mrs. Homer G. West.

Mrs. Ludene Michael and her daughter, Linda, visited Mrs. Edith McMillan at Waco last week.

Mrs. A. M. Bowden, accompanied by her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Chambers of Georgetown, spent last week in May, attending to business, and enjoying the occupancy of the home where Mrs. Bowden and the late Dr. Bowden spent many happy years.

Rev. and Mrs. Weldon Haynes are in Glen Rose this week directing youth activities at the Methodist camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Alexander had as recent guests his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Alexander of Katy, and Mr. and Mrs. Willis Blalock of San Angelo.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Harrell have moved to Hagerman, N. M., to be near their son and his family.

Sandy Robason, who has not been well for several months, fell and broke his hip Saturday morning and was taken by ambulance to a specialist in Fort Worth.

AUSTIN—Call them red bugs. Call them harvest mites. Call them chiggers. By whatever name, they mean sleepless nights and ceaseless spasms of itching misery. It will last from now until cold weather cuts into their ranks.

A few people have an apparent immunity to chigger attacks, but the vast majority of us are oh-so-susceptible.

They — the chiggers, have a special affinity for low, damp places covered with vegetation. Bermuda grass harbors them well, but for some unexplainable reason they are not usually found in carpet grass.

Just for the record, it's the larvae which do the damage, attaching themselves with their mouthparts and sucking blood until they became engorged and fall off. The fiery itching is caused by an anti-coagulant material they inject into their victims.

Although adult chiggers — large, red and velvety — are probably harmless to humans, their wayward offspring can be serious as well as annoying. Not that they spread any specific disease — at least not in this country, but their bites demand scratching which frequently causes secondary infections in the form of sores and boils.

To find out if your back yard or your picnic area is infested with chiggers, stand a piece of black cardboard on end where you suspect they might be. If after a few moments you see tiny yellowish or pinkish mites accumulating on the upper edge, you'll know it's time to check your supply of insect repellent.

Chiggers are parasitic upon lizards, snakes, birds and rodents with the same vigor and resourcefulness they display in attacking humans. They draw no distinction between mankind and lesser animal species.

Light application of sulphur dust on lawns and low branches have been used successfully for years to control chiggers. Insecticides such as chlordane and lidane are very effective when used strictly according to directions.

But perhaps the biggest gun in the arsenal of chigger con-

YOU'RE IN GOOD COMPANY WHEN YOU BORROW AT THE BANK

Neighbors in America enjoy many things in common — and very often that includes the use of bank credit. For example, the man pictured above financed his backyard patio with a bank home improvement loan. The man next door bought his new car with the help a bank auto loan. The wife of the neighbor across the street looks and acts her pretty and peppy best because bank-financed kitchen and laundry appliances have cut down the burden of her housekeeping. The cost of straightening the little girl's teeth was met with bank credit. . . .

Within the last century, bank credit has become the stepping stone to a richer, fuller life for the individual and his family, because within the last century—since the signing of the National Currency Act in 1863—competition has been a spur to banking progress.

Pre-Nuptial Shower Honors Donna Chalk

One of the pretty pre-nuptial showers of the season honored Miss Donna Chalk, bride-elect of Bill Priest, last Tuesday night in the Fellowship Hall of the First Baptist Church of Rising Star.

The guest registry table, presided over by Miss Judy Lewis, was covered with a lace cloth over pink centered with rose buds.

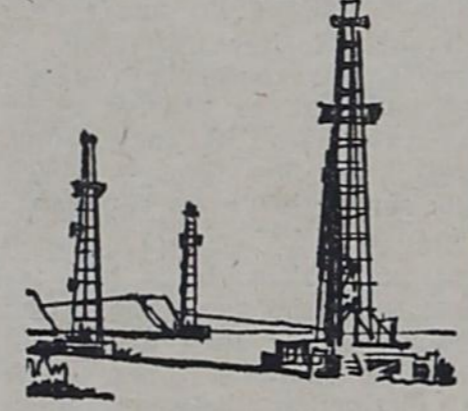

The honoree's table from which she unrapped gifts was covered with a white lace cloth over white. Miss Chalk was assisted with the packages and unwrapping by Bill Priest, her fiancé, and Miss Sharon Donham and Mrs. Carolyn Wilson. Over one hundred gifts were displayed on long tables.

Throughout the hours of the shower background music of beautiful classic piano selections were played by Miss Anna Lee Chalk and Miss Pam Geye.

Refreshments of sand tarts and pink punch were served by Miss Harriet Schmitt and Miss Cynthia Brown from a table covered with pink net over pink and centered with lovely pink roses.

The hostesses were Madames: Tom Grisham, Allen Dean Schmitt, Tom Lewis, T. N. Goodwin, Helen Donham, Perry Brown, Doby Jones, Frances Burns, June Harris and Berta Lee Crutsinger.
