Behind The Walls

Christmas is gonna be a little different for me this year. In all my 29 years, I've never spent Christmas away from home. I'm only going to this year because I have no other choice. I'm in prison.

Its a rough time of year for a convict. Our burdens seem especially heavy now.

We miss home, our loved ones, and all the normal festivities associated with Christmas.

But we endure as we know we must. For a new year is just around the corner. With luck the new year will bring Parole or discharge, the chance to once again join the fierce world.

There is no Santa Claus in prison. But we do have a few special treats for this time of year.

The JayCee's sponsored a double feature movie and gave two hundred lucky inmates who happened to be in the winning seats free popcorn and soda. That was nice.

The Inmate Welfare Club is going to give us a goodie bag. It will contain fruit, candy, and a calendar to count the days in the forthcoming year.

We have a Christmas tree in the middle of the yard, decorated primarily with homemade trinkets, made by various inmates.

Of course on Christmas day we will have a feast. The food we get is good but it seldom varies, except on special occasions, then we do it up right. Turkey with all the trimmings, ham, fruit salad, and cake. And nobody goes back to his cell hungry on Christmas.

There is no gift giving at Christmas in prison. To give another inmate something is Traffic and Trade grounds for a case.

Of course I've heard rumors that close friends may exchange packs of smokes or some other insignificant item. Of course it's the thought not the gift that counts.

Last but not least there is the serious side of Christmas here. We have special programs in our chapel throughout the Holiday season. Giving the convict the chance to sing praises to God and Jesus and to be reminded Christmas is in celebration of the birth of The Christ Child.

All in all it takes very little to be special to a convict. We expect little and receive less. But of course we are here for punishment not for parties.

I think it is best summed up what I've heard many say throughout the prison system, "I'll be glad when Christmas is over so I won't be so homesick."

Notice

The Saturday Club will meet at 10 o'clock Wednesday, Jan. 9, at the City Library.

Sybil Seas and Adelia Shults will be hostess program coordinators.

Million Dollar Rain

We should all be grateful for the Million Dollar Rain in the Rising Star area last week, gauged at 1½ inches.

Rising Star Nursing Center

Christmas came early for the residents of Hughes Nursing Center. Presents were piled high beneath our tree and like little children—we all just couldn't wait till time to open them. The hustle and bustle added excitement to the day and Christmas music filled the air as Bryan Houston & Nell Maynard played for us all. The table was laden with refreshments of cookies and punch—which was served by our beautiful lady volunteers. Santa must truly have helpers such as these or how could the job ever get done. Thank you Winnie Armstrong, Inez Robertson, Stella Hill, Mary Carroll, Rada King, Jean Ogden, Artie Jagger, Mabel Lee, Eleanor Nunnally, Margie West and Jackie LeBleu.

Every age loves Santa

Rising Star GA's

Now what would Christmas be without Santa? It was such a sight to see—smiles, faces aglow and happiness abound as Santa appeared dressed in white and red. With his round little belly and twinkle in his eye, he greeted us all one by one. Who could resist such a loveable ole fellow? Certainly not Rose or Alta Mae!

The gifts were passed out by Santa and "the elves". All the residents enjoyed the gifts and would like to thank all the beautiful people that brought goodies this year—the Saturday Club, Baptist W.M.U., Methodist W.M.U., Church of Christ ladies, Rising Star G.A.'s, Boy Scouts, Cross Plains Beta Signa Phi, May First Baptist Youth Group, Mr. and Mrs. Chris George for the pecans, Wilburn Caudle for the candy and Elzie Witt for the party mix. Our Christmas tree would have been almost bare without you. God bless!

Oh, yes! Thank you Santa for coming by. You were certainly a big hit, J.L.

Brag Corner

Terry, age 5.

Parents: Mr. and Mrs. Jay Lee Ware of Rising Star. Grandparents: Mr. and Mrs. W.E. Ware of Rising Star.

FmHA Housing Loans

The U.S. Department of Agriculture will resume making housing loans and grants, Alex Mercure, assistant secretary of agriculture for rural Development, said today.

Farmers Home Administration, the credit arm USDA, had suspended certain new housing loans and grants because legislative authority had expired Dec. 1.

New authorization became effective after Congress passed the Housing and Community Development Act and President Carter signed it into law Dec. 21. Programs affected were the section 502 low to moderate income home ownership, section 515 rural rental housing and the section 523 technical assistance grants and self help site loans. These programs represent most of FmHA's rural housing lending authority.

Previously, Congress had appropriated $4.9 billion for all FmHA housing programs for fiscal year 1980. That represents a slight increase over the FY 1979 budget. FmHA invested nearly $14.7 billion in rural areas programs in FY 1979.

Editor;

I get lots of wierd mail. If you write letters to several papers it is almost certain you will.

I get the usual junk mail, get rick quick schemes, copies of papers from White power on the right to All points of view Book store in San Antonio, which is about as far left as I can remember.

Then there is the threatening and hate mail but no letter bombs yet.

The wierdest was an offer of membership in an organization which offered inducements a man wasn't supposed to be able to resist. The perfumed stationary and passionate sales pitch were a great laugh till one friend asked why I didn't join and at the point, I discarded the joke as some took it more serious than I felt was warranted. The dirtiest was series of bills from magazines for gift subscriptions which I never ordered. A quick check with a contact in Houston revealed that the same political dirty trick was being played there.

After writing each publisher my reasons for being certain of the politics of the criminal and thus giving them a black eye with the magazines, I wrote the Houston branch of their most prominent organization informing them how transparent and stupid the move was, that I had filed letters of protest with postal authorities and justice dept.

I note further that I intended to join my Houston friends in a very profitable law suit if a publisher hurt anyone's credit rating the result being our prosperity aided by our enemy. Guess what? None of us have received such bills since!

Now I have a copy of an intriguing letter offering Ethanol Technology. I am not certain what the total offer to make me fuel and substitute power for my car consists of but it seems they propose to teach this Hill-Billy how to set up and operate a still. I wonder if they include the caution that if the water used in making your mash contains iron, as much of ours in these parts does, your stuff quits working in short order and you could end up with as little as one jug (excuse me, I mean one tunk full) where you should have had five. Now I didn't learn that in Chemistry class at A & M though a kindly prof. did explain that the troublesome stuff called fusil oil in rot gut is a mixture of heavy alcahos from boiling it down too low for maximum run.

In motor fuel that shouldn't hurt but the question in most folks minds is whether gasahol is practical.

The answer might be a question of whether you want to go into the hog business. Grain costs so much more than crude oil that the spent mash must be fed to turn a profit. Ever see a drunk hog?

I mean a four footed one. Distillers dry grain makes excelent high protine feed as a text on feeding will show. I sent a copy of that sales pitch to our congressman on advice of the County Judge just to have him check it out with Dept of Commerce and others to see if those nice people were legitimate before I invest just to learn how to adjust a carburetor to burn white lightning. As yet I have no reply but if he runs true to torm I will get it in due time. He does respond.

Yours truly,
Gordon S. Clark
