JIM FERGUSON

The Tribune of the Yoemanry of Texas Expounds True Democracy to a Multitude of Sturdy, Horny-Handed Democrats.

... Grounds Park was a Live... to do Honor to "Farmer Jim."—County Fair Palmy Days Surpassed.—A Crowd of Between 3000 and 3500 Hear Him.—Music by the Bend Brass Band.

The knockers said the crowd that would be here to hear Jim Ferguson would be small and insignificant. Now they know better; and just like all their dire predictions, they proved to be false prophets. Yesterday morning bright and early the people began to pour into San Saba from this dan adjoining counties and when Governor Ferguson faced the upturned faces of 3000 to 3500 people at the Fair Grounds Park, he knew he was not in the "enemies country." There were a few "stool-pigeons" present to "ask questions" but the size and temper of the crowd chilled all the pep and other ingredients in them and they were as meek as doves and nary a question was put. Judge A. H. Wilbern of Llano, acted as chairman of the meeting and introduced Hon. E. B. House in a very appropriate manner. Mr. House in turn introduced Governor Ferguson in a very eloquent and forceful manner. Governor Ferguson's speech followed the lines of his opening address and held the vast assemblage in wrapt attention for over two hours. He reiterated his offer of $100 to any one who would get Gov. Hobby to print in the Houston Post whether he was a pro or an anti prohibitionist. The crowd was very demonstrative at times, but in the main they were all attentive and attentive listeners for they came to hear what was said and not to hurrah in a haphazard manner. After the speaking one of the notable features of the gathering was the number of ladies who came in throngs to congratulate the Governor and assure him of their heart support and good wishes. There was another significant feature of this demonstration.

The women were of that class who are the veritable "mothers in Israel", the good women who are the main-stay of our homes, the mothers who have gone down into the valley of the shadow of death to give being to the young manhood and womanhood who will always make this country a safe place in which to dwell. The saintly looking old grandmothers with her sun-bonnet and her more robust sister, all were there and took an enthusiastic part in the meeting. Committees of friends met the Governor at Brownwood, where he spoke to 5000 or 6000 people Tuesday night, and brought him overland by auto. In the evening after the speaking another committee took him to Lometa, where he spoke to several hundred people. His visit to this section was an ovation from start to finish, as it has been everywhere he has addressed the people. The Bend brass band of 18 members, with W. J. Millican as leader, furnished sweet music for the gathering. This band has only been organized a few months, but their music would do credit to an old organization of experienced musicians. There was "some crowd", the fundamental principles of true democracy was expounded as only Jim Ferguson can tell it, everybody went home satisfied and it remains for the 27th of July to come and most everybody will be happy and

W. A. Hanger Proves Ferguson Was the Victim of Foul Plot Framed by Enemies

In this campaign the enemies of Governor Ferguson have contented themselves with denouncing him as being guilty of all the crimes charged against him, and more, without stating the grounds upon which they make their assertion or the evidence of the facts which they claim establish his guilt. On the other hand, his friends have often contented themselves with the statement that he was the victim of a foul political conspiracy, without giving the facts upon which they base that statement. With that statement of the proceedings and campaign against him I agree, but if I am fortunate enough to be able to state the reasons for my assertion, then I have the advantage over his opponents in that I can give the reasons for my statements and they can give no reasons for theirs. That being true, I have decided to divide the charges against him into five groups or items:

First. The $5,600.00 charge

Second. The $156,000 loan.

Third. His transactions with the Temple State Bank.

Fourth. His spending the money appropriated by the legislature in the purchase of groceries and other expenses at the mansion.

Fifth. The State University

Hughes' Testimony Suppressed

Beginning with the $5,600 charge; no witness has ever testified, neither was there any suspicion of any evidence, that Governor Ferguson ever had any personal connection with this item. The charge of $5,600 against the Canyon City Normal funds on the books of the Temple State bank was made by C. A. Hughes, then the cashier of the bank. He has prepared an affidavit which has been circulated throughout this state, and never denied, that he was brought to Austin under process to testify against Governor Ferguson; that he was then unfriendly to Governor Ferguson and did not talk to him or to his counsel, and that neither Governor Ferguson nor any one of his counsel knew anything about what his testimony would be, but that he did consult with M. M. Crane, chief counsel for the prosecution, and told Mr. Crane that he assumed entire responsibility for the entire charge; that it was a mistake committed by him and of which Governor Ferguson was entirely ignorant until the Travis county grand jury had its investigation well under way, and that as soon as he told Mr. Crane that, Mr. Crane told him he could go back home; that by reason of Mr. Crane's knowledge and the lack of knowledge on the part of Governor Ferguson's counsel of what Hughes would testify, Mr. Crane was guilty of the suppression of testimony, and notwithstanding his knowledge of Hughes' evidence went through the entire trial insisting that Governor Ferguson did know of the whole transaction and was guilty when he had in his possession evidence of his absolute innocence.

Other Evidence Suppressed

But this was not the only case of suppression of testimony when that miserable fellow Fuller was on the witness stand he was forced to admit that he had received a large sum of money from a contractor with the statement that he would procure for that contractor the contract for building the San Jacinto county court house and that he would get the votes of the commissioners' court for him. His excuse and claim was that he had accepted this money with the full knowledge of the county judge of his county and in order to catch the contractor in questionable transaction. We sent for the county Judge, Judge McMurray, who came to Austin under our process. We tried to see him and to interview him; we were informed that he had gone back home. We sent an attachment after him, but he did not get back to Austin until after evidence was closed, and then when we got to see him he said that everything that Fuller had said was false; that he never knew anything about this money transaction; that there was absolutely no truth in it. I said to him:

"Judge, were you not here last week?" He said "Yes" I said, "Why did you not see us then, while we were on the evidence," and he said, "I talked to Mr. Chester Terrell. Mr. Terrell said as soon as I told him the facts about Fuller: You can go on back home; you are excused; you won't be needed," and thus you see that not only did Mr. Crane suppress important testimony showing the innocence of Governor Ferguson of the material charge made against him, but Mr. Terrell also suppressed evidence of Judge Mc Murray by sending him home and we were deprived of putting his testimony before the house. Mind, you the Fuller charges have served their purpose and were dropped and not presented to the senate.

"As to the $5,600 item, no more, nor as much, can be said of it than can be said of the borrowing of the $16,000 by Hobby from a Houston brewer. Hobby never disclosed that loan until it was whispered all over the state and became a matter of current political history.

Who Changed Solons' Minds?

"As to the transactions with the Temple State bank, every fact and circumstance concerning those transactions was heard by the committee in March and that committee unanimously reported to the house that the facts concerning those transactions did not warrant impeachment. All of that committee except one afterwards voted to impeach Governor Ferguson concerning the Temple State bank transactions. In March those transactions were not sufficient to warrant impeachment, in August they were. Who changed the minds of those members as to the sufficiency of this evidence between March and August? Why was it that March, before the University crowd had ordered the impeachment of Governor Ferguson, these transactions were insufficient, when in August, after the edict had gone forth from the University that he must be destroyed, they were sufficient?"

"The legislature made specific appropriations during Governor Colquitt's administration to buy groceries; in Governor Ferguson's administration they changed the wording of the appropriation bill so as to permit the expenditure of the same sum to buy incidentals, the specific statement having been made on the floor of the house that this was intended to cover groceries at the mansion. Colquitt bought groceries, and notwithstanding the judgment of the court applied to him as well as to Governor Ferguson, he never paid all of the money back or any considerable part of it until in the middle of the investigation of Governor Ferguson.

Campbell, for whom they delayed the close of the testimony in March, was anxious to get on the witness stand and declare that he never spent any part of the state's appropriations for his personal uses, even offering a reward of a thousand dollars to anybody that would show that he did. When he was on the witness stand it was shown, despite his denials before he was confronted with the vouchers, that he bought flowers for receptions, rented furniture, bought embossed stationery for the mansion, and the almost innumerable articles and items like those, and had the state pay for them. The sums were not large ones, but the principle is exactly the same, and if it was right for Campbell to buy these articles it was right for Ferguson to buy them and others. If it was wrong for Ferguson, it was wrong for Campbell.

Some of Sayers' Expenses

But that is not all. Their boast was in the March investigation they would call two living ex-governors of Texas and prove by them that they were never guilty of any such practices as was Ferguson. They put ex-governor Sayers on the stand and while he testified that he never had spent any of the state's money for his personal benefit, two vouchers went into the record of expenditures, the first for the rent of a dress suit for a negro at a reception given at the mansion when President McKinley visited Texas, and the second showing that when Governor Sayers made a trip to Washington the state paid for it; small items, it is true, but the principle is just the same. If it was right for him to pay out this money it was right for Governor Ferguson to make similar expenditures.

"In 1899 the legislature appropriated $65,000 per year for the University; in 1917, $800,000. In 1899 the income from Universitylands was about $40,000 a year; in 1917 over $200,000. The amount spent on the University is practically ten times what was spent eighteen years before, but the attendance has not grown tenfold. Then they had no padded payrolls, no professors over every five students, no professors running around over the state delivering lectures for pay, and taking their wives with them and having the state pay the expenses of the wives traveling as assistants.

Throughout all of that long trial at Austin, while they claimed that the charges made by Governor Ferguson against specific professors were untrue, and the testimony was abundant that they were true, yet not a one of those professors ever got on the witness stand and denied a single charge made against him.

Slander Upon Pure Womanhood.

Some time ago they got out what they called the University year book. It is named the Cactus. In this Cactus the statement is deliberately made that "any sorority door lock can be picked with the end of a fraternity pin and this is the tool most frequently employed." Understand this statement is a slander—an infamous slander—against the hundreds of good girls who now and heretofore have attended the University, but it does disclose a disposition among those who are in control of the management of that institution to sneer at womanhood.

A University professor once told me that he was given a college daily paper, and that "The Cactus of 1918 is an interesting Texas book, a fresh, partly humorous, partly serious record of actual student life at the University, some adventures along the by-paths of virtue, more hilarious and sportive than virtuous, but a relief from the sombre regions of the library stacks, lecture halls and labs."

Governor Ferguson is not opposed to the University, but does demand, and the people demand, that its management be honest, have respect for womanhood and decency, and that the state shall not set the stamp of its approval upon those who sneer at womanly virtues.

We have lately been treated to the spectacle of former Governor Colquitt going over this state denouncing Governor Ferguson, and particularly concerning his financial transactions. He is the last man who ought to question any man's financial transactions.

The trouble with Colquitt is he does not care anything about any man's financial transactions, he is only mad at Ferguson because Ferguson was so anxious to uphold President Wilson's hands in 1916 and joined hands with all those who were opposed to Colquitt and helped to defeat him for the United States senate and the state was spared the humiliation of having a man of Colquitt's pronounced beliefs in the senate of the United States opposed to President Wilson's policies.

Ferguson did not believe that the man who declared President Wilson was the greatest failure in the history of the presidency ought to be given the permission of the state of Texas to speak for it in the senate of the United States, and opposed him, and Colquitt became his enemy and now seeks revenge.

In 1915 Colquitt was associating with Jeremiah O'Leary and others who have since been tried and sent to the federal penitentiaries and are under indictment for disloyalty. If Colquitt is the great man he claims to be, how strange it is that he should have for weeks associated with them and not known of their disloyalty.

"Barry Miller has said in this campaign that Ferguson is a liar when he says the legislature which impeached him was a kangaroo legislature. Let us see. Barry Miller sat in the house of representatives and heard State Treasurer Edwards admit that he and Sam Sparks, while Sam Sparks was treasurer, had borrowed $9,000 from a bank in Austin, paying the bank $10 a piece interest every six months; that that loan to the extent of $6,000 still continues to exist. Barry Miller knows that the records of the banking department at Austin show Sam Sparks and Joe Edwards borrowed $26,000 from the same bank at Austin and paid only $125 per year interest. Yet Barry Miller sat for months afterwards in the legislature and never a word or line of a resolution of censure, investigation or impeachment of this state official, because they were not after him, but were playing politics and trying to destroy the governor at the behest of the University. Again, Barry Miller heard F. O. Fuller while on the witness stand testifying against Governor Ferguson, admit facts both dishonorable and discreditable, and yet Barry Miller sat in his seat and voted a resolution of thanks to F. O. Fuller, as speaker of the house of representatives, and declared his abiding confidence in him as a Christian gentleman.

Barry Miller says that the indictments in Travis county against Ferguson were dismissed by the district attorney because he was Ferguson's friend. After those indictments were found there was a resolution introduced in the state senate by Senator Woodward to investigate the grand jury, but Woodward did not write that resolution—Barry Miller wrote it, and he is the last man on earth who ought to be heard now to defend the grand jury or the indictments that it found.

"Hobby claims to have originated the idea of votes for women. Nobody objects to the women voting, but if it was to attract the women to his state to his vote he would not, by the same or a similar act, have a law passed providing that the soldiers could vote in the primaries? The constitution says that all voters shall be male persons. The woman's voting bill was enacted under the idea that the constitutional provision did not apply to primary elections, likewise when it says that soldiers shall not vote in elections, if the construction with reference to women voting is correct, soldiers can vote in primary elections if a law was passed to authorize them to do so.

The reason why they do not give the men who are willing to give up their lives for their country the right to vote in the primary election was, when the National Guard in Texas was formed it was the duty of Governor Ferguson to appoint the officers of such guard, and he did so. When Barry Miller and the other members of the legislature, who perpetrated that supreme outrage that they did on Governor Ferguson, refused to pass a bill permitting soldiers to vote in the primary, Barry Miller disfranchised his own boy, the boy who now wears a commission given by Governor Ferguson.

Rewards Showered by Hobby.

The only other distinctive feature about Hobby's policy is the rewards and offices and places he has showered on those who voted to impeach Governor Ferguson and, thereby, helped him into the office of governor because he knows he never could have gotten it any other way. Fritz Smith, the professional friend of Governor Ferguson from his boyhood days, now member of the board of pardons Bruce Bryant, superintendent of public buildings and grounds; Harley, a major of the National Guard, resigning for the expressed purpose of going to Austin to help Governor Ferguson in the trial, dazzled by the adjutant's general's office, now for adjutant general at an increased salary; Cope, major in the National Guard; Holliday, a captain in the National Guard.

They put old man Charley Stowe out of the office of superintendent of public buildings and grounds. His offence was he talked to much. He it was that saw the three senators and three senate stenographers at a midnight wine supper in the Lieutenant Governor Hobby room the night that the senate was waiting to receive the charges against Governor Ferguson. All three of these senators afterwards voted to impeach Governor Ferguson, of course, they would not permit old man Charley Stowe to remain around Austin, because he was not the character of man that they were looking for; they didn't want a man who interfered with them in their personal liberty.

The Joy of Living.
To enjoy life we must have good health. No one can reasonably hope to get much real pleasure out of life when his bowels are clogged a good share of the time and the poisons that should be expelled are absorbed into the system, producing headache and indigestion. A few doses of Chamberlain's Tablets will move the bowels, strengthen the digestion and give you a chance to realize the joy of living. Try it. For sale by the Corner Drug Store.
Lame Shoulder.

The Proof Of The Pudding Is The Eating

There is no question but that the Byrne Shorthand is the greatest system in use today. It makes better stenographers in less time and cost than any other. It may be written either with a pencil or any typewriter. It has over 30,000 enthusiastic writers; it holds the world's record for speed in a given length of time, is the most simple, legible, and rapid system in use, as is shown from the following remarks by our students who first studied other systems:

"I take pleasure in telling the public that the Byrne Shorthand is the only system. I previously studied Pitman eight months, used it in actual practice for four months; at the end of six weeks study of the Byrne, I was a better writer than I had ever been with the Pitman."

"I have been a Sloan-Duployan stenographer for 15 years; I found the system inadequate. I then took the Gregg under Mr. Gregg of Chicago, but found it illegible. I then took up the Byrne, which I consider the stenographic marvel of the age."

"I first studied Pitman Short hand, then took up the Byrne, and found the Byrne to be 35 per cent shorter and that it could be written at a much higher rate of speed, and read like print."

"I studied Pitman four months, gave it up in disgust; I then took up Pernin and studied it almost night and day for six months; but was not competent to hold a position. I then took up the Byrne for three months, and find that I can hold any kind of a position."

"I graduated in Graham shorthand, writing 100 words a minute, after 9 months study. After studying the Byrne Simplified, together with Byrne Practical Bookkeeping, for 4 months, I could write Byrne much faster and regard it superior to any other system."

"I thoroughly mastered 14 systems, seven of the most prominent Pitman systems, Gregg, Chartier, Byrne, and four minor systems, and find the Byrne much easier to read, that it can be written with one and one-half times the speed that can be made with any of the other 13 systems."

"After studying six different Pitman systems, I was unable to hold an ordinary office job, but with five weeks study of the Byrne I went into the District Court and did reporting successfully, and was appointed regular Court Stenographer."

"Why study any system of shorthand, other than Byrne, when the Byrne can be learned in half the time, or less, read with greater ease, and written at a higher rate of speed which means better salary and promotion? It does not cost half as much to complete a course in our school as it does one of the other systems in other schools. We hold the exclusive right to teach the Byrne in this section. The author is president of our school."

Write for catalogue containing full endorsements and names and addresses of the above, and of others who have tried the other systems and abandoned them for the Byrne. Our Bookkeeping, Cotton Clipping, and Telegraphy are as far superior to the other systems as is the Byrne Shorthand. Don't fail to write or phone for our large free catalogue.

Why you should use Cardui, the woman's tonic, for your troubles, have been shown in thousands of letters from actual users of this medicine, who speak from personal experience. If the results obtained by other women for so many years have been so uniformly good, why not give Cardui a trial?

Meat Must Be Sold

Fresh meat is salable. It must be sold within about two weeks for whatever it will bring.

A certain amount of beef is frozen for foreign shipment, but domestic markets demand fresh, chilled, unfrozen beef.

Swift & Company cannot increase prices by withholding meat, because it will not keep fresh and salable for more than a few days after it reaches the market.

Swift & Company cannot tell at the time of purchasing cattle, what price fresh meat will bring when put on sale. If between purchase and sale, market conditions change, the price of meat must also change.

The Food Administration limits our profit to 9 per cent on capital invested in the meat departments. This is about 2 cents per dollar of sales. No profit is guaranteed, and the risk of loss is not eliminated.

As a matter of fact, meat is often sold at a loss because of the need of selling it before it spoils.

Swift & Company, U.S.A.
