

PRODUCE YOUR FOOD AND HELP THE NATION

Again I am calling attention to the great need for every one to produce their own food as much as is in their power. No doubt many of the people have heard this cry until they feel that it is merely a popular sentence going the rounds and that it is being repeated without any particular object, but recent food orders by Mr. Hoover, the Food Administrator, are bringing the need of this home to us in a way that no one should mistake. It is now feared that it will be necessary to place the people on a card system of rationing like central Europe has had for some time. There is only one way to prevent this and this is to raise more food.

When you go to buy another sack of flour, you will no doubt be surprised when the merchant tells you that he can sell you only 12 pounds if you live in town and only 24 pounds no matter how far out in the country you live. All these regulations are for your benefit as well as any one else and all the regulations about your meatless and wheatless days should be fully complied with by every one whether in the country or in town. It is not a whim of the food administrator but an absolute necessity for the conservation of the food supply. Of course you may not understand it because you have always been able to purchase anything you want when you have the money, but unless the food supply is increased very materially over what it has formerly been there is not a doubt that this will not continue long.

Let me impress upon you, the urgent need for more food and ask that you increase the size of your garden and give it good attention planting everything that will grow in order that you may live on it and save food that you would have to buy otherwise. The amount of food saved for the soldiers and our allies in this way can be made an enormous amount. Will you be a patriot and do this little bit asked of you or will you be so selfish that you become a "slacker" by refusing to help your country in the time when it is sorely in need of your help?

Texas has never raised sufficient food to supply her own people in the past and it is time we should quit depending on other sections for our food. If we continue to raise all cotton or, the largest portion of our crop in cotton to the neglect of food crops we are sure to suffer next year. There are many crops that will be as profitable from a money standpoint as cotton even when it is as high as it is now. Peanuts last year showed a greater profit for nearly all who planted them than cotton. One extensive farmer in the county who keeps an accurate account of all work on the crop and charges all the expense of labor etc., showed me his account of his cotton crop and that of his peanuts and the peanuts made him more money by about 50 per cent than his cotton. Then again sorghum for molasses is a paying crop and you need the food for yourself. Potato seed is scarce, I know and very high but do not make the mistake to fail to plant at least enough for your own needs. Peas and beans are splendid crops for this section of the state and every one can raise what they need in this line. They are soil builders as well as profitable crops.

If you follow out these suggestions you will feel proud of your achievements next winter when food becomes even more scarce than it is now and you can have the assurance of plenty for your own family. Let me again urge you to heed the warning.

County Agricultural Agent.

Report of the Red Cross Drive

Below is a report of the Red Cross Drive so far as reported. Ten of the teams have made no report so far. Cherokee reported something near a hundred dollars by telephone, but the report as here given is taken from the treasurer's books. All in all we think this is a very fine showing. We wish here to make due acknowledgement of our very sincere appreciation of the co-operation of San Saba county people and especially grateful are we to the teams that aided so materially in making this drive a success. Without your help we could not have succeeded.

It is our opinion now that we shall

DRY ZONE BILL

APRIL 1 FIXED AS TIME FOR TAKING EFFECT

Austin, March 2.—The ten-mile zone bill was engrossed in the house late this afternoon by a vote of 85 to 4. It fixes the date of going into effect at April 1. It will require ninety-five affirmative votes on final passage to put the law into effect earlier than ninety days after adjournment.

An amendment to the ten-mile zone bill by Representative Miller of Dallas to permit use of liquor for scientific or mechanical purposes was also adopted.

Representative Carlock of Ft. Worth introduced an amendment to the dry zone bill to strike the emergency clause. Representative Miller of Dallas opposed it. Miller charged that Fort Worth prohibitionists after promising to call an election if Dallas voted dry, failed to live up to their agreement.

Amendment Lost

The house liquor committee met and acted adversely on a bill by Representative Swope which would amend the zone bill so as to permit the sale of light wines and malt beverages. Recommendation will be made to the house that the bill be not passed.

Another bill which would make it a misdemeanor to buy or assist in procuring liquor for another in dry territory—designed to affect the bootlegger—was tabled until a later meeting of the committee. A majority of the committee members expressed belief that since provisions of this bill would make both the purchaser and the person who furnished the liquor liable to prosecution that neither could testify against the other and the real purpose of the bill would be lost.

A resolution was introduced by Representative Thompson of Hunt county, congratulating the city of Austin on "going dry" last night and voicing the purpose of the house to "make the state bone dry." The resolution was adopted.

Representative Mendell then introduced a resolution providing for the listing of all alien enemies employed in state or local offices. It was adopted.

NEW HUN ATTACK UPON AMERICAN FRONT REPULSED

Paris, March 5.—A German attack last night on the trenches held by American troops in Lorraine was repulsed, the French official statement issued today announced. American patrols operating in the same region, the statement adds, took a number of prisoners.

A German machine gun in perfect condition may be sent to Washington as the first American war trophy. It was among the mass of material dropped hastily by the enemy when he retired from his ineffectual attack on the American lines last week. The weapon with several belts of ammunition now is in the possession of intelligence officers.

Farmers' Union Elect Directors

The stockholders of the Farmers' Union Warehouse and Gin Co. met in the commissioner's court room Monday pursuant to call and heard report of the board of directors for the past year. This report was declared to be very gratifying to the stockholders who heard it. The following directors for the ensuing year were then elected: W. C. Biggs, W. N. Rylander, A. J. Walker, W. B. Leverett, J. T. Taylor. After the adjournment of the stockholders the board of directors met and organized by electing W. N. Rylander, president; J. T. Taylor, vice-president; W. B. Leverett, secretary.

The fact that the old board of directors were all unanimously elected for another year and that the organization of the board is practically in tact is evidence of the satisfactory management of this company.

The board of directors adjourned to meet at Richland Springs on Saturday, March 16th to consider with the membership and people there the warehouse proposition. During last year the big warehouse at San Saba was destroyed by fire.

Sale of Flour Is Further Restricted

TWELVE POUNDS TO CITY CUS-TOMER AND TWENTY-FOUR TO RURAL CUSTOMER.

The sale of flour by retailers has been further restricted, by an order from the food administration which limits sales to city customers to twenty-four pounds, the latter being with regard to the distance a farmer or ranchman may live from the buying point. The rule requiring that an equivalent amount of flour substitute be bought at the same time is still effective.

Announcement of the new order with reference to the sale of flour was received by district administrator Porter A. Whaley in a telegram from State Administrator Peden Saturday night. Similar telegrams have been sent to county administrators all over the state and nation.

"The steady increase of restrictions placed about the sale of wheat flour leads to the belief, expressed at Houston a month ago, that within a short while there will be no flour on the market," said Administrator Whaley this morning. "In the meantime, the government agents are maintaining a strict watch to prevent hoarding of either flour or wheat, and stocks are being confiscated at many points."—Brownwood Bulletin.

IRRIGATORS HAVE HEARING

STATE WATER BOARD HOLDS
HEARING—IRRIGATORS UP IN AIR

R. J. Windrow, member of the state Board of Water Engineers, arrived Monday and began the hearing of claims of the water owners on the Colorado and San Saba rivers in this county. C. S. Clark, another member of the board arrived Tuesday and both are engaged in the hearing this week. The nature of this hearing has been a mystery to the people along the rivers ever since the notice of the hearing was published in the News. As stated to the News reporter by Judge Windrow this is a real law suit. The suit was filed by the Colorado Irrigation Company of Matagorda county. Notice of the hearings have been published in all the counties. The meeting is merely the taking of evidence for the final determination of the rights of the irrigators along the rivers. This suit asks the Board of Water Engineers to adjudicate the rights of all water users on these two rivers and their tributaries. This may be the beginning of a long drawn out law suit to determine really what are the rights and who hold the rights to use the waters of these rivers.

In this connection the News is herewith enabled to publish the names of the original filings for water rights on these rivers. They are

BULLETIN OF SELECTION BOARD

1. The special provision whereby registrants could voluntarily enlist in the Army was rescinded on December 15 last. However, any registrant at any time, regardless of classification or order number, may be commissioned in the Army, Navy or Marine Corps, or appointed an Army Field Clerk. Furthermore, registrants may become members of the Enlisted Reserve Corps of the Medical Department, Engineer Enlisted Reserve Corps, or Signal Enlisted Reserve Corps under certain provisions that will be explained upon application to this board.

2. Any registrant whose class and order numbers are so low that he is not within the current quota of his Local Board may voluntarily enlist in the Navy or the Marine Corps.

3. The place of voluntary enlistment in the Army by a registrant has been taken by a method whereby such registrant may be individually or voluntarily inducted into the Army. An individual induction is one whereby the registrant desires to be inducted into the service for assignment to any particular corps or department and such assignment is desired by the chief of the corps or department, and such chief issues an order on the Local Board directing it to so induct such registrant. A voluntary induction is one authorized by an Induction Call issued by the Provost Marshal General wherein enlistments into a particular branch of the service are permitted and men are to be sent to a given place, ordinarily some place other than a regular mobilization and training camp for drafted registrants. These Induction Calls are numbered serially and are cancelled when the required number of men has been obtained. On this date the following Induction Calls are in force: No. 2, Medical Department, Medical Officers Training Camp, Fort Riley, Kansas. No. 5, Infantry, Camp Green, Charlotte, N. C. No. 28, Coast Artillery Corps, Fort Logan, Colorado.

4. The careful attention of all registrants who would prefer to be individually or voluntarily inducted than to be drafted is called to paragraph 3 hereof. Such registrants should keep in close touch with this Board in order to learn what Induction Calls are in force and thereby choose their branch of the service and become inducted before the call in question is cancelled. Those who desire to enlist in the Infantry or the Coast Artillery should take such step immediately, as both of the Induction Calls (No. 5 and No. 28) authorizing such voluntary inductions may be rescinded any day.

5. This Board has this week so far voluntarily inducted four men under Induction Call No. 28, mentioned in paragraph 3 hereof.

6. The schedule of physical examinations under the revised Regulations was taken up Monday, the 4th instant. Examinations will be conducted only of mornings, except that no examinations will be had on Saturdays. Only registrants in Class 1 are being examined at present. Registrants are requested to be prompt in answering notices to report for physical examinations. Those who fail to report without giving a satisfactory reason therefor are delinquents and will have to be reported as such to the Adjutant General of the State, whereupon they become liable to have various severe penalties visited upon them.

7. All notices of final classification of registrants who have thus far filed Questionnaires with this Board have been mailed out, except that some notices to men placed in Class IV are yet to be sent out. The Regulations call for notices of the latter class to be given after notices for Class I, II, and III men have been mailed, which will explain the apparent delay in getting all "Class IV" notices issued.

8. No official information has yet been received as to the date of the next draft or the amount of men it will include.

Miss Zelma Russell, daughter of R. A. Russell, was taken to a hospital in Temple last week and submitted to an operation for appendicitis. Reports Wednesday said her condition was critical.

M. W. A. HOLD BIG DISTRICT RALLY

MORE THAN 100 IN BIG CLASS
ADOPTION

The Modern Woodmen of America closed in on the big drive which has been on for the past four weeks with a tremendous class adoption last Wednesday night. The state banner which Farmers Camp had won for last year was to have been here and state lecturer H. B. Vodie of San Antonio had come up for the especial purpose of presenting the banner to this live camp. The banner did not arrive, however.

The district court room was secured and the rally was held there, this being the largest room in town. It was too full for comfort during the initiatory work. The beautiful and impressive floor work of the order was used in the initiation of candidates for this occasion. District deputy W. W. E. Carlton of Brownwood was here with his push and enthusiasm for the craft. R. J. Vidler, the assistant district deputy who has been on the ground and personally led the boys in the onslaught, was the happiest man in town. He was conscious of having chopped well and having brought in much good, soud timber.

After the work was completed the Neighbors listened to a rousing speech from the state lecturer. On the part of the Camp the speech of Neighbor Vodie was responded to by Hon. Mitch Johnson, past Venerable Consul. Other speakers of the occasion were district deputy Carlton, assistant deputy Vidler, County Judge W. V. Dean and W. A. Smith.

There were visiting Neighbors from Richland Springs and Lometa to join in the festivities and after the ceremonies in the court room a good bunch of the choppers repaired to the Camp hall where a bushel of fun is reported.

Farmers Camp is in the lead for new members so far this year and the choppers are confident they will win the state banner again for 1918. The state and district speakers at the rally were enthusiastic in their praise of the live wires at San Saba. They say it is no reflection on any other camp to say Farmers Camp is the liveliest bunch in the state.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

That was a beautiful surprise which came to Mrs. C. A. Sauer the evening of Tuesday, February 26. This was her 52 birth anniversary and her daughter, Mrs. Lee Gauny, had not forgotten it. So Mrs. Gauny cooked up just lots of good things to eat and accompanied by Miss Fannie Walker and W. B. Urquhart, Mr. and Mrs. Gauny and family went to spend the evening with "mother." Other members of the family present were Jack Sauer and family and also Roy, Willie and Linn. Walter Sauer and a sister living in Hamilton county could not be present.

Music, 42 and other games were enjoyed far into the night. Mr. and Mrs. Sauer are among the most highly respected families in the county. They came here from Hamilton county some 12 years ago and have lived these years near San Saba town, now living on the Urquhart farm two miles north of town.

CANDIDATES NUMBER

The News will issue an Easter Edition and Candidates Number on March 28. In this number will also appear some of the oil resources and developments of San Saba and adjoining counties.

We hope to make this number of the News a very attractive one in many particulars and worthy of the town and people which it serves. A copy of this issue will be placed in the homes of all the voters of this county. For this number we have been fortunate in securing the services of Mrs. Edgar T. Neal, who is one of the noted women of the State and whose ability and success in compiling an edition of this kind is well known throughout the State. Mrs. Neal will contract for all advertising space for this number and any courtesy shown her will be appreciated by this office.

This number should be of special interest to Easter shoppers and also to the voters and candidates of the county, district and state.

Mrs. J. E. Collins was a guest of Mrs. B. T. Rich the first of the week. She went to the new home in Temple Wednesday.

IT WAS ONE GRAND SURPRISE SHE SAYS

"I GAINED TWELVE POUNDS ON TWO BOTTLES OF TANLAC" SAYS MISS BOHNE

"I have gained twelve pounds on two bottles of Tanlac and feel every bit of five years younger," said Miss Navonie H. Bohne, cashier at Rouse's Drug Store, and residing at 1514 Everett Street, Houston, Texas, the other day.

"I was in a very much rundown condition," she explained, "from stomach disturbances and most everything I would eat gave me trouble. My food would sour on my stomach and form gas that made me miserable for hours. My nerves were all on edge so I got little rest at night, and when morning came I was most as tired as I was when I went to bed. I had terrible headaches most all the time and felt so wretched and no account I hardly had any life or energy to do anything."

"I heard so many people telling about the good that Tanlac had done them that I decided to try it. The way it took hold of my troubles was one grand surprise and I hardly know how to begin telling of all the benefits I have derived from using it. I can say though that it has made a new person out of me, and as soon as I get home from work instead of moping around like I did I now have a grand time romping with the kiddies just like I was a child too. My complexion has cleared up wonderfully, I have no trouble with my digestion and I sleep like a baby. Tanlac has been a fine thing for me and I certainly am glad to recommend it from my own experience with it."

Tanlac is sold in San Saba by Mackey & Ransom, in Locker by J. F. Coffey, in Richland Springs by D. J. Chapman, in Cherokee by Cherokee Drug Co., and in Chappel by C. F. January & Son.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Kuykendall and son, Reeves, motored to Camp McArthur near Waco last week to visit Lieutenant Clay Kuykendall. They returned Monday and report Clay enjoying good health and expecting to be ordered to go "over there" most any day. He is now on duty with the rank of Captain.

Mrs. Silas Mayo of Brady has returned home after visiting Mrs. I. J. Hendricks, her sister.

HOME GARDEN CAMPAIGN

Austin, Texas, Feb. 29—"We must have plenty of water for our gardens or they will be failures," is the burden of numerous communications received by B. F. Johnson, manager of the Texas food and feed production campaign.

So urgent is the demand for water at low rates from every town and city where war gardens are being planted and cultivated, that Mr. Johnson has written to every water company in the State as follows:

"A garden in every home, in the city as well as in the country, is generally recognized as a very important economic feature in winning the war. Every meal or part of a meal supplied by the home garden will release just that much of other foods that may be exported to our armies and our allies. Besides this, the production of the home garden will become available at a time when our surplus supply of food from last year's crops is lowest and before this year's production is available.

"The patriotic Garden League of Texas, organized in this campaign for the increased production of food and feed, has been a wonderful success. More than 300,000 enrollment cards have been sent to all sections of the state at the request of those interested in the movement, and we now have members enrolled from two hundred of the two hundred and fifty-two counties in the state.

"One of the leading factors in the success of these gardens, which can be made to produce something throughout the year, is an adequate supply of water to supplement the ordinary rainfall that may be expected. If your company, therefore, can make a special rate for water to be used in keeping these gardens productive, you will not only be encouraging a movement that is worthy of every assistance, but you will also be rendering a patriotic service to the country and helping in a very material way to bring success to America's cause. Will you not give this matter serious consideration, and, if local circumstances warrant it, make a special water rate for the benefit of home gardens in your city?"

Father's Letter to Tom

The following excerpts are some of the words Tom got in a letter from his father when he left his mother for "somewhere in France." They are fine words for members of the Bible chair class to think upon.

"You have a wonderful chance to repay your mother. You are going into a big thing; a big war; a big army; standing for a big idea. But don't forget that the biggest thing about a principle or a battle or an army is a man! And the biggest thing a war can do is to bring out that man. That's really what you and the other chaps have gone over for: to demonstrate the right kind of manhood, for it is that which weighs in a fight and wins it. The measure of any successful result is the men who make that success."

"You neither want nor need maxims. I think you inherit my distaste for them. There is only one thing that counts in this life, and it beats all the maxims ever penned—that is, for a man's spirit to be all right. If that is what it should be all the little details of his life will fall into their proper places. I think your spirit is all right, my boy. It should be, for it came to you from your mother. Live that spirit."

"When you are called to get into the game, get into it good and strong. There's no fun in going through life spoon-fed; in finding the soft seat. That makes a man soft, and a soft man is an abomination before God and men. Find your place and hold it; find your work and do it. And put everything you've got into it. Take hold and carry the biggest load your shoulders can carry, and then carry it right. Set the pace for others; don't let them set it for you."

"Then when the hour comes for fun and recreation, have it also 'full up,' only get clean fun. You have the good manners that your mother taught you. Be true to your teacher, for as a son acts so does he reflect upon his mother and father. And in no relation in life can you so truly know a man as in his play. See how a man plays and you can tell every time whether his is a quitter or if he is a standpatter. It is in his playtime that a man meets with the things that test him."

"Let me say to you, too: attend service: If not invariably, then variably. A lot of the fellows won't, and you won't have to if you don't want to. But, take it from an old man who has been over all the way, you can't afford not to go. Get the true understanding of this one fact; this war will, in its finality, have to be settled on one basis, and only one: the spirit of Christ. Why? Because any civilization that is worth the name is based on that, and only on that can it survive. Christianity may seem to have a black eye just now; it may seem almost not to be in the world. But that is only in the seeming, for when the time comes for men to get together you will see that peace will come out of that great fountain of sanity, tolerance and political and social wisdom that is the gateway to all kinds of truth and the only sure basis on which the world can rest. So keep a bit close to it in your fighting days, and learn to know the greatest lessons that man can know and by which every decent man lives and is measured."

"So go to it, my boy! Do your duty and do it strong. If it be God's will that you come back to us a silent tribute to your sense of right, so be it. We will bear and live it, as thousands of others will be called upon to do. But I have a strong feeling that you are going to come back to us a bigger, finer man than you are leaving us today. I cannot help feeling this is God's will. And when you come back, more than any honor that may come to you for duty alone, I want to feel that, clean-blooded and clear-eyed, you can look your mother straight in the eye and that she will feel that most glorious and satisfying of all exaltations that comes to a mother, that tremendous inner satisfaction, when the mother-heart says within her: 'Thank God, my boy has kept the faith.' Keep you that faith with your mother. Nothing can count so big."

"Until then, dear boy, remember me as thinking of you throughout each of the long days and the nights to come as

"Your loving and believing
—DAD."

HOW RUSSIA WAS RUINED

(From New York World)

Russia gives new proof that there has been no change in the methods and purposes of German imperialism and that there will be no change until that imperialism is crushed.

When the Russian revolution came about in March, 1917, the German autocracy set out at once to strangle the new democracy that had come into the world. Through German agents hundreds of Anarchists and so-called Internationalists were sent back to Russia from the United States. These people had remained Russian subjects under the law, and whatever the misgivings of Washington may have been, no power existed in the government to stop the emigration. Among those who returned from New York was Trotsky, and to make sure that Lenin would arrive safely in Petrograde the German Government gave him a safe conduct from Switzerland.

The moment these agitators reached the Russian capital the Bolshevik movement began to gather in force. The first task of Germany in revolutionary Russia was to alienate the Russian people from the Allies, and to this work the Bolsheviks bent all their energies. The democracies of the United States, Great Britain and France were denounced as the most ruthless capitalistic enemies of the proletariat, and the propaganda made immediate headway among an ignorant and credulous population that was weary of war and eager to reap the material fruits of the revolution.

The next task was to overthrow the Kerensky Government, which had kept faith with the allies. This was finally accomplished, and the Bolsheviks came into power and proceeded to carry out their pledge of a peace without annexations or indemnities. The Germans accepted the formula and the negotiations began. The Russian armies were disbanded. The manufacture of munitions was stopped. The Germans were permitted to transfer their best troops from the eastern front to the western front. Russia sank deeper and deeper into anarchy. The Bolsheviks were all for peace, as against Germany and all for war against Roumanians, Finns, Poles and fellow-Russians who owned property of any kind.

While Trotsky and Lenin were declaring to their deluded followers that a revolution among the workers of Germany and Austria-Hungary was inevitable, German autocracy was preparing to reap the reward of its cunning and corruption. The doctrine of peace without annexations and indemnities was abruptly repudiated. The German Government announced its intention of "rectifying the frontiers" and holding four Russian provinces. The Bolshevik leaders proclaimed the end of the war and finished the demobilization of the Russian armies on the eastern front. Then Germany resumed its active military operations, and its commanding officer now proclaims a new mission—that of destroying anarchy in Russia, the anarchy that Germany bought and paid for.

Thanks to the Bolsheviks, Russia is now helpless before the German military forces, and there are no obstacles to any campaign of conquest that Germany may undertake. Berlin is restrained only by its own sense of moderation and the military necessity of not weakening the western front for troops to hold Russian territory.

Trusting to negotiations with Prussianism, the Russian people have lost everything, including honor. The fact that they were beaten by their own leaders is only incidental. Even had the Lenins and Trotskys been sincere, Russia was ruined the moment it trusted Germany's faith and Germany's pledges, and so will any other country be ruined that proceeds likewise. There is no peace for anybody while Germany is dominated by its military autocracy, and no peace can be negotiated.

"DOG GONE THE DOGS"

Say, "Sun-of-a-Gun": You said you were going to say something about "cleaning up," some of these days before long.

It has occurred to me that a good place to begin would be to "clean up" on the measly pack of dogs that loaf around town all the time. Only yesterday I saw a poor lonesome country dog, that had made the mistake of following his master to town and was lying quietly under the wagon, assaulted by five of these city loafers, and such a free for all as they had. It created quite a panic among the teams that were tied to the court yard fence, and only the fact that they could not get away prevented a general wreck among them. And only a few days before, as I went to the Postoffice I saw a big, ugly, vicious looking cur lying stretched out in the middle of the side walk and everybody walking around him; and the women and children especially afraid to pass near him. When I returned he was still holding his position and if one had summoned courage enough to kick him off the side walk he would likely have been snapped at by the dog, and possibly took a licking from his owner. Up around the school building you can see any day a pack of apparently worthless curs sneaking every bit of bread or other scraps dropped from the children's dinner, and chasing the chickens off the yard, that would otherwise get the said scraps and give good returns for same in eggs and fried chicken—yum, yum, my.

Seriously, I believe that the feed these dogs consume within the corporation of San Saba would fatten from thirty to fifty hogs every ninety days. Talk about conservation of food and feedstuff. Of course, there are some very gentlemanly dogs around town and they seem to be in a class to themselves. And, like the tramps on the road, they always "chalk up" on every object along the route, so that their croyd will know they have passed that way. And, too, they are very gallant, for you often see a half dozen of them escorting a lady friend around town, and they are all very much in love with her, too, judging from their expressions of jealousy.

I know there are a limited number of dogs that are worth keeping, and I would not indiscriminately condemn them all, but I am sure that you will agree with me that in the main, they are a worthless nuisance and to the city dads I would suggest that they proceed to abate the nuisance.

A Friend of Good Dogs.

Mrs. J. R. Finnell has returned from a pleasant visit in Lometa.

Guarding Our Lines

Guarding our lines is like guarding our health—we must encourage the care of our bodies—train our organs for bodily endurance, efficiency and full achievement. It is not so much a necessity to fight disease as to cultivate health.

If we want to increase our chances for long life—Dr. Pierce, of the Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., says: "Keep the kidneys in good order. Try to eliminate through the skin and intestines the poisons that otherwise clog the kidneys. Avoid eating meat as much as possible; avoid too much salt, alcohol, tea. Try a milk and vegetable diet. Drink plenty of water, obtain Anuric (double strength), for 60 cents at druggists, and exercise so you perspire—the skin helps to eliminate toxins and uric acid."

For those easily recognized symptoms of inflammation, as backache, scalding "water," or if uric acid in the blood has caused rheumatism, "rusty" joints, stiffness, get Anuric at the drug store, or send Dr. V. M. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., 10 cts. for trial package.

STROUD, OKLA.—"I suffered for a year with kidney trouble. I saw Dr. Pierce's advertisement in the paper and wrote for a trial package of 'Anuric.' It helped me so much I went to the drug store and bought a supply of Dr. Pierce's medicines. I bought four bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' one package of the 'Anuric Tablets' and a vial of the 'Pleasant Pellets.' The 'Golden Medical Discovery' and the 'Pellets' cured me of bowel trouble, and the 'Anuric' of the kidney trouble."—MRS. MARY JANE FISHER, Route 5.

CARD OF THANKS

Until trouble comes into one's life the real value of true friendships are often not appreciated. This is the time which calls out the deep currents of the heart, and I take this method of expressing my sincere gratitude to the good people and neighbors who were so thoughtful and kind to us during the sickness and death of my dear husband. I wish to especially thank the members of the Modern Woodmen of America.

Miller Estep, proprietor of the Uneeda Poultry Farm, has recently purchased some fine specimens for his flock. He is this week taking off a big incubator full of little chicks. He keeps only pure bred stuff and is going to breed up to something far excellent in the poultry line.

YOU!

A cablegram from France, publication of which was recently authorized, contains the following information:

PART OF THE NATIONAL GUARD HAS ARRIVED IN FRANCE AND IS UNDERGOING INTENSIVE TRAINING BEHIND FIRST LINE TRENCHES WITHIN THE SOUND OF THE GUNS AT THE FRONT

THIS BRINGS THE WAR HOME TO YOU

In a short time these gallant young men, whose parents, brothers and sisters, wives and sweethearts are your own neighbors, will be IN the front line trenches, under the murderous fire of enemy artillery, and going "over the top" to meet the sweeping hail of the machine guns and the bayonets of the Huns.

If these soldier boys—YOUR soldier boys—were three miles away instead of three thousand, you would bend every energy, exhaust every resource, make every sacrifice, to make sure that they were fed, clothed, armed and equipped as no soldiers ever were before.

Is your duty less imperative, any less sacred, because it is your neighbor's boy who is defending your country, your flag and your home from German frightfulness on the other side of the ocean? It is not a splendid privilege as well as a duty to deny yourself luxuries, to save food, save clothing, above all to save money, for our soldiers?

U. S. THRIFT STAMPS SAVE LIVES AND SHORTEN THE WAR

There is one thing you can do, every day, to help the Government provide the guns, ammunition, food, clothing and other supplies which our soldiers and sailors MUST HAVE to win the war, win it quickly, and come safely home again.

Go today to any bank, any postoffice, or any store where you see the W. S. S. (War Savings Stamps) sign displayed.

For 25 cents you will receive a U. S. Thrift Stamp and a card to paste it on. The card has spaces for 16 stamps, costing you $4. When it is full, exchange it—with a few cents additional in cash—for a War Savings Stamp, for which the Government will pay $5 January 1, 1923.

These War Savings Stamps are as safe as U. S. Bonds. They are the safest investment in the world because they are backed by the entire resources of the country, and the profit you make on them amounts to four per cent interest, compounded quarterly, if held till January 1, 1923.

Buy a U. S. Thrift Stamp with every quarter you can possibly save. Every stamp helps to stamp out autocracy. Every stamp saves priceless American blood. Every stamp is a blow for Liberty. Every stamp will help bring peace to the world—a permanent peace, grounded in justice and righteousness.

LOVING MEMORIES

The death angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Davenport Thursday, Feb. 28th at 11 a. m. and plucked from their home life's sweetest flower, Miss Maud.

She was 18 years of age and a devoted Christian, having united with the Baptist Church some few years ago.

Funeral services were conducted in the Baptist Church at Richland Springs by Rev. Tippen and Bro. W. M. Chapman. The remains were quietly laid away in the Richland Springs cemetery.

We can't understand, but God said "Come up Higher, I have need of Thee". God never puts more on us than we can bear.

All was done that loving hands could do, but the end came at last. The community will miss her kind words and loving hands, as well as the bereaved family. "Thou art gone precious sister, thy sweet face we'll see no more; 'Till we meet you over yonder on that happy peaceful shore." We wonder why life's fairest flower is taken but God knows best.

Those surviving are the broken hearted parents, six brothers and six sisters. May God brighten the lives of those that are left to grieve.

Death was the result of pneumonia and heart failure.

The family has the sympathy of the entire community.

A Friend.

22 Million Families in the United States

IF EACH FAMILY saved one cup of wheat flour it would amount to 5,500,000 pounds, or more than 28,000 barrels. If this saving was made three times a week, it would amount to 858,000,000 pounds, or 4,377,000 barrels in a year. You can do your share in effecting this saving and really help to win the war by omitting white bread from one meal today and baking in its place muffins or corn bread made according to this recipe:

Corn Meal Muffins

| 1/2 cup corn meal | 2 tablespoons sugar |
| 1 1/2 cups flour | No eggs |
| 1/2 teaspoon salt | 1 cup milk |

Emergency Feed

(By J. C. Patterson, Livestock Specialists, State Department of Agriculture in Farm and Ranch, March 2, 1918.)

Thousands of cattle have been saved from starvation this winter by being fed prickly pears. This hitherto despised plant, in an indisputable manner, has proven its worth as a reserve feed for drouthy years.

Although it has been utilized for a great many purposes in years past, the feeding value has not been recognized, and the cactus has never before proven itself of such life-saving benefit as it has during this protracted drouth. When every sprig of grass and every available twig had been eaten, and it looked as if the range cattle must die of starvation, stockmen bought burners and began singeing off the spines so the cactus could be eaten by the hungry cattle.

Several modes of handling have been used with more or less satisfactory result. Primarily the gasoline or crude oil torch is used to singe the spines and the pear is left standing, being eaten that way by the stock. The accompanying photographs illustrate the system in operation on the dairy of Frank Hill of Austin. He feeds some 200 cows and finds that they will leave good silage to get the prickly pear.

The silos are not used for storing the cut pear, although the storage space is needed, as the pear is freighted several miles, because the only records available report that stock will not eat cactus which has been siloed 30 days, and so, only enough is cut at one time to feed for two or three days. Although he has fed some chopped pear without burning he prefers to use a crude oil torch, as he finds it less harrassing to men and teams if handled in this way. Mr. Hill now proposes to plant several acres of spineless cactus for use in another such emergency.

Spineless cactus, under irrigation, may produce as much as 200 tons per acre annually. On poor, rock land without irrigation, they may yield 50 tons per acre. It may be fed if needed, or allowed to stand several years until wanted. The photos of Spineless varieties were taken on the ranch of B. R. Russell of San Saba.

Prickly-pear has a composition in digestible nutrients of 0.4 per cent protein, 8.9 per cent of carbohydrates and 0.2 per cent fat. One pound of sorghum hay being equal in feeding value of an average of 13 pounds of prickly-pear, or one pound of sorghum silage is equal to 2.6 pounds, and one pound of cotton seed hulls has a value of 5.8 pounds of prickly-pear. This value is calculated from the pear having a water content of about 84 per cent. In dry seasons like this one there is less water content and consequently a higher feed value. Cattle eating a full diet or around 150 pounds of pear will drink little or no water. Although ordinarily fed in connection with other feeds, prickly-pear is sometimes fed alone. One bunch of cattle near Austin has been kept fat with no other feed.

Regardless of agriculture that certain U. S. department of agriculture representatives have sent out warnings against farmers planting cactus, it has certainly been a boon and is worthy of consideration as an emergency crop.

GAS RAIDS NOT AS BAD AS PICTURED, SAYS TEXAS MAN

Baltimore, Md., March 2.—"Those gas raids are not as bad as they are pictured to be," said Charles H. Jellison, of Paris, Texas, today. Jellison is a patient in the United States general hospital, No. 2, at Fort McHenry. He has been wounded through his left hip, has been gassed and has now gone deaf in his left ear, due to the use of the heavy guns on the western front.

Jellison has been in the first, second and third line trenches of the Cambrai region, where a great part of the heavy fighting took place last fall.

"The gas attack was the first attack that we had from the Germans," he said. "The gas caught us a little unprepared. The attack occurred at 4:30 in the afternoon. The Germans used the gas waves and the gas grenades.

"The oxygen tank of one of my gas masks was punctured by a bullet fired by one of the German snipers. I was hampered a while in getting the bad mask off, and while I was putting on the good mask I was overcome by the gas. The next thing I knew I found myself in a hospital.

"No, it isn't at all bad to be overcome by gas. You feel a little dizzy and your head spins around as if you had a headache."

Jellison was wounded while cutting the wire of a German trench. He has the following story to tell about the patrol's exploits:

"It was pitch-dark the night our patrol went out and we had to feel our way across.

"Finally, however, we got across. Gee! but we sure did breathe a sigh of relief when our hands touched the wire of the German trenches. While we were busily engaged in cutting the wire some member of the patrol had to sneeze.

"One minute after that sneeze bullets were literally raining on us. One bullet struck me in the left hip. Luckily, none of our men were left lying in No Man's Land. It makes me shiver every time I think of how near I came to being left behind. Although it was a bitter cold November night, I was bathed in perspiration when I reached our lines. With my wounded side it was a living hell getting back."

APRIL McCALL PATTERNS

Good honest labor never hurt anybody. Worry kills more people every year than work. It's always the idle man who finds things to kick and complain about.

The farmer works. So does the merchant. So does the professional man. So does the banker. Work takes the kinks out of a man's head, the frog out of his throat, the gas off his stomach, the weariness out of his legs and gives him a good appetite, a clearer vision and an honest living. Add to this a nice little savings account at our bank where a part of his earnings are gradually accumulating and there will be contentment also. Your account may mean more work for us but we will be glad to do it. That's what we are here for.

GERMANY CANNOT BREAK THROUGH

(From Fort Worth Star Telegram)

Will Irwin, who has just returned from France after having been "all down the line" on the western front, made an address in New York the other day in which he declared that Germany's coming big drive is doomed to certain failure. Mr. Irwin said:

"Undoubtedly, in my opinion, which is that of a 'safe strategist,' the much-heralded offensive is coming. There has been so much preparation and moving of troops and artillery in Germany to the western front that it would be too expensive a proposition merely to be carried out by way of a 'bluff.' But I am confident that the Germans cannot mass any vastly superior forces against us. It must also be remembered that the allies have been conserving their forces and steadily preparing by increased manufacturing of munitions. The Germans have at present a slight advantage in the air, which can be overcome by superior tactics on the part of the allies.

"Of course the Germans may be planning something new in the way of propaganda, but it must be remembered that they have an altogether different morale to deal with on the western front than in Italy. Nothing can ever weaken the morale of the British."

Speaking of the effect in Paris of the news of an impending German offensive, Mr. Irwin said:

"There was consternation in Paris at first, but, as time was given for the people to recover no harm was done to the courage of the people. The time when the Germans should have pushed their drive was just after the news of it reached Paris before the people had time to recover from their fright. Now the feeling in France is, 'Well, let 'em come.' It is my belief that Hindenburg is planning an attempt to put France out of the war by striking a smashing blow at the French portion of the line, although he may advance through Switzerland, as the Germans have nothing to lose by the violation of its neutrality."

This is the testimony of all who have been at the front recently, and who have a right to an opinion because of special knowledge. If it turns out that they are right and if Germany fails to break through between now and next fall, it is all over for Germany so far as the western front is concerned. And from the allied standpoint that will mean that it is all over for Germany altogether. For no matter what happens in the east, the allies will not quit the war until all territorial questions, in the east and the west, are settled on the basis of justice and without advantage to Germany. If it is necessary to invade Germany and hold German territory until it is agreed to settle eastern questions on such a basis, that will undoubtedly be done. From now on American forces in France will increase from week to week and month to month. From now on the curve of shipping tonnage will be upward in favor of the allies in spite of the submarines. And from now on the strength and morale of Germany must continue to decline. The critical time is just ahead.

Mrs. F. L. Miller and baby Mary Jane of Richland Springs were visitors of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Hendricks, last week.

J. I. Prichard, district and county clerk of Howard county, was here a few days the first of the week on business. He was accompanied by County Judge, S. A. Penix, who was on his way to Austin on some legal business for his county.

ALGERITA

(By Petra)

Dr. J. A. Williamson of Cherokee was called Feb. 27th to the bedside of Miss Lora Hanna, who has pneumonia to consult with Dr. Nelson, as the former is her old family physician. Miss Lora is much better at this writing.

Mrs. Joe Hanna, of Cherokee, after spending a few days at the bedside of her grand daughter, Lora, returned home Monday.

Dennis Dean of Cherokee, one of our soldier boys, who was on a 10 days furlough, in company with his sister, Nora, visited Saturday at the bedside of Miss Lora Hanna, leaving the same day on his return to Camp Bowie.

Prof. Huckaby made a business trip to San Saba Saturday.

Miss Nancy Coughran, who was operated on recently at a Temple sanitarium, is doing nicely and will return home in a few days.

Sherman Shoemaker has been on the sick list several days, but is able now to be up and going.

The young people enjoyed a nice singing Sunday night at Ernie McNatts'.

Clay Walker, of Cherokee, visited Sunday at W. L. McNatt's and took a look at the oil field.

G. B. Shoemaker and Edgar Simmons have finished flooring the Lane bridge.

Prof. Huckaby and lady visited Sunday evening at M. J. Lane's.

Measles settled in Winnie Lane's eyes and she is blind and suffering a great deal of pain.

Oil fever is high and getting higher. Frank Crouch leased his land to the oil men for $1.00 per acre.

Parents, don't forget to send your soldier boys the San Saba News, as it is like a letter from home to them.

Algerita station has been doing good work for the Red Cross drive and will still do more. Some live speaker ought to speak at every church and school house and educate the people in the work of the Red Cross which is a great factor in winning this war and establishing world wide democracy.

Prof. G. L. Huckaby was in from Bethel Saturday and reports the public school there doing fine work. The state visitor for rural schools was at Bethel Friday and paid high compliment to the work which Prof. Huckaby and his good wife are doing at Bethel.

TEXANS PARTICIPATED IN FIGHT

With the American Army in France March 2.—The three recent raids, on the Toul sector and two along the Chemindes-Dames, have demonstrated that the American soldier, notwithstanding his previous inexperience, now is perfectly at home in a gas mask and able to fight just as well with as without it. In so quickly reaching this stage the Americans have shown their usual adaptability. Gas was used in all three attacks in just sufficient quantities to make masks necessary as the Germans in their latter attacks did not desire to encounter quantities of their own gas.

When the engagements at Toul began, virtually all the Americans were masked. Some few of them, however, are reported to have taken a chance when the German infantry attacked, pulling off their masks for freer action. One officer risked his life to give commands to his men during the roar of explosions. He was unable through his mask to make his men hear, so he pulled it off and yelled his orders. As it happened, there was no gas in this particular section, but he did not know it. The officer was willing to sacrifice his own life to get his men to a place of safety where they could also strike effectively at the enemy. There were many other instances of personal bravery. A Lieutenant, a Sergeant and two privates were in a dug-out when some Germans looked in. One cried in good English, "Come out, Americans."

The four Americans blazed away with their automatics, then rushed the entrance to stumble over the bodies of the men whom they had apparently killed by their quick resistance.

During the bombardment, which hardly could have been more terrific, two men who were concealed in a shell hole were buried by dirt thrown by another exploding projectile. They shouted for help, and it came quickly. Their comrades left the shelters from which they were ready to leap into action the moment the attacking infantry appeared and exhumed the buried soldiers with stones, mud, earth, pieces of trees and shell splinters scattered about them.

Notwithstanding the fierceness of the fight at close quarters, not more than one bayonet was used and this one on a German. The Americans using their automatic pistols sent bullets into the German attackers with good aim in spite of the excitement. Rifle bullets accounted for many more.

Although the army has been cursing the weather and the mud for days, there is one man in the line today who is glad it was muddy, for he owes his life to the slippery "duck boards," or the flooring in the trenches. With pistol in hand he rounded a trench corner looking for the Germans. A burley Prussian saw him first and fired, but at the same moment the American slipped and fell on his face. The Prussian thought him dead and turned away. He was quickly dropped in his tracks by the prone American, who fired accurately from the trench bottom.

There were men in the fight from virtually all the States from New York to Texas. With one or two exceptions all the wounded are expected. Some of the American dead were buried in a cemetery back of the lines during the night while friendly and hostile shells roared overhead.

A thick snow, which now is falling, is melting as soon as it touches the mud.

The bodies of the Americans slain in the fighting north of Chemindes-Dames have been buried near where they fell, their French and American comrades participating in impressive ceremonies.

M. M. M. CLUB

Mrs. Joe S. Clark entertained the Club this week on Wednesday afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock. "500" was the diversion. Mrs. W. A. Martin won first prize, which was a beautiful corsage bouquet of sweet peas and ferns. The booby going to Miss Carrie Sanderson, which was aluminum measuring spoons with appropriate verse with them.

At the conclusion of the games chicken salad, chipped potatoes, olives, graham bread sandwiches and ice tea were served to the following members and guests:

Mesdames A. Hill, Elton Noble, C. T. Jones, W. A. Martin, S. L. Kirk, Otto Harkey, W. E. Barrow, A. E. Moore, J. F. Baker; Misses Carrie Sanderson, Annette Moore, Louise Urquhart, Mary Sanderson, Katherine Kirk. The club will be guests of Mrs. Elton Noble next Wednesday.

Dave O'Neal of the north Locker section of the county was in town Saturday. He has a son, Raymond, who has been in France ever since the latter days of last November. He hears from Raymond regularly and he is enjoying good health. Raymond enlisted at Silver City, New Mexico.

Yantis Resigns As Justice of Supreme Court

Austin, March 3.—Judge J. E. Yantis, associate justice of the supreme court, Saturday tendered his resignation to Governor Hobby to become effective March 31. Judge Yantis, whose home is at Waco, resigns his position on the bench on account of continued ill health. He will return to his home and practice law. Judge Yantis was appointed in May, 1915, as a member of the court to fill a vacancy which existed as a result of the death of Chief Justice Brown.

"It does not comport with my ideas of right to longer draw the salary of the office and yet discharge so little of the duties as I have been able to do since my illness. I feel that I should give way to some other person whom you may see fit to appoint," reads the resignation sent the governor.

E. C. Estep of Trent, Nolan county, was a pleasant visitor at the News office Saturday. He came to be with his sister, Mrs. J. C. Churchwell, in the death of her husband. Mrs. Churchwell will accompany him home and likely make her future home in the west.

DEATH OF J. B. ARROTT

In the death of J. B. Arrott last Friday San Saba county lost one of her oldest pioneer citizens. Mr. Arrott has lived on the "head of the Little Llano" river for many years and in former years was a regular member of the district court juries. He was a law abiding citizen and always stood for the development of the frontier and the making of it a fit place for the families of men. He had been confined to his bed since last October and death came as a sweet relief from his sufferings. The body was buried in the Hanna cemetery at Cherokee Saturday in the presence of a large circle of friends and neighbors.

HANDS, ARMS, LIMBS ASLEEP
And Was Run-Down, Weak and Nervous, Says Florida Lady. Five Bottles of Cardui Made Her Well.

Kathleen, Fla.—Mrs. Dallas Prine, of this place, says: "After the birth of my last child, I got very much run-down and weakened, so much that I could hardly do anything at all. I was so awfully nervous that I could scarcely endure the least noise. My condition was getting worse all the time."

I knew I must have some relief or I would soon be in the bed and in a serious condition for I felt so badly and was so nervous and weak I could hardly live. My husband asked Dr. about my taking Cardui. He said, "It's a good medicine, and good for that trouble," so he got me 5 bottles. After about the second bottle I felt greatly improved. Before taking it my limbs and hands and arms would go to sleep. After taking it, however, this poor circulation disappeared. My strength came back to me and I was soon on the road to health. After the use of about 5 bottles, I could do all my house-work and attend to my six children besides."

You can feel safe in giving Cardui a thorough trial for your troubles. It contains no harmful or habit-forming drugs, but is composed of mild, vegetable, medicinal ingredients with no bad after-effects. Thousands of women have voluntarily written, telling of the good Cardui has done them. It should help you, too. Try it. E 74

THE TEXAS CORN CROP FOR 1918

(By the Texas Department of Agri.)

Corn is a dependable crop anywhere in Texas which has sufficient moisture. It is true that many failures are made, but in most cases these failures are not caused by the corn for the land; but primarily from the system of farming used.

There are four principal causes for the low acreage yield in the corn crop of Texas. These reasons are: (1) Late planting; (2) planting seed of low vitality; (3) failure to properly prepare the land; and (4) improper methods of culture. The average yield of Texas corn crops can be doubled by giving proper attention to these four points.

In South Texas and Central Texas corn should be planted from the middle to the last of February, and further north, from the first to the middle of March.

In Central Texas the writer has conducted demonstrations in which corn planted the last days of February produced an average of seven bushels per acre more than corn planted on March 15. The summer drouth usually catches the late corn when it is silking and tasseling. Corn at this stage needs more moisture than at any other time. Often in the same field, the earlier planted corn will mature a good crop before the dry weather begins.

The question of well selected and tested seed corn for this year is a very serious one. It is almost impossible to secure it. About all that can be done is to select planting seed from the best corn that is shipped into Texas from the States of Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Southern Missouri, and Tennessee. Fortunately, much of the corn coming into Texas from these states is of good quality from good varieties. Seed carefully selected from these shipments should give good satisfaction. That is the only source from which a sufficient supply of corn for planting the 1918 crop can be secured.

Of course, the readers know that the proper time and place to select seed corn is in the field while the corn is in roasting ear. But the failure of the 1917 corn crop in so much of Texas on account of drouth made it impossible to secure planting seed in that way for the 1918 crop. So the only source of adequate supply is from the nearby states to the East.

It is too late now to consider the question of proper preparation of the soil to make an ideal seedbed in which to plant the corn. That time was last fall. The only thing left now is to get land in the best possible shape and plant the corn as early as possible.

The question of culture for the corn crop should receive very careful attention.

In the culture of corn four purposes should be kept in view: (1) To develop the root system downward; (2) to keep the land free from other vegetation; (3) to conserve the moisture; and (4) to render the plant food in the soil available. On properly prepared land with early planting, if these four purposes are accomplished, good corn can be grown with only moderate rainfall.

Corn should be harrowed as soon as it is up to a stand. This could be repeated with profit after from four to six days from the first harrowing. Some harrow teeth should run on each side of the corn row as near the corn as possible and as deep as possible. The first plowing should come as soon as the corn is large enough. This first plowing should be done with calf-tongue plows run deep right near the corn. At this time all the surface should be stirred nearly as deep as the fall breaking. After this first plowing has been thoroughly done, corn should not be plowed deep any more. It should be cultivated flat and not more than three inches deep, every ten or twelve days until the silks appear and then "laid by" flat. The purpose of that deep first plowing is to give a larger feeding zone for the root system of the corn, and to get those roots to grow downward as far below the surface as possible. The root system must be protected from the plow and the hot sun. If the corn roots are properly cared for, they will take good care of the plant above ground.

At any time when sufficient rain falls to pack the surface and form a crust, the land should be plowed or harrowed to pulverize this crust and dry the surface to stop evaporation. A crusted surface wastes more moisture than the crop consumes. Then again, where a crust is permitted to remain on the surface of the land on which the corn is trying to grow, the plant food in the soil will not be available.

"Arrived safe" was the message received from Sergeant Robt. Carr last Saturday. The message came from France, no doubt. No difference it brought the good news that our Bob is safe across the big lake and is getting close to the fighting line in France.

"The average of intelligence in our ranks is as high as that of the officers corps in any other army," says Brigadier General "Fighting Patsy" O'Neil, commanding one of the infantry brigades at Camp Travis, and a man who has seen thirty years service in the regular fighting forces of the United States. Knowing this to be true, General O'Neil urges those men who may have natural qualifications as officers to train themselves unceasingly that they may be able to lead the armed forces of our country to victory.

"What have we? Unlimited resources, unlimited men! What is the army today?"

"As ex-President Taft puts it: 'It is a cross section of the great American people!' The son of an ex-president of the United States and the son of a bootblack, and every grade and walk of life shoulder a rifle in the ranks. Such material for fighting troops the world has never seen."

"And with this great army, what is required to whip it into an invincible fighting force? The only answer is, officers—but not amateurs. The officer can select and make the non-commissioned officer; he can make the platoon, the company, the regiment, the brigade. But only God Almighty can make the officer; and after He has done His part, the man so made must devote his brains, physique, energy and time in the cultivation of what God has given him."

"You may be an amateur now, but not always. American manhood has dominated the world in finance and in science. It can dominate the world in the science of war. But not without stripping from the body and the mind the habit of complacency and inertia—the earmark of the amateur—and clothing it with energy and work."

The Camp Travis Hostess House is the goal of a steady stream of mothers, wives, sisters and friends who find the wide screened porch, the spacious social room, the hospitable open fires and rest room and the attractive dining room a veritable haven. Formal meetings, dances and program entertainments are not given, but here the wives come to spend the hours while waiting to see their husbands who are critically ill at the base hospital, or the mothers arrive often accompanied by the fathers to bid a last farewell to the boys who are soon going away. Sometimes a girl comes to the house to be married depending on the hostess for chaperonage.

Since the Camp Travis Hostess House was opened, a week before Thanksgiving, over fifty thousand visitors have been served in the lunch room. The house is centrally located, on Sixth Street and B, and is easily distinguished, as it is stained a soft green, the only building of that color in camp.

When visitors come unexpectedly, the boys are located for them by telephone and notified that they are wanted at the Hostess House. Information as to rooms in the city, train schedules, places of amusement, church services etc., may quickly be obtained from the information secretary. Those in charge of the house are: Misses Lucy M. Moore, Director; Gertrude Keech, Business Secretary; June Milner, Cafeteria Manager; and Madames G. A. Reeder, Hostess, and Emma Feltenberger, Information Secretary.

Cook Berry F. Brown's mother and father and wife visited him in Camp Travis this week.

FAIRVIEW (By Will)

We have had cold and threatening weather for the past few days. A good rain would be acceptable before corn is planted, however some farmers will be busy planting next week. Some oats are looking good. Quite a lot of potatoes will be planted in this community.

The cases of measles in this community are getting a long well.

W. B. Yarborough is real sick. Farmers are going to plant cane, maize and peanuts and all kinds of feed in hopes of making some feed.

A very good season is in the ground and prospects are better than last year.

have to get a subscription list for this work which will bring in a steady income. Brown county has such a plan. I saw last week where Runnels county was trying to get a list of subscribers that would realize $1200.50 per month for Red Cross work. That is the way to do it. We cannot depend upon occasional drives. The work is too urgent and too big for that sort of financing. This thirteen hundred dollars and more will suffice for only a short time.
Mrs. G. A. Arhelger did intend to make a report this week showing the work done during the month of February, but was taken sick before she got the report ready.
In the report given here the first column shows the number of new
