BULLETIN OF LOCAL SELECTION BOARD.

1. Orders have been received by this Board that will hold up the mailing of questionnaires to registrants of the Class of September, 1918, between the ages of 37 and 45, inclusive. Questionnaires will not be issued to such registrants and such registrants will not be classified until a later date, if they are to be classified at all. Pending such classification, such registrants should carefully preserve their registration certificates, as such certificates are the only proof they hold that they have registered and have performed all the duties they have so far been called upon by the Selective Service Regulations to perform.

2. Orders have also been received by us that call for the mailing of questionnaires at once to all registrants of the Class of September, 1918, whose last birthday on the day of registration was their eighteenth. Accordingly such questionnaires will be issued this week. The registrants in question will be classified only; those who are placed in Class I will not be physically examined until later orders are received, if such orders are ever received.

3. The special envelope for use in mailing final classification cards has finally been received, and on this date the remainder of such cards (Classes II, III, IV, and V) is being mailed to registrants of this jurisdiction. All registrants of the classes just indicated who fail to receive their card should notify this Board promptly.

4. We hereby give final notice to the following named registrants to call at this office and obtain their registration certificate or to send self-addressed stamped envelope for such certificate: Aaron D. Avants, Bowser; Wayne Lewis Barker, San Saba; James Oliver Deeds, Holt; William Henry Harris, Bend; Harmon Herbert Joiner, San Saba; Tom Jefferson Myers, Richland Springs; James Monroe Mayfield, Milburn; Floyd Henry Mayfield, Milburn; Oliver Earl Stafford, Bend; Samuel Thomas Taylor, San Saba; and James F. Whitt, Cherokee.

5. Judging by the general inductions from state headquarters this Board has received since the signing of the armistice, there will be no more general calls issued by the War Department for registrants for service in the Army. Under the regulations as they still stand, however, any additional men required for the Navy or the Marine Corps, if any, will be obtained through the draft process. If any calls for the Navy or the Marine Corps should be issued, it remains to be seen, of course, whether or not this Board will be called upon to supply any of the recruits needed.

6. During the recent schedule of physical examinations, a registrant left a finger ring on the ledge of the window in the examining room. We are holding this ring for its rightful owner. SAN SABA COUNTY SELECTION BOARD San Saba, Texas, November 19, 1918.

From comments of those who have witnessed recent exhibitions at the movies it seems that some of the films put on canvass has escaped the scrutinizing eye of the censor. When films are put on that brings the blush to a pure woman's cheek and totally unfit for a young girl to witness, it is time to call a halt and cut it out.

LOOKING BACKWARD

With Apologies to Jules Verne And Other Space Writers.

Time: Tuesday evening in November 1934.

Place: On the Corner of the City National Bank.

Scene: An interested group of listeners of olden times.

Uncle Milt had just joined the group on his way from the Court House after dodging several street cars and autos in viewing an air line aero-mail line from Darnoc to Satuit, both Metropolitan Cities of the first class. The matter under discussion was politics and some one of the crowd more curious than the others wanted to know why it was that the man who ran for Governor the year the war closed got 245,000 majority in the primary, but up to this good hour sixteen years ago, no one has ever heard how much his majority was in November 5th election the same year Uncle Milt could not even enlighten them. Politics were dropped for every one forgot who was Governor the year the war closed.

Some one whose mind run to finances wanted to know of Uncle Milt what became of the immense amount of money contributed by philanthropic citizens to the relief of drouth sufferers during the horrible drouth the year of the war, and which was loaned to the sufferers at 5 per cent after they took a paupers oath. Uncle Milt's recollection was faulty and it was not clear to him what had become of it, but as the Governor at that time was elected on win the war platform it was his understanding that the Kaiser was bought off with the fund and the then model young governor was given the exclusive credit of winning the war.

There was just one weak spot in the young then model young governor he had a habit of having the "flu" and week-end parties on several and divers occasions.

Uncle Milt caught his street car to River View, a street band played Annie Rooney and the next day it snowed.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Scott are entertaining some kin folks this week and naturally they are all having a joyous time of it. To start the good times, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Scott of Missouri, came in early in the week. The visiting Scott is a brother of "Uncle Billie". Then to make the party complete, along came Wm. Scott of San Saba, a cousin of the Winters Scott but the cousins had not met in 41 years. You can just imagine what a fine time they are all having and hundreds of Winters friends are wishing for all of them every bit of pleasure they can get out of the meeting together after so many years.—Winters Enterprise.

IMPORTANT NOTICE FOR AGRICULTURAL CLUB MEMBERS.

Dear Club Members:

During the last part of last year and first part of this year a club of over 400 members was organized to do agricultural work. Boys and girls all over the county joined the club and were eager to do their part in winning the war. The drouth prevented many of them from raising anything at all and others made very little. The war caused the Fair to be called off and the prizes promised were not given. This was all unavoidable but most of you have done the best you could and I want to hear from you before reporting to Washington of what has been done by the boys and girls of San Saba county to help win the war which is now accomplished. We want full credit for our efforts which counts as much as if we had succeeded.

A little over a week ago I sent each of you a letter asking you to report and enclosing a self addressed envelope which requires no stamp for this purpose for your reply. In the meantime I have been transferred to Hardeman County for another year but I still have interest in San Saba County and the boys and girls there. I want to see the county make as good showing as possible in war work and patriotism. Before the first of December I will have to report on the years work in San Saba and if you have not already sent me your report, please do it at once. You may just erase San Saba on the envelope and write "Quanah" in the place or mail just as it is and it will be forwarded.

Already I have received a great many reports and want to hear from each one of the club members as to just what they have done. If you made a failure it is just as important to report as if you had made a good success and you will not be considered a slacker if you tried to do your duty. At Washington all members who have enrolled and failed to report are considered "slackers" because it is not known what they have done. Please let me hear from every one of you at once because I know there is not a slacker boy or girl in San Saba and to prove it to Washington office, this is the only way to do it.

Trusting that at some time I may be able to see each of you again and renew our friendship and with hearty good wishes for all of you I remain,

Most sincerely your friend,
R. P. Elrod, County Agr. Agt.
Quanah, Texas.

RURAL CARRIERS EXAMINATION

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an examination for the County of San Saba, Tex., to be held at San Saba on Dec. 14, 1918, to fill the position of rural carrier at Richland Springs and vacancies that may later occur on rural routes from other post offices in the above mentioned county. The examination will be open only to mail citizens who are actually domiciled in the territory of a post office in the county and who meet the other requirements set forth in Form No. 1977. This form and application blanks may be obtained from the offices mentioned above or from the United States

Civil Service Commission at Washington, D. C. Applications should be forwarded to the Commission at Washington at the earliest practicable date.

During the continuance of the present war the Commission will, in accordance with the request of the Post Office Department, admit women to rural carrier examinations upon the same conditions as men.

By direction of the Commission:

John A. McIlhenny, Pres.
The vacancy for which this examination is announced is caused by the enlistment of the carrier formerly employed on the route. Upon his honorable discharge from military service of the Government he will be entitled to reinstatement to his former position as carrier on this route in accordance with the statute approved July 28, 1918, which is as follows:

"Any postal employee who has entered the military service of the United States or who shall hereafter enter it shall, upon being honorable discharged therefrom, be permitted to resume his position in the postal department which he left to enter such service."

However, any person appointed to this position may, in the discretion of the Post Office Department, be assigned to other parts of the postal service; or transferred to other branches of the classified service for which he is eligible.

The visiting attorneys attending court this week were: Judge Ike White, Austin; Dayton Moses, Fort Worth; J. H. McLean, Llano; Fred Morse, Mason; James Flack, Menard; and Capt. T. E. Hammond district attorney, Burnet.

ABOUT THE CONSTITUTION

The Herald has always been an advocate of constitutional government. It has even been of that school of democrats who believe in a strict construction of that great instrument designed by the fathers as a safeguard against oppression of the minority by a majority. It is only by strict adherence to the provisions of the constitution that legislative bodies can be restrained in their mad desire to control the habits and customs of people who may entertain ideas of morality different from those of a majority of the members of such bodies. In the late campaign a great hurrah was raised in certain quarters about overriding the constitution and no doubt quite properly, too, but the sincerity of some who held up their hands in holy horror and proclaimed so loudly of their regard for this palladium of the people's rights is seriously to be doubted since the campaign is ended, in view of their present utterances along that line.

The last legislature passed a state-wide prohibition law, which when passed, was declared by many able lawyers to be in conflict with the local option provision in the constitution, but there by the voters of Texas, giving the people of each county or subdivision thereof the right to determine for themselves whether or not intoxicating liquors should be sold within the boundaries of such county or subdivision. Eight years ago Judge Wm. Poindexter, one of the ablest lawyers in Texas and a life long prohibitionist, while making his campaign for governor as a champion of the cause, declared he could not favor statutory prohibition as it was unconstitutional. Other great lawyers in Texas, both pro and anti have said the same thing, even Governor Hobby who signed the state-wide bill declaring that he did so believing that it was unconstitutional but leaving it for the courts to decide.

And now the highest court in Texas, the court of last resort, in an appeal carried up, has declared the law unconstitutional. But what do we see? The Attorney General of Texas, before the ink had dried on the opinion handed down, incites rebellion against the courts and brings that tribunal into contempt by deriding their decision and asserting that it is the argument of a schoolboy advanced by court that rendered the decision. And where are those who were so afraid the constitution would be overridden to satisfy the demands of a possible majority of the voters of Texas, why are they not showing some evidence at this time of their sacred regard for this great bill of rights?

The Herald wants to see the sale of liquor as a beverage prohibited. It wants to see the traffic banished from the land as it will be. But it wants to preserve every guarantee contained in the constitution, for it is the people's anchor of safety in every storm, the only prohibition afforded under our form of government against the oppression and tyranny of the majority. And in trying to set aside the verdict rendered by the courts of Criminal Appeals Mr. Looney is giving but another exhibition of his unfitness for the high position to which he has twice been chosen by the people of Texas.—Hamilton Herald.

REPORT OF THE GRAND JURY

To The Hon. N. T. Stubbs, Judge, District Court:

We, the Grand Jury organized at this term of the District Court respectfully submit to your honor that we have completed our labors, after careful and diligent inquiry into all matters brought to our attention while in session; we have examined a large number of witnesses from all parts of the County and find the County in a fairly good condition, speaking from the standpoint of the respect for the enforcement of our laws.

We have found 5 felony and 8 misdemeanor indictments for different offenses committed in the County since the last term of this Court and trust that the same may be tried and disposed of as expeditiously as possible by the officers charged with that duty.

We have noticed in our investigations that there is a disposition on the part of the younger boys of our communities to take things of small value belonging to others, which practice, if persisted in will ultimately lead to serious consequences for them and, in this connection we suggest to the parents of the County that they can in a large measure correct this evil tendency by the proper care, control and management of the boys; you should at all times know where your boy and your girl is and what they are doing; respect for the law and order should begin at HOME and not in the Courts, remember this.

Respect for and obedience to law is the sheet anchor of our Government and the principle for which we have been fighting for the last four years and we earnestly hope that all of our citizens will remember this and show respect for all our laws, more especially those respecting religion, Sunday laws and laws respecting the rights of property.

We have found the County in a splendid condition from the standpoint of loyalty to our Government and we are especially proud of the part our heroic sons have taken in the great struggle for liberty and freedom at the FRONT, as well as the splendid work and sacrifices on the HOME FRONT of our noble men and women, their labor has not been in vain and in the years to come we can point with pride to the unselfish devotion to duty well done by all those who assisted in making this country safe for us all to live in.

We have examined into the condition of the Public Buildings belonging to the County and find that the Jail is in very bad shape, the roof leaks in a great many places and the house needs recovering; the bedding used for the prisoners is, in our opinion, insufficient and in an unsanitary condition.

We find the Court House is also in need of repairs, its roof leaks in many places and some of the lights have been broken out, the closets are not properly disinfected and kept in repair as they should be, and we recommend that all these matters be attended to and the necessary repairs made as speedily as possible.

We also recommend to the Commissioners Court that all parties handling hides and butchering animals for the market be required to make full and complete reports of all animals butchered by them and all hides handled or sold by them; we believe that this course, if followed, will aid materially in the investigation and punishment of cattle thefts.

We recommend that a finance committee be appointed by the Court to audit the accounts of the various officers of the County charged with the handling of funds belonging to the County and that they make their report at the next term of Court.

We appreciate the splendid cooperation of your Honor and the other officers of the Court in our work as a Grand Jury and thank each one for their assistance.

Respectfully Submitted,
W. N. Rylander, Foreman of the Grand Jury

The grand jury adjourned yesterday after turning in 13 indictments, 5 felonies and 8 misdemeanors.

JOHN W. OSBORN

It is with sadness that we chronicle the sad news of the death of another one of our true patriots who gave his life in behalf of his country. Mr. Osborn was highly esteemed and praised by every one who knew him. He was born in Blanco County March 16, 1892. Died at the age of 26 years 6 months and 12 days. Mr. Osborn was reared in Llano County and resided in the Field Creek community for a number of years. About 4 months ago he was called to the colors and entered at Camp Travis, where he stayed only a short time when he was sent across the seas to meet the foe. He had been there only a few months when he succumbed to an attack of pneumonia. He leaves a widowed mother and three brothers and three sisters, besides a number of other relatives and a host of friends to mourn his early demise. To these we extend our heartfelt sympathies.

This letter was received by Mrs. R. Osborn from Lieut. A. W. McMillan from "over there."
Winchester, Oct. 22, 1918.
Mrs. R. Osborn,

Field Creek, Texas.
Dear Mrs. Osborn:
By the time this letter reaches you, you will have learned the sad news of the death of your son, John Osborn, who died of pneumonia at 8:30 a.m. October 4th, 1918 at the United States hospital situated about 4 miles from this old city.

It is a matter of regret that I can give no word from him during his last illness, because he was for the last few days before his death too ill to talk. But I can assure you that everything was done for him that could be done by a complete staff of American physicians and nurses in an excellent American hospital.

The interment at the cemetery at Horn Hill was with full military honors on October 5, 1918. The services were conducted by Chaplain B. C. Guff of the British Forces and Rev. M. Tussell and Lieut. W. J. O'Connor, representing the American Red Cross, was present at the burial. Three volleys were fired over the grave by a squad of Selected Non-Commissioned Officers and impressive services were ended by the last call of "taps."

The resting place of your son is on the crest of that hill overlooking many miles of beautiful English country and many of his comrades who died in the same great cause are near him.

I trust that it will be a consolation to you in your bereavement to know that your son lies in this hallowed ground and that his memory will be forever cherished as one of the noble Americans who gave their lives not only for their country, but for England, France and the civilized world.

With assurance of my personal sympathy, believe me,
Yours very sincerely,
A. W. McMillan,
1st. Lieut. A. B. C.
37 Southgate Street.

RUTH ELISABETH HARKEY.

Died at Tulsa, Okla., Friday November 15, 1918. The remains were sent here and entered in the Odd Fellows Cemetery Sunday.

Deceased was the daughter of Mrs. Henry Harkey of Tulsa, Okla., who formerly made her home here. On account of the serious illness of her son Mrs. Harkey was not able to accompany the remains.

Loving relatives and a host of friends received the remains and paid their last tribute of love to the fair young friend and former schoolmate, who was called away from this earthly sphere so suddenly.

With sad hearts we extend our condolence to the mother, sister and brother and the numerous relatives that mourn her early demise.
