Sunshine is one of nature's greatest antiseptics. Many forms of bacteria when exposed to sunshine become inactive or die.

Sunshine and fresh air, the greatest enemies of disease, are plentiful. Take plenty of outdoor exercise and enjoy good health.

ARMY AND NAVY INSURANCE LAW—A SUMMARY

A division of military and naval insurance of the bureau of war risk insurance has been organized as a part of the Treasury Department and is in active operation. A number of policies on the lives of soldiers have already been issued, aggregating nearly $25,000,000 in insurance. The benefits of the law are available to all the members of the United States Army, Navy and Nurses Corps.

A short summary of some of the main features of the law follows:

Premiums for a $10,000 policy begin with $6.30 per month at 15, 16, and 17; increase to $6.40 per month for the ages 18, 19, and 20; to $6.50 per month for the ages 21, 22, and 23; to $6.40 per month for the ages of 24 and 25; to $6.70 per month for the ages of 26 and 27; to $6.80 per month for the age of 28; to $6.90 per month for the ages of 29 and 30; to $7 per month for the age of 31, with progressive increases for ages above those given. The minimum amount of insurance that may be taken out is $1,000.

The compulsory allotment to a wife or children, which is separate from the insurance, shall not be less than $15 a month and shall not exceed one-half of a man's pay. A voluntary allotment, subject to regulations, may be as large as the insured desires, within the limits of his pay.

Class A. In the case of a man to his wife (including a former wife divorced) and to his child or children:

- If there be a wife but no child, $15.
- If there be a wife and one child, $25.
- If there be a wife and two children, $32.50, with $5 per month in addition for each additional child.
- If there be no wife but one child, $5.
- If there be no wife but two children, $12.50.
- If there be no wife but three children, $20.
- If there be no wife but four children, $30, with $5 per month additional for each additional child.

Class B. In the case of a man or woman, to a grandchild, a parent, brother or sister:

- If there be one parent, $10.
- If there be two parents, $20.
- For each grandchild, brother, sister, and additional parent, $5.

In the case of a woman, to a child or children.

- If there be one child, $5.
- If there be two children, $12.50.
- If there be three children, $20.

If there be four children, $30, with $5 per month additional for each additional child.

If the man makes an allotment to certain other dependent relatives the Government will also pay them an allowance which may equal the allotment, but this shall not be more than the difference between $50 and the allowance paid to the wife and children.

The increased compensation in case of death runs from a minimum of $20 monthly to a motherless child, or $25 monthly to a childless widow, to a maximum of $75 monthly to a widow and several children.

The widowed mother may participate in the compensation.

In case of total disability the monthly compensation runs from a minimum of $30, if the injured man has neither wife nor child living, to a maximum of $75 if he has a wife and three or more children living with $10 a month extra if he has a widowed mother dependent upon him.

The maximum is enlarged still further, for when the disabled man constantly requires a nurse or attendant $20 monthly may be added. If the disability is due to the loss of both feet, both hands or total blindness of both eyes, or if he is helpless or permanently bedridden, $100 monthly is granted.

The law contemplates future legislation for reeducation and vocational training for the disabled. It gives them full pay and their families the same allowance as for the last month of actual service during the term of reeducation.—Washington: Government Printing office: 1917.

THE FOOD CONSERVATION CAMPAIGN

The following dispatches relating to the Food Conservation Campaign have been received:

Mrs. J. F. Walters, San Saba, Hoover instructed investigation of all cases of refusal to sign Pledge Cards, giving name and address and reason for refusal. During these troublesome times we should know who our nation's enemies are.

KIRKPATRICK.

Brownwood, Texas, 11:55 a. m., Nov. 5, 1917.

Mrs. J. W. Walters, San Saba. Just received authority extending campaign balance this week, ending Saturday night, 10th. Sorry word not received earlier. Please continue effort, gathering all pledges and reporting each day. Texas is far behind, but with this extension and you and your organization hustling certain of exceeding quota. Please accept our thanks for your wonderful work. Let's all get busy and do our best for balance of the campaign:

KIRKPATRICK.

The campaign to sign up for the food conservation has been extended until next Saturday. A great many do not understand the purpose of this campaign. They are under the impression that it obligates them to do something—the purpose of the campaign is to install in our people the necessity to conserve what they have. Those who are economical can sign the cards and set an example for those who are wasteful, and all signing the cards it is a matter of co-operation and education to save what we make. It is an economic question that all should study and co-operate in. When the committee calls on you sign a card and ask your neighbors to do the same.

Mr. Allison Estep returned Thursday from Temple, and we are sorry to state that he had to lose most of the fingers of his right hand, which were burned so badly.

TOM GREEN ANTIS WIN BY NINETY-TWO VOTES

In the last election the antis won by only 36 majority.

COMPULSORY SCHOOL ATTENDANCE

All schools of San Saba County will begin the Compulsory school term on Nov. 12, 1917.

Compulsory school law starts at the beginning of the term of school unless otherwise agreed upon by the teacher and trustees, but the County Trustees have asked that the schools all begin the compulsory term on the same date that the attendance officer will not be employed for more than four months, the length of the compulsory term for this year.

All children from eight years old to fourteen years old (those 14 are out) are required to attend school four months this year.

Those living more than 2½ miles from the school, by the nearest direct route, are not compelled to attend.

Excuses for Those Under Compulsory age.

Nothing but personal sickness or sickness or death in the family, quarantine, severe storm which has destroyed the bridges and made the regular means of travel dangerous, or for unusual causes acceptable to the teacher.

Those unable to purchase text books may make application to the president of the local trustees of the district of his residence stating the books desired and the number of each, also stating that he is unable to purchase such books. (Regular form for free text books will be furnished the trustees by applying to the county attendance officer.)

Any child whose bodily or mental condition is such as to render attendance inadvisable must get a definite certificate from a reputable physician specifying this condition and covering the period of absence.

Children blind, deaf, dumb, or feeble minded may be excused by the attendance officer.

Any other information desired concerning compulsory school attendance write to C. G. English, attendance officer for San Saba County.

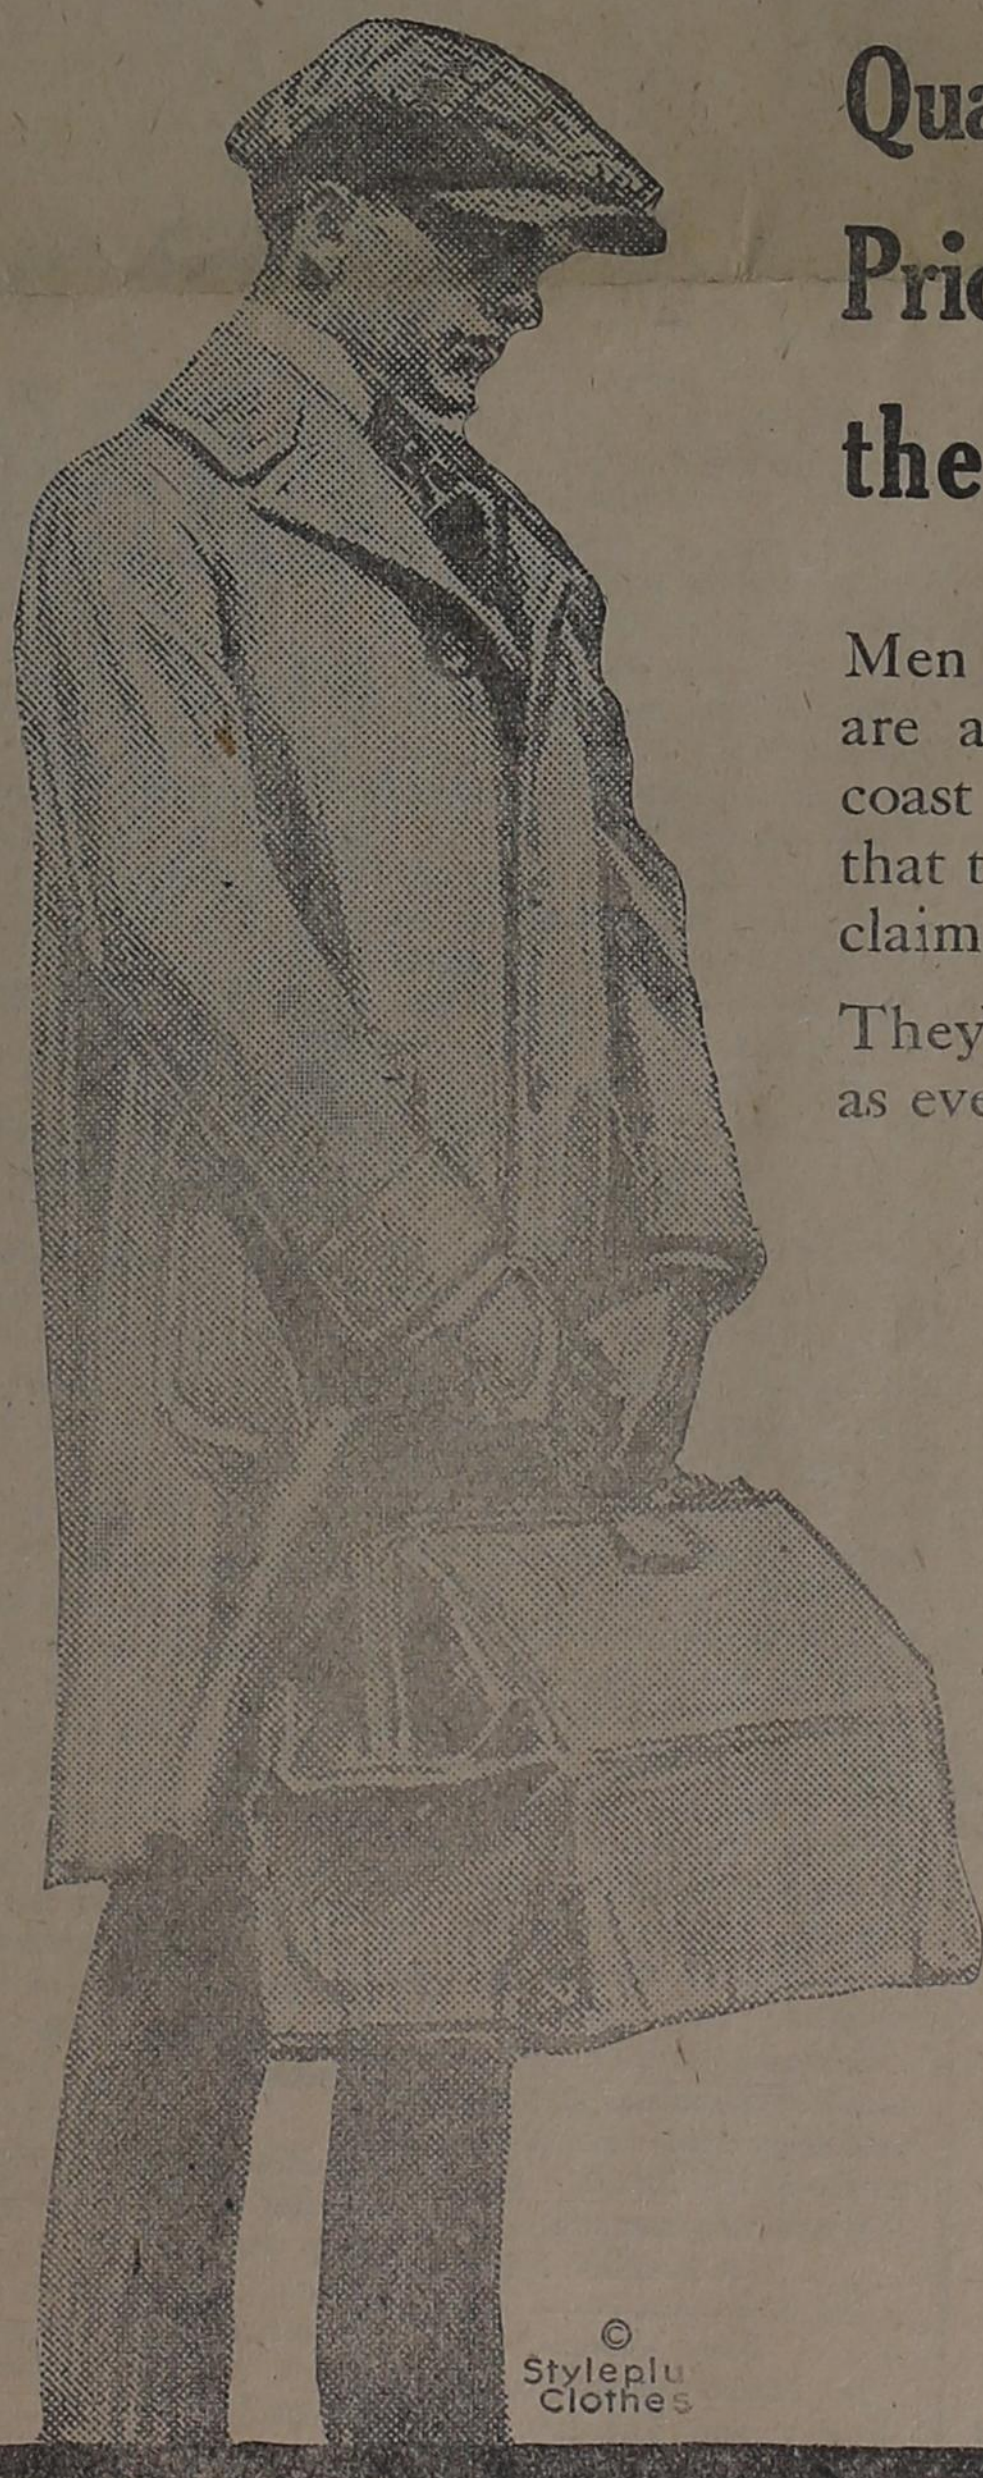

Respectfully submitted,
DOR W. BROWN.

Mrs. Eliza Hamrick.

Mrs. Eliza Hamrick, nee Wood, was born in San Saba County, March 4, 1856, and died in San Saba, Nov. 3 at 4 p. m.

She was married to J. H. Hamerick on Jan. 1, 1874. Eight children blessed their union, all of whom were at her bedside in her last hours. Mrs. Hamrick was a devout member of the Christian church for over thirty years. Although a sufferer from paralysis for five years prior to her death, she was ever patient and bore her suffering as no one but a true Christian could bear it. She was laid to rest Nov. 3 at 3 p. m. in the I. O. O. F. cemetery. The Rev. Whitt conducted the services and spoke words of comfort to those bereft.

Mr. C. J. Williams and Miss Ruby Jones, both of this city, were quietly married at the residence of Judge W. V. Dean on Wednesday, Oct. 31, at 7:30 p. m. Both parties are well known and the Star joins their numerous friends in wishing them happiness through life.

trict Board as a person who has not been discharged or exempted; that within five days from the date of the mailing of such notice the registrant must file his claim with this Board on a form to be supplied by this Board; and that within five days from the date of such claim the registrant must file with this Board all affidavits and other papers in support of such claim for forwarding to the District Board at San Antonio, Texas. Registrants will therefore understand that it will not be proper for them or for their attorneys or agents to send claims and affidavits direct to the District Board. However, as this Board has set forth in an earlier bulletin, the District Board and not this one will act on all occupational claims, as prescribed by the Regulations.

San Saba County Selection Board By Wm. Scott, Chairman; Mitch Johnson, Clerk.

Bulletin.

Since the last summary of the cases of registrants handled by this Board was published in the local papers, the Board has taken final action relative to the following men. These registrants fell within the first schedule of examination, beginning August 6th and ending August 23rd.

Discharged on account of having dependent wife and children: John Andrew Matlock, Robert Raymond Truly. In an earlier summary the former was reported as one who had failed to report for examination.

Discharged on account of nonage: Christopher Baldwin.

Discharged by the District Board on occupational grounds: Douglas Ouray Terry, Frank Raymond Gray, and Richard Roland Hall.

Correction; In the latest summary published the name of Ollie Edward Green was given as one who had failed to report for examination. This was an error, as this registrant had theretofore appeared and had filed his claim of discharge on the ground that he had a wife and child dependent upon his labor for support. His name was included among those missing as a result of his notice having been undelivered.

In regard to the current schedule of examinations, which began the 22d of last month and which will end the 15th of this month, this Board has taken final action in the cases of the following registrants:

Discharged on account of having dependent wife and children: Benjamin David Morgan, James William Claude Golden, Thomas William Bain, Eugene Algie Dee Towerton, James Luen Kuykendall, Louis Edward Knutson, Roy Hervey Maxwell, William Walter Gilleland, Jesse W. Discharged on account of being the son of aged or infirm parents dependent upon his labor for support: Sebie Mitchel, Joe Forney Jackson, Alvie Hodges, Paris Feazle, William George Armentrout, All Berta Martin, and Levi Franklin White.

THE SECOND LIBERTY LOAN A SUCCESS

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 31, 1917
Editor, The Star, San Saba, Texas:

Dear Sir:
It would seem that the success of the Loan in the Eleventh Federal Reserve District is now assured.

We are so impatient to write to you that we have decided not to wait for final figures. The services that you have rendered in the Liberty Loan Campaign have been such, that whatever the result, the sincerest thanks of the Treasury Department, and ourselves, is due to you for the magnificent efforts you have put forth.

To say that the Loan could not have been subscribed without the assistance of the press, is an obvious truism. The Government knows it, we know it, and we trust that the general public realizes it fully. The publicity carried by the newspapers, while of the greatest value to the Country at large, has also benefited the Press; it has enhanced the already high standing and dignity of its members over the whole Country.

We are preparing a report for the Officials of the Treasury department, in which we shall make specific references and give details of the work you have accomplished.

Cordially and sincerely yours,
J. W. HOOPES,
Deputy Governor.

THE MARKETING PROBLEM

The Ultimate Consumer.

CHAPTER VIII

And now appears on the scent the boss boob of the bunch, Mr. Ultimate Consumer. As a howler and the bill payer, he is an unparalleled success. He can outroar a raging coast storm, but his howling has a worth below the par value of a canceled postage stamp. Numerically Mr. Ultimate Consumer of the howling tribe is about nine hundred and ninety-nine to one. This clan embraces the banker, the lawyer, the doctor, the preacher, the hod carrier, the section hand, the reformer, the politician, ad infinitum. In short, every one that buys kicks but, unlike the mule, seldom hits the object of his wrath.

It is the Ultimate Consumer that pays all the bills in the long run. Production transportation, conversion, all interest and profits are taxed against him. He may belong to the class that takes more profits than he contributes as a tax, but he manages to get in a long, loud howl at some stage of the game and against somebody else. Of course, the wage earners and people of limited means and incomes are the real sufferers by reason of the present wasteful methods of conversion and distribution, and if the system is ever reformed and its shameful abuses corrected it will be when there is an alliance between the producers, the wage earning consumers, the people of limited incomes and the retail dealers, all victims alike. Separately and as a warring factions they can accomplish nothing; united for mutual benefit they can force reforms through the medium of sane legislation. Until these three factors have come to appreciate this fact, and intelligently apply the remedy there will be no permanent relief for all. As a general rule people are prodigal when prosperous. It is seldom, however, that more than a small per cent of the people are prosperous at one time, though it is a very common thing for all the people to be hard pressed at one time. Prosperity is usually restricted to a limited area or particular section of country. No matter how prosperous the country may seemingly be as a whole at a particular period, a close investigation is certain to reveal the fact that some sections are not sharing in the general prosperity, but perhaps, to the contrary are hard pressed. A similar investigation will reveal the fact that thousands, even in the supposedly prosperous sections, are in want or eking out an existence, and bearing a cross when their just deserts entitle them to an automobile. It is this condition that makes uniformity and harmony of action impossible through the medium of mere co-operative agreement. The fellow that is prosperous concerns himself very little about the fellow that isn't, but when fickle prosperity goes over to the other side, then he whom prosperity quitted views matters differently. It is only when an evil becomes universal and a majority of people victims, that real reform is possible. The California fruit grower cares but little how much the Maine factory employe pays for the fruit he consumes. The Maine factory employe cares but little how much the California fruit grower pays for his Maine made clothes. Each complains at his own end of the line. It is only when they compare notes that each feels an interest in the other. Both have been victims of a skin game, whereupon sympathy and common interest becomes a mutual affair. We become most concerned about the other fellow's prosperity and welfare when we expect to share it. In commercial and industrial affairs there is more selfishness than Christianity in helping the other fellow; wherefore the man in Maine who eats the California fruit and the fruit grower in California who wears the Maine made goods unite to suppress an evil that is filching them both. And of what avail would mere agreement be as between these widely separated individuals engaged in different occupations? Each wants what is coming to him, and the other is more than agreeable to this scheme as long as it redounds to his benefit. The gentleman from Maine and the gentleman from California can meet through the medium of Mr. Hoover and they can only maintain that relationship through the same source. Mr. Maize Grower on the Plains does not care a whoop what the maize feeder in East Texas pays for maize, but when Mr. Maize Grower learns that the maize buyer paid about twice what the grower received that Mr. Grower realizes that he has been skinned all along the line and gets on the warpath. Mr. Truck Grower in eastern or southern Texas doesn't care what the western citizen paid for that car of early fruit or vegetables, until he learns, as in the case of the maize, that middlemen profits amounted to more than original selling price, then he, too, gets wrathful and writes the western maize grower a letter of condolence. It is only through the medium of the state that these two gentlemen can ever establish a mutual marketing system. The state need not buy nor sell, but it is the only agency that can protect, regulate and arbitrate. It is the only agency that can punish the offender and protect the deserving. The same agency that has its departments for teaching tillage and production is the only agency that can impartially aid in distribution. The middleman is in a great minority numerically, but a dominant power commercially. He is the philosopher of supply and demand, the missionary of increased production, the harvester of profits and the howler of paternalistic legislation when his game is threatened by corrective legislation. The foolish are his disciples and all are his victims. His hobby and pastime is breaking up mutual agreements among aggrieved, and his dread is a state and national system that he cannot disturb. He gets his profits, no matter what the price. Mr. Ultimate Consumer pays the bill, though Mr. Producer gets but a portion of it. You, Mr. Ultimate Consumer, are the principal victim. With you, more than with any other agency, rests the remedy. What are you going to do about it?

While the producer gets little more than cost of production and while the local dealer, at whom most complaint is hurled, is dodging bankruptcy, you are paying a price that would make both producer and local dealer prosperous if they got even a fair portion of the price you pay. You three fellows had better get together and arrange this thing differently.

John T. Smith Forecasts
Federal Poll Tax

John T. Smith of Austin, who was named by Governor Hobby as a delegate to the national tax confederence in Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 12-16, said Saturday that he would attend the meeting. He has written on tax subjects and is looked upon as an authority. He gave out the following interview on the subject:

"The question of direct taxation as applied to the masses to support the Federal government, has become a reality so people in the main do not understand its working, or how to make reports in compliance with this new law.

"It has, however, demonstrated one thing very forcibly, and that is that the old-time tariff for revenue, an indirect tax, to support the federal government is giving way to the theory of direct taxation. Paying a poll tax to the federal government in the near future is a possibility. The slack and incongruous nonunderstandable and nonenforceable tax laws of the states must also give way to sane, rational and equitable laws, for the reason that all property owners must take notice of.

"One would hardly believe that the annotated tax laws of our own state, Texas, would make a volume of 650 pages, yet such is a fact as the legal department of the Standard Trust company has just completed the annotation of the state revenue laws.

"Such a volume is evidence of the inadequacy of our tax laws in two ways: One is the multitude of suits involving some phase of our tax laws, an evidence that our present laws are not definite and clear, and another is they are too voluminous. Our general scheme of taxation has been forsaken to a great extent in the effort of the legislature to comply with local conditions that are more apparent than real.

"Under our present system of state, county, municipal and district tax laws it costs the real taxpayers, not the habitual delinquent, approximately $75,000 per annum to pay their taxes. This amount is over and above their taxes. This additional expenses is brought about by inadequate facilities for describing property correctly for taxation, which causes thousands of unnecessary errors in assessment; the want of knowledge of non resident land owners of the location of their land in independent school and other districts, county line tracts and the different boards of equalization that value the same property. It can be safely stated that 20 per cent of our taxable property never reaches the tax rolls; it is also a fact that approximately 10 per cent of what values do reach the tax rolls never pay one dollar of taxes.

"As an evidence of a general awakening throughout the United States on tax matters, the initial meeting of the congress of states will be held in Atlanta on the same date (Nov. 12 to 16) that the National Tax association conference will meet, and the activity of many governors show that this meeting will no doubt be an important one, as a more uniform system as discussed, as well as new ideas as to state tax laws will be considered.

"I am grateful to Governor Hobby for an expression of his confidence in me to be worthy and capable of representing Texas in such important conventions, along with such learned gentlemen as Dr. Brooks, Dr. Miller, Judge Lindsey and our own mayor, A. P. Woodriddle. It is my intention to attend."—Austin American.

The above figures will give the reader some idea of the value of San Saba County's pecan crop. When they calculate the number at a price of 10c per pound for small pecans and 20c per pound for large ones, it will be seen how great a benefit it was to have a small pecan crop.

San Saba river bottom has great forest of these pecan trees and the greater part of them bear a large sized pecan. It is also the home of the paper shell pecan.

The pecans did not begin to move on the market until the past two weeks or ten days. There will still be more reports for the coming month.

LESSON FOR NOVEMBER 11

LESSON TEXT—Nehemiah 1.
GOLDEN TEXT—"Whatever we ask, we receive of him, because we keep his commandments, and do those things that are pleasing in his sight."—I John 3:22.

Some twelve or fourteen years after the revival of the worship of Jehovah under the administration of Ezra, Nehemiah led a company to Jerusalem to restore the city walls and civil authority. The walls and gates of the city had lain in ruins ever since they were broken down by Nebuchadnezzar. In this condition the remnant of the Jews who had gone back to Jerusalem were exposed to the dangers of assaults from the surrounding enemies. Not only was this exposure detrimental to the peace and comfort of the people, but it was a matter of severe reproach to them (v. 3). Nehemiah was a man of strong character. Though occupying a position of high honor and responsibility in the very center of the great heathen capitol, the desire to honor God was uppermost in his heart. He is an example to all young men, demonstrating to them that it is possible to be true to God regardless of the environment in which he may be compelled to live. In order for a man to thus stand, his life must be rooted in Christ, and these roots—our faith—must be watered and kept alive through vital communion with God in prayer and study of His Holy Word.

I. Nehemiah Learns of the Affliction and Reproach of the Returned Remnant in Jerusalem (vv. 1-4).

1. The time (v. 1). It was in a winter month, November or December, in the 20th year of Artaxerxes. He was engaged in the performance of his accustomed duties as cup-bearer to the king, when the news came to him of the deplorable condition of Jerusalem and the remnant who had gone there.

2. The occasion of (vv. 2, 3). The visit of Nehemiah's brother and certain men of Judah made it possible for him to inquire concerning the state of the remnant and the conditions of Jerusalem. They informed him that they were in great affliction and reproach.

3. The effect upon Nehemiah (v. 4). He was greatly moved by the story of the distress of his brethren. Though occupying a position of honor, and enjoying all that heart could desire, he keenly took the misfortune of his brethren to heart. He not only shed tears of sympathy, but took these burdens in prayer to God. This is the proper way to sympathize with the unfortunate. It is manly to weep with those in distress, and to pray for those who have need. Jesus wept over Jerusalem and prayed for his own. Nehemiah exhibited the spirit of true patriotism. The affliction and shame of his own people went close to his own heart. National and racial solidarity constitutes the real basis of patriotism. The reproach and affliction of a nation is the reproach and affliction of every member thereof.

II. Nehemiah's Prayer for Israel (vv. 5-11). We are taught that in the midst of affliction, we should pray. Nehemiah in this early time practiced this New Testament direction. A study of his prayer is most helpful.

1. It was earnest (v. 4). He fasted and prayed for several days. When men are willing to desist from food and turn aside from their occupations to pray to God, they are unmistakably in earnest. This is true fasting.

2. The ground of (v. 5). He plead covenant relationship and the faithfulness of God in keeping his covenant. It is a good thing always in our praying to plead thus with God. He is delighted when we come as children pleading for the things we need on the basis of our relationship to him.

3. Unselfish (v. 6). He has as his supreme object the welfare of Israel. His personal interests were not affected, either for better or for worse, by the condition of the Jews in Jerusalem. Many prayers do not count with God because they are self-centered.

4. Penitent (vv. 6, 7). He acknowledges that the state of Israel was due to disobedience to God's commandments and their corrupt dealings with God. So completely had he identified himself with his people that he included himself with Israel as having sinned.

5. The prayer of faith (vv. 8, 9). He believed the word which God had spoken to Moses touching his willingness to restore and bless his people, though he was obliged to severely judge them. In our praying, we should be able to point to some definite promise in God's word, as we plead with him. Faith takes God at his word, and holds him to it.

6. Definite (vv. 10, 11).
a. He pointed to the specific people, as those redeemed by God's powerful hand.

b. He asked that God would prosper his way and grant him mercy in the sight of the king. This was a part of wisdom on Nehemiah's part. Before going before men for consideration of important interests, we should ask God to prepare their hearts, so that they will listen sympathetically to our plea. This we should do in all things, and we can do it, when our own hearts are right, and we see the good of others and not that of ourselves.

The Most Effective Relief

The proposal of the Tillotson resolution adopted by the house Thursday, that the highway commission take steps to build new roads under the provisions of the national highway law in as many of the drouth-stricken counties of the state as will apply for them and meet the provisions of the law, in order that employment may be given to many who will need it, is to our way of thinking one of the most practical suggestions which has been made in connection with this vexed question.

If such action is taken, and the bill authorizing counties to issue bonds for the purpose of purchasing seed and feed is we think that the situation can be met and adequate relief given. We do not think that the state should appropriate money to create a fund for such "relief." Aside from the fact that money could not be appropriated for such a purpose under the provisions of our constitutions, such a fund would be in danger of becoming an ordinary "pork barrel," with various fighting each to get its share of it.

While we know that conditions in many counties are very bad we do not think that any of the counties are in danger of bankruptcy, or that the conditions are of anything other than a temporary nature. The local people know best what the conditions require in each county, and in each case they can be depended upon to vote a bond issue in keeping with the needs of the people, where there are such needs, and to refuse to do it where no such need exists. We are quite certain that the people of no county in Texas are in such a condition that the county cannot supply the relief required just as effectively as it could be supplied by either the state or Federal governments.

Add to this the proposal of the Tillotson resolution, which would give such drouth-stricken counties preference over others in the matter of building roads under the Federal highway law and it will be seen that every aspect of the situation would be met in the manner in which it should be met by a free and independent people. This would entail the issuance of bonds by the counties also, but every county dollar expended would be covered by a Federal dollar. Thus new activity would be introduced into those counties, employment given to those who need it and business helped generally. And instead of pauperizing any Texas counties, as some have objected other plans would do, it would spell progress for the county, for it would mean that new permanent improvements would be installed.

All that these counties need is to be helped effectively to help themselves. And that is all they desire.

Selling Liberty Bonds.

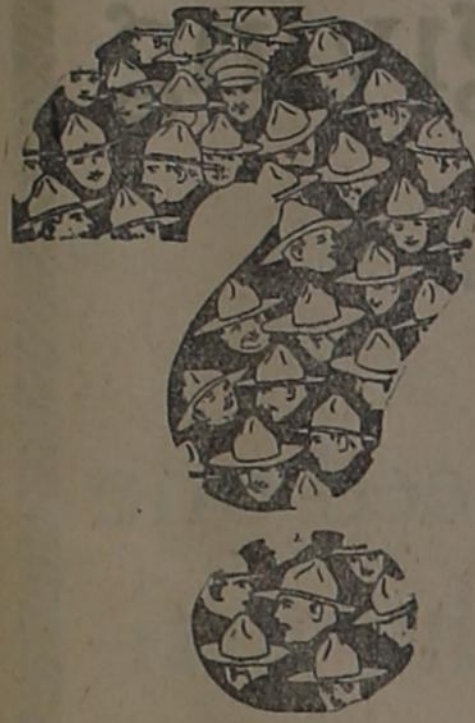

Seguin, Texas, Oct. 27.—Hon. F. C. Weinert, manager of the State Warehouse Department, came in from Austin yesterday, to be in Guadalupe county in the Liberty Bond campaign. Judge Weinert was gratified to learn that many of his farmer friends and former neighbors had already bought heavily. Among them are William Timmerman, Charles Weinert, Val Braunhols, Aug. Oelkers, A. W. Breustedt, William Schriewer, Emil Herman, Walter Breustedt, A. W. Piper and others. H. H. Weinert, acting for the Seguin State Bank and Trust company, bought $10,000 worth of the Liberty Bonds and $25,000 government certificates.

Monday afternoon the freshman team of the Southwestern University came over and played the Cherokee Junior College team. The Southwestern football team had just played Llano on Saturday afternoon and won 18 to 0, so they were looking for an easy victory from Cherokee. Then, too, they had Sunday to rest in, so they were confident that they would beat Cherokee. The game was called about 3:30, Graves Kuykendall being the umpire. From the first it was evident that it would be an unusually hard fought game. The Southwestern men were larger and outwighed our team, but Cherokee team had the practice and they had very fine team work. Southwestern made the first touchdown but failed to kick goal. Then Cherokee had a try at a touchdown, made one and also kicked goal. Thus at the end of the first quarter, the score was 6 to 7 in favor of Cherokee.

In the second quarter, the Southwestern team failed to keep Cherokee from making another touchdown and kicking another goal. The last two quarters were exciting, but neither side scored. When time was called, Cherokee had the ball near the goal, and the score was 6 to 14 in favor of Cherokee. "Pone" Barber and Ralph Thomson were the stars of the Cherokee team, but everyone of the men held their man. Southwestern never did go through Cherokee's line, while Cherokee made several line bucks and got through. Cherokee has never been defeated on her own gridiron, and she never will be. A large crowd was present at the game, a good many Llano and Southwestern rooters being present. Hurrah for the football team of C. J. C.

Miss Jessie Allison came in Monday from her home at Eden, where she had been recuperating from an operation for appendicitis. Her many friends are glad to have her back once more. She was met in San Saba by Prof. Sirmos.

YOUR TITLE PASSES

WHEN WE ABSTRACT AND PERFECT IT. NO DELAY, NO MISTAKES.—WALTERS & BAKER.

Citation by Publication. THE STATE OF TEXAS—to the Sheriff or any Constable of San Saba County, GREETING:

You are hereby commanded that you summons P. M. Faver, who resides in San Saba County, Texas, but who is temporarily absent from the State of Texas, by making publication of this citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof in some newspaper published in your county, to be and appear before me at a regular term of the Justice Court in and for Precinct No. One, San Saba County, Texas, to be held at my office in the town of San Saba, in the county of San Saba, on the 26th day of November, A. D. 1917, to answer a cross action brought by defendant, T. J. Gunter, in a suit of Mrs. A. R. Hill, trustee, plaintiff against J. R. Young and wife, Lona Young, and T. J. Gunter, on a note, said suit numbered 1341 on the docket of said court, said Gunter alleging as follows:

Mrs. A. R. Hill, Trustee, vs. J. R. Young, et al. No. 1341. In Justice Court, Precinct No. One, San Saba County, Texas.

To the Hon. Justice of Peace, said Court:

Comes now, T. J. Gunter, one of the defendants in the above entitled and numbered cause, answering to this suit, and prays that M. F. Allison, who is a resident of San Saba County, Texas, but who is now temporarily in Harris County, Texas; and of P. M. Faver, who is a resident of said San Saba County, Texas, but who is now temporarily in Kansas City, Mo., believed to be, anyway who is now temporarily outside of the State of Texas, said Allison & Faver, lawyers located at San Saba, Texas, be made parties defendants to this suit, and that citation issue to them as the law directs.

For cause of this action, this defendant, T. J. Gunter, would show that he signed the note sued on herein as an accommodation surety with the defendants, J. R. Young and his wife, with the understanding and agreement, and in consideration that said defendants, Young, would furnish secure payment of said note by delivering and attaching as collateral to said note, one certain other promissory note for the principal sum of $150.00, executed and delivered by one J. W. Faver to said defendants, Young, which was given by said Faver for the rent due for the improved farm place owned by said Mrs. Young for the year 1915, and that said note was so delivered to said Faver & Allison, defendants, by said Young as collateral, with the understanding that they were to collect same from said J. W. Faver, and apply the proceeds when collected to the payment of this note sued on. That said Faver & Allison did collect said $150.00 note from said J. W. Faver, and did apply $60 thereof as credit on said note sued on, but failed and neglected to apply the remaining $90.00 principal and accrued interest as credit on said note sued on, and have failed to account to said plaintiff herein, or to this defendant for such sum of money, wherefore this defendant prays the court that he have judgment over against defendants, J. R. Young and Lona Young and M. F. Allison and P. M. Faver and each of them for such sum of money as he may be adjudged to pay herein, and for costs of suit, and he will ever pray, etc.

Herein filed not, and of this writ make due return to the next regular term of the Justice Court for Precinct No. One, San Saba County, Texas, to be held on the 26th day of November, A. D. 1917.

U. T. CHAMBERLAIN, Justice of Peace, Pre. No. One, San Saba County, Texas.

ALGERITA

We are needing rain.

J. A. Gady has become a partner in the Algerita Mercantile Co.

Prof. Atterberry with his able assistant is teaching a fine school and is said to be one of our best school disciplinarians that we have in West Texas. Miss Lois Parks, as a teacher, is making good in the primary department of the school.

Our sandy land farmers are making some money out of their peanut crop.

Clay Walker of Cherokee was in our community prospecting and he seems to be highly pleased with our people and land.

Al Knight, Miss Maggie Broiles and her cousin, Rosie Broiles, visited Sunday at the home of M. J. Laen.

Miss Stella Dennis' music class is progressing nicely.

Saturday evening Russell Lane, while engaged in a football game, was run over by one of the boys and painfully hurt and will doubtless be confined to his room for several days.

ALGERITA

School is progressing nicely. We have a large enrollment and with the co-operation of the efficient faculty, Mr. J. C. Atterberry and the Misses Broyles and Parker, the school we are sure will be a great success.

Most of the cotton in this section has been gathered, but there are many peans yet to be marketed.

Mr. D. J. Jones and sister, Miss Mae, attended the funeral of their cousin, Mr. Jones of the Rattler community, Monday. He had been sick for several weeks with typhoid fever.

Misses Hattie and Minnie Knight visited Misses Margaret and Rose Broyles Saturday.

The singing at Mr. Billie McNatt's was enjoyed by a large crowd of young folks.

Prof. J. C. Attebery and Dock Jones motored to Cherokee Sunday.

Saturday afternoon at 3:30 the first basketball game of the season was played between Algerita and Bethel. A large crowd was present for we are indeed proud of our girls and wanted to encourage them as much as possible.

Prof. Huckaby acted as referee during the whole game and it was a clean game thru and thru. The Bethel team worked like heroes and they are indeed a spunky little team, but our girls had the same determination, grit and pep that they had last year, so, of course, won the victory. The score stood at the close of the game, 6 to 10 in favor of Algerita. The lineup was as follows: Bethel—Forwards, Nana Coughran, Lora Hanna; guards, Cleo Davenport, Wilma Lane; centers, Rhoda McNatt, Ora Coughran. Algerita—Forwards, Hattie Knight, Rose Broyles; guards, Maggie Broyles, Minnie Knight; centers, Irma Yarbrough and Helen Baker.

Saturday, Nov. 10, Algerita football boys and basketball girls will play Llano football boys and basketball girls. We are expecting to have two of the best games of the season, and of course we expect our teams to win both victories or know the reason why.

DON'T BE "AVERAGE" MAN

Young people must make themselves efficient and handle their earnings properly during their productive years if they are to escape the common lot of being dependent in old age.

The life insurance companies have compiled figures which abundantly demonstrate these facts. Give sober consideration to this digest of life experiences of one hundred average men:

At the age of sixty-five the record of these men is a follows: Thirty-five are dead, one rich, four wealthy, six are self supporting but compelled to work for a living, fifty-four, or over half the number are dependent on children, relatives or charity. This is a sad state of affairs and only can be remedied by getting the proper kind of business training in youth.

The average educated man gets a salary of $1,500 a year. He works forty years, making a total of $60,000 in a life time. The average day laborer gets $2.25 per day, three hundred days in the year, or $675 a year. In forty years he earns $27,000. The difference, $33,000 equals the financial value of an education. To acquire this earning capacity requires about five months time or one hundred and fifty days in the Tyler Commercial College. Divide one hundred and fifty days into $33,000 the value of an education, and you will find that each day spent in the Tyler Commercial College is worth $220 to you without considering the satisfaction and pleasure of living a much more successful life. Fill in and mail for free catalog. Get out of the average class.

of the second school month and examinations were given in all the different subjects, the teachers being thoughtful enough to give them before Hallowe'en in order that the children might be free to enjoy thoroughly that event.

A regulation has recently been passed which requires that all members of the football teams shall make passing grades in their subjects before they are allowed to play. Some of the players have been giving more time to thoughts of ball than to their regular school work, hence the regulation.—Reporter.

An Old Man's Stomach.
As we grow older and less active, less and less food is required to meet the demands of our bodies. If tomuch is habitually taken, the stomach will rebel. When a man reaches the advanced age of 75 or 90, you will find that he is a light eater. Be as careful as you will, however, you will occasionally eat more than you should and will feel the need of Chamberlain's Tablets to correct the disorder. Big Graphite Mine Formally Opens—Very Rich Deposit

On last Tuesday afternoon at the old Heath mine, now in operation by the Dixie Graphite company under the personal direction of Warren May, the big power plant was started when Mrs. Warren May threw open the throttle of the 100 horsepower oil engine. Mrs. C. E. Shults pulled over the lever that started the crushing department, while Mrs. A. G. Barritt threw in the clutch that put in motion the big fifty-ton Laine-Mill crusher. Raymond May had previously lighted the fire under the dryer. Ore was then fed into the mouth of the crusher and the plant was under full headway, to run night and day shifts without ceasing. Night and day shifts have been employed and have by now become accustomed to the daily routine.

The machinery used in refining the graphite is the invention of Mr. May. Through these inventions he has in a measure revolutionized the graphite industry in the United States.

The ore after being taken from the mine is hoisted up an incline to the crusher, then after being crushed it passes thru a sieve into the Laine-Mill where it is crushed to a powder. Passing from the Laine-Mill, it goes into the flotation machinery, where through a process of gravitation the graphite is separated from the heavier materials. From the flotation machinery it goes into wooden troughs where another gravitation process is applied, separating the graphite into the different grades. It is then put in the dryer and heated to high temperature. The product then goes into large concrete bins where it is left to cool for forty-eight hours, after which it is elevated to the Buhr-Mills where it undergoes a chemical process and is thoroughly refined, sacked and made ready for shipment.

From the time the ore enters the crusher until it comes out the finished product ready for shipment, it is never once handled, every step being taken automatically by machinery. And the process is so complete that to run the entire machinery of the plant only four men are required.

When asked about the quality of the graphite, Mr. May stated, "I have traveled all over the world in the interest of the graphite industry, and in all my experience, this is the richest graphite deposit I have ever seen."

A comparison of this deposit with that of other places discloses the fact that the Llano ore exceeds all other by a large percentage. For example, in Alabama, deposits have been discovered that produce four per cent pure product. In Pennsylvania and New York where the largest mines are found, the quantity of pure graphite is five per cent, while the Llano deposit runs forty per cent of pure product. The grade is not as high as in other states but the large percentage per ton more than offsets the slight variance in quality.

When questioned about the supply, Mr. May said, "The supply is unlimited; at least, there is enough graphite, crushing one hundred tons per day, to last for two generations."

In fact, the vein is so large that its dimensions have not been determined and shafts cut in various directions have but established that the supply is apparently inexhaustible.—The Llano News.

SOCIETY

Senior Party

Miss Thelma Carson, a member of the senior class of the San Saba High School, entertained the class with a Halloween party Wednesday evening from 8:30 to 11:30 p. m.

The already elegant home was made more beautiful for the occasion by the artistic Halloween decorations. Crepe paper wainscoting, ornamented with black cats and owls, gave distinction to the walls. The lights came thru pumpkins from lighted candles on the inside. Jack o' lanterns, pumpkins, witches and black cats were seen in many places lending charm to the occasion.

The event was made more interesting by the guests being masked. Misses Allie and Jewel Sullivan were "Two little Girls in Blue," Mary Elizabeth Baker, Gypsy, Bessie Wilton, a little girl, Zaida Beverage, belle of the Early Eighties, Ab Walters, Charlie Chaplin, Joe Ed Walker, Fatty Arbuckle, Tom Petty Japanese, Garland Hill soldier, John Walter, villain.

Fortune telling was indulged in by the happy party. First the hand was examined, then cards were used and if they were not pleased by this, there were three receptacles placed on a table; one containing coffee, one tea and another water. Those who wished to know their fate by this method were blindfolded and told to cast their hand in. Many were peals of laughter when some would put his or her hand in the tea, for then they were doomed to single blessedness. Then the guests were blindfolded and given a broom to touch a screen on which envelopes were pinned. The envelope was opened by the one touching it. This contained a fortune which had to be held over the fire before the fortune could be translated. The hostess graciously favored the company with a few choice vocal numbers.

The decorations were further evidenced at the dining table, in the center of which was a huge pumpkin filled with pretty red apples. Jack o' lanterns and a small witch with a broom were the other table decorations. The fruit salad was served in heart shaped cups in the center of which was a ghost peeping over each one. Delicious refreshments were served, consisting of sandwiches, pies, ginger snaps with a face on each, olives and fruit salad.

Those enjoying the happy evening were Misses Mary Elizabeth Baker, Zaida Beverage, Hortense Taylor, Bessie Wilton, Jewel and Allie Sullivan, Thelma Carson, hostess, and Messrs. Ab and John Walters, Joe Ed Walker, Tom Petty, Uluth Sanderson, Garland Hill and Turner Johnson.

The seniors expressed great thanks to Miss Thelma for the very delightful hours spent in her pretty home, and hope the class may spend many more such happy Hallowe'ens.

Hallowe'en Party.

Miss Lula Biggs proved a charming hostess to a host of friends on Hallowe'en. The house was beautifully decorated for the event in autumn leaves and soft lights from Jack o' lanterns.

On the lawn were three wigwams, which were visited after the merry characters had been introduced. In the introduction it was found that the following people were represented: ghosts, old maids, Gypsies, cowgirls, cowboys, grandpas and grandmas Grunt, Indian maids, negro girls and boys, Red Cross nurses, witches, Liberty, tramps and clowns.

In wigwam number one, a Gypsy maid, Lula Biggs, presided over a large kettle in which were numerous black cats. This she stirred constantly. The visitor drew one of these on which was written his or her fortune. In the wigwam number two the person was blindfolded and put the hand into a big horn. An autumn leaf was drawn out on which was the fortune. The most interesting was the last which contained wild animals. On entrance, the visitor was asked which animal he desired to see, whereupon he was ushered in where he beheld the exact image of himself in a mirror.

After the Gypsies were visited, other forms of amusement were indulged in as blowing out candles. Some were disappointed, as they failed to blow out any. The old Virginia Reel was another form of amusement.

During all the games, music from the piano and phonograph was enjoyed by those who cared to listen.

To add to the pleasure a huge bon fire was kindled and around this the merry guests told stories and ate apples, popcorn and nuts. After which a hike which lasted until the wee sma' hours of the morning.

There were fifty-five guests present, who declared it was the best Hallowe'en ever, and wished it would come four times a year. Many expressions of thanks were tendered Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Biggs and daughter, Miss Lula, for the very happy hours.

Hallowe'en Jaunt.

Misses Grace and Ruth Russell chaperoned a party of school girls on a jaunt Wednesday evening. Each one was masked in grotesque uniform, representing all manner of funny sights.

They paraded down byways, alleys and main streets and made a trip to the Majestic and out on a hike. Several cars were held up and a ride demanded, which, of course, was gladly granted.

Each of the party expressed thanks to the chaperones for the very delightful evening and hope to spend many more such happy events.
